CHAPTER 18.49 EXISTING BUILDING CODE*

18.49.010 Adoption of California Existing Building Code.

The City Council adopts and incorporates by reference as though set forth in full in this chapter the 2025 Edition of the California Existing Building Code (herein referred to as "California Existing Building Code"). The California Existing Building Code is Part 10 of the California Code of Regulations, Title 24, also referred to as the California Building Standards Code. This part is based on the provisions of the 2024 Edition of the International Existing Building Code (herein referred to as the "International Existing Building Code") as developed by the International Code Council with necessary California amendments. The following appendix and chapters of the California Existing Building Code are included: Appendix A, Chapters A1, A2, A3, A4, and A5. The following subsections, sections, chapters or appendices of the California Existing Building Code are deleted: Sections 101 through 117 of Chapter 1, Division II, 301.3.3 and 301.4; Chapters 12 through 14; Appendices B through E; and Resource A.

The adoption of the California Existing Building Code is subject to the changes, amendments and modifications to said code as provided in this chapter, and certain provisions of the Long Beach Municipal Code, which shall remain in full force and effect as provided in this title. Such codes and code provisions shall constitute and be known as the Long Beach Existing Building Code. A copy of the California Existing Building Code, printed as code in book form, shall be on file in the Office of the City Clerk. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

Editor's note—ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), adopted Nov. 19, 2019, amended Ch. 18.49 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 18.49, §§ 18.49.010—18.49.070, pertained to similar subject matter, and derived from ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016.

Section 201.4 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

201.4 Terms not defined. Where terms are not defined through the methods authorized by this section, such terms shall have ordinarily accepted meanings such as the context implies. Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language, Unabridged, shall be considered as providing ordinarily accepted meanings. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

Section 502.4 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

502.4 Existing structural elements carrying lateral load. Where the addition is structurally independent of the existing structure, existing lateral load-carrying structural elements shall be permitted to remain unaltered. Where the addition is not structurally independent of the existing structure, the lateral force-resisting system of the existing structure and its addition acting together as a single structure shall comply with the requirements of Section 1609 of the California Building Code and with Section 304.3.1 of this code. Alternative procedures to demonstrate compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.1 of this code, as determined by the Building Official, may be used. Where the existing lateral system consists of unreinforced masonry, refer to Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

Exceptions:

1. Except for unreinforced masonry buildings or structures, any existing lateral load-carrying structural element whose demand-capacity ratio with the addition considered is not more than 10 percent greater than its demand-capacity ratio with the addition ignored shall be permitted to remain unaltered. For purposes of calculating demand-capacity ratios, the demand shall consider applicable load combinations with design lateral loads or forces in accordance with Sections 1609 and 1613 of the California Building Code. For purposes of this exception, comparisons of demand-capacity ratios and calculation of design lateral loads, forces and capacities shall account for the cumulative effects of additions and alterations since original construction. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for wind, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code or the code wind forces in effect at the time. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for earthquake, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 304.3.1 or the full seismic forces in effect at the time.

2. Buildings of Group R occupancy with not more than five dwelling units used solely for residential purposes where the existing building and the addition together comply with the conventional light-frame construction methods of the California Building Code or the provisions of the California Residential Code. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

Section 503.4 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

503.4 Existing structural elements carrying lateral load. Except as permitted by Section 503.13, where the alteration increases design lateral loads, results in a prohibited structural irregularity as defined in ASCE 7, or decreases the capacity of any existing lateral load-carrying structural element, the lateral force-resisting system of the altered building or structure shall meet the requirements of Section 1609 of the California Building Code and with Section 304.3.2 of this code. Alternative procedures to demonstrate compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.2 of this code, as determined by the Building Official, may be used. Where the lateral force-resisting system consists of unreinforced masonry, refer to Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

Exceptions:

1. Except for unreinforced masonry buildings, any existing lateral load-carrying structural element whose demand-capacity ratio with the alteration considered is not more than 10 percent greater than its demand-capacity ratio with the alteration ignored shall be permitted to remain unaltered. For purposes of calculating demand-capacity ratios, the demand shall consider applicable load combinations with design lateral loads or forces in accordance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.1 or 304.3.2 of this code. The same methodology shall be used for the altered and unaltered structures. For purposes of this exception, comparisons of demand-capacity ratios and calculation of design lateral loads, forces and capacities shall account for the cumulative effects of additions and alterations since original construction. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for wind, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code or the code wind forces in effect at the time. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for earthquake, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 304.3.1 or Section 304.3.2, Item 1 or 3, or the full or reduced seismic forces in effect at the time.

2. Buildings in which the increase in the demand-capacity ratio is due entirely to the addition of rooftop-supported mechanical equipment individually having an operating weight less than 400 pounds (181.4 kg) and where the total additional weight of all rooftop equipment placed after initial construction of the building is less than 10 percent of the roof dead load. For purposes of this exception, "roof" shall mean the roof level above a particular story.

3. Increases in the demand-capacity ratio due to lateral loads from seismic forces need not be evaluated for the installation of rooftop photovoltaic panel systems where the additional roof dead load due to the system, including ballast where applicable, does not exceed 5 pounds per square foot (psf) (0.2394 kN/m^2) and does not exceed 10 percent of the dead load of the existing roof. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.49.030 Amend CEBC Section 506.1—Compliance.

Section 506.1 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

506.1 Compliance. A change of use or occupancy shall not be made in any building unless that building is made to comply with the requirements of the California Building Code for the use or occupancy. Changes in use or occupancy in a building or portion thereof shall be such that the existing building is not less complying with the provisions of this code than the existing building or structure was prior to the change. Subject to the approval of the Building Official, the use or occupancy of existing buildings shall be permitted without conforming to all of the requirements of this code for the new use or occupancy, provided that the new use or occupancy is less hazardous, based on life and fire risk, than the existing use or occupancy. For the purpose of this section, the order of least hazardous group to highest hazardous group is as follows:

Group U (least hazardous group)

Groups R-3 and R-3.1

Group S-2

Groups B, C, F, L, M, H and S-1

Groups R-1, R-2, R-2.1 and R-4

Groups A, E and I (highest hazardous group)

Exception: The building or structure need not be made to comply with Chapter 16 of the California Building Code unless required by Section 506.5. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.49.040 Amend CEBC Section 506.1.1—Change in the character of use.

Section 506.1.1 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

506.1.1 Change in the character of use. A change in occupancy with no change of occupancy classification or an increase in occupant load within the same occupancy classification shall not be made to any building or structure that will subject the building or structure to any special provisions of the applicable California Codes, without approval of the Building Official. Compliance shall be only as necessary to meet the specific provisions and is not intended to require the entire building be brought into compliance. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.49.050 Amend CEBC Section 506.5.3—Seismic loads.

Section 506.5.3 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

506.5.3 Seismic loads (seismic force-resisting system). Where a change of occupancy results in a building being assigned to a higher risk category, the change is from a Group S or Group U occupancy to any occupancy other than Group S or Group U, or the change is to Groups A, E or I occupancies in a building or structure constructed prior to January 9, 1934 and is within the scope of Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, the lateral force-resisting system of the building shall comply with Section 304.3.1 for the risk category assigned to the changed occupancy. Where a change of occupancy results in a building being assigned to Risk Category IV and Seismic Design Category D or F, nonstructural components serving any portion of the building changed to Risk Category IV shall comply with the requirements of Section 1613 of the California Building Code or shall comply with ASCE 41 using an objective of Operational nonstructural performance with the BSE-1N earthquake hazard level.

Exceptions:

1. Where the area of the new occupancy is less than 10 percent of the building area, the occupancy is not changing from Group S or Group U occupancy, and the new occupancy is not assigned to Risk Category IV, compliance with this section is not required. The cumulative effect of occupancy changes over time shall be considered.

2. Where a change of use results in a building or structure being reclassified from Risk Category I or II to Risk Category III and the seismic coefficient, S_{DS}, is less than 0.33, compliance with this section is not required.

3. Unreinforced masonry bearing wall buildings assigned to Risk Category III and to Seismic Design Category A or B, shall be permitted to use Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

4. Where the change is from Group S or Group U occupancy and there is no change of risk category, compliance with Section 304.3.2 shall be permitted.

For a change of occupancy from an existing commercial or industrial use to a residential use that does not result in a higher risk category, refer to Section 503 and Chapter 18.63 of the Long Beach Municipal Code for Alternative Building Standards for Adaptive Reuse Projects. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

Section 805.3 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

805.3 Existing structural elements resisting lateral loads. Except as permitted by Section 805.4, where the alteration increases design lateral loads, or where the alteration results in prohibited structural irregularity as defined in ASCE 7, or where the alteration decreases the capacity of any existing lateral load-carrying structural element, the lateral force-resisting system of the altered building or structure shall meet the requirements of Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.2 of this code. Alternative procedures to demonstrate compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.2 of this code, as determined by the Building Official, may be used. Where the lateral force-resisting system consists of unreinforced masonry, refer to Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

Exceptions:

1. Any existing lateral load-carrying structural element whose demand-capacity ratio with the alteration considered is not more than 10 percent greater than its demand-capacity ratio with the alteration ignored shall be permitted to remain unaltered. For purposes of calculating demand-capacity ratios, the demand shall consider applicable load combinations with design lateral loads or forces in accordance with Section 1609 of the International Building Code and Section 304.3.1 or 304.3.2 of this code. The same methodology shall be used for the altered and unaltered structures. For purposes of this exception, comparisons of demand-capacity ratios and calculation of design lateral loads, forces and capacities shall account for the cumulative effects of additions and alterations since original construction. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for wind, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code or the code wind forces in effect at the time. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for earthquake, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 304.3.1 or 304.3.2 Item 1 or 3 or the full or reduced seismic forces in effect at the time.

2. Buildings in which the increase in the demand-capacity ratio is due entirely to the addition of rooftop-supported mechanical equipment individually having an operating weight less than 400 pounds (181.4 kg) and where the total additional weight of all rooftop equipment placed after initial construction of the building is less than 10 percent of the roof dead load. For purposes of this exception, "roof" shall mean the roof level above a particular story.

3. Increases in the demand-capacity ratio due to lateral loads from seismic forces need not be evaluated for the installation of rooftop photovoltaic panel systems where the additional roof dead load due to the system, including ballast where applicable, does not exceed 5 pounds per square foot (psf) (0.2394 kN/m^2) and does not exceed 10 percent of the dead load of the existing roof. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

Editor's note—ORD-25-0019, amended § 18.49.060 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former § 18.49.060 was entitled "Amend CEBC Section 1401.2—Moved structures, conformance," and derived from: ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; and ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019.

18.49.070 Amend CEBC Section 906.2—Existing structural elements resisting lateral loads.

Section 906.2 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

906.2 Existing structural elements resisting lateral loads. Where work involves a substantial structural alteration, the lateral load-resisting system of the altered building shall be shown to satisfy the requirements of Section 1609 of the International Building Code and Section 304.3.2 of this code. Where the building is assigned to Seismic Design Category D or F, supports and attachments for nonstructural components required to serve any portion of the building with a use included in Risk Category IV shall comply with Section 1613 of the California Building Code or shall comply with ASCE 41 using an objective of Position Retention nonstructural performance with the BSE-1E earthquake hazard level. Alternative procedures to demonstrate compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.2 of this code, as determined by the Building Official, may be used. Where the lateral force-resisting system consists of unreinforced masonry, refer to Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

Exceptions:

1. Buildings of Group R occupancy with not more than five dwelling or sleeping units used solely for residential purposes that are altered based on the conventional light-frame construction methods of the California Building Code or in compliance with the provisions of the California Residential Code.

2. Where the intended alteration involves only the lowest story of a building, structural components of the lateral load resisting system above that story need not comply with this section. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.49.080 Amend CEBC Section 1006.3—Seismic loads.

Section 1006.3 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

1006.3 Seismic loads. Where a change of occupancy results in a building being assigned to a higher risk category, the change is from a Group S or Group U occupancy to any occupancy other than Group S or Group U, or the change is to Group A, E or I in a building or structure constructed prior to January 9, 1934 and is within the scope of Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, the lateral force-resisting system of the building shall comply with Section 304.3.1 for the risk category assigned to the changed occupancy. Where a change of occupancy results in a building being assigned to Risk Category IV and Seismic Design Category D or F, nonstructural components serving any portion of the building changed to Risk Category IV shall comply with the requirements of Section 1613 of the California Building Code or shall comply with ASCE 41 using an objective of operational nonstructural performance with the BSE-1N earthquake hazard level.

Exceptions:

1. Where a change of use results in a building being reclassified from Risk Category I or II to Risk Category III and the seismic coefficient, S_{DS}, is less than 0.33, compliance with this section is not required.

2. Where the area of the new occupancy is less than 10 percent of the building area, the occupancy is not changing from a Group S or Group U occupancy, and the new occupancy is not assigned to Risk Category IV, compliance with this section is not required. The cumulative effect of occupancy changes over time shall be considered.

3. Unreinforced masonry bearing wall buildings assigned to Risk Category III and to Seismic Design Category A or B, shall be permitted to use Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

4. Where the change is from Group S or Group U occupancy and there is no change of risk category, compliance with Section 304.3.2 shall be permitted. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.49.090 Amend CEBC Section 1103.2—Lateral force-resisting system.

Section 1103.2 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

1103.2 Lateral force-resisting system. Where the addition is structurally independent of the existing structure, existing lateral load-carrying structural elements shall be permitted to remain unaltered. Where the addition is not structurally independent of the existing structure, the lateral force-resisting system of the existing structure and its addition acting together as a single structure shall comply with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.1 of this code. Alternative procedures to demonstrate compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.1 of this code, as determined by the Building Official, may be used. Where the existing lateral system consists of unreinforced masonry, refer to Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

Exceptions:

1. Buildings of Group R occupancy with not more than five dwelling or sleeping units used solely for residential purposes where the existing building and the addition comply with the conventional light-frame construction methods of the California Building Code or the provisions of the California Residential Code.

2. Except for unreinforced masonry buildings, any existing lateral load-carrying structural element whose demand-capacity ratio with the addition considered is not more than 10 percent greater than its demand-capacity ratio with the addition ignored shall be permitted to remain unaltered. For purposes of calculating demand-capacity ratios, the demand shall consider applicable load combinations with design lateral loads or forces in accordance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code and Section 304.3.1 of this code. For purposes of this exception, comparisons of demand-capacity ratios and calculation of design lateral loads, forces and capacities shall account for the cumulative effects of additions and alterations since original construction.

When calculating demand-capacity ratios for wind, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 1609 of the California Building Code or the code wind forces in effect at the time. When calculating demand-capacity ratios for earthquake, the date of original construction shall be permitted to be taken as the date of completion of a prior addition, alteration or repair in compliance with Section 304.3.1 or the full seismic forces in effect at the time. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

Section 1401.2 of the California Existing Building Code is amended to read as follows:

1401.2 Conformance. The building shall be safe for human occupancy as determined by the California Fire Code and Chapter 18.45 of the Long Beach Municipal Code. Any repair, alteration or change of occupancy undertaken within the moved structure shall comply with the requirement of this code applicable to the work being performed. Buildings or structures moved into or within the City shall comply with the provisions of this code and Chapter 18.60 of the Long Beach Municipal Code for new buildings or structures, whichever is more restrictive. Any field-fabricated elements shall comply with the requirements of the California Building Code or the California Residential Code as applicable. [HCD 1 & HCD 2] After July 1, 1978, local ordinances or regulations for moved apartment houses and dwellings shall permit the retention of existing materials and methods of construction, provided the apartment house or dwelling complies with the building standards for foundations applicable to new construction and does not become or continue to be a substandard building. For additional information, see Health and Safety Code Section 17958.9. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

CHAPTER 18.50 HISTORICAL BUILDING CODE*

18.50.010 Adoption of California Historical Building Code.

The City Council adopts and incorporates by reference as though set forth in full in this chapter the 2025 Edition of the California Historical Building Code (herein referred to as the "California Historical Building Code"). The California Historical Building Code is Part 8 of the California Code of Regulations, Title 24, also referred to as the California Building Standards Code. This part is developed by the State Historical Building Safety Board.

The adoption of the California Historical Building Code is subject to the changes, amendments and modifications to said code as provided in this chapter, and certain provisions of the Long Beach Municipal Code, which shall remain in full force and effect as provided in this title. Such codes and code provisions shall constitute and be known as the Long Beach Historical Building Code. A copy of the California Historical Building Code, printed as code in book form, shall be on file in the Office of the City Clerk. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.50.020 Amend CHBC Section 8-201—Definitions.

Section 8-201 of the California Historical Building Code is amended the first paragraph to read as follows:

For the purpose of the CHBC, certain terms and phrases, words and their derivatives shall be construed as specified in the chapter. Additional definitions and/or terms may appear in the various other chapters relative to terms or phrases primarily applicable thereto. Any reference to "authority having jurisdiction" does not necessarily preclude the appellate process of Section 8-104.3.

Where terms are not defined through the methods authorized by this section, such terms shall have ordinarily accepted meanings such as the context implies. Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language, Unabridged, shall be considered as providing ordinarily accepted meanings. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.50.030 Amend CHBC Section 8-706.1.2—Evaluation and seismic improvement of URM buildings.

Section 8-706.1.2 of the California Historical Building Code is amended to read as follows:

8-706.1.2 Evaluation and seismic improvements of unreinforced masonry bearing wall buildings shall comply with Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, or the California Existing Building Code (CEBC), Appendix A1 2025 Edition if approved by the Building Official, and as modified by the CHBC.

Exceptions:

1. Alternative standards may be used on a case-by-case basis when approved by the Building Official. It shall be permitted to exceed the strength limitation of 100 psi in Chapter 18.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code or Section A108.2 of the CEBC when test data and building configuration supports higher values, subject to the approval of the Building Official.

2. CEBC Section A102.2 shall not apply to Qualified Historical Buildings in Risk Category III buildings and other structures whose primary occupancies are public assembly with an occupancy load greater than 300. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

Editor's note—ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), adopted Nov. 19, 2019, amended Ch. 18.50 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 18.50, §§ 18.50.010—18.50.070, pertained to similar subject matter, and derived from ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016.

18.50.040 Amend CHBC Section 8-805.1—Existing solid masonry.

Section 8-805.1 of the California Historical Building Code is amended by replacing the reference to the "2010 Edition of the CEBC" to the "20222025 Edition of the CEBC". (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.50.050 Amend CHBC Section 8-805.2.1—Solid backed stone masonry.

CHAPTER 18.51 WILDLAND-URBAN INTERFACE CODE

18.51.010 Adoption of California Wildland-Urban Interface Code.

The City Council adopts and incorporates by reference as though set forth in full in this chapter the 2025 Edition of the California Wildland-Urban Interface Code (herein referred to as the "California WUI Code"). The California WUI Code is Part 7 of the California Code of Regulations, Title 24, also referred to as the California Building Standards Code. This part is based on the provisions of the 2024 Edition of the International Wildland-Urban Interface Code (herein referred to as the "International Wildland-Urban Interface Code") as developed by the International Code Council with necessary California amendments.

The adoption of the California WUI Code and certain provisions of the Long Beach Municipal Code shall remain in full force and effect as provided in this title. Such codes and code provisions shall constitute and be known as the Long Beach WUI Code. A copy of the California WUI Code, printed as code in book form, shall be on file in the office of the City Clerk. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

CHAPTER 18.60 MOVING BUILDINGS

18.60.010 Definitions.

The following terms, as used in this chapter, shall have the signification attached to them in this section unless otherwise clearly apparent from the context:

"Building or structure" means and includes a structure or edifice which is more than ten (10) feet in width or more than twelve (12) feet in length, or which contains more than one hundred twenty (120) square feet of floor area.

"Building and structure mover" is a person who undertakes or offers to undertake, or purports to have the capacity, to move a building or structure, or to do building or structure moving work.

"Building or structure moving work" means and includes the moving of a "building or structure", as defined in Subsection 18.60.010.A, in any horizontal direction, and includes the shoring, raising, or lowering of a building or structure preparatory to the actual moving of the building or structure. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.020 Permit—Required.

No person shall move a building or structure over, upon or along any street, or from a location on one lot to a location on another lot, or perform any part of such moving work unless the building or structure has first been examined and posted in the manner required in this chapter, and a permit in writing to do so for each and every separate moving operation has been applied for and obtained from the Building Official. However, any person fully complying with the provisions of this chapter may obtain a permit to move a building or structure to a location outside the City, or to a building or structure mover's yard for storage, or for the severance of a building or structure from real property pursuant to local, State or federal government requirements. In each such instance, no examination, posting or completion bond shall be required, such requirements being waived. However, all such requirements shall be fully complied with prior to the removal of each such building or structure from such storage yard or severance location to a location within the City limits. Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed applicable to the moving of a building or structure from one location on a lot to another location on the same lot. See Chapters 18.04 and 18.07. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.030 Permit—Qualification for issuance.

No moving permit shall be issued to any person unless the applicant therefore holds a valid unrevoked state house and building moving, wrecking contractor's license, and has filed with the City a bond or a liability or indemnity policy of insurance as required by the City for a building or structure mover's license. The provisions of this section shall not, however, be deemed to prohibit any general contractor or owner of any building or structure from obtaining a permit to move such building or structure from one location on a lot or parcel to a different location on the same lot or parcel. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.040 Permit—Terms and conditions of issuance.

No permit shall be issued to relocate any building or structure which is so constructed or in such condition as to be dangerous; or which is infested with pests or unsanitary; or which is unfit for human habitation, if it is to be so utilized; or which is so dilapidated, defective, unsightly or in such a condition of deterioration or disrepair that its relocation at the proposed site would cause appreciable harm to or be materially detrimental to the property or improvements in the district within a radius of five hundred (500) feet from the proposed site; or if it is determined that it is detrimental to the future development of the area; or if the proposed use is prohibited by the Zoning Regulations of this City; or if the building or structure is of a type prohibited at the proposed location by any other law or ordinance; provided, however, that if the condition of the building or structure, in the judgment of the Building Official, admits of practicable and effective repair, the permit may be issued upon condition as provided in this chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.050 Permits—Application—Examination of structure.

A. Before a moving permit is issued, the person or persons proposing to do such work shall pay to the City the fees as required in Section 18.60.200 and shall complete an application form furnished by the Building Official and shall set forth such information thereon as the Building Official may reasonably require in order to carry out the purposes of this chapter. Said official shall then cause to be made an examination of the building or structure proposed to be moved, and the location to which it is proposed to move the same, if such location is within the City and if such examination is required by this chapter. The Building Official shall post the building in the manner specified in Section 18.60.070 and the date of this posting shall commence the seven-day period for the filing of a protest by the property owners within a radius of three hundred (300) feet of the relocation site as specified in this chapter.

B. A separate application upon a form furnished by the Building Official must be filed and a separate permit obtained for the moving of each separate building or structure, or portion of a building or structure, except that neither posting, examination fee, nor separate permit will be required when a garage is moved with and under the same permit obtained for the moving of a single-family dwelling, provided the moving of the dwelling and garage is completed in one moving operation and such garage and dwelling are to be located on one parcel.

C. The Building Official shall, in granting any moving permit, impose thereon such terms and conditions as it may deem reasonable and proper in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

D. The terms and conditions upon which each permit is granted shall be written upon the permit, or appended, in writing, thereto.

E. In addition to the posting of the notice, the Building Official shall mail a copy of the notice to each person indicated upon the records of the County Assessor as being the owner of any property within a radius of three hundred (300) feet of the location to which the building or structure is to be moved. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.060 Payment of permit fees.

A. Every applicant for a moving permit shall, at the time of application therefore, pay to the City the required permit fees as set forth in Section 18.60.200, and shall complete a permit application upon a form furnished by the Building Official, and shall set forth upon the form the size of building or structure, by street and number, and by legal description of both locations, together with the specific route to be traversed by the building or structure in the process of being moved from one location to another. Upon the same form the applicant shall make an affidavit that, in placing the building or structure in its new location, it shall not be in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, the zoning regulations, or other law or ordinance applicable to such building or structure.

B. No moving permit shall authorize the moving of more than one building or structure or more than one section or portion of any building or structure, or when such building or structure to be moved is cut into two or more sections or portions; except that one moving permit only shall be required for the moving of a single-family dwelling and garage; provided, however, that neither the garage nor dwelling is cut into sections for the purpose of moving; and further provided, that the moving of the dwelling and garage is completed in one moving operation. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.070 Moving notice—Posting—Contents.

A. The moving notices shall be posted by the Building Official and shall be placed conspicuously upon the front and upon the rear of the location to which it is proposed to move a building or structure, and upon the front of the building or structure proposed to be moved. Such notices shall be not less in size than eight (8) inches by ten (10) inches and shall bear, in letters not less than one and one-half (1.5) inches in height, the words "MOVING NOTICE". In addition, such notice shall contain the following information:

1. Name and owner of the building or structure after its relocation;

2. A brief description of the building or structure;

3. Address of the building or structure at its present location;

4. The street and number to which the building or structure is proposed to be moved;

5. The date upon which the building or structure was posted with the notices;

6. The name of the building and structure mover or person who proposes to do the moving work;

7. The name of the Building Official who inspects the building or structure and relocation site.

B. Upon the notice there shall also appear the following:

"Any property owner within a radius of three hundred (300) feet of the relocation site may file a written protest with the Building Official within seven (7) days of the date of the signing and dating of this notice by the Building Official. In the event of such protest, the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation will set a date at which time they will hold a hearing and either approve the moving of the building or structure, or sustain the protest." (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.080 Notice of decision to grant or deny permit.

If, after making the examination, the Building Official determines, in accordance with the standards set forth in this chapter, that the application for permit should be denied or should be granted under certain specified conditions, he or she shall notify the applicant of his or her decision by letter, postage prepaid, addressed as shown on the application for permit. If such application is to be granted under certain conditions, such conditions shall specifically be set forth in such notice. The decision of the Building Official shall be final and conclusive, and such notice shall so state, unless within seven (7) days after the mailing of such notice, the applicant has filed with the Building Official a written appeal from that official's decision, specifying the grounds of such appeal. Any such appeal shall be heard by the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation as provided hereinafter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.090 Written protests against moving—Hearing.

Any property owner within a radius of three hundred (300) feet of the relocation site may file a written protest with the Building Official within seven (7) days of the date of the posting of the moving notice. In the event of such protest, the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation will set a date at which time they will hold a hearing and either approve the moving of the building or structure, or sustain the protest. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.100 Public hearing on protests—Notice.

If any written protests against the proposed building or structure moving work are filed with the Building Official, and such protests are postmarked on or before the expiration of the seven (7) day posting period, or if the applicant has theretofore filed an appeal from the decision of the Building Official as hereinabove provided, the Building Official shall, within three (3) days following the expiration of the above seven (7) day posting period, present the protest or appeal by the applicant to the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation at its next regular meeting. The Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation shall set a time for public hearing on such protest, or on such appeal, which time of hearing shall be not less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days from the time the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation received the protest or appeal. When the time for public hearing has been so set, the Building Official shall mail a notice thereof, postage prepaid, to each person having filed a written protest, at the address, if any, specified thereon. The Building Official shall, in all cases, also send a notice of such hearing by registered mail, postage prepaid, to the applicant, whether or not he has appealed from the decision of the Building Official. Such notice shall also be sent to the applicant's representative if one has been specified. Such notices of public hearing shall be mailed at least five (5) days prior to the date of such hearing. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.110 Hearing and determination by Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation.

At the time set for public hearing, the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation shall hear and pass upon the protests filed and the applicant's appeal, if any, from the decision of the Building Official. Based upon the evidence adduced at such hearing, or as obtained from an examination made by the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation of the building or structure, proposed route to be traversed and proposed new location, the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation may direct the Building Official to deny the application or may direct that such permit be granted by the Building Official on the same terms and conditions previously specified by that official or in accordance with such terms and conditions as the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation may deem proper in the premises; provided, however, that the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation shall, in arriving at its determination, be governed by the same standards, limitations and norms as are set forth in Section 18.60.040. The Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation shall not, in any event, order the Building Official to grant such permit under any conditions if the same will result in the moving or relocation of any structure which would be a violation of any City, County or State law, or would clearly inconvenience any considerable number of persons, or would violate or disturb the public welfare, safety or peace. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.120 Issuance of permit.

After the moving notices have been in place seven (7) days, and if the Building Official has written a letter of intent to grant, and if no written protest has been filed with the Building Official against the proposed moving, and if the applicant has not appealed from the decision of the Building Official, a moving permit shall be granted in accordance with the conditions specified by the Building Official, upon the filing of the required bond. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.130 Bond—Posting required.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, no moving permit shall be issued unless the applicant first posts with the Building Official a bond or insurance as prescribed in regulations issued by the City Manager pursuant to Section 2.84.040. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.140 Bond—Conditions.

Every bond posted pursuant to this section shall be conditioned as follows:

A. Each and all of the terms and conditions of the moving permit shall be complied with to the satisfaction of the Building Official;

B. All of the work required to be done pursuant to the terms and conditions of the moving permit shall be fully performed and completed within the time limit specified in Section 18.60.190. The time limit may be extended for good and sufficient cause by the Building Official pursuant to Section 18.03.050. No such extension of time shall be valid unless written, and no such extension shall release any surety upon any bond. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.150 Bond—Notice of default to principal and surety.

A. Whenever the Building Official finds that a default has occurred in the performance of any term or condition of any permit, written notice thereof shall be given to the principal and to the surety on the bond. Such notice shall state the work to be done, the estimated cost thereof, and the period of time deemed by the Building Official to be reasonably necessary for the completion of such work. After receipt of such notice, the surety must, within the time therein specified, either cause the required work to be performed or, failing therein, must pay over to the Building Official the estimated cost of doing the work, as set forth in the notice, plus an additional sum equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the estimated cost. Upon the receipt of such money, the City shall proceed, by such mode as it deems convenient, to cause the required work to be performed and completed, but no liability shall be incurred therein other than for the expenditure of the sum of money in hand therefore.

B. If a cash bond has been posted, notice of default, as provided above, shall be given to the principal, and if compliance is not had within the time specified, the City shall proceed without delay and without further notice of proceedings whatever to use the cash deposit, or any portion of such deposit, to cause the required work to be done, by contract or otherwise, in the discretion of the City. The balance, if any, of such cash deposit shall, upon the completion of the work, be returned to the depositor, or to his or her successors or assigns, after deducting the cost of the work, plus twenty-five percent (25%) thereof. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.160 Bond—Default—Option of surety.

When any default has occurred on the part of the principal under the provisions of Section 18.60.150, the surety shall have the option, in lieu of completing the work required, to demolish the building or structure, and to clear, clean and restore the site. If the surety defaults, the City shall have the same option. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.170 Bond—Term.

The term of each bond furnished pursuant to Sections 18.60.130 through 18.60.180 shall commence upon the date of the posting thereof and shall terminate upon the completion, to the satisfaction of the Building Official, of the performance of all of the terms and conditions of the moving permit. Such completion shall be evidenced by a statement thereof, signed by the Building Official, a copy of which will be sent to any surety or principal upon request. When a cash bond has been posted, the cash shall be returned to the depositor, or to his or her successors or assigns, upon the termination of the bond, except any portion thereof that may have been used or deducted as provided elsewhere in Sections 18.60.130 through 18.60.180. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.180 Bond—Rights of access to premises.

The Building Official, the surety, and the duly authorized representative of either, shall have access to the premises described in the moving permit for the purpose of inspecting the progress of the work. In the event of any default in the performance of any term or condition of the moving permit with reference to the relocation of a structure, the surety, or any person employed or engaged on its behalf, or the Building Official, or any person employed or engaged on his or her behalf, shall have the right to go upon the premises to complete the required work or to remove or demolish the building or structure. It is unlawful for the owner, or his or her representatives, successors or assigns, or any other person, to interfere with or obstruct the ingress to or egress from any such premises of any authorized representative or agent of any surety or of the City engaged in the work of completing, demolishing or removing any building or structure for which a moving permit has been issued, after a default has occurred in the performance of the terms or conditions thereof. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.190 Expiration of permit—Extension.

Every application for a moving permit issued by the Building Official under the provisions of this chapter shall expire and become null and void at the expiration of a period of ninety (90) days from the date of such application, and every moving permit issued by the Building Official under the provisions of this chapter shall expire and become null and void if the moving work authorized by such permit is not commenced and completed within sixty (60) days from the date of issuance; provided, however, that the Building Official may extend these periods when the moving of any building or structure is impossible or delayed by reason of inclemency of weather, strikes or other causes not within the control of the mover. If for any reason a moving permit or application therefore is rendered null and void under the provisions of this chapter, and the moving work is desired to be done thereafter, a new application shall be made and a permit obtained from the Building Official, and new fees shall be paid. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.200 Fee schedule.

In addition to any other fee or fees required, a moving permit fee and, when required, an examination and posting fee, shall be paid to the Building Official as set forth in the schedule of fees and charges established by City Council resolution. Examinations and posting fees shall be paid prior to any examination or investigation by the Building Official. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.210 Route—Approval of Police, Park, and Public Works Departments.

A. Wherever any building or structure is to be moved over or upon a public street or highway within the City, the application therefore shall be submitted to the Police Chief, who shall endorse the approval of the Police Department thereon as to the routes to be traveled and the hours during which moving operations are to be conducted under the proposed permit. If the routes or hours do not meet with the approval of the Police Department, it shall be the duty of the applicant to alter his or her application to include such routes and hours as will meet the approval of the Police Department.

B. Such application shall also be submitted to the Department of Parks, Recreation and Marine and the designated route to be traveled subject to its approval. Applications may also be submitted to the Department of Public Works when in the discretion of the Building Official wheel loads for any given route may be deemed excessive. In those instances, the Department of Public Works may require the applicant to submit wheel size, load, spacing and any other pertinent information. The Department of Public Works may require modification of the loading or shoring of specific structures or such other precautions as it deems necessary to adequately protect the street and those buildings or structures over which the building or structure will pass. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.60.220 Applicability of chapter.

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to the relocation of buildings or structures to be used by a governmental agency for a governmental purpose. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.62 REPORT ON AVAILABLE OFF-STREET PARKING SPACES UPON RESALE

18.62.010 Intent and purpose.

It is the intent of the City Council to assure that all parties to a transaction involving a sale of a residential building within the City of Long Beach within areas designated by City Council as parking-impacted areas are furnished a report on the availability of legally required off-street parking spaces. It is the purpose of this chapter that the requirement of such a report will reduce violations on existing parcels of residential property and will prevent violations in the future. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.020 Definitions.

"Agreement of sale" shall mean any agreement or written instrument which provides that title to any property shall thereafter be transferred from one owner to another owner.

"Common parking" shall mean any parking facility serving more than one (1) dwelling unit with a common entrance and a common exit.

"Owner" shall mean any person, co-partnership, association, corporation or fiduciary having legal or equitable title or any interest in any real property.

"Residential building" shall mean any improved real property designed or permitted to be used for dwelling purposes, situated in the City, and shall include the building or structures located on said improved real property. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.030 Report or exemption certificate required.

Upon entering into an agreement of sale or exchange of any residential building in a parking-impacted area, as such an area or areas may be designated from time to time for the purposes of this chapter by resolution of the City Council, unless excluded by Section 18.62.090, the owner or his or her authorized representative shall obtain from the City a report setting forth the legally required off-street parking for such property and a statement as to its availability or lack of availability, or an exemption certificate. The report shall specifically identify any off-street parking spaces which should be used for vehicle parking but are not available for such use because of illegal conversion to another use, or any physical condition which prohibits the use of such spaces for normal parking of an automobile. Said report or exemption certification shall be valid for a period not to exceed six (6) months from date of issue. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.040 Application.

Upon application of the owner or his or her authorized agent and accompanied by a fee in or of an amount as set forth in the schedule of fees and charges established by City Council resolution, the Director shall review pertinent City records, cause an on-site inspection of the property as provided by Section 18.62.050, and deliver to the applicant a report on the availability of legally required off-street parking. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.050 Inspection.

In addition to the information supplied in Section 18.62.040, the Director shall cause a physical inspection of the subject property or, should entry be refused, the Director shall indicate on said report that entry was refused. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.060 Citation.

The Director shall cite any unlawful condition relating to the use and maintenance of off-street parking spaces. Such condition shall be brought into compliance within ninety (90) days of said citation, or within sixty (60) days of close of escrow, whichever comes first. If such compliance is not obtained, formal enforcement proceedings shall be prosecuted as provided by law. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.070 Delivery of report.

The report on the availability of legally required off-street parking prepared pursuant to Section 18.62.030 shall be delivered by the owner or the authorized designated representative of the owner to the buyer or transferee of the residential building proper to the consummation of the sale or exchange. The buyer or transferee shall execute a receipt therefore as furnished by the City and said receipt shall be delivered to the Department as evidence of compliance with the provisions of Section 18.62.030. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.080 Exemption certificate.

The following exceptions shall require an exemption certificate in lieu of the parking availability report:

A. Condominiums, townhomes, apartment buildings and similar buildings whose parking is supplied completely by way of a common parking facility;

B. The first sale of a residential building which has never been occupied;

C. A residential building whereby a review of the records indicates that no parking was ever provided at the site. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.090 Exclusions.

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to:

A. Transfers which are required to be preceded by the furnishing to a prospective transferee of a copy of a public report pursuant to Section 11018.1 of the California Business and Professions Code;

B. Transfers pursuant to court order, including, but not limited to, transfers ordered by a probate court in administration of an estate, transfers pursuant to a writ of execution, transfers by a trustee in bankruptcy, transfers by eminent domain, or transfers resulting from a decree for specific performance;

C. Transfers to a mortgagee by a mortgagor in default, transfers to a beneficiary of a deed of trust by a trustor in default, transfers by any foreclosure sale after default, transfers by any foreclosure sale under default in an obligation secured by a mortgage, or transfers by sale under a power of sale after a default in an obligation secured by a deed of trust or secured by any other instrument containing a power of sale;

D. Transfer by a fiduciary in the course of the administration of a guardianship, conservatorship, or trust;

E. Transfers from one co-owner to one or more co-owners;

F. Transfers made to a spouse, or to a person or persons in the lineal, line or consanguinity of one or more of the transferors;

G. Transfers between spouses resulting from a decree of dissolution of a marriage or a decree of legal separation or from a property settlement agreement incidental to such decrees;

H. Transfers by the State Controller in the course of administering the Unclaimed Property Law (Chapter 7 [commencing with Section 1500] of Title 10 of Part 3 of the California Code of Civil Procedure);

I. Transfers to a governmental entity under eminent domain or threat of eminent domain. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.62.100 Penalties.

A. Anyone in violation of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable as provided by the provisions of Section 1.32.010 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

B. No sale or exchange of residential property shall be invalidated solely because of the failure of any person to comply with any provisions of this chapter unless such failure is an act or omission which would be a valid ground for rescission of such sale or exchange in the absence of this chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.63 ALTERNATIVE BUILDING STANDARDS FOR ADAPTIVE REUSE PROJECTS

18.63.010 Purpose.

The Adaptive Reuse Ordinance in the Zoning Regulations expanded the scope of eligible and underutilized buildings or structures that have great potential to be converted into new uses or occupancy that can benefit from relief of parking standards, setbacks and zoning height limitations. However, key to the success of the Adaptive Reuse Ordinance relies on the ability of the Building Official and Fire Code Official to effectively use their authority to grant code modification or alternative materials, design and methods of construction and equipment to address practical difficulties involved in complying with the strict provisions of the code or consider alternative design or methods not specifically prescribed in the code. Other statutory regulations such as the California Historic Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.50 and the California Existing Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.49, including Sections 17958.11 and 19957 of the California Health and Safety Code, provides the Building Official and Fire Code Official with the ability to consider other alternative building standards. Therefore, the purpose of this chapter is to amend, expand, establish and clarify alternative building standards for the conversion of existing buildings or structures to accommodate new uses or occupancy for other purposes than what it was originally designed for and still provide reasonable use and safety to the building occupants. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.63.020 Applicability.

Projects that meet the definition and applicable requirements of an adaptive reuse project pursuant to the Zoning Regulations may be permitted to use the alternative building standards of this chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.63.030 Alternative Building Standards Manual.

A. Although other chapters or sections of the Long Beach Municipal Code and the most recently adopted edition of the California Building Standards Code are applicable to new construction or a change of use or occupancy, the use of the Alternative Building Standards Manual may be permitted to provide alternative regulations for adaptive reuse projects that meet the applicability requirement of Section 18.63.020.

B. The Building Official and Fire Code Official shall prepare, maintain, and update, as deemed necessary and appropriate, the Alternative Building Standards Manual and shall include technical information and implementation parameters, alternative compliance for technical infeasibility, as well as other rules, requirements and procedures as the City deems necessary, for implementing the provisions of this chapter.

C. The Building Official and Fire Code Official shall develop, as deemed necessary and appropriate, in cooperation with other City departments and stakeholders, informational bulletins, training manuals and educational materials to assist in the implementation of this chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.010 Permit—Required.

A. No person, firm or corporation shall engage in wet or dry sandblasting of the outside any building or structure in the City without first obtaining a permit to do so from the Building Official.

B. The permit is required for the purpose of placing the City on notice regarding intended sandblasting operations, thus making possible the inspection of sandblasting operations in the City so that sandblasting regulations enacted for the protection of the health and property of members of the public may effectively be enforced. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.020 Permit—State license required.

No sandblasting permit shall be issued to any person not licensed or otherwise prohibited by State law from engaging in sandblasting operations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.030 Permit—Separate premises.

A separate permit shall be required for each separate premises, court or group of structures to be sandblasted. More than one actual building or structure may be included on a single permit if all the buildings or structures are on one lot or one contiguous parcel of land. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.040 Permit—Application.

Each application for permit shall contain the following information:

A. The name and address of the person or company applying for the permit;

B. The location of the job;

C. The building or structure or portion thereof to be sandblasted;

D. Such other information as the Building Official shall reasonably require to aid in the proper inspection and enforcement of City sandblasting regulations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.050 Permit—Inspection fee.

No sandblasting permit shall be issued prior to the payment of an inspection fee consistent with the fee schedule set forth in Chapter 18.06. No plan examination fee or other type of additional fee described in Chapter 18.06 shall be required. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.060 Notice of sandblasting.

Any person, firm or corporation conducting sandblasting in the City shall, not less than forty-eight (48) hours prior to sandblasting, deliver to each residence or business establishment within one hundred (100) feet of all buildings or structures to be sandblasted a written notice stating in substance as follows:

NOTICE OF SANDBLASTING

On, _____
(Date or Dates)
20__, sandblasting will be carried out on the exterior of the building at (Address of building to be sandblasted)
(Name of company)
whose address is
The sandblasting will be conducted in accordance with Municipal Code Section 18.64.010 et seq., of the City of Long Beach.

(Name of owner or foreman)

_____
(Address of owner or foreman)

18.64.070 Dry sandblasting.

No person, firm or corporation shall engage in "dry" sandblasting in the City in the absence of written special permission from the Building Official, such special permission to be granted only if the particular circumstances of the job make wet sandblasting impractical. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.080 Permitted hours.

No person, firm or corporation shall engage in sandblasting unless the hours of operation are in accordance with Section 8.80.202 Noise Regulations for Authorized Hours of Operations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.64.090 Property protection.

No person, firm or corporation shall engage in sandblasting without first protecting adjacent property, public street and pedestrian walkway areas by erecting canvas or other suitable barriers sufficient to protect them from the splashing or blowing of sand or water. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.65 DEMOLITION OF HISTORIC LANDMARKS

18.65.010 Demolition of landmarks prohibited without building permit and funding for replacement structure.

A. No permit to demolish a landmark or contributing structure designated pursuant to Chapter 2.63 may be issued by the Department unless: (1) a building permit has been issued for a replacement structure or project for the property involved; and (2) the applicant has submitted evidence to the satisfaction of the Cultural Heritage Commission that a financial commitment has been obtained by the applicant to assure the completion of the structure or project.

B. Whenever, following action by the Cultural Heritage Commission pursuant to Subsection 18.65.010.A, a permit to demolish a landmark is either issued or denied by the Department, the Director shall immediately notify the applicant and the Cultural Heritage Commission of such issuance. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.65.020 Appeal to City Council.

A. The applicant or any interested person may appeal a decision to issue or withhold a demolition permit by the Director under Section 18.65.010 to the City Council by filing an appeal therefrom with the City Clerk within ten (10) days of notification of the applicant and the Cultural Heritage Commission under Section 18.65.010 of the decision, and no decision shall be final until expiration of that ten-day period. Such appeal shall be set for hearing by the City Council within twenty-one (21) days of filing the appeal, and the applicant shall not be relieved of the requirements of this section until a final decision is rendered by the City Council.

B. On appeal, the City Council shall determine, through factual evidence, whether unusual and compelling circumstances, including extreme economic hardship to the applicant, exist in the case before it, and if it so finds, it shall act on the appeal in such a way as to result in granting of the permit which is the subject matter of the appeal.

C. Both the applicant and appellant, if different from the applicant, shall be notified by mail to the address of the applicant or appellant as indicated on the permit application or appeal of all hearings and decisions made pursuant to this section. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.65.030 Exception.

This chapter shall not apply to any landmark which has been determined by the Fire Code Official and Building Official to be imminently dangerous or to constitute an immediate threat to the public health and safety. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.65.040 Construction.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to be contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of Chapter 12.75 (commencing with Section 7060) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the California Government Code, and should any provision of this chapter be contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of that Chapter 12.75, then the provisions of Chapter 12.75 shall prevail. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.67 CONSTRUCTION AND DEMOLITION RECYCLING PROGRAM

18.67.005 Purpose.

The State of California through its California Integrated Waste Management Act of 1989, Assembly Bill 939 ("AB 939") requires that each local jurisdiction in the state divert fifty percent (50%) of discarded materials (base year 1990) from landfills by December 31, 2000. Every city and county, including the City, could face fines up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) a day for not meeting the mandated goal. Approximately twenty-two percent (22%) of the City's solid waste sent to landfills is from construction and demolition activities and the diversion of these materials would have a significant potential for waste reduction and recycling. Reusing and recycling construction demolition materials ("C&D Debris") is essential to further the City's efforts to reduce waste and continue to comply with AB 939. C&D Debris waste reduction and recycling have been proven to reduce the amount of such material which is landfilled, increase worker safety, and be cost effective. To ensure compliance with this chapter and to ensure those contractors complying with this chapter are not placed at a competitive disadvantage, it is necessary to impose a performance security requirement. (Ordinance ORD-07-0025) (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.010 Definitions.

For the purposes of this chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

"Applicant" means any individual, firm, limited liability company, association, partnership, political subdivision, government agency, municipality, industry, public or private corporation, or any other entity whatsoever who applies to the City for the applicable permits to undertake any construction, demolition, or renovation project within the City.

"C and D recycling center" means a facility that receives only C and D material that has been separated for reuse prior to receipt, in which the residual (disposed) amount of waste in the material is less than ten percent (10%) of the average weight of material separated for reuse received by the facility over a one-month period.

"City-sponsored project" means a project constructed by the City or a project receiving fifty percent (50%) or more of its financing from the City.

"Class III landfill" means a landfill that accepts nonhazardous resources such as household, commercial, and industrial waste, resulting from construction, remodeling, repair, and demolition operations. A Class III landfill must have a solid waste facilities permit from the California Integrated Waste Management Board (CIWMB) and is regulated by an enforcement agency (as defined in Public Resources Code Section 40130).

"Construction" means the building of any facility or structure or any portion thereof including any tenant improvements to an existing facility or structure.

"Construction and demolition debris (C and D debris)" means building materials and solid waste resulting from construction, remodeling, repair, cleanup, or demolition operations that are not hazardous as defined in California Code of Regulations, Title 22, Sections 66261.3 et seq. This term includes, but is not limited to, asphalt, concrete, Portland cement concrete, brick, lumber, gypsum wallboard, cardboard, and other associated packaging, roofing material, ceramic tile, carpeting, plastic pipe and steel. The material may be commingled with rock, soil, tree stumps, and other vegetative matter resulting from land clearing and landscaping for construction or land development projects.

"Covered project" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 18.67.020.

"Deconstruction" means the careful dismantling of buildings and structures in order to salvage as much material as possible.

"Demolition" means the decimating, razing, ruining, tearing down or wrecking of any facility, structure, pavement or building, whether in whole or in part, whether interior or exterior.

"Disposal" means the final deposition of construction and demolition or inert material, to a Class III landfill.

"Diversion requirement" means the diversion of a percentage of the total construction and demolition debris generated by a project via reuse or recycling, unless the applicant has been granted an exemption pursuant to Section 18.67.070 in which case the diversion requirement shall be the maximum feasible diversion rate established by the Director in relation to the project.

"Divert" means to use material for any purpose other than disposal in a landfill or transformation facility.

"Enforcement agency (EA)" means an enforcement agency as defined in Public Resources Code Section 40130.

"Inert solids/inert waste" means nonliquid solid resources including, but not limited to, soil and concrete, that do not contain hazardous waste or soluble pollutants at concentrations in excess of water quality objectives established by a regional water board pursuant to Division 7 (Sections 13000 et seq.) of the California Water Code and does not contain significant quantities of decomposable solid resources.

"Project" means any activity which requires an application for a building or demolition permit or any similar permit from the City pursuant to Section 18.67.020.

"Recycling" means the process of collecting, sorting, cleansing, treating, and reconstituting materials for the purpose of using the altered form in the manufacture of a new product. Recycling does not include burning, incinerating, or thermally destroying solid waste.

"Renovation" means any change, addition or modification in an existing structure.

"Reuse" means the use, in the same or similar form as it was produced, of a material which might otherwise be discarded.

"Solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible solid, semisolid, and liquid wastes, including garbage, trash, refuse, paper, rubbish, ashes, industrial wastes, demolition and construction wastes, abandoned vehicles and parts thereof, discarded home and industrial appliances, dewatered, treated, or chemically fixed sewage sludge which is not hazardous waste, manure, vegetable or animal solid and semisolid wastes, and other discarded solid and semisolid wastes. "Solid waste" does not include any of the following wastes:

1. Hazardous waste, as defined in Public Resources Code Section 40141;

2. Radioactive waste regulated pursuant to the Radiation Control Law [Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 114960) of Part 9 of Division 104 of the Health and Safety Code];

3. Medical waste regulated pursuant to the Medical Waste Management Act [Part 14 (commencing with Section 117600) of Division 104 of the Health and Safety Code].

"Waste management plan (WMP)" means a completed waste management plan form, approved by the City for the purpose of compliance with this chapter, submitted by the applicant for any covered or noncovered project.

"Waste management plan attachments" means a list of permitted haulers, reuse facilitators, disposal and recycling facilities, conversions for mass to weight, and green building material suggestions. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.020 Covered projects.

A. Private projects.

1. Newly constructed buildings or structures.

2. Residential building or structure additions or alterations where the project increases the building's or structure's conditioned area, volume or size.

3. Nonresidential building or structure additions and alterations whenever a permit is required for work.

4. Demolition projects of any valuation.

B. All City-sponsored construction, demolition and renovation projects shall be subject to this chapter, and consequently, shall be considered covered projects.

C. Compliance with this chapter shall be included as a condition of approval on any construction or demolition permit issued for a covered project. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.030 Submission of a waste management plan.

A. Applicants for construction or demolition permits involving a covered project shall complete and submit a WMP, on a WMP form approved by the City for this purpose, as part of the application packet for the construction or demolition permit. The completed WMP shall indicate all of the following:

1. The estimated volume or weight of the project C and D debris, by material type, to be generated;

2. The maximum volume or weight of such materials that can feasibly be diverted via reuse or recycling. No more than twenty percent (20%) of the sixty-five percent (65%) diversion rate can be achieved through the recycling or reuse of inert materials unless applicant can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Director that sufficient structural materials do not exist for recycling or that forty-five percent (45%) diversion of total waste through non-inert materials is not feasible;

3. The vendor or facility where the applicant proposes to use to collect or receive that material; and

4. The estimated volume or weight of C and D debris that will be landfilled in Class III landfills.

B. Calculating volume and weight of material. In estimating the volume or weight of materials identified in the WMP, the applicant shall use the conversion rates approved by the City for this purpose.

C. Deconstruction. In preparing the WMP, applicants for demolition permits involving the removal of all or part of an existing structure shall consider deconstruction to the maximum extent feasible, and shall make the materials generated thereby available for salvage prior to landfilling. Deconstruction can be used to meet the sixty-five percent (65%) diversion requirement provided it is accounted for in the WMP. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-21-0040 § 8, 2021; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.040 Waste diversion deposit.

The project applicant shall submit a waste diversion deposit with the WMP. The amount of the performance security shall be calculated as a percentage of the total project valuation as set forth in the schedule of fees and charges established by City Council resolution, provided, however, that the minimum and maximum fees shall be as set forth in the schedule of fees and charges established by City Council resolution. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.050 Administrative fee.

The project applicant shall submit an administrative fee with the WMP. The amount of the administrative fee shall be as set forth in the schedule of fees and charges established by City Council resolution. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.060 Review of WMP.

A. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this title, no building or demolition permit shall be issued for any covered project unless and until the Director has reviewed the WMP. Approval shall not be required, however, where an emergency demolition is required to protect public health or safety. The Director shall only approve a WMP if he or she first determines that all of the following conditions have been met:

1. The WMP provides all of the information set forth in Section 18.67.030.

2. The WMP indicates that at least sixty-five percent (65%) of all C and D material generated by the project will be diverted or an exemption has been approved pursuant to Section 18.67.080.

3. The applicant has submitted an appropriate waste diversion deposit in compliance with Section 18.67.040.

If the Director determines that these conditions have been met, he or she shall mark the WMP "Approved," return a copy of the WMP to the applicant.

B. If the Director determines that the WMP fails to meet the conditions specified in Subsection 18.67.060.A, he or she shall either:

1. Return the WMP to the applicant marked "Denied," including a statement of reasons.

2. Return the WMP to the applicant marked "Further Explanation Required."

If the applicant determines during the course of the project that the estimated tonnage of material to be generated and or recovered from the project is substantially different from the WMP, applicant shall submit an addendum to the original WMP. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.070 Compliance with a WMP.

A. Within ninety (90) days after the completion of any covered project, the applicant shall submit to the Director documentation that it has met the diversion requirement for the project. Applicant shall provide a summary of efforts used to meet the diversion requirement and also provide the following documentation:

1. Receipts from the vendor or facility which collected or received each material showing the actual weight or volume of that material;

2. Weight slips/count of material salvaged or reused in current project;

3. A copy of the previously approved WMP for the project adding the actual volume or weight of each material diverted and landfilled;

4. Any additional information the applicant believes is relevant to determining its efforts to comply in good faith with this chapter.

EXCEPTION: The Building Official may grant extensions of time if the permit applicant submits in writing substantial evidence that unusual conditions or circumstances precluded submittal of documentation demonstrating that the diversion requirement for the project has been met.

B. Weighing of wastes. Applicants shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that all C and D debris diverted or landfilled are measured and recorded using the most accurate method of measurement available. To the extent practical, all C and D debris shall be weighted by measurement on scales. Such scales shall be in compliance with all State and County regulatory requirements for accuracy and maintenance. For C and D debris for which weighing is not practical due to small size or other considerations, a volumetric measurement shall be used. For conversion of volumetric measurements by weight, the applicant shall use the standardized conversion rates approved by the City for this purpose.

C. The Director shall review the information submitted under Subsection 18.67.070.A to determine whether the applicant has complied with the diversion requirement as follows:

1. If the Director determines that the applicant has fully complied with the diversion requirement applicable to the project, he or she shall cause the full waste diversion deposit to be released to the applicant.

2. If the Director determines that the diversion requirement has not been met, he or she shall return only that portion of the performance security equivalent to the portion of C and D debris actually diverted compared to the portion that should have been diverted according to the WMP. Any portion of the waste diversion deposit not released to the applicant shall be forfeited to the City, and shall be used to further develop environmental sustainability efforts within the City. If the Director determines that the applicant has fully failed to comply with the diversion requirement or if the applicant fails to submit the documentation required by Subsection 18.67.070.A within the required time period, then the entire waste diversion deposit shall be forfeited to the City. All forfeited waste diversion deposits shall be used to further develop environmental sustainability ef-

18.67.080 Exemption.

A. Application. If an applicant believes it is infeasible to comply with the diversion requirements of this chapter due to the circumstances delineated in this section, the applicant may apply for an exemption at the time that he or she submits the required WMP. Exemptions may be granted based on the following considerations:

1. An emergency situation exists;
2. Contamination by hazardous substances;
3. Low recyclability of specific materials;
4. Initial tenant or occupant improvements for projects in shell buildings; and
5. Excavated soil and land-clearing debris.

The applicant shall indicate on the WMP the maximum rate of diversion he or she believes is feasible for each material and the specific circumstances that he or she believes make it infeasible to comply with the diversion requirement.

B. Meeting with the Director. The Director shall review the information supplied by the applicant and may meet with the applicant to discuss possible ways of meeting the division requirement. The Director may request that staff from the Department of Public Works Environmental Services Bureau attend this meeting or may require the applicant to request a separate meeting with Department of Public Works Environmental Services Bureau staff. Based on the information supplied by the applicant and, if applicable, Department of Public Works Environmental Services Bureau staff, the Director shall determine whether it is possible for the applicant to meet the division requirement.

C. Granting of exemption. If the Director determines that it is infeasible for the applicant to meet the diversion requirement due to unique circumstances, he or she shall determine the maximum feasible diversion rate for each material and shall indicate this rate on the WMP submitted by the applicant. The Director shall return a copy of the WMP to the applicant marked "Approved Exemption".

D. Denial of exemption. If the Director determines that it is possible for the applicant to meet the diversion requirement, he or she shall inform the applicant in writing. The applicant shall have thirty (30) days to resubmit a WMP form in full compliance with Section 18.67.030. If the applicant fails to resubmit the WMP, or if the resubmitted WMP does not comply with Section 18.67.030, the Director shall deny the WMP. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.67.090 Appeal.

The applicant or any interested person may appeal to a Hearing Officer from any ruling of the Director made pursuant to this chapter in accordance with Section 18.67.070. Notice of any appeal from the ruling of the Director must be filed within ten (10) days of the date that such ruling is made. The decision of the Hearing Officer upon such appeal, relative to any matter within the jurisdiction of the Director, shall be final and shall not be appealable to the City Council or to any other City body or official. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.68 EARTHQUAKE HAZARD REGULATIONS

18.68.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to define a systematic procedure for identifying and assessing earthquake generated hazards associated with certain existing structures within the City and to develop a flexible, yet uniform and practical procedure for correcting or reducing those hazards to tolerable hazard levels. It is not the purpose of this chapter to preclude or affect the assessment and abatement, pursuant to existing laws, of other hazards which may involve fire, exit, plumbing, electrical, and other such problems with existing buildings.

The provisions of this chapter are intended as minimum standards for structural seismic resistance established primarily to reduce the risk of life loss or injury. Compliance with these standards will not necessarily prevent loss of life or injury or prevent earthquake damage to rehabilitated buildings. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.020 Scope.

This chapter shall apply to all Type I, Type II and Type III buildings located within the City and built prior to January 9, 1934. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.021 Definitions.

For the purpose of this chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

"Collar joint" is the vertical space between adjacent wythes and may contain mortar.

"Crosswall" is a wall that meets the requirements of Subsection 18.68.027.D.3. A crosswall is not a shear wall.

"Crosswall shear capacity" is the length of the crosswall times the allowable shear value, v_cL_0.

"Diaphragm edge" is the intersection of the horizontal diaphragm and a shear wall.

"Diaphragm shear capacity" is the depth of the diaphragm times the allowable shear value, v_uD.

"Flexible diaphragm" is a diaphragm of wood construction or other construction of similar flexibility.

"Normal wall" is a wall perpendicular to the direction of seismic forces.

"Open front" is an exterior building wall plane on one side only without vertical elements of the lateral force resisting system in one or more stories.

"Pointing" is the partial reconstruction of the bed joints of a URM wall as defined in Standard No. 24-42. (See Section 18.68.222.)

"UBC" is the 1988 Edition of the Uniform Building Code as published by the International Conference of Building Officials.

"UBC standard" is the 1988 Edition of the Uniform Building Code standard as published by the International Conference of Building Officials.

"Unreinforced masonry bearing wall" is URM wall which provides the vertical support for a floor or roof for which the total superimposed load exceeds one hundred (100) pounds per linear foot of wall.

"Unreinforced masonry (URM) wall" is a masonry wall in which the area of reinforcing steel is less than twenty five percent (25%) of the minimum required by the UBC for reinforced masonry.

"Yield story drift" is the lateral displacement of one level relative to the level above or below at which yield stress is first developed in a frame member. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.022 Symbols and notations.

For the purposes of this chapter, the following symbols and definitions shall apply:

A = Area of unreinforced masonry pier, square inches.

A_b = Area of the bed joints above and below the test specimen for each in place shear test.

C_p = Numerical coefficient as specified in UBC Section 2312(g) and given in UBC Table 23-P and in Table A-23-A.

D = In plane width dimension of pier, inches, or depth of diaphragm, feet.

DCR = Demand capacity ratio specified in Subsection 18.68.027.D.

Fwx = Force applied to a wall at level x, pounds.

H = Lease clear height of opening on either side of pier, inches.

h/t = Height/thickness ratio of URM wall. Height h is measured between wall anchorage levels, and/or slab on grade.

L = Span of diaphragm between shear walls, or span between shear wall and open front, feet.

L_c = Length of crosswall, feet.

L_i = Effective span for an open front building specified in Subsection 18.68.027.D.8, feet.

PD = Superimposed dead load at the top of the pier under consideration, pounds.

P_{D+L} = Actual dead plus live load in place at the time of testing, pounds.

P_W = Weight of wall, pounds.

$\Sigma v_u D$ = Sum of diaphragm shear capacities of both ends of the diaphragm.

ΣW_d = Total dead load tributary to all of the diaphragms coupled at and above the level under consideration, pounds.

$\Sigma\Sigma v_u D$ = For diaphragms coupled with crosswalls $\Sigma\Sigma v_u D$ includes the sum of shear capacities of both ends of diaphragms coupled at and above the level under consideration.

$V_a = v_a A$, the allowable shear in any URM pier, pounds.

V_{ca} = Total shear capacity of crosswalls in the direction of analysis immediately above the diaphragm level being investigated, $S\ v_c L_o$, pounds.

V_{cb} = Total shear capacity of crosswalls in the direction of analysis immediately below the diaphragm level being investigated, $S\ v_c L_o$, pounds.

V_r = Pier rocking shear capacity of any URM wall or wall pier, pounds.

V_{wx} = Total shear force resisted by a shear wall at the level under consideration, pounds.

V_p = Shear force assigned to a pier on the basis of its relative shear rigidity, pounds.

V_S = Shear force assigned to a spandrel on the basis of the shear forces in the adjacent wall piers and tributary dead plus live loads.

V_{test} = Load in pounds at incipient cracking for each in-place masonry shear test per Standard No. 24-40. (See Section 18.68.220.)

v_a = Allowable shear stress for unreinforced masonry, psi.

v_c = Allowable shear value for a crosswall sheathed with any of the materials given in Tables A-23-C or A-23-D, pounds per foot.

v_t = Mortar shear strength as specified in Subsection 18.68.024.C.3.d.

v_{to} = Mortar shear test values as specified in Subsection 18.68.024.C.3.d.

v_u = Allowable shear value for a diaphragm sheathed with any of the materials given in Tables A-23-C or A-23-D, pounds per foot.

W_d = Total dead load tributary to a diaphragm, pounds.

W_w = Total dead load of an unreinforced masonry wall above the level under consideration or above an open front of a building, pounds.

18.68.023 General requirements.

A. General. All buildings shall have a seismic resisting system conforming with UBC Section 2303(b), except as modified by this chapter.

B. Alterations and repairs. Alterations and repairs required to meet the provisions of this chapter shall comply with all other applicable requirements of this title unless specifically provided for in this chapter.

C. Requirements for plans. The following construction information shall be included in the plans required by this chapter:

1. Dimensioned floor and roof plans showing existing walls and the size and spacing of floor and roof framing members and sheathing materials. The plans shall indicate all existing and new crosswalls and their materials of construction. The location of the crosswalls and their openings shall be fully dimensioned or drawn to scale on the plans.

2. Dimensioned wall elevations showing openings, piers, wall classes as defined in Subsection 18.68.024.C.3(f), thicknesses, heights, wall shear test locations, and cracks or damaged portions requiring repairs. The general condition of the mortar joints shall be noted and if and where the joints require pointing. Where the exterior face is veneer, the type of veneer, its thickness and its bonding and/or ties to the structural wall masonry shall also be reported.

3. The type of interior wall and ceiling surfaces.

4. The extent and type of existing wall anchorage to floors and roof when utilized in the design.

5. The extent and type of parapet corrections which were previously performed, if any.

6. Repair details, if any, of cracked or damaged unreinforced masonry walls required to resist forces specified in this chapter.

7. All other plans, sections, and details necessary to delineate required retrofit construction including those items in Section 18.68.028. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.024 Material requirements.

A. General. All materials permitted by this chapter, including their appropriate allowable design values and those existing configurations of materials specified herein, may be utilized to meet the requirements of this chapter.

B. Existing materials. All existing materials utilized as part of the required force resisting system shall be in sound condition or shall be removed and replaced with new material.

C. Existing unreinforced masonry.

1. General. All unreinforced masonry walls utilized to carry vertical loads or seismic forces parallel and perpendicular to the wall plane shall be tested as specified in this subsection. All masonry that does not meet or exceed the minimum standards established by this chapter shall be removed and replaced by new materials or alternatively shall have its structural functions replaced by new materials and anchored to supporting elements.

2. Lay-up of walls. The facing and backing shall be bonded so that not less than ten percent (10%) of the exposed face area is composed of solid headers extending not less than four (4) inches into the backing. The clear distance between adjacent full-length headers shall not exceed twenty-four (24) inches vertically or horizontally. Where the backing consists of two (2) or more wythes, the headers shall extend not less than four (4) inches into the most distant wythe or the backing wythes shall be bonded together with separate headers whose area and spacing conform to the foregoing. Wythes of walls not bonded as described above shall be considered as veneer. Veneer wythes shall not be included in the effective thickness used in calculating the height to thickness and the shear capacity of the wall.

3. Mortar.

a. Tests. The quality of mortar in all masonry walls shall be determined by performing in-place shear tests in accordance with Standard No. 24-40. Alternative methods of testing may be approved by the Building Official.

b. Location of tests. The shear tests shall be taken at locations representative of the mortar conditions throughout the entire building, taking into account variations in workmanship at different building height levels, variations in weathering of the exterior surfaces, and variations in the condition of the interior surfaces due to deterioration caused by leaks and condensation of water and/or by the deleterious effects of other substances contained within the building. The exact test location shall be determined at the building site by the engineer in responsible charge of the structural design work. An accurate record of all such tests and their location in the building shall be recorded and these results shall be submitted to the Building and Safety Bureau for approval as part of the structural analysis.

c. Number of tests. The minimum number of tests per class shall be as follows:

i. At each of both the first and top stories, not less than two (2) tests per wall or line of wall elements providing a common line of resistance to lateral forces.

ii. At each of all other stories, not less than one (1) test per wall or line of wall elements providing a common line of resistance to lateral forces.

iii. In any case, not less than one (1) test per one thousand five hundred (1,500) square feet of wall surface nor less than a total of eight (8).

d. Minimum quality mortar.

Mortar shear test values, v_{to}, in psi shall be obtained for each in-place shear test in accordance with the following equation:

i. Individual unreinforced masonry walls with consistently less than thirty (30) psi shall be removed or entirely repointed and retested.

ii. The mortar shear strength, v_t, is the value in psi that is exceeded by eighty percent (80%) of all of the mortar shear test values, v_{to}.

e. Collar joints. The collar joints shall be inspected at the test locations during each in-place shear test, and estimates of the percentage of the surfaces of adjacent wythes which are covered with mortar shall be reported along with the results of the in-place shear tests.

f. Unreinforced masonry classes. All existing unreinforced masonry shall be categorized into one (1) or more classes based on shear strength, quality of construction, state of repair, deterioration, and weathering. A class shall be characterized by the allowable masonry shear stress determined in accordance with Subsection 18.68.026.B. Classes shall be defined for whole walls, not for small areas of masonry within a wall.

g. Pointing. All deteriorated mortar joints in unreinforced masonry walls shall be pointed according to Standard No. 24-42. Nothing shall prevent pointing with mortar of all the masonry wall joints before the tests are made. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.025 Quality control.

A. Pointing. All preparation and mortar pointing shall be done with special inspection.

EXCEPTION: At the discretion of the Building Official, incidental pointing may be performed without special inspection.

B. Masonry shear tests. In-place masonry shear tests shall comply with Standard No. 24-40.

C. Existing wall anchors. Existing wall anchors utilized as all or part of the required tension anchors shall be tested in pullout according to Standard No. 24-41. The minimum number of anchors tested shall be four (4) per floor, with two (2) tests at walls with joists framing into the wall and two (2) tests at walls with joists parallel to the wall, but not less than ten percent (10%) of the total number of existing tension anchors at each level.

D. New bolts. One-fourth (¼) of all new shear bolts and combined tension and shear bolts in unreinforced masonry walls shall be tested according to Standard No. 24-41.

EXCEPTION: Special inspection may be provided during installation in lieu of testing. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.026 Allowable design values.

A. Allowable values.

1. Allowable values for existing materials are given in Table A-23-C and for new materials in Table A-23-D.

2. Allowable values not specified in this chapter shall be as specified elsewhere in this title.

Masonry shear. The allowable unreinforced masonry shear stress, V_a, shall be determined for each masonry class from the following equation: $v_a = 0.1v_t + 5P_D/A \quad (026\text{-}1)$

The mortar shear test value, v_t, shall be determined in accordance with Subsection 18.68.024.C.3, and not exceed one hundred (100) psi for the determination of V_a.

The one-third (1/3) increase in allowable values of the Uniform Building Code is not allowed for v_a.

B. Masonry compression. The one-third (1/3) increase in allowable stress of the Uniform Building Code is allowed.

C. Masonry tension. Unreinforced masonry shall be assumed as having no tensile capacity.

D. Existing tension anchors. The allowable resistance values of the existing anchors shall be forty percent (40%) of the average of the tension tests of existing anchors having the same wall thickness and joist orientation. The one-third (1/3) increase in allowable stress of the Uniform Building Code is not allowed for existing tension anchors.

E. Foundations. For existing foundations new total loads may be increased over existing dead load by twenty-five percent (25%). New total dead load plus live load plus seismic may be increased over existing dead load plus live load by fifty percent (50%). Higher values may be justified only in conjunction with a geotechnical investigation. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.027 Analysis and design.

A. General. Except as modified herein, the analysis and design relating to the structural alteration of existing buildings shall be in accordance with this title.

B. Selection of procedure. Buildings shall be analyzed by the general procedure of Subsection 18.68.027.C which is based on UBC Chapter 23 or, when applicable, buildings may be analyzed by the special procedure of Subsection 18.68.027.D.

C. General procedure.

1. Basis for design. The minimum design seismic forces shall be those determined in accordance with the static lateral force procedure of Subsection 18.68.027.C.1 or the dynamic lateral force procedure of Subsection 18.68.027.C.2.

Minimum design lateral forces - static force procedure. Buildings shall be analyzed to resist minimum lateral forces assumed to act nonconcurrently in the direction of each of the main axes of the structure in accordance with the following:

$V_B = \varphi ß CW$ (027-1) where

V_B = Design base shear

W = Total seismic dead load of the building

ß = Building type coefficient given in Table A-23-E

φ = Occupancy Load Factor from Table A-23-F

$C = 0.059/_T 2/3$

T = Building period, in seconds, of the structure in the direction of consideration

The product of φ ß C need not exceed 0.13. The building period may be calculated in accordance with the 1988 UBC Method A or Method B. The value of C need not exceed 0.13. The distribution of the design base shear over the height of the building is to be the same as that specified by the 1988 UBC.

2. Minimum design lateral forces—Dynamic force procedure. Dynamic analysis procedures when used to determine the seismic demand on the building shall conform with Chapter 23 of the 1988 UBC. Except where approved situs specific response spectra are developed, ground motions used in the analysis shall be consistent with the October 1988 Seismic Safety Element to the City of Long Beach general plan and applied as follows:

a. If the analysis utilizes the modal superposition spectral response approach, the five percent (5%) damped spectrum for the appropriate soil at the building site shall be used as the input ground motions. The response of the building shall be normalized by the ratio of the base shear determined from the equivalent static force approach to the base shear determined from the spectral response approach.

b. If the analysis utilizes a time history (linear elastic or nonlinear) approach, an approved synthetic acceleration time history shall be constructed which is consistent with the five percent (5%) damped spectrum for the appropriate soil at the building site. Such an acceleration time history must have a response spectrum which closely matches the five percent (5%) damped spectrum with no spectral ordinate dipping more than ten percent (10%) below the target spectrum.

3. Lateral forces on elements of structures. Parts or portions of structures shall be analyzed as required in UBC Chapter 23.

EXCEPTIONS:

a. Unreinforced masonry walls for which height to thickness ratios do not exceed ratios set forth in Table A-23-B need not be analyzed for out-of-plane loading. Unreinforced masonry walls which exceed the allowable h/t ratios of Table A-23-B shall be braced according to Subsection 18.68.028.E.

b. Parapets complying with Subsection 18.68.028.F need not be analyzed for out-of-plane loading.

4. Shear walls (in-plane loading). Shear walls shall comply with Subsection 18.68.027.E.

D. Special procedure.

1. Limits for the application of Subsection 18.68.027.D. The special procedure of this subsection may only be applied to buildings with the following characteristics:

a. Flexible diaphragms at all levels above the base of structure.

b. A maximum of six (6) stories above the base of the building.

c. The vertical elements of the lateral force resisting system shall consist predominately of masonry or concrete shear walls.

d. New vertical elements of the lateral force resisting system consisting of steel braced frames or special moment resisting frames shall have a maximum overall height-to-length ratio of 1.5 to 1.

e. A minimum of two (2) lines of vertical elements of the lateral force resisting system parallel to each axis of the building except for single story buildings with an open front on one (1) side only. (See Subsection 18.68.027.D.8 for open front buildings.)

2. Lateral forces on elements of structures. With the exception of the diaphragm provisions in Subsection 18.68.027.D, elements of structures shall comply with Subsection 18.68.027.C.3.

3. Crosswalls. Crosswalls shall meet the requirements of this subsection.

a. Crosswall definition. A crosswall is a wood-framed wall sheathed with any of the materials described in Tables A-23-C or A-23-D. Spacing of crosswalls shall not exceed forty (40) feet on center measured perpendicular to the direction of consideration, and shall be placed in each story of the building. Crosswalls shall extend the full story height between diaphragms.

EXCEPTIONS:

i. Crosswalls need not be provided at all levels in accordance with Subsection 18.68.027.D.4.b.iv.

ii. Existing crosswalls need not be continuous below a wood diaphragm at/or within four feet of grade provided:

aa. Shear connection requirements of Subsection 18.68.027.D.5 are satisfied at all edges of the diaphragm.

bb. Crosswalls with total shear capacity of 0.08 (W_d interconnect the diaphragm to the foundation.

cc. The demand/capacity ratio of the diaphragm between the crosswalls that are continuous to their foundations shall be calculated as:

and DCR shall not exceed 2.5.

b. Crosswall shear capacity. Within any forty (40) feet measured along the span of the diaphragm, the sum of the crosswall shear capacities shall be at least thirty percent (30%) of the diaphragm shear capacity of the strongest diaphragm at or above the level under consideration.

c. Existing crosswalls. Existing crosswalls shall have a length to height ratio between openings of not less than 1.5. Existing crosswall connections to diaphragms need not be investigated as long as the crosswall extends to the framing of the diaphragm above and below.

d. New crosswalls. New crosswall connections to the diaphragm shall develop the crosswall shear capacity. New crosswalls shall have the capacity to resist an overturning moment equal to the crosswall shear capacity times the story height. Crosswall overturning moments need not be cumulative over more than two (2) stories.

e. Other crosswall systems. Other systems such as special moment resisting frames may be used as crosswalls provided that the yield story drift does not exceed one (1) inch in any story.

4. Wood diaphragms.

a. Acceptable diaphragm span. A diaphragm is acceptable if the point (L, DCR) on Figure A-23-1, falls within Regions 1, 2, or 3.

b. Demand-capacity ratios. Demand-capacity ratios shall be calculated for the diaphragm according to the following formulas:

i. For a diaphragm without qualifying crosswalls at levels immediately above or below:

$$DCR = 0.33W_d/\Sigma\, v_uD \quad (027\text{-}3)$$

ii. For a diaphragm in a single-story building with qualifying crosswalls:

$$DCR = 0.33W_d/\Sigma\, v_uD + V_{cb}) \quad (027\text{-}4)$$

iii. For diaphragms in a multi-story building with qualifying crosswalls in all levels:

$$DCR = 0.33\, W_d/\Sigma\, v_uD + V_{cb}) \quad (027\text{-}5)$$

DCR shall be calculated at each level for the set of diaphragms at and above the level under consideration.

iv. For a roof diaphragm and the diaphragm directly below if coupled by crosswalls

v. Chords. An analysis for diaphragm flexure need not be made and chords need not be provided.

vi. Collectors. An analysis of diaphragm collector forces shall be made for the transfer of diaphragm edge shears into vertical elements of the lateral force resisting system. Collector forces may be resisted by new or existing elements.

vii. Diaphragm openings.

viii. Diaphragm forces at corners of openings shall be investigated and shall be developed into the diaphragm by new or existing materials.

ix. In addition to calculating demand capacity ratios per Subsection 18.68.027.D.4.b, the demand capacity ratio of the portion of the diaphragm adjacent to an opening shall be calculated using the opening dimension as the span.

x. Where an opening occurs in the end quarter of the diaphragm span, the quantity v_ud for the demand capacity ratio calculation shall be based on the net depth of the diaphragm.

5. Shear transfer. Diaphragms shall be connected to shear walls with connections capable of developing a minimum force given by the lesser of the following formulas:

$$V = 0.20C_pW_d \quad (027\text{-}7)$$

using the C_p values in Table A-23-A, or

$$V=v_uD \quad (027\text{-}8)$$

6. Shear walls (in plane loading)—Special procedure.

a. Wall story force. The wall story force distributed to a shear wall at any diaphragm level shall be the lesser value calculated as:

i. For buildings without crosswalls, $F_{wx} = 0.13(W_{wx} + W_d/2)$ (027-9) but need not exceed $F_{wx} = 0.13W_{wx} + v_uD$ (027-10)

ii. For buildings with crosswalls in all levels:

but need not exceed

$$F_{wx} = 0.10(W_{wx} + \Sigma\, W_d(v_uD/\Sigma\, v_uD)) \quad (027\text{-}12)$$ and need not exceed

b. Wall story shear. The wall story shear shall be the sum of the wall story forces at and above the level of consideration.

c. Shear wall analysis. Shear walls shall comply with Subsection 18.68.027.E.

d. Moment frames. Moment frames used in place of shear walls shall be designed as required in UBC Chapter 23 except that the forces shall be as specified in Subsection 18.68.027.D.6.a and the interstory drift shall be limited to 0.005 except as further limited in Subsection 18.68.027.E.3.b.

7. Out of plane forces—URM walls.

a. Allowable URM wall height to thickness ratios. The provisions of Subsection 18.68.027.C.3

are applicable except the allowable h/t ratios given in Table A-23-B shall be determined from Figure A-23-1 as follows:

i. In Region 1, h/t ratios for "buildings with crosswalls" may be used if qualifying crosswalls are present in all stories.

ii. In Region 2, h/t ratios for "buildings with crosswalls" may be used whether or not qualifying crosswalls are present.

iii. In Region 3, h/t ratios for "all other buildings" shall be used whether or not qualifying crosswalls are present.

b. Walls with diaphragms in different regions. When diaphragms above and below the wall under consideration have DCRs in different regions of Figure A-23-1, the lesser h/t ratio shall be used.

8. Buildings with open fronts. A building with an open front on one (1) side shall have crosswalls parallel to the open front and shall be designed by the following procedure:

a. Effective diaphragm span, L_i, for use in Figure No. A-23-1 shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

b. Diaphragm demand/capacity ratio shall be calculated as:

$$DCR = 0.33(W_d + W_w)/(v_u D) + V_c$$

E. Analysis of vertical elements of the lateral force-resisting system. Applicable to both general procedure and special procedure buildings.

1. Existing URM walls.

a. Flexural rigidity. Flexural components of deflection may be neglected in determining the rigidity of a URM wall.

b. Shear walls with openings. Wall piers shall be analyzed according to the following procedure:

i. For any pier:

aa. The pier shear capacity shall be calculated as:

$$V_a = v_a Dt(027\text{-}17)$$

bb. The pier rocking shear capacity shall be calculated as:

$$V_r = 0.5P_D D/H(027\text{-}18)$$

ii. The wall piers at any level are acceptable if they comply with one of the following modes of behavior:

aa. Rocking controlled mode. When the pier rocking shear capacity is less than the pier shear capacity, i.e. $V_r < V_a$ for each pier in a level, forces in the wall at that level, $V_{wx,}$ shall be distributed to each pier, V_p, in proportion to $P_D D/H$.

For the wall at that level: $V_{wx} < V_r$ (027-19)

bb. Shear controlled mode. Where the pier shear capacity is less than the pier rocking capacity, i.e., $V_a < V_r$ in at least one pier in a level, forces in the wall at that level, $V_{wx,}$ shall be distributed to each pier, V_p, in proportion to D/H.

For each pier at that level:

$V_p < V_{r.}$ (027-21)

If $V_p > V_a$ for each pier and $V_p > V_r$ for one or more piers, omit such piers from the analysis and repeat the procedure for the remaining piers, or strengthen and reanalyze the wall.

iii. Masonry pier tension stress. Unreinforced masonry wall piers need not be analyzed for tension stress.

c. Shear walls without openings. Shear walls without openings shall be analyzed as for walls with openings except that $V_{r,}$ shall be calculated as follows:

$$V_r = (0.50P_D + 0.25P_W)D/H(027\text{-}22)$$

2. Plywood sheathed shear walls. Plywood sheathed shear walls may be used to resist lateral loads for buildings with flexible diaphragms analyzed according to provisions of Subsection 18.68.027.C. Plywood sheathed shear walls may not be used to share lateral loads with other materials along the same line of resistance.

3. Combinations of vertical elements.

a. Lateral force distribution. Lateral forces shall be distributed among the vertical resisting elements in proportion to their relative rigidities, except that moment frames shall comply with Subsection 18.68.027.E.3.b.

b. Moment resisting frames. A moment frame shall not be used with a URM wall in a single line of resistance unless the wall has piers that are capable of sustaining rocking in accordance with Subsection 18.68.027.E.1.b and the frames are designed to carry one hundred percent (100%) of the lateral forces and the interstory drift ratio shall be limited to 0.0025. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.028 Detailed system design requirements.

A. Wall anchorage.

1. Anchor locations. All unreinforced masonry walls shall be anchored at the roof and floor levels as required in Subsections 18.68.027.C or 18.68.027.D. Ceilings with substantial rigidity and abutting masonry walls shall be connected to walls with tension bolts at a maximum anchor spacing of six (6) feet. Ceiling systems with substantial mass shall be braced at the perimeter to the roof or floor diaphragms.

2. Anchor requirements. Anchors shall be tension bolts through the wall as specified in Table No. A-23-D, or by an approved equivalent at a maximum anchor spacing of six (6) feet. All existing wall anchors shall be secured to the joists to develop the required forces.

3. Minimum wall anchorage. Anchorage of masonry walls to each floor or roof shall resist a minimum force determined by UBC Section 2312(g)2 or two hundred (200) pounds per linear foot, whichever is greater, acting normal to the wall at the level of the floor or roof. Existing wall anchors, installed under previous permits, must meet or must be upgraded to meet the requirements of this chapter.

4. Anchors at corners. At the roof and all floor levels, both shear and tension anchors shall be provided within two (2) feet horizontally from the inside of the corners of the walls.

5. Anchors with limited access. When access to the exterior face of the masonry wall is prevented by proximity of an existing building, wall anchors conforming to Item 6b in Table A-23-D may be used.

B. Diaphragm shear transfer. Shear bolt spacing shall have a maximum bolt spacing of six (6) feet.

C. Collectors. Collector elements shall be provided which are capable of transferring the seismic forces originating in other portions of the building to the element providing the resistance to those forces.

D. Ties and continuity. Ties and continuity shall conform to UBC Section 2312(h)2.E.

E. Wall bracing.

1. General. Where a wall height-thickness ratio exceeds the specified limits, the wall may be laterally supported by vertical bracing members per Subsection 18.68.028.E.2 or by reducing the wall height by bracing per Subsection 18.68.028.E.3.

2. Vertical bracing members. Vertical bracing members shall be attached to floor and roof construction for their design loads independently of required wall anchors. Horizontal spacing of vertical bracing members shall not exceed one-half (1/2) the unsupported height of the wall nor ten (10) feet. Deflection of such bracing members at design loads shall not exceed one-tenth (1/10) of the wall thickness.

3. Intermediate wall bracing. The wall height may be reduced by bracing elements connected to the floor or roof. Horizontal spacing of the bracing elements and wall anchors shall be as required by design but shall not exceed six (6) feet on center. Bracing elements shall be detailed to minimize the horizontal displacement of the wall by the vertical displacement of the floor or roof.

F. Parapets. Parapets and exterior wall appendages not conforming to this chapter shall be removed or stabilized or braced to ensure that the parapets and appendages remain in their original position.

The maximum height of an unbraced unreinforced masonry parapet above the lower of either the level of tension anchors or roof sheathing, shall not exceed one and one-half (1½) times the thickness of the parapet wall. If the required parapet height exceeds this maximum height, a bracing system designed for the force factors specified in UBC Table 23-P for walls shall support the top of the parapet. Parapet corrective work must be performed in conjunction with the installation of tension roof anchors.

The minimum height of a parapet above the wall anchor shall be twelve (12) inches.

EXCEPTION: If a reinforced concrete beam is provided at the top of the wall, the minimum height above the wall anchor may be six (6) inches.

G. Veneer.

1. Unreinforced masonry walls which carry no design loads other than their own weight may be considered as veneer if they are adequately anchored to new supporting elements.

2. Veneer shall be anchored with approved anchor ties, conforming to the required design capacity specified in this title and placed at a maximum spacing of twenty-four (24) inches with a maximum supported area of two (2) square feet.

EXCEPTION: Existing veneer anchor ties may be acceptable provided the ties are in good condition and conform to the following minimum size, maximum spacing and material requirements.

Existing veneer anchor ties shall be corrugated galvanized iron strips not less than one (1) inch in width, eight (8) inches in length and one-sixteenth (1/16) of an inch in thickness or equal and shall be located and laid in every alternate course in the vertical height of the wall at a spacing not to exceed seventeen (17) inches on centers horizontally. As an alternate, such ties may be laid in every fourth course vertically at a spacing not to exceed nine (9) inches on centers horizontally.

3. The location and condition of existing veneer anchor ties shall be verified as follows:

a. An approved testing laboratory shall verify the location and spacing of the ties and shall submit a report to the Building Official for approval as a part of the structural analysis.

b. The veneer in a selected area shall be removed to expose a representative sample of ties (not less than four) for inspection by the Building Official.

H. Truss and beam supports. Where trusses and beams other than rafters or joists are supported on masonry, independent secondary columns shall be installed to support vertical loads of the roof or floor members. The loads shall be transmitted down to adequate support.

I. Adjacent buildings.

1. Where elements of adjacent buildings do not have a separation of at least five (5) inches, the allowable height/thickness ratios for "buildings with crosswalls" per Table A-23-B shall not be used in the direction of consideration.

2. Where an exterior URM bearing wall does not have a separation of at least five (5) inches and the diaphragm levels of the adjoining structures differ by more than one and one-half (1½) times the wall thickness, supplemental vertical gravity load carrying members shall be added to support the loads normally carried by the wall and such members shall not be attached to the wall. The loads shall be transmitted down to the foundation.

J. Infill frames.

1. General. In addition to other applicable requirements of this chapter, concrete and steel frames shall comply with the special provisions of this section.

2. Infill walls. All infill walls shall be located and dimensioned on the plans and an appropriate repair defined for any observed areas of distress in the frames or infill walls including spalling, cracking or corrosion. Out of plane forces acting on the infill shall be considered unless it is shown that the infill is tightly grouted to the frame and the h/t ratio between supports is less than sixteen (16).

3. Buildings with reinforced infill can be designed as shear wall building using the force provisions of the Table A-23-E provided that it is shown by conventional rigidity analyses that the building as retrofitted meets the regularity requirements of the 1988 UBC.

4. Buildings with reinforced infill can be designed as shear wall building using the force provisions of the Table A-23-E provided that it is shown by conventional rigidity analyses that the building as retrofitted meets the regularity requirements of the 1988 UBC.

5. Buildings with reinforced infill can be designed as shear wall building using the force provisions of the Table A-23-E provided that it is shown by conventional rigidity analyses that the building as retrofitted meets the regularity requirements of the 1988 UBC.

6. Wythes of infill walls that occur beyond the confining edges of frame columns and beams shall be anchored as veneer to the frame or the confined portion of the infill wall. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.030 Prima facie hazard grading.

A. All structures covered by this chapter and constructed before January 9, 1934, shall be inspected and graded in accordance with the provisions set forth in this chapter, such inspection to determine the relative prima facie earthquake hazard associated with same, and graded to establish a priority for subsequent correction. Such buildings which are three stories or less in height shall be inspected and graded by the Building Official and all others shall be inspected and graded in accordance with Section 18.68.050. Grading shall consist of an evaluation based upon an examination of the building plans, specifications or reports that are available, a visual inspection and consideration of the occupancy classification and occupant load. The evaluation shall include an analytical evaluation which shall determine the resistance to earthquake forces of the primary structural system of the structure. The analysis shall be based insofar as possible on the same procedures and assumptions used in seismic design of new buildings, and for purposes of evaluation, shall consist of a comparison of the seismic resistance of the existing building to the seismic resistance required of a new building designed and constructed under the building regulations of the 1970 Uniform Building Code, and otherwise identical to the existing building insofar as location, use, configuration, structural system and materials of construction are concerned. Such comparison can be expressed in terms of a capacity ratio R_S defined as follows:

$$R_S = V_{REQ}/V_{CAP}$$

Where V_{CAP} is the lateral force resistive capacity of a particular existing structure, calculated for the critical mode of failure of a significant portion of the building and V_{REQ} is the required lateral force resistive capacity of the same structure calculated for those specified earthquake conditions set forth in the building regulations of the 1970 Uniform Building Code. For the purposes of assessing the lateral force capacity of existing construction, certain stresses, values and procedures will be established as acceptable, such values to be set forth in a specification entitled "Specifications for Assessing the Capacity of Unreinforced Masonry Buildings, Long Beach Department of Community Development," to be prepared by the Building and Safety Bureau, which specifications may be amended from time to time at the discretion of the Department. Assessment of the capacity ratio R_S shall take into account the following elements:

1. Stability of the wall system and vertical framing;

2. Horizontal diaphragm and/or bracing system;

3. Connections;

4. Shear resisting elements;

5. Special hazards, either structural or nonstructural.

B. In the assignment of a building to a particular hazard grade, the Building Official shall first determine its location on a hazardous index which shall reflect relative degrees of hazard. Such hazardous index shall be established in the specifications entitled "Specifications for Assessing the Capacity of Unreinforced Masonry Buildings, Long Beach Department of Community Development," and shall be a function of the capacity ratio R_S as defined in this section, the occupancy classification of the building and an occupancy potential which is a measure of the human exposure in and near the building. Occupancy classification and occupancy potential shall be as set forth in the above-mentioned specifications.

C. Location of a building on the Hazardous Index shall be the determining factor in the assignment of a building to a particular hazard grade. Assignment shall be by the Building Official and shall be in one of the following three hazardous grades if the capacity of the building has been determined to be less than that required under the building regulations of the 1970 Uniform Building Code:

Excessive Hazard Grade I

High Hazard Grade II

Intermediate Hazard Grade III

D. Limits on the Hazardous Index which will determine placement in particular hazard grades shall be as established in the above-mentioned specifications and shall in general limit Excessive Hazard - Grade 1 to approximately ten percent (10%) of the buildings occupying the highest hazards on the Hazardous Index; the High Hazard - Grade II to approximately thirty percent (30%) of the buildings occupying the middle portion of the Hazardous Index; and the Intermediate Hazard - Grade III to approximately sixty percent (60%) of the buildings occupying the lowest hazards on the Hazardous Index.

E. If an assessment results in a capacity virtually equal to that required under the building regulations of the 1970 Uniform Building Code, or if a repair is accomplished to affect conformance with the seismic requirements of the building regulations of the 1970 Uniform Building Code, the building shall be deemed as having no hazards and shall be so classified. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.040 Special and intermediate hazards.

In addition to evaluation of the primary structural systems, any structural or nonstructural element of the building, including parapets, ornamentation or other appendages attached to the building or any structural or nonstructural architectural, mechanical or electrical system that is determined by reason of lack of attachment, anchorage or condition, to become dangerous to persons in the building or in the vicinity, will be classed as an immediate hazard. Any immediate hazard identified in buildings classified as high or intermediate hazard shall be treated as an excessive hazard and shall be abated under the procedures established for excessive hazard. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.050 Priority and method of grading.

A. Buildings shall in general be graded on a priority system but in three (3) phases: Phase I shall consist of inspection and grading of all buildings less than four (4) stories in height and within occupancy classifications A, B, C, D and E; Phase II will consist of inspection and grading of all buildings two (2) and three (3) stories in height and classified F, G and H; and Phase III will consist of inspection and grading of all buildings remaining to be graded. Grading of all structures in each phase shall be accomplished insofar as is possible by a date established by the Department, and on that date, owners and interested parties will be promptly notified of the hazard grade in which their building has been placed. Such notification shall give notice to the owner of the hazard grade in which the building is being placed, a procedure to be followed if the owner is in disagreement with the grading, and that the grade assigned will be recorded with the county recorder after sixty (60) days unless a change in grade has been initiated as set forth in Section 18.68.190.

B. Buildings four (4) stories or more in height shall be placed in the appropriate hazard grade by the Building Official after receipt from the building owner of such information and data as is necessary to adequately grade the building. Such information and data shall be gathered for the owner at his or her expense by a structural or civil engineer or an architect licensed under the laws of the State and shall be submitted to the Building Official by such dates as he will set consistent with those occupancy classifications established for other buildings as set forth in this section for Phases I, II and III. Notice to require gathering of such information by the owner shall be substantially in the form set forth in Section 18.68.180. The Building Official shall, after reviewing the information and data submitted, place the building in the appropriate hazard grade and shall promptly notify the owner of the hazard grade in which his or her building has been placed. Failure to provide the Building Official with the required information and data by such established dates will result in placement of the building in Excessive Hazard - Grade I, until such information is submitted and the building is graded in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.060 Calculation of actual lateral force capacity V_{CAP}.

The actual lateral force capacity, V_{CAP}, of a particular structure shall be computed using those values and stresses set forth in specifications entitled "Specifications for Assessing Capacity of Unreinforced Masonry Buildings, Long Beach Department of Building and Safety." (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.070 Hazardous grading and dates of corrective action.

A. Owners of structures that have been graded Excessive Hazard - Grade I will be given notice of the need for corrective action as soon as such grading has been accomplished. Such notification shall take the form of notice of corrective action as set forth in Section 18.68.090.

B. Owners of structures that have been graded High Hazard - Grade II will be notified of the need for corrective action on January 1, 1984, or as soon thereafter as Departmental office procedures will permit. Such notification shall take the form of notice of corrective action as set forth in Section 18.68.090.

C. Owners of structures that have been graded Intermediate Hazard - Grade III will be notified of the need for corrective action on January 1, 1991, or as soon thereafter as Departmental office procedures will permit. Such notification shall take the form of Notice of Corrective Action as set forth in Section 18.68.090. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.080 Hazardous grading subject to change.

A. Buildings placed in a particular hazardous grade may be changed to a lesser grade if corrective repairs are undertaken and accomplished. Hazardous grading may also be changed when competent engineering data is submitted substantiating such a change. Such data may consist of analytical assessments, tests, data substantiating a higher capacity ratio or a modification of use or occupancy potential. Corrective repair plans and/or data substantiating a change in hazardous grading shall be prepared by a structural or civil engineer or architect licensed under the laws of the State to practice said profession. Partial repair designed to correct or strengthen individual and/or critical elements of a building will be permitted provided a suitable plan indicating the method of total and eventual correction and the schedule of expected dates of correction is submitted and the method of eventual correction is approved. Buildings so repaired will be regarded reflecting repairs so accomplished.

B. Complete repair and removal from any hazardous classification will be deemed to have been accomplished when the building has been repaired in accordance with this chapter or with the provisions for repair to remove structures from hazardous classifications in the "Specifications for Assessing the Capacity of Unreinforced Masonry Buildings, Long Beach Department of Building and Safety." (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.090 Notice of corrective action.

After completion of grading, the Building Official shall send to owners of buildings deemed to be Excessive Hazard - Grade I, a notice of corrective action via certified United States mail. Owners of structures that have been graded High Hazard - Grade II and Intermediate Hazard - Grade III, will be sent such a notice at such time as specified in Section 18.68.070. This notice shall be in substantially the following form:

NOTICE OF CORRECTIVE ACTION

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that an inspection and evaluation of your structure located at:

Indicates that said structure carries an (excessive, high, intermediate) hazard of major damage in the event of earthquake which would endanger the safety of persons and property located in, on or about said structure at the time of such event. Within sixty (60) days from the date of this notice you shall present to this office a plan of action for reducing the earthquake hazard associated with said structure to an acceptable level.

An extension of the aforesaid sixty (60) day period may be obtained, for good cause shown, by requesting same in writing filed with this office at least seven (7) calendar days prior to the expiration of said sixty (60) day period. Such request shall be accompanied by a written statement of your contemplated action, the accomplishments toward same up to the time of the request, an estimate of the time required to complete the formulation of your proposed plan of action, and the name and address of the engineer, or architect, if any, whom you may have engaged.

In the event your proposed plan of action contemplates repair or some action other than abandonment and demolition, within one hundred twenty (120) calendar days, you shall submit to this office proposed repairs or strengthening measures which will increase the lateral force withstanding capability of the structure to a level commensurate with the acceptable level of earthquake hazard for your prospective use or occupancy. Information as to the magnitude of the lateral force withstanding capability associated with your structure in its present condition, as well as information as to proposed repairs or strengthening measures intended to increase the lateral force withstanding capability, shall be prepared by a structural or civil engineer or architect licensed under the laws of the State of California to practice said profession.

An extension of the aforesaid one hundred twenty (120) days may be granted for good cause shown by requesting same in writing filed with this office at least seven (7) calendar days prior to the expiration of the said one hundred twenty (120) day period. Such request shall be accompanied by a written statement explaining the reason for such an extension and an estimate of the date on which plans will be completed, the degree to which plans have already been completed, and other information which will document the fact that work is progressing.

In the event abandonment and demolition is contemplated, a date certain for such abandonment and demolition shall be submitted to the Building Official for evaluation and approval.

A copy of the ordinance, by authority of which this notice is sent, may be obtained from the office of the City Clerk, upon payment of an appropriate fee. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.100 Application for order of abatement of nuisance.

A. In the event the owner of a structure is notified pursuant to Section 18.68.090 and a plan of action satisfactory to the Building Official is not presented within sixty (60) days after the notice has been mailed or within such extension of time as may have been granted in writing by the Building Official; or if the proposed plan of action, contemplated repair, or some action other than abandonment and demolition, has not been submitted and agreed upon by the Building Official within the one hundred twenty (120) days provided in Section 18.68.090 or within such extension of time as the Building Official may have granted; then the Building Official shall apply in writing to the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation for an order declaring the structure to be a nuisance and ordering the Certificate of Occupancy to be revoked, or that it be demolished or repaired in a manner satisfactory to the Building Official, all by a date certain. The written application shall set forth in the form of factual allegations all facts which, if proven, are necessary to justify an order of condemnation, including, but not limited to the following:

1. The location and legal description of the structure;

2. A concise calculation sheet indicating the ratio R_S for each of the elements of the structural system;

3. The structure's present occupancy;

4. The date upon which the owner of the structure was notified pursuant to Section 18.68.090;

5. A statement as to whether the structure owner has submitted a plan of action pursuant to Section 18.68.090;

6. The date certain by which the structure must be repaired or demolished, in the Building Official's opinion, in order to keep the earthquake hazard associated with it at or below the applicable tolerable level.

B. A copy of the written application shall be mailed by certified United States mail to the person to whom the notice of Section 18.68.090 was mailed. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.110 Hearing by Board.

In the event the Building Official files an application pursuant to Section 18.68.100, he shall set a date and time for a hearing before the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation in accordance with Section 18.20.130. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.120 Appeals to City Council.

Whenever the owner of any structure is aggrieved by any final order of the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation, dealing with the abatement of a nuisance as provided in this chapter, such owner may within five (5) days of notice of such ruling or act appeal to the City Council as provided in Section 18.20.140. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.130 Owner responsibility to demolish structure.

In the event the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation orders a structure demolished, immediately upon the effective date of its order, the structure's owner shall arrange for the vacation and demolition of the structure within sixty (60) days after the Board's order becomes effective, unless such order is modified or reversed by the City Council or is stayed by a court of competent jurisdiction. Should the structure owner fail to inform the Building Official within five (5) days after the Board's order becomes effective that such arrangements have been made or should the owner's scheduled demolition not in fact be completed within the aforesaid sixty (60) day period, then the Building Official may arrange for the demolition of the subject structure and impose a lien upon the property for the costs of same. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.135 Landmark structures—Alternatives to demolition.

Upon receipt of an application for a permit to demolish a landmark building to comply with the provisions of this chapter, the Building Official shall request the City Clerk to present such application before the City Council at their next scheduled meeting. City Council shall thereupon set a public hearing not less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days from the date the application is presented. On the date thus fixed, or on the date to which the hearing has been subsequently continued, City Council shall proceed to hear testimony and receive evidence relating to the matter. At the conclusion of the hearing, City Council shall make a determination on the method of abating the earthquake hazardous conditions of the building based upon the estimated comparative costs of seismic rehabilitation and demolition, any financial assistance programs that may be available to the owner for rehabilitation, the potential life safety risks involved, or any other pertinent information. Following the hearing, the City Council may order demolition. Alternatively, the City Council may consider: (1) ordering the building vacated and secured against unlawful entry, (2) barricading the pedestrian areas surrounding the building subject to hazards from parts of the building dislodged in an earthquake, and/or (3) allowing additional time to strengthen the building. In the event authorization is not granted for a permit to demolish and/or an alternative is ordered, all demolition permit processing fees submitted by the applicant shall be refunded and the applicant shall be deemed relieved of any further responsibility to demolish the structure under this chapter except as may be provided in the alternate permit issued. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.140 Notice of pending order of demolition.

A. In the event the Board orders the demolition of the subject structure by a date certain which is three (3) months or more after the effective date of the order, and the order is not modified or reversed by the City Council or is not stayed by a court of competent jurisdiction, the Building Official shall prepare a notice of pending order of demolition and arrange for the recordation of same in the office of the county recorder of Los Angeles County. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

NOTICE OF PENDING
ORDER OF DEMOLITION

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that by order of the Board of Examiners, Appeals and Condemnation of the City of Long Beach, State of California, dated _____, 20____, that certain structure now standing at and described generally as must and shall be demolished on or before _____ 20____.

A certified copy of said order may be obtained from the office of the Department of Community Development, Building and Safety Bureau, of the City of Long Beach upon the payment of the appropriate fee. If said structure is not demolished in accordance with the aforesaid order, the same may be demolished by the City of Long Beach and the costs therefore assessed as a lien upon the land upon which the structure stood. A lien in the amount of $_____ in favor of the City of Long Beach is hereby assessed against said property for the costs of recording this notice.

B. The notice shall be recorded under the names of each and every person to whom the notice of Section 18.68.090 was mailed. The structure's owner may pay the recording fees for the aforesaid notice and thereby avoid the imposition of lien for same against the property. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.150 Owner responsibility to accomplish hazard reduction measures.

In the event the Board or the City Council certifies to the validity of any or all of any measures the owner has proposed as a means of reducing the earthquake hazard, and finds that the accomplishment of such measures will reduce the earthquake hazard associated with the structure to or below the applicable tolerable level, it shall order the owner to immediately initiate the accomplishment of such measures and to complete the same within a reasonable time. The Board or the City Council shall designate in its order, based on evidence presented to it during the hearing, that date certain which represents a reasonable time in its opinion for the accomplishment of the proposed measures. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.160 Jurisdiction of Board or Council over certain cases.

The Board or the City Council shall retain jurisdiction over cases in which it has approved owner-proposed measures for reducing earthquake hazard until such measures have been timely accomplished. In the event written evidence of the completion of the approved measures is not presented to the Board or the City Council within ten (10) days after the designated date for the completion of such measures shall have passed, the Board or the City Council may revise its decision and order the immediate vacation and demolition of the structure. The Board or City Council may consider a time extension for the completion of the proposed measures if, prior to said date, the structure's owner has so applied. Any application for such an extension shall be in writing, setting forth what has actually been accomplished, what remains to be done, and the reasons for the requested extension. Should the Board or the City Council conclude that good cause has been shown for an extension, it may grant such an extension in writing for a period deemed necessary to complete the approved repairs. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.170 Hearing—Failure of owner to proceed in good faith.

In the event the Building Official or any interested person presents written affidavits to the Board or the City Council indicating the owner is not proceeding in good faith to timely accomplish any measures approved by the Board or the City Council in its original decision and order, the Board or City Council shall, on ten (10) days' written notice mailed via certified United States mail to the owner of the structure, schedule and conduct a hearing on the matter. At such hearing, evidence, oral and written, may be presented as in the original hearing, and if the Board or the City Council is convinced that the owner is not proceeding in good faith to timely carry out its original order, then it shall revoke the order and order instead the immediate vacation and demolition of the structure. Written affidavits shall not, however, be received by the Board or the City Council under this section until at least fifty percent (50%) of the time allowed in its original order has expired. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.180 Notification to owners of buildings four stories or more in height.

Pursuant to Section 18.68.050, notification shall be sent via certified United States mail to owners of buildings four (4) stories or more in height, on such dates as are determined in Section 18.68.050. Such notification shall require the owner to have gathered and submitted to the Building Official information and data relating to the building's capabilities to withstand earthquake forces in sufficient detail to permit grading of the building in accordance with Section 18.68.030. Such information and data shall be gathered by a structural or civil engineer or architect licensed under the laws of the State. The notification shall state the date by which the information and data shall be transmitted to the Building Official, and that failure to so transmit shall result in arbitrarily placing the building in the Excessive Hazard - Grade I category. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.190 Notice of county recorder.

Upon expiration of the sixty (60) day period after notification to owners and interested parties of the hazardous grade in which their building is being placed, all in accordance with Section 18.68.050, and if such hazardous grading has not been changed or required data substantiating a change has not been submitted as set forth in Section 18.68.080, the Building Official shall prepare and cause to be recorded with the county recorder a certificate stating that the building has been graded and assigned the particular hazardous grade determined under Section 18.68.030. When and if all required repairs are made to the building and it is removed from the hazardous grading, or certain corrective action is taken to change it to a different grade, the Building Official shall cause to be recorded with the county recorder records indicating the removal from said hazardous grading or reflecting the change to the different grade. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.220 Standard No. 24-40, in-place masonry shear tests.

The bed joints of the outer wythe of the masonry shall be tested in shear by laterally displacing a single brick relative to the adjacent bricks in the same wythe. The head joint opposite the loaded end of the test brick shall be carefully excavated and cleared. The brick adjacent to the loaded end of the test brick shall be carefully removed by sawing or drilling and excavating to provide space for a hydraulic ram and steel loading blocks. Steel blocks, the size of the end of the brick, shall be used on each end of the ram to distribute the load to the brick. The blocks shall not contact the mortar joints. The load shall be applied horizontally, in the plane of the wythe, until either a crack can be seen or slip occurs. The strength of the mortar shall be calculated by dividing the load at the first crack or movement of the test brick by the nominal gross area of the sum of the two (2) bed joints. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.221 Standard No. 24-41, tests of anchors in unreinforced masonry walls.

A. Existing Anchors. The test apparatus shall be supported on the masonry wall at a minimum distance of the wall thickness from the anchor tested. Existing wall anchors shall be given a preload of three hundred (300) pounds prior to establishing a datum for recording elongation. The tension test load reported shall be recorded at one-eighth (1/8) inch relative movement of the anchor and the adjacent masonry surface. Results of all tests shall be reported. The report shall include the test results as related to the wall thickness and joist orientation.

3/4-inch-diameter bolts — 60 foot lbs.

All nuts shall be installed over malleable iron or plate washers when bearing on wood and heavy cut washers when bearing on steel. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.68.222 Standard No. 24-42, pointing of unreinforced masonry walls.

The old or deteriorated mortar should be cut out, by means of a toothing chisel or nonimpact power tool to a uniform depth of three-fourths-inch, or until sound mortar is reached. Care must be taken not to damage the brick edges. After cutting is completed, remove all loose material with a brush, air, or water stream.

Mortar mix shall be type "N" or "S" proportions as called for in the construction specifications, preferably as close to the original mortar proportion as possible. Prehydrate pointing mortar to reduce excessive shrinkage. To prehydrate mortar, thoroughly mix all ingredients dry, then mix again, adding only enough water to produce a damp unworkable mix which will retain its form when pressed into a ball. After keeping mortar in this dampened condition for one (1) to one and one-half (1½) hours, add sufficient water to bring it to the proper consistency that is somewhat drier than conventional masonry mortar. To ensure good bond, wet the mortar joints thoroughly before applying pointing mortar. The joints should not be visibly wet with free-standing water which must be absorbed into the wall. Pack mortar tightly in thin layers (one-fourth inch maximum) until the joint is filled, then tool to a smooth surface to match original profile. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. CHAPTER 18.69 VOLUNTARY EARTHQUAKE HAZARD REDUCTION IN EXISTING WOOD FRAME RESIDENTIAL BUILDINGS WITH WEAK CRIPPLE WALLS AND UNBOLTED SILL PLATES

18.69.010 General.

A. Purpose. The provisions of this chapter are intended to promote public safety and welfare by reducing the risk of earthquake-induced damage to existing wood-framed residential buildings. The voluntary minimum standards contained in this chapter shall substantially improve the seismic performance of these residential buildings but will not necessarily prevent all earthquake damage. When fully followed, these standards will strengthen the portion of the structure that is most vulnerable to earthquake damage.

Prior to 1960, most wood frame residential buildings were built with raised wood floors supported by short wood stud walls known as cripple walls. These cripple walls are typically braced with weak seismic materials such as Portland cement plaster or horizontal wood siding. In addition, wood frame buildings built under Building Codes in effect prior to July 1938 were not required to be bolted to their foundations. Recent earthquakes have shown that if a building has weak cripple walls or is unbolted, it may fall off its foundation even in moderate earthquakes.

Fallen buildings have collapsed, caught fire or needed extensive repairs to restore their occupancy.

This chapter sets prescriptive standards for strengthening of under floor enclosures, if permitted by the Building Official, without requiring construction documents prepared by a registered design professional licensed by the State of California. This chapter also provides a design standard for the use of alternate materials or an alternate method of construction in lieu of the prescriptive standards.

Construction documents for strengthening using alternate materials or methods shall be prepared by a registered design professional licensed by the State of California.

B. Scope. The provisions of this chapter may be applied to light wood frame Group R occupancies, with no more than four (4) dwelling units when they contain one (1) or more of the structural weaknesses specified in Section 18.69.030.

The provisions of this chapter do not apply to the buildings or elements thereof listed below. These buildings or elements require analysis by a registered design professional licensed by the State of California in accordance with Chapter 16 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 or other approved standards to determine appropriate strengthening.

1. Buildings with a lateral-force-resisting system using poles or columns embedded in the ground.

2. Cripple walls that exceed four (4) feet in height.

3. Buildings exceeding three (3) stories in height and any three (3) story building with cripple wall studs exceeding fourteen (14) inches in height.

4. Buildings, or portions thereof, constructed on a concrete slab on grade or constructed on or into a slope steeper than one (1) unit vertical in three (3) units horizontal (33.3% slope).

5. Buildings where the Building Official determines that conditions exist that are beyond the scope of the requirements of this chapter.

The standard details approved by the Building Official and these prescriptive provisions are not intended to be the only acceptable strengthening methods permitted. Alternate details and methods shall be permitted when approved by the Building Official. Qualified historical buildings shall be permitted to use alternate building regulations or deviations from this chapter in order to preserve their original or restored architectural elements and features. See California Code of Regulations, Title 24, Part 8 (California Historical Building Code) for these standards.

C. Alternative design procedures. When analysis by a registered design professional is required or provided for a building within the scope of this chapter, such analysis shall be in accordance with all requirements of this code except as provided in this chapter. The design shall provide strengthening for any structural weakness listed in Section 18.69.030 that is at least equivalent to that provided by the prescriptive requirements of this chapter with respect to strength, deflection and capacity. The Building Official may require that sufficient evidence be submitted to substantiate such equivalence. The base shear may be determined in accordance with the following:

Where:

V = the total design lateral force or shear at the base

W = the total seismic dead load defined in Section 12.7.2 of ASCE 7-16. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.69.020 Definitions.

For the purpose of this chapter, in addition to the applicable definitions, symbols and notations in this code, certain additional terms are defined as follows:

"Adhesive anchor" means a fastener placed in hardened concrete or masonry that derives its holding strength from a chemical adhesive compound placed between the wall of the hole and the embedded portion of the anchor.

"Anchor side plate" means a metal plate or plates used to connect a sill plate to the side of a concrete or masonry stem wall.

"Cripple wall" means a wood-framed stud wall extending from the top of the foundation to the underside of the lowest floor framing.

"Expansion anchor" means a mechanical fastener placed in hardened concrete or assembled masonry, designed to expand in a self-drilled or pre-drilled hole of a specified size and engage the sides of the hole in one or more locations to develop shear and/or tension resistance to applied loads without grout, adhesive or drypack.

"Perimeter foundation" means a foundation system which is located under the exterior walls of a building.

"Snug-tight" is as tight as an individual can torque a nut on a bolt by hand using a wrench with a ten (10) inch long handle and the point at which the full surface of the plate washer is contacting the wood member and slightly indents the wood surface.

"Unreinforced masonry" means and includes adobe, burned clay, concrete or sand-lime brick, hollow clay or concrete block, hollow clay tile, rubble, cut stone, and unburned clay masonry walls in which the area of reinforcement is less than fifty percent (50%) of the minimum steel ratios required for reinforced masonry. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.69.030 Structural weaknesses.

A. Sill plates or floor framing which are supported directly on the ground without an approved foundation system.

B. A perimeter foundation system which is constructed of wood posts supported on isolated pad footings.

C. Perimeter foundation systems that are not continuous.

EXCEPTIONS:

1. Existing single-story exterior walls not exceeding ten (10) feet in length forming an extension of floor area beyond the line of an existing continuous perimeter foundation.

2. Porches, storage rooms and similar spaces not containing fuel burning appliances.

D. A perimeter foundation system which is constructed of unreinforced masonry.

E. Sill plates which are not connected to the foundation or are connected with less than what is required by Subsection 18.69.040.C.1.

F. Cripple walls that are not braced in accordance with the requirements of Subsection 18.69.040.D and Table 69-A. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.69.040 Strengthening requirements.

A. General.

1. Scope. The structural weaknesses noted in Section 18.69.030 shall be strengthened in accordance with the requirements of this section. Strengthening work shall be allowed to include both new construction and alteration of existing construction. Except as provided herein, all strengthening work and materials shall comply with the applicable provisions of this code. Alternate methods of strengthening shall be allowed provided such systems are designed by a registered design professional and approved by the Building Official.

2. Condition of existing wood materials. All existing wood materials which will be a part of the strengthening work shall be in a sound condition and free from defects which substantially reduce the capacity of the member. Any wood material found to contain fungus infection shall be removed and replaced with new material. Any wood material found to be infested with insects or to have been infested shall be strengthened or replaced with new materials to provide a net dimension of sound wood at least equal to its undamaged original dimension.

Existing connections at the top edge of an existing rim joist or blocking need not be verified. The bottom edge connection to either the foundation sill plate or top plate of a cripple wall shall be verified unless a supplemental connection is provided. The minimum existing bottom edge connection shall consist of 8d toenails spaced six (6) inches apart for a continuous rim joist or three (3) 8d toenails per block. When this minimum bottom edge connection is not present, or is not verified, a supplemental connection shall be provided.

When an existing continuous rim joist or the minimum existing blocking does not occur, new one and one-eighth (1-1/8) inch wood structural panel blocking installed tightly between floor joists and nailed with 10d common nails at four (4) inches on center to the sill or wall top plate shall be provided at the inside face of the cripple wall. In lieu of one and one-eighth (1-1/8) inch wood structural panel blocking, tight-fitting, full or near full depth two (2) inches nominal width lumber blocking shall be allowed provided it does not split during installation. New blocking is not required where it will interfere with vents or plumbing that penetrates the wall.

4. Floor joists parallel to foundations. Where existing floor joists are parallel to the perimeter foundations, the end joist shall be located over the foundation and, except for required ventilation openings, shall be continuous and in continuous contact with any existing foundation sill plate or top plate of the cripple wall. Existing connections at the top edge connection of the end joist need not be verified; however, the bottom edge connection to either the foundation sill plate or the top plate of a cripple wall shall be verified unless a supplemental connection is provided.

The minimum bottom edge connection shall be 8d toenails spaced six (6) inches apart. If this minimum bottom edge connection is not present or is not verified, a supplemental connection shall be provided.

5. Supplemental connections. Supplemental connections shall provide sufficient strength to transfer the seismic forces. Framing anchors of minimum eighteen (18) gage steel and twelve (12) approved fasteners may be considered to meet this requirement when spaced thirty-two (32) inches on center for one (1) story buildings, twenty-four (24) inches on center for two (2) story buildings and sixteen (16) inches on center for three (3) story buildings.

EXCEPTIONS: A supplemental connection is not required when:

a. The structural wood panel sheathing extends from the sill plate to the rim joist or blocking above.

b. The floor sheathing is nailed directly into the sill or top plate of the cripple wall.

6. Single top plate ties. When a single top plate exists in the cripple wall, all end joints in the top plate shall be tied. Ties shall be connected to each end of the discontinuous top plate and shall be equal to one of the following:

a. Three (3) inch by six (6) inch by 0.036-inch thick galvanized steel and nailed with six (6) 8d nails at each end.

b. One and one-half (1½) inch by twelve (12) inch by 0.058-inch galvanized steel nailed with six (6) 16d nails at each end.

c. Two (2) inch by four (4) inch by twelve (12) inch wood blocking nailed with six (6) 16d nails at each end.

B. Foundations.

1. New perimeter foundations. New perimeter foundations shall be provided for structures with the structural weaknesses noted in Subsections 18.69.030.A and 18.69.030.B. Soil investigations or geotechnical studies are not required for this work unless the building shows signs of excessive settlement or creep.

2. Foundation evaluation by a registered design professional. Partial perimeter foundations or unreinforced masonry foundations shall be evaluated by a registered design professional for the force levels noted in Formula (69-1) of this chapter. Test reports or other substantiating data to determine existing foundation material strengths shall be submitted for review. When approved by the Building Official, these foundation systems may be strengthened in accordance with the recommendations included with the evaluation in lieu of being replaced.

EXCEPTION: In lieu of testing existing foundations to determine material strengths and when approved by the Building Official, a new nonperimeter foundation system, designed for the forces noted in Formula (69-1) of this chapter, may be used to resist all exterior wall lateral forces.

3. Details for new perimeter foundations. All new perimeter foundations shall be continuous and constructed according to the standards for new buildings.

EXCEPTIONS:

a. When approved by the Building Official, the existing clearance between existing floor joists or girders and existing grade below the floor need not comply with Section 2304.12.1.1 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40. This exception shall not be permitted when buildings are relocated on new foundations.

b. When approved by the Building Official, and when designed by a registered design professional, partial perimeter foundations may be used in lieu of a continuous perimeter foundation.

C. Foundation sill plate anchorage.

1. Existing perimeter foundations. When the building has an existing continuous perimeter foundation, all perimeter wall sill plates shall be connected to the foundation in accordance with Table 69-A and this section. Anchors shall be installed with the plate washer installed between the nut and the sill plate. The nut shall be tightened to a snug-tight condition after curing is complete for adhesive anchors and after expansion wedge engagement for expansion anchors.

The installation of nuts on all anchors shall be subject to verification by the Building Official. Torque testing shall be performed for twenty percent (20%) of all adhesive or expansion anchors.

Minimum test values shall be thirty (30) foot-pounds for one-half inch (1/2") and forty (40) foot-pounds for five-eighths inch (5/8") diameter anchors.

Anchor side plates shall be permitted when conditions prevent anchor installation vertically through the sill plate. Anchor side plates shall be spaced as required for adhesive or expansion anchors but only one anchor side plate is required on individual pieces of sill plate less than thirty-two inches (32") in length. Wood structural panel shims shall be used on sill plates for single plate anchor side plates when the foundation stem wall is from three-sixteenths inch (3/16") to three-fourths inch (3/4") wider than the sill plate. The shim length shall extend a minimum of two inches (2") past each end of the anchor side plate. Two (2) plate anchor side plates shall be used when the total thickness of the required shim exceeds three-fourths inch (3/4").

All anchor side plates which use lag or wood screws shall pre-drill the sill plate to prevent splitting as required by Section 12.1 of the 2024 ANSI/AWC NDS.

Lag or wood screws shall be installed in the center of the thickness of the existing sill plate.

Expansion anchors shall not be used in unreinforced masonry or concrete masonry grout of poor quality. Adhesive anchors shall be required when expansion anchors will not tighten to the required torque or their installation causes surface cracking of the foundation wall.

2. Placement of anchors. Anchors shall be placed within twelve inches (12"), but not less than nine inches (9"), from the ends of sill plates and shall be placed near the center of the stud space closest to the required spacing. New sill plates may be installed in pieces when necessary because of existing conditions.

The minimum length of new sill plate pieces shall be thirty inches (30").

EXCEPTION: Where physical obstructions such as fireplaces, plumbing or heating ducts interfere with the placement of an anchor, the anchor shall be placed as close to the obstruction as possible, but not less than nine inches (9") from the end of the plate. Center-to-center spacing of the anchors shall be reduced as necessary to provide the minimum total number of anchors required based on the full length of the wall. Center-to-center spacing shall not be less than twelve inches (12").

3. New perimeter foundations. Sill plates for new perimeter foundations shall be anchored as required by Section 2308.3.1 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

D. Cripple wall bracing.

1. General. Exterior cripple walls not exceeding four feet (4') in height shall use the prescriptive bracing method listed below. Cripple walls more than four feet (4') in height require analysis by a registered design professional in accordance with Chapter 16 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

2. Sheathing requirements. Wood structural panel sheathing shall not be less than 15/32 inch thick. When used, plywood panels shall be constructed of five (5) or more plies.

All wood structural panels shall be nailed with 8d common nails spaced four inches (4") on center at all edges and at twelve inches (12") on center at each intermediate support with not less than two (2) nails for each stud. Nails shall be driven so that their head or crown is flush with the surface of the sheathing and shall penetrate the supporting member a minimum of one and one-half inch (1-½"). When a nail fractures the surface, it shall be left in place and not counted as part of the required nailing. A new 8d nail shall be located within two inches (2") of the discounted nail and hand-driven flush with the sheathing surface.

EXCEPTION: No. 6 × 1-½ inch wood screws may be used for sheathing nailing when bracing materials are installed on the interior face of studs and cement plaster or other brittle finishes are on the exterior of the sheathed wall.

All horizontal joints must occur over nominal two inch (2") by four inch (4") blocking installed with the nominal four inch (4") dimension against the face of the plywood. All vertical joints must occur over studs. Vertical joints at adjoining pieces of wood structural panels shall be centered on existing studs such that there is a minimum one-eighth inch (⅛") between the panels.

Nails shall be placed a minimum of one-half inch (½") from the edges of the existing stud. When such edge distance cannot be maintained because of the width of the existing stud, a new stud shall be added adjacent to the existing and connected with 16d common nails at eight inches (8") on center. A minimum of three (3) such nails shall be provided.

3. Distribution and amount of bracing. See Table 69-A for the distribution and amount of bracing required. Bracing for a building with three (3) or more floor levels above cripple wall studs exceeding fourteen inches (14") in height must be designed in accordance with Chapter 16 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

The braced panel must be at least two (2) times the height of the cripple stud wall but not less than forty-eight inches (48") in width. All panels along a wall shall be nearly equal in length and shall be nearly equally spaced along the length of the wall. Braced panels at ends of walls shall be located as near the end as possible.

Where physical obstructions such as fireplaces, plumbing or heating ducts interfere with the placement of cripple wall bracing, the bracing shall then be placed as close to the obstruction as possible. The total amount of bracing required shall not be reduced because of obstructions, but the required length of bracing need not exceed the length of the wall.

Under floor ventilation openings shall be maintained in accordance with Section 1202.4 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40. Braced panels may include under floor ventilation openings when the height of the solid portion of the panel meets or seventy-five percent (75%) of the height of the cripple stud wall.

When the minimum amount of bracing prescribed in Table 69-A cannot be installed due to obstructions along any wall, the bracing must be designed by a registered design professional in accordance with Subsection 18.69.010.C.

4. Stud space ventilation. When bracing materials are installed on the interior face of studs forming an enclosed space between the new bracing and existing exterior finish, each braced stud space must be ventilated. Adequate ventilation and access for future inspection shall be provided by drilling on two inch (2") to three inch (3") diameter round hole through the sheathing nearly centered between each stud at the top and bottom of the cripple wall. Such holes should be spaced a minimum of one (1) inch clear from the sill or top plates. In stud spaces containing sill bolts, the hole shall be located on the center line of the sill bolt but not closer than one inch (1") clear from the nailing edge of the sheathing.

When existing blocking occurs within the stud space, additional ventilation holes shall be placed above and below the blocking or the existing block shall be removed and a new nominal two inch (2") by four inch (4") block installed with the nominal four inch (4") dimension against the face of the plywood. For stud heights less than eighteen inches (18"), only one (1) ventilation hole need be provided.

5. Existing under floor ventilation. Existing under floor ventilation shall not be reduced without providing equivalent new ventilation as close to the existing as possible. New sheathing may be installed around existing vent openings in braced panels when the length of the panel is increased a distance equal to the length of the vent opening or one stud space minimum.

EXCEPTION: For residential buildings with a post and pier foundation system where a new continuous perimeter foundation system is being installed, ventilation shall be provided in accordance with this title. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.69.050 Quality control.

A. Inspection by the Department. All work shall be subject to inspection by the Building Official including, but not limited to:

1. Placement and installation of new adhesive or expansion anchors or anchor side plates installed in existing foundations;

2. Placement of required blocking and framing anchors;

3. Installation and nailing of new cripple wall bracing. The torque testing of sill plate anchors per Subsection 18.69.040.C.1 shall be performed by the Building Inspector.

B. Special inspection. Special inspection is not required for sill plate anchors installed in existing foundations regulated by the provisions of this chapter. Any work may be subject to special inspection when required by the Building Official or when so designated by the registered design professional of record.

C. Structural observation. Structural observation is not required for work done under the prescriptive provisions of this chapter. When construction documents for strengthening are prepared by a registered design professional and alternate materials or methods are used, structural observation shall be provided as required in Section 1704.6 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

D. Registered design professional of record's statement. When an alternative design is provided per Subsection 18.69.010.C, the responsible registered design professional of record shall place the following statement on the approved construction document:

1. "I am responsible for this building's seismic strengthening design for the under floor cripple walls and sill bolting in compliance with the minimum seismic resistance standards of Chapter 18.69 of the Long Beach Municipal Code."

or when applicable:

2. "The registered special inspector, required as a condition of the use of structural design stresses requiring continuous inspection, will be responsible to me."

TABLE 69-A SILL PLATE ANCHORAGE AND CRIPPLE WALL BRACING[1,2,3]

Number of Stories Above Cripple Walls	Minimum Sill Plate Connection and Maximum Spacing	Amount of Wall Bracing
One Story	Adhesive or expansion anchors shall be ½ inch minimum diameter spaced at 6 feet maximum center to center.	Each end and not less than 50% of the wall length.
Two Story	Adhesive or expansion anchors shall be ½ inch minimum diameter spaced at 4 feet maximum center to center; or ⅝ inch spaced at 6 feet maximum center to center.	Each end and not less than 70% of the wall length.
Three Story	Adhesive or expansion anchors shall be ½ inch minimum diameter spaced at 2 feet 8 inches maximum center to center; or ⅝ inch minimum diameter spaced at 4 feet maximum center to center.	100% of the wall length.

[1] Plate washers for use with adhesive or expansion anchors shall be two inches by two inches by three-sixteenths inch for one-half-inch diameter anchors and two and one-half inches by two and one-half inches by one-fourth inch for five-eighths-inch diameter anchors.

[2] Existing sill plate anchor bolts shall be permitted to provide all or a portion of the sill plate connection requirement if:

[2.1] The anchor bolt is cast in concrete and in sound condition,

[2.2] The diameter size and maximum spacing meets or exceeds the requirements of this table,

[2.3] A new plate washer conforming to Footnote 1 is installed, and

[2.4] The sill plate is connected to a snug-tight condition and torque tested per Subsection 18.69.040.C.1.

[3] Anchor side plates shall be permitted when conditions prevent anchor installation vertically through the sill plate. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.70 VOLUNTARY EARTHQUAKE HAZARD REDUCTION IN EXISTING WOOD FRAME RESIDENTIAL BUILDINGS WITH SOFT, WEAK OR OPEN FRONT WALLS

18.70.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to promote the public welfare and safety by reducing the risk of death or injury that may result from the effects of earthquakes on existing wood-frame multi-unit residential buildings. The ground motion of the Northridge earthquake caused the loss of human life, personal injury and property damage in these types of buildings. This chapter creates minimum standards to strengthen the more vulnerable portions of these structures. When fully followed, these minimum standards will substantially improve the performance of these buildings but will not necessarily prevent all earthquake-related damage. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.70.020 Scope.

The provisions of this chapter shall apply to all existing wood frame buildings or portions thereof, designed using the Building Code in effect before January 1, 1995, which are used as hotels, lodging houses, congregate residences or apartment houses where:

A. The ground floor portion of the wood frame structure contains parking or other similar open floor space that causes soft, weak or open front wall lines as defined in this chapter and there exists one or more levels above; or

B. The walls of any story or basement of wood construction are laterally braced with nonconforming structural materials as defined in this chapter and there exists two or more levels above. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.70.030 Definitions.

Notwithstanding the applicable definitions, symbols and notations in this title, the following definitions shall apply for the purposes of this chapter:

"Apartment house" means any building or portion thereof which contains three (3) or more dwelling units, and for the purposes of this chapter, includes residential condominiums.

"Aspect ratio" means the ratio of the height of a wall section to its width.

"Congregate residence" means any building or portion thereof which contains facilities for living, sleeping and sanitation, as required by this code, and may include facilities for eating and cooking, for occupancy by other than a family. A congregate residence may be a shelter, convent, monastery, dormitory, and fraternity or sorority house but does not include jails, hospitals, nursing homes, hotels or lodging houses.

"Cripplewall" means a wood-framed stud wall extending from the top of the foundation wall to the underside of the lowest floor framing.

"Dwelling unit" means any building or portion thereof which contains living facilities, including provisions for sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation, as required by this code, for not more than one (1) family, or congregate residence for ten (10) or fewer persons.

"Expansion anchor" means an approved mechanical fastener placed in hardened concrete, designed to expand in a self-drilled or pre-drilled hole of a specified size and engage the sides of the hole in one (1) or more locations to develop shear and/or tension resistance to applied loads without grout, adhesive or drypack.

"Ground floor" means any floor within the wood frame portion of a building whose elevation is immediately accessible from an adjacent grade by vehicles or pedestrians. The ground floor portion of the structure does not include any level that is completely below adjacent grades.

"Guest room" means any room or rooms used or intended to be used by a guest for sleeping purposes. Every one hundred (100) square feet of superficial floor area in a congregate residence shall be considered a guest room.

"Hotel" means any building containing six (6) or more guest rooms intended or designed to be used, rented, hired out to be occupied, or which are occupied for sleeping purposes by guests.

"Level" means a story, basement or under floor space of a building with cripple walls exceeding four feet (4') in height.

"Lodging house" means any building or portion thereof containing at least one (1) but not more than five (5) guest rooms where rent is paid in money, goods, labor or otherwise.

"Motel" means a hotel as defined in this chapter.

"Multi-unit residential buildings" means hotels, lodging houses, congregate residences and apartment houses.

"Nonconforming structural materials" means wall bracing materials for seismic loads whose allowable shear value was reduced or whose maximum allowable aspect ratio was decreased since the original building construction. These methods or materials include, but are not limited to cement or gypsum plaster, gypsum wall board, diagonal or let-in bracing, straight or diagonal wood sheathing, particle board and structural wood panels.

"Open front wall line" means an exterior wall line without vertical elements of the lateral-force-resisting system which requires tributary seismic forces to be resisted by diaphragm rotation or excessive cantilever beyond parallel lines of shear walls. Diaphragms that cantilever more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the distance between lines of lateral-force-resisting elements shall be considered excessive. Exterior exit balconies of six feet (6') or less in width shall not be considered excessive cantilevers.

"Retrofit" means an improvement of the lateral-force-resisting system by alteration of existing structural elements or addition of new structural elements.

"Soft wall line" means a wall line whose lateral stiffness is less than required by story drift limitations or deformation compatibility requirements of this chapter. In lieu of analysis, this may be defined as a wall line in a story where the story stiffness is less than seventy percent (70%) of the story above for the direction under consideration.

"Story strength" means the total strength of all seismic-resisting elements sharing the same story shear in the direction under consideration.

"Wall line" means any length of a wall along a principal axis of the building used to provide resistance to lateral loads. Parallel wall lines separated by less than four feet (4') shall be considered one wall line for the distribution of loads.

"Weak wall line" means a wall line laterally braced with nonconforming structural materials or a wall line in a story where the story strength is less than eighty percent (80%) of the story above in the direction under consideration. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.70.040 General requirements for phased construction.

When the building contains three (3) or more levels, the work specified in this chapter shall be permitted to be done in the following phases. Work shall start with Phase 1 unless otherwise approved by the Building Official. When the building does not contain the conditions shown in any phase, the sequence of retrofit work shall proceed to the next phase in numerical order.

A. Phase 1 Work. The first phase of the retrofit work shall include the ground floor portion of the wood structure that contains parking or other similar open floor space.

B. Phase 2 Work. The second phase of the retrofit work shall include the walls of any level of wood construction with two (2) or more levels above, which are laterally braced with nonconforming structural materials.

C. Phase 3 Work. The third and final phase of the retrofit work shall include the remaining portions of the building up to, but not including, the top story as specified in Subsection 18.70.050.B. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.70.050 Analysis and design.

A. General. Every building within the scope of this chapter shall be analyzed, designed and constructed in conformance with this code except as modified herein. No alteration of the existing lateral-force-resisting or vertical load-carrying system shall reduce the strength or stiffness of the existing structure.

B. Scope. This chapter requires the alteration, repair, replacement or addition of structural elements and their connections to meet the strength and stiffness requirements herein. The lateral load path analysis shall include the resisting elements and connections from the wood diaphragm above any soft, weak or open front wall lines to the foundation soil interface or reinforced concrete slab or masonry wall supporting elements below. The top story of any building need not be analyzed. The lateral load path analysis for added structural elements shall also include evaluation of the allowable soil bearing and lateral pressures in accordance with Section 1803 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

EXCEPTION: When an open front, weak or soft wall line exists due to parking at the ground level of a two-level building and the parking area is less than twenty percent (20%) of the ground floor level, then only the wall lines in the open, weak or soft directions of the enclosed parking area, need comply with the provisions of this chapter.

C. Design base shear. The design base shear shall be seventy-five percent (75%) of that currently required by ASCE 7-16 Section 12.8.1.

D. Vertical distribution of forces. The total seismic force shall be distributed over the height of the structure based on Formula (12.8-11 and 12.8-12) in ASCE 7-16 Section 12.8.3. Distribution of force by story weight shall be permitted for two-story buildings. The value of R used in the design of any story shall be less than or equal to the value of R used in the given direction for the story above.

E. Weak story limitation. The structure shall not exceed thirty (30) feet in height or two (2) levels if the lower level strength is less than sixty-five percent (65%) of the story above. Existing walls shall be strengthened as required to comply with this provision unless the weak level can resist a total lateral seismic force of Ω_o per Subsection 18.70.050.C times the design force prescribed in Subsection 18.70.050.D. The story strength for each level of all other structures shall be a minimum of eighty percent (80%) of the story above.

F. Story drift limitation. The calculated story drift for each retrofitted level shall not exceed the allowable deformation compatible with all vertical load-resisting elements and 0.005 or 0.04/R times the story height. The calculated story drift shall not be reduced by the effects of horizontal diaphragm stiffness but shall be increased when these effects produce rotation. The effects of rotation and soil stiffness shall be included in the calculated story drift when lateral loads are resisted by vertical elements whose required depth of embedment is determined by pole formulas such as Equation (18-1), (18-2) and (18-3) in Section 1807.3.2 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40. The coefficient of variation of subgrade reaction used in the deflection calculations shall be provided from an approved geotechnical engineering report or other approved methods.

G. PΔ effects. The requirements of ASCE 7-16 Section 12.8.7 shall apply except as modified herein. All framing elements not required by the design to be part of the lateral-force-resisting system shall be investigated and shown to be adequate for vertical load-carrying capacity when displaced Ω_o per Subsection 18.70.050.C times the displacements resulting from the required lateral force. The stress analysis of cantilever columns shall use a buckling factor of 2.1 for the direction normal to the axis of the beam.

H. Ties and continuity. All parts of the structure included in the scope of Subsection 18.70.050.B shall be interconnected and the connection shall be capable of resisting the seismic force created by the parts being connected. Any smaller portion of a building shall be tied to the remainder of the building with elements having a strength of 0.1833 times the tributary dead load of the smaller portion.

A positive connection for resisting a horizontal force acting parallel to the member shall be provided for each beam, girder or truss included in the lateral load path. This force shall not be less than 0.08 times the combined tributary dead and live loads or as required by the lateral load path transfer, whichever is greater.

I. Collector elements. Collector elements shall be provided which can transfer the seismic forces originating in other portions of the building to the elements within the scope of Subsection 18.70.050.B that provide resistance to those forces.

J. Horizontal diaphragms. The analysis of shear demand or capacity of an existing plywood or diagonally sheathed horizontal diaphragm need not be investigated unless the diaphragm is required to transfer lateral forces from the lateral-resisting elements above the diaphragm to other lateral-force-resisting elements below the diaphragm due to offset in placement of the elements. Wood diaphragms in structures that support floors or roofs above shall not be allowed to transmit lateral forces by rotation or cantilever. However, rotational effects shall be accounted for when unsymmetric wall stiffness increases shear demands.

EXCEPTION: Diaphragms that cantilever twenty-five percent (25%) or less of the distance between lines of lateral-force-resisting elements from which the diaphragm cantilevers may transmit their shears by cantilever provided that rotational effects on shear walls parallel and perpendicular to the load are accounted for.

K. Shear walls. Shear walls shall have sufficient strength and stiffness to resist the tributary seismic loads and shall conform to the special requirements of this subsection.

1. Gypsum or plaster products. Gypsum or plaster products shall not be used to provide lateral resistance.

2. Wood structural panels.

a. Drift limit. Wood structural panel shear walls shall meet the story drift limitation of Subsection 18.70.050.F. Conformance to the story drift limitation shall be determined by approved testing or calculation or analogies drawn therefrom and not the use of an aspect ratio. Calculated deflection shall be in accordance with Section 2305.3 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 and twenty-five percent (25%) shall be added to account for inelastic action and repetitive loading. Contribution to the deflection from the anchor or tie down slippage shall also be included. The slippage contribution shall include the vertical elongation of the metal, the vertical slippage of the connectors and compression or shrinkage of the wood elements. The vertical slippage shall be multiplied by the aspect ratio and added to the total horizontal deflection. Individual shear panels shall be permitted to exceed the maximum aspect ratio provided the story drift and allowable shear capacities are not exceeded.

b. Openings. Openings are permitted in shear walls if they do not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the height or width of the shear wall. The remaining portion of the shear wall shall be strengthened for the transfer and increase of all shearing forces caused by the opening. The resulting shear wall shall be analyzed as a mosaic of shear-resisting elements. Blocking and steel strapping shall be employed at the corners of the opening to transfer forces from discontinuous boundary elements into adjoining panel elements.

The effects of openings on the stiffness of the shear wall shall be demonstrated to comply with the requirements of Subsection 18.70.050.F. The stiffness shall be calculated using the properties of the different shear elements making up the shear wall or it shall be demonstrated by approved testing. When shear walls cannot be made to conform to the requirements of this section because of existing openings, the openings shall be relocated or reduced in width to meet the strength and stiffness requirements of the lateral loads. Relocated and altered openings shall comply with the emergency escape requirements in Chapter 10 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40. Relocated and altered openings shall comply with the light and ventilation requirements in Chapter 12 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 or Chapter 3 of the California Residential Code adopted in Chapter 18.41 unless otherwise approved by the Building Official.

c. Wood species of framing members. Allowable shear values for wood structural panels shall consider the species of the framing members. When the allowable shear values are based on Douglas Fir-larch framing members and framing members are constructed of other species of lumber, the allowable shear values shall be multiplied by the appropriate factors determined in accordance with Chapter 23 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

3. Mechanical penetrations. Mechanical penetrations in shear walls that exceed the provisions of Chapter 23 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 or the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 or the California Residential Code adopted in Chapter 18.41 shall be accounted for in the design or the shear wall shall be analyzed as two separate walls on each side of the penetration.

4. Substitution for three-inch nominal width framing members. Two (2) two-inch nominal width framing members shall be permitted in lieu of any required three-inch nominal width framing member when the existing and new framing member are of equal dimensions, are connected as required to transfer the in-plane shear between them and the sheathing fasteners are equally divided between them.

5. Hold-down connectors.

a. Expansion anchors in tension. Expansion anchors that provide tension strength by friction resistance shall not be used to connect hold down devices to existing concrete or masonry elements. Expansion anchors shall be permitted to provide tension strength by bearing.

b. Required depth of embedment. The required depth of embedment or edge distance for the anchor used in the hold down connector shall be provided in the concrete or masonry below any plain concrete slab unless satisfactory evidence is submitted to the Building Official that shows that the concrete slab and footings are of monolithic construction.

c. Required preload of bolted hold-down connectors. Bolted hold down connectors shall be preloaded to reduce slippage of the connector. Preloading shall consist of tightening the nut on the tension anchor after the placement but before the tightening of the shear bolts in the panel flange member. The tension anchor shall be tightened until the shear bolts are in firm contact with the edge of the hole nearest the direction of the tension anchor. Hold down connectors with self-jigging bolt standoffs shall be installed in a manner to permit preloading. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.70.060 Materials of construction.

A. New materials. All materials approved by this title, including their appropriate allowable stresses and minimum aspect ratios, shall be permitted to meet the requirements of this chapter.

B. Allowable foundation and lateral pressures. Allowable foundation and lateral pressures shall be permitted to use the values from Table 1806.2 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40. The coefficient of variation of subgrade reaction shall be established by an approved geotechnical engineering report or other approved methods when used in the deflection calculations of embedded vertical elements as required in Subsection 18.70.050.F.

C. Existing materials. All existing materials shall be in sound condition and constructed in conformance to this code before they can be used to resist the lateral loads prescribed in this chapter. The verification of existing material conditions and their conformance to these requirements shall be made by physical observation reports, material testing or record drawings as determined by the responsible registered design professional of record and approved by the Building Official.

1. Horizontal wood diaphragms. Existing horizontal wood diaphragms that require analysis under Subsection 18.70.050.J shall be permitted to use Table A-23-C of Chapter 18.68 this title for their allowable values.

2. Wood structural panel shear walls.

a. Allowable nail slip values. When the required drift calculations of Subsection 18.70.050.K.2.a rely on the lower slip values for common nails or surfaced dry lumber, their use in construction shall be verified by exposure. The use of box nails and unseasoned lumber may be assumed without exposure. The verification of surfaced dry lumber shall be by identification conforming to Chapter 23 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

b. Reduction for clipped nail heads. When exposed nails do not meet the nominal head sizes required for hand-driven nails in Chapter 23 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40, the allowable shear capacity for wood structural panel shear walls shall be proportionately reduced. The reduction shall be a percentage of the reduction in the nail head area below the required nail head area including tolerances.

c. Plywood panel construction. When verification of the existing plywood materials is by use of record drawings alone, the panel construction for plywood shall be assumed to be of three plies.

d. Framing members of other species. When verification of the existing wood material is by use of record drawings, the allowable shear capacity shall be multiplied by the reduction factor of 0.82 for buildings built on or after 1960. Buildings built before this period shall use the reduction factor 0.65. When verification of the existing wood material is by identification in conformance to Chapter 23 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40, the allowable shear capacity shall be determined in accordance with Subsection 18.70.050.K.2.c.

3. Lumber. When the existing dimensioned lumber is not identified in conformance to Chapter 23 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40, the allowable stresses shall be permitted for the structural elements specified below.

Posts and Beams	Douglas Fir-larch No. 1
Joists and Rafters	Douglas Fir-larch No. 2
Studs, Blocking	Hem Fir Stud

4. Structural steel. All existing structural steel shall be permitted to use the allowable stresses for Grade A36. Existing pipe or tube columns shall be assumed to be of minimum wall thickness unless verified by testing or exposure.

5. Strength of concrete. All existing concrete footings shall be permitted to use the allowable stresses for plain concrete with a compressive strength of two thousand (2,000) psi. The strength of existing concrete with a record compressive strength greater than two thousand (2,000) psi shall be verified by testing, record drawings or Department records.

6. Existing sill plate anchorage. Existing cast-in-place anchor bolts shall be permitted to use the allowable service loads for bolts with proper embedment when used for shear resistance to lateral loads. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.70.070 Required information on construction documents.

A. General. The construction documents shall show all necessary dimensions and materials for plan review and construction and shall accurately reflect the results of the engineering investigation and design.

B. Existing construction. The construction documents shall show the existing diaphragm and shear wall sheathing and framing materials, fastener type and spacing, diaphragm and shear wall connections, continuity ties, and collector elements. The plans shall also show the portion of the existing materials that needs verification during construction.

C. New construction.

1. Foundation plan elements. The foundation plan shall include the size, type, location and spacing of all anchor bolts with the required depth of embedment, edge and end distance; the location and size of all columns for braced or moment frames; referenced details for the connection of braced or moment frames to their footing; and referenced sections for any grade beams and footings.

2. Framing plan elements. The framing plan shall include the width, location and material of shear walls; the width, location and material of frames; references on details for the column-to-beam connectors, beam-to-wall connections, and shear transfers at floor and roof diaphragms; and the required nailing and length for wall top plate splices.

3. Shear wall schedule, notes and details. Shear walls shall have a referenced schedule on the construction documents that includes the correct shear wall capacity in pounds per foot; the required fastener type, length, gauge and head size; and a complete specification for the sheathing material and its thickness. The schedule shall also show the required location of three-inch (3") nominal or two (2) two-inch (2") nominal edge members; the spacing of shear transfer elements, such as framing anchors or added sill plate nails; the required hold down with its bolt, screw or nail sizes; and the dimensions, lumber grade and species of the attached framing member.

Notes shall show required edge distance for fasteners on structural wood panels and framing members; required flush nailing at the plywood surface; limits of mechanical penetrations; and the sill plate material assumed in the design. The limits of mechanical penetrations shall also be detailed showing the maximum notching and drilled hole sizes.

4. General notes. General notes shall show the requirements for material testing, special inspection, structural observation and the proper installation of newly added materials.

5. Registered design professional of record's statement. The responsible registered design professional of record shall provide the following statements on the approved construction documents:

a. "I am responsible for designing this building's seismic strengthening in compliance with the minimum seismic resistance standards of Chapter 18.70 of the Long Beach Municipal Code."

and when applicable:

b. "The Registered Special Inspector, required as a condition of the use of structural design stresses requiring continuous inspection, will be responsible to me." (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.71 VOLUNTARY EARTHQUAKE HAZARD REDUCTION IN EXISTING REINFORCED CONCRETE BUILDINGS AND CONCRETE FRAME BUILDINGS WITH MASONRY INFILLS

18.71.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to promote public safety and welfare by reducing the risk of death or injury that may result from the effects of earthquakes on concrete buildings and concrete frame buildings with masonry infills. The Northridge Earthquake caused widespread damage to these buildings, including some collapses.

The recent Great Hanshin earthquake in Kobe, Japan, also caused several hundred of these buildings to collapse. These nonductile concrete buildings are frequently used in Long Beach for department stores, office buildings, hotels, parking structures and some mid-rise condominiums. Their performance in an earthquake is essential to the life and safety of their occupants and the overall stability of the local economy. This chapter provides voluntary retrofit standards that, when fully followed, will substantially improve the seismic performance of these buildings but will not necessarily prevent all earthquake damage. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.020 Scope.

The provisions of this chapter may be applied to all buildings designed under Building Codes in effect prior to January 13, 1976, or built with building permits issued prior to January 13, 1977, having concrete floors and/or concrete roofs supported by reinforced concrete walls or concrete frames and columns, and/or concrete frames with masonry infills. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.030 Definitions.

For purposes of this chapter, the applicable definitions and notations in Section 1602 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 and the following definition shall apply:

"Masonry infill" means the unreinforced or reinforced masonry wall construction within a reinforced concrete frame. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.040 General requirements.

When the owner of each building within the scope of this chapter causes an investigation of the existing construction, a structural analysis shall be made of the building by a registered design profession licensed by the State of California.

EXCEPTION: Regular concrete shear wall buildings, of four (4) stories in height and under, may be shown to be in conformance with this chapter by filing a report signed by a registered design profession licensed by the State of California containing the information specified in Section 18.71.090. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.050 Criteria selection.

A. Basis for analysis. The building shall be analyzed to determine the displacements caused by inertial force effects determined in accordance with the dynamic lateral analysis procedure of Section 18.71.060. The building structural system shall provide a complete load path for resisting the effects of seismic loading. The capacity of all parts of the structural system shall exceed the demand calculated by the dynamic analysis using the effective stiffnesses determined by a nonlinear analysis of the elements.

EXCEPTION: Buildings conforming to the requirements of Subsections 18.71.050.D.2 and 18.71.050.D.3 may be analyzed using the procedure specified in Sections 18.71.070 and 18.71.080, respectively.

B. Site geology and soil characteristics. In the absence of a soils investigation, the soil site class shall be taken as Type D.

C. Configuration requirements.

1. General. Each structure shall be designated as structurally regular or irregular.

2. Regular structures. Regular structures have no significant physical discontinuities in plan or vertical configuration or in their lateral-force-resisting systems such as the irregular features described below.

a. Irregular structures have significant physical discontinuities in configuration or in their lateral-force-resisting systems. Irregular features include, but are not limited to, those described in Tables 12.3-1 and ASCE 7-16 Section 12.3-2.

b. Structures having one or more of the features listed in Table 12.3-2 of ASCE 7-16 shall be designated as having a vertical irregularity.

EXCEPTION: Where none of the story drift ratios under equivalent lateral forces is greater than 1.3 times the story drift ratio of the story above, the structure may be deemed to not have the structural irregularities of Type 1 or 2 listed in Table 12.3-2 of ASCE 7-16. The story drift for this determination shall be calculated including torsional effects.

c. Structures having one (1) or more of the features listed in Table 12.3-1 of ASCE 7-16 shall be designated as having a plan irregularity.

d. Irregular structures conforming to the requirements of Subsection 18.71.050.D and Section 18.71.080 may be considered regular if the plan and vertical irregularities are removed by the addition of lateral load-resisting systems.

D. Selection of lateral analysis procedure.

1. General. Any structure may be analyzed using the dynamic lateral analysis procedures of Section 18.71.060. The equivalent lateral force procedure or the simplified analysis may be used for structures conforming to the requirements on the use of those analyses.

2. Equivalent lateral force. The equivalent lateral force procedure of Section 18.71.070 may be used for regular structures or irregular structures having plan irregularity only of not more than four (4) stories.

3. Simplified analysis. Regular structures of not more than four (4) stories conforming to the requirements of Section 18.71.080 may be analyzed for a prescribed strength of their systems and elements.

E. Alternative procedures.

1. General. Alternative lateral analysis procedures using rational analyses based on well-established principles of mechanics may be used in lieu of those prescribed in this chapter when approved by the Building Official.

2. Seismic isolation. Seismic isolation (Chapter 17 of ASCE 7-16, Seismic Design Requirements for Seismically Isolated Structures), energy dissipation and damping systems may be used to reduce story drift when approved by the Building Official. The isolated structure shall comply with the drift requirements of Section 18.71.060. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.060 Dynamic lateral analysis procedure.

A. General. Structures shall be analyzed for seismic forces acting concurrently on the orthogonal axes of the structure. The effects of the loading on two orthogonal axes shall be combined by the square root of the sum of the squares (SRSS) methods.

B. Ground motion. The seismic ground motion values shall be determined in accordance with ASCE 7-16 and may be one of the following:

1. The elastic design response spectrum shall be seventy-five percent (75%) of the response spectrum described in ASCE 7-16 Section 11.4.6.

2. A site-specific response spectrum shall be seventy-five percent (75%) of the site-specific response spectrum described in ASCE 7-16 Section 11.4.8.

C. Mathematical model. The three-dimensional mathematical model of the physical structure shall represent the spatial distribution of mass and stiffness of the structure to an extent which is adequate for the calculation of the significant features of its dynamic response. All concrete and masonry elements shall be included in the model of the physical structure.

EXCEPTION: Concrete or masonry partitions that are adequately isolated from the concrete frame members and the floor above.

Cast-in-place reinforced concrete floors with span-to-depth ratios less than three (3) to one (1) may be idealized as rigid diaphragms. Other floors, including floors constructed of precast elements with or without a reinforced concrete topping in conformance with ASCE 7-16 Section 12.3.1.3 may be idealized as flexible diaphragms. All other floors not permitted to be idealized as rigid or flexible diaphragms shall be analyzed considering the effective in-plane stiffness of the diaphragm, including effects of cracking and discontinuity between precast elements, as described in ASCE 7-16 Section 12.3.1. Ramps that interconnect floor levels shall be modeled as having mass appropriately distributed on that element. The lateral stiffness of the ramp may be calculated as having properties based on the uncracked cross section of the slab exclusive of beams and girders.

D. Effective stiffness.

1. General. The effective stiffness of concrete and masonry elements or systems shall be calculated as the secant stiffness of the element or system with due consideration of the effects of tensile cracking and compression strain. The secant stiffness shall be taken from the force-displacement relationship of the element or system. The secant stiffness shall be measured as the slope from the origin to the intersection of the force-displacement relationship at the assumed displacement. The force-displacement relationship shall be determined by a nonlinear analysis. The force-displacement analysis shall include the calculation of the displacement at which strength degradation begins.

EXCEPTION: The initial effective moment of inertia of beams and columns in shear wall or infilled frame buildings may be estimated using Table 71-B. The ratio of effective moment of inertia used for the beams and for the columns shall be verified by Formulas (71-1), (71-2) and (71-3). The estimates shall be revised if the ratio used exceeds the ratio calculated by more than twenty percent (20%).

WHERE:

$$M_{cr} = \frac{f_r\, I_g}{y_t} \qquad (71\text{-}2)$$

$$f_r = 7.5 \sqrt{f'_c} \quad (71\text{-}3)$$

2. Infills. The effective stiffness of an infill shall be determined from a nonlinear analysis of the infill and the confining frame. The effect of the infill on the stiffness of the system shall be determined by differencing the force-displacement relationship of the frame-infill system from the frame-only system.

3. Model of infill. The mathematical model of an infilled frame structure shall include the stiffness effects of the infill as a pair of diagonals in the bays of the frame. The diagonals shall be considered as having concrete properties and only axial loads.

Their lines of action shall intersect the beam-column joints. The secant stiffness of the force-displacement relationship, calculated as prescribed in Subsection 18.71.060.D.2, shall be used to determine the effective area of the diagonals. The effective stiffness of the frame shall be determined as specified in Subsection 18.71.060.D.1. Other procedures that provide the same effective stiffness for the combination of infill and frame may be used when approved by the Building Official.

4. Effective stiffness of elements and systems. The effective stiffness shall be determined by an iterative method. The mathematical model using assumed effective stiffness shall be used to calculate dynamic displacements. The effective stiffness of all concrete and masonry elements shall be modified to represent the secant stiffness obtained from the nonlinear force displacement analysis of the element or system at the calculated displacement. A reanalysis of the mathematical model shall be made using the adjusted effective stiffness of existing and supplemental elements and systems until closure of the iterative process is obtained. A difference of ten percent (10%) from the effective stiffness used and that recalculated may be assumed to be closure of the iterative process.

E. Description of analysis procedures.

1. Response spectrum analysis. Response spectrum analysis is an elastic dynamic analysis of a structure utilizing the peak dynamic response of all modes having a significant contribution to total structural response. Peak modal responses are calculated using the ordinates of the appropriate response spectrum curve that correspond to the modal periods. Maximum modal contributions are combined in a statistical manner to obtain an approximate total structural response.

2. Number of modes. The requirement of Subsection 18.71.060.E.1 may be satisfied by demonstrating that for the modes considered, at least ninety percent (90%) of the participating mass of the structure is included in the calculation of response for each principal horizontal direction.

3. Combining modes. The peak displacements for each mode shall be combined by recognized methods. Modal interaction effects of three-dimensional models shall be considered when combining modal maxima.

4. Torsion. The three-dimensional analysis shall be considered as including all torsional effects including accidental torsional effects.

F. Material characteristics. The stress-strain relationship of concrete, masonry and reinforcement shall be determined by testing or from published data. The procedure for testing and determination of stress-strain values shall be as prescribed in one of the following:

1. Concrete. The compressive strength of existing concrete shall be determined by tests on cores sampled from the structure or may be taken from information given on the construction documents and confirmed by limited testing. A default value of horizontal shear stress may be used in Subsection 18.71.080.E.1 without testing of the compressive strength of the existing concrete.

a. The cutting of cores shall not significantly reduce the strength of the existing structure. Cores shall not be taken in columns. Existing reinforcement shall not be cut.

b. If the construction documents do not specify a minimum compressive strength of the classes of concrete, five (5) cores per story, with a minimum of ten (10) cores, shall be obtained for testing. Exception: If the coefficient of variation of the compressive strength does not exceed fifteen percent (15%), the number of cores per story may be reduced to two (2) and the minimum number of tests reduced to five (5).

c. When the construction documents specify a minimum compressive strength, two (2) cores per story, per class of concrete, shall be taken in the areas where that concrete was to be placed. A minimum of five (5) cores shall be obtained for testing. If a higher strength of concrete was specified for columns than the remainder of the concrete, cores taken in the beams for verification of the specified strength of the beams shall be substituted for tests in the columns. The strength specified for columns may be used in the analyses if the specified compressive strength in the beams is verified.

d. The sampling for the concrete strength tests shall be distributed uniformly in each story. If the building has shear walls, a minimum of fifty percent (50%) of the cores shall be taken from the shear walls. Not more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the required cores shall be taken in floor and roof slabs. The remainder of cores may be taken from the center of beams at mid-span. In concrete frame buildings, seventy-five percent (75%) of the cores shall be taken from the beams.

e. The mean value of the compressive stresses obtained from the core testing for each class of concrete shall be used in the analyses. Values of peak strain that is associated with peak compressive stress may be taken from published data for the nonlinear analyses of reinforced concrete elements.

2. Solid grouted reinforced masonry. The compressive strength of solid grouted concrete block or brick masonry may be taken as two thousand (2,000) psi. The strain associated with peak stress may be taken as 0.0025.

3. Partially grouted masonry. A minimum of five (5) units shall be removed from the walls and tested in conformance with ASTM C90-14 Specification for Load Bearing Concrete Masonry Units. Compressive strength of the masonry may be determined in accordance with Chapter 21 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40, assuming Type S mortar. The strain associated with peak stress may be taken as 0.0025.

4. Unreinforced masonry.

a. The stress-strain relationship of existing unreinforced masonry shall be determined by in-place cyclic testing. The test procedure shall conform to Section 18.71.100.

b. One (1) stress-strain test per story and a minimum of five (5) tests shall be made in the unreinforced masonry infills. The location of the tests shall be uniformly distributed throughout the building.

c. The average values of the stress-strain values obtained from testing shall be used in the nonlinear analyses of frame-infill assemblies or in the calculation of the effective diagonal brace that is used in the simplified analysis procedure of Section 18.71.080.

5. Reinforcement. The yield stress of each type of new or existing reinforcement shall be taken from Table 71-C unless the reinforcement is sampled and tested for yield stress. The axial reinforcement in columns of post-1933 buildings shall be assumed to be hard grade unless noted otherwise on the construction documents.

6. Combination of concrete and masonry materials. Combinations of masonry and concrete infills shall be assumed to have equal strain. The secant moduli at peak stress of the masonry and concrete shall be used to determine the effective transformed area of the composite material.

G. Story drift limitation.

1. Definition. Story drift is the displacement of one level relative to the level above or below calculated by the response spectrum analysis using the appropriate effective stiffness.

2. Limitation. The story drift is limited to that displacement that causes any of the following effects:

a. Compressive strain of 0.003 in the frame confining infill or in a shear wall.

b. Compressive strain of 0.004 in a reinforced concrete column unless the engineer can show by published experimental research that the existing confinement reinforcement justifies higher values of strain.

c. Peak strain in masonry infills as determined by experimental data or by physical testing as prescribed in Section 18.71.100.

d. Displacement that was calculated by the nonlinear analysis as when strength degradation of any element began.

EXCEPTION: This subsection may be taken as the displacement that causes a strength degradation in that line of resistance equal to ten percent (10%) of the sum of the strength of the elements in that line of resistance.

e. A story drift of 0.015 using the dynamic analysis procedure or the forces specified in Section 18.71.070. This limitation shall not supersede the limitations of Subsections 18.71.060.G.2.a through 18.71.060.G.2.d.

H. Compressive strain determination.

1. General. The compressive strain in columns, shear walls and infills may be determined by the nonlinear analysis or a procedure that assumes plane sections remain plane.

2. Axial and flexural loading. The compressive strain shall be determined for combined flexure and axial loading. The flexural moments shall be taken from the response spectrum model for frame or shear wall buildings, and from the substructure model for infill frames. The axial loads shall have the following combination of effects, where L is unreduced live load:

U = 0.9D - 1.0E(71-5)

I. Shear strength limitation. The required in-plane shear strength of all columns, piers and shear walls shall be the shear associated with the moments induced at the ends of columns or piers and at the base of shear walls by the story displacements. No strength reduction factors shall be used in the determination of strength. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.070 Equivalent lateral force procedure.

A. General. Structures shall be analyzed for prescribed forces acting concurrently on the orthogonal axes of the building. The effects of the loading on the two (2) orthogonal axes shall be combined as required by Subsection 18.71.060.A.

B. Base Shear for Analysis. The base shear used to determine story drifts shall be determined using seventy-five percent (75%) of the base shear as determined in accordance with ASCE 7-16 Section 12.8.1.

Where:

R = 1.4 for concrete frame buildings with masonry infill and all other reinforced concrete buildings.

EXCEPTION: R = 1.0 for single-story buildings. The R value in ASCE 7-16 Table 12.2-1 for new building design shall not be used for story drift determination.

C. Structure period. The value of T may be determined by either Method A or B as prescribed by ASCE 7-16 Section 12.8.2. The structure period calculated by Method B need not be limited to a percent of the value obtained by Method A.

D. Vertical distribution of forces. The base shear shall be distributed over the height of the structure in conformance with Formula (71-6).

$$C_{vx} = \frac{w_x h_x^{\,k}}{\sum_{i=1}^{i=n} w_i h_i^{\,k}} \qquad (71\text{-}6)$$

Where:

C_{vx} = vertical distribution factor to be applied to V to obtain the story force at level x.

k = an exponent related to building period as follows:

For buildings having a period of 0.4 seconds or less,

k = 1.0

For buildings having a period of 2.0 seconds or more,

k = 2.0

For buildings having a period between 0.4 and 2.0 seconds, k may be taken as two (2) or determined by linear interpolation between one (1) and two (2).

E. Horizontal distribution of shear. The effective stiffness of elements shall be used for the horizontal distribution of shear.

F. Horizontal torsional moments. Provision shall be made for increased displacements resulting from horizontal torsion. The effects of torsional moments shall be included in the determination of the effective stiffness of elements and systems. Reinforced concrete floors may be considered as rigid diaphragms.

G. Effective stiffness. The effective stiffness of concrete and masonry elements shall be determined as prescribed in Subsection 18.71.060.D.

H. Material characteristics. Material characteristics shall be determined as prescribed in Subsection 18.71.060.F.

I. Story drift limitations. Story drift limits shall be as prescribed in Subsection 18.71.060.G.

J. Compressive strain determination. Compressive strain shall be determined as prescribed in Subsection 18.71.060.H.

K. Shear strength limitation. The in-plane shear strength shall equal or exceed the shear forces determined as prescribed in Subsection 18.71.060.I. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.080 Simplified analysis procedure.

A. General. Structures conforming to the requirements of this section may be analyzed for having a required strength by a simplified analysis procedure.

B. Required features of the building. The building shall conform to all the following features, or the building shall be analyzed by the equivalent lateral force procedure or the dynamic lateral force procedure as prescribed by Subsection 18.71.050.D.

1. The lateral-resisting elements of the building shall be reinforced concrete shear walls or frames with solid masonry infills and infills which have openings in the masonry infills not exceeding ten percent (10%) of the gross area of the infill panel which has the opening(s).

2. The effective shear area of reinforced concrete shear walls on each orthogonal axis shall be calculated by passing a horizontal plane through each story level. The height of the plane shall be that height where the area of the shear walls is a minimum.

3. The reinforced concrete elements shall have no visible deterioration of concrete or reinforcement.

4. The vertical elements in the lateral-load-resisting system shall not have significant strength discontinuities; the story strength in any story shall not be less than ninety percent (90%) of the strength of the story above.

5. The lateral-force-resisting elements in all story levels shall form a system that is not subject to significant torsion. Significant torsion is the condition where the distance between the story center of rigidity and the story center of mass is greater than twenty percent (20%) of the width of the structure in the corresponding plan dimension.

6. The minimum ratio of area of reinforcement to gross area of wall in existing reinforced concrete shear walls shall be 0.0015 in both the vertical and horizontal direction or the minimum ratio of axial reinforcement in the columns of frames containing infills shall be 0.01.

7. The ratio of total height to base length of cantilevered or coupled shear walls shall be two (2) or less. The ratio of clear height to in-plane depth of piers in a shear wall shall be two (2) or less. Shear walls or piers having a height to in-plane depth ratio greater than two (2) shall be given an effective shear area of one-half (1/2) their area.

8. All concrete frames with infilled panels conforming to Subsection 18.71.080.B.1 above shall have total height to base length ratios of two (2) to one (1) or less.

C. Analysis procedure.

1. General. Supplemental elements may be added to the existing building to bring the structure into conformance with Subsection 18.71.090.B.

2. Seismic loading. The seismic loading shall be calculated by Subsection 18.71.070.B. The loading of each story level shall be calculated by Formula (71-6) of Subsection 18.71.070.D.

3. Relative rigidities. The relative rigidity of reinforced concrete shear walls may be based on the stiffness of uncracked sections. The relative rigidity of infill panels may be calculated using a common modulus of elasticity. Use of a combination of infills and reinforced concrete or masonry shear walls on any orthogonal axis is prohibited.

4. Required calculations. The calculations may be limited to computation of loads on the reinforced concrete shear walls or infilled frame panels that comply with Subsection 18.71.080.B and computation of the drag and tie forces that develop a complete load path. The loads shall include torsional effects.

D. Required strength of systems and elements.

1. The capacity of all parts of the structure shall exceed the demand calculated by use of the loading specified in Section 18.71.070.

2. The strength of infilled frame systems used for lateral load resistance in this section shall be calculated using only the infilled frames that conform to Subsection 18.71.080.B.1.

E. Shear stress limit.

1. The maximum horizontal shear stress in new and existing reinforced concrete shear walls shall not exceed two (f'c)1/2. For the purpose of this chapter, the horizontal shear stress may be taken as eighty (80) psi without testing as required by Subsection 18.71.060.F.1.

2. The in-plane shear stress in any masonry infilled panel shall not exceed thirty (30) psi. The calculation of shear stresses shall use net section area and only the area of the infilled masonry.

EXCEPTION: The in-plane strength of an infill panel without openings may be calculated by procedures described in published research that were verified by experimental testing and approved by the Building Official.

18.71.090 Minimum requirements for a limited structural analysis.

A. General. Structures conforming to the requirements of this section may be shown to be in conformance with this chapter by submission of the report described in this section.

B. Required features of the building. The building shall conform to all of the following features or the building shall be analyzed as prescribed by Subsection 18.71.050.D.

1. The lateral-load-resisting elements of the building shall be reinforced concrete shear walls.

2. The minimum ratio of area of reinforcement to gross area of the wall shall be 0.0015 in both the vertical and horizontal directions.

3. The reinforced concrete elements shall have no visible deterioration of concrete or reinforcement.

4. The area of concrete shear walls on each orthogonal axis at the first floor level shall be 1.5% of the area of the first floor of the building, where n is the number of floor and roof levels.

5. The area of the shear walls in all stories above the first floor shall not be more than one hundred percent (100%) or less than eighty percent (80%) of the area of shear walls at the first floor.

6. The concrete shear walls in all stories above the first floor shall be directly above the shear walls at the first floor which are used to calculate the percent of shear wall area to floor area.

7. The wall area must be uniformly distributed such that at least eighty percent (80%) of the wall area used in the calculation is symmetrically placed about the center of the building.

8. The area of the shear walls on each orthogonal axis shall be calculated by passing a horizontal plane through the first story level. The height of the plane shall be that height where the area of the shear walls is a minimum.

9. The ratio of total height to base width of cantilevered or coupled shear walls shall be two (2) or less. The ratio of the clear height to in-plane depth of piers in a shear wall shall be two (2) or less. Shear walls or piers having a height to depth ratio greater than two (2) shall be given an effective area of one-half (1/2) of their area.

C. Information required in the report.

1. The report shall include data, sketches, plans and calculations that show conformance with the features given in this section.

2. The registered design professional of record shall meet with the representative of the Department at the site to review the report. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.71.100 Determination of the stress-strain relationship of existing unreinforced masonry.

A. Scope. This section covers procedures for determining the expected compressive modulus, peak strain and peak compressive stress of unreinforced brick masonry used for infills in frame buildings.

B. General procedure. The outer wythe of multiple wythe brick masonry shall be tested by inserting two (2) flat jacks into the mortar joints of the outer wythe. The prism height, the vertical distance between the flat jacks, shall be five (5) bricks high. The test location shall have adequate overburden and/or vertical confinement to resist the flat jack forces.

C. Preparation for the test. Remove a mortar joint at the top and bottom of the test prism by saw cutting or drilling and grinding to a smooth surface. The cuts for inserting the flat jacks shall not have a deviation from parallel of more than three-eighths (3/8) inch. The deviation from parallel shall be measured at the ends of the flat jacks. The width of the saw cut shall not exceed the width of the mortar joint. The length of the saw cut on the face of the wall may exceed the length of the flat jacks by not more than twice the thickness of the outer wythe plus one (1) inch.

D. Required equipment. The flat jacks shall be rectangular or with semicircular ends to mimic the radius of the saw blade used to cut the slot for the flat jack. The length of the flat jack shall be eighteen (18) inches maximum and sixteen (16) inches minimum. This length shall be measured on the longest edge of a flat jack with semicircular ends. The maximum width of the flat jack shall not exceed the average width of the wythe of brick that is loaded. The minimum width of a flat jack shall be three and one-half (3-1/2) inches measured out-to-out of the flat jack. The flat jack shall have a minimum of two (2) ports to allow air in the flat jack to be replaced by hydraulic fluid. The unused port shall be sealed after all the air is forced out of the flat jack. The thickness of the flat jack shall not exceed three-quarters (3/4) of the minimum height of the mortar joint. It is recommended that the height of the flat jack be about one-half (1/2) of the width of the slot cut for installation of the flat jack. The remaining space can be filled with steel shim plates having plan dimensions equal to the flat jack.

E. Data acquisition equipment. The strain in the tested prism shall be recorded by gages or similar recording equipment having a minimum range of one ten-thousandth (1/10,000) of an inch. The compressive strain shall be measured on the surface of the prism and shall have a gage length, measured vertically on the face of the prism, of ten (10) inches minimum. The gage points shall be fixed to the wall by drilled-in anchors or by anchors set in epoxy or similar material. The support for the data-recording apparatus shall be isolated from the wall by a minimum of one-sixteenth (1/16) inch so that the gage length used in the calculation of strain can be taken as the measured length between the anchors of the equipment supports. The gaging equipment shall be as close to the face of the prism as possible to minimize the probability of erroneous strain measurements caused by bulging of the prism outward from its original plane.

The compressive strain data shall be measured at a minimum of two (2) points on the vertical face of the prism. These points shall be the one-third points of the length of the flat jacks plus or minus one-half (1/2) inch. As an alternative, the strain may be measured at three (3) points on the face of the prism.

These points shall be spaced at one quarter of the flat jack length plus or minus one-half (1/2) inch.

Horizontal gages at mid-height of the prism may be used to record Poisson strain, but this gage should be considered as recording data secondary in importance to the vertical gages and its placement shall not interfere with placing the vertical gaging as close as possible to the face of the prism.

F. Loading and recording data. The loading shall be applied by hydraulic pumps that add hydraulic fluid to the flat jacks in a controlled method. The application of load shall be incremental and held constant while strains are being recorded. The increasing loading for each cycle of loading shall be divided into a minimum of four (4) equal load increments. The strain shall be recorded at each load step. The decrease in loading shall be divided into a minimum of two (2) equal unloading increments. Strain shall be recorded on the decreasing load steps. The hydraulic pressure shall be reduced to zero and the permanent strain caused by this cycle of loading shall be recorded. This procedure shall be used for each cycle of loading.

The load applied in each cycle of load shall be determined by estimating the peak compressive stress of the existing brick masonry. The hydraulic pressure needed to cause this peak compressive stress in the prism shall be calculated by assuming the area of the loaded prism is equal to the area of the flat jack. A maximum of one-third (1/3) of this pressure, rounded to the nearest twenty-five (25) psi, shall be applied in the specified increments to the peak pressure prescribed for the first cycle of loading. After recording the strain data, this pressure shall be reduced in a controlled manner to each of the specified increments for unloading and for recording data. The maximum jack pressure on the subsequent cycles shall be one-half (1/2), two-thirds (2/3), five-sixths (5/6) and estimated peak pressure. If the estimated peak compressive stress is less than the existing peak compressive stress, the cyclic loading and unloading shall continue using increments of increasing pressure equal to those used prior to the application of estimated peak pressure.

All strain data shall be recorded to one ten-thousandth (1/10,000) of an inch. Jack pressure shall be recorded in increments of twenty-five (25) psi pressure.

G. Quality control. The flat jack shall be calibrated before use by placing the flat jack between bearing plates of two (2) inches minimum thickness in a calibrated testing machine. A calibration curve to convert hydraulic pressure in the flat jack to total load shall be prepared and included in the report of the results of testing. Flat jacks shall be recalibrated after three uses.

The hydraulic pressure in the flat jacks shall be indicated by a calibrated dial indicator having a subdivision of twenty-five (25) psi or less. The operator of the hydraulic pump shall use this dial indicator to control the required increments of hydraulic pressure in loading and unloading.

H. Interpretation of the data. The data obtained from the testing required by Subsection 18.71.060.F.4.b shall be averaged both in expected peak compressive stress and the corresponding peak strain. The envelope of the averaged stress-strain relationship of all tests shall be used for the material model of the masonry in the infilled frame. If two (2) strain measurements have been made on the surface of the prism, these strain measurements shall be averaged for determination of the stress-strain relationship for the test. If three (3) strain measurements have been made on the surface of the prism, the data recorded by the center gage shall be given a weight of two (2) for preparing the average stress-strain relationship for the test. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.110 Evaluation of existing structural conditions.

The registered design professional of record shall report any observed structural conditions and structural damage that, in the registered design professional's judgment, have imminent life-safety effects on the structure and recommend repairs. Evaluations and repairs shall be reviewed and approved by the Department. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.71.120 Materials of construction.

A. General. In addition to the seismic analysis required elsewhere in this chapter, the registered design professional responsible for the seismic analysis of the building shall record the information required by this section on the approved construction documents.

B. Information required. The construction documents shall accurately reflect the results of the engineering investigation and design, and show all pertinent dimensions and sizes for plan review and construction. The following shall be provided:

1. The construction documents of the existing construction shall be adequately dimensioned and furnish adequate details in schedules, notes and sections to fully describe the existing building. The construction documents shall include a foundation plan, floor and roof plans which indicate new work, and existing construction;

2. Elevations of the structural system showing sizes and dimensions;

3. Schedules, sections and details showing reinforcement of walls, slabs, beams, joists, girders, columns and foundations.

EXCEPTION: If copies of the original construction documents are submitted for information during the plan check, the information required by Subsections 18.71.120.B.1 through 18.71.120.B.3 may be limited to areas of and adjacent to new construction on a complete outline at that level of the building.

4. Sections and details showing attachments and joining of new and existing structures. All reinforcement in the existing structure shall be shown in these sections and details;

5. Specifications and/or general notes fully describing demolition, materials and methods, testing and inspection requirements.

C. Registered design professional of record's statement. The responsible registered design professional of record shall state on the approved construction documents the following:

1. "I am responsible for this building's seismic strengthening design in compliance with the minimum seismic resistance standards of Chapter 18.71 of the Long Beach Municipal Code."

Or when applicable:

2. "The registered special inspector, required as a condition of the use of structural design stresses requiring continuous inspection, will be responsible to me."

CHAPTER 18.72 VOLUNTARY EARTHQUAKE HAZARD REDUCTION IN EXISTING REINFORCED CONCRETE AND REINFORCED MASONRY WALL BUILDINGS WITH FLEXIBLE DIAPHRAGMS

18.72.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to promote public safety and welfare by reducing the risk of death or injury that may result from the effects of earthquakes on reinforced concrete and masonry wall buildings with flexible diaphragms designed under the Building Codes in effect prior to January 1, 1995. These buildings are potentially hazardous and prone to significant damage, including possible collapse, in a moderate to major earthquake. These structures typically shelter large numbers of persons and property for retail, food markets, food distribution centers, warehousing, aerospace, industrial/manufacturing and general business and office use. Their continued use after an earthquake is also essential to the local economy and its post-earthquake recovery.

The provisions of this chapter are minimum standards for structural seismic resistance established primarily to reduce the risk of loss of life or injury on both subject and adjacent properties and will not necessarily prevent all earthquake damage to an existing building which complies with these standards. This chapter shall not require existing electrical, plumbing, mechanical or fire safety systems to be altered unless they constitute a hazard to life or property.

This chapter provides voluntary retrofit standards for deficient wall anchorage systems on structures that are not subject to the mandatory provisions of Chapter 18.68. When fully followed, these standards will strengthen the portion of the structure that is most vulnerable to earthquake damage. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.72.020 Scope.

The voluntary provisions of this chapter shall apply to existing buildings of the following types:

A. Cast-in-place reinforced concrete or masonry wall buildings with flexible diaphragms designed under Building Codes in effect prior to January 1, 1995.

B. Tilt-up concrete wall buildings with flexible diaphragms designed under the Building Codes in effect prior to January 1, 1995, but after January 1, 1976. All existing reinforced masonry or concrete buildings with flexible diaphragms, including tilt-up concrete wall buildings, designed under the Building Code in effect on or after January 1, 1995, shall be designed in conformance with Chapter 16 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.72.030 Definitions.

For the purposes of this chapter, the applicable definitions in Chapter 2, Section 1602 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40; Sections 1.2, 3.1.1, 4.1, 5.2, 6.2 and 11.2 of ASCE 7-16, and the following shall apply:

"Anchorage system" means the system of all structural elements and connections which support the concrete or masonry wall in the lateral direction, including diaphragms and subdiaphragms, wall anchorage and continuity or crosstie connectors in subdiaphragms and main diaphragms.

"Commenced construction" means construction pursuant to a valid building permit that has progressed to the point that one of the called inspections as required by the Department has been made and the work for which the inspection has been called has been judged by the Department to be substantial and has been approved by the Department.

"Existing building" means an erected building for which a legal building permit and a Certificate of Occupancy have been issued.

"Flexible diaphragm" means any diaphragm constructed of wood structural panel, diagonal or straight wood sheathing, metal decking without a structural concrete topping, or horizontal rod bracing.

"Historical building" means any building designated or currently in the process of being designated as a historical building by an appropriate federal, State or City jurisdiction.

"Reinforced concrete wall" means a concrete wall which has fifty percent (50%) or more of the reinforcing steel required for reinforced concrete in Chapter 19 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

"Reinforced masonry wall" means a masonry wall which has fifty percent (50%) or more of the reinforcing steel required by Section 2106.1 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40.

"Retrofit" strengthens or structurally improves the lateral force-resisting system of an existing building by alteration of existing or addition of new structural elements.

"Tilt-up concrete wall" is a form of precast concrete panel construction either cast in the horizontal position at the site and after curing, lifted and moved into place in a vertical position, or cast off-site in a fabricator's shop. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.72.040 Analysis and design.

A. Wall panel anchorage. Concrete and masonry walls shall be anchored to all floors and roofs which provide lateral support for the wall. The anchorage shall provide a positive direct connection between the wall and floor or roof construction capable of resisting a horizontal force equal to thirty percent (30%) of the tributary wall weight for all buildings, and forty-five percent (45%) of the tributary wall weight for essential buildings, or a minimum force of two hundred fifty (250) pounds per linear foot of wall, whichever is greater.

The required anchorage shall be based on the tributary wall panel assuming simple supports at floors and roof.

EXCEPTION: An alternate design may be approved by the Building Official when justified by well-established principles of mechanics.

B. Special requirements for wall anchors and continuity ties. The steel elements of the wall anchorage systems and continuity ties shall be designed by the allowable stress design method using a load factor of 1.7. The one-third (1/3) stress increase permitted by Section 1605.2 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40 shall not be permitted for materials using allowable stress design methods.

The strength design specified in Section 1605 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40, using a load factor of 1.43 in lieu of 1.0 for earthquake loading, shall be used for the design of embedment in concrete.

Wall anchors shall be provided to resist out-of-plane forces, independent of existing shear anchors.

EXCEPTION: Existing cast-in-place shear anchors may be used as wall anchors if the tie element can be readily attached to the anchors and if the registered design professional can establish tension values for the existing anchors through the use of approved as-built plans or testing, and through analysis showing that the bolts are capable of resisting the total shear load while being acted upon by the maximum tension force due to seismic loading. Criteria for analysis and testing shall be determined by the Building Official.

Expansion anchors are not allowed without special approval of the Building Official. Attaching the edge of plywood sheathing to steel ledgers is not considered as complying with the positive anchoring requirements of the code; and attaching the edge of steel decks to steel ledgers is not considered as providing the positive anchorage of this code unless testing and analysis are performed which establish shear values for the attachment perpendicular to the edge of the deck.

C. Development of anchor loads into the diaphragm. Development of anchor loads into roof and floor diaphragms shall comply with Section 12.11.2.2.3 of ASCE 7-16.

EXCEPTION: If continuously tied girders are present, then the maximum spacing of the continuity ties is the greater of the girder spacing or twenty-four (24) feet.

In wood diaphragms, anchorage shall not be accomplished by use of toenails or nails subject to withdrawal, nor shall wood ledgers, top plates or framing be used in cross-grain bending or cross grain tension. The continuous ties required by Section 12.11.2.2.3 of ASCE 7-16 shall be in addition to the diaphragm sheathing.

Lengths of development of anchor loads in wood diaphragms shall be based on existing field nailing of the sheathing unless existing edge nailing is positively identified on the original construction plans or at the site.

At reentrant corners, continuity collectors may be required for existing return walls not designed as shear walls, to develop into the diaphragm a force equal to the lesser of the rocking or shear capacity of the return wall, or the tributary shear but not exceeding the capacity of the diaphragm. Shear anchors for the return wall shall be commensurate with the collector force. If a truss or beam other than rafters or purlins is supported by the return wall or by a column integral with the return wall, an independent secondary column is required to support the roof or floor members whenever rocking or shear capacity of the return wall is governing.

D. Anchorage at pilasters. Anchorage of pilasters shall be designed for the tributary wall anchoring load per Subsection 18.72.040.A, considering the wall as a two-way slab. The edge of the two-way slab shall be considered "fixed" when there is continuity at pilasters, and considered "pinned" at roof or floor levels. The pilasters or the walls immediately adjacent to the pilasters shall be anchored directly to the roof framing such that the existing vertical anchor bolts at the top of the pilasters are bypassed without causing tension or shear failure at the top of the pilasters.

EXCEPTION: If existing vertical anchor bolts at the top of the pilasters are used for the anchorage, then additional exterior confinement shall be provided.

The minimum anchorage at a floor or roof between the pilasters shall be that specified in Subsection 18.72.040.A.

E. Symmetry. Symmetry of connectors in the anchorage system is required. Eccentricity may be allowed when it can be shown that all components of forces are positively resisted and justified by calculations or tests.

F. Minimum member size. Wood members used to develop anchorage forces to the diaphragm shall be of minimum three-inch nominal width for new construction and replacement. All such members must be designed for gravity and earthquake forces as part of the wall anchorage system. For existing structural members, the allowable stresses shall be without the one-third (1/3) stress increase per Subsection 18.72.040.B.

G. Combination of anchor types. To repair and retrofit existing buildings, a combination of different anchor types of different behavior or stiffness shall not be permitted. The capacity of the new and existing connectors cannot be added.

H. Prohibited anchors. Usage of connectors that were bent or stretched from the intended use shall be prohibited.

I. Crack and damage repairs, evaluation of existing structural alterations. The registered design professional shall report any observed structural conditions and structural damage that have imminent life-safety effects on the buildings and recommend repairs, including alterations such as openings cut in existing wall panels without a building permit. Evaluations and repairs shall be reviewed and approved by the Department.

J. Miscellaneous. Existing mezzanines relying on the concrete or masonry walls for vertical or lateral support shall be anchored to the walls for the tributary mezzanine load. Walls depending on the mezzanine for lateral support shall be anchored per Subsections 18.72.040.A through 18.72.040.C.

EXCEPTION: Existing mezzanines that have independent lateral and vertical support need not be anchored to the concrete or masonry walls.

Existing interior masonry or concrete walls not designed as shear walls, which extend to the floor above or to the roof diaphragm, shall also be anchored for out-of-plane forces per Subsections 18.72.040.A through 18.72.040.C. In the in-plane direction, the walls may be isolated or shall be developed into the diaphragm for a lateral force equal to the lesser of the rocking or shear capacity of the wall, or the tributary shear but not exceeding the diaphragm capacity.

K. Historical buildings. Qualified historical buildings shall be permitted to use alternate building standards or deviations from this chapter in order to preserve their original or restored architectural elements and features. See California Code of Regulations, Title 24, Part 8 (California Historical Building Code) for these standards. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.72.050 Materials of construction.

All materials permitted by this title, including their appropriate allowable stresses and those existing configurations of materials specified in Chapter 18.68, may be utilized to meet the requirements of this chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.72.060 Information required on construction documents.

A. General. In addition to the seismic analysis required elsewhere in this chapter, the licensed registered design professional responsible for the seismic analysis of the building shall record the information required by this section on the approved construction documents.

B. Information required. The construction documents shall accurately reflect the results of the engineering investigation and design and show all pertinent dimensions and sizes for plan review and construction. The following shall be provided:

1. Floor plans and roof plans shall show the existing framing construction, diaphragm construction, proposed wall anchors, crossties and collectors. Existing nailing, anchors, ties and collectors shall also be shown on the plans if these are part of the design, and these structural elements need to be verified in the field.

2. At elevations where there is alterations or damage, the details shall show the roof and floor heights, dimensions of openings, location and extent of existing damage, and proposed repair.

3. Typical concrete or masonry wall sections with wall thickness, height and location of anchors shall be provided.

4. Details shall include the existing and new anchors and the method of development of anchor forces into the diaphragm framing, existing and new crossties, existing and new or improved support of the roof, and floor girders at pilasters or walls.

C. Registered design professional of record's statement. The responsible registered design professional of record shall state on the approved construction documents the following:

1. "I am responsible for this building's seismic strengthening design of the tilt-up concrete wall anchorage system in compliance with the minimum seismic resistance standards of Chapter 18.72 of the Long Beach Municipal Code."

Or when applicable:

2. "The Registered Special Inspector, required as a condition of the use of structural design stresses requiring continuous inspection, will be responsible to me." (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.74 LOW IMPACT DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

18.74.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to require the use of low impact development (LID) standards in the planning and construction of development projects. LID standards promote the goal of environmental sustainability by helping improve the quality of receiving waters, protecting the Los Angeles and San Gabriel River watersheds, maintaining natural drainage paths, and protecting potable water supplies within the City. The LID objective of controlling and maintaining flow rate is addressed through land development and stormwater management techniques that imitate the natural hydrology (or movement of water) found on the site. Using site design and best management practices that allow for storage and retention, infiltration, filtering, and flowrate adjustments achieve the goals of LID, advances sustainability and reduces the overall cost of stormwater management. The use of engineered systems, structural devices, and vegetated natural designs distributes stormwater and urban runoff across a development site maximizing the effectiveness of LID. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.74.020 Definitions.

"Brownfield" means a piece of industrial or commercial property that is abandoned or underused and often environmentally contaminated, especially one considered as a potential site for redevelopment.

"Development" means any construction to build any new public or private residential projects (whether single-family, multi-unit or planned unit development); new industrial, commercial, retail and other non-residential projects, including public agency projects; new impervious surface area; or mass grading for future construction. It does not include routine maintenance to maintain original line and grade, hydraulic capacity, or original purpose of facility, nor does it include emergency construction activities required to immediately protect public health and safety.

"LID Best Management Practices Manual" means a manual of LID standards and practices for stormwater pollution mitigation, including technical feasibility and implementation parameters, alternative compliance for technical infeasibility, as well as other rules, requirements and procedures as the City deems necessary, for implementing the provisions of this section of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

"Multi-Phased Project" shall mean any Development or Redevelopment implemented over more than one phase and the Site of a Multi-Phased Project shall include any land and water area designed and being used to store, treat or manage stormwater runoff in connection with the Development or Redevelopment, including any tracts, lots, or parcels of real property, whether Developed or not, associated with, functionally connected to, or under common ownership or control with such Development or Redevelopment.

"Offsite Runoff Mitigation Fee" means fee paid to the City for the management of storm water runoff generated from three-quarter (0.75) inch water quality storm in excess of the storm water runoff that is infiltrated, evapotranspired and/or stored for use. The Offsite Runoff Mitigation Fee shall be used by the City to construct or apply towards the construction of an offsite mitigation project within the same sub-watershed that will achieve at least the same level of water quality protection as if all of the runoff was retained on site.

"Redevelopment" means land-disturbing activities that result in the replacement of more than fifty percent (50%) of an existing building, structure or impervious surface area on an already developed site. It does not include routine maintenance to maintain original line and grade, hydraulic capacity, or original purpose of facility, nor does it include emergency construction activities required to immediately protect public health and safety or grinding/overlaying and replacement of existing parking lots.

"Site" means the land or water area where any "facility or activity" is physically located or conducted, including adjacent land use in connection with the facility or activity. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.74.030 LID requirements and applicability.

A. The provisions of this section establish the requirements for LID compliance that shall apply to all new Development and Redevelopment projects in the City of Long Beach as noted in the following:

1. Residential Development of four (4) units or less:

a. For new Development less than one (1) acre, or if Redevelopment alters more than fifty percent (50%) of existing buildings, structures or impervious surfaces of an existing developed site, comply with the standards and requirements of this chapter and implement at least two (2) adequately sized LID BMP alternatives from the LID Best Management Practices Manual.

b. For new Development that is one (1) acre and greater, the entire Site shall comply with the standards and requirements of this chapter and the LID Best Management Practices Manual.

2. Residential Developments of five (5) units or more and nonresidential Developments:

For new Development, or if Redevelopment alters more than fifty percent (50%) of existing buildings, structures or impervious surfaces of an existing developed site, the entire Site shall comply with the standards and requirements of this chapter and of the LID Best Management Practices Manual.

3. Nonresidential Developments in the Port of Long Beach Harbor District:

For new Development or Redevelopment projects located in the Port of Long Beach Harbor District as designated in the Zoning Regulations, the site shall comply with the LID BMP alternatives set forth in the Port of Long Beach Post-Construction Design Guidance Manual and in the LID Best Management Practices Manual. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.74.035 LID Exemptions.

The following Development or Redevelopment projects are exempt from the requirements of this chapter:

1. Any Development or Redevelopment projects that creates, adds or replaces less than five hundred (500) square feet of impervious surface area;

2. Any Development or Redevelopment projects involving emergency construction activities required to immediately protect public health and safety;

3. Any Development or Redevelopment projects involving the grinding/overlaying, replacement, or restriping of existing permitted parking lots;

4. Any Development or Redevelopment projects where land disturbing activities result in the replacement of fifty percent (50%) or less of an existing building, structure or impervious surface area;

5. Any Development or Redevelopment projects that are technically infeasible pursuant to Subsection 18.74.040.B and comply with Subsection 18.74.050.B; or

6. Any Development or Redevelopment projects that do not require a building permit. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.74.040 LID plan review.

A. Compliance with the LID standards of this chapter shall be demonstrated through a LID plan review. Permit applicant shall be required to submit a LID plan for review to the Building Official. The LID plan shall demonstrate how the project will meet the standards and requirements of this chapter and of the LID Best Management Practices Manual. A submitted LID plan shall indicate compliance with the following standards:

1. Stormwater runoff will be infiltrated, captured and reused, evapotranspired, and/or treated onsite through stormwater best management practices allowed in the LID Best Management Practices Manual.

2. The onsite stormwater management techniques must be properly sized, at a minimum, to infiltrate, evapotranspire, and/or store for use without any storm water runoff leaving the site to the maximum extent feasible, for at least the volume of water produced by a storm event that results from:

a. The volume of runoff produced from a three-quarter (0.75) inch storm event; or

b. The eighty-fifth (85^{th}) percentile twenty-four (24) hour runoff event determined as the maximized capture stormwater volume for the area using a forty-eight (48) to seventy-two (72) hour draw down time, from the formula recommended in latest edition of the Urban Runoff Quality Management, WEF Manual of Practice No. 23/ ASCE Manual of Practice No. 87; or

c. The volume of annual runoff based on unit basin storage water quality volume, to achieve eighty percent (80%) or more volume treatment by the method recommended in the latest edition of the California Stormwater Best Management Practices Handbook - Industrial/Commercial.

B. When the onsite LID requirements are technically infeasible, the infeasibility shall be demonstrated in the submitted LID plan and shall be reviewed in consultation with the Building Official. The technical infeasibility may result from conditions that may include, but are not limited to:

1. Locations where seasonal high groundwater is within ten (10) feet of surface grade;

2. Locations within one hundred (100) feet of a groundwater well used for drinking water;

3. Brownfield Development sites or other locations where pollutant mobilization is a documented concern;

4. Locations with potential geotechnical hazards; or

5. Locations with impermeable soil type as indicated in applicable soils and geotechnical reports.

C. If complete onsite compliance of any type is technically infeasible, a Development or Redevelopment project shall be required to comply with, at a minimum, all applicable requirements of Chapter 8.96 in order to maximize onsite compliance. An Offsite Runoff Mitigation Fee pursuant to Subsection 18.74.050.B shall be paid to the City of Long Beach's Stormwater Pollution Abatement Fund for the offsite mitigation of all remaining runoff that cannot feasibly be managed onsite. The funding will be applied towards the construction of an offsite mitigation project(s) within the same sub-watershed that will achieve at least the same level of water quality protection as if all the runoff was retained onsite.

D. A Multi-Phased Project must design a system acceptable to satisfy these standards and requirements for the entire Site during the first phase and will implement these standards and requirements for each phase of Development or Redevelopment projects of the Site during the first phase or prior to commencement of construction of a later phase, to the extent necessary to treat the stormwater from such later phase. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.74.050 LID plan review, permit, and Offsite Runoff Mitigation fees.

A. Permit applicants who seek to engage in new Development or Redevelopment as defined in this chapter by obtaining a building permit shall pay the required plan examination and permit fees as set forth in Chapter 18.06.

B. Permit applicants who seek to engage in new Development or Redevelopment that does not fully comply with the onsite requirements outlined in the LID Best Management Practices Manual and where technical infeasibility pursuant to Section 18.74.040.B is demonstrated, or as determined reasonably infeasible by the Building Official, may be permitted to pay an Offsite Runoff Mitigation Fee in lieu of compliance with this chapter. Payment of the fee shall be made prior to the issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy, Temporary Certificate of Occupancy, final inspection or construction approval for mobile home pad or pads, whichever occurs first, or at a time determined by the Building Official, in the manner and amount as set forth in the schedule of fees and charges established by City Council resolution.

C. A reduction in the Offsite Runoff Mitigation Fee will be permitted for Development and Redevelopment projects where partial onsite management of storm water runoff is provided based on the percentage of storm water that is managed on site through infiltration, evaporation, and/or capture and use as follows:

Stormwater Runoff Managed Onsite	Fee Reduction
Between 90% and 99%	75%
Between 75% and 89%	50%
Between 50% and 74%	25%

D. Any Development or Redevelopment projects that are exempted from this chapter shall have the option to voluntarily opt in and incorporate into the project the LID requirements of this chapter. In such case, the LID plan review, permit and Offsite Runoff Mitigation fees associated with the project shall be waived. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.74.060 LID Best Management Practices Manual.

A. The Building Official shall prepare, maintain, and update, as deemed necessary and appropriate, the LID Best Management Practices Manual to include LID standards and practices and standards for stormwater pollution mitigation. The LID Best Management Practices Manual shall also include technical feasibility and implementation parameters, alternative compliance for technical infeasibility, as well as other rules, requirements and procedures as the City deems necessary, for implementing the provisions of this chapter.

B. The Building Official shall develop, as deemed necessary and appropriate, in cooperation with other City departments and stakeholders, informational bulletins, training manuals and educational materials to assist in the implementation of the LID requirements. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.75 GRADING, EXCAVATIONS AND FILLS

18.75.010 General.

A. Scope. The provisions of this chapter apply to grading, excavation and earthwork construction, including fills and embankments. Where conflicts occur between the technical requirements of this chapter and the soils or geotechnical report, the soils or geotechnical report shall govern.

B. Permits required. Except as exempted in Section 18.04.020, no grading shall be performed without first having obtained a permit as required by Section 18.04.010 therefore from the Building Official.

C. Submittal documents. The provisions of Chapter 18.05 shall apply to the submittal of grading construction documents, including soils and geotechnical reports and any other pertinent technical reports where the Building Official determines that the nature of the work applied for is such that a report is necessary.

D. Inspection. Inspections shall be governed by Chapter 18.07.

E. Flood hazard areas. Unless the applicant has submitted an engineering analysis, prepared in accordance with standard engineering practice by a registered design professional, that demonstrates the proposed work will not result in any increase in the level of the base flood, grading, excavation and earthwork construction, including fills and embankments, shall not be permitted in floodways that are in flood hazard areas established in Section 1612.3 of the California Building Code adopted in Chapter 18.40, Section R306 of the California Residential Code adopted in Chapter 18.41, or in flood hazard areas where design flood elevations are specified but floodways have not been designated.

F. Consent of adjacent property owner. Whenever any excavation or fill requires entry onto adjacent property for any reason, the permit applicant shall obtain the written consent of the adjacent property owner or the owner's authorized representative, and shall file a copy of said consent with the Building Official before the commencement of such grading work.

In the event contours on adjacent properties are permanently changed, structures or drainage devices are added or modified, and/or the work done requires a grading permit under Section 18.04.010, a separate permit shall be required for each such affected adjoining property in addition to the consent letter. Furthermore, the adjacent property owner shall acknowledge his or her consent on plans showing such work. The consent letter will not be required if such grading permit is taken out by the adjacent property owner.

G. Safety precaution during grading. If at any stage of work on an excavation or fill the Building Official determines that further work as authorized by an existing permit is likely to endanger any property or public way, the Building Official may require as a condition to allow the work to continue that plans for such work be amended to include adequate safety precautions. Safety precautions may include, but shall not be limited to, specifying a flatter exposed slope or construction of additional drainage facilities, berms, terracing, compaction, cribbing, retaining walls or buttress fills, slough walls, desilting basins, check dams, benching wire mesh and shotcrete, rock fences revetment or diversion walls.

No person shall excavate or fill so as to cause falling rocks, soil or debris in any form to fall, roll, slide or flow onto adjoining properties. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.75.020 Definitions.

For the purposes of this chapter, the terms, phrases and words listed in this section and their derivatives shall have the indicated meanings.

"Bench". A relatively level step excavated into earth material on which fill is to be placed.

"Compaction". The densification of a fill by mechanical means.

"Cut." See "excavation".

"Down drain". A device for collecting water from a swale or ditch located on or above a slope, and safely delivering it to an approved drainage facility.

"Erosion". The wearing away of the ground surface as a result of the movement of wind, water or ice.

"Excavation". The removal of earth material by artificial means, also referred to as a cut.

"Fill". Deposition of earth materials by artificial means.

"Grade". The vertical location of the ground surface.

"Grade, existing". The grade prior to grading.

"Grade, finished". The grade of the site at the conclusion of all grading efforts.

"Grading". An excavation or fill or combination thereof.

"Key". A compacted fill placed in a trench excavated in earth material beneath the toe of a slope.

"Slope". An inclined surface, the inclination of which is expressed as a ratio of horizontal distance to vertical distance.

"Terrace". A relatively level step constructed in the face of a graded slope for drainage and maintenance purposes. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.75.030 Grading bonds in hazardous situations required.

The Building Official may require a grading permit surety bond in such form and amounts as may be deemed necessary to assure that the grading work, if not completed in accordance with the approved plans and specifications, will be corrected to eliminate hazardous conditions as determined by the Building Official. The condition of such bond shall be that the permit applicant will perform the work authorized by the grading permit issued pursuant to this title in a good and workmanlike manner and to the satisfaction of the Building Official. When a grading permit surety bond is required, it shall comply with provisions Section 2.84.040 and this chapter.

A. Surety bond. Before a permit is issued for grading with excavation or fill exceeding five hundred (500) cubic yards and/or that is potentially hazardous, as determined by the Building Official, the owner of the property shall file with the Building Official a bond for the benefit of the City. The bond shall be executed by the owner and a corporate surety authorized to do business in this state as a surety in an amount sufficient to cover the entire project.

EXCEPTION: Upon application by the owner, the Building Official may waive this requirement if:

1. The grading work performed is in compliance with an order issued by the Building Official;

2. The grading work performed is limited in scope and area, for example underground tank removal, soil mitigation, etc.; or

3. The permit applicant can substantiate, to the satisfaction of the Building Official, that the work under a grading permit will be fully executed.

B. Cash bond. In lieu of a surety bond, the owner may file a cash bond with the Building Official on the same terms and conditions and in an amount equal to that which would be required in the surety bond. The deposit may be in the form of negotiable United States securities in lieu of cash.

C. Application of bond to adjacent property. Where grading is required on property adjacent to the grading site under permit in order to complete a project satisfactorily, the owner of such adjacent property need not provide an additional grading bond if the original bond is of sufficient amount to include such additional grading.

D. Conditions of the bond. Every bond shall be conditioned such that the owner shall:

1. Comply with all applicable provisions of this title and all other ordinances of the City, or laws and statutes of the State.

2. Comply with all the terms and conditions of the grading permit to the satisfaction of the Building Official.

3. Complete all the work described by the permit, and the plans and specifications relating thereto, within the time limit specified in the permit. Upon application by the permit applicant, the Building Official may, for sufficient cause, extend the time specified in the permit pursuant to Section 18.03.050, but no such extension shall release any surety on the bond.

4. Install temporary erosion control devices when required to do so by the provisions of this chapter.

E. Period and termination of bond. The term of each bond shall begin on the date of filing and shall remain in effect until the work is completed to the satisfaction of the Building Official or until replaced by a new bond in the event of a change of ownership. In the event of failure to complete the work and/or failure to comply with all the conditions and terms of the permit, the Building Official may order some or all of the work to be completed to correct any hazardous conditions. The surety executing such bond, or such deposit, shall continue to be firmly bound under a continuing obligation for the payment of all necessary costs and expenses that may be incurred or expended by the City in causing any and all of such required work to be done and that said surety or the depositor assents to any lawful extension of time within which to construct and complete such work. Such costs shall include an amount equal to the cost to the City of administering the contract and supervising the work required. In the case of a cash bond, the deposit, or any unused portion thereof, shall be refunded to the depositor upon completion of the work to the satisfaction of the Building Official. The Building Official may release or exonerate the bond under appropriate conditions when the public health and welfare is not jeopardized.

F. Expiration of bond. When the bond expires based on terms placed on the bond by the surety executing the bond, the grading permit shall be suspended until a new bond is obtained. Where a new bond is not obtained within ninety (90) days of the expiration of the original bond, the grading permit shall expire.

G. New ownership. In the event of change of ownership during grading, the new owner shall secure a new grading permit and post a new bond to ensure completion of the grading.

H. Amount of bond. The amount for the bond shall be set at the discretion of the Building Official, considering such factors as the size of the site, the amount of earth material in either excavation or fill, drainage requirements, and other protective devices as needed to secure the safety of the site.

I. Installment refunds and reduction of bond amount. When a substantial portion of the required grading work has been completed to the satisfaction of the Building Official, and when the completion of the remaining grading work, site development or planting is delayed, the Building Official may accept the completed portion of the grading work and consent to the proportionate reduction of the bond to an amount estimated to be adequate to ensure completion of the grading work, site development or planting remaining to be performed. Only one such reduction shall be considered for each bond posted. Any approval of a reduction to the bond amount will require the property owner to file with the Building Official a rider updating the original bond or a new bond for the reduced amount.

J. Entry upon premises. The Building Official, the surety company, or their duly authorized representative, shall have access to the premises described in the permit for the purpose of inspecting the progress of the work.

In the event of default in the performance of any terms or conditions of the permit, the surety or any person employed or engaged in his or her behalf shall have the right to go upon the premises to complete the required work, including the installation of temporary erosion control devices.

Should the permittee or the surety fail to perform the work described by the permit and the plans and specifications relating thereto or required by any applicable law, and it is determined by the Building Official that the public health, safety or general welfare is endangered by such failure, the Building Official may enter upon the premises to perform all or any part of such work, including the installation of temporary erosion control devices.

It shall be unlawful for the owner or any other person to interfere with the ingress and egress from such premises of any authorized representative or agent of any surety company or the City engaged in the work ordered by the Building Official. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.75.040 Excavations.

The slope of cut surfaces shall be no steeper than is safe for the intended use, and shall be no steeper than two (2) units horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (50-percent slope) unless the owner or authorized agent furnishes a geotechnical report justifying a steeper slope.

EXCEPTIONS:

1. A cut surface shall be permitted to be at a slope of 1.5 units horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (67-percent slope) provided that all of the following are met:

a. It is not intended to support structures or surcharges.

b. It is adequately protected against erosion.

c. It is no more than eight (8) feet (2,438 mm) in height.

d. Ground water is not encountered.

e. It is approved by the Building Official.

2. A cut surface in bedrock shall be permitted to be at a slope of one (1) unit horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (100-percent slope).

This section shall not be construed to waive the requirements of the General Safety Orders of the California Department of Industrial Relations, nor the provisions of Section 832 of the California Civil Code concerning the rights of coterminous owners as to excavations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

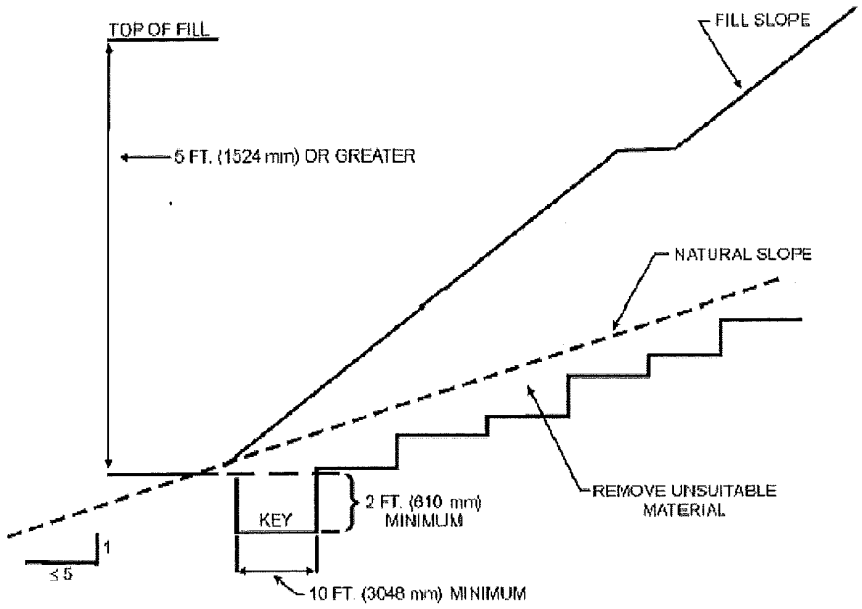
18.75.050 Fills.

A. General. Unless otherwise recommended in the geotechnical report, fills shall comply with the provisions of this section.

B. Surface preparation. The ground surface shall be prepared to receive fill by removing vegetation, topsoil and other unsuitable materials, and scarifying the ground to provide a bond with the fill material.

C. Benching. Where existing grade is at a slope steeper than five (5) units horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (20-percent slope) and the depth of the fill exceeds five feet (5') benching shall be provided in accordance with Figure 18.75.050. A key shall be provided which is at least ten feet (10') in width and two feet (2') in depth.



For SI: 1 foot = 304.8 mm.

BENCHING DETAILS

D. Fill material. Fill material shall not include organic, frozen or other deleterious materials. No rock or similar irreducible material greater than twelve inches (12") in any dimension shall be included in fills.

E. Compaction. All fill material shall be compacted to ninety percent (90%) of maximum density as determined by ASTM D 1557, Modified Proctor, in lifts not exceeding twelve inches (12") in depth. Where cohesionless soil having less than fifteen percent (15%) finer than 0.005 millimeter is used for fill, it shall be compacted to a minimum of ninety-five percent (95%) relative compaction based on maximum dry density. Every fill shall be tested for relative compaction by a soil testing agency approved by the Building Official. A compaction report including a Certificate of Compliance setting forth densities so determined shall be submitted to the Building Official before approval of any fill is given.

F. Maximum slope. The slope of fill surfaces shall be no steeper than is safe for the intended use. Fill slopes steeper than two (2) units horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (50 percent slope) shall be justified by a geotechnical report or engineering data. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

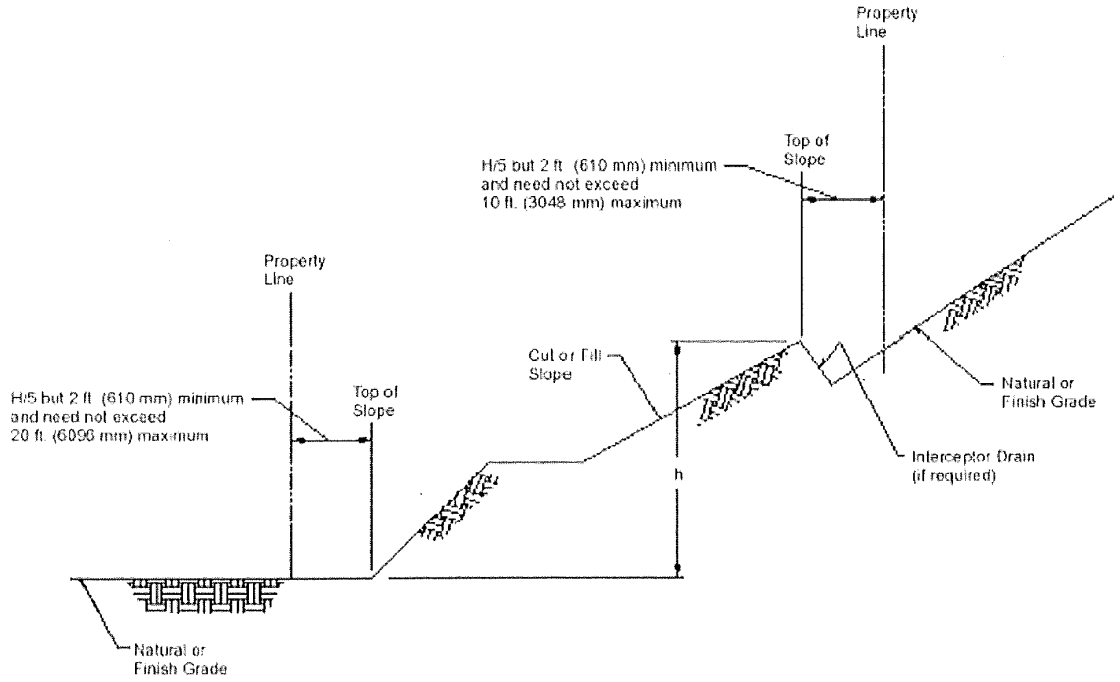
18.75.060 Setbacks.

A. General. Cut and fill slopes shall be set back from the property lines in accordance with this section. Setback dimensions shall be measured perpendicular to the property line and shall be as shown in Figure 18.75.060, unless substantiating data is submitted justifying reduced setbacks.



For SI: 1 foot = 304.8 mm.

DRAINAGE DIMENSIONS

B. Top of slope. The setback at the top of a cut slope shall not be less than that shown in Figure 18.75.060, or than is required to accommodate any required interceptor drains, whichever is greater.

C. Slope protection. Where required to protect adjacent properties at the toe of a slope from adverse effects of the grading, additional protection, approved by the Building Official, shall be included. Such protection may include but shall not be limited to:

1. Setbacks greater than those required by Figure 18.75.060.

2. Provisions for retaining walls or similar construction.

3. Erosion protection of the fill slopes.

4. Provisions for the control of surface waters. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.75.070 Drainage and terracing.

A. General. Unless otherwise recommended by a registered design professional, drainage facilities and terracing shall be provided in accordance with the requirements of this section.

EXCEPTION: Drainage facilities and terracing need not be provided where the ground slope is not steeper than three (3) unit horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (33-percent slope).

B. Terraces. Terraces at least six feet (6') in width shall be established at not more than thirty foot (30') vertical intervals on all cut or fill slopes to control surface drainage and debris. Suitable access shall be provided to allow for cleaning and maintenance.

Where more than two (2) terraces are required, one (1) terrace, located at approximately mid-height, shall be at least twelve feet (12') in width.

Swales or ditches shall be provided on terraces. They shall have a minimum gradient of twenty (20) unit horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (5%/five percent slope) and shall be paved with concrete not less than three inches (3") in thickness, or with other materials suitable to the application. They shall have a minimum depth of twelve inches (12") and a minimum width of five feet (5').

A single run of swale or ditch shall not collect runoff from a tributary area exceeding thirteen thousand and five hundred (13,500) square feet (projected) without discharging into a down drain.

C. Interceptor drains. Interceptor drains shall be installed along the top of cut slopes receiving drainage from a tributary width greater than forty feet (40'), measured horizontally. They shall have a minimum depth of one foot (1') and a minimum width of three feet (3'). The slope shall be approved by the Building Official, but shall not be less than fifty (50) unit horizontal to one (1) unit vertical (2%/two percent slope). The drain shall be paved with concrete not less than three inches (3") in thickness, or by other materials suitable to the application. Discharge from the drain shall be accomplished in a manner to prevent erosion and shall be approved by the Building Official.

D. Drainage across property lines. Drainage across property lines shall not be permitted except for drainage that does not exceed that which existed prior to grading. Excess or concentrated drainage shall be contained on site or directed to an approved drainage facility. Erosion of the ground in the area of discharge shall be prevented by installation of nonerosive down drains or other devices.

E. Site drainage. All pads with cut or fill shall slope a minimum of two percent (2%) to an approved drainage device or to a public street. Where used, the drainage device shall be an adequately designed system of catch basins and drain lines that conducts the water to a public street.

EXCEPTION: Where the slope of the underlying natural ground does not exceed three percent (3%) and the compacted fill is less than three feet (3') in depth, the slope of the pad may be reduced to one percent (1%).

F. Drainage around buildings. On all building sites, acceptable drainage devices shall be installed to conduct water around buildings whenever the distance from the building to the top of any slope is less than five feet (5'). Where used, the drainage device shall be an adequately designed system of catch basins and drain lines that conducts the water to a public street.

G. Maintenance of drainage. Drainage in conformance with the provisions of this chapter shall be maintained during and subsequent to construction. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.75.080 Erosion control.

A. General. The faces of cut and fill slopes shall be prepared and maintained to control erosion. This control shall be permitted to consist of effective planting.

EXCEPTION: Erosion control measures need not be provided on cut slopes not subject to erosion due to the erosion-resistant character of the materials.

Erosion control for the slopes shall be installed as soon as practicable and prior to calling for final inspection.

B. Other devices. Where necessary, check dams, cribbing, riprap or other devices or methods shall be employed to control erosion and provide safety. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.75.090 Referenced standards.

ASTM D1557-12E1 Test Method for Laboratory Compaction Characteristics of Soil Using Modified Effort [56,000 ft-lb/ft^3 (2,700kN-m/m^3)]. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.76 STREAMLINED PERMITTING PROCESS FOR ELECTRIC VEHICLE CHARGING STATIONS AND HYDROGEN-FUELING STATIONS*

18.76.010 General.

A. Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to promote and encourage the installation and use of electric vehicle charging stations and hydrogen-fueling stations by removing obstacles to, and minimizing the costs of, permitting for charging stations so long as this action does not supersede the Building Official's authority to identify and address higher priority life-safety situations. Consistent with Sections 65850.7 and 65850.71 of the California Government Code, this chapter creates an expedited and streamlined permitting process for the installation of electric vehicle charging stations and hydrogen-fueling stations.

B. Permits required. Electric vehicle charging stations or hydrogen-fueling stations shall not be installed or used without first having obtained a permit as required by Section 18.04.010.

C. Submittal documents. Submittal documents shall be governed by Chapter 18.05, except as provided in Section 18.76.030.

D. Fee. Fees for electric vehicle charging stations and hydrogen-fueling stations shall be governed by Chapter 18.06.

E. Inspection. Inspections shall be governed by Chapter 18.07.

F. Effective date. This chapter shall apply to all projects for the installation and use of electric vehicle charging stations submitted on or after September 30, 2016, or to all projects for the installation and use of hydrogen-fueling stations submitted on or after September 30, 2025. The applicable time period required by Section 65850.71 of the California Government Code shall apply to all projects for the installation and use of electric vehicle charging stations submitted on or after January 1, 2022. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.76.020 Definitions.

Unless otherwise expressly stated, the following words and terms shall, for the purpose of this chapter, have the meanings shown in this section. Where the words or terms are not defined in this section, Chapter 18.02 shall apply.

"Electronic submittal" means the utilization of one or more of the following:

1. E-mail;
2. Internet; or
3. Facsimile.

"Electrical vehicle charging station" or "charging station" or "EVCS" means an electric vehicle charging station as defined by Section 202 of Chapter 2 of the California Green Building Standards Code as adopted in Chapter 18.47 that is designed and built in compliance with Article 625 of the California Electrical Code adopted in Chapter 18.42 and delivers electricity from a source outside an electric vehicle into a plug-in electric vehicle.

"Hydrogen fueling station" means the equipment used to store and dispense hydrogen fuel to vehicles according to industry codes and stan-

*Editor's note—ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), adopted Nov. 11, 2025, amended the title of Ch. 18.76 to read as herein set out. The former Ch. 18.76 was entitled "Streamlined Permitting Process For Electric Vehicle Charging Stations."

dards that is open to the public. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.76.030 Permit application and submittal.

A. Application for permit. An application for a permit shall be governed by Section 18.04.030.

B. Submittal. Application for a permit and supporting documents may be submitted to the Building Official in person, by mail, or by electronic submittal together with all required fees.

C. Electronic signature. The Building Official is authorized to accept an electronic signature on all forms, applications, and other documents in lieu of a wet signature by an applicant.

D. Action on application. An application for a permit and supporting documents that satisfies the information requirements in the checklist required by Subsection 18.76.050.A, as determined by the Building Official, shall be deemed complete.

Upon confirmation by the Building Official of the application for a permit and supporting documents being complete and meeting the requirements of the checklist, and consistent with this chapter, the Building Official shall administratively approve the application for a permit and supporting documents and issue the required permit.

Upon receipt of an incomplete application for a permit or supporting documents, the Building Official shall issue a written correction notice detailing all deficiencies in the application for a permit or supporting documents and any additional information required to be eligible for expedited and streamlined permitting in this chapter.

E. Technical review. It is the intent of this chapter to encourage the installation of EVCS and hydrogen-fueling stations by removing obstacles to permitting for EVCS and hydrogen-fueling stations provided the action does not supersede the Building Official's authority to address higher priority life-safety situations. If the Building Official makes a finding based upon substantial evidence that the EVCS or the hydrogen-fueling stations(s) could have a specific adverse impact upon the public health or safety, the Building Official may require the applicant to apply for a use permit and may not be eligible for expedited and streamlined permitting in this chapter.

F. Validity of permit. The validity of permit shall be governed by Section 18.04.050. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.76.040 Inspection.

Inspection by the Building Official and/or Fire Code Official shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 18.07. A consolidated inspection by the Building Official and Fire Code Official may be performed at their discretion. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

18.76.050 Permitting documentation.

A. Checklist. The Building Official is hereby authorized and directed to develop and adopt checklists of all requirements with which EVCS and hydrogen-fueling stations shall comply to be eligible for expedited and streamlined permitting in this chapter. The checklists shall substantially conform, as deemed necessary and appropriate by the Building Official, to the most current versions of the "Zero-Emission Vehicles in California: Community Readiness Guidebook" and "Hydrogen Station Permitting Guidebook" published by the California Governor's Office of Planning and Research. The Building Official is authorized to modify the checklists from time to time due to unique climactic, geological, seismological, topographical or environmental conditions.

B. Other documents. The Building Official shall prepare, maintain, and update, as deemed necessary and appropriate, in cooperation with other City departments and stakeholders, informational bulletins, training manuals and educational materials to assist in the implementation of this chapter.

C. Publicly accessible. The Building Official shall publish the checklist and other documents on a publicly accessible internet website, where possible, or other publicly accessible location. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 18.77 STREAMLINED PERMITTING PROCESS FOR SOLAR ENERGY SYSTEMS AND ENERGY STORAGE SYSTEMS

18.77.010 General.

A. Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to promote and encourage the installation and use of solar energy systems and energy storage systems by limiting obstacles to their use and minimizing the permitting costs of such system. Consistent with Sections 65850.5, 65850.52, 65850.55, 65850.8, and 66015 of the California Government Code, this chapter creates an expedited permitting process for solar energy systems and energy storage systems.

B. Permits required. Solar energy systems and energy storage systems shall not be installed or used without first having obtained a permit as required by Section 18.04.010.

C. Submittal documents. Submittal documents shall be governed by Chapter 18.05, except as provided in Section 18.77.030.

D. Fee. Fees for solar energy systems and energy storage systems shall be governed by Subsections 18.06.010.A or 18.06.020.A in accordance with Sections 65850.55 and 66015 of the California Government Code.

E. Inspection. Inspections shall be governed by Chapter 18.07, except as provided in Section 18.77.040.

F. Effective date. This chapter shall apply to projects for the installation and use of solar energy systems submitted on or after September 30, 2015, and energy storage systems submitted on or after September 30, 2023. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.77.020 Definitions.

Unless otherwise expressly stated, the following words and terms shall for the purpose of this chapter have the meanings shown in this section. Where the words or terms are not defined in this section, Chapter 18.02 shall apply.

"Electronic submittal" means the utilization of one or more of the following:

1. E-mail;
2. Internet; or
3. Facsimile.

"Energy storage system" or "ESS" has the same meaning as set forth in the California Residential Code, California Electrical Code, and California Fire Code as adopted in Chapters 18.41, 18.42, and 18.48.

"Residential energy storage system" has the same meaning as set forth in Paragraph (2) of Subdivision (a) of Section 65850.52 of the California Government Code.

"Residential solar energy system" has the same meaning as set forth in Paragraph (3) of Subdivision (a) of Section 65850.52 of the California Government Code.

"Solar energy system" has the same meaning as set forth in the California Building Code, California Residential Code, California Electrical Code, and California Fire Code as adopted in Chapters 18.40, 18.41, 18.42, and 18.48. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.77.030 Permit application and submittal.

A. Application for permit. An application for a permit shall be governed by Section 18.04.030.

B. Submittal. Application for a permit and supporting documents may be submitted to the Building Official in person, by mail, or by electronic submittal together with all required fees.

C. Electronic signature. The Building Official is authorized to accept an electronic signature on all forms, applications, and other documents in lieu of a wet signature by an applicant.

D. Action on application. An application for a permit and supporting documents that satisfies the information requirements in the checklist and standard plan, as determined by the Building Official, shall be deemed complete.

Upon confirmation by the Building Official of the application for a permit and supporting documents being complete and meeting the requirements of the checklist and standard plan, and consistent with this chapter, the Building Official shall administratively approve the application for a permit and support documents and issue the required permit.

Upon receipt of an incomplete application for a permit or supporting documents, the Building Official shall issue a written correction notice detailing all deficiencies in the application for a permit or supporting documents and any additional information required to be eligible for expedited permitting in this chapter.

E. Validity of permit. The validity of permit shall be governed by Section 18.04.050. Such permit does not authorize an applicant to connect the solar energy system or energy storage system to the local utility provider's electricity grid. The applicant is responsible for obtaining such approval or permission from the local utility provider. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.77.040 Inspection.

A. Number of inspections. Notwithstanding Chapter 18.07 to the contrary, solar energy systems eligible for expedited permitting in this chapter shall only be required to have one inspection by the Building Official and/or Fire Code Official. If the solar energy system fails inspection, a subsequent inspection by the Building Official and/or Fire Code Official is authorized and shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 18.07.

B. Consolidated inspection. A consolidated inspection by the Building Official and Fire Code Official may be performed at their discretion. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

18.77.050 Permitting documentation.

A. Checklist and standard plan. The Building Official is hereby authorized and directed to develop and adopt a checklist and standard plan of all requirements with which solar energy systems or energy storage system shall comply to be eligible for expedited permitting in this chapter. The checklist and standard plan shall substantially conform, as deemed necessary and appropriate by the Building Official, to the checklists and standard plans contained in the most current version of the California Solar Permitting Guidebook as adopted by the Governor's Office of Planning and Research ("Guidebook") or other available resources developed by state agency or department, where appropriate. The Building Official is authorized to modify the checklist and standard plan found in the Guidebook or other available resources due to unique climactic, geological, seismological, or topographical conditions.

B. Other documents. The Building Official shall prepare, maintain, and update. as deemed necessary and appropriate, in cooperation with other City departments and stakeholders, informational bulletins, training manuals and educational materials to assist ln the implementation of this chapter.

C. Publicly accessible. The Building Official shall publish the checklist, standard plan, and other documents on a publicly accessible internet website, where possible, or other publicly accessible location. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019)

CHAPTER 18.78 CONSTRUCTION IN THE VICINITY OF ABANDONED OIL WELLS*

18.78.010 Applicability.

All construction activities on a privately-owned parcel or tract containing an abandoned oil/gas

Editor's note—ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), adopted Nov. 11, 2025, amended Ch. 18.78 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 18.78, §§ 18.78.010—18.78.270, pertained to similar subject matter and derived from: ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; and ORD-21-0018 § 1, 2021.

well or wells shall meet the requirements of this Chapter, and Section 5706.3 of the California Fire Code. Construction activities on a privately-owned parcel or tract with active or idle wells shall comply with Chapter 18.48 of this Code. Construction projects involving assembly uses, caregiving facilities/hospitals, or schools such as those with an "A," "I," or "E" occupancy classification, and all "high rise" structures as defined by the California Building Code shall meet the current CALGEM standards, and Section 5706.3.1.3.1 of the California Fire Code. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.020 Exemptions.

Additions or Modifications. Additions that add less than fifty (50) percent of the existing floor area or modifications to existing structures that alter less than fifty (50) percent of the existing floor area of that structure, and which maintain the "Separation Rule" as defined herein are exempt from the provisions of this Chapter. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.030 Definitions.

Unless otherwise expressly stated herein, the following words and terms shall, for the purpose of this Chapter, have the meaning set forth in this Section. Where the words or terms are not defined in this Section, Chapter 18.02 of this Code shall apply.

A. "Applicant" means a permit applicant, developer, owner, permittee, operator, or a representative of the owner who is applying for a building, grading, or any type of permit to construct in the vicinity of an abandoned oil/gas well(s).

B. "Close Vicinity" means a well located within the Separation Rule of an abandoned well.

C. "Construction Activity" means construction activity including, but not limited to, grading, paving, and/or structure development, or any electrical installations.

D. "California Geologic Energy Management Division" or "CALGEM" means the State of California agency, or any successor agency, responsible for overseeing the drilling, operation, maintenance, plugging or abandonment of oil, natural gas, or geothermal wells.

E. "Operator" means any person drilling, maintaining, operating, pumping, or in control of any well.

F. "Permittee" means any person or entity seeking to obtain a permit from the City.

G. "Project Boundary" means the entire proposed construction site, parcel or tract, including the entire area of each and every site, parcel, or tract involved.

H. "Qualified Professional" means a petroleum engineer currently registered in the State of California and possessing experience in oil/gas well abandonment.

I. "Separation Rule" means providing ten (10) feet of separation on two sides of the well, fifty (50) feet of separation on the third side of the well, and the remaining side of the well open, with an unobstructed vertical clearance for well service and rig access.

A well will meet the Separation Rule if it meets the above definition or if the applicant can demonstrate the proposed project will maintain appropriate and safe standard/conventional rig access to the well. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.040 Prerequisites.

Applicants shall complete the following prerequisite items prior to applying for a building, grading or any type of permit for construction within the project boundary:

A. Identify all active, idle, or abandoned wells within the project boundary and all off-site active, idle, or abandoned wells within one hundred (100) feet of the proposed onsite structure(s).

B. Construction Site Well Review. Complete and submit a Construction Site Well Review (CSWR) Application to CALGEM.

C. Well Safety Evaluation. Prepare a Well Safety Evaluation per Section 18.78.050. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.050 Well Safety Evaluation Submittal requirements.

A well safety evaluation report shall be submitted for wells within the project boundary and off-site wells within one hundred (100) feet of any proposed structure(s). The report shall include the following:

A. Well Exhibit. A Well Exhibit shall be submitted for review. The Well Exhibit shall contain all of the following elements:

1. A site plan that illustrates all active, idle, or abandoned wells and the location and function of all existing and proposed development, including, but not limited to, paved surfaces, auxiliary structures, and occupied structures within the property boundary. Off-site wells within one hundred (100) feet of a proposed structure shall also be shown on the site plan;

2. For wells within the property boundary:

a. Diagram and description of any wells' drill rig accessibility within twenty-four (24) hours of any emergency. Compliance with the Separation Rule shall be clearly shown. If inaccessible within twenty-four (24) hours, a detailed written plan to provide access, including an approximate minimum time when access will be provided, shall also be required. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.060 Well abandonment.

Wells within one hundred (100) feet of the proposed structures, which are not abandoned to any approved current or prior CALGEM standard, shall be abandoned to the current CALGEM standard. The Building Official shall have the authority to approve the well(s) "as-is", approve alternative abandonment methods, or impose appropriate development conditions in accordance with Section 18.03.060. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.070 Site clean-up.

Any potential site cleanup shall be under the direction of City of Long Beach Health Officer or designee. Grading and compaction around the well head shall be per the grading permit requirements of the City. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.080 Methane mitigation.

Building construction projects shall be mitigated in accordance with the requirements of Chapter 18.79 of this Code. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.090 Indemnity Agreement.

Upon project plan approval, the Applicant shall fully execute and record an "Indemnification for Construction in the Vicinity of Abandoned Oil Well(s)" in a format required by the City and approved by the City Attorney's Office for any wells that do not meet the current (at the time of property development) CALGEM standards for abandonment and/or maintenance accessibility or building separations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.100 Declaration of Covenant.

Prior to final approval of building, grading or any permit for development within the close proximity to, or over a former oil/gas well, the permittee/applicant shall record a Declaration of Covenant, in a form subject to the review and approval of the City Attorney, putting future owners and occupants on notice of the following: the existence of abandoned oil wells on the site; an acknowledgment that CALGEM may order the re-abandonment of any well should it leak in the future; an acknowledgment that CALGEM does not recommend building over wells; and releasing and indemnifying the City and its various employees and agents for issuing project permits or granting any approvals. The Covenant shall run with the land, apply to future owners or successors in interest, and may only be released by the City in writing. The Declaration of Covenant shall be recorded with the County Recorder's Office prior to the issuance of any permits. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.110 Fees.

Well Safety Evaluation review fees consisting of peer review, well head inspection, leak test inspection, and Alternate Materials and Methods of Construction fees for oil well abandonment projects shall be paid in accordance with the latest Master Fee Resolution and City Schedule of Fees. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

18.78.120 Site restoration for vacated projects.

Should the developer/applicant decide to discontinue site development, all excavations for any well discoveries shall be restored to their original condition prior to well discovery disturbance. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025)

CHAPTER 18.79 METHANE GAS MITIGATION*

18.79.010 Purpose.

This chapter sets forth the minimum requirements of the City of Long Beach for control of methane gas intrusion emanating from geologic formations. The requirements do not regulate flammable vapor that may originate in and propagate from other sources, which include, but are not limited to, ruptured hazardous material transmission lines, underground atmospheric tanks, or similar installations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.020 Scope.

The provisions of this chapter shall govern methane gas mitigation systems for all buildings and structures. Additional requirements shall apply as follows:

1. Methane gas mitigation system submittal documents shall be required for any project with a methane gas mitigation system in accordance with Subsection 18.05.030.A Item 8.

2. Methane gas mitigation inspection and plans examination fees shall be required for any project with a methane gas mitigation system in accordance Sections 18.06.010 and 18.06.020.

3. Methane gas mitigation inspections shall be required for any project with a methane gas mitigation system in accordance with Section 18.07.050. A preconstruction meeting shall be scheduled with the Building Official or a duly designated representative prior to installation of the methane gas mitigation system

4. Methane gas mitigation measures shall be required for any subgrade electrical work in compliance with the requirements of Chapter 5 of the California Electrical Code occurring in all areas identified in Section 18.79.040. Exemptions noted in Section 18.79.050 shall not apply to subgrade electrical work, except where methane soil gas testing indicates that methane gas concentrations and pressures on the project site are less than those required for a Site Design Level I classification in accordance with Section 18.79.060. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-25-0015 § 1, 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.030 Definitions.

The following terms shall have the following meanings, unless otherwise clearly apparent from the context:

"Combustible soil gas" means flammable gas within soil pores.

"Development Projects" means newly constructed buildings or structures, additions to existing buildings or structures, or alterations of fifty (50) percent or greater to the existing foundations, slabs-on-grade, or raised floors of existing buildings or structures.

"Flammable Gas" means a gaseous substance capable of sustaining combustion or explosion, as defined in the California Fire Code as adopted in Chapter 18.48.

"Gas Membrane Barrier" means a manufactured membrane barrier designed to prevent the transmission of methane with a minimum dry thickness of fifteen (15) mils and a gas transmission rate (GTR) of less than forty (40) milliliters per square meter day (ml/m^2-D), when tested in accordance with the American Society for Testing and Materials D1434 standard.

"Methane Gas" means the hydrocarbon substance commonly known as "natural gas," chemical formula CH4. For the purpose of this definition, natural gas from the distribution system of a utility company is exempt and excluded from the scope of this Chapter.

"Methane Gas Detection and Alarm System" means one or more electrical devices capable of continuous monitoring for the presence of methane gas in accordance with Section 18.79.070. Alarm systems shall consist of audible and visual alarms capable of alerting occupants that a hazardous atmosphere exists.

Editor's note—ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), adopted Nov. 15, 2022, Ch. 18.79 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 18.79, §§ 18.79.010—18.79.120, pertained to similar subject matter, and derived from ORD-21-0019 § 1, 2021.

"Methane Gas Mitigation System" means a collection of building systems designed to mitigate the accumulation of methane gas to less than hazardous levels within a structure. This includes a designed collection system of piping components located beneath a structure to vent combustible soil gas to the atmosphere; heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems to introduce outdoor air into a structure to ventilate accumulated methane; and sensors and alarms to detect concentrations of methane gas, activate HVAC and/or active methane mitigation, and alert occupants to the presence of methane gas.

1. Active Methane Gas Mitigation System: The complete designed piping system originating below a building or structure and terminating above the building or structure with a motorized evacuation device to exhaust accumulated gases;

2. Passive Methane Gas Mitigation System: A non-powered piping system originating below a building and terminating outside of the building using natural air flow for venting accumulated gases.

"Qualified Professional" means a California Registered Professional Civil Engineer, Petroleum Engineer, or Geologist with experience in the design and construction of methane gas mitigation systems.

"Site Design Level" means a designated level assigned to a project site based on the concentration and pressure of methane gas detected during shallow and soil gas probe testing or as indicated in Section 18.79.060.

"Soil Gas Investigation" means a scientific investigation performed in accordance with Section 18.79.060 conducted under the direction of a Qualified Professional for the purpose of determining the locations and concentrations of combustible soil gas.

"Subslab Vent Piping" means polyvinyl chloride (PVC), high-density polyethylene (HDPE), acrylonitrile butadiene styrene (ABS), or strip composite perforated piping, or equivalent, with a minimum diameter of three (3) inches.

"Vertical Vent Risers" means cast-iron or galvanized steel piping with a minimum diameter of three (3) inches connecting subslab piping to the atmosphere. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.040 Applicability.

The methane gas mitigation requirements of this chapter shall be required for all development projects, unless exempted by Section 18.79.050, located in the following areas:

A. All areas overlying petroleum-bearing formations and within the limits of a petroleum reservoir's boundary, as mapped by the State Geological Energy Management Division (CALGEM, or any successor agency). Properties or parcels which partially fall into the areas described herein are fully subject to the methane gas mitigation measures required by this Chapter, for the entire property.

B. All areas three hundred (300) feet or less from any active oil or gas well, or one hundred (100) feet or less from any idle and/or abandoned oil or gas well.

C. All areas one thousand (1,000) feet or less from the refuse footprint of any existing or new landfill or disposal site.

D. Where the building official determines a significant hazard exists from methane gas intrusion at any location within the City, the Building Official is authorized to enforce the requirements of Chapter 18.79 as required to prevent a potential fire or explosion due to methane gas concentrations. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.050 Exemptions.

The following development projects are exempt from the provisions of this chapter:

1. Buildings or structures with permanent natural ventilation, such as but not limited to, open parking structures, carports, patio covers or similar open structures.

2. Buildings or structures with raised foundations providing adequate underfloor ventilations.

3. Alterations to existing buildings or structures where less than fifty (50) percent of the existing foundations and slabs-on-grade are replaced.

4. Newly constructed buildings or structures accessory to an existing one- or two-family dwelling that are less than fifty (50) percent of the area of the existing one- or two-family dwelling.

5. Addition to existing buildings or structures that are less than fifty (50) percent of the floor area of the existing building or structure.

6. Any development project where methane soil gas testing indicates that methane gas concentrations and pressures on the project site are less than those required for a Site Design Level I classification in accordance with Section 18.79.060. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.060 Methane soil gas investigation.

A. Methane soil gas testing shall be required for all development projects located within any area as indicated in Section 18.79.040. Testing shall be in accordance with the policies and criteria established by the Building Official.

Exceptions. Methane soil gas testing is not required for any of the following:

1. One- and two-family dwellings that comply with the Site Design Level I methane gas mitigation system requirements.

2. Any development project that complies with the Site Design Level III methane gas mitigation system requirements.

3. Any development project that complies with Chapter 18.78 Construction in the Vicinity of Abandoned Oil Wells and Site Design Level III methane gas mitigation system requirements.

B. Methane soil gas investigation shall classify the development project into one of the following Site Design Levels:

Level I: Concentrations of methane soil gas less than fifty-thousand (50,000) ppmv and greater than one thousand (1,000) parts per million by volume (ppmv), and measured pressure less than two (2) inches of water column (WC).

Level II: Concentrations of methane gas up to fifty thousand (50,000) ppmv, and measured pressure greater than two (2) inches of water column (WC), or concentrations of methane gas between fifty thousand (50,000) ppmv and three hundred thousand (300,000) ppmv, at all pressures.

Level III: Concentrations of methane gas greater than three hundred thousand (300,000) ppmv. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.070 Methane gas mitigation design requirements.

The development project shall provide a methane gas mitigation system with the required mitigation features indicated in Table 1 of this section.

a. Methane gas mitigation features, as required in this Table, shall be designed and detailed in accordance with the policies and criteria established by the Building Official.

b. Site Design Level shall be determined by a methane soil gas investigation in accordance with Section 18.79.060.

18.79.080 Operation and maintenance plan.

An operation and maintenance plan shall be required for development projects with methane mitigation features provided for Site Design Levels II or III. The plan shall be prepared by a Qualified Professional.

Specification for the repair of the methane gas mitigation systems shall be provided to the property owner or authorized agent of the property owner for development projects with mitigation features provided for Site Design Level I.

A. The operation and maintenance plan shall contain the following information:

1. An emergency response procedure including, but not limited to, an outlined procedure for emergency response to methane gas intrusion, contact information for the Fire Department and other individuals critical during emergency response, and requirements for conspicuous posting of emergency contact information and emergency response procedures.

2. The locations of equipment and components of the methane gas mitigation system, including, but not limited to, the control panel, methane gas detection and alarm system components and any other related equipment or components.

3. Specification for the repair of the methane gas mitigation system.

4. Specification of the required frequency of methane gas detection and alarm system testing. The frequency of testing shall not exceed twelve (12) months.

B. The property owner or authorized agent of the property owner shall be provided with detailed operation and maintenance instructions for the methane gas mitigation system.

C. Testing records shall be maintained by the property owner for a period determined by the Building Official. Such records shall be made available to the Building Official upon request. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.090 Qualified professional project certification.

After completion of testing of the methane gas mitigation system and prior to final inspection, a final testing report and project certification of the methane gas mitigation system, signed by the Qualified Professional, shall be provided to the Building Official. The project certification shall be provided upon a form prescribed by the Building Official, including a written statement from the Qualified Professional indicating the structure is free from methane gas and can be safely occupied. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.100 Covenant and agreement.

Prior to the final inspection, the property owner shall file with the Building Official on a form approved by the City Attorney an agreement binding such property owner, heirs and assignees, to maintain and operate the methane gas mitigation system in accordance with the requirements specified on the construction documents approved by the City. Such agreement shall be recorded in the County Recorder's Office. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.110 Reference Standards.

ASTM D1434-82(2015)E1 - Standard Test Method for Determining Gas Permeability Characteristics of Plastic Film and Sheeting (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

18.79.120 Adoption of administrative rules.

The City Manager, or designee, is authorized and directed to promptly adopt administrative rules, which may be in the form of information bulletins, supplemental to the provisions of this chapter as necessary or appropriate to implement this chapter. The provisions of this chapter and the rules adopted by the City Manager, or designee, shall be provided to property owners, developers, potential developers, and other interested members of the public to the widest extent practical. No person shall fail to comply with any such information bulletin, rule or regulation. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022)

CHAPTER 18.99 FINDINGS

18.99.010 Purpose.

A. The provisions of this title contain certain changes, deletions, modifications and additions to the 2025 Edition of the California Building Standards Code adopted by the City. Chapters and sections of this title, including the amendments herein, are considered amendments to the California Building Standards Code and Appendices. Some of these changes are administrative in nature in that they do not constitute changes, modifications or additions to the California Building Standards Code.

B. Pursuant to Sections 17958.5 and 17958.7 of the California Health and Safety Code, the City Council has, by resolution made specific findings of fact and determinations relative to the unique climatic, geological or topographical conditions existing in Long Beach that necessitate amendment to the various applicable California Building Standards Code. A copy of said resolution shall be on file with the office of the City Clerk. (ORD-25-0019 § 1(Exh. A), 2025; ORD-22-0033 § 1(Exh. A), 2022; ORD-19-0031 § 1(Exh. A), 2019; ORD-16-0026 § 1(Exh. A), 2016)

CHAPTER 20.02 GENERAL PROVISIONS

20.02.010 Title.

The provisions of this part shall be known as the "Subdivision Regulations of the City of Long Beach" and shall be referred to therein as "these regulations." (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.020 Purpose and intent.

The purpose of these regulations is:

A. To provide policies, standards, requirements, and procedures to regulate and control the design and improvement of all subdivisions within the City;

B. To implement the objectives, policies, and programs of the general plan by ensuring that all proposed subdivisions, together with the provisions for their design and improvement, are consistent with all elements of the general plan and all applicable specific plans;

C. To preserve and protect the unique and valuable natural resources and amenities of the City's environment and to maximize the public's access to and enjoyment of such resources and amenities through the dedication or continuance of appropriate public easements thereto;

D. To assure that development is consistent with the Local Coastal Plan and that issues including, but not limited to sea level rise, sensitive habitat protection, and water quality, are addressed with the review of subdivision maps;

E. To approve subdivisions which accomplish the following objectives:

1. Create lots of sufficient size and appropriate design in the interest of the public health, safety, and welfare.

2. Deliver an adequate system of utilities needed to service the development and address public health, safety, and convenience.

3. Provide streets of adequate capacity and design to accommodate traffic, and to ensure maximum safety for pedestrians and vehicles.

F. To provide streets and sidewalks of adequate capacity and design that efficiently accommodate all modes of transportation consistent with the Mobility Element of the General Plan, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and streetscape amenities to beautify corridors;

G. To ensure maximum safety for all modes of transportation by including improvements that encourage walkability, bikeabilty and provide neighborhood connectivity; and

H. To clarify the processes and submittal requirements for different types of subdivision requests to streamline the review process and ensure consistency. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.030 Authority.

These regulations are adopted pursuant to the Subdivision Map Act of the State of California (Map Act) and are supplemental to the provisions thereof. Consistent with the intent and spirit of the Map Act, Sections 6700 through 6799, inclusive of the California Business and Professions Code (the Professional Engineers Act), Sections 8700 through 8805, inclusive of the California Business and Professions Code (the Professional Land Surveyors Act), and Sections 7800 through 7887 of the California Business and Professions Code (the Geologist and Geophysicist Act), some local provisions are incorporated into these regulations to reflect processing practices and requirements. All provisions of the above-stated Map Act and future amendments thereto not incorporated in these regulations shall, nevertheless, apply to all subdivisions and proceedings under these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.040 Applicability.

The regulations shall apply to all subdivisions within the City of Long Beach, the preparation of subdivision maps, and to other maps and survey records provided for by the Subdivision Map Act. Exempted land transactions not subject to filing a tentative and final parcel map are noted in Section 20.02.050. Each subdivision, or other map process, within the City shall be prepared and submitted for approval consistent with these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.050 Exemptions.

These regulations shall not apply to:

A. The financing or leasing of apartments, offices, stores, or similar spaces within apartment buildings, industrial buildings, commercial buildings, mobilehome parks, or trailer parks.

B. Mineral, oil, or gas leases.

C. Land dedicated for cemetery purposes under the Health and Safety Code of the State of California.

D. A lot line adjustment between four or fewer existing adjoining parcels, where the land taken from one lot is added to the adjoining lot, and where a greater number of lots than originally existed is not thereby created.

E. Boundary line or exchange agreements to which the State Lands Commission or a local agency holding a trust grant of tide and submerged lands is a party.

F. Any separate assessment under Section 2188.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

G. The conversion of a community apartment project as defined in Section 4105 of the Civil Code, to a condominium, as defined in Section 783 of the Civil Code, but only if all of the following requirements are met:

1. The property was subdivided before January 1, 1982, as evidenced by a recorded deed creating the community apartment project.

2. Subject to compliance with Sections 4290 and 4295 of the Civil Code, all conveyances and other documents necessary to effectuate the conversion shall be executed by the required number of owners in the project as specified in the bylaws or other organizational documents. If the bylaws or other organizational documents do not expressly specify the number of owners necessary to execute the conveyances and other documents, a majority of owners in the project shall be required to execute the conveyances or other documents. Conveyances and other documents executed under the foregoing provisions shall be binding upon and affect the interests of all parties in the project.

3. If subdivision, as defined in Section 66424, of the property occurred after January 1, 1964, both of the following requirements are met:

a. A final or parcel map of that subdivision was approved by the local agency and recorded, with all of the conditions of that map remaining in effect after the conversion.

b. No more than 49 percent of the units in the project were owned by any one person as defined in Section 17, including an incorporator or director of the community apartment project, on January 1, 1982.

4. The local agency certifies that the above requirements were satisfied if the local agency, by ordinance, provides for that certification.

H. The conversion of a stock cooperative as defined in Section 4190 or 6566 of the Civil Code, to a condominium, as defined in Section 783 of the Civil Code, but only if all of the following requirements are met:

1. The property was subdivided before January 1, 1982, as evidenced by a recorded deed creating the stock cooperative, an assignment of lease, or issuance of shares to a stockholder.

2. A person renting a unit in a cooperative shall be entitled at the time of conversion to all tenant rights in state or local law, including, but not limited to, rights respecting first refusal, notice, and displacement and relocation benefits.

3. Subject to compliance with Sections 4290 and 4295, or with Sections 6626 and 6628, of the Civil Code, all conveyances and other documents necessary to effectuate the conversion shall be executed by the required number of owners in the cooperative as specified in the bylaws or other organizational documents. If the bylaws or other organizational documents do not expressly specify the number of owners necessary to execute the conveyances and other documents, a majority of owners in the cooperative shall be required to execute the conveyances or other documents. Conveyances and other documents executed under the foregoing provisions shall be binding upon and affect the interests of all parties in the cooperative.

4. If subdivision, as defined in Section 66424, of the property occurred after January 1, 1980, both of the following requirements are met:

a. A final or parcel map of that subdivision was approved by the local agency and recorded, with all of the conditions of that map remaining in effect after the conversion.

b. No more than 49 percent of the shares in the project were owned by any one person as defined in Section 17, including an incorporator or director of the cooperative, on January 1, 1982.

5. The local agency certifies that the above requirements were satisfied if the local agency, by ordinance, provides for that certification.

I. The leasing of, or the granting of an easement to, a parcel of land, or any portion or portions thereof, in conjunction with the financing, erection, and sale or lease of a wind powered electrical generation device on the land, if the project is subject to discretionary action by the advisory agency or legislative body.

J. The leasing or licensing of a portion of a parcel, or the granting of an easement, use permit, or similar right on a portion of a parcel, to a telephone corporation as defined in Section 234 of the Public Utilities Code, exclusively for the placement and operation of cellular radio transmission facilities, including, but not limited to, antennae support structures, microwave dishes, structures to house cellular communications transmission equipment, power sources, and other equipment incidental to the transmission of cellular communications, if the project is subject to discretionary action by the advisory agency or legislative body.

K. Leases of agricultural land for agricultural purposes. As used in this subdivision, "agricultural purposes" means the cultivation of food or fiber, or the grazing or pasturing of livestock.

L. The leasing of, or the granting of an easement to, a parcel of land, or any portion or portions thereof, in conjunction with the financing, erection, and sale or lease of a solar electrical generation device on the land, if the project is subject to review under other local agency ordinances regulating design and improvement or, if the project is subject to other discretionary action by the advisory agency or legislative body.

M. The leasing of, or the granting of an easement to, a parcel of land or any portion or portions of the land in conjunction with a biogas project that uses, as part of its operation, agricultural waste or byproducts from the land where the project is located and reduces overall emissions of greenhouse gases from agricultural operations on the land if the project is subject to review under other local agency ordinances regulating design and improvement or if the project is subject to discretionary action by the advisory agency or legislative body.

N. The financing or leasing of any parcel of land, or any portion thereof, in conjunction with the construction of commercial or industrial buildings on a single parcel, unless the property is not subject to review under other local agency ordinances regulating design and improvement.

O. The financing or leasing of existing separate commercial industrial buildings on a single parcel.

P. The leasing of public properties.

Q. Conveyance of land to a governmental agency, public entity, or public utility, subsidiary of a public utility, for conveyance to that public utility for rights-of-way shall not be considered a division of land for purposes of computing the number of parcels. For purposes of this section, any conveyance of land to or from a governmental agency shall include a fee interest, a leasehold interest, an easement, or a license.

R. Subdivisions created by short-term leases (terminable by either party not more than thirty (30) days' notice in writing) of a portion of the operating right-of-way of a railroad corporation defined as such by Section 230 of the Public Utilities Code. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.060 Compliance required.

No person shall sell, lease, finance, or transfer title to any parcel or to any portion of a subdivision or re-subdivision unless a final tract map, a parcel map, a record of survey, or a certificate of compliance has been approved by the City and recorded in the office of the Los Angeles County Recorder, or unless exempted as specified in Section 20.02.050. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.070 Violation—Building permit withheld.

No building permit shall be issued, and no structure shall be constructed or enlarged on any parcel of real property which has been subdivided in violation of the Subdivision Map Act or City regulations, until the property owner has complied with all the requirements of these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.080 Fees.

A. Fees Required. At the time of submitting an application for any of the procedures authorized by this title, a filing fee shall be paid as established by resolution of the City Council. Required fees shall be paid at the time of filing of any application.

B. Purpose of Fees. Such fees are imposed for the purpose of reimbursing the City for costs incurred in investigating and acting upon an application and for administering the provisions of this Title relating to the application.

C. Refund of Fees. Fees shall not be refunded if the City has incurred costs in connection with the application, but partial and prorated refunds may be granted by the City if projects are withdrawn prior to the public hearing. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.02.090 Violation—Penalty.

Each violation of any provisions of these regulations by a person who is the subdivider or an owner of record, at the time of the violation, of property involved in the violation shall be punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or in the state prison, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment. Every other violation of this division is a misdemeanor. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.04 REVIEW AUTHORITY

20.04.010 Purpose and intent.

This Chapter is intended to establish the applicable review authority for maps, lot line adjustments, mergers, and other approvals provided for in this Title 20 - Subdivisions. Some processes are ministerial, such as lot line adjustments and voluntary mergers, and do not require a public hearing. Other processes such as tentative maps require a public hearing. Tables 1 and 2 are included in this chapter to summarize the applicable process for the various types of maps and documents covered within Title 20 - Subdivisions. Additional details on the administrative procedures for different types of subdivision maps and services are detailed in subsequent chapters. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.020 City Council.

A. The City Council shall review and have final approval authority for:

1. Final tract maps - The Council shall consider and approve the final map if it finds that all requirements of the map have been satisfied and adequate financial security provisions have been made to guarantee compliance with these requirements, and shall also accept or reject, on behalf of the public, any real property offered for dedication for public use.

2. Appeals of the Planning Commission's actions on tentative tract maps. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.030 Planning Commission.

A. The Planning Commission shall review and have final approval authority for:

1. Tentative tract maps that consist of 50 or more residential units/lots;

2. Tentative tract maps for non-residential projects;

3. Tentative condominium maps/airspace lots with 50 or more residential units/lot;

4. Tentative condominium maps/airspace lots for non-residential projects;

5. Condominium conversions for with 50 or more residential units;

6. Condominium conversions for non-residential projects;

7. Major corrections or changes to an approved tentative tract map prior to the recordation of the final map; and

8. Appeals of Zoning Administrator's action on parcel maps, City-initiated lot mergers, tentative tract maps with less than 50 units/lots, tentative tract maps with 100% affordable units/lots, tentative parcel maps, tentative condominium maps with less than 50 residential units, and condominium conversions with less than 50 residential units.

B. The Planning Commission shall:

1. Approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove tentative maps in accordance with these regulations;

2. Prescribe the kinds, nature, and extent of improvements required to be installed in each subdivision; and

3. Grant exceptions or modifications to the requirements of these regulations where such exceptions will not be detrimental to the public welfare. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.040 Zoning Administrator.

A. The Zoning Administrator is designated as the decision-making entity for:

1. Parcel maps;

2. Tentative tract maps that are 100% affordable;

3. Tentative tract maps that consist of 50 or less residential units/lots;

4. Tentative condominium maps/airspace lots with 50 or less residential units/lot;

5. Condominium conversions for with 50 or less residential units;

6. City-required mergers;

7. Major corrections or changes to an approved parcel map prior to the recordation of the final map.

B. The Zoning Administrator shall be a Planning Officer designated by the Director of Community Development with the approval of the Planning Commission. In the absence of the Zoning Administrator, the Community Development Director may assume the responsibilities of the Zoning Administrator or may designate a Planner III or other higher designee. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.050 Public Works Director.

A. Final/tract and parcel maps shall be filed with the Department of Public Works for review and approval by the Public Works Director. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.060 Community Development Director.

A. The Community Development Director shall review and have final approval authority for various ministerial actions related to minor map adjustments and administrative actions related to subdivisions. Ministerial actions are focused on whether or not the request is consistent with the guidance included in this ordinance and consistency with the provisions of the State Subdivision Map Act.

1. Time Extensions. The Community Development Director may grant extensions of time to the expiration of approved tentative maps in accordance with these regulations without the requirement for a public hearing.

2. Lot Line Adjustments/Voluntary Mergers. The Community Development Director shall approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove a minor lot line adjustment for four or fewer contiguous legal lots or voluntary mergers in accordance with these regulations without the requirement for a public hearing.

3. Other Actions. Within subsequent sections of this Ordinance, other minor actions are identified that are ministerial and can be approved without a hearing. These actions include the following:

a. Certificates of compliance.

b. Lot tie covenant.

c. Condo conversion exclusion.

d. Minor amendments to tentative maps.

e. Urban lot split. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.070 Appeals authorization and jurisdiction.

A. Appeals Authorization. Any aggrieved person may appeal a decision on any project that required a public hearing. Pursuant to Section 21.15.120 of the Zoning Regulations, an Aggrieved person is any person who testified personally or through a representative at a public hearing; or who informed the staff of the Community Development Department in writing prior to the hearing of an interest in the subject of a hearing.

B. Appeals Jurisdiction. The Planning Commission shall have jurisdiction on appeals of decisions issued by the Zoning Administrator, and the City Council shall have jurisdiction on appeals from the Planning Commission. Decisions lawfully appealable to the California Coastal Commission shall be appealed to that body.

C. Except as specified by this Code, decisions that are recommendations to the Planning Commission or to the City Council are not subject to appeal. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.080 Time to file an appeal.

An appeal must be filed within ten (10) calendar days after the decision is made for which a public hearing was required. If the end of an appeal period falls on a weekend or a holiday, the appeal must be filed by the end of the first working day thereafter. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.090 Form of filing an appeal.

All appeals shall be filed with the appropriate fee with Planning Bureau of the Community Development Department on a form provided by that department. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.100 Time for conducting hearing of appeals.

A public hearing on an appeal shall be held:

A. In the case of appeals to the Planning Commission, within sixty (60) days of the date of filing of the appeal with the Community Development Department;

B. In the case of appeals to the City Council, within sixty (60) days of the receipt by the City Clerk from the Community Development Department of the appeal filed with the Department; or

C. The Director of Community Development may provide an extension of the period for an appeal to be adjudicated for up to ninety (90) days. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.110 Appeal Hearing—Notice.

A notice of the public hearing on the appeal shall be mailed by the Community Development Department to the applicant and any known aggrieved person not less than fourteen (14) prior to the hearing. Such notice shall contain the same information as the original notice except that it shall also give the appellant's name and state that the hearing is an appeal. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.120 Finality of appeals.

A. Decision Rendered. After a decision on an appeal has been made and required findings of fact have been adopted, that decision shall be considered final and no other appeals may be made except:

1. Projects located seaward of the appealable area boundary, as defined in Section 21.25.908 (Coastal Permit—Appealable Area) of the City's Zoning Regulations, may be appealed to the California Coastal Commission.

B. No Appeal Filed. After the time for filing an appeal has expired and no appeal has been filed, all decisions shall be considered final.

C. Local Coastal Development. Decisions on local coastal development permits seaward of the appealable area shall not be final until the procedures specified in Chapter 21.25 (Coastal Permit) of the City's Zoning Regulations are completed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.130 Appeal Findings.

All decisions on appeal shall be based upon the same conclusionary findings, if any, required to be made in the original decision from which the appeal is taken. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.04.140 Appeal Fees.

A fee shall be charged for filing an appeal as established by Council resolution.

CHAPTER 20.06 TYPES OF MAPS REQUIRED

20.06.020 Parcel map.

A. Whenever any provision of this title requires a subdivision map to be filed, such map shall be a tentative and parcel map if:

1. The subdivision includes four (4) or less lots or condominium units (or other common interest subdivisions) for residential development or use; or

2. The subdivision is for commercial or industrial development, and has the City's approval of the street alignments and widths; or

3. The land before division contains less than five acres, each lot created by the division abuts upon a maintained public street or highway, and no dedications or improvements are required by the legislative body; or

5. The land being subdivided is solely for the creation of an environmental subdivision pursuant to Map Act Section 66418.2. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.06.040 Final/Tract map.

A. Whenever any provision of this part requires a tentative map to be filed, such map shall be a tract map if the subdivision does not qualify for a parcel map pursuant to Section 20.06.020.

B. A tentative and final tract map shall be required for all subdivisions creating five or more lots, five or more condominiums as defined in Section 783 of the Civil Code, a community apartment project containing five or more lots, or for the conversion of a dwelling to a stock cooperative containing five or more dwelling units. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.06.060 Lot Line Adjustment.

A. Consistent with the Subdivision Map Act Section 66412(d), a tentative map and parcel map is not required for a lot line adjustment between four or fewer existing adjoining parcels where the land taken from one parcel is added to an adjoining parcel, and where a greater number of parcels than originally existed is not thereby created. Pursuant to the law, adjoining lots may be separated by road, streets, railroads or similar.

B. The final lot line adjustment shall be reflected in a deed, which shall be recorded to effectuate the lot line adjustment. As an alternative, a parcel map may be utilized in lieu of a lot line adjustment. Applicants may request a waiver of the tentative parcel map.

In addition to the recordation of deeds to perfect the lot line adjustment, modified deeds of trust will need to be executed by the lenders, if any.

C. Multiple lot line adjustments submitted concurrently or sequentially to circumvent the "four or fewer existing adjoining parcels" will not be permitted. A parcel map or tract map will be required. A waiver of a tentative parcel map may be granted. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.06.080 Maps Required.

A. Map requirements for the maps previously described as well as some other types of subdivision projects are summarized in Table 3—Maps Required for Various Subdivision Projects.

Table 3 - Maps Required for Various Subdivision Projects

Project Type	Maps Required	Notes
Subdivisions creating four or fewer lots or condominiums	Tentative parcel map or vesting tentative parcel map and final map.	Parcel map not required pursuant to Sections 20.02.050.Q & R.
Subdivisions creating five or more lots or condominiums	Tentative tract map or vesting tentative tract map and final/tract map.	Parcel map may be substituted for final map, pursuant to Section 20.04.020.A - when permitted by the SMA.
Lot line adjustments between four or fewer existing adjoining parcels	Plat map exhibit, drawn to scale, and suitable for recording. A site plan to verify building code, zoning, access etc. is required.	A site plan is required and may trigger a record of survey. The record of survey may be submitted with the application.
Lot line adjustments between five or more existing adjoining parcels	Tentative map or vesting tentative map and final/tract map.	Parcel map may be substituted for final/tract map, pursuant to Section 20.04.020.A.
Lot combinations (voluntary mergers)	Plat map exhibit, drawn to scale, and suitable for recording. A parcel map will be required for more than four parcels being merged into less parcels.	Tentative map or waived tentative map application may be submitted with the application.
Certificates of compliance and conditional certificates of compliance	Plat map exhibit, drawn to scale, and suitable for recording.	Also needed: legal descriptions and plat maps shall be prepared by a qualified individual will also be required.
Residential or commercial condominium conversions	Tentative map or vesting tentative map and parcel or final/tract map, depending on the number of lots created.	Commercial condominium projects may submit a parcel map rather than a final map, pursuant to Section 20.04.020.A.2.

CHAPTER 20.08 DESIGN STANDARDS*

20.08.010 Purpose and applicability.

This chapter establishes standards for the design and layout of divisions of land. These standards apply to subdivisions and conditional certificates of compliance in addition to all other applicable requirements of the Municipal Code. The purpose of the standards is to ensure that new subdivisions are the result of thorough careful site evaluation and design and that they create lots that are compatible with existing neighborhoods, protect the natural environment, and enhance the health and safety of City residents. These standards have been developed to be consistent with the policies of the General Plan. Standards for the physical design of streets and associated public improvements can be found in the Public Works Engineering Standard Plans. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.015 Density, use and standards.

The number of dwelling units permitted within a proposed subdivision, the use proposed for the subdivision, and the design of the project shall conform to the density and use established by the adopted general plan and shall comply with the use and other standards contained in the Zoning Regulations or as permitted by State Law. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.020 Lots.

The number, design, character, grade, location, and orientation of lots shall be appropriate to the subdivision location and to the type and density of development as permitted by the General Plan and the Zoning Regulations or as permitted by State Law. The following policies and standards shall be observed:

A. Lot Width and Area. The minimum width and area of all lots shall conform to the requirements of the zoning district in which the subdivision is located; provided, however, if a lot is located in a zoning district for which no minimum lot width or area is specified, it shall have a minimum width of fifty feet (50') and a minimum area of six thousand (6,000) square feet. The advisory agency, or City Council on appeal, may waive the lot width and area requirements in accordance with Section 20.12.120 if it finds that:

1. Any lot facing on a curved street may have a frontage of less than required but not less than thirty-five feet (35'); or

2. The majority of lots adjacent to or in the immediate vicinity of the proposed subdivision have a substandard lot size and/or substandard lot width; however, each new lot shall not have a lot width or size less than the average lot width and size existing within a radius of three hundred feet (300'); or

3. The lot is a through lot with split zoning designations, frontage on two (2) parallel public streets and the lot has been developed with two (2) separate development projects fronting on each street.

B. These lot size requirements shall be waived for condominium and other common interest projects where:

1. One (1) lot is shown on the map and the lot boundaries overlay one (1) or more existing lots;

2. For lot line adjustments; and

3. For certificates of compliance.

C. Where determined necessary to promote the general welfare, the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator may require that lots within a subdivision be increased in size so as to conform to the size of existing nearby lots fronting on the same street; provided, however, that in such cases the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall not require that such lots be increased in area by more than fifty percent (50%) of the minimum lot area requirement of the zoning district.

D. Lot Lines. The side lot lines shall be at, or nearly at, right angles to straight street lines and radial to curved street lines, except where physical conditions would make this impracticable.

E. Lot Frontage. All lots within a proposed subdivision shall have a frontage on a public street or an approved private street.

F. Lots Adjoining City Limits. No lot shall be divided by a City or a County boundary line.

G. Lot Drainage. All lots shall be adequately drained. No cross-lot drainage shall be permitted. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.030 Blocks—Length.

To encourage alternative modes of transportation, on average, blocks shall range from 300 to 400 feet in length. Blocks that are greater in length, up to 1,320 lineal feet, may be appropriate based on street type, General Plan Placetype, mobility factors, infrastructure, and development patterns, subject to satisfaction of the Directors of Community Development and Public Works. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.040 Blocks—Corners.

The subdivider shall provide right of way dedications for corner cut-offs at all property corners to support installation of ADA compliant curb ramps and/or to provide for adequate line of sight for vehicular traffic to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.050 Freeways.

Freeways shall conform in width and alignment to those designated in the Mobility Element of the General Plan. If a parcel of land to be subdivided includes a portion of the right-of-way to be acquired for any such freeway, the subdivider shall dedicate the necessary right-of-way for the freeway. Access rights to this freeway shall also be abandoned with the final/tract map or parcel map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.060 Street dedications.

Street dedications on a map shall conform to the design criteria included in the Mobility Element and Urban Design Element of the General Plan. If a parcel of land to be subdivided includes a portion of the right-of-way required to extend a street, the subdivider shall dedicate the necessary right-of-way for said street on a map or by separate instrument. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.070 Street access.

A. Each street, public or private, providing access to lots within a subdivision, shall provide access directly, or indirectly, such as through an intervening private street, to a public street outside the subdivision. In general, streets shall be laid out to conform to the alignment of existing streets in adjoining subdivisions and/or to be a logical continuation of existing streets.

B. Dead-end streets without provisions for an adequate turnaround shall be prohibited. When a temporarily dead-ended street is extended to the boundary of the subdivision, a barricade, temporary turning area, or temporary connection to another street shall be required for any such street.

C. The Mobility Element of the General Plan includes a context-sensitive street classification plan that designates all streets within Long Beach as one of the following types:

1. Local streets primarily provide access to individual residential parcels. The streets shall have a right-of-way width of not less than fifty-six feet (56') with a roadway width of not less than thirty-six feet (36') to forty feet (40') and are generally two lanes with on-street parking, tree planting strips, and sidewalks. Fire apparatus access roads serving structures, shall have an unobstructed width of not less than 26 feet.

2. Neighborhood connector streets serving residential areas but functioning as collector streets shall have a right-of-way width of not less than sixty feet (60') with a roadway width of not less than forty feet (40'). Fire apparatus access roads serving structures, shall have an unobstructed width of not less than 26 feet.

3. A minor avenue provides for the movement of traffic to neighborhood activity centers and serves as a route between neighborhoods. They have a right-of-way width of sixty feet (60') with a roadway width of fifty-four feet (54') to sixty feet (60') and have two to four lanes. Avenues serve as a primary bicycle route and may serve local transit routes as well.

4. A major avenue serves as the major route for the movement of traffic within the City as well as a connector to neighboring cities. Major avenues shall have right-of-way width of one hundred feet (100') with a roadway width of eighty feet (80') and may have four to six lanes. Most traffic using a major avenue will end the trip within the City (as opposed to through-traffic). As such, design treatment and traffic operation should give preference to this type of traffic. Long corridors with typically four or more lanes, avenues may be high-transit ridership corridors. Goods movement is typically limited to local routes and deliveries.

5. Boulevards are characterized by a long-distance, medium-speed corridor that traverses an urbanized area and typically consist of four or fewer vehicle travel lanes, but can have as many as eight lanes. These streets have a balanced multimodal function, landscaped medians, on-street parking, narrower travel lanes, more intensive land use oriented to the street, and wide sidewalks. Boulevards have a right-of-way width of eighty feet (80') to one hundred feet (100') and a roadway width of eighty feet (80'). Buildings uniformly line the edges.

Multiway boulevards, a variation of the boulevard characteristic of post war neighborhoods, contain a central roadway for through- traffic and parallel roadways for access to abutting property parking, and pedestrian and bicycle facilities. Parallel roadways are separated from the through-lane by curbed, landscaped islands that may also provide transit stops and pedestrian facilities.

6. Regional corridors contain four to eight lanes and are designed for intraregional and intercommunity mobility. These corridors emphasize traffic movement and include signalized pedestrian crossings. Regional corridors have a right-of-way width of one hundred feet (100') and a roadway width of eighty-four feet (84'). The adjacent land uses should provide continuous mixed-use and commercial land uses with adequate off-street parking to minimize dependency on on-street parking.

In general, any proposed subdivisions that extend to these various types of streets, and have improvement requirements that affect these corridors, shall conform to the design criteria included in the Mobility Element and implementation plans. Another source of related guidance that applies to the design and improvements of City streets is included in Chapter 4 of the Urban Design Element under the heading of Street Types.

Exceptions for a narrower street width, or other deviations to the improvement standards described here, and covered in further detail in the Mobility Element, may be approved based on findings to the satisfaction of the Directors of Community Development and Public Works. Findings for exceptions shall describe extenuating circumstances, such as creating streets that conform better to development patterns in the vicinity, provide for superior mobility for all modes of transportation, address infrastructure deficiencies in the area, and promote the goals, objectives and policies of the General Plan. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.080 Private streets.

If off-street guest parking is provided as specified in the Zoning Regulations and if the street is not serving as a principal avenue of travel in the development, then such street may have a width of not less than twenty-eight feet (28') provided that curb parking shall be prohibited on one (1) side of the street. Private streets shall also incorporate safe places for pedestrians to walk within the project by the incorporation of sidewalks, separate walkways, or changes in hardscape to designate a pedestrian zone. The safety of pedestrians and bicyclists is the top priority with the design of private streets per the following provisions:

A. Provide a sidewalk of not less than five (5) feet in width along the length of at least one side of each private street.

B. Include appropriate speed control measures including roadway alignment, intersection spacing, bulb outs, etc., and shall provide adequate pedestrian and bicycle circulation patterns.

C. Include all relevant traffic safety features, including, but not limited to, traffic signs and markings, street lighting, cross walks with cross signals, and traffic signals.

D. Maintain and/or provide adequate public access to public facilities such as parks, schools, bike trails, transit stops, recreation areas, beaches, and other coastal recreations amenities.

E. Assure that access is provided for emergency vehicles.

F. The private street circulation pattern shall be designed to integrate with and minimize impacts to the adjacent public street system.

G. High volume private street developments shall provide multiple ingress/egress points as necessary to direct traffic to appropriately sized public streets.

H. Entrances to private streets, which have locking gates and are located on collector or larger streets, shall allow vehicles to turn around on-site without backing onto public streets. Adequate stacking room shall be provided between the entrance to private gated streets and the gate controller to avoid vehicle stacking across public sidewalks or intersections.

I. Private streets shall meet ADA requirements as required for public streets subject to the review and approval of the Director of Community Development and Director of Public Works.

J. Private streets in the coastal zone shall not obstruct visibility or physical access to coastal resources.

K. Fire apparatus access roads serving structures, shall have an unobstructed width of not less than 26 feet.

If at some future time a private street is offered for public dedication and use, said private street shall be brought into compliance with the standards required for public streets at that time, to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works and prior to public acceptance of the dedication. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.090 Cul-de-sac.

A cul-de-sac shall not exceed five hundred feet (500') in length unless emergency access to a public street is provided at the closed end in which case no point on the cul-de-sac may be more than four hundred feet (400') from the emergency access or five hundred feet (500') from the normal access end. A turnaround having a minimum curb radius of not less than thirty-eight feet (38') shall be provided, except where extraordinary conditions make strict enforcement of this rule impractical. Dead end roads longer than 150 feet shall be provided with an emergency vehicle turnaround. Cul de sacs for roads longer than 150 feet are required to be a minimum of a 96-foot minimum Diameter". (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.100 Service road.

Where a subdivision borders on a freeway or a regional corridor, and no alley access is feasible, a service road shall be provided. The service road shall have a roadway width of not less than twenty-four feet (24') for a one-way operation and twenty-eight feet (28') for two-way. An additional eight (8) foot right-of-way shall be provided on the residential side of the service road for sidewalks, street furniture, and parkway. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.110 Street Naming Requirements for Subdivisions of Land.

A. Proposed street names shall be substantially different from existing street names so as not to be confused in sound or spelling. Selected names need to be easy to spell, pronounce and read so the public, especially children, can say the name correctly in an emergency.

B. Street names must include an appropriate classification such as "street," "way," "lane," etc., to be determined by the Community Development Department.

C. Street names must have fewer than fifteen characters, including letters, punctuation, and spaces, but not including the street classification.

D. Each proposed street, which is a continuation of an existing street, shall be given the same name as that existing street. Two street segments that do not form a continuous street, and are not proposed to form one, must have different names.

E. Where several street names are to be designated, such as within a new subdivision, the street names should be thematically organized and related to the local area of the subdivision.

F. Proposed street names shall be shown on preliminary plats when submitted to the city for review. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.115 Street Name Changes for existing streets.

A. Purpose. An existing street name may be changed through the application process described below if good cause is shown that it would be beneficial to the neighborhood. Renaming of public or private streets or other named rights-of-way shall include early consultation with the affected community, multi-lingual notices in English, Spanish, and including any other language that is reasonably known to be prominent in the area. Local, state, and federal government agencies are exempted from this process.

B. Initiation. The Council, Planning Commission, Community Development Department or owner of adjoining property may initiate the renaming of an existing street. A nonrefundable application fee, established by the council, will be charged to a property owner initiating the process.

C. Application Information. The initiating party must file a completed street name application with the Community Development Department. The application shall include the following:

1. A map with the existing street name, proposed street name and the reason for the requested street name change.

2. The width and length of the right-of-way.

3. A location map showing the street, or the portion of a street proposed for renaming.

4. A list of names and addresses of all affected property owners and occupants with their corresponding Assessor's Parcel Number (APN).

5. A petition signed and dated by over sixty-six percent (66%) of the affected property owners and tenants with their printed names and addresses which shall indicate their support of the proposed street renaming.

D. Staff Recommendations. The Community Development Director shall submit a staff report evaluating the proposed street name change with applicable materials prepared by the applicant to the Planning Commission for review at a noticed public hearing.

E. Noticing.

1. All abutting property owners and residents who will be affected by the proposed change shall be notified by mail of the scheduled public hearing on such a change.

F. Planning Commission Action. A street name change may be recommended for City Council approval by the Planning Commission through a resolution, based on the following findings, and subject to the following conditions:

1. Street change naming findings.

a. The proposed street name meets all the criteria contained in Section 20.08.110.

b. The public record supports that the proposed street name change is supported by property owners, residents, and business owners, and will be beneficial to the overall affected community.

2. Street change naming conditions.

a. Once the name change is approved by the City Council by recommendation of the Planning Commission, the Director of Public Works shall change City maps and street signs as necessary. The City may assess the applicant for reasonable costs for changing maps and replacing or installing signs.

b. The Community Development Department must notify all the appropriate public agencies and the property owners and tenants along the affected street. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.120 Alleys.

Alleys are a key design tool in residential neighborhoods to reduce trip generation on adjacent streets, to minimize the dominance of garage doors on the streetscape, and to improve the pedestrian orientation and larger multimodal network connectivity of local streets. Whenever practicable, alleys shall be required at the rear of all lots that are in residential zones and that front an arterial street, or where the front vehicular access is impractical, undesirable, or limited. Each new residential alley shall have a minimum width of twenty feet (20'). The Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator may require widening of an existing alley if it has a width of less than twenty feet (20'). All dead-end alleys shall be constructed with adequate turning areas. Alleys serving industrial zones shall be 30 feet wide to accommodate large vehicle maneuvering, unless otherwise approved by the designated review authority. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.130 Sidewalks.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and to promote accessibility for people of all abilities, a sidewalk shall be provided along each side of each street and shall have a minimum clear width of five feet (5'). Encroachments may be permitted pursuant to Public Works standards, but in no case shall it be reduced to less than forty-eight inches (48") clear. In circumstances where there is limited space to provide sidewalks on both sides of the street, alternative mobility improvements or amenities in the project may be considered with the support of the Director of Public Works. The final decision-making authority for the map (Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator) shall include findings to document the rationale for why an exception to the typical standard was supported. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.140 Bikeways.

Bikeways shall be provided in accordance with the adopted mobility element of the general plan. The bikeway system shall meet minimum State standards. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.150 Utility easements on a map.

The subdivider shall dedicate all necessary easements for utility purposes, including but not limited to gas, water and sewer as required by the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.160 Model Homes.

Model homes are often provided as examples of housing types available for sale in residential subdivision tracts. Model homes are subject to the following:

A. Not more than fifteen percent (15%) of the overall units, and in no case more than the total number of different floor plans offered in a subdivision, may be designated as sites for the construction of model homes;

B. For a project which consists of condominium or other common interest units within one building with common garage parking, the model home or unit shall be a temporary structure on the site;

C. Such model home sites shall be located in such a manner that existing developed residential properties shall not be adversely affected;

D. Such model sites shall be easily accessible, and provision for such accessibility shall be assured at the time the tentative map is approved;

E. A parking plan shall be submitted and approved to the satisfaction of the Director of Community Development or Designee;

F. Model home complex projects shall be subject to approval from the Site Plan Review Committee; and

G. In accordance with Section 18.04.040.A.1.3, building permits for model homes will not be issued until the property owner has complied with all of the requirements listed above and the Director of Public Works has granted permission authorizing permit issuance. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.165 Monuments.

For all subdivisions defined in the sections of this ordinance, monuments shall be set that are sufficient to re-trace the boundaries of the subdivisions and shall be set prior to the filing of the subdivision map as follows:

A. All exterior boundary corners shall be marked with a 2-inch diameter iron pipe (minimum of 24 inches long) placed a minimum of 0.10 feet below the surface of the land unless an alternative to said pipe has been approved by the Designated City Surveyor.

B. All interior lot and parcel corners shall be marked with a 1-inch diameter iron pipe (minimum of 18 inches long) placed a minimum of 0.10 feet below the surface of the land unless an alternative to said pipe has been approved by the Designated City Surveyor.

C. All centerline monuments shall be placed in a monument well at the actual centerline intersection of streets and points of curvature (beginning of curves, end of curves, points of reverse curvature, etc.) and built and installed per an approved city standard plan and approved by the Designated City Surveyor prior to installation. If the centerline intersection falls on a manhole or other utility cover, it shall be evidenced by a monument well per an approved city standard plan within a 5-foot offset, on line with the centerline in one direction. Additional distance to be approved by the Designated City Surveyor.

D. All centerline monuments shall be set with a minimum of four tangent over ties with the tag of the licensed surveyor in a location that shall not be disturbed or destroyed. Each centerline monument shall have centerline ties and a Corner Record submitted to the County of Los Angeles. The Corner Records shall be reviewed and approved by the Designated City Surveyor prior to submission to the County of Los Angeles.

E. Found existing survey monuments, if accepted, that are illegible, do not contain a tag, are damaged, and/or of no reference, shall be tagged by the licensed surveyor performing the subdivision and/or reset if damaged. All monuments found, set, reset, replaced, or removed, describing their kind, size, and location, and giving other data relating thereto.

Any monument accepted for survey control that is found to be insufficient in character, markings and material by the Designated City Surveyor shall be replaced with a monument per an approved city standard plan. The Designated City Surveyor shall determine the durability of a monument. All spikes having a shank of less than 4 ½" are not considered to be durable.

F. All monuments defined in this section shall comply with sections 8771 and 8772 of the California Business and Professions Code.

G. At no time will the use of Real Time Kinematic GPS (RTK or RTN) be allowable for the methods of setting or locating the positions of found or set monuments. This policy includes found or set monuments ties and the use of benchmarks.

H. The Designated City Surveyor may request any survey related documents, including, but not limited to, field notes, photographs, adjustments, CAD files prior to acceptance or approval of documents. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.08.170 Right-of-way vacation.

A. The release of dedicated right-of-way for use for other purposes known as a "right-of-way vacation" or street abandonment is subject to the provisions and requirements of the California Streets and Highways Code Section 8300-8363. The processing of a right-of-way vacation typically accompanies a development application and is shown on a parcel or tract map, but may also be processed separately from a development application.

B. An applicant for a right-of-way vacation shall submit a preliminary title report that is specific to the portions of the right-of-way that are to be vacated and a preliminary right-of-way vacation map that contains the following information:

1. North arrow and scale. The scale shall be as large as possible to show the area being vacated and its relationship to surrounding properties.

2. Area. The overall area to be vacated needs to be clearly indicated and its overall area in square feet shown on plans.

3. Utilities and easements. The location of all existing utilities shall be shown on the map, including water, sewer, storm drain, telephone, gas, cable TV, streetlights, fire hydrants and any other public infrastructure. Also, any easements listed in the title report or otherwise in effect must be shown on the map.

4. Frontage improvements. The existing frontage improvements for all streets adjacent to the property; include sidewalk, curb, gutter, driveway approach, storm drain inlets, retaining walls, parkways, and street trees.

5. Structures. Show the footprint of all structures on lots adjacent to the proposed abandonment and provide the dimensions of the building setbacks to the proposed right-of-way line.

C. In evaluating a right-of-way vacation, the City needs to make the following findings:

1. The City right-of-way will not be needed for present or future public right-of-way purposes.

2. The continued access to any City or public utility services and improvements will be properly reserved.

3. The right-of-way vacation is consistent with goals and policies of the General Plan referencing specific applicable provisions.

D. The Planning Commission reviews the proposed right-of-way vacation to determine that is consistent with the City's General Plan and forwards a report to the City Council recommending approval of the right-of-way vacation, based on findings, and subject to conditions.

E. The City Council makes the final decision regarding a right-of-way vacation with a two-step hearing process:

1. With support by the Planning Commission that the right-of-way vacation is consistent with the General Plan, the City Council shall pass a Resolution of Intention to formally consider the request and set a public hearing.

2. At a second public hearing after adoption of the Resolution of Intention, the City Council may adopt a final Resolution of Abandonment and record the document with the County Recorder. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.10 DEDICATION AND IMPROVEMENTS*

20.10.010 Dedication requirements for public street rights-of-way.

As a requirement of approval of a subdivision map, a subdivider shall make provisions for dedication of necessary public rights-of-way and necessary easements within or adjacent to the subdivision as required by the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator in accordance with the design standards of this part. The dedication requirements shall not be waived unless the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator finds that such dedication will not be necessary for present or future usage. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.020 Access rights.

Where it is in the interest of public safety or welfare to limit the access to any street or highway, the City may waive direct access rights to such street or highway. In these cases, access restrictions shall be shown on the final map. Access rights to certain street classifications can be abandoned with the final map, or separate instrument except at locations as approved by the Planning Commission in accordance with Title 14 of the Municipal Code. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.030 Public access to public resources.

A. In the event that a proposed subdivision is fronting upon the coastline or is traversed by any minor watercourse, channel, stream, or creek, the subdivider shall dedicate or make an irrevocable offer to dedicate a public access to such resources in accordance with the provisions of the current Subdivision Map Act. Such tentative subdivision map shall not be approved unless the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator finds that there is a public access by fee or by easement from a public right-of-way to land below the ordinary high tide level on any ocean coastline or bay shoreline or the bank of the water within or at a reasonable distance from the subdivision.

B. In making the determination of what shall be reasonable public access, the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall consider:

1. That access may be by highway, walking trail, bikeway, or any other means of travel;

2. The size of the subdivision;

3. The type of coastline or shoreline and the various appropriate recreational, educational, and scientific uses, including, but not limited to, diving, sunbathing, surfing, walking, swimming, fishing, beachcombing, taking of shellfish, and scientific exploration; and

4. The likelihood of trespassing on private property and reasonable means of avoiding such trespasses. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.040 Improvements—Required.

A. As a condition of approval of a subdivision map, the subdivider shall improve or agree to improve public and private rights-of-way and perform land development works as required in these regulations. Improvements shall be installed or provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works in accordance with the standard specifications prepared by the Director of Public Works. Such specifications shall be furnished to the subdivider. As a general rule, public and private rights-of-way improvements shall be performed after the installation of underground utilities to minimize disruption to area circulation.

B. The subdivider may be relieved from up grading existing improvements to current standards if such improvements are in good condition and failure to perform such upgrading would not be detrimental to public health, safety, or welfare, as determined by the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator.

C. No improvements shall be required beyond those required in the approval of the tentative map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.050 Subdivision map improvements—Designated.

Through the submittal of public improvement plans that are reviewed in conjunction with the final map, the following types of improvements and facilities are verified to be sufficiently detailed to determine consistency with City Engineering Standards and other applicable requirements.

A. Drainage. Grading, drainage, and drainage structures that are necessary for public safety and the proper use of properties and public rights-of-way.

B. Public Rights-of-Way. The subdivider shall improve all rights-of-way within or abutting the subdivision, including any existing public rights-of-way and any required modification to existing improvements.

C. Sanitary Sewers. Each lot shall be provided with a separate sewer line connection to the public sewer. Any necessary sewer facilities shall be constructed as required by the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator.

D. Subsoil Stability. All improvements and actions recommended in the approved soil report (if required) shall be provided to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Building and Safety.

E. Fire hydrants and other fire prevention facilities are required.

F. Utilities. All public utilities, including transmission or distribution lines serving a new subdivision shall be placed underground, except as waived by the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator. Support equipment for underground transmission or distribution lines such as, but not limited to, risers and meter assemblies, may be located above ground.

G. Monuments. Durable survey monuments shall be set in accordance with criteria established by the Director of Public Works and Section 20.08.165.

H. Street lighting, traffic control devices, name signs, and other street furniture such as benches, bike racks, and bus shelters. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.060 Improvement plans.

A. The subdivider shall furnish all plans necessary to construct the required improvements to the Director of Public Works and Community Development Director or designees prior to approval of the final subdivision map or the certificate of compliance.

B. Improvement plans shall be prepared by or under the direction of a California registered professional engineer working within the area of expertise. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.070 Improvement security—Required.

A. Any improvements, contract, or act required or authorized under any approval granted, subject to the provisions of this part, not in place prior to approval of the final map shall be secured by one of the following ways to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works:

1. Bond or bonds by one (1) or more duly authorized corporate sureties;

2. To the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works, an instrument of credit from one (1) or more financial institutions, subject to regulation by the state or federal government and pledging that the funds necessary to carry out the act or agreement are on deposit and guaranteed for payment; or

3. A lien upon the property to be divided, created by contract between the owner and the City, if the City finds that it would not be in the public interest to require the installation of the required improvement sooner than two (2) years after the recordation of the map.

B. Any written contract of security interest in real property entered into a security for performance pursuant to Subsection A shall be recorded with the County Recorder. From the time of recordation of the written contract or document creating a security interest, a lien shall attach to the real property particularly described therein and shall have the priority of a judgment lien in an amount necessary to complete the agreed to improvements. The recorded contract or security document shall be indexed in the grantor index to the names of all record owners of the real property as specified on the map and in the grantee index to the City which approved the map. The advisory agency may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to any lien or security interest created herein or subordinate the lien or security interest to other liens or encumbrances, if it determines that security for performance is sufficiently secured by a lien on other property or that the release or subordination of the lien will not jeopardize the completion of agreed upon improvements.

Any such security agreement shall be in substantially the form described in Section 66499 of the Subdivision Map Act.

C. Final/Tract Map. Subdivision security agreements for final tract maps shall be authorized by the City Council and executed by the City Manager.

D. Parcel Map. The Director of Public Works is authorized to enter into, and the Director of Public Works shall execute, security agreements for improvements as required in the tentative map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.080 Improvement security—Amount.

Security to guarantee the performance of any act or agreement shall be in the following amounts:

A. An amount determined by the Director of Public Works, not less than one hundred percent (100%) of the total estimated cost of the improvement or of the act to be performed, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the act or agreement; and

An additional amount determined by the Director of Public Works not less than fifty percent (50%) of the total estimated cost of the improvement or the performance of the required act, securing payment to the contractor, his subcontractors, and to persons furnishing labor, materials, or equipment to them for the improvement or the performance of the required act.

B. An amount determined by the Director of Public Works necessary for the guarantee and warranty of the work for a period of one (1) year following the completion and acceptance thereof against any defective work or labor done or defective materials furnished. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.090 Improvement security—Release.

The improvement security hereunder shall be released in the following manner:

A. Security given for faithful performance of any act or agreement shall be released upon the final completion and acceptance of the act or work, subject to the provisions of Subsection B hereof.

B. The City Council or the Director of Public Works may release a portion of the security in conjunction with the acceptance of the performance of the act or work as it progresses, upon application therefor, by the subdivider; provided, however, that no such release shall be for an amount less than thirty percent (30%) of the total improvement security given for faithful performance of the act or work, and that the security shall not be reduced to an amount less than ten percent (10%) of the total improvement security given for faithful performance until final completion and acceptance of the act or work. In no event shall the City Council or the Director of Public Works authorize a release of the improvement security which would reduce such security to an amount below that required to guarantee the completion of the act or work and any other obligation imposed by this part, the Subdivision Map Act, or the improvement agreement.

C. Security securing the payment to the contractor, subcontractors, and persons furnishing labor, materials or equipment may, after passage of the time within which claims of lien are required to be recorded pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 3114) of Chapter 2 of Title 15 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code and after acceptance of the work, be reduced to an amount not less than the total claimed by all claimants for whom claims of lien have been recorded and notice thereof given in writing to the legislative body, and if no such claims have been recorded, the security may be released in full.

D. No security given for the guarantee or warranty of work shall be released until the expiration of the period thereof. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.10.100 Supplemental improvements for drainage, sewerage, bridges, and major thoroughfares.

A. If the City or the Water Department has adopted a local drainage plan or map as required for the imposition of fees therefor or has established an area of benefit for bridges or major thoroughfares as provided in this Title, the City or the Water Department may impose a reasonable charge on property within the area benefitted and may provide for the collection of said charge as stated herein. The City or the Water Department may enter into reimbursement agreements with a subdivider who constructs said bridges or thoroughfares and the charges collected therefore may be utilized to reimburse the subdivider as herein stated.

B. Reimbursement Agreements. If the subdivider has installed any supplemental improvements as required by the City, the subdivider shall be reimbursed for that portion of the cost of such improvements equal to the difference between the amount it would have cost the subdivider to install such improvements to serve the subdivision only and the actual cost of such improvements pursuant to this part. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.12 TENTATIVE MAPS*

20.12.010 Required.

When a final/tract map or a parcel map is required, a tentative map shall first be filed with the Community Development Department. A tentative parcel map may be waived for a project that includes but not limited to an urban lot split, as defined in Chapter 20.18, or in lieu of a lot line adjustment, as defined in Chapter 20.20, at the discretion of the decision-making body pursuant to Section 20.12.140. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.020 Preparation.

A tentative map shall be prepared by a qualified California registered civil engineer or a California licensed surveyor in accordance with these regulations. Civil engineers with licenses prior to January 1, 1982 (with a license number before 33966) are authorized to practice all land surveying and engineering surveying. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.030 Tentative Map form and contents.

A tentative map (PDF) shall not exceed the scale of one (1) inch equals one hundred (100) feet, and shall contain the following information:

A. The County subdivision map number - such number must be obtained from the Los Angeles County Engineer.

B. North arrow, scale, and generalized vicinity map.

C. Name and address of record owner(s), subdivider(s), and the person who prepared the map with the applicable registration or license number.

D. The locations, names and width of all roads, streets, highways, and alleys in the proposed subdivision and along the site's boundaries.

E. The boundaries of the subdivision, defined by legal description, with sufficient information to locate the property and to determine its position with respect to adjacent named or numbered subdivisions, if any.

F. The lines and approximate dimensions of all existing and proposed lots, and the number assigned to each lot, the total number of lots, and the area of each lot (net and gross). Lots shall be numbered sequentially.

G. The location and outline to scale of all existing structures, including active, inactive and abandoned oil wells within the subdivision and all structures outside the subdivision and within ten feet of the boundary lines, the distances between structures to be retained and existing or proposed street and lot lines, and notations concerning whether structures are to be retained or removed.

H. Existing and proposed topographic information shall be provided and shall be tied to the City's datum. Contour lines shall have the following intervals:

1. Two-foot contour interval for ground slope between level and ten percent; and

2. Five-foot contour interval for ground slope exceeding ten percent.

I. The approximate location, height, trunk diameter and general description of any trees over three inches in diameter at the trunk, measured at a height of 48 inches above grade, with notations as to their proposed retention or removal.

J. The directions of flow of all watercourses and flood-hazard areas within and adjacent to the property involved per Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Flood Insurance Rate (FIRM) maps, and the proposed method of providing storm water, drainage, and erosion control.

K. A mapping of the flood zones from the current FEMA for tidal and fluvial flooding including the following:

1. Projected sea level rise and storm flooding for the life of the project based upon the most current science-based projection of sea level rise including a 100-year storm and wave run up.

2. Projected coastal erosion based upon a detailed assessment of site geology, sea level rise, and waves.

3. Projections of flooding shall be based on site and/or near shore bathymetry.

L. The location and extent of any known jurisdictional wetland areas or other sensitive habitat areas such as rare and endangered plant species or riparian vegetation.

M. The location of the site's scenic landscape features and scenic corridors, shorelines, ridgelines, and skylines, as defined in the City's General Plan, Local Coastal Program, and State law, and an assessment of the visibility of any future development from or within scenic corridors.

N. The locations, widths, and purposes of all existing and proposed easements for utilities, drainage, and other public purposes, shown by dashed lines, within and adjacent to the subdivision (including proposed building setback lines, if known).

O. All existing and proposed utilities including, but not limited to, size of gas and water lines, size and grade of sewer lines, locations of manholes, valve lids, fire hydrants, street trees and streetlights.

P. The locations of any existing or abandoned wells, septic leaching fields, springs, water impoundments and similar features to the extent they affect the proposed use of the property.

Q. The boundaries, size and use of existing and proposed public areas in and adjacent to the subdivision. If land is to be offered for dedication for open space park or recreation purposes or for purpose of providing public access to any public waterway or recreation area, it shall be so designated.

R. The outer boundary of the property to be subdivided shall be based on a field survey performed by a licensed land surveyor or civil engineer authorized to practice land surveying, with proper controlling monumentation and boundary establishment methods. In the event a subdivision map is not filed, a record of survey shall be filed on the exterior boundary. A copy of which shall be submitted to the Designated City Surveyor.

S. The Basis of Bearings shall be based on the California Coordinate System and be in compliance with the California Public Resource Code.

T. The licensed land surveyor or civil engineer shall note and remedy any encroachments issues prior to the filing of the subdivision map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.035 Accompanying Data.

The subdivider shall file copies of drawings, statements, and other data with the Community Development Department as applicable to the proposed tentative map, including, but not limited to the following:

A. Zoning. A statement of existing and proposed zoning and land use.

B. Site Development. A statement of proposed improvements and landscape modifications, including the estimated time of completion in relation to subdivision of the property.

C. Public/Private Areas. A description of proposed public or commonly held areas and draft open space easement agreements, if applicable.

D. Subdivision Exceptions. Any exception being requested of these regulations shall be clearly labeled and identified as to nature and purpose. A written statement justifying the exception shall be submitted by the applicant separate from the map.

E. When it is known that separate final maps are to be filed on portions of the property shown on the tentative map, the subdivision boundaries which will appear on the final maps and the sequence in which the final maps will be filed.

F. CC&Rs. Draft covenants, conditions and restrictions if they are integral to the development concept or proposed atypical requirements.

G. Drainage Study. Two (2) copies of the preliminary drainage study showing or explaining the drainage area tributary to the subdivision and a statement setting forth in detail the manner in which storm water run-off will enter the subdivision, the manner in which it will be carried through the subdivision, and the manner in which disposal beyond the subdivision boundaries will be accomplished. This shall be done in accordance with the applicable City regulations and shall be prepared by a civil engineer registered in the State of California.

H. Soils Report. A preliminary soils report (prepared by a qualified engineer registered in this State) based on adequate test borings, is required. The requirement for a preliminary soils report may be waived by the City Public Works Director in circumstances where earlier projects on the same site have provided a soils report, or where the Director determines that adequate records (or knowledge of soil qualities) exist that do not warrant a soils report.

I. Preliminary Title Report. One copy of a preliminary title report dated not more than three (3) months prior to submittal of the application.

J. Survey Data. All survey data required to review the map (i.e., preliminary title reports, closure reports, underlying deeds, map references, etc.). The Designated City Surveyor may request any survey related documents, including, but not limited to, field notes, photographs, adjustments, CAD files prior to acceptance or approval of documents.

K. Affordable Housing Plan and Statement. Unless exempt, the applicant shall submit an affordable housing statement in compliance with the City's Inclusionary Housing Requirement. The map or plans should identify location of affordable units.

L. Based on the unique circumstances at the site, other documents or information requested by the Director of Community Development to process the tentative map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.037 Special Studies.

In addition to the tentative map and accompanying data, supplemental materials may be required to be filed depending on the site's location and potential impact on various resources or consistency with City plans and policies:

A. A phase 1 cultural resources inventory to identify any potential archaeological, paleontological, or historic on-site resources, including historic artifacts and structures, and tribal cultural resources.

B. In potential noise sensitive areas identified in the General Plan Noise Element, specific site analysis by an acoustical engineer or other approved professional with qualifications in acoustic design may be required by the Community Development Director. The study shall define the noise exposure problems, conclusions, and recommendations for corrective or mitigating measures, when necessary, and opinions and recommendations covering the suitability of the site for development.

C. Sewer Capacity Study. A preliminary sewer capacity study (prepared by a qualified engineer registered in this State) based on either sewer system model results, or flow monitoring with a sewer capacity study approved by the Long Beach Water Department (LBWD). The capacity study shall ensure that the sewer system can accommodate a proposed development, and if not, identify needed improvements required for the development.

D. Hydrology Report. In certain areas where there is a known high water table, a hydrologic report shall be prepared that evaluates the existing water table and identifies potential issues with new development. The report shall be prepared by a qualified geologist or hydrologist and shall include recommendations for site preparation, foundation design, and other strategies to offset potential impacts.

E. Septic Systems. Septic Tanks and Leach Fields shall be abandoned or removed in accordance with plans approved by the Community Development Department and the Health Department. All sewage shall be disposed of by an approved connection to the appropriate Public sewer system.

F. Potable and/or Recycled Water System Analysis: A preliminary potable and/or recycled system analysis shall be prepared by a qualified engineer to evaluate existing system capacity in the area and improvements needed to serve the new demand created by the project to the approval of LBWD.

G. Maps for condominium projects shall indicate the address of the property and the number, size and location of proposed dwelling units, parking spaces, and private or public open spaces. For all condominium projects, the floor area of each floor shall be shown in proper scale and location together with the plan view of each ownership unit. Further information regarding condominium projects and other common interest subdivisions is included in Chapter 20.30. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.040 Completeness determination required for filing.

A. If the tentative map or the accompanying drawings, statements or other data are found to be incomplete or incorrect, the subdivider shall be advised in writing of the changes or additions within 30 days.

B. A tentative map shall not be deemed complete for processing until it complies with all provisions of this Section and any additional information as required by the Director of Community Development. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.050 Review by other City departments and agencies.

The Planning Bureau shall transmit copies of the tentative map and other required information to each of the following: Department of Public Works, Building Bureau, Fire Department, Energy Resources Department, Water Department, utility companies, and to such other agencies that it determines may be affected or may have an interest in the proposed subdivision.

These departments or agencies shall submit their written reports and recommendations within the time specified by the Planning Bureau; such time limit shall not be more than fifteen (15) working days from the date of the transmittal letter. Failure of any department or agency to respond within the prescribed time limits shall be deemed to mean that it has no recommendations and no objections to the proposed subdivision. If requested, the Planning Bureau may grant an extension of time to respond, especially if the proposed subdivision is exceptionally complicated. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.060 Staff recommendations.

The Community Development Department shall prepare staff recommendations in writing. A copy of this report shall be available to the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator and the subdivider at least three (3) days prior to the date set for the hearing. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.070 Hearing—Time to be held.

Within fifty (50) days after a tentative map has been deemed complete for processing consistent with the State Permit Streamlining Act, the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall consider the tentative map at a regularly scheduled public hearing. Such time period may be extended by mutual consent of the subdivider and the Community Development Department. As appropriate and to increase processing efficiency, any Site Plan Review, Variance, or other related planning entitlement related to the same project as the tentative map request should be processed together and consolidated on applicable hearing agendas. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.080 Hearing—Notice.

When a provision of this title requires notice of a public hearing, notice shall be given in all of the following ways, consistent with the review processes described in Sections 20.04.020, 20.04.030, 20.04.040, and 20.04.070:

A. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered at least 14 days prior to the hearing to the owner of the subject real property as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll. Instead of using the assessment roll, the local agency may use records of the county assessor or tax collector if those records contain more recent information than the information contained on the assessment roll. Notice shall also be mailed to the owner's duly authorized agent, if any, and to the project applicant.

B. When the Subdivision Map Act (Division 2 [commencing with Section 66410] of Title 7) requires notice of a public hearing to be given pursuant to this section, notice shall also be given to any owner of a mineral right pertaining to the subject real property who has recorded a notice of intent to preserve the mineral right pursuant to Section 883.230 of the Civil Code.

C. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered at least 14 days prior to the hearing to each local agency expected to provide water, sewage, streets, roads, schools, or other essential facilities or services to the project, whose ability to provide those facilities and services may be significantly affected.

D. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered at least 14 days prior to the hearing to all owners of real property as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll within 300 feet of the real property that is the subject of the hearing. In lieu of using the assessment roll, the local agency may use records of the county assessor or tax collector which contain more recent information than the assessment roll. If the number of owners to whom notice would be mailed or delivered pursuant to this paragraph or paragraph (A) is greater than 1,000, a local agency, in lieu of mailed or delivered notice, may provide notice by placing a display advertisement of at least one-eighth page in at least one newspaper of general circulation within the local agency in which the proceeding is conducted at least 14 days prior to the hearing.

E. The notice shall include the date, time, and place of a public hearing, the identity of the hearing body or officer, a general explanation of the matter to be considered, and a general description, in text or by diagram, of the location of the real property, if any, that is the subject of the hearing. Consistent with Municipal Code Section 21.21.304, all notices shall contain as a minimum, the following information:

1. The applicant's name;
2. The filing date;
3. The case number for the project;
4. The location of the project, including an indication of whether it is in the coastal zone;
5. An indication of whether the project is appealable to the Coastal Commission;
6. A description of the project;
7. The reason for the public hearing;
8. The date, time and place of the public hearing;
9. The general procedures for the hearing and the receipt of public comments;
10. The means for appeal, including an appeal to the Coastal Commission when applicable; and
11. A statement stating substantially the following:

If the notice is mailed or delivered pursuant to paragraph D above, the notice shall also either be:

1. Published pursuant to Section 6061 in at least one newspaper of general circulation within the local agency which is conducting the proceeding at least 10 days prior to the hearing; or

2. Posted at least 14 days prior to the hearing in at least three public places within the boundaries of the local agency, including one public place in the area directly affected by the proceeding.

F. All notices shall be posted to the City's website, along with other forms of electronic communication that are specified with an approved electronic communications policy. In addition to the notice required by this section, a local agency may give notice of the hearing in any other manner it deems necessary or appropriate. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.090 Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator—Action.

The Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall determine whether a tentative map should be approved, conditionally approved, or disapproved. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.100 Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator—Requirements for approval of tentative parcel and tract maps.

The Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall approve a tentative map if the map complies with State and local regulations and if all of the following findings are made:

A. That the proposed map design and improvements is consistent with the applicable general plan, specific plans, the Zoning Ordinance, and does not violate local or state laws regarding subdivisions;

B. That the site is physically suitable for the type of development, including the proposed density;

C. That the design of the subdivision or the proposed improvements are not likely to cause substantial environmental damage or substantial and avoidable injury to fish and wildlife or their habitat;

D. That the design of the subdivision or the type of improvement is not likely to cause serious public health or safety problems;

E. That the design of the subdivision or the type of improvements will not conflict with easements acquired by the public at large for access through or use of property within the proposed subdivision; and

F. That the design of the subdivision or the type of improvements is consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP) as it considers projected sea level rise, slope stability, hazards and potential storm flooding for the life of the project based on available FEMA information. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.110 Planning Commission—Conditional approval.

The Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall impose those requirements and conditions necessary to bring a proposed subdivision into full compliance with these regulations and other City ordinances. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.120 Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator—Findings required for modifications or exceptions.

The Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator may grant modifications or exceptions to the requirements of these regulations if it makes any of the following findings:

A. The land involved in the subdivision is unusual because of the size, shape, or topographical conditions;

B. The improvement required would create conflicts with City plans, policies, and the existing pattern of improvement in the area;

C. Conformance with all the requirements would impose an unnecessary hardship upon the subdivider;

D. The subdivision design is of such a unique nature that it will result in a healthful, convenient, efficient, and attractive environment without sacrificing light, air, or any other factors which comprise a successful subdivision;

E. The requested exception is supportable given that the overall design will result in beneficial impacts by its incorporation of sustainable features to improve energy efficiency, and other improvements to enhance mobility within the development for pedestrians and alternate modes of transportation;

F. That the design of the subdivision or the proposed improvements are not likely to cause substantial environmental damage or substantial and avoidable injury to fish and wildlife or their habitat;

G. The requested exception will be consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP), because it considers projected sea level rise and potential storm flooding for the life on the project based on available FEMA information.

Such findings shall be made in writing and shall be presented at the public hearing. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.130 Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator—Disapproval.

The Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall deny a tentative map if it cannot make all of the required findings listed in Section 20.12.100. Such findings shall be made in writing and shall be presented at the public hearing. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.140 Zoning Administrator—Waiver of final parcel map.

A. The subdivider may request a waiver of the requirement to file a (final) parcel map for:

1. Subdivisions that meet the parameters of Sections 66426, 66428 and 66428.1 of the Subdivision Map Act;

2. A new condominium project on a single parcel that was previously mapped and monumented in a manner satisfactory to the Designated City Surveyor in accordance with Section 66428(b) of the Subdivision Map Act;

3. A condominium conversion project creating four (4) or fewer condominium units;

4. A new commercial or industrial condominium project on a single parcel;

5. Conversion of existing development to four or fewer commercial or industrial condominiums;

6. The new commercial or industrial portion of a mixed-use condominium project on a single parcel; or

7. An Urban Lot Split.

B. Required Findings. The Zoning Administrator may determine that the recordation of a (final) parcel map be waived after a tentative map is approved if it makes all of the following findings:

1. No unusual impact to public health, safety, or welfare is anticipated.

2. All required dedication of public rights-of-way and public improvements have been provided for.

3. The parcel map shall consist of four (4) lots/units or less, unless found to be exempt.

4. The requested waiver will be consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP), because it considers projected sea level rise and potential storm flooding for the life on the project based on available FEMA information.

5. If a tentative map is for condominium conversion, all requirements as specified in the condominium conversion regulations shall be complied with in full.

C. Site Plan. When a parcel map is waived, the applicant shall submit a site plan with the Department of Public Works and shall meet all criteria established by the Director of Public Works. A record of survey is not required as a condition of approval. The site plan may trigger a record of survey in accordance with California Business and Professions Code section 8762.

The site plan shall be consistent with the current California Building Code Section 107.2.5 stating a site plan shall have an accurate boundary.

D. Certificate of Compliance. When a parcel map is waived, a certificate of compliance shall be filed for recording with the County Recorder when the site plan is approved by the Director of Public Works and when there is compliance with all requirements.

E. Extension of Time to File Parcel Map Waiver. Under some circumstances, a subdivider may need additional time to process a request to waive a tentative parcel map. The following process is established to handle these requests:

1. Application for a time extension shall be made in writing to the Community Development Department prior to the expiration date of the tentative map.

2. The time extension shall be approved if the Community Development Director or the Zoning Administrator makes any of the following findings:

a. The subdivider has made reasonable progress toward satisfying project conditions; and

b. Extenuating circumstances require additional time for the subdivider to respond to satisfying project conditions.

3. Time extension requests shall be limited to one-year increments. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.150 Tentative map withdrawal.

Any subdivider or record owner of property may withdraw a tentative map at any time. Notice of withdrawal shall be given to the Community Development Director or the Zoning Administrator in writing. Upon receipt of such notice, the tentative map shall be officially withdrawn. Upon withdrawal, a record of survey shall be required and monuments set to replace those destroyed, damaged or missing. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.160 Tentative map revisions—Prior to approval.

After a tentative map has been deemed complete, no revisions shall be permitted, unless the subdivider agrees to extend the time to a date acceptable to the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator, within which action must be taken on the map, provided that the extension not exceed fifty (50) days after receipt of the revision. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.170 Tentative map revisions—After approval.

A. After approval of a tentative map, any revised map shall comply with all regulations in effect at the time such revised map is filed.

B. When a tentative map has been approved, no other subdivider shall file a different tentative map for the same parcel of land without the express written consent of the current property owner of record and/or the original subdivider unless the previous tentative map has expired.

C. The approval or conditional approval of any revised tentative map shall supersede and nullify all previously approved tentative maps that pertain to the same parcel of land.

D. After approval or conditional approval of a tentative map and prior to the recordation of the final map, any correction or amendment shall be processed as follows:

1. Minor corrections may be approved by the Community Development Director or designee under the following circumstances:

a. No additional lots or units are created.

b. The changes are in substantial conformance with the original tentative map approval.

c. The proposed changes are consistent with this title, the zoning ordinance, applicable building codes, the General Plan, and the Subdivision Map Act.

2. Corrections or changes that are not deemed by the Community Development Director or designee to be minor shall be reviewed by either the Zoning Administrator for parcel maps, or the Planning Commission for tentative subdivision maps. The subdivider shall provide the appropriate modification application, materials, and applicable fees. The Zoning Administrator or the Planning Commission may grant a modification to the requirements and conditions if findings are made to document consistency with the original approval.

3. Any revisions approved through the prescribed processes identified in paragraphs 1 and 2 above shall not affect the time limit for recording a final map or a parcel map as prescribed by the Subdivision Map Act or these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.180 Tentative map expiration.

A. An approved or conditionally approved tentative map shall expire thirty-six (36) months after its approval, except when a time extension has been granted by the Community Development Director or designee or meets the terms allowed by 66452.6.

B. Failure to record a final map before a tentative map expires shall terminate all proceedings. Once a tentative map has expired, no further subdivision action shall take place until a new tentative map is filed. Upon withdrawal, a record of survey shall be required and monuments set to replace those destroyed, damaged or missing.

C. Any tentative map approved between January 1, 2018, and the effective date of this ordinance shall be effective for a period of forty-eight (48) months from the date of approval issuance. As appropriate and to increase processing efficiency, any Site Plan Review, Variance, or other related planning entitlement expiration dates related to the same project as the tentative map request should be extended to coincide with the tentative map expiration date. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.12.190 Time extensions.

A. Application for a time extension shall be made in writing to the Community Development Department prior to the expiration date of the tentative map.

B. The time extension shall be approved if the Community Development Director or the Zoning Administrator makes any of the following findings:

1. The subdivider has made reasonable progress toward satisfying project conditions;

2. Extenuating circumstances as documented in the map extension request have delayed filing of the final map; and

3. The tentative map remains consistent with the zoning and goals of the general plan.

C. Time extension requests shall be limited to year increments and can be customized for a period exceeding one year if the maximum extension period identified in Section D below is not exceeded.

D. Consistent with Subdivision Map Act Sections 66452.6 (e) and 66463.5(c), the maximum time of all extensions granted shall be 72 months (six years). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.14 VESTING TENTATIVE MAPS

20.14.010 Applicability.

Any tentative map, whether a parcel or a tract map, may be a vesting map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.14.020 Filing and processing.

The tentative maps must have the term "vesting" clearly stated on the map. All other procedures applicable to other tentative maps in Chapter 20.12 shall apply. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.14.030 Development rights.

A. The approval or conditional approval of a vesting subdivision map shall confer a right to proceed with the development in substantial compliance with the approved tentative map.

B. The rights conferred by the vesting tentative map shall expire if a final map is not approved prior to the expiration of the vesting tentative map. Submittal of a grading or building permit for the project associated with the vesting tentative map will keep the map active until the final map is approved and recorded. Regular inspections consistent with the requirements of the grading or building permit will need to occur to keep the vesting tentative map active.

C. An approved vesting tentative map shall not limit the City from imposing reasonable conditions on subsequent required approvals or permits necessary for the development and authorized by applicable ordinances, policies, and standards in effect at the time that the tentative map application was deemed complete. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.14.040 Vesting Tentative Map expiration.

The approval or conditional approval of a vesting tentative map shall expire at the end of the same time period, and shall be subject to the same extensions established by the subdivision regulations in Section 20.12.190 for the expiration of the approval or conditional approval of a tentative map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.16 FINAL MAPS*

20.16.010 Required when.

A final/tract map shall be required for all subdivisions for which a tentative tract map is required. A (final) parcel map shall be required for all subdivisions for which a (tentative) parcel map is required unless waived as provided in these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.020 Content and form.

The content and form of each final tract map or final parcel map shall be prepared in accordance with the Subdivision Map Act, these regulations, and criteria established by the Community Development Director and the Public Works Director. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.030 Filing.

A. The subdivider shall file a final/tract map or a parcel map with the Department of Public Works along with all other required documents.

B. No final/tract map or parcel map shall be accepted if the tentative map has expired.

C. Should the map or other accompanying documents, fees, or materials be found to be incomplete or incorrect in any respect, the subdivider shall be informed of the corrections, changes, or additions that must be made. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.040 Fee.

A. Upon submission of a final tract map or final parcel map for processing, the subdivider shall pay to the City a processing fee in an amount prescribed by a City Council resolution.

B. If a final tract map or final parcel map is submitted to the County Engineer for checking under an agreement for examination of tract maps and parcel maps, the subdivider shall pay a map checking fee to the County Engineer in addition to all other fees and charges required by law. This fee shall be equal to the fee established by the County of Los Angeles for checking tract and parcel maps. If a final tract map or final parcel map is submitted to a professional consultant for checking under an agreement for examination of tract maps and parcel maps with the City, the subdivider shall pay a map checking fee to the City to cover fees for the professional consultant in addition to all other fees and charges required by law. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.050 Certifications.

A. No final tract map or final parcel map shall be certified by the departments or agencies unless all conditions and requirements as prescribed by the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator or the Designated City Surveyor have been met.

B. The required certificates and acknowledgements or appropriate combinations thereof shall appear on the title sheet in accordance with Sections 66436 or 66445 of the Government Code (Subdivision Map Act) and shall also contain, as applicable:

1. The Community Development Director's certificate: The Community Development Director shall certify that the final map is consistent with the tentative map, with the General Plan of the City, with the California Environmental Quality Act, and with other special requirements imposed by the City.

2. The Director of Public Works' certificate: The Director of Public Works shall certify that the map conforms with the requirements of the Subdivision Map Act and local ordinance.

3. The City Treasurer's and Director of Public Work's certificate: The City Treasurer and the Director of Public Works shall certify that there are no unpaid special assessments.

4. The Designated City Surveyor's certificate: The Designated City Surveyor shall certify that the subdivision as shown is substantially as it appeared on the tentative map, and that any applicable local ordinances at the time of tentative map approval have been complied with.

*State law reference—Provisions on final maps, Gov. Code § 66433 et seq.

5. All other affidavits, certificates, acknowledgements, endorsements, and notarial seals as required by the Subdivision Map Act and these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.060 Parcel map—Approval.

After parcel map is filed, the Designated City Surveyor shall perform a field inspection of all monuments found and set on the map. Monuments shall be set at the time of filing. The monuments shall occupy or be reset at each corner upon completion of the project.

The Director of Public Works shall consider and approve the map when all requirements of the map have been satisfied and adequate security provisions have been made to guarantee compliance with those requirements. The Director of Public Works shall also accept or reject, on behalf of the public, any real property offered for dedication for public use. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.070 Final/tract map—Approval.

After final/tract map is filed, the Designated City Surveyor, perform a field inspection of all monuments found and set on the map. Monuments shall be set at the time of filing. At no time shall monuments be deferred until the final improvements have been accepted for the subdivision. The monuments shall occupy or be reset at each corner upon completion of the project.

The Director of Public Works and Designated City Surveyor shall review the final tract map to confirm it complies with the requirements of the Subdivision Map Act and local ordinance and there are no unpaid special assessments. Once compliance is confirmed, the Director of Public Works shall transmit the map to the City Council. Within thirty (30) days after filing or at its next regular meeting after the meeting at which it receives the map, whichever is later, the Council shall consider and approve the map if it finds that all requirements of the map have been satisfied and adequate financial security provisions have been made to guarantee compliance with those requirements. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.080 The City Clerk's certificate.

The City Clerk shall certify approval of Council and the action of Council upon any offer of dedication. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.090 Recording.

Following approval of the final tract or parcel map, the Director of Public Works shall send the map to the County Engineer for recordation by the County Recorder. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.16.100 Amendments permissible with certificate of correction or certificate of compliance.

After a final/tract map or parcel map is filed in the office of the County Recorder, such a recorded final map may be modified for the purposes of correcting an error or omission shown on the recorded map, or dissolving a recorded condominium map.

A. To Correct an Error or Omission. A final map may be amended by recording a certificate of correction or an amending map to correct an error or omission in accordance with the State Subdivision Map Act. These errors or omissions may include lot numbers, acreage, street names, identification of adjacent record maps, reference of previous survey information, the description of the real property, or the location or character of any monument.

An amending map or certificate of correction shall be prepared and signed by a registered civil engineer or a licensed land surveyor and shall be approved by the Community Development Director and the City Engineer.

The amended map cannot alter lines of title. In the event a title line is incorrectly established the subdivider will be required to file a subdivision map. The approved existing, unexpired, tentative map and conditions of approval may be applied to the new map.

B. To Dissolve a Previously Recorded Condominium Map. A final map may be amended by recording a certificate of compliance to dissolve a previously recorded condominium map if the current property owner(s) finds that there is no need to maintain the subject property for a condominium purpose; instead, the owner(s) wishes to retain the property as a single ownership.

A revision of acreage subdivision map may be required according to the Subdivision Map Act.

To request such an amendment, the applicant shall submit an application to the Community Development Department with the following information:

1. A current title report providing the legal description of the properties included in the application; and

2. Signatures of the present fee owner(s) of the property.

Upon receiving a complete application, the requested amendment will be scheduled for a Zoning Administrator public hearing. At the scheduled hearing, the Zoning Administrator shall act to approve or disapprove the requested amendment. After the requested amendment is approved, the City will record a certificate of compliance indicating that the previously recorded condominium is officially dissolved. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.18 URBAN LOT SPLIT (PARCEL MAP)

20.18.010 Purpose and intent.

A. The purpose of this chapter is to implement California Government Code Section 66411.7 to provide an owner of a parcel zoned entirely for single-family residential use an additional method to subdivide the parcel through an urban lot split parcel map for the purpose of housing development;

B. An urban lot split parcel map is defined as the subdivision of an existing legal lot zoned R-1 (Single-Family District) under Chapter 21.31 of the Zoning Regulations to create no more than two (2) new parcels in accordance with the requirements in this chapter;

C. Urban lot split shall be used synonymously with a parcel map. A record data parcel map is prohibited. The parcel map shall be based on a field survey;

D. With respect to a division of land into four or fewer parcels, where dedications or offers of dedications are not required, the statement shall be signed and acknowledged by the subdivider only. If the subdivider does not have a record title ownership interest in the property to be divided, the local agency may require that the subdivider provide the local agency with satisfactory evidence that the persons with record title ownership have consented to the proposed division. For purposes of this paragraph, "record title ownership" means fee title of record unless a leasehold interest is to be divided, in which case "record title ownership" means ownership of record of the leasehold interest. Record title ownership does not include ownership of mineral rights or other subsurface interests that have been severed from ownership of the surface;

E. The provisions of this Chapter shall be the primary regulations for the subdivisions of land for and development of two (2) unit residential developments under Cal. Gov't Code Sections 66411.7 and 65852.21. To the extent that an aspect of the subdivision of land for or development of two (2) unit residential developments under Sections 66411.7 and 65852.21 is not addressed by this Chapter, the provisions of the subdivision code and applicable Zoning Regulations shall apply, except where this would conflict with Sections 66411.7 and 65852.21;

F. In the event of a conflict between this Chapter and another provision of the Long Beach Municipal Code, as it applies to the subdivision of land for or development of two (2) unit residential developments under Cal. Gov't Code Sections 66411.7 and 65852.21, this Chapter shall prevail; and

G. No exceptions to the standards in this section shall be requested or granted, except as allowed per Long Beach Municipal Code Section 20.08.020. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.020 Urban lot split application and procedures.

A. An application for an urban lot split shall be filed by the property owner or an agent of the property owner with the Planning Bureau on the city's approved form, subject to a fee in an amount established by City Council resolution. An application shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Planning Bureau to be considered. The city will inform the applicant in writing of any incompleteness within thirty (30) days after an application is submitted;

B. An application shall include an affidavit stating that the applicant intends to occupy one of the housing units as their principal residence for a minimum of three (3) years from the date of the approval of the urban lot split. An affidavit shall not be required of an applicant that is either a "community land trust" (as defined by Rev. & Tax Code § 4 02.1 (a)(11)(C)(ii)) or a "qualified nonprofit corporation" (as defined by Rev. & Tax Code § 214.15);

C. An application for an urban lot split shall meet the requirements set forth in this Chapter;

D. The City shall act upon an application for an urban lot split without a discretionary review, public hearing, or Site Plan Review Committee Review, within fifty (50) calendar days after a complete application for an urban lot split is filed. The time limit specified in this chapter may be extended by mutual consent of the applicant and the City;

E. The Zoning Administrator shall ministerially approve or deny the application for an urban lot split. The decision shall be final, and the Zoning Administrator shall state in written findings the reasons for approval or denial. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.030 Review by other City departments and agencies.

A. The Planning Bureau shall transmit copies of the urban lot split and other required information to each of the following: Department of Public Works, Building & Safety Bureau, Fire Department, Energy Resources Department, Water Department, any other concerned utilities, and to such other agencies that it determines may be affected or may have an interest in the proposed subdivision;

B. These departments or agencies shall submit their written reports, corrections, and recommendations within the time specified by the Planning Bureau. Such time limit shall not be more than fifteen (15) working days from the date of the transmittal letter. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.040 Concurrent processing with other ministerial permits.

A. No development, including but not limited to grading or vegetation removal, shall commence on any lot, prior to, concurrent, or subsequent to an urban lot split, unless a valid building permit has been issued for the construction of an Accessory Dwelling Unit or Junior Accessory Dwelling Unit;

B. A building permit shall not be issued for development on a parcel where an urban lot split is proposed, until the urban lot split is accepted and the map is recorded by the County of Los Angeles, unless the proposed project would conform to the Subdivision Ordinance and the City's policies and ordinances implementing Cal. Gov't Code Sections 65852.2, 65852.21, and 65852.22 without recordation of the urban lot split. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.050 Preparation.

A. An urban lot split shall be prepared by a qualified California registered civil engineer or a California licensed surveyor in accordance with the Subdivision Regulations and the Subdivision Map Act. Civil engineers with licenses prior to January 1, 1982 (with a license number before 33966) are authorized to practice all land surveying and engineering surveying. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.060 Coastal zone.

A. An application for an urban lot split in the coastal zone shall be processed in conformance with Section 21.25.902 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, subject to separate fees established by City Council resolution;

B. The proposed subdivision shall be consistent with the policies of the City's certified Local Coastal Program and the Coastal Act;

C. A parcel map shall not be submitted for processing or approval from the Department of Public Works until procedures outlined in Division IX of Chapter 21.25 of the Long Beach Municipal Code has been completed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.070 Urban lot split development standards.

The proposed subdivision shall conform to the following standards:

A. An urban lot split shall be prepared in accordance with requirements set forth in Section 20.12.030 of the Subdivision Regulations, Cal. Gov't Code Sections 66410 et. Seq., 66444—66450 and the applicable sections of this Chapter;

B. An urban lot split shall not be approved except in conjunction with a concurrently submitted application for building permits for a two (2) unit residential development pursuant to Cal. Gov't Code Section 65852.21 and subject to the provisions of Chapter 21.31 and Section 20.18.040 as applicable;

C. Development on the resulting parcels shall be limited to the residential development approved in the concurrently submitted building permit applications;

D. The parcel shall be located entirely within a Single-Family (R-1) Zoning District;

E. The site shall not be located within a City Historic District, on a designated Historic Landmark property, or included on the State Historic Resources Inventory;

F. The urban lot split will subdivide an existing parcel to create no more than two (2) new parcels;

G. The parcel proposed for subdivision shall not result in more than two (2) dwelling units of any type per parcel involved in an urban lot split, including principal dwelling units, ADUs and JADUs, and residential development permitted by Cal. Gov't Code Section 65852.21;

H. One (1) principal unit is required per parcel;

I. Neither the owner of the parcel being subdivided nor any person acting in concert with the owner shall have previously subdivided an adjacent parcel under the provisions of this Chapter or Cal. Gov't Code Section 66411.7. Adjacent means situated near or close by. Adjacent includes real property across alleys, streets, public waterways or other public property;

J. The parcel proposed for subdivision shall not have been established through a prior exercise of an urban lot split as provided for by this Chapter or Cal. Gov't Code section 66411.7;

K. The land uses proposed for the parcels created by the urban lot split shall be residential uses only (no mixed-use or commercial or other non-residential uses);

L. Rental terms of any unit created by the subdivision shall not be less than thirty (30) consecutive days, nor shall rental terms allow termination of the tenancy prior to the expiration of at least one (1) thirty (30) day period occupancy by the same tenant;

M. If the parcel is within the Coastal Zone, the appropriate Coastal approval shall be obtained as required by Section 20.18.060, Division IX of Chapter 21.25, and the Coastal Act prior to approval and recordation of the final parcel map;

N. The owner shall not have withdrawn rent or price-controlled accommodations from rent or lease on this parcel within fifteen (15) years prior to the date of application for the proposed project;

O. The proposed housing development shall not require the demolition or alteration (defined as demolition or alteration of more than 25% of the existing exterior walls) of any of the following types of housing:

1. Housing that is subject to a recorded covenant, ordinance, or law that restricts rents to levels affordable to persons and families of moderate, low, or very low income.

2. Housing that is subject to any form of public agency rent or price control.

3. Housing that has been occupied by a tenant in the last three years. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.080 Disapproval of an urban lot split.

A proposed urban lot split subdivision shall not be approved if any of the following apply:

A. The site is located within wetlands, as defined in US Fish and Wildlife Service Manual, Part 660, PW 2 (June 21, 1993);

B. The site is located on a hazardous waste site that is listed per Cal. Gov't Code section 65962.5 or designated by Cal. Health & Safety Code section 25356;

C. The site is located within a delineated earthquake fault zone as determined by the State Geologist in any official maps published by the State Geologist, unless the development complies with applicable seismic protection building code standards adopted by the California Building Standards Commission under the California Building Standards Law;

D. Based on a preponderance of the evidence, the building official finds that the proposed housing development project would have a specific, adverse impact, as defined and determined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Cal. Gov't Code Section 65589.5, upon public health and safety or the physical environment and for which there is no feasible method to satisfactorily mitigate or avoid the specific, adverse impact;

E. The site is located within a special flood hazard area for the 100-year flood (any Zone A or Zone V), unless one of the two below conditions is satisfied:

1. The site has been subject to a Letter of Map Revision prepared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and issued to the local jurisdiction, or;

2. The site meets Federal Emergency Management Agency requirements necessary to meet minimum flood plain management criteria of the National Flood Insurance Program pursuant to Part 59 (commencing with Section 59.1) and Part 60 (commencing with Section 60.1) of Subchapter B of Chapter I of Title 44 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

F. The site is located within a regulatory floodway as determined by the Federal Emergency Management Agency in any official maps published by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, unless the development has received a no-rise certification in accordance with Section 60.3(d)(3) of Title 44 of the Code of Federal Regulations;

G. The site is located on lands identified for conservation in an adopted natural community conservation plan pursuant to the Natural Community Conservation Planning Act (Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 2800) of Division 3 of the Fish and Game Code), habitat conservation plan pursuant to the federal Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq.), or other adopted natural resource protection plan;

H. The site is located within habitat for protected species identified as candidate, sensitive, or species of special status by state or federal agencies, fully protected species, or species protected by the federal Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq.), the California Endangered Species Act (Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 2050) of Division 3 of the Fish and Game Code), or the Native Plant Protection Act (Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 1900) of Division 2 of the Fish and Game Code);

I. The site is located on lands under conservation easement;

J. The proposed housing development would result in fewer dwelling units than would otherwise be allowed on the site by the General Plan Land Use Element, in accordance with the State's No Net Loss requirements. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.090 Urban lot split form, contents and accompanying data.

An urban lot split shall be prepared in accordance with requirements set forth in Chapter 20.12 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, Cal. Gov't Code Sections 66410 et. Seq., 66444- 66450, and this Chapter. The map shall contain the following supplemental information to establish compliance with the construction plans and all provisions of this Code and applicable State law:

A. Preliminary title report of the property and shall be no more than ninety (90) days old from the time of application submittal;

B. The size of each sheet shall be 18 by 26 inches or 460 by 660 millimeters. A marginal line shall be drawn completely around each sheet, leaving an entirely blank margin of one inch or 025 millimeters. The scale of the map shall be large enough to show all details clearly and enough sheets shall be used to accomplish this end. The particular number of the sheet and the total number of sheets comprising the map shall be stated on each of the sheets, and its relation to each adjoining sheet shall be clearly shown:

1. The County subdivision map number. Such number must be obtained from the Los Angeles County Engineer.

2. The boundaries of the subdivision, defined by legal description, with sufficient information to locate the property and to determine its position with respect to adjacent named or numbered subdivisions, if any. The boundary shall be based upon a field survey. Record data parcel maps are prohibited.

3. Total area (in acreage and square feet) of each proposed lot.

4. The directions of flow of all watercourses and flood-hazard control areas within and adjacent to the property involved per Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Flood Insurance Rate (FIRM) maps, and the proposed method of providing storm water, drainage, and erosion control.

5. A mapping of the flood zones from the current FEMA for tidal and fluvial flooding including the following:

a. Projected sea level rise and storm flooding for the life of the project based upon the most current science-based projection of sea level rise including a one hundred (100) year storm and wave run up.

b. Projected coastal erosion based upon a detailed assessment of site geology, sea level rise, and waves.

c. Projections of flooding shall be based on site and/or near shore bathymetry.

6. The location and extent of any known jurisdictional wetland areas or other sensitive habitat areas such as rare and endangered plant species or riparian vegetation;

7. The location of the site's scenic landscape features and scenic corridors, shorelines, ridgelines, and skylines, as defined in the City's General Plan, Local Coastal Program, and State law, and an assessment of the visibility of any future development from or within scenic corridors;

8. Legal description of the parcel;

9. Lot width of each proposed lot;

10. Public right-of-way frontage of each proposed lot;

11. Curve radii as applicable;

12. Location and dimensions of existing established and proposed property lines. The existing property lines shall be based upon found monuments;

13. Zoning District;

14. General Plan Land Use Placetype;

15. The location and use of all existing and proposed structures;

16. The Basis of Bearings shall be based on the California Coordinate System. Mapping shall comply with the California Public Resource Code;

17. All required zoning setbacks for the existing and proposed lots;

18. The location of all existing water, sewer, electricity, storm drain, or gas service lines, pipes, systems, or easements;

19. The location of all proposed new water, gas, sewer, storm drain, lines, pipes, or systems;

20. The location of any proposed and/or existing easement, including but not limited to, access or public utilities to serve a lot created by the subdivision;

21. The location and species name of any existing trees larger than four inches in diameter measured four feet six inches above the base and any such trees proposed for removal;

22. Existing and proposed topographic information shall be provided and shall be tied to the City's datum. Contour lines shall have the following intervals:

a. Two (2) foot contour interval for ground slope between ground level and ten (10) percent; and

b. Five (5) foot contour interval for ground slope exceeding ten (10) percent.

23. Name and dimensions, including right-of-way and improved area, of public and private streets or public alleys and private alleys adjoining the parcel;

24. Curb, gutter, sidewalk, parkway, and street trees: type, location, and dimensions;

25. Location of existing or proposed driveway dimensions, materials, and slope (including cross slope);

26. Location of existing or proposed vehicular access to the public right-of-way;

27. Location of existing or proposed pedestrian pathway access to the public right-of-way; and

28. If in the Coastal Zone, location of environmentally sensitive areas, coastal waterways, public parkland, or a coastal bluff edge under penalty of perjury under the laws of California, that:

a. The urban lot split shall contain a declaration that:

i. Each lot created by the urban lot split shall be used solely for residential dwellings;

ii. That no more than two residential dwelling units may be permitted on each lot. As used in this Subsection residential dwelling unit includes a unit created pursuant to Cal. Gov't Code Section 65852.21, a primary dwelling unit, an accessory dwelling unit as defined in Cal. Gov't Code Section 65852.2, or a junior accessory dwelling unit as defined in Cal. Gov't Code Section 65852.22.

iii. That rental of any dwelling unit on a lot created by the urban lot split shall not be less than 30 consecutive days, nor shall rental terms allow termination of the tenancy prior to the expiration of at least one 30-day period occupancy by the same tenant. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.100 Map requirements.

The proposed subdivision shall conform to the following requirements:

A. The two (2) new parcels shall be of approximately equal lot area;

B. One (1) parcel shall not be smaller than forty (40) percent of the lot area of the original parcel;

C. Both newly created parcels shall be no smaller than 1,200 square-feet each;

D. All easements required for the provision of public services and facilities shall be provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works;

E. Each parcel shall be served by a separate water service meter, a separate sewer connection, and gas connection if required;

F. Each parcel shall drain to the street or to a developed drainage easement;

G. Both newly created parcels shall conform to the minimum lot width requirements in Chapter 21.31 and Chapter 20.08 of the Long Beach Municipal Code. Lot width exceptions shall meet the requirements set forth in Section 20.08.020;

H. Lot width means the horizontal distance between the midpoints of the side lot lines, measured at right angles to the line measuring lot depth;

I. Each of the proposed parcels shall have public right-of-way frontage (public street or alley) abutting the original parcel;

J. A flag lot, or a lot with a narrow projecting strip of land extending to or along a public right-of-way frontage, shall not be permitted;

K. Lot depth shall be measured at average distance between the front and rear lot line of the newly created lot;

L. Only within the Coastal Zone, rights-of-way as required for access along all natural and man-made watercourses and bodies of water that includes the beach, bay, and tidelands as necessary for flood control, maintenance, and improvement shall be dedicated to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works;

M. New lot lines shall be straight lines, unless there is a conflict with existing improvements or the natural environment in which case the line may be not be straight but shall follow the appropriate natural course;

N. Interior lot lines not facing the street shall be at right angles perpendicular to the street on straight streets, or radial to the street on curved streets;

O. Lot lines shall be contiguous with existing zoning boundaries;

P. The placement of lot lines shall not result in an accessory building or accessory use on a lot without a main building or primary use on the same lot, as defined in the Zoning Ordinance;

Q. Lot lines shall not render an existing structure as nonconforming in any respect (e.g. setbacks, open yard, Floor Area Ratio, parking), nor increase the nonconformity of an existing nonconforming structure. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.120 Expiration.

A. An approved urban lot split shall expire thirty-six (36) months after its approval, except when a time extension has been granted by the Zoning Administrator or meets the terms allowed by Cal. Gov't Code Section 66452.6. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.130 Revisions and amendments of an urban lot split.

A. Where an applicant desires to revise or amend an approved urban lot split map, the applicant may file a revised urban lot split map, prior to the expiration of the approved urban lot split map. A revised urban lot split map shall be subject to additional fees in an amount established by City Council resolution;

B. Revisions and amendments to the urban lot split map shall be made pursuant to Section 66469 et seq. of the Subdivision Map Act;

C. Failure to record a final map before the urban lot split expires shall cause the urban lot split parcel map approval to become null and void with no further action required on the part of the City. Any pending building permit application that proposes more than two (2) principal structures on the original parcel shall become null and void with no further action required on the part of the City, unless the applicant revises the permit application to comply with the Zoning Regulations and the requirements in Cal. Gov't Code Sections 66444—66450;

D. Once an urban lot split has expired, no further subdivision action shall take place until a new tentative map is approved. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.140 County recording.

A. The applicant shall apply for a parcel map with the Department of Public Works prior to approval and recordation of the urban lot split;

B. Prior to the approval and recordation of the parcel map, the applicant shall record a restrictive covenant on each property title in the form prescribed by the City of Long Beach City Attorney which shall run with the land and provide the following:

1. A prohibition against further subdivision of the parcel using the urban lot split procedures as provided for in this Chapter; and

2. A prohibition on the conversion of nonresidential uses of any units developed or constructed on either resulting parcel, and a prohibition against renting or leasing the units for fewer than thirty (30) consecutive calendar days.

C. The urban lot split shall be subject to the map provisions in Chapter 20.16.

D. An urban lot split in the Coastal Zone shall complete the requirements set forth in Section 20.18.060.

E. Upon the approval of the parcel map, the applicant or the property owner shall submit the map to the County Recorder for recordation. The map shall be accepted and recorded by the County prior to issuance of any building permits by the City, except as otherwise provided by this Chapter. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.18.160 Urban lot split withdrawal.

Any applicant with the owner's consent or record owner of the subject property may withdraw an urban lot split parcel map at any time prior to the recordation of the urban lot split. Notice of withdrawal shall be provided to the Zoning Administrator in writing. Upon receipt of such notice, the urban lot split shall be considered officially withdrawn, with no further action required on the part of the City. Any building permit application that proposes more than two (2) principal structures on the original parcel shall be null and void with no further action on the part of the City, or such permit(s) may be revised by the applicant to comply with the Zoning Regulations and requirements in Cal. Gov't Code Sections 66444—66450. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.20 LOT LINE ADJUSTMENT

20.20.001 Purpose.

Lot line adjustments between four or fewer adjacent legal lots is a streamlined map process that can be used for a variety of purposes, including:

A. Meeting, or more closely meeting, the minimum lot size and area requirements of the zone where the property is located.

B. Complying with required building setbacks.

C. Eliminating an existing encroachment.

D. Addressing compliance with the Building Code.

E. Better conformance with site features and topography.

In accordance with Section 20.04.140.B, lot line adjustments between five or more existing adjoining lots require a tentative and final/tract map, unless they meet noted exceptions where a parcel map could be processed. A tentative parcel map may be waived. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.005 Preparation.

A lot line adjustment shall be prepared by a qualified California civil engineer or a California licensed surveyor in accordance with these regulations. Civil engineers with licenses prior to January 1, 1982 (with a license number before 33966) are authorized to practice all land surveying and engineering surveying. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.010 Standards generally.

The procedures for a lot line adjustment shall apply to the adjustment of property boundaries between four (4) or fewer existing legal adjoining lots recorded with the County Recorder's office in conformance with the Subdivision Map Act where land taken from one (1) lot is added to an adjacent lot and where a greater number of lots than originally recorded is not thereby created. A record of survey may be required pursuant to California Business and Professions Code section 8762.

Multiple lot line adjustments submitted concurrently or sequentially as defined in Section 20.36.243, when five or more parcels exist, circumventing the Subdivision Map Act will not be allowed. A subdivision map will be required in these instances. A lot line adjustment is at the discretion of the Community Development Department Planning Bureau. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.020 Application.

The applicant shall submit an application to the Community Development Department Planning Bureau. Typical information and exhibits that accompany an application are listed below. The Director of Community Development may require additional information or documentation based on the unique circumstances at the site to process the lot line adjustment.

A. One copy of a preliminary title report providing the legal description of the properties included in the application dated not more than three (3) months prior to submittal of the application;

B. Signatures of all record owners included in the application; and

C. Site plan or map legibly drawn to a scale of sufficient size to show full detail, including the following information:

1. North arrow, scale, legend, adjacent streets, dimensions, and field established boundaries of the lots or parcels included in the application before and after adjustment. The monuments relied upon for the establishment of the boundaries shall be shown on the site plan.

2. Distinct line type indicating the property line(s) to be adjusted and keyed to a legend.

3. Location of existing and proposed buildings and distance(s) between these buildings and proposed property lines, as well as the outline of all structures outside the adjustment area within 10 feet of the boundary lines. The existing structures must show accurate ties, displayed/labeled to one hundredth of a foot, to the existing and proposed boundary lines. The site plan shall be consistent with the current California Building Code Section 107.2.5 stating a site plan shall have an accurate boundary.

4. The lot areas of existing parcels, as well as the lot areas of proposed parcels as adjusted.

5. Name and address of qualified California civil engineer or a California licensed surveyor who prepared the map and the applicable license or registration number.

6. Topographic information with a reference to the source of the information.

7. The locations, widths, and purposes of all existing and proposed easements for utilities, drainage and other public purposes, shown by dashed lines, within and adjacent to the subdivision; all existing and proposed utilities including size of gas and water lines and the size and grade of sewer lines, location of manholes, valve lids, fire hydrants, street trees, and streetlights.

8. The new boundary lines must be monumented and a record of survey filed with the County of Los Angeles. A preliminary record of survey shall be submitted to the Designated City Surveyor. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.030 Community Development Director or Zoning Administrator action.

The Community Development Director or stipulated designee shall act to approve or disapprove the lot line adjustment and shall limit review and approval to a determination of whether or not the parcels resulting from the lot line adjustment will conform to the local general plan, any applicable specific plan, any applicable coastal plan, and zoning and building ordinances. The Director shall not impose conditions or exactions on its approval of a lot line adjustment except to conform to the local general plan, any applicable specific plan, any applicable coastal plan, and zoning and building ordinances, to require the prepayment of real property taxes prior to the approval of the lot line adjustment, or to facilitate the relocation of existing utilities, infrastructure, or easements. No tentative map, parcel map, or final map shall be required as a condition to the approval of a lot line adjustment. A local agency shall approve or disapprove a lot line adjustment pursuant to the Permit Streamlining Act (Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 65920) of Division 1). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.040 Required findings.

The Community Development Director or stipulated designee shall approve a lot line adjustment if all the following findings can be made:

A. The modification between lots does not result in a greater number of lots than currently legally exists.

B. The modified lots do not create inconsistencies with the Zoning regulations, the Building Code, and the General Plan.

C. That the design of the lot line adjustment or the type of improvements is consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP) as it considers projected sea level rise, slope stability, hazards and potential storm flooding for the life on the project based on available FEMA information.

D. Individual water and service laterals, sewer connections in accordance with the LBWS Rules and Regulations, gas, and other utilities are available to each adjusted lot, or necessary easements are provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works.

D. All drainage across the adjusted lot line shall be eliminated or necessary easements are provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works.

E. Multiple lot line adjustments submitted concurrently or sequentially, when five or more parcels exist, circumventing the Subdivision Map Act will not be allowed. A subdivision map will be required in these instances. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.050 Expiration.

A. An approved lot line adjustment shall expire thirty-six (36) months after its approval if it has not been recorded, except when a time extension has been granted by the Community Development Director or the Zoning Administrator.

B. Any lot line adjustment approved between January 1, 2018, and the effective date of Ordinance 20-0023 shall be effective for a period of forty-eight (48) months from the date of issuance. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.060 Final site plan.

After approval by the Zoning Administrator, the applicant shall file a site plan with the Department of Public Works based upon criteria established by the Director of Public Works. The site plan shall be consistent with the current California Building Code Section 107.2.5 stating a site plan shall have an accurate boundary. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.20.070 Recording of a deed to reflect modified lot lines.

The lot line adjustment shall be reflected in a deed, including modified deeds of trusts, which shall be recorded. The lot line adjustment does not take effect until the deeds have been recorded. The failure to file the deeds within the designated approval period shall render the lot line adjustment null and void. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.22 VOLUNTARY LOT MERGERS

20.22.010 Purpose.

Voluntary lot mergers also known as lot combinations involve the elimination of lot lines through the combination of two or more contiguous lots into a single parcel. They are typically pursued with development projects to comply with Zoning and Building Codes with the creation of new buildings that cross existing lot lines. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.015 Preparation.

A lot merger shall be prepared by a qualified California civil engineer or a California licensed surveyor in accordance with these regulations. Civil engineers with licenses prior to January 1, 1982 (with a license number before 33966) are authorized to practice all land surveying and engineering surveying. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.020 Mergers not automatic with single ownership.

Two (2) or more contiguous parcels or units of land which have been created under the provisions of the Subdivision Map Act or any prior law regulating the division of land, or these regulations enacted pursuant thereto, shall not merge by virtue of the fact that such contiguous parcels for units are held by the same owner; and no further proceeding under the provisions of the Subdivision Map Act or these regulations shall be required for the purpose of sale, lease, or financing of such contiguous parcels or units or any of them, except as specified in this Chapter.

On and after January 1, 1984, parcels may be merged only in accordance with the authority and procedures prescribed in this ordinance. This exclusive authority does not, however, abrogate or limit the authority of a local agency or a subdivider with respect to the following procedures:

1. Lot line adjustments.
2. Amendment or correction of a final or parcel map.
3. Reversions to acreage.
4. Exclusions.
5. Tentative, parcel, or final maps which create fewer parcels.

The City may require merger of a parcel or unit with a contiguous parcel or unit held by the same owner, if any one of the contiguous parcels or units held by the same owner does not conform to standards for minimum parcel size, under the zoning ordinance to the parcels or units of land, and if all of the following requirements are satisfied:

A. At least one of the affected parcels is undeveloped by any structure for which a building permit was issued or for which a building permit was not required at the time of construction, or is developed only with an accessory structure or accessory structures, or is developed with a single structure, other than an accessory structure, that is also partially sited on a contiguous parcel or unit.

B. With respect to any affected parcel, one or more of the following conditions exists:

1. Comprises less than 5,000 square feet in area at the time of the determination of merger.

2. Was not created in compliance with applicable laws and ordinances in effect at the time of its creation.

3. Does not meet current standards for sewage disposal and domestic water supply.

4. Does not meet slope stability standards.

5. Has no legal access which is adequate for vehicular and safety equipment access and maneuverability.

6. Its development would create health or safety hazards.

7. Is inconsistent with the applicable general plan and any applicable specific plan, other than minimum lot size or density standards.

C. This subdivision shall not apply if one of the following conditions exists:

1. On or before July 1, 1981, one or more of the contiguous parcels or units of land is enforceably restricted open-space land pursuant to a contract, agreement, scenic restriction, or open-space easement, as defined and set forth in Section 421 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

2. On July 1, 1981, one or more of the contiguous parcels or units of land is timberland as defined in subdivision (f) of Section 51104, or is land devoted to an agricultural use as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 51201.

3. On July 1, 1981, one or more of the contiguous parcels or units of land is located within 2,000 feet of the site on which an existing commercial mineral resource extraction use is being made, whether or not the extraction is being made pursuant to a use permit issued by the local agency.

4. On July 1, 1981, one or more of the contiguous parcels or units of land is located within 2,000 feet of a future commercial mineral extraction site as shown on a plan for which a use permit or other permit authorizing commercial mineral resource extraction has been issued by the local agency.

5. Within the coastal zone, as defined in Section 30103 of the Public Resources Code, one or more of the contiguous parcels or units of land has, prior to July 1, 1981, been identified or designated as being of insufficient size to support residential development and where the identification or designation has either (i) been included in the land use plan portion of a local coastal program prepared and adopted pursuant to the California Coastal Act of 1976 (Division 20 of the Public Resources Code), or (ii) prior to the adoption of a land use plan, been made by formal action of the California Coastal Commission pursuant to the provisions of the California Coastal Act of 1976 in a coastal development permit decision or in an approved land use plan work program or an approved issue identification on which the preparation of a land use plan pursuant to the provisions of the California Coastal Act is based.

For purposes of paragraphs 3 and 4 above, "mineral resource extraction" means gas, oil, hydrocarbon, gravel, or sand extraction, geothermal wells, or other similar commercial mining activity, minimum lot size or density standards. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.025 Application.

The applicant shall submit an application to the Community Development Department Planning Bureau with the following statement and exhibits:

A. One copy of a preliminary title report providing the legal description of the properties included in the application dated not more than three (3) months prior to submittal of the application.

B. Signatures of all record owners included in the application.

C. Legal description of parcel(s). Each parcel proposed for merger shall be described separately.

D. Site plan or map legibly drawn to a scale of sufficient size to show full detail, including the information set forth in Section 20.24.030. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.030 Lot merger plat map requirements.

A lot merger plat shall be drawn to a scale of sufficient size to show full detail, on a minimum sheet size of 8½" x 11", and include the following information:

A. Boundary information necessary to determine the lot merger. A field survey shall be necessary. After a field survey is performed, traverse calculations, monument notes and boundary establishment explanations must be included. The site plan shall be consistent with the current California Building Code Section 107.2.5 stating a site plan shall have an accurate boundary. A record of survey may be required in accordance with Business and Professions Code section 8762.

B. Basis of Bearing statement that includes the bearing of a line shown on the plat.

C. Written legal description of existing and proposed parcel with wet signature and seal of Licensed Land Surveyor (L.S.) or qualified Registered Civil Engineer (R.C.E.).

D. Engineer's or Surveyor's certificate with seal, address and telephone number, registration or license number of engineer or surveyor who prepared the map.

E. Title "LOT MERGER NO. _____."

F. Vicinity Map with north arrow and scale indicated.

G. Name, address, telephone number, email address and notarized wet signature of property owner(s).

H. Plat plan with north arrow and scale.

I. Location, width, names, and purpose of all existing and proposed easements for utilities, drainage and other public purposes, shown by dashed lines, within and adjacent to the subdivision; all existing and proposed utilities including size of gas and water lines and the size and grade of sewer lines, location of manholes, valve lids, fire hydrants, street trees, and streetlights.

J. Names of the owners and the Assessor numbers of properties adjacent to the parcels involved.

K. Distinct line type indicating existing boundary and property line(s) to be eliminated as a dashed line with dimensions and keyed to a legend.

L. Proposed boundary to be shown as a solid line.

M. The net or total area of the proposed lot(s) and the area of each existing lot.

N. The dimension of each boundary of each proposed lot.

O. The location of all existing buildings and structures and their uses, the distance between said buildings and structures, displayed or labeled to one hundredth of a foot, and the minimum distance between each building or structure and the established boundary of the proposed lot on which it is located.

P. Location of all railroads, drainage courses, all natural or man-made obstacles, and an indication of any physical restrictions or conditions in the subdivision which affect the use of the property.

Q. A statement of the existing zoning and the proposed use of each lot.

R. As determined necessary by the Planning Department, dimensions of existing buildings or structures, natural or man-made features and perpendicular distances to the property lines for the purpose of identifying encroachments or indicating setbacks. Such features may include curb cuts, driveways, sidewalks, fences, walls, utility poles, vaults, meters, surface drainage, etc.

S. A legend that defines line types and symbology.

T. Utilize legible fonts no smaller than one-tenth of an inch in size.

U. The legal description shall be entitled "EXHIBIT A" "LEGAL DESCRIPTION" and shall be displayed in a bold font no less than three tenths of an inch in size at the top center of the page.

V. The plat shall be entitled "EXHIBIT B" "PLAT" and shall be displayed in a bold font no less than three-tenths of an inch in size at the top center of the page.

W. Show the proposed boundary as a heavy solid line with dimensions.

X. Indicate the tract lot and block numbers, underlying deed recording information, and the assessor's parcel numbers of properties adjacent to the parcels involved.

Y. Topographic information with a reference to the source of the information. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.035 Accompanying data.

The subdivider shall file copies of drawings, statements, and other data with the Community Development Department as applicable to the proposed lot merger, including, but not limited to the following:

A. Easement documents (if any) and reference maps. Applicant(s) must also submit proof that each affected lot was created legally. The following are legal lots:

1. Lots created by Parcel Map or Tract Map.

2. Lots created or intended to be created by metes and bounds or exception clause (s) prior to March 4, 1972.

3. Lots created by records of survey recorded prior to April 4, 1952.

B. A Certificate of Compliance or a Parcel Map will be required if any of the affected lots do not meet the above criteria. A parcel map will be required when merging five or more lots or parcels. An applicant may file for a waiver of the tentative parcel map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.040 Required Findings.

The Community Development Director or stipulated designee shall approve a voluntary if all the following findings can be made:

A. The combined lots do not create inconsistencies with the Zoning regulations, Building Code, and the General Plan.

B. That the design of the lot merger or the type of improvements is consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP) as it considers projected sea level rise, slope stability, hazards, and potential storm flooding for the life on the project based on available FEMA information.

C. Individual water and service laterals, sewer connections in accordance with Long Beach Water's Rules and Regulations, gas, and other utilities are available to the combined lot, or necessary easements are provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works.

D. All drainage across the adjusted lot line shall be eliminated or necessary easements are provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.045 Community Development Director or stipulated designee action.

The Community Development Director or stipulated designee shall act to approve or disapprove the voluntary lot merger and shall limit review and approval to a determination of whether or not the lot resulting from the merger will conform to the local general plan, any applicable specific plan, any applicable coastal plan, and zoning and building ordinances. The Director shall not impose conditions or exactions on its approval of the voluntary merger except to conform to the local general plan, any applicable specific plan, any applicable coastal plan, and zoning and building ordinances, to require the prepayment of real property taxes prior to the approval of the lot line adjustment, or to facilitate the relocation of existing utilities, infrastructure, or easements. No tentative map, parcel map, or final map shall be required as a condition to the approval of a voluntary lot merger. A local agency shall approve or disapprove a voluntary lot merger pursuant to the Permit Streamlining Act (Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 65920) of Division 1). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.050 Expiration.

An approved voluntary lot merger shall expire thirty-six (36) months after its approval if it has not been recorded, except when a time extension has been granted by the Community Development Director or stipulated designee. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.055 Recording of a Notice of Merger.

The Community Development Director shall forward the Notice of Merger to the County Recorder. The applicant may record a record of survey or parcel map to finalize the voluntary lot merger at their own discretion if Business and Professions Code section 8762 is not applicable. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.060 Monumentation of a Lot Merger.

Upon recording the deeds reflecting the modified lot lines in a Lot Merger, the applicant shall place tagged, durable monuments at all remaining lot corners in accordance with Sections 8771 and 8772 of the California Business and Professions Code and shall file a record of survey in accordance with Section 8762 of the California Business and Professions Code. See Section 20.08.165 for Monument Standards. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.22.065 Lot-tie covenant.

The Zoning Administrator may find that a lot tie covenant in lieu of a lot merger is a sufficient legal instrument for combining lots for project(s) that:

A. Propose one hundred percent (100%) affordable units; or

B. City affiliated projects. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.24 CITY-INITIATED LOT MERGERS

20.24.010 Purpose.

The City has a procedure for requiring lot mergers in cases where adjacent properties under common ownership could be merged to better comply with established minimum lot dimensions and areas and be more compatible with surrounding development. Voluntary mergers typically pursued to accommodate new development projects are processed in the same manner as lot line adjustments and are described in Section 20.22. City-initiated mergers require a public hearing before the Zoning Administrator, while voluntary lot line adjustments are ministerial and do not require a public hearing. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.015 Preparation.

A lot merger shall be prepared by a qualified California civil engineer or a California licensed surveyor in accordance with these regulations. Civil engineers with licenses prior to January 1, 1982 (with a license number before 33966) are authorized to practice all land surveying and engineering surveying. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.020 Mergers not automatic with single ownership.

20.24.025 Application.

The applicant shall submit an application to the Community Development Department Services Planning Bureau with the following statement and exhibits:

A. One copy of a preliminary title report providing the legal description of the properties included in the application dated not more than three (3) months prior to submittal of the application.

B. Signatures of all record owners included in the application.

C. Legal description, Exhibit A, and a plat, Exhibit B, of parcel(s). Each parcel proposed for merger shall be described separately.

D. Site plan legibly drawn to a scale of sufficient size to show full detail, including the information set forth in Section 20.24.030. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.030 Lot merger plat map requirements.

20.24.035 Accompanying data.

The subdivider shall file copies of drawings, statements, and other data with the Community Development Department as applicable to the proposed lot merger, including, but not limited to the following:

A. Easement documents (if any) and reference maps. Applicant(s) must also submit proof that each affected lot was created legally.

The following are legal lots:

1. Lots created by Parcel Map or Tract Map.

2. Lots created or intended to be created by metes and bounds or exception clause(s) prior to March 4, 1972.

3. Lots created by records of survey recorded prior to April 4, 1952.

B. A Certificate of Compliance or a Parcel Map will be required if any of the affected lots do not meet the above criteria. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.040 Findings required.

Lot mergers shall be required if the Zoning Administrator, at a public hearing, makes any of the following findings:

A. Any of the contiguous parcels or units held by the same owner do not conform to the minimum size standards as required by the zoning regulations, and at least one (1) of such contiguous parcels is not developed with a separate building for which a permit has been issued by the City; or

B. A single project is developed on contiguous lots in such a manner that one (1) or more of these recorded lots could be sold separately from this project but will result in reduction of required parking, setbacks, open spaces, or violation of other development standards as specified in the current zoning regulations.

C. That the design of the lot merger or the type of improvements is consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP) as it considers projected sea level rise, slope stability, hazards, and potential storm flooding for the life on the project based on available FEMA information.

D. Lot mergers cannot exceed five or more parcels or lots. Multiple lot mergers to consolidate five or more parcels is not permitted and a parcel map shall be required. The tentative parcel map may be waived. Parcel maps shall be based upon a field survey. Record data parcel maps are not permitted. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.045 Initiation.

A lot merger may be initiated by the record owner of the lots to be merged or by the Community Development Director. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.050 Notice to affected property owner(s).

The owner(s) of the property to be affected by the merger shall be notified in writing by certified mail and given the opportunity to submit evidence that the property does not meet the criteria to require a merger. Such notice shall specify the date, time, and place when the Zoning Administrator will hold a public hearing on the matter. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.055 Zoning Administrator action.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the Zoning Administrator shall require that a lot merger be filed if any of the findings as stated in Section 20.24.030 is made. The Zoning Administrator's decision shall be transmitted to the affected property owners. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.060 Recording.

Upon a determination that there has been a lot merger, the Community Development Director shall file a notice of lot merger and a Certificate of Compliance for record with the County Recorder, specifying the names of the record owners and particularly describing the real property involved. A copy of said notice shall be sent to the Director of Public Works for recordation on the official maps of the City. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.065 Monumentation of a Lot Merger.

Upon recording the deeds reflecting the modified lot lines in a Lot Merger, the applicant shall place tagged, durable monuments at all remaining lot corners in accordance with Sections 8771 and 8772 of the California Business and Professions Code and shall file a Parcel Map or Record of Survey in accordance with Section 8762 of the California Business and Professions Code. See Section 20.08.165 for Monument Standards. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.24.070 Expiration.

An approved City initiated lot merger shall expire thirty-six (36) months after its approval if it has not been recorded, except when a time extension has been granted by the Community Development Director or stipulated designee. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.28 ILLEGAL LOTS AND CERTIFICATES OF COMPLIANCE

20.28.010 Applicability and criteria for approval.

A. Applicability. Illegal lots refer to remnant parcels that were not originally created legally through a recorded map procedure consistent with the State of California Subdivision Map Act and applicable City Subdivision Ordinance. These remnant parcels are often nonconforming in terms of meeting lot area and other dimensional requirements such as lot width and length.

B. A certificate of compliance may be issued for illegal lots which meet any one of the following criteria:

1. The lot division creating the illegal lot was done prior to April 4, 1975;

2. The lot division creating the illegal lot after April 4, 1975, was the result of the Planning Commission waiver of parcel map; or

3. The lot division creating the illegal lot after April 4, 1975, was the result of a lot line adjustment approved by the Zoning Administrator.

C. A certificate of compliance shall not be issued for any lot or parcel that does not meet the following standards:

1. Has a legal vehicular and pedestrian access to a public or private street;

2. The certification of an unrecorded lot line does not create a zoning violation for building setbacks, or a standards variance or modification permit for a lesser setback was approved;

3. The lot or parcel has a minimum width of twenty-five feet (25'), and a contiguous parcel(s) is held by the same owner and one (1) of the parcels is vacant;

4. The parcels have been developed to their full development potential under the existing zoning and used as one (1) parcel or lot;

5. Has water or sewer services that meet the requirements of the Long Beach Water Department Rules and Regulations; and

6. That issuance of the certificate of compliance is consistent with the Local Coastal Plan (LCP) as it considers projected sea level rise and potential storm flooding for the life on the project based on available FEMA information. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.020 Conditional approval.

When an illegal lot is eligible for a certificate of compliance but the design or improvement does not comply with the provisions of these regulations or other local ordinances, the City may, as a condition to granting a certificate of compliance, impose such conditions as would have been applicable to the division of the property at the time the current owner of record acquired the property. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.030 Deed restriction.

When an illegal lot is substandard in size or has limited access, a deed restriction shall be recorded to restrict the type of land use and its density. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.040 Conditions required for building permit issuance.

For illegal lots created prior to April 4, 1975, no building permit shall be issued for the property until the current property owner:

A. Provides a separate sewer connection to the public sewer or obtains necessary easements to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works;

B. Eliminates all cross-lot drainage and cross-lot conveyance of gas and water service laterals, or obtains necessary easements to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works; and

C. Agrees to repair all damaged off-site improvements including curb, gutter, sidewalk, and alley adjoining the site to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works.

The owner shall furnish a copy of the above conditions and requirements to the prospective buyer prior to the close of any escrow involving the sale or lease of condominium or other common interest units on the parcel. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.050 Created before April 4, 1975—Filing.

The request shall be made in writing on a form provided by the Community Development Department along with the following data:

A. A title report containing a legal description of the property, a chain of title, and easement information;

B. A plot plan legibly drawn to scale to show dimensions of the property, locations of existing and including, but not limited to, proposed buildings, setbacks of all existing and proposed buildings to property lines, pedestrian and vehicular access points, locations of utility lines and easements, and other information to determine compliance with established standards in Section 20.24.010; and

C. A document verifying that the division was lawfully created prior to April 4, 1975. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.060 Created before April 4, 1975—Certificate of compliance.

Where the request complies with the provisions of this Section, a certificate of compliance, or a conditional certificate of compliance, shall be issued by the Community Development Department. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.070 Created before April 4, 1975—Recording.

Following issuance of the certificate of compliance, the Community Development Department shall record the certificate with the County Recorder. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.080 Created before April 4, 1975—Map.

After issuance of a certificate of compliance, the Community Development Department shall transmit a copy of such certificate to the Director of Public Works and this new recorded lot or division shall be shown on the official maps of the City of Long Beach. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.28.090 Created after April 4, 1975.

A certificate of compliance shall be issued and recorded for any illegal lot created after April 4, 1975 if the filing of a (final) parcel map for such lot is waived or a lot line adjustment for the lot is approved by the Zoning Administrator. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.30 COMMON INTEREST SUBDIVISIONS

20.30.010 Applicability.

Common Interest Subdivisions provide for ownership of separate units as well as interest in commonly owned areas that are managed and maintained by a homeowners' association. As further described in the definitions section, Common Interest Subdivisions include the following:

A. Airspace Condominium (residential zones), and

B. Planned Unit Development. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.30.020 Purpose.

Common Interest Subdivisions allow for the creative use of project sites to lay out development to address physical site constraints and cluster residential units in more creative and functional fashions. They are often employed to create small lot subdivisions which provide for many of the amenities of traditional residential subdivisions, but allow for more efficient use of sites, and net more workforce units that are affordable to those first entering the housing market. These types of common interest projects run the gamut from smaller infill sites to larger development projects with more common spaces and shared facilities. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.30.030 Property development standards for airspace condominiums.

Within Airspace Condominium projects, property development standards, including (but not limited to) density, yards, and coverage, shall apply with respect to the exterior boundary lines (property lines) of the proposed subdivision and not to individual dwelling units within the project. Area outside of units is owned and maintained by a homeowners' association. Density may be averaged over the entire site, and separation between units is not governed by the Zoning Regulations yard requirements. Units may be attached or detached or even stacked. Each unit must meet the private open space requirements, and a common open space must be provided on site. Typically, the map consists of one common lot with a condominium plan identifying the outline of each unit. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.30.040 Property development standards for planned unit developments.

Planned Unit Developments create small fee simple lots. Within Planned Unit Development subdivisions, property development standards shall apply to each lot within the project unless different standards are approved through the Planned Unit Development zoning process (Section 21.31.300 of the Zoning Regulations). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.30.050 Property improvement standards for common interest subdivisions.

A. Common open space, recreation facilities and driveways may be contained within easements or a commonly owned separate lot.

B. Common interest subdivisions must provide a method of common area maintenance by means of an association or agreement. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.30.060 Application requirements for common interest subdivisions.

In addition to application submittal requirements for Tentative Maps provided in Chapter 20.12, the following additional information is required to complete an application submittal:

A. Common interest subdivisions are subject to the City's Site Plan Review process and require a separate application for Site Plan Review. In summary, a development plan that includes the following information will be required:

1. A site plan with proposed building footprints with property boundaries. All dimensions shall be clearly labeled.

2. Proposed building elevations with dimensions and floor plans.

3. A grading and site drainage plan.

4. Parking stalls, driveways and associated public improvements shall be provided and clearly dimensioned.

5. A list of property statistics, including any proposed exceptions, shall be provided on the plans. The statistics shall identify how the project complies with relevant property development standards.

6. A landscape plan.

7. Commonly owned parcels or easements and methods of maintenance (association) shall be clearly identified on the plans. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.31 AIRSPACE SUBDIVISIONS

20.31.010 Applicability.

As further described in the definitions section, Chapter 20.36, Airspace Subdivisions differ from Common Interest Subdivisions in that they do not share interest in a common area within the map boundaries. Instead, airspace subdivisions divide property ownership into three-dimensional spaces, often stacked upon one another. Airspace Subdivisions are not allowed within residential zoning districts and are intended to serve mixed use, multistory buildings within all commercial zoning districts where permitted. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.31.020 Tentative map requirements.

A. All tentative maps creating airspace lots shall be required to incorporate a deed restriction which ensures the following:

1. Airspace lots shall have access to appropriate public rights of way by means of one or more easements or other entitlements to use, in a form satisfactory to the Public Works Director, City Attorney, and Building Official.

2. Parking requirements, inclusionary housing requirements, Building Code requirements, all other applicable property development standards required by the Zoning Regulations, and any other technical code requirements affecting the development of the property, shall be determined for the air space lots as if all lots in the air space subdivision were merged into the same lot.

B. Individual buildings that are subdivided by an airspace map shall be reviewed as a single building for purposes of the building code, zoning code, and General Plan policies. Property development standards including, but not limited to density, lot coverage, floor area ratio, parking, height, and setbacks shall be calculated as if the subdivided building were within one lot.

1. In addition to the application submittal requirements for tentative maps, the tentative map shall provide cross-sectional drawings showing how the proposed building or buildings are to be divided into ownership boundaries. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.32 CONDOMINIUM, COMMUNITY APARTMENT PROJECT AND STOCK COOPERATIVE CONVERSION*

ARTICLE 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

20.32.010 Purpose.

A. This Section shall provide for the regulations of ownership conversion projects where ownership of existing buildings is subdivided into common interest ownership whether such subdivision involves residential to residential; residential to commercial/industrial; commercial/industrial to commercial/industrial or commercial/industrial to residential use conversions. Common interest conversions include:

1. Conversions to condominium as defined in Section 1350 of the Civil Code;

2. Conversion to community apartment projects, as defined in Section 11004 of the Business and Professions Code; or

3. Conversion to stock cooperatives, as defined in Section 11003.2 of the Business and Professions Code.

B. This Section recognizes that a conversion is different from a new construction in that the owners of a unit in a conversion take responsibility for a building built under standards that may be less stringent than those that are currently deemed necessary, and existing tenants may be displaced by a conversion. A conversion also differs from a rental property in that the unit owner assumes long-term responsibility for the unit owned, for the common areas of the project, and the higher level of economic cost required to own instead of rent.

C. The intent of this Section is thus to provide increased ownership opportunities for all segments of the population; to mitigate the hardship caused by displacement of tenants (particularly those in low to moderate cost housing, those who are elderly, families with low income, and other special needs households; and to assure that conversion projects maintain long-term economic value for the owner. Therefore, such conversions shall be permitted, provided that they comply with the minimum standards, and meet the required findings subject to the action of the decision-making body set forth in this Section for the type of conversion proposed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.025 Exclusions—Certification procedures.

A. Notwithstanding any provision of Section 20.02.050 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, the conversion of a community apartment project or a stock cooperative to another form of ownership shall be excluded from all other provisions of Chapter 20.32 if the owner seeking such exclusion applies for and is granted a certification establishing entitlement to the exclusion under Section 66412 of the California Government Code pursuant to the provisions of this Section 20.32.025.

*State law reference—Provisions on improvement security, Gov. Code § 66499 et seq.

B. In order to be granted such certification, an owner shall apply for such certification, and the application shall include sufficient evidence and documentation to enable the certifying authority to make each and every requirement set forth in Subsection C of this Section.

1. Each application shall be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee to reimburse the City for its cost of accepting and processing the application in an amount as set forth from time to time by resolution of the City Council.

2. Each application shall also be accompanied by, and shall not be deemed complete unless accompanied by the following:

a. A statement applying for certification of exclusion signed by the person/party authorized to act for those with record title interest in the property for which the exclusion is sought;

b. In the case of the conversion of a community apartment project, evidence that the provisions of California Government Code Subdivision 66412(g), relating to the property proposed for exclusion have been met (Sections 20.32.025(C)(1));

c. In the case of the conversion of stock cooperatives, evidence that the provisions of California Government Code Section 66412(h) have been met (Section 20.32.025(C)(2);

d. In the case of either the conversion of community apartment or stock cooperative, an enforceable plan for assuring, to the satisfaction of the City, that the noticing, purchase option, and tenant disclosure provisions of Sections 20.32.040, 20.32.050 and 20.32.060 will be met; and

e. Evidence of insurable title in the project proposed for conversion.

C. The Community Development Department shall issue a certificate of exclusion for each project for which application is lawfully made if, and only if, the Community Development Director, or his/her lawful designee, makes the following findings based on the application reviewed by him after acceptance as complete:

1. That, in the case of a community apartment project, all of the following requirements are met:

a. The property was subdivided before January 1, 1982, as evidenced by a recorded deed creating the stock cooperative, an assignment of lease, or issuance of shares to a stockholder.

b. Subject to compliance with Sections 4290 and 4295, or with Sections 6626 and 6628, of the Civil Code, all conveyances and other documents necessary to effectuate the conversion shall be executed by the required number of owners in the cooperative as specified in the bylaws or other organizational documents. If the bylaws or other organizational documents do not expressly specify the number of owners necessary to execute the conveyances and other documents, a majority of owners in the cooperative shall be required to execute the conveyances or other documents. Conveyances and other documents executed under the foregoing provisions shall be binding upon and affect the interests of all parties in the cooperative.

c. If subdivision, as defined in Section 66424, of the property occurred after January 1, 1980, both of the following requirements are met:

(1) A final or parcel map of that subdivision was approved by the local agency and recorded, with all of the conditions of that map remaining in effect after the conversion.

(2) No more than 49 percent of the shares in the project were owned by any one person as defined in Section 17, including an incorporator or director of the cooperative, on January 1, 1982.

2. That, in the case of stock cooperative project, all of the following requirements are met:

a. The property was subdivided before January 1, 1982, as evidenced by a recorded deed creating the stock cooperative, an assignment of lease, or issuance of shares to a stockholder.

b. A person renting a unit in a cooperative shall be entitled at the time of conversion to all tenant rights in state or local law, including, but not limited to, rights respecting first refusal, notice, and displacement and relocation benefits.

c. Subject to compliance with Sections 4290 and 4295, or with Sections 6626 and 6628, of the Civil Code, all conveyances and other documents necessary to effectuate the conversion shall be executed by the required number of owners in the cooperative as specified in the bylaws or other organizational documents. If the bylaws or other organizational documents do not expressly specify the number of owners necessary to execute the conveyances and other documents, a majority of owners in the cooperative shall be required to execute the conveyances or other documents. Conveyances and other documents executed under the foregoing provisions shall be binding upon and affect the interests of all parties in the cooperative.

d. If subdivision, as defined in Section 66424, of the property occurred after January 1, 1980, both of the following requirements are met:

(1) A final or parcel map of that subdivision was approved by the local agency and recorded, with all of the conditions of that map remaining in effect after the conversion.

(2) No more than 49 percent of the shares in the project were owned by any one person as defined in Section 17, including an incorporator or director of the cooperative, on January 1, 1982.

e. The local agency certifies that the above requirements were satisfied if the local agency, by ordinance, provides for that certification.

3. With either a conversion of a community apartment or a stock cooperative, that evidence of insurable title in the property proposed for conversion has been filed with the City.

D. Each certificate of exclusion issued by the Community Development Director or designee shall, following issuance, be recorded in the office of the Recorder of the County of Los Angeles and shall, upon such recordation, be deemed in full force and effect.

E. For purposes of review under the California Environmental Quality Act, certificates issued pursuant to this Section shall be deemed categorically exempt.

F. As used in this Section "certifying authority" means the Community Development Director of the City of Long Beach or his/her designee. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 2. RESIDENTIAL RENTAL TO RESIDENTIAL/COMMERCIAL/INDUSTRIAL OWNERSHIP REQUIREMENTS

20.32.030 Generally.

The provisions of this Article shall apply to any project consisting of the conversion of residential rental unit use to an ownership unit of any use. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.040 Tenant notice.

A current property owner shall be responsible to give each tenant and each prospective tenant all applicable notices, documents, and rights now or hereafter as required by these regulations and State Law. These notices shall be documented and receipts of such notices by each tenant or prospective tenant shall be furnished to the Community Development Department. These notices shall include, but are not limited to:

A. Each tenant shall be given written notice of the intent to seek a conversion a minimum of sixty (60) days prior to the filing of a tentative map for the subject rental property.

B. Each tenant shall be given written notice 10 days prior that an application for a public report will be submitted to the Bureau of Real Estate, that the period for each tenant's right to purchase begins with the issuance of the final report, and that the report will be available upon request. Such notice shall contain, as a minimum, an explanation of the tenant's rights and benefits as a result of the conversion, and a statement that no evictions will occur as a result of conversion for at least one hundred eighty (180) days.

C. Each tenant shall be given written notice of the public hearing at least ten (10) days prior to the public hearing on the tentative map before the Planning Commission and Zoning Administrator. Such notice shall be as specified by the Community Development Director and shall contain, as a minimum, an estimate as to the length of time before the conversion, if approved, would result in the tenant's eviction; an explanation of the tenant's rights and benefits if the conversion is approved; and the grounds upon which the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator can deny the request for conversion.

D. A copy of the agenda and staff report to the Planning Commission and Zoning Administrator on the proposed conversion shall be delivered to each tenant of the subject property at least three (3) days prior to the hearing date.

E. Each tenant shall receive written notification within ten (10) days of approval of a tentative map for the proposed conversion.

F. Each tenant shall receive written notification at least ten (10) days prior to consideration of final map approval for the subject conversion by the City Council, or Director of Public Works, as applicable. Such notices shall provide an estimate of the length of time prior to eviction. For all projects, relocation assistance/benefits shall be provided in accordance with Long Beach Municipal Code, Chapter 21.60 of the Zoning Regulations, and State Law. The subdivider shall specify when the tenants will be eligible for these benefits and eviction shall not occur for at least one hundred eighty (180) days after the date as specified.

G. For a project with five (5) units or more, each tenant shall receive written notice within five (5) days of the issuance of the final subdivision public report by the State Bureau of Real Estate. A copy of this report shall be available to tenants on request.

H. No eviction shall occur as a result of conversion for at least one hundred eighty (180) days from approval of a tentative map, and the end of the ninety (90) day period of the exclusive option to purchase the unit. If a property owner does not offer the units for sale to the tenants within two (2) years after approval of a final map, the minimum one hundred eighty (180) days' notice prior to the eviction including a ninety (90) day exclusive option to purchase period shall be provided to each tenant prior to eviction when the owner decides to offer the units for sale. Within the designated time periods prior to notice of eviction, tenant rental rates shall not be increased.

I. Very low- or low-income households shall not be displaced from housing unless first given prior written notice of the intended conversion, on a form provided or approved by the Housing & Neighborhood Services Bureau, at least eighteen (18) months prior to the intended date of displacement. Less notification time may be permitted in accordance with Chapter 21.60. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.050 Tenant option to purchase.

Each tenant shall be given notice of an exclusive right to contract for the purchase of an occupied unit, or other available rental units in the building upon the same terms and conditions that such units will be initially offered to the general public or on terms more favorable to the tenant: This right shall run for a period of not less than ninety (90) days from:

A. The date of approval of a final map (for four (4) units or less); or

B. The date of issuance of the final subdivision public report (for five (5) units or more) unless the tenant gives prior written notice of their intention not to exercise the right. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.060 New tenant disclosure.

A. Whenever, after serving of the notice of intention to submit a tentative map for conversion (or after completion of a multi-family dwelling for which a condominium, community apartments or stock cooperative map has received tentative approval), the owner rents or leases any dwelling unit affected by such map, the person to whom the dwelling is to be rented or leased shall be informed of the owner's intention to convert. Such disclosure shall occur prior to finalization of any rental or lease agreement. Such disclosure shall be a single page document stating that an application for conversion will be or has been submitted and that the prospective tenant should consider that at some future date the building will be converted.

The prospective tenant shall sign such document acknowledging that he has been notified of the potential conversion.

B. Any person so notified shall not be entitled to the moving expenses or displacement benefits specified in this Section. However, a tenant who resides in the complex when the first notice of intention to convert is given or when first notified of the intent to convert, shall still be entitled to the moving expenses or displacement benefits specified in this Section regardless of notice prior to execution of a rental or lease agreement. The disclosure document shall also disclose that the prospective tenant will not be entitled to these expenses or benefits. Any tenant who does not receive such notification shall be entitled to these expenses or benefits.

C. Regardless of each prospective tenant being informed of the proposed conversion prior to finalization of any rent or lease agreement, a notice of such intended conversion shall be posted and maintained at all times in a highly visible location outside the Manager's office or unit or the rental office, if any. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.085 Harassment.

After approval of the tentative map, action by the landlord which is intended to cause the tenant to quit the premises prior to one hundred eighty (180) day notice, including unreasonable rent increases, shall be considered harassment and shall be grounds for denial of a final map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.090 Code compliance.

The owner seeking a conversion shall file a request with the Building and Safety Bureau for a special code compliance inspection. The report from such inspection of all units to be converted must be received by Planning Bureau before an application for a tentative map for a conversion is considered complete. Such report shall list all violations relating to the applicable requirements in Title 18 of the Long Beach Municipal Code which may cause health or safety hazards as determined by the Building and Safety Bureau. The subdivider shall correct all listed violations prior to approval of the final map. Such fees as are established by City Council resolution shall be paid for the inspection and for any subsequent inspection as is necessary to ensure that corrections have been completed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.100 Major system corrections.

The owners shall submit with the application for tentative map approval for conversion inspection reports from State licensed contractors for the heating and plumbing systems of the project, as well as reports for an inspection of the roof and an inspection for termites if applicable. All such inspections shall have been conducted within three (3) months prior to the submittal of the tentative map. Any corrections or repairs recommended as reasonably necessary within the next five (5) years shall be provided for prior to approval of the final map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.110 Sound attenuation.

Sound attenuation in all wall and floor-to-ceiling assemblies abutting other dwelling units, or hallways shall be required to meet a minimum Sound Transmission Class (STC) as required by Title 18 of the Long Beach Municipal Code. Whenever there are practical difficulties involved in carrying out the provisions of this Section, a code modification may be considered pursuant to Section 18.03.050 for justifiable cause. To support a requested code modification, documentation shall be provided from a third-party acoustic engineer on sound attenuation conditions between units vertically and horizontally as well as exterior noise. Recommended improvements should be identified to ensure compliance to the maximum extent practical. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.120 Smoke and Carbon Monoxide Detection equipment.

A smoke and carbon monoxide device(s) shall be provided for each residential unit. A device or devices shall be located and mounted as required in Title 18 of the Long Beach Municipal Code. All required detectors shall be located in accordance with approved manufacturer's instructions and shall receive their primary power from the buildings wiring. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.130 Parking requirements.

The minimum off-street parking shall be provided in accordance with the current standards in Chapter 21.41 or Title 22 of the Municipal Code, Planned Developments, and Specific Plans, except as specified in this Section. The following exceptions apply:

• If the conversion meets applicable affordability standards in accordance with Government Code Sections 65915 through 65918, the project may use the allowed lower parking requirements included in this code.

• If the project is located within a one-half (1/2) mile radius from a major public transit stop as defined in Section 21155 of the Public Resources Code, no parking shall be required pursuant to Government Code Section 65863.2 for residential and commercial projects or other development projects unless the City makes written findings, within 30 days of the receipt of a completed application, that not imposing or enforcing minimum automobile parking requirements on the development would have a substantially negative impact, supported by a preponderance of the evidence in the record.

• If the project is outside of the half-mile radius of a major public transit stop but within the Transit Priority Area, Transportation System Demand Management (TDMs) strategies may be implemented, subject to Site Plan Review.

º The covenants, conditions and restrictions (CC&Rs) shall demonstrate how the Homeowners Association (HOA) will manage the strategies implemented in the TDMs for the project.

º Conversion projects in the Coastal Zone do not qualify for TDMs, except for areas within the Southeast Area Specific Plan (SEASP). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.140 Distribution of required parking.

When parking is required, no less than one (1) parking space that may be independently accessed shall permanently be available to each dwelling unit, except that upon request, the Site Plan Review Committee may waive this requirement and allow unbundled parking (parking spaces rented or sold separately, rather than automatically included with the rent or purchase price of a residential unit), subject to the meeting following:

A. The covenants, conditions and restrictions (CC&Rs) shall demonstrate how the Homeowners Association (HOA) will manage the unbundled parking for the project. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.150 Building security.

Each unit shall be subject to the building security provisions in accordance with Title 18 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, which shall include, but is not limited to the following:

A. Keying.

B. Door Jambs.

C. Locks.

D. Doors.

E. Hinges.

F. Windows and Sliding Glass Doors.

G. Street Numbers.

H. Lighting. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.160 Energy conservation requirements.

An energy audit of the buildings shall be performed that evaluates how existing conditions can more closely reflect current Building Code requirements. A report with the audit's findings shall be prepared to the approval of the City's Chief Building Official. At the Building Official's discretion in terms of feasibility to implement, the following minimum energy conservation standards shall be met or exceeded for all conversions prior to approval of the final map:

A. Insulation. Insulation in ceilings and attics exposed to the exterior of the building shall be such that the resistive value of the ceilings and attics shall be of "R-value" of at least R-19.

B. Weather Stripping. All operable doors and windows opening to the exterior or to uncondi-tioned areas such as garages shall be fully weatherstripped, gasketed or otherwise treated to limit temperature infiltration.

C. Pools. Swimming pool covers shall be installed for existing swimming pools.

D. Separate Utility Meters. All units shall be converted to separate utility meters except when common water heating systems are provided or when the type of common meter system is such that it is not reasonably feasible to convert to a separate meter system. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.170 Minimum size.

No conversion shall be permitted if more than fifteen percent (15%) of the total number of units in the conversion have a unit size less than four hundred fifty (450) square feet, unless the project involves micro units as defined in Chapter 21.15.1756 and meets the special standards within Chapter 21.45.600.

A. Conversion projects involving micro-units shall be applicable until the 500-unit cap of micro-units is satisfied, unless extended by City Council Action. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.175 Existing Conditions Report required.

An existing conditions report shall be provided to determine if right-of-way and utility improvements, as well as other site improvements will be required for the development. The following are typical project improvements that may require upgrading as part of the conversion request:

A. Right-of-way improvements abutting the property including sidewalks, curbs cuts, curbs, gutters, driveway approaches, alleys and parkway landscaping including trees.

B. Repaving and striping of on-site hardscapes such as parking areas and driveways.

C. Utilities such as gas lines, water mains, and sewer laterals, and other utilities.

D. Building façade upgrades such as siding replacement, plaster patching, new windows, and painting.

E. Landscaping improvements for beautification, energy efficiency, reducing water runoff and reducing water use.

F. Open space enhancements and community recreation facilities. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.180 Improvement Plan.

Based on the recommendations of the existing conditions report identified in Section 20.32.175, an improvement plan shall be submitted to the Community Development Department that includes detailed information for upgrading the proposed project to the standards in effect for construction of new buildings, to the extent financially and practically feasible with regard to building/architectural design, site improvements, parking, open space and landscaping. No improvement plan shall be deemed adequate for purposes of processing a tentative map for condominiums until approved by the Community Development Director, or the Director's designated representative, as complying with the requirements of this section. Submittal requirements include, but are not limited to, the following:

A. A site plan showing all existing and proposed structures, including walls and fences, landscaping, site amenities, irrigation systems, driveways, and parking areas, including the information set forth in Section 20.24.030. The site plan shall be consistent with the current California Building Code Section 107.2.5 stating a site plan shall have an accurate boundary.

B. A statement of the current and proposed ownership of the subject property and its current and proposed use.

C. A description of the site including its overall area.

D. The number of existing and proposed dwelling units in the project and including the number of bedrooms in each unit.

E. A copy of the current management program, as well as a proposed management program that includes requirements for oversight of parking assignments, operations standards, structural maintenance, and a schedule for all types of long-term project maintenance needs.

F. The plan shall identify existing facilities and plan improvements to help enhance the quality of the development such as laundry facilities, heating and cooling systems, and on-site storage areas for the use of tenants.

G. A statement of proposed assessments and fees to be charged to owners of dwelling units after conversion to condominiums.

H. An inspection report prepared by a third-party substantiating that the full extent of necessary improvements is included in the submitted improvement plan.

I. A market rate study. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.185 Typical conditions.

A. The subdivider shall commission a current structural pest control inspection report prepared by a licensed professional, showing the subject premises to be free of evidence of termite, dry-rot, fungi and/or damage therefrom. Such a report shall be deemed current for a period of not more than ninety (90) days following the date of inspection.

B. The subdivider shall prepare conditions, covenants, and restrictions (CC&R's) to be approved by the Community Development Director and the City Attorney prior to final map approval. CC&R's shall contain the following provisions:

1. Creation of a homeowners' association (HOA) to enforce the CC&R's and provide for professional, perpetual maintenance of all common areas including private driveways, drainage, on-site utilities, parking lot areas, walls and fences, lighting, and landscaping.

2. The HOA shall require residents to pay a monthly fee to help offset long-term maintenance costs of the buildings and other improvements. Additional special assessments may be required to pay for major upgrades or repairs beyond HOA revenue generated by monthly dues as a maintenance fund.

C. The subdivider shall provide a one-year minimum condominium warranty to residents. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.190 Required findings.

A tentative map for the conversion shall be approved if the following findings can be made:

A. The submitted improvement plan has been approved by the Community Development Director and demonstrates that the project will provide safe and energy efficient housing, adequate parking, and typical residential facilities and amenities.

B. The project will provide ownership opportunities for residents consistent with goals of the City's adopted Housing Element.

C. A portion of the project units will be available to home buyers in qualifying affordable income categories consistent with the City's Inclusionary Ordinance.

D. To the extent feasible, the project has been improved to closely comply with the current development standards in this Title and Titles 21/22.

E. Approval of the conversion will not be detrimental to the welfare of future residents of the project, surrounding property owners and residents, and the general public.

F. The vacancy rate for multifamily dwelling units in the City is greater than five percent (5%).

G. Existing tenants were notified of the conversion consistent with the provisions included in Section 20.32.040, provided with the option to purchase a unit consistent with Section 20.32.050, and advised of potential moving expenses or displacement benefits consistent with Section 20.32.060. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.195 Exceptions.

For exceptions, see Article 5 of this chapter. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 3. COMMERCIAL/INDUSTRIAL/RENTAL TO COMMERCIAL/INDUSTRIAL/RESIDENTIAL OWNERSHIP

20.32.200 Generally.

The provisions of this Article shall apply to any project consisting of the conversion of commercial/industrial rental to commercial/industrial/residential ownership. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.210 Tenant notice.

A current property owner shall be responsible to give each tenant and each prospective tenant all applicable notices and rights now or hereafter as required by these regulations and State Law. Prior to sending out notices, the property owner shall ask tenants of their preferred language for the notice. A draft version of the notices shall be submitted to the Community Development Department for review and approval to wording and format prior to sending to tenants. Upon request by a visually impaired or blind recipient, special notice options shall be made available such as a braille notice, mailed CD with audible notice, or a follow-up phone call from City staff to read the notice. These notices shall be documented and receipts of such notices by each tenant or prospective tenant shall be furnished to the Community Development Department. The notices shall include but is not limited to:

A. Each tenant shall be given written notice of the public hearing at least ten (10) days prior to the public hearing on the tentative map before the Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator. Such notice shall be as specified by the Community Development Director and shall contain, as a minimum, an estimate as to the length of time before the conversion, if approved, would result in the tenant's eviction; and explanation of the tenant's rights and benefits if the conversion is approved; and the grounds upon which the Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator can deny the request for conversion.

B. Each tenant shall receive written notification within ten (10) days of approval of a tentative map for the proposed conversion. Such notice shall contain, as a minimum, an explanation of the tenant's rights and benefits as a result of the conversion, and a statement that no evictions will occur as a result of conversion for at least one hundred eighty (180) days.

C. Each tenant shall receive written notice of approval of a final map within ten (10) days after the approval. Such notice shall also specify that each tenant shall have a ninety (90) day exclusive option to purchase a unit, that no eviction shall occur as a result of conversion prior to the end of that ninety (90) day period. If the property owner has no intention to sell units within two (2) years after approval of a final map, such intention shall be clearly stated and a minimum of one hundred eighty (180) day notice prior to the eviction and a ninety (90) day period for an option to purchase shall be provided to each tenant. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.220 Tenant option to purchase.

Consistent with the noticing review process and options described in Section 20.32.210, each tenant shall be given notice of an exclusive right to contract for the purchase of an occupied unit, or other available rental unit(s) in the building upon the same terms and conditions that such units will be initially offered to the general public or on terms more favorable to the tenant; the right shall run for a period of not less than ninety (90) days from the date of approval of a final map, unless the tenant gives prior written notice of his intention not to exercise the right. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.230 New tenant disclosure.

A. Whenever, after submittal of a tentative map for conversion (or after completion of building for which a tentative map for approval of a condominium or stock cooperative has received approval) each prospective tenant shall be informed of the owner's intention to convert. Such disclosure shall occur prior to finalization of any rental or lease agreement. Such disclosure shall be a single page document stating that an application for conversion has been submitted and that the prospective tenant should consider that at some future date the building will be converted. The prospective tenant shall sign such document acknowledging that he has been notified of the potential conversion.

B. The disclosure document shall also disclose that the prospective tenant will not be entitled to benefits or rights as required by these regulations. However, any tenant who does not receive such notification shall be entitled to these benefits.

C. Regardless of each prospective tenant being informed of the proposed conversion prior to finalization of any rent or lease agreement, a notice of such intended conversion shall be posted and maintained at all times in a highly visible location on the site. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.240 Parking.

The minimum off-street parking shall be provided in accordance with the current standards in Chapter 21.41 or Title 22 of the Municipal Code, Planned Developments, and Specific Plans, except as specified in this Section. The following exceptions apply:

A. If the conversion meets applicable affordability standards in accordance with Government Code Sections 65915 through 65918, the project may use the allowed lower parking requirements included in this code.

B. If the project is located within one-half (1/2) mile radius from a major public transit stop as defined in Section 21155 of the Public Resources Code, no parking shall be required as pursuant to Government Code Section 65863.2 for residential and commercial projects or other development projects unless the City makes written findings, within 30 days of the receipt of a completed application, that not imposing or enforcing minimum automobile parking requirements on the development would have a substantially negative impact, supported by a preponderance of the evidence in the record.

C. If the project is outside of the half-mile radius of a major public transit stop but with the Transit Priority Area, Transportation System Demand Management (TDMs) strategies may be implemented, subject to Site Plan Review Committee.

1. The covenants, conditions, and restrictions (CC&Rs) shall demonstrate how the Homeowners Association (HOA) will manage the strategies implemented in the TDMs for the project.

2. Conversion projects in the Coastal Zone do not qualify for TDMs, except for areas within the Southeast Area Specific Plan (SEASP).

D. A commercial property may be exempted from the current parking standard of Chapter 21.41 and Title 22 for a commercial condominium conversion project if parking for the development, at a minimum, reflects the parking requirement for which it was originally approved. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.250 Building code compliance.

The owner seeking conversion shall file a request with the Building and Safety Bureau for a special code compliance inspection. The report from such inspection of all units to be converted must be received by the Planning Bureau before an application for a tentative map for a conversion is considered complete. Such report shall list all violations relating to the applicable requirements in Title 18 of the Long Beach Municipal Code which may cause health or safety hazards as determined by the Building and Safety Bureau.

The subdivider shall correct all listed violations prior to approval of the final map.

Such fees as are established by City Council resolution shall be paid for the inspection and for any subsequent inspection as is necessary to ensure that corrections have been completed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.260 Major system corrections.

The owner shall submit with the application for tentative map approval for conversion, inspection reports from State licensed contractors for the heating and plumbing systems of the project, as well as reports for an inspection of the roof and an inspection for termites. All such inspections shall have been conducted within three (3) months prior to the submittal of the tentative map. Any corrections or repairs recommended as reasonably necessary within the next five (5) years shall be provided for prior to approval of the final map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

23.32.265 Exemptions.

For exceptions, see Article 5 of this Chapter. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 4. MIXED USE CONVERSIONS.

20.32.510 Conversions.

In any project in which conversion to mixed residential unit use and commercial/industrial use is proposed, the applicable provisions of Articles 2 and 3, as determined by the City shall apply to the use proposed for each of the individual units. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 5. EXCEPTIONS AND SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

20.32.520 Exceptions.

Generally, exceptions to any of the requirements of this Chapter 20.32 may be granted, provided that the exception will not be inconsistent with General Plan, the intent of this Chapter 20.32 or the intent of specific provisions being exempted, and based on written findings of fact in the record that support this conclusion. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.530 Exceptions—Conversions to limited equity cooperatives.

Conversion of a residential rental project to limited equity cooperatives may be excepted from the requirements of Sections 20.32.110, 20.32.130, 20.32.140, 20.32.150, 20.32.160.D, 20.32.170. Sections 20.32.070 and 20.32.080 may also be excepted for any tenant wishing to become a member of the cooperative. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.540 Exceptions—Conversions of community apartment or stock cooperatives to condominiums.

Conversion of an existing community apartment or a stock cooperative, which was established prior to August 4, 1978, to a residential condominium may be excepted from the requirements of Sections 20.32.110, 20.32.130, 20.32.140, 20.32.150, 20.32.160.A, 20.32.160.D, and 20.32.170. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.550 Special requirements—Conversion of a stock cooperative or a community apartment project to a condominium.

A stock cooperative or a community apartment project shall not be converted to a condominium, unless the required number of owners in the project, as specified in the bylaws or other documents, have voted in favor of such conversion. If no documents expressly specify the number of votes required to approve such a conversion, a majority vote of the owners in the project shall be required. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 6. DISCLOSURE OF PRIOR OCCUPANCY STATUS

20.32.680 Purpose.

Any buyer of a unit of multi-family housing is making a substantial personal investment. As buildings being offered for sale may vary substantially in quality and that variation may not be apparent, each buyer should be provided some items of background on the building prior to committing to purchase. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.32.690 Disclosure.

Any person selling a unit in a building converted to a form of multiple ownership under the provisions of Chapter 20.32, or any person representing or acting on behalf of a person selling a unit in such building shall disclose to anyone intending to buy such unit by means of inclusion in the conditions, covenants and restrictions applying to the building the following items of information:

A. The date the building was built (date of final building inspection or original certificate of occupancy);

B. The form of ownership of the building prior to conversion under Chapter 20.32 (rental, community apartment, stock cooperative, limited equity cooperative, or condominium) together with a description as to how that form of ownership differs from the one under which the units are offered for sale; and

C. A full listing of the building improvement requirements required for conversion. Any exceptions to the standards of Sections 20.32.090—20.32.160, including those granted in Section 20.32.530 or 20.32.540, which have been granted to the project shall be listed separately and clearly indicate that such improvements have not been made to the building. All improvement requirements shall be fully described and not referenced only by the Municipal Code section. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.34 SUBDIVISION OF A MOBILEHOME PARK

ARTICLE 1. CONVERSION TO ANOTHER USE

20.34.010 Change of use.

As used in this Chapter 20.34, change of use shall mean a change from use as a mobilehome park to any other residential or nonresidential use. Consistent with guidance from Government Code Section 65915(c) (3) (A), the new development shall replace existing on-site mobilehome units affordable to lower-income households with new housing options at a one-to-one ratio. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.020 Impact report.

At the time of filing a tentative tract or parcel map for a subdivision to be created from the conversion of a mobilehome park to another use, the subdivider shall also file a report on the impact of the conversion upon the displaced residents of the mobilehome park to be converted. In determining the impact of the conversion on displaced mobilehome park residents, the report shall address the availability of adequate replacement space in mobilehome parks. The following information shall be included in the required Conversion Impact Report:

A. Legal description of the property and description of the proposed use to replace the mobilehome park.

B. Schedule for the mobilehome park conversion.

C. Total number of spaces in the mobilehome park and current rental rate for each space, and if the park owns the mobilehome unit on the site, the combined rental rate for the units and the space.

D. Names and addresses of all residents and whether or not the mobilehome park is their primary place of residence.

E. Manufacturer date, size, length of occupancy, and the appraised fair market value of each mobilehome located in the park not owned by the mobilehome park. The appraisal shall be performed by a professional appraiser.

F. Estimates from a moving company for tear down and set up costs for displaced tenants to move their mobilehome to a new park.

G. Itemized list of available mobilehome spaces within a 20-mile radius for displaced residents to relocate to.

H. Completed pre-conversion questionnaire. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.030 Impact report available to residents of the mobilehome.

The subdivider shall be responsible for delivering a copy of the impact report to each resident of a mobilehome within the project at least thirty (30) days prior scheduling the tentative map before the Planning Commission for a public hearing date. The subdivider shall provide evidence to the City that impact reports were delivered and received by each residents for the public record. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.040 Impact mitigation requirements.

A. In reviewing the proposed subdivision, the Planning Commission shall be required to:

1. Take steps to mitigate any significant impact by rezoning another site or sites for additional replacement of mobilehome park housing;

2. Find that there already exists land zoned for replacement housing or adequate space in other mobilehome parks for those residents who will be placed; or

3. Require the subdivider to take steps to mitigate any significant adverse impact of the conversion on the ability of displaced mobilehome park residents to find adequate space in a mobilehome park; and

4. Require the subdivider to provide for the full cost of moving the mobilehome to a new location of the mobilehome owner's choice or purchase the mobilehome from the mobilehome owner at fair market value. Fair market value shall be determined by an appraisal by a licensed appraiser or realtor acceptable to both the subdivider and mobilehome owner. The provision of moving expenses or purchase shall be the choice of the mobilehome owner, provided that relocation expenses shall not exceed the fair market value of the mobilehome. The provisions contained in this subsection shall not apply to a mobilehome owned by the landowner. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.050 Termination of tenancy.

A. After approval of a tentative map, the mobilehome park owner shall give each resident a minimum of twelve (12) months' notice of the termination of tenancy.

B. Such notice shall disclose and describe in detail the nature of the change of use and relocation assistance and benefits that will be available to that tenant.

C. Such notice shall be delivered by a certified mail and receipts of this notification by each resident shall be furnished to the Community Development Department. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.060 New resident disclosure.

Any person who locates a mobilehome or rents/leases a mobilehome in a mobilehome park for which a request for a change of use has been filed, shall receive written notice of the proposed change of use before any contract or lease agreement is executed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 2. CONVERSION OF A MOBILEHOME PARK TO A CONDOMINIUM, COMMUNITY APARTMENT OR STOCK COOPERATIVE

20.34.070 Applicable conversion regulations.

Where an existing mobilehome park is being converted into a mobilehome condominium, community apartment or stock cooperative, the provision for condominium conversions set forth in Chapter 20.32 shall apply, except:

A. The minimum termination of tenancy shall be twelve (12) months; and

B. Neither the maximum amount of moving expenses provided by Section 20.32.070 nor special displacement benefits shall apply, and the full cost of relocation shall be provided by the mobile home park owner. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

ARTICLE 3. SUBDIVISION OF AN EXISTING MOBILEHOME PARK TO CREATE INDIVIDUAL OWNERSHIP LOTS

20.34.080 Right of first refusal.

Upon the subdivision of the existing mobilehome park, any park resident who had established residency in the mobilehome park as of the date of the issuance of a subdivision public report from the Department of Real Estate shall have a right of first refusal to purchase the lot upon which the tenants mobilehome is located for a period of twelve (12) months from the date of issuance of the subdivision public report. The price to be paid by such existing resident for the lot under the tenants mobilehome shall be the initial offering price for that lot during the twelve (12) month right of first refusal period. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.090 Lifetime leases.

Lifetime leases for the occupied lots shall be offered to mobilehome owners who elect neither to purchase their site nor to relocate. The right to enter into a lifetime lease shall expire no earlier than the period of twelve (12) months from the date of issuance of the subdivision public report issued by the Department of Real Estate. All lifetime leases shall include the following conditions:

A. Mobilehome owners shall have the option of canceling the lease at any time upon thirty (30) days' written notice to the mobilehome park owners.

B. Mobilehome owners cannot be evicted except pursuant to Article 6 of the State Mobilehome Residency Law, Civil Code Section 798.55 et seq.

C. Terms and conditions of the lifetime lot lease shall be the same as those contained in the current lease or rental agreement for the mobilehome space.

D. To avoid economic displacement of all non-purchasing residents, any rent increases shall comply with Section 66427.5(f) of the California Government Code. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.100 Compliance with State law.

The subdivider of the mobilehome park shall comply with all applicable State and local laws in effect at the time of the subdivision and shall have given all required notices to the existing and incoming park residents during the subdivision process, including:

A. The subdivider shall offer each existing tenant an option to either purchase the condominium or subdivided unit, which is to be created by the conversion of the park to resident ownership, or to continue residency as a tenant.

B. The subdivider shall file a report on the impact of the conversion upon residents of the mobile home park to be converted to resident owned subdivided interest.

C. The subdivider shall make a copy of the report available to each resident of the mobilehome park at least thirty (30) days prior to the hearing on the map by the hearing body.

D. Survey of residents is required:

1. The subdivider shall obtain a survey of support of residents of the mobilehome park for the proposed conversion.

2. The survey of support shall be conducted in accordance with an agreement between the subdivider and a resident homeowners' association, if any, that is independent of the subdivider or mobilehome park owner.

3. The survey shall be obtained pursuant to a written ballot.

4. The survey shall be conducted so that each occupied mobilehome space has one vote.

5. The results of the survey shall be submitted to the Community Development Department upon the filing of the tentative tract or parcel map, to be considered in the hearing as to whether to approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove the map, and the hearing body may disapprove the map if it finds that the results of the survey have not demonstrated the support of at least a majority of the park's homeowners.

E. The subdivider shall be subject to a hearing. The scope of the hearing shall be limited to the issue of compliance with this section. The hearing body may approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove the map.

F. The subdivider shall be required to avoid the economic displacement of all non-purchasing residents in accordance with the following:

1. As to non-purchasing residents who are not lower income households, as defined in Section 50079.5 of the Health and Safety Code, the monthly rent, including any applicable fees or charges for use of any pre-conversion amenities, may increase from the pre-conversion rent to market levels, as defined in an appraisal conducted in accordance with nationally recognized professional appraisal standards, in equal annual increases over a four-year period.

2. As to non-purchasing residents who are lower income households, as defined in Section 50079.5 of the Health and Safety Code, the monthly rent, including any applicable fees or charges for use of any pre-conversion amenities, may increase from the pre-conversion rent by an amount equal to the average monthly increase in rent in the four years immediately preceding the conversion, except that in no event shall the monthly rent be increased by an amount greater than the average monthly percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for the most recently reported period. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.34.110 Infrastructure facilities survey required.

Prior to approval of the final map, the applicant and/or successors shall provide the City, and all purchasers, with a copy of an infrastructure facilities survey to be conducted by a qualified firm approved by the Community Development Department. The survey shall indicate the life expectancy of the infrastructure (including, but not limited to, sewer, water, gas, electric, streets and common areas) and a replacement strategy for aging infrastructure including a financing strategy. Condition assessment shall include video inspection of sewer pipelines and repair history of all underground facilities, and shall indicate existing deficiencies. If the survey identifies deficiencies, the applicant and/or successors shall repair the deficiencies to comply with applicable health and safety requirements. Nothing in this ordinance shall obligate the Long Beach Water Department to take over the ownership or maintenance of existing private water or sewer systems. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

CHAPTER 20.36 DEFINITIONS*

20.36.010 Generally.

A. Whenever any words or phrases used in these regulations are not defined in this Section but are defined elsewhere in the Subdivision Map Act or other regulation of the City, such definitions shall apply as though set forth herein in full, unless the context clearly indicates a contrary intention.

B. For purposes of these regulations, the following words and phrases shall be construed as defined in this Section. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.015 Advisory agency.

The official body or designated official having the authority by local ordinance to approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove tentative maps and other subdivision related proceedings. Depending on the type of map or related subdivision request, this includes the Community Development Director, the Director of Public Works, the Zoning Administrator, the Planning Commission, and the City Council. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.020 Airspace subdivision.

"Airspace subdivision" is a three-dimensional subdivision of the space above or below a lot, or partially above and below a lot, having finite width, length, and upper and lower elevations, occupied by a building or portion thereof. Airspace subdivisions divide property ownership into three-dimensional spaces, often stacked upon one another. An airspace subdivision differs from a common interest subdivision development in that the owners of the airspace lots are not required to share interest in a common area within the map boundaries. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.025 Certificate of compliance.

A certificate prepared and recorded by the City which indicates that the division of certain real property complies with applicable provisions of the Subdivision Regulations and the Subdivision Map Act in cases where there is no adequate public record that a parcel of land was legally created. A recorded certificate of compliance completes the public record that the parcel is recognized as a separate legal parcel. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.030 Common interest subdivision.

"Common interest subdivision" includes subdivided land which includes a separate interest in real property combined with an interest in common with others. Common interest subdivisions include community apartments, condominium projects, planned developments and stock cooperatives consistent with the Davis-Stirling Common Interest Development Act. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

*State law reference—Statutory authority definitions contained in the Subdivision Map Act, Gov. Code § 66414.

20.36.035 Community apartment.

A community apartment is a project in which an undivided interest in the land is coupled with the right of exclusive occupancy of any apartment located therein as defined in Section 4104 of the California Civil Code and referenced in Section 11004 of the California Business and Professions Code. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.040 Condominium.

An estate in real property consisting of an undivided interest in common in a portion of a real property together with a separate interest in airspace in a residential, industrial, or commercial building on such real property. A condominium, may include, in addition, a separate interest in other portions of such real property as defined in Section 4125 of the California Civil Code. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.045 Condominium plan.

A description of a survey map of a condominium project which refers to monumentation of the ground. A condominium plan is also a three-dimensional description of a condominium project, one or more dimensions of which may extended for an indefinite distance upwards or downwards, in sufficient detail to identify the common areas and each separate interest.

Conversion Definitions (terms used in Chapter 20.32).

A. "Conversion project, residential unit use to residential unit use" means an existing multi-family residential rental property used exclusively for residential purposes, proposed for conversion to a residential condominium, residential stock cooperative, or community apartment project to be used exclusively for residential purposes, through recordation of a tract or parcel map.

B. "Conversion project, commercial/industrial use to commercial/industrial use" means an existing commercial or industrial property used exclusively for commercial purposes or for manufacturing or other industrial activities, proposed for conversion to a condominium or stock cooperative which is to be used exclusively for commercial or industrial purposes through recordation of a tract or parcel map.

C. "Conversion project, residential unit use to commercial/industrial use" means an existing multi-family residential rental property used exclusively for residential purposes, proposed for conversion to a condominium or stock cooperative, other than a residential condominium or residential stock cooperative, which is to be used exclusively for commercial or industrial purposes, through recordation of a tract or parcel map.

D. "Conversion project, commercial/industrial use to residential unit use" means an existing commercial or industrial property used exclusively for commercial purposes or for manufacturing or other industrial activity, proposed for conversion to a residential condominium, residential stock cooperative or community apartment to be used exclusively for residential purposes through recordation of a tract or parcel map.

E. "Existing building" means a building that a certificate of occupancy has been issued prior to filing of a tentative map.

F. "Median rent" means that rent or one-forty-eighth of median income as established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development or as recognized by the California Department of Housing and Community Development for the statistical unit for which Long Beach is a part for the most recent time period available.

G. "Multi-family" means any building or complex of buildings containing two (2) or more dwelling units.

H. "Owner" means the owner of any rental project and any person or persons acting in behalf of and with the consent of the owner.

I. "Project" means the building or building complex being converted.

J. "Tenant" means a person or family occupying a dwelling unit; or a person(s) or a firm operating commercial or industrial activities with the permission of the property owner (or a manager authorized to grant permission to occupy a rental property) by a rental or lease agreement. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.050 Contiguous parcels.

Contiguous parcels refer to a lot or parcel of land which shares all or part of a common lot line with another lot or parcel of land. If lots are part of a subdivision, they are considered contiguous even if separated by roads, streets, utility easements, or railroad rights-of-way. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.055 Covenants, Conditions & Restrictions (CC&Rs).

"Covenants, Conditions & Restrictions (CC&Rs)" is a legal document that is filed with the County Clerk-Recorder and made an official part of the real estate records that run with the land. The CC&Rs provide the power and legal authority to form a homeowner's association and administer and enforce rules on a group of homes or condominium complex. When living in a home or condominium that is restricted by CC&Rs, an owner agrees to certain additional restrictions to be part of a shared community. For example, most homeowner associations have smoking restrictions, parking and noise level rules, aesthetic guidelines, and development restrictions on changes to units. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.060 Dedication.

"Dedication" is a transfer of land by its owner to public ownership, to be used for public purpose. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.065 Drainage facility.

"Drainage facility" means any device or structure which may be used to control the flow of water, including but not limited to, pipes, ditches, berms, channels, gutters, curbs, walls, pavement, and appurtenant safety devices. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.070 Environmental clearance.

An environmental review procedure processed in accordance with the applicable guidelines and procedures pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.075 Parcel map.

A parcel map involving a subdivision of four (4) or fewer parcels is the recording instrument for all subdivisions for which a (tentative) parcel map is required unless waived as provided in these subdivision regulations. Certain project types listed in Section 20.06.020 A. may be processed with a tentative and parcel map rather than a final/tract map regardless of the number of lots proposed. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.080 Final tract map.

A final tract map is the recording instrument for a tract map involving a subdivision of five (5) or more lots, or five (5) or more condominium, community apartment, to stock cooperative units, prepared pursuant to these regulations and applicable provisions of the Subdivision Map Act for recordation in the office of the County Recorder. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.085 Flag lot.

"Flag lot" means a lot predominantly situated behind another lot and having access to a street by means of a narrow portion of the flag lot extending out to the street. Flag lots have a general configuration in the shape of an "L". (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.090 Freeway regional corridor.

Regional corridors emphasize traffic movement and are designed for intraregional and intercommunity mobility with limited access points. These linkages are designed to serve multiple types of modes of transportation and discourage on-street parking. A divided highway for through traffic with full control of access and with grade separations at intersections and declared to be such in compliance with the California Streets and Highways Code. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.095 Frontage road or service road.

A street lying adjacent and approximately parallel to and separated from a freeway or regional corridor and which affords direct access to abutting properties. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.100 Geological hazard.

A hazard inherent in the crust of the earth, or artificially created, which is dangerous or potentially dangerous to life, property, or improvements due to the movement, failure, or shifting of earth. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.105 Illegal lots.

Illegal lots refer to remnant parcels that were not originally created legally through a recorded map procedure consistent with the State of California Subdivision Map Act and applicable City Subdivision Ordinance. These remnant parcels are often nonconforming in terms of meeting lot area and other dimensional requirements such as lot width and length. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.110 Land surveyor.

A land surveyor is any person who is authorized to practice land surveying and is licensed by the State of California. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.120 Lease, building.

The right to occupy and use a building or portion of a building for a designated term. It often contains a right to use common parking or other facilities on the same or adjacent parcels. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.125 Lease, ground.

The right to occupy and use a parcel of land, or a portion thereof, with or without a building or buildings on it for a designated term. It usually contains all parking and other facilities within the lease area. A division of land for purposes of leasing is a subdivision as defined in these regulations. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.130 Limited equity housing cooperative or a workforce housing cooperative trust.

A form of stock cooperative where the ownership corporation is a nonprofit corporation established with state or federal financial assistance as defined in Section 1103.4 of the California Business and Professions Code, and also meets the criteria of Section 11003.2 and Sections 817 and 817.1 of the Civil Code, as applicable. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.135 Lot, legal.

A parcel of land, the boundaries of which have been established in conformance with the State Subdivision Map Act and these regulations, and is identified on a recorded parcel map or final/tract map, a record of survey in accordance with the applicable laws, or a certificate of compliance approved by the City and recorded with the Los Angeles County Recorder. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.140 Lot area.

"Lot area" means the total horizontal area within the lot lines of a lot typically expressed in square feet or acres. Land area displayed in acreage shall be shown to three decimal places. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.145 Lot area, net.

Net area is the total area within the property lines of the development site, excluding the following:

1. Street rights-of-way;
2. Easements for flood control;
3. Water areas such as Alamitos Bay or Los Cerritos Channel. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.150 Lot line adjustment.

An adjustment of the boundary between four (4) or fewer adjacent legal lots where the land taken from one (1) lot is added to an adjacent lot, and where a greater number of lots than originally existed is not thereby created.

Multiple lot line adjustments submitted sequentially or concurrently, when five or more parcels exist, circumventing the Subdivision Map Act will not be allowed. A subdivision map will be required in these instances. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.155 Merger.

In accordance with Subdivision Map Act Section 66499.20.3, the consolidation of two (2) or more contiguous recorded lots into a single parcel.

Multiple mergers submitted sequentially or concurrently, when five or more parcels exist, circumventing the Subdivision Map Act will not be allowed. A subdivision map will be required in these instances. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.160 Model home.

A residential unit erected in a proposed project which is temporarily used as a sales office and example of housing floor plan finishes. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.170 Monument.

"Monument," sometimes referred to as "survey monument," is a durable, permanent marker set by a land surveyor to mark or reference a point on a property or land line which is permanently marked or tagged with the certificate number of the land surveyor setting it. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.175 Owner.

Any person, persons, corporation or other legal entity who is the owner of record with the Los Angeles County Recorder's office. Also any person or persons acting with the authorization of the owner on behalf of the owner. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.180 Own your own.

"Own your own" colloquial form of common interest (see Section 20.36.030). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

21.36.185 Parcel.

20.36.190 Parcel map.

20.36.200 Plat map.

"Plat map" is a document drawn to scale, prepared by a Licensed Surveyor of qualified Engineer, showing the divisions of a piece of land. The plat map is the graphical representation of the legal description. The plat map is recorded as an Exhibit B with the legal description, Exhibit A. The plat map gives the legal description of pieces of real property, lot, street, and block number. The map shows the land subdivided into lots showing the location and boundaries of individual parcels with the streets, alleys, easements. The plat map shall be based upon a field survey. Boundary location and determination is the practice of land surveying according to Section 8726 of the California Business and Professions Code and as such, plat maps must include the signature and seal of a licensed land surveyor pursuant to Section 8761(d) of the California Business and Professions Code. Boundaries shown on plat maps that are not previously shown on a subdivision map, record of survey or official map must have a record of survey filed pursuant to Section 8762 of the California Business and Professions Code.

Plat maps, as part of a conveyance document, must be accompanied by a written legal description. Plat maps will not be accepted for recordation without a legal description. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.205 Planned development.

"Planned development" means a real property development other than a community apartment project, a condominium project, or a stock cooperative where a separate interest is created in a lot, parcel, area, or space and may have the following features:

A. Common area that is owned either by an association or in common by the owners of the separate interests who possess appurtenant rights to the beneficial use and enjoyment of the common area.

B. Common area and an association that maintains the common area with the power to levy assessments that may become a lien upon the separate interests in accordance with Civil Code Section 5650(a).

C. Planned development subdivisions often are developed in conjunction with a Planned Unit Zoning Process to tailor property development standards for the unique characteristics of the project (see Section 21.31.300 of the Zoning Regulations). (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.210 Public Resources.

"Public Resources" refers to the natural systems and features in the community that provide environmental benefits to residents. These natural systems and features include geographical, biological, geological, and other resources, and encompass elements including air and water quality, wildlife habitat, scenic and agricultural lands, watersheds, Native American scared lands, and historic features. It is the goal of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) to evaluate the impacts of new projects on these public resources. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.220 Qualified subdivision map preparer.

A qualified subdivision map preparer is either a California registered civil engineer or a licensed land surveyor who is legally allowed to prepare subdivision related maps. Civil engineers with licenses prior to January 1, 1982 (with a license number before 33966) are authorized to practice all land surveying and engineering surveying. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.225 Reservation.

A reservation is a portion of the acreage of a subdivision that is reserved for public use; not applicable to alley widening or widening of abutting streets which are not designated as highways. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.230 Revised tentative map.

A tentative map showing a revised arrangement of the streets, alleys, easements or lots, or a modification of the boundary of the property for which a tentative map was previously approved by the City. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.235 Right-of-Way.

"Right-of-way" means any easement or land owned by the City and used or designated for use as a street, parkway, alley, utility corridor, walkway, promenade, or bike path, and the surfaces thereof, and includes any right-of-way to be dedicated in the future. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.240 Sidewalk.

A paved surface or leveled area separated from the street and used as a pedestrian walkway. Public sidewalks are typically located along streets, within the right-of-way or easement, separated by a curb, planter, or both from the street, and designated for preferential use by pedestrians. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.243 Sequentially.

Sequentially is defined as any readjustment or merger of a parcel which had been previously adjusted or merged in the past five years. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.245 Site Plan.

An exhibit depicting the existing and proposed conditions of a property. The site plan shall be consistent with the current California Building Code Section 107.2.5 stating a site plan shall have an accurate boundary. Boundary location and determination is the practice of land surveying according to Section 8726 of the California Business and Professions Code and as such, site plans must include the signature and seal of a licensed land surveyor pursuant to Section 8761(d) of the California Business and Professions Code. Boundaries shown on site plans that are not previously shown on a subdivision map, record of survey or official map must have a record of survey filed pursuant to Section 8762 of the California Business and Professions Code. Site plans shall include the information set forth in Section 20.24.030. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.247 Special flood hazard area.

20.36.250 Stock cooperative.

A stock cooperative is a corporation as defined in Section 11003.2 of the California Business and Professions Code formed or utilized primarily for the purpose of holding title to improve real property in which all or substantially all shareholders have a right of exclusive occupancy of a portion of the real property, which right is transferable only with the transfer of shares of stock in the corporation. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.260 Street.

"Street" means a way for vehicular traffic, whether designated as a street, highway, road, avenue, boulevard, lane, place, way, or other name. "Street" does not include a path or alley. Unless otherwise indicated, the term street shall refer to both public and private streets. Public streets are forms of right-of-way. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.265 Subdivider.

A person, firm, corporation, partnership or association who proposes to divide, divides, or causes to be divided real property into a subdivision for the subdivider or for others. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.270 Subdivision.

Any improved or unimproved real property, or any portion thereof, shown on the latest section map of the City of Long Beach as a unit or as contiguous units, which is divided into two (2) or more lots for the purpose of sale, lease, or financing, whether immediate or future. Property shall be considered as contiguous units even if it is separated by roads, streets, utility easements, or railroad rights-of-way. Any conveyance of land to a governmental agency, public entity, or public utility shall not be considered a division of land for purposes of computing the number of parcels. Subdivision includes a condominium project, a community apartment project, or the conversion of five (5) or more existing dwelling units to a stock cooperative. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.273 Subdivision Map Act.

The Subdivision Map Act of the State of California, Section 66410 et seq., Division 2 of Title 7 of the California Government Code or as hereafter amended. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.275 Surveyor.

20.36.280 Tentative map.

A map prepared in accordance with the provisions of these regulations and the applicable provisions of the Subdivision Map Act for the purpose of showing the design of a proposed subdivision and the existing conditions in and around it. Such map need not be based on an accurate or detailed final survey of the property. A tentative map shall be required prior to the approval of a final tract or parcel map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.285 Tract map.

Generally, a tentative map for the subdivision of a parcel, site, or piece of land into five or more lots or units, unless any of the circumstances described in Section 20.06.020(A) apply where the subdivision can be accommodated with a parcel map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.290 Traffic-control devices.

Traffic-control devices are signs, signals, pavement markings, and other officially authorized devices. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.295 Unit.

A unit consists of a separate interest in a space defined in a condominium plan which may consist of air, earth, or water (example includes parking space, space in a marina and mobile home park space) in combination with an undivided interest in common areas established in a condominium. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.300 Vacation.

The complete or partial abandonment or termination of the public right to use a street, highway, or public service easement. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.305 Vesting tentative map.

A vesting tentative map is similar to regular Tentative Maps except that the approval confers a vested right to proceed with development in substantial compliance with the ordinance, policies, and standards in effect at the time the vesting map application is deemed complete per Government Code Section 65493. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

20.36.310 Waived Parcel Map.

A parcel map with a waiver of a tentative map (no bonds, must be monumented prior to approval). A certificate of compliance shall be recorded with the map. (ORD-23-0051 § 1(Exh. A), 2023)

PRIOR CODE CROSS-REFERENCE TABLE

This table provides users with the legislative history and the current disposition of the sections in the prior municipal code.

Thus, prior code Section 1200.1 was derived from Ordinance C-4665 and currently appears in this code as 1.36.030.

The legislative history information was derived from the Long Beach Municipal Code, published in 1955 and supplemented through Ordinance C-5224, passed December 9, 1975.

CHAPTER 21.10 GENERAL PROVISIONS

21.10.010 Title.

This Title of the Long Beach Municipal Code may be known and cited as the "Zoning Regulations of the City of Long Beach" or the "Zoning Regulations".

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.020 Purpose.

The purpose of the Zoning Regulations is to promote and preserve the public health, safety, comfort, convenience, prosperity and general welfare of the people of Long Beach. Specifically, the Zoning Regulations intend to achieve the following objectives:

A. To promote achievement of the proposals of the City General Plan;

B. To advance the City's position as a regional center of commerce, industry, tourism, recreation and culture;

C. To protect residential, commercial, industrial, public and institutional areas from the intrusion of incompatible land uses;

D. To provide for desirable, appropriately located living areas in a variety of dwelling types and at a wide range of population densities, with adequate provisions for sunlight, fresh air and usable open space;

E. To assure preservation of adequate space for commercial, industrial and other activities necessary for a healthy economy;

F. To promote safe, expeditious and efficient movement of people and goods, with a maximum of choice in modes of travel and with adequate provisions for parking, loading and the transfer of modes of travel;

G. To achieve excellence of design in all future developments and to preserve the natural beauty of the City's environmental setting;

H. To promote the growth and productivity of the City's economy;

I. To stabilize expectations regarding future development, thereby providing a basis for rational decisions;

J. To provide opportunities for establishments to be located for efficient operation in a mutually beneficial relationship to each other and to shared services;

K. To secure equity among individuals in the use of their property;

L. To distribute population growth in the City in such a way as to maximize the quality of life enjoyed by all persons who have an interest in Long Beach;

M. To guide and encourage the renewal of areas experiencing blight, deterioration and obsolescence, while protecting and preserving the City's cultural heritage; and

N. To locate and control land uses so that no noise, vibration, electrical disturbance, smoke, gaseous or particulate matter, odor, glare, heat, radioactivity, biological material, dust, nor hazard is generated, created or emitted from any use so as to be a substantial risk to public health, safety and welfare or to be of such an extent, intensity or duration as to be a nuisance to or adversely affect adjacent properties or uses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.030 Scope.

To the extent provided by State or Federal law or regulation, the Zoning Regulations shall apply to all development including development by the City of Long Beach or use of property within the City, whether public or private, tidal or submerged, except the following excluded properties:

A. Roadways. When dedicated as public freeways, streets or alleys, the Zoning Regulations shall only apply to issues of dedications, improvements, reservations, signage, parkway landscaping, street trees and curb cut locations. However, in the Coastal Zone, any development or other public works project in public rights-of-way shall be subject to the local coastal development permit requirements and procedures in Division IX of Chapter 21.25;

B. Oil, Gas and Water. When properties are used for oil extraction or gas extraction and processing and for City water wells, and when such uses are regulated by other provisions of the Municipal Code. However, in the Coastal Zone, all development, including drilling, new operating permits, new natural gas processing plants, drilling area changes or special condition variances, shall be subject to the local coastal development permit requirements and procedures in Division IX of Chapter 21.25;

C. Public Utility Transmission, Distribution and Transit Lines. When locating and using such lines only, and not when land, air rights or mineral rights are being utilized for other than transmission, distribution or transit purposes. However, in the Coastal Zone, all development shall be subject to the local coastal development permit requirements and procedures in Division IX of Chapter 21.25;

D. Submerged Properties. When properties are submerged, only the local coastal development permit requirements and procedures in Division IX of Chapter 21.25 shall apply, and these shall apply outside the jurisdiction of the certified Port of Long Beach Master Plan and implementing procedures.

(Ord. C-7326 § 1, 1995: Ord. C-7032 § 1, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.040 Minimum requirements.

The Zoning Regulations shall be deemed the minimum requirements to promote and preserve the health, safety, prosperity and general welfare of the people.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.045 Interpretation of the Ordinance.

If uncertainty arises concerning the content or application of the Zoning Ordinance and its standards, the Zoning Administrator shall be authorized to determine all pertinent facts and interpret the Ordinance. Alternatively, the Zoning Administrator may request the Planning Commission to make such interpretation. In no instance, however, shall the Zoning Administrator determine, nor shall these regulations be so interpreted, that a use shall be permitted in a zone when such use is specifically listed as permissible in another zone. The classification of use procedure, which is set forth in Division VI of Chapter 21.25 of this Title, shall be utilized to resolve such discrepancies.

(Ord. C-7326 § 30, 1995)

21.10.047 Granting of minor modification.

Except for any development in the Coastal Zone, whenever there are practical difficulties involved in carrying out the strict provisions of this Title, the Zoning Administrator may grant minor modifications in individual cases, provided the Zoning Administrator can make a finding that a special reason or circumstance makes the strict application of this Title impractical, and that the minor modification is in conformity with the spirit and purpose of this Title.

If the Zoning Administrator determines the request is not minor in nature, then the procedures set forth in Chapter 21.25 shall be pursued to obtain a Standards Variance Permit. Each minor modification application shall be submitted together with a filing fee equal to that of a zoning confirmation letter.

This Section shall not be used to grant modifications to cases located within the Coastal Zone.

(Ord. C-7395 § 1, 1996: Ord. C-7378 § 21, 1995)

21.10.050 Relationship to other ordinances and laws.

Any ordinance amending this Title is not intended to repeal, annul, abrogate, impair or interfere with existing provisions of any other ordinance or law. However, where the provisions of this Title impose greater restrictions than those required by other ordinances or laws, the provisions of this Title shall control.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.060 Applicability and effect of prior permits.

A. Except as provided in Division XI of Chapter 21.25 of this Title, the provisions of this Title shall apply to the erection or alteration of any building or structure, or to the use of any parcel of land, on and after the effective date of the Ordinance codified in this Title and any subsequently adopted ordinance amending this Title, unless a building permit has been lawfully issued by the City for the construction of a project, in which case that project may be completed under the provisions of this Title as they existed at the time of issuance of the building permit; provided, that construction under the permit must be commenced within six (6) months of issuance of the permit. For the purpose of this Subsection 21.10.060.A, a foundation permit shall be treated as equivalent to a building permit but grading, demolition, electrical, mechanical or plumbing permits shall not be considered or treated as building permits.

B. No official or employee of the City authorized to issue permits or licenses shall issue such permits or licenses not in conformity with the provisions of this Title where such conformity is required by law. Any permit or license issued in conflict with the provisions of this Title shall be null and void. Unless otherwise excepted, no premises shall be occupied or used and no building shall hereafter be erected, altered, used or occupied until certified by the Director of Planning and Building or his authorized designee to be in compliance with the provisions of this Title.

C. Whenever any building or sign permit, conditional use permit, variance or special zoning approval has been issued prior to the effective date of the Zoning Regulations or any amendment thereto and the uses or improvements for which the permit was issued would not conform to the regulations or amendments, the uses or improvements may, nevertheless, be utilized or developed to the extent authorized by the issued permit, provided the permit has not expired under the terms of its issuance. The uses and improvements shall be deemed legally nonconforming and shall be subject to the provisions of this Title governing nonconformities.

D. Whenever construction of a building has begun under a valid building permit and the regulations are later changed, construction may continue as long as the building permit remains valid. However, if construction is discontinued for any reason, except as provided in Section 21.27.090, and the building permit lapses, terminates or is otherwise or in any way voided, then all construction authorized under any new or subsequent building or other permit must conform to the regulations in effect at the time the new or subsequent permit is issued.

(Ord. C-7663 § 1, 1999; Ord. C-6684 § 10, 1990; Ord. C-6546 § 1, 1988; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.070 Building site required.

No building or structure shall be erected or moved onto any parcel of land in the City except on a lot of record as shown on the section maps of the City, a lot certified as created in compliance with the Subdivision Map Act and local subdivision regulations, or a lot created as a result of public taking. No building or structure shall be altered or enlarged to increase the gross floor area by more than fifty percent (50%) within any one (1) year period except on a legal building site.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.080 Penalty for violation.

A. Any violation of the Zoning Regulations, including maintaining property in violation of this Title, is a misdemeanor and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for a period of not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The existence of such a violation for each and every day after the notice of a violation has been served shall be considered a separate and distinct offense. The City Prosecutor shall prosecute all persons guilty of such violations by continuous prosecutions, if necessary, until the violation is abated or removed.

B. Upon discovery of a violation, the Department of Planning and Building shall issue a notice of violation to the owner of the subject property. The owner shall correct the violation, or take reasonable action to begin correction, and shall diligently pursue completion of the correction within ten (10) days after receiving notification of the violation. The Department of Planning and Building shall notify the City Prosecutor of any failure to correct the violation and shall request the City Prosecutor to take appropriate legal action. A repetitive or episodic violation of the same regulation shall be deemed a failure to correct and the Department of Planning and Building shall notify the City Prosecutor of the failure to correct.

C. Any violation of the Zoning Regulations within the Long Beach Coastal Zone shall also constitute a violation of Division 20, Section 30000 et seq., of the Public Resources Code of the State of California and shall be subject to the remedies, fines and penalties provided in Division 20, Chapter 9, Section 30800 et seq., of the Public Resources Code. However, this provision shall not preclude any enforcement under the provisions of the Municipal Code.

D. All cost incurred by the City in connection with such abatement of any violation of this Title, once notified, shall become an indebtedness of the owner(s) of said structure or premises, as well as a lien upon the affected property. Any person aggrieved by the imposition of costs pursuant to this Subsection may appeal such imposition within fifteen (15) days of the date of a notice to pay in accordance with procedures as set forth in Section 8.56.120 of this Code.

(Ord. C-6895 § 1, 1991; Ord. C-6595 § 5, 1989; Ord. C-6591 § 1, 1989; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.10.090 Continuous application of Zoning Regulations.

A. Any violation of the Zoning Regulations is a public nuisance, punishable as a misdemeanor, and each day of continuing violation shall be deemed a separate offense. The City may undertake enforcement action after discovery of the violation regardless of when the violation actually occurred.

B. Pursuant to Civil Code Section 3483, every successive owner of property who fails or neglects to correct a violation or to abate a continuing nuisance upon or in the use of such property, created by a former owner, is liable criminally and civilly in the same manner as the one who first created it.

(Ord. C-6595 § 20, 1989)

CHAPTER 21.11 NO NET LOSS

21.11.010 Purpose and Intent.

The purpose of this Chapter is to implement California Senate Bill 330 (SB 330), the "Housing Crisis Act of 2019," as codified in Government Code Section 66300 to insure that the City does not approve a Housing Development Project, as defined herein, that would have the effect of reducing the zoned capacity for housing of the City as it existed on January 1, 2018; or which would result in the demolition of existing housing units unless those units are replaced on at least a one (1) to one (1) ratio; and in the case of exiting low income units, that such units are only demolished if they are replaced, and that certain conditions related to affordability and tenant protections are met. It is the express intent of the City Council that this Chapter remain effective despite the possible expiration of Government Code Section 66300.

21.11.020 Definitions.

The following words or phrases shall have the following meanings when used in this Chapter:

A. "Department" means the Department of Development Services.

B. "Development Policy, standard or condition" means any of the following:

1. A provision of, or amendment to, the City's General Plan.

2. A provision of, or amendment to, a specific plan.

3. A provision of, or amendment to, a zoning ordinance.

4. A subdivision standard or criterion.

C. "Housing Development Project" means a use consisting of residential units only; mixed use developments consisting of residential and non-residential uses with at least two-thirds of the square footage designated for residential use; or transitional or supportive housing projects, or the demolition of any of the foregoing (see California Government Code Section 65589.5).

21.11.030 Applicability.

Except as otherwise specified in this Chapter, the provisions of this Chapter, apply to any of the following Housing Development Projects that submit development applications to the City after January 1, 2021:

A. New construction of any principal residential building;

B. A change of a principal residential use to another principal use;

C. A change in the number of dwelling units;

D. A land division subject to Title 20 (Subdivisions) of the Long Beach Municipal Code; or

E. Legalization of an existing unpermitted dwelling unit;

F. Demolition of an unpermitted or otherwise illegal dwelling unit that could otherwise be converted into a legal dwelling unit in accordance with applicable provisions of the City's zoning or building regulations.

(ORD-22-0005 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0007 § 1, 2021)

21.11.040 Exemptions.

The following are exempt from the requirements of this Chapter:

A. New construction of a single-family residence on a lot with no other principal uses or structures;

B. New construction or legalization of accessory dwelling units or junior accessory dwelling units;

C. Conversion to resident ownership of all rented spaces in a mobilehome park;

D. Addition of mobilehome spaces or mobilehomes in a mobilehome park;

E. A lease project wherein two or more residential or commercial buildings are constructed and maintained on a parcel of land, and apartments, offices, stores or similar space are leased within one or more of the buildings, overall control of the land and buildings comprising the project being retained by the lessor.

21.11.050 Requirements.

A. Dwelling units that are proposed to be or have been demolished, vacated, or converted from rental to "for-sale," shall be replaced if they are permitted in the zone and are or were any of the following:

1. Subject to a recorded covenant that restricts rents to levels affordable to persons and families of moderate, lower, very low or extremely low income within the five years prior to application submittal;

2. Occupied by lower, very low or extremely low income tenants within the five years prior to application submittal;

3 Withdrawn from rent or lease in accordance with Chapter 12.75 (commencing with Section 7060) of the California Government Code within the ten (10) years prior to application submittal.

B. The number and type of affordable replacement units shall be determined as follows:

1. The number of affordable replacement units for lower or very low income households shall be determined in accordance with Section 65915 of the California Government Code, or any successor statute;

2. Affordable replacement units for lower or very low income households shall be provided at the level of affordability determined in accordance with Section 65915 of the California Government Code, or any successor statute;

3. Affordable replacement units for extremely low income households shall be provided in at least the same number as existed on the site within the five years prior to application submittal, or in the same proportion of extremely low income renter households to all renter households within the City, as determined by the most recently available data from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development's Comprehensive Housing Affordability Strategy database, if the income category is unknown for any of the following:

a. The current household in occupancy at the time of application submittal;

b. The last household in occupancy if a unit is unoccupied at the time of application submittal; or

c. The households at the highpoint of such units that existed in the five-year period preceding application, if the units have been vacated or demolished.

4. At least the same total number of dwelling units and at least the same total number of bedrooms shall be replaced at the same or deeper level of affordability;

5. The required number of affordable replacement units shall not be reduced as the result of the deeper level of affordability of the affordable replacement units;

6. Affordable replacement units affordable to lower, very low or extremely low income households shall be rental dwelling units; and

7. Moderate income units. Units subject to a covenant that restricts rents to levels affordable to moderate income households shall be replaced with units that are affordable to households of moderate income or below moderate income. If they are replaced with units affordable to households of moderate income, the affordable replacement units may be rental or for-sale.

C. Inclusionary Housing or Density Bonus. Affordable replacement units required by this Chapter may count toward any affordable housing set-aside units required in connection with the granting of a density bonus, or the requirements of the City's inclusionary housing zoning regulations, if applicable.

D. Affordable replacement units shall be provided on-site. Replacement units may be provided off-site if: (i) the proposed development requiring replacement units does not have a residential component, or (ii) if the City Council determines, based on substantial evidence, that such off-site compliance will provide greater public benefit than would provision of the replacement units on-site.

E. Tenure. Affordable replacement units in a common interest development or a single-family residential subdivision shall be for-sale only.

F. Timing. All permits and entitlements, including the building permits, for the affordable replacement units shall be obtained prior to, or concurrently with, the permits and entitlements, including the building permits, for the non-replacement units.

G. Duration of Affordability. The affordability term for replacement units shall be the longer of: (i) fifty-five (55) years from the issuance of a tentative or final certificate of occupancy for such replacement units, or (ii) for so long as the subject property which includes such replacement units is developed for a residential use.

H. Covenant and Agreement Required. A covenant and agreement ensuring the continued availability of affordable replacement units shall be executed and recorded to the satisfaction of the City Attorney.

21.11.060 Approvals.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, and in compliance with Government Code Section 66300 (regardless of whether such Section remains effective), where housing is an allowable use, the City shall not approve any application, project, policy or condition that would result in any of the following effects:

A. Changing the general plan land use designation, specific plan land use designation, or zoning of a parcel or parcels of property to a less intensive use or reducing the intensity of land use within an existing general plan land use designation, specific plan land use designation, or zoning district below what was allowed for the parcel or parcels and in effect as of January 1, 2018. For the purpose of this Section, "less intensive use" includes, but is not limited to, reductions to height, density, or floor area ratio, new or increased open space or lot size requirements, or new or increased setback requirements, minimum frontage requirements, or maximum lot coverage limitations, or anything that would lessen the intensity of housing.

B. Imposing a moratorium or other limitation on housing development, including mixed use developments, unless a finding is specifically made that said restriction is necessary to protect against an imminent threat to the health and safety of persons residing in, or within the immediate vicinity of, the area subject to the moratorium; or for projects specifically identified as existing restricted affordable housing.

C. Notwithstanding the above, nothing in this Chapter shall prohibit the City from changing a land use designation or zoning ordinance to a less intensive use if the City concurrently changes the development standards, policies, and conditions applicable to other parcels within the City to ensure that there is no net loss in residential capacity.

D. This Chapter does not prohibit the City from changing a land use designation or zoning ordinance to a less intensive use on a site that is a mobile-home park, as defined in Section 18214 of the Health and Safety Code, as of the effective date of this Chapter, and the no net loss requirement shall not apply.

E. This Chapter does not prohibit the City from enacting a development policy, standard, or condition that is intended to preserve or facilitate the production of housing for lower income households, as defined in Section 50079.5 of the Health and Safety Code, or housing types that traditionally serve lower income households, including mobile-home parks, single-room occupancy units, or units subject to any form of rent or price control through the City's valid exercise of its police power.

CHAPTER 21.15 DEFINITIONS*

21.15.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to establish definitions for words, phrases and terms used in this Title, and unless the context clearly requires a different meaning, the following words, phrases and terms shall be defined as set forth in this Chapter.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.020 Rules of Construction.

The following general rules of construction shall apply to the provisions of this Title:

A. The particular shall control the general.

B. The word "shall" is mandatory and not discretionary. The word "may" is discretionary.

C. In case of any difference of meaning or implication between the text of any provision and any caption, heading, illustration or figure, the text shall control.

D. Words in the present tense include the future, and the words in the singular include the plural, and the plural the singular, unless the context clearly indicates the contrary.

E. The words "activities" and "facilities" include any part thereof.

F. The word "City" means the City of Long Beach, California.

G. All public officials, bodies, and agencies to which reference is made are those of the City of Long Beach, California, unless otherwise indicated.

H. Unless the context clearly indicates the contrary, the following conjunctions shall be interpreted as follows:

1. "And" indicates that all connected items or provisions apply.

2. "Or" indicates that the connected items or provisions apply singly or in any combination.

3. "Either...or" indicates that the connected items or provisions shall apply singly, but not in combination.

4. "Neither ... nor" indicates that the connected items or provisions shall not apply singly or in combination.

I. "Occupied" shall be deemed to include the phrase "arranged, designed or intended to be occupied".

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

*__Note__—Figures 15-1 through 15-7 referred to in this Chapter are located at the end of the Chapter.

21.15.025 Terms not defined.

Where terms are not defined through the methods authorized by this Section, such terms shall have ordinarily accepted meanings such as the context implies. Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language, Unabridged, shall be considered as providing ordinarily accepted meanings.

21.15.030 Abandoned.

"Abandoned" means given up, deserted, forsaken, demolished or changed to another use. A nonconforming use shall be considered abandoned if not used for a period of one (1) year, if the business license establishing the use has expired, and remained expired, for a period of one (1) year or if the structure housing the use is demolished or rebuilt.

(Ord. C-7378 § 1, 1995: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.040 Abut.

"Abut" means touching or having a common boundary at some point (Figure 15-1).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.045 Accessory dwelling unit.

"Accessory dwelling unit" means an attached or a detached residential dwelling unit which provides complete independent living facilities for one or more persons. An accessory dwelling unit is an accessory use and not a principal use of land. It shall include permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking, and sanitation, and shall be located on the same lot as the single-family dwelling to which it is subordinate (the primary dwelling), and shall have a separate exterior entrance. An accessory dwelling unit also includes the following:

A. An efficiency unit, as defined in Section 17958.1 of the California Health and Safety Code.

B. A manufactured home, as defined in Section 18007 of the California Health and Safety Code.

21.15.050 Accessory building, accessory structure.

"Accessory building or structure" means a detached or attached building or structure, the use of which is subordinate and customarily incidental to that of the main building or structure, or to the main use of the land. An accessory building or structure must be located on the same lot as the main building or structure.

21.15.055 Accessory tasting room.

"Accessory tasting room" means an accessory use associated with an Alcoholic Beverage Manufacturing (ABM) facility use that is devoted to the purchase, consumption and tasting of beer, wine or distilled spirits produced on site. Consumption, tasting and purchase of alcoholic beverages shall be limited to product produced on site. An accessory tasting room may also include ancillary retail sales directly associated with the primary ABM use. An accessory tasting room may not exceed thirty percent (30%) of the gross floor area (GFA) of the ABM facility, not including restrooms serving the accessory tasting room or ABM facility. Food may be sold in a form that is ready to eat at the time of sale; a full-service kitchen is not permitted in an accessory tasting room.

21.15.060 Accessory use.

"Accessory use" means a use that is customarily incidental and/or necessarily related to the principal use of the land, building, or structure. An accessory use is located on the same lot as the principal building or use and is dependent upon the principal use for the majority of its use or activity.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.063 Accessory use, residential.

"Accessory residential use" means a residential use that is customarily incidental and/or necessarily related to a principal nonresidential use of land, building, or structure. An accessory residential use is located on the same lot as the principal nonresidential building or use and is dependent upon the principal nonresidential use for the majority of its use or activity. The occupant of an accessory residential use is employed in or routinely conducts business in the nonresidential space. Accessory residential uses include, but are not limited to, a caretaker's or night watchman's residence (Section 21.15.445), an artist's studio and residence (Section 21.15.240), and parsonage (Section 21.15.2005). "Accessory residential use" does not include accessory dwelling units (Section 21.15.045).

21.15.064 Acutely Hazardous Material.

"Acutely hazardous material" means the identical list of chemicals as the Extremely Hazardous Substances prepared by the Environmental Protection Agency and any supplemental amendments to that list. Each Extremely Hazardous Material has a Threshold Planning Quantity which is used for the compliance threshold for the Risk Management and Prevention Program, unless a lesser threshold has been established by the administering agency.

(Ord. C-7247 § 29, 1994)

21.15.064.5 Adaptive reuse.

"Adaptive reuse" means a construction or remodeling project that reconfigures existing spaces, structures or buildings to accommodate a new use or to accommodate another purpose than what it was originally designed for.

21.15.065 Addition.

"Addition" means the expansion of an existing building by creating more building area. (Also see Sections 21.15.2275 and 21.15.2250.)

(Ord. C-6822 § 21, 1990)

21.15.070 Adjacent.

"Adjacent" means situated near or close by. "Adjacent" includes real property across alleys, streets, public waterways or other public property (Figure 15-1).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.080 Adjoining.

"Adjoining" means a lot or parcel of land which shares all or part of a common lot line with another lot or parcel of land (Figure 15-1).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.090 Adjusted earnings.

"Adjusted earnings" means the earnings level established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the Los Angeles/Long Beach standard metropolitan statistical area, as revised from time to time.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.100 Administrative service.

"Administrative service" means the research, analysis, communication, management and decision center related to the principal use on a site.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.110 Adult entertainment business.

"Adult entertainment business" refers to any use defined in this Section.

A. "Adult bookstore" means an establishment having twenty percent (20%) or more of its stock in trade in books, magazines and other periodicals, videotapes or other similar materials on display or available for sale or viewing on the premises which are distinguished or characterized by their emphasis on matter depicting, describing or relating to specified sexual activities or specified anatomical areas.

B. "Adult mini motion picture theater" means an enclosed building with a capacity for less than fifty (50) persons, which is used for presenting, on a regular and substantial basis, material distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on matter depicting or relating to specified sexual activities or specified anatomical areas for observation by patrons in the facility.

C. "Adult motion picture arcade" means any place to which the public is permitted or invited and where coin or slug operated or electronically, electrically or mechanically controlled still or motion picture machines, projectors or other image producing devices are maintained to show images on a regular and substantial basis, where the images so displayed are distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on depicting or describing specific sexual activities or specified anatomical areas.

D. "Adult motion picture theater" means an enclosed building with a capacity of fifty (50) or more persons, which is used for representing on a regular and substantial basis, material distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on matter depicting, describing or relating to specified sexual activities or specified anatomical areas for observation by patrons in the facility.

E. "Cabaret" means a nightclub, theater or other establishment which features live performances by topless and/or bottomless dancers, exotic dancers, strippers, wrestlers, or similar entertainers, and where such performances are distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on specified sexual activities or display specified anatomical areas.

F. "Model studio" means any premises on which there is conducted any business where, for any fee, compensation, consideration or gratuity, figure models who display specified anatomical areas are provided to be observed, sketched, drawn, painted, sculptured, photographed or otherwise depicted by persons paying such consideration or gratuity. For the purposes of this Section, "model studio" shall not be deemed to include:

1. Any art studio or art gallery maintaining a business license in the City where the activity described in this Subsection is carried on as an activity that is accessory to the principal use, provided that the operator complies with the additional conditions and specifications as set forth in Chapter 21.51 entitled "Accessory Uses"; or

2. Live nude art drawing or painting, or classes related thereto, that are conducted at an educational institution such as a private or public school, vocational school, college, or university qualified by the State Board of Education to give general academic instruction.

G. "Sexual encounter center" means any business, agency or person who, for any form of consideration or gratuity, provides a place where three (3) or more persons may congregate, assemble or associate for the purpose of engaging in specified sexual activities or exposing specified anatomical areas.

H. For the purposes of this Section, "specified anatomical areas" include the human male or female genitals, pubic hair, anus, cleft of the buttocks, or vulva with less than a fully opaque covering and/or covered male genitals in a turgid state. This provision may not be complied with by applying an opaque covering simulating the appearance of the specific anatomical part required to be covered.

I. For the purpose of this Section, "specified sexual activities" include:

1. Actual or simulated sexual intercourse, anal intercourse, oral or anal copulation, bestiality, pedophilia, necrophilia, direct physical stimulation of unclothed genitals, flagellation or torture in the context of sexual relationship, or the use of excretory functions in the context of a sexual relationship; or 21.15.620 Conditional use.

"Conditional use" means a use of land that, due to the specific nature and unique characteristics of the use, requires special standards and discretionary review to insure conformance with the purpose of the Zoning Regulations.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.630 Conditional use permit.

"Conditional use permit" means the discretionary permit granted by an authorized hearing body to establish a specific conditional use, subject to specified standards.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.635 Consumer loans.

"Consumer loan" means a loan, whether secured by either real or personal property, or both, or unsecured (i.e., signature loan), the proceeds of which are intended by the borrower for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes (the lender shall not be required to ascertain that the proceeds of the loan are used in accordance with the statement of intended purposes). For purposes of determining whether a loan is a consumer loan, the lender may rely on any written statement of intended purposes signed by the borrower. The statement may be a separate statement signed by the borrower, or may be contained in a loan application or other document signed by the borrower. In addition to the definition of consumer loan in California Finance Code Section 22230, a "consumer loan" also means a loan of a principal amount of less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), the proceeds of which are intended by the borrower for use primarily for other than personal, family, or household purposes.

21.15.640 Convalescent hospital.

"Convalescent hospital" means a facility providing long-term nursing, dietary and other medical services to convalescents or invalids but not providing surgery or primary treatments such as are customarily provided in a hospital. Convalescent hospital includes nursing home and rest home, but does not include general or specialized hospital or residential care facility. A convalescent hospital must be licensed by the State as such.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.650 Conversion.

"Conversion" means changing the original purpose of a building to different use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.660 Corner cutoff.

"Corner cutoff" means the triangular area created by measuring from the corner of a lot six feet (6') by six feet (6') to ten feet (10') by ten feet (10') along each property line or driveway and connecting the points at the end of those lines (Figure 15-4).

(ORD-19-0028 § 1, 2019; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.670 Corner lot.

See "Lot, corner."

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.680 Corral.

"Corral" means a pen or enclosure for confining livestock, as defined in this Title. It is generally a fenced-in area containing more than ninety-six (96) square feet of area which is open to the sky and which does not have a wall greater than six feet (6') in height.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.690 Corrosive.

"Corrosive" means any substance which in contact with living tissue will cause destruction of tissue by chemical action. Corrosive shall not refer to such action on inanimate surfaces.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.700 Courtesy parking.

"Courtesy parking" means parking provided on-premises or off-premises for visitors or customers as an accessory use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

See "Daycare center."

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.740 Deck.

"Deck" means an open platform which is either: 1) ground-supported and freestanding or attached to a building; or 2) located upon the roof of a building.

21.15.750 Demolish.

"Demolish" means to remove or modify more than fifty percent (50%) of the exterior walls of an existing building or structure, as measured by the linear length of the walls or more of one or more major structural components including exterior walls, structural floor systems, roof framing systems, and foundation systems; to remove less than fifty percent (50%) of one or more major structural components where the proposed demolition of the component(s) would result in cumulative demolition meeting or exceeding fifty percent (50%) of the entire structure since January 1, 1977 (based on available City of Long Beach records); or to remove a structure or a portion of a structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds fifty percent (50%) of the market value of the structure before the start of construction based on documented construction bid costs and either an appraisal by a professional property appraiser or County assessor data, if it is based on current market values.

1. A wall is considered to be demolished when any of the following occur above or below grade:

    a. Cladding or framing systems are altered in a manner that requires removal and replacement of fifty percent (50%) or more of those cladding or framing systems.

    b. Existing support for fifty percent (50%) or more of the wall is temporarily or permanently removed such that any portion of the remaining floors, roof, ceilings, or other building elements supported by the wall cannot remain freestanding without supplemental support.

    c. Additional reinforcement is needed for fifty percent (50%) or more of the wall including any remaining portions of the wall and cladding to provide structural support (e.g., addition of beams, joists and/or rafters, etc., whether alone or alongside existing/retained system elements).

2. Roof framing and structural floor systems shall be considered to be demolished when any of the following occur:

    a. The roof and/or floor structural framing is altered in a manner that requires removal and replacement of fifty percent (50%) or more of the roof or floor structural framing system elements (e.g., trusses, joists, and rafters).

    b. The roof and/or floor structural framing system requires additional reinforcement for fifty percent (50%) or more of the roof and/or floor structural framing including any remaining portions of the roof or floor system to provide structural support (e.g., addition of beams, joists and/or rafters, etc., whether alone or alongside existing/retained system elements).

3. Foundations shall be considered demolished and the entire structure shall be considered demolished when fifty percent (50%) or more of the foundation has been removed or modified as measured by horizontal surface area (slab foundation) or number of piers, posts caissons, and/or grade beams (pier and caissons).

4. For structures without walls or roofs, including fences, patios, decks, or similar, "demolish" means to remove fifty percent (50%) or more of the foundation or structural elements.

"Modify" includes removal of both interior and exterior cladding of the wall sections. "Modify" does not include repairs associated with Section 21.27.090 - restoration of projects consisting solely of exterior façade remodels with no interior reconfiguration.

(ORD-19-0007 § 1, 2019; ORD-16-0028 § 7, 2016; Ord. C-7619 § 1, 1999: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.760 Density.

"Density" means the existing or projected number of rooms or dwelling units per unit of land as indicated by the context of the applicable regulation. Density may be regulated in units per lot, units per lot area, or dwelling units per acre, or a combination of the foregoing, as applicable. For density bonus purposes, density shall be quantified using dwelling units per acre.

21.15.765 Density, Base.

"Base density," also given as "residential density," means the maximum density permitted by the Zoning Regulations, or a Planned Development District or Specific Plan as applicable, for a given lot, parcel, project, or circumstance. If the zoning district is not consistent with the Land Use Element of the General Plan, the density shall instead be as specified by the PlaceType (land use district) of the Land Use Element.

21.15.770 Density Transfer.

"Density transfer" means permitting unused allowable densities in one area to be transferred to another area. Where density transfer is permitted, the average density over an area remains constant, but internal variations may occur. There is no density transfer mechanism in the Zoning Regulations, but this definition is retained for the purposes of approved projects approved under previous versions of the Zoning Regulations.

21.15.772 Density Bonus.

Density bonus means an increase over the otherwise maximum permitted density for a given lot, parcel, project, or circumstance. The amount of density bonus to which a project is entitled shall be determined in accordance with the regulations applicable to the density bonus request.

21.15.774 Density bonus unit.

"Density bonus unit" means a residential dwelling unit in excess of the allowable residential density otherwise allowed, which is approved in a housing development project in accordance with the density bonus regulations applicable to the project. These regulations include Chapter 21.63 and Chapter 21.68 of the Zoning Regulations, and Cal. Gov't Code §65915.

21.15.780 Detached building.

"Detached building" means a building which does not have a wall of four feet (4′) or more in length in common with another building. If two (2) buildings are connected only by breezeways, extended walls, extended roofs, fences, or joists, in the absence of a common wall, the buildings shall be considered detached buildings for the purpose of this definition.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.790 Development.

A. "Development" means:

1. The division of a parcel of land into two (2) or more parcels;

2. The construction, reconstruction, conversion, structural alteration, relocation or enlargement of any structure;

3. Any mining, excavation, landfill or land disturbance; or

4. Any use or extension of the use of land.

B. This definition includes, but is not limited to:

1. Subdivision pursuant to the Subdivision Map Act (commencing with Section 66410 of the Government Code);

2. Any other division of land, including lot splits, except where the land division is brought about in connection with the purchase of the land by a public agency for public recreational use;

3. Change in the intensity of use of water, or of access thereto;

4. Construction, reconstruction, demolition, or alteration of the size of any structure, including any facility of any private, public, or municipal utility; and

5. The removal or harvesting of major vegetation other than for agricultural purposes, kelp harvesting, and timber operations which are in accordance with a timber harvesting plan submitted pursuant to the Z'berg-Nejedly Forest Practice Act of 1973 (commencing with Section 4511).

C. As used in this Section, "structure" includes, but is not limited to, any building, road, pipe, flume, conduit, siphon, aqueduct, telephone line and electrical power transmission and distribution line.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.800 Development agreement.

"Development agreement" means an agreement entered into between the City of Long Beach and a contracting party which relates to a specific real property, subject to the terms of the agreement, pursuant to the provisions of this Title and Article 2.5, Chapter 4, Division I of Title 7 of the California Government Code.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.810 Development rights.

"Development rights" means the ability to use and improve a parcel of land as granted and regulated by the Zoning Regulations.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.812 Development standard.

"Development standard" means any quantifiable requirement of the Zoning Regulations that dictates the physical layout, size, or conditions for development, including but not limited to: building setbacks, height limits, lot coverage, open space requirements, floor area ratio, and parking requirements. Development standards are an essential part of the "minimum requirements" of the Zoning Regulations (see Section 21.10.040).

21.15.813 Development standards waiver (density bonus).

See "Waiver, development standards (density bonus)."

21.15.820 Disposal.

"Disposal" means the abandonment, disposition or other removal of waste as a final action after use has been achieved or a use is no longer intended.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.830 Disposal site.

"Disposal site" means the location where any final disposition of waste occurs.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.840 District, zoning.

"Zoning district" means a section of the City delineated on the zoning map for which requirements and regulations uniformly govern the use, placement, spacing and size of land and buildings.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

(Ord. C-7326 § 2, 1995: Ord. C-7032 § 46, 1992)

21.15.1060 Flammable.

"Flammable" means and includes:

A. A liquid which has a flash point at or below thirty-seven and eight-tenths degrees centigrade (37.8°C) (100°F), as defined by procedures described in Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 173.115;

B. A gas for which a mixture of thirteen percent (13%) or less, by volume, with air, forms a flammable mixture at atmospheric pressure, or the flammable range with air at atmospheric pressure is wider than twelve percent (12%) regardless of the lower limits. Testing methods described in Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 173.115, shall be used;

C. A solid which is likely to cause fires due to friction; to retain heat from processing; or which can be ignited under normal temperature conditions and when ignited burns so as to create a serious threat to public health and safety. Normal temperature conditions means temperatures normally encountered in the handling, treatment, storage and disposal of hazardous wastes;

D. A gas, liquid, sludge or solid which ignites spontaneously or in dry or moist air at or below fifty-four and three-tenths degrees centigrade (54.3°C) (130°F) or upon exposure to water;

E. A strong oxidizer.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1065 Fleet service/company vehicle operations.

Establishments with fleet service or company vehicles providing transportation services, office equipment repair, appliance or electronic equipment repair, termite and pest control, or commercial or residential building maintenance services at off-site locations, or similar operations utilizing six (6) or more company vehicles.

(Ord. C-7550 § 15, 1998)

21.15.1070 Floor area, gross (GFA).

"Gross floor area (GFA)" means the total area of all floors of a building, as measured to the outside surfaces of exterior walls. Gross floor area includes halls, stairways, elevator shafts, on grade, semi-subterranean, and subterranean garages, lofts and mezzanines, basements, and finished or habitable attics, except as otherwise defined or exempted in a specific Section of this Title. For the purposes of calculating GFA for all residential dwelling units, outdoor roof deck or balcony areas open to the sky or covered by patio cover or similar structure, when enclosed on all sides by a parapet, solid railing or building wall greater than three feet six inches (3'6") in height, shall be included. However, open areas within the building above normal ceiling height shall not be calculated. See also definitions for floor area ratio and lot coverage.

21.15.1090 Floor area ratio.

"Floor area ratio" means the numerical value obtained by dividing the gross floor area of a building or buildings located on a lot or parcel of land by the total area of the lot or parcel of land (Figure 15-6). For purposes of calculating Floor Area Ratio:

A. For single-family dwellings, up to seven hundred (700) square feet of garage GFA shall be exempted.

B. For multi-family dwellings, the GFA of all garage areas and parking structures shall be exempted.

C. For all residential dwelling units, outdoor roof deck or balcony areas open to the sky or covered by a patio cover or similar structure, when enclosed on all sides by a parapet, solid railing or building wall greater than three feet six inches (3'6") in height, shall be included. However, open areas within the building above normal ceiling height shall not be calculated.

D. For nonresidential buildings, the GFA of all garage areas and parking structures, utility and elevator core stairwells, and restrooms shall be exempted.

21.15.1100 Fortunetelling.

"Fortunetelling" means a commercial land use involving the foretelling of the future in exchange for financial or other valuable consideration. Fortunetelling shall be limited to uses where the fortune is told through astrology, augury, card or tea reading, cartomancy, clairvoyance, clairaudience, crystal gazing, divination, magic mediumship, necromancy, palmistry, psychometry, phrenology, prophecy, spiritual reading or any similar means. Fortunetelling does not include forecasting based on historical trends or patterns, religious or political dogma, or any of the previously listed arts when presented in an assembly of people who purchase tickets or means in exchange for the presentation at a site licensed for entertainment land uses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1110 Foster family home.

See "group home".

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1120 Fourplex (four-family dwelling).

"Fourplex" means a building containing four (4) dwelling units.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1130 Fraternity house or sorority house.

"Fraternity house" or "sorority house" means a building, or a portion of a building, occupied by a chapter of a regularly organized college fraternity or sorority officially recognized by an educational institution.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1140 Frontage.

"Frontage" means the length of that portion of a lot abutting a street.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1150 Front lot line.

"Front lot line" is defined as follows:

A. Corner Lot. On a corner lot, the shortest line separating the lot from an abutting street. When two (2) or more recorded lots or fractional lots are developed together, the Zoning Administrator shall determine the front lot line as that most consistent with development patterns on surrounding lots.

B. Interior Lot. On an interior lot, the lot line between the lot and the street.

C. Double Frontage. On a lot fronting on two (2) streets (other than a corner lot), both lot lines abutting the streets shall be considered front lot lines.

D. Triangular or Gore-Shaped. On triangular or gore-shaped lots, any lot line separating the lot from an abutting street, and which is essentially a continuation of the front lot lines of abutting lots.

E. Multiple Frontage. On a lot fronting on three (3) or more streets, the Zoning Administrator shall determine the front lot line based on traffic patterns and the appropriateness of the site plan.

F. No Frontage. On a lot with no street frontage, the front lot line shall be the shortest lot line abutting any public property other than an alley. Wherever no public property abuts the lot, the front lot line shall be the shortest line abutting an alley.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1160 Front yard, required.

"Required front yard" means the area between the front lot line and the required front setback line extending across the entire width of the lot (Figure 15-3), as prescribed for a given land use district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1170 Garage.

"Garage" means an accessory building, or portion of a building, used for the parking or temporary storage of automobiles for the occupants of the premises. A garage (except a parking structure) shall be enclosed on all sides and possess a fully closing door at the point of vehicular access.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1180 General Plan.

"General Plan" means the adopted General Plan of the City of Long Beach.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1190 Grade.

"Grade" is defined as follows:

A. The average elevation at the front top of curbline.

B. If the average elevation of the rear property line differs from that of the front top of curb by five feet (5′) or more, then grade shall be the plane connecting the average front elevation and the average rear elevation.

C. In flood hazard areas, grade means the elevation at flood hazard level or grade as defined above, whichever is the highest point.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1200 Group home.

"Group home" means any residential care facility for six (6) or fewer persons who are mentally disordered or otherwise handicapped or supervised. A group home must be licensed by the State under the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1400) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code. Group home does not include any facility for wards of the juvenile court.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1205 Guardrail.

"Guardrail" means a protective railing required by the Uniform Building Code, designed to withstand the pressure specified in the Uniform Building Code. The height shall not exceed the minimum height required in the Uniform Building Code. "Open guardrail" means a guardrail that is visibly open (consisting of eighty percent (80%) of railing area to be open). A visually transparent wind screen shall be considered as open guardrail.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1210 Guest parking.

"Guest parking" means parking spaces provided with a residential unit for intermittent use by visitors.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1220 Guestroom.

"Guestroom" means any rented or leased room which is used or designed to provide sleeping accommodations for one (1) or more guests in apartments, hotels, motels, private clubs, lodges, and fraternal organizations. In a suite of rooms, each room that provides access to a common hall or direct access to the outside area shall be considered as one (1) guestroom.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1230 Halfway house.

See "Residential care facility".

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1240 Handicapped housing.

"Handicapped housing" means any housing which is designed and physically improved to accommodate physically handicapped persons. Handicapped housing does not include residential care facility.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1250 Hazardous material.

"Hazardous material" means any substance or mixture of substances which is toxic, corrosive, flammable, an irritant, a strong sensitizer; or which generates pressure through decomposition, heat or other means, if such substance or mixture of substances may cause substantial injury, serious illness or harm to humans, domestic livestock or wildlife. Hazardous material includes extremely hazardous material.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1260 Hazardous waste.

"Hazardous waste" means any waste material or mixture of wastes which is toxic, corrosive, flammable, an irritant, a strong sensitizer; or which generates pressure through decomposition, heat or other means, if such a waste or mixture of wastes may cause substantial injury, serious illness or harm to humans, domestic livestock or wildlife. Hazardous waste includes extremely hazardous waste.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1270 Hazardous waste area.

"Hazardous waste area" means any area where hazardous wastes are stored, mixed, handled, treated, discarded or disposed of.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1280 Hazardous waste facility.

"Hazardous waste facility" means a facility which handles, stores, treats or disposes of a hazardous waste and which contains at least one (1) hazardous waste area. Hazardous waste facility does not include a facility using a biological process of the property of a producer treating oil, its products and water, and producing an effluent which is continuously discharged to navigable waters in compliance with a permit issued pursuant to Section 402 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 USC 1342).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1290 Hazardous waste facility, off-site.

"Off-site hazardous waste facility" means an operation involving handling, treatment, storage or disposal of a hazardous waste in one (1) or more of the following situations:

A. The hazardous waste is transported via a commercial railroad, a public road or public waters, where adjacent land is not owned by, or leased to, the producer of the waste.

B. The hazardous waste is at a site which is not owned by, or leased to, the producer of the waste.

C. The hazardous waste is at a site which receives hazardous waste from more than one (1) producer.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1300 Hazardous waste facility, on-site.

"On-site hazardous waste facility" means an operation involving handling, treatment, storage or disposal of hazardous waste on land owned by, or leased to, a waste producer, and which received hazardous waste produced only by that producer. An operation that occurs after waste is transported by a commercial railroad, or on public waters or on a public road shall be considered an on-site operation only if the producer of the waste owns at least ninety percent (90%) of the linear frontage of the route traveled by the waste, or if the disposal site and the area where the hazardous wastes are generated are on the same continuous property.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1310 Hazardous waste producer.

"Hazardous waste producer" means any use which results in the generation of hazardous waste.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1320 Hedge.

"Hedge" means any cultivated plant growth which is sufficiently dense along a line as to obstruct passage of light, air or solid objects; it does not constitute a fence or garden wall.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1330 Height of building.

A. The height of a building with a sloped roof is the vertical distance above "grade", as defined in Section 21.15.1190, to the midpoint height of the highest sloped roof. A sloped roof may include, but is not limited to, a shed, hip, gable, gambrel, mansard or curved roof as shown on Figure 15-5 and is defined as a slanting surface covering the top of the structure. The measurement of this vertical distance is further described in Section 21.15.1335.

B. The height of a building with a flat roof is the vertical distance above "grade", as defined in Section 21.15.1190, to the top of the railing, parapet or coping (whichever is higher). Examples of buildings with flat roofs are shown on Figure 15-5, and include a building with a mansard parapet. The height of a building with a mansard parapet is the vertical distance above "grade", as defined in Section 21.15.1190, to the top of the railing, parapet or coping (whichever is higher).

C. The height of a stepped or terraced building is the maximum height of any segment of the building. The height of any dormer shall be considered the height of a separate roof. The highest roof or roof segment shall be utilized in determining compliance with the height limit.

D. A sloped roof that includes an open roof deck that does not exceed ten percent (10%) of the footprint of the principal building is considered a sloped roof for purposes of measuring height. If the roof deck exceeds ten percent (10%) of the footprint of the principal building, the roof deck shall be considered a flat roof and building height shall be measured to the top of the railing, parapet, or coping (whichever is higher).

E. Elevator and mechanical equipment penthouses shall not be included in the measurement of height for commercial buildings.

(Ord. C-7776 § 1, 2001: Ord. C-7729 § 1, 2001: Ord. C-6933 § 3, 1991: Ord. C-6822 § 1, 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1335 Height to midpoint of sloped roof.

"Height to midpoint of sloped roof" means the middle of the distance between the top of the ridge lines of the roof and the bottom of the ceiling of the highest story or mezzanine of the building. If the highest story or mezzanine has an open-beamed or cathedral ceiling, then height shall be measured from the top of the ridge to the bottom of the top plate of the wall supporting the roof. It is the intent of this provision that the sloped roof should not allow any greater volume in the building than a flat-roofed building with equal measured height.

(Ord. C-6822 § 2, 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1338 High crime.

"High crime" means a crime rate in a crime reporting district that is twenty percent (20%) above the City-wide average for all crimes.

(Ord. C-7032 § 47, 1992)

21.15.1340 Highway.

"Highway" means any public right-of-way indicated as a highway on the transportation element of the General Plan.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1350 Home occupation.

"Home occupation" means an accessory activity of a nonresidential nature which is performed within a dwelling unit or an accessory structure to the unit. The principal use of the dwelling unit must be a residential use, and the home occupation must be incidental to the residential use of the dwelling unit.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1360 Horse.

"Horse" shall also include mule, burro, pony, jack, hinny, and all other quadrupeds of the genus equus.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1370 Hospital.

"Hospital" means an institutional land use consisting of a facility licensed by the State Department of Public Health for the provision of clinical, temporary or emergency service of a medical, obstetrical or surgical nature to human patients, including overnight care of patients.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1380 Hotel.

"Hotel" means a commercial land use for the rental of six (6) or more guestrooms or suites to primarily transient occupants for a period of not more than thirty (30) consecutive days. Hotel is distinguished from motel by having the entry to the guestrooms from a common interior corridor. (Also see definition for "bed and breakfast inn", "inn", "motel" and "residential care facility".)

(Ord. C-7047 § 1, 1992: Ord. C-6595 § 6, 1989: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1390 Household income levels.

The following household income levels are defined for purposes of the Zoning Regulations:

A. Acutely low-income household. "Acutely low-income household" means households whose income does not exceed fifteen percent (15%) of the area median income as published annually by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD), adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

B. Extremely low-income household. "Extremely low-income household" means households whose income does not exceed thirty percent (30%) of the area median income as published annually by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD), adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

C. Very low-income household. "Very low-income household" means households whose income does not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the area median income as published annually by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD), adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

D. Low-income household. "Low-income household" means households whose income does not exceed eighty percent (80%) of the area median income as published annually by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD), adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

E. Moderate-income household. "Moderate-income household" means households whose income does not exceed one hundred twenty percent (120%) of the area median income as published annually by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD), adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

21.15.1410—21.15.1430 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-26-0017 §§ 27—29, adopted June 16, 2026, repealed §§ 21.15.1410—21.15.1430, which pertained to definitions of low-, moderate- and very low-cost housing, and derived from Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988.

21.15.1440 Illumination, indirect.

"Indirect illumination" means illumination of a sign or other structure or feature by an internal or external light source which is shielded from persons viewing the structure or feature. Shielding shall consist of hoods or translucent material.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1448 Incentive (density bonus).

"Incentive" and "concession," for the purposes of density bonus administration, means a modification or reduction of a zoning development standard or objective design standard that results in identifiable and actual cost reductions to a development project that is the subject of a density bonus request. The terms "incentive" and "concession" may be used interchangeably for purposes of this definition. An incentive or concession shall not be used to reduce minimum life safety standards, building standards approved by the California Building Standards Commission, or standards of the Long Beach Building Standards Code.

21.15.1450 Incentive zoning.

"Incentive zoning" means a system under which a property developer is granted an increase in permitted density in exchange for providing low and moderate income housing pursuant to Section 65915 et seq. of the California Government Code.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1452 Inclusionary housing project.

"Inclusionary housing project" means a project conforming to the requirements of Chapter 21.67 of the Zoning Regulations.

21.15.1454 Inclusionary housing unit.

"Inclusionary housing unit" means a residential dwelling unit required by Chapter 21.67 to be affordable at a specified income level and subject to an affordable housing regulatory agreement.

(ORD-26-0017 § 24, 2026)

21.15.1460 Industrial.

"Industrial" means a category of land use comprised of those activities necessary to convert natural resources into finished products. These activities include all resource extracting, resource processing, manufacturing, assembling, storage, transshipping and wholesaling that precede the arrival of goods at a retail land use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.1465 Inn.

"Inn" means a commercial land use for the rental of five (5) or fewer guestrooms, suites or dwelling units primarily to transient occupants for a period of not more than thirty (30) consecutive days.

(Ord. C-6595 § 22, 1989)

21.15.1470 Institutional use.

"Institutional use" means a category of land use characterized by emphasis upon educational, cultural, or public service activities whether for profit or of a nonprofit nature.

21.15.1475 Interim housing.

"Interim housing" means any facility or site used or intended to be used as a place where sleeping or rooming accommodations are furnished on a temporary basis to persons who lack permanent housing. Interim housing facility includes, but is not limited to, emergency shelters, transitional housing, and bridge housing. Interim Housing uses may include accessory uses such as ancillary offices, personal storage, or amenities for pets.

See "Side yard, required."

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3350 Zero bedroom unit.

"Zero bedroom unit" means a dwelling unit consisting of one (1) kitchen, one (1) bathroom and one (1) combination living and sleeping room. It shall not exceed four hundred and fifty (450) square feet gross floor area or it shall be considered a one (1) bedroom unit. A zero bedroom unit is also known as a single, a bachelor or an efficiency unit.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3360 Zero lot line.

"Zero lot line" means a development form in which a building is sited on one (1) or more lot lines with no yard, or zero setback (Figure 15-4). The intent is to allow more flexibility in site design and to increase the amount of usable open space on the lot.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3370 Zone or zone district.

"Zone" or "zone district" means a section of the City described in the text of the Zoning Regulations and delineated on the use district maps of the City. The text sets forth the requirements for the use of land as well as improvement and development standards.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3380 Zoning Administrator.

"Zoning Administrator" means the person duly appointed by the Director of Planning and Building, with confirmation by the Planning Commission, to make administrative decisions as prescribed in this Title and to handle such other duties as assigned by the Director of Planning and Building in the administration and enforcement provisions of this Title. Such person shall be a member of the Department of Planning and Building and shall have a position of Division Manager or above.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3390 Zoning amendment.

"Zoning amendment" means a change in the Zoning Regulations or zoning map. Zoning amendment also includes rezoning.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3400 Zoning map.

"Zoning map" means the map portion of the Zoning Regulations delineating the boundaries of land use districts and which, along with the zoning text, comprises the Zoning Ordinance or Zoning Regulations. Zoning map also includes land use district maps.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.15.3410 Zoning Regulations or Zoning Ordinance.

"Zoning Regulations" or "Zoning Ordinance" means the textual and map portions of the Zoning Regulations of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

CHAPTER 21.21 ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

DIVISION I.

HEARING BODIES

21.21.101 Hearings—General.

This Chapter is intended to establish administrative procedures for all types of matters, permits and approvals for which action is provided in this Title 21. Public hearings shall be conducted in connection with each of the procedures so established by such hearing bodies and officers as are indicated in Table 21-1.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.105 Hearing bodies.

Four (4) hearing bodies or officers shall make decisions on the various procedures provided for in this Title 21 as follows:

A. City Council. The City Council shall be responsible for actions indicated in Table 21-1. City Council actions on zoning amendments and rezonings are hearings and shall follow the noticing procedures set forth in this Chapter.

B. Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall be responsible for the hearings indicated in Table 21-1.

C. Zoning Administrator. The Zoning Administrator is established to provide, among other things, a hearing officer to conduct public hearings as specified in Table 21-1. The Zoning Administrator shall be a Planning Officer designated by the Director of Planning and Building with the approval of the Planning Commission. In the absence of the Zoning Administrator, the Director of Planning and Building may assume the responsibilities of the Zoning Administrator or may designate a Planner III or other higher designation.

D. Site Plan Review Committee. The Site Plan Review Committee shall consist of the Director of Planning and Building and two (2) planning officers designated by him/her.

(Ord. C-7247 § 1, 1994: Ord. C-6933 § 5, 1991; Ord. C-6895 § 3, 1991: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

INITIATION OF PROCEDURES

21.21.201 Application.

A. General. Any procedure provided for in this Title 21, including, but not limited to, amendment of the Zoning Regulations, change of a zoning district, issuance of conditional use permits, variances, administra-tive use permits, site plan review, classification of uses and density bonuses may be initiated by application of the owner of any real property in the City directly affected by the procedure, or his authorized agent. The Director of Development Services may request proof of ownership or authorization to apply prior to acceptance of any such application.

B. Zoning and Zoning Regulations. An amendment to the Zoning Regulations and a change of zoning district may also be initiated by:

1. Direction by action of the City Council or the Planning Commission; or

2. Direction of the Director of Development Services with the consent of the Planning Commission.

C. Filing Fee. A filing fee shall accompany each application as required by Section 21.21.701.

D. Complete Application. No application shall be considered complete until applicable forms are filed, the required fee is paid, and additional information as required by the Director of Development Services, is received. The Director of Development Services shall determine when an application is complete, and the determination of the Director shall be final.

(ORD-20-0018 § 1, 2020; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION III.

NOTICING OF HEARINGS

21.21.302 Noticing requirements for hearings.

A. General. Notice shall be given for all hearings requiring notice as set forth in Table 21-1 not less than fourteen (14) days, nor more than forty-five (45) days prior to the hearing. In addition to the notice required by this Section, the City may give notice of the hearing in any other manner it deems necessary or desirable, but, in any event, notice shall be given by the means set forth in this Section.

B. For Noticing of Zone Changes and Other Specified Procedures. For noticing of a zone change, conditional use permit, standards variance, administrative use permit, planned development district, local coastal permit, special setback lines, density bonus, or any other planning or zoning matter not otherwise specifically provided for herein:

1. Owners and Occupants. Notice of hearing shall be mailed or delivered to the owner of the subject real property or to the owner's duly authorized agent. One (1) notice of hearing shall also be mailed or delivered to each tenant household or to each commercial tenant as applicable, of the subject real property;

2. Project Applicant. Notice shall be mailed or delivered to the project applicant;

3. Local Agencies. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered to each local agency expected to provide water, sewage, streets, roads, schools or other essential facilities or services to the project, whose ability to provide those facilities and services may be significantly affected;

4. Public Notification.

a. (1) For residential or commercial projects, notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered to all owners of real property as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll within three hundred feet (300') of the real property that is the subject of the hearing. Notice of hearing shall also be mailed or delivered to all tenants, as applicable, of real property that is located within three hundred feet (300') of the real property that is subject to the hearing.

(2) For all industrial, institutional or City projects, notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered to all owners of real property as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll within one thousand feet (1,000') of the real property that is the subject of the hearing. Notice of hearing shall also be mailed or delivered to all tenants, as applicable, of real property that is located within one thousand feet (1,000') of the real property that is subject to the hearing.

(3) The notification radius for mailed notices shall be extended in the following circumstances:

i. Projects that are outside of, but within three hundred feet (300'), of any residential zone - extend radius by that distance, for a notification radius of 300 feet plus distance from closest residential zone.

ii. Projects requesting reduced or shared parking: extend radius by 450 feet, for a notification radius of 750 feet.

iii. When the use has a buffer requirement (such as a 500-foot separation), increase the notification radius to match the buffer requirement.

iv. When project falls within more than one (1) category described in subsections i—iv, the greater requirement shall prevail.

(4) For notices on City-owned property in the Port of Long Beach and the Long Beach Airport, notices shall also be mailed and delivered to the leasehold interests on those properties. Notices sent to leaseholders shall count in determination of the twenty (20) notice minimum.

(5) In lieu of utilizing the assessment roll, the City may utilize records of the county assessor or tax collector which contain more recent information than the assessment roll. In no event shall less than a minimum of twenty (20) nearest property owners, or owners and leaseholders as specified above, be notified.

(6) Notice of the hearing shall also be mailed or delivered to resident managers of any multifamily residential rental units where the property owner is not an on-site occupant when the fact of non-occupancy is known to the person charged with the responsibility of mailing or delivering notice.

(7) Measurement of the distance for notification pursuant to this Subsection shall begin at the property boundary of the real property that is the subject of the hearing.

(8) Whenever the number of properties to whom notice would be mailed or delivered exceeds one thousand 1,000, the City may provide notice by placing a display advertisement of at least one-eighth (1/8) page in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation within the jurisdiction where the hearing is being conducted.

(9) All notices, regardless of radius, shall be posted to the City's website, along with other forms of electronic communication that are specified with an approved electronic communications policy.

b. In a City-initiated zoning remapping program, if the number of properties to whom notice would be mailed or delivered pursuant to this Subsection is greater than one thousand (1,000), the City, in lieu of mailed or delivered notice, may provide notice by placing a display advertisement of at least one-eighth (1/8) page in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation within the local agency in which the proceeding is conducted at least ten (10) and not more than forty-five (45) days prior to the hearing; and 5. Posting.

a. Notice of the hearing shall be posted at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing in at least three (3) public places within the boundaries of the City, including one (1) public place in the area, if any, most directly affected by the proceedings. In addition, the applicant or owner of the real property which is the subject of the hearing shall post a sign of at least thirty inches (30") by forty inches (40") on each street face of the real property that is the subject of the hearing, the content of which sign shall be subject to the prior approval of development services staff.

b. Building height variance applicants shall erect story poles which accurately represent the full extent of the proposed structure to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services, including decks and eaves, at least fourteen (14) calendar days prior to the first public hearing and remain in place through the end of the appeal period.

6. Noticing of Actions in the Coastal Zone. Additionally, when notice is required to be given for any matter in the coastal zone, in addition to any and all other notices required by this Subsection, notice shall be mailed to the California Coastal Commission and to all persons requesting notice for the individual matter or for all coastal zone hearings, and to all residents within one hundred feet (100') of the site.

C. For noticing of a zoning ordinance amendment:

1. Publishing Advertisement. Notice of the hearing shall be published pursuant to Section 6061 of the California Government Code in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation within the City;

2. Posting. Notice of the hearing shall be posted at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing in at least three (3) public places within the boundaries of the City, including one (1) public place in the area, if any, most directly affected by the proceeding;

3. Mailing. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed, together with all proposed changes, additions, modifications or deletions to all City libraries and to anyone requesting such notice; and

4. Amendments in the Coastal Zone. For any matter in the coastal zone, in addition to any and all other notices required by this Subsection, notice shall be mailed to the California Coastal Commission and to all persons requesting notice for the individual matter or for all coastal zone hearings, and to all residents within one hundred feet (100') of the site.

D. For Noticing of Appeals:

1. Responsibility for Noticing. A notice of the public hearing on the appeal shall be mailed by the Department of Development Services for appeals to the City Planning Commission, and by the City Clerk for appeals to the City Council.

The notice shall contain the same information as the original notice except that it shall also give the appellant's name and state that the hearing is an appeal.

2. Persons to be Noticed. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed to the applicant and to all persons entitled to mailed notice and to any known aggrieved person, as specified in Subsection 21.21.302.B, not less than ten (10) days prior to the hearing. A person shall not be considered aggrieved for purposes of receiving this notice if the only indication of interest is the signing of a petition unless that person indicates on the petition that he wishes to receive notice.

3. Appeals in the Coastal Zone. For any matter in the coastal zone, in addition to any and all other notices required by this Subsection, notice shall be mailed to the California Coastal Commission and to all persons requesting notice for the individual matter or for all coastal zone hearings, and to all residents within one hundred feet (100') of the site.

21.21.304 Content of notices.

All notices shall contain, as a minimum, the following information:

A. The applicant's name;

B. The filing date;

C. The case number for the project;

D. The location of the project, including an indication of whether it is in the coastal zone;

E. An indication of whether the project is appealable to the Coastal Commission;

F. A description of the project;

G. The reason for the public hearing;

H. The date, time and place of the public hearing;

I. The general procedures for the hearing and the receipt of public comments;

J. The means for appeal, including an appeal to the Coastal Commission when applicable; and

K. A statement stating substantially the following:

"If you challenge the action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or issues raised via written correspondence delivered to the (public entity conducting the hearing) at or prior to the public hearing".

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.306 Evidence of notice.

A. Documentation. When notice for any hearing is given pursuant to this Division, the following documentation shall be deemed sufficient to serve as proof that such notice was given pursuant to the requirements of law:

1. Publication. When notice is given by publication, an affidavit of publication by the newspaper in which publication is made showing, among other things, the date or dates of publication;

2. Mailing or Delivery. When notice is given by mailing or delivery, an affidavit or proof of mailing/delivery showing, among other things, the date or dates of mailing/delivery, the person making such mailing/delivery and the persons and entities to which mailing/delivery is made;

3. Posting. When notice is given by posting, an affidavit or proof of posting showing, among other things, the date or dates of posting, the person making or causing such posting to be made and the location at which posting was made.

B. Official Files Required. All documentation provided for in this Section shall be maintained in the official files of the hearing for which notice was given.

C. Failure to Provide Documentation or Receive Notice. Failure of documentation to be prepared or maintained pursuant to this Section shall not constitute grounds for any court to invalidate the actions of the City for which the notice was given nor shall the failure of any person or entity to receive notice given pursuant to this Division constitute grounds for any court to invalidate the actions of the City for which the notice was given.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION IV.

CONDUCT OF HEARINGS AND EFFECT OF ACTION

21.21.401 Purpose and right to comment.

A. Purpose. The purpose of this Division IV is to set forth procedures for the conducting of public hearings as a means of providing decision-makers with a method for receiving and considering comments on various discretionary matters considered by them under the provisions of this Title 21 prior to acting on such matters.

B. Right to Comment. Prior to the public hearing, any person affected by the pending application may file with the Department of Planning and Building a written statement either supporting or objecting to the application. Any such person may also appear at a public hearing to present oral testimony.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.402 Action by hearing body.

A. Following the completion of testimony at a public hearing, action shall be taken to approve, conditionally approve, partially approve, deny, continue or take under advisement the subject of the public hearing.

B. Hearings continued to a date certain shall be exempt from re-noticing in accordance with Division III "Notice of Hearings."

21.21.403 Permit denial—Reapplication.

Whenever an application has been denied and the denial becomes final, no new application for the same or similar request may be accepted within one (1) year of the denial date, unless the Zoning Administrator finds that a sufficient change in circumstances has occurred to warrant a new application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.404 Continuing jurisdiction.

The Director of Planning and Building shall have continuing jurisdiction over all permits issued and approvals given under the provisions of this Title and shall be responsible for monitoring compliance with the provisions and conditions of issuance or approval.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.405 Modification of permits.

An approved permit, variance or other entitlement may be modified as long as the modification is found to further the purposes of the Zoning Regulations. The hearing body which granted the original approval must consider and act on the modification within sixty (60) days of receiving the modification request. If the Zoning Administrator finds that the modification will not significantly alter the original approved action, notice of hearing on the requested modification shall be given to any person or entity whom the Zoning Administrator determines was aggrieved at the original hearing. If the Zoning Administrator finds that the modification may significantly alter the original approved action, notice of hearing on the requested modification shall be given as required for an initial hearing as shown on Table 21-1. For the purposes of this Section, a significant alteration shall include, but is not limited to, a request to relocate the project to a new location other than that approved by the permit, or a request to change the size of the project as approved by the permit by more than ten percent (10%).

(Ord. C-7663 § 3, 1999: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.406 Expiration.

A. Except as otherwise provided in the conditions of approval, every right or privilege authorized under this Title shall terminate three (3) years after the granting of the request and be of no further force and effect if the right or privilege has not been commenced within that two-year period. The termination will take effect without further City action if a timely request for extension of time has not been made or is denied. Any interruption or cessation necessitated by publicly declared emergency, fire, flood, earthquake or act of war or vandalism or cessation shall not result in the termination of the right or privilege.

B. Upon written request received prior to the expiration of the permit, a one (1) year extension of the right or privilege may be granted by the Zoning Administrator. The request may be granted upon a finding that no substantial change of circumstances has occurred and that the extension would not be detrimental to the purpose of the Zoning Regulations. Notice of the requested extension shall be given to any person determined by the Zoning Administrator to have been aggrieved at the original hearing. Any person aggrieved by the Zoning Administrator's decision on an extension request may appeal that decision to the Planning Commission.

C. Any right or privilege approved under this Title between January 1, 2018 and the effective date of this ordinance shall be effective for a period of forty-eight (48) months from the date of issuance at which time it will expire and be of no further force or effect.

(ORD-20-0023 § 1, 2020; ORD-16-0028 § 9, 2016; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION V.

APPEALS

21.21.501 Authorization and jurisdiction.

A. Authorization. Any aggrieved person may appeal a decision on any project that required a public hearing. Pursuant to Section 21.15.120, an Aggrieved person is any person who testified personally or through a representative at a public hearing; or who informed the staff of the Department of Development Services in writing prior to the hearing of an interest in the subject of a hearing.

B. Jurisdiction. The Planning Commission shall have jurisdiction on appeals of interpretations made pursuant to Section 21.10.045 and decisions issued by the Zoning Administrator and Site Plan Review Committee, and the City Council shall have jurisdiction on appeals from the Planning Commission as indicated in Table 21-1. Decisions lawfully appealable to the California Coastal Commission shall be appealed to that body.

C. Except as specified by this Code, decisions that are recommendations to the Planning Commission or to the City Council are not subject to appeal.

21.21.502 Time to file appeal.

An appeal must be filed within ten (10) days after the decision for which a public hearing was required is made.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.503 Form of filing.

All appeals shall be filed with the Department of Planning and Building on a form provided by that Department.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.504 Time for conducting hearing of appeals.

A public hearing on an appeal shall be held:

A. In the case of appeals to the Planning Commission, within sixty (60) days of the date of filing of the appeal with the Department of Planning and Building; or

B. In the case of appeals to the City Council, within sixty (60) days of the receipt by the City Clerk from the Department of Planning and Building of the appeal filed with the Department.

C. The Director of Development Services may provide an extension of the period for an appeal to be adjudicated for up to ninety (90) days.

21.21.505 Findings on appeal.

All decisions on appeal shall address and be based upon the same conclusionary findings, if any, required to be made in the original decision from which the appeal is taken.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.506 Finality of appeals.

A. Decision Rendered. After a decision on an appeal has been made and required findings of fact have been adopted, that decision shall be considered final and no other appeals may be made except:

1. Projects located seaward of the appealable area boundary, as defined in Section 21.25.908 (Coastal Permit—Appealable Area) of this Title, may be appealed to the California Coastal Commission; and

2. Local coastal development permits regulated under the City's Oil Code may be appealed to the City Council.

B. No Appeal Filed. After the time for filing an appeal has expired and no appeal has been filed, all decisions shall be considered final, provided that required findings of fact have been adopted.

C. Local Coastal Development. Decisions on local coastal development permits seaward of the appealable area shall not be final until the procedures specified in Chapter 21.25 (Coastal Permit) are completed.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.507 Appeals from Harbor Department environmental determinations.

A. Appellants. Any person who appeared before the Board of Harbor Commissioners (the "Board") and objected to the Board's: (1) certification of an environmental impact report, (2) approval of a negative declaration or mitigated negative declaration, or (3) determination that a project is not subject to the California Environmental Quality Act ("CEQA") (collectively "environmental determinations"), may appeal that environmental determination to the City Council.

B. Time to File an Appeal. An appeal of an environmental determination by the Board ("appeal") must be filed within ten (10) business days after the environmental determination.

C. Filing Fee. No filing fee will be charged for an appeal.

D. Place to File. An appeal must be filed with the City Clerk.

E. Contents of Appeal. There is no required form for an appeal, but all appeals shall be in writing and shall contain the following information:

1. The name, address and telephone number of the person filing the appeal (the "appellant").

2. All grounds for the appeal, specifying in detail why the appellant contends that the environmental determination does not comply with CEQA.

3. Evidence that each ground for the appeal was submitted to the Board by the appellant or another person before the environmental determination.

4. All documentation the appellant relies on in support of the appeal.

F. Effect of an Appeal. The filing of an appeal will stay the effect of: (1) the environmental determination; (2) any project approval made pursuant to the environmental determination; and (3) any notice of determination; until the City Council renders a decision on the appeal.

G. Hearing on the Appeal. The City Clerk shall set a hearing on the appeal on the agenda of the City Council not more than sixty (60) days from the date the appeal is filed with the City Clerk.

H. Notice of Hearing. The City Clerk shall provide notice of the hearing to the appellant and to the board not less than ten (10) business days before the hearing.

I. Conduct of the Hearing. The appellant shall have an opportunity to present its grounds for contending that the environmental determination does not comply with CEQA and the harbor department shall have an equal opportunity for rebuttal. Any other interested persons shall be limited to three (3) minutes each to state their views on the appeal.

J. City Council Decision. Following the hearing, the City Council may either: (1) deny the appeal and affirm the environmental determination; or (2) grant the appeal, set aside the environmental determination and remand to the Board.

(ORD-06-0020 § 1, 2006)

DIVISION VI.

REVOCATIONS

21.21.601 Revocations.

Except as otherwise provided, upon determination that there has been a violation of the terms or conditions or lawful requirements or provisions of any permit or approval provided by this Title, the Zoning Administrator shall schedule a public hearing before the City Council, Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator, whichever granted the permit or approval, to determine if the permit or approval should be revoked.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.605 Procedures for revocation.

A. At the hearing the Zoning Administrator shall present evidence of the violation.

B. If the hearing body or Hearing Officer finds that the conditions have been violated and that the property owner has not made a good faith effort to comply, the permit or approval shall be revoked.

C. The property owner shall have the same right of appeal as would have been applicable if the initial application had been denied by the person or body granting the permit.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION VII.

FEES

21.21.701 Fees.

A. Fees Required. Every person submitting an application for any procedure, entitlement, permit or approval pursuant to this Title 21 shall pay a fee as set forth in the schedule of fees for Title 21 established by City Council resolution. Required fees shall be paid at the time of filing of any application.

B. Purpose of Fees. Such fees are imposed for the purpose of reimbursing the City for costs incurred in investigating and acting upon an application and for administering the provisions of this Title relating to the application.

C. Refund of Fees. Fees shall not be refunded if the City has incurred costs in connection with the application, but partial and prorated refunds may be granted by the City if projects are withdrawn prior to the public hearing.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION VIII.

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS

21.21.801 Exhaustion of administrative remedies.

No person shall commence or maintain any legal action under this Title 21 until that person has exhausted all administrative remedies.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.21.805 Statute of limitations.

A. Any legal action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void or annul any decision or matter or proceedings provided in this Title shall be commenced within thirty (30) days after the decision becomes final; except that legal action on developments in the coastal zone taken under the provisions of Division 20, Chapter 9, Section 30000 et seq., of the Public Resources Code shall be commenced within sixty (60) days after the decision becomes final.

B. Thereafter, all persons are barred from bringing the action or proceedings or from raising any issue of invalidity or unreasonableness of the decision.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.25 SPECIFIC PROCEDURES

DIVISION I.

ZONE CHANGES AND ZONING REGULATION AMENDMENTS

21.25.101 Zone changes and zoning regulation amendments.

A. Initiation. Zone changes and ordinance amendments may be initiated as provided for in Section 21.21.201.

B. Jurisdiction. The City Council shall have the sole authority to rezone a property or to change the text of the Zoning Regulations. However, the City Council shall not act to rezone property or to change the text of the Zoning Regulations without first receiving a recommendation from the Planning Commission in accordance with this Title.

21.25.103 Proceedings.

The process for rezoning property or amending the Zoning Regulations shall be as follows:

A. Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall hear all proposals to rezone property or to change the text of the Zoning Regulations and shall recommend positive action on such matters to the City Council. Any action to deny a rezoning request or to change the text of the Zoning Regulations does not need to be transmitted to the Council. However, a recommendation to deny a rezoning may be appealed to the City Council.

1. Transmittal to City Council. Within sixty (60) days following positive Planning Commission action, the Commission's recommendation shall be transmitted by the Department of Planning and Building to the City Clerk for presentation to the City Council.

2. Information Required. The transmittal to the City Council shall give the reasons for the Commission's recommendation and shall indicate whether or not the decision was unanimous. In the event the decision was not unanimous, the view of the minority opinion shall also be disclosed.

B. City Council. Upon receipt of the recommendation of Planning Commission or notice of an appeal, the City Clerk shall set a time for consideration of the matter by the City Council.

1. Noticing. In addition to giving notice of the hearing as required by Section 21.21.302, the City Clerk shall also notify the Planning Commission through the Director of Planning and Building. The Planning Commission may delegate authority to the Director of Planning and Building to present orally the Planning Commission recommendation.

2. Council Action.

a. Change Text of Zoning Regulations or Rezoning Property. City Council action to adopt, revise, or reject any recommendation of the Planning Commission relating to a change in the text of the Zoning Regulations or to rezoning property shall require an affirmative vote of five (5) members of the City Council.

b. Effect in Coastal Zone. When an approved change in the text of the Zoning Regulations or a rezoning affects properties in the Coastal Zone, the change or rezoning shall be transmitted to the Coastal Commission for a determination of consistency with the certified local coastal program or an amendment thereto. The change in the text or rezoning shall not be effective in the Coastal Zone until after Coastal Commission approval.

(Ord. C-6595 § 6A, 1989; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.106 Findings required.

In all cases, the Planning Commission and the City Council shall be required to make the following findings of fact before rezoning a parcel:

A. The proposed change will not adversely affect the character, livability or appropriate development of the surrounding area; and

B. The proposed change is consistent with the goals, objectives and provisions of the General Plan; and

C. If the proposed change is a rezoning of an existing mobile home park, that the requirements of Section 21.25.109 have been or will be fully met.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.108 Timely action.

The Department of Planning and Building shall take all necessary steps to enable the Planning Commission to hear a proposal within one hundred twenty (120) days of receipt of the request from the City Council, the Planning Commission or a private property owner. Any proposal initiated by the Director of Planning and Building shall be scheduled for Planning Commission hearing at the discretion of the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.109 Special requirements—Rezoning of mobile home parks.

When any rezoning of an existing mobile home park is applied for, in addition to all other requirements of law, the applicant shall provide for the full cost of moving all mobile homes to a new location of the mobile home owner's choice or shall purchase the mobile home from the mobile home owner at fair market value (fair market value shall be determined by a licensed appraiser or realtor, acceptable to both the land owner and mobile home owner). The provision of moving expenses or purchase shall be the choice of the mobile home owner.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

CONDITIONAL USE PERMITS

21.25.201 Purpose.

A. Purpose. The City recognizes that certain types of land use, due to the nature of the use, require individual review. Such review shall determine whether the type of use proposed, or the location of that use, is compatible with surrounding uses, or, through the imposition of development conditions, can be made compatible with surrounding uses. This Division establishes procedures for this review.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.203 Application.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 21.21.201 (Application), the right to apply for a conditional use permit shall be limited to affected property owners or their agents. Applications for conditional use permits may be submitted only for those uses specified as conditional uses in the applicable zone district. If the proposed project does not comply with an applicable development standards, a separate standards variance application shall also be required.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.205 Jurisdiction.

A. Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall consider all applications for conditional use permits, except as set forth in Subsection 21.25.205.B., below. The decision of the Planning Commission shall be final unless the decision is appealed to the City Council.

B. Exceptions. Applications for the minor expansion of an existing conditional use shall be considered by the Zoning Administrator in accordance with the procedures for an administrative use permit as set forth in Division IV of this Chapter. Such minor expansion is limited to twenty-five percent (25%) of the existing use and five thousand (5,000) square feet of building area. Any expansion exceeding this limit shall be considered a new conditional use and shall be subject to the fees and procedures established for a new conditional use. This exception does not apply to the sale of alcoholic beverages (on-premises or off-premises).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.206 Required findings.

The following findings must be analyzed, made and adopted before any action is taken to approve or deny the subject permit and must be incorporated into the record of the proceedings relating to such approval or denial:

A. The approval is consistent with and carries out the General Plan, any applicable specific plans such as the local coastal program and all zoning regulations of the applicable district;

B. The proposed use will not be detrimental to the surrounding community including public health, safety or general welfare, environmental quality or quality of life;

C. The approval is in compliance with the special conditions for specific conditional uses, as listed in Chapter 21.52; and

D. The related development approval, if applicable, is consistent with the green building standards for public and private development, as listed in Section 21.45.400.

(ORD-09-0013, § 1, 2009; Ord. C-7032 § 8, 1992: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.207 Timely action.

The Zoning Administrator shall set the matter for public hearing within sixty (60) days of receiving a completed application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.209 Waiver of required conditions.

Conditions required by Division II of Chapter 21.52 may be waived but only if the waiver of those conditions will not conflict with other required findings, provided that conditions necessary for the protection of public health, safety and welfare may not be waived under any circumstances.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.211 Posting of conditions.

All conditions pertaining to the operation of the use shall be permanently posted, on a form provided by the Director of Planning and Building, at a location clearly visible to the public utilizing the facility.

This provision shall apply to all facilities for which a conditional use permit has been issued since May 4, 1979. All uses previously approved shall come into compliance with this requirement within sixty (60) days of being notified of the need to comply.

(Ord. C-6595 § 24, 1989)

21.25.212 Annual reinspection.

All projects for which a conditional use permit is approved shall be required to undergo an annual reinspection to verify compliance with the conditions of approval. The property owner shall be required to pay an annual fee to the City as established by the City Council to cover the costs of the reinspection program.

(Ord. C-6933 § 42, 1991)

DIVISION III.

STANDARDS VARIANCE

21.25.301 Purpose.

The City recognizes that certain properties, due to their unique size, shape, location or other physical condition, cannot be developed in strict accord with the regulations of this Title. Therefore, this Division establishes guidelines and procedures for the granting of relief from certain provisions in specific situations.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.303 Applicability.

A. A variance shall grant relief from specific development standards of the Zoning Regulations and shall be known as a standards variance.

B. The standards variance procedure shall not apply to situations where the use is not permitted in a zone or the proposed residential density exceeds the maximum residential density permitted in a zone for any given lot size.

(Ord. C-6895 § 5, 1991; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.305 Jurisdiction.

A. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to consider and act on requests for variances. The Zoning Administrator may approve, conditionally approve or deny a request. The Zoning Administrator's actions may be appealed to the Planning Commission.

B. Rather than act on a variance application, the Zoning Administrator may instead refer the application to the Planning Commission for consideration. In such cases, the hearing before the Planning Commission shall be held within ninety (90) days after the filing of the application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.306 Required findings.

The following findings must be analyzed, made and adopted before any action is taken to approve or deny the subject standards variance and must be incorporated into the record of proceedings relating to such approval or denial:

A. The site or the improvements on the site are physically unique when compared to other sites in the same zone;

B. The unique situation causes the applicant to experience hardship that deprives the applicant of a substantial right to use of the property as other properties in the same zone are used and will not constitute a grant of special privilege inconsistent with limitations imposed on similarly zoned properties or inconsistent with the purpose of the zoning regulations;

C. The variance will not cause substantial adverse effects upon the community; and

D. In the Coastal Zone, the variance will carry out the local coastal program and will not interfere with physical, visual and psychological aspects of access to or along the coast.

(Ord. C-7032 § 9, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.309 Timely action.

Except as provided in Subsection 21.25.305.B, the responsible hearing body shall hold a public hearing on any variance request within sixty (60) days of receiving a completed application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION IV.

ADMINISTRATIVE USE PERMITS

21.25.401 Purpose.

In order to streamline the project review process, the administrative use permit procedure is established to allow a simplified review process for projects which have insignificant effects on surrounding properties.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.403 Application.

The administrative use permit process applies only to the following applications:

A. Minor Expansion of Existing Conditional Use. This applies to uses for which conditional use permits have been previously granted and to legal, nonconforming uses which now require a conditional use permit for the zone districts in which they are located. Such uses may be expanded through approval of an administrative use permit by twenty-five percent (25%) of the existing use, although the expansion may not exceed five thousand (5,000) square feet of additional floor area.

Any expansion exceeding these limits shall be considered a new conditional use and shall be subject to the review process established in Division II of this Chapter 21.25 (Conditional Use Permits) This application shall not apply to the sale of alcoholic beverages (on-premises or off-premises).

B. Change From Legal Nonconforming Use to Another Nonconforming Use. An existing, legal nonconforming use may be changed to another nonconforming use in accordance with the requirements of Section 21.27.070 (Nonconformities - Change in use) through approval of an administrative use permit.

C. Modification of Permit. Approved special use permits granted during or prior to 1979 may be modified through this process.

D. Legalization of Illegal Units. For units created prior to 1964, as set forth in Section 21.52.240.

E. Fences in High Crime Districts. Fence height may exceed three feet zero inches (3'0") in the front yard of residential lots located in high crime areas, through approval of an administrative use permit. (See Section 21.52.231.5 for criteria.)

F. Uses designated in Tables 31-1 (Residential Use Table), 32-1 (Commercial Use Table), 33-2 (Industrial Use Table), 34-1 (Institutional Use Table) and 35-1 (Park Use Table) or other provisions of this Title as administrative use permit uses.

G. New construction of a building with five thousand (5,000) square feet or more of floor area in the CNP zone (see Section 21.52.247).

H. Reduction of parking requirements in accordance with Section 21.41.223.

I. Other invocations of the Administrative Use Permit process in the Zoning Regulations not listed here.

(ORD-24-0033 § 13, 2024; Ord. C-7729 § 12, 2001; Ord. C-7663 § 4, 1999; Ord. C-7247 § 3, 1994; Ord. C-7032 § 10, 1992; Ord. C-6895 § 6, 1991; Ord. C-6595 § 7, 1989; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.405 Jurisdiction.

A. Zoning Administrator. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to consider and act on requests for an administrative use permit. The Zoning Administrator may approve, conditionally approve or deny a request. The Zoning Administrator's actions may be appealed to the Planning Commission.

B. Planning Commission. Rather than act on an administrative use permit, the Zoning Administrator may instead refer the application to the Planning Commission for consideration. In such cases, the hearing before the Commission shall be held within ninety (90) days of the filing of the application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.407 Required findings.

The following findings must be analyzed, made and adopted before any action is taken to approve or deny the subject permit and must be incorporated into the record of the proceedings relating to such approval or denial:

A. The approval is consistent with and carries out the General Plan, any applicable specific plans such as the local coastal program and all Zoning Regulations of the applicable district;

B. The approval will not be detrimental to the surrounding community including public health, safety, general welfare, environmental quality or quality of life;

C. The approval is in compliance with the special conditions for the use enumerated in Chapter 21.52; and

D. The related development approval, if applicable, is consistent with the green building standards for public and private development, as listed in Section 21.45.400.

21.25.409 Timely action.

The Zoning Administrator, or Planning Commission or City Council on appeal, shall set the matter for decision within sixty (60) days of receiving a completed application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.412 Annual reinspection.

All projects for which an administrative use permit is approved shall be required to undergo an annual reinspection to verify compliance with the conditions of approval. The property owner shall be required to pay an annual fee to the City as established by the City Council to cover the costs of the reinspection program.

(Ord. C-6933 § 43, 1991)

DIVISION V.

SITE PLAN REVIEW

21.25.501 Purpose.

The site plan review process is established to meet certain community goals which are, among others, to ensure that the highest quality of land planning and design are incorporated into development projects, to ensure that new projects are compatible with existing neighborhoods in terms of scale, style and construction materials, and to ensure the maintenance, restoration, enhancement and protection of the environment.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.502 Applicability.

A. Standard. The following projects shall require site plan review:

1. Residential. The following residential projects require site plan review:

   a. Five (5) or more units as one (1) project. This includes both new construction, as well as additions or adaptive reuse projects. This includes side by side projects by the same applicant where the total of new plus existing units equals five (5) or more;

   b. Construction of a new dwelling unit or an addition greater than four hundred fifty (450) square feet in size to an existing dwelling, located on a lot less than twenty-seven feet (27') in width in the R-1-N, R-1-M, R-2-N, and R-2-A districts;

   c. Any project proposing to utilize the incentive program established for very low and low income households; and

   d. Any residential project proposing to utilize a wing wall.

2. Commercial. The following commercial projects require site plan review:

   a. New buildings of one thousand (1,000) square feet or more;

   b. Additions of one thousand (1,000) square feet or more to an existing commercial building. However, an addition of up to five thousand (5,000) square feet may be permitted without site plan review if the addition is less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the floor area of the existing building and is not visible from a public way;

   c. Exterior remodeling of a building where the affected area consists of fifty feet (50') or more of building frontage in the CNA, CNP and CNR districts;

   d. Commercial storage uses; and

   e. Attached/roof-mounted cellular and personal communication services.

3. Industrial or public assembly use. Industrial or public assembly use projects with five thousand (5,000) square feet or more of floor area of new construction, except those located in the IP (Port) zoning district. Projects located in the IP zone shall be exempt from site plan review, except those projects which are located on a major arterial as defined by the Mobility Element of the General Plan.

4. Adaptive Reuse. Projects involving the reuse of existing spaces, structures or buildings as allowed under California Health and Safety Code Section 17958.11 for joint living and work quarters (live-work) or as allowed in LBMC Chapter 18.63, and subject to the Special Development Standards in LBMC Section 21.45.500.

5. Project on City land. All new construction projects with building floor area of five hundred (500) square feet or greater except roadway and utility maintenance or improvements.

6. Sign standards waiver requests. The City recognizes the visual and aesthetic importance that signage has on a development. Not only does signage identify the tenants of a particular space but it helps define and shape the unique architectural character and identity of a project. To this end, this sign standards waiver section has been introduced. The intent of this provision is to allow a greater amount of creativity and flexibility in the creation, design, and application of signage on developments beyond the established sign standards. The following sign projects shall require site plan review:

   a. Individual sign review requests for waiver of established sign standards;

   b. Sign programs as defined in Subsection 21.44.035.B; and

   c. Changeable copy signs.

7. Project on City land in the coastal zone. All projects involving five hundred (500) square feet or more of land or water area, except roadway and utility maintenance or improvement.

8. Determination of nonconforming parking rights in area D of the coastal zone. Requests for determination of nonconforming parking rights per Subsection 21.41.226.A.

B. Conceptual. The following projects shall also be required to apply for conceptual site plan review prior to filing for site plan review:

1. Residential. Residential projects of fifty (50) or more units;

2. Commercial, industrial or public assembly. Projects of fifty thousand (50,000) square feet or more of new construction;

3. Project on City land. Projects of one thousand (1,000) square feet or more of new construction.

(ORD-18-0030 § 5, 2018; ORD-14-0004 § 1, 2014; Ord. ORD-05-0039 § 2, 2005; Ord. C-7729 § 2, 2001; Ord. C-7726 § 1, 2001; Ord. C-7607 § 1, 1999; Ord. C-7550 § 3, 1998; Ord. C-7500 § 2, 1997; Ord. C-7399 § 1, 1996; Ord. C-7326 § 6, 1995; Ord. C-7247 § 4, 1994; Ord. C-7047 § 3, 1992; Ord. C-6684 § 17, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.503 Jurisdiction.

A. Site Plan Review Committee. The Site Plan Review Committee shall consider all applications for site plan review. The Committee has the authority to approve, conditionally approve or deny a site plan application, provided that the authority to deny is not used to prohibit a permitted use on the property.

B. Planning commission. The Site Plan Review Committee shall refer specific types of projects to the Planning Commission in accordance with guidelines established by the Planning Commission. Any site plan review referred to the Planning Commission shall be reviewed using the procedures established for public hearing. However, the authority of the Commission shall be limited to the same authority as the Site Plan Review Committee.

C. Director of Planning and Building. The Director of Planning and Building shall have authority to conduct a conceptual site plan review on major projects. The conceptual site plan review shall result in a written report to the applicant indicating:

1. Whether site plan review will be done by the Site Plan Review Committee or the Planning Commission;

2. What other applications and/or reviews are necessary for the project as submitted;

3. A sequencing and time line for scheduling project reviews;

4. Identification of issues to be addressed; and

5. Identification of any pending or in process ordinance changes which may affect the project.

D. Redevelopment Agency Board.

1. Design Review in Redevelopment Project Areas. The Board of the Redevelopment Agency shall conduct architectural design review as part of the site plan review process for projects located in redevelopment project areas in accordance with the guidelines established by the Redevelopment Agency Board and the Planning Commission.

2. Limited Jurisdiction of Site Plan Review Committee and Planning Commission. Following approval of design development materials for a proposed project by the Redevelopment Agency Board, including a preliminary site plan, preliminary floor plans, and preliminary elevations, the Site Plan Review Committee or the Planning Commission shall conduct site plan review. The jurisdiction of this review shall be limited to a determination of compliance with the applicable development standards for the project (including, but not limited to, unit density, setbacks, building height, usable open space, screening of equipment, floor area ratio, landscaping, lot coverage, signage, and off-street parking); coordination of requirements from other City departments; and other requirements as applicable.

3. Findings. The approval by the Redevelopment Agency Board of design development materials for a proposed project shall be considered when the Site Plan Review Committee or Planning Commission makes findings as required in Section 21.25.506.

(Ord. C-7881 § 7, 2003; Ord. C-6684 § 18, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.504 Notice.

As shown on Table 21-1, no notification is required for procedures conducted pursuant to this Division.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.505 Conditions of approval.

The Site Plan Review Committee, or the Planning Commission, may require reasonable conditions of approval on a site plan which may include, but need not be limited to, requirements for:

A. A revised site plan;

B. Reduced building height, bulk or mass;

C. Increased setbacks;

D. Changes in building material;

E. Changes in rooflines;

F. Increased usable open space;

G. Increased screening of garages, trash receptacles, motors or mechanical equipment;

H. Increased landscaping;

I. Increased framing, molding or other detailing;

J. Change in color; or

K. Any other changes or additions the committee or commission feels are necessary to further the goals of the site plan review process.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.506 Findings required.

The Site Plan Review Committee or the Planning Commission shall not approve a site plan review unless the following findings are made:

A. Development Projects.

1. The design is harmonious, consistent and complete within itself and is compatible in design, character and scale, with neighboring structures and the community in which it is located;

2. The design conforms to any applicable special design guidelines adopted by the Planning Commission or specific plan requirements, such as the design guidelines for R-3 and R-4 multifamily development, the downtown design guidelines, PD guidelines or the General Plan;

3. The design will not remove significant mature trees or street trees, unless no alternative design is possible;

4. There is an essential nexus between the public improvement requirements established by this ordinance and the likely impacts of the proposed development;

5. The project conforms with all requirements set forth in Chapter 21.64 (Transportation Demand Management), which requirements are summarized in Table 25-1; and

6. The approval is consistent with the green building standards for public and private development, as listed in Section 21.45.400.

7. The project is in compliance with the housing replacement requirements of the certified Local Coastal Program or Section 21.68.040.E of this Chapter, as applicable, and will result in the same or greater number of dwelling units; and in the case of existing affordable dwelling units, that the dwelling units will be replaced at the same or deeper affordability levels.

B. Sign Standards Waiver Requests. Sign standards waiver requests can only be approved when positive findings are made for all of the following:

1. The proposed sign(s) enhance(s) the theme and/or architectural character of the proposed development and is consistent, compatible, and in scale within the development and/or neighborhood;

2. The sign design or application is not detrimental to and does not detract from the development or the surrounding community;

3. The proposed site or development is so unique that the application of standard signage would detract from the project;

4. For signs located seaward of the first public road inland from sea, the sign design and scale does not:

   a. Obstruct views to or along the coast from publicly accessible places;

   b. Adversely impact public access to and use of the water;

   c. Adversely impact public recreational use of a public park or beach; or

   d. Otherwise adversely affect recreation, access or the visual resources of the coast.

21.25.507 Timely action.

Action shall be taken within the following number of days of acceptance of a complete application:

1. Conceptual site plan review: Thirty (30) days.

2. Site plan review: Sixty (60) days.

(Ord. C-6684 § 19, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.508 Waiver of development standards.

A. Waiver of Specific Standards. During the site plan review, the Site Plan Review Committee may waive development standards for:

1. Development Projects.

   a. Privacy;

   b. Open space;

   c. Pedestrian access;

   d. Landscaping;

   e. Wrought iron fence height;

   f. Guest parking in projects located outside of a parking impacted area, provided that guest parking is not reduced below one (1) space for each six (6) units, and guest parking for low income units in projects with ten percent (10%) or more low income units;

   g. Tandem parking as valet parking;

   h. Required garage for residential projects of forty (40) units or more at densities of twenty-nine (29) units per acre or less;

   i. Subterranean parking in the front setback;

   j. Courtyard dimensions; and

   k. Setbacks in commercial zones for yards adjacent to residential use may be reduced to ten feet (10') for single-story commercial buildings.

2. Signage Projects.

   a. Size;

   b. Height;

   c. Location;

   d. Placement;

   e. Number of signs; and

   f. Type of sign.

The Committee or Commission may waive such standards only if it finds such a waiver improves project design. For signs located seaward of the first public road inland from the sea, the Committee or Commission may waive sign standards only if it finds such a waiver improves the project design and does not:

a. Obstruct views to or along the coast from publicly accessible places;

b. Adversely impact public access to and use of the water;

c. Adversely impact public recreational use of a public park or beach; or

d. Otherwise adversely affect recreation, access or the visual resources of the coast.

3. LEED Certification. The Director of Development Services may grant a project flexibility with certain development standards provided a commitment to LEED gold or higher certification is made, as set forth in Section 21.45.400.

B. Limitations. A waiver may or may not be granted if the waiver would in any way degrade the environment or result in any changes to classification of land use or to density. Development projects not required to file for site plan review may not apply in order to obtain a waiver for development standards.

(ORD-09-0013, § 4, 2009; Ord. C-7617 § 2, 1999; Ord. C-7500 § 4, 1997; Ord. C-7326 § 8, 1995; Ord. C-7047 § 4, 1992; Ord. C-6933 § 7, 1991; Ord. C-6895 § 7, 1991; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.509 Environmental review.

For the purposes of the California Environmental Quality Act, site plan review may be considered a categorically exempt project.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION VI.

CLASSIFICATION OF USES

21.25.601 Purpose and jurisdiction.

A. Purpose. The classification of use procedure is established in recognition of the fact that zoning regulations relating to land use do not address every conceivable compatible land use which may be permitted within a given zone district. This procedure allows for the review of land use proposals not specifically permitted or prohibited in a zone district but which may be appropriate uses given their similar characteristics to other permitted uses.

B. Jurisdiction. The Zoning Administrator shall consider all classification of use applications and shall determine if the proposed use should be a permitted use in the zone under consideration. The Zoning Administrator's determination shall be filed with the Planning Commission for final action. Residential zones shall not be subject to this procedure.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.602 Application.

Any person wishing to determine whether or not a specific use may be permitted in a specific zone district may file an application for classification of use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.603 Noticing.

As shown on Table 21-1, no notification is required for procedures conducted pursuant to this Division VI.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.604 Findings required.

A use shall be determined to be a permitted use in a zone if it is found that:

A. Permitting the use in the zone will carry out the intent of the zone;

B. Permitting the use in the zone will carry out the General Plan, including the local coastal plan, when applicable;

C. The use is not a use specifically listed as a permitted, conditional or prohibited use in another zone generally considered to be less restrictive than the zone under consideration; and

D. The use is similar in scale, intensity of use and environmental impacts to uses permitted in the zone under consideration.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.605 Timely action.

The Zoning Administrator shall hold a public hearing on any request for a classification of use within sixty (60) days of receiving a completed application.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.606 Summary of action.

The Zoning Administrator shall make a written summary of the action. The summary shall include the required findings and shall be transmitted to the Director of Planning and Building, the Planning Commission, the applicant and any person requesting such summary. When the zone under consideration is located in the coastal zone, the summary shall also be transmitted to the Coastal Commission.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.607 Effective date of action.

The action to classify a use shall become effective at the end of Planning Commission hearing unless, for projects in the coastal zone, the Executive Director of the Coastal Commission informs the Zoning Administrator that either:

A. The Coastal Commission did not receive notice of the action at least fourteen (14) days prior to the effective date of the action;

B. The notice of action was incomplete or inadequate; or

C. The action is determined to constitute an amendment to the local coastal program.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.608 Effect of determination.

After the effective date, the determination to classify a particular use in a zone shall apply to all subsequent requests to establish that same use in that zone.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.609 Record of determination.

The Department of Planning and Building shall maintain a current list of all uses classified in accordance with this Chapter, and the list shall be available to the public.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION VII.

PLANNED DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT AND SPECIFIC PLAN PROCEDURES*

21.25.701 Purpose.

The Planned Development (PD) District and Specific Plan (SP) procedures are established to allow flexible development plans to be prepared for certain areas of the City which may benefit from unique or special land use and design controls not otherwise possible under conventional zoning regulations. This Division establishes the procedures for securing the planned development district zone or specific plan zone designation, and for granting a planned development permit or specific plan permit for any project located in a PD or SP district.

(ORD-16-0009 § 2, 2016)

21.25.703 Planned Development or Specific Plan adoption.

A. A Planned Development District may only be established by an ordinance specifying, among other things, the goals, objectives, use and development standards for the PD. Such standards shall apply to all development within the PD.

B. A Specific Plan may only be established by an ordinance or resolution specifying, among other things, the goals, objectives, use and development standards for the SP. Such standards shall apply to all development within the SP.

(ORD-16-0009 § 2, 2016)

21.25.704 Establishment or amendment of Planned Development District or Specific Plan.

In addition to meeting all qualifying standards set forth in Chapter 21.37, and notwithstanding any other provisions of this Title 21, the following procedures shall apply to the establishment or amendment of any Planned Development District or Specific Plan area:

A. Submission of a Detailed Development Plan. The applicant shall submit a detailed development plan which indicates the use and development concepts within a proposed Planned Development District or Specific Plan zoning area.

Editor's note—ORD-16-0009 § 2, adopted June 14, 2016, amended Div. VII in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Div. VII, §§ 21.25.701—21.25.708, was entitled "Planned Development District—Procedures", and derived from Ord. C-6533 § 1(part), 1988.

B. Planning Commission Review. The Planning Commission shall review and hold a public hearing on the establishment of or a proposed amendment to a Planned Development (PD) District zone or Specific Plan (SP) zone area. The application shall be heard as a rezoning matter pursuant to the requirements of Division I of this Title. The Planning Commission shall recommend action on the establishment or amendment to the City Council.

C. City Council. The City Council has the sole and final authority to act on the recommendation of the Planning Commission. If the council approves the Planned Development District or Specific Plan, or amendments thereto, the PD zone or SP area shall be indicated on the official zoning maps of the City by a PD or SP designation and a number indicating the Planned Development District or Specific Plan established. PD or SP numbers shall be assigned chronologically as indicated in Chapter 21.37 (Planned Development Districts and Specific Plans) of this Title.

21.25.706 Availability of PD or Specific Plan ordinance or resolution.

Copies of adopted PD or SP ordinances or resolutions shall be available in the Department of Development Services for review or distribution to the public.

21.25.708 Site plan review.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Title 21, all development within a PD zone or SP zoning area shall be reviewed pursuant to procedures specified in Division V of this Chapter.

(ORD-16-0009 § 2, 2016)

DIVISION VIII.

SPECIAL SETBACKS

21.25.801 Purpose.

Special setback lines may be established by ordinance as provided and regulated by this Title. These special setback lines supersede the setback requirements of the particular zoning district in which they are located. The purposes of establishing special setback lines are, among other things, to adjust zoning district requirements to conform to local conditions and existing neighborhood standards and to protect and preserve land for future right-of-way purposes.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.802 Effect.

Whenever a special setback line is established in accord with these regulations, the setback area shall be considered a required yard area. The special setback line and setback area shall take the place of the otherwise applicable yard requirements for the zone district, except that when the regular setback of the district is greater than a special setback, the regular setback shall supersede the special setback and be controlling.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.803 Initiation.

A. Procedure. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Title 21, the procedure to establish or change a special setback line may be initiated in one (1) of the following three (3) ways:

1. City Council. The City Council may initiate the procedure by requesting a recommendation and a report on the matter from the Planning Commission.

2. Planning Commission. The Planning Commission may initiate the procedure.

3. Petition. Property owners of at least fifty percent (50%) of the street frontage affected may initiate the procedure by filing a petition with the Department of Planning and Building.

B. Limitations. The minimum frontage that shall be considered in any action to establish or change a special setback line shall be one (1) block face.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.804 Applicable procedures.

The procedures established in this Title for rezoning shall apply to establishing or changing a setback line.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.805 Action required.

A. Planning Commission. After completing its investigation and holding the required public hearing, the Planning Commission shall file a recommendation and a report with the City Council. The Commission may recommend:

1. Approval in whole or in part;

2. Denial in whole or in part; or

3. Establishment of an alternate special setback line.

However, the Commission may not make recommendations on any property not included in the original action or petition.

B. City Council. Within sixty days of receiving the Planning Commission's recommendation, the City Council shall act on the recommendation. The Council shall establish or change a special setback line by ordinance.

C. Notation. Notation shall be made on the official zoning map in applicable areas that a special setback line has been established or changed.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.806 Permitted structures.

Structures permitted in, over or under established special setback areas shall be the same as those allowed in the required yard area of the applicable zoning district. However, subterranean parking garages shall not be allowed under special setback areas, unless approved by the City Engineer.

21.25.807 Variance.

Once a special setback line is established by ordinance, a variance to permit a structure to project into the special setback area may be granted in accordance with and subject to the findings of fact required for a variance as set forth in Division III of this Chapter. However, no variance shall be granted if the encroachment is within a setback established for the protection and preservation of rights-of-way.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.808 Exception for fences.

A replacement fence within the special setback area shall not be considered a nonconformity and shall be permitted provided such fence is located in a side or rear yard and provided the fence height does not exceed six feet (6'), six inches (6").

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION IX.

LOCAL COASTAL DEVELOPMENT PERMITS

21.25.901 Purpose.

Coastal development procedures are established to ensure that all public and private development in the Long Beach Coastal Zone is developed consistent with the City's certified local coastal program.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.902 Applicability.

All properties in the coastal zone are subject to the procedures outlined in this Section. The coastal zone boundaries are indicated on the official zoning map.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.903 Permit required.

All development in the coastal zone shall be required to obtain either a coastal permit pursuant to Section 21.25.904 or a coastal permit categorical exclusion pursuant to Section 21.25.906. Such approval must be issued prior to the start of development and shall be required in addition to any other permits or approvals required by the City.

A. Coastal Permit Issued by the Coastal Commission. Developments on tidelands and submerged lands require a permit issued by the California Coastal Commission in accordance with the procedure as specified by the California Coastal Commission.

B. Coastal Permits Issued by the City. The following categories of projects requires coastal permits in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Division:

1. Development on the first lot located on, adjacent to, across the street from, or abutting the beach, bay, ocean or tidelands, except minor additions to a single-family residence as specified in Subsection 21.25.901.C (categorical exclusion).

2. All development projects which require additional discretionary review (such as a conditional use permit, subdivision map or standards variance).

3. Traffic improvements which do not qualify for categorical exclusion.

4. Public works projects, excluding traffic improvement projects, with an estimated cost of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) or more.

5. Any extension of an existing facility into tidelands, environmentally sensitive areas, coastal waterways, public parkland, or within fifty (50) feet of a coastal bluff edge.

6. Any application for the restriction of short-term rentals pursuant to the provisions and procedures outlined in Chapter 5.77 (Short-Term Rentals) in the certified LCP.

7. Any application for the legalization of unpermitted dwelling units pursuant to the provisions and procedures outlined in Chapter 21.66 (Unpermitted Dwelling Unit Amnesty Program).

8. Any application for the conversion of an existing transient residential structure into an interim supportive or transitional housing use pursuant to the provisions and procedures outlined in Chapter 21.65 (Interim Motel/Hotel Conversions) in the certified Local Coastal Program.

C. Exemptions. The following categories of projects are exempt from the coastal permit requirement. However, a coastal permit categorical exclusion (CPCE) shall be obtained pursuant to the procedures indicated in Section 21.25.906.

1. Minor additions on existing single-family residences for the first lot located on, adjacent to, across the street from, or abutting the beach, bay ocean or tidelands. Such additions must be less than ten percent (10%) of the existing floor area and shall not create an additional story or loft.

2. All projects (excluding the above) which are consistent with the Zoning Regulations, Local Coastal Program, applicable water quality standards, best management practices and pollution controls, and which do not require any discretionary review (e.g., conditional use permit, subdivision map).

3. Traffic improvements which do not:

a. Alter roadway or intersection capacity by more than ten percent (10%) (except stop signs and stop lights); or

b. Decrease parking (except by establishing a red curb next to a corner); or

c. Impair access to the coast.

4. Public works projects (excluding traffic improvements) with an estimated cost of forty-nine thousand nine hundred ninety-nine dollars ($49,999.00) or less.

21.25.904 Procedures—Coastal permit.

This Section outlines the procedures for issuing coastal permits. Coastal permits may be considered concurrently with or subsequent to any other procedures required by this Title or the City's subdivision regulations.

A. Jurisdiction.

1. Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall consider all local coastal development permits for developments requiring a tract map, a parcel map, conditional use permit or planned development permit.

2. Coastal Commission. The Coastal Commission shall consider all coastal permits for projects located below the mean high tide.

3. Zoning Administrator. The Zoning Administrator shall consider all other local coastal development permits.

B. Hearing Required. A public hearing shall be required prior to the approval of a local coastal development permit except for local coastal development permits for the legalization of unpermitted dwelling unit(s) in conformance with the requirements of certified Zoning Code Chapter 21.66 (Unpermitted Dwelling Unit Amnesty Program).

C. Findings Required. Prior to approving a local coastal development permit, the responsible hearing body must find:

1. The proposed development conforms to the certified local coastal program, including but not limited to all requirements for replacement of low- and moderate-income housing; and

2. The proposed development conforms to the public access and recreation policies of Chapter 3 of the Coastal Act. This second finding applies only to development located seaward of the nearest public highway to the shoreline.

3. For an application for a religious assembly use, if an exception or waiver of LCP requirements is sought under Section 21.52.219.8.G, that the exception or waiver allows the minimum deviation from LCP requirements necessary to comply with RLUIPA, and that the decisionmaker has imposed all conditions necessary to comply with all provisions of the LCP, with the exception of the provision(s) for which implementation would violate RLUIPA.

4. The proposed development is sited, designed and managed to minimize the transport of pollutants by runoff into coastal waters and groundwater, and to minimize increases in runoff volume and velocity from the site which may adversely impact coastal resources or coastal bluff stability. Best Management Practices shall be implemented, as applicable, including but not limited to applicable local, regional, state and federal water quality permits, standards and guidance provided in the LCP, best practices and other measures as may be recommended by the City Engineer.

5. For an application to restrict short-term rentals in accordance with the provisions and procedures outlined in Chapter 5.77 (Short-Term Rentals) of the certified LCP, the project shall conform with the certified local coastal program, including with the provisions relating to coastal access and recreation. The required findings must include a cumulative impacts analysis informed, at least in part, by monitoring data collected on approved projects that restrict STRs and on STRs throughout the coastal zone. The responsible hearing body shall also find:

   (i) The proposed restriction would not result in the substantial loss of visitor-serving accommodations (i.e., a reduction in available overnight accommodation rooms, including but not limited to short-term rentals, hotels, and/or motels, within 1/4 mile of visitor-serving recreational uses, the beach, bay, ocean, or tidelands).

   (ii) The proposed restriction would not result in the loss of lower-cost overnight accommodations. Lower-cost overnight accommodations shall be defined as those charging approximately twenty five percent (25%) less than the statewide average daily room rate or less.

   (iii) The proposed restriction would not result in the net loss of short-term rentals below four hundred twenty-five (425) short-term rental units (both hosted and un-hosted and/or primary or non-primary) historically occurring in the coastal zone.

   (iv) The proposed restriction would be necessary to protect the neighborhood stability, housing access, and would be consistent with the neighborhood character established in the Local Coastal Program (LCP).

6. For an application to legalize an unpermitted dwelling unit in accordance with the provisions and procedures outlined in Chapter 21.66 (Unpermitted Dwelling Unit Amnesty Program) of the certified Zoning Code, the project shall conform with the certified local coastal program, including habitat protection policies and coastal hazards policies. For dwelling units subject to coastal hazards, the Applicant shall be required to assume the risk of development in a hazardous area.

7. For an application to convert an existing transient residential structure (i.e., Motel/Hotel) into an interim supportive or transitional housing use in accordance with the provisions and procedures outlined in Chapter 21.65 (Interim Motel/Hotel Conversions) of the certified Zoning Code, the project shall conform with the certified Local Coastal Program, including policies related to the protection of existing lower cost overnight visitor-serving accommodations. Potential impact(s) to visitor-serving accommodations resulting from the temporary conversion shall be avoided or minimized through strategies that include, but are not limited to:

(i) Reserving a portion of the rooms in the hotel/motel for hotel use at the defined "low cost" rate

(ii) Limiting the use of the hotel/motel for interim supportive or transitional housing to the winter months, and/or

(iii) Limiting the term of the coastal development permit. The required findings must include an analysis of historic occupancy rates and the current room rates of the rooms proposed to be converted as compared to the annual statewide average room rate. "Low cost" visitor-serving accommodation rates shall be defined as rates equal to or less than the annual statewide average room rate minus 25%. "Moderate cost" visitor-serving accommodation rates shall be defined as rates between 75% to 125% of the annual statewide average room rate. Findings shall consider the need to maintain and protect existing levels of visitor-serving overnight accommodations, maintaining adequate public coastal access for visitors to the area, and environmental justice. If there will be a loss of existing low or moderate-cost visitor-serving overnight accommodations for a period of one year or more (excluding temporary conversion of low or moderate cost rooms for interim supportive or transitional housing during winter months only) then appropriate mitigation shall include, but not be limited to the following measures:

(i) Construction of equivalent replacement motel/hotel rooms or other low or moderate cost visitor-serving accommodations at a 1 to 1 ratio; and/or

(ii) If it is determined to be infeasible to provide replacement rooms on or near the project site within the coastal zone as described in the previous subsection, payment of in-lieu fees adequate to provide full replacement of low or moderate cost overnight visitor-serving accommodations.

D. Date of Final Location Action. The date of final action is:

1. The date when the appeal period on all local actions has expired without local appeal;

2. The date of action on the local appeal(s); or

3. The date the City is notified by the applicant that the application is approved by operation of law pursuant to Sections 65950 through 65957.1 of the Government Code.

E. Notice of Final Action. Within seven (7) calendar days of the date of the final local action on a local coastal development permit, a notice shall be sent to the Coastal Commission and to any persons who specifically request such notice by submitting a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The notice shall include the written findings of fact required to approve the local coastal development permit and the conditions imposed on the approval, if the permit is approved. Any notice of final local action shall include the procedures for appeal of the action to the Coastal Commission and an indication as to whether the development is in an appealable area.

F. Appeals to Coastal Commission. All actions on local coastal development permits located seaward of the appealable area boundary, as determined under Section 21.25.908, may be appealed by an aggrieved person to the Coastal Commission according to the procedures of the Coastal Commission, provided that:

1. All local appeals of City actions provided for by this Title have been exhausted and no fee was charged the appellant for the appeal; and

2. The Coastal Commission has not appealed the local action.

G. Effective Date. A local coastal development permit shall be effective as follows:

1. Outside Appealable Area. On date of final action;

2. Within Appealable Area. At conclusion of the twenty-first day after final local action, unless:

a. Appeal. If a permit is appealed, it shall become effective after action on the appeal by the Coastal Commission.

b. Failure to Go Notice. If notice to the Coastal Commission is not mailed by the City within seven (7) days after final local action, then the permit shall become effective at the conclusion of the fourteenth day after a complete notice is mailed but no sooner than at the conclusion of the twenty-first day after final local action.

c. Inadequate Filing. If the Coastal Commission notifies the City and the applicant that notice was not received or distributed in a timely manner or that the notice was not complete or does not adequately describe the development, then the permit becomes effective at the conclusion of the fourteenth day after receipt of such a notice from the Coastal Commission or on the date specified by the Coastal Commission.

(ORD-23-0025 § 2, 2023 ORD-22-0012 § 3, 2022; ORD-20-0025 § 2, 2020; ORD-19-0008 § 2, 2019; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.905 Administrative Land Use Review.

This Section establishes procedures for conducting review of by-right land uses and structures to verify that any new or expanded use or structure complies with all of the applicable requirements of this Code.

A. Applicability. Administrative Land Use Review is required for new or substantial expansions of uses of land or a building, which are: 1) allowed by-right but require compliance with Special Development Standards detailed in Chapters 21.45, 21.51, or 21.52 of this Code; and/or 2) allowed by an existing approved planning application (Site Plan Review, Conditional Use Permit, etc.).

B. Application. Applications and fees for Administrative Land Use Review shall be submitted in accordance with the provisions set forth in Chapter 21.21.201, Application. The Zoning Administrator may request that the Administrative Land Use Review application be accompanied by a written narrative, plans and other related materials necessary to show that the proposed development, alteration, or use of the site complies with all provisions of this Code and the requirements and conditions of any applicable planning application approval.

C. Determination. If the Zoning Administrator determines that the proposed use or building conforms to all the applicable development and use standards, the Director shall issue written notice of the Administrative Land Use Review determination within 30 days of the date of receipt of a completed application. An approved Administrative Land Use Review may include attachments of other written or graphic information, including but not limited to, statements, numeric data, site plans, floor plans and building elevations and sections, as a record of the proposal's conformity with the applicable regulations of this Code.

D. Exceptions. Administrative Land Use Review is not required for the continuation of previously approved or permitted uses and structures, or uses and structures that are not subject to any building or development code regulations.

E. Appeals. Administrative Land Use Review decisions are subject to the appeal provisions of Chapter 21.21, Appeals.

(ORD-18-0025 § 14, 2018)

21.25.906 Procedures—Categorical exclusion.

This Section outlines the procedures for processing developments exempt from local coastal permit requirements.

A. Jurisdiction. The Zoning Administrator, or his designee, shall determine whether a proposed development is exempt, as provided for in Subsection 21.25.903.C of this Chapter.

B. Means of Determination. Determination that a proposed development is exempt shall be made by checking the proposed development with the certified local coastal program, including all maps, land use designations, implementing zoning regulations and guidelines for exemption.

C. No Hearing Required. No public hearing or notice shall be required for a project determined to be exempt.

D. Appeal of Determination. Any person may appeal the Zoning Administrator's determination by requesting a referral of the matter to the Executive Director of the Coastal Commission. If the determination of the Executive Director of the Coastal Commission differs from that of the Zoning Administrator, then the matter shall be resolved by a hearing before the Coastal Commission.

E. Effective Date. A decision that a development is exempt shall be effective when such a decision is made by the Zoning Administrator, or his designee, unless the decision is appealed.

F. Records Required. A public record, including the applicant's name, the location and brief description of the development shall be kept for all developments determined to be exempt.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.25.908 Appealable area.

Only local actions on projects located within the appealable area may be appealed to the Coastal Commission. The determination of whether a project lies seaward of the appealable area boundary shall be made as follows:

A. Jurisdiction. Determination that a proposed development is seaward of the appealable area boundary shall be made by the Zoning Administrator or his designee.

B. Means of Determination. Determination shall be made by locating the development on the appealable area boundary map certified as part of the local coastal program.

C. Appeal of Determination. Any person may appeal the Zoning Administrator's determination by requesting a referral of the matter to the Executive Director of the Coastal Commission. If the determination of the Executive Director of the Coastal Commission differs from that of the Zoning Administrator, then the matter shall be resolved by a hearing before the Coastal Commission.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION X.

(REPEALED)

DIVISION XI.

DETERMINATION OF APPLICABLE LAW

21.25.1101 Purpose.

The City recognizes that gaining local and public approvals for the development of land can be time-consuming and that, during the process and prior to project completion, applicable local law, including local zoning regulations, may change. Such changes may place applicants in the approval "pipeline" at considerable economic risk. In order to reasonably reduce that risk, while maintaining appropriate opportunities for local agency review and full public input and participation, the process set forth in this Division is established for the purpose of assuring applicants of the continued applicability of certain local laws and regulations, under the terms and conditions set forth in this Division.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

21.25.1103 Application.

A. Notwithstanding any provision of Section 21.21.201, the right to apply for a determination of applicable law pursuant to this Division XI shall be limited to affected property owners or their agents designated in writing at the time of application.

B. The application for a determination pursuant to this Division XI shall include a complete description of the project for which a determination is being sought and shall also set forth an itemization of all permits and other grants of entitlement required by law for such project and an indication that such permits and grants have either been granted or that they are being applied for as a part of the application for determination.

C. No application shall be deemed complete pursuant to this Section until it has been accepted as complete by the Department of Planning and Building, which Department may require such additional or supplemental information as it considers to be reasonably necessary to enable further processing and full understanding of the application.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

21.25.1105 Timely action.

Within sixty (60) days of acceptance of an application for determination as complete under this Division XI, the Zoning Administrator shall set the application for public hearing before the Planning Commission.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

21.25.1108 Jurisdiction.

The Planning Commission shall consider all applications for a determination pursuant to this Division XI, and the decision of the Planning Commission shall be final unless the decision is appealed to the City Council in accordance with the provisions of Division V of Chapter 21.21.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

21.25.1110 Determination of applicable law.

A. The Planning Commission shall consider any application for a determination of applicable law pursuant to the provisions of this Division XI, and may grant such determination if the application meets all requirements of law including, but not limited to all requirements of this Division XI.

B. The effect of the granting of a determination pursuant to this Division XI will be to empower an applicant to complete a project, insofar as it is described and permitted under the application, pursuant to the provisions of local law as they existed at the time that a determination granted hereunder becomes final.

C. No determination granted hereunder shall operate to obviate or make inapplicable any change in local law following the grant of the determination if:

1. The change in law is outside the scope of the project described and permitted in the application and determination; or

2. The change in law affects a permit or entitlement that was not described and included, through inadvertence, mistake, or otherwise, in the application and determination; or

3. It fails, in any way or for any reason, to comply with all requirements of this Division XI or any other provision of law in effect at the time of final grant of determination.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

21.25.1113 Findings required.

The Planning Commission, and the City Council on appeal, may grant a determination of applicable law pursuant to this Division XI if, and only if, it first makes, after public hearing, each of the following findings:

A. The project has been or is approved for site plan review pursuant to Division V of this Chapter 21.25; and

B. The project complies with all applicable provisions of law, including, but not limited to, all applicable zoning regulations; and

C. The project has complied, or will comply, with all applicable environmental requirements including those relating to proceedings conducted pursuant to this Division XI;

D. The project is consistent with the provisions of the zoning district in which it is proposed to be located; and

E. The project is consistent with the General Plan of the City of Long Beach; and

F. No amendments to the General Plan, the zoning regulations or the applicable zoning district have been initiated at the time of or prior to the grant of determination which would affect the use, design or lawfulness of the project.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

21.25.1115 Effectiveness and expiration.

A. A determination of applicable law shall be effective for one hundred eighty (180) days following the date upon which the granting of the determination becomes final. Thereafter, the determination shall cease to be of any further force and effect, and the project shall be subject to all applicable local laws as they then or thereafter exist, unless:

1. Complete drawings and fees are submitted for plan check within the one hundred eighty (180) day period. In such case, the determination shall continue to be effective through the plan check period but in no event longer than one (1) year from the date of submittal to plan check. If a building permit is not issued within one (1) year of submittal to plan check, the determination shall expire. If a building permit is issued within the year, then the determination shall continue for the period during which the building permit is valid and lawfully in full force and effect. To remain valid, construction under the building permit must begin and be completed through the passage of the first inspection within six (6) months of issuance of the building permit. For purpose of this

Subsection 21.25.1115.A.1, a foundation permit shall be treated as equivalent to a building permit but grading, demolition, electrical, mechanical or plumbing permits shall not be considered or treated as building permits; or

2. A time extension request is filed, together with all required fees, prior to the expiration of the one hundred eighty (180) day period. Such an extension shall be heard by the Planning Commission or, on appeal, the City Council and shall be noticed in the same manner as the original hearing. At such extension hearing, the Planning Commission, or on appeal, the City Council may approve the extension if they find the applicant has made a good-faith effort to complete drawings for plan check but was unable to do so because of the size or complexity of the project. Sale or transfer of title of a project shall not be grounds for an extension. No extension shall be granted that will allow the determination to continue more than one (1) year from the date of its first being granted without submittal of the project to plan check.

(Ord. C-6546 § 2 (part), 1988)

DIVISION XII.

INTERIM PARK USE PERMIT

21.25.1201 Purpose.

The City recognizes that vacant lots, due to their nature, have the potential to create an impression of blight and decay in a neighborhood. In addition to the negative visual impact, vacant lots are a potential source for nuisances (such as trash, debris, and rodents). Thus, as a means of unifying neighborhoods for the purpose of eliminating unsightly vacant lots and enhancing their neighborhood's visual and physical surroundings, community groups may opt to replace them with interim neighborhood serving parks.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1203 Application.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 21.21.201 (Application), the right to apply for an interim park use permit shall be limited to affected property owners or their agents. Applications for interim park use permits may be submitted only for playground uses as indicated in the applicable zone district use table. If the proposed project does not comply with an applicable development standards, a separate standards variance application shall also be required.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1205 Jurisdiction.

The City Council shall consider all applications for an interim park use permit. The decision of the City Council shall be final.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1207 Required findings.

The following findings must be analyzed, made and adopted before any action is taken to approve or deny the subject permit and must be incorporated into the record of the proceedings relating to such approval or denial:

A. The proposed use is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood;

B. The proposed use will not be detrimental to the surrounding community including public health, safety or general welfare, environmental quality or quality of life; and

C. The approval is in compliance with the special conditions of approval established for playgrounds as listed in Chapter 21.52.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1209 Timely action.

The City Clerk shall set the matter for public hearing before the City Council within sixty (60) days of receiving a completed application.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1211 Waiver of required conditions.

Conditions required by Division II of Chapter 21.52 may be waived but only if the waiver of those conditions will not conflict with required findings, provided that conditions necessary for the protection of public health, safety and welfare may not be waived under any circumstances.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1213 Posting of conditions.

All conditions pertaining to the operation of the use shall be permanently posted, on a form provided by the Director of Planning and Building, at a location clearly visible to the public utilizing the facility.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

21.25.1215 Annual reinspection.

All projects for which an interim park use permit was approved shall be required to undergo an annual reinspection to verify compliance with the conditions of approval. The property owner shall be required to pay an annual fee to the City as established by the City Council to cover the costs of the reinspection program.

(Ord. C-7378 § 26, 1995)

DIVISION XIII.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

21.25.1301 Purpose.

It is the policy of the City, pursuant to the Federal Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988, to provide people with disabilities reasonable accommodation in rules, policies, practices and procedures that may be necessary to ensure equal access to housing. The purpose of this Division is to provide a process for individuals with disabilities to make requests for reasonable accommodation in regard to relief from the various land use, zoning, or building laws, rules, policies, practices and/or procedures of the City.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1303 Definitions.

A. Act. The Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988.

B. Applicant. An individual making a request for reasonable accommodation pursuant to this Division.

C. Code. The Long Beach Municipal Code.

D. Department. The Department of Planning and Building of the City of Long Beach.

E. Disabled Person. Any person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one (1) or more major life activities; anyone who is regarded as having such impairment; or anyone who has a record of such impairment. People who are currently using illegal substances are not covered under the Act or this Division unless they have a separate disability.

F. Group Home. Refers to any and all facilities which are regulated by the provisions of the California Community Care Facilities Act (Health and Safety Code Section 1500 et seq.), the California Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly Act (Health and Safety Code Section 1569) or any alcoholism or drug abuse recovery or treatment facility as defined by Health and Safety Code Section 11834.02 or any successor statutes.

G. Increased Occupancy. Refers to a request to increase the number of individuals permitted or licensed by State or local law to occupy a group home.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1305 Notice to the public of availability of accommodation process.

The Department of Planning and Building shall prominently display in both the Development Services Center and the Planning Bureau a notice advising those with disabilities or their representatives that they may request a reasonable accommodation hearing in accordance with the procedures established in this Division.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1307 Requesting reasonable accommodation.

A. In order to make specific housing available to an individual with a disability, a disabled person or representative may request reasonable accommodation relating to the various land use, zoning, or building laws, rules, policies, practices and/or procedures of the City.

B. If an individual needs assistance in making the request for reasonable accommodation, or appealing a determination regarding reasonable accommodation, the Department will endeavor to provide the assistance necessary to ensure that the process is accessible to the applicant or representative. The applicant shall be entitled to be represented at all stages of the proceeding by a person designated by the applicant.

C. A request for reasonable accommodation in laws, rules, policies, practices and/or procedures may be filed on an application form provided by the Department at any time that the accommodation may be necessary to ensure equal access to housing.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1309 Jurisdiction.

A. Zoning Officer/Building Official. The Zoning Officer, or Building Official, as appropriate, shall have the authority to consider and act on requests for reasonable accommodation. When a request for reasonable accommodation is filed with the Department, it will be referred to the Zoning Officer or Building Official for review and consideration. The Zoning Officer or Building Official shall issue a written determination within thirty (30) days of the date of receipt of a completed application and may: (1) grant the accommodation request, (2) grant the accommodation request subject to specified nondiscriminatory conditions, or (3) deny the request. All written determinations shall give notice of the right to appeal and the right to request reasonable accommodation on the appeals process, if necessary. The notice of determination shall be sent to the applicant by certified mail, return receipt requested.

B. If necessary to reach a determination on the request for reasonable accommodation, the Zoning Officer or Building Official may request further information from the applicant consistent with this Division, specifying in detail what information is required. In the event a request for further information is made, the thirty (30) day period to issue a written determination shall be stayed until the applicant responds to the request.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1311 Required findings.

The following findings must be analyzed, made and adopted before any action is taken to approve or deny a request for reasonable accommodation and must be incorporated into the record of the proceeding relating to such approval or denial:

A. The housing, which is the subject of the request for reasonable accommodation, will be used by an individual protected under the Act.

B. The request for reasonable accommodation is necessary to make specific housing available to an individual protected under the Act.

C. The requested reasonable accommodation will not impose an undue financial or administrative burden on the City.

D. The requested accommodation will not require a fundamental alteration of the zoning or building laws, policies and/or procedures of the City.

E. For housing located in the coastal zone, a request for reasonable accommodation under this Section shall be approved by the City if it is consistent with Subsections 21.25.1311.A through 21.25.1311.D above, and the certified Local Coastal Program. Where a request for reasonable accommodation is not consistent with the certified Local Coastal Program, the City may waive compliance with an otherwise applicable provision of the Local Coastal Program and approve the request for reasonable accommodation if the City finds:

1. The requested reasonable accommodation is consistent, to the maximum extent feasible, with the certified Local Coastal Program; and

2. There are no feasible alternative means for providing an accommodation at the property that would provide greater consistency with the certified Local Coastal Program.

(Ord. C-7726 § 2, 2001; Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1313 Appeals.

A. Within thirty (30) days of the date the Zoning Officer or Building Official issues a written determination, the applicant requesting the accommodation may appeal an adverse determination or any conditions or limitations imposed in the written determination.

B. All appeals shall contain a statement of the grounds for the appeal.

C. Appeals shall be to the Planning Commission who shall hear the matter and render a determination as soon as reasonably practicable, but in no event later than sixty (60) days after an appeal has been filed. All determinations on appeal shall address and be based upon the same findings required to be made in the original determination from which the appeal is taken.

D. An applicant may request reasonable accommodation in the procedure by which an appeal will be conducted.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1315 Reasonable accommodation relating to requests for increased occupancy of group homes.

A. All requests for reasonable accommodation relating to increased occupancy of a group home shall be filed first with the City's Zoning Officer.

B. The Zoning Officer may hold a hearing on a request for reasonable accommodation relating to the increased occupancy of a group home, or may instead, at his/her sole discretion, refer the application to the Planning Commission for hearing. If the Zoning Officer acts on a request for reasonable accommodation pursuant to this Section, the Zoning Officer shall hear the matter and issue a written determination within thirty (30) days of the date of receipt of a completed application. If the Planning Commission acts on a request for reasonable accommodation pursuant to this Section, the Planning Commission shall hear the matter and render a determination as soon as reasonably practicable, but in no event later than sixty (60) days of receipt of a completed application.

C. Notice of hearing pursuant to this Section shall be provided not less than fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing and shall be mailed or delivered to all owners of real property as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll within three hundred feet (300') of the real property that is the subject of the hearing. In all cases under this Section, the applicant shall bear the cost of the radius mailing.

D. The Zoning Officer or Planning Commission acting pursuant to this Section, shall: (1) grant the accommodation request, (2) grant the accommodation request subject to specified nondiscriminatory conditions, including, but not limited to, a condition requiring the applicant to show proof of any required State license for the activity or occupancy contemplated, or (3) deny the request.

E. The Zoning Officer or Planning Commission, as appropriate, shall explain, in writing, the basis of the determination including the Zoning Officer's or Planning Commissioner's findings on the criteria set forth in Section 21.25.1311. All written determinations shall give notice of the right to appeal and the right to request reasonable accommodation on the appeals process, if necessary. The notice of the determination shall be sent to the applicant by certified mail, return receipt requested.

F. Within thirty (30) days of the issuance of a written determination on the hearing conducted pursuant to this Section, any aggrieved party within the meaning of this Code, may file an appeal from the determination of the Zoning Officer or Planning Commission. Appeals from a determination of the Zoning Officer shall be to the Planning Commission, appeals from a determination of the Planning Commission shall be to the City Council. All appeals shall contain a statement of the grounds for the appeal.

G. Appeals to the Planning Commission or City Council pursuant to this Section shall be heard as soon as reasonably practicable, but in no event later than sixty (60) days after an appeal has been filed. All determinations on appeal shall address and be based upon the same findings required to be made in the original determination from which the appeal is taken.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

21.25.1317 Fee.

There shall be no fee imposed in connection with a request for reasonable accommodation under the provisions of this Division, except that a fee equivalent to the fee imposed for an administrative use permit shall be required if the application for reasonable accommodation relates to an increase in the occupancy of a group home.

(Ord. C-7639 § 1, 1999)

CHAPTER 21.27 NONCONFORMITIES*

21.27.010 Purpose.

The City recognizes that the eventual elimination of existing nonconforming uses and structures benefits the health, safety and welfare of the community. It is the intent of this Chapter to establish regulations and procedures which ensure that the elimination of nonconforming uses and structures occurs as expeditiously and as fairly as possible and also avoids any unreasonable invasion of established property rights.

*Note—1. Prior ordinance history: Ord. C 6533, 1988; Ord. C 6595, 1989; Ord. C 6684, 1990; Ord. C 6822, 1990; Ord. C 6933, 1991; Ord. C 7032, 1992; Ord. C 7047, 1992; Ord. C 7064, 1992; Ord. C 7247, 1994; Ord. C 7274, 1994; Ord. C 7399, 1996; Ord. C 7500, 1997; Ord. C 7550, 1998.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.020 Continuance of nonconforming rights.

Nonconformities, as defined in Chapter 21.15 of this Title, may continue to be used and maintained in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter. The use and maintenance is permitted as a result of vested rights obtained through the legal establishment of the nonconforming use or structure so long as the use is operated and maintained in such a manner as not to be a nuisance, a blighting influence or a direct and substantial detriment to the rights of adjoining, abutting or adjacent uses.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.030 Illegal uses or structures.

Illegal uses or structures have no vested rights. Illegal uses and structures shall either be brought into legal conforming status or shall be removed.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.040 Maintenance.

Ordinary maintenance and repair of a building containing a nonconforming use, such as painting, plumbing repair, shall be permitted as necessary to ensure the protection of general health, safety and welfare. All nonconforming uses and structures are subject to all applicable property maintenance and substandard buildings laws.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.050 Abandonment.

A. Loss of rights to a nonconforming use. All rights to a nonconforming use are lost if the use is abandoned for twelve (12) months (see Section 21.15.030) or if the structure housing the use is demolished (see Section 21.15.750) except as follows:

1. Nonconforming nonresidential structure. A nonconforming nonresidential structure, which has been abandoned for a period greater than twelve (12) months, may apply for an administrative use permit to establish a CNP (neighborhood pedestrian) permitted use and may apply for a conditional use permit to establish a CNP (neighborhood pedestrian) discretionally permitted use.

2. Nonconforming nonresidential historic landmark. A designated City landmark which has been abandoned for a period greater than twelve (12) months, may apply for an administrative use permit to establish a CNP (neighborhood pedestrian) permitted use or discretionally permitted use, and may apply for a conditional use permit to establish another nonconforming use subject to the following:

a. A special building inspection is conducted to ensure the building conforms or can be repaired to conform to minimum building, plumbing, fire, housing, electrical and earthquake code provisions as necessary to protect public health and safety, and

b. The proposed use is necessary to avoid an unnecessary hardship on the property owner due to the condition of the structure, the value of the property, or the potential economic life of the building, and

c. The proposed change of use will provide a desirable service or will be beneficial to the neighborhood, and

d. The proposed use and adaptive reuse design plan has obtained a certificate of appropriateness from the Cultural Heritage Commission.

B. Loss of rights to nonconforming parking. All nonconforming rights related to parking shall be lost if the principal building (housing the principal use) on the lot is demolished, except that:

1. Rights shall not be lost if a building is merely vacated.

2. If a building for a residential use of four or fewer principal dwelling units is demolished, but a nonconforming garage accessory to that use is not demolished, the nonconforming garage may remain and the permitted number of parking spaces in that garage shall be counted toward the parking requirement for new construction. However, any new construction shall comply with all applicable development standards, and the presence of the nonconforming garage shall not constitute a reason for relief or waiver of those development standards.

3. If a building for a residential use of five or more principal dwelling units or any non-residential principal building is demolished, any remaining nonconforming garage, also shall lose its nonconforming rights and shall be brought into conformance with the requirements of the Zoning Regulations.

4. For a site or use with no building area (GFA), abandonment of the use also shall constitute abandonment of any nonconforming parking rights.

C. Abandonment/revocation of rights through nuisance, blight or detrimental effect upon adjoining, abutting or adjacent property. Any nonconforming use which is operated in such a way as to be a nuisance or a direct detriment to adjoining, abutting or adjacent properties or which is neglected to the point of being a blight on the community shall be considered to have had its nonconforming rights abandoned. Such abandonment shall be determined by a revocation hearing according to the procedures of Division VI, "Revocations", of Chapter 21.21 of this Title, provided, that:

1. A fully noticed public hearing is held before the Planning Commission; and

2. The Planning Commission, or City Council on appeal, finds that:

   a. The use adversely affects the health, peace or safety of persons residing or working on the premises or in the surrounding area, or

   b. The use jeopardizes or endangers the public health or safety, or

   c. The use constitutes a direct and substantial detriment to surrounding uses by repeated adverse activities and incidences, including, but not limited to, disturbances of the peace, illegal drug activity, public drunkenness, drinking in public, harassment of passerby, gambling, prostitution, sale of stolen goods, public urination, theft, assault, battery, acts of vandalism, loitering, excessive littering, illegal parking, loud noises (particularly in late night or early morning), noise code violations, traffic violations, curfew violations, lewd conduct or police detentions and arrests, or

   d. The uses cause repeated violations under Public Health and Safety Code, Title 8 or Title 9, and

   e. The owner or operator has been unwilling or unable to eliminate the adverse activities, if any;

3. If it finds that conditions and/or modifications of the use will be ineffective in eliminating the adverse activities, the Planning Commission, or City Council on appeal, shall revoke only the nonconforming rights to the use;

4. Continuation of any use after abandonment or revocation pursuant to this Subsection shall constitute a violation of this Chapter and shall be penalized as provided for in Section 21.10.080.

21.27.055 Modification.

If a nonconforming structure is demolished and/or rebuilt, as defined in Sections 21.15.750 and 21.15.2250 of this Title, the structure must be brought into conformity with the provisions of the Zoning Code and certified Local Coastal Program, as appropriate.

(ORD-19-0007 § 7, 2019)

21.27.060 Expansion.

A nonconforming use or structure shall not be expanded or altered in any way so as to increase that nonconformity, except as follows:

A. Uses permitted by CUP or AUP. Any use which was originally established in a zone district by right and has since been reclassified as a discretionary use in that district shall obtain an administrative use permit or a conditional use permit, as designated in the applicable use table, prior to expansion of the use or any building or structure related to the use. An application to change an alcoholic beverage license to expand the range of beverages sold shall be considered an expansion of that use.

B. Conforming nonresidential uses with nonconforming parking. A conforming nonresidential use with nonconforming parking may be expanded or intensified, if parking is provided for the expansion or intensification in accordance with current parking standards of the Zoning Regulations. The required number of parking spaces shall be calculated based on the additional square feet of new construction or intensified area of land use or other applicable unit of measurement. A conforming nonresidential use that has nonconforming parking also may apply for an Administrative Use Permit (AUP) to obtain relief from parking requirements in accordance with Section 21.41.223.

C. Nonconforming residential uses.

1. Maximum expansion. A nonconforming residential use (i.e., that exceeds the allowable density for the zone, or is located in a zone that does not permit the residential use) shall not be expanded by more than two hundred fifty (250) square feet per unit after July 1, 1989. Expansion rights shall not be transferred from one unit to another.

2. Parking. Any expansion beyond the first two hundred fifty (250) square feet of cumulative addition to the site shall require one (1) additional conforming parking space for each additional two hundred fifty (250) square feet or portion thereof added to the site, provided that no unit shall be expanded by more than 250 square feet per Subsection 21.27.060.C.1. For a lot with only one single-family dwelling, no additional parking shall be required.

3. Development standards. The expansion shall be consistent in style and materials with the existing building, and shall conform to the current development standards of the zone.

D. Conforming residential use with nonconforming parking. A conforming residential use (i.e., that does not exceed the allowable density for the zone and is located in a zone that permits the residential use) with nonconforming parking may be expanded as follows:

1. Demolition of nonconforming parking. Nonconforming parking demolished during remodeling or additions may be replaced with new parking of equal size or a more conforming size. The new parking shall provide for the best feasible turning radius. For the purposes of this Section, "best feasible turning radius" means the most conforming turning radius that may be created by relocating the new parking on the lot up to the point it conflicts with the existing building, and applying the turning radius reduction measures established in Section 21.41.243, to the greatest extent feasible.

2. Addition of new dwelling unit. The addition of new dwelling units on a lot shall require the provision of additional parking spaces for the new dwelling units as well as existing units if substandard in parking in accordance with the standards for new construction.

3. Expansion of existing dwelling unit. A residential use with nonconforming parking shall not be expanded by more than two hundred fifty (250) square feet after July 1, 1989, without providing additional parking. Any expansion beyond the first two hundred fifty (250) square feet of cumulative addition to the site shall require one (1) additional conforming parking space for each additional two hundred fifty (250) square feet or portion thereof. For a lot with only one single-family dwelling, no additional parking shall be required.

E. Nonconforming commercial, institutional and park uses.

1. General. Nonconforming uses shall not be expanded to occupy a greater area of land or building than was occupied at the time the use or structure became nonconforming.

F. Nonconforming industrial uses.

1. General. Nonconforming industrial uses shall not be expanded to occupy a greater area of land or building than was occupied at the time the use or structure became nonconforming.

2. Machinery and equipment. Nonconforming machinery and equipment requiring a building permit may be relocated within the site or replaced with machinery or equipment of equal size or capabilities. The number of machines or equipment, the size of the machines or equipment, or the capabilities of the machines or equipment to do heavier work may not be expanded.

3. Outside uses. Outside nonconforming equipment and machinery may be relocated or altered, provided the equipment or machinery is not relocated any closer to the nearest residential district.

4. Volumes. Increased sales, production or throughput volume shall not be considered as an expansion, provided the use does not expand to occupy additional land or another building.

21.27.065 Interior alteration to residential uses with nonconforming parking to create additional bedrooms.

A. Single-family residential. Interior alteration of an existing dwelling unit, on a lot with only one single-family dwelling, to create additional bedrooms shall not require provision of additional parking.

B. Duplex, Triplex, and Multifamily residential. Interior alteration or addition of GFA to an existing dwelling unit in a duplex, triplex, or multifamily dwelling to create additional bedrooms is prohibited unless parking is provided for the unit(s) being altered in compliance with the requirements of Chapter 21.41.

21.27.070 Change in use.

A nonconforming use may be changed to a conforming use, and may be changed to another nonconforming use if the use or structure housing the nonconforming use has not been abandoned for twelve (12) months (see Section 21.15.030) or the structure has not been demolished (see Section 21.15.750), as follows:

A. To a CNP permitted use. An existing nonconforming nonresidential use may change to a CNP (neighborhood pedestrian) permitted use.

B. To another nonconforming use with an administrative use permit. An existing nonconforming use may be changed to another nonconforming use if an administrative use permit is granted as provided for in this Title and provided:

1. A special building inspection, is conducted to ensure the building conforms or can be repaired to conform to minimum building, plumbing, fire, housing, electrical and earthquake code provisions as necessary to protect public health and safety; and

2. The change of use is necessary to avoid an unnecessary hardship on the property owner due to the condition of the structure, the value of the property or the potential economic life of the building; or

3. The change of use will allow a designated City landmark to be economically productive, thus extending the life of the structure, as long as the proposed use and rehabilitation are approved by the Cultural Heritage Commission; and

4. The change of use will provide a service or will be beneficial to the neighborhood, and will more closely conform to the zoning of the site than the existing use.

C. Change of use with nonconforming parking. A use with nonconforming parking may change to another use without adding parking except:

1. If the new use would require more parking than the existing use. Then, in order to establish the new use, the applicant shall add parking equal to the difference between the parking requirement of the existing use and the new use (net change in parking intensity), except that this Subsection 21.27.070.C.1 shall not apply as provided in Section 21.41.165; and

2. If the new use is a limousine service or a fleet service/company vehicle operation, motel, hotel, inn, bed and breakfast inn, other transient lodging, or event center, the applicant shall provide parking as required by Chapter 21.41.

21.27.080 Determination of nonconforming non-residential parking rights.

When determining the nonconforming parking rights that apply to a non- residential building or use of land, the Director of Community Development or designee shall base this determination on the current parking requirement (before exceptions) for the most intense or highest parking requirement land use that was legally established for the building or site or portion thereof (e.g., tenant space) in question, provided that the building or structure that contained or comprised the most intense or highest parking requirement land use has not been demolished. This Section shall not be construed to create transference of nonconforming parking rights between buildings or tenant spaces within a site or lot or parcel. For land uses with no building area, this Section shall not apply (see Subsection 21.27.050.B.4).

21.27.090 Restoration.

Any building containing a nonconforming use or any nonconforming structure may be repaired and restored to its nonconforming state if the need for repairs or restoration shall be the result of fire, explosion, earthquake, imminent public hazard, acts of terrorism, sabotage, vandalism, warfare or abatement of earthquake hazard in accordance with City regulations. Such restoration shall comply with the following conditions:

A. Level of restoration. The damaged use or structure may be repaired or rebuilt to the area and footprint of the previous use or structure. Alternatively, the use or structure may be repaired or rebuilt to a more conforming area or footprint.

B. Additional floor area added. If during restoration and/or reconstruction additional floor area is added, the use or structure shall abandon its nonconforming status.

C. Time limit. The repairs must be commenced within one year of the event causing damage to the use or structure, and the repairs must be diligently pursued until completed.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.110 Special uses and structures.

Nothing in this Chapter shall prohibit the establishment of special regulations for specific nonconforming uses and structures regulated by other Sections of the Zoning Code. Such regulations may provide for the retirement or amortization of those specific uses and structures.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.130 Historic landmark and landmark district exemption.

Any building, structure, or lot designated as an historic landmark or contributing building, structure, or lot located within a designated landmark district established under Chapter 2.63 of this Code, shall be exempted from restrictions of this Chapter relating to restoration (Section 21.27.090), interior alteration to residential uses with non-conforming parking to create additional bedrooms (Section 21.27.065) expansion (Section 21.27.060), and maintenance (Section 21.27.040), provided that any use or construction plans are approved with a Certificate of Appropriateness issued by the Cultural Heritage Commission. Such building, structure, or contributing building, structure, or lot located in the coastal zone and on a beach, in a wetland, stream, or lake, seaward of the mean high tide line, in an area designated as highly scenic, or within fifty feet (50') of a coastal bluff edge, may not be expanded or altered so as to increase the size or degree of non-conformity with a coastal resource protection or shoreline development policy of the LCP. Replacement or rebuild of such a structure in the coastal zone, including replacement or alterations of fifty percent (50%) or more of any major structural components, shall be permitted only if the replacement or rebuilt structure conforms to all policies of the LCP.

21.27.150 Amortization—Adult entertainment.

After May 18, 1996, no person shall cause or permit the continued operation, maintenance or use of a lot, building or structure as a legal nonconforming adult entertainment business which does not comply with the locational requirements of Section 21.45.110. For the purposes of this Section, the term "legal nonconforming adult entertainment business" shall mean any adult entertainment business which existed on May 1, 1988, and any adult entertainment business which received a standards variance pursuant to former Subsection 21.45.110.B.

(Ord. C-7663 § 5, 1999)

21.27.160 Amortization—Fleet service/company vehicle operations.

Any fleet service/company vehicle operation as defined in Section 21.15.1065 which was lawfully in existence as of the effective date of this Section (August 7, 1998) which does not comply in whole or in part with the parking requirements of Section 21.41.216, shall be terminated or otherwise be brought into full compliance within one year of the effective date of this Section (August 7, 1998). For those fleet service/company vehicle operations which cannot be brought into compliance with these provisions because they do not meet the parking requirements of Section 21.41.216, the use may be extended for only one (1) additional period of time (not to exceed one (1) year), to be established by the Planning Commission, upon a showing by the operator of the use that such extension is reasonably necessary to permit the owner of the use adequate time to amortize or otherwise recover any long-term investment in the fleet service/company vehicle operation.

Any request for an extension of the one (1) year amortization period must be made in writing by the owner of the use to the Planning Commission by filing a request with the Planning Bureau of the Department of Planning and Building no later than sixty (60) days prior to the end of the one (1) year period provided for in this Section.

The Planning Commission may grant an extension of up to one (1) additional year only if the business is otherwise in compliance with all other applicable provisions of law, and upon a showing by the applicant/owner of the use:

A. That the business involved a substantial financial investment in real property, improvement or stock in trade, or

B. The business is subject to a written long-term lease entered into prior to January 1, 1995, with a termination date extending beyond one (1) year from the effective date of this Section, or

C. Other factors establishing that the nature of the business is such that the business cannot be easily relocated.

(Ord. C 7663 § 5, 1999)

CHAPTER 21.29 DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS

21.29.010 Purpose and construction.

A. The purpose of this Chapter is to establish procedures and requirements for the consideration of development agreements upon application by, or on behalf of property owners or other persons having a legal or equitable interest in the property proposed to be subject to the agreement. In this regard, it is intended that the provisions of this Chapter should be fully consistent, and in full compliance, with the provisions of Article 2.5 of Chapter 4 of Division 1 of Title 7 (commencing with Section 65864) of the California Government Code, and shall be so construed.

B. In construing the provisions of any development agreement entered into pursuant to this Chapter, those provisions shall be read to fully effectuate, and to be consistent with, the language of this Chapter, Article 2.5 of the California Government Code, cited above, and the agreement itself.

Should any apparent discrepancies between the meaning of these documents arise, then the documents shall control in construing the development agreement in the following order of priority:

1. The plain terms of the development agreement itself;

2. The provisions of this Chapter, and

3. The provisions of Article 2.5 of the California Government Code, cited above.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.020 Application and processing.

A. Any owner of real property or other person having a legal or equitable interest in the property may request and apply through the Director of Planning and Building for the City to enter into a development agreement provided that:

1. The property proposed to be subject to the agreement shall be not less than eighty thousand (8,000) square feet in size;

2. The application is made on forms approved, and contains all information required, by the Director;

3. The status of the applicant as an owner of, or holder of legal or equitable interest in, the property is established to the satisfaction of the Director; and

4. The application is accompanied by the fee established pursuant to Subsection 21.29.020.C and all other lawfully required documents, materials and information.

B. The Director of Planning and Building, or his designee, is hereby empowered to receive, review, process and prepare, together with his recommendations, for Planning Commission and City Council consideration as applicable all applications for development agreements. He may call upon all other departments of the City to assist him in his responsibilities under this Chapter, which assistance shall be provided in a timely manner.

C. Processing fees, as established by resolution of the City Council, shall be charged for any application for a development agreement made pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter, and shall also be so established and charged for periodic reviews conducted pursuant to Section 21.29.070.

(Ord. C-6546 § 5, 1988; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.030 Public hearings.

A. When an application for a development agreement is deemed complete by the Director of Planning and Building, he shall, within one hundred twenty (120) days, set the application, together with his recommendations relating to it, for public hearing before the Planning Commission. Following conclusion of public hearing by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the City Council that it approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove the application.

B. Within forty-five (45) days of final action by the Planning Commission and receipt of a written report of such action, the City Clerk shall set the application and written report of the Planning Commission for public hearing before the City Council. Following conclusion of public hearing by the City Council, the City Council shall approve, conditionally approve or deny the application.

C. Notice of the hearings set forth in Subsections A and B of this Section 21.29.030 shall be given in the form of a notice of intention to consider adoption of a development agreement as required by Section 65867 of the California Government Code.

D. Should the City Council approve or conditionally approve the application, it shall, as a part of its action of approval, direct the City Attorney to prepare a development agreement embodying the terms and conditions of the application as approved or conditionally approved by it, as well as an ordinance authorizing execution of the development agreement by the City manager on behalf of the City.

E. The ordinance shall set forth findings, and the facts supporting them, that the development agreement is consistent with the Long Beach General Plan and any and all specific plans and that it will promote the welfare and public interest of the City of Long Beach.

F. The ordinance may be subjected to referendum in the manner provided by law.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.040 Content of development agreement.

A. Mandatory contents. A development agreement entered into pursuant to this Chapter must contain provisions that:

1. Specify the duration of the agreement;

2. Specify the permitted uses of the property;

3. Specify the density or intensity of use;

4. Set forth the maximum height and size of proposed buildings; and

5. Set forth provisions, if any, for reservation or dedication of land for public purposes.

B. Permissive contents. A development agreement entered into pursuant to this Chapter may:

1. Include conditions, terms, restrictions, and requirements for subsequent discretionary actions, provided that such conditions, terms, restrictions, and requirements for subsequent discretionary actions shall not prevent development of the land for the uses and to the density or intensity of development set forth in the agreement;

2. Provide that construction shall be commenced within a specified time and that the project or any phase thereof be completed within a specified time;

3. Include terms and conditions relating to applicant financing of necessary public improvements and facilities, including, but not limited to, applicant participation in benefit assessment proceedings;

4. Include such other terms, conditions and requirements as the City Council may deem necessary and proper, including, but not limited to, a requirement for assuring, to the satisfaction of the City, performance of all provisions of the agreement in a timely fashion by the applicant/contracting party.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.050 Execution and recordation.

A. The City shall not execute any development agreement until on or after the date upon which the ordinance approving the agreement and enacted pursuant to Section 21.29.030 becomes effective.

B. An executed development agreement shall be recorded in the office of the Recorder of the County of Los Angeles no later than ten (10) days after it is entered into.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.060 Environmental review.

The approval or conditional approval of a development agreement pursuant to this Chapter 21.29 shall be deemed a discretionary act for purposes of the California Environmental Quality Act.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.070 Periodic review.

A. Every development agreement approved and executed pursuant to this Chapter shall be periodically reviewed during the term of the agreement every year following the date of its execution.

B. The purpose of the reviews conducted pursuant to this Section shall be to determine whether the applicant/contracting party or its successor in interest has complied in good faith with the terms of the development agreement. The burden shall be on the applicant/contracting party or its successor to demonstrate such compliance to the full satisfaction of, and in a manner as prescribed by the City.

C. If, as a result of periodic review pursuant to this Section, the City Council finds and determines, on the basis of substantial evidence, that the applicant/contracting party or its successor in interest has not complied in good faith with terms or conditions of the agreement, the City Council may order, after hearing, that the agreement be terminated or modified.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.080 Effect of development agreement.

Unless otherwise provided by the development agreement, rules, regulations and official policies governing permitted uses of the land, governing density, and governing design, improvement and construction standards and specifications, applicable to development of the property subject to a development agreement, are the rules, regulations and official policies in force at the time of execution of the agreement. A development agreement does not prevent the City, in subsequent actions applicable to the property, from applying new rules, regulations and policies which do not conflict with those rules, regulations and policies applicable to the property under the development agreement, nor does a development agreement prevent the City from denying or conditionally approving any subsequent development project application on the basis of such existing or new rules, regulations and policies.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.29.090 Approved development agreements.

Pursuant to this Chapter, the City Council has approved those certain development agreements as described below:

CHAPTER 21.30 DISTRICTS ESTABLISHED

21.30.010 Districts designated.

The incorporated territory of the City of Long Beach is divided into the land use districts indicated in Table 30-1 in order to regulate the location of residences, businesses and industries; the location of buildings and structures; the uses of land; the height and bulk of buildings; the area of yards and other open space facilities; and off-street parking facilities.

(Ord. C-7047 § 6, 1992; Ord. C-6933 § 9, 1991; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.020 Regulations for all districts.

These Zoning Regulations divide the City into districts within which the location, height and bulk of buildings or structures and the uses of buildings, structures or land are regulated as specified.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.030 Use district map adopted.

The use districts and the boundaries of such districts are shown upon a map consisting of thirty (30) parts, being numbered consecutively from 1 to 30, containing the districts which are established by this Chapter. The use district map is on file in the office of the Department of Planning and Building, and said map and all notations, references and other information shown on it, including the index map and the chart showing the symbols and legends employed, are incorporated by reference and shall be deemed as much a part of this Title as if the matters and information set forth by the map were fully described in this Chapter.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.040 District boundary determination.

In the event uncertainty exists as to the boundaries of any district shown on the use district map, the following shall govern:

A. Unless otherwise indicated by dimensions shown on the map, every district boundary line is intended to follow lot lines or the centerlines of streets or alleys as they existed at the time the district was established.

B. Where a single lot or parcel of land is divided by a district boundary line, each portion of the lot or parcel shall comply with the provisions of the regulations that apply to the district wherein that portion of the lot is located.

C. Where uncertainty exists as to the location of the district boundary line, the Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to make a determination as to the intended location of the boundary.

(ORD-15-0037, § 1, 2015; Ord. C-7663 § 29, 1999; Ord. C-7360 § 2, 1995; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.050 Zoning of annexed territory.

Upon formal notification by the City of its intention to undertake an annexation, the Department of Planning and Building shall initiate a study to determine the appropriate zoning for the property intended for annexation. After such a study, the Zoning Administrator shall begin proceedings for the prezoning of the property in accordance with the procedures governing a rezoning. At the conclusion of the proceeding, the Zoning Administrator shall notify the appropriate City agency of the prezoning classification of the property should the annexation be consummated. The City shall convey this information to the Local Agency Formation Commission if required to do so.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.060 Reclaimed submerged lands.

A. Reclaimed By Natural Accretion. Unless otherwise determined by a rezoning, any submerged lands which may be reclaimed by natural accretion shall immediately be subject to the same regulations of this Title as those specified for the most restrictive abutting district, provided the zoning conforms to the principles and policies stated in the local coastal program of the General Plan. The use district map shall be adjusted by a notation indicating the classification without further procedure. If the most restrictive abutting zone does not conform to the principles and policies of the local coastal program, such restrictive zoning shall apply until the area in question is rezoned.

B. Reclaimed By Fill. Any submerged lands to be reclaimed by fill for use as a land area shall be prezoned prior to City Council approval of the fill. However, fill activities required in an emergency for the protection of public health or safety shall be exempt from this requirement, and any fill in the port district indicated on the Port Master Plan automatically be designated Port District (MP).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.070 Vacated street or alley.

Whenever a dedicated street or alley or any portion thereof is vacated, it shall be automatically classified in the same district as the abutting property, and the use district map shall be adjusted without further procedure. If opposite sides of the street or alley are in different zones, the new boundary of the use district shall be at the centerline of the former street or alley.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.30.080 Savings.

In adopting this Chapter 21.30, it is the intention of the City Council that the use districts and use district boundaries as first adopted herein shall be the same as those in effect on the date of adoption of the Ordinance first codifying and adopting this Chapter 21.30, and should the provisions of this Chapter 21.30 be, for any reason, invalidated, voided or set aside, in whole or in part, it is the intention of the City Council that the use districts and use district boundaries as they existed immediately prior to the adoption of this Chapter 21.30 shall continue in full force and effect until they may thereafter be lawfully amended, revised or repealed.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.31 RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS

21.31.010 Purpose.

The intent of this Chapter is to create, preserve and enhance residential areas for a range of housing types and lifestyles. These regulations are directed toward minimizing conflicts and incompatibilities between mixed housing types and between the activities which may occur within the various types of residential development. These regulations also serve to encourage the maintenance and rehabilitation of existing residences and to ensure that new housing is an asset to existing neighborhoods.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.020 Districts established.

Twenty (20) residential zoning districts are established by this Chapter as follows:

A. The R-1-S District is a single-family residential district with small lots. The District recognizes the existing subdivision pattern and is established to accommodate the requirements of a modern home on existing small lots. This Zone is only appropriate in high open space amenity areas such as the Coastal Zone. This implements Land Use District No. 1 of the General Plan.

B. The R-1-M District is a single-family residential district with moderate sized lots. This District recognizes the difficulty of developing odd sized and shaped parcels with normal sized lots. It also recognizes the City's objective of providing more affordable ownership housing and the effect of lot size on housing costs. This District implements Land Use District No. 1 of the General Plan.

C. The R-1-N District is a single-family residential district with standard lots. This District recognizes the outdoor lifestyle characteristic of Southern California and is established to protect such areas from overcrowding and conversion to higher densities. This implements Land Use District No. 1 of the General Plan.

D. The R-1-L District is a single-family residential district with large lots. This District recognizes the need for an open, uncrowded living environment within metropolitan centers. This implements Land Use District No. 1 of the General Plan.

E. The R-1-T District is a single-family district of townhouses. It implements Land Use District No. 3A of the General Plan.

F. The R-2-S District is a two-family residential district with small lots. This District recognizes existing subdivision and use patterns in distinct portions of the City and is established to accommodate such patterns without crowding and congestion. This Zone is generally not suitable outside of the Coastal Zone. This Zone implements Land Use District No. 2 of the General Plan.

G. The R-2-I District is a two-family residential district with intensified development on the lots. This District recognizes existing subdivision and use patterns in distinct portions of the City and allows an intensity of development appropriate only in areas within immediate proximity to public open space. This Zone implements Land Use District No. 2 of the General Plan.

H. The R-2-N District is a two-family residential district with standard lots. This District recognizes the need for two-family, moderate density housing with outdoor living space. This Zone implements Land Use District No. 2 of the General Plan.

I. The R-2-A District is a two-family residential district with standard lots. This District restricts one (1) unit to a small accessory unit. This District recognizes the desire to maintain the existing character of a community by retaining single-family dwellings while adding a second unit to the rear. This Zone implements Land Use District No. 2 of the General Plan.

J. The R-2-L District is a two-family residential district with large lots. It recognizes the use pattern of two-family dwellings in older, large lot subdivisions. It also encourages the preservation of these neighborhoods and also provides opportunity for spacious, well-designed, two-family developments. This Zone implements Land Use District No. 2 of the General Plan.

K. The R-3-S District is a three-family residential district. This District recognizes the constraints small lots place on multifamily developments and the adverse consequences related to large scale multifamily development in existing neighborhoods of single-family use. This Zone implements Land Use District No. 3B of the General Plan.

L. The R-3-4 district is a four-family residential district. The district recognizes the constraints lot size places on multifamily development and the adverse consequences related to large scale multifamily uses development in single-family neighborhoods.

M. The R-3-T district is a townhouse or row house residential district on small (especially shallow) lots. It is intended for residential lots located along significant traffic arteries where a lot line to lot line, high lot coverage, inward-oriented dwelling is appropriate. This district is typically appropriate in areas in transition from commercial to residential use. This implements land use district No. 3A of the General Plan.

N. The R-4-R district is a moderate density, multifamily residential district with restrictions on building height. It is intended to provide a moderate density use consistent in scale with existing older and lower density developments. The district is designed to encourage full development in established moderate density neighborhoods. This implements land use district No. 3B of the General Plan.

O. The R-4-N district is a high density, multifamily residential district. It is intended to meet the demand of a broad segment of the population which provides a diversity of housing choices. This implements land use district No. 4 of the General Plan.

P. The R-4-H district is a high-rise, high density, multifamily residential district. The district is intended to encourage residential development with a distinctive urban living environment. This implements land use district No. 6 of the General Plan.

Q. The RM district is a single-family residential district for mobile homes and manufactured housing. This district recognizes the significant contribution that mobile home housing developments can make toward providing a diversity of housing choices. This district is established to encourage such development on large sites. This implements land use district No. 2 of the General Plan.

R. The R-4-U district is a high-density, multifamily residential district. It is intended to provide housing opportunities in an urban context and design style to support downtown activity center employment with adjoining housing. This implements land use district No. 5 of the General Plan.

S. The R-4-M district is a moderate density subdivided mobile home park development district. The district recognizes the wishes of mobile home owners in rental mobile home parks to be given the opportunity to own the space on which their mobile home is located. Such subdivisions of mobile home parks to resident ownership is encouraged by the State of California as an appropriate method of preserving low-income housing stock.

T. The RP district is a residential Planned Unit Development (PUD) district. It is intended to encourage innovative, creative developments according to good urban planning principles, across a range of potential densities providing new and diverse housing opportunities, with integrated community facilities and benefits. The district is designed to reduce or eliminate rigidity that otherwise may result from the application of traditional development standards, and to encourage the development or recycling of larger parcels of land as coherent, integrated projects. The zoning symbol "RP" must be followed by a number indicating the approved density in DU/ac, such as "RP-12" or "RP-18." This implements Land Use District No. 3A of the General Plan.

21.31.030 Site plan review.

Site plan review is required for all projects with five (5) or more units. This includes both new construction as well as additions to projects of five (5) units or more (Division V of Chapter 21.25—Site Plan Review).

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.040 Reclassification of district.

The R-3-3 district is reclassified to become the R-3-S district. Any reference to either district shall be treated as a reference to the R-3-S district. The R-3-L district is reclassified to become the R-4-R district. Any reference to either district shall be treated as a reference to the R-4-R district.

(Ord. C-6933 § 11, 1991: Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.31.110 Permitted uses.

Table 31-1 indicates all uses permitted (Y), not permitted (N), permitted by conditional use permit (C), permitted as an accessory use (A) and permitted as a temporary use (T) in the residential zones. Permitted uses with an asterisk (*) are subject to special development standards contained in Chapter 21.45 of this Title. Accessory uses, conditional uses and temporary uses also have special development standards, as set forth in Chapters 21.51, 21.52 and 21.53, respectively. All projects within the Coastal Zone are also subject to the Local Coastal Program and provisions as set forth in Chapter 21.25 Division IX.

(ORD-20-0025 § 3, 2020; Ord. C-7247 § 8, 1994; Ord. C-6933 § 12, 1991; Ord. C-6895 § 8, 1991: Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.120 Prohibited uses.

All uses not listed in Table 31-1 as permitted uses, conditional uses, accessory uses or temporary uses, including recreational or other vehicles occupied as a dwelling unit, are prohibited in residential zone districts.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.31.201 General provisions.

The development standards indicated in Tables 31-2 A and B shall apply to all structures in residential zones.

(Ord. C-7247 § 9, 1994; Ord. C-7064 § 4, 1992; Ord. C-7032 § 14, 1992; Ord. C-6963 § 1, 1992; Ord. C-6933 §§ 13, 14, 1991: Ord. C-6895 § 9, 1991: Ord. C-6822 § 7, 1990; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.205 Units per lot and lot area per unit.

Table 31-2 indicates the maximum number of units permitted by each residential district and the required density (land area per unit). The number of units shall not be subject to the standard variance provisions contained in this Title. In calculating the number of units permitted on the site, the following rules shall apply:

All projects within the Coastal Zone are also subject to the Local Coastal Program and provisions as set forth in Chapter 21.25 Division IX.

Use, operating, and other regulations contained outside of Title 20 and Title 21 are not certified by the California Coastal Commission.

Abbreviations:

Y = Yes (permitted use).

N = Not permitted.

C = Conditional use permit required. Refer to provisions in Chapter 21.52.

A = Accessory use. Permitted subject to provisions contained in Chapter 21.51.

T = Temporary Use. Permitted subject to provisions contained in Chapter 21.53.

AP = Administrative use Permit required. Refer to provisions in Chapter 21.52.

IP = Interim park use permit required. Refer to provisions in Chapter 21.52.

Notes:

(a) Retail and office commercial uses are subject to the development standards specified in Section 21.45.160.

(b) Unless the site can provide 4 independently accessible parking spaces, one unit is limited to 450 sq. ft. as a zero bedroom.

(c) One unit shall not exceed 800 sq. ft. or 12 percent of lot area, whichever is greater. The 800 sq. ft. limit shall apply to the rear unit. If both units exceed 800 sq. ft., the rear unit, or bottom unit in a stacked duplex, shall be considered the legal nonconforming unit.

(d) For commercial uses permitted in the R-4-H zone see Section 21.45.160.

(e) This use does not include uses that meet the definition of "Residentional care facility" or "Special group residences" as defined in Chapter 21.15.

(f) Development is subject to the density limits of the zoning district in which it is located.

(g) Adult-Use Cannabis Businesses prohibited.

(h) All urban agriculture uses, whether by-right or permitted through an Administrative Use Permit, must meet the standards outlined in Section 21.52.260.

(i) Allowed only as an accessory use to an existing institutional use where all lots are owned and operated by the same entity.

NOTES: Table 31-2A, Residential Development Standards

(a) If this lot size exceeds the standards for the neighborhood (as defined in the subdivision regulations), the standard of the neighborhood may be used.

(b) If a lot is 27 feet or less in width, see Subsection 21.31.215.F, special narrow lot standards.

(c) These standards apply only to new subdivisions of land area. They do not apply to new construction on existing lots or to air space divisions of existing lots.

(d) In general, height is measured to the midpoint of the roof (Section 21.15.1330—Definitions). However, in some zones, the building height limit consists of 2 numbers. The first number indicates the height of the midpoint of roof, and second number indicates height of building measured to peak of roof. A project shall conform to both standards.

(e) An additional 2 feet may be permitted to accommodate access stairs to the roof.

(f) See Section 21.31.220 for special height provisions.

(g) New subdivisions, including corner lots, shall orient the lots to the side street.

(h) For garages and other accessory structures, refer to Section 21.31.245 (Accessory structures).

(i) Average setback may apply as outlined in Subsection 21.31.215.C (Front yard averaging).

(j) Special standards apply for reverse corner lots as specified in Subsection 21.31.215.D (Rear yard).

(k) The setback shall be measured from the centerline of an abutting alley where such exists. For shallow lots, see Special Standards in Subsection 21.31.215.D.

(l) If the garage takes direct access from the street, the garage shall be set back pursuant to Section 21.31.245.

(m) Commercial uses—see Special Development Standard, Section 21.45.160.

(n) One unit is limited to not more than 800 square feet or 12 percent of lot area, whichever is greater.

(o) Percent of lot area per unit.

(p) Square foot per unit. See Sections 21.31.230 (Usable Open Space) and 21.31.240 (Privacy Standards) for detailed standards.

(q) The side yard setback is 10 percent of lot width on each side, but in no case shall the interior side yard setback be required to exceed 10 feet (except as specified in footnote(s)). The side street side yard setback shall be 15 percent of lot width, but in no case shall it be required to exceed 15 feet. Neither setback shall ever be less than 3 feet.

(r) See Subsections 21.31.215.D.3 and 21.31.215.E.3, Special Side and Rear Yard Setback Restrictions.

(s) Lots created through a land subdivision or lot merger shall not exceed 20,000 square feet. Lot mergers shall not be comprised of more than two lots.

(t) A patio cover or canopy consisting of fabric, canvas, or similar durable, weatherproof material (and its supporting structure), may exceed the maximum building height when constructed above a roof deck, but shall be limited to a height of eight feet, six inches (8'-6") above the finish floor of the roof deck. The supporting structure shall be open on all sides. The patio cover or canopy shall not obstruct views of the beach, bay, ocean, or tidelands from any public vantage point or public area in the coastal zone or tidelands. A building permit shall be obtained, and the patio cover or canopy structure shall be permanently attached to the roof deck or building.

A. Net Lot Area. All densities are calculated on the basis of net lot area. This is the existing lot area minus any dedications for public right-of-way (streets or alleys) to meet minimum City standards.

B. Fractional Densities. Fractional numbers of units shall not be counted in determining the number of units allowed on the site except that at least one (1) unit shall be allowed on any legal or certified lot.

C. Narrow or Small Lots. Any lot which is twenty-five feet (25′) or less in width, or has a lot area of two thousand four hundred (2,400) square feet or less (except in the R-2-I and R-2-S Zones) shall be permitted to contain only one (1) single-family residence.

(ORD-07-0019 § 3, 2007; Ord. C-6895 § 10, 1991; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.210 Minimum lot area and lot width.

The minimum lot area and lot width indicated in Table 31-2A apply only to new subdivisions of land area. They do not apply to new construction on existing lots or to air space subdivisions.

(Ord. C-7663 § 6, 1999: Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.215 Yard requirements.

Yards shall be provided for the purpose of providing light, air, pedestrian and vehicular circulation, emergency access and general aesthetic improvements. All lots shall have one (1) front yard and one (1) rear yard, with the exception of through lots, which may have two (2) front yards and no rear yard. All other property lines for all lots shall be considered side property lines.

A. Measurements. All yard areas shall be measured as described in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) of this Title. All yards shall be measured after dedications or reservations for required rights-of-way.

B. Permitted Structures. Table 31-3 lists all the structures permitted to be placed in required yard areas provided the minimum setback is maintained. No structures are permitted in a side yard if any structures are in the other side yard except projections into a street side yard. This table does not restrict the location of the listed structures when they are located outside of a required yard area. For garages in yard areas, see Section 21.31.245.

C. Front Yards. Front yard depths shall conform to the standards specified in Table 31-2A, unless the following conditions apply to a lot:

1. Key Lot. If the lot is a key lot, as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions), and the abutting corner lot is built to the side yard line, then the front yard of the key lot shall be one-half (½) of that required for the nearest interior lot in the same block facing the same street. This is illustrated on Figure 31-1.

2. Through Lots.

   a. If the lot is a through lot and adjoining lots face opposite street frontages, then the through lot shall be considered to have two (2) front yards, and the front yards shall have the same required front yard setback as the adjacent zone district (Figure 31-2).

   b. If all lots in a block are through lots fronting in the same direction, then only one (1) front yard shall be required, and the front yard shall be that one from which primary pedestrian access is taken along the entire block (Figure 31-2).

Footnotes:

(a) In the R-2-I Zone, permitted structures may extend to within 6 in. of the front property line.

(b) A side property line abutting an alley, public waterway, or public property other than a street shall be considered an interior side property line.

(c) Decks above grade, roof decks, and stairway railing shall not exceed the applicable building/structure height limit (measured to the railing) for the applicable zoning district.

(d) Transformers are allowed in front yard and street side yards only on lots without alleys, and only if the transformer is painted to match the building, is screened by a 3 ft. solid wall or hedge, and is located as far as possible on the lot. The utility company's design for the electric system, including locations and aesthetic treatment, shall be in accordance with the regulations of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

FRONT YARD SETBACK EXCEPTION

Section 21.31.215(C)-Key Lot-
If the lot is a key lot and the abutting corner lot is built to the side yard line, then the front yard of the key lot shall be one-half of that required for the nearest interior lot in the same block facing the same street.

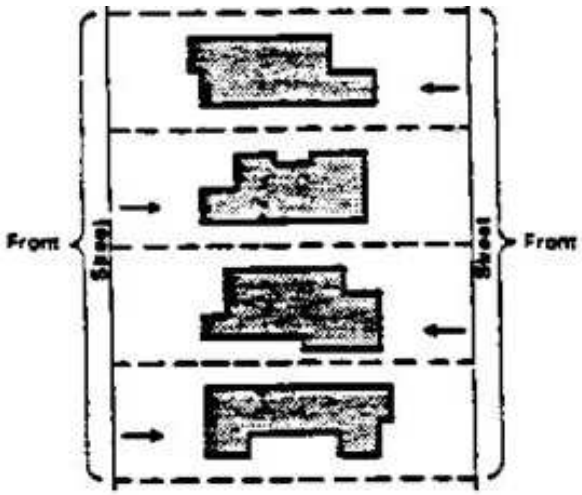
FRONT YARDS ON THROUGH LOTS

Section 21.31.215(C)2a—
If the lot is a through lot and adjoining lots face opposite street frontages, then the through lots shall be considered to have two front yards, and the front yards shall have the same required front yard setback as the adjacent zone district



Section 21.31.215(C)2b—Through Lot
If all lots in a block are through lots fronting the same direction, then only one front yard shall be required, and the front yard shall be that one from which primary pedestrian access is taken along the entire block face.

3. Averaging in R-1-S, R-2-S and R-2-I Districts. If one or both adjoining lots encroach in the front yard setback in the R-1-S, R-2-S and R-2-I districts, then the front yard setback shall be established by the average setback of adjoining lots. If the subject lot adjoins a vacant lot, street or alley on one side, that side shall be considered a lot with no yard encroachment. Projections shall not be considered encroachments.

4. Garages. Garages are subject to the front yard setback requirements specified in Section 21.31.245 of this Chapter.

5. Parking Prohibited. Parking in the front yard setback is prohibited, except as provided in Section 21.41.276, recreational vehicles, or Section 21.41.281, vehicle parking in setbacks.

D. Rear Yards. Rear yard depths shall conform to the standards specified in Chapter 21.31, Table 31-2, unless the conditions outlined in Section 21.31.215(D) apply. For triangular or gore-shaped lots, the rear lot line shall be established as provided for in the definition of rear lot line in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) of this Title.

1. Reverse Corner Lots. The rear yard setback for a reversed corner lot shall be the same as the side yard setback.

2. Shallow Lots. On lots less than one hundred feet (100') in depth, the following special standards shall apply:

   a. In the R-1-S, R-1-M, R-2-S and R-2-l districts, the rear setback may be reduced to ten percent (10%) of lot depth, but not less than five feet (5');

   b. In the R-1-L and R-2-L districts, the rear setback may be reduced to thirty percent (30%) of lot depth, but not less than fifteen feet (15');

   c. In the R-1-N district, the rear setback may be reduced to ten percent (10%) of lot depth on the first story and thirty percent (30%) on the second story;

   d. In all other zones, the rear setback may be reduced to twenty percent (20%) of lot depth, but not less than ten feet (10').

3. Buffers. In R-4-N, R-4-H, R-4-U districts and commercial zones which allow multifamily residential development, on sites adjoining, abutting or adjacent to R-1, R-2, or R-3 districts, a buffer setback facing the R-1, R-2 or R-3 district is required as follows:

   a. The minimum building setback shall be:

BUILDING STORY	SETBACK
Two-story or less (excluding mezzanine of the 2nd story and not to exceed 25' in height)	20'
Third story (and 2nd story mezzanine)	30'
Fourth story or more	40'

* This setback is measured from the property line or from the centerline of the abutting alley.

b. If a building facing low-density residential and exceeding twenty-five feet (25') in height and fifty feet (50') in length, at least one-half (1/2) of such building facade shall be setback forty feet (40') from the property line.

c. Within the required setback area, a five foot (5') wide planter strip containing a solid screen of trees planted ten feet (10') or closer on center shall be provided along the property line.

d. No continuous building wall shall extend eighty-four feet (84') in length without recess of the building. This recess shall be at least ten feet (10') in each dimension.

E. Side Yards. Side yards shall be required as set forth in Subsection 21.31.215.E, provided that:

1. Zero Side Yard. One (1) zero side yard is permitted in the R-1-M, R-1-T, and R-3-T districts, subject to the following provisions:

a. The side yard opposite the zero side yard shall be equal to or greater than twice the required width of an individual side yard for the zone;

b. Any structure on the property adjoining the zero side yard shall not be less than eight feet (8') from the proposed zero lot line structure.

2. Double Zero Side Yard. A double zero side yard is permitted in the R-1-T and R-3-T districts, provided that:

a. No principal use structure on an adjoining lot lies within six feet (6') of any lot line proposed as a zero lot line, unless that structure is also a zero lot line building;

b. A street or alley or private access driveway exists at the rear of the lot; and

c. Not more than one hundred fifty feet (150') of a continuous building is created parallel to the front lot line.

3. Buffers. In R-4-N, R-4-H and R-4-U districts and commercial zones which allow multifamily residential development, on sites adjoining, abutting or adjacent to R-1, R-2, or R-3 districts, a buffer setback facing the R-1, R-2 or R-3 district is required as follows:

a. The minimum building setback shall be:

BUILDING STORY	SETBACK*
Two-story or less (excluding Mezzanine of the 2nd story and not to exceed 25' in height)	20'
Third story (and 2nd story mezzanine)	30'
Fourth story or more	40'

* This setback is measured from the property line or from the centerline of the abutting alley.

b. If a building facing low-density residential and exceeding twenty-five feet (25') in height and fifty feet (50') in length, at least one-half (1/2) of such building facade shall be set back forty feet (40') from the property line.

c. Within the required setback area, a five foot wide (5′) planter strip containing a solid screen of trees planted ten feet (10′) or closer shall be provided along the property line.

d. No continuous building wall shall extend eighty-four feet (84′) in length without recess of the building. This recess shall be at least ten feet (10′) in each dimension.

F. Side Yards on Narrow Lots. In specific areas of the City, existing lots located in the R-1-N, R-1-M, R-2-N and R-2-A zone districts have widths which are narrower than the required minimum widths indicated in Table 31-2. The following special side yard standards are established for lots less than twenty-seven feet (27′) in width in the R-1-N, R-1-M, R-2-N and R-2-A districts:

1. Site Plan Review Required. Any developer proposing to construct a new dwelling unit or an addition greater than four hundred fifty (450) square feet in size to an existing dwelling located on a lot less than twenty-seven feet (27′) in width in the noted zoning districts must have the plans approved through site plan review. The site plan review process shall ensure that such development:

a. Does not reduce light and air to neighboring properties;

b. Minimizes curb cuts and the development of front yard areas with driveways;

c. Minimizes the loss of privacy on adjacent properties;

d. Maximizes the window area from primary rooms facing on the street; and

e. Maintains quality residential development.

2. Minimum Side Yard. For development on a narrow lot, the minimum yard area shall be three feet (3′).

3. Lots With Access From Alley. If the lot abuts an alley, garage access shall be taken from that alley.

G. A corner cutoff as defined in Section 21.15.660 of this Title, shall be required in all residential districts at all intersections of streets, driveways, or alleys. Nothing shall be erected or allowed to grow within the corner cutoff in such a manner as to impede visibility or accessibility up to eight feet (8') in height. Corner cutoffs shall be a minimum of six feet by six feet (6′ x 6′).

(ORD-19-0028 § 8, 2019; Ord. C-7326 § 9, 1995; Ord. C-7247 §§ 10, 11, 1994; Ord. C-7032 §§ 15—18, 1992; Ord. C-6933 § 15, 1991: Ord. C-6895 § 11, 1991; Ord. C-6822 § 8, 1990: Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.220 Height limits.

A. Measurement. A measurement of height shall use the definition of height contained in Section 21.15.1330.

B. Exceptions. The height limitations specified in Table 31-2A shall apply to all elements and equipment on a building, except as follows:

1. Chimneys and vent pipes shall be allowed to exceed the applicable height limit by two feet (2′) (when required to exceed roof height by the Uniform Building, Plumbing and Mechanical Codes).

2. Flagpoles, when placed on the roof of a building, may exceed the height of the building by ten feet (10′). When placed on the ground, flagpoles shall not exceed sixty feet (60′) in height.

3. Television or radio receiving or transmitting antenna(s) may exceed the applicable height limit according to the provisions contained in Section 21.46.060 (Radio and television antennas).

4. Rooftop solar collectors and associated supporting structures may exceed the applicable height limit only if necessary for the sole purpose of solar collection, not otherwise installed on any occupiable areas of the roof, and consistent with the policies of the City of Long Beach Certified Local Coastal Program.

5. The following rooftop elements and equipment in the R-4 zones may extend up to ten feet (10′) above the building height:

   a. Rooftop stair and elevator penthouse enclosures;

   b. Rooftop heating and air conditioning equipment and ducts; and

   c. Rooftop safety rails, spas, tubs, barbecues, wet bars, patio covers and similar nonportable rooftop amenities.

6. R-4-H Height Incentive. In the R-4-H zone, the height limit shall be as shown in Table 31-3A. Both the minimum lot width and the minimum height must be achieved before the density is allowed to exceed the R-4-N density.

   Any densities over R-4-N densities in the R-4-H zone are only allowed in true high-rise buildings utilizing the full high-rise package of features required in the Uniform Building Code.

21.31.225 Lot coverage.

Lot coverage shall conform to the standards specified in Table 31-2. The actual garage area up to seven hundred (700) square feet for a single-family dwelling, and all garage area for multi-family dwellings, shall be exempt from lot coverage.

(ORD-19-0028 § 9, 2019; ORD-19-0011 § 5, 2019; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.230 Usable open space.

Usable open space in terms of square feet per dwelling unit shall be provided as indicated in Table 31-2A. In R-3 and R-4 zones, each dwelling unit shall provide fifty percent (50%) of the open space as common open space and fifty percent (50%) as private open space, subject to the following standards. Indoor recreational space may be substituted for common usable open space.

A. Open Space Dimensions. Table 31-4 specifies the minimum open space dimensions for both common and private open space areas.

B. Combining Usable Open Space and Pedestrian Access. If the total width of the usable open space is eighteen feet (18′) or wider, any pedestrian path incorporated into open space design may be considered usable open space.

C. Screening of Open Space. Private usable open space areas shall be screened as specified in Table 31-5.

4. Units on same level	4′0″
5. Units across interior side yard	4′0″

D. Recreational Amenities. Any development shall provide on-site recreational amenities. Such amenities shall include:

1. For projects of twenty-one (21) or more units, a recreation room of three hundred (300) or more square feet, furnished with recreational facilities, a swimming pool, or such other recreational amenities as play equipment or other facilities directed to a specific demographic section of the housing market when judged to be of equivalent value by the Site Plan Review Committee.

2. Adequate planter top area for seating not less than eighteen inches (18″) and not more than twenty-four inches (24″) in height, or equivalent bench seating, shall be provided.

(Ord. C-7550 § 6, 1998; Ord. C-6933 §§ 18, 19, 1991: Ord. C-6822 § 9, 1990; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.235 Floor area ratio.

The maximum ratio of building floor area to lot size shall be as specified in Table 31-2. For calculating residential floor area, the total area within a building shall include stairway and elevators on all floors.

A. Basements. Basements and open areas shall not be calculated in residential floor area.

B. Open Room. If outdoor roof deck or balcony is enclosed on all sides by parapet, solid railing or building wall greater than three feet, six inches (3′6″) in height, such open area shall be calculated in residential floor area.

C. Garages. The actual garage area up to seven hundred (700) square feet for a single-family dwelling, and all garage area for multi-family dwellings, shall be excluded from the calculation of floor area ratio. GFA above the garage is not excluded.

(ORD-19-0028 § 10, 2019; ORD-19-0011 § 6, 2019; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.240 Privacy standards.

A. Applicability. Privacy standards shall apply to all residential development of five (5) units or more requiring site plan review. In applicable cases, the privacy standards shall apply to all residential occupancy areas, as defined by the Uniform Building Code.

B. Standards. The privacy standards in Table 31-6 apply to the shortest horizontal distance between the specified window and the specified property line, or to the window or wall of another unit in the same project. Each unit in a project must meet these standards in each room.

C. Definitions.

1. The measurements indicated in Table 31-6 are "line-of-sight" measurements from window to window, taken from the middle of the window.

2. The following are considered "blank walls":

   a. Garden walls four feet (4′) or more in height;

   b. Frosted glass, stained glass or similar translucent but nontransparent materials; and

   c. Windows with a lower sill not less than five feet, six inches (5′6″) above the finished floor level.

* Fifteen percent of lot width but not less than 10 ft., nor greater than 15 ft.

(Ord. C-7378 § 8, 1995)

3. The primary room means a living room, dining room or family room. Where an open floor area plan combines the living and dining rooms, the living/dining room shall be considered one (1) room.

4. All rooms not defined above as a primary room shall be considered a secondary room.

5. In the case where windows in one (1) room are of equal size, either window may be selected by the builder as the largest window.

D. Public Corridors. Public circulation corridors may be located within window-to-window or window-to-wall spacing distances. However, such corridors shall also have a minimum privacy spacing distance from primary and secondary windows as established in Table 31-6.

(Ord. C-7378 § 6, 1995; Ord. C-7032 § 19, 1992; Ord. C-6933 §§ 20, 21, 1991; Ord. C-6822 § 10, 1990; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.242 Minimum courtyard dimensions.

The courtyard provision is intended to create an attractive and comfortable on-site open space area in order to enable residents to enjoy outdoor living and recreational activities. Courtyard designs shall conform to the standards as specified. Exception to the minimum dimension requirement may be granted through the site plan review process only if the Site Plan Review Committee or the Planning Commission finds that the alternative design improves the overall quality of the development and meets the intent of the courtyard provision. Standards are as follows:

A. The minimum dimension (width and depth) of any courtyard shall be equal to the same measurement as the height of the enclosing courtyard building walls (one-to-one ratio), but shall not be required to exceed fifty-five feet (55');

B. The height of the building wall shall be measured from the courtyard elevation to the roof eaves of the enclosing building;

C. The courtyard dimension is a measurement of the usable open space between two (2) building walls, or to a property line. If balconies or corridors project into a courtyard, the dimension shall be measured from the edge of balconies or corridors;

D. Special incentive is provided to encourage courtyards which are visibly open to the street. If fifty percent (50%) of the courtyard width is open to the street, special measurement provision shall apply (See Fig. 21-1);

E. If the enclosing walls terrace back with succeeding stories, the courtyard dimension may be reduced but shall not be less than the lowest enclosing walls; and

F. The courtyard dimensions set forth in this Section apply only to projects requiring site plan review.

(Ord. C-7032 § 20, 1992; Ord. C-6933 § 44, 1991)

21.31.245 Accessory structures.

Attached and detached accessory structures shall be subject to the development standards indicated in Table 31-3 and as otherwise specified in this Section. Where no specific development standard is indicated, the standards for principal structures shall apply.

A. Garages. This Subsection establishes the development standards for the location, height and size of a garage. The required number of parking spaces, parking stall size, turning radius and other parking standards are specified in Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements) of this Title.

1. Setbacks.

a. If the garage takes direct access from a street, the garage shall be set back twenty feet (20′) from the street property line. If the garage door does not face the street, the setback shall be the same as required for principal use structures.

b. In the rear half of a lot, a garage may be located directly on the rear property line and on one (1) side property line, provided the other side yard is at least three feet (3′) wide (except for permitted projections, see Table 31-3). Otherwise, the standards for setbacks of the principal use structures shall apply. Garages shall not be allowed in street side yard of a corner lot.

c. In the R-1-L Zone, the garage shall be set back fifty feet (50′) from the street property line.

2. Size. Garages for single-family residences shall not exceed seven hundred (700) square feet in size and for two-family residences, shall not exceed one thousand one hundred (1,100) square feet in size.

3. Height. No garage shall exceed one-story and thirteen feet (13') in height. Mezzanines and lofts shall not be permitted. Attics for storage purposes shall be permitted, as "attic" is defined in Section 21.15.260.

4. Other Uses in Garage. Laundry facilities, work benches and similar uses may be located in the garage, provided such uses do not encroach into the required parking area. If such a use or room is separated from the parking area in the garage by a solid wall, the room shall be considered an additional accessory structure and shall conform to applicable standards specified in Subsection 21.31.245.C of this Title.

5. Garages In R-3 and R-4 Zones. Garages in R-3 and R-4 Zoning Districts, for projects with three (3) or more units on a lot, shall conform to the standards set forth in Table 31-7. For projects with one (1) or two (2) units on a lot, the standards of this Subsection 21.31.245.A shall apply.

B. Common recreational room or buildings shall be permitted only in multifamily residential developments containing twenty-one (21) or more dwelling units, unless otherwise permitted by site plan review. Such rooms shall be developed in accordance with the following standards:

1. Setbacks. Street, front, side and rear yard setbacks shall be the same as those established by Subsection 21.31.245.A.1 for garages in the R-3 and R-4 Districts.

2. Size. The size of such rooms shall be limited to five hundred (500) square feet. Larger sizes may be approved through the site plan review process.

C. Other Attached and Detached Accessory Buildings and Structures. All other permitted attached and detached accessory buildings shall be developed in accordance with the following standards:

1. Use. An attached and detached accessory building shall be used as a workshop for noncommercial hobbies or amusement; for artistic endeavors; for storage; or for other similar purposes customarily related to a residential use. These structures shall not contain bathing or cooking facilities and shall not be utilized as "dwelling units" (as defined in Section 21.15.910);

2. Location. An attached or detached accessory building shall be located only in the rear half of a lot. The building may be built directly on the rear property line and on one (1) side property line, provided the other side yard is at least three feet (3′) wide and has no structures or projections located in it and the structure is not located in the street side yard of a corner lot;

3. Size. Such buildings shall not exceed three hundred (300) square feet or five percent (5%) of the lot area in size, whichever is smaller;

4. Height. No detached accessory building shall exceed one-story and thirteen feet (13') in height. Mezzanines and lofts shall not be permitted. Attics for storage purposes shall be permitted, as "attic" is defined in Section 21.15.260; and

5. Prohibited in R-1-S, R-1-M, R-2-S and R-2-I Zones. Detached accessory buildings are prohibited in R-1-S, R-1-M, R-2-S and R-2-I Zones.

D. Radio and Television Antennas. Development standards are contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

E. Swimming Pools and Spas. Development standards are contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

F. Trash Receptacles. Trash receptacles shall be provided as follows:

1. One to Three Units. Adequate receptacles shall be provided for each unit.

2. Four or More Units. Common trash areas shall be provided in sufficient quantity to accommodate all refuse generated. Trash receptacle enclosures shall be provided as indicated in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

* For 3 or more units, no vehicle shall be permitted to back into the street.

 Along the interior property lines, a minimum of a 5-foot landscape buffer shall be provided in accordance with Section 21.42.040 (landscaping standards).

 Through a site plan review process, the maximum height of semi-subterranean garages may be increased.

21.31.250 Pedestrian access.

In the R-1-T, R-3 and R-4 zones, the following pedestrian access requirements shall apply:

A. Front Entry. Every building shall have a covered front entryway developed in accordance with the following standards:

1. Orientation. The front entry shall face the front property line or on a corner lot, the side street property line.

2. Size. The entry shall be at least eight-feet-wide (8′).

3. Walkway. A decorative paved walkway, separated from and not crossing the driveway, shall be provided between the entry and the public right-of-way.

B. Elevators. At least one elevator shall be provided in each multi-family building containing twenty-one (21) or more units, where some of those units have primary accesses only to the third-story or higher stories.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.255 Design, treatment and finish.

The following design standards shall apply to all single-family detached and attached dwelling units unless, through site plan review, the Site Plan Review Committee or the Planning Commission finds variation from these standards to be appropriate:

A. Unit Size. All single-family dwellings shall be at least sixteen (16) feet wide.

B. Roof Material. No single-family dwelling shall have roofing materials with a reflective surface that produces glare.

C. Siding. No single-family dwelling shall have siding with a reflective surface that produces glare.

D. Style. Buildings in the R-1-T and R-3-T districts shall maintain a design style consistent with the style of the adjoining neighborhood.

E. Large Single-Family Dwellings. New single-family dwellings and single-family dwelling rebuild projects in the R-1-L zone that exceed five thousand (5,000) square feet in total size or are within ten percent (10%) of the property's maximum floor area ratio shall comply with the following requirements:

1. Four-sided architecture is required. Building details and design treatments shall be consistent on all building elevations. Bay windows, chimneys, and other projections shall be incorporated in building design for visual and architectural interest.

2. All dwellings shall provide an inset/offset on walls twenty-five (25) feet or greater in length. Wall insets/offsets shall be at least two (2) feet deep and have a span of at least ten (10) feet and extend from grade to eave.

3. Primary facades shall be street facing and entrances shall be obvious and visible. The height of porches or covered entryway features shall not exceed fifteen (15) feet.

4. Second story windows facing an interior side property line shall not be located directly in line with the second story bedroom windows of a neighboring structure.

21.31.260 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-19-0028 § 38, adopted Nov. 5, 2010, repealed § 21.31.260 entitled "Distance between buildings," which derived from: Ord. C-7032 § 23, 1992; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990; and Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988.

21.31.265 Mechanical equipment screening.

Except as otherwise specified by this Code or any applicable PD or Specific Plan, all exterior mechanical equipment shall be screened by visually solid screening devices at least as high as the equipment. Equipment to be screened includes, but is not limited to, air conditioning and refrigeration equipment, duct work, heating, plumbing lines, and utility meters and telecommunications equipment pursuant to the requirements of Chapter 21.56. Additional standards shall apply as follows to improve aesthetic qualities and to prevent unauthorized access into a building.

A. R-4-H, PD Zones. In the R-4-H and PD zones which allow high-rise development, all rooftop-mounted equipment (except solar collectors, heater and plumbing vents, passive air vents, roof hatches and rain gutters) shall be screened from public view both at grade and from higher buildings. The Director of Planning and Building shall review all screening for compliance with these provisions.

B. R-4-R, R-4-N, R-4-U and PD Zones. In the R-4-R, R-4-N and R-4-U zones, and in PD zones planned for low-rise development, all rooftop-mounted mechanical equipment (except solar collectors, heating and plumbing vents, passive air vents, roof hatches and rain gutters) shall be screened from public view by solid screening devices at least as high as the equipment being screened.

C. Materials and Design. Screening materials shall, at a minimum, have evenly distributed openings or perforations not exceeding fifty (50) percent of surface area. All screening devices shall be of a material requiring minimal maintenance. Wood generally shall not be used. All screening devices shall be well integrated into the design of the building through such items as parapet walls, false roofs or equipment rooms. Louvered designs are acceptable if consistent with building design style.

D. Substitutions. Well planned, compact, architecturally integrated rooftop equipment may be substituted for screening with the approval of the Director of Planning and Building.

E. Secured. All rooftop mechanical equipment shall be secured from unauthorized entry to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

F. Fire Rings. Rooftop fire rings shall be prohibited in all residential zones.

(ORD-19-0011 § 8, 2019; Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.270 Utility meters screening.

All utility meters shall be fully screened from view from a public right-of-way. If enclosed in cabinets visible from public rights-of-way, exterior cabinet surfaces shall be finished in materials matching the primary or accent materials of the building. The utility company's design of the electric system, including locations and aesthetic treatment, shall be in accordance with the regulations of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.275 Undergrounding of utilities.

A. All projects requiring site plan review shall provide for the ability to connect the building to any future undergrounding of utilities that may occur in the block. Such provisions shall include a vacant duct to the appropriate feed point for the underground connection.

B. The utility company's design of the electric system, including locations and aesthetic treatment, shall be in accordance with the regulations of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

C. All projects requiring site plan review shall underground all overhead utility service to the site. In lieu of such undergrounding, the project developer may pay an in-lieu fee to the Department of Public Works for use in undergrounding within the applicable district. Such districts shall be established within one (1) year of the effective date of this Section and separate funds established for each district. The in-lieu fee shall be established based on the average per-foot cost of undergrounding established by the City Engineer and applied to the linear footage of the project site.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.280 Off-street parking and loading requirements.

Parking and loading areas shall be provided as required in Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.285 Landscaping requirements.

All lots in residential districts shall be landscaped as provided for in Chapter 21.42 (Landscaping Standards) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.290 Fences and garden walls.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures subject to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.43 (Fences and Garden Walls) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.295 On-premises signs.

On-site signs are permitted accessory structures subject to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.44 (On-Premises Signs) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.31.299 Right-of-way dedications and improvements.

Public rights-of-way shall be reserved, dedicated and improved as provided for in Chapter 21.47 (Dedication, Reservation and Improvement of Public Rights-of-Way) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 41 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION III.

PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENTS

21.31.300 Residential Planned Unit Development (PUD) district established.

A. The City hereby establishes a residential planned unit development (PUD) zoning district, and associated procedures and development standards.

B. The name of the PUD zoning district shall be Residential, Planned Unit Development district. The zoning symbol shall be "RP" followed by a numerical value indicating dwelling units per acre (DU/ac) for each site (examples: RP-6, RP-12, RP-25, etc.).

(ORD-15-0037, § 4, 2015)

21.31.310 Purpose.

The Residential PUD zoning district is established to achieve the following objectives:

A. Provide greater flexibility and encourage opportunities for innovative residential development through the application of site planning and subdivision techniques not otherwise permitted in the zoning and subdivision regulations;

B. Establish a procedure for development and recycling of larger parcels of land that are unused or underutilized, and reduce or eliminate rigidity that otherwise may prevent these sites from being fully utilized due to the application of traditional development standards intended for typical lots;

C. Encourage creative design and development according to good urban planning principles, with efficient use of land, a mixture of densities, diverse housing opportunities, and on-site community facilities;

D. Encourage integration of urban and natural amenities within developments;

E. Facilitate developments with higher levels of amenities, building design, and quality in internal street layout and access than would occur under traditional residential development standards and subdivision practice on large parcels of land;

F. Encourage opportunities for innovative and sustainable land development techniques that will be given reasonable consideration for approval;

G. Encourage preservation of serviceable existing structures of historic value or cultural merit by providing opportunities to use them imaginatively for purposes other than for which they were originally intended.

(ORD-15-0037, § 4, 2015)

21.31.320 Procedures.

The following procedures are established for application for a PUD.

A. Rezoning. A PUD is a type of residential zoning district. Creation of a PUD shall require a zone change, and application for such by the developer.

B. Site Plan Review. At the time an application for a PUD zone change is submitted, the applicant also shall file an application for Site Plan Review for the development project proposed for said PUD, which shall be considered concurrently with the PUD request. No rezoning to a residential PUD shall be considered without concurrent consideration of the Site Plan Review associated with the requested PUD rezoning.

C. Subdivision Tract Map. As part of any application for a PUD, any land proposed for a PUD shall be subdivided as necessary to create lots suitable for the PUD, and as such shall comply with all applicable requirements of Title 20 (Subdivisions) of the Long Beach Municipal Code, and the Subdivision Map Act (Government Code Section 66410-66413.5).

D. Site. The area of each PUD shall be coterminous with a discrete PUD development site and corresponding Site Plan Review submittal.

E. Approval body. Regardless of whether a Site Plan Review application is subject to staff level or Planning Commission approval, all PUD requests shall require a hearing for review and recommendation of approval or denial by the Planning Commission, followed by a hearing by the City Council to act on the rezoning request and other associated permits.

21.31.325 Modifications to a PUD.

The following procedures are established for modifications to an approved PUD:

A. Changes to development plans. The issuance of any building permit, demolition permit, grading permit, utility connection, license, or other approval shall require the construction plans to be consistent with the development plan approved for the PUD by the approval body. Changes to any approved PUD shall require City approval, subject to the following procedure:

1. Minor changes before or during PUD construction. The Zoning Administrator may authorize minor changes to an approved development plan before or during construction of the overall PUD project, if the changes are required because of conditions that were unknown at the time the plan was approved, and the zoning administrator determines that the changes are consistent with the standards of this Chapter and the findings made in connection with approval of the PUD.

2. All other changes. Changes to the development plan before or during construction of the overall PUD project, other than the minor changes the Zoning Administrator can approve, shall require review by the Site Plan Review Committee, or Planning Commission, as applicable, under the procedures of Section 21.21.405 (Modification of permits). This includes increases in building height, reductions in setbacks, significant reconfiguration of internal streets or connections to the public right-of-way, or any other items that, in the judgment of the Zoning Administrator, may significantly differ from the substance or intent of the original PUD approval.

B. Future modification of the PUD. After construction of the PUD project is completed, any changes to the PUD (including all structures and other site improvements) shall require City approval, subject to the following procedure:

1. Minor changes. Any requested alteration or modification to structures or site improvements may be administratively approved by the Zoning Administrator if, in the judgment of the Zoning Administrator, the proposed change is minor in nature, and is within the scope and intent of the original PUD approval.

2. All other changes to the PUD. Any other alteration, modification, or expansion of structures or site improvements shall be reviewed by the Site Plan Review Committee, or Planning Commission, as appropriate. The reviewing body may approve or deny the request, and may impose additional conditions of approval as necessary to ensure that any approved change is consistent with the intent and development standards of the original approval for the PUD.

3. Compliance with development standards. In all cases, alterations, modifications or other expansions within the PUD shall comply with the development standards set forth in this Chapter, and as set forth in the specific approval for the PUD. Any request that is not in conformance with these standards shall require application for a Standards Variance, under the procedures established in Chapter 21.25.

21.31.330 Required Findings.

The Planning Commission and City Council may approve a PUD only when positive findings are made that the project is consistent with the following criteria. In granting such approval, the approval body may impose and enforce any conditions of approval it deems necessary to carry out the purposes of the General Plan and the Zoning Regulations.

A. The PUD will provide a project of high quality design, adhering to good urban planning principles and consistent with the design guidelines of this Chapter, and will make efficient use of the available land;

B. The PUD will provide a higher level of amenities and community facilities to residents than would otherwise be obtained through individual development of similar housing units;

C. The PUD is appropriately sited and integrated into the surrounding urban and natural fabric;

D. The PUD has a fully-integrated, complete internal street system that is functional and considerate of all units within the PUD, and is appropriately connected to the public street system;

E. The PUD provides a high quality of building design, and the architectural theme is well-developed and consistent across the PUD; and

F. The PUD project is in compliance with all City sustainability standards applicable to the size and scope of the development.

21.31.340 PUD Development Standards.

The following development standards are established for all PUDs, to ensure that each PUD provides a higher level of design quality and on-site improvements than would be obtained through individual lot development of a traditional subdivision. Deviation from these development standards shall require a Standards Variance, under the procedures established in Chapter 21.25. For any other pertinent development standards not set forth in this Section, conformance shall be provided per the relevant provision(s) of the Zoning Regulations. In cases of where the development standard is not specified, or its application is unclear, or the standard appears to conflict with the standards of this Section, the Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to determine the appropriate standard.

A. Minimum PUD site area. A PUD shall contain a minimum contiguous site area of 5 acres. Application for a PUD on a site between 4.5 and 5 acres may be allowed at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator if he/she finds that all other standards set forth herein for PUDs can be satisfactorily met in conformance with the intent of these regulations. However, the approval body acting on the PUD request shall then have the authority to deny the request based on a finding of insufficient area.

B. Internal integration. A PUD is intended to be internally integrated and connected within itself, and the site area shall not be divided by a public street, highway, or freeway, or a railroad right-of-way, or stream, river, or flood control channel.

C. Setbacks, height, and other development standards. Minimum building setbacks, separation between buildings, maximum building height, minimum private open space, lot size, and other development standards shall be provided as set forth in Table 31-8.

D. Street and sidewalk widths. The widths of the streets, sidewalks, alleys, and other rights-of-way and easements shall be provided as required in Chapter 20.08 (Design Standards) and Chapter 21.47 (Dedication, Reservation, and Improvement of Public Rights-of-way), except in cases where waivers from these standards are obtained according to the appropriate procedures specified in Chapter 20.08 and Chapter 21.47, with the goal of providing a design adhering to quality urban planning principles, in conformance with the PUD design standards contained in Section 21.31.350.

E. Minimum unit size and width. Each dwelling unit in a PUD shall have a minimum size of 1,200 square feet of habitable floor area, and a width of at least 16 feet.

F. Minimum common open space. Each PUD shall provide a minimum of fifteen percent of the site area as common usable open space, in functional, active recreation area(s).

G. Parking. Each dwelling unit shall be provided with parking as required in Chapter 21.41 of the Zoning Regulations. One guest parking space shall be provided for each four dwelling units, based on the number of units in the development as a whole. Guest parking spaces may be provided as open parking or on-street parking within the PUD, at the discretion of the approval body, notwithstanding Section 20.08.080 (Private Streets).

H. Detached garages and accessory structures. Detached garages and other detached accessory structures shall be prohibited. This does not include accessory structures in common areas (not individual ownership lots) used for utilities, maintenance, storage, or other accessory purposes to serve the common interest within the PUD.

I. Driveways. Each garage shall be provided with a driveway either twenty (20) feet or more in length, or six (6) feet or less in length.

J. Projections and structures in required yards. Projections and structures in required yard areas shall be permitted as set forth in Table 31-3 of this Chapter, except as otherwise specified in this Division and Table 31-8.

K. Homeowner's Association. Each PUD shall have a Homeowner's Association (HOA), established by Covenants, Conditions & Restrictions (CC&Rs). In addition to any responsibilities specified in the CC&Rs, the HOA shall be responsible for the operation, upkeep, and maintenance of all commonly-owned improvements, and enforcement of all CC&Rs. The approval body (Planning Commission or City Council) shall have the authority to add or modify CC&Rs as necessary to ensure the PUD will comply with these development standards and the design guidelines contained in Section 21.31.350. (ORD-23-0052 §§ 2, 3, 2023; ORD-15-0037 § 4, 2015)

21.31.350 PUD Design Guidelines.

The following design guidelines are established for all PUDs, to provide basic objectives for quality urban design to which each PUD should conform. A PUD's consistency with these design guidelines is relevant to the required findings set forth for PUDs in Section 21.31.330. It is the intent of these design guidelines for each PUD to provide a higher level of quality in architecture, site planning, and amenities than would otherwise be obtained through individual lot development of a traditional subdivision.

A. Landscaping. A PUD should be provided with landscaping as specified in Chapter 21.42 of the Zoning Regulations, and should, for landscaping purposes, be held to the standards for sites located in R-3 or R-4 zoning districts. All landscaping within the PUD should be composed of drought-tolerant, low-water-requirement trees, shrubs, and groundcover. Turf may be used in conformance with the water efficient landscaping requirements of Chapter 21.42 (Landscaping Standards) of the Zoning Regulations.

B. Street widths. Street widths within the PUD should comply with the requirements of Chapter 20.08 and Chapter 21.47 to the extent feasible.

However, streets are encouraged to be the minimum widths allowed by the Fire Department, Building and Safety Bureau, and Public Works Department, provided that the requirements of each reviewing department is met, and that any appropriate waivers of standards are obtained according to the procedures specified in Chapter 20.08 or 21.47, as appropriate. The purpose of this guideline is to encourage site planning that adheres to good urban planning principles, to promote pedestrian- and bicycle-oriented development, and to reduce vehicle speeds within the PUD.

C. Sidewalks. Sidewalks should be provided on both sides of all through or circulatory private roads within a PUD, and should be at least 5 feet wide. Sidewalks also are strongly encouraged on both sides of any interior secondary alleys or drives, at a width of at least 4 feet.

D. Parkways. A PUD should be provided with a landscaped parkway between main interior circulation streets and the sidewalk. The parkway should be wide enough to sustain a mature tree (four feet), and should be landscaped in accordance with Chapter 21.42 of the Zoning Regulations.

E. Guest Parking. Notwithstanding Section 20.08.080 (Private Streets), guest parking should be provided as on-street parking on the internal streets of the PUD, if the streets are privately-owned and maintained. On-street parking by residents should be strongly discouraged, and the PUD's Homeowner's Association (HOA) should provide the necessary enforcement against on-street parking by residents.

F. Pedestrian and bicycle connectivity. Connectivity to and within the PUD for pedestrians and bicycles is strongly encouraged, and should be provided to the greatest extent feasible. Separate pedestrian/bicycle entrances to the PUD should be provided independent of vehicular entrances, especially if the PUD is adjacent to a park, bike path, pedestrian trail, or other public amenity that is not directly accessible from the PUD by motor vehicles.

G. Architecture. A PUD should make use of architecture that is of the highest quality, and gives the PUD a distinct visual identity. Architecture should adhere to a common theme and architectural vocabulary among the PUD's buildings, both private residences and community facilities. The use of interesting, creative, distinctive building materials, elements, and details is strongly encouraged.

H. Exterior edges. The PUD should present attractive exterior edges to the surrounding community, neighborhood, and public rights-of-way. Utility or maintenance structures, storage or utility areas, and uninteresting building elevations, should not be exposed to the public viewshed outside the PUD.

I. Outdoor area for common usable open space. At least fifty percent (50%) of the common usable open space for the PUD should be provided in outdoor areas, rather than indoor community rooms, workout rooms, and the like.

Lot Coverage, Open Space, and FAR:
Lot Coverage	N/A
Private Open Space	6% of lot area per unit	Shall comply with the standards of Section 21.31.230.
Floor Area Ratio (FAR)	1.3	A greater FAR may be approved at the discretion of the approval body, if adequate separation between buildings and from other adjoining land uses is provided.
Lot Size:
Minimum Lot Area	2,400 sq. ft.
Minimum Lot Width	30 ft.
Building Height:
Within 50 ft. of R-1, R-2, or R-3 zoning district	25 ft., 2 stories	Standards and exceptions apply as provided in Section 21.31.220.
Other area within PUD	38 ft., 3 stories	Additional building height and stories may be approved at the discretion of the approval body, if adequate separation between buildings and from other adjoining land uses is provided.

Notes:

a) Front, interior side/rear, and private street side/rear setbacks on irregular corner or gore-shaped lots may deviate from these standards at the discretion of the approval body. (ORD-23-0052 §§ 4, 5, 2023; ORD-15-0037 § 4, 2015)

21.31.360 Additional Land Use Restrictions.

Residential PUDs are intended to be primarily residential in nature. In addition to the restrictions set forth for the RP district in Table 31-1, the land uses in a PUD shall be restricted as follows:

A. Residential uses. Each dwelling unit, whether built as a detached or attached single-family dwelling, or duplex, or triplex, or unit within a multifamily building, is intended to be a traditional one-family dwelling unit (as defined in Section 21.15.930), and all other types of residential uses are prohibited.

B. Accessory Dwelling Units. Accessory dwelling units shall be prohibited in a PUD.

C. Community facilities and parks. Community facilities and parks may be approved as part of the PUD at the time of PUD approval. Changes or additions to these uses after the fact shall require approval from the relevant approval body. (ORD-17-0031 § 8, 2017; ORD-15-0037 § 4, 2015)

CHAPTER 21.32 COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS

21.32.010 Purpose.

The commercial districts are established to create, preserve and enhance areas for a variety of commercial activity. The intent of this Chapter is to assure the compatible and mutually beneficial interaction of commercial uses with residential consumers, industrial suppliers, and the transportation system that ties all of the uses together. (Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.020 Districts established.

Twelve (12) commercial districts are established by this Chapter as follows:

A. Commercial Zoning Districts of General Applicability.

1. The CO-Office Commercial District permits mixed residential and commercial uses along major arterial routes. This District implements Land Use District No. 8M of the General Plan.

2. The CH-Highway Commercial District preserves and enhances areas for automobile-oriented commercial uses. The District recognizes the need for many commercial uses to have large frontages and high visibility along major highways. This District implements Land Use District No. 8A of the General Plan.

3. The CT-Tourist and Entertainment Commercial District creates, preserves and enhances areas for the development of a major tourist and entertainment industry for the City. The District recognizes that such areas have special requirements for intense and unique uses, transportation linkages, and aesthetically pleasing environments.

B. Neighborhood Commercial Zoning Districts. The Neighborhood Commercial Zoning District includes neighborhood-serving centers and corridors that provide small scale, low-intensity uses to meet the daily retail and service needs of surrounding residents. Uses and the scale of development shall be compatible with surrounding residential neighborhoods and shall be designed to promote pedestrian and bicycle access. Scale is determined by the size of adjoining residential uses, the commercial lot size and the commercial street width. Special scale restrictions apply in these districts. There are three (3) types of Neighborhood Commercial Districts:

1. The Neighborhood Pedestrian (CNP) District is oriented towards serving pedestrians and encouraging pedestrian activity by locating buildings along the primary street frontage and parking behind the buildings.

2. The Neighborhood Automobile-Oriented (CNA) District is auto-oriented with buildings set back from the front property line and parking located between the building and the street.

3. The Neighborhood Commercial and Residential (CNR) District is a mixed-use district permitting small scale commercial uses and/or moderate density residential development at R-3-T densities.

C. Community Commercial Zoning Districts. The Community Commercial Zoning Districts provide medium scale uses that serve an entire community, including those who arrive by automobile, and which may require buffering to ensure compatibility with adjacent residential neighborhoods. These districts are located on major or minor arterials, located on larger lot sizes and adjoining larger scale residential neighborhood uses or are buffered from smaller scale residential neighborhoods. There are four (4) types of Community Commercial Districts:

1. The Community Automobile-Oriented (CCA) District permits retail and service uses for an entire community including convenience and comparison shopping for goods and associated services.

2. The Community Pedestrian-Oriented (CCP) District permits retail and service uses with a development character intended to encourage pedestrian activity with buildings built to the street property line and parking is to the side or the rear.

3. The Community R-4-R (CCR) District is similar to the Community Auto-Oriented District, but also permits moderate density residential development at R-4-R densities.

4. The Community R-4-N (CCN) District is similar to the Community Auto-Oriented District, but also permits medium density residential development at R-4-N densities.

D. Regional Commercial Zoning District. The Regional Commercial District provides for large scale, mixed uses on large sites in activity centers. These sites are located on major arterial streets and regional traffic corridors. There is one (1) type of Regional Commercial Zoning District:

1. The Regional Highway District (CHW) is a commercial use district for mixed scale commercial uses located along major arterial streets and regional traffic corridors. Residential use is not permitted.

E. Commercial Storage Zoning District. The Commercial Storage (CS) District encourages storage uses in areas which are particularly difficult to use due to parcel shape, access, adverse environmental conditions, or in areas where parcels are needed to form a buffer from incompatible uses.

21.32.030 Site plan review.

Site plan review shall be required pursuant to Division V of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures).

(Ord. C-7326 § 12, 1995: Ord. C-7047 § 8, 1992: Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.035 Adult entertainment business.

Any business considered an "adult Entertainment business" as defined in Section 21.15.110 of this Title shall be subject to special locational standards as indicated in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

(ORD-18-0018 § 4, 2018; Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.040 Reclassification of district.

Any reference to the CR (Retail Center) and CC (Commercial Corridor) Districts shall be treated as a reference to the CCA District.

(Ord. C-7663 § 9, 1999: Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.32.110 Permitted uses.

The principal use in all commercial districts shall be commercial, although some districts are intended for mixed commercial and residential uses. Tables 32-0 and 32-1 indicate the classes of uses permitted (Y), not permitted (N), permitted as a conditional use (C), permitted as an administrative use (AP), permitted as an accessory use (A), and permitted as a temporary use (T) in all districts. An asterisk (*) indicates that a use is permitted subject to specific development standards outlined in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards) of this Title.

(ORD-20-0018 § 8, 2020; Ord. C-7663 § 10, 1999: Ord. C-7247 § 13, 1994; Ord. C-7127 § 2, 1993; Ord. C-7047 §§ 9, 10, 1992: Ord. C-6933 § 25, 1991; Ord. C-6895 §§ 12, 13, 1991: Ord. C-6822 § 12, 1990; Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.120 Prohibited uses.

Any use not specifically permitted by Section 21.32.110, Tables 32-0 and 32-1, shall be prohibited, and no commercial uses shall be allowed outside of a building unless indicated as an outdoor use in Tables 32-0 and 32-1.

(ORD-20-0018 § 9, 2020; Ord. C-7663 § 11, 1999: Ord. C-7127 § 2, 1993; Ord. C-7047 § 11, 1992: Ord. C-7040 § 1, 1992; Ord. C-6895 § 14, 1991: Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.130 Transition between defunct and new commercial zones.

Table 32-1 contains commercial zones adopted by the City Council on October 20, 1992. It is the intent of the City, within a specified period of time, to rezone all commercial properties to the zones in Table 32-1. During the "transitional period," all uses listed in Table 32-1, either permitted by right (Y), by a conditional use permit (C), by an administrative use permit (AP), as an accessory use (A), or as a temporary use (T) shall be permitted in the same manner for properties located in the CO, CH and CT Zones. Uses in the extant areas of CO, CH, and CT zoning on the Zoning Map shall be the same as those permitted in the equivalent zoning districts specified in Table 32-0. For development standards, remaining properties zoned CO, CH, and CT shall be regulated according to Tables 32-2A and 32-3A, and all other applicable provisions of this Title.

(ORD-20-0018 § 10, 2020; Ord. C-7663 § 12, 1999: Ord. C-7326 § 13, 1995; Ord. C-7127 § 7, 1993)

All projects within the Coastal Zone are also subject to the Local Coastal Program and provisions as set forth in Chapter 21.25 Division IX. Uses in commercial zoning districts must be consistent with the certified Long Beach Land Use Plan (LUP) and where there may be discrepancies, use limitations in the LUP shall prevail.

Use, operating, and other regulations contained outside of Title 20 and Title 21 are not certified by the California Coastal Commission.

Abbreviations:

Y = Yes (permitted use).

N = Not permitted.

C = Conditional use permit required. For special conditions, see Chapter 21.52.

A = Accessory use. For special development standards, see Chapter 21.51.

AP = Administrative use permit required. For special conditions, see Chapter 21.52.

T = Temporary use subject to provisions contained in Chapter 21.53.

IP = Interim park use permit required. For special conditions, see Chapter 21.52.

Footnotes:

(1) The following alcoholic beverage sales may be exempted from the conditional use permit requirement:

a. Restaurants with alcoholic beverage service only with meals. This generally means any use with a fixed bar is not exempt. A service bar is not considered a fixed bar. A sushi bar, where alcoholic beverages are served at the same bar where meals are served, is considered serving alcoholic beverages only with meal service. A cocktail lounge without a bar, but with primarily service of only hors d'oeuvres and alcoholic beverages is not exempt. Any restaurant with more than thirty percent (30%) of gross sales consisting of alcoholic beverages shall lose its exemption and be required to obtain a conditional use permit to continue to sell alcohol.

b. Florist with accessory sale of alcoholic beverages.

c. Existing legal, nonconforming uses.

(2) All urban agriculture uses, whether by-right or permitted through an Administrative Use Permit, must meet the standards outlined in Section 21.52.260.

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.32.200 General provisions.

A. General Standards. Sections 21.32.205 through 21.32.270 indicate the development standards applicable to all uses in the commercial districts. These standards shall be the standards for construction.

B. Additional Standards For Residential Uses. Section 21.32.235 outlines additional development standards applicable to residential uses in commercial districts.

C. Additional Standards. Section 21.32.240 contains additional development standards for the CNP, CNA, and CNR Districts.

(Ord. C-7663 § 13, 1999; Ord. C-7047 § 12, 1992; Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.205 Lot size.

Tables 32-2 and 32-2A indicate the minimum lot size requirements. These requirements apply only to a new subdivision of existing parcels.

(Ord. C-7663 § 14, 1999: Ord. C-6933 § 26, 1991; Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.210 Building height.

The height of all buildings shall be limited as indicated in Tables 32-2 and 32-2A.

(Ord. C-7663 § 15, 1999: Ord. C-7247 § 14, 1994; Ord. C-7047 § 13, 1992: Ord. C-6933 § 27, 1991: Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.220 Yards.

The yard areas indicated in Subsections 21.32.220.A through 21.32.220.D shall be clear of all structures from the ground to the sky (except as otherwise permitted) and shall be landscaped and maintained in a neat and healthy condition according to the landscaping provisions of this Title.

A. Required. Yard areas shall be provided as indicated in Tables 32-2 and 32-2A.

B. Corner Cutoffs. Corner cutoffs, as defined in Section 21.15.660 of this Title, shall be required in all commercial districts at all intersecting streets, driveways or alleys. Nothing shall be erected or allowed to grow within the corner cutoff in such a manner which impedes access or visibility up to eight feet (8′) in height. Required corner cutoffs shall be a minimum of six feet by six feet (6′ x 6′).

C. Permitted Structures. No structures are permitted in required yards, except:

1. Signs, as specified in the Chapter relating to on-premises signs (Chapter 21.44);

2. Outdoor dining;

3. Structures allowed in Table 31-3 (structures in required yards, residential districts);

4. Vehicle parking as allowed by Table 32-2 or 32-2A;

5. Vehicle loading in street frontage setbacks as provided in Section 21.41.310; and

6. Awnings as allowed by the Uniform Building Code.

D. Required Landscaping. All required yard areas, except yards abutting alleys and yards used for outdoor dining, shall contain an area not less than five feet (5') in width planted with trees, shrubs and/or groundcover. The four foot (4') setback area from the abutting alley shall also be landscaped unless such area is used for a driving aisle. For additional landscape requirements, see Chapter 21.42, Landscape Standards.

21.32.225 Screening required.

A. General. The following required screening shall apply in all commercial districts:

1. Open Storage. Open storage shall be prohibited. Certain merchandise is permitted to be displayed outdoors for sale or rent as indicated in Tables 32-0 and 32-1.

2. Parking Lots. All parking lots shall be screened as provided for in Section 21.41.266 and Chapter 21.42.

3. Adjacent To Residential Districts. All commercial uses adjoining or abutting a residential district shall be screened by a solid fence or wall not less than six feet, six inches (6′6″) in height, except in the front yard of the residential lot, where the fence or wall shall be three feet (3′) in height.

4. Parking Structures. All sides of a parking structure abutting a public street shall be screened by trees, vines or other decorative screening approved by the Director of Development Services. See Chapter 21.42 for additional requirements.

B. Mechanical Equipment on Rooftops. The City recognizes that mechanical equipment on rooftops can be unattractive and can provide areas for unsecured entry into buildings. Therefore, the following restrictions shall be required to improve the aesthetic quality of the City and the security of each building. These restrictions shall apply in all commercial zoning districts within the City.

1. Required. In all commercial zones, rooftop mechanical equipment, except solar collectors and rain gutters, shall be screened on all sides by screening not less than the height of the equipment being screened. In the high rise overlay and planned development districts, such equipment shall also be screened from view from higher buildings in the zone to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

2. Secured. All rooftop mechanical equipment shall be secured from unauthorized entry to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

3. Materials. All rooftop mechanical equipment screening devices shall be of a material requiring a low degree of maintenance. Wood shall generally not be utilized unless it can be shown that proper maintenance will occur. All screening devices shall be well integrated into the design of the building through such items as parapet walls continuous with the walls of the structure, false roofs, or equipment rooms. Louvered designs are acceptable if consistent with the building design style.

4. Substitutions. Well-planned, compact, architecturally integrated rooftop equipment may be substituted for screening with the approval of the Director of Planning and Building.

(ORD-20-0018 § 11, 2020; ORD-10-0031 § 2, 2010; Ord. C-7663 §§ 17, 18, 1999; Ord. C-7047 § 18, 1992: Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.230 Design of buildings.

All new and remodeled commercial buildings shall comply with the following design criteria:

A. Architectural Themes. Architectural themes, modules and materials present on the main facade of the building shall be used on all other facades.

B. Change of Material. Each side of a building must contain a primary and an accent material, and the accent material(s) must cover not less than ten percent (10%) of the facade.

C. Building Finished Grade. All new commercial buildings requiring site plan review shall have the first habitable floor level not more than four feet (4′) above grade within the front thirty feet (30′) of the lot.

D. Special Development Standards For CNP, CNA and CNR Districts. All new and remodeled commercial buildings in the Neighborhood Commercial zoning districts shall comply with the following design standards. Alternative designs may be approved through Site Plan Review. Site Plan Review is required for exterior remodeling of fifty feet (50′) or more of building frontage.

1. Exterior Design. Exterior elevations should be designed with extensive articulation to create visual interest and enhance pedestrian activity along the site. Three dimensional (3-D) elements such as cornices, pilasters and structural bays should be used to break up the facade planes. Ground floor facades should be distinguished from upper floors by cornices, changes of material and/or other architectural devices. Facades wider than fifty feet (50′) should be designed with a modular expression that breaks the facade scale to a width of fifty feet (50′) or less.

2. Street Wall. At least two-thirds (2/3) of the front building facade should be located at the front property line. This does not apply in the CNA and CNR districts.

3. Windows. Ground floor windows should comprise at least two-thirds (2/3) of the area of the ground floor front facade. Such glass should be clear with an exterior daylight reflectance of not more than eight percent (8%). Ground floor wall sections without windows should be not more than five feet (5′) in width.

4. Entrances. Entrances should comprise no more than one-third (1/3) of the width of the ground floor facade. Entrances should be recessed no more than five feet (5′) in depth and should be located no more than fifty feet (50′) apart.

5. Awnings. Store front awnings are encouraged. Awnings should be placed below the ground floor cornice (or below the sills of the second story windows if no cornice exists). Awnings should be divided into sections to reflect the major vertical divisions of the facade.

(Ord. C-7729 § 6, 2001: Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.235 Residential uses in commercial districts.

All residential development in commercial districts shall comply with the density and development standards indicated in Tables 32-3 and 32-3A. Residential uses shall be permitted in commercial districts as indicated in Tables 32-0 and 32-1.

(ORD-20-0018 § 12, 2020; Ord. C-7326 § 14, 1995; Ord. C-7047 §§ 19—21, 1992: Ord. C-6933 § 29, 1991; Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.245 Accessory structures.

A. Use Restrictions. The use of accessory buildings and structures shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 21.51 (Accessory Uses) of this Title.

B. Locations Permitted. Accessory structures and buildings may be placed anywhere on a lot except within the required street front setback area or as otherwise restricted by the provisions of Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

C. Trash Receptacles. Adequate trash receptacles shall be provided to accommodate all refuse generated on a site. Such receptacles shall conform to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

(Ord. C-7776 § 3, 2001; Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.250 Off-street parking and loading.

Off-street parking and loading shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Parking) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.255 Landscaping requirements.

Landscaping shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.42 (Landscaping) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.260 Fences and garden walls.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures subject to the requirements of Chapter 21.43 (Fences) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.265 On-premises signs.

On-premises signs are permitted in all districts subject to the requirements of Chapter 21.44 (Signs) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.270 Right-of-way dedications and improvements.

Public right-of-way shall be dedicated and improved as required by Chapter 21.47 (Street Improvements) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6684 § 42 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.32.275 Undergrounding of utilities.

A. All projects considered new development or rebuilds shall provide for the ability to connect the building to any future undergrounding of utilities that may occur in the block. Such provisions shall include a vacant duct to the appropriate feed point on the public right-of-way for the underground connection.

B. The utility company's design of the electric system, including locations and aesthetic treatment, shall be in accordance with the regulations of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

C. All projects considered new development or rebuilds shall underground all overhead utility service to the site. In lieu of such undergrounding, the project developer may pay an in-lieu fee to the Department of Public Works for use in the undergrounding within the applicable district. Such districts shall be established within one (1) year of the effective date of this Section and separate funds established for each district. The in-lieu fee shall be established by the City Engineer and applied to the linear footage of the project site.

(ORD-19-0011 § 11, 2019)

CHAPTER 21.33 INDUSTRIAL DISTRICTS*

21.33.010 Purpose.

A. The industrial districts are established to preserve and enhance areas for a broad range of industrial and manufacturing uses, recognizing that such uses provide employment, contribute to the City's tax base, and create products needed by consumers and the business community at large.

B. These regulations are intended to accommodate a broad range of current and future industrial and manufacturing uses, and associated technologies, at appropriate locations in the City, provided that safeguards are in place to address environmental and aesthetic concerns; to protect public health and safety; and to ensure that businesses operate within the clearly defined limits of what is allowed.

C. In recognition of the fact that industrial and manufacturing technologies change over time, the City has structured these regulations to address the operating characteristics and processes of industrial uses, rather than specific businesses. Thus, the determination of whether a use is permitted by right or requires discretionary review will necessarily require interpretation based upon the criteria contained in Sections 21.33.020 through 21.33.080. Pursuant to the provisions of Subsection 21.33.060.D of this Chapter 21.33, the Zoning Administrator is authorized to make such interpretation.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.020 Districts established.

Four (4) industrial districts are established by this Chapter as follows:

A. Light Industrial (IL). The Light Industrial (IL) district allows a wide range of industries whose primary operations occur entirely within enclosed structures and which pose limited potential for environmental impacts on neighboring uses. While the emphasis is on industrial, manufacturing, and related uses, small-scale office and commercial uses intended to serve nearby industries and employees are permitted. The performance and development standards are intended to allow a wide range of uses as long as those uses will not adversely impact adjacent uses.

The IL district typically will include clean, non-nuisance industries whose operating characteristics (e.g., noise, hazardous materials, odors, dust, light and glare) are either confined completely within the property or result in limited secondary impacts in terms of traffic, air emissions, and hours of operation. Examples include research and development, flex space (for example, combined office/sales/warehouse/production for one firm), warehousing, small-scale incubator industries, or assembly operations. The buildings housing these uses may be low-scale, older structures within the existing street grid, or modern industrial complexes in park-like settings. These examples are not intended to limit the potential uses within the IL district, but rather to present the range of opportunities available.

B. Medium Industrial (IM). The Medium Industrial (IM) district allows a wide range of industries and industrial processes that involve more intensive operations. The district provides areas where most industries may locate, provided they meet the performance standards defined in Section 21.33.090 (Performance Standards). While the emphasis is on industrial, manufacturing, and related uses, office and commercial uses intended to serve nearby industries and employees may be permitted. The performance and development standards are intended to allow a wide range of uses as long as those uses will not impact adjacent uses.

The IM district generally will include industrial and manufacturing operations on a larger scale than those in the IL district. For example, factories with frequent truck traffic and outdoor storage yards might be located in the district. Outdoor storage and limited outdoor activities may be permitted. These examples are intended to represent typical characteristics within the district, not all potential operations.

C. General Industrial (IG). The General Industrial (IG) district is considered the City's "industrial sanctuary" district where a wide range of industries that may not be desirable in other districts may locate. The emphasis is on traditionally heavy industrial and manufacturing uses. The IG district is intended to promote an "industrial sanctuary" where land is preserved for industry and manufacturing, and where existing industries are protected from non-industrial users that may object to the operating characteristics of industry. Performance standards still must be met, but the development standards are the minimum necessary to assure safe, functional, and environmentally-sound activities.

The IG district includes uses such as large construction yards with heavy equipment, chemical manufacturing plants, rail yards, and food processing plants. The buildings that house these operations may be older industrial buildings retrofitted to accommodate the use, or new state-of-the-art manufacturing plants. As is the case with all the industrial districts, the focus of the IG district is on the operating characteristics of the use, rather than the particular product created.

D. Port-Related Industrial (IP). The Port-Related Industrial (IP) district is characterized predominately by maritime industry and marine resources. Uses in this district are primarily port-related or water dependent, but may also include: water-oriented commercial and recreational facilities primarily serving the general public, and utility installations and rights-of-way. All new uses in the IP district must be consistent with the Port Master Plan.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.030 Fire Department preliminary review.

The permitting and licensing processes may involve Fire Department review regarding the storage of hazardous materials and other factors which could affect site plans or building designs. The Fire Department offers an informal conceptual site plan review process that provides potential applicants with information regarding such requirements. To ensure such considerations are incorporated into the land use planning and development process at an early stage, applicants are encouraged to contact the Fire Department prior to submitting formal applications to the Department of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.040 Site plan review.

Site plan review shall be required pursuant to Chapter 21.25, Division V (Site Plan Review).

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.045 Harbor Department review in IP district.

Projects proposed on property located in the IP district shall be subject to review by the Harbor Department pursuant to Section 18.04.040 of the Municipal Code.

21.33.050 Adult entertainment businesses.

Any business considered an "adult entertainment business," as defined in Section 21.15.110 of this Title, shall be subject to the special locational standards contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

(ORD-18-0018 § 6, 2018; Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.33.060 Permitted uses.

A. Table 33-2 shall be used to determine applicable use regulations in the industrial districts. Table 33-2 establishes general classes of uses. For each category, the table indicates whether the class of use is permitted by right (Y); not permitted (N); permitted subject to an administrative use permit (AP) as defined in Chapter 21.25, Division IV (Administrative Use Permits) of this Title; or permitted subject to conditional use permit review (C) pursuant to Chapter 21.25, Division II (Conditional Use Permits) of this Title. All projects within the Coastal Zone are also subject to the Local Coastal Program and provisions as set forth in Chapter 21.25 Division IX.

B. The uses identified in Table 33-2 are more precisely defined by reference to the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the federal government's Office of Management and Budget. The 1987 SIC Manual, or the most current edition of the manual, as amended, is incorporated herein by reference. The SIC Manual identifies businesses according to the operating characteristics involved in creating the product (for example, slaughtering, manufacturing pulp, manufacturing industrial inorganic chemicals, petroleum refining) and the effects that these characteristics may have on nearby uses. The actual product created is of secondary importance. For reference purposes, Table 33-1 lists two (2) digit SIC codes and the associated categories of use.

C. The "notes and exceptions" column of the table indicates more precisely the use regulations for specific SIC codes or operating characteristics. The notes and exceptions must be reviewed in conjunction with the other information for that class of use.

D. For uses or activities not specifically identified in Table 33-2, the Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to interpret and assign the appropriate SIC code for that use or activity. The decision of the Zoning Administrator can be appealed to the Planning Commission pursuant to Chapter 21.21, Division V (Appeals) of this Title.

21.33.070 Prohibited uses.

Any use or activity not identified by an SIC code included in Table 33-2, or any use or activity not interpreted by the Zoning Administrator as belonging to a listed SIC code, shall be prohibited.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.080 Meaning of the Y/AP and Y/C designations.

A. This Section applies to those use categories in Table 33-2 classified as "Y/AP" and "Y/C" within specified industrial districts. "Y/AP" shall mean that the use is permitted by right unless the location criteria contained in Subsection 21.33.080.C apply to the project, in which case administrative use permit (AP) review shall be required pursuant to Chapter 21.25, Division IV of this Title. "Y/C" shall mean a use is permitted by right unless the location criteria contained in Subsection 21.33.080.C apply to the project, in which case conditional use permit (C) review shall be required pursuant to Chapter 21.25, Division II of this Title.

B. The Zoning Administrator shall be authorized to determine whether a use identified in Table 33-2 as "Y/AP" or "Y/C" is permitted by right or requires discretionary review based on the criteria defined in this Section.

C. The location of a proposed industrial use relative to residentially-zoned property shall represent the sole factor for determining whether discretionary review is required pursuant to this Section. If any building housing the principal proposed use in an industrial district, or any outdoor activity which represents the principal use of the property, is located three hundred feet (300′) or less from the nearest residential district (see Figure 33-1), then administrative use permit or conditional use permit review shall be required, as indicated in Table 33-2.

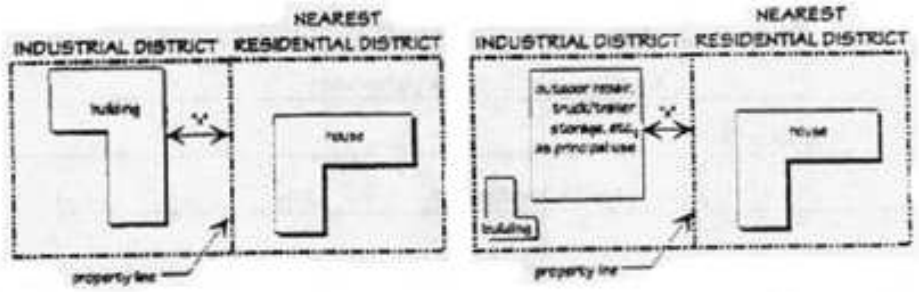
Determination of Distance



If "x" = 300 ft. or less, then discretionary review is required. Distance from building or outdoor use shall be measured to the nearest residential property line.

7.1 Eating places without drive-through facilities (SIC code 5812*)	Y	Y	Y		a. Primarily, these uses are intended to serve nearby industries and employees, and the retail's proximity will provide convenience with minimal impact on the retail operations. b. Any business involved in the sale of alcoholic beverages shall be subject to conditional use permit review and shall meet the location requirements contained in Section 21.52.201. The following exceptions do not require a conditional use permit: Restaurants with alcoholic beverage service only with meals, whereby alcoholic beverage sales comprise 30 percent or less of the monthly gross sales of the restaurant. This generally means that any use with a fixed bar is not exempt from the conditional use permit requirement. A service bar is not a fixed bar. A sushi bar where alcoholic beverages are served at the same bar as meals is considered as serving alcoholic beverages only with meals. A cocktail lounge without a bar but with service primarily of hors d'oeuvres and alcoholic beverages shall require a conditional use permit. • Any use located more than 500 ft. from a zone district which allows residential use. • Department store or florist shop with accessory sales of alcoholic beverages. • A grocery store of 20,000 sq. ft. or more with accessory sales of alcoholic beverages. • Existing legal, nonconforming uses. See item 13 in this table for "drinking places." (SIC code 5813).

The SIC uses are considered here primarily according to the operational characteristics involved in creating the product (e.g., slaughtering, manufacturing pulp, manufacturing industrial inorganic chemicals, petroleum refining) and the effects that these operations may have on nearby uses. The actual product created is of secondary importance. The requirement for a conditional use permit does not presuppose that a proposed use will present adverse impacts, but that the public should be informed of the proposed use and be given the opportunity to comment on the proposal at a public hearing.

21.33.090 Performance standards.

A. Purpose. The performance standards established in this Section are intended to ensure that industrial/manufacturing uses operate in a manner that protects the public health and safety, and which does not produce adverse impacts on nearby properties nor the community at large. The standards in this Section apply to all industrial/manufacturing districts. The Director of Planning and Building shall be authorized to interpret the performance standards.

B. Standards May Be Changed. Ongoing scientific and technological advances related to the identification and measurement of impacts require that these performance standards remain up to date. These standards may be modified from time to time as required by technological changes.

C. Noise Standards. All uses and activities shall comply with the noise regulations contained in Chapter 8.80 (Noise) of the City of Long Beach Municipal Code.

D. Hours of Operation Standards. Between the hours of ten (10:00) p.m. and seven (7:00) a.m., industrial businesses shall discontinue operations that produce noise levels at the nearest residential district or hospital property line higher than those permitted under Chapter 8.80 (Noise) of the Municipal Code.

E. Light and Glare Standards. All lighting, reflective surfaces, or any other source of illumination shall not produce adverse effects on public streets or on any other parcel. Lights shall be shielded at lot lines so as not to be directly visible from any adjoining residential district.

F. On-Site Containment of Materials and Waste. No material or waste shall be deposited on a property in such a form or manner that it may be transferred off the property by natural causes or forces such as wind or rain. All materials or wastes which might cause fumes or dust, or which constitute a fire hazard, or which may be edible by or otherwise attractive to rodents or insects, shall be stored outdoors only in closed containers approved by the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.33.100 General provisions.

This Division II establishes development standards applicable to all new construction and additions to existing development in the industrial districts.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.110 Minimum lot size.

All new subdivisions of land shall comply with the minimum lot size requirements indicated in Table 33-3.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.120 Maximum lot coverage.

No building or structure shall be constructed to exceed the lot coverage standards indicated in Table 33-3.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.130 Maximum building and structure height.

A. No building or other structure shall be constructed to exceed the height limitations indicated in Table 33-3, except for signs, which are subject to the standards set forth in Chapters 21.44 (On-Premises Signs) and 21.54 (Billboards).

B. Flagpoles, when placed on the roof of a building, may exceed the height limit for a principal building by ten feet (10′). When placed on the ground, flagpoles shall not exceed a height of sixty feet (60′).

C. Television or radio receiving or transmitting antennas may exceed the applicable height limit as provided for in Section 21.46.060 (Special Development Standards).

D. The following rooftop elements and equipment may extend up to ten feet (10′) above the building height:

1. Rooftop stair and elevator penthouse enclosures.

2. Rooftop heating and air conditioning equipment and ducts.

3. Rooftop safety rails.

E. Exceptions.

1. Rooftop solar collectors and associated supporting structures may exceed the applicable height limit only if necessary for the sole purpose of solar collection, and not otherwise installed on any occupiable areas of the roof, and when located in the coastal zone, public views of the beach, bay, or ocean (as identified in the certified Local Coastal Program) are not adversely impacted.

(ORD-21-0028 § 6, 2021; ORD-19-0028 § 33, 2019; Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.140 Setbacks and yards.

A. Setbacks and Yards Required. Building setbacks and yards shall be provided as indicated in Table 33-4. Yard areas shall be clear of all structures from the ground to the sky, except for permitted projections, and shall be landscaped in accordance with the landscaping provisions (Chapter 21.42) of this Title.

B. Corner Cutoff Required. Corner cutoffs, as defined in Section 21.15.660 of this Title, shall be required in all industrial districts at the intersections of streets, driveways, and alleys. The corner cutoff shall be free of any structure or vegetation which impedes or obstructs access or visibility up to eight feet (8′) in height.

C. Permitted Projections. No appurtenances, projections, or other building features may project into required yards, except:

1. Architectural elements not more than two feet (2′) into the required yard area;

2. Awnings;

3. Bay windows projecting not more than two feet (2′) into the required yard area;

4. Lamp posts;

5. A porte cochere;

6. Roof eaves projecting no closer than two feet, six inches (2′ 6″) from the property line; and

7. Signs, as specified in Chapter 21.44 (On-Premises Signs) of this Title.

D. Permitted uses. The following uses and accessory structures shall be the only uses and structures permitted in required yard areas: driveways, automobile surface parking lots, landscaping, and on-premises signs. All other uses shall be prohibited.

21.33.145 Parking areas abutting streets.

Wherever a parking area abuts a property line adjacent to a street, a five foot (5') wide landscaped strip shall be provided between the parking area and the property line abutting the public right-of-way. See Chapter 21.42 for additional requirements.

(ORD-10-0031 § 3, 2010; Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

(ORD-10-0031 § 4, 2010)

21.33.150 Outdoor storage and activities.

A. IL District Regulations.

1. Outdoor Storage. Accessory outdoor storage of goods, materials, or equipment shall be permitted only in the side and rear yards. However, no materials shall be stored within any required street side yard setback. All outdoor storage areas shall be completely screened from view from public rights-of-way and adjacent properties with screening the same height as the materials being stored. Stored goods and materials shall not exceed a stacking height of eight feet (8').

2. Activities. Except as otherwise permitted by Table 33-2, no outdoor production, processing, or manufacturing activities associated with a business shall be permitted at any time. All such activities must be conducted within an entirely enclosed structure. This restriction shall not apply to loading operations or other necessary support functions of a business.

B. IM District Regulations.

1. Outdoor Storage. Outdoor storage shall be permitted except in required front street and side street yard setbacks, and required parking and loading areas. Such storage shall be fully screened from view with solid screening materials at least the same height as the materials being stored, or at least twelve feet (12'), whichever is less. Stored goods and materials shall not exceed a stacking height of fifteen feet (15'), with the exception of container storage, which shall not be stacked higher than two (2) containers.

2. Activities. The following are permitted outdoor activities, provided all such activities meet the performance standards contained in Section 21.33.090 of this Chapter: processing, assembly, and fabrication of goods; and the maintenance, repair, and salvage of equipment associated with a business.

C. IG District Regulations.

1. Outdoor Storage. Outdoor storage shall be permitted except in required front street and side street setbacks, and in required parking and loading areas. Such storage shall be fully screened from view from a public right-of-way and any adjacent or abutting residential use. Stored goods and materials shall not exceed a stacking height of fifteen feet (15').

2. Transport Containers. Transport containers used for storing goods, materials, or equipment to be transported by truck, train, or marine vessel may be stored anywhere on a lot, with the exception of any required corner cutoff area. No more than two (2) containers shall be stacked atop one another.

3. Activities. The following are permitted outdoor activities, provided all such activities meet the performance standards contained in Section 21.33.090 of this Chapter: processing, assembly, and fabrication of goods; and the maintenance, repair, and salvage of equipment associated with a business.

D. IP District Regulations.

1. Outdoor Storage. Outdoor storage, including the storage of transport containers used for storing goods, materials, or equipment to be transported by truck, train, or marine vessel, may occur anywhere on a lot, with the exception of any required corner cutoff area. Such storage shall be subject to any screening or security requirements established by the Long Beach Harbor Department.

2. Activities. All activities ordinarily associated with port and port-related businesses shall be permitted to occur out of doors consistent with regulations established by the Harbor Department.

E. Surfacing of Outdoor Storage and Activity Areas. In all industrial districts, all outdoor storage and activity areas shall be surfaced with paving materials as required by the Director of Planning and Building, and all such surfaced areas shall be maintained in good condition.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.160 Accessory structures.

A. Use Restrictions. The use of accessory buildings and structures shall conform to the requirements contained in Chapter 21.51 (Accessory Uses) of this Title.

B. Trash Receptacles. Adequate trash receptacles shall be provided to accommodate the refuse generated on a site. If visible from a public street, receptacles shall conform to the applicable development standards contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards) of this Title.

(Ord. C-7663 § 20, 1999; Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.170 Accessory office space in industrial buildings.

A. Maximum Area Permitted. Office space is permitted as an accessory use within an industrial building. The accessory office space is limited to the percent of gross floor area indicated in Table 33-3.

B. Requirements For Tenant Spaces Containing Less than Five Thousand Square Feet. As indicated in Table 33-3, tenant spaces which are less than five thousand (5,000) square feet of gross floor area in size may use a maximum of forty-five percent (45%) of gross floor area for office purposes. However, wherever such office space exceeds twenty-five percent (25%) of the gross floor area of an individual tenant space, an additional three (3) parking spaces shall be provided in addition to any parking required for the principal use.

C. Office Space in Excess of Maximum Allowable. If office space in excess of the maximum allowable is proposed, the office space shall be considered the principal use, and such use shall be subject to all use regulations and development standards applicable to that principal use.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.180 Rooftop equipment screening.

A. Purpose. The City recognizes that mechanical equipment on rooftops can be unattractive and can facilitate unauthorized access into buildings. Therefore, the screening requirements contained in this Section shall be applied to improve the aesthetic quality of the City and to improve the security of buildings.

B. Applicability. This Section applies to all development in the industrial districts for all rooftop equipment visible from an adjacent street, highway or abutting residential district.

C. Materials and Design. All screening devices shall be of a material consistent with the color and style of the building, and shall be well-integrated into the building design through such features as parapet walls, false roofs, or equipment rooms. Louvered designs are acceptable if consistent with the building style. All screening materials shall be of a type requiring limited maintenance. Wood lattice shall not be permitted.

D. Secured. All rooftop mechanical equipment shall be secured from unauthorized entry to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

E. Approval Required. Prior to issuance of a mechanical permit for rooftop equipment, the Director of Planning and Building shall review the proposed screening plan for compliance with the provisions of this Section.

(Ord. C-7378 § 17, 1995; Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.190 Off-street parking and loading.

Off-street parking and loading shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements) of this Title.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.200 Landscaping requirements.

Landscaping shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.42 (Landscaping Standards) of this Title.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.210 Fences and garden walls.

Fences and garden walls, other than those required by this Title for parking lot and outdoor storage screening, are permitted accessory structures subject to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.43 (Fences and Garden Walls) of this Title.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.220 On-premises signs.

On-premises signs are permitted accessory structures subject to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.44 (On-Premises Signs) of this Title.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

21.33.230 Right-of-way dedications and improvements.

Public right-of-way shall be reserved, dedicated, and/or improved as required by Chapter 21.47 (Dedication, Reservation and Improvement of Public Rights-of-Way) of this Title.

(Ord. C-7360 § 3, 1995)

CHAPTER 21.34 INSTITUTIONAL DISTRICT

21.34.010 Purpose.

The Institutional (I) district is established to create, preserve and enhance areas for public and institutional land uses and to provide restrictions to minimize the effect of such uses on surrounding uses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.020 Long range development plan required.

Any site with a lot area exceeding forty thousand (40,000) square feet shall submit a long range development plan for the institution. Such long range development plan shall include all development of the site and site expansions (within the institutional zone or under the institution's ownership, whichever is greater) anticipated over the next twenty (20) years. Such plan shall be submitted to the Planning Commission for approval through the site plan review procedure. No site plan review shall be approved and no building permit shall be issued for any building or structure which is not consistent with the long range development plan.

(Ord. C-7032 § 27, 1992: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.025 Site plan review.

Site plan review shall be required pursuant to Division V of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.030 Adult entertainment business.

Any business considered an "adult entertainment business" as defined by Section 21.15.110 of this Title shall be subject to special locational standards as indicated in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

(ORD-18-0018 § 7, 2018; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.34.110 Permitted uses.

The principal permitted uses of the institutional district shall be those of a public or institutional nature. Table 34-1 indicates the classes of uses permitted (Y), not permitted (N), permitted as a conditional use (C), permitted as an accessory use (A), permitted with an administrative use permit (AP), and permitted as a temporary use (T) in the Institutional (I) district.

(Ord. C-6895 §§ 17, 18, 1991: Ord. C-6684 § 24 (part), 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.120 Prohibited uses.

Any use not specifically permitted by Section 21.34.110, Table 34-1, shall be prohibited.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.34.201 General provisions.

Sections 21.34.205 through 21.34.265 set forth the development standards applicable to all uses in the institutional district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.205 Lot size.

The minimum lot size for a new subdivision shall be as indicated in Table 34-2.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.210 Building height.

Maximum building and structure heights shall be as indicated in Table 34-2.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

(ORD-21-0028 § 5, 2021; ORD-19-0028 § 20, 2019)

21.34.215 Lot coverage.

Maximum lot coverage shall be as indicated in Table 34-2.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.220 Yards required.

Yard areas shall be provided as indicated in Table 34-3. The structures allowed in yard areas shall be as provided in Table 31-3 and as provided in Section 21.34.250.

(Ord. C-6822 § 15, 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.225 Corner cutoffs.

A. Corner Cutoff Required. Corner cutoffs shall be required in all institutional districts at intersections of streets, driveways and alleys. Corner cutoffs shall be a minimum of six feet by six feet (6') x (6').

B. The corner cutoff shall be free of any structure or vegetation which impedes or obstructs access or visibility up to eight feet (8′) in height.

(ORD-19-0028 § 19, 2019; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.230 Distance between principal use buildings.

Principal use buildings shall be separated by not less than eight feet (8').

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.235 Building design, treatment and finish.

All new and remodeled buildings shall comply with the following criteria:

A. Compatible Treatment. All sides of a building visible from a public street or adjoining, abutting or adjacent to a residential district, shall be designed, treated and finished in a manner compatible with the residential area and with the other visible sides of the building.

B. Contrasting Material. Not less than ten percent (10%) of a building wall shall be treated and finished with a material other than stucco or cement block, painted or unpainted, unless the Zoning Administrator determines that such contrasting material would detract from the project design or adequate landscaping above minimum standards would provide the equivalent effect.

C. Roof Security. All roof areas not visible from the public right-of-way shall be provided with roof features designed to prevent people from gaining unauthorized access to the rooftop.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.240 Screening required.

A. Open Uses. All permitted uses, including storage, shall be screened by a solid wall not less than six feet (6′) in height. Material being stored shall not be visible above the wall.

B. Parking Lots. All parking lots shall be screened in accordance with the provisions of Section 21.41.266 of this Title.

C. Refuse Storage Areas. Refuse collection receptacles shall be located and screened as required by Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards) of this Title.

D. Mechanical Equipment Screening. Mechanical equipment shall be screened as follows:

1. Required. Rooftop mechanical equipment, except solar collectors and rain gutters, shall be screened on all sides by screening not less than the height of the equipment being screened.

2. Secured. All rooftop mechanical equipment shall be secured from unauthorized entry to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

3. Materials. All rooftop mechanical equipment screening devices shall be of a material requiring a low degree of maintenance. Wood shall generally not be used unless it can be shown that proper maintenance will occur. All screening devices shall be well integrated into the design of the building through such items as parapet walls continuous with the walls of the structure, false roofs, or equipment rooms.

4. Substitutions. Well-planned, compact, architecturally-integrated rooftop equipment may be substituted for screening with the approval of the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-7633 § 21, 1999; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.245 Residential development.

Residential development in the Institutional District shall conform to the development standards of the R-1-N Zone District. Special group residences shall conform to the standards specified in Section 21.52.271.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.250 Accessory structures.

A. Use Restrictions. The use of accessory buildings and structures shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 21.51 (Accessory Uses) of this Title.

B. Development Standards. Accessory structures and buildings may be placed anywhere on a lot except within the required street front setback area or as otherwise restricted by Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

C. Trash Receptacles. Adequate trash receptacles shall be provided to accommodate all refuse generated on a site. Such receptacles shall conform to the development standards for trash receptacles contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

(Ord. C-7663 §§ 22, 23, 1999; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.255 Off-street parking and loading.

Off-street parking and loading shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements) of this Title. Parking may be provided on any location on the lot not otherwise prohibited, except it shall not be located within the ten feet (10′) of front yard area abutting a street.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.260 Landscaping requirements.

Landscaping shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.42 (Landscaping Standards) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.265 Fences and garden walls.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures subject to the requirements of Chapter 21.43 (Fences and Garden Walls) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.270 On-premises signs.

On-premises signs are permitted accessory structures in the Institutional District subject to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.44 (On-Premises Signs) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.34.275 Right-of-way dedications and improvements.

Public right-of-way in the Institutional District shall be dedicated and improved as required by Chapter 21.47 (Dedication, Reservation and Improvement of Public Rights-of-Way).

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.35 PARK DISTRICT*

21.35.010 Purpose.

The Park P district is established to set aside and preserve publicly owned natural and open areas for active and passive public use for recreational, cultural and community service activities. Parks are established to promote the mental and physical health of the community and provide physical and psychological relief from the intense urban development of the City. Such areas are characterized by landscaped open space, beaches or inland bodies of water. Table 35-2 indicates the name, type and zoning classification of the various parks located within the City of Long Beach.

Note—Prior ordinance history: (Ord. C-6533, 1988; Ord. C-6755, 1990; Ord. C-7247, 1994; Ord. C-7399, 1996; Ord. C-7663, 1999).

(Ord. C-7895 § 1, 2003: Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.020 Site plan review required.

Site plan review shall be required pursuant to Chapter 21.25, "Specific Procedures", of this Title. A site plan review within the park district shall ensure that the building proposed will be consistent with the serenity, setting and open space character of the park in which it is located.

(Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.030 Adult entertainment business.

Pertaining to the proximity of such uses to parks, any business considered an "adult entertainment business" as defined by Section 21.15.110 of this Title shall be subject to special locational standards as indicated in Chapter 21.45, "Special Development Standards".

(ORD-18-0018 § 8, 2018; Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

DIVISION I.

(a) "Commercial recreation" is any recreational use in parks for which a fee is charged independent of City oversight. (See definition for "commercial recreation" in Section 21.15.565 and findings for such uses in the park P district in Section 21.52.610.)

(b) "Community service use" is a service provided for the health and welfare of the individual receiving the service. Such uses in parks do not include the permanent provision of food, shelter or medical services except for counseling, health fairs, medical screening and the like. Nonregional community service uses serve the local community—the neighbors nearby who require the service. Regional serving community service providers serve a much wider constituency.

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.35.205 General provisions.

The provisions of Sections 21.35.210 through 21.35.260 shall be the standards for construction or use in the park district. Any conversion of park land must be replaced on amenity for amenity basis on at least a two to one (2:1) ratio. One (1) acre of replacement land shall be located in the park service area where the land was converted and an additional acre of replacement land shall be located in a park service area needing park land as determined by the recreation commission.

(Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.210 Lot size.

No lot shall be divided or reduced in size from that existing on the effective date of this Title.

(Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.215 Building height.

The maximum height of all buildings shall be thirty feet (30′).

(Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.220 Site coverage.

Based upon park type classifications, specified in Table OSR-2 of the general plan open space and recreation element, site coverage in parks shall be limited to the following maximum percentages of total park area:

Mini and greenway parks: One percent (1%).

Regional parks: Two percent (2%).

Neighborhood parks: Seven percent (7%).

Community parks: Ten percent (10%).

Special use parks: To be determined by site plan review.

(Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.225 Yards—Required.

Ten feet (10′) abutting any street right-of-way and five feet (5′) abutting any other zoning district, shall be open, free of any structures and shall be landscaped.

(Ord. C-7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.230 Design of buildings.

All buildings shall be designed, treated and finished to blend with the open and landscaped surroundings. All mechanical appurtenances, other than rain gutters and solar collectors, shall be screened from public view.

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.235 Screening required.

All storage and maintenance equipment shall be screened from public view to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.240 Accessory structures.

A. Use Restrictions. The use of accessory buildings and structures shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 21.51, "Accessory Uses", of this Title.

B. Development Standards. Accessory structures and buildings may be placed anywhere on a lot except within the required street front setback area or as otherwise restricted by Chapter 21.45, "Special Development Standards".

C. Trash Receptacles. Adequate trash receptacles shall be provided to accommodate all refuse generated on a site. Such receptacles shall conform to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.45, "Special Development Standards".

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.245 On-premises signs.

A. Park Signs. Each park may display one freestanding sign, not to exceed one hundred (100) square feet, on each street frontage facing each direction, and one (1) freestanding sign, not to exceed twenty-four (24) square feet, for each major vehicle entrance to the park. Such signs shall identify the name of the park only.

B. Building Signs. Each building in the park district may contain one (1) wall sign on each building wall. Such signs shall not exceed fifty (50) square feet in area. Sign copy shall be limited to the identification of the facility, including the name of any person to whom the facility is dedicated.

C. Signs on Public Properties. Exempt signs otherwise eligible under Section 21.44.070 shall be permitted in the park district.

D. Prohibited Signs. All signs other than those specified in Subsections 21.35.245.A through 21.35.245.C shall be prohibited.

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.250 Off-street parking and loading.

Parking and loading spaces shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41, "Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements", of this Title.

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.255 Landscaping requirements.

Landscaping shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.42, "Landscaping Standards", of this Title.

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

21.35.260 Fences and garden walls.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures subject to the development standards contained in Chapter 21.43, "Fences and Garden Walls", of this Title.

(Ord. C 7826 § 3, 2002)

CHAPTER 21.36 PUBLIC RIGHT-OF-WAY

21.36.010 Purpose.

The Public Right-of-Way (PR) District is established to create, enhance and preserve open areas of public rights-of-way and to protect such areas from encroachment by other uses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.36.110 Permitted uses.

Table 36-1 indicates the classes of uses permitted (Y), not permitted (N), permitted as a conditional use (C) and permitted as an accessory use (A) in the Public Right-of-Way District. Accessory uses and conditional uses may have special development standards as outlined in Chapters 21.51 (Accessory Uses) and 21.52 (Conditional Uses), respectively, of this Title.

CHAPTER 21.37 PLANNED DEVELOPMENT DISTRICTS AND SPECIFIC PLANS*

DIVISION I.

PLANNED DEVELOPMENT DISTRICTS

21.37.110 Purpose.

The Planned Development (PD) District is established to allow flexible development plans to be prepared for areas of the City which may benefit from the formal recognition of unique or special land uses and the establishment of special design policies and standards not otherwise possible under conventional zoning district regulations. Purposes of the planned development district include permitting a compatible mix of land uses, allowing for planned commercial areas and business parks, and encouraging a variety of housing styles and densities.

Editor's note—ORD-20-0018 § 18, adopted May 19, 2020, amended Ch. 21.37 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 21.37, §§ 21.37.010—21.37.330, pertained to similar subject matter and derived from: ORD-16-0009 § 3, 2016; Ord. C-7959 § 3, 2004; Ord. C-7607 § 2, 1999; Ord. C-7466 § 3, 1997; Ord. C-7343 § 3, 1995; Ord. C-7115 § 7, 1993; Ord. C-6886 § 7, 1991; Ord. C-6595 § 11, 1989; Ord. C-6578 § 2, 1989; Ord. C-6518 § 2, 1988; and Ord. C-6533 § 1(part), 1988.

21.37.120 Districts established.

On and after September 1, 1988, all planned development districts shall be indicated by the PD designation, a number and a common name. Planned development districts are as follows:

1. PD-1—Southeast Area Development and Improvement Plan (SEADIP) (repealed) (superseded by Southeast Area Specific Plan SP-2) (See Section 21.37.210).
2. PD-2—Belmont Pier
3. PD-3—Reserved
4. PD-4—Long Beach Marina
5. PD-5—Ocean Boulevard
6. PD-6—Downtown Shoreline
7. PD-7—Long Beach Business Center
8. PD-8—Reserved
9. PD-9—Long Beach Airport Business Park
10. PD-10—Willmore City
11. PD-11—Rancho Estates
12. PD-12—Long Beach Airport Terminal
13. PD-13-Atlantic Aviation Center (repealed) (superseded by SP-3 Globemaster Corridor Specific Plan).
14. PD-14—Reserved
15. PD-15—Redondo Avenue
16. PD-16—Reserved
17. PD-17—Alamitos Land
18. PD-18—Kilroy Airport Center

19. PD-19—Douglas Aircraft
20. PD-20—All Souls
21. PD-21—Queensway Bay
22. PD-22—Pacific Railway
23. PD-23—Douglas Center
24. PD-24—Reserved
25. PD-25—Atlantic Avenue
26. PD-26—West Long Beach Business Park
27. PD-27—Willow Street Center
28. PD-28—Pacific Theaters
29. PD-29—Long Beach Boulevard (repealed) (superseded by Midtown Specific Plan (SP-1))
30. PD-30—Downtown Long Beach
31. PD-31-California State University Research and Technology Center Planned Development
32. PD-32 (PD-32 North and PD-32 South)—Douglas Park

21.37.130 Qualifying standards.

In order to qualify for the planned development district classification, a property must contain not less than five (5) acres in size and must be a full block face surrounded on all sides by public right-of-way. In any event, the property must have direct access to a public street.

21.37.140 Establishment procedures.

A planned development district classification shall be established in accordance with the administrative procedures contained in Division VII of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures). Among other things, these procedures call for preparation and adoption of a use and development standards plan.

(ORD-20-0018 § 18, 2020)

21.37.150 Development standards.

The development standards and design guidelines for a Planned Development District shall be those adopted by the City Council in the ordinance for each PD zone. Whenever a PD zone is silent or does not contain any particular development standard (such as landscaping, parking configuration, or permitted projections into required yard areas), then the Zoning Administrator shall determine the development standard that shall apply, taking into consideration which development standard is closest to the overall intent of the PD.

21.37.160 Site plan review.

Site plan review is required for all development proposals within PD districts pursuant to Division V of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures) of this Title. The Site Plan Review Committee shall refer to the Planning Commission all planned development district project applications which vary from the general or specific use and development standards but which are consistent with the intent of the particular planned development district.

21.37.170 Alcoholic beverage sales uses.

On-premises and off-premises alcoholic beverage sales uses in planned development districts shall be permitted only as conditional uses unless such uses are specifically exempted from the conditional use permit process by a particular planned development district ordinance.

21.37.180 Use regulations—Amendments to Title 21.

When this Title is amended to add or change regulations for a specific land use in the Residential Districts (Ch. 21.31), Commercial Districts (Ch. 21.32), Industrial Districts (Ch. 21.32), Institutional District (Ch. 21.34), and Park District (Ch. 21.35), the Zoning Administrator may determine that the same use regulations apply to all or certain Planned Development Districts (or subareas thereof), if the following conditions are met:

A. The use is not directly or explicitly regulated by the existing PD use regulations;

B. The use is consistent in nature with the categories, types and characteristics of uses permitted in the PD (or subareas thereof), and will not introduce a new use that will cause substantial adverse effects upon the community; and

C. The use is not in conflict with the goals or intent of the PD.

Such determination shall be made in writing and shall be appended to the affected PD(s), as appropriate.

(ORD-20-0018 § 18, 2020)

DIVISION II.

SPECIFIC PLANS

21.37.200 Purpose.

As set forth in Government Code sections 65450 through 65458, the specific plan provides a means to establish more specific land use regulations and design standards for properties and areas requiring special attention or treatment. A specific plan serves as a policy and regulatory document, with policy direction and project development concepts consistent with the General Plan.

(ORD-20-0018 § 18, 2020)

21.37.210 Specific Plans established.

On and after May 1, 2016, all specific plans shall be indicated by the SP designation, a number and a common name. Specific plans are as follows:

1. SP-1—Midtown

2. SP-2—Southeast Area

3. SP-3—Globemaster Corridor.

4. SP-4—Century Villages at Cabrillo.

21.37.220 Establishment procedures.

A specific plan shall be established in accordance with the administrative procedures contained in Division I of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures—Zone Changes and Zoning Regulation Amendments).

21.37.230 Development standards.

The development standards and design guidelines for a Specific Plan shall be those adopted by the City Council in the ordinance for each SP. Whenever a SP is silent or does not contain any particular development standard (such as landscaping, parking configuration, or permitted projections into required yard areas), then the Zoning Administrator shall determine the development standard that shall apply, taking into consideration which development standard is closest to the overall intent of the Specific Plan.

21.37.240 Use regulations—Amendments to Title 21.

When this Title is amended to add or change regulations for a specific land use in the Residential Districts (Ch. 21.31), Commercial Districts (Ch. 21.32), Industrial Districts (Ch. 21.32), Institutional District (Ch. 21.34), and Park District (Ch. 21.35), the Zoning Administrator may determine that the same use regulations apply to all or certain Specific Plans (or subareas or districts thereof), if the following conditions are met:

A. The use is not directly or explicitly regulated by the existing SP use regulations;

B. The use is consistent in nature with the categories, types and characteristics of uses permitted in the SP (or subareas or districts thereof), and will not introduce a new use that will cause substantial adverse effects upon the community; and

C. The use is not in conflict with the goals or intent of the SP.

Such determination shall be made in writing and shall be appended to the affected SP(s), as appropriate.

(ORD-20-0018 § 18, 2020)

CHAPTER 21.38 HORSE OVERLAY DISTRICT

21.38.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to establish reasonable and uniform regulations, safeguards and controls for keeping and maintaining horses within the City. The Horse Overlay (H) district shall be considered an overlay district and must be used in conjunction with an underlying use district. Except for the supplemental regulations related to the keeping of horses described in this Chapter, all other uses shall comply with the regulations applicable to the underlying district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.38.110 Permitted uses.

Table 38-1 indicates all uses permitted (Y) and not permitted (N) in the Horse Overlay district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

Abbreviations: Y = Permitted N = Not permitted

21.38.120 Prohibited uses.

All uses not listed in Table 38-1 as permitted uses shall be prohibited.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.38.201 Number of horses permitted.

Table 38-2 indicates the number of horses permitted within various underlying districts. In all districts, no horse shall be kept on any lot containing less than eight thousand (8,000) square feet of gross lot area.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

Number of Horses Permitted

District	Number of Horses Permitted
R-1	Not more than one horse for each 2,500 square feet of lot area; and/or Not more than five horses on any one lot
R-2, R-3, R-4	Not more than one horse for each 2,500 square feet of lot area
All other districts	Not more than one horse for each 1,000 square feet of lot area

21.38.203 General.

The provisions of Sections 21.38.205 through 21.38.245 shall be the supplemental development standards in horse overlay districts.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.205 Stalls required.

Each horse kept on the premises shall be provided with a permanent covered stall. The number of stalls shall not exceed the permitted number of horses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.210 Permitted location.

Stables, stalls and corrals shall be confined to the rear fifty percent (50%) of the lot. Corrals shall not be allowed in side yard areas.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.215 Distance from residential units.

A distance of at least one hundred feet (100') shall be maintained between all stable or stall walls and any dwelling unit on adjacent or abutting lots. Corrals shall not be allowed within twenty-five feet (25') of any residence.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.220 Distance from property line.

A minimum distance of ten feet (10') shall be maintained between any property line and any stable, stall or corral.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.225 Distance from accessory structures.

Stable wails with openings and stalls shall maintain a minimum distance of ten feet (10') from any other accessory structure. However, solid stable walls may be attached to accessory structures provided that both structures receive adequate light, air and ventilation.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.230 Construction requirements—Stalls and stables.

All stables and stalls shall be constructed in a manner which allows them to be kept in a clean and sanitary condition. Exterior walls shall be constructed in the same manner as is required for permanent buildings. All stables shall have a solid, fixed roof.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.235 Construction requirements—Corrals.

Corrals shall be completely enclosed by fences or stables not less than five feet, six inches (5'6") in height. All gates shall have latching devices.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.240 Parking requirements.

Parking shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.245 Landscaping.

The area between any corral or stable and any property line shall be landscaped and maintained in a neat and healthy condition. One (1), fifteen (15) gallon tree shall be planted for each thirty (30) linear feet of property line adjoining a public right-of-way. See Chapter 21.42 for additional landscaping requirements.

(ORD-10-0031, § 5, 2010; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.38.250 Nonconforming stables and corrals.

Property owners keeping horses within designated horse overlay districts shall bring their properties into full compliance with the requirements of this Chapter not later than April 17, 1981. Property owners keeping horses outside a horse overlay district shall discontinue such use not later than October 17, 1982.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.39 HIGH-RISE OVERLAY DISTRICT

21.39.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to establish special building height limits to allow taller, highrise buildings to locate outside the downtown area.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.39.020 Building height restrictions.

Building height restrictions within the high-rise overlay district shall be indicated on the zoning map by the high-rise overlay designation followed by a number indicating the maximum allowable height in feet, a slash, and then a number indicating the maximum number of building stories allowed, such as "CO (HR-60/6)."

Where no numbers are indicated on the zoning map, the height in both feet and stories shall be determined and specified during site plan review.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.39.030 Applicable districts.

The Commercial office (CO), commercial corridor (CC), commercial tourist (CT), commercial storage (CS), and institutional (I) districts are the only districts appropriate for the high rise overlay zone.

(ORD-25-0011 § 1, 2025; Ord. C-6684 § 5, 1990)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.39.110 Permitted uses.

Any use permitted in the underlying zoning district shall be permitted in the high-rise overlay district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.39.210 General provisions.

Section 21.39.220 sets forth special development standards for buildings in a high-rise overlay district permitted to exceed the height limits established for the underlying district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.39.220 High-rise restrictions.

A. Building Height. Development shall not exceed the building height restrictions indicated on the zoning map as described in Section 21.39.020 above.

B. Lot Size. A minimum lot size of twenty thousand (20,000) square feet and a minimum lot dimension of one hundred thirty-five feet (135') in any direction are required for any proposed building greater than forty-five feet (45') in height.

C. Yards. The yard areas indicated in Table 39-1 shall be required for all buildings more than forty-five feet (45') in height. The yards shall be clear of all structures from the ground to the sky, except as otherwise permitted by provisions of this Title regulating building projections.

D. Landscape Buffer. All lots with buildings greater than forty-five feet (45') in height shall require a landscaped buffer on all four (4) sides of the building.

E. Other Standards. For all other development standards, the standards for the underlying district shall apply.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.39.230 Residential use.

When the high-rise overlay is applied to a district which allows residential, any building containing primarily residential use shall be allowed the applicable density of the R-4-H zone.

(Ord. C-6684 § 6, 1990)

High-Rise Yard Requirements

Yard	Required Setback
1. Yards abutting a street [(a)]	20 ft.
2. Yards abutting residential district[(b)]
a. If building height less than or equal to 45′	Same as underlying district
b. If building height greater than 45′	1/5 of the building height, but total setback not to exceed fifteen (15) percent of the lot width or depth as applicable
3. Yards abutting nonresidential district	Same as underlying district

[(a)] An average setback for yards abutting a street shall be allowed through the Site Plan Review process, provided no building encroaches more than ten feet (10') into the required setback. For purposes of establishing an average setback, no portion of a building setback more than thirty feet (30') may contribute to the average setback calculation.

[(b)] Includes residential district across an alley.

(ORD-19-0003 § 1, 2019)

CHAPTER 21.40 HEIGHT LIMIT OVERLAY DISTRICT (HL)

21.40.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to establish special building height limits in areas of the City where lower scale development is desired to maintain neighborhood character.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.40.020 Building height restrictions.

Building height restrictions within the Height Limit Overlay (HL) district shall be indicated on the zoning map by the overlay designation (HL) followed by a number indicating the maximum allowable height in feet, a slash, and then a number indicating the maximum number of building stories allowed, such as "R-3-3(HL 20/2)." Where no numbers are indicated on the zoning map, the height in both feet and stories shall be determined and specified during site plan review.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION I.

PERMITTED USES

21.40.110 Permitted uses.

Any use permitted in the underlying zone district shall be permitted in the building height overlay district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.40.210 General provisions.

Section 21.40.220 sets forth special development standards for buildings with height limits lower than those permitted in the underlying zone district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.40.220 Lower height limits.

A. Building Height. Development shall not exceed the building height restrictions indicated on the zoning map as described in Section 21.40.020 above.

B. Other Standards. For all other development standards, the standards of the underlying zone district shall apply.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.41 OFF-STREET PARKING AND LOADING REQUIREMENTS

DIVISION I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

21.41.110 Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to establish regulations for parking and loading to ensure that vehicle traffic and loading activities associated with a use do not interfere with circulation on public rights-of-way or circulation within required parking areas and to ensure that an adequate number of parking spaces is provided to serve the use of a specific site without causing traffic congestion.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.120 Applicability.

The provisions of this Chapter shall apply to all proposed and established land uses, buildings and structures and shall be the minimum standards for all off-street parking and loading.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.140 Building permit.

An application for a building permit shall include a plot plan indicating the location of the proposed parking and loading, all structures on the lot, the location of all public improvements in the adjoining right-of-way, the location of driveways and curb cuts on adjoining properties and such other information as is requested to properly evaluate the adequacy of the required parking and the suitability of curb cuts to the site.

A. Residential Uses. In all new residential developments, all required parking shall be provided on the same site as the dwelling unit or units.

B. Other Uses. Required parking may be located on an adjacent lot, provided the parking lot conforms to Section 21.41.222 of this Chapter. If any required parking is not located on the same lot as the proposed construction, the applicant shall submit an affidavit, signed by the owner of the lot on which the parking is proposed, indicating an irrevocable right to use the lot for the parking.

(Ord. C-6895 § 19, 1991: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.150 Maintenance.

All parking facilities and loading areas shall be maintained in a neat and orderly condition and shall be clear of obstruction by any object including appliances, hobby equipment, storage of nonoperational vehicles, and the like.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.160 New construction and uses.

All new construction and new uses of land shall provide off-street parking and loading according to the provisions and requirements of this Chapter.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.165 Change of use for building more than ten years old.

A. No new parking shall be required for changes of use of any existing square footage within a building more than ten (10) years old.

B. This Section shall not apply to the following uses: hotel, motel, inn, bed and breakfast inn, other transient lodging, and event center.

21.41.170 Established uses.

The provision and maintenance of required off-street parking and loading facilities and areas, and of area available to the owner or user of real property for meeting minimum required parking standards, shall be a continuing obligation of the property owner and user, therefore, the number of existing off-street parking and loading spaces shall not be reduced, or in any other way modified, below the standards required by the Zoning Regulations except as otherwise provided by this Section, or elsewhere in the Zoning Regulations, or as required by the Building Official to comply with disabled access or electric vehicle charging parking space requirements.

A. Reduction prohibited. An owner or user of real property containing uses for which off-street parking or loading facilities or areas are required by the Zoning Regulations, shall not reduce, diminish, or eliminate existing required off-street parking or loading facilities or areas under the ownership or control of such owner or user, whether on the same lot or on a separate lot from the use requiring such off-street parking or loading facilities or area; nor shall an owner or user sell, transfer, lease, or otherwise make unavailable for such required off-street parking or loading facilities or area any portion of the lot or of any adjacent lot under the same ownership or control, if the same is necessary for and available to satisfy, in whole or in part, the off-street parking or loading requirements imposed by the Zoning Regulations.

B. Exception for unbundled parking. In accordance with Section 1947.1 of the California Civil Code, as amended, for a residential building containing 16 or more dwelling units, for which the initial certificate of occupancy is issued on or after January 1, 2025, and for which parking is unbundled from the price of rent as required by Civil Code Section 1947.1, any parking space not rented to the tenant of a dwelling unit to which it would otherwise be bundled, may be rented to the tenant of another residential dwelling unit or non-residential tenant space on the same lot or parcel, or to the tenant of another residential dwelling unit on another lot or parcel if the off-site location complies with the distance requirement of Subsection 21.41.222.A. However, each tenant shall have the right of first refusal to rent the parking space which would otherwise be bundled to the tenant's unit. This exception shall not apply to the following circumstances:

1. A residential property or unit with an individual garage that is functionally a part of the property or unit, including, but not limited to, single-family dwellings, duplexes, townhouses and row houses.

2. A housing development of which 100 percent of its units, exclusive of any manager's unit or units, are restricted by deed, regulatory restriction contained in an agreement with a governmental agency, or other recorded document as affordable housing for persons and families of low or moderate income, as defined in Section 50093 of the California Health and Safety Code.

3. A housing development that receives low-income housing tax credits pursuant to Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. Sec.42).

4. A housing development that is financed with tax-exempt bonds pursuant to a program administered by the California Housing Finance Agency.

21.41.175 Exemption from parking minimums.

No minimum number of vehicular parking spaces shall be required by the Zoning Regulations or any Planned Development District or Specific Plan for any lot or parcel that is within, or partially within, the Parking Exempt Area, as established in Section 21.41.180, subject to the following exceptions and additional requirements:

A. Vehicular parking only. This Section shall apply only to vehicular (automobile) parking requirements.

B. Continuing applicability of development standards. This Section shall in no way lessen or reduce the applicability of any other zoning development standard specified for parking and loading in the Zoning Regulations, including but not limited to parking space dimensions, turning radius, and drive aisle and driveway widths.

C. Continuing applicability of EV charging and ADA requirements. For any multi-family residential or non-residential project, this Section shall not reduce, eliminate, or preclude the enforcement of any requirement for the provision of electric-vehicle (EV) parking spaces or infrastructure ("EV charger," "EV space," "EV charging station," and "EV supply equipment," as these terms are used by the Building Official, as amended from time to time), or parking spaces that are accessible to persons with disabilities, where such spaces otherwise would be required.

D. Inapplicability to specific uses. This Section shall not apply to the following uses: hotel, motel, inn, bed and breakfast inn, and other transient lodging.

E. Event center employee and worker parking. For an event center, parking spaces shall be provided for employees and other workers as required by the Zoning Regulations.

F. Inapplicability by findings. This Section shall not apply to any project for which the City makes written findings within 30 days of receipt of a completed application, that not imposing or enforcing parking and/or loading minimums would have a substantially negative impact, supported by a preponderance of evidence in the record, on any one of items 1 through 3 below:

1. The City's ability to meet its share of the regional housing need in accordance with Section 65584 of the Cal. Gov't Code for low- and very low-income households.

2. The City's ability to meet any special housing needs for the elderly or persons with disabilities identified in the analysis required pursuant to paragraph (7) of subdivision (a) of Section 65583 of the Cal. Gov't Code.

3. Existing residential or commercial parking within one-half mile of the proposed project.

4. This Subsection 21.41.175.F shall not apply to housing projects in any of the following circumstances:

    a. The proposed project dedicates a minimum of 20 percent of the total number of housing units to very low, low, or moderate-income households, students, the elderly, or persons with disabilities.

    b. The proposed project contains fewer than 20 dwelling units.

    c. The proposed project is subject to parking reductions based on the provisions of any other applicable law.

G. Inapplicability to contractual obligations. This Section shall not apply to parking requirements for non-residential uses if it would conflict with an existing contractual obligation of the City that was executed before January 1, 2023, provided that all of the non-residential parking is shared with the public. This exemption also shall apply to any contractual obligation amended on or after January 1, 2023, provided that the amendment(s) do not increase the non-residential parking requirement. A project also may build or provide additional parking that is not shared with the public for purposes of this Subsection 21.41.175.G.

H. Requirements applicable to voluntary parking. For any project to which this Section applies, any parking or loading space that is provided above and beyond the requirements of this Section shall be subject to any other applicable requirements under the Zoning Regulations, including but not limited to Transportation Demand Management (TDM) measures, alternate mobility requirements, project conditions of approval, and the like, except that any parking space provided above and beyond the requirements of this Section shall not be required to be provided to residents free of charge.

21.41.180 Parking Exempt Area Map adopted.

There shall be a Parking Exempt Area Map depicting the geographic area of the City to which Section 21.41.175 applies. The Zoning Administrator shall direct the production and maintenance of this map in accordance with Cal. Gov't Code Section 65863.2 (aka AB 2097), as amended, and shall update this map periodically or as necessary. The Parking Exempt Area Map shall be on file in the office of the Department of Community Development, and said map and all notations, references and other information shown on it, are incorporated by reference and shall be deemed as much a part of this Title as if the matters and information set forth by the map were fully described in this Chapter.

21.41.185 Exemption from loading minimums.

No minimum number of loading spaces shall be required by the Zoning Regulations or any Planned Development District or Specific Plan for any lot or parcel that is within, or partially within, the Parking Exempt Area, as established in Section 21.41.180, in the same manner as exemption from a minimum number of parking spaces is set forth in Section 21.41.175 and with the same exceptions and additional requirements, and subject to the following additional exceptions and additional requirements:

A. Inapplicability to specific uses. This Section shall not apply to the following uses:

1. Daycare, preschool, or elementary school, except that on-street loading spaces may be substituted for the required off-street loading spaces if approved by the Director of Public Works or City Traffic Engineer,

2. Hotel, motel, inn, bed and breakfast inn, other transient lodging,

3. Manufacturing, packing, industrial assembly, or warehousing uses greater than 3,000 sq. ft.,

4. Medical or dental office, or hospital, if more than 50 off-street parking spaces would be required by the Zoning Regulations before any exceptions,

5. Public assembly,

6. Retail, service, or office commercial if more than 50 off-street parking spaces would be required by Zoning Regulations before any exceptions,

7. Supermarket, grocery-, drug-, variety-, department-, furniture-, hardware- or appliance store, or shopping center greater than 10,000 sq. ft. GFA, or

8. Event center.

B. Loading required before additional parking.

1. Required loading spaces shall be provided prior to addition or designation of any parking spaces beyond the minimum parking requirements of this Chapter, after exceptions.

2. If the site, except event centers, has no off-street parking spaces to be converted to loading spaces after provision of the minimum parking requirements of this Chapter, after exceptions, the applicant shall request the Director of Public Works to designate the appropriate type and number or length of curb loading space(s) in the public right-of-way adjacent to the lot or parcel, if feasible.

21.41.190 Driveway and curb cut replacement after parking removal.

If existing parking and loading spaces are completely removed (e.g., demolition of a garage or removal of parking area) from a lot or parcel under the authority of Sections 21.41.175 and/or 21.41.185, then any driveway and other paved area that served the removed parking or loading also shall be removed, and landscaping shall be installed in accordance with the requirements of Chapter 21.42. Any curb cut(s) that served the driveway(s) shall be closed and reconstructed to full-height curb and gutter, as required by Section 21.41.253. This Section shall not apply if the reason for removal of the parking or loading spaces is for conversion of the space in question to an Accessory Dwelling Unit, Junior Accessory Dwelling Unit, or Two-Unit Residential Development (aka SB 9 unit).

(ORD-24-0033 § 9, 2024)

DIVISION II.

PARKING REGULATIONS

21.41.206 Parking—Nonconforming.

Nonconforming parking shall comply with the provisions of Chapter 21.27, Nonconformities, of this Title.

(Ord. C-7663 § 26, 1999: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.209 Parking—Rental or sale of residential parking.

Required parking for all residential uses shall be considered an inseparable part of a residential unit or development, and required parking shall not be rented or sold, except as provided by Section 21.41.170.

21.41.213 Parking—Garage required.

A. Garage Required. In all residential districts, all required parking spaces shall be provided within an enclosed garage in accordance with the development standards as specified in Section 21.31.245 (garage).

B. Exception. Open parking may be permitted through site plan review for projects of forty (40) units or more at densities of twenty-nine (29) units per acre or less. If exceptions are granted to permit open parking, open parking shall comply with the same development standards as a garage.

(Ord. C-6933 § 30, 1991: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.216 Parking—Required number of spaces.

Tables 41-1A, 41-1B and 41-1C set forth the number of parking spaces required for specific land uses. Parking spaces required for multiple uses on a lot shall be calculated separately for each use, and the parking required shall be the sum of all that required for all such uses, unless otherwise permitted by Section 21.41.223 of this Chapter. In calculating the number of required spaces, fractional numbers shall be rounded up to the closest whole number.

(Ord. C-7550 § 9, 1998; Ord. C-7326 § 18, 1995; Ord. C-7247 §§ 18-20, 1994; Ord. C-7127 § 4, 1993; Ord. C-7032 § 28, 1992; Ord. C-6933 § 31, 1991; Ord. C-6755 § 2, 1990; Ord. C-6684 §§ 27, 28, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

Required Number of Parking Spaces for Residential Uses

Number of Units/Bedrooms[e]	Number of Spaces per Unit[a]	Coastal Zone Only
Unit Parking
-0 bedrooms (not more than 450 sq. ft.)	1.00	1.00
-1 or more bedrooms (or zero bedrooms, 451 sq. ft. or more)	1.50	2.00
-2 bedrooms or more	2.00	2.00
Guest parking [b][c][d][e]	1 space/4 units	1 space/4 units

(a) In the RM district, not more than 11/2 spaces per unit shall be required.

(b) The number of guest parking spaces indicated above in the table shall be the minimum number of guest parking spaces required in any residential district.

(c) Guest parking shall be required when 4 or more detached or attached dwelling units (including existing units on the site) are proposed as one development.

(d) When Allowed On Street. On-street parking abutting the lot shall be considered as guest parking according to the standards for parallel parking spaces when all access to on-site parking is taken from an alley and the site is outside of the parking-impacted area. On-street parking abutting the site may not be considered as guest parking when the street is a major, minor or secondary highway.

(e) In calculating required parking spaces, all rooms other than 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 kitchen, and bathrooms shall be calculated as bedrooms.

Required Number of Parking Spaces for Special Residential Uses

Use	Required Number of Spaces
1. Handicapped[(a)]
-Low rent	1 space per each 2 bedrooms
-Market rent	1 space per each 1 bedroom
2. Senior citizen [(a)]
-Low rent	1 space per each 2 bedrooms
-Market rent	1 space per each 1 bedroom
-Congregate care, low rent	1 space per each 2 bedrooms
-Congregate care, market rent	1 space per each 1 bedroom
3. Convalescent hospital	1.2 spaces per room, or 0.6 space per bed, whichever is greater, plus 5 per 1,000 SF-GFA for medical office in building
4. Residential care facility	1 space per bed
5. Fraternity, sorority, dormitory	1 space per bed
6. Monastery, convent, communal, religious home and other special group residences	1 space per each 2 beds

(a) The Planning Commission may further reduce the parking standards to 1 space per 3 bedrooms if it finds that the neighborhoods in which the facility is proposed has ample, readily available on-street parking or is well-served by public transportation and a concentration of senior services.

NOTES: (A) Outdoor dining located on public sidewalks require approval of an encroachment permit issued by the Department of Public Works. Further, within the City's Coastal Zone, a coastal permit is required for all outdoor dining located on public rights-of-way.

21.41.219 Parking requirements for uses not specified and for large shopping centers.

The requirement for a use not specifically mentioned in Tables 41-1A, 41-1B and 41-1C shall be the same as for a use specified which has similar traffic generating characteristics. The Zoning Administrator shall determine what constitutes similar traffic generating characteristics. For unique uses, the Zoning Administrator may require a parking demand study. The parking demand study should be prepared by an independent traffic engineer licensed by the State of California at the developer's expense and must be submitted to the Director of Planning and Building and the Director of Public Works for review and approval. Shopping centers of one hundred fifty thousand (150,000) square feet or more may submit a parking demand study, as outlined above, in order to reduce the standard shopping center ratio.

(Ord. C-7326 § 19, 1995: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.221 On-site parking required—Residential uses.

For all residential uses, all required off-street parking shall be provided on the project site, except certain guest parking may be permitted on the street as indicated in Table 41-1A.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.222 Off-site parking.

For commercial, industrial and institutional use, required parking may be provided off-site according to the following limitations:

A. Distance from Use. All off-site parking shall be located within six hundred feet (600′) of the use it serves, unless otherwise provided in the Zoning Regulations. This distance shall be measured from the middle of the parking facility to the entrance of the use (main front door of the building, or main entrance to the lot or parcel if there is no building), using the shortest route legally available to a pedestrian. This distance requirement shall not apply within the former downtown redevelopment project area, the former westside industrial redevelopment project area, parking facilities built to service the former redevelopment project areas, or in parking districts.

B. Guaranteed Permanence. All off-site parking shall be guaranteed to remain as parking by a deed restriction to which the City is a party. This guarantee is not required within the former downtown redevelopment project area, the former westside industrial redevelopment project area, or within a parking district.

C. Signing. An illuminated sign, not less than six (6) square feet in area, visible from the public right-of-way and in conformance with Chapter 21.44, shall be placed on each street frontage of both the business location and the off-site parking location, stating the following:

1. At the business: The availability and address or location of the off-site parking for the business, and

2. At the off-site parking location: The name and address or location of the business for which the parking is provided.

21.41.223 Adjustment of parking requirements.

The minimum number of required parking spaces for a nonresidential use may be reduced subject to approval of an Administrative Use Permit (AUP) when the Zoning Administrator finds that adequate parking, circulation and access are provided for customers, clients, visitors and employees. Adjustments shall be limited to one or more of the methods set forth in items A, B, and C below:

A. Parking Management Plan. A parking management plan may be approved by the Zoning Administrator if the applicant provides Transportation Demand Management (TDM) measures to reduce vehicular parking demand as specified in Subsection 21.41.223.D. The parking management plan shall include the following:

1. Plans shall show how the alternative mode(s) will be implemented, the permanency and extent of such mode(s), the number of vehicles the mode(s) will replace, and other pertinent information requested by the Director of Community Development or the Zoning Administrator;

2. A covenant deemed acceptable by the Zoning Administrator shall be duly recorded, with the City a party thereto. This covenant shall designate the method by which adequate parking will be provided as required by this Subsection 21.41.223.A.

B. Shared Parking Agreement. A shared parking agreement may be approved by the Zoning Administrator. When two (2) or more uses share a parking facility, and when demonstrated by a signed affidavit that the hours of their demand for parking do not overlap, or only partially overlap, then the parking requirement may be reduced by the Zoning Administrator. A covenant deemed acceptable by the Zoning Administrator shall be duly recorded, with the City a party thereto.

C. Parking Study. An independent parking study, provided by the applicant and prepared by a licensed traffic engineer, may be accepted by the Zoning Administrator. The parking study shall substantiate or justify a request for reduction in parking, or outline alternative methods to provide adequate parking, circulation and access for a particular development. The parking study shall be subject to review by the Zoning Administrator and City Traffic Engineer to determine the merits of the alternative strategies.

D. Transportation Demand Management (TDM) measures provided for purposes of this Section shall include the following:

1. For projects under 25,000 sq. ft. total GFA (and including GLA of outdoor uses), the following shall be provided:

a. Bicycle parking:

(i) For retail, personal service, medical, professional service, restaurant, bar/tavern, health/fitness/dance, and similar uses with a regular traffic of customers, one short-term on-site bicycle parking space may be substituted for one auto parking space, up to a maximum of 20% of the required auto parking spaces.

(ii) For professional office, industrial, and other uses with no or only incidental traffic of customers, one long-term on-site bicycle parking space may be substituted for one auto parking space, up to a maximum of 30% of the required auto parking spaces.

b. Bicycle route and facility information, including regional/local bicycle maps and bicycle safety information,

c. Current maps, routes and schedules for public transit routes serving the site,

d. Promotional materials for taxi and/or ridesharing services, in a location most visible to the likely users, within the project building or on the project site,

e. Varied hours of work shifts, subsidized transit passes, or similar employee benefit measures to offset demand for employee parking.

f. All sidewalks, curb and gutter, and driveway aprons/curb cuts in the public right-of-way adjacent to the project site shall be upgraded to meet the current requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works,

g. Any cracked, deteriorated, or uplifted/depressed sections of sidewalk pavers and curb and gutter along all public rights-of-way adjacent to the project site shall be reconstructed to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works, and

h. Alternative TDM measures may be proposed and analyzed through a Parking Impact Study and approved as set forth in Subsection 21.41.223.C (Parking Study).

2. For projects of 25,000 sq. ft. or greater total GFA (and including GLA of outdoor uses), the following shall be provided:

a. The requirements of Subsection 21.41.223.D.1 shall be met,

b. The TDM requirements of Chapter 21.64 (summarized in Table 25-1) shall be met,

c. An off-site parking or drop-off area for electric scooters, e-bikes, or a bike-share service shall be located within 300 feet of the project building entrance using the shortest legal route available to a pedestrian. If none is present, the applicant shall submit a request to the Director of Public Works for the establishment or designation of one of said facilities.

d. Any nonconforming driveway aprons/curb cuts shall be reconstructed to conform to the requirements of Chapter 21.41 to the greatest extent feasible, to the satisfaction of the Director of Community Development and the Director of Public Works.

(ORD-24-0033 § 21, 2024; Ord. C-7247 § 21, 1994; Ord. C-6684 § 29, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.224 Parking District.

When the property owners of a contiguous commercial or mixed-use district have established a parking district pursuant to the laws of the State of California, that parking district may develop a parking plan for the district. When such a plan, along with the financial arrangements to implement the plan, has been approved by the Planning Commission, or, on appeal, by the City Council, such plan shall supersede the parking requirements specified in the Zoning Regulations.

(ORD-24-0033 § 10, 2024)

21.41.226 Special parking requirements for CNP district.

The number of required parking spaces for uses in the CNP zone district are specified as follows:

A. In area D of the coastal zone (Second Street, between Livingston Drive and Bayshore Avenue), the parking in the CNP district shall be one-half (1/2) of the parking required in Chapter 21.41, Table 41-1C. In all other areas of the coastal zone and outside the coastal zone, parking in the CNP district shall be as required in Chapter 21.41, Table 41-1C. Any new parking provided, or reconfiguration of existing parking facilities, in area D of the coastal zone can utilize tandem parking subject to the provisions of Subsection 21.41.235.B of the tandem parking regulations.

1. Restaurants. The one-half (1/2) parking standard shall not apply to restaurants (new and reuse/conversion of existing nonrestaurant lease spaces) which shall conform to full parking standards. This Subsection does not apply to ready to eat restaurants (as defined in Section 21.15.2332), which may utilize the one-half (1/2) parking standard.

2. Determination of nonconforming rights. Owners of properties with nonconforming parking rights within area D of the coastal zone may apply for site plan review to obtain a determination of nonconforming parking rights. Such determination will establish the number of nonconforming spaces that applies to the property at the time of the request and will allow the property to maintain nonconforming parking rights to the established number of spaces regardless of change in use of the existing buildings.

B. Outdoor dining. In area D of the coastal zone (Second Street, between Livingston and Bayshore), outdoor dining on private property shall require the same parking as required for indoor dining.

C. Within established parking district. If the site to be developed or expanded is located within a parking district established pursuant to the laws of the State of California or local ordinances, the required parking spaces shall be provided as follows:

1. For a new development on a lot with gross lot area less than five thousand (5,000) square feet, or for any expansion of an existing building, the development may, in lieu of providing all or part of required off-street parking on-site or within six hundred feet (600′) of the site, pay a fee to the parking district based on the cost of providing such parking. The amount of the in lieu fee shall be established by the City Council by resolution and shall be reviewed periodically to assure its adequacy to cover the cost of providing parking under this provision.

2. For a new development on a lot with gross lot area of five thousand (5,000) square feet or more, a minimum of fifty percent (50%) of the required parking shall be provided on the site, or within six hundred feet (600′) of the site. The remaining required parking may be provided by an in lieu fee as described above.

3. All existing parking provided for or leased by any business shall hereinafter be the minimum required for the existing use on that site. If the parking now required exceeds that established pursuant to Subsection 21.41.226.A, the parking now provided may not be reduced below that required in Table 41-1C.

(ORD-05-0039 § 1, 2005; Ord. C-7777 § 2, 2001; Ord. C-7619 § 4, 1999; Ord. C-7247 § 22, 1994: Ord. C-6684 § 30, 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.228 In lieu fees.

Fees may be paid in lieu of providing the required on-site or off-site parking provided:

A. The site is located in an established parking district or redevelopment project area;

B. The in lieu fee represents the estimated current cost of providing the parking place in the applicable district. Such fees shall be adopted by City Council resolution, and shall be updated each two (2) years.

(Ord. C-6595 § 26, 1989)

21.41.229 Parking—Residential uses in commercial zones.

Residential uses in commercial zones shall provide parking spaces as provided for in Tables 41-1A and 41-1B as applicable.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.231 Parking—Size of spaces.

Parking spaces shall be of the sizes and meet such other requirements as set forth in Table 41-2 and as illustrated in Figures 41-1A, 41-1B, 41-1C and 41-1D.

(Ord. C-7040 § 2, 1992; Ord. C-6895 § 20, 1991: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.232 Parking—Electric vehicle space and charging station requirements.

Outside the coastal zone, parking shall comply with Chapter 18.47 of the Long Beach Municipal Code with regard to electric vehicle space and charging station requirements. In the coastal zone, for a building containing three or more dwelling units or a hotel that is constructed, demolished or rebuilt a building site, at least twenty-five percent (25%) of the total number of parking spaces, but in no case less than one, shall be EV spaces capable of supporting future EVSE and five percent (5%) of the total number of parking spaces but in no case less than one (1), shall have EV chargers installed. Calculations for the required number of EV spaces shall be rounded up to the nearest whole number.

21.41.233 Tandem parking—Residential uses.

A. Tandem parking spaces shall be prohibited for required parking except:

1. For valet parking with approval through site plan review;

2. For low income units when projects include ten percent (10%) or more of the units as on-site low income units;

3. For the provision of required parking for an accessory dwelling unit, and for required replacement of parking for the primary dwelling when a garage is converted or existing parking spaces are otherwise eliminated to create an accessory dwelling unit.

B. For tandem parking allowed in Subsection 21.41.233.A.2, the following standards shall be complied with:

1. Not more than two (2) spaces shall be involved in the tandem arrangement;

2. Both spaces in the tandem arrangement shall be assigned to the same dwelling unit;

3. Handicapped and guest parking shall not be in tandem;

4. Tandem parking shall not be allowed in a parking garage of less than ten (10) parking spaces or when the full turning radius for the tandem parking is not within the garage.

C. For tandem parking allowed in Subsection 21.41.233.A.3 for an accessory dwelling unit, up to three (3) spaces may be in tandem.

(ORD-17-0031 §§ 18, 19, 2017; Ord. C-7607 §§ 3, 17, 1999; Ord. C-6933 § 33, 1991: Ord. C-6684 § 31, 1990; Ord. C-6593 § 1, 1989: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.235 Tandem parking—Industrial/manufacturing uses and area D of the coastal zone (Second Street, between Livingston Drive and Bayshore Avenue).

A. Tandem parking serving an industrial or manufacturing use shall only be in areas specifically designated for employee long-term parking. In area D of the coastal zone (Second Street, between Livingston Drive and Bayshore Avenue) the tandem parking shall be for general use of employees and customers. Such parking shall only be located on the same site as the use for which the parking is provided.

B. Tandem parking, where permitted, shall comply with the following standards:

1. Not more than two (2) spaces shall be allowed in tandem.

2. Handicapped parking shall not be in tandem.

3. No more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the required parking spaces shall be permitted to be in tandem.

(Ord. C-7619 § 5, 1999: Ord. C-7360 § 13, 1995)

21.41.239 Parking fee—Nonresidential use.

A fee may be charged for required parking for nonresidential uses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.243 Parking lot layout.

Figures 41-1A, 41-1B, 41-1C, and 41-1D illustrate typical parking lot layouts and the minimum dimensions required for each type of layout. Development standards for parking lots are set forth in this Section and Sections 21.41.251 through 21.41.269.

A. Turning radii. Table 41-3 and figure 41-1E establish minimum turning radii for various parking space types and parking lot layouts. Turning radii may be reduced by one foot (1′) for each additional foot that is added to the width of the garage space, provided that:

1. The garage door width is widened by an equal amount; and

2. The maximum turning radii reduction is two feet (2′).

B. Continuous circulation. All lots containing one hundred (100) or more spaces shall provide continuous vehicle circulation. Dead end aisles are prohibited in such lots.

C. Passenger loading. All parking lots containing one hundred (100) or more spaces shall provide an eight foot (8′) wide passenger drop off lane adjoining the building entrance.

D. Pedestrian walkway. A covered pedestrian walkway shall be provided adjoining the building entrance. The walkway shall be at least four feet (4′) wide and shall provide direct access to a public sidewalk.

E. Slope. Parking area shall not have a slope more than one foot (1′) vertical for each sixteen feet (16′) of horizontal dimension perpendicular to the vehicle parking.

F. Pedestrian crossing. All parking lots containing one hundred (100) or more spaces shall provide pedestrian crossings outside of vehicle circulation areas. The crossings shall be at least six feet (6′) wide and shall link the building to the street property line.

G. Drive-thru lanes. No parking space shall be located so that it is accessible only via a drive-thru queuing lane.

H. Parking Exits. Parking must be designed to provide for exiting without backing into the street. However, backing into the street may be permitted in the IM and IG districts on lots five thousand (5,000) square feet or less in size where parking area access occurs onto a local or collector street, as designated in the transportation element of the general plan. Such parking area access shall be subject to the approval of the City Engineer and the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-7360 § 5, 1995; Ord. C-7326 § 20, 1995: Ord. C-6684 § 32, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.246 Parking—Access.

Each parking space, with the exception of tandem and valet spaces, shall be independently accessible.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.249 Parking area improvements.

Sections 21.41.251 through 21.41.269 indicate the minimum improvements which shall be provided in all parking areas.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.251 Driveways and curb cuts.

A. Driveways—Minimum Widths. All uses shall provide a paved driveway from the required parking space(s) to the public street or alley of at the least minimum width specified in Table 41-4. A greater width may be required where the Director of Public Works determines it is beneficial to the public safety or traffic circulation.

B. Driveways and Curb Cuts—Maximum Number and Widths. The maximum number and widths of driveways and curb cuts shall be as specified in Table 41-5. Wider driveways may be allowed on regional arterials, arterials, principal streets or collector highways where the Director of Public Works determines a greater width will be beneficial to public safety or traffic flow. The following special conditions shall also apply:

1. Separation between driveways on same site - twenty feet (20′) of full height curb;

2. Separation between driveways on adjoining sites - twenty feet (20′) of full height curb (unless width of site precludes compliance, then twenty feet (20′) shall be maintained on at least one (1) side);

3. Combined driveways - joint use driveways between sites shall be allowed for adjoining sites provided not less than eight feet (8′) of driveway is provided on each site.

C. Driveway and Curb Cut Permit. When issuing a driveway and/or curb cut permit, the City Engineer shall specify in the permit the location and dimensions of the driveway and the permittee shall comply with the provisions of the permit in the construction of the driveway.

D. Driveway Locations in Nonresidential Zones. The following requirements shall apply to all non-residential zones, and mixed-use zones that are primarily commercial in nature.

1. Two-Way Driveways. Such driveways shall be located not less than ninety feet (90′) from any intersection for all lots with one hundred twenty-five feet (125′) or more of street frontage. For lots with less than one hundred twenty-five feet (125′) of street frontage, the driveway shall be located not less than two-thirds (⅔) of the width of the lot from the intersection.

2. One-Way Driveways. Such driveways shall be located not less than thirty-five feet (35′) from any intersection. A one-way driveway is a driveway that allows only a right turn in, or a right turn out. Both in and out movements are not allowed in the same one-way driveway.

E. Driveway Locations in Residential Zones. All driveways shall be located not less than thirty feet (30′) from any intersection, except lots less than thirty feet (30′) in width without alleys, then no restriction shall apply other than those contained in Subsection B of this Section.

F. Driveway Slopes—All Uses. No driveway or parking ramp shall have a slope of more than one foot (1′) of vertical rise for each seven feet (7′) of horizontal length.

G. Driveway Clearance. All driveways shall have a minimum clearance of seven feet (7′) from the driving surface to any overhead obstruction. No projections in this area shall be allowed. This provision shall not apply to the driving area inside a parking structure where the requirements of the Uniform Building Code shall apply. Where higher clearance is required for handicapped access, the provisions for handicapped access shall apply.

H. Driveway Locations in Industrial Zones.

1. Driveways Accessing a Local or Collector Street. Driveways which access a Local or Collector street, as designated in the Transportation Element of the General Plan, shall be located such that the edge of the access driveway shall be either at least five feet (5′) from the end of the curb return or at least twenty-five feet (25′) from the intersection of two (2) non-arterial streets, whichever is greater. If the nearest intersection includes an Arterial or greater street, then the regulations of Subsection H.2 below shall apply.

2. Driveways Accessing Arterial and Regional Corridor Streets.

   a. Two-Way Driveways. For lots with one hundred twenty-five (125) or more feet of street frontage, two-way driveways shall be located not less than ninety feet (90′) from any intersection. For lots with less than one hundred twenty-five feet (125′) of street frontage, the driveway shall be located not less than two-thirds (⅔) of the width of the lot from the intersection.

   b. One-Way Driveways. One-way driveways shall be located not less than thirty-five feet (35′) from any intersection. Movements shall be restricted to either right turns in or right turns out.

I. Residential Curb Cuts and Driveways - Legal Parking Space and Garage Requirement.

1. Legal parking space required. A curb cut and driveway shall lead to a legal parking space on a lot or parcel, either in a garage or as open parking permitted by Section 21.41.281 and Figure 41-3.

2. Garage required. If a garage is required by Section 21.41.213 or another applicable regulation, no new curb cut or driveway shall be permitted that does not lead to a garage.

   a. Exception if no garage is feasible. On a residential lot with four or fewer existing principal dwellings and no existing garage, if construction of a garage is not feasible, but a conforming curb cut, driveway, and legal parking space(s) could be constructed according to this Section and Table 41-5, no garage shall be required, and the legal parking space(s) shall be counted toward the parking requirement.

   b. Subsection 21.41.251.I.2.a shall not apply if any principal dwelling on the lot is proposed to be or has been demolished either in conjunction with the proposed curb cut/driveway, or as a causative reason for the proposed curb cut/driveway, in which case it shall be presumed that a garage is feasible.

J. Curb cut measurement. Measurement of the width and other relevant dimensions of a curb cut and driveway apron(s) shall be taken in accordance with the procedures established by the Director of Public Works or City Traffic Engineer.

(ORD-24-0033 § 22, 2024; Ord. C-7360 § 14, 1995; Ord. C-7032 § 29, 1992; Ord. C-6895 §§ 21, 22, 1991; Ord. C-6822 § 17, 1990: Ord. C-6684 §§ 33, 34, 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.253 Parking areas—Curb cuts.

A curb cut clearance shall be obtained from the Public Works Department and shall be submitted with an application for a building permit. For any nonresidential use with more than a fifty foot (50′) frontage on a street, no curb cut shall be permitted within thirty-five feet (35′) of an intersection. All unused curb cuts shall be replaced with a full height curb and gutter. For purposes of this Section, "unused curb cut" shall mean any curb cut not used to access required parking that has been approved by the City. The Zoning Administrator may determine when an unused curb cut may remain when justified by existing conditions on the site, including but not limited to:

A. Properties in Historic Districts;

B. Properties in Parking-Impacted Areas;

C. Properties with permitted Accessory Dwelling Units;

D. Properties with non-conforming uses.

Notes:

a. Minimum width of the alley from site to public street.

b. This shall only apply in parking impacted areas. In R-1 and R-2 zones, outside of parking impacted areas, one driveway, 20 feet wide is allowed. In all residential zones within parking impacted areas, nonconforming driveways may be maintained provided that the driveway leads to a legal parking space.

c. No access shall be allowed to an arterial highway from a lot in a residential zone.

d. On corner lots, in residential zones, where both streets are classified as regional arterials, arterials, principal streets or collector streets, driveway(s) shall be limited to the lower classified street.

e. The City Engineer may adjust the width of the permitted curb cuts by up to 4 feet, if such an increase would be beneficial to the public safety.

(ORD-19-0011 § 9, 2019; ORD-05-0038 § 1, 2005: Ord. C-6684 § 35, 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.256 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-10-0031 § 7, adopted Oct. 12, 2010, repealed § 21.41.256, entitled "Parking areas-Landscaping," and derived from: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988.

21.41.257 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-10-0031 § 7, adopted Oct. 12, 2010, repealed § 21.41.257, entitled "Parking areas-Landscaping in IG and IP zones," and derived from: Ord. C-7360 § 15, 1995.

21.41.259 Parking areas—Lighting.

All parking lots and garages shall be illuminated with lights directed and shielded to prevent light and glare from intruding onto adjacent sites. The light standards shall not exceed the height of the principal use structure or one foot (1′) for each two feet (2′) of the distance between the light standard and the nearest property line, whichever is greater. All lights shall be illuminated to the applicable standards of the Illuminating Engineers Society.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.261 Parking areas—Markings.

All parking spaces shall be clearly marked by pavement painting. Compact and handicapped parking spaces shall be marked additionally by pavement painting and signage indicating the type of space as required by Chapter 10.34 (Parking for Handicapped Persons in Public Places) of the Long Beach Municipal Code. All aisles with only compact spaces shall provide a sign at the aisle entrance stating that only small cars are permitted.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.263 Parking areas—Paving.

The entire driveway and vehicle parking, storage and loading areas for all uses shall be improved and surfaced with a paving material not less than three and one-half inches (3½") thick of solid asphaltic or concrete paving or equivalent hard surface to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Building and Safety.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.266 Parking areas—Screening.

A. Adjacent to Residential Zones. Whenever a parking lot abuts or is adjacent to a residentially zoned property, a solid masonry wall not less than six feet, six inches (6′6″) in height shall be provided. The wall shall be constructed along the entire parking lot property line. However, any such wall adjoining the front yard setback of the residential property shall not exceed three feet (3′) in height.

B. Adjacent to Residential Zone Across an Alley. Where a parking lot abuts or is adjacent to a residential district across an alley, broad leaf evergreen trees, at least fifteen (15) gallon in size, shall be planted fifteen feet (15′) on center.

C. Adjoining Public Street. Wherever a parking lot adjoins a public street, a solid masonry wall three feet (3′) in height shall be provided. A solid, compact evergreen hedge may be used instead, provided:

1. The hedge shrubs are not less than two feet (2′) tall when planted; and

2. The hedge shrubs are planted not more than two feet (2′) on center.

Alternatively, a combination planter/hedge or berm/hedge may be used, provided:

3. The planter or berm is at least eighteen inches (18″) high; and

4. The shrubs, when planted, are at least one foot (1′) high.

D. Wall Composition. All screen walls shall be attractively designed with pilasters, caps and a painted or plastered finish as required by the Director of Planning and Building.

E. Screening Not Required. No screening shall be required when a parking lot adjoins an alley and the alley is used to provide direct access to head-in parking.

F. Screening—R-3 and R-4 Zones. In R-3 and R-4 zoning districts, parking lots and parking structures facing a public street shall be screened by a solid wall five feet (5′) in height and a solid garage door.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.269 Parking areas—Wheel stops.

Each parking stall located adjacent to a building, fence, wall or landscaping shall provide a wheel stop as shown on Figure 41-2. Wheel stops shall be constructed of concrete or other materials, as approved by the Superintendent of Building and Safety. No vehicle shall be permitted to overhang required landscaped areas behind wheel stops.

(Ord. C-7247 § 23, 1994: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.273 Parking structures.

A. Secured. All parking structures shall be designed and improved to allow them to be completely secured.

B. Landscaping. An attractive landscaping strip shall be provided along any public street in accordance with the landscaping requirements of this Chapter.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.276 Recreational vehicle parking—Residential districts.

A. Size Limitation. No recreational vehicle which exceeds seven (7) tons in dry weight, thirty-six feet (36′) in length or eleven feet, six inches (11′6″) in height, not including rooftop equipment, shall be parked, stored or loaded on a residentially zoned lot.

WHEEL STOPS

B. Storage and Loading—Location. Permitted recreational vehicles may be parked, stored or loaded in any location in which passenger vehicles may be parked, stored or loaded, unless otherwise restricted. Further, recreational vehicles may be parked, stored or loaded in locations where passenger vehicles may not be parked, stored or loaded, provided that no other location on the site ordinarily available for vehicle parking can accommodate the recreational vehicle because access to those locations is blocked by a permanent building element such as a structural wall, an eave or a roof. These locations are:

1. In areas blocking access to required parking spaces, provided that the spaces being blocked are for a single-family dwelling only and the owner of the recreational vehicle resides in that dwelling; and

2. In the side yard setback area, provided that:

   a. The recreational vehicle is located as far as physically feasible from the side lot line, consistent with requirements for light and ventilation into adjoining rooms.

   b. The recreational vehicle is located as far to the rear of the lot as is physically consistent with maintaining access to the garage.

C. Boats and Camper Shells. Boats and camper shells, if parked in areas visible from public rights-of-way, shall be mounted on licensed, operative vehicles.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.279 Recreational vehicle parking and storage—Nonresidential districts.

A. Parking. Recreational vehicle parking shall be permitted in the same manner as passenger vehicle parking.

B. Storage. Outdoor storage shall be permitted consistent with the outdoor storage provisions contained in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards) of this Title.

C. Overnight Parking Prohibited. Recreational vehicles shall not be occupied and parked overnight in any parking lot in a commercial district. Under no circumstances shall a recreational vehicle be used for living, sleeping, eating or entertaining.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.281 Vehicle parking in residential setbacks.

A. Front Yard. No vehicle shall be parked in the front yard setback, except on the driveway, or on a paved area between the driveway and the nearest side property line, and/or as provided in Section 21.41.276 for recreational vehicles. No vehicle shall be stored in the front yard setback.

B. Side and Rear Yard. Open parking in the side or rear yard setback shall comply with the provisions for garages in R-1 and R-2 zones, which are stipulated in Section 21.31.245.

C. Permitted parking areas on residential lots shall be as illustrated in Figure 41-3.

(Ord. C-7326 § 21, 1995; Ord. C-7127 § 5, 1993: Ord. C-7032 § 30, 1992: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.283 Parking and storage of inoperative, dismantled or wrecked vehicles—Residential districts.

Inoperative, dismantled or wrecked vehicles may be stored as an accessory use in residential districts subject to the following:

A. The storage is limited to a maximum of two (2) such inoperative, dismantled or wrecked vehicles.

B. The storage shall be fully screened from public view.

C. The storage shall occur in the rear fifty percent (50%) of the lot and shall not block the required vehicular access to the garage.

D. The storage shall occur on a fully paved surface (Section 21.41.263).

E. Inoperative, dismantled or wrecked vehicles stored in violation of these regulations shall be removed or stored in compliance with these regulations within sixty (60) days of the effective date hereof.

(Ord. C-7776 § 4, 2001: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.286 Drive-up and drive-thru facilities.

Drive-up and drive-thru facilities shall be developed in accordance with Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards) of this Title.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION III.

LOADING REGULATIONS

21.41.310 Loading—Required.

In addition to off-street parking spaces, off-street loading spaces shall be provided for uses in all zoning districts as set forth in Sections 21.41.320 through 21.41.370, except as otherwise provided by the Zoning Regulations.

3. Reduced truck	12 feet	25 feet	12 feet

(Ord. C-7360 § 6, 1995)

21.41.315 Loading—Change of Use.

No new loading spaces shall be required for changes of use of any existing square footage within a building more than ten (10) years old, subject to the following:

A. Conversion of parking to loading. If the lot or parcel is exempt from parking minimums per Section 21.41.175, or the change of use is exempt from parking requirements per Section 21.41.165, existing off-street parking spaces may be converted into loading spaces in accordance with the development standards for loading spaces in Sections 21.41.320 through 21.41.370, if necessary to meet the loading requirements of this Chapter. No more than the code-required number of loading spaces shall be provided through conversion of off-street parking spaces if the number of existing parking spaces is nonconforming. Conversion of parking spaces to loading spaces for purposes of this Section shall require the applicant to obtain the approval of the Director of Community Development, by submitting a site plan depicting the proposed arrangement of parking and loading spaces.

B. On-street loading spaces. If no off-street parking spaces may be converted to loading spaces, the applicant shall request the Director of Public Works to designate the appropriate type and number or length of curb loading space(s) in the public right-of-way adjacent to the lot or parcel, if feasible.

C. Inapplicability to specific uses. This Section shall not apply to the following uses: hotel, motel, inn, bed and breakfast inn, other transient lodging, and event center.

(ORD-24-0033 § 11, 2024)

21.41.320 Loading—Size of spaces.

There shall be two (2) sizes of loading spaces as specified in Table 41-6.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.330 Loading—Number of spaces.

The minimum number of loading spaces provided shall be as set forth in Table 41-7.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.340 Loading—Location.

All loading areas shall be located outside of required aisles or other circulation areas. Loading areas shall not be located in any required yard area which is adjacent to a residential district.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.345 Loading—Backing into street.

On lots which are located ninety (90) or more feet from the intersection of two (2) non-arterial streets, and which provide access to loading areas from a local or collector street, as defined in the Transportation Element of the General Plan, the loading areas may be designed to allow trucks to back into the local or collector street subject to the approval of the Director of Public Works.

(Ord. C-7360 § 16, 1995)

Table 41-7
Required Number of Loading Spaces

Use	Number of Spaces	Type of Spaces
1. Daycare, elementary school	2 loading and unloading spaces	Required off-street parking space posted for passenger loading
2. Hotel	2 loading and unloading spaces	Required off-street parking space posted for passenger loading
3. Manufacturing, packing, assembly, warehousing	a) 0—3,000 SF, 0 spaces	n/a
	b) 3,001—10,000 SF, 1 space	Reduced truck
	c) 10,001—40,000 SF, 1 space plus 1 space for each additional 40,000 SF, for each individual user	Truck
4. Medical or dental office, hospital	5 per 100 off-street parking spaces, if more than 50 off-street spaces required	Required off-street parking space posted for passenger loading
5. Public assembly	1 per 100 off-street parking spaces, if more than 50 off-street spaces required	Required off-street parking space posted for passenger loading
6. Retail, service or office commercial	1 per 100 off-street parking spaces, if more than 50 off-street spaces required	Required off-street parking space posted for passenger loading
7. Supermarket, grocery, drug, variety, department, furniture, hardware or appliance store, or shopping center	a) from 0 to 10,000 SF-GFA, 0 spaces	Truck
	b) from 10,001 to 40,000 SF-GFA, 1 space	Truck
	c) from 40,001 to 160,000 SF-GFA, 2 spaces	Truck
	d) over 160,000 SF-GFA, 3 spaces	Truck

Abbreviations: SF= square feet
GFA = gross floor area

(Ord. C-7399 § 11, 1996; Ord. C-7360 § 7, 1995; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.350 Loading—Turning radius.

All loading areas shall be located to provide an adequate turning radius. Adequate turning radius means one which allows a vehicle to maneuver without backing into a street or without backing into the loading space from a street.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.360 Loading—Screening.

All truck loading spaces shall be separated from adjoining, abutting or adjacent residential districts by a building or masonry wall not less than six feet (6′) in height.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.41.370 Loading docks.

Loading docks shall be provided for all uses that require truck loading spaces and that contain more than forty thousand (40,000) square feet of gross floor area in a single lease over ownership area. All loading docks shall be designed and improved in such a way as to allow them to be completely secured.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.42 LANDSCAPING STANDARDS*

21.42.010 Purpose.

Landscapes are intended to improve the physical appearance of the City by providing visual, ecological, and psychological relief in the urban environment. Successfully designed and maintained landscape areas provide an attractive living, working, and recreating environment in addition to their role in reducing water and energy consumption.

(ORD-10-0031 § 6, 2010)

21.42.020 Landscaping required.

The provisions of this Chapter shall be the minimum requirements for the provision and maintenance of landscaped areas.

(ORD-10-0031 § 6, 2010)

Editor's note—ORD-10-0031, § 6, adopted Oct. 12, 2010, amended Ch. 21.42 to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 21.42, §§ 21.42.010—21.42.060, pertained to similar subject matter and derived from: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988; Ord. C-6895 § 23, 1991; Ord. C-6933 § 34, 1991; Ord. C-7032 §§ 31, 48, 1992; Ord. C-7065 §§ 1, 2, 1992; Ord. C-7326 §§ 22, 23, 31, 1995; Ord. C-7360 §§ 12, 17, 1995; Ord. C-7399 §§ 12, 13, 1996; and ORD-09-0034 § 1, 2009.

21.42.030 General requirements.

The following requirements shall apply to all zoning districts:

A. Landscaped Area. All required yards and setback areas shall be attractively landscaped primarily with drought tolerant and native plant materials. Decorative non-living materials such as brick, stone, art, fountains and ponds may be used within the landscaped area provided such materials present an attractive setting consistent with the intent of these landscaping requirements. All landscape areas shall be completely planted or covered. "Landscape area" means all the planting areas, turf areas, and water features in a landscape design plan subject to the Maximum Applied Water Allowance calculation. The landscape area does not include footprints of buildings or structures, sidewalks, walkways, driveways, parking lots, decks, patios, and other non-irrigated areas designated for non-development (e.g., open spaces and existing native vegetation).

1. A complete Landscape Document Package showing the Estimated Total Water Usage (ETWU) of all proposed plantings falling below the property's specific Maximum Applied Water Allowance (MAWA), as specified in the Landscape Document Package application, shall be required. Selected plants shall not cause the estimated water use to exceed the landscape project's water budget.

2. Non-permeable paving and non-permeable artificial turf shall not cover more than thirty percent (30%) of on-site area that is not covered by structures, driveways, and approved parking pads. To help with on-site stormwater retention and filtration along with reducing the urban heat island effect, the use of permeable and high reflectance paving materials is encouraged.

3. Live plant material shall cover a minimum of fifty percent (50%) of any front setback area.

4. Mulch shall be applied on all exposed soil surfaces of planting areas except in turf areas and areas of creeping or rooting groundcovers to retain soil moisture, regulate soil temperature, suppress weed growth, and improve landscape aesthetics.

5. Compacted soils shall be transformed to a friable condition prior to any planting to aide proper on-site drainage and soil moisture retention.

6. Water-efficient landscape irrigation systems on automated timers and sensors shall be used and abide by all applicable Long Beach Water Department water use prohibitions.

7. Large canopy trees shall be used to help minimize urban heat island effect.

8. Projects shall be designed to minimize or eliminate use of turf.

9. Recirculating water systems shall be used with decorative water features. Where available, recycled water shall be used as a water source.

10. Plants with similar water needs shall be planted together in distinct hydrozones based on their water, soil, sun and shade requirements. Where irrigation is required, plants with different water needs shall be irrigated with separate values. Plant groupings that mix high and low water use plants shall not be permitted.

11. The use of infiltration beds, swales, and basins that allow water to collect and soak into the ground; and retention ponds that retain water, handle excess flow and filter pollutants are highly encouraged in the landscape design.

12. The use of invasive plant species, such as those listed by the California Invasive Plant Council, shall be prohibited in the Coastal Zone.

B. Maintenance. All landscaped and paved areas shall be maintained in a neat, attractive, orderly and water efficient condition. All paved areas, walls and fences shall be in good repair without broken parts, holes or litter. Dead or diseased plants shall be removed and replaced with plant materials that comply with the provisions of this Chapter.

C. Plans Required. When applicable, a Landscape Document Package shall be approved prior to the issuance of any planning or building permit. For projects proposing landscape area coverage with a minimum of ninety percent (90%) very low to low water use plantings, ETWU and MAWA calculations are not required in the Landscape Document Package submittal. Applicable landscaping, irrigation, planter drainage, water reuse, retention and filtration improvements shall be implemented before any final building and planning inspection is approved.

D. An applicant proposing any new or rehabilitated landscape for a project subject to the requirements of Section 21.42.035 shall prepare and submit a Landscape Document Package at the time of project plan check filing. The Landscape Document Package shall contain the following components:

1. MWELO Project Checklist;

2. Water Efficient Landscape Worksheet;

3. Landscape Design Plan;

4. Irrigation Design Plan;

5. Grading Plan;

6. Soil Management Report.

Approval of the Landscape Document Package shall be required prior to the issuance of building permits and before landscaping is installed. Residential and non-residential projects with an aggregate landscape area of two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet or less may comply with prescriptive compliance measures identified in the MWELO Project Checklist of the Landscape Document Package. Following landscape installation, a Certificate of Completion signed by the professional of record for the landscape and irrigation design certifying that the project was installed per the City-approved Landscape Document Package shall be filed with Development Services. The Certificate of Completion must be deemed approved before a Certificate of Occupancy is issued.

21.42.035 Special requirements for Water Efficient Landscaping.

The following water efficient landscaping standards are in place to promote the conservation and efficient use of water in response to ongoing drought conditions:

A. Applicability.

1. Pursuant to the State Water Conservation in Landscaping Act (AB1881), the following projects shall comply with the water efficient landscaping standards set forth by the State Model Water Efficient Landscape Ordinance (MWELO):

   a. All projects which require the issuance of a Site Plan Review. All projects requiring Site Plan Review shall file a conceptual MWELO Project Checklist, Water Efficient Landscape Worksheet, and Landscape Design Plan at the time of application submittal. Approval of a conceptual landscape proposal demonstrating compliance with all applicable MWELO provisions shall be required prior to the issuance of a Notice of Final Action. Approved conceptual landscape proposals must be developed into final landscape plans subject to the requirements of Section 21.42.030 after Notice of Final Action issuance but prior to building permit application filing;

   b. New residential, commercial, industrial, institutional and public agency landscape projects with an aggregate landscape area equal to or greater than five hundred (500) square feet requiring a landscape plumbing permit;

   c. Rehabilitated residential, commercial, industrial, institutional and public agency projects with an aggregate landscape area equal to or greater than two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet requiring a landscape plumbing permit;

   d. Cemeteries. Recognizing the special landscape management needs of cemeteries, new and rehabilitated cemeteries are limited to Sections 492.4, 492.11 and 492.12; and existing cemeteries are limited to Sections 493, 493.1 and 493.2 of the California Code of Regulations Title 23, Chapter 2.7, Model Water Efficient Landscape Ordinance;

   e. Existing landscapes are limited to Sections 493, 493.1 and 493.2 of the California Code of Regulations Title 23, Chapter 2.7, Model Water Efficient Landscape Ordinance; and

   f. Public facilities and public right-of-way.

2. The requirements of this Chapter shall not apply to the following projects:

   a. Registered local, State or federal historical sites;

   b. Landscape projects not connected to the public water system;

   c. Ecological restoration projects that do not require a permanent irrigation system; or

   d. Plant collections, as part of botanical gardens and arboretums open to the public.

3. Special landscaped areas including sports fields, golf courses, and playgrounds where turf is the surface utilized for recreational use may require water exceeding the Maximum Applied Water Allowance (MAWA). As such, justification must be provided in the submittal documentation outlining specific hydrozones needed for additional water exceeding the MAWA. Turf shall be limited to areas utilized for high recreation areas while the perimeter areas shall utilize drought-tolerant and native plants in hydrozones (very low water and low water use).

4. Orchards, community gardens and nurseries may require water exceeding the MAWA. As such, justification must be provided in the submittal documentation outlining specific hydrozones needed for additional water exceeding the MAWA.

5. Edible plant gardens may comprise up to ten percent (10%) of total landscaped area. Edible plant gardens in excess of ten percent (10%) but not exceeding twenty percent (20%) of total landscaped area shall use an adequately sized rain barrel or other water retention system for garden irrigation.

21.42.040 Landscaping standards for R-3, R-4 and Nonresidential Districts.

A. Applicability. All portions of a lot not paved or occupied by a structure shall be attractively landscaped. All required set back areas shall be landscaped unless used for a permitted use.

B. Landscape Area Requirements. A minimum number of plants shall be provided as follows:

1. On-Site Street Frontage.

   a. Within the required setback area along all street frontages, except at driveways, a minimum five-foot (5') wide landscaping strip (inside dimension to planter) shall be provided. This area shall be landscaped with one (1) tree for each fifteen (15) linear feet of street frontage and three (3) shrubs for each tree.

   b. Sites with more than one hundred feet (100') of street frontage shall also provide one (1) tree of not less than thirty-six inch (36") box size for each one hundred feet (100') of street frontage.

   c. Planters. All on-site landscaped areas adjoining the public right-of-way shall be located in planters not less than three inches (3") high. The planters shall be designed to drain back onto the private property and not directly onto the public right-of-way. When required, tree-wells shall be sized to allow full growth of proposed trees within the public right-of-way.

2. Parking Lots.

   a. One (1) canopy tree shall be provided for each four (4) open parking spaces. Trees may be clustered provided the fifty percent (50%) tree canopy shade coverage of all parking stall and related drive aisle areas, after ten (10) years of growth, is achieved. A minimum of one (1) cluster for each one hundred feet (100') of a row or double row of parking spaces shall be provided.

b. A minimum four foot (4') by four foot (4') planter size shall be provided to allow full growth of proposed trees.

c. Screening Required. A three-foot (3') tall masonry wall, landscaped berm, or hedge shall be provided in the event parking areas abut a street frontage. See Subsection 21.41.266.C for requirements.

d. Wheel Stops. No vehicles shall be permitted to overhang required landscaped areas behind wheel stops. See Section 21.41.269 for requirements.

3. Parking Structures.

a. An attractive six-foot (6') wide landscaping strip shall be provided on all sides of the structure except at driveways and walkways. One (1) tree shall be provided for each twenty feet (20') of perimeter of the structure in addition to required screening when abutting a residential district, school, or a street frontage. Trees bordering the parking structure shall be of a species that will obtain a mature height of not less than the height of the structure. The trees shall be of a species or shall be located or trimmed in such a way as to prevent people from using them to gain unauthorized access to otherwise secured areas.

b. Abutting Residential Zone, School, or Public Street. All sides of a parking structure abutting a residential zone, school or public street shall be screened by vines or other decorative screen approved by the Director of Development Services.

c. Wheel Stops. No vehicles shall be permitted to overhang required landscape areas behind wheel stops. See Section 21.41.269 for requirements.

4. Yards and Parking Lots Near Residential District and Schools.

a. Residential (R-3, R-4), Commercial, Mixed-Use, and Light Industrial (IL) Districts. A minimum five foot (5') wide landscaped strip shall be provided as a buffer along all yard areas abutting or adjacent to an alley, a residential district or school. This area shall be planted fifteen feet (15') on center with broad leaf evergreen trees and minimum twenty-four inch (24") box size.

b. Medium Industrial (IM), General Industrial (IG) and Port-related Industrial (IP) Districts. A minimum fifteen foot (15') wide landscaped strip shall be provided along the full extent of the property line between the two (2) districts. This area shall be landscaped with one broad leaf evergreen tree, of minimum twenty-four inch (24") box size, for each fifteen (15) linear feet along the property line, as well as appropriate shrubs and groundcover.

5. Landscaping Over Parking Garages and Other Green Roofs.

a. Landscaped areas on top of parking garages or other green roofs shall factor in the structural integrity of the building;

b. The landscaped areas shall be identified as requiring shallow soils (extensive) or deep soils (intensive);

c. Extensive green roofs shall contain less than six inches (6") deep of soil to promote plant growth;

d. Intensive green roofs shall contain deeper soils to support a deeper layer of growing medium; and

e. Landscaping over parking garages and other green roofs shall contain irrigation and maintenance measures.

6. Other Yard Areas. There shall be a minimum of one (1) tree provided for each one hundred twenty-five (125) square feet of other required yard area on the lot. In addition, there shall be a minimum of three (3) shrubs provided per tree.

7. Fences and retaining walls. All required fences and retaining walls shall be landscaped with vines planted no more than ten feet (10') on center on all accessible sides of a wall or alternative plant materials approved by the Director of Development Services.

C. Plant Size. All the required plant materials shall be not less than the following sizes:

1. Trees. For required on-site trees, at least twenty-four inch (24") box and seven foot (7') in height;

2. Shrubs. For required shrubs, at least five (5) gallons; and

3. Mulch. A minimum of three-inch (3") mulch shall be applied on all exposed soil services of landscaped areas.

D. Substitutions. The following substitutions for required landscaping materials may be made subject to approval of the Director of Development Services:

1. Three (3) fifteen (15) gallon trees for one (1) twenty-four inch (24") box tree;

2. One (1) thirty-six inch (36") box tree for two (2) twenty-four inch (24") box trees;

3. One (1) forty-eight inch (48") box tree for four (4) twenty-four inch (24") box trees;

4. One (1) twenty-four inch (24") box tree for five (5) five (5) gallon shrubs; and

5. Five (5) one (1) gallon shrubs for one (1) five (5) gallon shrub.

E. Planting Distance Between Trees. Adding the diameter of two (2) adjacent tree canopies and dividing by two (2) shall determine planting distance between two (2) trees. Distance between trees shall not be less than fifteen feet (15') or greater than twenty-five feet (25').

F. Plant Height. Plant height shall not exceed three feet (3') in corner cutoff areas.

G. Green Building Development Standards. In addition to the above requirements, projects requiring Site Plan Review shall comply with the Green Building Development Standards located in Section 21.45.400.

H. Exceptions. The Site Plan Review Committee may waive any of the landscape standards if it finds that such changes will create a more functional, water or energy efficient, sustainable or cohesive design. (ORD-19-0028 § 23, 2019; ORD-10-0031 § 6, 2010)

21.42.050 Landscaping standards—Public right-of-way (Parkway).

A. Responsibility. Pursuant to the requirements of this Chapter, the owner of private property adjoining the public right-of-way shall be responsible to plant, install and maintain landscaping in the area between the curb and the private property line for the entire frontage of the property. For any landscaping or paving in the parkway that does not conform or comply with the requirements of this Chapter, the City of Long Beach shall not be responsible for any loss or damage to such landscaping or paving materials in the parkway, such as cast-in-place concrete or paving units set on concrete, associated with street, curb or sidewalk repairs, or any other municipal repair or maintenance function.

B. Street Trees.

1. Provision of Trees. One (1) large canopy street tree, of not less than twenty-four inch (24") box size, shall be provided for each twenty-five feet (25') of property line length whenever a new dwelling unit is added to the adjoining property or new development requiring discretionary approval, Site Plan Review, or a fence built under the special fence height provisions. Such street tree shall be of a species approved by the Director of Public Works and shall be provided with root barriers and irrigation according to the specifications of the Director of Public Works.

2. Exceptions. Street trees shall be spaced a reasonable and safe distance from driveways, light standards, intersections, utility poles and street furniture and shall be located only in the prescribed width of parkway at least thirty inches (30") wide between the sidewalk and curb. An in-lieu fee shall be provided for any tree required in Subsection 21.42.050.B.1 that is not allowed by these. Such fee shall be established by the City Council by resolution and shall only be used for planting street trees in other locations that do comply with these standards. Such fee shall be paid to the Director of Public Works, and shall be based on the actual cost to the Department of Public Works to obtain and plant a tree.

3. Removal. No street tree shall be removed unless found by the Director of Public Works to be dead, dying, or a public hazard due to damage to curb, gutter, sidewalk or roadway or potential for falling, or for replacement of trees in an approved street tree program. Such approval shall be recorded with the Department of Development Services before the tree is removed.

C. Parkway Landscaping.

1. Provision of Landscaping. The area between the sidewalk and the curb and between the sidewalk and the private property line, if any, shall be landscaped primarily with live plant material and maintained in a neat and healthy condition. Nonliving material and decorative elements may be used within the parkway in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter. The owner of private property adjoining the public right-of-way shall be responsible for planting and maintaining such landscaping. Sidewalk width shall be four feet (4') or, if adjoining the curb, five feet (5'), as provided in Chapter 20.08.

a. Applicability of additional requirements. At the time of new development involving Site Plan Review from the Planning Bureau or when a complete Landscape Document Package submittal is required, the Planning Bureau may place additional requirements for parkway landscaping beyond the above, e.g., requiring low to very low water usage plant materials, as defined by WUCOLS, over at least ninety percent (90%) of the total landscaped area.

2. Live Planting Material. Groundcover of not more than eight inches (8") in height, accent plantings or shrubbery not more than thirty-two inches (32") in height and street trees are the only plant materials allowed in the parkway. The planting of low-water demand and drought-tolerant plant materials shall be encouraged by the City of Long Beach. Grass (turf) and other high water use plants, characterized by a WUCOLS plant factor of 0.7 to 1.0, are prohibited in parkways and street medians. Trees shall be allowed in parkways and street medians with preference given to native, low water use trees. All irrigation systems shall limit water use to the maximum extent feasible. Automatic drip irrigation and similar low volume systems are encouraged and, if installed, shall be maintained so as to conserve water, and shall not cause water to runoff into the sidewalk or street or pond within the parkway. Use of reclaimed water for irrigation is encouraged. If permanent irrigation systems using potable water are included in the landscape plan, they shall use water conserving emitters (e.g., microspray) and drip irrigation only. Use of reclaimed water ("gray water" systems) and rainwater catchment systems are encouraged. Weather based irrigation controllers and, where feasible, other water conservation measures shall be required.

3. Nonliving Material. Permeable groundcovers that accept foot traffic, such as decomposed granite, inorganic and organic mulches, and modular paving units set on sand, are the only nonliving materials allowed in the parkway and shall not cover fifty percent (50%) or more of the total parkway area.

4. Decorative Elements. Decorative stone, wood or other elements that are smooth-surfaced are allowed in the parkway, and shall not project more than eight inches (8") above the surface.

5. Exceptions. The paving of the parkway shall be prohibited, except as follows:

a. Rights-of-way subject to major uses for commercial or retail purposes, or abutting a major arterial or regional corridor street as designated in the Transportation Element of the General Plan, may be paved for the full depth of the curb to property line area as determined by the City Engineer and the Director of Development Services;

b. The paving of the parkway is installed by a public utility, the City of Long Beach or another governmental agency for a public purpose;

c. The paving of the parkway is for a City-approved driveway;

d. A paved parkway was approved with the subdivision map for the property; or

e. A standards variance is approved. Such standards variance shall not require public notice and shall be charged the "mini-variance" fee.

6. Approval of Paving. If an exception is allowed, the parkway may be paved according to the specification of the Director of Development Services. Prior to paving the parkway, the adjoining property owner must obtain a street improvement permit from the Director of Public Works as provided in Chapter 14.08 of this Code.

D. Parkway Maintenance and Access.

1. Maintenance of Landscaping. The owner of private property adjoining the public right-of-way shall be responsible for planting and maintaining parkway landscaping free and clear of refuse, noxious weeds, hazardous materials and plants bearing thorns, stickers or other potentially injurious parts. Plants, mulches and inorganic groundcover materials shall not be allowed to overgrow or spill over the edge of the sidewalk or curb.

2. Maintenance of Traffic Lines of Sight. For purposes of pedestrian and vehicular safety, all parkway landscaping shall be maintained so as not to interfere with necessary vehicular or pedestrian traffic lines of sight, including views of traffic signage and signals and clear views of vehicles within the roadbed or exiting driveways. Such standards, which include limitations on taller landscape elements within street intersection areas, shall be determined by the City Engineer.

3. Access through Parkways.

a. In order to maintain access between the sidewalk and legally parked cars on the curb, a minimum eighteen-inch (18") wide strip or path that accepts foot traffic shall be maintained abutting and parallel to the curb adjacent to legal parking spaces. Additional space may be required as needed at public transit stops at the direction of the City Engineer.

b. In order to prevent obstructions to public access across parkways, continuous hedge-like plantings shall be prohibited. Single specimen shrubs or groupings of elevated landscape materials, including accent plantings or shrubbery of more than eight inches (8") in height, decorative rock and other elements, shall not extend more than six feet (6') along a parkway as measured parallel to the curb, and must be spaced at least thirty-six inches (36") apart as measured parallel to the curb.

c. The berming of earth or other landscape materials of more than twelve inches (12") in height above the sidewalk at its highest point, or the creation of a bioswale or depression of more than twelve inches (12") in depth at its lowest point, shall be prohibited.

d. Fencing of any kind shall be prohibited in parkways, except for curbing of not more than six inches (6") in height intended to contain groundcover material. (ORD-23-0052 § 6, 2023; ORD-19-0007 §§ 4—6, 2019; ORD-16-0028 § 11, 2016; ORD-10-0031 § 6, 2010)

21.42.060 Model Water Efficient Landscaping Ordinance Requirements.

A. Property owners or their building or landscape designers, including anyone requiring a building or planning permit, plan check, or landscape design review from the City, are constructing a new (Single-Family, Multi-Family, public, institutional, or Commercial) project with a landscape area greater than five hundred (500) square feet, or rehabilitating an existing landscape with a total landscape area greater than two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet, shall comply with Sections 492.6(a)(3)(B) (C), (D), and (G) of the MWELO, including sections related to use of Compost and mulch as delineated in this Section.

B. The following compost and mulch use requirements that are part of the MWELO are now also included as requirements of this ordinance. Other requirements of the MWELO are in effect and can be found in 23 CCR, Division 2, Chapter 2.7, and in LBMC Section 21.42.035.

C. Property owners or their building or landscape designers that meet the threshold for MWELO compliance outlined in the Section above shall:

1. Comply with Sections 492.6 (a)(3)(B)(C),(D) and (G) of the MWELO, which requires the submittal of a landscape design plan with a soil preparation, mulch, and amendments section to include the following:

a. For landscape installations, Compost at a rate of a minimum of four (4) cubic yards per one thousand (1,000) square feet of permeable area shall be incorporated to a depth of six (6) inches into the soil. Soils with greater than six percent (6%) organic matter in the top six inches (6") of soil are exempt from adding Compost and tilling.

b. For landscape installations, a minimum three inch (3") layer of mulch shall be applied on all exposed soil surfaces of planting areas except in turf areas, creeping or rooting groundcovers, or direct seeding applications where mulch is contraindicated. To provide habitat for beneficial insects and other wildlife up to five percent (5%) of the landscape area may be left without mulch. Designated insect habitat must be included in the landscape design plan as such.

c. Organic mulch materials made from recycled or post-consumer materials shall take precedence over inorganic materials or virgin forest products unless the recycled post-consumer organic products are not locally available. Organic mulches are not required where prohibited by local fuel modification plan guidelines or other applicable local ordinances.

2. The MWELO compliance items listed in this Section are not an inclusive list of MWELO requirements; therefore, property owners or their building or landscape designers that meet the threshold for MWELO compliance outlined in this Section shall consult the full MWELO for all requirements.

D. If, after the adoption of this ordinance, the California Department of Water Resources, or its successor agency, amends 23 CCR, Division 2, Chapter 2.7, Sections 492.6(a)(3)(B) (C), (D), and (G) of the MWELO September 15, 2015 requirements in a manner that requires City to incorporate the requirements of an updated MWELO in a local ordinance, and the amended requirements include provisions more stringent than those required in this Section, the revised requirements of 23 CCR, Division 2, Chapter 2.7 shall be enforced.

(ORD-21-0040 § 12, 2021)

CHAPTER 21.43 FENCES AND GARDEN WALLS

21.43.010 Permitted.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures in all zones, subject to the conditions and requirements set forth in this Chapter.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.43.020 Height limits.

Fence and garden wall heights shall not exceed the maximum heights set forth in Table 43-1. Fence heights shall be measured from grade adjoining the fence on the public right-of-way side of the fence (for fences adjoining the public right-of-way) and the average grade of both sides of the fence (for fences between two (2) private properties). For fences in flood hazard zones where the Building Code requires the finish floor of a building to be constructed at or above the top of the flood plain, fence height shall be measured from the top of the flood plain.

21.43.030 Prohibited fence and wall materials.

Barbed wire or similar fencing with sharp, protruding objects capable of cutting or puncturing a person is prohibited, except in the IM, IG, and IP Zones when located atop a fence more than six feet (6′) in height. In all other zones, such objects shall not be attached to, imbedded in, or laid upon any fence or wall. This restriction does not include decorative wrought iron.

(Ord. C-7360 § 11, 1995: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

Fence and Garden Wall Height Limits

Zone Districts	Maximum Permitted Height(a)
1. Residential
-Front yard	3 ft.[(b), (f)]
-Other yard area	6 ft. 6 in.
-Outside of required yard area	10 ft.
-Abutting a nonresidential district or use	8 ft.
-Abutting an alley, flood control channel, or other public right-of-way other than a street	8 ft.[(c)]
-Abutting a major arterial/regional corridor	8 ft.[(d)]
2. Commercial and industrial
-Within required street frontage setback	3 ft.[(e)]
-Abutting residential front yard	3 ft.
-Abutting residential side or rear yard	8 ft.
-Other yard	12 ft.

Zone Districts	Maximum Permitted Height(a)
3. Institutional
-Front yard	3 ft.
-Other yard	8 ft.
4. Park
-Within ten foot (10′) yard area abutting a public street	6 ft.[(g)]
-Other yard	12 ft.[(g)]
5. Public right-of-way	As determined by the City Engineer
6. All zones—corner cutoff area	3 ft.

(a) The limitations shall not apply in the following instances:

i) Where a greater height is required by any other City ordinance; or

ii) Where a greater height is required by a conditional approval of a permit pursuant to this Title or is required by State or Federal law; or

iii) Where a wall return of greater height is allowed;

iv) In corner cutoff areas, chain link and wrought iron/metal tubing fences more than three feet (3′) in height are allowed if they do not obstruct visibility.

(b) In the area designated as the special fence height area, as designated by resolution of City Council, the fence height in the front yard setback shall be increased to four feet (4′), provided the additional foot of height is wrought iron or chain link.

(c) Only applicable for rear and side lines that abut an alley or other public right-of-way other than a street, or a flood control channel.

(d) Only applicable for 1) a rear property line that abuts a regional corridor, boulevard, or major avenue as designated in the Mobility Element of the General Plan, and 2) side property line(s) of a reverse corner lot abutting a regional corridor, boulevard, or major avenue, and in a continuous formation with the rear property lines of the remainder of the block facing said right-of-way.

(e) Industrially zoned properties may construct a twelve foot (12′) high wrought iron/metal tubing fence within the required street frontage setback area.

(f) Fence height may exceed three feet (3′) in the front yard of residential lots located in high crime areas, through approval of an administrative use permit. (See Section 21.52.231.5 for criteria.)

(g) Wrought iron fences that exceed these height limits may be approved pursuant to site plan review for a development project, Section 21.25.508.

(ORD-19-0028 § 25, 2019; Ord. C-7607 §§ 13, 16, 1999; Ord. C-7378 § 18, 1995)

CHAPTER 21.44 ON-PREMISES SIGNS*

21.44.010 Purpose.

This chapter provides standards for on-premises signs to safeguard life, health, property, safety, and public welfare, including aesthetics and the visual environment, while encouraging creativity, variety, compatible design, and enhancement of the City's image. The City recognizes that the location, number, size and design of signs significantly influences the City's visual environment and the perception of the City's economic condition. The specific purposes of this chapter are to:

A. Provide each sign user an opportunity for effective identification by regulating the time, place, and manner under which signs may be displayed;

B. Maintain a content-neutral approach to sign regulation so as not to inhibit protected forms of freedom of expression;

C. Regulate the number and size of signs according to standards consistent with the purpose of the City's various zoning districts and the intent of the Zoning Regulations;

D. Protect all zoning districts from the adverse impacts of excessive numbers or sizes of signs, and signs of poor quality design;

Editor's note—ORD-13-0014 § 19(Att. A), adopted Sept. 3, 2013, amended Ch. 21.44 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 21.44 §§ 21.44.010—21.44.400, pertained to similar subject matter, and derived from Ord. C-6533, § 1(part), 1988; Ord. C-6595, § 12, 1989; Ord. C-6822 § 18, 1990; Ord. C-7032 §§ 3—35, 1992; Ord. C-7064, § 5, 1992; Ord. C-7326 § 24, 1995; Ord. C-7429 § 2, 1996; Ord. C-7500, §§ 8—17, 22, 23, 1997; Ord. C-7550, §§ 10—14, 19, 20, 1998; Ord. C-7617 § 3, 1999; Ord. C-7629, § 1, 1999; Ord. C-7663 §§ 27, 28, 36, 1999; and Ord. C-7776 § 5, 2001.

E. Encourage creative, well-designed signs that contribute in a positive way to the City's visual environment, and help maintain an image of quality for the City;

F. Ensure that signs are responsive to the aesthetics and character of their particular location (adjacent buildings and surrounding neighborhood), and that signs are compatible and integrated with their building's architectural character and design (including historic elements), and with other signs on the site; and

G. Ensure the quality of the City's visual environment and appearance by avoiding sign clutter, signs of excessive size, and signs of poor quality design, and by subjecting certain signs to the necessary discretionary processes.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.020 Accessory uses.

On-premises signs are permitted in all districts as accessory uses only, subject to the provisions outlined in this chapter.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.030 Sign permit required.

A. Required. A sign permit is required to display, enlarge, modify, relocate or change in any way, other than to perform general maintenance, repair or complete removal, an on-premises sign in any zoning district, unless such action is expressly exempted by this chapter.

B. Jurisdiction. The Department of Development Services shall be responsible for reviewing sign permit applications and issuing sign permits.

C. Filing of Application. Applications for sign permits shall be filed with the Director of Development Services on forms provided by the Department of Development Services. Filing fees, as established by resolution of the City Council, shall be filed with the application. Additional information shall be provided as required by the Director of Development Services.

D. Time Limit. Permits shall be used within one hundred eighty (180) days of issuance, otherwise they shall be null and void.

21.44.035 Discretionary processes.

A waiver from the provisions of these sign regulations may be considered through the procedures set forth in this Section. However, any prohibited signs, including those listed in Section 21.44.600 and any sign not specifically permitted, shall not be approved except through the provisions of Division III (Standards Variance) of Chapter 21.25—Specific Procedures.

A. Sign standards waiver. Repealed.

B. Creative sign permit.

1. This section establishes standards and procedures for the review and approval of Creative Sign Permits. The purposes of the Creative Sign Permit are to:

   a. Encourage signs of unique design that exhibit a high degree of imagination, inventiveness, spirit, and thoughtfulness; and

   b. Provide a process for the application of sign regulations in ways that will allow creatively designed signs that make a positive visual contribution to the overall image of the City, while mitigating the impacts of large or unusually designed signs.

2. Applicability. An applicant may apply for a Creative Sign Permit in order to request approval of development standards that differ from the provisions of this chapter, but comply with the purpose and findings of this section. However, the Creative Sign Permit process shall not be used to allow any prohibited sign type or feature.

3. Application. A Creative Sign Permit application shall include all information and materials required by the Department, and the filing fee as specified in a fee resolution to be adopted by the City Council.

4. Approval authority. An application for a Creative Sign Permit shall be subject to review and approval or disapproval by the Site Plan Review Committee, under the procedures set forth in Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures), Division V—Site Plan Review.

5. Findings. The Site Plan Review Committee shall not approve a Creative Sign Permit unless the proposed sign meets the following design criteria (in addition to the findings required in Chapter 21.25—Specific Procedures):

   a. Design quality. The sign shall:

      i. Constitute a substantial aesthetic improvement to the site and shall have a positive visual impact on the surrounding area;

      ii. Be of unique design, and exhibit a high degree of imagination, inventiveness, spirit, and thoughtfulness; and

      iii. Provide strong graphic character through the imaginative use of color, graphics, proportion, quality materials, scale, and texture.

   b. Contextual criteria. The sign shall contain at least one (1) of the following elements:

      i. Classic historic design style;

      ii. Creative image reflecting current or historic character of the City; or

      iii. Inventive representation of the logo, name, or use of the structure or business.

c. Architectural criteria. The sign shall:

i. Utilize or enhance the architectural elements of the building; and

ii. Be placed in a logical location in relation to the overall composition of the building's facade and not cover any key architectural features and details of the facade.

d. Impacts on surrounding uses. The sign shall be located and designed not to cause light and glare impacts on surrounding uses, especially residential uses.

C. Sign Program.

1. This section establishes standards and procedures for the review and approval of Sign Programs. The purpose of a Sign Program is to:

a. Ensure that all signs on a subject property are of complementary style and design, and are compatible with the architecture and theme of the property,

b. Provide a process for the review of said signs to ensure that new developments or major remodels achieve the highest quality of design by complementing the development with high-quality signs, and

c. Establish special sign criteria and standards for a given property when such additional regulation or waivers from the provisions of this chapter are considered appropriate and beneficial.

2. Applicability. Application for a Sign Program shall be required for the following:

a. Any sign application submittal for five (5) or more new or replacement signs (not including minor, exempt, or temporary signs) intended to be placed on a site,

b. Any new commercial, industrial or, institutional building(s), c. Any new mixed-use development with three (3) or more nonresidential tenant spaces, and

d. Any residential project consisting of five (5) or more new dwelling units.

3. Application. A Sign Program application shall include all information and materials required by the Department, and the filing fee as specified in a fee resolution to be adopted by the City Council.

4. Approval authority. An application for a Sign Program shall be subject to review and approval or disapproval by the Site Plan Review Committee, under the procedures set forth in Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures), Division V—Site Plan Review.

5. Findings. The Site Plan Review Committee shall not approve a Sign Program unless the proposed Sign Program meets the following design criteria (in addition to the findings required in Chapter 21.25—Specific Procedures):

   a. All signs in the Sign Program are designed in such a manner so as to be internally consistent, coordinated, and whole within themselves, and harmonious with any existing signs remaining on the site.

   b. Any existing signs on the site, if they are to remain, are of high quality design and materials, and complement the existing or proposed building and architecture, and will be complemented by the new signs in the Sign Program as well.

   c. All signs in the Sign Program will complement and enhance the architectural theme of the subject property.

   d. All signs in the Sign Program comply with the standards of this chapter, unless specific exemptions have been granted in the interest of enhanced design and compatibility, and such exemptions are not contrary to the intent of this chapter.

6. Waiver of standards. A waiver from the development standards of this chapter may be granted for signs in a Sign Program if the findings required for a Creative Sign Permit are made by the Site Plan Review Committee, and the waiver will achieve the specified purpose of a Creative Sign Permit. However, prohibited signs shall not be approved through a Sign Program.

D. Neon Outlining or Architectural lighting of Buildings. Neon tubing lighting, stringed lighting, and other architectural lighting used to outline buildings or emphasize architectural elements of a building shall not be considered signs or sign illumination, but rather an architectural element subject to review and approval through the site plan review process as specified in Division V of Chapter 21.25—Specific Procedures.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.050 General performance and development standards for all signs.

A. Signs Subject to Standards. All signs shall be subject to the development standards specified in this chapter. The only exceptions shall be for signs that receive waivers from specific standards subject to the Creative Sign Permit or Standards Variance processes; all other standards shall continue to apply.

B. Measurement of sign area. Where sign area is required to be measured for the purposes of this chapter, it shall be measured in accordance with the definition of "sign area" contained in Section 21.15.2530. See Figure 44-1.

C. Maintenance. All signs shall be kept in a well-maintained condition. No sign shall be displayed which, in the judgment of the Director of Development Services, or his or her designee, is not in good repair and maintained in a safe condition. All signs must be kept free from deterioration, free from defective parts, free from burned out lamps and peeling paint, and must be able to withstand the wind pressure for which it was originally designed.

D. Removal of signs. The following shall apply to removal of signs:

1. Time limit. Except as otherwise specifically provided for in this chapter, a sign shall be removed within thirty (30) days of disuse of the business, building, or other establishment for which it was emplaced.

2. Repair of building after removal. Within thirty (30) days of the removal of a sign from a building, the wall of the building shall be repaired to remove any blemish left by the removal.

3. Complete removal. When a sign is removed, all supporting structures, cabinets, frames and other appurtenances of the sign shall be removed as well.

E. Prohibited sign copy. The primary purpose of an on-premises sign is identification, and not advertising; therefore no major sign, special major sign, or minor sign subject to this chapter shall display prices for products or services. Changeable copy signs, promotional activity signs, electronic message center signs, and gas station price signs are exempt from this restriction.

F. Contact information. In addition to other permitted sign copy, up to three (3) square feet of the allowable sign area may be used to display contact information for the on-premises establishment where the sign is located. This may take the form of telephone numbers, email or web addresses, and the like.

G. Clearance. The vertical clearance between grade and the lowest point of a sign projecting over a pedestrian or vehicular path shall be eight feet (8') for pedestrian use and fifteen feet (15') for vehicular use. No sign shall project over an alley or at-grade parking space.

H. Light control. No sign or sign lighting source shall cause or allow trespass of light onto any adjacent property, any residential dwelling unit, or into the public right-of-way.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.060 Design standards for all signs.

The following standards shall apply to the design of all signs subject to this chapter, for the purpose of carrying out the intent and achieving the goals of this chapter set forth in Section 21.44.010 - Purpose:

A. Character. Signs shall enhance the public realm and aid in the creation of a street's character. No sign shall impede pedestrian traffic, block sight lines in the public viewshed, or disturb adjacent residences.

B. Complementary. The color, material, scale, lettering, and lighting shall complement the surrounding street environment and buildings that the sign addresses.

C. Size. Signs shall never overpower the building. The sign shall fit comfortably into the architecture and character of the building or storefront. Signs shall be mounted in a manner that does not detract from the building's architectural presence and aesthetics.

D. Audience. Signs intended for tourists, locals, or different age groups can suffer from poor sign design. Therefore, regardless of the intended audience, sign design shall conform to these design principles.

E. Concise. Information on signs shall be brief, clear, and simple with appropriately-sized lettering, and a clear information hierarchy. When appropriate, symbols may be used in place of text.

F. Illumination. Lighting used with signs shall be focused and minimal, especially for exterior-lit signs. Lighting shall be in scale with the sign and building. Design of sign illumination shall make every effort to avoid contributing to night-sky light pollution.

G. Consistency. Signs shall be consistent across a building or property. If multiple tenants are listed on a single sign or a multi-tenant building, variation between size and typeface of tenant names and color shall be limited to a palette of three (3) or fewer options.

H. Timelessness. Sign design should convey a timeless character of a street, place, or business, and should avoid design tendencies associated with fleeting trends. Signs also shall be designed with durable, long-lasting materials, and shall be well-maintained.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.062 Additional design standards for nonresidential signs.

In addition to the design standards for all signs specified in Section 21.44.060, the following design standards shall apply to all nonresidential signs:

A. Signs should be consistent with the overall design and identity of the building, including the architecture and landscaping. Signs should complement the overall aesthetic of the building and site.

B. If more than one (1) sign type is necessary on a single facade, all signs shall be scaled in a clear hierarchy and shall address different viewer orientations and audiences.

C. Buildings with multiple tenants or storefronts shall use the same sign strategy at every entrance, storefront, or tenant suite, in order to reduce sign confusion and present an organized visual environment.

D. If multiple tenants are listed on a single sign, size and typeface of tenant names shall be kept consistent.

E. For sites with several buildings, or buildings that are part of an industrial, business, or institutional campus, sign consistency shall be ensured through the following:

1. Signs shall be visible from the public rights-of-way bounding the site, and shall communicate the necessary information clearly.

2. Since campuses may house multiple tenants of differing types, the design identity of signs shall be capable of incorporating an array of styles and typefaces for the differing names and logos. However, the size of tenant names, logos, and color palettes shall be consistent with each other.

F. Pedestrian-oriented signs are encouraged. Signs shall be scaled appropriately, including window signs, projecting (blade) signs, directory signs, and other pedestrian-oriented signs.

G. Illumination should be used to accent signs, consistent with the building's character. Trespass of light and glare from sign illumination onto any adjacent dwelling units or other property, whether residential or nonresidential, is strictly prohibited.

H. Signs and wayfinding features shall be incorporated with public art or placemaking objects where possible.

I. Placement of signs in the public right-of-way should be uniform and designed at the correct scale for the intended reader, for both motorists and pedestrians.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.064 Additional design standards for residential signs.

In addition to the design standards for all signs specified in Section 21.44.060, the following design standards shall apply to all residential signs:

A. Signs should be integrated with the building's architecture and landscaping. Signs should be consistent with the design approach and convey a clear hierarchy of information.

B. Signs shall identify primary entrances, the street address, and other necessary information, while maintaining an understated and minimal aesthetic.

C. Mixed-use (commercial and residential) projects with commercial uses on the ground floor shall comply with the design standards for nonresidential signs specified in Section 21.44.062.

D. Illumination shall be designed to ensure adequate sign visibility and safety, but shall never create light trespass into residential units or onto adjacent properties.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION I.

MAJOR SIGNS

21.44.100 Development Standards—Major signs.

Wall signs, projecting (blade) signs, freestanding or monument signs, awning signs, and building identification signs shall all be considered major signs. A freestanding sign and a projecting sign may not be located on the same property, but any other major sign combination is possible subject to the development standards outlined in this chapter. See Figure 44-2, Major Signs.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.102 Copy.

For all major sign types, sign copy shall be limited to the identification of the business, and up to two (2) products or services sold or available on the premises. Copy shall not be placed on the edges of any sign.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.105 Standards by zoning districts.

Each type of major sign shall be allowed in certain zoning districts as provided in Table 44-1.

* Commercial uses in these zoning districts, including legal nonconforming uses, shall be subject to the sign types restrictions specified for the CNP, CNA, and CNR districts.
 In all PDs, sign regulations specified within each PD ordinance take precedence over the provisions of this chapter. In cases of doubt, or where the several subareas of a given PD are of differing character, the Zoning Administrator shall determine which standards should apply.

21.44.120 Wall signs.

Wall signs are permitted for any business with frontage on a street, parking lot, public walkway within a mall, or which has exterior building frontage without facing a street, parking lot or mall.

A. Number. One (1) per wall, or one (1) per business for buildings with multiple tenants/businesses fronting on a street. In addition to the primary wall sign, secondary wall signs identifying up to two (2) products or services are permitted provided that the cumulative wall sign area does not exceed the allowable limits established in Subsection 21.44.120.B.

B. Area.

1. Wall Facing Street. The total area of all wall signs facing a street shall not exceed one (1) square foot of sign area per linear foot of building wall; provided, that not more than one hundred (100) square feet shall be allowed on any sign facing a residential, local or collector street and not more than two hundred fifty (250) square feet shall be allowed for any sign facing a major or minor arterial. See Figure 44-3.

2. Wall Facing Side or Rear Yard. The area of permitted wall signs facing side or rear yards shall not exceed one (1) square foot of sign area for each linear foot of building wall.

3. Curved or Angled Wall on a Corner. A curved or angled wall located on a corner shall be considered to be a separate wall for purposes of this section.

4. Transference of Sign Area. Allowed sign area cannot be transferred from one (1) building side or wall to another.

5. Icons and Models. Wall signs in the shape of icons, models, or logos shall be permitted provided that the cumulative wall sign area for all signs does not exceed the allowable limits. To calculate the area of two-dimensional (2-D) signs, the sign's length and width shall be multiplied. The area of three-dimensional (3-D) signs shall be measured as a longitudinal section of the icon or model.

C. Height. The maximum height of wall signs above grade, to the highest point of the sign shall be as follows:

1. For a one (1) story building, the highest point of the sign shall not be located above the top of the parapet wall for a flat roof, or above the top of a mansard roof, or above the ridge of a sloped roof.

2. For a multi-story building with commercial tenants on the ground floor only, a wall sign shall not be located above the windowsill line of the second floor. This does not include building identification signs.

3. For a multi-story building with commercial tenants on the ground floor and floor(s) above, a wall sign shall be located on the same floor as said tenant, and shall not be located above the windowsill line of the floor above said tenant. Wall signs shall not be allowed for commercial tenants on the third story and above. This does not include building identification signs.

4. For buildings with glass curtain wall systems, signs shall be allowed for ground-floor tenants only and not on any stories above the ground floor. This does not include building identification signs.

D. Location. No wall sign shall extend beyond the perimeter of the signable area (as defined in Section 21.15.2770) on which it is displayed, or above the top of the parapet wall of a flat-roofed building, or above the top of a mansard roof. A sign displayed above the eave line of a sloped roof building shall be considered a roof sign. No wall sign shall be located upon an architectural protrusion. See Figure 44-4.

E. Projection. The maximum projection shall be fourteen inches (14"). No wall sign shall project over a public alley, driveway, or parking above grade. See Figure 44-5.

F. Design. The following design standards shall apply to all wall signs:

1. Channel letters preferred. Signs consisting of individual channel letters are strongly preferred. Exposed raceways are prohibited unless necessitated by structural considerations.

2. Foam letters. Foam letter signs are strongly discouraged. Foam letters must be faced with a material such as plastic or metal. Un-faced foam letters (including those that are painted only) are prohibited. Wall painted signs are preferred over foam letter signs.

3. Cabinet signs.

   a. New cabinet ("can") signs are strongly discouraged, except in the case of unusually shaped signs or logos that would be onerous to render in channel letter form. Channel letter signs are preferred instead.

   b. Existing cabinet signs may continue to be used and maintained, subject to the regulations of this chapter. However, upon replacement of the sign face or copy, use of a "push-through" cabinet sign face shall be required, with the sign copy rendered in relief either in front of or behind the sign face. The purpose of this regulation is to obtain higher-quality sign design for the remaining lifespan of existing sign cabinets.

4. Flat wall signs. Wall signs consisting of copy that is painted or otherwise applied or rendered, with no surface relief, onto a background sheet product of wood (including plywood, fiberboard, etc.), plastic, or metal, which is then affixed to the building wall, shall not be permitted, unless approved through the Creative Sign Permit process, in order to ensure that the sign is of a high-quality design. The purpose of this regulation is to avoid the use of these materials in low-quality sign designs.

G. Wall Painted Signs. Wall painted signs are regulated in Division II - Special Major Sign Types.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.130 Projecting (blade) signs.

Projecting signs (also known as blade signs), are permitted subject to the following provisions:

A. Number. A business may display one (1) projecting sign per street frontage or parking lot frontage on an adjacent property. Where freestanding signs are allowed, a projecting sign may be permitted in lieu of each freestanding sign.

B. Area. The maximum area of a projecting sign shall not exceed one (1) square foot per linear foot of building frontage from which the sign projects. For double-sided signs, sign area shall be taken from one (1) side of the sign only. See Figure 44-6.

C. Height. No projecting sign shall extend above the adjacent eaves of a sloped roof. A projecting sign shall not extend more than one-third (1/3) of the sign's vertical length above the parapet line of a flat roof; or be less than eight feet (8') above the grade of the adjoining pedestrian right-of-way. A projecting sign shall be exempt from the building height limits of the zoning district.

D. Location.

1. Projecting signs shall be attached to a building, and not a pole or other structure.

2. For buildings with multiple businesses, multiple projecting signs shall be separated by at least twenty-five feet (25'), and only one (1) projecting sign may be located on each building corner. See Figure 44-7.

3. If any portion of a projecting sign is located above a second floor windowsill line, it shall be located a distance away from any such window(s) equal to twice the projection of the sign from the wall in which the window is located, unless the building has a glass curtain wall system.

4. For a building located on a corner lot, the projecting sign is encouraged to be located on the corner or face of the building on the street corner. A vertical projecting sign on a building corner should be mounted at a forty-five (45) degree horizontal angle so that its two (2) sides are equally visible from both streets.

E. Projection.

1. No projecting sign shall project more than four feet (4') from the face of the building wall upon which the sign is mounted. If such sign projects into the public right-of-way, then an encroachment permit must be obtained from the Department of Public Works. See Figure 44-8.

2. No sign may project closer than two feet (2') to the curb line.

3. No sign may project over a public alley.

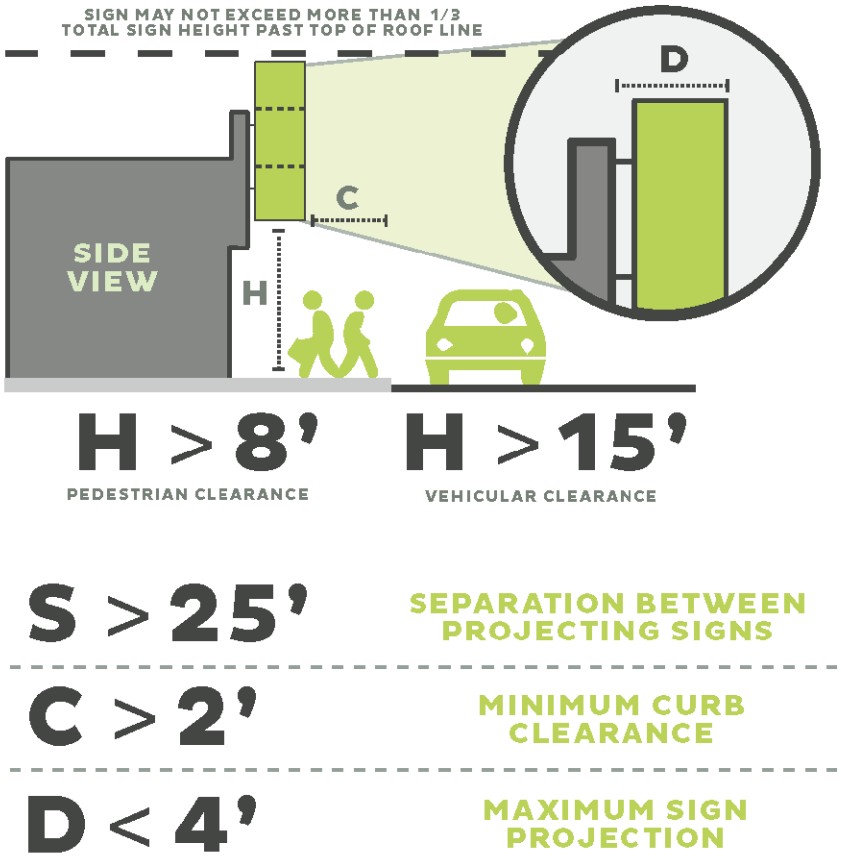

Figure 44-8. Projection and required clearance of a projecting sign.

F. Design. The following design standards shall apply to all projecting signs:

1. Individual channel letters on a background are preferred.

2. Plastic-faced cabinet signs are prohibited for use as projecting signs. However, other internally illuminated sign types, such as reverse-channel letter signs, are suitable for use as projecting signs.

3. Projecting signs shall be constructed of high-quality, durable materials and shall be of a permanent nature.

G. Building permit required. No sign permit shall be issued for a projecting sign unless a building permit also is obtained. The purpose of this requirement is to prohibit temporary, flimsy, fragile, or other projecting signs of a less-than-permanent nature that would not require a building permit for attachment to a building.

H. Supporting Device. Guy wires may be used for lateral support when fully within the horizontal plane of the sign. Any angle iron or secondary support, other than guy wires, must be enclosed in a form constructed of impermeable material so as not to be visible.

21.44.140 Freestanding/monument signs.

Any self-supporting permanent on-premises sign that is not attached to a building is either a freestanding sign (see Section 21.15.2580), or a monument sign (see Section 21.15.2620). Table 44-1 sets forth the zoning districts in which freestanding and monument signs are allowed. Freestanding and monument signs are permitted subject to the following provisions:

A. Number.

1. Individual Businesses or Shopping Centers. Any individual business or a shopping center may display one (1) freestanding/monument sign on a property. For each length of street frontage in excess of three hundred feet (300'), a business or group of businesses may display one (1) additional freestanding/monument sign for each additional three hundred feet (300'), or portion thereof, of street frontage abutting the developed portion of the property occupied by the businesses.

2. Automobile Service Station. In addition to other signs, an automobile service station may display one (1) freestanding/monument sign per street frontage for the display of fuel prices.

B. Area. The permitted area of freestanding/monument signs shall be as provided in Table 44-2. No sign shall be permitted to exceed the maximum area indicated, regardless of street frontage.

C. Height. The maximum permitted height of a freestanding/monument sign shall not exceed the limits set forth in Table 44-2. The height of a freestanding/monument sign is measured from grade to the highest point of the sign, except that the height of the freeway-oriented freestanding signs, where the freeway elevation is greater than the base of the sign, may be measured from the grade of the freeway lane nearest the sign not including on and off ramps to the highest point of the sign, as illustrated in Figure 44-9.

D. Location.

1. No freestanding/monument sign shall be located in such a manner that it blocks, obscures, or obstructs existing signs, or signable area, on any building, including buildings on abutting property, nor shall any freestanding/monument sign be located in such a manner that it blocks, obscures, or obstructs another freestanding/monument sign, including one on abutting property.

2. Where more than one (1) freestanding sign is used for one (1) business or group of businesses, the minimum distance between two (2) freestanding signs on the same property shall be one hundred feet (100').

3. No freestanding/monument sign shall be located within the required corner cutoff area of a driveway, alley, or street, as defined in Section 21.15.660 and illustrated in Figure 15-4.

4. A freeway-oriented freestanding sign must be located within one thousand five hundred feet (1,500') of the intersection of the freeway off-ramp with the surface street providing access to the premises on which the sign is located.

E. Projection and overhang. No freestanding sign shall overhang the property line adjoining a public right-of-way unless approval has been granted by the Department of Public Works. In any case, no freestanding sign shall project closer than two feet (2') to the curb line. Neither shall any freestanding sign shall overhang the property line between parcels.

F. Design. The following design standards shall apply to all freestanding/monument signs:

1. New plastic sign faces on sign cabinets for freestanding/monument signs are prohibited, except for "push-through/through-the-face" types. The portion of a sign cabinet identifying individual tenants may consist of an internally-illuminated cabinet with individual plastic faceplates for each tenant; however, these faceplates shall be push-through/through-the-face types whenever feasible. All tenant faceplates shall be of a harmonious theme, with complementary lettering, design, and colors.

2. Freestanding signs should be architectural in nature. The slab-monolith type is encouraged, or alternately a slab with an architectural base, middle, and capital; other architectural designs can be acceptable also. Freestanding signs mounted on one (1) or several bare poles are prohibited.

3. If a freestanding sign is not a slab-type, its support shall be at least half the width of the sign portion and shall be enclosed in an interesting architectural element that complements the sign structure and adjacent building(s). Uncovered structural poles are prohibited.

4. Individual channel letters on a background, reverse channel letters, or push-through/through-the-face designs are preferred, both for the main sign and the identification of tenants.

5. Any angle iron or secondary support shall be enclosed in a form constructed of impermeable material, such that the angle iron or secondary support is not visible.

Permitted Size, Max. Area, and Max. Height of Freestanding/Monument Signs

Type of Freestanding/Monument Sign and Orientation	Permitted Area [(a)]	Maximum Area	Maximum Height
Freestanding sign
Freeway-oriented [(b)]	3 sq. ft./L.F. frontage	300 sq. ft.	40 ft.
Non-freeway oriented	2 sq. ft./L.F. frontage	150 sq. ft.	25 ft.
Monument sign	1 sq. ft./L.F. frontage	100 sq. ft.	8 ft.
Fuel price sign (gas stations only)	15 sq. ft.[(c)]	15 sq. ft.[(c)]	12 ft.
(a) Square feet of sign area permitted per linear foot of frontage along the abutting street. (b) See location requirement in Section 21.44.140.D.4. (c) In addition to the permitted freestanding sign, a price sign is also permitted.

(ORD-19-0028 § 26, 2019; ORD-13-0014 § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.160 Awning (or marquee or canopy) signs.

Awning and marquee/canopy signs are permitted for each business located on the ground floor and abutting a street, parking lot or public walkway within a mall, excluding alleys and serviceways. Each awning or marquee/canopy may display one (1) sign subject to the following provisions:

A. Area. The area of the sign may not exceed forty percent (40%) of the total face of the awning or marquee/canopy, not to exceed one hundred (100) square feet. The face of the awning shall be measured as shown in Figure 44-10.

B. Projection. The sign may not project closer than two feet (2') to the curb line. Any encroachment over public property shall require approval from the Department of Public Works.

C. Limits. Marquee/canopy signs shall be contained entirely within the perimeter of the fascia of the marquee or canopy.

D. Slope. The face of the marquee, canopy or awning shall slope not more than sixty degrees (60°) from the vertical plane.

E. Additional under-mounted signs. In addition to a surface-mounted marquee/canopy sign, a sign which displays the business name only may be mounted on the under surface of the marquee or canopy, provided:

1. The area of the sign does not exceed eight (8) square feet;

2. The clearance from grade is eight feet (8') for pedestrian use and fifteen feet (15') for vehicular use; and

3. The signs are mounted perpendicular to the building wall.

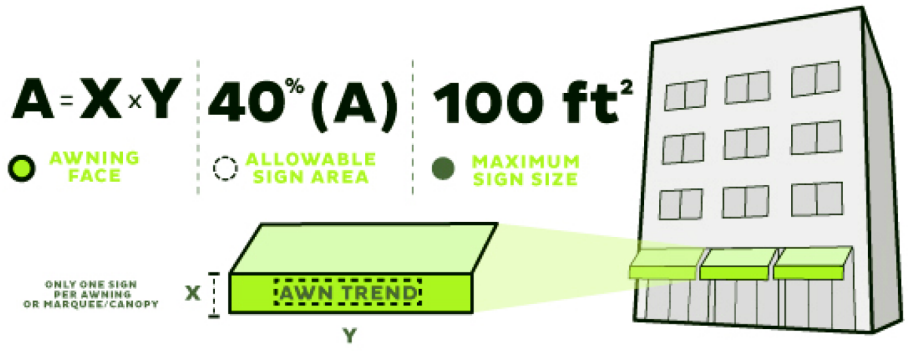

Figure 44-10. Maximum size and area measurement of an awning sign.

21.44.170 Building identification signs (commercial and residential).

A. Commercial Buildings. Commercial building identification signs in the form of a wall sign or a projecting sign may be displayed on any building that is composed of one (1) or more businesses and is at least four (4) stories high.

1. Number. One (1) building identification sign is permitted per building face/wall and shall be comprised of the business/building name and/or logo. If a projecting sign is used as the building identification sign, no other projecting sign shall be allowed for that building face, and no freestanding sign shall be allowed on the site.

2. Area. Commercial building identification signs shall not exceed one and one-half (1½) square feet of sign area per every linear foot of building wall and shall not exceed a maximum of three hundred (300) square feet.

3. Placement. No commercial building identification sign shall extend beyond the perimeter of the signable wall area on which it is placed, nor shall it be displayed above the peak of the roof or the top of the parapet of a building, or below the lower one-third (1/3) of a building on which it is placed, unless a Creative Sign Permit is approved.

4. Projection. The maximum projection shall be fourteen inches (14") from the face of the wall. Any building identification sign projecting over the right-of-way shall require approval from the Director of Public Works.

B. Multifamily Residential Building Identification. Multifamily building identification signs are permitted in the form of a wall sign, a monument sign, an awning or a marquee/canopy sign, or a projecting sign, subject to the following restrictions:

1. Number. One (1) sign is permitted for each street the building abuts.

2. Design Standards. The manner in which building identification signs may be displayed shall determine the design standards.

   a. Wall Sign. The identification sign shall comply with all applicable wall sign provisions of this chapter, except that the total area shall not exceed twenty percent (20%) of the signable area, nor more than five percent (5%) of the building face.

   b. Monument Sign. The building identification sign shall comply with all applicable monument sign provisions of this chapter, except that the maximum area shall not exceed twenty-seven (27) square feet and the maximum height above grade shall not exceed four feet (4') above grade.

   c. Awning or Marquee/Canopy Sign. The identification sign shall comply with all applicable awning or marquee/canopy sign provisions of this chapter.

   d. Projecting Sign. The identification sign shall comply with all applicable projecting sign provisions of this chapter, except that the maximum area shall not exceed twenty-seven (27) square feet.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION II.

SPECIAL MAJOR SIGNS

21.44.200 Development Standards—Special major signs.

Wall painted signs, roof signs, changeable copy signs, residential neighborhood and commercial district identification signs, and historic signs shall all be considered special major signs. These sign types occur less frequently throughout the City and require specific regulation to ensure compatible design with surrounding architecture, signs, and land uses, to ensure that the City's aesthetic goals are achieved.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.210 Wall-painted signs.

A wall-painted sign is intended to take the place of a wall sign, and is painted directly onto the building wall. Wall-painted signs fill an important niche in the sign types this chapter makes available to the public—they can be established with no building permit or structural review required, at considerably less cost than a permanent wall sign. This is advantageous to small businesses just starting out, and others in similar situations. Wall painted signs also have the potential to make a significant character-enhancing contribution to their immediate surroundings and neighborhood, becoming something of a landmark if well executed. For these reasons, wall-painted signs are preferred over foam letter wall signs in the gamut of low-cost sign types.

A. Number, height, location and copy. Standards for the number, height, location, and copy of wall-painted signs shall be the same as for wall signs, as specified in this chapter.

B. Area. In order to encourage the selection of a wall-painted sign over foam letters or other low-cost sign types, the allowable area is increased such that wall-painted signs shall not exceed one and one-half (1½) square feet of sign area per every linear foot of building wall and shall not exceed a maximum of one hundred (100) square feet on any sign facing a residential, local or collector street, and not more than two hundred fifty (250) square feet for any sign facing a major or minor arterial.

C. Review. In order to assure a quality design for each wall-painted sign, the wall-painted sign application shall be reviewed by the Site Plan Review Committee, or a sub-committee designated by the SPR Committee for this purpose, within three weeks of filing, at no fee to the applicant. The SPR Committee shall either approve the application, or direct the applicant to alter the plans in a way that would allow the Committee to approve the application.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.220 Roof signs.

Roof signs shall be permitted through the Creative Sign Permit process only. The area standards for projecting signs shall apply to roof signs. The building height limits established for the zoning districts shall not apply to roof signs.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.230 Changeable copy signs.

Changeable copy signs shall be allowed subject to the following:

A. Users limited. Changeable copy signs are limited to the following users: churches, florists, public schools, public colleges and universities, movie theaters, and gasoline price signs for gas stations. Exceptions to this rule shall require a Standards Variance as described in Division III of Chapter 21.25—Specific Procedures.

B. Size. Changeable copy displays may be installed on freestanding, monument, and wall signs. The area of the changeable copy display shall be counted toward the allowable sign area for the type of sign upon which the changeable copy is installed.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.240 Residential neighborhood and commercial district identification signs.

The City recognizes the desire for unique communities within its boundaries, both residential and commercial, to positively identify themselves and their geographic boundaries. To this end, the following guidelines are established to control the design, content, and location of such identification signs on both private and public property. In addition to these standards, the provisions of Subsection 21.44.900.A.6 (Signs on public property) also shall apply to any such sign located on public property. Street-name-style Neighborhood Marker Signs mounted on street lights or traffic signal poles are not regulated by this chapter, and are administered by the Department of Public Works.

A. Type of Sign. Limited to monument signs for residential neighborhood identification. Monument or freestanding signs are allowed for commercial district identification.

B. Number of Signs. Each residential neighborhood or commercial district shall display no more than one (1) sign on each side, or corner, or boundary of the neighborhood or district. In cases of irregularly-shaped or unclear boundaries, the Zoning Administrator shall be authorized to determine if a given proposal conforms to this regulation.

C. Maximum Height, Width, and Area. The maximum height, width, and area allowed for residential neighborhood and commercial district identification signs shall be as provided in Table 44-3.

Table 44-3
Height, Width, and Area Development Standards for Residential Neighborhood and Commercial District Identification Signs

Type of sign	Maximum Height (ft.)	Maximum Width (ft.)	Maximum Area (sq. ft.)
Monument	4	9	36
Freestanding	15	4	32

D. Thickness. Minimum of three inches (3") to a maximum of one foot (1').

E. Materials. Wood, stone, concrete, stucco, or metal or a combination of these materials.

F. Lettering. Individual letters carved from display or bolted onto display. Fragile or glued-on lettering is prohibited.

G. Lighting. Exterior light sources or internal illumination are allowed. External lights shall be aimed and shielded to prevent any light trespass into the adjacent roadway or adjacent properties.

H. Prohibited. Cabinet signs are prohibited as residential neighborhood and commercial district identification signs, as well as any plastic or fabric panels or fascia.

I. Identification. Each sign must indicate that the respective neighborhood or commercial district is part of the City of Long Beach, using the name "City of Long Beach" in at least three-inch (3")-tall letters. The purpose of this regulation is to avoid giving the impression that an area is a separate city or otherwise not a member of the City as a whole.

J. Site Plan Review required. Prior to the issuance of a sign permit (and prior to issuance of a right-of-way permit by the Department of Public Works in the case of a sign located on public property), an identification sign for a residential neighborhood or commercial district shall be subject to review by the Site Plan Review Committee. A fee equivalent to the fee for a Creative Sign Permit, as specified in a fee resolution to be adopted by the City Council, shall be required.

K. Waiver of standards. The Site Plan Review Committee may, at its discretion, waive the following development standards: type of sign, number of signs, height, length, thickness, materials, and lettering. The Site Plan Review Committee shall approve such waivers only if the findings required for a Creative Sign Permit are made, and the waiver will achieve the specified purpose of a Creative Sign Permit. However, prohibited sign types and materials shall not be approved through a waiver.

21.44.250 Historic signs.

Any sign designated by City ordinance as a Historic Landmark, or granted historic designation by the California State Historic Preservation Office, or the United States Secretary of the Interior, or any sign that is a historic element of such a designated building or site, shall be considered a historic sign. Historic signs shall be exempt from the requirements of this chapter as to height, illumination, location, movement, sign area, and materials, and may be maintained as legally conforming signs subject to the following conditions:

A. All parts of the exempted historic sign including neon tubes, incandescent lights and shields, and sign faces shall be maintained in a functioning condition as historically intended for the sign to the greatest degree possible.

B. Parts of historic signs originally designed to flash or move may be allowed to continue to flash or move. There shall be no alterations to the historic pattern, speed, or direction of flashing or moving elements.

C. The wording or image of a historic sign may be altered only if the alterations do not substantially change the historic dimensions, height, scale, style, character, or type of materials of the historic sign.

D. Failure to maintain a historic sign as required above shall be grounds for disallowing an exemption from the requirements of this chapter. The Cultural Heritage Commission shall be authorized to make a determination of revocation of exemption. The sign shall thereafter be brought into compliance with the requirements of this chapter to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services.

E. Full reconstruction or major alteration of a historic sign shall require approval of the Site Plan Review Committee, and the Cultural Heritage Commission in the case of a City-designated Historic Landmark.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION III.

MINOR SIGNS

21.44.300 Development standards—Minor signs.

Menu boards, on-site directional signs, and traffic directional signs shall be considered minor signs subject to the development standards outlined in this Division.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.310 Menu boards.

Menu boards are permitted for drive-through fast-food restaurants subject to the following restrictions:

A. Number. In addition to other permitted signs, two (2) freestanding menu boards and one (1) wall sign are permitted for each automobile service window.

B. Area. Menu boards shall not contain more than forty (40) square feet in area.

C. Height. Menu boards shall not exceed seven feet (7') in height above grade.

D. Copy. Menu boards shall contain only the business name, and information related to the food items and prices. The maximum letter size shall be three inches (3").

E. Orientation and location. Each sign shall be oriented to customers on the site, and not toward the adjacent right-of-way. The purpose of these signs is to provide information to customers already on-site, and not passers-by. Signs shall not be located within the required corner cutoff areas at driveway or drive-through entrances/exits.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.320 On-site directional signs.

On-site directional signs are permitted at business and institutional sites, for the purpose of directing persons to destinations within the site, subject to the following restrictions. They are intended primarily for land uses with larger parking lots, and/or drive-through lanes.

A. Number. In addition to other permitted signs, a business or site may display up to four (4) on-site directional signs by right. If a business or site wishes to display five (5) or more on-site directional signs, a Sign Program shall be required.

B. Area. On-site directional signs shall not be more than sixteen (16) square feet in area.

C. Height. On-site directional signs shall not exceed four feet (4') in height above grade.

D. Copy. On-site directional signs shall contain only words such as "Drive-through" (or "Drive-thru"), "Enter," "Exit," "This Way," and "Do Not Enter," as well as the business name and/or logo. The maximum letter size shall be three inches (3").

E. Orientation. On-site directional signs shall be oriented toward on-site traffic, and not toward the adjacent right-of-way. The purpose of these signs is to provide direction to traffic already on site, and not to traffic on the adjacent right-of-way. Signs shall not be located within the required corner cutoff areas at driveway or drive-through entrances/exits.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.330 Traffic directional signs.

Traffic directional signs, either wall or freestanding, may be displayed as necessary for all land uses to ensure the safe and orderly flow of automobile traffic on private property.

A. Copy. Traffic directional signs are limited to noncommercial messages for the purposes of directing safe flow of automobile traffic. A traffic directional sign shall not provide directions to a particular business, location, or event. Traffic directional signs shall be limited to stop signs, one-way signs, do not enter signs, speed limit signs, left/right turn only signs, no left/right turn signs, and other traffic signs of like purpose.

B. Area and Size. Each sign shall have a maximum area of six (6) square feet, and a maximum height of seven feet (7'), unless waived by the Zoning Administrator upon the recommendation of the City Traffic Engineer.

C. Interference with Official Traffic Control Devices. No traffic directional sign shall interfere with any official public traffic control device. Any traffic directional sign that is found to do so shall be removed or remedied by the property owner upon order by the City Traffic Engineer.

D. Conformance with Traffic Control Device Standards. All traffic directional signs shall be in conformance with the national, state, and local standards for traffic control devices in effect in the City of Long Beach to the satisfaction of the City Traffic Engineer.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION IV.

TEMPORARY SIGNS

21.44.400 Temporary signs.

Certain classes of signs may be erected as temporary signs subject to the following regulations.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.410 Promotional activity signs (banners).

Promotional activity signs, as defined in Section 21.15.2720 of this title, are permitted, subject to the following:

A. Area. A promotional activity sign (banner) shall not exceed one (1) square foot of banner area for each linear foot of building street frontage and shall not exceed one hundred (100) square feet, whichever is less.

B. Number. Only one (1) promotional activity sign shall be allowed per street frontage, or per business in the case of a commercial building with multiple business tenants.

C. Aspect ratio. A promotional activity sign shall not have an aspect ratio exceeding 3.0 (three (3) units length per one (1) unit height).

D. Location. Promotional activity signs shall be placed on a building wall only. It shall be prohibited to place a promotional activity sign on a fence, supported from poles or trees, between buildings or walls, upon an existing sign cabinet or structure (whether in use or not), on a building roof or extending above the parapet wall, or upon another structure. Promotional activity signs shall not be placed overhanging or obscuring windows.

E. Time Limit. The following time limits shall apply to promotional activity signs:

1. A promotional activity sign permit shall be valid for only ninety (90) days and shall not be renewable in the same calendar year.

2. The allowed time period shall be measured in calendar days. The ninety (90) day period may be broken into two (2) forty-five (45) day periods or three (3) thirty (30) day periods, provided that the sign is removed at the end of each period.

3. If the ninety (90) days includes December 31 and January 1, the permit shall be prorated or adjusted accordingly, such that permits are not issued for a site for more than ninety (90) days in a given calendar year, including prior promotional activity sign permits having a portion of the ninety (90) days period in the same year.

F. Legalization of promotional activity signs (banners) without permits. Any promotional activity sign placed without a valid permit shall be subject to the following:

1. If a permit is to be issued, the applicant shall pay double fees;

2. The duration (in days) that the sign was in place without a permit shall be subtracted from the ninety (90) days allowed for a promotional activity sign if it is to be legalized through a permit;

3. If the sign was in place for ninety (90) days or more without a permit, the sign shall be removed and no permit shall be issued for the subject location in that calendar year; and

4. If the duration that the sign was in place without a permit is not known or is not divulged by the applicant, the sign shall be assumed to have been in place for ninety (90) days, and the sign shall be removed, and no promotional activity sign permit shall be issued for the subject location in that calendar year.

G. Exceptions.

1. Real estate signs and banners. Real estate signs and banners are considered "permit exempt" signs and are subject to the restrictions specified in Table 44-4.

2. Grand opening signs. One (1) promotional activity sign for a grand opening event shall be allowed for a period of ninety (90) days in a calendar year, in addition to one (1) other promotional activity sign in the same calendar year.

3. Automobile sales businesses/dealerships. Vehicle sales businesses may be exempted from the limitations of this section on promotional activity signs through the Creative Sign Permit process; except that all pennants, streamers, and inflatable, air-blown, balloon-type and all other prohibited signs or decorations shall be prohibited regardless.

4. Noncommercial promotional activity signs. Noncommercial promotional activity signs are considered permit exempt signs and are subject to the restrictions specified in Table 44-4.

H. Street Banners. Street banners and banners hung across a public street are subject to approval by the City Manager as provided in Section 18.04.010 of the Municipal Code, and are not regulated by this chapter.

I. Maintenance. Promotional signs shall not be in a condition of disrepair. Disrepair shall include torn, faded, sagging, or dirty signs, and signs with a message that is outdated or no longer relevant. Signs in disrepair shall be removed, or may be restored or repaired if still within the permitted ninety (90) day period.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.420 Political signs.

Political campaign signs are not regulated as a separate class of signs.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.430 Subdivision signs.

Subdivision signs advertising the initial sale or lease of residential units within a single contiguous grouping comprised of fifteen (15) or more dwelling units, or fifteen (15) or more lots, are permitted, subject to the following regulations:

A. Display Period. A subdivision sign may be displayed during the period of construction and for a period not to exceed six (6) months from the date which eighty percent (80%) of the units have received certificate of occupancy, or until all of the units or lots have been sold or leased, whichever occurs first.

B. Permitted Sign Types. Only non-illuminated, freestanding signs are permitted.

C. Number. One (1) sign is allowed, plus one additional sign for each fifty (50) dwelling units or lots in the subdivision, or one (1) plus one (1) for each five (5) acres in the subdivision, whichever is less.

D. Sign Area and Height. The size of a subdivision sign shall not exceed two hundred (200) square feet, and the height shall not exceed fifteen feet (15'), measured from grade to the highest point of signs.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION V.

PERMIT EXEMPT SIGNS

21.44.500 Permit exempt signs.

The classes of signs set forth in this section are exempt from the application, permit and fee requirements for on-premises signs, provided the exempt sign conforms to Table 44-4—Exempt Signs. This section shall not exempt such signs from other provisions of the Municipal Code, including but not limited to those that may require building or electrical permits.

Table 44-4
Permit Exempt Signs

Class of Sign	Maximum Size	Maximum Number	Other Conditions
1. Building directory sign identifying building occupants	18 sq. ft.	1 per parking lot entry and building entry	-If changeable copy used, must be glass encased -Must be visible from sidewalk or parking lot
2. Interior signs	Area of sign must be less than 25% of total area of window through which it is exhibited	3 per window	-Must be located between 1 foot to 6 feet to the interior of any window from which sign is visible -Sign may not flash, rotate or exhibit any other prohibited characteristics
3. Public service and accessory signs identifying public conveniences (e.g., restrooms, telephones, hours of operation, vacancies)	Total area of all signs visible from any one street shall not exceed 10 sq. ft.	1 per service, accessory, or convenience per street frontage	None
4. Theater outer lobby posters advertising current or coming attractions	20 sq. ft. per poster	2 posters per movie screen, per street frontage	Must be glass encased
5. Window signs	Total of all signs displayed in any one window may not cover more than 10% of total window area	1 sign per 3 linear feet of window	-Each window shall be calculated separately -Must be placed in such a manner so as to not obstruct visibility into business
6. Any other non-prohibited sign, if less than 3 sq. ft.	Less than 3 sq. ft.	1 sign per 10 linear feet of building frontage facing street(s)	No sign shall be placed in the public right-of-way or on vacant property

Class of Sign	Maximum Size	Maximum Number	Other Conditions
7. Construction sign identifying firms involved in construction site, future tenants, or announcing development	Height—15 ft. Area—16 sq. ft.	1 per street abutting construction site	-Must be removed within 15 days of completion of construction -No illumination permitted
8. Flags	Length—9 ft. Width—6 ft.	3 flags	-Flag pole height shall be limited to the established building height for each respective zoning district. -Flag signs are prohibited, as defined in Section 21.15.2510 -Decorative flags are prohibited; see Section 21.44.600
9. Garage sale signs	Height—4 ft. Area—6 sq. ft.	1 per garage sale on same premises	No sign shall be placed on public property
10. Open house signs or flags/banners	Height—4 ft. Area—6 sq. ft.	1 per 300 feet of street frontage	-May be used on temporary basis only when house is open for inspection without an appointment -May not be placed on public property
11. Real estate signs (on-premises) advertising sale, rental or lease of property	Height—8 ft. Area— a) Nonresidential use—16 sq. ft. b) Residential use—6 sq. ft. for first dwelling unit plus 1 sq. ft. for each additional unit up to 16 sq. ft. maximum	1 per 300 feet of street frontage	-Types limited to non-illuminated wall, window, or free-standing signs -No signs may be placed on public property -Signs may be displayed only during the period the premises is held for sale, rental or lease, and for not more than 15 days thereafter -Signs must be maintained in good condition
12. Real estate banners	Height—same limitations as wall signs Area—16 sq. ft., or 6 sq. ft. plus 1 sq. ft. for each additional unit, whichever is less Aspect Ratio—maximum aspect ratio of 3.0 (3 units length to 1 unit height)	1 banner in addition to 1 other real estate sign per 300 feet of street frontage	-Banners must be placed on a building wall and may not be mounted on poles, fences, above the roof deck/roof line, etc. -Banners may be displayed only during the period the premises is held for sale, rental or lease, and for not more than 15 days thereafter -Banners must be maintained in good condition, with current information, and must be replaced when worn or dilapidated
13. Single-family residential sign identifying resident	Not to exceed 2 sq. ft.	1 per residence	None
14. Warning signs (e.g., "Danger," "No Dumping")	3 sq. ft. per warning	As necessary per warning	None
15. Street address signs	No maximum if sign contains address only	1 per address per street frontage	Minimum letter height of 4 inches
16. Signs painted on parking lot surface	½ width of drive aisle	As necessary	Must contain parking or directional information only and no commercial message

Class of Sign	Maximum Size	Maximum Number	Other Conditions
17. Noncommercial promotional activity signs	16 sq. ft per sign; not to exceed a maximum total area of 80 sq. ft. for all such signs on a lot or parcel whether such lot is zoned commercial, residential or industrial.	No limit on the number of signs provided the maximum area of 80 sq. ft. for each lot or parcel is not exceeded.	Signs shall not interfere with or be designed in such a manner that they will be confused with a traffic control signal or sign, or obstruct the vision of traffic. They shall not be placed on any public property or right of way or posted on any utility pole or device. Signs shall be removed from a premise no later than 5 days following the conclusion of the activity or event promoted by such sign

DIVISION VI.

PROHIBITED SIGNS

21.44.600 Prohibited signs.

The following signs shall be prohibited:

A. Unlawful Sign Projections. No sign shall project into an adjoining private property under separate ownership, or into a public right-of-way or into an established setback unless an encroachment permit has been issued by the City Engineer.

B. Flashing Signs. No sign shall flash, shimmer or glitter, nor give the appearance of flashing, shimmering or glittering.

C. Moving or Rotating Signs. No sign shall rotate, oscillate or otherwise move, nor give the appearance of rotating, oscillating or moving.

D. Sound, Odor, Particulate Matter. No sign shall emit audible sound, odor or particulate matter.

E. Unlawful Illumination.

1. No sign illumination system shall contain or use any beacon, spot, or stroboscopic light, or reflector which is visible from any public right-of-way or adjacent property.

2. Generally, illuminated signs shall not be allowed to change color or light intensity. The exception being neon, fiber optic, or light-emitting diode (LED) light sources, which are permitted to gradually change color. Light intensity shall not be allowed to change.

3. No floodlight shall be used which is not hooded or shielded so that the light source is not visible from any public right-of-way, adjacent property, or residential dwelling unit.

F. Portable Signs. Portable signs are prohibited, except that a portable sign may be displayed to indicate a temporarily closed vehicular entrance or exit for purposes of public safety or convenience.

G. Street Furniture. Signs shall not be placed on street furniture, as defined in this title.

H. Vehicle Signs. Signs identifying a business shall not be affixed to or placed in or on vehicles parked in the public right-of-way or on private property in a manner such that the vehicle functions as a sign for the business. This regulation shall not apply to buses and taxicabs legally operating within the City limits, or to other permitted uses regulated under other titles of the Municipal Code. However, mobile billboards are prohibited in Chapter 21.54 (Billboards).

I. Obstruction of Use or Visibility. No sign shall be located so that any portion of the sign or its supports interferes with the free use of any fire escape or exit or obstructs any required fire standpipe, stairway, door, ventilator or window; nor shall any sign be located so as to obstruct the visibility (corner cutoff areas) of vehicles or pedestrians using driveways or doorways.

J. Interference with Utility Lines. No sign shall be located which has less horizontal or vertical clearance from utility lines than that prescribed by the rules of the Public Utilities Commission of the State.

K. Interference with Official Traffic Control Devices. No sign shall appear in color, wording, design, location or illumination to resemble or conflict with any traffic control device.

L. Inflatable and Air-Blown Signs. Any signs or decorations that are inflatable, such as balloons of any size or shape, and any signs that are air-blown or inflated or animated by the internal flow of air, such as signs that appear to have a waving body and appendages, are prohibited.

M. Flag Signs. Flag signs (as defined in Section 21.15.2510) are prohibited. This includes any type of flag that functions as a sign, whether affixed to a building or not, including but not limited to those mounted on curved or flexible swivel masts and commonly referred to as "sails," "feathers," or "bow banners."

N. Decorative flags. Flags with no intrinsic meaning (usually, but not limited to, simple flags of one or several colors, with or without a design motif), which are intended only to draw attention to a building or location, are prohibited. However, nothing in this Subsection shall be construed to prohibit any flag that constitutes a protected form of expression and is in compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Municipal Code.

O. Streamers, pennants, balloons, and the like. All types of signs and exterior decorations that can be considered steamers, pennants, balloons, and the like shall be prohibited.

P. Projected light signs. Any sign created by projecting light onto a surface is prohibited.

Q. Any sign not exempted or permitted by this chapter shall be prohibited.

(ORD-19-0028 § 27, 2019; ORD-13-0014 § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION VII.

NONCONFORMING, ABANDONED AND ILLEGAL SIGNS AND OTHER PROVISIONS

21.44.710 Nonconforming signs.

It is the intent of this section to recognize that the eventual elimination of existing on-premises signs that do not conform to this chapter is as important to City-wide aesthetic and health, safety and welfare as is the prohibition of new signs that would violate the provisions of this chapter. It is also recognized that nonconforming signs should be eliminated as expeditiously and fairly as possible in a manner that avoids any unreasonable invasion of established property rights.

A. Continuation of Use. A nonconforming on-premises sign may be continued in operation and maintained after the effective date of the ordinance codified in this title, provided that nonconforming signs shall not be:

1. Changed to another nonconforming sign; or

2. Structurally altered so as to extend the useful life of the sign; or

3. Expanded; or

4. Reestablished after damage or destruction of more than fifty percent (50%) of the sign value at the time of such damage or destruction.

The copy on nonconforming signs may be changed without affecting their nonconforming status, provided the content of the new copy is consistent with the provisions of this code, and a building permit is not required to change the copy.

B. Amortization.

1. Permanent nonconforming signs shall be removed or brought into compliance with the provisions of this chapter under the following circumstances:

a. Whenever the business, building, or other establishment for which the sign was emplaced is vacated, or

b. Whenever there is a change in the business license for the owner or lessee of a property on which there is a nonconforming sign(s), the nonconforming sign(s) shall be removed or brought into compliance with the provisions of this chapter prior to the effective date of the new owner's or lessee's business license, or

c. Upon approval of a building or electrical permit to modify a nonconforming sign for the purpose of expanding the sign, or structurally altering it to extend its useful life, or to reestablish the sign after damage or destruction of more than fifty percent (50%) of the sign value at the time of damage or destruction, the nonconforming sign shall be brought into compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

2. Nonconforming wall-painted signs shall be painted out, or brought into compliance with the provisions of this chapter when there is a change in business ownership or lessee of the property.

3. Cabinet signs with translucent plastic faces shall be subject to the requirement to utilize a push-through-type of sign face, as specified in Subsection 21.44.120.F.3, upon replacement of the sign face or copy, or when the circumstances specified in Subsection 21.44.710.B.1 are met.

4. Historic signs shall be exempt from amortization, as provided in Section 21.44.250.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.720 Abandoned signs.

All abandoned signs, as "abandoned sign" is defined in Section 21.15.2520, shall be removed immediately.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.730 Illegal signs.

All illegal signs have no vested rights and shall be removed or made to conform to the provisions of this chapter immediately.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.740 Administrative removal of signs.

Signs may be removed by the City in accordance with the following procedures:

A. Illegal or Dilapidated Signs. If the Director of Development Services, or his or her designee, finds that a sign is in violation of this chapter, or is in disrepair, defaced, deteriorated (including peeling paint), prohibited, abandoned, illegal, or is in violation of the Building Code or any other laws and ordinances, he shall seek correction of the violations as provided for in the Municipal Code, including the Administrative Citation process. The Director of Development Services shall inform the sign owner by a written notice if the sign is to be removed.

B. Safety Hazard or on Public Right-of-Way. The City Engineer, or his designee, without giving notice, shall have the authority to authorize removal of any sign which:

1. Poses an immediate threat to public safety; or

2. Is displayed in violation of the provisions of this chapter or other City ordinances on or over any public right-of-way or public property.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION VIII.

ELECTRONIC MESSAGE CENTER SIGNS

21.44.800 Electronic message center signs.

Electronic message center signs (abbreviated EMCS) are permitted subject to the following standards. Any exception to these standards shall require application for a Standards Variance under the provisions of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures).

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.810 Conditional Use Permit required.

The City recognizes that an electronic message center sign, if not carefully regulated and designed, has the potential to cause significant adverse effects upon its surrounding visual environment, and to negatively impact the perception of the environment and condition of its neighborhood. Therefore, to ensure that a process for adequate review is provided for these signs, each EMCS shall require an application for a Conditional Use Permit under the provisions of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures), and additionally shall be subject to the findings specified in Section 21.52.229 - Electronic Message Center Signs (Conditional Uses). Additionally, to ensure a high-quality design, prior to a public hearing on the Conditional Use Permit the Site Plan Review Committee shall be authorized to review the design of the proposed EMCS under the provisions of Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures).

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.820 Site requirements for electronic message center signs.

Electronic message center signs are subject to the following site restrictions:

A. Lot or Building Minimum Size. Electronic message center signs are allowed only at a business or shopping center or institutional use that is located upon five (5) or more acres of land. The five (5) or more acres must consist of one (1) contiguous group of parcels or lots, and must be held by one (1) owner. Alternately, an EMCS may be permitted for a single building consisting of one hundred fifty thousand (150,000) square feet or more in gross floor area. Such building must be located on one contiguous parcel or group of lots and be held by one (1) owner.

B. Same Site as Principal Use. An electronic message center sign shall be located on the same parcel as the principal land use of the business or institution for which the sign is established. The sign shall not be located on a site containing only a land use or uses secondary to the primary operation of the business or institution. For example, an electronic message center sign shall not be located on a lot or parcel used for automobile storage by an automobile dealership whose primary sales operations are on a different site; nor shall an electronic message center sign be located on a lot or parcel used for parking for an institution if said institution is on a different parcel.

C. Zones permitted. EMCS shall be allowed in certain zoning districts as provided in Table 44-5.

D. Street types permitted. EMCS shall be allowed only on a street or highway classified as a Major Arterial, Regional Corridor, or Freeway.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.830 Number, location, spacing, form, and substitution/removal requirements.

The following requirements shall apply regarding the number, spacing, and form of electronic message center signs, as well as substitution for other sign types and removal of other sign types:

A. Number. One (1) EMCS shall be allowed for each six hundred feet (600') of total street frontage on a qualifying site (the total may include street frontage more than one (1) street for sites bounded by multiple streets).

B. Location.

1. Upon subject site. No electronic message center sign shall be located closer to any interior side property line than twenty-five feet (25'). Lots adjoining freeway or railroad right-of-way may locate an EMCS on the property line adjoining such right-of-way.

2. Distance from residential. All EMCS shall have a minimum separation of one hundred feet (100') from a residential district.

C. Spacing.

1. Between EMCS on same frontage. A radius of three hundred feet (300') shall be required between each EMCS on the same property, on the same street frontage.

2. Between EMCS on different frontage. No EMCS shall be located less than one hundred feet (100') from another EMCS on a different street frontage (for example, an EMCS on each frontage of a corner lot) on the same property or site.

3. Between EMCS and freestanding/monument signs. The minimum distance required between a freestanding/monument sign and an electronic message center sign shall be one hundred feet (100').

4. Between EMCS on different properties. No EMCS shall be located less than three hundred feet (300') from another EMCS on a different property or site.

5. Freeway-oriented EMCS. A radius of six hundred sixty feet (660') shall be required between all freeway-oriented electronic message center signs. For freeway-oriented EMCS, and EMCS located adjacent to other State highways, if the requirements of the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) are more restrictive, those requirements shall control.

D. Sign form. An EMCS may take the form or style of a freestanding sign, monument sign, or wall sign only. Other forms are prohibited.

E. Substitution for freestanding/monument signs and other sign removal. For each EMCS to be emplaced, two (2) freestanding or monument signs, if extant, shall be removed from the subject site, on the same street frontage as the EMCS. Additional removal of other on-premises sign(s) may be required by the Planning Commission as a condition of approval.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.835 Design standards.

The following design standards shall apply to electronic message center signs:

A. Bare metal structural supports are prohibited, and shall have an architectural covering instead.

B. A freestanding EMCS shall have an architectural base and support(s) totaling at least half the width of the sign face.

C. Use of flat, translucent plastic or acrylic sign faces for the fixed/permanent copy shall be prohibited. Channel letters are preferred, and push-through-type faces may be used on cabinets.

D. High-quality materials shall be used in the sign overall. Use of metal backgrounds and cabinets is strongly encouraged.

E. The overall design, form, and structure of the EMCS shall be architecturally interesting and creative, and shall be harmonious with itself and the surrounding land uses. The design should complement the building(s) of the site for which it is emplaced, and, where appropriate, bear a strong architectural relationship to those buildings.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.840 Height, area, projection, and clearance requirements.

A. Height and area. The height and area of an EMCS shall not exceed the limits set forth in Table 44-5.

B. Projection and clearance.

1. No portion of an electronic message center sign shall project into any right-of-way.

2. The vertical clearance from grade to the lowest point of the sign is eight feet (8') for pedestrian use and fifteen feet (15') for vehicular use.

Zoning Districts	Standards
	Permitted area (sq. ft.)	Maximum area (sq. ft.)	Maximum height (ft.)
(a) For freeway-oriented EMCS, permitted area is 3 sq. ft./L.F.
(b) For freeway-oriented EMCS in the noted zoning districts only, maximum area is 300 sq. ft.
(c) For freeway-oriented EMCS, maximum height is 40 ft. Where the freeway elevation is higher than the base of the sign structure, height shall be measured from the grade of the freeway lane nearest the sign (not including on- and off-ramps) to the top of the sign structure, as illustrated in Figure 44-9.
(d) In all PDs, sign regulations specified within each PD ordinance take precedence over the provisions of this chapter. In cases of doubt, or where the several subareas of a given PD are of differing character, the Zoning Administrator shall determine which standards should apply.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.850 Brightness, display, copy, and message requirements.

The following requirements establish the standards for the display face and copy and messages to be displayed on an electronic message center sign:

A. Brightness. The following brightness standards and limitations shall apply:

1. Dawn to dusk: unlimited;

2. Dusk to dawn: the display surface shall not produce luminance in excess of 0.3 foot-candles above ambient light conditions, or the level recommended by the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IESNA) for the specific size and location of the sign, whichever is less;

3. The display brightness shall be controlled by a photocell or light sensor that adjusts the brightness to the required dusk-to-dawn level based on ambient light conditions without the need for human input. Use of other brightness adjustment methods, such as timer- or calendar-based systems, shall only be used as a backup system;

4. The display shall be factory-certified as capable of complying with the above brightness standards. Such certification shall be provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services; and

5. The sign owner shall provide to the City, upon request, certification by an independent contractor that the brightness levels of the sign are in compliance with the requirements of this section.

B. Display message. The following standards and limitations shall apply to the message shown on the display surface:

1. The message shown on the EMCS display shall not flash, shimmer, glitter, or give the appearance of flashing, shimmering, or glittering.

2. The EMCS display shall have no message or illumination which moves, or is in continuous motion, or which appears to be in continuous motion. Display of full-motion video and video-like sequences is prohibited.

3. The display message shall not change at a rate faster than one (1) message every eight (8) seconds.

4. There shall be a direct change from each message to the next, with no transition effect, and no blank or dark interval in between, to avoid a flashing or blinking effect.

5. The intensity of illumination shall not change, except as required to comply with the dusk-to-dawn brightness standards.

6. All messages shall be limited to on-site advertising of goods or services, or noncommercial messages (i.e., time, temperature, or public service announcements). All off-site advertising messages are prohibited (see "Billboard" Section 21.15.370); this includes messages by or for sponsors, patrons, brands, and other similar off-site parties or entities.

C. Fixed Copy. Fixed/permanent sign copy on each face of an electronic message center sign shall be limited to the identification of the business, shopping or convention center name or icon and two (2) major tenants or products or services. The fixed/permanent sign copy shall not flash, shimmer, glitter, or give the appearance of flashing, shimmering, or glittering, and shall be included in the overall sign area as indicated on Table 44-5.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.855 Light and glare intrusion prevention.

All electronic message center signs shall be adequately shielded and properly oriented and aimed so as to prevent the intrusion of light and glare upon residential land uses, including those in mixed-use districts.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.860 Exemptions.

A. Electronic signs used solely to display prices for gasoline sales at gas stations shall not be required to obtain a conditional use permit. These signs shall be subject to all other applicable requirements of Chapter 21.44.

B. Electronic message center signs and other similar electronic displays that are not visible from the public right-of-way and any other public or private property shall be exempt from the requirements of this division, except that such a sign or display shall be adequately covered or shielded, and properly oriented and aimed, so as to prevent the emission or generation of light and glare above the sign location. All building and electrical permits shall be obtained as required by the Municipal Code.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

21.44.870 Nonconforming electronic message center signs.

It is the intent of this section to recognize that the eventual elimination of existing electronic message center signs that do not conform to this chapter is as important to City-wide aesthetic and health, safety and welfare as is the prohibition of new signs that would violate the provisions of this chapter. It is also recognized that electronic message center signs typically require a much higher initial investment than other classes of signs, and do not recycle with the frequency of other classes of signs. Consequently, separate regulations for nonconforming EMCS are necessary to ensure that legal nonconforming EMCS are addressed as fairly as possible in a manner that avoids any unreasonable invasion of established property rights. Therefore, existing, legally-established electronic message center signs may be used and maintained as legal nonconforming signs, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 21.44.710 (Nonconforming signs), subject to the following restrictions:

A. A nonconforming EMCS shall not be:

1. Enlarged or otherwise altered to increase its display area,

2. Increased in height,

3. Changed to another type of nonconforming sign,

4. Structurally altered to extend its useful life,

5. Converted to a billboard (electronic/digital or otherwise), or

6. Reestablished after damage or destruction of more than fifty percent (50%) of the value of the sign at the time of such damage or destruction.

B. The display surface and fixed sign copy of a nonconforming EMCS may be altered and upgraded without affecting the nonconforming status of the sign, provided that such alterations comply with the requirements of Section 21.44.850 regarding brightness, display, copy, and message.

C. Upon change of the primary land use for which the EMCS was constructed, the new owner or operator shall be required to obtain a new Conditional Use Permit in order to maintain the EMCS at the site. The Planning Commission may, at its discretion, require upgrades to the display surface, fixed copy, and other elements of the nonconforming EMCS to bring it into compliance with the requirements of Section 21.44.850. If a new Conditional Use Permit is not obtained, the EMCS shall be removed immediately.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

DIVISION IX.

SIGNS ON PUBLIC PROPERTY

21.44.900 Signs on public property.

A. Applicability. No person, except a public officer or employee performing a public duty, shall place any sign on, above, along or within any public property. This prohibition does not apply to:

1. Temporary promotional activity signs in public parks in connection with activities or uses approved by the City;

2. Street banners, temporary holiday season decorations, and other street decorations on or suspended from lamp poles or other public structures shall be permitted when approved by the Director of Public Works and the City Manager;

3. Signs authorized by the City inside publicly owned places of assemblage such as convention halls, auditoriums, sports arenas or stadiums which are used in a proprietary capacity;

4. Wall signs for on-premises advertising on buildings used by concessionaires or other private commercial users or lessees of public property, when authorized by departments or agencies of the City in their proprietary capacity, and provided that any such signs comply with the provisions of Section 21.44.120 pertaining to wall signs;

5. Painting of house numbers upon curbs in compliance with the requirements of this Code;

6. Residential neighborhood and commercial district identification signs (see Section 21.44.240) provided:

   a. The signs are located in parkways or in the median island of divided highways;

   b. The signs shall comply with the established design guidelines in this chapter; and

   c. The applicant has a written construction and maintenance agreement approved by the Director of Public Works.

7. Advertising, advertising displays or donor recognition permitted pursuant to Chapter 16.55.

B. Permit Required. Any person who intends to place a private sign on public property as permitted by Subsection 21.44.900.A shall first obtain a permit from either the Director of Public Works or in the case of public property used in a proprietary capacity, from the department or agency of the City in charge of such property. A permit application form shall be provided by the City. The City Council, by resolution, may establish permit fees and may authorize rental rates or other appropriate charges for this permitted use of public property.

C. In the Coastal Zone:

1. On the sandy beach, the placement of private freestanding signs is prohibited.

2. Prior to the placement of any private sign on public property located adjacent to the sandy beach, a coastal development permit shall be approved for a comprehensive sign plan. A comprehensive sign plan shall include specific standards for the size, number and location of proposed signs. A coastal development permit for a comprehensive sign plan shall be approved only if a positive finding is made that the sign or signs included in the plan do not:

   a. Obstruct public views to or along the coast;

   b. Adversely impact public access to and use of the water;

   c. Adversely impact public recreational use of a public park or beach; or

d. Otherwise adversely affect recreation, access or the visual resources of the coast.

3. A coastal development permit shall be required for any sign placed on public property in the Coastal Zone, except that a coastal development permit shall not be required for: wall signs; signs on the interior of structures; signs comprised solely of paint on existing structures; temporary banners, and flags displayed for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days; warning signs; traffic safety signs; and public service signs less than four (4) square feet that identify public conveniences (e.g., restrooms, telephones, hours of operation, government ordinances). A coastal development permit for a sign on public property shall be approved only if a positive finding is made that the sign design and scale does not:

a. Obstruct views to or along the coast from publicly accessible places;

b. Adversely impact public access to and use of the water;

c. Adversely impact public recreational use of a public park or beach; or

d. Otherwise adversely affect recreation, access or the visual resources of the coast.

D. Removal of Signs. Any sign permitted on public property shall be removed by the party responsible for its posting immediately after the conclusion of the advertised event or by the removal date established by ordinance, regulation, contract or event. If such sign is not removed by that time, it shall be deemed abandoned and may be summarily removed by the City. The person or entity responsible for posting said sign shall be liable for the City's costs incurred in the removal of such sign, and the City Manager or his/her designee is authorized to collect said costs.

E. Illegal Signs. Any sign placed on public property in violation of the provisions of this section is declared a public nuisance and may be summarily removed by the City. The person or entity responsible for such illegal posting shall be liable for the City's costs incurred in the removal of such sign, and the City Manager or his/her designee is authorized to collect said costs.

(ORD-13-0014, § 19(Att. A), 2013)

CHAPTER 21.45 SPECIAL DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.45.010 Purpose.

The City recognizes that certain types of land use, due to the nature of the use, require additional development standards beyond those specified for the applicable zone district. The additional standards are required to ensure that the use does not adversely impact adjacent uses. This Chapter establishes special development standards for permitted principal uses indicated in Tables 31-1, 32-1, 33-2, 34-1, 35-1 and 36-1 with a "Y" and an asterisk (Y*).

(Ord. C-7629 § 2, 1999; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.100 Special development standards.

Special development standards shall be required for the use and activities noted as set forth in Section 21.45.110 et seq.

(Ord. C-7378 § 19, 1995; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.110 Adult entertainment businesses.

The following special development standards shall apply to adult entertainment businesses, as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) of this Title:

A. Location.

1. Adult entertainment businesses may not be located:

   a. Within three hundred feet (300') of any residential zoning district or residential Planned Development District (specifically excluding mixed-use zones) within the City; or

   b. Within one thousand feet (1,000′) of any public or private school (kindergarten through twelfth grade) located within the City; or

   c. Within six hundred feet (600′) of a City park; or

   d. Within five hundred feet (500′) of a church, as defined in Section 21.15.510 herein; or

   e. Within one thousand feet (1,000′) of any other adult entertainment business, as defined in this Title; or

   f. Fronting upon that portion of Pacific Coast Highway between Hayes Avenue and Termino Avenue, that portion of Anaheim Street between the Long Beach Freeway and Termino Avenue, that portion of Santa Fe Avenue between Anaheim Street and Pacific Coast Highway and that portion of Artesia Boulevard between Paramount Boulevard and Downey Avenue, and that portion of Broadway between Atlantic Avenue and Euclid Avenue. Such areas have been determined by the Long Beach Police Department to experience a high rate of arrests for prostitution, lewd behavior and disorderly conduct. Such determination shall be reviewed in three (3) year intervals, commencing upon October 1, 1997.

2. All measurements set forth above shall be made in a straight line, without regard to intervening structures or objects, from the nearest point on the property line of the adult entertainment business to the nearest point on the property line of the residential zone, school or other adult entertainment business, as applicable.

B. Parking. Adult entertainment businesses shall comply with the parking requirements set forth in Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements). The number of parking spaces provided shall be the equivalent of that required for new construction, regardless of the status of the legal nonconforming parking rights of the previous use.

C. Security. The adult entertainment business shall provide a security system that visually records and monitors all parking lot areas serving the use. All indoor areas of the adult entertainment business shall be open to public view at all times with exception of restroom facilities. "Accessible to the public" shall include those areas which are only accessible to members of the public who pay a fee and/or join a private club or organization. Further, the adult entertainment business shall provide security guards, who are State licensed, armed, uniformed and approved by the City of Long Beach Police Department, during all hours of operation. The number of such guards so required shall be determined by the Chief of Police, and such number may be increased at any time by the Chief of Police if it is determined, in the Chiefs discretion, that such increase is necessary to protect the public peace and the surrounding neighborhood.

D. Displays. The adult entertainment business shall not display any adult oriented material or adult oriented merchandise which would be visible from any location other than from within the premises of the adult entertainment business. This limitation includes newsracks, except as permitted by Long Beach Municipal Code Chapter 14.20 (Newsracks).

E. Lighting. All areas of the adult entertainment business (except movie and mini-movie theaters) shall be illuminated at a minimum of one (1) foot-candle, minimum maintained and evenly distributed at ground level (excluding those areas shielded by tables and similar obstructions). Parking lot lighting shall comply with the standards set forth in Section 21.41.259 of this Title.

F. Hours of Operation. An adult entertainment business shall not operate between the hours of twelve (12:00) midnight and nine (9:00) a.m.

(Ord. C-7274 § 4, 1994: C-6684 § 37, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.114 Alcohol beverage manufacturing and accessory tasting rooms.

The following special development standards shall apply to Alcohol Beverage Manufacturing (ABM) uses and Accessory Tasting Rooms:

1. An ABM and accessory tasting room use shall comply with all federal, state and local laws and regulations, including a valid license from the California Alcohol Beverage Control (ABC) Board for the specific type of alcoholic beverage manufacturing occurring on site.

2. An ABM and accessory tasting room use located in a commercial zone shall not exceed six thousand (6,000) square feet of gross floor area (GFA), unless otherwise permitted by an Administrative Use Permit (AUP).

3. An ABM use located in a commercial zone may not exceed production of fifteen thousand (15,000) barrels per year.

4. An ABM use located in a commercial zone must include an accessory tasting room.

5. An ABM and accessory tasting room may not be located within five hundred (500) feet of the nearest property line of any elementary, secondary, or high school, as measured from the nearest property line of the site on which the alcohol manufacturing use is located, unless located in PD-30 (Downtown Plan), or permitted by Conditional Use Permit (CUP) in accordance with Section 21.52.201.

6. All production activities shall be located completely within the ABM facility. All on-site storage shall be located within the ABM facility. Off-site storage is permitted in those zoning districts where storage and warehousing is permitted.

7. The display of alcoholic beverages shall not be located outside of an ABM and accessory tasting room facility.

8. The ABM and accessory tasting room use shall not be open to the public, except for the following hours:

   Manufacturing and Production: 7:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. Monday - Saturday.

   Accessory Tasting Room (Industrial Zone): 12:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. Sunday - Thursday, and 11:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m. Friday - Saturday.

   Accessory Tasting Room (Commercial Zone): 12:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. Sunday - Thursday, and 11:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m. Friday-Saturday. Additional hours may be permitted through an Administrative Use Permit (AUP). The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance by the City Council and cause it to be posted in three (3) conspicuous places in the City of Long Beach, and it shall take effect on the thirty-first (31st) day after it is approved by the Mayor.

9. Service trucks used for the purposes of loading and unloading materials, ingredients, products, and equipment shall be restricted to the hours of 8:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. Monday - Friday and 11:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. on Saturday; the use of service trucks for the purposes of loading and unloading materials, ingredients, equipment and finished product shall be prohibited on Sunday.

10. To the greatest extent feasible, access and loading bays are discouraged from facing toward a street.

11. The purchase, consumption, tasting and sales of alcoholic beverages shall be limited to only those products produced on site.

12. Ancillary retail sales shall be limited to only those retail items directly associated with the on-site ABM facility and accessory tasting room.

13. The ABM use or accessory tasting room shall not charge an admission fee, cover charge or require a minimum purchase.

14. A sewage plan and all on site infrastructure shall be approved by the appropriate City departments.

15. The ABM and accessory tasting room use shall comply with Chapter 8.80 "Noise" of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

16. A security plan, including a video surveillance system and exterior lighting plan, satisfactory to the Chief of Police shall be submitted to and approved by the Police Department prior to the issuing of a Certificate of Occupancy. The video surveillance system shall be installed to assist with monitoring the property on both the interior and exterior. A Digital Video Recorder (DVR), capable of exporting images in TIFF, BMP, or JPG format shall be used. Recording shall be retained for no less than thirty (30) days. Exterior lighting shall clearly illuminate the common areas surrounding the building including, but not limited to, the entrance and exit doors, as well as the business address.

17. No more than ten percent (10%) of the square footage of the windows and transparent doors of the premises shall be allowed to bear advertising, signs or any other obstructions. All advertising, signage or other obstructions shall be placed and maintained to ensure a clear and unobstructed view of the establishment's interior. Window signs displaying prices shall be prohibited. No advertising or signage shall be placed in the area above three (3) feet or below six (6) feet in height of all windows measured from grade.

18. No publicly accessible exterior pay telephones shall be located on the ABM and accessory tasting room use premises.

19. Tours of the ABM and accessory tasting room use shall occur on regularly scheduled days and times. The operator shall ensure that tours do not negatively impact adjacent businesses or property owners.

20. ABM and accessory tasting room uses located adjacent to or across from residential areas shall be restricted from utilizing natural ventilation practices that may negatively impact neighboring residences and may be required to install mechanical air filtration systems to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services.

(ORD-16-0025 § 2, 2016; ORD-15-0010 § 6, 2015)

21.45.115 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-11-0011 § 9, adopted June 7, 2011, repealed § 21.45.115, entitled "Attached/roof mounted cellular and personal communication services", which derived from: Ord. C-7399 § 15, 1996.

21.45.115.5 Amusement/entertainment facilities.

The following special development standards shall apply to Amusement/entertainment facilities:

A. Hours of operation shall be limited to between eight (8:00) a.m. to twelve o'clock (12:00) midnight;

B. All activities associated with the use shall comply with the standards of the noise ordinance, Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code;

C. Windows shall not be obscured by placement of signs, dark window tinting, shelving, racks or similar obstructions;

D. The operator of the use shall provide night lighting and other security measures to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police;

E. Exterior lighting shall not intrude on surrounding properties;

F. The operator shall demonstrate an ability to prevent problems related to potential noise, litter, loitering, crowd control and parking;

G. A security plan, including a video surveillance system, exterior lighting plan, noise, litter, loitering, crowd control and parking to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police shall be submitted to and approved by the Police Department prior to the issuing of a Certificate of Occupancy;

H. If the use contains a mixture of indoor and outdoor uses, the total square footage of each use shall be calculated together, and the more restrictive review process shall apply;

I. Each indoor and outdoor use shall comply with the parking requirements set forth in Chapter 21.41; and

J. If the use proposes to deviate from the special development standards, an Administrative Use Permit or a Conditional Use Permit shall be required.

(ORD-19-0028 § 34, 2019)

21.45.116 Check cashing, pay day loans, car title loans, signature loans and other financial services.

The following special development standards shall apply to check cashing, pay day loan, car title loan, signature loan, and other financial service businesses:

A. Conditional Use Permit. Required Findings for check cashing, pay day loan, car title loan, signature loan, and other financial service businesses are found in Section 21.52.212.

B. Pay Phones. Exterior phones, security bars and roll up doors shall be prohibited, and any existing pay phones shall be removed.

C. Window Signage. Windows shall not be obscured by placement of signs, dark window tinting, shelving, racks or similar obstructions.

D. Maintenance. All yard areas shall be developed and maintained in a neat, quiet, and orderly condition and operated in a manner so as not to be detrimental to adjacent properties and occupants. This shall encompass the maintenance of exterior facades of the building, designated parking areas serving the use, fences, and the perimeter of the site (including all public parkways).

E. Signage.

1. All nonconforming signs and pole signs shall be removed, including roof signs regulated under Section 21.44.710.

2. All on-site signage shall be brought into compliance with the Long Beach Municipal Code, Chapter 21.44, removed, and/or improved to the satisfaction of the Site Plan Review Committee.

3. Each check casher shall post a list of fees in English, Spanish, Tagalog, and Khmer at the cashier/check stand using a letter height not less than one-half (1/2) inch in height.

F. Landscaping.

1. All parking and landscaping areas on the property shall be improved and brought into compliance with the Long Beach Municipal Code by paving and striping parking areas and adding drought tolerant, native trees and shrubs.

2. All landscaping shall be permanently irrigated with a twenty-four (24) hour/seven (7) day electronic or solar powered time clock.

G. Lighting. Lighting shall be provided, including glare shields, in accordance with Chapter 21.41, in a relatively even pattern and in compliance with California Title 24 Energy requirements.

H. Security.

1. Interior and exterior video security cameras shall be installed at the front and rear of the business with full view of the public right-of-way and any area where the operator provides parking for its patrons. The cameras shall record video for a minimum of thirty (30) days and be accessible via the internet by the Long Beach Police Department (LBPD).

2. A Public Internet Protocol (IP) address and user name/password to allow LBPD to view live and recorded video from the cameras over the Internet are also required. All video security cameras shall be installed to the satisfaction of the Police Chief, Director of Technology Services, and Director of Development Services.

I. Building Improvements.

1. All building facades shall be improved with new paint, roofing materials, and windows to the satisfaction of the Site Plan Review Committee.

2. New canopies or architectural projections shall be incorporated to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission and/or Site Plan Review Committee.

(ORD-13-0018 § 19, 2013)

21.45.120 Commercial storage.

Open storage or storage of recreational vehicles is permitted outdoors provided the following standards are complied with:

A. Building Required. A building containing not less than three hundred (300) square feet of floor area shall be provided on the same parcel or an adjacent parcel associated with the same business. The building shall contain, at a minimum, employee restroom facilities and private office space for the business.

B. Location. Storage shall not be located within required yard areas or on required parking areas.

C. Site Plan Review Required. Before any construction or improvement begins, or new business license is issued to a new business licensee, or any licensed location expanded, complete site plans shall be submitted to and approved by the Planning and Building Department through the site plan review process. The site plan shall show the location and design of all buildings, structures, signs, lights, fences and landscaping.

D. Screening. All open storage shall be screened by a solid wall of minimum height eight feet (8′). Material being stored shall not be visible above the wall.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.125 Commissary (standalone).

The following conditions shall apply to all standalone commissary kitchens:

A. Proximity. No other similar facility shall be located and operating within 1,000 feet of the proposed site.

B. Location. If located in a Neighborhood Commercial Zoning District (CNP, CNA, CNR), specified Community Commercial Zoning District (CCP, CCR, and CCN zones), or pedestrian oriented areas of Specific Plans or Planned Development Districts, a storefront public lobby with onsite pickup is required.

C. Hours of Operation. Within 500 feet of residential use, the operating hours for a standalone commissary shall be limited between the hours of five (5:00) a.m. and twelve (12:00) a.m. The Zoning Administrator shall have the discretion to establish appropriate hours of operation for locations that require an Administrative Use Permit, in accordance with Division IV of Chapter 21.25.

D. Parking. Off-street parking for indoor dining areas within the commissary shall be provided at the ratio required for any indoor dinner restaurant. Kitchen and production areas of the building shall be parked at the requirements specified in Chapter 21.41 for Manufacturing, processing, packing, and assembly, and the like.

E. Loading. Adequate off-street loading spaces shall be provided to prevent adverse effects upon the neighborhood. A minimum of two (2) off-street loading and unloading spaces are required for all standalone commissary uses. For a commissary greater than 3,000 square feet of GFA, loading spaces shall be provided per the requirement specified in Chapter 21.41 for: Manufacturing, packing, assembly, warehousing uses.

F. Building Facades. On any industrial or commercial building or tenant space (existing or new) elevation fronting the street, blank walls in excess of 20 feet (or as specified within the applicable zoning district, whichever is more stringent) shall be prohibited. Facades visible from the street shall incorporate architectural elements such as building plane breaks, three-dimensional elements, transparent, display, doors, changes in color and materials landscaping that result in a building with articulation.

G. Entrances and Lobbies. A commissary shall have a main entrance that is clearly visible from the public right-of-way. Entrances and lobbies along street-facing frontages shall incorporate a transparent window system for clear visibility into the building. Such glass should be clear with an exterior daylight reflectance of not more than eight percent (8%). Entrances shall be clear of blockages, landscaping, and any other obstructions. The main entrance shall lead to a lobby used to retrieve persons into the site, verify access privilege into restricted areas, or provide seating areas.

H. Storage. A commissary shall have adequate storage space for food, equipment, and supplies to be stored within the building. There shall be no outdoor storage associated with commissary operations except for trash receptacles. Storage areas shall be separated from main entrances and lobbies and must be secured and accessible only to staff of the commissary.

I. Trash Receptacles. The commissary shall have onsite trash receptacles of adequate size appropriate to the demands of the use and to accommodate separation of materials for recycling and organics. All trash receptacles shall be designed in conformance with Section 21.45.167 of the Zoning Regulations.

(ORD-26-0012 § 10, 2026)

21.45.130 Drive-through facilities.

Findings required. A decision-maker shall not grant a conditional use permit or other approval for a drive-through facility without finding:

A. Said facility has adequate vehicle queuing distance, including with due consideration for menu board location, clear of any adjacent public right-of-way, and shall not create any vehicular or pedestrian travel hazards as demonstrated in a traffic study prepared to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services.

B. That the project substantially conforms with the purpose, intent and provisions of the General Plan, any applicable Specific Plan or Planned Development District, overlay, design guidelines, or other applicable regulation.

C. That the location and design of the facility is compatible with surrounding existing uses, includes a prominent main entrance at street or lot frontage, attractive landscaping, and includes sufficient pedestrian amenities, and interior floor area.

D. The said facility includes sufficient emissions controls to prevent idling vehicles, tunneling of emissions, and associated impacts on employees, visitors, and nearby sensitive receptors.

E. That said facility includes buffering sufficient to control any spillover impacts, including but not limited to noise, light, and debris that may impact surrounding sensitive receptors.

F. That said facility, if located within 150-feet of a residential zone, includes appropriate limits on hours of operation of the drive-through. Hours of operation for dine-in or take-out customers shall not be limited.

G. That said facility is not located in an area of existing overconcentration of drive-through facilities and is not located within a 500-foot radius of a school or park unless mitigating factors exist.

H. That development of the subject property shall not otherwise be suitable or necessary for more-intensive development that would advance the City's housing and economic goals, as described in the General Plan and Economic Blueprint.

(ORD-19-0016 § 8, 2019; Ord. C-7607 §§ 4, 8, 1999; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.132 Emergency shelters.

Emergency shelters shall be developed according to the following limitations:

A. Maximum number of beds. One hundred fifty (150) beds per facility. Additional beds may be permitted through the Conditional Use Permit (CUP) process (Minor CUP required).

B. Proximity to other shelters. No limit.

C. Length of stay. Maximum of ninety (90) days.

D. Off-street parking standards. Given the nature of the use, off-street parking shall be provided only for office space in the shelter, at the same rate as that required for general professional office use, as specified in Chapter 21.41. Additionally, one (1) loading space compliant with the standards of Chapter 21.41 shall be provided for each twenty-five (25) beds or portion thereof.

E. Size and location of exterior and interior waiting and drop-off:

1. An adequately-sized waiting and drop-off area, for the sheltered persons and their personal effects, shall be provided at each emergency shelter facility. This area may be either on the exterior or the interior of the building. If exterior, this area shall not abut or adjoin a public sidewalk or right-of-way unless separated by a fence at least four (4) feet tall.

2. Said waiting/drop-off area shall comply with all requirements of the applicable Building Codes relating to such a use or occupancy.

3. Exterior waiting shall be permitted for no more than one (1) hour prior to the opening and one (1) hour after the closing of the facility each day.

F. Security and lighting.

1. For an emergency shelter with ten (10) or more beds, an adequate number of on-site security guards shall be present during the waiting/drop-off periods before opening and after closing.

2. For an emergency shelter with twenty-five (25) or more beds, an adequate number of on-site security guards shall be provided at all times when the shelter is operating.

3. Exterior lighting shall be provided at each facility as directed by the Chief of Police.

4. Other security measures, such as security cameras and recorders, security gates, or other necessary requirements, shall be provided as directed by the Chief of Police.

G. Provision of on-site management. All emergency shelter facilities shall have on-site management present at all times when the shelter is operating, and during the periods when sheltered persons are waiting before opening and after closing of the facility.

(ORD-13-0004 § 2, 2013)

21.45.133 Indoor animal adoption and boarding special development standards.

The following special development standards shall apply to businesses involving indoor animal adoption and boarding uses by right or requiring an Administrative Use Permit:

A. Location. The site shall not adjoin or abut a residential use district. Planned Development Districts allowing ground floor mixed-use commercial and residential are exempt from this requirement.

B. Size. Adoption and boarding areas shall remain an accessory component of the established primary operation and shall not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the gross floor area.

C. Building Improvements.

1. The facility shall be improved with sound abatement measures to ensure compliance with the noise ordinance, Chapter 8.80 of the Long Beach Municipal Code. Written documentation by a licensed acoustical engineer shall be provided to demonstrate compliance with the noise ordinance, subject to the approval of the Director of Development Services or designated staff.

2. Impervious flooring surfaces and floor drains shall be incorporated in the areas dedicated for recreation or boarding of animals. Operations involving the care of cats are exempt from providing floor drains.

3. Facilities shall be temperature-controlled with a heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) system. Ventilation and exhaust systems shall conform to the latest edition of the California Mechanical Code and California Building Energy Efficiency Standards for Residential and Nonresidential Buildings, as adopted and amended by Chapter 18.36 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, or as otherwise required by applicable provisions of the California Health and Safety Code.

4. Facilities incorporating the handling, preparation, or sale of food or beverages shall be designed in accordance with Title 8 of the Long Beach Municipal Code and applicable provisions of the California Health and Safety Code.

D. Operations.

1. All business activities must be confined within an enclosed building.

2. Operations and care of animals shall be in compliance with Title 6 of the Municipal Code.

3. The number of animals shall be limited to a minimum area of seventy-five (75) square feet of floor area per animal.

4. The operator shall clean all recreational and boarding areas daily and properly dispose of associated animal waste.

(ORD-19-0028 § 35, 2019)

21.45.133.6 Mobile food truck or mobile food facility on private property.

A mobile food truck or mobile food facility may be permitted as a temporary business on private property, provided:

A. An Administrative Land Use Review (ALUR) shall be obtained by the mobile food facility operator or property owner prior to operating on private property.

B. Mobile food facilities shall be limited to developed (non-vacant) non-residential sites.

C. A mobile food facility shall be parked on asphaltic, concrete paving, or equivalent hard surface to the satisfaction of the Building Official.

D. A mobile food facility shall not be located on a site which is included on any list compiled pursuant to Section 65962.5 of the California Government Code (Cortese List).

E. A mobile food facility shall sell food only.

F. Operating hours for a mobile food facility on private property shall be limited between the hours of seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m., unless granted through an Administrative Use Permit, in accordance with Division IV of Chapter 21.25 of the Zoning Regulations.

G. The mobile food facility shall be prohibited from operating in any landscaped area.

H. No sales shall be made to motorists, nor shall any sales interfere with vehicular traffic.

I. The mobile food facility shall not be located in any manner that blocks or impedes on-site or off-site vehicular, pedestrian, or bicycle circulation.

J. The mobile food facility shall not occupy or impede access to required parking stalls or spaces for the primary onsite land use, unless a signed affidavit is provided that the hours of the mobile food facility and the primary onsite land use do not overlap.

K. If vehicular parking remains active near the mobile food facility operation, the following provisions shall apply:

a. The remaining parking spaces shall maintain the required dimensions and turning radius specified in Chapter 21.41 of the Zoning Regulations.

b. A temporary barrier shall be provided to buffer the active parking areas or drive aisles from any customer queuing areas.

L. The mobile food facility operator shall identify the power source when operating on private property. If the operator proposes the use of a generator, the generator location and specifications shall comply with the Noise Ordinance (Ch. 8.80, LBMC) and any required regulatory permits. Generators shall have regular maintenance and be well-tuned with genuine parts to prevent mechanical noise from loose components or worn parts.

a. Generators shall be placed far from property lines, homes, and sensitive areas, using natural terrain or existing walls as buffers. Generators shall maintain the following distance between the noise source (generator) and closest sensitive use within the defined Noise District:

(i) Noise District One: 100 feet

(ii) Noise District Two: 30 feet

(iii) Noise District Three: 18 feet

(iv) Noise District Four: 10 feet

b. If the above distances are not feasible, the applicant shall provide specifications documentation for the proposed generator for review for compliance with the Noise Ordinance.

M. All lighting affixed to the mobile food facility shall be shielded and pointed downward equivalent to the "full cutoff" lighting standard. The use of floodlights and freestanding lights are prohibited.

N. Section 21.44.600 of the Zoning Regulations shall remain in full force in effect for prohibited signs.

O. A mobile food facility shall be equipped with trash receptacles of an adequate size and quantity to accommodate all trash and refuse generated by its operation.

P. A mobile food facility operator shall be responsible for the collection and removal of all waste generated during operation of the mobile food facility. The site of operation must be left clean and free of refuse, debris, and litter at the end of each operating day and/or upon departure of the mobile food facility. All mobile food facility operators shall inspect, pick up, remove, and dispose of all trash or refuse which consists of materials originally dispensed from the truck within a 50-foot radius of the truck.

Q. Temporary fixtures such as tables, chairs, umbrellas, canopies, and signage may be set up adjacent to the mobile food facility with the property owner's consent, provided they do not obstruct required circulation paths, access, or parking. All such items must be removed at the end of operating hours. Mobile food facility operators are responsible for ensuring that any fixtures transported or used in connection with vending comply with all applicable State food safety and transportation regulations.

R. The maximum number of food trucks parked on private property at one time is subject to the approval of the property owner. In terms of number of food trucks allowed on the property, as part of filing requirements, the applicant must provide an overall site plan of the property that indicates areas that have been allocated to mobile food facilities vs. open, unallocated space.

S. A mobile food facility shall not use amplified or non-amplified sound-making devices in conjunction with operations, such as speakers, microphones, public address systems, bells, and chimes.

T. A mobile food facility shall maintain compliance with all applicable provisions of the Long Beach Municipal Code, including but not limited to, maintenance of an active business license and health permit at all times during operation.

(ORD-26-0012 § 11, 2026)

21.45.134 Outdoor animal daycare special development standards.

The following special development standards shall apply to businesses involving outdoor animal daycare services by right or requiring an Administrative Use Permit:

A. Review Process. An Administrative Use Permit (AUP) shall be required to allow public review and the opportunity to establish appropriate conditions of approval for the operation.

B. Separation distance. Outdoor dog animal daycare uses shall be at least two hundred (200) feet from the nearest property zoned or used for residential purposes.

C. Attendant Required. Staff shall be in the outdoor area whenever animals are in the outdoor area.

D. Limitation on the number of animals. The number of animals permitted in the outdoor area shall be limited in accordance with the standards set by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) with a minimum of seventy-five (75) square feet of floor area per animal.

E. Fencing. Opaque fencing shall be required to screen all outdoor areas from adjacent uses and subject to the height requirements of Chapter 21.43 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

F. Landscaping. Landscaping shall be provided adjacent to the outdoor fencing to allow for planting.

G. Hours of operation. Outdoor animal daycare hours of operation shall be limited to between seven (7:00) a.m. and seven (7:00) p.m., Monday through Sunday.

H. Daily cleaning. The operator shall clean all outdoor areas daily and properly dispose of associated animal waste.

(ORD-19-0028 § 36, 2019)

21.45.135 Outdoor sale of flowers and newspapers.

The sale of flowers and newspapers shall be allowed as open uses according to the following limitations:

A. The uses allowed are limited to the sale of flowers, potted plants, newspapers, magazines and greeting cards. No other mobile vendor uses are permitted by this provision;

B. The uses shall obtain a special outdoor sales permit at the zoning counter in the Planning and Building Department prior to issuance of a business license. This permit shall not be issued until compliance with the following provisions has been shown and a fee equal to a sign permit fee has been paid:

1. A twenty (20) minute curbside parking area shall adjoin the site of the flower cart or newsstand;

2. A cart or stand shall be located on private property, completely outside of the public right-of-way. An area not less than two-feet-wide (2′) on private property shall be provided on all sides from which merchandise can be viewed in order to allow vendors and customers to stand outside the public right-of-way while transacting business;

3. All applications shall be accompanied by proof of authorization by the owner of the property; and

4. Either flowers or newspapers may be sold from either carts or stands. A photograph of the cart or building plans for stands shall be submitted to the Zoning Administrator for review and approval. Approval of the request shall depend upon the cart or stand being clean, neat, of substantial construction and being aesthetically compatible to the location proposed.

(Ord. C-7326 § 25, 1995; Ord. C-7047 § 32, 1992)

21.45.140 Outdoor display for sale or rent (vehicles, equipment, garden supply, or building materials).

A. Building Required. A building containing not less than three hundred (300) square feet of floor area shall be provided on the same parcel or an adjacent parcel associated with the same business. The building shall contain, at a minimum, employee restroom facilities and private office space for the business.

B. Location. The vehicles and other display materials shall be set back five feet (5′) from a street and shall not be located in required parking areas.

C. Surfacing. The entire area used for display purposes shall be surfaced with not less than two inches (2″) of blacktop or equally serviceable hard pavement surface. The surfaced area shall be maintained in good condition.

D. Landscaping. All street frontage setback areas shall be landscaped in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 21.42 (Landscaping Standards).

E. Screening. Display of vehicles and garden equipment located along street frontages shall be screened by compact evergreen hedge or alternate landscaping in a manner which screens the undersides of vehicles from public view. Display of other equipment and materials shall be screened by a solid fence of at least six feet (6′) in height.

F. Wheel Stops. Wheel stops or some other type of protective device shall be provided as necessary to prevent vehicles from damaging fences, walls, buildings or landscaped areas, or from extending across any public or private property lines.

G. Lighting. All outdoor lights shall be served by underground wiring and shall be shielded from adjacent properties.

H. Maintenance. Outdoor display areas shall be maintained in a neat and manner nondetrimental to persons working or residing in the vicinity.

(Ord. C-7326 § 26, 1995: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.150 Outdoor service and repair of vehicles and equipment.

A. Building Required. A building containing not less than three hundred (300) square feet of floor area shall be provided on the same parcel or an adjacent parcel associated with the same business. The building shall contain, at a minimum, employee restroom facilities and private office space for the business.

B. Open Uses Allowed. Unless otherwise restricted below, vehicle and equipment repair or maintenance may occur in open areas provided that appropriate screening is installed in accordance with the screening requirements of this Section.

C. Open Uses Prohibited. Painting, except color match testing and sandblasting shall not occur in the open.

D. Parts and Sales Restriction. Vehicles or equipment parked or stored on the site shall not be used as a source of parts and shall not be sold unless the business is also licensed for vehicle or equipment sales.

E. Hours of Operation. Outdoor vehicle or equipment repair and maintenance shall occur only between the hours of seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m.

F. Noise. Outdoor vehicle or equipment repair and maintenance activities shall not violate the City noise ordinance, Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code.

G. Screening of Work Areas.

1. Abutting or Adjoining Residential Uses. All property lines which abut or adjoin a district allowing residential uses shall be provided with a solid fence or wall not less than six feet (6′) in height. Fences or walls on property lines abutting or adjoining front yard areas may not exceed three feet (3′) in height.

2. Across Alley From Residential Use. All property lines which abut or adjoin an alley across which residential uses are allowed shall be provided with a solid fence or wall not less than six feet (6′) in height. However, for security reasons, the fence or wall may contain gates or other open areas, provided the open area does not exceed twenty percent (20%) of the entire fence or wall length. The Director of Planning and Building may accept open decorative fences such as wrought iron in lieu of the solid fence or wall, provided wrecked and disassembled vehicles or work service areas are not visible through the fence.

H. Screening of Wrecked or Dismantled Vehicles. Any wrecked or dismantled vehicles or equipment parked overnight or stored on a site in the open shall be screened from the street by a solid fence or wall not less than six feet (6′) in height. However, for security reasons, fences which abut alleys or residential streets, or fences which face a major highway, a minor highway or principal street, may contain open fence areas, as long as the open area does not exceed twenty percent (20%) of the entire fence or wall length.

I. Vehicles Outside Screening. All vehicles or equipment parked or stored outside an area fully screened pursuant to Subsections 21.45.150.G and 21.45.150.H shall be parked or stored in a neat and orderly manner. Vehicles shall be parked parallel to each other and to property lines and/or buildings. Vehicles shall not be wrecked or dismantled; shall have hoods, trunks and doors closed; shall not be dirty or dusty; and shall not be parked or stored on public property or public rights-of-way.

J. Surfacing. All areas used for open vehicle and equipment repair, parking or storage shall be improved with a fully paved surface and raised concrete curbing not less than six inches (6″) in height.

K. Curb Cuts. All unused curb cuts shall be closed and replaced with a full height curb and sidewalk. Curb cuts shall not exceed twenty-four feet (24′) in width.

L. Site Maintenance. All areas visible from public rights-of-way shall be kept clean and orderly in compliance with the provisions of the property maintenance ordinance, Chapter 8.76 of the Municipal Code. All broken, cracked, depressed or damaged curbs and sidewalks shall be repaired. No vehicle or equipment repair use shall allow dirt, grime, oil or any chemicals to drain across the public sidewalk or alley in a manner which stains or discolors the sidewalk or alley.

(Ord. C-7776 § 6, 2001; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.151 Publicly run post-secondary school.

A. Purpose. In recognition of the benefits imparted by publicly run post-secondary schools in the City and consistent with the Long Beach College Promise, of which the City is a partner, the City seeks to expand access to post- secondary education.

B. Development Standards. The following special development standards shall apply to changes of use to establish publicly run post-secondary schools that operate as satellite spaces offering instruction and support functions:

1. Parking. Parking requirements for a change of use to establish a publicly run post-secondary school shall be waived. Additionally, Sections 21.41.165 and 21.41.315 shall apply.

(ORD-24-0033 § 24, 2024; ORD-20-0018 § 23, 2020)

21.45.153 Interim housing.

The following standards shall apply to Interim housing as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) of this Title:

A. Types of Interim Housing. Interim housing facilities include, but are not limited to, bridge housing, crisis housing, recuperative care housing, stabilization housing, recovery bridge housing, and emergency shelters.

B. Coordinated Assessment. A coordinated assessment system should be utilized to increase the efficiency of assisting individuals entering an interim housing facility find the appropriate resources and level of assistance. This will help create a consistent approach to access and deliver services for system components that include, but are not limited to, access centers, bridge housing, crisis housing, homeless prevention, housing location, housing navigation, outreach, permanent supportive housing, rapid re-housing and transitional housing.

C. Scope of Service. A scope of service shall be outlined for the proposed interim housing use. Supportive services found to be necessary should be provided on-site or clients shall be provided transportation options as needed. The interim housing facility shall accommodate the needs of the proposed residents, including but not limited to, adequate meal capabilities, sanitation facilities, linen and bedding, storage areas for personal belongings, pet accommodation or placement, and any other item or amenity deemed necessary for residents.

D. On-Site Management. Interim housing case management should be demonstrated at the appropriate level of provider-to-client ratio. On-site management may be present at all times during the operation of the facility.

E. Accessibility. Interim housing shall be located in an accessible location within one-half (1/2) mile of a transit site.

F. Parking. Off-street parking requirements shall be based on the applicability to the interim housing use. At a minimum, off-street parking using Chapter 21.41 shall be provided based on the square footage of office space, or based on the number of on-site staff, whichever is greater. In addition, one (1) loading space shall be provided for each twenty-five (25) beds of a facility.

G. Neighborhood Compatibility. All programming shall take place on site, and not permit any queueing or loitering adjacent or abutting the site. The operator shall keep the abutting area, including the public right-of-way free of litter and debris. Interim housing facilities shall adhere to the standards of the City's Noise Ordinance, Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code.

H. Security. An appropriate level of security shall be provided at the interim housing facility. The number of trained staff responsible for security shall be based on the number of beds provided at the facility. This may include, but is not limited to, the use of security personnel, video cameras, fencing, restricted access points and security

I. Lighting and other measures to the satisfaction of the Police Chief and Director of Development Services.

(ORD-20-0026 § 18, 2020)

21.45.155 Interim passive parks.

The following special development standards shall apply to interim passive parks as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) of this Title:

A. Improvements.

1. Improvements shall be limited to landscaping, walking paths and irrigation systems.

2. Park furniture is limited to benches.

3. Accessory buildings and or structures such as play equipment, tables, fire pits, barbecues, concession stands and public restrooms are not permitted.

B. Setbacks.

1. Front. The front setback shall be the same as for a principal structure in the applicable zoning district.

2. Side. A four foot (4′) side setback is required when abutting a residential district otherwise none is required.

3. Rear. A ten foot (10′) rear setback is required when abutting a residential district otherwise none is required.

C. Hours of Operation. Interim passive park hours of operation shall be seven-thirty (7:30) a.m. to dusk.

D. Trash Receptacles. Adequate trash receptacles shall be provided and maintained for the life of the use.

(Ord. C-7378 § 27, 1995)

21.45.157 Radio and television antennas.

A. Location. Radio and television receiving and transmitting antennas shall be permitted any place on a lot except within the front yard setback area.

B. Height. Antennas are permitted up to a height of sixty feet (60′) or twenty feet (20′) above a building upon which they are erected, whichever is greater, provided that:

1. A building permit is obtained to erect the antenna and/or supporting tower;

2. Any transmitting equipment is used in such a way as to minimize interference with commercial or public radio and television broadcasts.

Nothing in this Title shall authorize the construction, installation or placement of any structure permitted in this Section within the clearances from any electric public utility installation, conductor, line, wire, pole, tower or any other equipment and facilities established by the Public Utilities Commission. Documentation of compliance with these regulations shall be provided with application for a building permit.

(Ord. C-7663 § 37, 1999)

21.45.160 Retail/office commercial uses and parking structures in the R-4-H Zone.

A. Commercial Uses. In the R-4-H Zone, at grade commercial uses shall be located at property lines fronting on streets. A parking structure may encroach into the required yard area provided the structure is shielded by a street level commercial use along the street frontage. The commercial uses permitted pursuant to this Subsection 21.45.160.A. shall be those and only those permitted in the CL Zone.

B. Parking Structures. Parking structures may project into a required yard area fronting a street provided that the entire street frontage at ground level contains commercial use, corner cutoffs, driveways, building entrances or landscape amenity areas approved by the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-6595 § 13, 1989; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.163 Safe parking site.

The following standards shall apply to a Safe parking site as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) of this Title:

A. Administrative Land Use Review. The proposed Safe Parking Site shall be reviewed for compliance with required operating conditions.

B. Case Management. All participants in the Safe Parking Program shall be pre-screened by the operator. Identified service needs and case management shall be provided by the program operator with the intent of providing resources to assist participants into other available programs and/or housing.

C. Automobiles. All vehicles utilizing the Safe Parking Site must be in working order and not leaking oil or other hazardous materials. Vehicle operators must have valid motor vehicle insurance, driver's license and current vehicle registration.

D. Capacity. A maximum number of vehicles allowed in the Safe Parking Program shall be determined by the size and location of the Safe Parking Site. Recreational vehicles (RVs) are not allowed unless the parking lot is designed to accommodate oversized vehicles.

E. Hours of Operation. The recommended Safe parking site hours will be a designated twelve (12)-hour window of time, such as 6:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. All vehicles must leave the Safe parking site during nonprogram hours.

F. Sanitation Facilities. Restroom facilities, including hand washing facilities, will be provided on-site or immediately adjacent to the safe parking lot facility. The number of sanitation facilities required will be determined based on the number of Safe parking participants, but a minimum of at least two (2) facilities shall be provided at each Safe parking site. Adequate trash disposal facilities shall also be provided on-site. If recreational vehicles (RVs) are allowed as part of the Safe Parking Program, appropriate waste disposal facilities shall be provided for such vehicles. No disposal of graywater/blackwater is permitted by participants on or around the site.

G. Security. Adequate on-site security (twelve (12) hours per day) shall be provided during hours of Safe Parking Site operations.

H. Noise. The Safe Parking Site shall adhere to the standards of the City's Noise Ordinance, Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code. Excessive noise, including noise from vehicles, radios, portable devices, etc. shall be prohibited.

I. Lighting. The parking lot shall have a level of illumination that is adequate to provide visibility for security purposes.

J. Spacing. Adequate spacing between parked vehicles shall be provided for privacy. Options include a minimum distance of nine (9) feet between cars, an operational system where parked cars are offset from one another, or a privacy-type screen between vehicles is utilized.

K. Screening. The Safe parking site shall have durable and attractive screening of the parking lot for privacy and security as deemed necessary.

(ORD-20-0026 § 19, 2020)

21.45.165 Swimming pools and spas.

A. A swimming pool or spa may be placed anywhere on a lot except within the front yard setback.

B. A swimming pool or spa at a single-family home shall be isolated from the home pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 115920) of Chapter 5 of Part 10 of Division 104 of the Health and Safety Code of the State of California.

(Ord. C-7663 § 38, 1999)

21.45.166 Tattoo parlors.

The following special development standards shall apply to tattoo parlors, whether as a primary or an accessory use:

A. No new tattoo parlor use shall be located within seven hundred feet (700') of another tattoo parlor, unless granted through an Administrative Use Permit, in accordance with Division IV of Chapter 21.25 and Section 21.52.273.B.

B. No new tattoo parlor use shall be located within seven hundred feet (700') of any public or private primary or secondary school, unless granted through an Administrative Use Permit, in accordance with Division IV of Chapter 21.25 and Section 21.52.273.B.

C. Tattoo parlors shall operate only between the hours of seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m., unless granted through an Administrative Use Permit, in accordance with Division IV of Chapter 21.25 and Section 21.52.273.B.

D. Service of alcohol, marijuana based substances, or other controlled substance shall not be permitted in conjunction with a tattoo parlor use.

E. The entrance door and storefront window glazing shall be 100 percent (100%) clear and free of obstructions such as signs, window tinting, shelving, or racks.

F. "Specified anatomical areas" as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) shall not be exposed in the publicly accessible areas of the business or viewable from the public right-of-way.

G. The operator of the approved use shall prevent loitering and loud noises around the subject site during and after the hours of business operation.

H. A sign stating, "No tattoo service will be provided for anyone under the age of 18," shall be visible at all times on the door of the front entrance.

I. Lighting shall be placed above all exterior doors. Metal halide or other similar, "white light"-emitting bulbs shall be used to clearly illuminate the tenant address.

J. The proposed business shall be equipped with an audible burglar alarm system and door/window alarm company contacts for added security.

K. Security cameras providing full camera coverage of all entries and exits into the building and full camera coverage of all public rights-of-way and private parking areas provided by the business. Cameras must record in color with output of at least four hundred eighty (480) lines resolution. Recordings shall be retained for no less than thirty (30) days on an IP-configurable Digital Recording Recorder (DVR) or digital storage setup with a public IP address. The surveillance system username and password shall be provided to the Long Beach Police Department.

L. The applicant shall comply with all applicable State, County and City Health and Human Services regulations including, but not limited to the State Safe Body Art Act regarding the establishment and operation of businesses engaged in tattooing, body piercing and permanent cosmetic application.

M. The property shall be developed and maintained in a neat, quiet, and orderly condition and operated in a manner so as not to be detrimental to adjacent properties and occupants. This shall encompass the maintenance of exterior facades of the building, designated parking areas serving the use, fences and the perimeter of the site (including all public parkways).

N. Exterior security bars and roll-up doors applied to windows and pedestrian building entrances shall be prohibited.

O. Any graffiti found on site must be removed within twenty-four (24) hours of its appearance.

P. Provisions in 21.45.166.A through P may be appealed to the City's Zoning Administrator, in accordance with Section 21.10.045.

(ORD-18-0013 § 5, 2018)

21.45.167 Trash receptacles.

All required trash receptacles shall be developed according to the following standards:

A. Minimum Size. Each trash receptacle area shall have adequate area to contain a size appropriate to the demands of the use and to accommodate separation of materials for recycling.

B. Screening. All trash receptacles shall be enclosed on at least three (3) sides by a solid masonry wall of minimum height five feet, six inches (5'6"). The receptacle shall not be visible above the wall. A visually solid gate shall be provided.

C. Location. All trash areas shall be located and arranged so as to be readily accessible to those using the trash receptacle as well as to trash pickup vehicles.

D. Landscaping. All trash areas if visible from a street shall be further screened with a two foot (2') wide landscape strip. The strip shall be planted with shrubs of minimum five (5) gallon size which grow to a height of four feet (4'), with vines planted to the satisfaction of the Director of Planning and Building.

(Ord. C-7663 § 39, 1999)

21.45.168 Truck terminal and truck yard facilities.

The following special development standards shall apply to trucking terminal and yards, in all Industrial Zones:

A. Special conditions for industrial uses, Section 21.52.410 and Standards for outdoor service and repair of vehicles, Section 21.45.150 shall also apply.

B. Storage. Transport containers used for storing goods, materials, or equipment to be transported by truck, train, or marine vessel may be stored anywhere on a lot, with the exception of any required corner cutoff area. No more than two (2) containers shall be stacked atop one another.

C. Clean Truck Program. All drayage trucks, as defined in the Clean Truck Program, utilized for trucking business operations shall comply with the Clean Truck Program.

D. Maintenance. All yard areas shall be developed and maintained in a neat, quiet, and orderly condition and operated in a manner so as not to be detrimental to adjacent properties and occupants. This shall encompass the maintenance of exterior facades of the building, designated parking areas serving the use, fences and the perimeter of the site (including all public parkways).

E. Facilities/Restrooms. All trucking terminals and yards shall contain office(s) and restroom facilities that are large enough to accommodate employees and guests. Truck terminals and yards are prohibited on vacant lots.

F. Landscaping.

1. A ten foot (10') wide landscaping buffer shall be provided on regional corridors and major arterial streets within the front yard and street side yard setback using drought tolerant plants common to the region.

2. A five foot (5') wide landscaping buffer shall be provided on minor arterial and collector streets, within the front yard and street side yard setbacks.

3. A ten foot (10') landscaping buffer shall be provided adjacent to all residentially zoned properties using drought tolerant plants common to the region.

4. All landscaping shall be permanently irrigated with a twenty-four (24) hour/seven (7) day electronic or solar powered time clock.

G. Lighting. Lighting shall be provided in accordance with Chapter 21.41 in a relatively even pattern and in compliance with California Title 24 Energy requirements.

H. Fencing.

1. A maximum twelve foot (12') in height decorative fence is required at all driveways, parking and loading areas that are visible from the public right-of-way.

2. An eight foot (8') in height decorative block wall shall be placed on all property lines adjacent to residentially zoned properties.

3. Chainlink, barbed wire and razor wire fencing are prohibited, except when located atop an eight foot (8') or taller decorative fence on interior property lines, including a public alley.

I. Truck Queuing, Circulation, Paving and Grading.

1. Adequate turning radius shall be provided to allow an adequate egress and ingress to the site.

2. Trucking uses that accept deliveries or transfers from out of State trucks shall provide a minimum of thirty foot (30') wide curb approach.

3. The site shall be designed to safely accommodate on-site maneuvers of any truck used for the business, and shall permit such trucks to enter and exit the site in a forward direction, thereby avoiding backing from or into a public street, except that trucks may back into a site, but not back into the street on lots less than twelve thousand five hundred (12,500) square feet in size.

4. No loading or unloading of any materials or trailers shall be allowed on the public right-of-way, including an alley.

5. Areas utilized for the parking of trucks shall be surfaced with a minimum six inch (6") thick reinforced concrete over compacted grade to ninety percent (90%) relative compaction; or a minimum five inch (5") thick asphalt paving over six inch (6") compacted road base, over compacted grade to ninety percent (90%) relative compaction, to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services.

6. The site shall be graded to drain in accordance with City's NPDES requirements and adequate catch basins shall be provided to screen runoff from the site.

7. Major auto repair associated with a trucking use and subletting to trucking repair businesses shall be prohibited. Minor auto repair associated with a trucking use is allowed as an accessory use.

8. Dumping of tires, oil, transmission fluids, filters, or any other hazardous materials is strictly prohibited.

(ORD-10-0033 § 2, 2010)

21.45.170 Vending carts.

Vending carts shall be allowed as open uses according to the following special development standards:

A. An administrative use permit shall be required by the City prior to issuance of a business license;

B. Vending carts are limited to developed nonresidential sites;

C. No more than two (2) signs, printed or affixed to each cart, which do not exceed two (2) square feet each, shall be permitted;

D. No sales shall be made to motorists or shall any sales interfere with vehicular traffic;

E. No vending cart operator shall place or allow to be placed any permanent or temporary fixtures at the location of the vending activity, including, but not limited to, chairs, tables, advertising material or signs not affixed to the carts or storage facilities;

F. The vending cart shall be prohibited from operating in any landscaped area;

G. The vending cart shall not be located in any manner that blocks or impedes on-site vehicular or pedestrian circulation;

H. The vending cart shall not be located in or impede access to any required parking stall or space;

I. The vending cart may operate during the hours of the retail or office complex, unless the conditions of approval contain more restrictive hours of operation in which case the more restrictive hours shall apply;

J. All vending carts shall be equipped with trash receptacles of an adequate size and quantity to accommodate all trash and refuse generated by such outdoor vending operation; and

K. The vending cart operator shall possess a valid Health Department permit if food is prepared or sold.

(ORD-24-0032 § 2, 2024; ORD-24-0003 § 2, 2024; Ord. C-7247 § 32, 1994)

21.45.300 Amortization of nonconforming open storage and uses.

A. Illegal Uses and Legal Nonconforming Uses. All open commercial uses not specifically permitted by this Chapter shall be prohibited on the effective date of the ordinance codified in this Section as an amendment to the Zoning Regulations, and all legal nonconforming open uses shall be terminated by September 1, 1983.

B. Permitted Uses. All open commercial uses specifically permitted by this Chapter which do not meet the required provisions shall be brought into compliance on the effective date of the ordinance codified in this Section as an amendment to the Zoning Regulations.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.45.400 Green building standards for public and private development.

A. A green building, also known as a sustainable building, is a structure that is designed, built, renovated, operated or reused in an ecological and resource-efficient manner. Green buildings are designed to meet certain objectives such as protecting occupant health; improving employee productivity; using energy, water and other resources more efficiently; and reducing the overall impact to the environment. The City of Long Beach recognizes the benefit of green buildings and establishes a green building program.

B. The Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Rating System created by the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) is hereby established as the rating system the City shall use in administering the green building program. Alternative green building systems may be substituted, at the discretion of the Director of Development Services, if the system can be demonstrated to achieve a comparable standard of achievement as LEED.

C. No building permit shall be issued for the types of projects specified in this Section unless the project meets the level of LEED performance specified in this Section. The Director of Development Services shall have the authority to issue a clearance for all projects subject to the provisions of this Section for LEED compliance. Issuance of clearance shall be based on procedures established by the Director of Development Services.

1. The following types of projects shall meet the intent of LEED at the certified level:

    a. A new residential or mixed use building of fifty (50) dwelling units and fifty thousand (50,000) gross square feet or more;

    b. A new mixed use, or nonresidential building of fifty thousand (50,000) square feet or more of gross floor area;

    c. The alteration of an existing residential or mixed use building that results in the addition of fifty (50) dwelling units and fifty thousand (50,000) gross square feet or more;

    d. The alteration of an existing mixed use, or nonresidential building that results in the expansion of fifty thousand (50,000) gross square feet or more; and

    e. A new construction or substantial rehabilitation project for which the City provides any portion of funding.

2. The following type(s) of projects shall obtain LEED silver certification:

    a. A new building on City land consisting of seven thousand five hundred (7,500) square feet or more of gross floor area;

b. The alteration of an existing building on City land that results in the addition of seven thousand five hundred (7,500) square feet or more of new gross floor area.

D. A project may be registered with the USGBC to obtain the required LEED certification, or a project may be certified by a third party as meeting the intent of LEED at the level required by this Section.

E. Projects consisting of multiple buildings on one (1) or several lots shall be evaluated based on total gross floor area or number of dwelling units for the entire building footprint to determine applicability of this Section.

F. The Director of Development Services shall have the authority to determine if the provisions of this Section apply to a given project in cases of uncertainty.

G. Each project shall apply for compliance in whichever LEED rating system the Director of Development Services deems most suitable to the project type. The project shall use the version of the rating system in effect at the time the project is submitted for a building permit unless the project developer has elected to register with the USGBC in which case the project may use the rating system version which was in effect at the time the project registered.

H. If a commitment to LEED gold or higher certification is made, the project may be eligible for flexibility in regard to certain development standards including, but not limited to, usable open space and off-street parking requirements, as determined by the Director of Development Services.

I. The following development standards shall apply to all projects requiring site plan review:

1. Canopy trees shall provide shade coverage, after five (5) years of growth, of forty percent (40%) of the total area dedicated to parking stalls and associated vehicular circulation, or paving materials with a solar reflectance index of at least twenty-nine (29) shall be used on a minimum of fifty percent (50%) of paving surfaces dedicated to parking stalls and associated vehicular circulation;

2. Bicycle parking shall be provided at a minimum of one (1) space for every five (5) residential units, one (1) space for each five thousand (5,000) square feet of commercial building area, one (1) space for each seven thousand five hundred (7,500) square feet of retail building area and one (1) space for each ten thousand (10,000) square feet of industrial building area. Fractions shall be rounded up to whole numbers;

3. Roofs shall be designed to be solar-ready subject to all applicable state and local construction codes and provide conduit from the electrical panel to the roof; and

4. A designated area for the collection of recyclables shall be provided adjacent to the area for the collection of waste.

(ORD-19-0032 § 12, 2019; ORD-09-0013 § 5, 2009)

21.45.500 Adaptive reuse projects.

The following special development standards shall apply to adaptive reuse projects, as defined in Section 21.15.064.5:

A. Land Use. The intent of the adaptive reuse is to allow conversion of existing structures into new land uses that maintain or enhance the character of a neighborhood or district, extend the life of the building, reduce use of new construction materials and reduce construction waste generated, and provide additional employment or housing opportunities in appropriate and compatible locations.

1. An adaptive reuse project may change an existing building to any Neighborhood Commercial and Residential (CNR) District permitted use with the following exceptions:

   a. Adaptive reuse projects are not allowed in single-family or duplex residential zoning.

   b. Non-residential uses introduced into any multiple-family residential zones through adaptive reuse shall be compatible with the surrounding neighborhood as determined by the Site Plan Review Committee.

   c. No new residential uses shall be introduced through adaptive reuse into any industrial zone.

2. Any discretionary review, including an Administrative Use Permit or Conditional Use Permit required within the CNR zone for a particular use, is required for an adaptive reuse project.

3. Any request for a land use not explicitly allowed within the CNR zone as part of an adaptive reuse project shall require an Administrative Use Permit.

B. Setbacks. Existing principal structures with non-conforming setbacks may remain. Any additions or facade changes involving greater than twenty-five (25) continuous linear feet of exterior wall facing a public right-of-way shall comply with zoning setbacks, unless waived by the Site Plan Review Committee.

C. Height. Heights of existing buildings shall be exempt from established height limits. The addition of parapets or roof structures, equipment or other enclosures or non-habitable space is allowed. Any new or additional habitable space or floors shall comply with height limits of the underlying zoning district, unless waived by the Site Plan Review Committee.

D. Residential Unit Size. A minimum dwelling unit size of four hundred fifty (450) square feet and project average of no less than seven hundred (700) square feet shall be provided, unless waived by the Site Plan Review Committee.

E. Existing Parking. The number of existing parking spaces on-site shall be maintained. A reduction in existing parking may be requested as set forth in Section 21.41.223.

F. Required Parking in Designated Parking Impacted Areas. Parking for adaptive reuse projects in designated parking impacted areas shall be provided as follows:

1. Residential parking shall be a minimum of one (1) space per dwelling unit.

2. Parking for all non-residential uses shall be a minimum of two (2) spaces per every one thousand (1,000) square feet of Gross Floor Area.

3. In mixed use adaptive reuse projects, the first three thousand (3,000) square feet of non-residential space shall be exempt from parking requirements.

4. Seventy-five percent (75%) of the minimum required parking shall be provided for assembly, office or retail conversions in mixed use or stand-alone buildings.

5. Tandem parking shall be allowed up to seventy-five percent (75%) of provided spaces.

6. Shared parking arrangements shall conform to Section 21.41.222 or Section 21.41.223.

7. Any request for reduction in parking beyond the minimums in this Subsection 21.45.500.F shall be made in accordance with Section 21.41.223.

G. Required Parking in General. Parking for adaptive reuse projects outside of designated parking impacted areas shall be provided as follows:

1. No additional off-street parking shall be required for conversion of a nonresidential building to residential uses.

2. Parking for all non-residential uses shall be a minimum of one (1) space per every one thousand (1,000) square feet of usable internal space.

3. In mixed use adaptive reuse projects, the first six thousand (6,000) square feet of non-residential space shall be exempt from parking requirements.

4. Fifty percent (50%) of the minimum required parking shall be provided for assembly, office or retail conversions in mixed use or stand-alone buildings.

5. Tandem parking shall be allowed up to fifty percent (50%) of provided spaces.

6. Off-site or shared parking arrangements shall conform to Section 21.41.222 or Section 21.41.223, as applicable.

7. Any request for reduction in parking beyond the minimums in this Subsection 21.45.500.G shall be made in accordance with Section 21.41.223.

H. TDMs required. An Adaptive Reuse project, whether residential or non-residential or mixed-use, that does not meet the parking requirements of this Section, or which is exempt from change of use parking requirements or minimum parking requirements, shall provide the Transportation Demand Management (TDM) measures set forth in Subsection 21.41.223.D, but shall not be required to obtain the Administrative Use Permit (AUP) required by that Section, nor to provide any parking spaces if otherwise exempt. This Subsection 21.45.500.H shall not be construed to create or maintain any minimum parking requirement for an adaptive reuse project.

I. Other provisions. The adaptive reuse project shall comply with Floor Area Ratio (FAR), Landscaping, Lot Coverage, Open Space, and any other applicable development standards of the underlying zone, unless waived by the Site Plan Review Committee.

(ORD-24-0033 § 25, 2024; ORD-14-0004 § 3, 2014)

21.45.600 Micro-Unit Projects.

The following development standards shall apply to Micro-Unit projects:

A. Purpose. To develop a pilot program for Micro-Unit projects in areas of the City that are amenity-rich and located near quality public transit systems in accordance with recommendation 3.11 of the City's adopted 29 policy recommendations to address the affordable housing crisis in the City, by developing innovative housing uses and encouraging housing production. This Ordinance establishes a "pilot program" to allow Micro-Unit projects in the Downtown (PD-30) and Midtown (SP-1) areas.

B. Definition of terms.

"Micro-Unit project" is a development comprised either wholly or partially of Micro-Units.

C. Land use. Micro-Units proposed in accordance with this Section shall be allowed where residential uses are allowed in PD-30 and SP-1.

D. Applicability of underlying Planned Development or Specific Plan Regulations. The development standards associated with Micro-Units in this Section shall supersede the development standards as set forth in PD-30 and SP-1.

E. Micro-Unit size. The minimum Micro-Unit size shall be no smaller in square footage, or contain fewer amenities, than is permitted by the City's current Building Code Regulations.

F. Open space requirement. Ten percent (10%) of the total lot area shall be provided as minimum common usable open space. A Micro-Unit project's open space must incorporate at least two (2) or more of the following types of common open space amenities:

1. Communal lounge room on every floor;

2. Communal kitchen(s);

3. Rooftop outdoor space with minimum dimensions of twelve foot (12') length by twelve foot (12') width, and a minimum area of one hundred fifty (150) square feet that includes seating areas, landscaping, water features, programmatic features, or other equivalent high-quality rooftop amenities to the satisfaction of the Site Plan Review Committee; or

4. Usable open space described in Section 21.15.3160.

G. Required parking. Parking requirements per the parking regulations specified in PD-30 and SP-1 shall apply; however, Micro-Unit projects are eligible for a vehicular parking reduction by incorporating Transportation Demand Management (TDM) strategies that aim to reduce reliance on automobiles and associated congestion and emissions. Subject to the discretion of the Site Plan Review Committee, TDM strategies may include following:

1. Carpool/vanpool;

2. Garage lifts (stacked parking);

3. Unbundled parking (parking spaces are rented or sold separately, rather than automatically included with the rent or purchase price of a residential or commercial unit);

4. Off-site parking within one thousand (1,000) linear feet walking distance of the property line (a shared parking agreement may be required to the satisfaction of the Site Plan Review Committee);

5. Joint use (shared parking);

6. Transit/bicycle/pedestrian system improvements;

7. Adequately monitored on-street parking rates and time restrictions;

8. Transit passes (provide free or reduced-price transit passes to Micro-Unit residents or employees). An incentive program could be developed for developers, property managers, and employers to substitute a percentage of required parking spaces. A maximum limit will be determined by the Site Plan Review Committee;

9. Other proposals.

All parking reduction requirements shall be approved at the discretion of the Site Plan Review Committee, which will determine the appropriate level of parking demand reduction generated by proposed strategies on a project-specific basis; however, a TDM program shall not reduce parking to zero.

Bicycle parking shall be provided at a rate of one (1.0) space for every five (5) Micro-Units. Fractions shall be rounded up to whole numbers.

H. Other provisions. Floor Area Ratio (FAR), Landscaping, Lot Coverage, Setbacks, Height, and any other applicable development standards of the underlying Specific Plan or Planned Development District shall be complied with, unless waived by the Site Plan Review Committee, or relief is granted in the form of bonuses, waivers or incentives, through the applicable density bonus regulations in exchange for required percentages of covenanted, restricted affordable units.

I. Adaptive Reuse. Adaptive Reuse projects that comply with this Section shall not be subject to any density limitations, unit size, or unit mix requirements of applicable Adaptive Reuse provisions.

J. Existing Dwelling Units. Projects that propose to convert existing dwelling units into Micro-Units shall be prohibited.

K. Review process. Site Plan Review shall be required pursuant to Chapter 21.25 of this Title for all Micro-Unit projects. If Micro-Units proposed as part of a Micro-Unit project meet the criteria for a Special Group Residence, as defined by Section 21.15.2810, it shall require a Conditional Use Permit, consistent with applicable PD-30 and SP-1 provisions.

L. Findings. Findings shall be made in accordance with Section 21.25.506 for approval of a Micro-Unit project.

M. Sunset. The subject provisions allowing and regulating Micro-Units shall remain in effect until a total of five hundred (500) Micro-Units are entitled. At the point at which projects comprising five hundred (500) Micro-Units are entitled, this Section shall automatically sunset and become null and void unless extended by action of the City Council, after review and recommendation by the Planning Commission.

(ORD-20-0048 § 2, 2020)

21.45.700 Adult-use cannabis delivery-only dispensaries.

The following special development standards shall apply to Adult-use cannabis delivery-only dispensaries:

A. Building Facades. On any industrial or commercial building or tenant space (existing or new) elevation fronting the street, blanks walls in excess of 20 feet (or as specified within the applicable zoning district, whichever is more stringent) shall be prohibited. Facades visible from the street shall incorporate architectural elements such as building plane breaks, three-dimensional elements, transparent, display, doors, changes in color and materials landscaping that result in a building with articulation.

B. Window coverage. On any commercial or industrial or tenant space elevation fronting the street, standard windows or display windows shall comprise at least twenty-five percent (25%) of the elevation that encompasses the proposed use. Windows along street-facing frontages shall be transparent. Such glass should be clear with an exterior daylight reflectance of not more than eight percent (8%).

C. Entrances and Lobbies. Delivery-only dispensaries shall have a main entrance that is clearly visible from the public right-of-way. Entrances shall be clear of blockages, landscaping, and any other obstructions. The main entrance shall lead to a lobby used only to retrieve persons into the site and verify access privilege into restricted areas. Entrances into a building or tenant space on the dispensary site shall be locked at all times. Access into the facility and/or restricted areas shall be controlled by the managers and staff of the delivery-only dispensary.

D. Distribution Area. Each delivery-only dispensaries shall have a specific area designated for the secure transfer of cannabis products between a vehicle and the restricted area.

E. Storage. Each delivery-only dispensary shall have adequate storage space for all cannabis products. The storage areas shall be for the sole use of each individual permittee and shall not be shared with another delivery-only permittee. Storage areas shall be separated from main entrances and lobbies and must be secured and accessible only to managers and staff of the delivery-only dispensary.

(ORD-24-0025 § 2, 2024)

CHAPTER 21.47 DEDICATION, RESERVATION AND IMPROVEMENT OF PUBLIC RIGHTS-OF-WAY

21.47.010 Purpose.

It is the intent of this Chapter to provide for the orderly acquisition and improvement of public rights-of-way for the benefit of the public health, safety and welfare. The provision and improvement of public rights-of-way are necessary requirements of private property owners to ensure that private property development does not adversely impact other public and private facilities and services.

(Ord. C-6563 § 1 (part), 1989: Ord. C-6549 § 1 (part), 1988: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.47.020 Dedication and reservation.

A. Dedication—New Development Requiring Site Plan Review. Any residential, commercial, industrial or institutional development which requires site plan review under Section 21.25.502 and which is located on a lot abutting public rights-of-way shall be required to dedicate a portion of that lot for widening of the public rights-of-way to the standards specified in Table 47-1 if positive findings can be made pursuant to Section 21.25.506. The potential right-of-way area shall be dedicated prior to the issuance of a building permit for such proposed new construction.

B. Reservation—Other Development. Any development which does not require site plan review, where the site abuts a major, secondary or minor highway designated by the Transportation Element of the General Plan, shall be required to reserve a portion of the lot for widening of the highway right-of-way to the standards specified in Table 47-1. No reservation shall be required for alley widening or for widening of abutting streets which are not designated as highways. The City will pay fair market value to purchase the reserved area when the highway is widened.

C. Width. Table 47-1 establishes the standard right-of-way widths for the various classifications for public rights-of-way. The right-of-way dedication or reservation on an individual lot shall be one-half (1/2) of the required standard width, measured from the centerline of the street.

1. Greater Widths. Greater widths may be required as conditions of subdivision maps, site plan review, conditional use permits or standards variances.

Standard Right-of-Way Widths

Roadway Classification	Width (Feet)
Major highway with medians	106
Major highway without medians	100
Secondary highway	80

Roadway Classification	Width (Feet)
Minor highway	60
Residential street	56
Private street* (two-way, both sides developed)	46
Private street* (two-way, one side developed)	33—37
Private street* (one-way, both sides developed)	36
Private street* (one-way, one side developed)	23—27
Alley, two-way	20
Alley, one-way	12
Bicycle path, two-way bicycle path adjoining State highway	17
Bicycle path, one-way	8
Bicycle path, two-way, sidewalk without street trees	17
Sidewalk at curb	6
Sidewalk inside street trees	5
* Private streets shall comply with the following cross section dimensions:

Type of Street	10′ Travel Lanes	8′ Parking Lanes	4′ Tree Well Area	5′ Sidewalk
Two-way, both sides developed	2	2	2	2
Two-way, one side developed	2	1	1	1
One-way, both sides developed	1	2	2	2
One-way, one side developed	1	1	1	1
For one-sided developments, street trees are to be placed on the opposite side of the street, in knuckles projecting into the parking lane. The trees are to be located thirty-two feet (32′) on center. In addition, trees are also required in the front yards on the development site.

2. Reduced Widths. The required standard width may be reduced at specific locations on specific streets due to unusual conditions, as authorized by the Director of Public Works or his designee.

D. Effect on Required Yard Areas. All required yard areas shall be measured after the dedication or reservation.

E. Reservation—Permitted Structures. Only the following structures shall be permitted in, over or under reserved areas:

1. A fence or garden wall as provided in Chapter 21.43;

2. A planter, porch, patio or deck not more than three feet (3') in height;

3. A roof eave, balcony, oriel window or similar projection, provided that projection has a vertical clearance of at least eight feet (8') between the ground and the lowest point of the structure and such projection does not project more than four feet (4') beyond the reservation line; and

4. On-premises and off-premises signs as provided in Chapters 21.44 and 21.54.

F. Reservation—Nonconformities. Whenever a structure was erected prior to the establishment of a reserved area and projects into that area, it shall be nonconforming to the provisions of this Title, and the provisions of Chapter 21.27 relative to nonconformities shall apply.

(Ord. C-7326 § 27, 1995; Ord. C-6684 § 38, 1990; Ord. C-6563 § 1 (part), 1989: Ord. C-6549 § 1 (part), 1988: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.47.030 Improvements.

A. Applicability. Prior to the issuance of occupancy permits for any new development, a property owner shall make all required improvements and repairs to abutting public rights-of-way. The improvements and repairs shall extend along the width and/or depth of the property and for a reasonable distance beyond the property as is necessary to complete the improvement or repair. Existing improvements that are damaged and that may have been damaged during construction of the building shall also be repaired.

B. Required Improvements—All Projects. All projects shall be required to provide the following right-of-way improvements as are deemed necessary and applicable by the Director of Public Works:

1. Sidewalk and Parkway. Construction or repair of a sidewalk and parkway adjoining the site. The sidewalk shall have a minimum clear width of five feet (5') with a parkway, or six feet (6') if the sidewalk adjoins the curb;

2. Curb and Gutter. Construction or repair of curbs and gutters adjoining the site. All unused curb cuts shall be replaced with a full-height curb and gutter;

3. Street Trees. As required by Subsection 21.42.060.B.1; and

4. Bicycle Trail. Construction of bicycle trail as required by the "Bike Route System" adopted by the City Council.

C. Required Improvements—New Development Requiring Site Plan Review. In addition to the improvements required above, any new residential, commercial, industrial or institutional development which requires site plan review shall provide the following improvements as are deemed necessary and applicable by the Director of Public Works, through the submission of positive findings pursuant to Section 21.25.506.

1. Alley Paving. Construction, replacement, repair or extension of alley paving up to standard width. The alley shall be paved the length of the site. If vehicle access is taken from the alley, the Director of Public Works may also require that the alley be paved to a point where the alley intersects a paved public right-of-way, and curb returns shall be relocated as necessary.

2. Alley Lighting. Construct or install on-site alley lighting.

3. Utilities Relocation. Relocate utilities as necessary to provide for the improvements outlined above.

D. Required Improvements—Major Projects. In addition to the improvements required in Subsections B and C of Section 21.47.030, major projects shall provide the additional improvements required by this Section as are deemed necessary and applicable by the Director of Public Works. A "major project" is defined to be a new residential development with twenty-one (21) or more units, and a commercial, industrial or institutional development which requires site plan review.

1. Roadway Paving. Construction, replacement, repair or extension of roadway paving to standard street width as required in Table 47-1.

2. Traffic Signals and Street Signs. Provide a prorated share of the cost of all roadway signal and street sign modifications attributable or partly attributable to the development.

3. Street Lights. Install or relocate street lights. This may include widening the right-of-way as necessary.

4. Utilities Relocation. Relocate utilities as necessary to provide for the improvements outlined in paragraphs 1 through 3 above.

E. Standards. All improvements within public rights-of-way shall be installed in conformance with the specifications on file with the office of the City Engineer.

21.47.040 Relief from requirements.

Relief from the requirements prescribed by this Chapter may be granted through the "Standards Variance" procedure (Division III of Chapter 21.25 of this Title), provided that the Director of Public Works files a request and recommendation with the Zoning Administrator prior to the hearing, and provided that the only finding required to grant relief is that the dedication and/or improvement is not necessary for a public purpose generated at least in part by the development or that the cost of the dedication and/or improvement is proportionally excessive when compared to the scale of the project or demand generated from the project.

CHAPTER 21.50 INTERIM PROHIBITION OF USES

21.50.010 Purpose, intent and definitions.

A. The purpose of this Chapter 21.50 is: (1) to define the nature of interim ordinances enacted to avoid development that would negate the impact of planning or zoning studies, or rezoning or regulation amendments relating to such studies, being considered or undertaken at the time of initiation of the interim ordinance; (2) to set forth the procedures under which such interim ordinances may be initiated and enacted; (3) to provide for notification of such enactment; and (4) to provide for termination of such interim ordinances in a timely manner. This Chapter sets forth the exclusive manner and means for enacting interim land use limitations in the City of Long Beach.

B. As used in this Chapter 21.50, "interim ordinance" means an ordinance enacted pursuant to this Chapter as an emergency ordinance in the sense of Section 211 of the Charter of the City of Long Beach for the purpose of prohibiting or restricting certain land uses or the application of certain developmental standards and entitlements pending the completion of planning or zoning studies, rezonings or amendments to the zoning regulations as set forth in this Chapter.

C. It is the intent of the City Council in enacting this Chapter that only prohibitory ordinances should be enacted and that the authority granted herein should not be utilized for affirmative/expansive zoning or planning provisions or for the purpose of giving immediate effect, outside regular procedures, to normal rezoning or zoning regulation amendments.

(Ord. C-7247 § 35 (part), 1994)

21.50.020 Conditions for initiation.

A. All interim ordinances pursuant to this Chapter may be enacted if and only if conditions are found by the City Council to exist at the time of adoption as follows:

1. Existing zoning permits one (1) or more uses or development standards which are or may be in conflict with a contemplated general plan, specific plan or zoning proposal that the City Council, Planning Commission or Planning staff is considering or studying; or

2. The City Council, Planning Commission or Planning Department has formally initiated such a study which it intends to complete within a reasonable time; or

3. A rezoning or Zoning Regulation amendment has been formally initiated which, if enacted, will be in conflict with existing zoning or regulations; and

4. The City Council has specifically identified the precise nature of the proposed study, rezoning or Zoning Regulation amendment and the geographic area or areas which will be or may be affected by the study, rezoning or amendment.

5. Where any interim ordinance enacted or amended would take effect in the Coastal Zone, the City Council has made findings as required by Section 21.50.050.

B. Method of Initiation. The City Council may initiate all interim ordinances presented to this Chapter by:

1. Adopting a minute order pursuant to agenda request to: (a) initiate a rezoning, Zoning Regulation or General Plan amendment, specifying the precise nature, location and impact of the rezoning or amendment; and (b) requesting the City Attorney, in cooperation with the Department of Planning and Building, to prepare an interim zoning ordinance pursuant to this Chapter 21.50 for notice and placement on the City Council agenda for hearing at its third meeting next following such adoption;

2. At the third City Council meeting following said action, the City Council shall, after hearing, consider adoption of the ordinance so prepared, which ordinance shall include an estimate of the time needed to complete the processing of the rezoning or amendment and any necessary studies undertaken relating to those actions. The City Clerk shall immediately notify the Director of Planning and Building of the action taken at such meeting;

3. During the period between initiation of an action pursuant to this Section and the adoption or rejection of an ordinance pursuant to Subsection 21.50.020.B.2, no application shall be accepted for, nor shall any permit or other entitlement for use of any kind be issued for, any project or proposed use inconsistent or in conflict with the initiated action. Any application accepted contrary to the provisions of this Section shall be returned, with refunded filing fee, to the applicant upon discovery of the mistaken acceptance.

(Ord. C-7319 § 2, 1995; Ord. C-7247 § 35 (part), 1994)

21.50.030 Notification of action.

A. Immediately following adoption of a minute order as set forth in Subsection 21.50.020.B.1, the City Clerk shall immediately so notify the Director of Planning and Building who shall mail notice of such action to every applicant for a building permit then on file with and pending before the Department of Planning and Building that is or might be affected by such action or the ordinance to be considered pursuant to it.

B. The notice shall set forth in full the motion and minute order so adopted and shall indicate, in bold-faced type, that the action and any interim zoning ordinance subsequently adopted may affect pending applications.

C. The failure of any person to receive notification pursuant to this Section 21.50.030 shall not be construed to void or nullify the effect of any action taken pursuant to this Chapter.

(Ord. C-7247 § 35 (part), 1994)

21.50.040 Adoption of interim ordinance.

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Title 21, including, but not limited to, Section 21.10.060, and subject to the requirements of Sections 21.50.020 and 21.50.030, and following notice pursuant to Section 65090 of the California Government Code and public hearing, but without following the procedures otherwise required preliminary to the adoption of a zoning ordinance, the legislative body, to protect the public safety, health and welfare, may adopt as an emergency ordinance in the sense of Section 211 of the Long Beach City Charter an interim ordinance prohibiting any uses or development standards which may be in conflict with a contemplated general plan, specific plan, rezoning or Zoning Regulation amendment or proposal which the legislative body, Planning Commission, or the Planning Department is considering or studying or intends to study within a reasonable time.

B. The interim ordinance shall be of no further force and effect one (1) year from its date of adoption. After notice pursuant to Section 65090 and public hearing, the legislative body may, by emergency ordinance, extend the interim ordinance for one (1) year.

C. When any interim ordinance has been adopted pursuant to this Section, every subsequent ordinance adopted pursuant to this Section, covering the whole or a part of the same property and imposing the same or similar interim restrictions, shall automatically terminate and be of no further force or effect upon the termination of the first such ordinance or any extension of the ordinance as provided in this Section.

(Ord. C-7247 § 35 (part), 1994)

21.50.050 Effect of interim ordinance in the coastal zone.

Any interim ordinance enacted or amended pursuant to this Chapter 21.50 may only take effect in the coastal zone without prior Coastal Commission review and approval where such an ordinance is not in conflict with the California Coastal Act and the City Council so finds at the time of adoption of the ordinance or amendment of the ordinance. In all other instances, including ordinances which propose to selectively prohibit either certain types of uses or uses in portions of the coastal zone while authorizing approval of other uses, or ordinances which propose to selectively prohibit the application of certain development standards in any or all portions of the coastal zone, the City may not prohibit the uses or development standards identified in the local coastal program within the coastal zone until the ordinance is submitted to the Coastal Commission and approved pursuant to California Public Resources Code, Section 30514.

(Ord. C-7319 § 1, 1995: Ord. C-7247 § 35 (part), 1994)

CHAPTER 21.51 ACCESSORY USES

21.51.010 Purpose.

The uses listed in Chapters 21.31 through 21.36 as accessory uses (A) are permitted subject to the development standards for the zone in which the use is located and subject to additional conditions and specifications outlined in this Chapter. If no special conditions are prescribed in this Chapter or in Chapters 21.31 through 21.36, then the use need conform only to the development standards for the zone in which it is located.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION I.

USE RESTRICTIONS

21.51.110 Use restrictions.

The following are not considered accessory uses:

A. Additional Dwelling Units. Any use which increases the number of dwelling units in any building or on any lot beyond that permitted in the district, except for accessory dwelling units as described in Section 21.51.276.

B. Alcoholic Beverage Sales. The sale of alcoholic beverages, whether on or off-site, shall not be considered an accessory use to any use, except department stores and florists, regardless of traditional associations or limited proportion of sales. Alcoholic beverage sales shall always be considered a principal use;

C. Gun Repairs and/or Sales. Gun repairs and sales are separate principal uses and shall not be considered accessory uses to any use; or

D. Storage of Inoperative, Dismantled or Wrecked Vehicles in Residential Districts. The storage of more than two (2) inoperative, dismantled or wrecked vehicles shall not be considered an accessory residential land use and shall be prohibited in all residential districts.

(ORD-17-0031 § 10, 2017; Ord. C-7776 § 12, 2001; Ord. C-7047 § 24, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

USE CONDITIONS

21.51.201 Accessory use conditions.

The following conditions and specifications shall apply to the specified accessory uses in all zone districts.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.203 Active senior citizen housing.

The following conditions shall apply to housing for active senior citizens:

A. Density shall be limited to that of the R-4-N zoning district at the applicable lot width.

B. The parking shall be provided as designated in Table 41-1A.

C. The use shall not abut or adjoin an automobile service or repair use.

D. The use shall comply with all applicable development standards of the R-4-N zone except for height and setbacks which shall comply with the standards of the district in which the use is located.

(Ord. C-6895 § 31, 1991)

21.51.205 Amusement machines and electronic video games.

A. Locations Prohibited. Amusement machines shall not be permitted at locations licensed for the off-site consumption sale of general alcoholic beverages where such machines are located within sixty feet (60′) of the display of such alcoholic beverages.

B. Restrictions. The following restrictions shall apply to the operation of amusement machines and electronic video games. However, the restrictions shall not apply to jukeboxes, musical apparatuses, baseball batting cages, tennis practice cages, amusement rides, ping pong tables or similar uses.

1. No more than four (4) amusement machines or video games shall be established at any one (1) site where such machines are permitted as accessory uses.

2. Persons owning, controlling or managing any amusement machine or video game shall not permit any person under the age of eighteen (18) to operate any such machine between six a.m. and three p.m., Monday through Friday, from September 10 through June 20, except national holidays. Such limitations shall be clearly posted by July 1, 1989, on a sign provided by the Department of Planning and Building, in a location clearly visible to anyone attempting to play any amusement machine or video game.

3. Amusement machines or video games of an adult nature, as defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions) shall not be allowed as an accessory use unless the locational restrictions of Section 21.45.110 (Special Development Standards—Adult Entertainment) are complied with.

4. All uses with amusement machines or video games, in excess of those allowed above shall remove such amusement machines or video games within ninety (90) days of notification that the video games are nonconforming to these provisions.

(Ord. C-6595 § 14, 1989: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.210 Animals (household pets).

The keeping of household pets shall be subject to the following limitations:

A. Number. A total of not more than four (4) weaned household pets may be kept at one (1) site, unless any of the weaned pets are dogs bred pursuant to a permit issued under Section 6.16.190 of this code, in which case all such weaned dogs may be kept at one (1) site until such dogs have reached the age of four (4) months. This limitation shall not apply to fish, rodents (other than rabbits), or caged birds (provided the birds are not allowed to fly free and are maintained in accordance with all applicable health regulations).

B. Maintenance. Household pets shall be kept in a manner which does not damage or pose hazards to people or property and which does not generate offensive dust, odors or noise.

C. Horses. Horses may be kept subject to the provisions of Chapter 21.38 (Horse Overlay District).

D. Other Animals. Dangerous or wild animals as defined in Section 6.16.030 of the Municipal Code shall not be kept in any residential zone.

(ORD-06-0012 § 5, 2006; Ord. C-7780 § 2, 2001; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.215 Banquet room rental.

A restaurant banquet room may be rented for private functions, provided a portion of the restaurant remains open to the public.

(Ord. C-7247 § 33 (part), 1994)

21.51.220 Caretaker's or nightwatchman's residence.

Caretaker's or nightwatchman's residences are permitted accessory uses only if used in direct conjunction with a permitted nonresidential use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.225 Catering (food preparation).

Catering which involves food preparation shall be permitted as an accessory use only to an existing restaurant. If a catering business does not involve food preparation but instead involves only party planning and counseling, it shall be considered an office use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.225.5 Commissary to accessory to restaurant.

A restaurant kitchen may be used as a commissary provided that:

A. The restaurant maintains an active business license to serve food to the public; and

B. The restaurant use shall be maintained as the principal use.

(ORD-26-0012 § 12, 2026)

21.51.226 Computer cafe.

The following conditions shall apply to computer, cyber, or internet cafes:

A. Computer games of an adult nature depicting "specified anatomical areas" or "specified sexual activities", as these terms are defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions), shall not be installed on computer terminals or played by customers unless the locational restrictions of Section 21.45.110 (Special development standards - adult entertainment) are complied with; and

B. If access to adult oriented web sites is allowed, a separate area, up to a maximum of twenty percent (20%) of computer terminals available for public rental, shall be set aside for adult viewing with the computers clearly marked as such and screened from view by minors. All other machines shall be marked prohibiting adult viewing.

(Ord. C-7961 § 3, 2004)

21.51.227 Home automobile repair.

Home automobile and motorcycle repair is an allowed accessory use in all residential districts provided:

A. Ownership. The automobiles or motorcycles repaired shall be limited to vehicles owned by the residents of the property, and shall be registered and licensed;

B. Public Right-of-Way. No automobiles or motorcycles shall be repaired on the public right-of-way;

C. Inoperable Vehicles. Neither inoperable automobiles or motorcycles shall be left overnight in a location that blocks access to required parking spaces;

D. Paved Area Required. Neither automobiles nor motorcycles shall be repaired on unpaved areas;

E. Extent of Repair. The automobile or motorcycle repair work shall be limited to minor repair (see Section 21.15.290);

F. Noise. Neither automobile nor motorcycle repair activities shall violate the City noise ordinance, Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code;

G. Hours. Neither automobile nor motorcycle repair activities shall be conducted between ten (10:00) p.m. and seven (7:00) a.m.;

H. Wrecked or Disassembled Vehicles. Neither wrecked nor disassembled automobiles or motorcycles shall be parked overnight on a residential property outside of a garage;

I. Trucks. Neither trucks nor related vehicles in excess of three-fourths (¾) ton carrying capacity shall be repaired at a residence.

(Ord. C-7032 § 49, 1992)

21.51.230 Childcare—Small and large family daycare homes.

Small family daycare homes are an allowed accessory use. Large family daycare homes are an allowed accessory use, provided:

A. The prime daycare provider shall reside in the residence;

B. The daycare provider shall obtain the required State licenses;

C. No sign shall be displayed other than those signs allowed for all residences as provided in Subsection 21.44.230.B and Table 44-2;

D. All required parking for the residential use shall be maintained as required for all residents in Sections 21.27.090 and 21.41.170; and

E. The use shall comply with all City noise regulations (Chapter 8.80).

Neither small nor large family daycare homes are home occupations regulated by Section 21.51.235.

(Ord. C-7032 § 37, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.235 Home occupations.

A. Intent. A home occupation is intended for home enterprises that are incidental to the use of the dwelling unit and does not change the principal character or use of the dwelling. The home occupation shall be compatible with surrounding residential uses and not have characteristics associated with the use that would reduce the surrounding residents' enjoyment of their neighborhood. As an ancillary activity to those uses permitted in the applicable residential zone in which the subject site is located, the following home-based businesses may be conducted at the site:

1. Professional Office Uses. A professional office use is a business whose principal product is information, management or design, including but not limited to, accounting, architecture, artist/talent management and promotion, brokerage, business/financial management, computer programming and software development, consulting, direct sales (incl. internet sales), credit/financial counseling, drafting and illustration, engineering, fashion design, interior decoration and design, legal services, marketing and advertising, property management, and writing and editing. The primary means of contact must be by phone, mail, or other electronic form of communication. A professional office use does not include research requiring the use of hazardous materials and equipment;

2. Instructional Services Uses. An instructional services use is a business whose principal purpose is to provide cognitive instruction or training, including but not limited to, academic tutoring, musical instrument lessons, dance lessons, sports training, or other similar physical performance training. The maximum number of students at any one time shall be limited to six (6);

3. Home Craft Uses. A home craft use is a business that results in a tangible product including but not limited to, dressmaking, furniture making, toy making and doll making. Additional uses include artistic products such as sculpting, painting, photography and other similar forms of creative works when such works are produced with the intent of gain or benefit for the participant or another person. Conducting a home craft use does not entitle the owner to sell articles manufactured on-site or in a residential zone.

4. Cottage Food Operations. A cottage food operation is an enterprise at a private home where low-risk food products are prepared or packaged for sale to consumers. A cottage food operation is subject to all State of California Health and Safety Code regulations (Cal. Gov't Code §51035: cottage food operations).

5. Microenterprise Home Kitchen Operation (MEHKO). A Microenterprise Home Kitchen Operation (MEHKO) is an enterprise at a private home where food products are prepared, served, or packaged for sale to consumers. A MEHKO is subject to all State of California Health and Safety Code regulations (California Health and Safety Code §113825).

B. Requirements. The following standards shall be complied with at all times:

A home occupation shall only be issued when all of the following requirements are met and maintained:

1. No person other than a resident of the dwelling unit shall be engaged or employed in the home occupation, and the number of residents engaged or employed in the home occupation shall not exceed two (2). A Microenterprise Home Kitchen Operation (MEHKO) is not subject to the employment limitations outlined in this section. Pursuant to California Health and Safety Code §113825, a MEHKO is limited to one full-time employee (up to 40 hours a week) or multiple employees whose total working hours combined do not exceed 40 hours per week (this does not include a family or household member);

2. No sign shall be displayed in a manner visible from the outside of the dwelling unit. Vehicles with signs identifying the home occupation shall be parked so that they cannot be seen from the public right-of-way;

3. No mechanical equipment shall be used except that which is necessarily, customarily, or ordinarily used for household or leisure purposes. Such equipment shall not generate noise higher than the noise standards established for the residential uses;

4. No toxic, explosive, flammable, combustible, corrosive, etiologic, radioactive or other restricted materials shall be used or stored on the site;

5. There shall be no outside operations, storage or display of materials or projects;

6. Total storage of materials or products used in the business shall not exceed one hundred twenty-eight (128) cubic feet. There shall be no excessive or unsightly storage of materials or supplies for purposes other than those permitted in the residential district in which it is located. A garage may not be used for operations of the business or storage of materials used in the business and must be maintained for parking of automobiles and similar type vehicles;

7. The residential appearance of the premises shall not be altered. Creation of a separate entrance to the dwelling or use of an existing entrance exclusively for the business shall not be permitted;

8. No process shall be used which is hazardous to public health, safety or welfare;

9. Visitors, customers or deliveries to the dwelling shall not exceed that which normally and reasonably occurs for a residence. Visitors and deliveries shall be limited to not more than two (2) business visitors an hour and eight (8) visitors a day, and not more than two (2) deliveries of products or materials a week. A Microenterprise Home Kitchen Operation (MEHKO) is not subject to the visitor limitations outlined in this section. Pursuant to the regulations found in California Health and Safety Code §113825, a MEHKO is permitted to serve up to 30 meals a day and up to 90 meals a week in a dine-in, delivery or pick-up configuration;

10. The home occupation shall not displace or block the use of parking spaces required for the residential use including any business storage in required garage parking areas;

11. No advertisement shall be placed in any media containing the address of the property;

12. Not more than two (2) vehicles shall be used in the business. Only one (1) vehicle may be commercially licensed;

13. When the person conducting the home occupation serves as an agent or intermediary between outside suppliers and outside customers, all articles, except for samples, shall be received, stored and sold directly to customers at an off-premises location;

14. The home occupation approval shall be valid only for the person to whom it was issued and shall be void when that person moves from the dwelling unit or discontinues the business.

C. Prohibited Home Occupation Uses. The following uses shall be prohibited as home occupations.

1. Ambulance service;
2. Appliance repair;
3. Automobile repair, parts, sales, upholstery, detailing, washing, service;
4. Beauty salons and barber shops;
5. Boardinghouse, bed and breakfast, hotel, time-share unit;
6. Carpentry, cabinet makers;
7. Ceramics (kiln or six (6) cubic feet or more);
8. Churches, religious instruction;
9. Contractor storage yards;
10. Food preparation (except cottage food operations [Cal. Gov't Code §51035; cottage food operations] and Microenterprise Home Kitchen Operations [MEHKOs] [California Health and Safety Code §113825]);
11. Gun sales (including internet) and repair;
12. Health clubs, gyms, dance studios, aerobic studios, massage;
13. Limousine or pedicab service;
14. Medical or dental office;
15. Mortician, hearse service;
16. Palm reading, fortunetelling;
17. Private clubs;
18. Religious services;
19. Restaurants, taverns;
20. Retail sales from site (except direct distribution and internet);
21. Skin care services;
22. Tow truck service;
23. Welding or machine operation;
24. Upholstery;

25. Veterinary uses (including care, grooming or boarding);

26. Any use that requires the use of toxic, explosive, flammable, combustible, corrosive, etiologic, radioactive or other restricted materials;

27. Any use that is hazardous to public health, safety or welfare;

28. Any use that changes the residential characteristic of the residence;

29. Other uses the Planning Administrator determines to be similar to those listed above, or which by their operation or nature are not incidental to or compatible with residential activities.

D. Any home occupation which becomes a nonconforming use as a result of revisions to applicable provisions of this Title shall either:

1. Be brought into legal conforming status; or

2. Be discontinued and removed within three (3) months of becoming a nonconforming use.

(ORD-26-0009 § 6, 2026)

Editor's note—Section 2 of ORD-12-0011, adopted June 12, 2012 deleted Table 51-2, Home Occupation Uses, in its entirety, which derived from: Ord. C-7607, § 14, 1999; and ORD-06-0044, § 1, 2006.

21.51.237 Live nude art drawing.

A. Live nude art drawing, or painting and/or classes offering such activity is allowed as an accessory use to a duly licensed art studio or art gallery provided:

1. Such activity shall not take place at a location that has been licensed by the City as an adult entertainment business.

2. No alcohol shall be consumed, sold, served or otherwise dispensed during live nude art drawing or painting classes.

B. The subject matter of this Section shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission five (5) years after the date of enactment.

(Ord. C-7961 § 4, 2004)

21.51.240 Manufacture of products sold on-site (commercial zones).

A. The manufacturing of products to be sold on-site in commercial zoning districts shall be clearly accessory to the retail use of the site.

B. No wholesale sales shall occur on the site.

C. Noise levels shall not exceed the City noise regulations set forth in Chapter 8.80 (Noise) of the Municipal Code.

D. The manufacturing process shall not produce pungent or disturbing odors other than those which might originate from a restaurant, retail bakery or similar use; noxious or disturbing air pollutants including smoke and dust; or electromagnetic disturbances.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.243 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-18-0018 § 10, adopted July 10, 2018, repealed § 21.51.243 entitled "Massage therapy," which derived from: Ord. C-6895 § 24, 1991; and Ord. C-6595 § 27, 1989.

21.51.255 Outdoor display for sale of flowers, plants, fruits, and vegetables.

A. The outdoor display for sale of flowers, plants, fruits and vegetables shall occur only in conjunction with the sale of the same or related products in a retail store.

B. The display shall not obstruct pedestrian access and shall not occupy any required parking spaces.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.260 Pool table.

A. A pool table is a permitted accessory use only in restaurants, taverns, private clubs and other commercial entertainment uses. It shall not be considered an accessory use in fast-food restaurants.

B. No more than three (3) pool tables shall be permitted in any one (1) use listed above.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.265 Recycling containers.

Recycling containers shall be permitted as an accessory use to a grocery store. Such containers shall not obstruct pedestrian paths and shall not be located within required parking or landscape areas.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.270 Room rental.

The conditions listed below shall apply to all room rentals. Any room rental use not conforming to these conditions shall be considered a boardinghouse, lodging house, hotel or motel, as applicable, and shall be subject to the requirements for that use.

A. The owner of the dwelling unit must live in the unit.

B. The rented room shall not contain more than three (3) plumbing facilities nor a kitchen. Such room shall not contain laundry facilities, a water heater or a wetbar-type sink.

C. The rented room shall not contain an independent exterior entrance.

D. The rented room may not be detached from the principal dwelling unit.

E. Not more than two (2) rooms shall be rented in a single dwelling unit.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.275 Reserved.

Editor's note—Section 4 of ORD-19-0008 adopted Apr. 23, 2019, repealed § 21.51.275 entitled "Secondary housing units ("granny flats")," which derived from: ORD-17-0031 § 11, 2017; and Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988.

21.51.276 Accessory Dwelling Units.

An accessory dwelling unit ("ADU") is an allowed accessory use on a lot having only one detached single family dwelling (a "primary dwelling") and no other principal uses, or principal buildings or structures. An accessory dwelling unit shall have the provisions described in the definition of ADU

(Section 21.15.045 - Accessory Dwelling Unit). Permits for ADUs shall be considered ministerially, without discretionary review or a hearing, with the exception of projects falling under the categories listed in Sections 21.25.903.A and 21.25.903.B. Applications for ADUs in the Coastal Zone that are exempt from the coastal development permit requirement shall be processed according to Section 21.25.906. The Director of Development Services shall approve or deny an application for an ADU within one hundred twenty (120) days after receiving said application. Coastal development permits shall be processed according to 21.25.904. ADUs are subject to the following regulations:

A. Locations Allowed and Prohibited. Accessory dwelling units shall be allowed in the following locations, except that ADUs shall be prohibited unless fully conforming to the requirements of this Section:

1. The zoning districts in Table 31-1 where indicated as an allowable accessory use;

2. A Planned Development District (PD) or Specific Plan (SP), or subarea thereof, that allows residential use at single-family density, subject to the additional restrictions provided in this Section. The Zoning Administrator is authorized to determine if a PD or SP, or subarea thereof, allows for development of an ADU.

B. Categories of Accessory Dwelling Units. The City hereby provides for the permitting of two categories of accessory dwelling units, as follows:

1. Limited ADU. A Limited ADU is located in one of the zoning districts in Table 31-1 in which a Limited ADU is indicated as an allowable accessory use, or is located in a Planned Development District (PD) or Specific Plan (SP), or subarea thereof, that allows single-family but not multi-family residential use. A Limited ADU is created solely from the existing floor area of the primary dwelling or an accessory structure. No addition of floor area or expansion of building footprint is allowed when creating a Limited ADU. A Limited ADU is exempt from certain development standards, as provided by this Section; however, any future addition of floor area to a Limited ADU shall require compliance with the provisions of this Section for a Conforming ADU.

2. Conforming ADU. A Conforming ADU is located in one of the zoning districts in Table 31-1 in which a Conforming ADU is indicated as an allowable accessory use, or is located in a Planned Development District (PD) or Specific Plan (SP), or subarea thereof, that allows single-family residential use.

a. A Conforming ADU meets one of the following conditions:

i. Construction of new floor area is proposed to create or expand the ADU; or

ii. The lot is located in a permitted residential zoning district other than a single-family residential district, whether or not construction of new floor area is proposed.

b. For a lot where an additional principal dwelling is allowed, a Conforming ADU is not permitted, except that a Conforming ADU may be created through conversion of the floor area of an existing attached or detached accessory structure, which may not be expanded, and such a Conforming ADU may not be created or converted from new or existing floor area of the primary dwelling.

C. Density. Accessory dwelling units developed pursuant to the requirements of this Section shall not be considered to cause the lot upon which the ADU is located to exceed the allowable density permitted for the lot. For lots not located in a single-family residential zoning district, addition of another principal dwelling unit to a lot is not permitted as long as an ADU is present.

D. Development Standards. An accessory dwelling unit shall conform to all development standards of the zone in which the property is located, including but not limited to, parking, height limits, setbacks, projections, lot coverage, landscape, open space, and floor area ratio (FAR), except as specifically provided by this Section, and shall be subject to the following standards, and the provisions of Tables 51.276-1 and 51.276-2:

1. Nonconforming Setbacks. An ADU may be located within an existing, permitted structure with non-conforming setbacks, provided that any new construction of floor area complies with the applicable setback standards. Conversion of an existing detached accessory structure with non-conforming setbacks may include a second floor, provided that any new construction complies with the applicable setback standards and the policies of the City of Long Beach Certified Local Coastal Program (LCP).

2. Relationship to Other Accessory structures. The gross floor area of an ADU shall not be counted toward the allowable size of accessory structures specified in Section 21.31.245.

3. Architecture, Design, and Site Planning. An ADU shall be subject to the following criteria for architecture, design, and site planning compatibility:

   a. Exterior modifications to a primary dwelling or accessory building, as well as the construction of a new attached ADU, shall be architecturally compatible with the primary dwelling, including the use of complimentary color palettes, exterior finishes, roof pitch, and other design standards as set forth in Chapter 21.31.

   b. Any garage door(s) shall be removed from a garage or other accessory structure that is converted to an ADU, and the opening shall be treated and finished to match the building per Subsection 21.51.276.D.3.a.

   c. Any window, door, or deck of a second story ADU shall utilize techniques to lessen views onto adjacent residential lots to preserve a reasonable level of privacy of adjacent residents. These techniques may include facing a unit entrance away from an interior property line, use of obscured glazing, window placement above eye level, or screening between properties.

   d. A second story ADU shall be designed to preserve public views of the beach, bay, ocean, or tidelands from public areas in the coastal zone. Techniques, including siting decks to maximize public views of the ocean and using visually permeable guardrails, may be utilized.

e. Where a driveway abuts an ADU, a landscape area with a depth between eighteen (18) to thirty-six (36) inches shall be provided for the entire width of the driveway, provided that:

i. The landscape area does not reduce the driveway length below the minimum required in this Section when it serves as the required parking; and

ii. Existing pedestrian paths and entrances to the ADU and primary dwelling are not negatively impacted, or can feasibly be relocated.

sq. ft. = square feet

N/A = not applicable

GFA = Gross Floor Area, as defined in Section 21.15.1070

Notes:

(a) See Section 21.51.276.D.1 for existing legal nonconforming setbacks.

(b) The rear setback shall be measured to the centerline of the abutting alley, where such exists.

(c) For reverse corner lots, the rear yard setback shall be the same as the side yard setback.

(d) For sites in PD-11 (Rancho Estates Planned Development District), height is limited to 13 ft., 1 story.

(e) For a lot where an additional principal dwelling unit is allowed, a Conforming ADU is not permitted, except as provided in Section 21.51.276.B.2.b.

(f) The accessory dwelling unit's gross floor area shall be calculated in accordance with Section 21.15.1070, and shall be counted toward lot coverage and floor area ratio, and against usable open space.

(g) Percent of lot area per ADU, to be provided as private or common open space. Usable open space standards of Section 21.31.230 shall apply.

(h) The open space required for the ADU is in addition to the open space required by Table 31-2A for the primary dwelling.

(i) For a Conforming ADU, if the existing usable open space provided for the primary dwelling is nonconforming, additional usable open space shall be provided for the primary dwelling to conform with the open space requirements of Section 21.31.230 and Table 31-2A.

(j) For a site with a primary dwelling of less than 1,280 sq. ft., an ADU up to 640 sq. ft. is permitted.

(k) The minimum unit size requirements do not establish any exceptions to the maximum unit size allowed.

(l) The development standards included in the table do not apply in the coastal zone.

Required Parking for Limited and Conforming Accessory Dwelling Units and Primary Dwellings

Parking spaces required
ADU[a, b]	Primary dwelling
1	Same as existing number of spaces

Notes:

(a) The parking required for an ADU is in addition to that required for the primary dwelling.

(b) An ADU shall be exempt from the parking requirements if any of the following criteria are met:

i. The ADU is located within one-half (½) mile of public transit.

ii. The ADU is located within an architecturally and historically significant historic district.

iii. The ADU is part of the proposed or existing primary residence or an existing accessory structure.

iv. When there is a car share vehicle located within one block of the ADU.

E. Other Provisions.

1. Owner Occupants, Sales, Rentals, and Covenants. The following requirements shall apply to all accessory dwelling units:

a. The owner of the property shall reside either in the primary dwelling or the accessory dwelling unit, unless both the primary dwelling unit and the accessory dwelling unit are rented to the same tenant and such tenant is prohibited in writing by lease or other written instrument from subleasing or otherwise renting the primary dwelling unit or ADU to any other person or entity.

b. The accessory dwelling unit shall not be sold separately from the primary dwelling.

c. All required on-site parking for the property shall remain available for the residents of the primary dwelling and accessory dwelling unit, and shall not be allocated to or used by any other person or entity, as required by Section 21.41.209.

d. The accessory dwelling unit or the primary dwelling may be rented. All rentals shall be for terms of longer than thirty (30) days.

e. The accessory dwelling unit shall be removed at the expense of the property owner upon violation of Section 21.51.276, or upon cessation of the primary land use as a single-family dwelling, including, but not limited to, addition of another principal dwelling unit, or upon a request by any government agency to remove or vacate the structure due to coastal hazards.

f. Prior to the issuance of a building permit for the ADU, the owner/applicant shall record a deed restriction in a form approved by the City that restricts the size and attributes of the ADU consistent with this Section, and requires the above restrictions.

2. Construction of ADU with New or Rebuilt Primary Dwelling. Construction of an ADU in conjunction with construction of a new primary dwelling (including situations in which the primary dwelling is demolished or rebuilt as defined in this Title) is permitted, subject to the applicable provisions of this Section and all other applicable laws, codes, and regulations. When the primary dwelling is demolished or rebuilt, any nonconformities in any existing accessory structures shall be corrected prior to the creation of an ADU on the property.

3. Rebuilding of Existing Accessory Structure for Conversion. An existing garage or other accessory structure that is converted to an ADU, or above which a new ADU is constructed, may be rebuilt as necessary to comply with building, fire, and other life safety codes without loss of rights to nonconforming setbacks.

4. Conversion of Nonconforming Second Dwelling Unit to ADU. A nonconforming dwelling unit on a property with no more than two existing dwelling units may be converted to a Conforming ADU, subject to the provisions of this Section and the following:

a. The converted unit may be exempt from the maximum ADU size limits, provided that:

i. The unit to be converted to an ADU has a floor area less than the other dwelling unit, which shall become the primary dwelling; and

ii. The unit to be converted to an ADU is not larger than 1,200 sq. ft.

b. The property shall be located in a single-family zoning district, or shall be located in an R-2, R-3, or R-4 zoning district and shall have insufficient lot size for more than one dwelling to be permitted per Tables 31-2A or 31-2B; and

c. Any existing parking (whether garage, carport, or open) for both units shall be retained, and may be rebuilt and reconfigured as necessary to comply with building codes, and may be modified to be made more conforming to the requirements of the Zoning Regulations.

5. Nonconformity with Loss of Primary Dwelling. In the event that the primary dwelling is destroyed, abandoned, demolished, or otherwise lost, the accessory dwelling unit shall become a nonconforming use, subject to the provisions of Chapter 21.27 (Nonconformities), and shall not be expanded. This nonconformity may be remedied by the re-establishment of a primary dwelling on the property; or by conversion of the ADU to a primary dwelling, subject to all applicable codes, laws, and regulations for a primary dwelling.

6. Unpermitted Structures. Any structure that is described by Section 21.27.030 shall not be converted or otherwise used in the creation or expansion of an accessory dwelling unit if it cannot first be brought into legal conforming status under the provisions of this Title.

F. Severability Clause. If any provision, clause or section of this Ordinance or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be unconstitutional or to be otherwise invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision, clause, or section, or application, and to this end the provisions, clauses and sections of this Ordinance are declared to be severable.

21.51.278 Safe parking site.

See Special Development Standards 21.45.163 for Safe Parking Sites.

(ORD-20-0026 § 20, 2020)

21.51.280 Shoe-shine parlor.

A shoe-shine parlor is permitted as an accessory use to an existing commercial use on the same site. Shoe-shine parlors shall be located only inside buildings.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.285 Solar collectors.

Solar energy collectors are permitted as accessory uses in all districts.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.290 Storage of materials.

Materials clearly related to the principal use may be stored indoors on-site subject to the following conditions:

A. All materials shall be stored in a fully enclosed building, unless otherwise specified by this Title.

B. Only inventories, supplies and equipment necessary to support the principal use shall be stored.

C. For an existing residence, chattels may be stored on the property subject to the following conditions:

1. The storage complies to the provisions of Section 8.76.010 (Property maintenance);

2. The storage shall not be utilized for a commercial purpose; and

3. Chattels shall not be stored on top of any vehicle in areas visible to the public rights-of-way.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.51.292 Towing.

Towing shall be allowed as an accessory use to minor and general auto repair uses upon the following conditions:

A. No vehicles are towed to the site which are not intended to be repaired on the site;

B. No vehicles are impounded on the site; and

C. Approval for the towing service is granted by the Police Department.

(Ord. C-7032 § 50, 1992)

21.51.294 Unattended Donation Box (UDB).

An Unattended Donation Box (UDB) is permitted only as an accessory use to an existing nonresidential activity on the same site provided it meets the following standards:

A. Permit Required.

1. An UDB permit is required for an unattended donation box (UDB). A permit is not required for UDBs that are enclosed within a principal building or are accessory to a principal activity on a property owned or leased by the box operator. However, all UDBs shall meet all other requirements of Chapter 21.51.294.

2. The UDB permit shall require the property owner's approval.

3. The UDB permit applicant shall be the UDB operator and the permit may not be transferred, conveyed or otherwise assigned to another person or entity.

4. The UDB permit applicant shall have an active City Business License.

B. Location.

1. An UDB shall not be located on a vacant lot.

2. No UDB shall be located within one thousand feet (1,000') from any other UDB.

3. A development site located on one (1) or more lot shall be limited to one (1) UDB on the site.

4. No UDB shall be located within required areas of landscaping, parking spaces, drive aisles, walkways, handicapped accessibility routes, building ingress and egress, easements, trash enclosures or waste disposal areas or the public right-of-way.

5. UDBs shall have a minimum setback of twenty (20) feet from the public right-of-way and five feet (5') from any property line, or meet the setback requirements of the underlying zone, whichever is greater.

6. The donation/collection area shall have a clear line of site from the principal building located on the property or the public right-of-way.

7. UDBs shall be located within ten feet (10') of a dusk to dawn photocell-controlled light source of at least one foot (1') candle. If security is determined to be an issue, a greater foot candle may be utilized, provided lights are directed and shielded to prevent light and glare from intruding onto adjacent sites.

C. Standards.

1. UDBs shall be constructed of durable and waterproof materials.

2. UDBs shall be placed on a paved surface.

3. Maximum height is six feet (6').

4. Maximum floor area is twenty-five square feet (25 sq. ft.) (25 x 6 = 150 cubic feet).

5. UDBs shall have a tamper-resistant locking mechanism for all collection openings.

D. Signage.

1. UDBs shall have contact information, including the name, address, email and phone number of both the operator and parcel owner/owner agent, posted on the box in a conspicuous location.

2. UDBs shall identify the type of material that may be deposited and a pick-up schedule shall be posted on the box.

3. If applicable, the UDB shall identify the charitable cause that will benefit from the donations and the Federal Tax identification number of the nonprofit organization.

4. The property containing the UDB shall display a sign not to exceed ten square feet (10 sq. ft.) with text in at least two-inch (2") typeface stating that no material shall be left outside of the UDB. This sign shall be placed in a visually conspicuous location within a radius of twenty feet (20') from the UDB.

E. Maintenance.

1. The site shall be maintained to be free of blight, including but not limited to donation/collection overflow, litter, debris and dumped material.

2. The UDB shall be maintained, free of damage, holes, rust, graffiti and be in good working order.

3. The UDB shall be serviced per a schedule posted on the UDB. This servicing shall include the removal of donated/collected material and abatement of any blight. Additional pick-ups may be required if overflow or blight conditions are found to exist.

4. Hours of servicing UDBs shall be between 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, and between 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on weekends.

5. The UDB operator shall maintain an active email address and a 24-hour telephone service with recording capability for the public to register complaints. This contact information shall be posted on the UDB.

F. Penalty for violation.

If an UDB is found to be in violation of Chapter 21.51.294, and the operator does not remedy the violation upon notification from the City, the UDB can be deemed a public nuisance in accordance with Sections 21.10.080 or 21.10.090 of this Code or an Administrative Citation and penalty may be assessed in accordance with Chapter 9.65 of this Code.

(ORD-18-0003(Emerg.) § 4, 2018)

21.51.295 Vending machines.

Vending machines shall be permitted as an accessory use to existing retail sales on a site. Such machines shall not obstruct pedestrian access and shall not be located within any required parking or landscape area.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.52 CONDITIONAL USES

21.52.010 Purpose.

The City recognizes that certain types of land use, due to the nature of the use, require individual review by the Planning Commission to determine whether the type of use proposed, or the location of that use, is compatible with, or through the imposition of reasonable conditions, can be made compatible with surrounding uses. This Chapter establishes specific conditions which shall apply to uses permitted by a permit.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.030 Massage establishments.

The following conditions shall apply to massage establishments indicated in Table 32-1 where massage is the primary use:

A. For new massage establishments, the proposed location for the massage establishment must not be fewer than seven hundred fifty (750) feet from another massage establishment as measured from the property lines. For existing massage establishments that are located within seven hundred fifty

(750) feet of another massage establishment at the time this Section is enacted, those massage establishments are not required to relocate but are subject to the provisions of Chapter 5.58 and Title 21 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, and any other applicable federal, state and local law.

B. No massage establishment located in a building or structure with exterior windows fronting a public street, highway, walkway, or parking area shall block visibility into the interior reception and waiting area through the use of curtains, closed blinds, tints, or any other material that obstructs or substantially darkens the view into the premises at any time. The interior of the business shall be plainly visible from the exterior of the business by passing vehicles and pedestrians.

C. A massage establishment shall post, near the public entrance of the establishment or in another conspicuous place in clear view of the public and employees where similar notices are customarily posted, a notice sized at least 8.5 inches by 11 inches with a minimum of 16-point font stating as follows:

> If you or someone you know is being forced to engage in any activity and cannot leave —whether it is commercial sex, housework, farm work, construction, factory, retail, or restaurant work, or any other activity — call the National Human Trafficking Resource Center at 1-888-373-7888 or the California Coalition to Abolish Slavery and Trafficking (CAST) at 1-888-KEY-2-FRE(EDOM) or 1-888-539-2373 to access help and services.

(ORD-18-0018 § 8, 2018)

DIVISION I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

21.52.100 General provisions.

The uses listed in Chapters 21.31 through 21.36 as conditional uses (C) or administrative uses (AP) or identified as administrative uses in Chapter 21.25, Division IV, shall be required to comply with the conditions listed in Division II of this Chapter. Upon granting a conditional or an administrative use permit, the hearing body shall impose the conditions outlined in this Chapter for the specified use unless those conditions are waived with written findings. The hearing body may impose additional conditions that are deemed reasonable and necessary in granting the permit. If no conditions are contained in this Chapter, the hearing body may impose conditions as necessary to implement the permit.

(Ord. C-7032 § 39, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

DIVISION II.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR CONDITIONAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE USE PERMITS

21.52.200 Conditional and administrative use development standards.

This Division contains the required conditions for specified conditional and administrative use permits.

(Ord. C-7032 § 41, 1992: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.200.1 Alcohol exemption permit.

The following alcoholic beverage sales may be exempted from the conditional use permit requirement:

A. Restaurants with alcoholic beverage service only with meals. This generally means any use with a fixed bar is not exempt. A service bar is not considered a fixed bar. A sushi bar, where alcoholic beverages are served at the same bar where meals are served, is considered serving alcoholic beverages only with meal service. A cocktail lounge without a bar, but with primarily service of only hors d'oeuvres and alcoholic beverages is not exempt. Any restaurant with more than thirty percent (30%) of gross sales consisting of alcoholic beverages shall lose its exemption and be required to obtain a conditional use permit to continue to sell alcohol.

B. Florist with accessory sale of alcoholic beverages.

C. Existing legal, nonconforming uses.

(ORD-18-0025 § 15, 2018)

21.52.201 Alcoholic beverage sales uses.

The following conditions shall apply to all alcoholic beverage sales uses requiring a conditional use permit:

A. The existing number of parking spaces, or the number of parking spaces normally required by Section 21.41.160, whichever is less, shall be maintained, except as provided by Section 21.41.175.

B. The operator of the use shall provide night lighting and other security measures to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police;

C. The operator of the use shall prevent loitering or other activity in the parking lot that would be a nuisance to adjacent uses and/or residential neighborhoods;

D. The use shall not be in a reporting district with more than the recommended maximum concentration of the applicable on or off-premises sales use, as recommended by the State of California Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, nor with a high crime rate as reported by the Long Beach Police Department, except: (1) locations in the greater downtown area; or (2) stores of more than twenty thousand (20,000) square feet floor area, and also providing fresh fruit, vegetables and meat, in addition to canned goods; and

E. The use shall not be located within five hundred feet (500') of a public school, or public park, except: (1) locations in the greater downtown area; or (2) stores of more than twenty thousand (20,000) square feet of floor area, and also providing fresh fruit, vegetables and meat in addition to canned goods.

(ORD-24-0033 § 26, 2024; Ord. C-7032 § 42, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.203 Arcade.

The following conditions shall apply to arcades:

A. The site shall not be located within five hundred feet (500′) of a residential district or a public school; and

B. The operator shall demonstrate an ability to prevent problems related to potential noise, litter, loitering, crowd control and parking.

(Ord. C-7881 § 3, 2003: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.204 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-18-0025 § 1, adopted Oct. 2, 2018, repealed § 21.52.204 entitled "Artist's studio with residence," which derived from: Ord. C-7729 § 9, 2001; and Ord. C-7032 § 51, 1992.

21.52.206 Automobile related services.

The following conditions shall apply to auto repair shops, service stations, car washes, auto upholstery shops, auto parts and tire sales, camper installation businesses, van conversion businesses and the like:

A. In the CB district, such uses shall be limited to locations inside parking structures;

B. In the CR and CO zones, conditional use permits shall be limited to the expansion of existing nonconforming uses;

C. Automobile service station uses shall be limited to: retail sales of fuel, oil and small vehicle parts;

D. The proposed use shall not intrude into a concentration of retail uses and shall not impede pedestrian circulation between retail uses;

E. The proposed use shall not create unreasonable obstructions to traffic circulation around or near the site;

F. No curb cuts shall be permitted within forty feet (40′) of any public roadway intersection;

G. No vehicles may be stored at the site for purposes of sale, unless the use is also a vehicle sales lot or for the use as parts for vehicles under repair; and

H. The site shall comply with all applicable development standards for open storage and repair uses specified in Chapter 21.45, "Special Development Standards".

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.208 Bank, credit union, savings and loan.

The following conditions shall apply to a bank, credit union, or savings and loan located in the CNP (commercial neighborhood pedestrian oriented) zone:

A. The project must comply with Section 21.32.230, "Design of Buildings".

B. Drive-thru windows or drive-thru automated teller machines are prohibited.

C. No new curb cuts shall be permitted for a new or existing bank, credit union, or savings and loan in local coastal planning area D (Second Street, between Livingston and Bayshore).

D. Interior and exterior lighting, window displays, and other architectural features shall be included in the building street frontages to provide pedestrian interest during nonoperational hours.

E. Projects in local coastal planning area D (Second Street, between Livingston and Bayshore) that qualify for the one-half (1/2) rate parking standard pursuant to Subsection 21.41.226.A shall make their parking facilities available for public parking during nonoperational hours.

(Ord. C-7777 § 1, 2001; Ord. C-7729 § 13, 2001)

21.52.209 Bed and breakfast inn.

The following conditions shall apply to bed and breakfast inns:

A. The use shall be allowed only in older residential structures which are recognized as architecturally, historically or culturally significant, and which, through renovation and use as a bed and breakfast inn, will contribute significantly to the ambiance, character or economic revitalization of a neighborhood;

B. Meals shall be served to registered guests only. No cooking facilities shall be permitted in guestrooms;

C. The property owners shall live at the inn or on an adjoining property;

D. Only short-term lodging may be provided. Monthly rentals shall be prohibited;

E. No receptions, private parties or activities for which a fee is paid shall be permitted;

F. A City business license shall be obtained as required by law. Two (2) parking spaces shall be provided for the operator plus one (1) space for each guestroom; and

G. Guest parking may be provided either on-site or along the curb abutting the lot. Tandem parking is permitted provided not more than two (2) cars are parked in a tandem arrangement.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.209.5 Caretakers' residence.

The following conditions shall apply to administrative use permits for caretakers' residences:

A. The living area shall not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the total floor area;

B. Due to the lack of typical residential amenities in nonresidential zones, and potential hazardous materials, no one under the age of eighteen (18) shall be allowed to live in the residence.

(Ord. C-7032 § 52, 1992)

21.52.210 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-11-0011 § 9, adopted June 7, 2011, repealed § 21.52.210, entitled "Cellular and personal communication services (with monopoles)", which derived from: Ord. C-6684 § 7, 1990; Ord. C-7399 § 14, 1996; and Ord. C-7500 § 18, 1997.

21.52.211 Cemeteries, mortuaries, and crematoriums.

A. The following conditions shall apply to cemeteries:

1. The use shall be buffered visually from residential uses and districts; and

2. The complete master plan, including future expansion, shall be submitted for site plan review, and specific building requests shall be indicated on the master site plan.

B. The following conditions shall apply to mortuaries:

1. Parking for viewing, ceremonial and other similar uses within the mortuary shall be calculated using the parking standard contained in Section 21.41, Table 41-1C, Public Assembly; and

2. Site plan shall provide at least one (1) parking space on-site for loading purposes, either an enclosed parking space or under a porte cochere, regardless of the number of parking spaces required for assembly purposes.

C. The following conditions shall apply to crematoriums:

1. Crematoriums can be operated as stand-alone uses only within the IM or IG zone, and can be operated as accessory uses to a permitted mortuary or cemetery use;

2. In any instance, any new cremation operating unit(s) and emissions control systems shall be located a minimum of six hundred feet (600') from any residential zoning district or existing school.

(ORD-13-0022, § 1, 2013; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.212 Check cashing, pay day loans, car title loans, signature loans, and other financial services.

The following conditions shall apply to check cashing, pay day loans, car title loans, signature loans, and other financial services businesses:

A. A Conditional Use Permit shall be required for check cashing, pay day loan, car title loan, and signature loan businesses. Alternative or other financial services are also required to obtain a Conditional Use Permit at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator.

B. Check cashing, pay day loans, car title loans, signature loans and other financial service businesses as defined by the Long Beach Municipal Code shall not be located within:

1. A one thousand three hundred twenty (1,320) foot radius of an approved check cashing, pay day loan, car title loan, signature loan, or other financial service business.

2. The CNA, CNP, CNR, PD-6, PD-25, PD-29 or PD-30 or any industrial zoning districts. This includes other financial services and alternative types of lending services at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator.

C. Windows shall not be obscured by placement of signs, dark window tinting, shelving, racks or similar obstructions.

D. Exterior phones, security bars and roll up doors shall be prohibited.

E. All fees and regulations associated with a loan or financial transaction shall be displayed near the cashier/checkstand and provided to the customer upon checkout.

F. The hours of operation shall be stated in the application and shall be subject to review.

G. Special Development Standards for check cashing, pay day loan, car title loan, signature loan, and other financial services found in Section 21.45.116 shall also apply.

(ORD-13-0018, § 2, 2013; Ord. C-7663 § 40, 1999)

21.52.213 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-18-0030, § 16, Dec. 11, 2018, repealed § 21.52.213, entitled "Churches and other places designed and intended primarily for religious worship," which derived from: ORD-07-0044 § 2, 2007; and Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988).

21.52.216 Collection center for recyclables.

The following conditions shall apply to collection centers for recyclables:

A. The site shall be kept in a neat, sanitary and orderly condition;

B. An attendant shall be on the site at all times when the facility is open for collection;

C. All recyclable materials shall be stored in bins and shall not be visible to the public;

D. The operator shall establish a charge free, twenty-four (24) hour telephone number for complaints, and shall post that number on each bin in a manner clearly visible to the public;

E. Truck pick ups of recyclable materials shall be limited to the hours of eight (8:00) a.m. to eight (8:00) p.m.;

F. The operator shall use state of the art noise abatement technology and procedures and shall at no time violate the City noise ordinance;

G. The operator shall accept only California redeemable materials;

H. The operator shall utilize no processing activities including crushing, shredding, grinding, blowing and the like; and

I. The use shall not block or displace any parking spaces or landscaping that would be required if the site were developed under the regulations in place at the time of the hearing unless a standards variance is also granted.

(Ord. C-7040 § 3, 1992: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.219 Commercial parking lot or structure—Nonresidential districts.

The following conditions shall apply to commercial parking lots or structures in nonresidential zoning districts:

A. The use shall be permitted only if no other reasonable alternative use of the site exists during the time period covered by the permit;

B. The use and design of the site shall not disrupt, impede or negatively affect pedestrian circulation, traffic circulation or public transportation;

C. The use and design of the site shall not disrupt, impede or negatively affect the concentration of high intensity activities; and

D. Attractive landscape buffering and screening shall be provided.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.219.5 Commercial recreation uses.

The following conditions shall apply to commercial recreation uses:

A. The use is consistent with the intent of the park district, general plan, and any applicable specific plan; and

B. The use does not permanently remove or encroach upon more than five percent (5%) of any existing park open space which may be developed within the site coverage restrictions, and the use does not impede public access to the park; and

C. The use provides a needed public recreation service which otherwise would not be available to the public; and

D. The use cannot reasonably be located to provide comparable public recreation service on private land appropriately zoned for such use.

(Ord. C-7826 § 4, 2002)

21.52.219.7 Commercial storage/self-storage.

The following conditions shall apply to commercial storage/self-storage:

A. Commercial storage/self-storage shall not be permitted or located in an existing business or office park.

B. Commercial storage/self-storage shall only be permitted with a conditional use permit if the development site is impractical for industrial development due to such conditions as the shape or topography of the site, difficult vehicular access or close proximity to residential uses that would preclude industrial development uses.

C. Storage spaces shall not be used for manufacturing, retail or wholesale selling, office, other business or service use or human habitation.

D. Prefabricated shipping containers shall not be allowed to be on sites located within one thousand feet (1,000′) from any property zoned for residential use, unless located or screened so as to not be visible from a public street.

E. Building and roof design. The building and roof shall be designed to be compatible with surrounding development, especially nearby residential uses. Considerations include design elements that break up long, monotonous building and rooflines and elements that are compatible with the desired character of the zone.

F. Building materials. The materials used for buildings, roofs, fences and other structures shall be compatible with the desired character of the zone and shall be visually pleasing, especially near residential uses.

G. Street facades. The design and layout of the street side of the site shall provide a varied and interesting facade. Considerations include the use of setbacks, building placement, roof design, variations in building walls, fencing, other structural elements, and landscaping. Access doors to individual storage units shall be located within a building or shall be screened from adjacent property or public rights-of-way.

H. Landscaping. The landscaping on the site shall be abundant and shall provide an appropriate transition from public to private spaces, separate and buffer the buildings from other uses, and provide visual relief from stark, linear building walls.

I. Fencing. Any proposed fencing shall be designed to be compatible with the desired character of the area and is especially sensitive to abutting residential uses. Use of rolled razor wire is prohibited adjacent to residential zones.

J. Lighting. Exterior lighting shall not intrude on surrounding properties.

K. Noise. The hours of operation and access to the storage units shall be limited to seven (7:00) a.m. to seven (7:00) p.m. Monday through Friday and nine (9:00) a.m. to five (5:00) p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays. To further limit noise impacts, metal roll up doors shall be lubricated and maintained on a regular monthly basis.

L. Security. Prior to the issuance of building permits, the project shall submit a security plan that will be subject to the review and approval of the Police Department.

M. Loading. Provide adequate loading and unloading areas outside of fire lanes.

(Ord. C-7904 § 5, 2004)

21.52.219.7.5 Commissary (standalone).

See Special Development Standards in Section 21.45.125.

(ORD-26-0012 § 13, 2026)

21.52.219.8 Community assembly uses.

Community assembly uses shall be located, developed, and operated in compliance with the following standards:

A. In a residential zone:

1. The proposed use may consist only of an expansion of an existing facility on the site or on the abutting site; and

2. The site shall be limited to forty thousand (40,000) square feet in size;

3. A long-range development plan consistent with the requirements of Section 21.34.020 shall be submitted for Planning Commission review and approval for any new or expanded use on any site larger than forty thousand (40,000) square feet. New construction and additions with five thousand (5,000) square feet of floor area or more must be consistent with the long-range plan.

B. Any proposed addition or new construction shall conform to the development standards required for principal uses within the district.

C. Any new construction or additions with five thousand (5,000) square feet of floor area or more shall be subject to site plan review pursuant to Chapter 21.25, Division V.

D. A buffer at least twenty (20) feet in width shall be provided adjacent to the boundary of any residential zone or property line of any residential use. This buffer area may be used for parking or landscaping but shall not be used for structures or outside activities. The minimum buffer requirement may be reduced subject to the review and approval of a Conditional Use Permit pursuant to Chapter 21.25, Division II, as long as the reduced buffer maintains the minimum setback requirement of the district in which the facility is located. Parking areas shall be screened consistent with the requirements of Chapter 21.42.

E. Outdoor areas used for recreation, meetings, services or other activities involving groups of persons shall be at least fifty (50) feet from the boundary of any residential zone or property line of any residential use.

F. Parking shall be provided in accordance with Chapter 21.41.

G. To ensure compliance with the Federal Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act of 2000 (RLUIPA), the Planning Commission or the Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to grant exceptions and waivers to the requirements of this Code when necessary to accommodate religious assembly uses.

1. A request for an exception or waiver shall be submitted and processed in the same manner as an application for an Administrative Use Permit consistent with the requirements of Chapter 21.25, Division IV, Administrative Use Permits.

2. If necessary to reach a determination on the request for exception or waiver, the Zoning Administrator may request further information from the applicant, specifying in detail what information is required.

3. Findings required. The following findings must be analyzed, made and adopted before any action is taken to approve or deny a request for a modification or waiver and must be incorporated into the record of the proceeding relating to such approval or denial:

   a. The requested exception or waiver will not impose an undue financial or administrative burden on the City.

   b. The requested exception or waiver will not require a fundamental alteration of the zoning or building laws, policies and/or procedures of the City.

   c. There are no alternatives to the requested waiver or modification that could provide an equivalent level of function related to religious worship with less potential detriment to surrounding owners and occupants or to the general public.

   d. That the conditions imposed, if any, are necessary to further a compelling public interest and represent the least restrictive means of furthering that interest.

   e. That denial of the requested exception or waiver would impose a substantial burden on religious worship or would conflict with any State or federal statute.

   f. For religious assembly uses located in the coastal zone, a request for reasonable accommodation under this Section shall be approved by the City if it is consistent with all of the applicable provisions of this Division, and the certified Local Coastal Program. Where a request for a modification or waiver is not consistent with the certified Local Coastal Program, the City may waive compliance with an otherwise applicable provision of the Local Coastal Program and approve the request for reasonable accommodation if the City finds that the request is consistent, to the maximum extent feasible, with the certified Local Coastal Program.

4. Conditions of approval. In approving an exception or waiver to accommodate religious assembly use, the decision-maker may impose any conditions deemed necessary to:

   a. Ensure that the proposal conforms in all significant respects with the General Plan and with any other applicable plans or policies adopted by the City Council;

   b. Achieve the general purposes of this Section or the specific purposes of the zoning district in which the project is located;

   c. Achieve the findings for an exception or waiver granted; or

   d. Mitigate any potentially significant impacts identified as a result of review conducted in compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act.

5. Exceptions or waivers approved pursuant to this section may be conditioned to provide for rescission or automatic expiration based on a change of occupancy or other relevant change in circumstance. To ensure this, the property owner shall record a covenant demonstrating that the improvement with which the exception or waiver is associated shall be removed or modified to comply with City regulations at the expense of the property owner when said circumstance or occupancy changes.

6. Appeals. The applicant or any aggrieved party may appeal decisions pursuant to this section or any conditions or limitations imposed by the Zoning Administrator.

   a. All appeals shall contain a statement of the grounds for the appeal.

   b. Appeals shall be to the Planning Commission, in accordance with Division V of Chapter 21.21 - Administrative Procedures.

(ORD-18-0030 § 14, 2018)

21.52.220 Community correctional reentry centers.

A. A complete application for a community correctional reentry center in an industrial zone shall include adequate evidence that the applicant has conducted a preapplication meeting for surrounding property owners and occupants. The applicant shall provide at least ten (10) days' notice of a preapplication meeting to all owners and occupants of real property within one thousand five hundred feet (1,500') of the real property which is the subject of the application, all neighborhood associations adjacent to, or within the vicinity of, the proposed use, any surrounding business association and the City's neighborhood resource center. The applicant shall provide proof of such notice and meeting through the use of certified mail and returned receipts issued by the United States Postal Service.

B. The following conditions shall apply to community correctional reentry centers in the industrial zoning districts:

1. Such uses shall provide educational and vocational training primarily focused on industrial employment.

2. Such uses shall provide short-term lodging not to exceed one hundred twenty (120) days per inmate/trainee.

3. Counseling and job placement services shall be provided for inmates/trainees of the facility only.

4. The use shall comply with all general conditions of special group residences, as set forth at Section 21.52.271 of this Chapter; provided, however, no such use, regardless of the size of the parcel housing such uses shall exceed fifty (50) beds and/or fifty (50) inmates/trainees at any given time.

5. The operator of the use shall only accept inmates/trainees who voluntarily apply for transfer to the community correctional reentry center.

6. No reentry center operator shall accept any inmate/trainee currently serving a sentence for conviction of any offense described in subdivision (c) of Penal Code Section 667.5 or subdivision (c) of Penal Code Section 1192.7, excluding the offense of burglary.

7. No reentry center operator shall accept any inmate/trainee who has more than one hundred twenty (120) days left to serve in a correctional facility.

8. No reentry center operator shall accept any inmate/trainee that has been convicted of an escape pursuant to Section 4532 of the Penal Code.

9. The facility shall be staffed twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week. A State parole agent shall be assigned to the site to monitor the inmates' activities. No inmate of the facility shall be permitted to utilize a private vehicle unless expressly authorized to do so by the California Department of Corrections pursuant to its rules and procedures governing such use. Any change in operations must be reviewed and approved by both the State and City prior to implementation of such change.

(Ord. C-7392 § 3, 1996)

21.52.220.5 Computer arcade.

The following conditions shall apply to computer arcades:

A. Hours of operation shall be limited to between eight (8:00) a.m. to twelve o'clock (12:00) midnight. The Planning Commission may consider extended hours of operation based on proximity to residential uses; and

B. The operator shall demonstrate an ability to prevent problems related to potential noise, litter, loitering, crowd control and parking, including, but not limited to, the provision of a uniformed security guard at the site to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police if the Chief of Police determines it to be necessary due to increased police activity or calls for service at the site; and

C. Windows shall not be obscured by placement of signs, dark window tinting, shelving, racks or similar obstructions; and

D. Maximum number of machines available for public rental shall not exceed one (1) per thirty-five (35) square feet of net floor area; and

E. Computer games of an adult nature depicting "specified anatomical areas" or "specified sexual activities", as these terms are defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions), shall not be installed on computer terminals or played by customers unless the locational restrictions of Section 21.45.110 (Special development standards - adult entertainment) are complied with; and

F. If access to adult oriented web sites is allowed, a separate area, up to a maximum of twenty percent (20%) of computer terminals available for public rental, shall be set aside for adult viewing with the computers clearly marked as such and screened from view by minors. All other machines shall be marked prohibiting adult viewing;

G. Provide interior lighting levels similar to commercial office standards during operating hours; and

H. There shall be at least one (1) adult employee, eighteen (18) years of age or older, for each twenty (20) computer terminals available for public rental, or fraction thereof; and

I. An interior waiting area for customers, at least five percent (5%) of the gross floor area in size, but not less than fifty (50) square feet, shall be provided near the entrance; and

J. Headphones shall be provided for each computer terminal, in lieu of open speakers, to control noise at the site; and

K. The operator shall provide parking at a ratio of one (1) space per 3.3 computer terminals or, when two (2) or more uses share a parking facility, demonstrate through a signed affidavit that the hours of their demand for parking do not overlap, or only partially overlap.

(Ord. C-7881 § 8, 2003)

21.52.221 Courtesy parking in residential districts.

The following conditions shall apply to courtesy parking in residential districts:

A. The proposed site shall adjoin, abut or be adjacent to a commercial district;

B. The parking lot shall extend not more than one hundred feet (100′) into the residential district; and

C. A six foot six inch (6′6″) solid fence or wall and a five foot (5′) wide landscaping buffer shall be provided along any property line abutting a residential use.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.222 Diesel fuel sales.

The following conditions shall apply to diesel fuel sales, whether in conjunction with gasoline sales or not:

A. Diesel fuel sales shall only be permitted on designated truck routes.

B. A solid masonry wall not less than eight feet (8′) in height shall be provided where the site abuts, or is across an alley from, a residential district.

C. An on-site queuing lane no less than one hundred twenty feet (120′) shall be provided on-site for each pump dispensing diesel fuel.

D. A site circulation and queuing diagram prepared by a traffic engineer shall be submitted with the application demonstrating the feasibility of truck access to and from each pump dispensing diesel fuel.

E. Local streets may not be used for vehicular access to pumps dispensing diesel fuel.

F. No on-site idling shall be permitted for vehicles queuing for pumps dispensing diesel fuel.

G. No overnight parking or on-site maintenance of truck tractors or truck trailers shall be permitted.

H. No exterior telephones or security bars shall be permitted.

I. Hours of operation shall be established and shall be appropriate based on adjacent land uses.

(Ord. C-7663 § 41, 1999)

21.52.223 Electrical distribution station—Residential districts.

The following conditions shall apply to electrical distribution stations in residential districts:

A. The site shall be located on a major, secondary or minor highway;

B. The site shall be developed according to the height and yard requirements of the district in which the site is located;

C. The site shall be surrounded by a fence designed, treated and finished in a manner compatible with the adjacent residential uses. Such fence shall be placed behind the required landscaping along the street frontage. Fences up to twelve feet (12′) in height may be allowed in side and rear yard areas if appropriate and necessary for the individual site;

D. Landscaping equal to twice the requirement for a multifamily residential zone shall be provided; and

E. All equipment and operations shall comply with applicable City noise regulations as set forth in Chapter 8.80 (Noise) of the Municipal Code.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.226 Electrical distribution substations—Nonresidential districts.

The following conditions shall apply to electrical distribution substations in nonresidential zoning districts:

A. All facilities shall be screened from public view by an attractive wall or fence.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.229 Electronic message center signs.

In addition to the required findings for a conditional use permit (Section 21.25.206), the Planning Commission shall not approve a conditional use permit for an Electronic Message Center sign unless positive findings can be made for the following:

A. The proposed design of the electronic message center sign is complete and consistent within itself and is compatible in design with the architectural theme or character of the existing or proposed development it will serve and the community in which it will be located.

B. The establishment of the proposed electronic message center sign will not adversely affect the character, livability, or quality of life of any residential community it will be adjacent to or located in.

C. The electronic message center sign shall not constitute a hazard to the safe and efficient operation of vehicles upon a street or freeway.

D. The applicant has demonstrated that the proposed electronic message display surface is factory-certified as capable of complying with the brightness standards in Section 21.44.850.

(ORD-13-0014 § 20, 2013; Ord. C-7500 § 24, 1997)

21.52.231 Fast-food restaurants.

The following conditions shall apply to fast-food restaurants:

A. The site shall not adjoin or abut a residential use district;

B. The proposed site shall not interrupt or intrude into a concentration of retail uses and shall not impede pedestrian circulation between retail uses;

C. The use shall not constitute a nuisance to the area due to noise, litter, loitering, smoke or odor; and

D. Order board speakers shall be oriented and directed away from adjacent residential uses.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.231.5 Fences in high crime districts.

The following conditions shall apply to fences which exceed three feet (3′) in the front yard of residential lots located in high crime areas:

A. The site shall be located in a "high crime" area (as defined by Section 21.15.1338);

B. The fence shall enclose an existing or proposed multifamily (three (3) or more units) residential structure or any residential use located in a multifamily (R-3 or R-4) zone;

C. The fence shall not exceed six feet six inches (6′6″) in height;

D. The fence design shall be open wrought iron or other metal pickets;

E. The fence shall allow emergency egress;

F. The fence design shall provide visitor, meter reader and emergency personnel access;

G. The front yard shall have approved landscaping;

H. The applicant shall restore any missing street trees; and

I. The fence shall have self-closing, self-locking gates.

(Ord. C-7247 § 34, 1994)

21.52.232 Fitness or health club, dance or karate studio and the like.

A. The use shall demonstrate adequate parking for peak demand.

B. The facility shall be limited to five thousand (5,000) square feet of gross usable floor area in neighborhood commercial zones (CNP, CNA and CNR).

(ORD-20-0025 § 10, 2020; ORD-18-0030 § 15, 2018; Ord. C-7047 § 33, 1992)

21.52.233 Handicapped and traditional senior citizen housing.

The following conditions shall apply to housing for the handicapped and for senior citizens:

A. In a residential zone, handicapped and senior citizen housing shall be limited to the density allowed in the underlying zone district multiplied by the number indicated in Table 52-1. In congregate care facilities, each bedroom with two (2) or fewer beds shall count as a dwelling unit in calculating density. In bedrooms with more than two (2) beds, each bed shall count as a unit. This shall be the maximum permitted density. The Planning Commission may require a lower density as the situation requires. In nonresidential zones, densities shall be limited to one (1) dwelling unit per two hundred (200) square feet of lot area;

B. Consideration of the conditional use permit shall address crime rate, scale and style of the proposed building in relation to other buildings within the immediate vicinity;

C. The applicant shall provide evidence that the use will remain as senior citizen or handicapped housing through deed restriction or other method suitable to the Planning Commission. In the case of senior citizen housing that is constructed for sale or rental of individual units, apartments or condominiums, the applicant shall provide proof that the proposed project is fully compliant with the provisions of California Civil Code Section 51.3 or otherwise provide proof that the provisions of Civil Code Section 51.3 are not applicable to the project. Failure to provide suitable proof and assurances to the Planning Commission will result in the denial of the density multiples provided for in Table 52-1;

D. The facility shall be designed with appropriate grab bars in all hallways and bathtubs and/or showers and with nonslip surfaces in bathtubs and/or showers. The designs shall conform to the specifications of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the applicable use;

E. Each unit shall be equipped with an emergency signaling device to the on-site unit manager's office, if applicable, to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police;

F. Each facility shall provide not less than three hundred (300) square feet of common recreational space;

G. Each facility shall provide not less than one hundred fifty (150) square feet of usable open space per unit or room. Of the one hundred fifty (150) square feet, not less than fifty (50) square feet shall be private open space, and the remainder may be common open space in addition to the three hundred (300) square feet required above;

H. The facility shall be located within one thousand feet (1,000′) by legal pedestrian route to a public transit stop; and

I. Parking and loading shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements).

(Ord. C-7500 § 19, 1997: Ord. C-6822 § 19, 1990; Ord. C-6595 § 15, 1989; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

Density Multiples for Handicapped and Senior Citizen Housing

Use	Density Multiple
Handicapped, low rent	3.0
Handicapped, market rent	2.0
Senior citizen, low rent	3.0
Senior citizen, market rent	2.0
Senior citizen, congregate care, low rent	3.0
Senior citizen, congregate care, market rent	2.0

21.52.234 Heliport or blimp port or helipads.

The following conditions shall apply to heliports or blimp ports and helipads:

A. The Aeronautics Bureau of Public Works in consultation with the Federal Aeronautics Administration have found that the proposal presents no air space conflicts. Letters of agreement concerning airspace procedures, altitude and flight tracks, shall be submitted if necessary.

B. The Fire Chief has found the use designed to safely handle any and all flammable and combustible materials to be handled on-site.

C. The use will not adversely affect any residential neighborhood due to take-off, landing or overflight noise.

D. The use is reasonably centrally located within an area of need so that no duplication of facilities will occur that could be avoided by use of another site.

E. Only private, noncommercial heliports, blimp ports or helipads shall be allowed. Ticket sales or any common carrier-type functions are strictly prohibited.

F. Only helipads, without support services, shall be allowed in the CB zone.

(Ord. C-6595 § 28, 1989)

21.52.235 Hotels/motels.

A. Intent. Long Beach strongly encourages the development and expansion of the travel industry for vacation, convention and business travel. Hotels and motels are an integral and desirable part of the travel industry. However, as hotels and motels can also be incompatible with nearby residential communities, and can also become inadequately designed permanent housing, it is necessary to provide site-by-site analysis and decisions of the nature and design of such business facilities. Also, as such uses provide a twenty-four (24) hour business environment, careful review is required to ensure compatibility with residential uses. All proposals for new hotels, motels or inns shall comply with the following conditions.

B. Intensity. The density of rooms, intensity of facilities, and scale and design of buildings shall be harmonious with surrounding uses and development.

C. Location. The location of the use shall be reasonably related to destinations of the traveling public, such as proximity to tourist attractions, convention facilities, business centers, the airport or cruise terminals, or medical centers and shall also be adequately buffered from any incompatible adjoining uses.

D. Crime. The site shall not be associated with a location known to have a high concentration of reported crimes.

E. Design. The design shall be attractive so as to present a positive image of Long Beach to the traveling public, shall be appropriate to transient occupancy without conversion to long-term occupancy (more than thirty (30) consecutive days), and, where appropriate, shall contribute to an active retail frontage by providing stores, coffee shops or convenience retail on the ground story of major streets. Enriched materials, roof overhangs, windows and doors with jams and sills, architectural protrusions and other detailing and lush landscaping are desirable in making the design attractive. All designs shall also comply with the privacy standards of Section 21.31.240.

F. Open Space. The use shall provide not less than one hundred twenty-five (125) square feet of usable open space per guestroom, suite or unit. Not less than fifty (50) square feet of such open space shall be private usable open space according to the provisions of Section 21.31.230. For buildings of three (3) stories or more, all open space may be common open space. Areas used for health clubs or recreation rooms may be counted as common usable open space.

G. Parking. All parking designs shall provide through-flow circulation or maneuvering space in a cul-de-sac or "hammerhead" design to allow exiting in a forward direction when all parking spaces are full. Parking spaces shall be provided in adequate number to serve the use according to the following requirements: for hotels/motels less than sixty (60) rooms, suites or units, the minimum parking shall be not less than 1.25 spaces per guestroom, or per two (2) room suite or unit, and 2.00 spaces per suite or unit of three (3) or more rooms, plus parking figured separately for other facilities.

For hotels/motels of sixty (60) rooms or more, see Table 41-1C.

H. Security. Project security shall be designed to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police and shall include surveillance of arrivals, departures, and parking areas from the office, and security hardware, alarms and lighting.

(Ord. C-6684 § 8, 1990)

21.52.236 Institutional and public assembly uses.

The following conditions shall apply to public assembly halls, private clubs and similar uses:

A. A long-range development plan shall be submitted for the use;

B. Any new construction shall be consistent with the long-range plan that has been approved by the Planning Commission;

C. All buildings and uses shall be located and buffered to prevent intrusion upon surrounding uses, especially when the use adjoins, abuts or is adjacent to a residential district; and

D. Abundant landscaping, ample building spacing, open space and high quality building design shall be provided.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.238 Interim housing.

See Special Development Standards 21.45.153 for Interim housing.

(ORD-20-0026 § 21, 2020)

21.52.240 Legalization of dwelling units.

A. The unit(s) in question must have been created before 1964 and continually occupied since that time without having been abandoned pursuant to Section 21.15.030;

B. The unit must meet minimum Housing Code provisions; and

C. The unit must not exceed six hundred forty (640) square feet.

(Ord. C-7032 § 53, 1992)

21.52.240.5 Live-work unit.

The following conditions shall apply to administrative use permits for live-work units:

A. The minimum unit size is seven hundred fifty (750) square feet.

B. Each unit shall have a separate entrance that is clearly identified to provide for emergency services.

C. No more than thirty-three percent (33%) of any unit shall be used for exclusive residential purpose such as sleeping area, kitchen, bathroom and closet areas. The unit shall provide as a minimum full cooking and bathing facilities.

D. All necessary building permits shall be obtained prior to the use of the space for residential occupancy.

E. No mechanical equipment shall be used which generates noise higher than the noise standards established for residential uses (Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code).

F. There shall be no outside operations, outside storage or outdoor display of materials or products.

G. No toxic, explosive, flammable, combustible or corrosive materials are to be stored or used on the site in quantities or in a manner that violates any provision of the Uniform Fire Code. No etiologic or radioactive materials shall be used or stored on the site at any time.

H. No process shall be used which is hazardous to public health, safety or welfare.

I. The home occupation shall not displace or block the use of parking spaces required for the residential use including any business storage in required garage parking areas.

J. Not more than two (2) vehicles shall be used in the business. Only one (1) vehicle may be commercially licensed.

K. The property owner shall record a covenant, prior to the issuance of a building permit, ensuring that the provisions of this Section are continually adhered to and that the Live-Work Unit remains consistent with the definition in Section 21.15.1576.

The Zoning Administrator may require the discontinuance of a work activity in a live-work unit with residence if as operated or maintained there has been a violation of any applicable condition or standard. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to prescribe additional conditions and standards of operation for any category of work activity in a live-work unit.

(ORD-18-0025 § 16, 2018)

21.52.241 Merchandise mall.

The following conditions shall apply to merchandise malls:

A. Parking shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements). However, the required number of parking spaces may be reduced if the applicant can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission that a lower standard adequately satisfies the parking demand of a specific business. In no case shall less than five (5) parking spaces per one thousand (1,000) square feet be approved; and

B. The applicant shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission that tenants of the merchandise mall will pay applicable business license fees and sales taxes.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.243 Mobile home park.

The following conditions shall apply to mobile home parks:

A. The mobile home park shall not exceed the density of the applicable zone district in which it is located; and

B. The mobile home park shall comply with the development standards of the applicable subdivision for private streets and lot design.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.244 Subdivision of existing mobile home park.

The following special conditions shall apply to subdivision of an existing mobile home park:

A. The mobile home park shall contain a minimum community area open space of two hundred (200) square feet per lot.

B. The mobile home park shall have a minimum density of nine (9) units per acre.

C. The mobile home park shall contain a minimum of one (1) guest parking space for each fifteen (15) lots.

D. The mobile home park shall contain a minimum of one hundred (100) square feet of recreational vehicle storage per lot.

E. The mobile home park shall have a minimum project setback of twenty (20) feet from any public street.

F. RV storage and vehicle parking and storage shall be reserved for use by the owners/tenants of the mobile home park.

(ORD-07-0019 § 6, 2007)

21.52.246 Motorcycle/jet ski sales and repair.

A. All sales and repair activities shall comply with the standards of Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards).

B. The applicant shall demonstrate an ability to control noise during engine testing to comply with City noise regulations Chapter 8.80 (Noise) and avoid neighborhood disturbances.

(Ord. C-7047 § 26, 1992: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.247 Building design in the CNP zone.

A. The use will primarily serve the local community.

B. The project must comply with Section 21.32.230 Design of buildings, to insure pedestrian orientation.

C. Drive-thru lanes are prohibited.

D. Existing curb cuts from the primary pedestrian thoroughfare must be closed and vehicular access taken from alleys and/or secondary streets.

(Ord. C-7729 § 10, 2001: Ord. C-7047 § 34, 1992)

21.52.249 Nursery schools, day nurseries, preschools, childcare centers, daycare centers and similar uses for daytime care and education of a limited number of persons.

The following conditions shall apply to all nursery schools, day nurseries, preschools, childcare centers, daycare centers and similar uses for daytime care and education of a limited number of persons:

A. A minimum of seventy-five (75) square feet of outdoor play area per child shall be provided on the site;

B. In residential districts, no other similar facility may be located and operating within one-half (1/2) mile (2,640 feet) of the proposed site;

C. The hours of operation shall be limited to the hours between six o'clock (6:00) a.m. and seven-thirty (7:30) p.m.; and

D. Adequate off-street loading spaces shall be provided to prevent adverse effects upon the neighborhood.

(ORD-18-0025 § 11, 2018; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.251 Office uses in residential districts.

The following conditions shall apply to office uses in residential districts:

A. The total nonresidential use shall not exceed forty percent (40%) of the square footage of the building.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.256 Outdoor sales events.

The following conditions shall apply to flea markets, swap meets, vehicle sales events and the like:

A. All uses shall be compatible with adjacent uses; and

B. The sale of used merchandise may be permitted; and

D. The hours of operation shall be nine (9:00) a.m. to five (5:00) p.m. with the exception that setup shall be allowed a early as seven (7:00) a.m. and as late as seven (7:00) p.m. The Planning Commission may grant extended hours of operation based on the proximity to residential land uses; and

E. The proposed frequency of events shall be stated in the application and subject to review; and

F. The operator shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission that applicable business license fees and sales taxes will be paid; and

G. An event signage plan shall be submitted in the application and subject to review; and

H. Adequate restroom facilities shall be provided on-site during hours of operation; and

I. A parking plan shall be submitted in the application and subject to review. The hours of parking demand of the outdoor sales event shall not conflict with the hours of parking demand of the principal use on-site, if any, and shall be provided in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 21.41 (Off-street Parking and Loading Requirements); and

J. The operator shall demonstrate an ability to control problems related to noise, loitering, and litter; and

K. The operator shall provide a safety and security plan to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police; and

L. The operator shall obtain all necessary permits from the Fire Department for the temporary structures for each outdoor sales event.

(Ord. C-7881 § 4, 2003: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.257 Parsonage.

The following conditions shall apply to administrative use permits for a parsonage: The living area shall not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the church floor area.

(Ord. C-7032 § 54, 1992)

21.52.259 Pistol or rifle range.

The following conditions shall apply to pistol and rifle ranges:

A. The use shall be soundproofed as necessary to avoid adverse impacts on nearby noise sensitive uses; and

B. The operator shall incorporate safety measures into facility design as required by the Chief of Police.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.260 Interim Playgrounds, urban agriculture use, community gardens and recreational parks.

The following shall apply to interim playgrounds, community gardens and recreational parks. Only A, B, and C apply to urban agriculture uses:

A. Improvements for an interim playground/community garden/recreational park shall be limited to landscaping, irrigation systems, accessory buildings and accessory structures.

B. The following setbacks shall apply to all accessory buildings and accessory structures:

1. Front. The front setback shall be the same as a principal structure in the applicable zoning district.

2. Side. A four-foot (4') side setback is required when abutting a residential district otherwise none is required.

3. Rear. A ten-foot (10') rear setback is required when abutting a residential district otherwise none is required.

C. The maximum height of any accessory building shall be thirteen feet (13').

D. The interim playground/community garden/recreational park hours of operation shall be seven-thirty (7:30) a.m. to dusk.

E. Off-street parking shall not be required for an interim playground/community garden/recreational park.

F. Adequate trash receptacles shall be provided and maintained for the life of the use.

(ORD-20-0025 § 11, 2020; ORD-17-0024 § 5, 2017; Ord. C-7378 § 28, 1995)

21.52.261 Police training academy.

The following conditions shall apply to the police training academy use:

A. The use shall be isolated from noise sensitive uses; and

B. A master plan for future facility expansion shall be reviewed and approved with any specific building request.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.263 Elementary and secondary schools.

The following conditions shall apply to private elementary and secondary schools:

A. Such facilities shall be located on a Neighborhood Connector or Local Street as defined by the City of Long Beach Mobility Element;

B. Such facilities shall conform to the development standards of the district in which they are located including parking;

C. In a residential zone, the site shall be limited to forty thousand (40,000) square feet in size; and

D. An applicant seeking to convert an existing commercial building into a school shall file a request with the Building Bureau for a special code compliance inspection. The report shall address all building code issues related to establishing a school in a commercial building. The report must be received by the Planning Bureau before an application for conditional use permit is considered complete.

E. The Zoning Administrator may approve an exception to the locational requirements in subsection A, based on the following findings:

1. The total number of students, staff and visitors on the site at any one time shall not exceed 100; and

2. The applicant has submitted a plan for accommodating all pick-up and drop-off activity on the site; or

3. The applicant has established other trip reduction measures to ensure that the total number of daily trips to and from the site will not exceed the number of trips the Mobility Element has established for the street classification applicable to the site.

(ORD-19-0011 § 10, 2019; Ord. C-7378 § 20, 1995: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.265 Recycling collection center.

A. Recycling collection centers located in any industrial district shall be limited to a maximum of five (5) years for any single approval.

B. The use shall be compatible with surrounding existing uses.

C. The operator shall take all reasonable steps to mitigate intrusive noise to adjacent residential uses.

D. The site shall remain clean at all times.

E. The entire site shall be paved.

F. The site shall be screened with an eight-foot-high (8′) solid wall.

(Ord. C-7360 § 8, 1995; Ord. C-7247 § 25, 1994: Ord. C-6684 § 9, 1990)

21.52.265.5 Residential historical landmarks.

The following conditions shall apply to all residential historical landmarks seeking to establish a commercial use:

A. The following commercial uses listed below may be allowed through the administrative use permit process (where the permitted use table for the applicable zone is more permissive than these provisions, then the applicable zone use table shall apply):

1. Artist studio with residence pursuant to Section 21.52.204.

2. Bed and breakfast pursuant to Section 21.52.209.

21.52.270 Sandwiched lot.

The development on the sandwiched lot shall be limited to R-4-R density and development standards.

(Ord. C-6895 § 32, 1991)

21.52.270.1 Secondhand shops.

The following shall apply to new secondhand/thrift shops and as a requirement for approval of any increase in the floor area of an existing shop:

A. All sales and display of merchandise shall be permitted only within a building;

B. Exterior alterations to the premises and all signage must be designed and installed in compliance with all applicable City regulations and guidelines;

C. The building and site shall be maintained in a neat, clean and orderly condition;

D. Outside storage shall not be permitted;

E. The store shall not authorize the donation or drop-off of any goods while the store is closed; and

F. The operator shall post a notice in a visible location at any public entrance, which states that goods may not be deposited when the store is closed and listing hours when and where donations will be accepted.

(ORD-18-0025 § 17, 2018)

21.52.271 Special group residence (board and care, convalescent home, half-way house, boardinghouse/lodginghouse, communal housing and the like).

The following conditions shall apply to special group residences including, but not limited to, board and care, convalescent home, half-way house, boardinghouse/lodginghouse and communal housing:

A. Density. In a residential zone, special group housing shall be limited to the density allowed by the underlying zone district multiplied by the number indicated in Table 52-2. In congregate care facilities, each bedroom with one (1) or two (2) beds shall count as a unit when calculating density. In bedrooms with more than two (2) beds, each bed shall count as a unit. This shall be the maximum permitted density. The Planning Commission may require a lower density as the situation requires. In a nonresidential zone, density shall be limited to one (1) unit per two hundred (200) square feet of lot area;

B. Location. In a residential district, no other similar facility may be in operation within one-half (1½) mile of the proposed project site. If the use is a fraternity or sorority, the use shall be sufficiently isolated from other residential uses so as not to potentially disturb the neighborhood;

C. Concerns. Consideration of the conditional use permit shall address crime rate, concentration of similar uses, and the style and scale of the proposed building in relation to other buildings in the immediate vicinity;

D. Continuation of Use. The applicant shall provide evidence that the use will remain as that use applied for through deed restriction or other method suitable to the Planning Commission;

E. Open Space. Each facility shall provide not less than three hundred (300) square feet of common open space and one hundred fifty (150) square feet of usable open space per unit or room. Of the one hundred fifty (150) square feet, not less than fifty (50) square feet shall be private open space, and the remainder may be common open space added to the required three hundred (300) square feet of common open space;

F. Public Transit Stop. The facility shall be located within one thousand feet (1,000′) by legal pedestrian route to a public transit stop; and

G. Parking. Parking and loading shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements).

(Ord. C-6595 § 16, 1989; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.273 Tattoo or fortunetelling services.

A. The following conditions shall apply to fortunetelling services:

1. No new fortunetelling uses shall be located within one thousand feet (1,000′) of any existing adult entertainment, arcade, fortunetelling, tattoo parlor or tavern use; and

2. Fortunetelling uses shall operate only between the hours of seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m.

B. Prior to approval of an Administrative Use Permit for Tattoo Parlors, if an Administrative Use Permit is required, the Zoning Administrator shall, in addition to findings requested in Section 21.25.407, find that the proposed tattoo parlor does not introduce new light, noise, or traffic near neighboring sensitive land uses, including residences, businesses, schools, childcare, or pre-school facilities, that is beyond normal circumstances in that location.

(ORD-18-0013 § 4, 2018; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.279 Through-block commercial.

The following conditions shall apply to through-block commercial:

A. The proposed site shall abut, adjoin or be adjacent to a commercial district, or a planned development district designated for commercial uses;

B. The proposed site shall be developed as a unified site with an abutting, adjoining or adjacent commercially zoned site;

C. Through-block commercial shall only be permitted on a property that has two (2) street frontages but is not a corner lot as illustrated in Figure 52-1;

D. Vehicular and/or pedestrian access shall not be permitted from or across the residential street frontage;

E. The site shall be developed according to the height and yard requirements of the residential district in which it is located;

F. The commercial uses permitted shall be the same as those on the abutting, adjoining or adjacent commercial district with which the site is being developed;

G. Any portion of the building or buildings visible from a public street, or abutting, adjoining or adjacent to a residential district shall be designed, treated and finished in a manner compatible with adjacent residential areas and with other visible sides of the building; and

H. The yards facing residential uses shall be landscaped in a manner which protects the privacy and serenity of the residential uses.

(Ord. C-7247 § 26, 1994: Ord. C-7047 § 27, 1992; Ord. C-6684 § 40, 1990; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.280 Tutoring center.

Tutoring centers greater than two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet shall be subject to the following:

A. Loading. Two (2) loading spaces shall be provided as per Chapter 21.41;

B. Impacts on surrounding uses. Hours of operation and business practices shall mitigate impacts to surrounding uses. These include, but are not limited to, appointment-based tutoring sessions, maximum occupants, and hours of operation.

(ORD-19-0028 § 37, 2019)

21.52.281 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-18-0025 § 2, adopted Oct. 2, 2018, repealed § 21.52.281 entitled "Thrift shops," which derived from: Ord. C-7047 § 28, 1992; and Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988.

21.52.283 Vehicle rental services.

The following conditions shall apply to vehicle rental service uses:

A. In the CO and CB zones, only passenger vehicles and bicycle rentals shall be allowed;

B. Any vehicle repair activities shall comply with the regulations pertaining to outdoor vehicle repair uses as set forth in Chapter 21.45 (Special Development Standards). However, in the CO, CT or CB zones, all repair work shall occur within a fully enclosed building; and

C. In the CO zone, the project site must be within one-half (1/2) mile of the CB or CT zone, or five hundred (500) hotel rooms, or a passenger terminal of an airport, cruise ship or rail transit line.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.286 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-19-0028 § 38, adopted Nov. 5, 2019, repealed § 21.52.286 entitled "Veterinary uses," which derived from Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988.

21.52.410 Special conditions—Industrial uses.

Certain industrial uses identified in Chapter 21.33 (Industrial Uses) are subject to conditional use permit review and approval. In addition to the standard considerations and findings required to approve a conditional use permit, the following additional considerations and findings shall be made:

A. The proposed use, and the siting and arrangement of that use on the property, will not adversely affect surrounding uses nor pose adverse health risks to persons working and living in the surrounding area.

B. Adequate permitting and site design safeguards will be provided to ensure compliance with the performance standards for industrial uses contained in Section 21.33.090 (Performance Standards) of this Title.

C. Truck traffic and loading activities associated with the business will not adversely impact surrounding residential neighborhoods.

D. Businesses involved with hazardous waste treatment, hazardous waste disposal, or hazardous waste transfer shall comply with the following location requirements:

1. The use shall not be located within two thousand feet (2,000′) of any residential zone or use, any hotel or motel, any school or daycare facility, any hospital or convalescent home, any church or similar facility, or any public assembly use.

2. The use shall not be located within one hundred feet (100′) of any known earthquake fault, or within a fault hazard or flood hazard zone identified by the State of California.

3. The use shall not be located on any land subject to liquefaction, as identified in the Seismic Safety Element of the General Plan, unless appropriate soils remediation occurs as required by the City Engineer.

(Ord. C-7360 § 9, 1995: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.52.610 Uses in the Park (P) district.

Prior to the granting of a conditional use permit for uses in the park district, the following findings shall be made by the appropriate body:

A. The use is consistent with the intent of the Park District, the General Plan, the local coastal program, and any applicable specific plan;

B. The use does not permanently remove or impinge upon any significant public open space or impede public access thereto;

C. For commercial recreation uses, the use provides a needed public recreation service which otherwise would not be available to the public; and

D. For commercial recreation uses, the use cannot reasonably be located to provide comparable public recreation service on private land appropriately zoned for such use.

(Ord. C-7153 § 3, 1993: Ord. C-7032 § 43, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.53 TEMPORARY USES

21.53.010 Purpose.

This Chapter establishes the specific regulations for temporary uses in all zoning districts. Uses listed in Chapters 21.31 through 21.36 of this Title as temporary uses (T) are permitted subject to these regulations.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.100 Use regulations.

All temporary uses shall be permitted upon written approval of the Zoning Administrator and shall be limited to not more than ten (10) consecutive calendar days unless permitted otherwise. The uses set forth in Sections 21.53.103 through 21.53.123 are subject to the additional limitations provided in those Sections.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.103 Construction trailer.

A trailer used for construction offices or watchperson's quarters is permitted at a construction site, including public works projects, provided:

A. The trailer is located on the same or adjacent premises as the construction project.

B. The trailer is used only during the period of construction.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.106 Mobile food truck or Mobile food facility at specified public parks.

A mobile food truck or mobile food facility may be permitted as a temporary business within a public park, as follows:

A. Outside the coastal zone, mobile food facilities may operate within designated parking spaces at select parks determined by the Director of Parks, Recreation, and Marine or his or her designee. The City shall publish and maintain the list of designated parks on a public facing website.

B. Within the coastal zone, mobile food facilities may operate at specified public park areas as follows:

a. Mobile food facility operators may vend in available parking spaces in the Shoreline Aquatic Park Surface Parking Lot on a first come first serve basis, if adhering to all parking, ordinance, and safety regulations and during times when the lot is not restricted for special events.

b. Mobile food facility operators may vend in up to two (2) designated parking spots in the Granada Beach Surface Parking Lot on a first come first serve basis, if adhering to all parking, ordinance, and safety regulations and during times when the lot is not restricted for special events.

C. Mobile food facilities operating within the above-designated parks shall be on a first-come first served basis during official park operating hours, but in no case later than 10:00 p.m., and only at times when the lot is not restricted to special events.

D. Mobile food facilities shall only park in designated mobile food facility parking spaces.

E. Mobile food facilities vendors are prohibited from vending in any other parking spaces within the parking lot, impeding access to abutting parking spaces, or from reserving designated mobile food facilities spaces by parking their vehicle(s) outside of operating hours.

F. Temporary fixtures such as tables, chairs, umbrellas, canopies, and signage are not permitted at mobile food facilities operating within public parks.

G. Mobile food trucks or mobile food facilities shall not vend within 500 feet of any concessionaire that has signed an agreement for concessions with the City that exclusively permits the sale of food or merchandise by the concessionaire.

H. This Section shall not apply to mobile food facilities permitted through a Special Events Permit issued by the Office of the City Manager.

I. A mobile food facility shall comply with the applicable Special Development Standards specified in Section 21.45.133.6.

(ORD-26-0012 § 7, 2026; Ord. C-7607 § 6, 1999: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.109 Special events (carnival, fiesta, other outdoor exhibition or celebration) in residential, institutional and park zone districts.

A. A special event under this Section shall not last longer than ten (10) days.

B. The event shall be sponsored by a church, school, educational institution or public or private nonprofit organization, and shall be conducted on the premises of such an organization or approved for use as a City park or other public property.

C. Special events in residential and institutional zones shall be limited to not more than twice in any calendar year at any one (1) site.

(Ord. C-6895 § 25, 1991: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.113 Special events (carnivals, fairs, circuses, grand prix events, seasonal sales and the like) in commercial, industrial, public right-of-way and planned development zone districts.

A. Except for seasonal sales, no special event under this Section shall last longer than ten (10) consecutive calendar days at one (1) site.

B. Seasonal sales (the sale of items symbolic of religious, national or traditional holidays, including the seasonal sale of fruit) shall not last longer than sixty (60) consecutive calendar days at one (1) site.

C. Parking shall be provided as required by Chapter 21.41 (Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements).

D. Parking lot sales shall be conducted on the same or adjacent premises as the principal use.

E. Except for seasonal sales, special events shall be limited to not more than twice any calendar year at one (1) site unless designated for public park, convention center, arena, auditorium or stadium use.

F. Seasonal sales events may apply to the Zoning Administrator for a maximum thirty (30) daytime extension.

(Ord. C-7326 § 29, 1995: Ord. C-6895 § 26, 1991: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.115 Temporary activating uses.

A. Purpose. The purpose of this Section is to allow community-serving temporary uses on vacant lots. Such uses are intended to provide a community benefit, encourage street activation, and reduce visual blight associated with vacant lots, as defined in Chapter 18.29, on a temporary basis and can include sporadic special events, such as cultural and community events, or temporary retail or services uses, such as bike kitchens. Temporary activating uses are proposed by community based public or private organizations that improve and enhance the social or economic welfare and quality of life of the residents of Long Beach and provide a service to City residents including, but not limited to, faith-based organizations, local non-profit organizations or associations, Business Improvement Districts (BIDs), and organizations which have entered into a contract or agreement with the City to provide specific services or outreach, as determined by the Zoning Administrator.

B. Use Regulations. Notwithstanding Sections 21.53.109 and 21.53.113, all temporary activating uses shall be permitted upon written approval of the Zoning Administrator and are subject to the following standards and findings:

1. No temporary activating use shall be allowed which would not otherwise be allowed in the applicable zoning district or the General Plan designation, unless the Zoning Administrator determines that the use is compatible with existing surrounding uses.

    a. Temporary activating uses proposed in residential zones shall be allowed along Neighborhood Connector and more intense arterial streets, as defined in the Mobility Element.

2. The applicant is a community-based public or private organization or association serving the residents of the City as described in this Section, as determined by the Zoning Administrator.

3. A temporary activating use is subject to compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements per the Building Code.

4. Vacant lots used for temporary activating uses shall be maintained free of weeds, dry brush, dead vegetation, trash, garbage, junk, debris, building materials, vehicles, cars, boats, campers, any accumulation of newspapers, circulars, flyers, notices (except those required by federal, state or local law), discarded personal items, including but not limited to, furniture, clothing, large and small appliances, graffiti, tagging or similar markings. The property owner or other responsible person must inspect the property at reasonable intervals or take other reasonable steps to ensure that there is no dead or dying vegetation, litter, weeds, graffiti, debris or materials accumulating on the property.

5. Temporary activating uses that are sporadic special events shall be permitted for a period of up to six (6) months at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator. These types of uses are eligible for up two additional six-month renewal periods not to exceed a maximum of eighteen (18) months for the same use. Conditions may be modified by the Zoning Administrator during the renewal process, as necessary, to ensure compatibility with the surrounding area.

6. Other temporary activating uses that do not fall under the category of sporadic special events shall be permitted for a period of up to one year at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator. These types of uses may be renewed for up to two (2) additional one-year periods not to exceed a maximum of three (3) years for the same use. Conditions may be modified by the Zoning Administrator during the renewal process, as necessary, to ensure compatibility with the surrounding area.

7. Projects may be granted relief from development standards for temporary activating uses by the Zoning Administrator if positive findings can be made for the following:

    a. The use shall further the goals of the general plan, provide a community benefit, activate the street, and reduce visual blight associated with vacant lots;

    b. The use shall not cause substantial adverse impacts upon the surrounding area including public health, safety and general welfare;

    c. The use shall be compatible with the surrounding area.

8. The fee for temporary activating use permits shall be the fee charged for Administrative Land Use Review (ALUR) permits. Each renewal application for a temporary activating use is subject to the same fee.

9. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to revoke or refuse to approve or renew a temporary activating use permit if the Zoning Administrator determines that there has been a violation of the terms or conditions of the approval or evidence of negative impacts on the surrounding area. The Zoning Administrator's action may be appealed to the Planning Commission.

(ORD-20-0018 § 24, 2020)

21.53.116 Trailer in Port district.

A trailer or trailers may be erected in the Port district as a temporary business office when authorized by the Board of Harbor Commissioners.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.119 Trailer for real estate sales or lease.

A trailer used as a sales or lease office or model home display unit is permitted, provided the trailer is used only during the period of construction and original sale or other disposition of the first eighty percent (80%) of the lots, parcels or units or leasable areas of all phases of a new subdivision or building project.

(Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.53.123 Trailer for temporary business office.

A trailer or trailers may be erected as a temporary business office provided:

A. The trailer or trailers are used for a period not to exceed one (1) year; and

B. The structures comply with all development standards of the applicable zone district; and

C. The trailer or temporary building is not allowed until a building permit is issued for a permanent building on the site, or the building on the site was damaged by fire, explosion, earthquake, imminent public hazard, act of terrorism, sabotage, vandalism, warfare, or abatement of earthquake hazard.

(Ord. C-7032 § 44, 1992; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.54 BILLBOARDS*

21.54.010 Purpose.

Billboards are recognized as a legitimate form of commercial use in the City. However, the size, number, location and illumination of billboards can have significant influence on the City's visual environment, and can, without adequate control, create or contribute to blighted conditions. The purpose of this Chapter is to provide reasonable billboard control, recognizing that community appearance is an important factor in ensuring the general community welfare. Additionally, it is the purpose of this Chapter to eventually eliminate nonconforming billboards from the City, especially in residential zoning districts and other sensitive areas, through the creation of incentives for the development of conforming billboards linked to requirements for removal of nonconforming billboards in exchange.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.020 Definition of terms.

A. The terms "billboard" and "off-premises sign" may be used interchangeably to mean the same thing. The term "billboard," when used generally, shall also include electronic billboards and any other form of off-premises advertising;

Editor's note—ORD-14-0006 § 1, adopted June 17, 2014, amended Ch. 21.54 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 21.54, §§ 21.54.010—21.54.450, pertained to similar subject matter and derived from: Ord. C-6533, § 1, 1988; and Ord. C-6534, §§ 1, 2, 1988; and ORD-12-0006, § 5, adopted Mar. 13, 2012.

B. "Mixed-use districts," when referenced in this Chapter, shall include Planned Development (PD) Districts, or sub-areas thereof, allowing residential and/or commercial uses;

C. "Residential districts," when referenced in this Chapter, shall include those Planned Development (PD) Districts, or sub-areas thereof, allowing residential uses;

D. "Adjacent," when used to refer to a billboard adjacent to a freeway, shall mean located within, either in whole or in part, an area formed by measuring six hundred sixty feet (660') laterally from the edge of the right-of-way of a landscaped freeway section along a line perpendicular to the centerline of the freeway (as defined in California Code of Regulations, Title 4, Chapter 1, Section 2242);

E. "Freeway-oriented" shall mean any billboard that is adjacent to a freeway, as set forth in Subsection D above, and designed to be viewed primarily by persons traveling on the main-traveled way of the freeway.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.030 Consistency with the Outdoor Advertising Act.

To the extent that there is any conflict between the provisions of this Chapter and the provisions of the Outdoor Advertising Act, California Business and Professions Code Sections 5200 et seq., the Outdoor Advertising Act shall prevail.
(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.040 Severability clause.

If any provision or clause of this Chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be unconstitutional or to be otherwise invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidity shall not affect other Chapter provisions or clauses or applications, and to this end the provisions and clauses of this Chapter are declared to be severable.
(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

DIVISION I.

USE REGULATIONS

21.54.110 Use regulations.

Billboards are a principal use of land and are restricted to the zoning districts indicated in Table 54-1 of this Chapter. Any type, style, or location of billboard development not specifically permitted by this Chapter shall be prohibited.
(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.111 Conditional Use Permit required.

A Conditional Use Permit shall be obtained prior to the issuance of a building permit for any project involving construction of a new billboard or electronic billboard, conversion of an existing billboard to an electronic billboard, expansion or modification of a billboard, or addition of additional face(s) to a billboard, and as otherwise specified in this Chapter and Title. No Conditional Use Permit shall be approved unless the required findings, contained in Section 21.54.115, are made. A Conditional Use Permit shall not be required if a development agreement is applied for and executed in accordance with Section 21.54.112. Any Relocation Agreement, as provided for under the provisions of the Outdoor Advertising Act (California Business and Professions Code Section 5412 et seq.), shall be accomplished through the development agreement process.
(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.112 Development agreements.

A. An applicant shall be eligible to apply for a development agreement in accordance with Chapter 21.29 in the event that it is infeasible to comply with the provisions of Section 21.54.160. This development agreement shall be in lieu of the Conditional Use Permit required by Sections 21.54.111, 21.54.140, and 21.54.150.

B. For the purpose of this Section, an applicant shall be required to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the relevant approval body that it lacks an inventory of non-freeway-oriented billboards eligible for removal such that would satisfy Section 21.54.160. A finding of "infeasibility" is at the discretion of the relevant approval body.

C. For the purpose of this Section, an applicant shall not be deemed ineligible to apply for a development agreement because the applicant cannot meet the lot size requirement set forth in Section 21.29.020.

D. All development agreements entered into in accordance with this Section shall contain appropriate standards and public benefits and shall comply with all other requirements and standards imposed by this Chapter, except the conditional use permit requirement of Section 21.54.111. However, the development agreement shall address the Conditional Use Permit findings of Section 21.54.115, and declare whether said findings can be made as part of the determination of appropriate standards and public benefits.

E. Billboards constructed on property owned by the City or its related agencies may be accomplished by lease or license in lieu of a development agreement, and any reference to a development agreement in this Chapter shall include leases or licenses on such properties.

F. Any aggrieved applicant or person may appeal the determination of the Planning Commission regarding a finding of infeasibility to the City Council in accordance with the appeal provisions set forth in Chapter 21.21, Division V, of this Title.

G. In lieu of meeting the removal requirements of Section 21.54.160, the terms of the development agreement shall require the following of the applicant:

1. For construction of a new freeway-oriented billboard, the applicant shall be required to permanently remove, at a minimum, an existing freeway-oriented billboard or billboards with total display surface area equal to that of the proposed billboard(s). However, a greater removal ratio may be required at the discretion of the approving body.

2. The applicant shall agree (using a written instrument to the satisfaction of the City Attorney) not to petition or apply to the State of California for the removal or reclassification of the status of a landscaped freeway section within the City of Long Beach (under Sections 2511 or 2512 of the California Code of Regulations).

3. All new freeway-oriented billboards approved under the development agreement shall be located at least three hundred feet (300') from a Residential, Institutional, or Park zoning district and shall not be adjacent to (as defined in Subsection 21.54.020.D) a landscaped freeway segment, as set forth in Subsection 21.54.120.B.2.

H. All applicants shall be eligible to apply for a development agreement for the conversion of a freeway-oriented billboard to electronic, including existing billboards located adjacent to a landscaped freeway segment, regardless of the infeasibility requirement of Subsection 21.54.112.B.

(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.113 Sponsorship or advertising on public property under Chapter 16.55.

Any contract, permit, license or agreement entered into in accordance with Chapter 16.55 of the Long Beach Municipal Code shall not be subject to the zoning regulations set forth in this Chapter.

(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.114 Separate applications.

Each individual proposal for construction of a new billboard or electronic billboard, or modification of a billboard, or conversion of an existing billboard to an electronic billboard, shall be considered a separate application, and each application shall be separately and individually subject to a Conditional Use Permit, and the provisions and requirements of this Chapter. Multiple sites shall not be combined into one application. This Section shall not apply to applications for development agreements under Section 21.54.112.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.115 Required findings.

In addition to the required findings for a Conditional Use Permit (Section 21.25.206), the Planning Commission or City Council, as applicable, shall not approve a Conditional Use Permit for any billboard project unless positive findings also can be made for the following:

A. The proposed billboard does not represent a net increase in billboard sign area Citywide.

B. The applicant or developer has provided a written plan and a letter of intent explaining how the requirements of Subsections 21.54.160.A or B (which require removal of certain amounts of existing billboard area in exchange for rights to construct a new billboard or convert an existing billboard to electronic) will be accomplished.

C. The billboard shall not constitute a hazard to the safe and efficient operation of vehicles upon a street or freeway.

D. For a new billboard, adequate spacing will exist between the proposed billboard and any existing or proposed billboards in the vicinity, such that negative visual and aesthetic impacts upon the neighborhood and surrounding land uses shall be avoided.

E. The size of the proposed billboard will not be out of context with its visual environment, or be visually disruptive to neighboring properties and structures.

F. For electronic billboards, the applicant has demonstrated technically, through a light study or similar study, that the billboard will not cause light and glare to intrude upon residential land uses, including those in mixed-use districts.

G. Approval of this permit is consistent with the intent of Chapter 21.54 (Billboards), which is, primarily, to provide reasonable billboard control and to cause the eventual elimination of nonconforming billboards from the City.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.118 Locations allowed.

Billboards shall be allowed in the locations set forth in Table 54-1.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.119 Restricted to certain street classification types.

Billboards shall only be located on lots abutting certain classifications of public right-of-way, as set forth in Table 54-1.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.120 Locations prohibited.

A. General.

No new off-premises sign (billboard) shall be located:

1. On or over a public right-of-way;

2. Within ninety feet (90') of any residential, institutional or park district;

3. Within any Planned Development District (PD), unless explicitly allowed by that PD ordinance;

4. On the roof of any building whether the building is in use or not;

5. On a wall of a building or otherwise attached or integrated to, or suspended from a building, unless explicitly approved by the Site Plan Review Committee and the Planning Commission;

6. Overhanging a building; or

7. Within eight feet (8'), in any direction, of a building, measured at the nearest distance between the sign surface or structure and the building, so as not to provide an attractive nuisance for graffiti and vandalism.

B. Additional restrictions for freeway-oriented billboards.

In addition to the above restrictions, no new freeway-oriented off-premises sign (billboard) shall be placed or maintained:

1. Within three hundred feet (300') of any residential, institutional or park district;

2. Within six hundred sixty feet (660') of a section of a freeway that has been landscaped, if the advertising display is designed to be viewed primarily by persons traveling on the main-traveled way of the landscaped freeway (see "Adjacent," Subsection 21.54.020.D), unless otherwise authorized by the Outdoor Advertising Act and/or Caltrans regulations. This shall include the following landscaped freeway sections:

a. 710 Freeway:

(1) North City boundary to south side of interchange with 91;

(2) South of interchange with 91 to south side of northbound Long Beach Boulevard off-ramp on east side of freeway only;

(3) South of north edge of southbound Del Amo Avenue off-ramp to south edge of northbound Del Amo Avenue off-ramp;

(4) North edge of southbound transition ramp to 405 Freeway to south edge of the 405 to 710 southbound transition ramp on west side of 710;

(5) North edge of 405 to 710 transition ramp to south edge of northbound Pacific Coast Highway off-ramp on east side;

(6) North edge of southbound Willow Street off-ramp to south edge of southbound Willow Street on-ramp on west side of 710;

(7) North edge of southbound Anaheim Street off-ramp to center line of Anaheim Street;

(8) South of Fifth Street.

b. 91 Freeway:

(1) West City boundary to east edge of eastbound Long Beach Boulevard on-ramp;

(2) Western edge of 710 Freeway right-of-way to eastern City boundary;

c. 405 Freeway—Entire length in City;

d. 605 Freeway—Entire length in City;

e. 22 Freeway—Entire length in City.

(ORD-16-0007 § 1, 2016; ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.125 Types of billboards prohibited.

As set forth in Section 21.54.110, any type or location of billboard development not specifically permitted by this Chapter shall be prohibited. Additionally, the following types of prohibited billboards are specified for clarity. However, this shall not limit the types of prohibited billboards to those described below:

A. Mobile billboards. Any billboard installed upon, mounted, attached, or applied to any vehicle, non-motorized vehicle, bicycle, scooter, or trailer whose primary purpose is conveyance, transportation, or support of the billboard message surface shall be prohibited from any display or placement on public or private property or the public right-of-way in a manner making it visible from any other public or private property or the public right-of-way;

B. Any billboard integrated, incorporated, or otherwise included into the architectural design of a building, unless explicitly approved by the Site Plan Review Committee and Planning Commission, or otherwise approved as part of a lease agreement entered into with the City prior to January 1, 2014; and

C. Supergraphics. Any off-site advertisement meeting the definition of "supergraphic" as defined in Section 21.15.2980 shall be prohibited. The only exception shall be for a temporary supergraphic allowed under a special events permit.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.130 Landscaped segment relocation credits.

A. No new billboard shall be constructed or installed within the City through utilization of credits given by the California Department of Transportation or the Outdoor Advertising Act for relocation of billboards located in landscaped freeway segments, unless authorized by the Outdoor Advertising Act and/or Caltrans regulations. In the case that the Outdoor Advertising Act and/or Caltrans regulations authorize the City to permit construction of a new billboard using such credits, the removal requirements of Subsections 21.54.160.A or B shall apply, unless preempted by the Outdoor Advertising Act, or unless the conversion is the subject of a development agreement, in which case the provisions of Section 21.54.112 (Development Agreements) shall apply.

B. Conversion of existing billboards located in landscaped freeway segments to electronic billboards using such credits shall be allowed, and in this case the removal requirements of Subsection 21.54.160.A or B shall apply, unless preempted by the Outdoor Advertising Act, or unless the conversion is the subject of a development agreement, in which case the provisions of Section 21.54.112 (Development Agreements) shall apply.

(ORD-16-0007 § 2, 2016; ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.140 Conversion of non-electronic billboards to electronic.

The City hereby declares that the vested rights held by existing billboards, whether conforming or nonconforming to this Chapter, do not allow conversion of said billboards to electronic billboards as a matter of right. No existing billboard shall be converted to an electronic billboard unless the following conditions are met:

A. A Conditional Use Permit is obtained by the applicant;

B. The billboard meets the requirements of Table 54-1;

C. The applicant obtains all required building permits; and

D. Other existing billboard display surface area is permanently removed from the City as required by Subsection 21.54.160.A or B, as applicable.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.150 Expansion of billboard area or addition of faces to existing billboards.

The City hereby declares that the vested rights held by existing billboards, whether conforming or nonconforming to this Chapter, do not allow expansion of billboard area or addition of billboard faces as a matter of right. No billboard shall have its area increased or have an additional face added unless the following conditions are met:

A. A Conditional Use Permit is obtained by the applicant;

B. The billboard meets the requirements of Table 54-1;

C. The applicant obtains all required building permits; and

D. Other existing billboard display surface area is permanently removed from the City as required by Subsection 21.54.160.A or B, as applicable.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.160 Citywide billboard capacity limited.

The City of Long Beach finds that, at the time of adoption of this Chapter, a plenitude of modes of advertising were available via television, newspaper, magazines, circulars, direct mail, bulk mail, internet, email, mobile phones, City bus ads, bus stop posters, and other constantly-developing sources of ad placement. Also, the City finds that a sufficient or more than sufficient amount of billboard advertising capacity exists in the City to meet or exceed the community's need for outdoor advertising, and that a reduction in the amount of billboards Citywide will not impose any hardship upon the community through diminution of overall advertising capacity or options. Therefore, no building permit shall be issued for any new billboard, conversion of an existing non-electronic billboard to an electronic billboard, or expansion or addition of faces to an existing billboard, unless the following requirements are met:

A. An existing nonconforming billboard or billboards (as specified in Section 21.54.170) shall first be permanently removed from within the City as set forth in Table 54-2.

1. Nonconforming billboards shall be removed with the following priority, in order of highest priority to lowest:

a. Nonconforming billboards located in a residential zoning district and not adjacent to a street classified as a Freeway, Regional Corridor, or Major Arterial;

b. Nonconforming billboards located in a Planned Development District (or a subarea thereof) allowing residential uses and not adjacent to a street classified as a Freeway, Regional Corridor, or Major Arterial;

c. All other nonconforming billboards located in a residential zoning district or Planned Development District allowing residential uses;

d. All other nonconforming billboards located in a General Plan Land Use District allowing residential uses; and

e. All other nonconforming billboards.

2. Nonconforming billboards with more than one face shall be removed in their entirety and shall not be altered or partially dismantled in such a way as to leave behind one or more faces or portion(s) thereof.

B. If existing nonconforming billboards are permanently removed to satisfy Subsection 21.54.160.A, until no such nonconforming billboards (as specified in Section 21.54.170) remain in the City, then existing billboard area shall first be permanently removed from within the City as set forth in Table 54-3. It shall be the responsibility of the applicant to demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services, that no nonconforming billboards remain in the City.

C. In determining the existing display surface area to be removed to satisfy Subsection A or B above, if a billboard with more than one face is proposed, the sum of both faces shall be used. For example, if a billboard with two (2) three hundred (300) square-foot faces is proposed, a sum of six hundred (600) square feet shall be used to calculate the amount of removal required.

D. In all cases, the required removals shall be completed in accordance with one of the two (2) following alternatives:

1. The required removals shall be completed prior to issuance of a building permit for the new, converted, expanded or otherwise altered billboard; or

2. The Applicant shall, as part of the Conditional Use Permit approval process, provide a cash bond or equivalent financial instrument to the satisfaction of the Director of Financial Management, in an amount as determined by the Planning Commission to reasonably insure the prompt removal of billboards in accordance with this Section.

   Regardless of the alternative selected, the applicant shall provide a list of all billboards to be removed to meet the removal requirements of Subsection 21.54.160.A or B, and shall obtain a separate demolition permit for each. In order that the applicant should not be subject to possible loss of development rights lawfully obtained through a Conditional Use Permit and performance of the required removal of billboards, said development rights, once obtained, shall be considered vested for one (1) year from the date of final action of the Conditional Use Permit or the date of execution of the development agreement by the City.

E. Fractional numbers and removal. The purpose of Subsections A and B above, is to require removal of a certain amount of billboard display surface area, rather than a specific number of billboards. However, it is not desirable for an existing billboard to be altered to reduce its size to comply with these requirements, due to the negative aesthetic impacts such alteration may create. Therefore, no billboard shall be reduced in size or otherwise altered to provide for the required removal, and only whole, entire billboard(s) shall be removed. In no case shall less than the required amount of display surface area be removed.

F. Ownership. Subsection 21.54.160.B shall not come into effect until all nonconforming billboards (as specified in Section 21.54.170) are removed from within the City, regardless of the ownership or management of those nonconforming billboards. Specifically, a party owning or managing billboards shall not be eligible for Subsection 21.54.160.B if only the nonconforming billboards owned or managed by that party are removed, while other nonconforming billboards yet remain in the City.

G. Other removal. Any billboard removed or demolished from within the City, or reduced in size, not in conjunction with a project requiring removal under Subsections 21.54.160.A or B, shall not be credited toward the removal requirements of Subsections 21.54.160.A or B above.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.170 Nonconformity defined for purposes of removal requirements.

A billboard shall be considered nonconforming for the purposes of the removal requirements set forth in Section 21.54.160, if it is any of the following:

A. Not located in a zoning district allowed by Table 54-1;

B. Not located adjacent to a freeway or street having a street classification type allowed in Table 54-1;

C. Located on a building or building rooftop.

Footnotes:

(a) Required spacing between billboards on same side of the right-of-way, whether electronic or non-electronic.

(b) Street classifications are as shown on the Functional Classification of Streets map in the Transportation Element of the General Plan. See equivalence table (Table 54-1A) for updated designations adopted into the 2013 General Plan Mobility Element.

(c) If a lot has frontage on a right-of-way that is a Freeway, Regional Corridor, or Major Arterial, and on a street that is not a Freeway, Regional Corridor, or Major Arterial, the billboard shall be located no more than 25 feet from the property line with frontage on a Freeway, Regional Corridor, or Major Arterial.

(d) Any billboard adjacent to a freeway right-of-way, but not freeway-oriented and not adjacent to a Regional Corridor or Major Arterial, shall be prohibited.

(e) Also allowed in the obsolete CH commercial highway zoning district.

(f) Billboards in the IP zoning district shall require approval of the Harbor Department.

(g) Size shall not be increased over that of the existing billboard unless explicitly approved by the Planning Commission.

DIVISION II.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

21.54.210 Maximum area.

The maximum area of billboards shall be as indicated in Table 54-1.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.220 Maximum height.

The maximum height of billboards shall be as indicated in Table 54-1.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.221 Maximum number of faces.

No billboard shall have more than two (2) faces. A face shall be considered the display surface upon which an advertising message is displayed.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.222 Face orientation.

No billboard shall have more than one (1) face (display surface) oriented in the same vertical plane.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.223 Name of owner.

No billboard shall be maintained in the City unless the name of the person or company owning or maintaining it is plainly displayed thereon.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.230 Spacing.

Spacing between billboards on the same side of a right-of-way shall be as indicated in Table 54-1. For spacing purposes, any double-faced, V-type, or back-to-back billboard with more than one (1) face (display surface) shall be considered as a single billboard.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.240 Supports.

Billboards shall be provided with no more than one (1) support, and the support shall be constructed of steel. The support shall be architecturally treated to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission. At a minimum, unpainted steel structural supports and wood structural supports shall be prohibited.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.250 Lighting.

In order to decrease the negative effects of light pollution, illumination for non-electronic billboards shall be designed, aimed, and shielded if necessary so that all light falls on the billboard display surface, and light trespass into the night sky or onto adjacent private or public property is prevented. All service wiring shall be underground. Prior to issuance of a building permit, the applicant shall provide proof to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services that this requirement is met. It shall be the responsibility of the applicant or owner to develop and maintain the billboard lighting system in compliance with this Section.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.260 Clearance.

A. Driveways. Billboards projecting over a driveway or driving aisle shall have a minimum clearance of sixteen feet (16') between the lowest point of the sign and the driveway grade.

B. Pedestrian Walkway. Billboards projecting over a pedestrian walkway shall have a minimum clearance of eight feet (8') between the lowest point of the sign and the walkway grade.

C. All Others. All other billboards shall have a minimum clearance of eight feet (8') between the lowest point of the sign and ground level so as not to provide an attractive nuisance for graffiti and vandalism.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.265 Projection.

No billboard shall project over a public sidewalk unless an encroachment permit is granted by the Department of Public Works. In all cases, a billboard shall be a minimum of two feet (2') away from the curb. No billboard shall project over a public alley.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.270 Screening.

All back or rear portions of single-faced and V-type billboards visible from a public right-of-way or other public or private property shall be screened. The screening shall cover all structural members of the sign, not including the pole supports, and shall additionally cover all electrical or electronic display equipment, and any associated antennas, cables, and other appurtenances.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.280 Design and brightness restrictions.

A. Billboards shall not contain any of the following:

1. Moving parts;

2. Appendages, cut-out letters or figures that exceed twenty percent (20%) of the permitted sign area or that protrude more than twelve inches (12") beyond the flat surface of the sign face;

3. Lights that flash, shimmer, glitter or give the appearance of flashing, shimmering or glittering. Exceptions to this restriction include time, temperature and smog index units, provided the frequency of change does not exceed four (4) second intervals;

4. Walls or screens at the base of the sign which create a hazard to public safety or provide an attractive nuisance;

5. Copy which simulates any traffic sign in a manner which confuses the public; or

6. Devices which emit audible sound, or odor or particulate matter.

B. For electronic billboards, the following restrictions also shall apply:

1. The duration of each message displayed shall be at least eight (8) seconds;

2. No message shall move, flash, shimmer, glitter, or give the appearance of moving, flashing, shimmering or glittering;

3. There shall be a direct change from each message to the next, with no blank or dark interval in between, to avoid a flashing or blinking effect;

4. Display of any form of motion or apparent motion within the message, and any form of video, are prohibited;

5. Any sign area not comprising the electronic display panel is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to, static sign area, appendages, cut-out letters, and figures. A frame surrounding the display panel up to twelve (12) inches in width shall be permitted, and shall not contain any sign copy or graphics, and shall not count toward the sign area;

6. The brightness of the display surface shall be limited as follows:

   a. Dawn to dusk: unlimited;

   b. Dusk to dawn: the display surface shall not produce luminance in excess of 0.3 foot-candles above ambient light conditions, or the level recommended by the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IESNA) for the specific size and location of the billboard, whichever is less. Measurement of luminance shall be carried out in accordance with established scientific methods and industry standards, specifically IESNA TM-11-00, or a successive IESNA technical publication.

7. The display brightness shall be controlled by a photocell or light sensor that adjusts the brightness to the required dusk-to-dawn level based on ambient light conditions without the need for human input. Use of other brightness adjustment methods, such as timer- or calendar-based systems, shall only be used as a backup system;

8. The display shall be factory-certified as capable of complying with the above brightness standards. Such certification shall be provided to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services;

9. The billboard owner shall provide to the City, upon request, certification by an independent contractor that the brightness levels of the electronic billboard are in compliance with the requirements of this Section;

10. All electronic billboards shall be oriented, and adequately shielded if necessary, so as to prevent the trespass of light and glare upon any residential land uses, including those in mixed-use districts, as existed on the date of building permit issuance; and

11. All electronic billboards shall be equipped with a control system that, in the event of a display or control malfunction, "freezes" the display on either a single, unchanging message, or a blank screen.

(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.285 Additional requirements.

Prior to issuance of a building permit for any billboard project subject to the requirements of this Chapter, the applicant shall provide the following:

A. The telephone number of a maintenance service, to be available twenty-four (24) hours a day, to be contacted in the event that a billboard becomes dilapidated or damaged, or malfunctions in the case of electronic billboards;

B. Proof of lease demonstrating a right to install the billboard on the subject property;

C. A list and map of locations of all billboards in the City owned or managed by the entity that will own or manage the subject billboard, to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services. This information also shall be provided on a map. The intent of this requirement is to facilitate analysis of the proposed billboard's compliance with the spacing and location requirements, as well as the nonconforming billboard removal requirements of this Chapter.

(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

21.54.290 Maintenance.

All billboard structures shall be maintained in a neat, clean, and orderly condition. Any structure which is highly rusted, has peeling paint or sign copy, or in any other way appears unattractive or in disrepair shall be deemed in violation of this Chapter and shall be removed or repaired in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter. Any structure which the City Engineer or Building Official identifies as an immediate threat to public safety may be removed by the City Engineer or Building Official, or his designee, without notice to the property owner and at the property owner's expense.

(ORD-14-0006, § 1, 2014)

DIVISION III.

ABANDONED AND ILLEGAL BILLBOARDS

21.54.310 Abandoned billboards.

Any billboard meeting the definition of abandoned in this Title (Section 21.15.030 "Abandoned"), and which can, under the applicable provisions of the Outdoor Advertising Act, be considered abandoned and having no rights to remain, shall be removed immediately at the expense of either the billboard owner or property owner. Where consistent with the Outdoor Advertising Act, the City Manager or his designee shall have the authority to enter onto private property and cause such removal, and recover the costs of said removal from the property owner.

(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.320 Illegal billboards.

Illegal billboards shall have no vested rights under the Long Beach Municipal Code. Illegal billboards shall either be brought into legal conforming status, or removed by the owner immediately, subject to any applicable restrictions in the Outdoor Advertising Act. Where consistent with the Outdoor Advertising Act, the City Manager or his designee shall have the authority to enter onto private property and cause such removal, and recover the costs of said removal from the property owner.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

DIVISION IV.

NONCONFORMING BILLBOARDS

21.54.410 Amortization of nonconforming billboards.

It is the intent of this Chapter to require the eventual elimination of existing billboards which do not conform to the provisions of this Chapter, as allowed by the Outdoor Advertising Act. It is also the intent of this Chapter to ensure that the elimination of nonconforming billboards occurs as expeditiously and fairly as possible and avoids any unreasonable invasion of established property rights. Therefore an amortization program is established as allowed under the Outdoor Advertising Act (Section 5412 et seq., of California Business and Professions Code).
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.420 Removal by amortization.

A. A nonconforming billboard shall be removed if the billboard meets the criteria set forth in Subsection 21.54.420.B. Any billboard meeting these criteria is allowed to remain in existence seven (7) years after notice to remove nonconforming billboard has been issued, in order that the value of the billboard may be amortized. The adoption of this Section and Chapter shall not have the effect of extending the time in which a billboard shall be removed if written notice of removal was given prior to the effective date of this Section and Chapter.

B. Criteria. A billboard shall be removed if:

1. The billboard is located within an area identified as residential on the general plan land use map; and

2. The billboard is located within an area zoned for residential use.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.430 Continuation of use.

Subject to the removal requirements set forth in Section 21.54.420, a nonconforming billboard use may be continued and change of billboard copy shall not be prohibited, provided that:

A. The billboard, including copy, is maintained in good repair; and

B. The billboard is not enlarged, and additional faces are not erected on the billboard structure.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.440 Repair.

A legal nonconforming billboard may be repaired, provided that: a building permit is obtained for the repair.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

21.54.450 Nonconforming billboards—Replacement.

Catastrophic Damage. A nonconforming off-premises sign which is damaged by accident, storm, earthquake, other forces of nature, fire or act of vandalism, sabotage or warfare to an extent too great to be repaired shall not be replaced at a site where it is a nonconforming use, but may be relocated to a site where it is a conforming use, subject to the following:

A. The billboard shall be of the same size or smaller, with the same number of faces or fewer, and the billboard shall not be an electronic billboard if the destroyed billboard was not an electronic billboard. A conditional use permit shall be required in accordance with Section 21.54.111, and the removal requirements of Section 21.54.160 shall apply, if the replacement does not comply with this Subsection;

B. All development standards of this Chapter and Title shall be met, excepting the conditional use permit requirements of Section 21.54.111, and the removal requirements of Section 21.54.160;

C. A building permit shall be obtained;

D. In cases of uncertainty as to the extent of damage to the billboard, the Long Beach Building Official shall be authorized to determine if the billboard is catastrophically damaged; and

E. It shall be the responsibility of the billboard owner or the property owner to remove the catastrophically damaged billboard within ten (10) days of the date of catastrophic damage.
(ORD-14-0006 § 1, 2014)

CHAPTER 21.56 WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES*

21.56.010 Purpose and objectives.

The purpose of this Chapter is to regulate the establishment and operation of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities within the City of Long Beach, consistent with the General Plan, and with the intent to:

A. Allow for the provision of wireless communications services adequate to serve the public's interest within the City;

B. Require, where feasible and consistent with the City's aesthetic and planning objectives, the co-location of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities;

C. Minimize the negative aesthetic impact of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, establish a fair and efficient process for review and approval of applications, assure an integrated, comprehensive review of environmental impacts of such facilities, and protect the health, safety and welfare of the City of Long Beach;

D. Strongly encourage the location of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities in those areas of the City where the adverse aesthetic impact on the community is minimal;

E. Strongly encourage wireless telecommunications providers to configure all facilities in such a way that minimizes displeasing aesthetics through careful design, siting, landscaping, screening, and innovative camouflaging techniques;

F. Enhance the ability of the providers of telecommunications services to provide such services to the City quickly, effectively, and efficiently; and

G. Conform to all applicable federal and State laws.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.020 Definitions.

In addition to all those terms defined in Chapter 21.15 of the Zoning Regulations, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below, for the purposes of this Chapter:

A. "Abandoned." Notwithstanding the definition of "abandoned" in Section 21.15.030, a Wireless Telecommunications Facility use shall be considered abandoned if it is not in use for six (6) consecutive months.

B. "Applicable Law" means all applicable federal, state, and City laws, ordinances, codes, rules, regulations and orders, as the same may be amended or adopted from time to time.

Editor's note—ORD-18-0012 § 1, adopted May 1, 2018, amended Ch. 21.56 in its entirety to read as herein set out. Former Ch. 21.56, §§ 21.56.010—21.56.160, pertained to similar subject matter, and derived from: ORD-11-0011 § 8, 2011; and ORD-17-0008, § 1, adopted May 2, 2017.

C. "Co-location" means the placement or installation of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, including antennas and related equipment onto an existing Wireless Telecommunications Facility in the case of monopoles, or onto the same building in the case of roof/building-mounted sites.

D. "Co-location facility" means a Wireless Telecommunications Facility that has been co-located consistent with the meaning of "co-location" as defined above. It does not include the initial installation of a new Wireless Telecommunications Facility where previously there was none, nor the construction of an additional monopole on a site with an existing monopole.

E. "Monopole" means any single freestanding pole structure used to support wireless telecommunications antennas or equipment at a height above the ground. This includes those poles camouflaged to resemble natural objects.

F. "Public right-of-way" means any public highway, street, alley, sidewalk, parkway, and all extensions or additions thereto which is either owned, operated, or controlled by the City, or is subject to an easement or dedication to the City, or is a privately owned area within City's jurisdiction which is not yet dedicated, but is designated as a proposed public right-of-way on a tentative subdivision map approved by the City.

G. "Residential/Institutional Planned Development (PD) District" means the following Planned Development Districts within the City of Long Beach: PD-5 (Ocean Boulevard), PD-10 (Willmore City), PD-11 (Rancho Estates), PD-17 (Alamitos Land), PD-20 (All Souls), and PD-25 (Atlantic Avenue), as well as any future PDs designated as such in the PD Ordinance.

H. "Roof/building-mounted site" means any Wireless Telecommunications Facility, and any appurtenant equipment, located on a rooftop or building, having no support structure such as a monopole or other type of tower.

I. "Wireless Telecommunications Facility" means equipment installed for the purpose of providing wireless transmission of voice, data, images, or other information including but not limited to, cellular telephone service, personal communications services, and paging services, consisting of equipment, antennas, and network components such as towers, utility poles, transmitters, base stations, conduits, pull boxes, electrical meters, and emergency power systems. "Wireless Telecommunications Facility" does not include radio or television broadcast facilities, nor radio communications systems for government or emergency services agencies.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.030 Permit requirements for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities.

All new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall meet the following standards and requirements:

A. Locations outside the public right-of-way. A Conditional Use Permit shall be required for the initial construction and installation of all new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities that are not co-location facilities and are outside the public right-of-way, in accordance with all Specific Procedures set forth in Chapter 21.21 and Chapter 21.25, Division II, of the Zoning Regulations, except as modified by this Chapter.

B. Roof/building-mounted facilities. All new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities that are not co-location facilities that are roof/building-mounted facilities shall also be subject to Site Plan Review in addition to the Conditional Use Permit requirement in Subsection 21.56.030.A.

C. Locations in the public right-of-way. A Wireless Right-of-Way Facility Permit shall be required for the initial construction and installation of all new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities in accordance with all procedures set forth in Chapter 15.34. In the coastal zone, a Coastal Development Permit may be required for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities development in accordance with all procedures set forth in Division IX of Chapter 21.25.

(ORD-20-0025 § 12, 2020; ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.040 Development and design standards for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities that are not co-location facilities.

All new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall meet the following minimum standards:

A. Location. New Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall not be located in Residential (R) or Institutional (I) zoning districts, or Residential/Institutional Planned Development (PD) Districts, unless the applicant demonstrates, by a preponderance of evidence, that a review has been conducted of other options with less environmental impact, and no other sites or combination of sites allows feasible service or adequate capacity and coverage. This review shall include, but is not limited to, identification of alternative site(s) within a one (1) mile radius of the proposed facility. See Section 21.56.050 for additional application requirements;

B. Co-location required where possible. New Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall not be located in areas where co-location on existing facilities would provide equivalent coverage, network capacity, and service quality with less environmental or aesthetic impact;

C. Accommodation of co-location. Except where aesthetically inappropriate in the determination of the Staff Site Plan Review Committee, new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall be constructed so as to accommodate co-location, and must be made available for co-location unless technologically infeasible. In cases where technological infeasibility is claimed, it shall be the responsibility of the party making such claim to demonstrate, by a preponderance of evidence, that such co-location is, in fact, infeasible;

D. Additional development and design standards. Wireless Telecommunications Facilities also shall be subject to the additional design standards specified in Section 21.56.100.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.050 Application requirements for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities that are not co-location facilities.

In addition to the requirements set forth in Section 21.21.201 of the Zoning Regulations and Chapter 21.25 (Specific Procedures) of the Zoning Regulations, applicants for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall submit the following materials regarding the proposed Wireless Telecommunications Facility:

A. Photo simulations. Photo simulations of the facility from reasonable line-of-sight locations from public roads or viewpoints;

B. Maintenance plan. A maintenance plan detailing the type and frequency of required maintenance activities, including maintenance of landscaping and camouflaging, if applicable;

C. Five year build-out plan. A description of the planned maximum five (5) year build-out of the site for the applicant's Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, including, to the extent possible, the full extent of Wireless Telecommunications Facility expansion associated with future co-location facilities by other wireless service providers. The applicant shall use best efforts to contact all other wireless service providers known to be operating in the City upon the date of application, to determine the demand for future co-locations at the proposed site, and, to the extent feasible, shall provide written evidence that these consultations have taken place, and a summary of the results, at the time of application. The City shall, within thirty (30) days of its receipt of an application, identify any known wireless service providers that the applicant has failed to contact and with whom the applicant must undertake their best efforts to fulfill the above consultation and documentation requirements. The location, footprint, maximum tower height, and general arrangement of future co-locations shall be identified by the five (5) year build-out plan. If future co-locations are not technically feasible, a written explanation shall be provided;

D. Nearby facilities. Identification of existing Wireless Telecommunications Facilities within a one (1) mile radius of the proposed location of the new Wireless Telecommunications Facility, and an explanation of why co-location on these existing facilities, if any, is not feasible. This explanation shall include such technical information and other justifications as are necessary to document the reasons why co-location is not a viable option. The applicant shall provide a list of all existing structures considered as alternatives to the proposed location. The applicant shall also provide a written explanation for why the alternatives considered were either unacceptable or infeasible. If an existing Wireless Telecommunications Facility was listed among the alternatives, the applicant must specifically address why the modification of such Wireless Telecommunications Facility is not a viable option. The written explanation shall also state the radio frequency coverage and capacity needs and objectives of the applicant, and shall include maps of existing coverage and predicted new coverage with the proposed facility;

E. Availability for co-location. A statement that the proposed Wireless Telecommunications Facility is available for co-location, or an explanation of why future co-location is not technically feasible;

F. RF report. A radio frequency (RF) report describing the emissions of the proposed Wireless Telecommunications Facility. The report shall demonstrate that the emissions from the proposed equipment as well as the cumulative emissions from the facility will not exceed the limits established by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC);

G. Alternative analysis. Applications for the establishment of new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities inside Residential (R) or Institutional (I) zoning districts, Residential/Institutional Planned Development (PD) Districts, and residential or institutional General Plan Land Use Districts (LUDs) shall be accompanied by a detailed alternatives analysis that demonstrates that there are no feasible alternative nonresidential, non-institutional sites or combination of nonresidential, non-institutional sites available to eliminate or substantially reduce significant gaps in the applicant service provider's coverage or network capacity;

H. Height justification. An engineering certification providing technical data sufficient to justify the proposed height of any new monopole or roof/building-mounted site;

I. Deposit. A cash or other sufficient deposit for a third party peer review as required by this Chapter.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.060 Entitlement, term, renewal and expiration.

A. Conditional Use Permits and other entitlements for Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, including approval of the five (5) year build-out plan as specified in Subsection 21.56.050.C, shall be valid for ten (10) years following the date of final action. A ten (10)-year term is prescribed for Conditional Use Permits for this class of land uses due to the unique nature of development, exceptional potential for visual and aesthetic impacts, and the rapidly changing technologic aspects that differentiate wireless telecommunications from other Conditional land uses allowed by the City. The applicant or operator shall file for a renewal for the entitlement and pay the applicable renewal application fees six (6) months prior to expiration of the permit with the Department of Development Services, if continuation of the use is desired. In addition to providing the standard information and application fees required for renewal, Wireless Telecommunications Facility renewal applications shall provide an updated build-out description prepared in accordance with the procedures established by Subsection 21.56.050.C.

B. Where required, renewals for entitlements for existing Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities constructed prior to the effective date of this Chapter are subject to the provisions of Sections 21.56.030 through 21.56.050. Renewals of entitlements approved after the effective date of this Chapter shall only be approved if all conditions of the original entitlement have been satisfied, and the five (5) year build-out plan has been provided.

C. If the entitlement for an existing Wireless Telecommunications Facility has expired, applications for modification, expansion, or co-location at that site, as well as after-the-fact renewals of entitlements for the existing Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, shall be subject to the standards and procedures for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities set forth in Sections 21.56.030 through 21.56.050.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.070 Permit requirements for co-location facilities.

A. Co-location facilities requiring a Conditional Use Permit. Applications for co-location will be subject to the standards and procedures set forth for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, above (Sections 21.56.030 through 21.56.060), if any of the following apply:

1. No Conditional Use Permit was issued for the original Wireless Telecommunications Facility;

2. The Conditional Use Permit for the original Wireless Telecommunications Facility did not allow for future co-location facilities or the extent of site improvements involved with the co-location project (in this case, an application for a modification to the approved Conditional Use Permit, subject to Planning Commission review, may be substituted for a new Conditional Use Permit); or

3. No environmental review was completed for the location of the original Wireless Telecommunications Facility that addressed the environmental impacts of future co-location facilities (in this case, an application for a modification to the approved Conditional Use Permit, subject to Planning Commission review, may be substituted for a new Conditional Use Permit).

B. Permit requirements for other co-location facilities.

1. Roof/building-mounted facilities with visible exterior changes. Roof/building-mounted co-location facilities proposing visible exterior changes to the site shall be subject to Site Plan Review.

2. All others. Applications for all other co-location facilities shall be subject to a building permit approval. Prior to filing an application for a building permit for co-location, the applicant shall demonstrate compliance with the conditions of approval, if any, of the original Conditional Use Permit, and with all applicable provisions of this Chapter, by submitting an application to the Department of Development Services for an administrative review as set forth in Section 21.56.090. The applicant shall not file an application for a building permit until the applicant receives written notification that this administrative review is complete and approved. The applicant shall pay a fee for this administrative review in the amount adopted by the City Council in a resolution.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.080 Development and design standards for co-location facilities.

A. Compliance with discretionary approvals. The co-location facility shall comply with all approvals and conditions of the underlying (existing) discretionary permit for the Wireless Telecommunications Facility.

B. Harmonious design. To the extent feasible, the design of co-location facilities shall also be in visual harmony with the other Wireless Telecommunications Facility(ies) on the site.

C. Additional design standards. Co-location facilities also shall be subject to the additional design standards specified in Section 21.56.100.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.090 Application requirements for co-location facilities.

Applications that qualify for administrative review of co-location facilities in accordance with Section 21.56.070 shall be required to submit the following:

A. Photo simulations of the facility from reasonable line-of-sight locations from public roads or viewpoints;

B. A maintenance and access plan that identifies any changes to the original maintenance and access plan associated with the existing Wireless Telecommunications Facility and Conditional Use Permit;

C. A Radio Frequency (RF) report demonstrating that the emissions from the co-location equipment as well as the cumulative emissions from the co-location equipment and the existing facility will not exceed the limits established by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC);

D. Prior to the issuance of a building permit, the applicant shall submit color samples, and materials samples if requested, for the co-location equipment and any screening devices. Paint colors and materials shall be subject to the review and approval of the Department of Development Services. Color verification shall occur in the field after the applicant has painted the equipment the approved color, but before the applicant schedules a final inspection.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.100 Development and design standards for all Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities.

The following standards shall apply to all Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities:

A. The adverse visual impact of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall be avoided, minimized, and mitigated by:

1. Siting new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities outside of public viewshed whenever feasible;

2. Maximizing the use of existing vegetation and natural features to cloak Wireless Telecommunications Facilities;

3. Constructing towers or monopoles no taller than necessary to provide adequate coverage, network capacity, and service quality;

4. Grouping buildings, shelters, cabinets, ground lease areas, and other equipment together, to avoid spread of these structures across a parcel or lot;

5. Screening Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities with landscaping consisting of drought-tolerant plant material. All ground lease areas shall be landscaped with climbing vines on the exterior of the enclosure wall, planted not more than four feet (4') on center. Adequate irrigation systems shall be provided for landscaping. The landscape screening requirement may be modified or waived by the Director of Development Services in instances where landscaping would not be appropriate; and

6. Painting all equipment to blend with the surrounding environment as specified in Subsection 21.56.100.C (Paint Colors).

B. Pole design. Use of monopoles that attempt to replicate trees or other natural objects are strongly discouraged and shall be used only as a last resort when all other options have been exhausted, since:

1. Artificial trees cannot presently be made to resemble natural trees in a sufficiently believable and realistic fashion; and

2. Such attempts to replicate nature are disingenuous by their obvious falsity and therefore increase, rather than reduce, visual blight.

C. Paint colors. Paint colors for a Wireless Telecommunications Facility and co-location facility shall minimize the facility's visual impact by blending with the surrounding environment, terrain, landscape, or buildings (not sky colors, as the sky is a luminous source of light at all times and no non-luminous object can physically be made to blend with the sky). Paint colors shall be subject to the review and approval of the Department of Development Services. Color verification shall occur in the field after the applicant has painted the equipment in the approved color(s), but before the applicant schedules a final inspection.

D. Roof/building-mounted facilities. For roof/building-mounted Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities, the following standards also shall apply:

1. Antenna location.

a. Antennas mounted on the facade of a building are strongly discouraged, but if approved, must be fully integrated into the architecture of the existing structure or otherwise screened from public view. "Stealth boxes" enclosing facade antennas shall not be considered adequate screening;

b. Antennas shall be mounted on building rooftops, roof decks, or penthouses whenever feasible as a preferred alternative to facade-mounting. Antennas located on the building rooftop shall be located above the ceiling plate of the highest occupied floor;

c. Antennas shall be located as far away as possible from the edge of the building or roof, with the goal of reducing or eliminating visibility of the installation from any and all vantage points.

2. Equipment location.

a. All equipment appurtenant to a roof/building-mounted wireless telecommunications site shall be located inside an existing building whenever possible, to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services;

b. If it is physically impossible for equipment to be located inside an existing building and the equipment is to be located on a building rooftop, the equipment shall be subject to the same screening and location requirements as the antennas. If no space for the equipment is available for lease in a building because all possible spaces are leased and occupied, this shall constitute a physical impossibility.

3. Screening required.

a. Where physically possible, antennas and equipment shall be located entirely within an existing architectural feature or screening device. This shall include areas used or occupied by other wireless service providers where feasible.

b. All antennas and equipment mounted on a building rooftop shall be screened in a manner that is architecturally compatible with the existing building and is otherwise made as unobtrusive as possible. Screening shall use matching colors, materials, and architectural styles to create a harmonious addition to the building's architecture without disrupting its form, volume, massing, or balance.

c. All antennas, including panel antennas, microwave antennas, GPS antennas, any other antennas, and all other equipment mounted on the building, shall be concealed behind the screening device on all sides such that the antennas and appurtenant equipment is not visible from the exterior of the subject property, from other property, or the public right-of-way.

d. All cable trays and cable runs shall be located within existing building walls whenever physically possible. Cable trays and runs on the facade of a building are strongly discouraged. Any facade-mounted cable trays and runs shall be painted and textured to match the building and shall be mounted as close to the facade surface as possible, with no discernible gap between. Cable trays and runs mounted on a roof deck and below the height of the parapet wall or screening device shall be exempt from this requirement, provided they are fully screened by the parapet wall or screening device. Exposed cable trays and runs on a sloped roof are prohibited.

e. At the discretion of the Staff Site Plan Review Committee, part or all of a proposed roof/building-mounted Wireless Telecommunications Facility or co-location facility may be exempted from screening requirements if the best feasible screening design would result in greater negative visual impacts than if part or all of the proposed installation were unscreened.

4. Restriction on Historic Landmark structures. Installation of a roof/building-mounted Wireless Telecommunications Facility or co-location facility at a City-designated Historic Landmark shall make no changes to the external appearance of the building unless approved by the Cultural Heritage Commission.

E. Non-reflective materials. The exteriors of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities shall be constructed of non-reflective materials.

F. Underlying setbacks. Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities shall comply with all the setback requirements of the underlying zoning district(s), except as modified by this Chapter.

G. Height. Facilities subject to the provisions of this Chapter may be built and used to a greater height than the limit established for the zoning district in which the structure is located, except as otherwise provided below:

1. No monopole or other freestanding structure shall ever exceed a maximum height of one hundred twenty feet (120') in any zoning district. In any Residential (R) or Institutional (I) zoning district, or Residential/Institutional Planned Development (PD) district, no monopole or other freestanding structure shall exceed a maximum height of fifty-five feet (55').

However, if an applicant demonstrates that the monopole or structure will accommodate a minimum of two (2) carriers, the site may be permitted at a maximum height of sixty feet (60'); or the applicant demonstrates that the monopole or structure will accommodate three (3) carriers, the site may be permitted at a maximum height of sixty-five feet (65');

2. A roof/building-mounted Wireless Telecommunications Facility shall not exceed the maximum height allowed in the applicable zoning district, or ten feet (10') above the building roof deck, whichever is higher, except that in any R-1, R-2, or R-3 district, no roof/building-mounted site shall exceed the maximum height for structures allowed in that district;

3. Notwithstanding the height limits set forth in the preceding Sections, for facilities to be mounted on towers used for high-voltage electrical power transmission between generating plants and electrical substations (not utility poles), the antennas may be mounted as high as necessary on the tower, provided that the top of the highest antenna is not higher than the top of the existing tower.

H. Accessory buildings. In any zoning district, accessory buildings in support of the operation of the Wireless Telecommunications Facility or co-location facility may be constructed, provided that they comply with the development standards set forth for accessory structures for the zoning district in which the site is located.

I. Footprint. The overall footprint of each Wireless Telecommunications Facility shall be as small as possible, to the satisfaction of the Staff Site Plan Review Committee.

J. Generators and emergency power. Diesel generators are allowed as an emergency power source, although they are discouraged. When a feasible alternative technology for permanent on-site backup power becomes available (for example, fuel cells) the Department of Development Services may require the use of such technology in lieu of a diesel generator, unless the applicant provides written documentation explaining why such an alternative is not feasible. All generator installations shall comply with all containment requirements of the applicable Fire and Building Codes, without exception. Unless otherwise approved by the Director of Public Works or if within the Coastal Commission's retained permit jurisdiction area, by the Coastal Commission or its Executive Director, generators and emergency power source for wireless facilities located in the public right-of-way are prohibited.

K. Ground lease area enclosures and landscaping. If equipment appurtenant to a facility is to be located in a ground lease area, the lease area shall be enclosed by a CMU block wall, or other appropriate fence, to the satisfaction of the Staff Site Plan Review Committee. The fence shall be of a minimum height of six feet six inches (6'6") in residential districts, and eight feet (8') in other districts, unless waived at the discretion of the Director of Development Services in cases of infeasibility. The exterior of all ground lease areas shall be landscaped with drought-tolerant plant material, and adequate irrigation systems shall be provided for landscaping. Climbing vines shall be provided on the exterior of the enclosure wall, planted not more than four feet (4') on center. This landscaping requirement may be modified or waived by the Director of Development Services in instances where landscaping would not be appropriate.

(ORD-20-0025 § 13, 2020; ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.110 Performance standards for all Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities.

No use may be conducted in a manner that, in the determination of the Director of Development Services, does not meet the performance standards below:

A. Lighting. Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities shall not be lighted or marked unless required by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), or the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC).

B. Licensing. The applicant or operator shall file, receive, and maintain all necessary licenses and registrations from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) and any other applicable regulatory bodies prior to initiating the operation of the Wireless Telecommunications Facility. The applicant shall supply the Department of Development Services with evidence of these licenses and registrations prior to approval of a final inspection. If any required license is ever revoked, the operator shall inform the Department of Development Services of the revocation within ten (10) days of receiving notice of such revocation.

C. Building permit required. Once a Conditional Use Permit or other applicable entitlement is obtained, the applicant shall obtain a building permit and shall build in accordance with the approved plans.

D. Power connection. The project's final electrical inspection and approval of connection to electrical power shall be dependent upon the applicant obtaining a permanent and operable power connection.

E. Removal after end of use. The Wireless Telecommunications Facility, and/or co-location facility, if present, and all equipment associated therewith shall be removed in its entirety by the operator, at the operator's sole expense, within ninety (90) days of a FCC or CPUC license or registration revocation or if the facility is abandoned (per Subsection 21.56.020.A) or no longer needed. The site shall be restored to its pre-installation condition and, where necessary, re-vegetate to blend in with the surrounding area. In the case of roof/building-mounted facilities, all antennas, equipment, screening devices, support structures, cable runs, and other appurtenant equipment shall be removed and the building shall be restored to its to its pre-installation condition. Restoration and re-vegetation shall be completed within two (2) months of removal of the facility; hence a maximum of five (5) months from abandonment of the facility to completion of restoration. Facilities not removed within these time limits shall be removed immediately. The City shall not be responsible to provide notice that removal is required under the provisions of this Chapter.

F. Maintenance. Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities shall be maintained by the permittee(s) and subsequent owners in a manner that implements all of the applicable requirements of this Chapter and all other applicable zoning and development standards set forth in Title 21, and all permit conditions of approval. Site and landscaping maintenance shall be the responsibility of the property owner, who may designate an agent, including the operator, to carry out this maintenance.

G. Noise. All construction and operation activities shall comply with Chapter 8.80 (Noise Ordinance) of the Long Beach Municipal Code and any applicable conditions of approval.

H. Use of backup power sources. The use of diesel generators or any other emergency backup power sources shall comply with Chapter 8.80 of the Long Beach Municipal Code (Noise Ordinance). The use of backup power sources shall be limited to actual power-outage emergencies and any operation necessary for testing and maintenance. Permanent or continuous use of backup power sources is prohibited.

I. RF report. Within forty-five (45) days of commencement of operations, the applicant for the wireless communications facility shall provide (at the applicant's expense) the Development Services Department with a report, prepared by a qualified expert, indicating that the actual radio frequency emissions of the operating facility, measured at the property line or nearest point of public access and in the direction of maximum radiation from each antenna, is in compliance with the standards established by the Federal Communications Commission. This report shall include emissions from all co-location facilities, if any, at the site as well. The applicant shall subsequently provide such report to the City within forty-five (45) days following any change in design, number of antennas, operation, or other significant change in circumstances, or when such a report is otherwise required by the FCC, to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.120 Additional requirements and standards for Wireless Telecommunications Facilities and co-location facilities in the coastal zone.

A. Location. New Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall not be located between the first public highway and the sea or bay, unless no feasible alternative exists, and the facility is not visible from a public location, or will be attached to an existing structure in a manner that does not significantly alter (in the determination of the Staff Site Plan Review Committee) the exterior appearance of the existing structure.

B. Operational Interference with Public Rights-of-Way. No part of a wireless telecommunication facility shall alter vehicular circulation or parking within the public right-of-way, nor shall it impede vehicular and/or pedestrian access or visibility along any public right-of-way. No permittee shall locate or maintain wireless telecommunication facilities to unreasonably interfere with the use of City property or the public right-of-way by the City, by the general public or by other persons authorized to use or be present in or upon the public right-of-way. Unreasonable interference includes disruption to vehicular or pedestrian traffic on City property or the public right-of-way, interference with public utilities, and any such other activities that will present a hazard to public health, safety or welfare when alternative methods of construction would result in less disruption. All such wireless telecommunications facilities shall be moved by the permittee, at the permittee's cost, temporarily or permanently, as determined by the Director of Public Works.

C. Aesthetic Impacts. All wireless telecommunication facilities shall be designed and located to eliminate or substantially reduce their visual and aesthetic impacts upon the surrounding public rights-of-way and public vantage points. To accomplish this goal, all wireless telecommunication equipment shall be developed with the intent of locating and designing such facilities in the following manner and order of preference (from top to bottom). In instances where a facility is proposed for installation at a location or in a manner that is not the highest preference for each of the following categories, the applicant shall make a factual showing that all higher preferences are infeasible:

1. Antenna preferences:

    a. On an existing public utility pole;

    b. On a replacement street light pole;

    c. On an existing structure other than a street light pole or utility pole in the public-right-of-way;

    d. On a new structure other than a street light pole or utility pole in the public right-of-way (e.g., wireless telecommunication kiosk);

    e. On an existing non-wood utility pole;

    f. On a new non-wood utility pole;

    g. On an existing wood utility pole.

2. Equipment preferences (for all appurtenant equipment, including, but not limited to, radio units, power supplies, voltage converters, and electrical service connections and meters):

    a. When bundled in an all-in-one equipment cabinet with the antenna(s), provided, however, that the size of the cabinet shall be minimized to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works;

    b. Within a below-grade equipment vault, or on a street light pole or utility pole that does not place new cabinets or other above ground furniture in the public right-of-way, provided, however, that the size of the boxes on the pole shall be minimized to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works and that the power supply equipment is undergrounded;

    c. Attached to existing power source in an existing utility box;

    d. Enclosed at the base of the pole on which the antenna(s) is/are proposed for installation;

    e. In an existing ground-mounted (grade-level) equipment cabinet, with no expansion or additional cabinets to be added;

    f. Within a new equipment enclosure mounted at grade.

3. Site location preferences:

    a. Within the public right-of-way, not in a center median, and not requiring the removal of existing parkway trees, reduction of the size of any parkway landscape planters, and not requiring any modifications to the existing location of any infrastructure within the public right-of-way;

b. Within the parkway landscaping within the public right-of-way, and requiring only minor alterations to the existing parkway landscaping (including planter size) and/or infrastructure;

c. Within the public right-of-way in a manner that requires significant alteration to the existing public improvements and/or infrastructure.

4. Site location restrictions. In addition to the orders of preference specified in the preceding subsections, the following location prohibitions shall be applicable to all applications for installations of wireless telecommunications facilities in the public rights-of-way.

a. All wireless telecommunication facility antennas, equipment and related infrastructure shall be prohibited in all center street medians;

b. In Residential Zoning Districts or Residential Planned Development Districts, only one (1) wireless telecommunications facility and associated equipment per applicant (including contractors, subcontractors, agents, or lessors to applicant or applicant's affiliate) shall be permitted within the public right-of-way within a five hundred foot (500') radius. For all other applicants, only one (1) wireless telecommunications facility and associated equipment per applicant shall be permitted within the public right-of-way within a one hundred foot (100') radius. The separation requirements in the preceding two sentences may be waived by the Director of Public Works upon a demonstration that the refusal to allow an additional facility within a five hundred foot (500') or one hundred foot (100') radius will result in the creation of a significant coverage gap for the applicant and/or that such refusal will otherwise violate an applicable state or federal law;

c. Wireless on strand or overhead lines shall be prohibited;

d. New wood poles and strand mounts may be allowed by the Director of Public Works if the applicant demonstrates that a wooden pole or strand mount is less impactful (from public safety, visual, or logistic standpoints) at a specific location.

D. Height.

1. Antenna installations on existing City infrastructure shall not exceed the height of the existing infrastructure piece by more than five and one-half feet (5.5') unless approved by the City Engineer or Director of Public Works after a finding is made that a greater height would promote the aesthetic or safety concerns of the City;

2. For antenna(s) proposed for placement on a new pole in the public right-of-way, the height to the top of the highest element shall not exceed the average height of utility poles on the same block as the subject site by more than five and one-half feet (5.5'). In cases of uncertainty, the Director of Public Works shall have the authority to determine the applicable height limit;

3. Pole-mounted equipment shall be a minimum of ten feet (10') above level of sidewalk for public safety reasons.

E. Design.

1. Any pole to be installed in the public right-of-way shall be disguised to resemble a utility pole to the maximum extent possible. All antennas shall be limited to a diameter no more than the widest part of the main pole, excluding its base. All antennas and screening devices shall be painted or finished to match the pole. All pole or equipment shall be painted or otherwise coated, per City standard, to be visually compatible with existing poles and equipment. The installation of new wood poles is not preferred;

2. Omnidirectional antenna units and groups of panel antennas shall be placed on the same vertical axis as the center of the pole where feasible. If not feasible, the installation shall utilize brackets and/or cross-arms that allow no more than a six-inch (6") extension (stand-off) from the pole except when additional stand-off is required to comply with health and safety regulations such as GO-95 and OSHA;

3. Antenna installations on existing City infrastructure shall be placed in a manner so that the size, appearance and function of the final installation is essentially identical to the installation prior to the antenna installation taking place;

4. No faux or otherwise nonfunctioning street lights, decorative elements, signs, clock towers, or artificial trees or shrubs or other such nonfunctioning screening elements made to resemble other objects shall be permitted;

5. Wireless telecommunications facility equipment located above the surface grade in the public right-of-way including, but not limited to those on certain street lights, shall consist of small equipment components that are compatible in structure, scale, function and proportion to the poles they are mounted on. Equipment shall be painted or otherwise coated, per City standard (which may include public art), to be visually compatible with the subject pole. Underground vaults shall employ flush-to-grade access portals and vents that are heel shoe safe and slip safe; provided, however, that this restriction shall not apply in flood prone areas. Installations on City-owned or controlled public facilities shall be subject to applicable fees as approved by the City Council;

6. Facilities shall be designed to be as visually unobtrusive as possible. Applicant shall size antennas, cabinet equipment and other facilities to minimize visual clutter. Facilities shall be sited to avoid or minimize obstruction of views from public vantage points and otherwise minimize the negative aesthetic impacts of the public right-of-way;

7. All cables and conduits shall be routed through the interior of the subject pole; provided, however, that for wood poles all cables and conduits shall be mounted and routed in a manner calculated to minimize their visibility;

8. All cables shall be screened from public view.

F. Local coastal program requirements. New Wireless Telecommunications Facilities shall comply with all applicable policies, standards, and regulations of the Local Coastal Program (LCP).

G. Coastal permit required. The necessary Coastal Development Permit or Local Coastal Development Permit shall be obtained.

(ORD-20-0025 § 14, 2020; ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.130 Additional requirements and standards for Wireless Telecommunications Facilities located in Park Zoning Districts.

A. For the purpose of this Chapter the term Park Zoning District shall include those areas of the City regulated and established pursuant to Chapter 21.35 of this Code.

B. Installation of Wireless Telecommunications Facilities in Park Districts must be pursuant to a lease or permit approved by the City Council. For those parks under the jurisdiction of the City's Parks and Recreation Commission, the matter shall first be submitted to the Commission for its recommendation. A Conditional Use Permit shall not be required.

C. Prior to the City Council considering any lease or permit of Park District land for a Wireless Telecommunications Facility, the matter shall first be submitted to the Site Plan Review Committee in accordance with Chapter 21.25 of this Code. The Site Plan Review Committee shall impose reasonable conditions of approval, which shall include the minimum development, design and performance standards set forth in this Chapter.

D. Application for Site Plan review in a Park Zoning District shall be in accordance with Section 21.56.050, or Section 21.56.090, if it is to be a co-location facility.

E. All Site Plan Review proceedings conducted in accordance with this Section shall be subject to the Administrative Procedures set forth in Chapter 21.21, and the specific procedures set forth in Section 21.25.501 et seq., relative to site plan reviews.

F. In order to effectuate parity between those Wireless Telecommunications Facilities located in Park Zoning Districts and those located elsewhere in the City, a fee equivalent to that established by the City Council for the processing and issuance of a Conditional Use Permit shall be charged.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.140 Other provisions.

A. Temporary wireless telecommunication facilities. Installation, maintenance, or operation of any temporary wireless telecommunications site is prohibited except as allowed under a special events permit necessary during a special event authorized by Chapter 5.60 of the LBMC, or during a government-declared emergency.

B. Illegal facilities. Illegal Wireless Telecommunications Facilities or co-location facilities have no vested rights and shall either be brought into legal conforming status in accordance with this Chapter and Title 21 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, or shall be removed.

C. Modifications to Wireless Telecommunications Facilities. Any modification to a Wireless Telecommunications Facility or co-location facility, including but not limited to, replacement of antennas, installation of additional antennas, installation of additional equipment cabinets, installation of a backup generator, paint or camouflage changes, and other physical changes to the facility, shall require, at a minimum, an administrative approval, and, if necessary, a building permit from the Department of Development Services. Prior to issuance of any approval for modification, the applicant shall submit an application for an administrative review to determine the compliance of the proposed modification with this Chapter and the existing Conditional Use Permit or other entitlement. For sites not located in the public right-of-way, applications for modification will be subject to the standards and procedures set forth for new Wireless Telecommunications Facilities, as specified in Sections 21.56.030 through 21.56.060, if any of the following apply:

1. No Conditional Use Permit was issued for the original Wireless Telecommunications Facility;

2. The Conditional Use Permit for the original Wireless Telecommunications Facility did not allow for future modification or the extent of site improvements involved with the modification project (in this case, an application for a modification to the approved Conditional Use Permit, subject to Planning Commission review, may be substituted for a new Conditional Use Permit); or

3. No environmental review was completed for the location of the original Wireless Telecommunications Facility that addressed the environmental impacts of future modifications (in this case, an application for a modification to the approved Conditional Use Permit, subject to Planning Commission review, may be substituted for a new Conditional Use Permit).

D. Peer review.

1. The Director of Development Services is authorized to retain on behalf of the City an independent technical expert to peer review any application for a Wireless Telecommunications Facility Permit if reasonably necessary, as determined by the Director. The review is intended to be a review of technical aspects of the proposed Wireless Telecommunications Facility and shall address all of the following:

   a. Compliance with applicable radio frequency emission standards;

   b. Whether any requested exception is necessary to close a significant gap in coverage, increase network capacity, or maintain service quality and is the least intrusive means of doing so;

   c. The accuracy and completeness of submissions;

   d. Technical demonstration of the unavailability of alternative sites or configurations and/or coverage analysis;

   e. The applicability of analysis techniques and methodologies;

   f. The validity of conclusions reached;

   g. The compatibility of any required architectural screening;

h. Technical data submitted by the applicant to justify the proposed height of any new installation including monopoles or roof/building-mounted sites; and

i. Any specific technical issues designated by the City.

E. Appeals.

1. Appeals from the decision(s) of the Director of Development Services or designee, and/or the Staff Site Plan Review Committee, shall be to the Planning Commission.

2. Appeals from the decision(s) of the Planning Commission shall be to the City Council.

3. All appeals shall be in accordance with the provisions of Title 21 related to Appeals.

F. Revocation. The Planning Commission may, after a duly noticed public hearing, revoke, modify or suspend any wireless telecommunications permit on any one (1) or more of the following grounds:

1. That the wireless telecommunications permit was obtained by fraud or misrepresentation;

2. That the wireless telecommunications permit granted is being, or within the recent past has been, exercised contrary to the terms or conditions of such approval or in violation of any statute, ordinance, law or regulation; or

3. That the use permitted by the wireless telecommunications permit is being, or within the recent past has been, exercised so as to be detrimental to the public health or safety or as to constitute a nuisance.

G. Findings. A Conditional Use Permit, Site Plan Review, or modification for a Wireless Telecommunications Facility or co-location facility may be granted only if the following findings are made by the designated reviewing body or person, in addition to any findings applicable under Chapter 21.25:

1. The proposed Wireless Telecommunications Facility has been designed to achieve compatibility with the community to the maximum extent reasonably feasible;

2. An alternative configuration will not increase community compatibility or is not reasonably feasible;

3. The location of the Wireless Telecommunications Facility on alternative sites will not increase community compatibility or is not reasonably feasible;

4. The proposed facility is necessary to close a significant gap in coverage, increase network capacity, or maintain service quality, and is the least intrusive means of doing so;

5. The applicant has submitted a statement of its willingness to allow other wireless service providers to co-locate on the proposed Wireless Telecommunications Facility wherever technically and economically feasible and where co-location would not harm community compatibility; and

6. Noise generated by equipment will not be excessive, annoying nor be detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare.

H. Transfer or Change of Ownership/Operator. Upon assignment or transfer of an already approved Wireless Telecommunications Facility or any rights under that permit, the owner and/or current operator of the Facility shall within thirty (30) days of such assignment or transfer provide written notification to the Director of Development Services of the date of the transfer and the identity of the transferee. The Director may require submission of any supporting materials or documentation necessary to determine that the proposed use is in compliance with the existing permit and all of its conditions including, but not limited to, statements, photographs, plans, drawings, models, and analysis by a State-licensed radio frequency engineer demonstrating compliance with all applicable regulations and standards of the Federal Telecommunications Commission and the California Public Utilities Commission. If the Director determines that the proposed operation is not consistent with the existing permit, the Director shall notify the applicant who may revise the application or apply for modification of the permit pursuant to the requirements of this Chapter.

(ORD-20-0025 § 15, 2020; ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

21.56.150 Severability clause.

If any provision or clause of this Chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be unconstitutional or to be otherwise invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidity shall not affect other article provisions or clauses or applications, and to this end the provisions and clauses of this Chapter are declared to be severable.

(ORD-18-0012 § 1, 2018)

CHAPTER 21.57 ALCOHOL NUISANCE ABATEMENT

21.57.010 [Title.]

These provisions shall be known as the Alcohol Nuisance Abatement "Deemed Approved" Ordinance.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.020 Definitions.

"Liquor store" means any business selling general alcoholic beverages, also known as sale of distilled spirits or hard liquor, for off-premises consumption under a "Type 21 License" of the California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. Liquor store does not include a business selling only beer and/or wine for off-premises consumption.

"Performance Standards" means the regulations prescribed below for liquor store activities with deemed approved status. An establishment must comply with the performance standards in order to retain its deemed approved status. Such compliance shall be determined by the City of Long Beach, and includes the following:

A. The use does not result in any adverse effects, jeopardize, or endanger the health, peace, or safety of persons residing, visiting, or working in the surrounding area;

B. The use is operated and maintained in accordance with all applicable local, state, or federal codes, laws, rules, regulations and statutes including those of the ABC, the City's General Plan, and all zoning or nuisance regulations of the City;

C. The use is operated and maintained in a neat, quiet, and orderly condition and operated in a manner so as not to be detrimental to surrounding properties and occupants. This shall encompass the upkeep and maintenance of exterior facades of the building, landscaping, designated parking areas serving the use, fences, and the perimeter of the site, including all public sidewalks, alleys, and parkways;

D. The use does not result in repeated nuisance activities, as defined in Chapter 9.37 of this Code on or near the premises, including but not limited to disturbance of the peace, illegal drug activity, public drunkenness, drinking in public, harassment of passersby, gambling, prostitution, sale of stolen goods, public urination, theft, assaults, batteries, acts of vandalism, excessive littering, loitering, graffiti, illegal parking, excessive loud noises especially in the late night or early morning hours, traffic violations, curfew violations, lewd conduct, or police detentions and arrests;

E. The use provides exterior lighting and security measures to the satisfaction of the Chief of Police including:

1. Exterior lighting consisting of high-pressure sodium or equivalent type, with a minimum illumination intensity of a 1.25 foot-candle. All exterior light fixtures shall be vandal resistant, installed on exterior walls, and should be the type with proper cut-offs to avoid glare and night sky glow. Exterior lighting shall clearly illuminate the building address, all parking, driving, and walking surfaces, and exterior doors during the hours of darkness. Activation of the required exterior lighting shall be either by a photocell device or a time clock. Any broken or burned out lights shall be required to be replaced within seventy-two (72) hours;

2. Security cameras providing full camera coverage of all entries and exits into the building and full camera coverage of all public rights-of-way and private parking areas provided by the business. Cameras must record in color with output of at least four hundred eighty (480) lines resolution. Recordings shall be retained for no less than thirty (30) days on an IP-configurable Digital Video Recorder (DVR) or digital storage setup with a public IP address. The surveillance system username and password shall be provided to the Long Beach Police Department.

F. No more than ten percent (10%) of the square footage of the windows and transparent doors of the premises shall be allowed to bear advertising, signs or any other obstructions including products, shelving, display items and/or coolers. All advertising, signage, product, shelving, display items and/or coolers shall be placed and maintained to ensure a clear and unobstructed view of the establishment's interior. Window signs displaying prices shall be prohibited. No advertising or signage shall be placed in the area above three (3) feet or below six (6) feet in height of all windows measured from grade.

G. All existing publicly accessible exterior pay telephones shall be removed, including the housing of the pay telephone. No new publicly accessible exterior pay telephone may be located on any private property or any public right-of-way adjacent to a deemed approved liquor store activity.

H. Any graffiti found on the walls, fences, pavement or buildings shall be removed within twenty-four (24) hours of its appearance on the property.

I. The building address shall be displayed on all sides of the building facing a public right-of-way, including an alley, and clearly visible from each public right-of-way, including the alley.

J. A copy of these performance standards, additional City or ABC imposed operating conditions, and a twenty-four (24) hour complaint telephone number shall be posted in a conspicuous and unobstructed place visible from the entrance of the establishment in public view.

"Deemed Approved Liquor Store" means any commercial land use where the sale of beer, wine, or distilled spirits was a legal nonconforming use prior to the effective date of this Chapter.

"Nonconforming use" or "Nonconformity," for the purposes of this Chapter, means a building which was lawfully established but which, due to the application of this Title, no longer conforms to the regulations of the zone in which it is located. (See Section 21.15.1860.)

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.030 Purpose.

The purpose of this ordinance is to protect and promote the public health, safety, comfort, convenience and general welfare of the community by imposing anti-nuisance related performance standards on legal nonconforming liquor store activities with the incorporation of performance standards, the sale of alcohol becomes a conforming activity; however, all other nonconformities remain subject to the provisions of Chapter 21.27.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.040 Applicability.

This Alcohol Nuisance Abatement Deemed Approved Ordinance shall apply to all legal nonconforming liquor stores in the City of Long Beach on the effective date of this Chapter. The following establishments with a Type 21 ABC license are exempt from the ANAO: those with a current CUP, establishments that are located more than five hundred feet (500') from zoning districts allowing residential uses, and grocery stores of twenty thousand (20,000) square feet or greater with accessory sales of alcohol.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.050 Automatic Deemed Approved.

A. All liquor stores that were legal nonconforming uses immediately prior to the effective date of this Chapter shall automatically be granted deemed approved status for the liquor store activity and shall no longer be considered legal nonconforming uses.

B. Each deemed approved liquor store activity shall retain its deemed approved activity status as long as it complies with the performance standards as defined in Section 21.57.020 of this Chapter.

C. Any expansion, alteration, or modification in character of the deemed approved liquor store shall conform to the City's Zoning Code including obtaining permits required under Chapter 21.25 of this Code.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.060 Performance Standards.

A liquor store activity shall retain its deemed approved status only if it conforms to all of the nuisance based performance standards defined in 21.57.020; such conformance shall be determined by the City of Long Beach.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.070 Administration and Enforcement.

A. Within ninety (90) days of the effectiveness of this Chapter, each deemed approved liquor store activity shall fully comply with the nuisance based performance standards set forth in Section 21.57.020.

B. Upon receiving a complaint from the public, Police Department, Code Enforcement, or any interested person that a deemed approved liquor store activity is in violation of the standards set forth in Sections 21.57.020, the following procedure shall be followed:

1. The City shall assess the nature of the complaint and its validity by conducting an investigation of the premises to assess the liquor store activity's compliance with the applicable standards. The City shall provide the business and/or property owner, as appropriate, with written notice of any complaint received or investigation commenced by the City relative to the liquor store activity's alleged failure to abide by the regulations set forth in this Chapter.

2. Upon establishing the validity of a complaint, the City shall issue a notice of violation to the business and/or property owner of the subject deemed approved liquor store activity. The business and/or property owner shall correct the violation, or take reasonable action to begin correction, and shall diligently pursue completion of the correction within ten (10) days after receiving written notification of the violation. At the end of the correction period, the City shall determine if the violation has been corrected. If violations have not been corrected within the prescribed period, the City shall then refer the matter to the Site Plan Review Committee for further review and action.

3. The Site Plan Review Committee shall conduct a hearing on the validity of the complaint. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Site Plan Review Committee shall have the authority to add or modify performance standards to insure that nuisance activity or conditions are eliminated. Actions taken by the Site Plan Review Committee are appealable by any aggrieved party to the Planning Commission. The decision of the Planning Commission on appeal shall be final.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.080 Revocation of Deemed Approved Status.

A. If a deemed approved liquor store activity continues to violate the provisions of this Chapter after intervention by the Site Plan Review Committee, the City may refer the matter to the Planning Commission for a revocation hearing according to the procedures of Division VI, "Revocations", of Chapter 21.21 of this Code.

1. Based on its findings and determination after hearing, the Planning Commission may:

   a. Continue the deemed approved activity status for the liquor store in question;

   b. Issue an administrative citation and impose administrative penalties for violation of applicable standards in accordance with Chapter 9.65 of this Code;

   c. Impose such reasonable conditions as are in the judgment of the Planning Commission necessary to ensure compliance with the applicable standards; or

   d. Revoke the liquor store's deemed approved activity status.

2. If the Planning Commission determines to impose further new conditions on the deemed approved liquor store activity, such conditions shall be based upon the information then before the Planning Commission.

3. If the Planning Commission finds that conditions and/or modifications of the liquor store will be ineffective in eliminating the adverse activities, the Planning Commission shall revoke the deemed approved activity status of the liquor store.

4. Continuation of any use after abandonment or revocation pursuant to this Chapter shall constitute a violation of this Code and shall be penalized as provided for in Section 21.10.080.

5. Any aggrieved party may appeal the determination of the Planning Commission to the City Council in accordance with the provisions set forth in Division V, "Appeals", of Title 21 of this Code. The decision of the City Council on appeal shall be final.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

21.57.090 Fee.

A. The administrative citation process described in this Chapter does not preclude the City from recovering any other code violation or nuisance abatement costs incurred by the City in performing its code enforcement efforts.

B. The City may collect a fee to recover costs associated with the inspection and enforcement of this Chapter in accordance with the City Council adopted fee resolution.

(ORD-13-0012 § 1, 2013)

CHAPTER 21.60 RESERVED*

*__Editor's note__—ORD-21-0006, adopted February 2, 2021, repealed Ch. 21.60 §§ 21.60.110—21.60.710 entitled "Relocation Assistance for, and Meeting Housing Needs of, Persons of Very Low and Low Income Households," which derived from: ORD-09-0010 § 1, 2009; ORD-05-0007 §§ 2—8, 2006; Ord. C-7247 § 27, 1994; Ord. C-7064 § 6, 1992; Ord. C-6933 §§ 38—40, 1991; Ord. C-6894 § 1 (part), 1991; Ord. C-6868, 1991; Ord. C-6829, 1990; and Ord. C-6684, 1990.

CHAPTER 21.61 MAINTENANCE OF LOW INCOME HOUSING IN THE COASTAL ZONE

21.61.010 Purpose.

The purpose and intent of this Chapter is to maintain the present number of very low, low and moderate income housing units within the coastal zone and to require that any applicant for a coastal development permit, as a condition of permit issuance, be responsible for replacing existing very low, low and moderate income housing on a one-to-one basis.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.020 Definitions.

Very low, low and moderate income households and housing units are defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions).

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.030 Applicability of this Chapter.

Any applicant proposing to remove existing affordable housing in the coastal zone shall be responsible for replacing on a one-to-one basis all existing very low, low and moderate income housing removed. This provision shall not apply in the following instances:

If the residential structure has been condemned and would require the expenditure of fifty percent (50%) or more of the improvement value, not including land value, to meet applicable building codes or regulations.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.040 Administration.

A. Authority. The administration of the replacement housing requirement and in-lieu fee payments is delegated to the Director of Development Services. The Development Services Department shall adopt appropriate guidelines for program administration consistent with the intent of this Chapter and consider both the rent and income levels of displaced tenants to make a determination about the affordability level of displaced units. Any fees assessed in connection with the administration of this Chapter shall be established by the City Council by resolution.

B. Determination.

1. It shall be the responsibility of the Director of Development Services to make all determinations regarding the very low, low and moderate cost housing displaced. In order to avoid short-term actions by the owner to disqualify housing from the very low, low and moderate income definitions, the Department of Development Services shall develop procedures to average rental levels over a three (3) year period and to establish fair market sales values based upon prior sales and assessment records.

2. Determinations made by the Director of Development Services shall be attached by the applicant to the coastal development permit application and shall become a public record in all proceedings and hearings related to that application. The Department of Development Services shall verify the rent/sales value history and insure that there have been no price changes made for the purpose of circumventing this Chapter or these regulations.

3. When the units provided under this program are not under the ownership and control of the City, the Director of Development Services shall act to insure that the units continue to be made available to very low, low and moderate households. The City and the property owner shall enter into an agreement and shall cause necessary covenants and deed restrictions to be recorded as provided for in Subsections 21.61.080.E and F.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.050 Responsibility to provide housing.

No coastal permit and no permit to demolish units shall be issued until the applicant has demonstrated compliance with the responsibility to provide replacement units, or has demonstrated the intention to comply with this Chapter prior to occupancy of the new development. No certificate of occupancy shall be issued prior to the satisfaction of this responsibility.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.060 Method of replacement.

An applicant shall provide replacement housing units by one of the methods outlined in Subsections 21.61.060.A through C:

A. On-site—New Units. The replacement units may be provided on the same site as the units being removed and shall be constructed prior to the issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy for any market-rate units being developed on the site.

B. In-lieu Fees. A developer may choose to pay in-lieu fees rather than provide replacement housing. Fees shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of Section 21.61.070. If the in-lieu fee is selected in a redevelopment project area, the developer shall be credited with the amount of relocation benefit actually paid to displaced residents, up to a maximum of four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500.00) per unit, provided that the relocation payments made to displaced residents by the redevelopment agency are subsequently reimbursed by the developer.

C. Affordability Replacement Requirement. All units determined to be very low, low and moderate cost housing in accordance with Subsection 21.61.040.A above shall be replaced on a one-for-one basis. All replacement units must be provided at either the same or greater level of affordability as the existing affordable unit being replaced.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.070 In-lieu fees.

A. Payment Schedule. In-lieu housing replacement fees shall be paid in accordance with the schedule indicated in Table 61-1 and escalated each year at the rate of the Construction Cost Index (CCI) to reflect current market cost. The fee shall be paid to the Director of Development Services for deposit in the Housing Trust Fund, or any similar successor fund, and shall be based on the number, size and income groups served by the displaced units. The schedule in Table 61-1 shall be adjusted annually in accordance with the current Construction Cost Index for the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

B. Dispensation of In-lieu Fees. The Director of Development Services shall place all in-lieu funds received into the Housing Trust Fund, or any similar successor fund, for the purpose of funding for very low, low and moderate income housing. The funds must be dispensed by the Director of Development Services or designee within three (3) years from the date of receipt.

Table 61-1
In-Lieu Fee Schedule

Number of Bedrooms in Displaced Unit	Very-Low Income	Low Income	Moderate Income
Studio	$241,000	$222,000	$127,000
1 Bedroom	$296,000	$272,000	$155,000
2 Bedrooms	$350,000	$322,000	$183,000
3+ Bedrooms	$404,000	$372,000	$212,000

C. Inventory of Properties. The Director of Development Services shall maintain an inventory of properties suitable for rehabilitation, new construction or acquisition within the area specified in Subsection 21.61.080.B.

D. Priority. The Director of Development Services shall seek housing opportunities funded by in-lieu fees in accordance with the following order of priority:

1. Rehabilitation of existing substandard units.

2. Conversion of existing standard market rate units to housing for very low, low and moderate income persons.

3. Construction of new housing for very low, low and moderate income persons.

The intent of this priority order is to maximize the number of affordable units produced so that the number produced will approximate or exceed the number of units lost to displacement. The Director of Development Services may alter this priority as deemed reasonable to accomplish the objectives of this Chapter. The Director shall attempt to reproduce affordable units in a mix proportional to the City-wide housing need, as established by the most current adopted general plan housing element and housing assistance plan.

E. Annual Report Required. The Development Services Department shall make an annual report to the City Council on its progress in this program. The report shall include annual and cumulative figures, in size and cost, for the number of housing units lost and the number of units provided by the program, as well as the relationship between program achievements and existing housing needs as established by the Housing Element and housing assistance plan. This reporting may be integrated into overall annual reporting to the City Council regarding the Housing Element.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.080 Conditions on replacement housing.

A. Equivalency. An applicant shall provide replacement housing units which are equivalent to the units displaced in terms of size, measured by the number of bedrooms and income range served, for persons of very low, low and moderate incomes. Subject to the approval of the Director of Development Services, and upon a showing that provision of equivalent units is not feasible, an applicant may provide replacement housing in a mix of household sizes and incomes. The mix shall be proportional to the City-wide housing need, as established in the most current General Plan Housing Element and housing assistance plan.

B. Location.

1. Any affordable housing produced through this program shall be located within the City of Long Beach anywhere south of the following line:

> Beginning at the Los Angeles River and Anaheim Street; thence east along Anaheim Street to Pacific Coast Highway; thence southeast along Pacific Coast Highway to Seventh Street; thence east along Seventh Street to West Campus Drive; thence north along West Campus Drive to the common boundary between Cal. State Long Beach and the Veterans Administration (VA) Hospital on the north side of the hospital; thence west, north, east and south around the Cal. State Long Beach property line, returning to Seventh Street along East Campus Drive; thence east along Seventh Street to the boundary line between Los Angeles and Orange Counties.

2. The Director of Development Services shall attempt to achieve a reasonable distribution throughout this area in accordance with City General Plan Housing Element policies.

C. Income Requirements.

1. Housing units produced through the replacement program shall be available to households of very low, low and moderate income. To achieve this, each new tenant of rental property and each new buyer of for sale property shall first be qualified by the Director of Development Services or designee in accordance with procedures set forth by HUD under Section 8 of the Housing Act of 1937, as amended, or similar procedures which take into account annual household income and total household assets.

2. Applicants shall be qualified as very low income, low income and moderate income, corresponding to the three (3) classes of housing units (very low, low and moderate) defined in Chapter 21.15 (Definitions).

D. Guarantee. An applicant shall guarantee that replacement housing provided pursuant to Section 21.61.040 will continue to be provided for very low, low and moderate income households. The applicant shall enter into a recorded agreement or covenant with the City as specified in Subsections 21.61.060.C and D.

E. Rental Units Guarantee. Affordable housing developed as rental units shall be subject to the following:

1. Prior to the issuance of an occupancy permit, the developer shall enter into an agreement with the Director of Development Services to assure that all units will continue to be rented at prices affordable to very low, low and moderate income renters. The agreement shall bind the developer and any successor in interest to the real property being developed. The agreement shall be recorded as a covenant running with the land, with no prior liens, other than tax liens, for a period extending fifty-five (55) years from the date the agreement is recorded or for the life of the project, whichever is longer. The agreement shall provide that either:

a. The unit rents shall be fixed at a level affordable to very low, low and moderate income households. The rent may be adjusted annually to reflect changes in the median income. Tenants must qualify as meeting the definition of very low, low and moderate income; or

b. The units shall be rented at the fair market rent for new construction as established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The units shall be rented to persons who either meet the standards for rent subsidy established by HUD pursuant to Section 8 of the Housing Act of 1937, as amended, or to persons who meet the requirements of other rent subsidy or funding program that provides rental housing for low income households.

c. The developer and all successors in interest shall be subject to affordable housing covenant monitoring fees as may be established by the City Council by resolution.

2. The developer shall make best efforts to accomplish the intent of this Chapter. Those efforts shall include, but not be limited to, entering into contracts offered by HUD, the Housing Authority, or other such agency administering a rent subsidy program; or, refraining from taking any action to terminate any rent subsidy programs entered into.

3. In the event that any time within the life of the project after the agreement is recorded housing subsidies are not available, the developer or their successor shall maintain the rental levels for the unit at amounts no higher than those affordable to persons within the appropriate income categories described in this Title. In the event that so-called Section 8 or comparable maximum rental levels are no longer published by the federal government or local governmental agencies, maximum rental levels shall be a base rent established by the last rental ceiling published for the Section 8 program, adjusted by a percentage to reflect the percentage increase or decrease in median income.

F. Sale Unit Guarantee. Affordable units developed as sale units shall be subject to the following:

1. Prior to the issuance of a certificate of occupancy, the developer shall enter into an agreement with the Director of Development Services to assure that subsequent sales following the initial sale of the unit will be at a price affordable to households earning substantially the same percentage of the median income as the initial purchasers. The agreement shall bind the developer, any successor in interest and all subsequent purchasers of the unit. The agreement shall be recorded as a covenant running with the land, with no prior liens other than tax liens. The agreement shall provide as follows:

a. The applicant, his successors and any subsequent purchasers shall give the City and Department of Development Services an option to purchase the units. The City may assign this option to an individual private purchaser who qualifies as a very low, low or moderate income person and who falls within substantially the same income group as the person for whom the initial sales price was originally established.

2. Whenever the applicant or any subsequent owner of the unit wishes to sell or transfer the unit, the applicant shall notify the Director of Development Services of his intent to sell. The City shall have the right to exercise the option cited in Subsection 21.61.080.F.1 within one hundred and eighty (180) days of the initial sale of the unit by the developer, or within ninety days for subsequent sales. Following the exercise of the option, escrow shall be opened and closed within ninety (90) days after delivery of the notice to exercise the option.

3. The option price paid by the City or its designee shall be the original sales price of the unit plus an amount which reflects any increase in the median income since the time of original sale.

4. Following the notice of intent to sell the unit, the City shall have the right to inspect the premises to determine whether repair or rehabilitation beyond the requirements of general or deferred maintenance is necessary. If such repair or maintenance is necessary, the City shall determine the cost of repair, and the cost shall be deducted from the purchase price. The repair costs shall be paid to the City, its designee, or contractors chosen by the City to carry out the deferred maintenance, and the money received shall be expended in making repairs.

5. The purchaser shall not sell, lease, rent, assign or otherwise transfer the property without the expressed written consent of the Director of Development Services. This provision shall not prohibit encumbering the property for the sole purpose of securing financing. However, in the event of foreclosure or sale by deed of trust or other involuntary transfer, title to the property shall be taken subject to the recorded agreement.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.61.090 First option.

Any resident displaced by new construction or condominium conversion in the coastal zone shall have the first option to rent or buy affordable housing.

(ORD-21-0027 § 1, 2021; Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

CHAPTER 21.62 RESERVED*

CHAPTER 21.63 INCENTIVES FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING

21.63.010 Purposes.

This Chapter establishes a system of incentives to encourage developers to provide housing for very low, low income, moderate income, and senior households, pursuant to Section 65915 et seq. of the California Government Code. The incentive consists of a density bonus.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.63.020 Qualification.

In order to qualify for a density bonus, a project must be a very low income, low income, moderate income condominium project as defined by the State of California, or a senior citizen housing project (as defined in Sections 51.2 and 51.3 of the California Civil Code).

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.63.030 Limitation.

Density bonuses shall not exceed the percentage as permitted by the State of California of maximum density allowed in the applicable zoning district.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.63.040 Procedures.

The following procedural requirements shall be observed in reviewing and acting upon applications for density bonuses made pursuant to this Chapter:

A. Application. An application for a density bonus shall be made in conjunction with other required applications for residential developments and shall be subject to the same procedures required by this Title and other applicable Sections of the Municipal Code.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.63.050 Development standards.

All residential projects granted a density bonus shall conform to the development standards of the applicable zoning district, except those standards regulating density or as waived according to Section 21.63.080 of this Chapter.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

Editor's note—ORD-10-0035, § 2, adopted Nov. 16, 2010, repealed Ch. 21.62 §§ 21.62.010—21.62.240, entitled "Flood Damage Prevention", and derived from: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988; Ord. C-7062 § 1 (part), 1992; Ord. C-7507 §§ 1—24, 27, 1997; Ord. C-7522 §§ 1, 2, 1998; and Ord. C-7544 §§ 1—11, 1998. See Ch. 18.73 for similar provisions.

21.63.060 Maintenance of units.

In exchange for the density bonus, the developer shall guarantee the units will be maintained for very low income, low income, moderate income condominiums, and senior households for thirty (30) years. The guarantee shall be in the form of a deed restriction or other legally binding and enforceable document acceptable to the City Attorney. The document shall be recorded with the Los Angeles County Recorder prior to the issuance of a building permit. The applicant shall comply with the provisions of Chapter 21.60 of this Code for the maintenance of the units according to Housing Authority procedures.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990: Ord. C-6533 § 1 (part), 1988)

21.63.070 Additional incentives.

In addition to the density bonus, the very low income, low income, moderate income condominiums, and senior units shall be exempt from the parks and recreation and transportation developer fees, if the developer is in compliance with the applicable exemption provisions of Sections 18.17.130, 18.18.120 and 18.18.140 of the Long Beach Municipal Code as they now exist or may later be amended.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-7247 § 28, 1994: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990)

21.63.080 Waiver of development standards.

A. Criteria for Waiver. If the applicant can demonstrate that the increased density cannot physically be accommodated on the site, then the following development standards shall be waived during site plan review to accommodate the increased density. The waiver in the standards shall follow the priority order established and the applicant shall demonstrate that the increased density cannot be accommodated with each sequential waiver before the waiver of the next standard is allowed. Only one (1) standard shall be waived unless it is shown that each individual standard waiver will not physically accommodate the proposed density. A complete site plan and floor plan shall be provided to demonstrate the physical noncompliance.

B. Priority order for waiver:

1. Percentage compact parking;
2. Tandem parking design limitations;
3. Privacy standards;
4. Private open space;
5. Common open space;
6. Height;
7. Distance between buildings;
8. Side yard setbacks;

9. Rear yard setbacks;

10. Number of parking spaces (but not less than one (1) space per unit); and

11. Front setbacks.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990)

21.63.090 Additional financial incentives.

If the developer believes that with the density bonus and the additional incentives, the provision of the very low income, low income, moderate income condominiums, or senior citizen housing units are not financially feasible, then the developer shall submit a project pro forma demonstrating the deficiency. Such pro forma shall include the costs of complying with each of the above-listed standards. These standards shall then be sequentially waived until financial feasibility is achieved.

(ORD-06-0045 § 1 (part), 2006: Ord. C-6822 § 20 (part), 1990)

CHAPTER 21.64 TRANSPORTATION DEMAND AND TRIP REDUCTION MEASURES

21.64.010 Purpose and intent.

A. The Legislature of the State of California has found that the lack of an integrated transportation system and the increase in the number of vehicles are causing traffic congestion that each day results in hundreds of thousands of hours lost in traffic, tons of pollutants released into the air and millions of dollars of added costs to the motoring public. It has, therefore, adopted legislation requiring the preparation and implementation of a Congestion Management Program ("CMP") by County Transportation Commissions or other public agencies of every County that includes an urbanized area.

B. The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority ("MTA") is responsible for the preparation of the CMP for Los Angeles County ("County").

C. The CMP must contain a trip reduction and travel demand management element that promotes alternative transportation methods, such as carpools, vanpools, transit, bicycles, walking and park-and-ride lots, improvement in the balance between jobs and housing, and other strategies, including flexible work hours, telecommuting and parking management programs.

D. The County and every City within the County is required by State law to adopt and implement a Transportation Demand Management ("TDM") ordinance as an important element of the CMP to improve both congestion and air quality.

E. LACTC must determine annually whether the County and cities within the County are conforming to the CMP, including the requirement to adopt and implement a TDM ordinance.

F. The State Clean Air Act requires regions to attain a 1.5 vehicle occupancy during the commute period by the year 1999.

G. This Chapter 21.64 is intended to comply with the CMP's requirements for a TDM ordinance. The requirements of South Coast Air Quality Management District ("District") Regulation XV, are separate from this Chapter, and administered by the District. Nothing herein is intended, nor shall it be construed, to limit or otherwise preclude employers from offering or providing additional inducements to use alternatives to single-occupant vehicles to their employees necessary to meet Regulation XV requirements.

H. In order to use the existing and planned transportation infrastructure more efficiently, maintain or improve traffic levels of service, and lower motor vehicle emissions, it is the policy of the City to minimize the number of peak period vehicle trips generated by additional development, promote the use of alternative transportation, improve air quality and participate in regional and County-wide efforts to improve transportation demand management.

(Ord. C-7092 § 2 (part), 1993)

21.64.020 Definitions.

The following words or phrases shall have the following meanings when used in this Chapter:

A. "Alternative transportation" means the use of modes of transportation other than the single passenger motor vehicle, including but not limited to carpools, vanpools, buspools, public transit, walking and bicycling.

B. "Applicable development" means any development project that is determined to meet or exceed the project size threshold criteria contained in Section 21.64.030.

C. "Buspool" means a vehicle carrying sixteen or more passengers commuting on a regular basis to and from work with a fixed route, according to a fixed schedule.

D. "Carpool" means a vehicle carrying two (2) to six (6) persons commuting together to and from work on a regular basis.

E. "California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA)" is a statute that requires all jurisdictions in the State of California to evaluate the extent of environmental degradation posed by proposed development.

F. "Developer" shall mean the builder who is responsible for the planning, design and construction of an applicable development project. A developer may be responsible for implementing the provisions of this Chapter as determined by the property owner.

G. "Employee parking area" means the portion of total required parking at a development used by on-site employees. Employee parking shall be calculated as follows:

Type of Use	Percent of Total Required Parking Devoted to Employees
Commercial	30%
Office/professional	85%

Type of Use	Percent of Total Required Parking Devoted to Employees
Industrial/manufacturing	90%

H. "Preferential parking" means parking spaces designated or assigned, through use of a sign or painted space markings, for carpool and vanpool vehicles carrying commute passengers on a regular basis that are provided in a location more convenient to a place of employment than parking spaces provided for single-occupant vehicles.

I. "Property owner" means the legal owner of a development who serves as the lessor to a tenant. The property owner shall be responsible for complying with the provisions of this Chapter either directly or by delegating such responsibility as appropriate to a tenant and/or his agent.

J. "South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD)" is the regional authority appointed by the California State Legislature to meet federal standards and otherwise improve air quality in the South Coast Air Basin (the nondesert portions of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, and San Bernardino Counties).

K. "Tenant" means the lessee of facility space at an applicable development project.

L. "Transportation Demand Management (TDM)" means the alteration of travel behavior, usually on the part of commuters, through programs of incentives, services, and policies. TDM addresses alternatives to single occupant vehicles such as carpooling and vanpooling, and changes in work schedules that move trips out of the peak period or eliminate them altogether (as is the case in telecommuting or compressed work weeks).

M. "Trip reduction" means reduction in the number of work-related trips made by single-occupant vehicles.

N. "Vanpool" means a vehicle carrying seven (7) or more persons commuting together to and from work on a regular basis, usually in a vehicle with a seating arrangement designed to carry seven to fifteen (15) adult passengers and on a prepaid subscription basis.

O. "Vehicle" means any motorized form of transportation, including but not limited to automobiles, vans, buses and motorcycles. (Also see the definition for "recreational vehicle" in Section 21.15.2270.)

(Ord. C-7092 § 2 (part), 1993)

21.64.030 Transportation demand and trip reduction measures.

A. Applicability. Prior to approval of any development project, the applicant shall make provision for, as a minimum, all of the following applicable transportation demand management and trip reduction measures.

1. This Chapter shall not apply to projects for which a development application has been deemed "complete" by the City pursuant to Government Code Section 65943, or for which a NOP for a draft EIR has been circulated or for which an application for a building permit has been received prior to the effective date of this Chapter.

2. All facilities and improvements constructed or otherwise required shall be maintained in a state of good repair.

3. Additions to buildings which existed prior to April 1, 1993 and which exceed the thresholds defined in this Section shall comply with the applicable requirements but shall not be added cumulatively with existing square footage; existing square footage shall be exempt from these requirements. All calculations shall be based on gross square footage.

B. Development Standards.

1. Nonresidential development of twenty-five thousand (25,000) square feet or more shall provide the following to the satisfaction of the City:

   a. A bulletin board, display case, or kiosk displaying transportation information located where the greatest number of employees are likely to see it. Information in the area shall include, but is not limited to the following:

      i. Current maps, routes and schedules for public transit routes serving the site;

      ii. Telephone numbers for referrals on transportation information including numbers for the regional ridesharing agency and local transit operators;

      iii. Ridesharing promotional material supplied by commuter-oriented organizations;

      iv. Bicycle route and facility information, including regional/local bicycle maps and bicycle safety information; and

      v. A listing of facilities available for carpoolers, vanpoolers, bicyclists, transit riders and pedestrians at the site.

2. Nonresidential development of fifty thousand (50,000) square feet or more shall comply with Subsection B.1 of this Section and shall provide all of the following measures to the satisfaction of the City:

   a. Not less than ten percent (10%) of employee parking area shall be located as close as is practical to the employee entrance(s), and shall be reserved for use by potential carpool/vanpool vehicles, without displacing handicapped and customer parking needs. This preferential carpool/vanpool parking area shall be identified on the site plan upon application for building permit, to the satisfaction of the City. A statement that preferential carpool/vanpool spaces for employees are available and a description of the method for obtaining such spaces must be included on the required Transportation Information Board. Spaces will be signed/striped as demand warrants; provided, that at all times at least one (1) space for projects of fifty thousand (50,000) square feet to one hundred thousand (100,000) square feet and two (2) spaces for projects over one hundred thousand (100,000) square feet will be signed/striped for carpool/vanpool vehicles.

   b. Preferential parking spaces reserved for vanpools must be accessible to vanpool vehicles. When located within a parking structure, a minimum vertical interior clearance of seven feet (7') two inches (2") shall be provided for those spaces and accessways to be used by such vehicles. Adequate turning radii and parking space dimensions shall also be included in vanpool parking areas.

c. Bicycle racks or other secure bicycle parking shall be provided to accommodate four (4) bicycles per the first fifty thousand (50,000) square feet of nonresidential development and one (1) bicycle per each additional fifty thousand (50,000) square feet of nonresidential development. Calculations which result in a fraction of 0.5 or higher shall be rounded up to the nearest whole number. A bicycle parking facility may also be a fully enclosed space or locker accessible only to the owner or operator of the bicycle, which protects the bike from inclement weather. Specific facilities and location (e.g., provision of racks, lockers, or locked room) shall be to the satisfaction of the City.

3. Nonresidential development of one hundred thousand (100,000) square feet or more shall comply with Subsections B.1 and 2 of this Section, and shall provide all of the following measures to the satisfaction of the City:

a. A safe and convenient zone in which vanpool and carpool vehicles may deliver or board their passengers:

b. Sidewalks or other designated pathways following direct and safe routes from the external pedestrian circulation system to each building in the development:

c. If determined necessary by the City to mitigate the project impact, bus stop improvements must be provided. The City will consult with the local bus service providers in determining appropriate improvements. When locating bus stops and/or planning building entrances, entrances must be designed to provide safe and efficient access to nearby transit stations/ stops:

d. Safe and convenient access from the external circulation system to bicycle parking facilities on-site.

(Ord. C-7092 § 2 (part), 1993)

CHAPTER 21.65 INTERIM MOTEL/HOTEL CONVERSIONS*

21.65.010 Purpose.

This Chapter establishes a process by which existing transient residential structures, such as motels and hotels in the City of Long Beach can be converted on a temporary basis to supportive or transitional housing for persons experiencing homelessness or those at risk of homelessness. Under this Chapter, the structure may return to its previous use, or any use consistent with the underlying zoning, upon termination of the supportive or transitional housing use.

Editor's note—Formerly, Ch. 21.65, §§ 21.65.010—21.65.210 entitled "Tenant Relocation and Code Enforcement," was repealed by ORD-13-0024 § 2, adopted Nov. 12, 2013, which derived from ORD-05-0007 § 1(part), 2006. See Ch. 18.25 for similar provisions.

21.65.020 Definitions.

In addition to the definitions set forth in Chapter 21.15, the following definitions shall apply to this Chapter 21.65:

A. "Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project" is defined as the physical re-purposing or adaptive reuse of an existing transient residential structure, such as a Motel, Hotel, Apartment Hotel, Transient Occupancy Residential Structure, or Hostel, for use as Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing for persons experiencing homelessness or those at risk of homelessness.

B. "Interim Motel/Hotel Conversion Permit" is a permit issued by the Department of Development Services Planning Bureau, upon satisfaction of the requirements of this Section, to an eligible applicant to allow the temporary conversion of an existing transient residential structure, such as a Motel, Hotel, Apartment Hotel, Transient Occupancy Residential Structure, or Hostel, for use as Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing for persons experiencing homelessness or those at risk of homelessness.

C. "Local Agency" is defined as an agency that funds and/or operates subsidized Supportive Housing and/or Transitional Housing for persons experiencing homelessness or at risk of homelessness and/or provides on-site supportive social services such as intensive case management, employment services, benefits advocacy, and other services or service referrals necessary to obtain and maintain housing.

21.65.030 Qualification.

All or, within the coastal zone, portions of Dwelling Units and Guest Rooms in the structure must be used for Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing or a combination of both. The Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall not result in the expansion of more than ten (10) percent of the existing building floor area; nor shall the combined number of Dwelling Units or Guest Rooms increase from the number existing on site prior to the date of the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project application. Any Floor Area used for onsite Supportive Services shall be considered accessory to the residential use.

(ORD-23-0025 § 3, 2023 ORD-20-0041 § 1, 2020)

21.65.040 Application and Approval.

A. The Department of Development Services in coordination with the Department of Health and Human Services shall review all Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Projects for zoning compliance as described in Section 21.65.060, and adherence to the performance standards in Section 21.65.070. The Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall be approved if the application requirements, zoning compliance and performance standards of this Chapter are met through the approval process, including but not limited to, payment of all applicable fees. Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Projects shall not be considered a change of use under Title 21 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, nor an increase in density or other change which requires any corresponding discretionary action.

B. Prior to issuance of an Interim Motel/Hotel Conversion Permit, the applicant shall provide a copy of an executed agreement between the Local Agency and the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project applicant setting forth the terms for the provision of the of onsite Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing, or a combination of both, and the provision of on-site social services; proof that the applicant has received funding from a Local Agency; and proof that the Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing agreement is in effect.

(ORD-20-0041 § 1, 2020)

21.65.050 Termination of Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing Agreement.

Upon any termination of the Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing agreement, the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project applicant shall be required, within ninety (90) days, to notify the Department of Development Services and to complete one of the following:

A. Submit an application to the Department of Development Services to return to the original use existing on the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project application, or to any use permitted by the current zoning regulations; or

B. Provide a copy of a new executed agreement to the Department of Development Services, in accordance with the requirements in Section 21.54.040, to begin a new agreement term for the provision of Supportive or Transitional Housing.

(ORD-20-0041 § 1, 2020)

21.65.060 Compliance with applicable standards and zoning code requirements.

A. Outside the coastal zone, Interim Motel/Housing Projects shall not be subject to any otherwise applicable zoning ordinance, specific plan, or other overlay district regulations, including, but not limited to, the following:

1. Minimum Area per Dwelling Unit or Guest Room. A structure that is occupied with a use classified as a Motel, Hotel, Apartment Hotel, Transient Occupancy Residential Structure, or Hostel, regardless of any nonconforming status as to the area and density regulations of the underlying zone, may be used for an Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project, provided that the conversion does not create any additional total combined number of Dwelling Units or Guest Rooms.

2. Off-Street Automobile Parking. Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Projects shall be exempt from the requirements of LBMC Chapter 21.41 during the Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing agreement, however, the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall maintain and not reduce the number of onsite parking spaces existing on the date of the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project application.

3. Use. Notwithstanding the use provisions of the underlying zone, an Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall be permitted.

4. Change of Use. Section 21.27.070 shall not apply to Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Projects.

5. Change of Occupancy. To the extent that an Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project is considered a change of occupancy, the change in occupancy shall be construed to be an occupancy group that is less hazardous than the original use, and building code compliance shall be limited to the requirements of Section 18.49.030, as determined by the Building Official.

6. Notwithstanding any exemptions from building and zoning requirements detailed in this Section, an Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall comply with minimum applicable health and safety requirements established in Title 18, as determined by the Building Official.

B. Within the coastal zone, Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Projects, as defined in Section 21.65.020.A of this Chapter, shall not be subject to any otherwise applicable zoning ordinance, specific plan, or other overlay district regulations except for the City's certified Local Coastal Program (LCP) Land Use Plan and any regulations in the certified LCP Implementation Plan that are required for the protection of public access and coastal resources, including lower cost overnight visitor-serving accommodations. Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Projects require a coastal development permit consistent with Section 21.25.904.C of the certified Zoning Code.

C. Minor Interior Alterations for Cooking Facilities. Approved Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project applicants may make minor interior alterations adding cooking facilities, including a sink, a refrigerator not exceeding ten (10) cubic feet, counter space not exceeding ten (10) square feet, and a hotplate, microwave, or other cooking facilities to Guest Rooms. In the event a structure is returned to the motel or hotel use, in accordance with Section 21.65.040, the motel or hotel may maintain any Guest Rooms with added cooking facilities.

D. Preservation of Nonconforming Rights. Upon termination of the Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing use, any structure that is nonconforming as to area or use regulations, or any other zoning code requirements, may return to the use and condition as it existed on the date of the Interim Motel Housing Project application, notwithstanding any physical alterations to the subject property. Any Floor Area used for Supportive Services may be returned to use as Guest Rooms or Dwelling Units, or may be converted to accessory amenity spaces, so long as the total number of Dwelling Units or Guest Rooms do not exceed the number existing at the time of the application for the Interim Motel Housing Project.

(ORD-23-0025 § 4, 2023; ORD-20-0041 § 1, 2020)

21.65.070 Performance standards.

The Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall meet the following performance standards:

A. Public Outreach Requirement. At the time of Interim Motel/Hotel Conversion Permit application, and prior to the issuance of any permits for an Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project, the operator and/or Local Agency shall conduct outreach to the surrounding community, to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services. Public Outreach may include, but is not limited to, mailed notification, or the convening of a public meeting or other similar public forum for the purpose of seeking input from the surrounding community. The applicant shall provide copies of mailed notices, meeting flyers and/or meeting summaries or notes, or other relevant documentation to the satisfaction of the Director of Development Services as evidence that this requirement has been fulfilled.

B. Supportive Service Area. A minimum area of office space shall be provided within an Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project for the provision of on-site Supportive Services, including case management.

C. Lighting. Security night lighting shall be shielded so that the light source cannot be seen from adjacent residential properties.

D. Security Lighting. Security lighting with illumination of not less than 0.2 foot-candles (2.15 lx) shall be provided in parking areas, alleys and any unenclosed spaces under or within the first floor of the building(s).

E. Recycling and Trash Facilities. Any recycling or trash facilities shall be secured and completely enclosed by a solid wall or fence not less than six (6) feet in height.

F. Historic Buildings. An Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project shall not involve alteration of an historic character defining feature identified in a nomination or a survey for any project affecting a property listed in or formally determined eligible for a national, state, or local historic register, individually or as a contributor to a historic district, unless the Director of Development Services determines the proposed alteration will not adversely impact the property's historic eligibility.

(ORD-20-0041 § 1, 2020)

21.65.080 Alternative Compliance.

If compliance with the Performance Standards is not met, the applicant may apply for approval of alternative compliance measures. The requirements in Sections 21.65.030 and 21.65.040 must be met in order to qualify for an alternative compliance review. In approving the alternative compliance application, the Director of Development Services shall find that the Interim Motel/Hotel Housing Project substantially meets the purposes of the Performance Standards, including that it provides an appropriate level of Supportive Services that is accessible to the residents of the Supportive Housing or Transitional Housing.

(ORD-20-0041 § 1, 2020)

CHAPTER 21.66 UNPERMITTED DWELLING UNIT AMNESTY PROGRAM

21.66.010 Purpose.

To develop a dwelling unit amnesty program to preserve existing dwellings, bring them into compliance with applicable Building Code standards, and maintain them as income restricted affordable units in accordance with recommendation 2e of the "Everyone Home Long Beach" plan "to expand the number of rent-stabilized units," and Policy 1.1 of the 2017 report prepared by the Mayor's Affordable and Workforce Housing Study Group and adopted by City Council "to encourage the preservation of existing housing stock, consistent with the City's adopted Housing Element." This Section is not intended for housing units that are eligible for legalization as accessory dwelling units through the Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU) process.

(ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

21.66.020 Compliance with applicable development standards and Zoning Code requirements.

A. Existing dwelling units that do not have a certificate of occupancy at the time of application that are located in otherwise legally permitted structures, shall be referred to in this section as "unpermitted dwelling units." Outside the coastal zone, existing unpermitted dwelling units shall not be subject to any otherwise applicable zoning ordinance, specific plan, or other overlay district regulations, including, but not limited to, the following:

1. Minimum Lot Area per Dwelling Unit or Guest Room. The units shall not be subject to any density limitations imposed by the underlying zoning.

2. Off-set Automobile Parking. The units shall not be subject to any applicable off-street automobile parking requirements. The existing number of parking spaces existing on the site as of the date of the application shall be maintained and shall not be reduced.

3. Minimum Yard and Setback Requirements. The units shall not be subject to any yard or setback requirements imposed by the underlying zoning.

4. Any Other Development Standards. The units shall not be subject to any other provision of the underlying zoning or applicable development standards that would preclude the preservation of the dwelling unit.

B. Within the coastal zone, existing unpermitted dwelling units as defined in Section 21.66.020.A of this Chapter, shall not be subject to any otherwise applicable zoning ordinance, specific plan, or other overlay district regulations except for the City's certified Local Coastal Program (LCP) Land Use Plan and any regulations in the certified LCP Implementation Plan that are required for the protection of coastal resources and public access to the coast. Unpermitted dwelling units are subject to the required findings in the certified Zoning Code Section 21.25.904.C. New parking spaces shall not be required in association with the legalization of an unpermitted dwelling unit if the unpermitted dwelling unit(s) meets one of the following criteria and/or there would be no impacts to public access to the coast as a result of the development:

1. The unpermitted dwelling unit is located within one-half mile walking distance of public transit.

2. The unpermitted dwelling unit is located within an architecturally and historically significant historic district and the provision of new parking would impact the historic character.

3. When there is a car share vehicle located within one block of the unpermitted dwelling unit.

(ORD-23-0025 § 5, 2023; ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

21.66.030 Building Code Compliance.

Notwithstanding any exemptions to zoning requirements detailed in this Section, the units shall comply with minimum applicable health and safety requirements established in Title 18, as determined by the Building Official.

(ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

21.66.040 Eligibility.

Existing dwelling units eligible for the unpermitted dwelling unit amnesty program:

A. May be located in any zone, except for the IG and IP Industrial Zones;

B. Shall have been occupied, as a residence, for more that thirty (30) continuous days prior to December 31, 2016, which occupancy shall be demonstrated by the Applicant with proof satisfactory to the Director of Development Services, or designee.

(ORD-23-0025 § 6, 2023; ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

21.66.050 Affordability Covenant.

A. Applicants shall be required to record a covenant on the property that requires the unit to be retained as an income-restricted unit for a period of 10 years at an income level that is the lower of: 1) the existing tenant's income level; or 2) a moderate-income household, as determined by Area Median Income (AMI) limits established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

B. The affordability period shall be deferred if the unit is occupied by a tenant with an existing lease who does not meet the subject income restriction. The affordability period shall begin when a tenant meeting the above income restriction occupies the unit.

C. The units shall be subject to the annual covenant monitoring fee.

(ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

21.66.060 Review Process.

Site Plan Review shall be required pursuant to Chapter 21.25 of the certified Zoning Code. Existing dwelling units that are eligible for the unpermitted dwelling unit amnesty program and are located in the Coastal Zone shall be required to obtain a Local Coastal Development Permit pursuant to certified Zoning Code Section 21.25.903; however, a public hearing for the Local Coastal Development Permit shall not be required pursuant to certified Zoning Code Section 21.25.904.B.

(ORD-23-0025 § 7, 2023; ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

21.66.070 Appeals.

Outside the coastal zone, only applicants may appeal Site Plan Review determinations to the Planning Commission. Within the coastal zone, Local Coastal Development Permit determinations may be appealed by any aggrieved person pursuant to the procedures in Chapter 21.21 and Section 21.25.904 of the certified Zoning Code.

(ORD-23-0025 § 8, 2023; ORD-21-0002 § 1, 2021)

CHAPTER 21.67 INCLUSIONARY HOUSING

21.67.010 Purpose.

The City Council finds that the City of Long Beach faces a serious shortage of affordable housing units that is anticipated to increase over time. New residential development frequently does not provide housing opportunities for very low-, low- and moderate-income households due to the high cost of newly-constructed housing in the City. As a result, such households are effectively excluded from many neighborhoods, creating economic stratification detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare. The purpose of this Chapter is:

A. To impose affordable housing requirements on residential development to avoid the remaining opportunities for affordable housing to be lost by the use of the scarce remaining land for residential development without providing housing affordable to persons and households of all incomes.

B. To enhance the public welfare by establishing policies which require the development of housing affordable to households of very low-, low- and moderate-incomes, help meet the City's regional share of housing needs and implement the goals and objectives of the City's General Plan and Housing element.

C. To provide and maintain affordable housing opportunities in the community through an inclusionary housing program for both ownership and rental housing, and in furtherance of that goal, include rental inclusionary housing requirements in this Chapter consistent with California Government Code Section 65850(g).

D. To provide the residential development community with alternatives to construction of the inclusionary units within a market-rate residential development.

(ORD-25-0004 § 1, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.020 Definitions.

The definitions set forth in this Section shall govern the application and interpretation of this Chapter. Words and phrases not defined in this Section shall be interpreted so as to give this Chapter its most reasonable application.

A. "Adjusted for Household Size Appropriate for the Unit" means the household sizes defined in California Health and Safety Code Section 50052.5. This adjustment is used solely for the purposes of calculating the affordable rent and affordable sales price. For this purpose only, the household size is set at the number of bedrooms in the unit plus one.

B. "Affordable Rent" means the maximum monthly rent, including an allowance for tenant paid utilities, for: (i) very low-income households as defined in California Health and Safety Code Section 50053, or (ii) low-income households, as defined in California Health and Safety Code

Section 50053. The calculation is as follows: (i) one-twelfth of thirty percent (30%) of the applicable percent (50% or 60%) of area median income adjusted for household size appropriate for the unit; or (ii) market rent, whichever is less.

C. "Affordable Sales Price" means the maximum purchase price for moderate-income households as defined in California Health and Safety Code Section 50052.5. The calculation is as follows: not be less than twenty-eight percent (28%) of the gross income of the household, nor exceed thirty-five percent (35%) times the applicable percentage of area median income as shown in Table 21.67-2, adjusted for household size appropriate for the unit. The affordable sales price shall include a reasonable down payment, and monthly housing cost payments as defined in California Code of Regulations, Title 25, Section 6920. These payments include principal and interest on a mortgage loan, private mortgage insurance, property taxes and assessments, a utility allowance established by the Housing Authority of the City of Long Beach, homeowner's insurance, homeowner's association dues, and a reasonable allowance for property maintenance and repairs, all as determined by the City.

D. "Applicant" or "Developer" means a person, persons, or entity that applies for a residential development and also includes the owner or owners of the property if the applicant does not own the property on which residential development is proposed.

E. "Approval Body" means a body with the authority to approve the proposed residential development or any component thereof.

F. "Area Median Income" means the annual median income for Los Angeles County, adjusted for household size, as published periodically in the California Code of Regulations, Title 25, Section 6932, or its successor provision, or as established by the City in the event that such median income figures are no longer published periodically in the California Code of Regulations.

G. "Building Permit" includes full structural building permits as well as partial permits such as foundation-only permits.

H. "Common Ownership or Control" refers to property owned or controlled by the same person, persons, or entity, or by separate entities in which any shareholder, partner, member (or family member of such shareholder, partner or member) of the entity owns ten percent (10%) or more of the interest in the property.

I. "Contiguous Property" means any parcel of land that is:

1. Touching another parcel at any point;

2. Separated from another parcel at any point only by a public right-of-way, private street or way, or public or private utility, service, or access easement; or

3. Separated from another parcel only by other real property of the applicant which is not subject to the requirements of this Chapter at the time of the planning entitlement application by the applicant.

J. "Density Bonus Units" means dwelling units approved in a residential development pursuant to California Government Code Section 65915 et seq., Chapter 21.63, or Chapter 21.68 of the Long Beach Municipal Code that are in excess of the maximum allowable residential density otherwise permitted by the City.

K. "Downtown Submarket" means those areas of the City located within the Downtown Plan Area (PD-30) as delineated on the City's Zoning Use District Map.

L. "First Approval" means the first of the following approvals to occur with respect to a residential development after the effective date of this Chapter: planning entitlement or building permit.

M. "First Time Home Buyer" means an individual who meets any of the following criteria:

1. An individual who has had no ownership in a principal residence during the 3-year period ending on the date of purchase of the property. This includes a spouse (if either meets the above test, they are considered first-time homebuyers).

2. A single parent who has only owned with a former spouse while married.

3. An individual who is a displaced homemaker and has only owned with a spouse.

4. An individual who has only owned a principal residence not permanently affixed to a permanent foundation in accordance with applicable regulations.

5. An individual who has only owned a property that was not in compliance with state, local or model building codes and which cannot be brought into compliance for less than the cost of constructing a permanent structure.

N. "HCD" means the California Department of Housing and Community Development.

O. "High Resource Area" means those areas designated as high resource areas on the Submarket Areas Map.

P. "Housing Element" means the then-current Housing Element of the City's General Plan prepared in accordance with state housing law.

Q. "Housing Trust Fund" means the fund or account established by Section 3.92 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

R. "Inclusionary Housing Regulatory Agreement" means an agreement in conformance with Section 21.67.090.B between the City and an applicant, governing how the applicant shall comply with this Chapter.

S. "Inclusionary Housing Guidelines" means any requirements for implementation and administration of this Chapter adopted by the City in accordance with Section 21.67.090.D. For developments within the coastal zone, those requirements must be consistent with the policies of the LCP, including this Chapter. In any case of conflict between the Inclusionary Housing Guidelines and the policies of the LCP, the policies of the LCP shall take precedence over the guidelines.

T. "Inclusionary Housing Plan" means a plan containing all of the information specified in and submitted in conformance with Section 21.67.090.A, specifying the manner in which inclusionary units will be provided in conformance with this Chapter and the adopted inclusionary housing guidelines. For developments within the coastal zone, those guidelines must be consistent with the policies of the LCP, including this Chapter. In any case of conflict between the Inclusionary Housing Guidelines and the policies of the LCP, the policies of the LCP shall take precedence over the guidelines.

U. "Inclusionary Unit" means a dwelling unit required by this Chapter to be affordable to very low-, low- or moderate-income households, as applicable, and subject to an inclusionary housing regulatory agreement.

V. "Low-Income Households" are those households whose income does not exceed eighty percent (80%) of the area median income as published annually by HCD, adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

W. "Low Resource Area" means those areas designated as low resource areas on the Submarket Areas Map.

X. "Market-Rate Unit" means a new dwelling unit in a residential development that is not an inclusionary unit subject to recorded affordability restrictions that meet the requirements of this Chapter.

Y. "Midtown Submarket" means those areas of the City within the Midtown Plan Area (SP-1) as delineated on the City's Zoning Use District Map.

Z. "Moderate-Income Households" are those households whose income does not exceed one hundred twenty percent (120%) of the area median income as published annually by HCD, adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

AA. "Moderate Resource Area" means those areas designated as moderate resource areas on the Submarket Areas Map.

BB. "Ownership Residential Development" means: (i) any residential development that includes the creation of one or more dwelling units that may be sold individually, and (ii) any community apartment project or residential development owned by a residential stock cooperative wherein owners own an undivided interest in the development together with the right to occupy a dwelling unit, commonly known as "own-your-owns". A residential ownership development also includes the conversion of a residential rental development to a residential ownership development pursuant to Chapter 20.32 of the Long Beach Municipal Code. If dwelling units are approved with a condominium map but are not yet sold individually on the open market or otherwise to persons unaffiliated with the original developer of the dwelling units, such development shall be considered a rental residential development subject to the requirements of Section 21.67.050.A.2 until such time as it converts to an ownership residential development, at which time the development shall be subject to the requirements of Section 21.67.050.A.1.

CC. "Planning Entitlement" means any discretionary approval of a residential development including, but not limited to, a general or specific plan adoption or amendment, rezoning, tentative map, parcel map, conditional use permit, variances, site plan review, or local coastal development permit.

DD. "Rental Residential Development" means any residential development that creates one or more dwelling units that cannot be lawfully sold individually in conformance with the Subdivision Map Act.

EE. "Residential Development" means any development for which a planning entitlement or building permit is required that includes:

1. The creation of one or more additional dwelling units;

2. Conversion of nonresidential uses to dwelling units; or

3. The conversion of a use from a residential rental development to a residential ownership development.

FF. "Submarket(s)" means the Downtown Submarket, the Midtown Submarket, the High Resource Area, the Low Resource Area and the Moderate Resource Area, or any applicable combination thereof.

GG. "Submarket Areas Map" means that certain map prepared and published by the City Community Development Department assigning all parcels of real property within the City of Long Beach to a Submarket. For any changes to the Submarket Areas Map as adopted by the City on April 1, 2025 that result in lower percentages of total required inclusionary housing units within the coastal zone, the City Council shall submit an LCP amendment request to the California Coastal Commission for its review and approval.

HH. "Very Low-Income Household" are those households whose income does not exceed 50 percent (50%) of the area median income as published annually by HCD, adjusted for the actual number of persons in the household.

(ORD-26-0014 §§ 1—3, 2026; ORD-25-0004 § 2, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.030 Applicability.

The provisions of this Chapter shall apply to:

A. All residential development located in the City of Long Beach except for any residential development exempt under Section 21.67.040.

(ORD-25-0004 § 3, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.040 Exemptions.

A. The following residential developments shall be exempt from the provisions of this Chapter:

1. Residential developments with nine (9) or fewer units.

2. Residential developments which are developed in accordance with the terms of a development agreement adopted by ordinance pursuant to the authority and provisions of California Government Code Section 65864 et seq. and/or Chapter 21.29 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, and that is executed prior to the effective date of this Chapter, provided that such residential developments shall comply with any inclusionary housing requirements included in the development agreement or any predecessor ordinance in effect on the date the development agreement was executed.

3. Residential developments exempted by California Government Code Section 66474.2 or 66498.1, provided that such residential developments shall comply with any predecessor ordinance, resolution, or policy in effect on the date the application for the development was deemed substantially complete.

4. Residential developments for which a building permit has been issued no later than the effective date of this Chapter, provided that such residential developments shall comply with any predecessor ordinance, resolution, or policy in effect on the date the application for the development was approved.

5. Residential developments in which at least forty-nine percent (49%) of the total units will be restricted by a recorded regulatory agreement to very-low or low-income households.

B. Planning entitlement expiration. Upon the expiration of any planning entitlement, and unless otherwise exempted, the residential development shall be subject to the inclusionary housing requirements of this Chapter in effect as of the date of such expiration, and shall not proceed until such time as an inclusionary housing plan is approved in conjunction with any other required planning entitlement or amendment thereto. The provisions of this Chapter shall also apply to any residential development which is granted a discretionary extension of a planning entitlement after the effective date of this Chapter, to the extent consistent with state law.

(ORD-25-0004 § 4, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.050 Inclusionary Housing Requirement.

All residential developments proposing ten (10) or more dwelling units (unless exempt under Section 21.67.040), and contiguous property under common ownership and control, shall include inclusionary units.

A. On-site inclusionary requirement. Unless an alternative is approved as described in Section 21.67.080, residential developments subject to this Chapter shall provide certain dwelling units in the residential development as inclusionary units upon the same site as the residential development as follows:

1. Ownership residential development in the Downtown Submarket and the Midtown Submarket prior to 2025. For all applications for first approval of an ownership residential development in the Downtown Submarket or Midtown Submarket submitted prior to calendar year 2025, the applicant shall provide the applicable percentage of the units in the residential development available at an affordable sales price to moderate-income households, in accordance with Table 21.67-1.

Inclusionary Housing Requirements for Ownership Developments 2021-2024

Calendar Year	Moderate Income Affordability Level (Percentage of Area Median Income)	Inclusionary Requirement Percentage of units in the development
2021	120%	4%
2022	120%	5%
2023 & 2024	120%	10%

2. Ownership residential development in the City of Long Beach during 2025 and thereafter. For all applications for first approval of an ownership residential development in the City of Long Beach submitted beginning on the effective date during calendar year 2025 and thereafter, the applicant shall provide the applicable percentage of the units in the residential development available at an affordable sales price to households at the specific income levels provided, each in accordance with Table 21.67-2, and the inclusionary units required hereunder must be sold to First Time Home Buyers.

Table 21.67-2
Inclusionary Housing Requirements for Ownership Developments Beginning 2025

Beginning on the effective date in 2025 and continuing through the later of: (i) December 31, 2026; or (ii) the date on which at least 200 new units within Ownership Residential Developments are entitled City-wide ("First Inclusionary Milestone").	200%	200%	10%
Beginning on the date immediately after the First Inclusionary Milestone and continuing through the later of: (i) the first anniversary of the First Inclusionary Milestone; or (ii) the date on which at least 200 new units within Ownership Residential Developments are entitled City-wide (in addition to those entitled prior to the First Inclusionary Milestone) ("Second Inclusionary Milestone").	150%	150%	10%

Milestone Threshold	Affordability Level (Percentage of Area Median for Household Eligibility Determination)	Affordability Level (Percentage of Area Median Income for Affordable Sales Price Determination)	Inclusionary Requirement Percentage of units in the development
Beginning on the date immediately after the Second Inclusionary Milestone and continuing through the later of: (i) the first anniversary of the Second Inclusionary Milestone; or (ii) the date on which at least 200 new units within Ownership Residential Developments are entitled City-wide (in addition to those entitled prior to the Second Inclusionary Milestone) ("Third Inclusionary Milestone").	135%	135%	10%
Beginning on the Third Inclusionary Milestone and continuing thereafter.	120%	110%	10%

3. Rental residential development in the Downtown Submarket and Midtown Submarket prior to 2025. For all applications for first approval of a rental residential development in the Downtown Submarket or Midtown Submarket submitted prior to the effective date in calendar year 2025, the applicant shall provide the applicable percentage of the units in the residential development available at an affordable rent to very low-income households in accordance with Table 21.67-3.

Table 21.67-3
Inclusionary Housing Requirements for Rental Developments 2021-2024

Calendar Year	Inclusionary Requirement Percentage of units in the development
2021	5%
2022	6%
2023 & 2024	11%

4. Rental residential development in the City of Long Beach during 2025 and thereafter. For all applications for first approval of rental residential development in the City of Long Beach submitted beginning on the effective date in calendar year 2025 and thereafter, the applicant shall provide the applicable percentage of the units in the residential development available at the applicable affordable rent levels, each in accordance with Table 21.67-4 and consistent with the Submarket Areas Map. The Submarket Areas Map depicting the Submarkets referenced in Table 21.67-4 shall be updated periodically or as necessary by the City Community Development Department, and said map and all notations, references and other information shown on it are incorporated by reference and shall be deemed as much a part of this Title as if the matters and information set forth by said map were fully described in this Chapter. For any changes to the Submarket Areas Map as adopted by the City on April 1, 2025 that result in lower percentages of total required inclusionary housing units within the coastal zone, the City Council shall submit an LCP amendment request to the California Coastal Commission for its review and approval.

B. Calculating the number of inclusionary units.

1. Calculations of the number of inclusionary units required by this Section shall be based on the number of dwelling units in the residential development, excluding any density bonus units.

2. In computing the total number of inclusionary units required in a rental residential development with over 20 total units, fractions of an inclusionary unit shall be rounded up. In computing the total number of inclusionary units required in an ownership residential development or rental residential development of 20 units or less, fractions of an inclusionary unit shall either be: (i) rounded up, or (ii) provided by the payment of an in-lieu fee as established in Section 21.67.080.A. Fractional units applicable to households of different income levels in the same residential development may be added together and applied toward unit(s) at the lowest required income level. If a residential development is included in more than one Submarket, then the total number of inclusionary units shall be calculated as though the entirety of the residential development is located in a single Submarket as designated in accordance with the inclusionary housing guidelines.

3. When a residential development includes both ownership and rental dwelling units, the provisions of this Chapter that apply to ownership residential development shall apply to that portion of the development that consists of ownership dwelling units, while the provisions of this Chapter that apply to rental residential development shall apply to that portion of the development that consists of rental dwelling units.

C. Common ownership and control. An applicant for a planning entitlement shall not avoid the requirements of this Chapter by submitting piecemeal planning entitlement applications. At the time of the application for first approval for the residential development, the applicant shall identify all contiguous property under common ownership and control. The applicant shall not be required to construct dwelling units upon the contiguous property at the time of the application for first approval; however, the applicant shall be required to include the contiguous property under common ownership or control in its inclusionary housing plan. The inclusionary housing regulatory agreement shall be recorded against the residential development and all contiguous property under common ownership or control and shall require compliance with this Chapter upon development of each contiguous property at such time as there are planning entitlement applications that would authorize a total of ten (10) or more residential units for the residential development and the contiguous property under common ownership or control.

(ORD-26-0014 § 4, 2026; ORD-25-0004 § 5, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.060 Inclusionary Housing Standards and Incentives.

A. Inclusionary housing units included in a residential development resulting from the conversion of a use from a residential rental development to a residential ownership development shall be offered for sale to current and qualified tenants of the inclusionary units, and shall otherwise comply with the inclusionary housing guidelines.

B. Construction appearance and quality. Inclusionary units shall be comparable in exterior appearance and overall quality of construction to market-rate units in the same housing development. Interior finishes and features may differ from those provided in the market-rate units, so as long as the finishes and features are durable, of good quality, and consistent with contemporary standards for new housing.

C. Bedroom Mix and Unit Size. The number of bedrooms and the size of the inclusionary units shall be proportional to or greater than the number of bedrooms and size of the market-rate units, consistent with any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines.

D. Location. The inclusionary units shall be located so as not to create a geographic concentration of inclusionary units within the residential development.

E. Amenities. The inclusionary units shall have the same amenities as the market-rate units included within the affordable rent or affordable sales price for the inclusionary unit. For example, residents of the inclusionary units shall have the same access to and enjoyment of common open space, parking, storage, and other facilities in the residential development, and residents of the inclusionary units shall not be charged more than affordable rents or affordable sales prices as for the use of such facilities and amenities.

F. Density bonus. The developer of a residential development providing all required inclusionary units upon the same site as the market-rate units may, at the developer's sole option and concurrently with the submittal of the inclusionary housing plan, submit a written request for a density bonus, waivers, modification of parking standards, or other regulatory incentives pursuant to Government Code Section 65915 et seq., and the provisions of Chapter 21.63 of the Long Beach Municipal Code, if the residential development meets all of the applicable requirements to qualify for a density bonus.

(ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.070 Timing of Construction of Inclusionary Units.

All required inclusionary units shall be made available for occupancy prior to, or concurrently with, the market-rate units. For the purposes of this subsection, "concurrently" means one of the following:

A. The inclusionary units may be constructed in phases if the market-rate units are constructed in phases, provided that the percentage of inclusionary units developed in each phase shall be equivalent to or greater than the total percentage of inclusionary units to be developed as part of the residential development until such time that all the inclusionary units have been built.

B. In-lieu fees, if applicable, have been paid.

C. The applicant has met, or made arrangements satisfactory to the City to meet, an alternative requirement as permitted by Section 21.67.080.

(ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.080 Developers' Alternative Compliance Options.

A. In-Lieu Fee. All: (i) ownership residential developments, (ii) rental residential developments proposing twenty (20) or less dwelling units, and (iii) residential developments specifically authorized by an action of the City Council after a finding of hardship has been made, may satisfy the inclusionary housing requirement in Section 21.67.050.A by the payment of a fee to the City in-lieu of constructing the inclusionary units within the residential development. In-lieu fees may be established from time-to-time by resolution of the City Council. No building permit shall be issued by the City for any market-rate unit in the residential development until all in-lieu fees for the residential development have been paid to the City. The developer shall provide specific written notice to any purchaser of any dwelling unit prior to the acceptance of any offer to purchase, and shall obtain executed acknowledgment of the receipt of such notice, that purchaser shall not have any right to occupy the dwelling unit until such time as all in-lieu fees owing for the residential development are paid to the City. All in-lieu fees shall be deposited in the inclusionary housing fund as described in Section 21.67.110.

B. Land Dedication. An applicant may dedicate land to the City or a local nonprofit housing developer, at no cost to the City or such housing developer, in place of actual construction of inclusionary units upon approval of the City Council. The applicant must comply with the following provisions and provide evidence of such compliance when the proposed land dedication is submitted to the City:

1. The applicant must exclusively control the land to be dedicated.

2. The land to be dedicated must be free of any liens, easements or other encumbrances adversely impacting value, and must be fully served by necessary utility infrastructure.

3. The land to be dedicated cannot contain any hazardous materials, and the applicant must disclose any previous hazardous materials located thereon and provide evidence that remediation was performed in compliance with applicable law.

4. The land to be dedicated cannot have been improved with residential structures for a period of at least five (5) years prior to application submission.

5. All property taxes and other assessments must be fully paid at the time of application submission and at the time of actual dedication and/or conveyance.

6. The land to be dedicated must be located within one (1) mile of the residential development that is subject to the requirements of this Chapter, unless the land to be dedicated is in a High Resource Area.

7. The existing General Plan and zoning standards applicable to the land to be dedicated must allow for the requisite number of inclusionary units to be developed, and such land must otherwise be suitable in terms of size, configuration and physical characteristics to allow for such inclusionary unit development.

8. The development of the requisite number of inclusionary units must be feasible without the need for City, Housing Authority, or Long Beach Community Investment Company assistance funds.

9. Any other requirements of the inclusionary housing guidelines. For developments within the coastal zone, those requirements must be consistent with the policies of the LCP, including this Chapter. In any case of conflict between the Inclusionary Housing Guidelines and the policies of the LCP, the policies of the LCP shall take precedence over the guidelines.

C. Other alternative compliance methods. A developer may propose an alternative compliance method to provide inclusionary units through other means consistent with any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines and Housing Element policies and goals to affirmatively further fair housing in the City. For developments within the coastal zone, those alternative compliance methods must be consistent with the policies of the LCP, including this Chapter. In any case of conflict between the Inclusionary Housing Guidelines and the policies of the LCP, the policies of the LCP shall take precedence over the guidelines. City staff shall evaluate a developer's proposal and issue recommendations to the City Council regarding the proposal's compliance with the City's Housing Element policies, fair housing goals, and Regional Housing Needs Assessment. The City Council will consider such recommendations and may approve or conditionally approve such an alternative only if the City Council determines, based on substantial evidence, that such alternative compliance will provide as many or more inclusionary units at the same or lower income levels or will otherwise provide greater public benefit than would provision of the inclusionary units on-site.

The compliance options in Paragraphs A and B of this Section do not qualify the residential development for a density bonus or other regulatory incentives unless the dedication of land conforms to the provisions of Government Code Section 65915(g).

(ORD-26-0014 §§ 5, 6, 2026; ORD-25-0004 § 6, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.090 Application and Review Procedures.

A. Inclusionary housing plan.

1. An application for the first approval of a residential development shall include an inclusionary housing plan describing how the development will comply with the provisions of this Chapter. As an alternative to compliance with the basic provisions included in Section 21.67.050, an applicant may propose one of the alternatives listed in Section 21.67.080 as part of the inclusionary housing plan.

2. Any proposed density bonus, waivers, modification of parking standards, or other regulatory incentives shall be included in the inclusionary housing plan.

3. Any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines may specify the contents of the inclusionary housing plan. No application for a first approval for a residential development may be deemed complete unless an inclusionary housing plan is submitted in conformance with this Chapter.

4. The inclusionary housing plan shall be processed concurrently with all other permits required for the residential development. Before the approval body may approve the inclusionary housing plan, the approval body must affirmatively find that the inclusionary housing plan conforms to the requirements set forth in this Chapter. A condition shall be attached to the first approval of any residential development to require recordation of the inclusionary housing regulatory agreement described in Paragraph B of this Section prior to the approval of any final or parcel map or building permit for the residential development.

5. The approved inclusionary housing plan for a residential development, or for a building phase in a residential development, where phasing has been approved as part of planning entitlement approvals, may be amended prior to issuance of any building permit for the residential development or building phase, if applicable. A request for a minor modification of an approved inclusionary housing plan may be granted by the City Manager or their designee if the modification is substantially in compliance with the original inclusionary housing plan and conditions of approval. Other modifications to the inclusionary housing plan shall be processed in the same manner as the original plan.

6. Fair Housing and Marketing Plan. The inclusionary housing plan shall describe the applicant's marketing plan, which shall comply with all applicable fair housing laws and shall not discriminate in the sale or rental of inclusionary units on the basis of race, national origin, color, religion, gender, disability, familial status, age, income source, or marital status.

B. Inclusionary housing regulatory agreement. The applicant shall enter into an inclusionary housing regulatory agreement with the City, in a form approved by the City Attorney, to be executed by the City Manager or their designee, to ensure that all the requirements of this Chapter are satisfied. The inclusionary housing regulatory agreement shall be recorded against the residential development (and contiguous property under common ownership and control in accordance with Section 21.67.050.C) no later than thirty (30) days after such residential development has submitted for plan check.

C. The City Council, by resolution, may establish fees for the ongoing administration and monitoring of the inclusionary units, which fees may be updated periodically, as required.

D. The City Council hereby authorizes the Planning Commission to adopt inclusionary housing guidelines to implement this Chapter.

A. All inclusionary units shall remain affordable to the targeted income group for the longer of: (i) a period of fifty-five (55) years from the date of issuance of a tentative or final Certificate of Occupancy for such inclusionary units, or (ii) for so long as the subject property which includes such inclusionary units is developed for a residential use.

B. Any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines may include standard documents such as a resale restriction or regulatory agreement, for execution by the City Manager or their designee, in a form approved by the City Attorney, to secure the continued affordability of the inclusionary units approved for each residential development, provide ongoing maintenance obligations, define rent and sale price increase procedures, and provide formulas for how resale prices for ownership inclusionary units are calculated. Such document(s) shall be recorded against the residential development or the inclusionary units, as applicable.

C. Any eligible household that occupies an inclusionary unit must occupy that unit as its principal residence, unless otherwise approved in writing for rental to a third-party eligible household for a limited period of time due to household hardship, as may be specified in any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines.

D. No household may begin occupancy of an inclusionary unit until the household has been determined to be eligible to occupy that unit by the City Manager or their designee. Any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines may establish standards for determining household income, affordable housing cost, provisions for continued monitoring of tenant eligibility, and other eligibility criteria.

E. Officials, employees, or consultants of the City, members of City boards and commissions, and the applicant and the applicant's officials shall comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and policies relating to conflicts of interest as to their eligibility to develop, construct, sell, rent, lease, occupy, or purchase an inclusionary unit. Any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines shall include conflict of interest provisions relating to the administration of this Chapter and the eligibility of persons to occupy inclusionary units.

(ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.110 Housing Trust Fund.

A. All in-lieu fees or other funds collected under this Chapter shall be deposited into the City's Housing Trust Fund and shall be maintained and accounted for separately in an inclusionary housing program subaccount.

B. Moneys deposited in the Housing Trust Fund pursuant to this Chapter may be used by City to pay for direct costs associated with the administration and enforcement of the program established by this Chapter.

C. After payment of expenses, if any, described in Paragraph B of this Section, all of the remaining moneys deposited in the Housing Trust Fund pursuant to this Chapter shall be expended to provide affordable housing assistance.

(ORD-25-0004 § 8, 2025; ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.120 Waiver.

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Chapter, the requirements of this Chapter may be waived, adjusted, or reduced by the City Council based upon a showing that applying the requirements of this Chapter would result in an unconstitutional taking of property or would result in any other unconstitutional result.

B. Any request for a waiver, adjustment, or reduction under this Section shall be submitted to the City concurrently with the inclusionary housing plan. The request for a waiver, adjustment, or reduction shall set forth in detail the factual and legal basis for the claim.

C. The request for a waiver, adjustment, or reduction shall be reviewed and considered in the same manner and at the same time as the inclusionary housing plan.

D. In making a determination on an application for waiver, adjustment, or reduction, the applicant shall bear the burden of presenting substantial evidence to support the claim. The City may assume each of the following when applicable:

1. That the applicant will provide the most economical inclusionary units feasible, while still meeting the requirements of this Chapter and any adopted inclusionary housing guidelines; and

2. That the applicant will benefit from the incentives for the residential development as described in this Chapter and elsewhere in the Long Beach Municipal Code.

E. The waiver, adjustment or reduction may be approved only to the extent necessary to avoid an unconstitutional result, after adoption of written findings, based on substantial evidence, supporting the determinations required by this Section. If a reduction, adjustment, or waiver is granted, any change in the residential development shall invalidate the reduction, adjustment, or waiver, and a new application shall be required for a reduction, adjustment, or waiver pursuant to this Section.

(ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

21.67.130 Enforcement.

A. The City Manager and City Attorney shall be authorized to enforce the provisions of this Chapter and all inclusionary housing regulatory agreements and other covenants or restrictions placed on inclusionary units, by: (i) suspension or revocation of any building permit or approval upon finding of a violation of any provision of this Chapter or such agreements or restrictions, and/or (ii) by civil action and any other proceeding or method permitted by law.

B. Failure of any official or agency to fulfill the requirements of this Chapter shall not excuse any applicant or owner from the requirements of this Chapter. No permit, license, map, or other approval or entitlement for a residential development shall be issued, including without limitation a final inspection or certificate of occupancy, until all applicable requirements of this Chapter have been satisfied.

C. The remedies provided for herein shall be cumulative and not exclusive and shall not preclude the City from any other remedy or relief to which it otherwise would be entitled under law or equity.

(ORD-22-0004 § 1, 2022; ORD-21-0006 § 1, 2021)

CHAPTER 21.68 ENHANCED DENSITY BONUS

21.68.010 Purpose.

This Chapter establishes an enhanced density bonus (EDB) incentive program to facilitate the development of residential mixed-income, multi-family, and special needs housing development projects. This Chapter is intended to further the City's goals in meeting the need for additional housing per the Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA); to support inclusionary housing; and to implement the policies of the Housing Element of the General Plan.

(ORD-26-0017 § 5, 2026; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.020 Reserved.

Editor's note—ORD-26-0017 § 30, adopted June 16, 2026, repealed § 21.68.020, entitled "Definitions," which derived from: ORD-23-0036 § 1, 2023; and ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021.

21.68.030 Eligible parcels and qualifying housing development projects.

A. Eligible sites. A lot or parcel may be eligible for an Enhanced Density Bonus where residential use(s) are permitted either by the zoning district or, if the zoning is not consistent with the Land Use Element of the General Plan, by the Place-Type (land use district of the Land Use Element) designation; and where five (5) or more housing units could be built based on the allowable density applicable to the site.

B. Qualifying projects. In order to qualify for a density bonus and/or other development allowances permitted by this Chapter, a housing development project (which includes a shared housing building development or mixed-use development) shall be located on an eligible site and shall provide one or more of the following:

1. A community benefit described in the Special Bonuses of Section 21.68.080, or

2. On-site deed-restricted affordable dwelling units for any of the following household income levels (defined in Section 21.15.1390):

   a. Extremely low income,

   b. Very low income,

c. Low income, or

d. Moderate income.

(ORD-26-0017 § 6, 2026; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.040 Procedures.

A. Residential density (base density). An applicant for a housing development project pursuant to this Chapter shall first demonstrate the base density that would be permitted for the project site, as defined in Section 21.15.765. If density is not specified by the applicable zoning district, the applicant shall submit an analysis showing the project density of units that could be developed on the site based on the applicable objective development standards, the proposed unit sizes, and other project details relevant to determining project density.

B. Alternate process to State law. This Chapter provides an alternative process to the State density bonus process and incentives for multi-family housing development projects that include affordable units. Use of this Chapter is voluntary and can be utilized by qualifying projects in lieu of, but not in addition to, the State density bonus laws (Cal. Gov't Code §65915) or the State transit-oriented development laws (Cal. Gov't Code §65912.155 et seq). A housing development project shall not utilize the provisions and procedures of this Chapter in addition to State density bonus law or State transit-oriented development law to increase project density or otherwise qualify for project incentives/concessions or development standards waivers.

C. Coastal zone provisions. The provisions of this Chapter shall not in any way alter or lessen the effect or application of the Coastal Act and the Local Coastal Program (LCP). For housing development projects within the coastal zone, projects approved under this Chapter shall be consistent with the policies of the LCP. In case of conflict between the application of the requirements of this Chapter and the requirements of the LCP, the requirements of the LCP shall take precedence.

D. Inclusionary housing.

1. Any project of ten (10) dwelling units or more that utilizes this Chapter also shall be subject to the inclusionary housing requirements of Chapter 21.67, as applicable, and shall comply with the application and review procedures of Section 21.67.090, in addition to the other requirements of that Chapter.

2. Inclusionary housing projects that provide on-site affordable housing units, as required by Chapter 21.67, shall qualify for the density bonus provisions of Table 68-1.

3. Inclusionary housing projects subject to Chapter 21.67 shall not satisfy the affordability requirements of the density bonus provisions of this Chapter through payment of in-lieu fees or land dedication.

4. The utilization of a density bonus provided by this Chapter shall not in any way lessen or absolve a housing development project of compliance with the inclusionary housing requirements of Chapter 21.67.

5. Calculations of the number of inclusionary housing units required by Chapter 21.67 shall exclude any density bonus units provided by this Chapter.

6. The presence of density bonus units provided by this Chapter shall not require a housing development project to comply with Chapter 21.67 if the project is otherwise exempt from Chapter 21.67.

7. All affordable density bonus units approved pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter shall be deed-restricted to remain affordable at the specified household income level(s) for the longer of:

   a. A period of fifty-five (55) years from the date of issuance of a Temporary or final Certificate of Occupancy (whichever comes first) for said units, or

   b. For so long as the subject site, which includes said density bonus units, is developed and used as a residential use of land.

E. Replacement and relocation requirements.

1. Any project utilizing this Chapter shall be subject to the unit replacement and relocation provisions established by the Zoning Regulations and state law, as applicable (See Chapter 21.11).

2. Any dwelling unit required to be replaced by this Subsection shall not count toward the number of affordable units required by this Chapter and shall be provided in the project regardless of any density bonus, Special Bonus, development standards waivers, or incentives/concessions granted to the project.

3. Existing units shall be subject to replacement requirements if either the income of the existing household(s) qualifies at the low, very low, or extremely low levels, or if the rent, regardless of household income, is affordable to low, very low or extremely low-income households. The number and affordability level(s) of the replacement units to be provided shall be determined by both the income level of the household(s) and the rent level(s) of the units regardless of household income.

4. An applicant for a density bonus housing development project pursuant to this Chapter shall provide evidence to the satisfaction of the Director of Community Development to establish the existing rent and affordability level(s) of each dwelling unit that will, or may, be removed as a result of a proposed housing development project. Such evidence shall include an accounting of all rents charged for each unit over the preceding five (5) years. Rent levels will be compared to Average Median Income (AMI) to establish the units' affordability levels. The requirement to provide an accounting of rents for the preceding five (5) years shall apply retroactively to any units that may have been demolished or vacated within the five (5) year period preceding the application. No demolition or construction permits shall be issued for a multi-family development project consisting of five (5) or more residential dwelling units until the required documentation is provided and approved; and an application is submitted to the Director that incorporates both replacement and density bonus units for the proposed project.

F. Calculating density bonus units.

1. Number. The number of density bonus units shall be calculated as a percentage increase in the number of units over the base density permitted on the site.

2. Rounding and calculations. Each component of density calculation including residential density, bonus density, and/or incentives resulting in fractional units, shall be separately rounded up to the next whole number.

G. Affordable unit type, size, mix, and location.

1. Affordable units shall be evenly distributed throughout the project building(s) and shall have equal access to all on-site facilities and amenities.

2. The unit mix of affordable units shall generally conform to the unit mix of the overall project including unit type, unit sizes, and number of bedrooms, and shall be comparable to the highest household income level units in the project in terms of design, in-unit amenities, and exterior and interior finishes.

H. Timing and construction of affordable units.

1. All affordable units shall be made available for occupancy prior to, or concurrently with, the market-rate units of the project.

2. The affordable units may be constructed in phases if the market-rate units are constructed in phases, provided that the percentage of affordable units developed in each phase shall be equivalent to or greater than the total percentage of affordable units required for the project, until all the required affordable units have been constructed.

(ORD-26-0017 § 7, 2026; ORD-23-0036 § 2, 2023; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.050 Density Bonus and concessions for affordable units.

A. Table 68-1 establishes an affordable component and the corresponding density bonus and concessions granted based on the affordable component. The affordable component is the percentage of affordable units in a qualifying project, before density bonus.

B. A project may include an affordable component in excess of the levels in Table 68-1; however, density bonuses granted for an affordable component shall not exceed one hundred percent (100%) and the number of concessions granted shall not exceed six (6).

C. If a project proposes two or more types of affordable components from Table 68-1, (e.g., very-low and moderate income), density bonus and concessions are granted cumulatively. However, density bonuses granted for affordable units shall not exceed one hundred percent (100%) and the number of concessions granted shall not exceed six (6).

D. Density bonuses and concessions granted for affordable units may be granted independently or in addition to the density bonus and concessions granted through the Special Bonuses established in Section 21.68.080.

E. A project that receives a density bonus granted for an affordable component plus a Special Bonus per Section 21.68.080 may exceed a density bonus level of one hundred percent (100%).

Notes:

a) See also Section 21.68.070 - Waivers.

b) For sale projects that comply with the phased-in affordability level requirements of Table 21.67-2 of Chapter 21.67 (Inclusionary Housing) at the 10% or higher level shall be eligible to receive incentives/concessions and a density bonus as provided in the Moderate income column of Table 68-1.

(ORD-26-0017 § 8, 2026; ORD-23-0036 § 3, 2023; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.060 Eligible concessions/incentives.

A. An eligible project shall be granted concessions (defined Section 21.15.1448) except in the following circumstances:

1. The concession would not result in identifiable and actual cost reductions to provide for affordable housing costs for the income levels targeted,

2. The concession would be contrary to state of federal law,

3. The concession would have a specific, adverse impact for which there is no feasible method to satisfactorily mitigate or avoid the specific, adverse impact, upon either of the following:

   a. Upon health or safety, or

   b. Upon a property listed in the California Register of Historical Resources, or a City-designated historic landmark.

B. Concessions may be granted to a project through either or both of the following mechanisms:

1. The affordability component per Table 68-1, and

2. Special Bonuses as described in Section 21.68.080.

C. The total number of concessions granted to a project shall not exceed six (6).

D. No concession shall be used to modify or reduce the inclusionary housing requirements of Chapter 21.67, or to grant a density increase beyond the density bonus already granted per Table 68-1 or a Special Bonus granted per Section 21.68.080.

E. Provisions for height concessions.

1. Each additional story granted through a concession shall not exceed twelve (12') of building height.

2. The first additional story shall require one (1) concession, and each additional story shall require two (2) concessions.

3. A project is limited to a maximum combination of height concessions totaling three (3) stories and thirty-six feet (36') of building height.

4. For a project that does not consist of 100% affordable units (exclusive of any manager's units) any request for an incentive/concession for a height increase exceeding one (1) story or 12 feet shall require review and approval of the Planning Commission, which shall make a determination that the incentive/concession is physically necessary to the provision of the affordable units in order for the concession to be approved.

5. For a project that consists of 100% affordable units (exclusive of any manager's units), any request for an incentive/concession for a height increase exceeding one story or 12 feet shall require the applicant to complete the following actions after project approval, but prior to the issuance of any construction permits:

   a. Mail a notice to each property owner and tenant within a 300-foot radius of the project site. The radius shall be measured from the exterior property lines of the project site. The notice shall include a detailed description of the project, a tentative construction timeline, and a telephone number or email address that a recipient may contact for more information. The notice also shall contain the date, time, and location of the information session required below;

   b. Conduct an in-person information session about the project, open to all members of the public, with at least two weeks of advance notice given; and

   c. The applicant shall provide copies of mailed notices, meeting flyers, meeting summaries or notes, or other relevant documentation to the Director of Community Development as evidence that this requirement has been fulfilled.

6. Any concession(s) for a height increase exceeding one story or 12 feet for a site abutting, adjoining, or adjacent to (across an alley) from an R-1 or R-2 zoning district shall provide a ten-foot (10') building step-back above the second story portion of the building facing the R-1 or R-2 zoning district.

7. The procedures of this Subsection shall not be modified or reduced through the use of a concession or other method.

(ORD-26-0017 § 9, 2026; ORD-23-0036 § 4, 2023; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.070 Waivers.

A. If a proposed project conforms to the density limits allowed through a combination of base density and density bonus, but another development standard of the Zoning Regulations would have the effect of physically precluding the number of units proposed, the project applicant may request a waiver of the specific development standard. A requested waiver shall be denied by the approving authority only if one or more of the following circumstances applies:

1. The waiver would be contrary to state or federal law,

2. The waiver would have a specific, adverse impact for which there is no feasible method to satisfactorily mitigate or avoid the specific, adverse impact upon either of the following:

   a. Upon health or safety, or

   b. Upon a property listed in the California Register of Historical Resources, or a City-designated historic landmark.

B. A waiver shall be granted from the Zoning Regulations only.

C. The proposed project shall include the density bonus units for which the waiver is requested.

D. The project applicant shall identify any requested waivers in the project application, and shall make a factual showing demonstrating how application of the development standards would preclude construction of the number of units proposed.

(ORD-26-0017 § 10, 2026; ORD-23-0036 § 5, 2023; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

Editor's note—ORD-26-0017 § 10, amended the title of § 21.68.070 to read as herein set out. The former § 21.68.070 was entitled "Types of eligible concessions/incentives."

21.68.080 Special bonuses.

A. Special bonus provisions.

1. A Special Bonus may be granted for a qualifying project that provides one or more of the community benefits described in Subsection B.

2. A Special Bonus is granted in the form of density bonuses and concessions.

3. Density bonuses and concessions granted as Special Bonuses are cumulative and may be granted independently or in addition to the density bonus and concessions allowed by Table 68-1.

4. Multiple Special Bonuses may be applied to a project. Each Special Bonus may provide up to a maximum of twenty percent (20%) density bonus plus one concession.

5. Utilization of Special Bonuses may exceed a cumulative total of 100% density bonus (inclusive of all density bonus provisions of this Chapter).

6. Utilization of Special Bonuses shall not exceed a cumulative total of one hundred twenty percent (120%) density bonus (inclusive of all density bonus provisions of this Chapter).

7. Each Special Bonus shall be granted one concession, not to exceed a cumulative total of six (6) concessions (inclusive of all concessions provided by this Chapter).

B. The following qualifying projects are eligible for Special Bonuses as described in Subsection A:

1. A project that provides large dwelling units as follows:

   a. More than twenty-five percent (25%) of a project's total units are two-bedroom units of 970 square feet or more, or

   b. More than five percent (5%) of a project's total units are three-bedroom units of 1,140 square feet or more, and

   c. The number of bedrooms and the size of the affordable units provided for the Special Bonus shall be proportional to or greater than the average number of bedrooms and size of market-rate units for the project.

2. A project that provides an on-site daycare facility, subject to all applicable permitting and licensing requirements at the state and local levels. The daycare facility shall be exempt from floor area ratio (FAR) limits and parking requirement,

3. A project within 1,000 feet of a City park (subject to the following provisions):

   a. For purposes of this Section, distance shall be measured in a straight line from the nearest edge of the project lot or parcel to the nearest edge of the park lot or parcel, and

   b. Dedicated City parks are listed in Chapter 21.35. Any park listed or dedicated in the Open Space Element of the General Plan, which is not listed in Chapter 21.35, also is subject to this regulation.

4. A project that proposes, through development of the project, to abate a nuisance as defined in Chapter 9.37 of the Long Beach Municipal Code,

5. A project that complies with the labor standards of Cal. Gov't Code §65912.130, and

6. A project that is a senior citizen housing development or special group residence,

7. A project that includes any of the following active ground floor uses:

   a. Café or restaurant without a drive-through, with or without outdoor dining,

   b. Commercial - basic retail,

   c. Commercial - basic personal services,

   d. Physician's office or medical clinic (including, without limitation, urgent care),

   e. Fitness center/health club, or

   f. Hotel.

(ORD-26-0017 § 11, 2026; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.090 Parking requirements.

For a project approved pursuant to this Chapter, parking shall be provided as required by Table 68-2, with the following exceptions:

A. Outside of the coastal zone, no parking shall be required for a project that consists of 100% affordable units (excluding any manager's units).

B. In the coastal zone, a project that consists of 100% affordable units (excluding any manager's units) shall be eligible for the reduced parking requirements established in Table 68-3.

Table 68-2 Parking Requirements for EDB Projects

Unit Type or Use	Parking Requirement
0—1 bedroom units	1 space/unit
2—3 bedroom units	1.25 spaces/unit
4 or more bedroom units	2 spaces/unit
Non-residential uses	As required by Chapter 21.41. The first 6,000 sq. ft. of GFA is exempt if not located in the Coastal Zone.

Table 68-3 Parking Requirements for 100% Affordable EDB Projects in the Coastal Zone

Unit Type or Use	Parking Requirement

Non-residential uses	As required by Chapter 21.41.

(ORD-26-0017 § 12, 2026; ORD-23-0036 § 6, 2023; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.100 Sunset Clause.

The ordinance will sunset, unless otherwise extended by the City Council, when the City meets its affordable component of its Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) as defined in the Housing Element of the General Plan.

(ORD-26-0017 § 13, 2026; ORD-21-0034 § 1, 2021)

21.68.110 Enforcement.

Any project that includes on-site affordable units shall enter into a housing regulatory agreement with the City, in a form approved by the City Attorney, to be executed by the City Manager or designee, to ensure that all applicable requirements of this Chapter are fulfilled. The housing regulatory agreement shall be recorded against the title of the residential development (and contiguous property under common ownership and control) no later than thirty (30) days after such residential development project is submitted to the Director of Community Development for building permit plan review.

A. The City Manager, City Attorney, and City Prosecutor are authorized to enforce the provisions of this Chapter and all regulatory agreements and other covenants or restrictions placed on affordable units, by: (i) suspension or revocation of any building permit or approval upon finding of a violation of any provision of this Chapter or such agreements or restrictions, and/or (ii) by civil action and any other proceeding or method permitted by law.

B. Failure of any official or agency to fulfill the requirements of this Chapter shall not excuse any applicant or owner from compliance with the requirements of this Chapter. No permit, license, map, or other approval or entitlement for a residential development shall be issued, including, without limitation, a final inspection or certificate of occupancy, until all applicable requirements of this Chapter have been fulfilled.

(ORD-26-0017 § 26, 2026)

CHAPTER 21.69 TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF TITLE 21 DURING A PROCLAIMED LOCAL EMERGENCY CAUSED BY HOMELESSNESS

21.69.010 Purpose.

In order to protect the public safety, health and welfare within the City of Long Beach, this Chapter provides a temporary suspension of rules related to Title 21 of the Long Beach Municipal Code for the duration of a proclaimed local emergency caused by a dramatic increase in homelessness, a dramatic increase in the number of deaths of persons experiencing homelessness, an incredible and unprecedented strain on the City's ability to provide appropriate shelter and housing and public safety concerns due to violence and severe mental and physical health issues.

(ORD-23-001(Emerg.) § 2, 2023)

21.69.020 Suspensions.

A. Suspend provisions of Title 21 that pertain to construction of emergency shelters, transitional housing, supportive housing, affordable housing, and any other physical improvements to address the City's proclaimed local emergency caused by homelessness, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of project application.

B. Suspend provisions of Title 21 that pertain to the construction of social service facilities, social service facilities with food distribution, personal storage facilities and related uses that facilitate services to address the City's proclaimed local emergency caused by homelessness, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of project application.

C. Suspend provisions of Title 21 that pertain to the construction and operation of safe parking sites, Recreational Vehicle (RV) parking, and other temporary or semi-temporary uses of space for services to address the City's proclaimed local emergency caused by homelessness, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of the project application.

D. Suspend provisions of Title 21 that pertain to the construction and operation of mental health care facilities, hospitals, clinics, offices and otherwise, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall occur during a 60-day period from filing.

E. Suspend provisions of Title 21 that pertain to the construction and operation of substance abuse facilities, hospitals, clinics, offices and otherwise, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of project application.

F. Suspend provisions of Title 21 that pertain to the construction of fencing, including fencing that deviates from the height and material requirements of the municipal code, to secure buildings, lots and facilities to prevent trespassing or encampment, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments.

G. Suspend rules within Title 21 that pertain to Accessory Dwelling Units in the limited circumstances of an existing unpermitted unit occupied by tenant(s). Upon receipt of an application, and subject to discretion of the Director of Development Services, allow for the legalization of any existing structure occupied by tenant(s), as an Accessory Dwelling Unit, despite conflicting provisions of other local laws.

(ORD-23-001(Emerg.) § 2, 2023)

21.69.030 Improvements.

Improvements approved under a local emergency proclamation and during the local emergency period are intended to be permanent and shall be permanent and will not require new approvals at the expiration of the emergency. The City intends all improvements approved under this Title during the local emergency to be constructed immediately. Notwithstanding the approvals made during the local emergency, Section 21.21.406 titled Expiration shall remain in full force and effect.

(ORD-23-001(Emerg.) § 2, 2023)

21.69.040 Expiration.

This Chapter 21.69 shall expire One Hundred Eighty (180) days after its effective date, unless further extended by the City Council in its discretion by an amendment to this Chapter.

CHAPTER 22.10 GENERAL PROVISIONS

22.10.010 Title.

This Title is being established in order to facilitate a substantial update to the City's Zoning Regulations. The intention is to fully transition from Title 21 (Zoning) to Title 22 (Zoning) for areas outside of the Coastal Zone. During the transition period, all regulations contained within Title 22 apply to zones established in Title 22. In the case of a regulation not specified in Title 22, the regulations contained in Title 21, including those set forth in Section 21.10.080, "Penalty for violation," shall apply. If uncertainty arises concerning the content or application of Title 22, the Zoning Administrator is authorized to determine all pertinent facts, interpret the Title 22 regulations, and, where appropriate, determine which provisions of either Title 21 or Title 22 are applicable. The Classification of Use procedure, which is set forth in Chapter 21.25 of Title 21, shall be used to resolve discrepancies.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.10.020 Purpose and Intent.

The following zones are established to support a healthy, active area with a variety of uses that support a full-service community along corridors and at activity nodes.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

CHAPTER 22.11 DEFINITIONS

22.11.010 Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to establish definitions for words, phrases and terms used in this Title, and unless the context clearly requires a different meaning, the following words, phrases and terms shall be defined as set forth in this Chapter. During the transition period, all regulations contained within Title 22 apply to zones established in Title 22. In the case of a definition not specified in Title 22, the regulations contained in Title 21 shall apply.

1. Anaerobic Digestion. A facility that uses the controlled biological decomposition of organic material in the absence of oxygen or in an oxygen-starved environment to produce biogas and a residual digestate considered to be a composting operation.

2. Composting Facility. A facility that is operated for the purpose of producing compost and includes, but is not limited to:

    a. Green material composting facilities that have greater than 1,000 cubic yards of feedstock and active compost at any one time;

    b. Animal material composting facilities;

    c. Sewage sludge composting facilities; or

    d. Mixed solid waste composting facilities.

3. Composting Operation. An operation that is operated for the purpose of producing compost, Division 30, Part 1, Chapter 2, Section 40116 of the Public Resources Code. A Composting operation is a solid waste handling operation that does not constitute a composting facility that would require a solid waste facilities permit. Composting operations include:

   a. Windrow composting;

   b. Aerated or non-aerated static pile composting; and

   c. Enclosed or within-vessel composting.

4. Food and Drink Manufacturing. Any facility in which processed livestock and agricultural products are transformed into food or drink products for eventual consumption. Examples include, but are not limited to, animal food manufacturing; beverage manufacturing; dairy product manufacturing, ice manufacturing; fruit and vegetable preserving, grain and oilseed milling; specialty food manufacturing, seafood product preparation and packaging, and sugar and confectionery product manufacturing. This excludes breweries, distilleries, and wineries which are included in the Alcoholic Beverage Manufacturing use category.

5. Heavy Manufacturing. An establishment engaged in manufacturing, assembly, fabrication, packaging, or other industrial processing of products primarily from extracted or raw materials or the bulk storage and handling of such products and materials, or an industrial establishment having the potential to produce noise, dust, glare, odors, smoke or vibration beyond its property line. This term includes, but is not limited to: (a) processing and packaging of alcoholic beverages; (b) chemical manufacturing; (c) stonework or concrete product manufacturing; (d) fabrication of metal products; (e) manufacturing of agricultural, construction, or mining machinery; (f) motor vehicle manufacturing; (g) lumber milling; (h) ship or boat construction; (i) permanent concrete/batch plant. Manufacturing uses that do not have the potential to produce these impacts are considered Light Manufacturing.

6. Mixed Organics Composting Facilities. Mixed organics composting facilities are centers that produce a humus-like material under a process of managed biological decomposition from green materials, leaves, tree trimmings, untreated wood, shrubbery cuttings, kelp, other plant material, manure, or urea that has been source-separated from the municipal solid waste stream.

7. Green Materials or Mixed Organic Composting Facility. Any facility in which processes source-separated organic materials to a stabilized state through controlled biological decomposition where the resultant material is beneficial to plant growth or soil structure when used as a soil amendment. Materials may initially be chipped, shredded, and/or screened on site prior to being composted. Composting may be conducted in an in-vessel system or in the open.

8. Artisan Manufacturing, production and industrial service. Artisan manufacturing includes products where the direct manual contribution of the artisan or worker remains the most substantial component of the finished product.

9. Light Manufacturing. Light manufacturing includes the fabrication, manufacturing, assembly or processing of materials that are in already processed form.

10. Technological Support Services. Includes research, development, and application of digital technologies, such as server hosting, telework centers, and end-of-line product testing.

11. Scooter and Motorcycles. Scooter and motorcycles are those two-wheeled vehicles requiring an M1 or M2 driver's license.

(ORD-26-0018 § 1, 2026; ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

CHAPTER 22.12 DISTRICTS ESTABLISHED

22.12.010 Districts designated.

The incorporated territory of the City of Long Beach is divided into the land use districts indicated in Section 22.12.040 in order to regulate the location of residences, businesses and industries; the location of buildings and structures; the uses of land; the height and bulk of buildings; the area of yards and other open space facilities; and off-street parking facilities.

(ORD-26-0018 § 2, 2026; ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.12.020 Regulations for all districts.

These Zoning Regulations divide the City into districts within which the location, height and bulk of buildings or structures and the uses of buildings, structures or land are regulated as specified.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.12.030 Use District Map Adopted.

Pursuant to Section 21.30.030 of the Zoning Regulations, the use districts and the boundaries of such districts are shown upon a map consisting of thirty (30) parts, being numbered consecutively from 1 to 30, containing the districts which are established by Chapter 21.30 and this Chapter. The use district map is on file in the office of the Department of Community Development, and said map and all notations, references and other information shown on it, including the index map and the chart showing the symbols and legends employed, are incorporated by reference and shall be deemed as much as part of this Title as if the matters and information set forth by the map were fully described in this Chapter.

(ORD-26-0018 § 3, 2026; ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.12.040 Zoning Districts.

The following zoning districts are established to support a healthy, active area with a variety of uses that support a full-service community along corridors and at activity nodes:

A. Mixed use. The following zones are established to foster and support multi-modal mixed-use corridors that provide daily needs, goods, and services in walkable proximity to established residential neighborhoods.

1. Residential Mixed-Use 3 (RMU3 and RMU3-A) zones are residentially focused and permit a range of residential configurations with limited neighborhood-serving non-residential uses. Uses may be configured in a horizontal or vertical mixed-use format.

2. Residential Mixed-Use 4 (RMU4 and RMU4-A) zones are residentially focused and permit higher density residential uses in areas where multi-family housing is currently the dominant use. These zones permit intensification of existing residential areas to increase housing opportunities and introduce neighborhood-serving, non-residential uses in proximity to residents.

3. Mixed-Use 1 (MU-1 and MU-1-A) zones provide for medium-scale, mixed-use development as a transition between residential and mixed-use nodes. These zones permit mixed residential and non-residential uses in a wide variety of configurations.

4. Mixed-Use 2 (MU-2, MU-2-A, and MU-M) zones provide for neighborhood activity centers and "main street" corridors in proximity to bus routes and multi-modal corridors. These zones permit horizontal and vertical mixed-use appropriately scaled for adjacent neighborhoods.

5. Mixed-Use 3 (MU-3 and MU-3-A) zones provide for the highest intensity neighborhood activity centers in proximity to bus routes and multi-modal corridors. These zones permit horizontal and vertical mixed-use scaled for the highest intensity uses that benefit from transit proximity and pedestrian activity.

B. Commercial. The following commercial-only zones are established:

1. Commercial 3 (C3, C3-A, and C-M) zones are non-residential zones that support the transition of larger format industrial/light industrial development to community-level commercial uses. These zones permit non-residential development, scaled to the neighborhood setting, with a range of services and employment uses and intensities.

C. Multi-family residential. The following multi-family zones are established to provide highly desirable housing options for a range of needs and encourage a wide variety of multi-family housing products:

1. Multi-Family Residential - Low (MFR-L) zones allow for a variety of lower-density residential configurations with very limited small neighborhood-serving non-residential uses along residential corridors.

2. Multi-Family Residential - Moderate (MFR-M) zones are residential zones that encourage moderate density infill development and limited small neighborhood-serving non-residential uses along residential corridors.

D. Neo-industrial. The following zones are established to implement the Neo-industrial Place Type in the General Plan. The neo-industrial zones are intended to allow light industrial, small and evolving industries, manufacturing, clean non-nuisance industries, and office uses that support these industries. The following zones are established to foster and support a mix of uses for clean non-nuisance industrial and support businesses:

1. Neo-Industrial 1 (NI-1) zones are intended to allow primarily light industrial uses such as manufacturing, small and incubator businesses, research and development, technology and support uses to promote transition to cleaner industries.

2. Neo-Industrial 2 (NI-2) zones are intended to allow a mix of light industrial and commercial uses to support clean industry and a broad economic base. Light industrial uses would be permitted throughout the zone. Commercial uses are allowed in conjunction with industrial uses. Commercial uses would include office, retail stores, eating and drinking establishments and other accessory uses.

Editor's note—Formerly entitled "Purpose and Intent," which was retitled and amended by § 4 of ORD-26-0018.

CHAPTER 22.13 SPECIFIC PROCEDURES

22.13.100 Site Plan Review.

The site plan review process is established to meet certain community goals which are, among others, to ensure that the highest quality of land planning and design are incorporated into development projects, to ensure that new projects are compatible with existing neighborhoods in terms of scale, style and construction materials, and to ensure the maintenance, restoration, enhancement and protection of the environment.

A. Standard. The following projects shall require site plan review:

1. Residential. The following residential projects require site plan review:

a. Ten (10) or more units as one (1) project. This includes both new construction, as well as additions or adaptive reuse projects. This includes side by side projects by the same applicant where the total of new plus existing units equals ten (10) or more;

b. Any project proposing to utilize the incentive program established for very low and low income households; and

2. Commercial. The following commercial projects require site plan review:

a. New buildings of one thousand (1,000) square feet or more;

b. Additions of one thousand (1,000) square feet or more to an existing commercial building. However, an addition of up to five thousand (5,000) square feet may be permitted without site plan review if the addition is less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the floor area of the existing building and is not visible from a public way;

c. Exterior remodeling of a building where the affected area consists of fifty feet (50') or more of building frontage in the C3 district.

d. Commercial storage uses; and

e. Attached/roof-mounted cellular and personal communication services.

3. Public assembly use. Industrial or public assembly use projects with five thousand (5,000) square feet or more of floor area of new construction.

4. Neo-Industrial Zoning District. Properties within the NI zones shall be subject to Site Plan Review based on the following:

   a. New buildings or additions to existing buildings located on a lot totaling fifteen thousand (15,000) square feet or more.

   b. Parking threshold. Any off-street parking area addition or reconfiguration of more than ten (10) parking spaces or more than 2,500 square feet of surface area.

5. Adaptive Reuse. Projects involving the reuse of existing spaces, structures or buildings as allowed under California Health and Safety Code Section 17958.11 for joint living and work quarters (live-work) or as allowed in Chapter 18.63, and subject to the Special Development Standards in Section 22.15.010.B.

6. Project on City land. All new construction projects with building floor area of five hundred (500) square feet or greater except roadway and utility maintenance or improvements.

7. Sign standards waiver requests. The City recognizes the visual and aesthetic importance that signage has on a development. Signage plays a crucial role in not only identifying the tenants of a particular space, but also in defining and shaping the unique architectural character and identity of a project, and ultimately, the streetscape. To this end, this sign standards waiver section has been introduced. The intent of this provision is to allow a greater amount of creativity and flexibility in the creation, design, and application of signage on developments beyond the established sign standards. The following sign projects shall require site plan review:

   a. Individual sign review requests for waiver of established sign standards;

   b. Sign programs as defined in Subsection 21.44.035.C; and

   c. Changeable copy signs.

B. Conceptual Site Plan Review. The following projects shall also be required to apply for conceptual site plan review prior to filing for site plan review:

1. Residential. Residential projects of fifty (50) or more units;

2. Commercial, Neo-Industrial, industrial or public assembly. Projects of fifty thousand (50,000) square feet or more of new construction;

3. Project on City land. Projects of one thousand (1,000) square feet or more of new construction.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.13.104 Adjustment Process.

This Section establishes procedures for conducting review and approval of the Adjustment Process established by Title 22 of the Zoning Code.

A. Purpose. If a project cannot comply with one or more of the development standards of the applicable zoning district, an Adjustment may be granted when an applicant proposes a modification to the project that substantially conforms with the intent of the regulation.

B. Adjustment. Authority of the Zoning Administrator with Appeals to the Planning Commission. If an application fails to conform to one or more of the development standards of the applicable zoning district, the Zoning Administrator shall have initial decision-making authority to grant an Adjustment in accordance with Chapter 21.21, Administrative Procedures, of this Code.

C. Application. An adjustment procedure provided for in this Title 22 may be initiated by application of the owner of any real property in the City directly affected by the procedure, or their authorized agent. Applications and fees for the Adjustment Process shall be submitted in accordance with the provisions set forth in Chapter 21.21.201 of the Zoning Code. The Zoning Administrator may request that the Adjustment Process application be accompanied by a written narrative, plans, and other related materials necessary to show that the proposed development, alteration, or use of the site complies with the intent of the regulation.

D. Filing Fee. A filing fee shall accompany each application as required by Section 21.21.701 of the Zoning Code.

E. Complete Application. No application shall be considered complete until applicable forms are filed, the required fee is paid, and additional information as required by the Director of Community Development, is received. The Director of Community Development shall determine when an application is complete, and the determination of the Director shall be final.

F. Determination. If the Zoning Administrator determines that the requested adjustment conforms with the intent of the regulation, the Director shall issue written notice of the Adjustment Process determination within 30 days of the date of receipt of a completed application. An approved Adjustment may include attachments of other written or graphic information, including but not limited to, statements, numeric data, site plans, floor plans and building elevations and sections, as a record of the proposal's conformity with the intent of this Code.

1. Limitations. An Adjustment shall be limited to deviations from regulations which do not substantially alter the execution or intent of those regulations as applicable to a proposed Project. An Adjustment shall be limited to 20 percent of the established development standard or as specified in Title 22.

2. Conditions for Approval. In approving an Adjustment, the Zoning Administrator may impose those conditions they deem necessary to remedy a disparity of privileges and that are necessary to protect the public health, safety or welfare and assure compliance with the objectives of the General Plan and the purpose and intent of the regulations of the applicable Zoning District.

3. Findings. The determination by the Zoning Administrator shall include written findings in support or denial of the determination. In order to approve a proposed project pursuant to this Section, the Zoning Administrator must find that:

   a. There are special circumstances applicable to the project or project site which make the strict application of the subject development standard(s) impractical;

   b. In granting the Adjustment, the Zoning Administrator has imposed project requirements and/or decided that the proposed project will substantially comply with the purpose and intent of all applicable regulations;

   c. In granting the Adjustment, the Zoning Administrator has considered and found no detrimental effects of the Adjustment on surrounding properties and public rights-of-way;

   d. The project is compatible with the neighborhood character of the surrounding district; and

   e. The project is consistent with relevant policies of the General Plan.

G. Appeals. Adjustment Process decisions are subject to the appeal provisions of Chapter 21.21, Appeals.

H. Effective Date. A decision that an Adjustment has been granted shall be effective when such a decision is made by the Zoning Administrator, or their designee, unless the decision is appealed within 10 days of the decision.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

CHAPTER 22.15 USES

22.15.010 General Provisions.

A. Permitted Uses. The Permitted Use tables establish the land use permissions applicable to the zones identified within this Section. Use permissions shall be applicable to all existing and new uses, structures, and activities within the identified zone.

Prior to the establishment of any land use identified in the tables of this Chapter, the applicant shall obtain all necessary approvals and permits in compliance with all applicable requirements of this Zoning Code.

B. Adaptive Reuse Projects. The application of the regulations of this Section and interpretation of standards should support adaptive reuse projects, to the extent practical, to meet the development, economic, parking, access, and mobility needs of the community. The intent of the adaptive reuse is to allow conversion of existing structures to new land uses that maintain or enhance the character of a neighborhood or district, extend the life of the building, reduce use of new construction materials and reduce construction waste generated, and provide additional employment or housing opportunities in appropriate and compatible locations.

1. Land Use. Any residential or non-residential use permitted in the MU-1, MU-2, or MU-3 zone (or the A-Series version of these zones, as applicable) shall be permitted in adaptive reuse projects as of the effective date of the zone change, with the following exceptions:

    a. No new residential uses shall be introduced through adaptive reuse into any industrial zone.

    b. Any discretionary review, including an Administrative Use Permit or Conditional Use Permit required within the MU-1, MU-2, or MU-3 zone (or the A-Series version of these zones, as applicable) for a particular use, is required for an adaptive reuse project.

    c. Existing buildings within the NI-1 or NI-2 zoning districts, shall be permitted to be adaptively reused to any use permitted within the NI-1 or NI-2 Zones.

    d. Any request for a land use not explicitly allowed within the specified zones as part of an adaptive reuse project shall require an Administrative Use Permit, subject to the procedures of Section 21.25 (Specific Procedures) of the Title 21 Zoning Regulations

2. Setbacks. Existing principal structures with non-conforming setbacks may remain. Any additions or facade changes involving greater than twenty-five (25) continuous linear feet of exterior wall facing a public right-of-way shall comply with zoning setbacks, unless waived with written findings of fact by the Site Plan Review Committee.

3. Heights. Heights of existing buildings shall be exempt from established height limits. The addition of parapets or roof structures, equipment or other enclosures or non-habitable space is allowed. Any new or additional habitable space or floors shall comply with height limits of the underlying zoning district, unless waived with written findings of fact by the Site Plan Review Committee.

4. Residential Density. Density limitations are not applicable to adaptive reuse projects.

5. Floor Area Ratio (FAR). Adaptive reuse projects are exempt from the FAR limitations of the underlying zoning.

6. Existing Parking. The overall number of existing parking spaces on-site shall be maintained. An exception for a reduction in existing parking for purposes of providing required ADA parking and access or to accommodate Electric Vehicle (EV) charging equipment shall be allowed by right.

7. Required Parking in General. No additional on-site parking shall be required for conversion to residential or commercial uses. Parking for all other uses shall be provided at the rate of 25% of the parking required in Table 30-3, for adaptive reuse projects in designated parking impacted areas. The following shall also apply:

    a. In mixed use adaptive reuse projects, the first six thousand (6,000) square feet of non-residential space shall be exempt from parking requirements.

b. Tandem parking is allowed up to fifty percent (50%) of provided spaces.

c. Shared parking arrangements shall conform to LBMC Section 21.41.222 - Off-site parking or Section 21.41.223.A - Parking-Joint Use of Parking Facility.

d. Any reduction in provided parking beyond the minimums above shall be approved by the Site Plan Review Committee.

8. Parking Incentives. Additional parking reductions for incentivized uses and conversion of historic landmark buildings, as set forth in Section 22.15.010.B.7 and Table 30-3, shall also apply.

9. Other provisions. Landscaping, Open Space, and any other applicable development standards of the underlying zone would have to be complied with, unless infeasible for a proposed project or waived by the Site Plan Review Committee.

C. Prohibited Uses. Uses not listed in this chapter are prohibited, unless determined to be similar compatible uses, consistent with Section 22.15.010.D below.

D. Unlisted or Similar Compatible Uses. Any land use that is not specifically listed in this chapter for the applicable zone shall not be permitted within the zone. However, the Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to determine whether the proposed use may be permitted when all the following findings are made by the Zoning Administrator in writing:

1. The characteristics of, and activities associated with, the proposed use are equivalent to and compatible with, one or more of the listed permitted uses and will not involve a higher level of activity or intensity than the permitted uses.

2. The proposed use is substantially similar to a listed permitted use.

3. The proposed use is compatible with the purpose and intent of the applicable zone.

4. The proposed use has similar traffic, noise, light, odor, and other operational impacts as a listed permitted use.

5. The operation of the proposed use will not be detrimental to existing uses in the area of influence.

E. Temporary Uses. Any temporary use not specifically regulated by this Chapter shall be governed by the applicable regulations as set forth elsewhere in the Long Beach Municipal Code.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.15.020 Land Use Operations.

Mixed-use development requires special attention to the compatibility and livability amongst all uses within a building and the adjacent uses/buildings. Within the mixed-use Zones:

1. No operations conducted on any property shall create objectionable and/or noxious dust, light, matter, mud, noise, odor, refuse, smoke, steam, vibration, maintenance needs of grounds or buildings, or other nuisance(s).

2. No land use shall be detrimental to the health and welfare of the surrounding community. See Site Design Standards and referenced use standards sections for further requirements.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.15.030 Permit Requirements—Permitted Uses.

CHAPTER 22.20 SPECIFIC USE STANDARDS

22.20.010 Alcoholic Beverage Sales.

The following alcoholic beverage sales may be exempted from the Conditional Use Permit requirement:

A. Restaurants with alcoholic beverage service only with meals. This generally means any use with a fixed bar is not exempt. A service bar is not considered a fixed bar. For example, a sushi bar, where alcoholic beverages are served at the same bar where meals are served, is considered serving alcoholic beverages only with meal service. A cocktail lounge without a bar, but with primarily service of only hors d'oeuvres and alcoholic beverages is not exempt.

B. Grocery stores with accessory sale of alcoholic beverages. For the purposes of this provision, grocery stores are defined as retail establishments for which more than seventy percent (70%) of the floor area is dedicated to selling food, and no more than thirty percent (30%) of the floor area is dedicated to selling alcohol.

C. Existing legal, nonconforming uses.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.020 Car Wash.

A. Washing area (machine/drive-through area) shall be located away from the Primary Street Frontage. The primary building, or area of the building intended for occupancy or sales, shall be located between the washing area and the Primary Street Frontage. Where this is not possible, the setback to the primary building shall be less than the setback to the washing area.

B. Outdoor washing area and vehicle queuing shall not occur in the following locations.

1. Between the building and the primary frontage.

2. Less than twenty (20) feet from an existing residential property line.

C. When located adjacent to a residential use, provisions shall be made to minimize noise, light, and odor impacts on the adjacent residential use. This may include a sound buffering acoustic wall and/or separation by a physical barrier.

D. Driveway cuts shall be limited to a maximum of one (1) per street frontage and a maximum width of twenty-four (24) feet.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.030 Entertainment Uses, Accessory to a Restaurant or Food Service Use.

A. Size limitations.

1. Accessory entertainment use shall be limited to forty percent (40%) or less of the customer service floor area and limited to a ground floor or subterranean use.

2. Within mixed-use buildings this use shall not exceed nine thousand (9,000) Sq. Ft GFA and shall be limited to a ground floor or subterranean use. Greater than nine thousand (9,000) Sq. Ft. GFA shall be prohibited in a mixed-use building with residential uses.

B. Enclosure. All entertainment shall be conducted completely within the enclosed portion of the structure, unless separately permitted.

C. Accessibility. Entertainment or other activities shall not block patron or service accessibility pathways.

D. Music and Lighting. Music-related entertainment, or entertainment including special lighting demonstrations, shall have limited operating hours between seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m., unless modified through an approved Conditional Use Permit.

E. Residential adjacent conditions. Business hours shall be limited to between seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m., unless otherwise modified through a Conditional Use Permit, where a use is located within five hundred (500) feet of an existing residential property.

F. Mixed-use conditions. Business hours shall be determined at the time of permit issuance for uses occurring within mixed-use buildings that include residential uses. Noise and vibration mitigations may be identified and required in lieu of business hour limitations subject to City regulations.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.040 Fleet Services and Towing.

A. All the following standards shall apply to the storage or operation of two (2) or more fleet or towing vehicles.

1. Where a primary building is located on site, the building shall be located between the vehicle storage area and the Primary Street Frontage.

2. Enclosed or garaged vehicle storage is preferred but not required.

3. In no case shall fleet or towing vehicles be parked less than ten (10) feet from an existing stand-alone single-family or multi-family property.

4. Auto repair of any kind or intensity is prohibited on site unless the repair use has been individually permitted on the parcel.

5. Chain link fencing and razor wire is prohibited.

B. Related to non-emergency transport services:

1. Storage and parking of one tow truck shall be permitted. Storage or parking of two (2) or more trucks qualifies as fleet vehicle storage.

2. Limousine services are permitted as an accessory use to a primary hotel use, consistent with the Land Use Tables 15-2, 15-3, and 15-4.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.045 Food and Drink Manufacturing.

A food and drink manufacturing facility shall be subject to the following standards:

A. Accessory retail sales are permitted.

B. All storage shall be within an enclosed building, tank, or silo, or screened from the public right-of-way by fences, walls, or landscaping.

C. Stored items shall not be stacked to a height that exceeds the height of the screening.

D. If the establishment is adjacent to residential development, Sales, service, product consumptions, and outdoor activities shall only occur between 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m..

E. Shipping and receiving activities shall only occur between 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m.

F. Facilities must adhere to the operational performance standards contained in this Chapter.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.050 Manufacture of Products Sold On-Site.

Artisanal and limited-production manufacture of goods is permitted where the impacts of the use (noise, light, odor, temperature, vibration, loading/unloading, storage, etc.) are compatible with the mixed-use setting of these zones and do not interfere with the daily operation of adjacent residential and non-residential uses subject to the following standards.

A. Manufacturing processes that result in vibrations, noise, or emissions inconsistent with residential habitation are prohibited within a residence. This includes, but is not limited to, cabinetry, upholstery, textile dying, welding, and metal fabrication. Such uses may be permitted in a live-work unit consistent with building code standards.

B. This use shall be limited to an accessory use in live-work/artist studio with residence/shopkeeper units, and basic sales and services uses, except in the C3 Zone.

C. Manufacturing space shall not exceed seventy percent (70%) of the gross square footage (GFA) of the basic sales and services use.

D. All manufacturing and production of products, including storage of materials and completed products, shall be conducted within an enclosed structure and shall not be located closer than twenty (20) feet to a residential-only use.

E. When located adjacent to a residential use, provisions shall be made to minimize noise, light, and odor impacts on the adjacent residential use. This may include a sound buffering acoustic wall and/or separation by a physical barrier.

F. Use of outdoor generators is prohibited.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.060 Motorcycle/Scooter/Jet Ski Sales.

A. Sales facilities are limited to indoor showrooms only.

B. Oil changes and minor on-site repair of tires, lights, etc. are allowed.

C. On-site engine repair and engine demonstrations is prohibited; drop-off for off-site repair is allowed.

D. A Conditional Use Permit is required when located above the 1st floor.

E. Sales facilities must comply with all requirements of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.070 Green Materials or Mixed Organic Composting Facility.

A green materials or mixed organic composting facility may be permitted subject to the following standards:

A. Operational Standards

1. All materials shall be stored in an on-site enclosed building or in self-contained moveable bins (roll off or steel bins).

2. All materials stored outdoors shall be screened from public view. If the facility is located adjacent to contiguous industrial property, screening is only necessary along the street frontages.

3. Facility operator shall, at all times, maintain accurate and complete records of the amounts and types of recyclable material delivered to the facility, the amounts and types of composting material shipped offsite, and the amount of residual material bound for disposal.

4. Facility owner/operator shall be continually responsible for removal of all litter generated by the composting operation. The facility shall be swept at the end of each business day.

5. Facility owner/operator shall be responsible for any litter blowing from the recycling facility to neighboring properties.

6. Facility owner/operator shall control dust generated from the facility to the maximum extent feasible. Dust control measures may include, but are not limited to, misting systems, water trucks, manual or mechanical sweeping and use of negative ventilation.

7. Operating hours, including the collection and transportation of receptacles, shall not exceed 6:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. when located within 500 feet of the boundary of a residential zoned or occupied property.

8. Every operator of a composting facility shall provide written proof of legal access to on-site restroom facilities for employees and customers and must be posted inside of the building.

9. Heavy machinery used to move materials on the subject property, shall only occur within the permitted business hours.

10. All facilities shall display on the exterior a notice stating that no material shall be left outside the facility.

11. No processing of materials is permitted outside of enclosed buildings.

12. Materials (processed or unprocessed) cannot be unloaded directly on the ground and must be unloaded indoors for processing or directly into self-contained movable bins.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.080 Office, Non-Medical in Neo-Industrial Zones.

Area limitation. Office use may constitute up to 50 percent of the gross floor area of a business in the NI Zones; this is intended to allow for flexibility of use and a higher concentration of employees on-site than traditional industrial zones.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.090 Outdoor Dining.

Outdoor dining may be provided along segments of the building's front façade that are set back from the property line and may be located within the setback or on the public sidewalk. If located on the public sidewalk, a Public Sidewalk Occupancy Permit must be obtained, as outlined in the Municipal Code Chapter 14.14. The standards in Municipal Code Chapter 14.14 must be followed, including the following requirements.

A. A continuous, unobstructed path of travel must be provided to facilitate pedestrian movement within the public right-of-way.

B. Awnings that project more than six (6) feet into the public right-of-way, or that are designed to require ground support are prohibited.

C. Retractable or movable shade devices are permitted.

D. Outdoor dining shall not be fully enclosed.

Parking standards shall be based on the square footage of the indoor restaurant use; no additional parking shall be required related to outdoor dining.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.100 Pop-Up Shop/Itinerant Vendor.

A. This use shall comply with all signage standards of the municipal code.

B. Parking standards shall be based on the square footage of the permanent space hosting the vendor; no additional parking shall be required on an individual vendor basis.

C. May be conducted in conjunction with a vending cart subject to permit requirements.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.20.110 Vending Carts.

A. Operating hours for all uses shall be limited between the hours of seven (7:00) a.m. and ten (10:00) p.m., unless modified through an approved Conditional Use Permit.

B. Parking shall not be required for temporary or reoccurring vending carts.

C. Vending cart uses are subject to Section 21.45.170.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

CHAPTER 22.25 SPECIAL USE INCENTIVES (A-SERIES ZONES)

As of the effective date of this ordinance, the following economic development and healthy communities incentives shall be applicable to new development on properties in A-series zoning districts in the 90805 zip code. In all other areas of the City, the Special Use Incentives of the A-series zoning districts may only be applicable in areas that have been designated as Community Development Block Grant Areas by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. If a project utilizes multiple incentive options, the maximum cumulative parking reduction allowed for a project cannot exceed more than thirty percent (30%) of the total required parking for said project.

22.25.010 Education and Institutional Uses.

The gross square footage (GFA) of the ground floor educational, community-based non-profits, and institutional uses (including schools, libraries, museums, government Offices, facilities, or civic uses), of up to nine thousand (9,000) Sq. Ft. GFA, shall not count toward the maximum FAR of a parcel or project if the following conditions are met:

A. The use is located primarily on the ground floor (use may be multi-story, only ground floor GFA shall be exempted).

B. The ground floor occupancy is designed to meet the Design of Ground Floor Retail and Pedestrian-Oriented Uses standards of Sections 22.30.060.A and 22.30.060.B.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.25.020 Grocery and Food Markets.

Establishment and maintenance of stores that sell fresh foods in proximity to established neighborhoods should be incentivized.

A. Minimum Fresh Foods Requirement. Any grocery or food market that devotes thirty percent (30%) or more of selling space to perishable fresh food items shall qualify to utilize the following incentives. Incentives may be used individually or together where the configuration requirements are met.

B. Intensity Incentive. The total gross square footage (GFA) of a grocery market shall not count toward the maximum FAR of a parcel or project.

C. Parking Incentives if not within a high-quality transit area per AB 2097. Grocery market required parking spaces:

1. Shall be counted as guest spaces for any residential units developed as part of a horizontal or vertical mixed-use project;

2. Shall reduce by one (1) space per one thousand (1,000) Sq. Ft. if located within a one quarter (1/4) mile of a transit stop and bicycle parking is provided on-site, or if the grocery market is developed in a vertical mixed-use format;

3. The two incentives listed above may be used individually or together where the configuration requirements are met.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.25.040 Community Benefits.

Projects that provide the following community benefits may qualify for development incentives:

A. Commercial space incentives for workforce development employment strategies. Projects which provide commercial space for enterprises that employ through a local workforce development organization, including the Pacific Gateway Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Network (PGWIN), shall qualify for incentives, subject to the following:

1. Employment of PGWIN trainees will be a requirement of the occupier of qualified commercial space for a minimum of five (5) years.

2. Annual certification of compliance with the above shall be completed through PGWIN and provided to the Planning Bureau.

B. Historic market commercial rents for community businesses. Projects which provide commercial rents at a historic market rate to existing local businesses shall qualify for the corresponding incentives, subject to the following:

1. "Historic market rate" rents shall be defined as the average per-square-foot market rent for the local market for the last three (3) years prior to the proposed lease agreement. Maximum annual rent increase shall be limited to four percent (4%);

2. An existing local business shall provide evidence of business history, including business license history, with the City of Long Beach of at least five (5) years in the corresponding local market, to the satisfaction of the Department of Community Development; and

3. Submit annual certification of the lease agreement rate to the City of Long Beach Department of Community Development; a minimum commercial lease length of five (5) years is required to qualify.

C. For projects that comply with either or both of the community benefit requirements, said projects will qualify to have the corresponding commercial space(s) exempted from maximum floor area limitations and parking requirements.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.25.050 Climate Mitigation and Adaptation Incentives.

A. The City of Long Beach seeks to minimize future greenhouse gas emissions from the building sector while lessening the impact of climate change stressors on the local community, including extreme heat, air quality, drought and flooding. In addition to meeting all Green Building Standards contained in Section 21.45.400, parking incentives may be provided to one hundred percent (100%) non-residential projects that demonstrate additional strategies to reduce GHG emissions or to lessen the impact of documented climate stressors on the local community.

B. Projects may qualify for reduction in parking requirements in exchange for providing on-site or off-site climate mitigation or adaptation measures commensurate with the savings associated with the requested parking reduction, up to a maximum parking reduction of thirty five percent (35%). Measures must meet the geographic needs of the local community as demonstrated in the City's Climate Action and Adaptation Plan. Eligible measures include but are not limited to:

1. Tree planting.

2. Photocatalytic tiles to improve air quality.

3. Cool roof and/or cool wall materials.

4. On-site solar installations (for example as shade structures over parking spaces).

5. Bus shelter amenity improvements.

6. Additional bicycle amenities.

CHAPTER 22.30 GENERAL PROVISIONS - DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS (RMU, MU, C ZONES)

22.30.010 Applicability and General Development Standards.

Tables 30-1 through 30-6 of this Chapter establish development standards.

A. Applicability. Tables 30-1 through 30-6 denote development standards for all RMU, MU and C zones. Regulations in these tables also apply to all sub-zones. For example, RMU3 regulations apply to RMU3, RMU3-A and any future RMU3 sub-zones.

B. Intensity (FAR). The intensity of non-residential development shall meet the established minimum required FAR and shall not exceed the maximum FAR.

1. Area dedicated to parking structures and residential uses shall not be included in the FAR calculation.

2. Mixed-use development shall not be subject to the minimum FAR requirement of Table 30-1.

C. Density (residential). Residential development density is not designated by any single standard but is calculated based on meeting the development standards delineated in Chapter 22.30, including but not limited to, building height, setbacks, parking, and open space. Density levels correlate to the General Plan in the aggregate and may vary from individual lot to lot.

D. Building Height. Building height shall be regulated by maximum number of stories and the dimensional height of the structure.

1. Building height shall be measured as the vertical distance between the adjacent sidewalk grade and highest point of the parapet (for flat roofs), or the average height of the highest and lowest ridge point of the top floor roof line (gable, pitch, hip, or other non-flat roof) that does not add to the useable square footage to the building.

2. Measurement of building height shall exclude the following features:

a. Vertical architectural projections (building elements added for architectural interest without adding interior floor area, such as towers and cupolas), not to exceed ten (10) feet above parapet height.

b. Horizontal architectural projections which cantilever five (5) feet or less from the exterior wall (or rooftop feature) shall not be included as part of the exterior wall line.

c. Rooftop guard rails or parapet walls of up to 42 inches in height.

d. Permanent unenclosed roof deck features located two (2) feet or more from the exterior wall plane (including shade or partial covering structures, or similar features) up to fifty percent (50%) of the principal building footprint.

e. All mechanical equipment (including solar panels or other alternative energy equipment/ infrastructure, elevator and mechanical equipment penthouses, and all associated screening features) up to 12 feet in vertical projection.

f. Subterranean and semi-subterranean parking.

(ORD-26-0018 § 7, 2026; ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

Editor's note—ORD-26-0018 § 7, amended § 22.30.010 including the title to read as herein set out. The former § 22.30.010 was entitled "Tables 30-1 through 30-6 of this Title establish development standards."

22.30.020 Frontage Requirements.

A. In addition to the development standards of Table 30-2, the building character and building frontage requirements of Sections 22.30.050 and 22.30.060 shall apply to all development.

B. Active Ground Floor Urban Design Standards, Activating Uses, and Pedestrian-Oriented Uses are regulated as a minimum required percentage of block length. Standards are established in Table 30-2.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.030 Development Sites.

A. Development created through lot consolidation shall be developed as a unified site.

B. Consolidation of sites is permitted in accordance with the regulations of Title 20.

C. At the time of lot consolidation, the new development site shall identify primary and secondary (if applicable) frontages.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.040 Screening Required.

A. Screening per Section 21.32.225 shall be required for non-residential and mixed-use development.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.050 General Building Character.

Potential street frontage conditions are based on the following standards.

A. New construction and renovations shall be subject to the requirements of Section 21.45.400 (Green Building Standards) based on project type and gross square footage thresholds as outlined by Section 21.45.400.

B. Continuous blank walls, without windows, doors, or any other architectural articulation, shall be limited to fifty (50) feet, measured horizontally. Architectural articulation may include:

1. Use variation and expression of building details, form, line, colors, and materials to create visual interest.

2. Express individual units through building design wherever possible. This may be accomplished in a variety of ways, such as through use of balconies, or a change in wall plane, and/or color, and/or roof form.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.060 Active Ground Floor Urban Design Standards and Active Use Requirements.

Primary and Secondary building frontages (frontage definition, Section 22.30.140) shall incorporate urban design standards that can accommodate active retail and pedestrian-oriented ground floor uses per the percentage requirements of Table 30-2.

For the purposes of this section land uses that generate environments that are engaging to visit and that have pedestrian access are uses that are "active." Activating uses are required to be incorporated into ground floor building designs. Activating uses are further specified in Section 22.30.060.B.

A. Frontage Standards. The following conditions and standards shall apply to all Primary and Secondary Frontage setbacks:

1. Street wall. At least 50% of the primary street facing façade of a building at the ground floor shall be located within 10 feet of the property line. Minimum required and maximum allowed setback standards can be found in Table 30-2.

2. Corner cut-off. Additional standards for a required corner cut-off apply in accordance with Sections 21.31.215 and 21.32.220 of the Zoning Regulations.

3. Maximum finish floor height. Finish floor height for the first story of all non-residential or mixed-use buildings shall be within three (3) feet of curb grade.

4. Exception for sidewalk-accessible above-grade entrances. A residential building may have a finish floor height more than three (3) feet above curb grade, when creating a stoop or porch frontage directly accessible from the sidewalk. This finish floor height may be applied to individual unit entrances and multi-family residential units with a shared entrance, provided that disabled access requirements, as administered by the Building Official, may be met.

5. Blank Walls. Continuous blank walls, without windows, doors, or any other architectural articulation, shall be limited to twenty (20) feet in length, measured horizontally.

B. Active Ground Floor Requirements. Active ground floor condition requirements are established in Table 30-2 which can be satisfied by inclusion of the following pedestrian-oriented activating uses and/or the incorporation of the urban design standards of this Section. Activating uses include active uses that are accessible to the public and contribute to a high level of pedestrian activity in the public realm. Activating uses include but are not limited to the following, but shall only be permitted if the use is permitted in the applicable zoning district. The Zoning Administrator is authorized to determine if an unlisted use or feature constitutes an activating ground floor use and if it is consistent with the uses permitted by the zoning district.

1. Publicly accessible open space.

2. Restaurants and food service (not drive through).

3. Outdoor dining areas.

4. Entertainment.

5. Civic and community services (library, museum, non-profit, services, etc.).

6. Commercial personal and convenience services.

7. Commercial professional or business support services (walk-in).

8. Commercial retail sales.

9. Neighborhood-serving commercial multipurpose space.

10. Grocery or food market.

11. Medical office or clinic.

12. Veterinary clinic.

13. Urgent care facility/minor-medical services.

14. Assembly or religious assembly.

15. College, university, business or professional school.

16. Community Center/Senior Center, and other related recreation or neighborhood serving facilities.

17. Leasing or property management office.

18. Live or movie theater.

19. Daycare center or pre-school.

20. Gallery/experience/demonstration space.

21. Fitness or health facility.

22. Hotel.

23. Building lobby or building common area.

24. Bed and breakfast inn.

25. Youth hostel.

C. The following residential uses qualify as activating uses.

1. Residential use with patio, stoop, porch or other architectural entrance feature facing primary and secondary frontages on the ground floor.

2. Live-work/artist studio with residence/shopkeeper.

3. Residential lobbies, amenity spaces, recreation rooms, and community rooms, designed per Section 22.30.070.

(ORD-26-0018 § 8, 2026; ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.070 Ground Floor Urban Design Standards for Retail, Activating, and Pedestrian-Oriented Uses.

The following standards shall apply to the design of retail, activating, and pedestrian-oriented uses:

A. Plate Height. Ground-floor height (floor-to-ceiling) for commercial uses (in a commercial or mixed use zoning district) shall be a minimum of twelve (12) feet, however fifteen (15) feet is encouraged. Ground-floor residential uses are not subject to this standard.

B. Ground Floor Entrances. The primary entrance for all uses shall be located on the primary street-facing frontage of each building, and shall open onto a sidewalk, public open space, or pedestrian pathway that is a minimum of four (4) feet in width and leads directly to the sidewalk. All entrances shall be set back at least thirty inches (30") from the public right-of-way.

1. A primary entrance shall be distinguishable by at least one of the following design features:

   a. An awning or canopy,

   b. A recessed entry, or

   c. Another architectural element or feature that creates a well-defined entrance.

2. Façade architectural and building elements (not including any building area or habitable space) may project over the public right-of-way if approved by the Director of Public Works.

C. Pedestrian Paseos. A retail building in which the rear of the development abuts a public street, and with a building street frontage of greater than two hundred (200) feet, shall provide a pedestrian path from the rear to primary frontage to allow direct pedestrian access to store entrances.

D. Orientation (all uses). Where courtyards, paseos, or greenways are proposed, restaurant, retail, or other uses shall face these spaces with at least one element of windows, front doors, or outdoor patios, which shall be designed to conform to standards of this Section. This requirement shall apply in addition to the standards for primary and secondary street frontage requirements.

E. Transparency (residential units). A residential building façade on a primary frontage shall be provided with windows for at least fifteen percent (15%) of the building façade on the ground floor. Windows shall have a transmittance factor of at least sixty percent (60%), and a reflectance factor of not greater than twenty-five percent (25%).

F. Transparency (commercial space and residential common/amenity space). A street-facing façade for commercial building area or residential common or amenity area shall be provided with windows for at least thirty percent (30%) of the building façade on the ground floor. Windows should provide views into work, display, and sales areas or a lobby, fitness center, community room, or similar space. Windows shall have a transmittance factor of at least sixty percent (60%), and a reflectance factor of not greater than twenty-five percent (25%).

1. Window area shall be measured as the percentage of the building elevation consisting of window openings between a height of two (2) and ten (10) feet above curb grade. Storefront window systems and glass doors may be included in this calculation.

2. The use of tinted, mirrored, or highly reflective coatings, films, or applications on window glass shall be prohibited.

3. Blinds, drapes, and other window treatments, signs and posters, shelving, boxes, and products, and other visual obstructions shall not obscure more than thirty percent (30%) of the total window area on each building elevation. This requirement shall not apply to treatment or exam areas or corridors of medical offices and other medical uses.

G. Pedestrian-Oriented Features. Awnings, signs, and other projecting building features shall be located at least 8 feet above the adjacent sidewalk or walkway, or higher as required by the Director of Public Works or Building Official. These features may project over the public right-of-way if approved by the Director of Public Works but shall not conflict with any adjacent street trees.

H. Awning Separation. Awnings shall be limited to individual awnings per each building storefront or tenant space, unless a larger awning is approved through the Site Plan Review procedure.

I. Outdoor dining. See Section 22.20.070 for additional standards applicable to outdoor dining.

22.30.080 Additional Standards and Active Use Requirements for Main Street ("-M"-suffix) zoning districts.

The following standards shall apply to all primary and secondary street frontages in the Main Street ("-M"-suffix) zoning districts. Where the standards of this Section overlap with or differ from the standards established in Section 22.30.060 and 22.30.070, the standards of this Section shall take precedence:

A. Ground Floor Residential Units. Residential dwelling units shall be prohibited on the ground floor within thirty-five (35) feet of the primary and secondary street frontage property lines.

B. Ground Floor Unit Depth. Building area (residential or non-residential) with ground floor frontage on the primary and secondary streets shall have an average interior depth of thirty-five (35) feet and a minimum depth of twenty (20) feet, measured to the interior walls.

C. Ground Floor Entrance. A ground floor entrance to non-residential building area or residential common/amenity area shall have a finish floor height not more than eighteen inches (18") above or below curb grade, with no steps or other height changes not compliant with disabled access requirements, as administered by the Building Official.

D. Driveways and Service Access. A driveway or other service access is not permitted from the primary street frontage if other vehicular access to the site is available (see also Section 22.30.090).

E. Street wall. At least sixty-five percent (65%) of the building elevation facing the primary street frontage shall be located within three (3) feet of the property line, except areas of publicly-available open space shall not be counted against this requirement.

F. Plate Height. Ground-floor height (floor-to-ceiling) for commercial uses and residential common/amenity space shall be a minimum of fifteen (15) feet. Ground-floor residential uses are not subject to this standard.

G. Pedestrian-Oriented Features. Awnings, signs, and other projecting building features shall be located at least 8 feet above the adjacent sidewalk or walkway, or higher as required by the Director of Public Works or Building Official. These features may project over the public right-of-way if approved by the Director of Public Works but shall not conflict with any adjacent street trees.

(ORD-26-0018 § 17, 2026)

22.30.090 Parking and Vehicular Access Standards.

A. General Provisions - Parking.

Intent and Outcomes. Parking standards are intended to allow for infill development and adaptive reuse through flexibility of off-street parking location and minimum number of spaces.

B. Parking Requirements.

Table 30-3 establishes minimum vehicle parking requirements by use. No parking will be required if within a high-quality transit area per AB 2097 unless it is a hotel use.

1. Uses not listed, and all loading requirements, shall be regulated by Chapter 21.41 Off Street Parking and Loading Requirements.

2. If different land uses are part of the same project (for example, within vertical mixed-use development combining retail and residential), the parking requirements for each land use are applicable and will be added together to determine the total parking requirements for the project.

3. Minimum parking requirements for residential uses in the RMU3 and RMU4 Zones shall be met; however, parking may be 'unbundled' from individual units.

4. Calculations. In the calculation of parking requirements, fractional numbers of parking spaces, greater than 0.5, shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number.

5. Change of Use. No new parking shall be required for changes of use of any existing square footage within a building more than ten (10) years old. This Section shall not apply to the following uses: hotel, motel, inn, bed and breakfast inn, and event center.

6. Residential parking for all Title 22 zones shall not be required to comply with the garage requirement in Section 21.41.214 of Title 21. Required parking may be provided with enclosed garage, covered and uncovered parking. Covered parking may include parking provided under a carport or in an enclosed garage. Uncovered parking may comprise up to 50% of the required parking of a development project. Uncovered parking may include parking such as surface parking.

C. Parking Setback Standards

Requirements. Table 30-4 establishes minimum required parking setbacks.

Primary Frontage, Surface Parking	20 ft.	20 ft.	20 ft.	20 ft.	25 ft.	20 ft.	Not applicable when usable/livable/leasable space located between curb and parking This standard may be waived for lots with less than a 120 ft. depth, subject to the Screening Requirements contained within Section 22.30.090.
Primary Frontage, Parking Structure	10 ft.	10 ft.	10 ft.	10 ft.	15 ft.	10 ft.	Not applicable when usable/livable/leasable space located between curb and parking This standard may be waived for lots with less than a 120 ft. depth, subject to Section 22.30.090.E (Design of Parking Structures). See Section 22.30.090 for parking structure design guidelines.
Secondary Frontage	6 ft. landscape setback required between sidewalk and parking and shall be landscaped or decoratively hardscaped (not asphalt)						Vehicle shall not overhang sidewalk; see Chapter 21.42, for additional landscape requirements.
Alley	0 ft.
Adjacent To:
Residential District	5 ft.	5 ft.	5 ft.	5 ft.	5 ft.	5 ft.
Non-residential or Mixed-use District	0 ft.

D. Parking Location and Access.

1. Surface parking is not permitted between the building and the Primary Frontage for projects that require Site Plan Review.

2. Surface parking must be located behind the building, internal to the block, wrapped with active uses along the public frontages, or below-grade. Alterations to parking location may be reviewed by the Zoning Administrator through the Adjustment process per Section 22.30.080.

3. Access to parking shall be from side streets or alleys. If access from side streets is not possible due to lot location and/or configuration, the Primary Frontages may be used if pedestrian access and safety are incorporated into the design, as per City Standards.

E. Design of Parking Structures.

1. Screening Requirements

   a. Subject to the following standards, ground story and upper story parking structures and parking garages non-alley frontages must be screened.

   b. Screened Parking Standards-semi-subterranean, ground floor story, and upper story parking screening:

      1) Must be, on average, no less than sixty (60) percent opaque for any individual tier of parking.

2) Openings in screens must be four inches or less in at least one (1) dimension.

3) Upper story parking screening, when viewed from the sidewalk below, must not be less than sixty percent (60%) opaque.

2. Measurement

a. Opacity of screening is calculated separately for each tier of parking on each building facade.

b. Minimum opacity is measured as a percentage calculated as the sum of all open areas on a parking screen facade area divided by the total parking screen facade area.

c. Exceptions- Openings, of the minimum practical width, providing vehicular or pedestrian access are exempt from the above parking standards.

d. Relief- These standards can be relieved at the discretion of the Site Plan Review Committee.

F. Architectural Character. Whether public or private, freestanding parking structures and integrated parking podiums will be treated as buildings and follow the same principles as good building design.

1. Parking structure facades visible from the public right-of-way shall employ the same architectural style as the primary building it serves, or a complementary architectural style that shall be reviewed and approved by the Zoning Administrator.

2. Parking structures shall have an external skin designed to improve the building's appearance over the basic concrete structure of ramps, walls, and columns. This can include heavy-gauge metal screen, precast concrete panels, laminated glass, photovoltaic (solar) panels, landscape features, architecturally interesting walls, or a combination of these features.

3. Vertical circulation (elevators and stairs) shall be located along the primary pedestrian way, and shall be highlighted architecturally so visitors can easily find and access these entry points.

4. On retail-oriented streets or building frontages, parking structures shall incorporate active ground-floor uses along the street frontage of the garage.

G. Signage. Signage and wayfinding should be integrated with the architecture of the parking structure.

1. Sustainability. Parking structures shall integrate sustainable design features such as photovoltaic panels (especially on the top parking deck), renewable materials with proven longevity, and storm water treatment wherever possible.

2. Lighting. Lighting fixtures in parking areas, ingress/egress areas, and all internal circulation areas shall be directed and shielded appropriately to not illuminate surrounding properties, while promoting visibility for users. See Section 22.30.110 of the Title for additional standards.

(ORD-26-0018 §§ 12, 13, 2026; ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.100 Joint Use and Parking Agreements.

New and adaptive reuse developments shall utilize joint use and parking agreements when available, subject to Section 21.41.223.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.110 Lighting Design for Safety.

A. In addition to the following standards, all lighting shall be consistent with Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IES) and International Dark Sky Association (IDA) standards to prevent over-lighting of structures and spaces.

B. Building and/or site design shall include public realm pedestrian lighting to supplement street lights, contribute to the pedestrian scale of the street, and enhance safety.

1. Integrate pedestrian lighting along the length of the street and within public realm areas to facilitate visibility for "eyes on the street."

2. Light areas to be usable and safe at night and encourage nighttime pedestrian activity. This includes, but is not limited to, curb ramps, crosswalks, bus stops, plazas, paseos, mid-block connections, open spaces, parking lots and structures, seating areas, and pedestrian linkages between these areas.

C. Building design shall integrate building-mounted lighting, consistent with the design and character of the structure, to aid in lighting the following areas:

1. The pedestrian way, including areas along primary or side streets.

2. Pedestrian paths, including mid-block connections, from parking lot areas to the building or street.

3. Parking structure entryways and lobbies.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.120 Open Space Standards.

The following open space and privacy standards apply in combination with the requirements of Table 30-5.

Public open spaces directly accessible and visible from the public right-of-way are highly encouraged.

In no cases shall this reduction result in less than 500 square feet of common open space. Publicly accessible space shall have unimpeded access to the public during daytime hours, with onsite signage stating public access hours.
2. Public open spaces directly accessible and visible from the public right-of-way are highly encouraged.
3. Minimum dimensions of at least one portion of the open space shall measure 16 ft x 30 ft or greater.
4. All common outdoor open space shall be well designed. Common outdoor open space may include landscaped/hardscaped building setbacks (in excess of minimum requirements), paseos, mid-block crossings, rooftop decks, court game areas, tot lots, swimming pools, landscaped areas, community gardens, and courtyards. 22.30.130 Fence Regulations.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures in all zones, subject to the conditions and requirements set forth in this Section.

A. Height limits.

Fence and garden wall heights shall not exceed the maximum heights set forth in Table 30-6. Fence heights shall be measured from grade adjoining the fence on the public right-of-way side of the fence (for fences adjoining the public right-of-way) and the average grade of both sides of the fence (for fences between two (2) private properties). For fences in flood hazard zones where the Building Code requires the finish floor of a building to be constructed at or above the top of the flood plain, fence height shall be measured from the top of the flood plain.

B. Prohibited fence and wall materials.

Barbed wire or similar fencing with sharp, protruding objects capable of cutting or puncturing a person is prohibited. Such objects shall not be attached to, imbedded in, or laid upon any fence or wall. This restriction does not include decorative wrought iron.

Table 30-6 Fence Height Limits	Zones						Notes and Exceptions

C. Fence Height Limitations. The limitations in Table 30-6 shall not apply in the following instances:

1. Where a greater height is required by any other City ordinance.

2. Where a greater height is required by a conditional approval of a permit pursuant to this Title or is required by State or Federal law.

3. Where a wall return of greater height is allowed.

4. In corner cutoff areas, chain link and wrought iron/metal tubing fences more than three feet (3') in height are allowed if they do not obstruct visibility.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.30.140 Frontage Locations.

Primary and Secondary frontages shall be defined in accordance with the Long Beach General Plan Mobility Element as shown in Table 30-7. For parcels located on multiple streets, the Primary frontage shall be the higher of whichever street classification is designated for a given parcel; in instances where two streets have the same designation the Primary and Secondary frontage shall be determined by the Zoning Administrator through the Adjustment process per Section 22.13.104.

In all instances where a street is designated as Neighborhood Connector or higher classification the Primary frontage parking requirements shall apply regardless of street hierarchy.

Table 30-7 Street Classification

Street Classification	System Definition	Frontage Type	Special Considerations
Regional Corridor	Designed for intraregional and intercommunity mobility, these corridors emphasize traffic movement and include signalized pedestrian crossings. The adjacent land uses should provide continuous mixed-use and commercial land uses with adequate off-street parking to minimize dependency on on-street parking.	Primary	Streets are classified as primary, even when intersecting with one another.
Boulevard	Characterized by a long-distance, medium-speed corridor that traverses an urbanized area, boulevards consist of four or fewer vehicle travel lanes, a balanced multimodal function, landscaped medians, on-street parking, narrower travel lanes, more intensive land use oriented to the street, and wide sidewalks. Buildings uniformly line the edges. Multiway boulevards, a variation of the boulevard characteristic of post war neighborhoods, contain a central roadway for through traffic and parallel roadways for access to abutting property parking, and pedestrian and bicycle facilities. Parallel roadways are separated from the through-lane by curbed, landscaped islands that may also provide transit stops and pedestrian facilities.	Primary
Major Avenue	A major avenue serves as the major route for the movement of traffic within the City as well as a connector to neighboring cities. Most traffic using a major avenue will end the trip within the City (as opposed to through-traffic). As such, design treatment and traffic operation should give preference to this type of traffic. Long corridors with typically four or more lanes, avenues may be high transit ridership corridors. Goods movement is typically limited to local routes and deliveries.	Primary
Minor Avenue	A minor avenue provides for the movement of traffic to neighborhood activity centers and serves as a route between neighborhoods. Avenues serve as a primary bicycle route and may serve local transit routes as well.	Primary (A)	Classified secondary when intersecting with Neighborhood connector if Neighborhood Connector Street has high volumes of existing active transportation.
Neighborhood Connector	A neighborhood connector street serves trips generated in surrounding or adjacent neighborhoods and should discourage through-trips that do not end within the neighborhood. Goods movement is restricted to local deliveries only.	Primary (A)	Classified as secondary when intersecting with Minor Avenue except for Neighborhood Connectors with high volumes of active transportation that can benefit from enhanced design.

Table 30-7 Street Classification Street Classification	System Definition	Frontage Type	Special Considerations
Local Street	Local streets primarily provide access to individual residential parcels. The streets are generally two lanes with on-street parking, tree planting strips, and sidewalks. Traffic on a local street should have a trip end on that street, or on a connecting local street, or to a connector.	Secondary (A)
Notes: (A) For parcels located on multiple streets, the Primary frontage shall be the higher of whichever street classification is designated for a given parcel with the exception of Regional Corridor, Boulevard, and Major Avenue which are to always be designated as primary frontage.

CHAPTER 22.35 TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF TITLE 22 DURING A PROCLAIMED LOCAL EMERGENCY CAUSED BY HOMELESSNESS

22.35.010 Purpose.

In order to protect the public safety, health and welfare within the City of Long Beach, this Chapter provides a temporary suspension of rules related to Title 22 of the Long Beach Municipal Code for the duration of a proclaimed local emergency caused by a dramatic increase in homelessness, a dramatic increase in the number of deaths of persons experiencing homelessness, an incredible and unprecedented strain on the City's ability to provide appropriate shelter and housing and public safety concerns due to violence and severe mental and physical health issues.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.35.020 Suspensions.

A. Suspend provisions of Title 22 that pertain to construction of emergency shelters, transitional housing, supportive housing, affordable housing, and any other physical improvements to address the City's proclaimed local emergency caused by homelessness, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of project application.

B. Suspend provisions of Title 22 that pertain to the construction of social service facilities, social service facilities with food distribution, personal storage facilities and related uses that facilitate services to address the City's proclaimed local emergency caused by homelessness, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of project application.

C. Suspend provisions of Title 22 that pertain to the construction and operation of safe parking sites, Recreational Vehicle (RV) parking, and other temporary or semi-temporary uses of space for services to address the City's proclaimed local emergency caused by homelessness, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of the project application.

D. Suspend provisions of Title 22 that pertain to the construction and operation of mental health care facilities, hospitals, clinics, offices and otherwise, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall occur during a 60-day period from filing.

E. Suspend provisions of Title 22 that pertain to the construction and operation of substance abuse facilities, hospitals, clinics, offices and otherwise, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments. All project reviews shall be completed within 60 days from the filing of project application.

F. Suspend provisions of Title 22 that pertain to the construction of fencing, including fencing that deviates from the height and material requirements of the municipal code, to secure buildings, lots and facilities to prevent trespassing or encampment, in any location, as reviewed and approved by the Directors of Development Services and Health and Human Services, and subject to any conditions imposed by these departments.

G. Suspend rules within Title 22 that pertain to Accessory Dwelling Units in the limited circumstances of an existing unpermitted unit occupied by tenant(s). Upon receipt of an application, and subject to discretion of the Director of Development Services, allow for the legalization of any existing structure occupied by tenant(s), as an Accessory Dwelling Unit, despite conflicting provisions of other local laws.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.35.030 Expiration.

This Chapter 22.35 shall expire One Hundred Eighty (180) days after its effective date, unless further extended by the City Council in its discretion by an amendment to this Chapter.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

CHAPTER 22.40 GENERAL PROVISIONS - DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS (MFR ZONES)

22.40.010 Tables 40-1 and 40-2 of this chapter establish development standards.

A. Applicability. All development in the MFR districts shall comply with the development standards set forth in Tables 40-1 and 40-2. Refer to Table 40-1 that establishes the maximum intensity standards such as Floor Area Ratio (FAR) and maximum building heights. Refer to Table 40-2 that establishes the development standards that includes setbacks, stepbacks, open space, and storage. Below is an overview of each of the development standards.

B. Site Plan Review. Site Plan Review shall be required for all projects with ten (10) or more units in the MFR zoning districts. This includes both new construction and additions to projects that result in a total of ten (10) or more units on the subject lot.

C. Density. Residential development density is not designated by any single standard but is calculated based on meeting the development standards delineated in Chapter 22.40, including but not limited to building height, setbacks, parking, open space. Density levels correlate to the General Plan in the aggregate and may vary from individual lot to lot.

D. Floor Area Ratio (FAR). The intensity of non-residential uses allowed within MFR zones shall be limited by the maximum FAR established by the General Plan as reflected in Table 40-1.

a. For mixed-use projects the FAR maximum shall only apply to the non-residential gross floor area of the project.

b. Residential gross floor area of the project shall be limited by maximum density and shall be exempt from the FAR limit.

c. FAR calculations shall adhere to the requirement of Section 21.31.235.

E. Building Height. Building height shall be regulated by maximum number of stories and the dimensional height of the structure.

1. Building height shall be measured as the vertical distance between the adjacent sidewalk grade and highest point of the parapet (for flat roofs), or the average height of the highest and lowest ridge point of the top floor roof line (gable, pitch, hip, or other non-flat roof) that does not add to the useable square footage to the building.

2. Measurement of building height shall exclude the following features:

    a. Vertical architectural projections (building elements added for architectural interest without adding interior floor area, such as towers and cupolas), not to exceed ten (10) feet above parapet height.

    b. Horizontal architectural projections which cantilever five (5) feet or less from the exterior wall (or rooftop feature) shall not be included as part of the exterior wall line.

    c. Rooftop guard rails.

    d. Permanent unenclosed roof deck features located two (2) feet or more from the exterior wall plane (including shade or partial covering structures, or similar features) up to fifty percent (50%) of the principal building footprint.

    e. All mechanical equipment (including solar panels or other alternative energy equipment/ infrastructure, elevator and mechanical equipment penthouses, and all associated screening features) up to 12 feet in vertical projection.

    f. Subterranean and semi-subterranean parking.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.40.020 Yard Requirements.

Yards (Building setbacks) shall be provided as set forth in Table 40-2. Yards are regulated by establishing minimum setback requirements from property line to building for street frontage, and from interior and rear lot lines. The following standards apply to the measurement of required yard areas:

A. Measurement of required setbacks shall be taken after dedications and reservations for required rights-of-way consistent with Section 21.31.215.a.

B. Required Setback areas shall be free of any projections, structures and architectural features except as permitted herein or in Table 31-3 in Section 21.31

C. Building placement adjacent to alleys shall not obstruct vehicular or delivery access through the alley. Building setback dimensions have been established to prevent illegal parking of vehicles in the alley. If covered or uncovered parking access is provided from the alley, the minimum requirements shall apply:

1. Parallel parking shall be prohibited within any building setback of less than 10 feet.

2. Angled or perpendicular parking shall be prohibited within any building setback of less than 18 feet.

22.40.030 Fence Regulations.

Fences and garden walls are permitted accessory structures in all Multi-Family Residential zones, subject to the conditions and requirements set forth in this Section.

A. Height limits.

Fence and garden wall heights shall not exceed the maximum heights set forth in Table 40-3. Fence heights shall be measured from grade adjoining the fence on the public right-of-way side of the fence (for fences adjoining the public right-of-way) and the average grade of both sides of the fence (for fences between two (2) private properties). For fences in flood hazard zones where the Building Code requires the finish floor of a building to be constructed at or above the top of the flood plain, fence height shall be measured from the top of the flood plain.

B. Prohibited fence and wall materials.

Barbed wire or similar fencing with sharp, protruding objects capable of cutting or puncturing a person is prohibited. Such objects shall not be attached to, imbedded in, or laid upon any fence or wall. This restriction does not include decorative wrought iron.

C. Fence Height Limitations. The limitations in Table 40-3 shall not apply in the following instances:

1. Where a greater height is required by any other City ordinance.

2. Where a greater height is required by a conditional approval of a permit pursuant to this Title or is required by State or Federal law.

3. Where a wall return of greater height is allowed.

4. In corner cutoff areas, chain link and wrought iron/metal tubing fences more than three feet (3′) in height are allowed if they do not obstruct visibility.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.40.050 Accessory Buildings.

The following are the applicable regulations for accessory buildings in residential zones. These regulations do not apply to Accessory Dwelling Units.

A. Multiple accessory buildings are permitted on a lot. The square footage of all accessory buildings, excluding garages, shall not exceed 25% of the gross floor area of the primary building(s).

B. Accessory buildings and garages shall not be used for living area, habitation or sleeping purposes. An accessory building or garage is permitted to have electrical, gas, water, and sewer connections to provide the following activities:

1. Lighting, laundry machines, laundry tubs, and a hot water heater.

2. A half bathroom, limited to a water closet (toilet) and a lavatory sink.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.40.060 Parking and Vehicular Access Standards.

A. General Provisions - Parking.

The provisions of this Section shall apply to all proposed and established land uses, buildings and structures and shall be the minimum standards for all off-street parking and loading. Table 40-4 establishes minimum vehicle parking requirements by use. Where the standards of this chapter are silent, all other requirements of Chapter 21.41 shall apply.

B. Calculations. In the calculation of parking requirements, fractional numbers of parking spaces, 0.5 or greater, shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number.

C. Types of Parking. Required parking may be provided with enclosed garage, covered and uncovered parking. Covered parking may include parking provided under a carport or in an enclosed garage. Uncovered parking may comprise up to 50% of the required parking of a development project. Uncovered parking may include parking such as surface parking.

D. Guest Parking. On-street parking abutting the lot shall be considered as guest parking according to the standards for parallel parking spaces when all access to on-site parking is taken from an alley or located on a corner lot and the site is outside of the parking-impacted area. On-street parking abutting the site shall not be considered as guest parking when the street is a major, minor or secondary highway as defined by the Long Beach Mobility Element.

E. Access. Street curb cuts to access parking or circulation shall be limited to one (1) per lot. Where alley access is available garages and circulation shall be accessed from the alley.

F. Required number of spaces. Table 40-4 establishes minimum vehicle parking requirements by use. Parking spaces required for multiple uses on a lot shall be calculated separately for each use, and the parking required shall be the sum of all that required for all such uses, unless otherwise permitted by this Section or Section 21.41.223 of the Municipal Code.

G. Shared parking. Required off-street parking facilities may be shared between two separate land uses upon demonstrating through a signed affidavit that the uses utilize the parking spaces at different times. Shared parking must be provided on the same parcel or integrated as part of the development site.

H. Garage Requirements. Refer to Table 40-5 for Garage Standards. Additionally, garages shall adhere to the following:

a. Garage access shall be limited to centralized driveways and/or alleys.

b. Dwelling units may be located above a garage provided the minimum setbacks for living space are met.

c. Internal garage height dimensions shall be consistent with the building code, and the other garage dimensions shall be sufficient to accommodate standard and compact parking stalls as defined in Title 21.

d. Parking stalls provided in Stacked and/or car-lift, automated garages, and tandem parking configurations shall all count toward required number of parking stalls.

I. Bicycle Parking Requirements. Refer to Table 40-4 for required bicycle parking ratio. Bicycle parking shall be provided on site and shall not encroach into the public right-of-way. Additionally, bicycle parking shall adhere to the following:

a. Bicycle parking located within buildings, garages, or private yard spaces that are not accessible to the public shall be considered secure spaces and do not require additional security devices.

b. Bicycle parking provided within a unit may be a dedicated space or an anchored way to secure the bicycle to a wall or ceiling.

c. All other bicycle parking that does not meet the requirements of Subsections a or b above shall be permanently anchored with the ability to secure both the wheels and the frame and shall meet the requirements of CALGreen.

CHAPTER 22.41. GENERAL PROVISIONS - DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS (NI ZONES)

22.41.010 Tables 41-1 through 41-5 of this Chapter establish development standards.

1. Applicability. This Chapter establishes development standards applicable to all new construction and additions to existing development in the neo-industrial districts. Tables 41-1 through 41-5 denote development standards for NI-1 and NI-2 zones.

2. Intensity (FAR). The intensity of neo-industrial development shall not exceed the maximum FAR.

a. Gross floor area dedicated to parking structures shall not be included in the FAR calculation.

3. Building Height. Building height shall be regulated by maximum number of stories and the dimensional height of the structure.

a. Building height shall be measured as defined by Section 21.15.1190 (Grade) and 21.15.1330 (Height of Building).

b. Measurement of building height in the NI-1 and NI-2 districts shall exclude the following features:

i. Vertical architectural projections (building elements added for architectural interest without adding interior floor area, such as towers and cupolas), not to exceed 10 feet above parapet height.

ii. Horizontal architectural projections which cantilever 5 feet or less from the exterior wall (or rooftop feature) shall not be included as part of the exterior wall line.

iii. Rooftop guard rails.

iv. Permanent unenclosed roof deck features located 2 feet or more from the exterior wall plane (including shade or partial covering structures, or similar features) up to 50% of the principle building footprint.

v. All mechanical equipment (including solar panels or other alternative energy equipment/ infrastructure, elevator and mechanical equipment penthouses, and all associated screening features).

4. Development Sites.

a. Development created through lot consolidation shall be developed as a unified site.

b. Consolidation of sites is permitted and encouraged, consistent with subdivision regulations, however consolidation shall avoid creating isolated parcels that are not part of the development site.

c. At the time of lot consolidation, the new development site shall identify primary and secondary (if applicable) frontages as defined in 22.30.140.

5. Green Building Standards New construction and renovations shall be subject to the requirements of 21.45.400 (Green Building Standards) based on project type and gross square footage thresholds as outlined by 21.45.400.

6. Outdoor storage and activities. Outdoor storage and activities for NI zones shall be permitted subject to the following standards contained herein:

a. Outdoor storage. Accessory outdoor storage of goods, materials, or equipment shall be permitted only in the side and rear yards. However, no materials shall be stored within any required street side yard setback. All outdoor storage areas shall be completely screened from view from public rights-of-way and adjacent properties with screening the same height as the materials being stored. Stored goods and materials shall not exceed a stacking height of eight feet (8′) unless a permit is approved through Subsection 22.41.020.5.e.

b. Activities. No outdoor production, processing, or manufacturing activities associated with a business shall be permitted at any time. All such activities must be conducted within an entirely enclosed structure. This restriction shall not apply to loading operations or other necessary support functions of a business.

c. Screening Required. Screening shall be required for all outdoor storage and activities associated with industrial use development as identified herein subject to Subsection 22.41.020.5.

N Loading Turning Radius	Loading areas shall be located to provide an adequate turning radius. Adequate turning radius means one which allows a vehicle to maneuver without backing into a street or without backing into the loading space from a street.
O Loading Spaces Screening	Loading spaces shall be separated from adjoining, abutting or adjacent residential districts by a building or masonry wall not less than six feet (6′) in height.

Notes: 1. Projections are permitted in the required setbacks in accordance with Section 21.32.220(C) of the Zoning Regulations.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.41.020 Site Design & Layout.

1. Blank Walls.

a. A blank wall is a continuous blank wall, without windows, doors, or any other architectural articulation.

b. All blank walls over 20 feet shall be screened with landscaping appropriate to the height of the wall. The landscaping shall have a minimum landscape strip of 5 feet in depth.

c. Buildings with ground-floor above 15 feet shall have landscaping to grow to a height of maturity of 10 feet to provide sufficient screening.

d. Required landscaping areas required by section 22.41.040 must include trees or shrubs of a spacing of 20 feet or less. The landscaping must achieve a height of 10 feet at maturity.

e. Interruptions in landscaping screening are permitted at building entrances and plazas to accommodate employee amenities.

2. Modulation.

a. Modulation refers to creating variations in the facade (outer wall) of a building as a means of breaking up the apparent bulk of the continuous exterior walls. Modulation includes, but is not limited to, projections or recessions in the façade of at least 2 feet in depth.

b. Building facades over 80 feet in length and over 2 stories in height shall provide modulation at a minimum of 15% of the Primary Façade Plane.

c. The Primary Façade Plane is defined as the vertical plane with the greatest surface area above the ground floor.

d. Modulation is not required to be continuous or open to the sky and may be recessed or projected.

e. Additional façade breaks beyond the minimum required may count towards the modulation requirement.

3. Transparency. At least 15% of each façade facing a public street should be comprised of transparent openings unless otherwise prohibited by use-specific regulations.

a. Transparent openings may include windows and doors with clear glass or façade openings with a minimum depth of 4 feet.

b. Windows shall be recessed by at least 2 inches from the façade; flush windows may be allowed subject to the discretion of the Site Plan Review Committee.

c. The use of mirrored or highly reflective glazing is prohibited.

d. Semi-transparent or frosted treatments are permitted to shield up to 50% of the transparent opening to manage private or security needs.

4. Light Design for Safety

a. In addition to the following standards, all lighting shall be consistent with the latest Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IES) and International Dark Sky Association (IDA) standards to prevent over-lighting of structures and spaces.

b. Glare The following glare standard shall generally apply:

i. Glare standard. Glare is illumination that is caused by all types of lighting and from high temperature processes such as welding or metallurgical refining. Glare may not directly, or indirectly from reflection, cause illumination on other properties that is in excess of a measurement of 0.5 foot-candles of light;

ii. Strobe lights. Strobe lights that are visible from another property are not allowed.

c. Building and/or site design shall include public realm pedestrian lighting to supplement street-lights, contribute to the pedestrian scale of the street, and enhance safety.

(i) Integrate pedestrian lighting along the length of the street and within public realm areas to facilitate visibility for "eyes on the street."

(ii) Light areas to be usable and safe at night and encourage nighttime pedestrian activity. This includes, but is not limited to, curb ramps, crosswalks, bus stops, plazas, paseos, mid-block connections, open spaces, parking lots and structures, seating areas, and pedestrian linkages between these areas.

d. Building design shall integrate building-mounted lighting, consistent with the design and character of the structure, to aid in lighting the following areas:

1. The pedestrian way, including areas along primary or side streets.

2. Pedestrian paths, including mid-block connections, from parking lot areas to the building or street.

3. Parking structure entryways and lobbies.

5. Fences, Walls and Screening. Fences, walls and screening for NI zones shall be permitted subject to the following standards:

a. Fences, walls, and screening within required setback. Fences enclosing permitted outdoor activities, storage, parking, or for security purposes within the street setback are permitted subject to the following conditions:

i. Minimum setback. Minimum setback of 12 inches is required for fences located within the required street setback.

ii. Minimum landscaping. The minimum setback area must provide landscaping with vertical vines or tall shrubs between the fence and the minimum sidewalk width.

iii. Minimum required visibility. Portions of fences greater than 42 inches in height within the street setback shall be at least 75% open; portions 42 inches in height or lower are permitted to be walls.

iv. Fences and/or walls used for required screening shall be a minimum of 6 feet in height.

b. Height Limits. The height of Fences and/or walls shall be subject to the limitations specified in Table 41-3.

Where a greater height is required by a conditional approval of a permit pursuant to this Title or is required by State or Federal law; or Where a wall return of greater height is allowed;
In corner cutoff areas, chain link and wrought iron/metal tubing fences more than three feet (3′) in height are allowed if they do not obstruct visibility.

c. Material

(i) Materials. Fences and walls must be constructed of wood, vinyl, brick, masonry, textured concrete or aggregate concrete.

(ii) Prohibited materials. Prohibited materials for fences and walls include barbed wire and those such as corrugated or sheet metal, tires, car doors, or other discarded materials.

(iii) Chain link/wire mesh. A chain link or wire mesh may be used only in combination with plant material of sufficient density to create a year-round opaque screen. Chain link or similar wire fencing is prohibited between the front of a building and a public street but allowed on interior and rear yards.

(iv) Security fencing. Electronic theft fences are allowed.

d. Maintenance

(i) All walls and fences shall be maintained in good condition at all times.

e. Alternative Process

(i) Alternative heights and materials may be permitted for fences or walls pursuant to the Adjustment Process in Section 22.13.104 of the Zoning Code.

(ii) Alternative fence and wall heights and materials may also be approved pursuant to the Adjustment Process in Section 22.13.104 of the Zoning Code if proposed with a new development project.

(iii) Alternatives for fence and/or walls must meet the following minimum criteria:

A) The fence design shall be open wrought iron or other metal pickets;

B) The fence shall allow emergency egress;

C) The fence design shall provide visitor, meter reader and emergency personnel access;

D) The front yard shall have approved landscaping;

E) The applicant shall restore any missing street trees; and

F) The fence shall have self-closing, self-locking gates.

6. Trash and Recycling. In addition to Chapter 8.60 Solid Waste, Recycling and Litter Prevention, these provisions prescribe standards for adequate, accessible and convenient locations for the collection and storage of trash and recyclable materials with containers and enclosures which are compatible with surrounding land uses and structures.

a. Standards. Adequate receptacles shall be provided to accommodate the trash and recycling generated on a site. All required receptacles shall be developed according to the following standards:

i. Minimum Size. Each receptacle area shall have adequate area to contain a size appropriate to the demands of the use and to accommodate separation of materials for trash and recycling. The minimum size of trash and recycling areas shall be as identified in Table 41-4 below.

Table 41-4 Minimum Trash and Recycling Material Storage Areas

Gross Floor Area Per Development (Square Feet)	Minimum Trash Area Per Development (Square Feet)	Minimum Recycling Area Per Development (Square Feet)	Total Minimum Area Per Development (Square Feet)
0—5,000	12	12	24
5,001—10,000	24	24	48
10,001—25,000	48	48	96
25,001—50,000	96	96	192
50,001—75,000	144	144	288
75,001—100,000	192	192	384
100,001+	192 plus 48 square feet for every 25,000 square feet of building area above 100,001	192 plus 48 square feet for every 25,000 square feet of building area above 100,001	384 plus 96 square feet for every 25,000 square feet of building area above 100,001

ii. Screening. All receptacles shall be enclosed on at least three (3) sides by a solid masonry wall of minimum height five feet, six inches (5'6"). The receptacle shall not be visible above the wall. A visually solid gate shall be provided.

iii. Location. All trash and recycling areas must adhere to the following locational standards:

A) Shall not be located in required street yards.

B) Shall be located and arranged to be accessible to occupants and haulers.

iv. Landscaping. All trash and recycling areas if visible from a street shall be further screened with a two foot (2') wide landscape strip. The strip shall be planted with shrubs of minimum five (5) gallon size which grow to a height of four feet (4'), with vines planted to the satisfaction of the Director of Community Development.

v. Signage. One sign identifying the material storage area is required for each area and shall be posted on the exterior of the material storage area near the point of access. The maximum sign copy area permitted for each sign shall be one square foot.

b. Review procedures. Plans indicating the proposed design, size and location of both new and existing recycling and trash enclosures shall be submitted to the Director of Community Development to be reviewed concurrently during the appropriate review procedure required for the proposed development. For those development projects not requiring planning applications but for which building permits are required, plans indicating the design, size and location of recycling and trash enclosures shall be submitted to the Building Official, to be included with the building permit plan check submittal for the proposed development project.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.41.030 Parking and Vehicular Access Standards.

1. General Provisions - Intent. The Parking standards of this Chapter are intended to allow for infill and adaptive re-use development through flexibility of off-street parking location and provision of the minimum required number of spaces.

2. Parking Requirements. Table 41-5 establishes minimum vehicle parking requirements by use.

a. Uses not listed, and all loading requirements, shall be regulated by Chapter 21.41 - Off Street Parking and Loading Requirements.

b. If different land uses are part of the same project, the parking requirements for each land use are applicable and will be added together to determine the total parking requirements for the project.

c. Calculations. In the calculation of parking requirements, fractional numbers of parking spaces, greater than 0.5, shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number.

d. Change of Use. No new parking shall be required for changes of use of any existing square footage within a building more than 10 years old.

3. Parking Setback Standards

a. Requirements. Table 41-6 establishes minimum required parking setbacks.

4. Parking Location and Access.

a. Parking should generally be provided through a combination of off-street spaces behind buildings and park-once/public parking.

b. Surface parking lots are not permitted between the building and the Primary Frontage.

c. Generally surface parking should be located behind the building, internal to the block, wrapped with active uses along the public frontages, or below-grade.

d. Access to parking should be primarily from side streets or alleys. If access from side streets is not possible due to lot location and/or configuration, vehicular access shall be constructed to minimize the disruption of the pedestrian right-of-way along Primary Frontages.

5. Alternatives to Parking Requirements.

a. Modification by Adjustment Process. Parking exceptions to the off-street parking development standards shall be subject to the procedures established for in Section 22.13.104 of the Zoning Code.

b. On-site alternatives to required vehicle off-street parking. One or more of the following alternatives may be substituted for required off-street parking spaces on the same parcel or integrated development site as the land use the spaces serve:

i. Additional bicycle parking. Four non-required bicycle parking spaces may be substituted for one on-site vehicle parking space, up to a maximum of two spaces or 10% of the required on-site vehicle parking spaces, whichever is greater.

ii. Solar rooftop or shade structures over parking. Developments that provide a solar rooftop or shade structure on-site may request a 10% reduction of the required on-site vehicle parking spaces.

iii. Carsharing. One carshare space may be substituted for four (4) required on-site vehicle parking spaces. "Carshare space" means a parking space reserved for a vehicle that can be rented or reserved for short periods of time, such as by the hour or minute.

A) Availability of Carshare Spaces. The carshare spaces shall be made available, at no cost, to a certified car-share organization for purposes of providing car-share services for its car-share service subscribers.

B) Location. Required designated parking spaces for carsharing vehicles, shall be conveniently on the building site and located close to building entrances. Each parking space shall include surface identification, painted with the same paint used for defining the parking stall, with the lower edge of the identification aligned with the end of the parking space and visible beneath a parked vehicle.

C) Plan Review. Carshare spaces shall be identified on the project site plan.

D) Identification. The identification shall include the following characters: CARSHARE SPACE

E) Posted Signs. Signs must be posted indicating these spaces are reserved for carpool use.

F) List of Carshare Projects. The Department of Community Development shall maintain a publicly accessible list, updated quarterly, of all projects approved with required off-street carshare parking spaces. The list shall contain the Assessor's Block and Lot number, address, number of required off-street carshare parking spaces, project sponsor or property owner contact information and other pertinent information as determined by the Zoning Administrator.

iv. Scooter and motorcycle parking. One scooter or motorcycle space may be substituted for one on-site vehicle parking space, up to a maximum of two spaces or 10% of the required on-site vehicle parking spaces, whichever is greater.

v. Shared parking. Required off-street parking facilities may be shared between two separate land uses upon demonstrating that the uses utilize the parking spaces at different times through a signed affidavit.

vi. Shared bicycles. Shared bicycles provided on-site for the use of employee commutes and off-site trips may be substituted for up to a maximum of two spaces or 10% of the required on-site vehicle parking spaces, whichever is greater. Two shared bicycles are equivalent to one on-site vehicle parking space.

vii. Tandem parking. Pursuant to Section 21.41.235 of the Zoning Code, tandem parking is permitted as follows:

1) Tandem parking serving an industrial or manufacturing use shall only be in areas specifically designated for employee long-term parking. Such parking shall only be located on the same site as the use for which the parking is provided.

2) Tandem parking, where permitted, shall comply with the following standards:

A) Handicapped parking shall not be in tandem.

B) No more than fifty percent (50%) of the required parking spaces shall be permitted to be in tandem.

c. Off-site alternatives to vehicle off-street parking. Off-street parking may be located on a parcel other than the parcel or integrated development site served by the off-street parking, if it is located within the distances specified, and it complies with the requirements stated below:

i. Joint Use and Parking Agreements. Within the NI Zones, new development and adaptive reuse development are highly encouraged to utilize joint use and parking agreements to the greatest extent possible subject to Section 21.41.223 of the Zoning Code.

d. Driveway Locations. Driveway locations for NI Zones shall be provided pursuant to Section 21.41.251 of the Zoning Code.

i. Driveways Accessing a Local or Collector Street. Driveways which access a Local or Collector street, as designated in the Mobility Element of the General Plan, shall be located such that the edge of the access driveway shall be either at least five feet (5′) from the end of the curb return or at least twenty-five feet (25′) from the intersection of two (2) non-arterial streets, whichever is greater. If the nearest intersection includes an Arterial or greater street, then the regulations of Subsection d.ii below shall apply.

ii. Driveways Accessing Arterial and Greater Streets.

A) Two-Way Driveways. For lots with one hundred twenty-five (125) or more feet of street frontage, two-way driveways shall be located not less than ninety feet (90′) from any intersection. For lots with less than one hundred twenty-five feet (125′) of street frontage, the driveway shall be located not less than two-thirds (⅔) of the width of the lot from the intersection.

B) One-Way Driveways. One-way driveways shall be located not less than thirty-five feet (35′) from any intersection. Movements shall be restricted to either right turns in or right turns out.

22.41.040 Landscaping Requirements.

1. Intent. The landscape requirements are intended to encourage the planting of appropriate new vegetation and the preservation of existing vegetation to enhance the built environment and to support greening in the community.

2. Applicability. The provisions of this section apply to all development that is within the NI Zones. Table 41-7 outlines landscape requirements.

3. Model Water Efficient Landscaping Ordinance Requirements. Property owners or their building or landscape designers, including anyone requiring a building or planning permit, plan check, or landscape design review from the City, are constructing a new (Single-Family, Multi-Family, public, institutional, or Commercial) project with a landscape area greater than five hundred (500) square feet, or rehabilitating an existing landscape with a total landscape area greater than two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet, shall comply with Sections 492.6(a)(3)(B) (C), (D), and (G) of the MWELO, including sections related to use of Compost and mulch as delineated in Section 21.42.060 of the Long Beach Municipal Code.

22.41.050 Operational Performance Standards.

1. Intent. The intent of this section is to establish operational performance standards for air emissions, combustibles and explosives, gases, dust, liquid waste, noise, vibration, odor, toxic or noxious matter, and humidity. The purpose of this section is to identify appropriate standards to ensure compatibility amongst the various uses with consideration of environmental and health factors prioritizing community needs. These operational performance standards are designed to minimize various potential operational impacts of land uses and development within the City and promote compatibility with adjoining areas and land uses.

2. Applicability. The provisions of this section apply to all new and existing land uses, in all NI zones, unless an exemption is specifically provided.

a. Air Emissions. Any emission of dust, dirt, or smoke shall comply with all state and federal regulations, including the South Coast Air Quality Management District.

b. Combustibles and Explosives. The use, handling, storage, and transportation of combustibles and explosives shall be approved by the Fire Marshal and comply with all applicable state and federal laws.

c. Gases. The escape or emission of any gas that is noxious, injurious, or destructive is unlawful. In addition, the use, handling, storage, and transportation of gases shall be approved by the Fire Marshal and shall comply with all applicable state and federal regulations

d. Dust. In addition to the LBMC Permit Chapter 18.04 standards related to construction activities, the standards contained herein shall apply to ongoing activities or operations associated with any land use in the NI Zones. Activities that may generate dust emissions (e.g., construction, grading, commercial gardening, and similar operations) shall be conducted to limit the emissions beyond the site boundary to the maximum extent feasible. Appropriate methods of dust management shall include the following, subject to approval by the Building Department.

i. Water all active construction areas twice per day and use erosion control measures to prevent water runoff containing silt and debris from entering the streets and storm drain system;

ii. Cover trucks hauling soil, sand, and other loose material;

iii. Pave, water, or apply non-toxic soil stabilizers on unpaved access roads and parking areas;

iv. Sweep and collect (i.e., vacuum) paved access roads and parking areas daily; and

v. Sweep and collect (i.e., vacuum) streets daily if visible material is carried onto adjacent public streets.

vi. Hydroseed or apply non-toxic soil stabilizers to inactive construction areas;

vii. Enclose, cover, water, or apply non-toxic soil binders to open materials stockpiles;

viii. Limit traffic speeds on unpaved roads to fifteen mph;

ix. Install sandbags or other erosion control measures to prevent silt runoff to public roadways;

x. Replant vegetation in disturbed areas within ten days after project completion;

xi. Install wheel washers for all exiting trucks, or wash off the tires or tracks of all trucks and equipment leaving the site;

xii. Install wind breaks, or plant trees/vegetation at windward sides of construction areas, or avoid removing existing vegetation which acts as a windbreak;

xiii. Suspend excavation and grading activity when winds (instantaneous gusts) exceed twenty mph or dust clouds cannot be prevented from extending beyond the site; and

xiv. Limit area subject to excavation, grading, and other construction activities at any one time.

xv. Limit access to the construction sites, so tracking of mud or dirt on to public roadways can be prevented.

xvi. Projects that have significant construction period exhaust emissions shall reduce fleet average emission rates. Developers or contractors shall provide a plan for approval by the City or demonstrating that the heavy-duty (>50 horsepower) off-road vehicles to be used in the construction project for more than an accumulated forty hours, including owned, leased and subcontractor vehicles, will achieve emission standards similar to in-use equipment that meets CARB certified Tier II standards.

e. Noise. The following noise standards shall generally apply:

i. General. No use shall be established, nor any activity conducted which violates the standards of the City's Noise Control Ordinance—Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code.

ii. Hours of Operation Standards. Between the hours of ten (10:00) p.m. and seven (7:00) a.m., industrial businesses shall discontinue operations that produce noise levels at the nearest residential district or hospital property line higher than those permitted under the City's Noise Control Ordinance - Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code.

iii. Outdoor paging systems and speakers. Outdoor paging systems and speakers shall not be located within 150 feet of land that is residentially zoned property, or within 150 feet of the property line of a lot where a school or licensed childcare center is located. This standard shall not apply to face-to-face, drive-up teller windows or remote teller systems where all of the following conditions exist:

1) Cashiers and customers have direct, face-to-face contact;

2) Drive aisles are adjacent to the primary structure; and

3) The remote appliance is located under a porte cochere attached to the primary building.

f. Liquid Waste. No liquid shall be discharged into a public or private body of water, sewage system, watercourse, or into the ground, except in compliance with applicable regulations of the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

g. Vibration. The following vibration standard shall generally apply:

i. Vibration standard. Continuous, frequent, or repetitive vibrations which produce earthborn vibrations that exceed the following displacements shown in Table 41-8.

Table 41-8 - Vibration Standards

Frequency (cycles per second)	Displacement (inches)
0 to 10	0.00020
10 to 20	0.0016
20 to 30	0.0010
30 to 40	0.0006
40 and over	0.0005

ii. General. This standard means that a person of normal sensitivities should not be able to feel sustained vibration when located on residentially zoned property.

iii. Exceptions. Vibrations lasting less than five minutes per day are also exempt.

iv. Measurement. Seismic or electronic vibration measuring equipment may be used for measurements when there are doubts about the level of vibration.

h. Odor. The following odor standard shall generally apply:

i. Odor standard. Continuous, frequent, or repetitive odors detectable after the odorous air has been diluted with five or more volumes of odor-free air shall be a violation of these standards;

ii. Exceptions.

1) An odor that is detected for less than 15 minutes per day is exempt;

2) No violation shall occur where the person who, or the business which, causes or allows the emission of odorous air contaminants is employing the best available treatment, maintenance, and control that is currently available to maintain the lowest possible emission of odorous gases.

i. On-Site Containment of Materials and Waste. No material or waste shall be deposited on a property in such a form or manner that it may be transferred off the property by natural causes or forces such as wind or rain. All materials or wastes which might cause fumes or dust, or which constitute a fire hazard, or which may be edible by or otherwise attractive to rodents or insects, shall be stored outdoors only in closed containers approved by the Director of Community Development.

j. Toxic or noxious matter. The emission of toxic or noxious matter into the atmosphere shall be in accordance with the limits established by the Department of Environmental Health/Protection. In addition to such emission limits, the emission of such matter shall be so controlled that no concentration at or beyond the lot lines shall be detrimental to or endanger the public health, safety, comfort, and other aspects of general welfare, or cause damage or injury to property.

k. Humidity, heat and glare. Any activity producing excessive humidity in the form of steam or moist air, or producing intense heat or glare, shall be carried out in such a manner as not to be perceptible at or beyond any lot line.

3. Measurements of impacts. The following requirements with respect to the measurement of impacts shall also apply:

a. Measurements for compliance with these standards are made from the property line or within the property of the affected site. Measurements may be made at ground level or at habitable levels of buildings; and

b. Where the City does not have the equipment or expertise to measure and evaluate a specific complaint, it may request assistance from another agency or may contract with an independent expert to perform such measurements. The City may accept measurements that are made by an independent expert who is hired by the operator of the off-site impact source.

4. Impact mitigation plan. Where unavoidable circumstances require that portions of a phased project must be left in an unfinished state over a period longer than one year, or any development project has been left in an unfinished state over a period longer than one year, an impact mitigation plan that addresses erosion, security, storage, and appearance of the site shall be submitted to the Director of the Department of Community Development to review for departmental approval.

5. Documentation in advance. In addition to the requirements of Section 21.21.201.D, the Department of Community Development is authorized to require documentation in advance that a proposed use will conform to the standards of this division, in which case all of the following additional information is required of the applicant prior to development approval:

a. A description of the use or activity regarding processes, materials used, storage, waste disposal, types of machinery and other such items as related to off-site impacts, provided, that the applicant is not required to reveal any trade secret that would cause any secret manufacturing procedure, compound or product to become public knowledge and available to competitors;

b. An explanation of any mechanisms or techniques that are proposed to restrict any hazardous or nuisance effects, including the type and location of any abatement devices and recording instruments to measure conformance with the required standard; and

c. An evaluation and explanation which is certified by a registered engineer or architect, as appropriate, that the proposed activity can comply with the operational performance standards or standards in question.

6. Duty to Post Notice. Any person or entity who owns, operates, manages, leases or rents property within the NI Zones shall cause a notice to be permanently posted or displayed on the premises as provided in this chapter. The legible notice, with at least one-quarter inch high letters, shall read: TO SUBMIT A COMPLAINT: CALL (562) 570-CODE (2633) OR SUBMIT ONLINE AT LBCODE.ORG. The notice shall be posted in a prominent and accessible location within an area where it can be easily be seen by the general public.

(ORD-24-0015 § 1(Exh. A), 2024)

22.41.060 Truck Trip Limitations

1. Applicability. The following standards shall apply to commercial and industrial uses in the NI-1 and NI-2 zones.

2. Hours of Operation.

a. On any site that is within 300 feet of a residential district, large trucks shall be permitted between the hours of 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. or as specified in the City's Noise Control Ordinance—Chapter 8.80 of the Municipal Code. This requirement applies to all commercial and industrial uses in the NI-1 and NI-2 zones.

b. The established hours of operation may be modified through the approval of an administrative use permit when an entitlement is already applicable to the project. The base ambient noise level found in the vicinity (without the operation of the trucks) shall not be exceeded during the time the truck activity is proposed.

22.41.070 Development and Healthy Use Incentives.

The following economic development and healthy communities' incentives shall be applicable to new development within the Neo-Industrial zoning designation of the Uptown area. For the purposes of this section Uptown is defined as all areas of the City north of and inclusive of the northern portion of Del Amo Boulevard, subject to Title 22. For all other areas in the City, Special Use Incentives may only be applicable in areas that have been designated as Community Development Block Grant Areas by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, at the time of application. If a project utilizes multiple incentive options, the maximum cumulative parking reduction allowed for a project cannot exceed more than 30 percent of the total required parking for said project.

1. Community Benefits. Projects that provide the following community benefits may qualify for development incentives. For projects that comply with either or both of the community benefit requirements, said projects will qualify to have the corresponding commercial space(s) exempted from maximum floor area limitations and parking requirements.

    a. Commercial space incentives for workforce development employment strategies. Projects which provide commercial space for enterprises that employ through a local workforce development organization, including the Pacific Gateway Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Network (PGWIN), shall qualify for incentives, subject to the following:

        i. Employment of PGWIN trainees will be a requirement of the occupier of qualified commercial space for a minimum of 5 years.

        ii. Annual certification of compliance with the above shall be completed through PGWIN and provided to the Department of Community Development.

b. Historic market commercial rents for community businesses. Projects which provide commercial rents at a historic market rate to existing local businesses shall qualify for the corresponding incentives, subject to the following:

i. "Historic market rate" rents shall be defined as the average per-square-foot market rent for the local market for the last three years prior to the proposed lease agreement. The maximum annual rent increase shall be limited to 4 percent.

ii. An existing local business shall provide evidence of business history, including business license history, with the City of Long Beach of at least 5 years in the corresponding local market, subject to approval of the Department of Community Development.

iii. Submit annual certification of the lease agreement rate to the City of Long Beach Department of Community Development; a minimum commercial lease length of 5 years is required to qualify.

2. Climate Mitigation and Adaptation Incentives. The City of Long Beach seeks to minimize future greenhouse gas emissions (GHG) from the building sector while lessening the impact of climate change stressors on the local community, including extreme heat, air quality, drought and flooding. In addition to meeting all Green Building Standards contained in Section 21.45.400 of the Zoning Code, parking incentives may be provided to industrial only projects that demonstrate additional strategies to reduce GHG emissions or to lessen the impact of documented climate stressors on the local community.

Projects may qualify for reduction in parking requirements, up to a maximum of 15 percent reduction, in exchange for providing on-site or off-site climate mitigation or adaptation measures commensurate with the savings associated with the requested parking reduction. Measures must meet the geographic needs of the local community as demonstrated in the City's Climate Action and Adaptation Plan. Eligible measures include but are not limited to:

a. Tree planting

b. Photocatalytic tiles to improve air quality

c. Cool roof and/or cool wall materials

d. On-site solar installations (for example as shade structures over parking spaces)

e. Bus shelter amenity improvements

f. Additional bicycle amenities
