This term shall include all surface preparation activities that are performed upon a surface containing lead-based paint.

Excessive airborne lead concentrations shall be defined according to regulations promulgated by the United States Occupational Safety and Health Administration. "Excessive airborne lead concentrations," for the purposes of this article, shall be those defined by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration at 29 C.F.R. 1926.62 which are currently defined as lead concentrations exceeding the permissible exposure limit (PEL) of 50 mcg/m3 as a time-weighted average over eight hours. Airborne lead concentrations exceeding the action level of 30 mcg/m3 as a time-weighted average trigger additional personal protective equipment and practices.

Excessive lead-containing dust is lead in surface dust including but not limited to dust on interior window sills, window troughs, floors, and soil as defined according to regulations promulgated by the United States Environmental Protection Agency at 40 C.F.R. § 745.227. Sec. 82-408. Health certificate required before demolition application issued.

(a) Whenever an owner applies for a permit to demolish a structure or is ordered by the city to demolish a structure, in accordance with provisions of the city building code, such owner shall obtain from the director of the department of health a certificate stating that such premises are free from rodents. The director or his representative, upon receiving notification of the proposed demolition, shall inspect such premises to determine whether rodent infestation exists. If there is no evidence of infestation, the director shall issue a certificate indicating that the premises are free of rodent infestation and transmit same to the department of safety and permits. If an inspection by the director of the department of health indicates the existence of rodent infestation then the owner shall have the structure and premises treated for rodent extermination by a licensed pest control operator. It shall be the obligation of the owner or his designated pest control operator to notify the director of the department of health or his designated representative of the time that extermination will be carried out. The director shall inspect such premises after treatment and transmit to the department of safety and permits a certificate of approval if the results of said extermination are satisfactory. The department of safety and permits may not issue an application for a permit for demolition until it receives from the director of the department of health such a certificate.

(b) Any person who shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with the terms of this article, shall be deemed and held guilty of a violation of this Code and shall pay a penalty of $50.00 for each and every such violation.

(c) In those cases where actual demolition is begun prior to application for such demolition, the director of safety and permits may accept and approve such application provided that the owner or his agent pays all fees and penalties prescribed by law; and that the department of safety and permits promptly notifies the department of health of the premature demolition which is hereby construed as a violation of this section.
(Code 1956, § 54-23)

Sec. 82-409. City to order extermination, lien owner, etc.

Whenever it is necessary for the city to order a structure demolished and to undertake to contract for the demolition of such structure due to the failure of the owner to do so, the city shall contract with a licensed pest control operator to treat such structure and premises for rodent and vermin extermination or it may undertake such treatment by personnel of the department of health. The director of the department of finance may contract for this service individually for each structure to be demolished or he may let such a contract on an annual basis; however, such contract shall be signed only with a licensed pest control operator. The cost of extermination for a structure shall be included in the expenses incurred for demolition and charged to the owner or owners of such property in accordance with the provisions of the city building code.
(Code 1956, § 54-24)

Sec. 82-410. Penalties, certain violations.

Violators of sections 82-403, 82-404, 82-405, and 82-406 shall, upon conviction or plea of guilty, be punished as follows:

(1) The first conviction of a violation of sections 82-403, 82-404, 82-405, and 82-406 shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $50.00 or more than $100.00;

(2) The second conviction of a violation of sections 82-403 through 82-406 shall be punishable by a fine of $100.00; and

(3) Each subsequent conviction of a violation of sections 82-403 through 82-406 shall be punishable by a fine of $100.00 and imprisonment of no less than five days and no more than 90 days.

(Code 1956, § 54-1.1)

(a) A license shall be issued by the director upon the determination that the establishment or the product, as the case may be, meets the standards established by this article. Licenses shall be valid until suspended or revoked. An establishment or product license shall be revoked upon application of the operator giving notice of intention to discontinue the processing or collection of all products or of intention to discontinue the processing or collection of a particular product for which a license is held. The director shall hold a hearing to determine if a license should be suspended or revoked whenever he finds, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that:

(1) Department of health inspectors after reasonable efforts have been unable to gain access to an establishment or a location for the purpose of carrying out the inspection required under section 82-552, or that;

(2) Processing or collection of products or of a product has been discontinued to an extent that a meaningful inspection cannot be made; or

(3) The establishment or any location thereof, or the product for which the license has been issued, fails to conform to the standards in the regulations in this article, designed to ensure the continued safety, purity, and potency of the processed product.

(b) In case of suspension, unless assurances satisfactory to the director have been provided that access will be permitted, that processing or collection will be resumed; or if the faulty condition is not corrected within 30 days or within such other period as may be specified in the notice of suspension, whichever is applicable, he shall hold a hearing to determine if the license should be revoked.

(Code 1956, § 29-113)

Sec. 82-480. Changes to be reported.

(a) General. Important proposed changes in location, equipment, management and responsible personnel, or in processing methods and labeling, of any product for which a license is in effect or for which an application for license is pending, shall be reported to the director, by the processor or operator, and unless in case of an emergency, not less than 30 days in advance of the time such changes are intended to be made.

(b) Processing methods and labeling. Proposed changes in processing methods and labeling may not become effective until notification of acceptance is received from the director.

(c) Failure to report. Failure to report a change as required shall constitute a ground for summary suspension of a license.

(Code 1956, § 29-115)

Sec. 82-481. Establishment licenses; issuance and conditions.

(a) Inspection; compliance with standards. An establishment license shall be issued only after inspection of the establishment and upon a determination that the establishment complies with the applicable standards prescribed in the regulations in this article.

(3) A product license is requested and issued simultaneously with the establishment license.

(c) One establishment license to cover all locations. One establishment license shall be issued to cover all locations meeting the establishment standards.
(Code 1956, § 29-116)

Sec. 82-482. Summary suspension.

Whenever the director has reasonable ground to believe that an establishment or product for which a license has been issued fails to conform to the standards prescribed in the regulations in this article, and that by reason of such failure and of failure of the processor to take prompt corrective measures on notice thereof, the distribution or sale of a licensed product would constitute a danger to health, or that the establishment and processing methods have been so changed as to require, in order to protect the public health, a new showing that the establishment or product meets the standards prescribed in the regulations in this article, he may summarily suspend the license for the establishment or the product, and require the operator to show cause within 15 days, or such other period as may be specified in the order, why the license should not be revoked.
(Code 1956, § 29-118)

Sec. 82-483. Hearing.

When deemed advisable by the director in matters involving the safety, purity and potency of a licensed product or products for which an application for license is pending, the reports of inspection and examination, together with any pertinent data the establishment may submit, shall be passed upon by a hearing to be held by an assistant chief administrative officer of the city, in accordance with the notice issued by the director of the department of health in accordance with the provisions of the statutes of the state contained in R.S. 49:951. The hearing to be conducted by the assistant chief administrative officer shall also conform to all other requirements of R.S. 49:951 et seq.
(Code 1956, § 29-119)

Sec. 82-484. Opportunity for hearing.

Any person subject to this article whose application for license has been denied, or whose establishment or product license has been summarily suspended, without prior opportunity for a hearing, may appeal from such denial or suspension and shall be entitled to a hearing thereon before an assistant chief administrative officer, as set forth under the provisions of section 82-483.

Any person or corporation whose license was suspended or revoked under the provisions of this article may appeal their decision to the council for their further determination. Such appeal shall be made in accordance with the ordinances of the city and the rules governing the city council.
(Code 1956, § 29-121)

Sec. 82-486. Licenses; reissuance.

(a) Compliance with standards. An establishment or product license, previously suspended or revoked, whether upon application, or for failure to comply with standards or changes in standards prescribed in the regulations in this article, may be reissued or reinstated upon a showing of compliance with required standards and upon such inspection and examination as may be considered necessary by the director.

(b) Exclusion of noncomplying location. An establishment or product license, excluding a location or locations that fail to comply with prescribed standards, may be issued without further application and concurrently with the suspension or revocation of the license for noncompliance at the excluded location or locations.

DIVISION 3. REGULATIONS

Sec. 82-511. Personnel.

(a) Responsible head. A person shall be designated as the responsible head who shall exercise control of the establishment in all matters relating to compliance with the provisions of this article, with authority to represent the processor in all pertinent matters with the department of health, and with authority to enforce or to direct the enforcement of discipline and the performance of assigned functions by employees engaged in the processing of products. The responsible head shall have an understanding of the scientific principles and the techniques involved in the processing of products. The responsible head shall have the responsibility for the training of employees in processing methods and for their being informed concerning the application of the pertinent provisions of this article to their respective functions.

(b) Other personnel. Personnel shall have capabilities commensurate with their assigned functions, a thorough understanding of the processing operations which they perform, the necessary training and experience relating to individual products, and adequate information concerning the application of the pertinent provisions of this article to their respective functions. Personnel shall include such professionally trained persons as are necessary to ensure the competent performance of all processing.

(c) Restrictions on personnel.

(1) Specific duties. Persons whose presence can affect adversely the safety and purity of a product shall be excluded from the room where the processing of a product is in progress.

(2) Sterile operations. Personnel performing sterile operations shall wear clean or sterilized protective clothing and devices to the extent necessary to protect the product from contamination.

(3) Pathogenic viruses and spore-bearing organisms. Persons working with viruses pathogenic for man or with spore-bearing microorganisms, and persons engaged in the care of animals or animal quarters, shall be excluded from areas where other products are processed, or such persons shall change outer clothing, including shoes, or wear protective covering prior to entering such areas.

(4) Live vaccine work areas. Persons may not enter a live vaccine processing area after having worked with other infectious agents in any other laboratory during the same working day. Only persons actually concerned with propagation of the culture, production of the vaccine and unit maintenance shall be allowed in live vaccine processing areas when active work is in progress. Casual visitors shall be excluded from such units at all times and all others having business in such areas shall be admitted only under supervision. Street clothing, including shoes, shall be replaced or covered by suitable laboratory clothing before entering a live vaccine processing unit. Persons caring for animals used in the processing of live vaccines shall be excluded from other animal quarters and from contact with other animals during the same working day.
(Code 1956, § 29-102)

Sec. 82-512. Work areas.

All rooms and work areas where products are collected or stored shall be kept orderly, clean and free of dirt, dust, vermin and objects not required for processing. Precautions shall be taken to avoid clogging and backsiphonage of drainage systems. Precautions shall be taken to exclude extraneous infectious agents from processing areas. Work rooms shall be well lighted and ventilated. The ventilation system shall be arranged so as to prevent the dissemination of microorganisms from one processing area to another and to avoid other conditions unfavorable to the safety of the product. Filling rooms, and other rooms where open, sterile operations are conducted, shall be adequate to meet processing needs and such rooms shall be constructed and equipped to permit thorough cleaning and to keep airborne contaminants at a minimum. If such rooms are used for other purposes, they shall be cleaned and prepared prior to use for sterile operations. Refrigerators, incubators and warm rooms shall be maintained at temperatures within applicable ranges and shall be free of extraneous material which might affect the safety of the product.

Sec. 82-513. Equipment.

Apparatus for sterilizing equipment and the method of operation shall be such as to ensure the destruction of contaminating microorganisms. The effectiveness of the sterilization procedure shall be no less than that achieved by an attained temperature of 121.5 degrees Celsius maintained for 20 minutes by saturated steam or by an attained temperature of 170 degrees Celsius maintained for two hours with dry heat. Processing and storage containers, filters, filling apparatus and other pieces of apparatus and accessory equipment, including pipes and tubing, shall be designed and constructed to permit thorough cleaning and, where possible, inspection for cleanliness. All surfaces that come in contact with products shall be clean and free of extraneous material. For products for which sterility is a factor, equipment shall be sterile unless sterility of the product is assured by subsequent procedures.
(Code 1956, § 29-103(b))

Sec. 82-514. Laboratory and bleeding rooms.

Rooms used for the processing of products, including bleeding rooms, shall be effectively flyproofed and kept free of flies and vermin. Such rooms shall be so constructed as to ensure freedom from dust, smoke and other deleterious substances and to permit thorough cleaning and disinfection. Rooms for animal injection and bleeding, and rooms for smallpox vaccine animals, shall be disinfected and be provided with the necessary water, electrical and other services.

Sec. 82-515. Animal quarters and stables.

Animal quarters, stables and food storage areas shall be of appropriate construction, flyproofed, adequately lighted and ventilated, and maintained in a clean, vermin-free and sanitary condition. No manure or refuse shall be stored as to permit the breeding of flies on the premises, nor shall the establishment be located in close proximity to off-property manure or refuse storage capable of engendering fly breeding.
(Code 1956, § 29-103(d))

Sec. 82-516. Restrictions on building and equipment use.

(a) Work of a diagnostic nature. Laboratory procedures of a clinical diagnostic nature involving materials that may be contaminated shall not be performed in space used for the processing of products except that processing space which is used only occasionally may be used for diagnostic work provided spore-bearing pathogenic microorganisms are not involved and provided the space is thoroughly cleaned and disinfected before the processing of products is resumed.

(b) Spore-bearing organisms for supplemental sterilization procedure control test. Spore-bearing organisms used as an additional control in sterilization procedures may be introduced into areas used for the processing of products, only for the purposes of the test and only immediately before use for such purposes, provided that:

(1) The organism is not pathogenic for man or animals and does not produce pyrogens or toxins;

(2) The culture is demonstrated to be pure;

(3) Transfer of test cultures to culture media shall be limited to the sterility test area or areas designated for work with spore-bearing organisms;

(4) Each culture be labeled with the name of the microorganism and the statement "Caution: microbial spores. See directions for storage, use and disposition"; and

(5) The container of each culture is designed to withstand handling without breaking.

(c) Work with spore-bearing organisms. Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, all work with spore-bearing microorganisms shall be done in an entirely separate building; provided, that such work may be done in a portion of a building used in the processing of products not containing spore-bearing microorganisms if such portion is completely walled off and is constructed so as to prevent contamination of other areas and if entrances to such portion are independent of the remainder of the building. All vessels, apparatus and equipment used for spore-bearing microorganisms shall be permanently identified and reserved exclusively for use with those organisms. Materials destined for further processing may be removed from such an area only under conditions which will prevent the introduction of spores into other processing areas.

(d) Live vaccine processing. Space used for processing a live vaccine shall not be used for any other purpose during the processing period for that vaccine and such space shall be decontaminated prior to initiation of the processing. Live vaccine processing areas shall be isolated from and independent of any space used for any other purpose by being either in a separate building, in a separate wing of a building, or in quarters at the blind end of a corridor and shall include adequate space and equipment for all processing steps up to filling into final containers. Test procedures which potentially involve the presence of microorganisms other than the vaccine strains, or the use of tissue culture cell lines other than primary cultures, shall not be conducted in space used for processing live vaccine.

(e) Equipment and supplies; contamination. Equipment and supplies used in work on or otherwise exposed to any pathogenic or potentially pathogenic agent shall be kept separated from equipment and supplies used in the processing of products to the extent necessary to prevent cross-contamination.

Sec. 82-517. Animals used in processing.

(a) Care of animals used in processing. Caretakers and attendants for animals used for the processing of products shall be sufficient in number and have adequate experience to ensure adequate care. Animal quarters and cages shall be kept in sanitary condition. Animals on production shall be inspected daily to observe response to production procedures. Animals that become ill for reasons not related to production shall be isolated from other animals and shall not be used for production until recovery is complete. Competent veterinary care shall be provided as needed.

(b) Quarantine of animals generally. No animal shall be used in processing unless kept under competent daily inspection and preliminary quarantine for a period of at least seven days before use, or as otherwise provided in this article. Only healthy animals free from detectable communicable diseases shall be used. Animals must remain in overt good health throughout the quarantine periods and particular care shall be taken during the quarantine periods to reject animals of the equine genus which may be infected with glanders and animals which may be infected with tuberculosis.

(c) Quarantine of monkeys. In addition to observing the pertinent general quarantine requirements, monkeys used as a source of tissue in the processing of vaccine shall be maintained in quarantine for at least six weeks prior to use; except when otherwise provided in this part. Only monkeys that have reacted negatively to tuberculin at the start of the quarantine period and again within two weeks prior to use shall be used in the processing of vaccine. Due precaution shall be taken to prevent cross-infection from any infected or potentially infected monkeys on the premises. Monkeys to be used in the processing of a live vaccine shall be maintained throughout the quarantine period in cages closed on all sides with solid materials except the front which shall be screened, with no more than two monkeys housed in one cage. Cage mates shall not be interchanged.

(d) Immunization against tetanus. Horses and other animals susceptible to tetanus, that are used in the processing steps of the processing of biological products shall be treated adequately to maintain immunity to tetanus.

(e) Immunization and bleeding of animals used as a source of products. Toxins or other nonviable antigens administered in the immunization of animals used in the processing of products shall be sterile. Viable antigens, when so used, shall be free of contaminants, as determined by appropriate tests prior to use. Injections shall not be made into horses within six inches of bleeding site. Horses shall not be bled for processing purposes while showing persistent general reaction or local reaction near the site of bleeding. Blood shall not be used if it was drawn within five days of injecting the animals with viable microorganisms. Animals shall not be bled for processing purposes when they have an intercurrent disease. Blood intended for use as a source of biological product shall be collected in clean, sterile vessels. When the product is intended for use by injection, such vessels shall also be pyrogen-free.

(f) Reporting of certain diseases. In cases of actual or suspected infection with foot-and-mouth disease, glanders, tetanus, anthrax, gas gangrene, equine infectious anemia, equine encephalomyelitis or any of the pock diseases among animals intended for use or used in the processing of products, the processor shall immediately notify the director of the department of health.

(g) Monkeys used previously for experimental or test purposes. Monkeys that have been used previously for experimental or test purposes with live microbiological agents shall not be used as a source of kidney tissue for the processing of vaccine. Except as provided otherwise in this division, monkeys that have been used previously for other experimental or test purposes may be used as a source of kidney tissue upon their return to a normal condition, provided all quarantine requirements have been met.

(h) Necropsy examination of monkeys. Each monkey used in the manufacture of vaccine shall be examined at necropsy under the direction of a qualified pathologist, physician or veterinarian having experience with diseases of monkeys, for evidence of ill health, particularly for:

(1) Evidence of tuberculosis;

(2) Presence of herpes-like lesions, including eruptions or plaques on or around the lips, in the buccal cavity or on the gums; and

(3) Signs of conjunctivitis.

If there are any such signs or other significant gross pathological lesions, the tissue shall not be used in the processing of vaccine.
(Code 1956, § 29-103(f))

Sec. 82-518. Filling procedures.

Filling procedures shall be such as will not affect adversely the safety, purity or potency of the product.
(Code 1956, § 29-103(g))

Sec. 82-519. Containers and closures.

All final containers and closures shall be made of material that will not hasten the deterioration of the product or otherwise render it less suitable for the intended use. All final containers and closures shall be clean and free of surface solids, leachable contaminants and other materials that will hasten the deterioration of the product or otherwise render it less suitable for the intended use. After filling, sealing shall be performed in a manner that will maintain the integrity of the product during the dating period. In addition, final containers and closures for products intended for use by injection shall be sterile and free from pyrogens. Except as otherwise provided in the regulations of this article, final containers for products intended for use by injection shall be colorless and sufficiently transparent to permit visual examination of the contents under normal light. As soon as possible after filling, final containers shall be labeled as prescribed by federal law, except that final containers may be stored without such prescribed labeling provided they are stored in a sealed receptacle labeled both inside and outside with at least the name of the product, the lot number, and the filling identification.
(Code 1956, § 29-103(h))

Sec. 82-520. Records.

(a) Maintenance. Records shall be made, concurrently with the performance, of each step in the processing and distribution of products in such a manner that at any time successive steps in the processing and distribution of any lot may be traced by an inspector. Such records shall be legible and indelible, shall identify the person immediately responsible, shall include dates of the various steps, and be as detailed as necessary for clear understanding of each step by one experienced in the processing of products.

(b) Retention generally. Records shall be retained for such interval beyond the expiration date as is necessary for the individual product, to permit the return of any clinical report of unfavorable reactions. The retention period shall be no less than five years after the records of processing have been completed or six months after the latest expiration date for the individual product, whichever represents a later date.

(c) Records of recall. Complete records shall be maintained pertaining to the recall from distribution of any product upon notification by the director of the department of health, to recall for failure to conform with the standards prescribed in the regulations of this article, because of deterioration of the product or for any other factor by reason of which the distribution of the product would constitute a danger to health.

(d) Suspension of requirement for retention. The director of the department of health may authorize the suspension of the requirement to retain records of a specific processing step upon a showing that such records no longer have significance for the purposes for which they were made, provided, that a summary of such records shall be retained.

(e) Sterilization of equipment and supplies. Records relating to the mode of sterilization, date, duration, temperature and other conditions relating to each sterilization of equipment and supplies used in the processing of products shall be made by means of automatic recording devices or by means of a system of recording which gives equivalent assurance of the accuracy and reliability of the record. Such records shall be maintained in a manner that permits an identification of the product with the particular process to which the sterilization relates.

(f) Animal necropsy records. A necropsy record shall be kept on each animal from which a biological product has been obtained and which dies or is sacrificed while being so used.

(g) Records in case of divided processing responsibility. If two or more establishments participate in the processing of a product, the records of each such establishment must show plainly the degree of its responsibility. In addition, each participating processor shall furnish to the processor who prepares the product in final form for sale, barter or exchange, a copy of all records relating to the processing operations performed by such participating processor insofar as they concern the safety, purity and potency of the lots of the product involved, and the processor who prepares the product in final form shall retain a complete record of all the processing operations relating to the product. (Code 1956, § 29-104)

Sec. 82-521. Retention samples.

Processors shall retain for a period of at least six months after the expiration date, unless a different time period is specified in additional standards, a quantity of representative material of each lot of each product, sufficient for examination and testing for safety and potency, except whole blood (human), antihemophilic plasma (human), cryoprecipitated antihemophilic factor (human), red blood cells (human), single-donor plasma (human), source plasma (human), normal human plasma and allergenic products prepared to physician's prescription. Samples so retained shall be selected at random from either final container material or from bulk and final containers, provided they include at least one final container as a final package, or package-equivalent of such filling of each lot of the product as intended for distribution. Such sample material shall be stored at temperatures and under conditions which will maintain the identity and integrity of the product. Samples retained as required in this section shall be in addition to samples of specific products required to be submitted to the department of health. Exceptions may be authorized by the director when the lot yields relatively few final containers and when such lots are prepared by the same method in large number and in close succession.

(Code 1956, § 29-105)

Sec. 82-522. Reporting of errors.

The director of the department of health shall be notified promptly of errors or accidents in the processing of products that may affect the safety, purity or potency of any product.

DIVISION 4. INSPECTIONS

Sec. 82-551. Inspectors.

Inspections shall be made by a registered sanitarian who is an officer of the department of health.
(Code 1956, § 29-108)

Sec. 82-552. Time of inspection.

(a) The inspection of an establishment for which a license is pending need not be made until the establishment is in operation. In case the license is denied following inspection for the original license, no reinspection need be made until assurance has been received that the faulty conditions which were the basis of the denial have been corrected. An inspection of each licensed establishment shall be made not less than annually. Inspections may be made with or without notice, and shall be made during regular business hours unless the establishment is notified to the contrary.

(b) Satisfactory inspection and certification by the American Association of Blood Banks or Federal Blood Bank Inspection teams may be accepted in lieu of the required annual inspection.
(Code 1956, § 29-109)

Sec. 82-553. Duties of inspector.

The inspector shall:

(1) Call upon the active head of the establishment, stating the object of his visit.

(2) Interrogate the proprietor or other personnel of the establishment as he may deem necessary.

(3) Examine the details of location, construction, equipment and maintenance, including stables, barns, warehouses, processing laboratories, bleeding clinics maintained for the collection of human blood, shipping rooms, record rooms and any other structure or appliance used in the establishment.

(4) Investigate as fully as he deems necessary the methods of propagation, processing, testing, storing, dispensing, recording or other details of operation, including observation of these procedures in actual operation.

(5) Obtain and cause to be sent to the director any necessary samples for the examination of any product.

(6) Bring to the attention of the licensee any fault observed in the course of inspection in location, construction or administration of a licensed establishment which might lead to impairment of a product.

(7) Inspect by a registered sanitarian, as circumstances may require, any records, to include donor records, required to be kept pursuant to this article.

(8) Certify as to the condition of the establishment and of the processing methods followed and make recommendations as to action deemed appropriate with respect to any application for license or any license previously issued.

Secs. 82-554—82-575. Reserved.

DIVISION 5. WHOLE BLOOD (HUMAN)

Sec. 82-576. Proper name.

The proper name of the product shall be "whole blood (human)." Whole blood (human) is defined as blood collected from human donors for transfusion to human recipients.
(Code 1956, § 29-123)

Sec. 82-577. Processing responsibility.

All collection of whole blood (human), including donor examination, blood collection, laboratory tests, labeling, storage and issue, shall be done under the supervision and control of the same licensed establishment except that the director may approve specific joint processing operations at the request of two or more licensed establishments, which he finds are of such a nature as to assure compliance otherwise with the provisions of this article.
(Code 1956, § 29-124(a))

Sec. 82-578. Periodic check on sterile technique.

(a) Where blood is collected in an open system, that is, where the blood container is entered, at least one container of such blood that upon visual examination appears normal shall be tested each month between the 18th and 24th day after collection, as a continuing check on technique of blood collection as follows:

(1) The test shall be performed with a total sample of no less than ten milliliters of blood and a total volume of fluid thioglycollate or thioglycollate broth medium ten times the volume of the sample of blood.

(2) The test sample shall be inoculated into one or more test vessels in a ratio of blood to medium of one-to-ten for each vessel, mixed thoroughly, incubated for seven to nine days at a temperature of 30 degrees to 32 degrees Celsius, and examined for evidence of growth of microorganisms every workday throughout the test period.

(3) On the third, fourth or fifth day at least one milliliter of material from each test vessel shall be subcultured in additional test vessels containing the same culture medium and in such proportion as will permit significant visual inspection, mixed thoroughly, incubated for seven to nine days at a temperature of 30 degrees to 32 degrees Celsius and examined for evidence of growth of microorganisms every workday throughout the test period.

(4) If growth is observed in any test vessel, the test shall be repeated to rule out faulty test procedure, using another sample of blood from either:

a. The container from which the initial test sample was taken;

b. The residual cells or plasma from that blood; or
c. Two different containers of blood, each 18 to 24 days old and each tested separately.

(5) The formula for fluid thioglycollate medium shall be as prescribed in this chapter and the formula for thioglycollate broth medium shall be as prescribed in this chapter.

(6) Media and design of container shall meet the requirements prescribed in this chapter.

(7) In lieu of performing one test using an incubation temperature of 30 degrees to 32 degrees Celsius, two tests may be performed, each in all respects as prescribed in this subsection, one at an incubation temperature of 18 degrees to 22 degrees Celsius and one at an incubation temperature of 35 degrees to 37 degrees Celsius.

(8) A different test may be performed provided that prior to the performance of such test a processor submits data which the director finds adequate to establish that the different test is equal or superior to the test herein prescribed as a check on sterile technique and makes the finding a matter of official record.

Sec. 82-579. Final container.

The original blood container shall be the final container and shall not be entered prior to issue for any purpose except for blood collection. Such container shall be uncolored and transparent to permit visual inspection of the contents and any closure shall be such as will maintain an hermetic seal and prevent contamination of the contents. The container material shall not interact with the contents under the customary conditions of storage and use, in such a manner as to have an adverse effect upon the safety, purity or potency of the blood.

Sec. 82-580. Reissue of blood.

Blood that has been removed from storage controlled by a licensed establishment shall not be reissued by a licensed establishment unless the following conditions are observed:

(1) The container has a tamperproof seal when originally issued and this seal remains unbroken;

(2) An original pilot sample is properly attached and has not been removed, except that blood lacking a pilot sample may be reissued in an emergency provided it is accompanied by instructions for sampling and for use within six hours after entering the container for sampling;

(3) The blood has been maintained continuously at one degree to ten degrees Celsius;

(4) The blood is held for observation until a significant inspection consistent with the requirements of section 82-584(5) can be made.

Sec. 82-581. Issue prior to determination of test results.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 82-476, blood may be issued by the licensee on the request of a physician, hospital or other medical facility, before results of all tests prescribed in section 82-584 and the test for hepatitis associated (Australia) antigen prescribed in this chapter have been determined where such issue is essential to allow time for transportation to assure arrival of the blood by the time when needed for transfusion of such blood provided:

(1) The blood is shipped directly to such physician or medical facility;

(2) The records of the licensee contain a full explanation of the need for such issue;

(3) The label on each container of such blood bears the information required by section 82-585(5);

(4) The label does not bear results of tests other than those made on pilot samples of the blood to be shipped, taken at the time of its collection; and

(5) The label does not bear the name or any other identification of the intended recipient.

Sec. 82-582. Suitability of donor.

(a) Method of determining. The suitability of a donor as a source of whole blood (human) shall be determined by a qualified physician or by persons under his supervision and trained in determining suitability. Such determination shall be made on the day of collection from the donor by means of medical history, a test for hemoglobin level, and such physical examination as appears necessary to a physician who shall be present on the premises when examinations are made, except that the suitability of donors may be determined when a physician is not present on the premises, provided the establishment maintains records indicating the name and qualifications of the person immediately in charge of the employees who determine the suitability of donors when a physician is not present on the premises.

(b) Qualifications of donor. Except as provided in subsection (f) of this section, a person may not serve as a source of whole blood (human) more than once in eight weeks. In addition, donors shall be in good health, as indicated in part by:

(1) Oral temperature not to exceed 99.6 degrees Fahrenheit;

(2) Demonstration that the systolic blood pressure is between 100 and 200 millimeters of mercury, and the diastolic is between 50 and 100 millimeters of mercury, unless the examining physician is satisfied that an individual with blood pressures outside these limits is a qualified donor under the provisions of this section;

(3) A blood hemoglobin level which shall be demonstrated to be no less than 12.5 grams of hemoglobin per 100 milliliters of blood;

(4) Freedom from acute respiratory diseases;

(5) Freedom from any infectious skin disease at the site of phlebotomy and from any such disease generalized to such an extent as to create a risk of contamination of the blood;

(6) Freedom from any disease transmissible by blood transfusion, insofar as can be determined by history and examinations indicated above; and

(7) Freedom of the arms and forearms from skin punctures or scars indicative of addiction to self-injected narcotics.

(c) Prohibited donors. No individual shall be used as a source of whole blood (human) if he has:

(1) A history of viral hepatitis;

(Code 1956, § 29-125)

Sec. 82-583. Collection of the blood.

(a) Supervision. Blood shall be drawn from the donor by a qualified physician or under his supervision by assistants trained in the procedure. A physician shall be present on the premises when blood is being collected, except that blood may be collected when a physician is not present on the premises, provided the establishment:

(1) Maintains on the premises a manual of standard procedures and methods, specifically developed for that institution and approved yearly by the medical director of that institution, that shall be followed by employees who collect blood; and

(2) Maintains records indicating the name and qualifications of the person immediately in charge of the employees who collect blood when a physician is not present on the premises.

A copy of this manual must be provided to the director of health upon request.

(b) The donor clinic. The pertinent requirements of sections 82-511 through 82-519 shall apply at both the licensed establishment and at any other place where the bleeding is performed.

(c) Blood containers. Blood containers and donor sets shall be pyrogen-free, sterile and identified by lot number. The amount of anticoagulant required for the quantity of blood to be collected shall be in the blood container when it is sterilized. In addition, all container and donor set surfaces that come in contact with blood used in the processing of Heparinized whole blood (human) shall be water repellant.

(d) The anticoagulant solution. The anticoagulant solution shall be sterile and pyrogen-free. One of the following formulae shall be used in the indicated volumes:

(e) Donor identification. Each unit of blood shall be so marked or identified by number or other symbol as to relate it to the individual donor whose identity shall be established to the extent necessary for compliance with section 82-582.

(f) Prevention of contamination of the blood. The skin of the donor at the site of phlebotomy shall be prepared thoroughly and carefully by a method that gives maximum assurance of a sterile container of blood. The blood shall be collected by aseptic methods in a sterile system which may be closed or may be vented if the vent protects the blood against contamination.

(g) Pilot samples for laboratory tests. Pilot samples for laboratory tests shall meet the following standards:

(1) One or more pilot samples shall be provided with each unit of blood when issued or reissued except as provided in section

82-580 and all pilot samples shall be from the donor who is the source of the unit of blood.

In the latter case the blood shall be placed in temporary storage having sufficient refrigeration capacity to cool the blood continuously toward a two degree range between one degree and six degrees Celsius until it arrives at the processing laboratory where it shall be stored within a two degree range between one degree and six degrees Celsius.
(Code 1956, § 29-126)

Sec. 82-584. Testing the blood.

All laboratory tests shall be made on a pilot sample specimen of blood taken from the donor at the time of collecting the unit of blood, and these tests shall include the following:

(1) Serological test for syphilis. Whole blood (human) shall be negative to a serological test for syphilis. Positive diagnosis of disease must be reported to the director and in accordance with the state sanitary code.

(2) Determination of blood group. Each container of whole blood (human) shall be classified as to ABO blood group. At least two blood group tests shall be made and the unit shall not be issued until grouping tests by different methods or with different lots of antiserums are in agreement. Only those Anti-A and Anti-B Blood Grouping Serums licensed under, or that otherwise meet the requirements of the regulations of this article shall be used, and the technique used shall be that for which the serum is specifically designed to be effective.

(3) Determination of the Rh factors. Each container of whole blood (human) shall be classified as to Rh type on the basis of tests done on the pilot sample. The label shall indicate the extent of typing and the results of all tests performed. If the test, using Anti-Rh_0 (Anti-D) Typing Serum, is positive, the container may be labeled "Rh Positive". If this test is negative, the results shall be confirmed by further testing which may include tests for the Rh_0 variant (D^u) and for other Rh-Hr factors. Blood may be labeled "Rh Negative" if negative to tests for the Rh_0 (D) and Rh_0 variant (D^u) factors. If the test using Anti-Rh_0 (Anti-D) Typing Serum is negative, but not tested for the Rh_0 variant (D^u), the label must indicate that this test was not done. Only Anti-Rh Typing Serums licensed under, or that otherwise meet the requirements of, the regulations of this article shall be used, and the technique used shall be that for which the serum is specifically designed to be effective.

(4) Sterility test. Whole blood (human) intended for transfusion shall not be tested for sterility by a method that entails entering the final container before the blood is used for transfusion.

(5) Inspection. Whole blood (human) shall be inspected visually during storage and immediately prior to issue. If the color or physical appearance is abnormal or there is any indication or suspicion of microbial contamination the unit of whole blood (human) shall not be issued for transfusion.
(Code 1956, § 29-127)

A cryophylactic substance may be added to the red blood cells (human) for extended processor's storage at minus 65 degrees Celsius or colder, provided the processor submits data considered by the director as adequately demonstrating through in vivo cell survival and other appropriate tests that the addition of the substance, the materials used and the processing methods result in a final product that meets the required standards of safety, purity and potency for red blood cells (human), and that the frozen product will maintain those properties for the prescribed dating period. Section 82-607(b) and (c) do not apply while a cryophylactic substance is present.

Sec. 82-639. Processing.

(a) Separation of plasma. The plasma shall be separated from the red blood cells in a closed sterile system within four hours after collection by centrifugation to obtain an essentially cell-free material.

(b) Freezing the plasma. The plasma shall be frozen within two hours after separation. A combination of dry ice and organic solvent may be used for freezing provided the procedure has been shown not to cause the solvent to penetrate the container or leach plasticizers from the container into the frozen plasma.

(c) Separation of factor. The cryoprecipitated antihemophilic factor (human) shall be separated from the plasma in a closed system by a procedure that precludes contamination and has been shown to produce a product which has demonstrated potency in patients having a factor VIII deficiency.

(d) Final container. Final containers used for cryoprecipitated antihemophilic factor (human) shall be uncolored and transparent to permit visual inspection of the contents and any closure shall be such as will maintain an hermetic seal and prevent contamination of the contents. The container material shall not interact with the contents under the customary conditions of storage and use in such a manner as to have an adverse effect upon the safety, purity and potency of the product. At the time of filling, the final container shall be marked or identified by number or other symbol so as to relate it to the donor.

(Code 1956, § 29-140)

Secs. 82-640—82-659. Reserved.

DIVISION 8. SOURCE PLASMA (HUMAN)

Sec. 82-660. Proper name.

The proper name of this product shall be "source plasma (human)." The product is defined as the fluid portion of human blood which has been stabilized against clotting, collected by plasmapheresis, and is intended as source material for further processing into blood derivatives (a portion of pooled plasma separable by chemical means) intended for injection.

(Code 1956, § 29-141)

Sec. 82-661. Informed consent.

The written consent of a prospective donor shall be obtained after a qualified licensed physician has explained the hazards of the procedure to the prospective donor. The explanation shall include the risks of a hemolytic transfusion reaction if he is given the cells of another donor, and the hazards involved if he is hyperimmunized. The explanation shall consist of such disclosure and be made in such a manner that intelligent and informed consent be given and that a clear opportunity to refuse is presented. The donor shall also be apprised of the criminal provisions of this article prohibiting any donor from donating more than set forth in section 82-687(4) and (5).

(Code 1956, § 29-142)

Sec. 82-662. Medical supervision.

A qualified licensed physician shall be located on the premises when donor suitability is being determined, immunizations are being made, whole blood is being collected and red blood cells are being returned to the donor.

(Code 1956, § 29-143)

Sec. 82-663. Suitability of donor.

(a) Method of determining. The suitability of a donor for source plasma (human) shall be determined by a qualified licensed physician or by persons under his supervision and trained in determining donor suitability. Such determination shall be made on the day of collection from the donor by means of a medical history, tests and such physical examination as appears necessary to the qualified licensed physician.

(b) Initial medical examination. Each donor shall be examined by a qualified licensed physician on the day of the first donation, or no more than one week prior to the first donation, and shall be certified to be in good health by the examining physician. The certification of good health shall be on a form supplied by the licensed establishment that indicates the certification is with respect to the suitability of the individual to be a plasmapheresis donor.

(c) Qualification of donor. Donors shall be in good health on the day of donation, as indicated in part by:

(1) Oral temperature not to exceed 99.6 degrees Fahrenheit;

(2) Demonstration that the systolic blood pressure is between 100 and 200 millimeters of mercury, and the diastolic is between 50 and 100 millimeters of mercury, unless the examining physician is satisfied that an individual with blood pressures outside these limits is a qualified donor under the provisions of this section;

(3) A blood hemoglobin level of no less than 12.5 grams of hemoglobin per 100 milliliters of blood;

(4) A pulse rate between 50 and 110 beats per minute without evidence of pathological cardiac irregularity;

(5) A total serum protein of no less than six grams per 100 milliliters of serum;

(6) Weight, which shall be at least 110 pounds;

(7) Freedom from acute respiratory diseases;

(8) Freedom from any infectious skin disease at the site of phlebotomy and from any such disease generalized to such an extent as to create a risk of contamination of the plasma;

(9) Freedom from any disease, other than malaria, transmissible by blood transfusion, insofar as can be determined by history and examinations indicated in this section;

(10) Freedom of the arms and forearms from skin punctures or scars indicative of addiction to self-injected narcotics;

(11) Freedom from a history of viral hepatitis;

(12) Freedom from a history of close contact within six months of donation with an individual having viral hepatitis;

(13) Freedom from a history of having received, within six months, human blood or any derivative of human blood which the department of health has advised the licensed establishment is a possible source of viral hepatitis, except for specific immunization performed in accordance with section 82-688;

(14) No female who is pregnant with a child and her pregnancy is beyond or more advanced than 90 days may donate;

(15) Any donor who, in the opinion of the interviewer, appears to be under the influence of any drug or alcohol shall not donate;

(16) Any person who for any reason does not appear to be providing reliable answers to medical history questions shall not be considered a suitable donor.

(Code 1956, § 29-144)

Sec. 82-664. Collection of blood for source plasma (human).

(a) Supervision. All blood for the collection of source plasma (human) shall be drawn from the donor by a qualified licensed physician or by persons under his supervision trained in the procedure.

(b) Blood containers. Blood containers and donor sets shall be pyrogen-free, sterile and identified by lot number. The amount of anticoagulant required for the quantity of blood to be collected shall be in the blood container when it is sterilized.

(c) The anticoagulant solution. The anticoagulant solution shall be sterile and pyrogen-free. One of the following formulae shall be used in the indicated volumes:

Secs. 82-665—82-685. Reserved.

DIVISION 9. PLASMAPHERESIS

Sec. 82-686. Procedure generally.

The plasmapheresis procedure, which is defined as that procedure in which blood is removed from a donor, the plasma separated from the formed elements and the formed elements returned to the donor, during a single visit to the establishment, shall be described in detail in the product license application.
(Code 1956, § 29-146(a))

Sec. 82-687. Specific requirements.

The plasmapheresis procedure shall meet the following requirements:

(1) A sample of blood shall be drawn from each donor by a qualified licensed physician or by persons under his supervision and trained in such procedure on the day of the first plasmapheresis and at least every four months thereafter on which a serologic test for syphilis and a serum protein electrophoresis or quantitative immunodiffusion test for immunoglobulins to determine the immunoglobulin composition of the serum shall be performed. The results of the tests shall be reviewed by a qualified licensed physician within ten days after the sample is drawn to determine whether or not the donor may continue on the program. If the plasma protein composition is not within normal limits established by the testing laboratory, the donor shall be removed from the program until these values return to normal. A donor with a reactive serologic test for syphilis shall not be plasmapheresed again until his serum tests nonreactive to a serologic test for syphilis.

(2) At least every four months the accumulated laboratory data and collection records of each donor shall be reviewed by a qualified licensed physician to determine continuing suitability of the donor. Only those donors found suitable upon such a review shall remain in the plasmapheresis program. Such a review shall be signed by the reviewing physician.

(3) A donor identification system shall be established that positively identifies each donor and relates such donor directly to his blood and its components as well as to his accumulated records and laboratory data. Such system shall include either a photograph of each donor which shall be used on each visit to confirm the donor's identity, or some other method that provides equal or greater assurance of positively identifying the donor.

(4) The amount of whole blood, not including anticoagulant, removed from a donor during a plasmapheresis procedure or in any 48-hour period shall not exceed 1,000 milliliters unless the donor's weight is 175 pounds or greater, in which case the amount of whole blood, not including anticoagulant, removed from the donor during a plasmapheresis procedure or in any 48-hour period shall not exceed 1,200 milliliters.

(5) The amount of whole blood, not including anticoagulant, removed from a donor within a seven-day period shall not exceed 2,000 milliliters unless the donor's weight is 175 pounds or greater, in which case the amount of whole blood, not including anticoagulant, removed from the donor during a seven-day period shall not exceed 2,400 milliliters.

(6) No more than 500 milliliters of whole blood shall be removed from a donor at one time, unless the donor's weight is 175 pounds or greater, in which case no more than 600 milliliters of whole blood shall be removed from the donor at one time.

(7) The plasma shall be separated from the red blood cells immediately after blood collection. The maximum feasible volume of red blood cells shall be returned to the donor before another unit is collected.

Sec. 82-688. Immunization of donors.

If specific immunization of a donor is to be performed, the selection and scheduling of the injection of the antigen, and the evaluation of each donor's clinical response, shall be by a qualified licensed physician or physicians. The administration of the antigen may be performed by a licensed physician or a trained person under his supervision. Any material used for immunization shall be either a product licensed under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act for such purpose or one specifically approved by the director. Immunization procedures shall be on file at each plasmapheresis center where immunizations are performed.

(Code 1956, § 29-147)

Sec. 82-689. Test for hepatitis B antigen.

Each unit of source plasma (human) shall be nonreactive to a test for the hepatitis B antigen by method approved by the director.

(Code 1956, § 29-148)

Sec. 82-690. Processing.

(a) Sterile system. All surfaces that come in contact with the plasma shall be both sterile and pyrogen-free. If the method of separation involves a vented system (i.e., where an airway must be inserted into a container for withdrawal of the plasma), the airway and vent shall be sterile and constructed so as to exclude microorganisms and maintain a sterile system.

(b) Final containers. Final containers used for source plasma (human), whether integrally attached or separated from the original blood container, shall not be entered prior to issuance for any purpose except for filling with the plasma. Such containers shall be uncolored and hermetically sealed, and shall permit clear visibility of the contents. Final containers and their components shall not interact with the plasma contents under conditions of storage and use so as to alter the safety, quality, purity or potency of the plasma and shall provide adequate protection against external factors that may cause deterioration or contamination. Prior to filling, the final container shall be marked or identified by number or other symbol which will relate it directly to the donor.

(c) Preservative. Source plasma (human) shall not contain a preservative.
(Code 1956, § 29-149)

Sec. 82-691. General requirements.

(a) Pooling. Pooling of plasma by the collector or processor of source plasma (human) from two or more donors is not permitted. Two units of plasma from the same donor may be pooled if such units are collected during one plasmapheresis procedure, provided the pooling is done by a procedure that gives maximum assurance of a sterile container of plasma.

(b) Storage. Immediately after filling, the plasma shall be stored at not warmer than minus 20 degrees Celsius, except for plasma collected as provided for in section 82-692.

(c) Inspection. Source plasma (human) shall be inspected at the time of issuance. If there is any evidence of thawing, the unit shall not be issued.

(d) Pilot samples. If pilot samples are provided, they shall meet the following standards:

(1) Prior to filling, all pilot samples shall be marked or identified so as to relate them directly to the donor of that unit of plasma.

(2) All pilot samples shall be filled at the time the final product is prepared by the person who prepares the final product.

(3) All pilot samples shall be representative of the contents of the final product.

(4) All pilot samples shall be collected in a manner that does not contaminate the contents of the final container.

(e) Labeling. In addition to the labeling requirements of federal and state law, the following information shall appear on the label affixed to each container of source plasma (human):

(1) The proper name of the product.

(2) Name, address and license number of the processor.

(3) Donor number.

(4) Collection date of the plasma.

(5) The statement: "Caution: For Processing Use Only".

(6) The statement: "Store at -20° C. or colder".

(7) A statement as to whether the plasma was collected from normal donors or from immunized donors. In the case of immunized donors, the label shall state the immunizing antigen.

(8) The total volume of plasma and total quantity and type of anticoagulant used.

(9) The test for hepatitis B antigen used and the results.

(f) Processing responsibility. All steps in the processing of source plasma (human), including donor examination, blood collection, plasmapheresis, laboratory testing, labeling, storage and issuing shall be performed by the establishment licensed to process source plasma (human), except that the following tests may be performed by a clinical laboratory licensed by a state or federal agency, or by an establishment licensed for blood or blood derivatives under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, provided such arrangements are approved by the director:

(1) The test for hepatitis B antigen pursuant to section 82-689.

(2) The serum protein electrophoresis or quantitative immunodiffusion test for immunoglobulin as required by section 82-687(1).

(3) Such testing pursuant to subsections (f)(1) and (2) of this section shall not be considered divided processing, requiring two product licenses for source plasma (human), provided that:

a. The results of such tests are maintained by the establishment licensed for source plasma (human) whereby such results may be reviewed by a licensed physician as required in section 82-687(2), and/or by authorized department of health inspectors.

b. The source plasma (human) processor has obtained a written agreement that the testing laboratory will permit authorized department of health inspectors to inspect their testing procedures and facilities during any reasonable business hours.

c. The testing laboratory will participate in any proficiency testing programs undertaken by the department of health.

(g) Records. In addition to the general record-keeping requirements of section 82-521, every processor of source plasma (human) must keep for each donor a separate and complete record of all initial and periodic examinations, tests, laboratory data, interviews, etc., undertaken pursuant to sections 82-663 and 82-686 through 82-689. This record must also contain the original or a clear copy of the donor's written consent for participation in the plasmapheresis program as required by section 82-661 and the certification of good health as prescribed in section 82-663(b). Each donor record must be directly cross referenced to the unit of source plasma (human) associated with the donor.
(Code 1956, § 29-150)

Sec. 82-692. Modification of source plasma (human).

(a) Upon approval by the director of an amendment to the product license for source plasma (human), a processor may prepare source plasma (human) as a liquid product for a licensed blood derivative processor who has indicated a need for a liquid product.

(b) Liquid source plasma (human) shall meet all standards of the frozen source plasma (human) except:

(1) Liquid source plasma (human) shall be stored in nonleachable containers so that the containers and their components will not interact with the plasma contents under conditions of storage and use so as to alter the safety, quality, purity or potency of the plasma and shall provide adequate protection against external factors that may cause deterioration or contamination.

(2) Liquid source plasma (human) shall be shipped, stored and labeled for storage at a temperature of ten degrees Celsius or colder. An exception to the shipping or storage temperature shall be approved by the director based upon his receipt of substantial evidence to support another temperature. Such evidence may be submitted by either the product licensee of the liquid source plasma (human) or the processor of the final blood derivative product who has requested the liquid source plasma (human).

(3) The label for the liquid source plasma (human) shall be easily distinguished from that of the frozen product. Color coding shall not be used for this purpose.

(4) The label affixed to each container of liquid source plasma (human) shall contain, in addition to the information required by section 82-691(e) but excluding section 82-691(e)(6) the name of the processor of the final blood derivative product for whom it was prepared.

(5) Liquid source plasma (human) shall be inspected immediately prior to issuance. If the color or physical appearance is abnormal, or there is any indication or suspicion of microbial contamination, the unit of liquid source plasma (human) shall not be issued.

(Code 1956, § 29-151)

ARTICLE XII. REMOVAL OF UNAUTHORIZED ENCAMPMENTS

Sec. 82-693. Purpose.

The city finds that: (1) unauthorized entry is occurring upon public property that is closed to the public, or is open to the public only during certain operating hours or for certain limited purposes; and (2) that the erection of unauthorized structures, tents, and other shelters in these locations can create obstructions or other immediate hazards, including unsanitary conditions that can cause disease outbreaks and other health hazards, which are a threat to the public safety and health; and (3) the erection of unauthorized structures, tents, and other shelters interferes with the public's ability to utilize public property, facilities, and rights-of-way for intended purposes. Accordingly, this article centrally locates and establishes uniform rules and procedures for the remediation of encampments located on public property.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19)

Sec. 82-694. Definitions.

[The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this article, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:]

Encampment means property that, to a reasonable person, is being utilized for camping or housing purposes, as evidenced by one or more tents, structures, shelters or assembly of camping equipment. Encampments do not include areas that are no longer in active use for camping or housing purposes, but contain garbage, debris, or other waste.

Encampment area means the identifiable, public area where an encampment exists, but is not formally designated a routine cleaning area as defined in this article.

Immediate hazard means an encampment where a risk of serious injury or death exists to inhabitants—beyond an increased exposure to the elements—or presents a risk of serious injury or death to others. This includes but is not limited to: encampments located upon highway shoulders and on/off-ramps, and areas that can only be accessed by crossing driving lanes outside of legal crosswalks.

Obstruction means people, tents, personal property, garbage, debris, or other objects related to an encampment that are located on city property that genuinely interfere with the free and proper use, impede pedestrian and vehicular transportation, or unreasonably interferes with areas that are necessary for or essential to the intended use of public property.

Personal property means an item that (1) is reasonably recognizable as belonging to a person; (2) has apparent utility in its present condition and circumstances; and (3) is not hazardous or in a hazardous condition. Examples include, but are not limited to: tents, bicycles, personal papers, photographs, jewelry, eyeglasses, medications, crutches, and wheelchairs. Personal property does not include building materials, such as wood, bricks, metal pallets, and rigid plastic; junk or scrap metal, including as defined in section 130-39; combustible materials, such as gasoline, cardboard boxes, and newspapers; plug-in household appliances such as refrigerators, microwave or toaster ovens, and air-conditioning appliances; trash, refuse, or garbage, including dumped food product as defined in section 82-404; or abandoned property, which is that property found outside the area immediately surrounding an encampment, or, is property in which, given the totality of the circumstances, no person has exhibited a reasonable and actual possessory interest. If it cannot be reasonably determined if an item is personal property, the default shall be that the item be treated as personal property.

Remediation means maintenance and cleaning of the public rights-of-way and public property impacted by encampments, by performing efforts that include, but are not limited to: the removal of trash, waste and debris; the cleaning or pressure washing of streets and sidewalks; and the removal and storage of personal property.

Routine remediation area means an identifiable area where the city has previously remediated an encampment, and plans to undertake routine remediation efforts by installing permanent notice signage as provided in section 82-699.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29584, § 1, 8-10-23)

Sec. 82-695. Encampment inspection—Initial steps.

(a) Upon the department of health (hereafter, department) being notified of an encampment on public property, the department shall inspect the location within two business days.

(b) Upon inspection and a determination by the department of the existence of an encampment, the location will be prioritized for remediation. The inspection of all reported encampments is not required before prioritizing remediation of a previously inspected encampment.

(c) Prioritization of encampment remediation by the department shall be based regulations which shall at a minimum consider the following:

a. Objective hazards such as moving vehicles;

b. Criminal activity beyond substance abuse;

c. Quantities of garbage, debris, or waste;

d. Active and/or immediate health hazards to occupants or the immediate vicinity;

e. Difficulty extending emergency services to the site;

f. Imminent work scheduled at the site for which the encampment will pose an obstruction;

g. Damage to the natural environment; and/or

h. The proximity of the encampment to uses that service vulnerable populations, such as schools and facilities for the elderly.

Prioritization may be revised at any time by the department as a result of new encampments being reported and identified, additional encampments being inspected, or new information about an encampment's condition becomes available.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19)

Sec. 82-696. Designation of an encampment area for remediation—Notice requirements for removal of personal property.

(a) No personal property shall be removed from an encampment prior to the city providing notice.

(b) Notices shall be posted in a manner and quantity reasonably sufficient to notify the owners of personal property within the encampment that personal property that remains during remediation efforts will be subject to removal, stating:

(1) The day the notice was posted;

(2) The date and time range the removal is scheduled;

(3) The location and operating hours where personal property can be retrieved;

(4) That personal property can be claimed without identification, unless controlled, prescription medication; and

(5) Contact information for an outreach provider that can provide shelter alternatives.

(c) If individuals are present at the encampment, oral notice shall also be given if reasonably possible.

(d) The notice shall be posted at least 24 hours before anticipated remediation efforts. If the city fails to commence remediation within the date and time frame provided in the notice, the city shall re-post notice 24 hours before the removal and storage of personal property may occur. The city may diligently pursue to completion remediation that properly commences during the removal date and time range, even if remediation efforts ultimately exceeds the anticipated range.

(e) The notice shall be printed in English, Spanish, and Vietnamese and any other language deemed necessary by the city.

(f) Nothing provided in this section shall prohibit the city from posting notice that the remediation of a large encampment will occur over a period of several days, provided that each day's operation begins during the period identified in the notice. Such notice shall be posted 24 hours in advance of the initial commencement of remediation.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19)

Sec. 82-697. Encampment area remediation—Removal of personal property.

(a) After proper notice, the city shall take reasonable steps to segregate personal property from material that is not personal property for storage purposes, providing the segregation does not pose a danger to the employee.

(b) If any unattended personal property must be removed in order to remediate the encampment, the city shall store such property.

(c) The city may immediately remove and dispose of items determined not to be personal property, including abandoned items, garbage, debris, waste, hazardous items, and other similar materials.

(d) Nothing herein shall prohibit the owner of personal property from removing said property from an encampment in advance of a remediation.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29584, § 1, 8-10-23)

Sec. 82-698. Encampment area—Post-remediation notice.

(a) Immediately upon completion of an encampment remediation whereby personal property was removed and stored, notice shall be prominently posted and remain for at least three days thereafter.

(b) The notice shall state:

(1) The date the clean-up was performed;

(2) The location of all removed and stored personal property;

(3) That personal property can be claimed without identification, unless controlled, prescription medication; and

(4) Contact information for an outreach provider who can assist individuals with shelter alternatives and other services.

(c) The notice shall be printed in English, Spanish, and Vietnamese and any other language deemed necessary by the city.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19)

Sec. 82-699. Routine remediation areas.

(a) At any time after an initial inspection and properly noticed and completed remediation by the department of an encampment area, the city may designate the area a "routine remediation area."

(b) Routine remediation areas shall be affixed with permanent, conspicuous signage that notifies the public that the area is subject to weekly, routine, remediation without the individualized, 24-hour notice required by section 82-696.

(c) The permanent signage shall provide:

a. The date and time range when routine remediation is scheduled to occur;

b. That any personal property that remains in the noticed routine remediation area during remediation efforts may be removed and stored;

c. The location and operating hours where permanent property can be retrieved;

d. That personal property can be claimed without identification, unless controlled prescription medication; and

e. Contact information for an outreach provider who can assist individuals with shelter alternatives and other services.

(d) Any personal property that remains during the designated days and times may be removed and stored in accordance with section 82-701.

(e) The notice shall be printed in English, Spanish, and Vietnamese and any other language deemed necessary by the city.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29584, § 1, 8-10-23)

Sec. 82-700. Emergency powers—Obstructions and immediate hazards.

(a) Encampments that are deemed obstructions, pursuant to sections 146-493, 146-494, and as otherwise defined, may be removed immediately pursuant to the city's emergency police powers. The 24-hour notice requirement in section 82-696 shall not apply to removing obstructions and immediate hazards.

(b) Prior to any removal, the department shall photograph and otherwise properly document encampments that are deemed to be obstructions or immediate hazards. Any personal property removed pursuant to this section shall be stored and may be recovered, as provided in sections 82-701 and 82-702, respectively.

(c) The department shall post notice of such removal near the encampment area. Such notice shall include the date of removal and the operating hours and location to claim any personal property removed.

(d) If the owner of any personal property constituting an obstruction is present, the department shall order such owner to immediately remove the obstruction, if removal is reasonably possible.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29584, § 1, 8-10-23)

Sec. 82-701. Storage of personal property.

(a) When remediating an encampment, the department may store all personal property, except when the storage of said property is likely to create a material risk of harm that poses a health threat to the public or a city employee due to its condition. This includes, but is not limited to, items containing needles, excrement, rodents, or insects, and personal property that is reasonably expected to become hazardous during storage.

(b) Personal property shall be stored at a location commonly used by the city for storing property, which shall be reasonably accessible by public transportation and available for access before, during, and after regular business hours. The department shall maintain the personal property in storage for at least 30 days following the post-encampment remediation notice required in section 82-698.

(c) The department shall maintain a descriptive log of personal property removed from each encampment site and the property's ultimate disposition, i.e., if it was reclaimed, destroyed, or donated.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29584, § 1, 8-10-23)

Sec. 82-702. Recovering stored personal property.

(a) Persons claiming personal property shall describe the personal property with particularity, but no identification is required for recovery unless it is controlled prescription medication.

(b) The log of personal property shall indicate the name of the individual who received the recovered property.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 28081, § 1, 5-9-19)

Sec. 82-703. Reporting requirements.

Each inspection of an encampment, any subsequent remediation of encampment areas or routine cleaning areas, and the use of emergency powers, shall be documented on forms created by the department for such a purpose.

(a) For each inspection of an encampment, the department shall document compliance with the 24-hour notice requirements provided herein, and shall include at a minimum the following:
   a. The date and time period the department posted notice(s);

Ratings of significance means the value placed on a building as to its architectural or historical importance, falling into one of the following categories:

(1) Category A, buildings of national importance. These nationally important buildings include important works by architects having a national reputation, buildings or groups of buildings selected for inclusion in the National Park Service's Register of National Historic Landmarks, or unique examples illustrating American architectural development. In addition to the architectural significance of the buildings in this classification, they may be associated with historical events or persons that have national importance.

(2) Category B, buildings of major architectural importance. Buildings in this classification include outstanding examples of works by notable architects or builders; unique or exceptionally fine examples of a particular style or period when original details remain; buildings which make up an important, intact grouping or row, even when some of the buildings within the group have been defaced; and noteworthy examples of construction techniques when the original fabric of the building is basically intact.

(3) Category C, buildings of architectural or historical importance. This category includes buildings that are typical examples of architectural styles or types found in the city, when the building retains its original architectural details and makes a notable contribution to the overall character of a particular area of the central business district. In some cases, buildings of lesser architectural importance will be included in this category if they introduce an important keynote to an area or have specific historical significance related to either an historical event or person.

(4) Category D, important buildings that have been altered. This category generally includes important buildings dating from the 19th century that have had much of their exterior architectural details removed or covered. Due to their scale and basic construction, however, these buildings still make a notable contribution to the overall character of a particular area. If a building in this classification were to be properly restored or renovated, the rating would automatically be raised.

(5) Category E, buildings that contribute to the scene. These buildings generally date from the late 19th century or early 20th century and are typical examples of an architectural period or style. Though these buildings are of lesser stylistic importance, and are frequently quite modest in appearance, they are important to the character of the area due to scale, materials, and/or age.

(6) Category F, unrated buildings. These are buildings which have not been given a specific architectural rating. These buildings are generally 20th century structures that have no real architectural value.

Violator(s) means any person(s), firm(s), or corporation(s) owning property, including their lessee(s), tenant(s), agent(s), employee(s), or any person(s) acting or claiming to act on their behalf, and/or contractor(s) or any individual(s) retained by any person(s), firm(s), or corporation(s) owning property, including their lessee(s), tenant(s), agent(s), employee(s), or any person(s) acting or claiming to act on their behalf to construct, renovate or modify a structure or perform site improvements that is executed in a manner inconsistent with this chapter, and/or transferor(s) of property responsible for deviations of this chapter at the time of said transfer. (e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any owner, agent, lessee, or other person acting for or in conjunction with who demolishes a structure or edifice located in an CBDHDLC district without having received

(a) Any person aggrieved by any decision, act or proceeding of the commission shall have a right to apply in writing to the city council for reversal or modification thereof, and the president of the city council shall have the right to stay all further action until the city council may affirm a decision of the commission by majority vote of all its members. Any such appeal shall be taken within ten days from the date of decision; and the city council may consider the appeal at its next general or special meeting, but in any event not more than 45 days after. The city council has the right to reverse, change, or modify any decision of the commission only by a majority vote of all its members.

(b) Any person aggrieved by any decision of the city council affecting such district shall have the right to file a civil suit within 30 days from the date of decision in a court of competent jurisdiction under the usual rules of procedure governing same with the right to stay orders and injunctive relief provided the situation warrants it.

However, a bona fide private club is not a place of public accommodations, resort, or amusement if its policies are determined solely by its members and its facilities or services are available only to its members and their bona fide guests.

(1) Place of public accommodation, resort, or amusement includes any institution, club, or place of accommodation which:

a. Has more than 75 members;

The rental of the municipal auditorium by a nonprofit corporation, at the "full-price" rates as established by the chief administrative officer, is hereby declared to be a situation in which the expenses incurred by the city are wholly recovered by payment as to the city by the nonprofit corporation. It shall be the duty of the chief administrative officer to ensure that the payments for rental of the municipal auditorium by a nonprofit corporation for events which are not open to the public at large are sufficient to wholly recover all expenses incurred by the city.

ARTICLE II. NEW ORLEANS HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION*

Sec. 86-2. Policy and procedures.

(a) In the city with its great cosmopolitan population consisting of large numbers of people of every race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability, many of them with disabilities, there is no greater danger to the health, morals, safety and welfare of the city and its inhabitants than the existence of groups prejudiced against one another and antagonistic to each other because of differences of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability. The council hereby finds and declares that prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, and discrimination and disorder occasioned thereby threaten the rights and proper privileges of its inhabitants and menace the institutions and foundation of a free democratic state. The human relations commission as created by section 86-4 is designated as an instrument of the city's power to eliminate and prevent discrimination in employment, in places of public accommodation, resort or amusement, in housing accommodations and in commercial space because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability whenever such discrimination is prohibited by provisions of this chapter or other city law; and such commission is hereby designated as the local human rights commission for this city and is given such jurisdiction and power for such purposes as is conferred upon or authorized to a local human rights commission under applicable state law. Except as otherwise provided in the city charter, this Code, or applicable federal or state law, the commission is hereby authorized to enforce and administer any and all city ordinances prohibiting discrimination in public accommodations or in other areas, including but not limited to, the provisions of this chapter.

(b) It is the purpose and intent of the city council by this enactment to provide for the execution within the city of the policies embodied in the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964, 1968, and 1972 and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended; and to assure that the city has appropriate legislation prohibiting discrimination in employment and housing sufficient to justify the deferral of cases by the federal equal employment opportunity commission, the secretary of labor, the department of housing and urban development, and the department of justice under those statutes; to safeguard all individuals within the city from discrimination because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability in connection with employment, housing, public accommodations, financial practices, and credit transactions; to protect their interest in personal dignity and freedom from humiliation; to make available to the city their full productive capacities in employment; to secure the city against domestic strife and unrest which would menace its democratic institutions; to preserve the public safety, health, and general welfare; and to further the interest, rights, and privileges within the city.

(c) All city agencies and departments shall cooperate fully with the commission and advisory committee to the end that they may effectively carry out their functions and duties.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-3. Authorization.

(a) It is the intent of this article to authorize creation by the mayor of a new bureau, to be known as the human relations commission, which shall be authorized to exist and act for the city, as provided in this article, with the advice of an advisory committee on human relations constituted as provided herein. It is the intent of this article to exercise the city's rights under article VI, section 6 of the constitution; and the council declares that such bureau, acting with the advice of such committee, shall constitute the city's human rights commission under state law. The term "commission," as used in this article, refers to such bureau acting with the advice of such committee; and the term "committee" refers to such committee acting as the designated advisor to such bureau. The council finds that the use of a bureau within an existing administration unit, advised by a citizens' advisory committee, to serve as a city human rights commission will achieve the goals of independence of judgment and participation of citizens representing diverse interests and community groups while at the same time observing the home rule charter policy against the proliferation of administratively discrete agencies.

(b) Subject to the limitation set forth in subsection (c) of this section, the mayor is hereby authorized to create, within one of the offices, departments or boards created or recognized by the home rule charter, a bureau to be known as the New Orleans Human Relations Commission.

(c) The authorization granted in subsection (b) of this section shall be effective only during the period or periods of existence of an advisory committee on human relations appointed pursuant to section 86-4.

(d) The human relations commission shall be headed by a full-time executive director, and may employ additional staff in the manner provided by applicable law. Except as may otherwise be provided in applicable law, the executive director shall be appointed only after consultation with the advisory committee on human relations.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-4. Advisory committee on human relations; appointment; meetings; removal.

(a) Pursuant to the provisions of section 4-104 of the charter, the mayor, or with the consent of the mayor, the head of the department or board to which the human relations commission shall have been assigned, shall appoint an advisory committee to be known as the advisory committee on human relations. The mayor, or with the consent of the mayor, the head of the department or board to which the human relations commission shall have been assigned, may designate one of its employees to serve as executive director of the human relations commission. In order for its existence to be sufficient to give effect to the authorization granted by section 86-37(a), the advisory committee on human relations must be organized in accordance with subsection (b) of this section.

(b) The advisory committee shall be composed of 17 members, to be appointed as follows: one member appointed as directed by each member of the city council, two members appointed at the sole discretion of the mayor, and eight members appointed by the mayor from a list of nominees submitted by the Presidents of Xavier University, Dillard University, Tulane University, Loyola University, Delgado Community College, and Our Lady of Holy Cross College, and the Chancellors of the University of New Orleans and Southern University in New Orleans. Each of the aforementioned universities must submit three nominees for the mayor's consideration. The mayor shall select one nominee from each university.

(c) Before making appointments, the appointing and nominating authority may solicit the recommendations of civic, professional, social, advocacy, trade, labor, civil rights, and other organizations, including but not necessarily limited to, the Chamber/New Orleans and the River Region, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New Orleans, the Black Economic Development Council, the local Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, the local American Federation of Labor/Congress of Industrial Organizations, and the local Federation of Churches.

(d) The appointment of a member of the advisory committee shall not become effective until it has been confirmed by the city council. Members of the committee shall serve a term of one year and shall serve without compensation. It shall be permissible to reappoint a member for two consecutive one-year terms for a total of three terms without employing the nominating process described in paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) The committee shall meet, and shall designate one of its members as chairperson and one as vice-chairperson. The vice-chairperson shall act as chairperson in the absence or disability of the chairperson or upon a vacancy in that office. Any vacancy in the committee shall not affect its powers and shall be filled in the same manner and subject to the same limitations as to the particular appointing authority that governed the original appointment.

(f) Any member may be removed by the committee with the concurrence of the mayor and a majority of the city council for unexcused failure to attend meetings or neglect of duties or for any cause sufficient to warrant removal of a city board member.

(g) The advisory committee may, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article, hold such hearings and act at such times and places as are deemed advisable. Subpoenas for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or the production of written or other matter may be issued in accordance with applicable state or city law. The holding of hearings by the advisory committee or the appointment of a subcommittee or a hearing examiner to hold hearings pursuant to this paragraph must be approved by a majority of the members present at a meeting at which a quorum is present. The commission shall have the sole power to determine qualifications of the examiner.

(h) The advisory committee shall have the power to create subcommittees; and the commission with the advice of the committee shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as are convenient or necessary to carry out the purposes of this article in the manner provided in the city charter.

(i) All meetings of the advisory committee and its subcommittees shall be subject to the open meetings law of the state. A simple majority of the members of the advisory committee shall constitute a quorum for the purposes of doing business and of formal compliance with the open meetings law, unless otherwise provided by state law. A majority vote shall be required for advisory committee action. The executive director of the human relations commission shall have a voice, but not vote, in the meetings of the advisory committee.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99; M.C.S., Ord. No. 25700, § 1, 2-20-14)

Sec. 86-5. Duties of the commission.

The commission, with the advice of and in close cooperation with the advisory committee, shall:

(1) Study and (in such manner and subject to such screening procedures as may be provided in its rules) collect information concerning written complaints, signed by one or more complainants, that citizens of the city are being or have been deprived of rights guaranteed to them by the United States or state constitution or the laws of the state or the city, on account of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(2) Study and collect information concerning legal developments constituting discrimination or denial of equal protection of the laws under the United States or state constitution because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability, or the inadequate or partial administration of justice.

(3) Appraise the laws and policies of the federal government, the state, and the city, with respect to discrimination or denials of equal protection of the laws under the United States or state constitution because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability, or the inadequate or partial administration of justice.

(4) Collect and report information and establish forums and other means for dialogue concerning the social and economic progress and development of all citizens of the city.

(5) Foster mutual understanding and respect among all economic, social, religious, cultural and ethnic groups in the city.

(6) Assist in maintaining the integrity of the electoral process with respect to voting rights.

(7) Cooperate with federal, state, and city agencies in their efforts to curb discriminatory practices.

(8) Seek grants and donations on behalf of the city from foundations and others for the purpose of carrying out its functions, subject to the approval of the council and the mayor. The acceptance of such grants and donations by the city shall be subject to the provisions of section 9-314 of the city charter.

(9) Report to the city council and the mayor on an annual basis concerning each of its duties.

(10) Provide for execution within its jurisdiction of the policies embodied in this chapter, in Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, 42 U.S.C.A. 2000e et seq., and the Fair Housing Act, 42 U.S.C.A. 3601 et seq.

(11) Safeguard all individuals within its jurisdiction from discrimination because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-6. Action by commission.

(a) The human relations commission shall act by and through its executive director. In all matters, however, the executive director shall act strictly in conformity with the recommendations of the advisory committee on human relations.

(b) The human relations commission may act contrary to the recommendations of the advisory commission on human relations only if:

(1) The city attorney has rendered a written opinion that strict conformity with such recommendations would be unlawful, and the mayor has certified his acceptance of such opinion in a writing directed to the members of the council;

(2) The mayor has, in writing directed to the commission and distributed to the members of the council, suspended the obligation to act in such conformity until the adjournment of the next regular council meeting; or

(3) The council by two-thirds vote has expressly overruled such recommendations of the advisory committee.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-7. Assistance of mayor and executive branch.

The commission or committee may request and receive from the mayor the use of such employees of his office as may be necessary for the proper conduct of business. The department of law shall serve as legal adviser for the commission and advisory committee, and shall have a voice but no vote in all matters. The services of all other departments of the city may be available to the committee upon its request to the mayor for such services. Information in the possession of any department, board, or agency of the city shall be furnished to the commission or committee upon request, and to the extent permitted by law, subject to any limitations upon its ability and capacity to furnish the information. Upon the refusal by any director or head of any department, board, or agency of the city to furnish any information which has been requested, the matter shall be referred to the mayor, who shall determine promptly whether such information shall be furnished to the commission and committee; and the decision of the mayor shall be final. The department of property management is authorized to allocate adequate office space and to provide necessary facilities for the commission, and shall provide a suitable meeting place for the advisory committee.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-8. Meetings.

(a) The advisory committee shall meet for regular meetings at least once every two months at such time and place as shall be fixed by the committee. Special meetings may be called by the executive director, by the chairperson or, in his absence, by the vice-chairperson, and shall be called by the executive director on the written request of eight or more members of the committee. All such requests and all notices of meetings shall state the purpose or purposes for which such special meeting is to be called and shall be filed with the chairperson and served upon all members upon whom service can reasonably be made at least 24 hours before the time of the special meeting.

(b) Such a request and call for a special meeting shall be read at the meeting and entered in the minutes, and no business shall be transacted except that stated in the request for such special meeting.

(c) The executive director shall prepare the agenda and give all notices required for each meeting. The advisory committee shall keep minutes of meetings and shall establish its own rules of order or adopt Robert's Rules of Order for the conduct of meetings.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

ARTICLE III. ENFORCEMENT AND PROCEDURE

The commission, after the completion of any hearing, shall make a report in writing to the mayor and city council setting forth the facts found and its recommendations or decision, as the case may be. At any hearing before the commission or committee a witness shall have the right to be advised by counsel present during such hearings. At any hearing before the commission or committee a witness shall have the right to be advised by counsel present during such hearings.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Whoever fails or refuses to comply with a subpoena issued by the executive director that has not been quashed or modified by a civil court of competent jurisdiction shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

(c) After the filing of any complaint, the commission shall, before the end of the 30th day after receipt of the complaint, begin its investigation of the allegations of the complaint. The commission shall complete the investigation within 100 days of receipt of the complaint or notify the parties of its reasons for not completing its investigation within the time provided.

(d) A complaint shall be finally disposed of either through dismissal, execution of a conciliation agreement, or issuance of a charge, within one year after the date on which the complaint was filed unless it is impracticable to do so, in which case the executive director shall notify the parties, in writing, of the reasons for the delay.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-16. Hearing procedure; conciliation; orders.

(a) In connection with the filing of such a complaint, the commission is authorized to take proof, issue subpoenas pursuant to section 86-11, and administer oaths in the manner provided in all applicable administrative laws, regulations and rules. Any employer whose employees, or some of them, refuse or threaten to refuse to cooperate with the provisions of this article, may file with the commission a verified complaint asking for assistance by conciliation or other remedial action.

(b) If the commission shall determine after an investigation that the evidence does not support the allegations of the complaint that the person named in the complaint, hereinafter referred to as the respondent, has engaged or is engaging in a prohibited or unlawful discriminatory practice, the commission shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing such allegation of such complaint as to such respondent. The complainant may, within 30 days of such service, apply to the council for consideration of such action of the commission. Upon such application, the council may review such action and determine whether the evidence supports the allegations of the complaint and accordingly shall enter an order affirming, reversing or modifying the determination of the commission or remanding the matter for further investigation and action, a copy of which order shall be served upon the complainant.

(c) If the commission, after investigation, shall determine that the evidence supports the allegations of the complaint, or if the council, after consideration, shall determine that the evidence supports the allegations, the commission shall immediately endeavor to eliminate such prohibited acts or unlawful discriminatory practice by proceeding in the following manner:

(1) If in the judgment of the commission circumstances so warrant, it may endeavor to eliminate such prohibited or unlawful discriminatory practice by conference, conciliation and persuasion, resulting in a conciliation agreement. The terms of such conciliation agreement shall include provisions requiring the respondent to refrain from the commission of unlawful discriminatory practices in the future and may contain such further provisions as may be agreed upon by the commission and respondent, including a provision for the entry in court of a consent decree embodying the terms of the conciliation agreement.

(2) Any conciliation agreement arising out of conciliation efforts by the commission shall be an agreement between the respondent, the complainant, and the commission and shall require the approval of the commission. Each conciliation agreement shall be made public unless the complainant and respondent otherwise agree and the commission determines that disclosure is not required to further the purposes of the law or ordinance.

(3) In case of failure to eliminate the unlawful discriminatory practice complained of, or in advance thereof as determined by the commission, it shall cause to be issued and served in the name of the commission a written notice, together with a copy of such complaint, as the same may have been amended, requiring the respondent or respondents to answer the charges of such complaint at a hearing before a hearing officer designated by the executive director, at a time and place to be fixed by the executive director, and specified in such notice. The place of any such hearing shall be the office of the commission or such other place as may be designated in the notice. The case in support of the complaint shall be presented before the commission by the executive director or another representative designated by the executive director. Endeavors at conciliation by the commission shall not be received in evidence. The respondent may file a written verified answer to the complaint and appear at such hearing in person or otherwise, with or without counsel, and submit testimony. The complainant shall have the power to make reasonable amendments of the complaint, and the respondent shall have like power to make reasonable amendments of his answer. The commission shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity. The testimony taken at the hearing shall be under oath and shall be recorded in an electronically stored video and/or audio format and may be transcribed at the expense of any person who desires a transcript. Any party may cause the hearing to be recorded by a certified court reporter at his own expense.

(4) If, upon all the evidence at the hearing, the commission, or such hearing officer as may have been designated, shall find that a respondent has engaged in any unlawful discriminatory practice prohibited in this Code, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unlawful discriminatory practice and to take such affirmative action as described in section 86-17 of this chapter. If, upon all the evidence, the commission shall find that a respondent has not engaged in any such unlawful discriminatory practice, the commission shall state its finding of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing the complaint as to such respondent. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the complainant, the respondent, the city attorney, and such other public officers and persons as the commission deems proper.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-17. Civil remedies.

Affirmative action ordered under this section may include but is not limited to:

(1) Hiring, reinstatement, or upgrading of employees with or without back pay. Interim earnings or amounts earnable with reasonable diligence by the person or persons discriminated against shall operate to reduce the back pay otherwise allowable.

(2) Admission or restoration of individuals to union membership, admission to or participation in a guidance program, apprenticeship training program, on-the-job training program, or other occupational training or retraining program, and the utilization of objective criteria in the admission of individuals to such programs.

(3) Admission of individuals to a place of public accommodation, resort, or amusement.

(4) The extension to all individuals of the full and equal enjoyment of the advantages, facilities, privileges, and services of the respondent.

(b) Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a private club not in fact open to the public, which as an incident to its primary purpose or purposes provides lodgings which it owns or operates for other than a commercial purpose, from limiting the rental or occupancy of such lodgings to its members or from giving preference to its members.

(c) Nothing in this chapter limits the applicability of any reasonable local, state, or federal restrictions regarding the maximum number of occupants permitted to occupy a dwelling, nor does any provision in this chapter regarding familial status apply with respect to dwellings provided under any state or federal program specifically designed and operated to assist elderly persons, as defined in the state or federal program, or to housing for older persons. As used in this subsection, "housing for older persons" means housing communities consisting of dwellings either:

Sec. 86-28. Discrimination in sale or rental of housing and other prohibited practices.

(a) As made applicable by section 86-29, unlawful practices-housing, and except as exempted by subsection (b) thereof and 86-27, exceptions, it is unlawful:

(1) To refuse to sell or rent after the making of a bona fide offer, or to refuse to negotiate for the sale or rental of, or otherwise make unavailable or deny, a dwelling to any person because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(2) To discriminate against any person in the terms, conditions, or privileges of sale or rental of a dwelling, or in the provision of services or facilities in connection therewith, because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(3) To make, print, or publish, or cause to be made, printed, or published any notice, statement, or advertisement, with respect to the sale or rental of a dwelling that indicates any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability, or an intention to make any such preference, limitation, or discrimination.

(4) To represent to any person because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability that any dwelling is not available for inspection, sale, or rental when such dwelling is in fact so available.

(5) For profit, to induce or attempt to induce any person to sell or rent any dwelling by representations regarding the entry or prospective entry into the neighborhood of a person or persons of a particular race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(6) a. To discriminate in the sale or rental, or to otherwise make unavailable or deny, a dwelling to any buyer or renter because of a handicap of:

3. Any person associated with that person.

c. For purposes of this paragraph, discrimination includes:

ises to the condition that existed before the modification, reasonable wear and tear excepted;

2. A refusal to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, or services, when such accommodations may be necessary to afford such person equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling; or
3. In connection with the design and construction of covered multifamily dwellings for first occupancy after March 13, 1991, a failure to design and construct those dwellings in such a manner that:
   (a) The public use and common use portions of such dwellings are readily accessible to and usable by handicapped persons;
   (b) All the doors designed to allow passage into and within all premises within such dwellings are sufficiently wide to allow passage by handicapped persons in wheelchairs; and
   (c) All premises within such dwellings contain the following features of adaptive design:
      (1) An accessible route into and through the dwelling;
      (2) Light switches, electrical outlets, thermostats, and other environmental controls in accessible locations;
      (3) Reinforcements in bathroom walls to allow later installation of grab bars; and
      (4) Usable kitchens and bathrooms such that an individual in a wheelchair can maneuver about the space.

d. Compliance with the appropriate requirements of the American National Standard for buildings and facilities providing accessibility and usability for physically handicapped people (commonly cited as "ANSI A117.1") suffices to satisfy the requirements of R.S. 86:140(A)(6)(c)(iii)(cc).

e. For purposes of paragraph (6), the term "covered multifamily dwellings" means buildings consisting of four or more units if such buildings have one or more elevators, and ground floor units in other buildings consisting of four or more units.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to invalidate or limit any law of this state or a political subdivision of this state that requires dwellings to be designed and constructed in a manner that affords handicapped persons greater access than is required by this section.

(c) Nothing in this section requires that a dwelling be made available to an individual whose tenancy would constitute a direct threat to the health or safety of other individuals or whose tenancy would result in substantial physical damage to the property of others.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

(a) It is unlawful for any person or other entity whose business includes engaging in residential real estate related transactions to discriminate against any person in making available such a transaction, or in the terms or conditions of such a transaction, because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(b) As used in this section, the term "residential real estate related transaction" means any of the following:

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Any person deeming himself injured by any alleged violation of the provisions of this article shall have a civil cause of action in district court to enjoin further violations and to recover the actual damages sustained by him, together with the costs of court and a reasonable fee for his attorney of record, all of which shall be in addition to any other remedies contained in this article.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-32. Enforcement by city attorney.

(a) If, after investigation of a complaint filed pursuant to section 86-26, unlawful practices-housing, the city attorney finds reasonable cause to believe that any person or group of persons is engaged in resistance to the full enjoyment of any of the rights granted pursuant to this article or that any person or group of persons has been denied any of the rights granted pursuant to this article, and the complainant, the respondent, and the city attorney have not entered into a conciliation agreement, she shall bring a civil action in any appropriate state district court requesting relief, including an application for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order against the person or persons responsible for the resistance or denial of rights.

(b) In any civil action pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the court may grant as relief, as it deems appropriate, any permanent or temporary injunction, temporary restraining order, or other order and may award actual damages and punitive damages to any person found to have been denied any of the rights granted pursuant to this article.

who is the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, employee, officer or agent thereof:

(1) To discriminate against any person, either directly or indirectly, by refusing, withholding or denying to such person any of the goods, services, accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges offered by the public accommodation, resort or amusement, by:

a. Placing or attempting to place any person in a separate class of customers, patrons, members, guests or users or in a separate section or area of the premises or facilities of the public accommodation, resort or amusement because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

b. Setting different rates, charges, identification procedures or requirements therefor, on the basis of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability; provided that nothing contained in this section shall prohibit the provision of separate bathroom, restroom, shower or similar facilities for males and females.

(2) To publish, circulate, issue, display, post or mail either directly or indirectly any written, oral, visual, or electronic computer based communication, notice or advertisement to the effect that any of the services, accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges of any public accommodation, resort or amusement will be refused, withheld, or denied to any person on account of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability, or that the patronage of any person of a particular race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability, is unwelcome, objectionable or not acceptable, desired or solicited, or that any person is required or requested to use a separate section or area of the premises or facilities of the public accommodations, resort or amusement, because of race, creed, national origin or ancestry, color, religion, gender or sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, marital status, age, physical condition or disability.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not prohibit the placement of persons in a separate restroom, bath, locker, room, shower, physical or medical examination or treatment facility, dressing area, or dormitory or sleeping room used by more than one party of persons at a time, if such placement is reasonable and based on the person's sex or sexual orientation or gender identification. The provisions of this section shall not apply, with respect to sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, physical condition, or disability, to places of public accommodation, resort or amusement where the council or the commission grants an exemption based on bona fide considerations of public policy. Any place of accommodation which is required as a result of this section to construct or reconstruct a locker room, shower, or other facilities for the use of members of a particular sex or similar group or for the use of the mobility impaired shall be allowed until the first anniversary of the effective date of the ordinance from which this article was derived, to complete such work, and prior to such date shall not be found to be in violation of the provisions of this section which apply to such facilities with regard to discrimination on account of sex or a mobility-impairment disability. The director, for good cause shown, may grant an extension not to exceed an additional 90 days after the date allowed such place of accommodation to complete such work.

(c) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to bar any religious or denominational institution or organization or any organization, operated for charitable or educational purposes, which is operated, supervised or controlled by or in connection with a religious organization, from limiting employment or sales or rental of housing accommodations or admission to or giving preference to persons of the same religion or denomination or from making such selection as is calculated by such organization to promote the religious principles for which it is established or maintained.

(d) No act or practice shall be construed as an unlawful discriminatory practice under this article if that act or practice is expressly authorized by valid and preemptive state or federal law. Nothing in this article shall be construed as requiring or as authorizing a public accommodation to require a person with a particular physical condition or disability to accept any special facilities or treatment offered as a special accommodation for persons with such a condition or disability if such person declines to accept such special accommodation. It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any person to refuse, withhold, or deny any service, accommodation, advantage, facility, or privilege offered or available to other customers, patrons, or users of a public accommodation because the person with the particular physical condition or disability had declined to accept such a special accommodation; provided, however, that a person with a mobility impairment that requires the use of a wheelchair or similar device may be required to accept a special accommodation if refusal to do so would necessarily result in a violation of fire code or similar public safety regulations.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-34. Club membership list.

(a) The director shall maintain a registry of institutions, clubs or places of accommodation certified by him to be distinctly private in character. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any institution, club or accommodation included in the registry for so long as it is so included. Any certification that a club or institution is distinctly private in character shall be valid for a period of three years from the date of the initial certification, but may be renewed upon application of the registrant for successive additional periods of three years.

(b) The director, upon application of any institution, club or accommodation, shall certify an applicant for inclusion in the registry if the applicant proves, by a preponderance of the evidence, that it is distinctly private in character. A club or institution is distinctly private in character if either:

(1) a. Its services, accommodations, advantages, facilities, or privileges are not offered or available to the public or to a wide sector of the public exclusive of a class or classes discrimination against whom is prohibited by this article;

b. It is not an agent or creature of the state or its agencies or subdivisions, and its activities do not constitute state action;

h. Its membership is of moderate size, and it is not connected with a larger institution, club or accommodation that is a public accommodation;

i. Its organizers had the intention of constituting a private institution, club, or accommodation;

j. Its organizational structure has not been altered since passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 in an attempt to avoid the applicability of that act, or since the effective date of the ordinance from which this article was derived, in an effort to avoid the applicability of this article;

k. Its members have a nexus of common interest;

l. Its membership policies include an element of exclusiveness based on one or more criteria other than membership in a class against whom discrimination is prohibited by this article; and

m. It does not offer or constitute facilities, sponsor activities, or create an environment where business deals are often made and personal contacts valuable for business purposes, employment, and professional advancement are formed; or

(2) Its character as an institution, club, or association is such that, under the constitutional doctrines of freedom of association (including expressive association) and privacy prevailing in the law at the time of the hearing, the constitution of this state or of the United States requires that this section not be applied against it.

(c) An application to be certified for inclusion in the registry shall be in writing on a form prepared by the director and shall include all information reasonably determined by the director to be necessary or useful to consideration of the application. Each application shall be signed by a duly authorized officer or agent of the applicant who shall attest by oath or affirmation to the truth of its contents.

(d) Upon receipt of an application, the director shall assign it a date and time for public hearings which shall be not sooner than four weeks and not later than six weeks from the date of receipt of the application. Notice of the application and the hearing, in a standard form which shall be prescribed by the director, shall be published in the official journal by the applicant and at its expense at least three times so that the first publication shall be not more than 28 and not less than 21 days and so that the last publication shall be not more than seven and not less than two days prior to the hearing. Any interested person may appear at the hearing to support or oppose the application, subject to such reasonable regulations and time limits as the director, or his designee as presiding officer, may prescribe. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act with respect to the rules of evidence.

(e) Within seven days of the conclusion of the hearing, the director shall notify the applicant and any interested person who has requested such notice of his determination to grant or deny certification for inclusion in the registry. The decision of the director shall be in writing, shall state the reasons for his determination, and shall become effective as a certification seven days after it is assigned by the director.

(f) On his own motion, or upon the written complaint of any interested person, the director may initiate proceedings for the removal of any institution, club or accommodation from the registry. The motion or complaint by which removal proceedings are commenced shall be in a verified writing and shall set forth facts sufficient to show that the respondent institution, club or accommodation is not distinctly private in character. The motion or complaint shall be signed by the complainant or a duly authorized agent of the complainant who shall attest by oath or affirmation to the truth of its contents.

(g) Upon the receipt of filing in the office of the director of such a motion or complaint, the director shall assign it a date and time for public hearings which shall be not sooner than four weeks and not later than six weeks from the date of receipt of the complaint. Notice of the complaint and the hearing, in a standard form which shall be prescribed by the director, shall be published in the official journal by the complainant and at its expense at least three times so that the first publication shall be not more than 28 and not less than 21 days and so that the last publication shall be not more than seven and not less than two days prior to the hearing. Any interested person may appear at the hearing to support or oppose the complaint, subject to such reasonable regulations and time limits as the director, or his designee as presiding officer, may prescribe. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act with respect to the rules of evidence. Within seven days of the conclusion of the hearing, the director shall notify the complainant, and any interested person who has requested such notice, of his determination to grant or deny continued certification for inclusion in the registry. The decision of the director shall be in writing, shall state the reasons for his determination, and shall become effective seven days after it is signed by the director. If a decision to deny continued certification becomes effective, the respondent shall be removed from the registry immediately.

(h) An institution, club or accommodation may at any time apply or reapply to be certified for inclusion in the registry notwithstanding the fact that it may have been denied certification or been removed from the registry in the past. A motion or complaint seeking removal of a club or institution from the registry shall be denied without a hearing by the director if a motion or complaint initiated by the same person and setting forth the same or substantially similar facts has been denied within the past six months.

Sec. 86-36. Exclusion based on disability.

Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit a parading carnival krewe or other parading organization from excluding a person with a disability from riding on a float in a parade; provided, that an organization not exempt under the provisions of section 86-35(b) may exclude such a person only if the director certifies in writing, after consultation with the officers of the organization, with the excluded person, and with the director of health, that permitting the person with a disability so to ride would create a public safety or health hazard or would cause an unreasonable burden of expense to the parading krewe or other organization. Any legitimate increase in the cost of procuring insurance may be considered when determining the reasonableness of proposed discrimination. This section shall not authorize the exclusion of any person from the other benefits of membership or participation in such a krewe or organization not exempt under the provision of section 86-39(b), on the basis of disability.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-37. Operation of article with respect to other laws.

(a) The provisions of this article, for so long as the same remain in effect, shall supersede with respect to discrimination in "public accommodations," any and all conflicting or incompatible provisions or applications of provisions of articles IV through VI. No respondent or defendant shall be required to defend against or shall be held accountable or guilty of both a charge of discrimination in public accommodations under this article and a charge of discrimination in public accommodations under articles IV through VI if the charge arises out of the same alleged discriminatory practice or acts, it being the intent of this chapter that any discrimination in public accommodation which is unlawful under both this article and article IV shall be treated as a violation of this article until such time as a complaint has been filed pursuant to this article.

(b) The provisions of subsections (e), (f) and (g) of section 86-35 shall apply to this article.

(c) No complaint shall be filed in municipal court regarding discriminatory acts or practices which are prohibited by this article until such time as a complaint has been filed pursuant to the requirement of this article and a final disposition of the matter has been made by the commission.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-38. Specific enforcement provisions; carnival parade organizations.

(a) The violation of this article by carnival krewes, parading carnival organizations, other organizations organized or existing for the primary or dominant purpose of observing or participating in the carnival season and clubs or institutions which fall within the definition in section 86-1.5, and which would not otherwise than under the provisions thereof be considered as a "public accommodation" under this article shall not constitute a misdemeanor and shall not be subject to prosecution or punishment in the municipal court, unless the violation arises from the breach of a final, definitive and enforceable order of the commission or of an order embodying a conciliation agreement or unless the violation is the willful resistance, prevention, impedance, or interference with the commission or any of its agents or representatives in the performance of its duty under this article. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article to the contrary, any violation of this article by carnival krewes, parading carnival organizations, other organizations organized or existing for the primary or dominant purpose of observing or participating in the carnival season and clubs or institutions which fall within the definition in section 86-1.5 and which would not otherwise than under the provisions thereof be considered as "public accommodation" under this article, or by the officers or agents of any body in their capacity as such, which does constitute a misdemeanor, shall be punishable only by a mandatory fine of not less than $100.00 and not more than $500.00 and shall not be punishable by imprisonment.

(b) Neither the city nor the commission shall be obligated to initiate or intervene in any proceedings in any court for the purpose of enforcing this article or a final order of the commission against any carnival krewes, parading carnival organizations, other organizations organized or existing for the primary or dominant purpose of observing or participating in the carnival season and clubs or institutions which fall within the definition of section 86-1.5 and which would not otherwise than under the provisions thereof be considered as a "public accommodation" under this article, unless the violation arises from the breach of an order embodying a conciliation agreement or unless the violation is the willful resistance, prevention, impedance or interference with the commission or any of its agents or representatives in the performance of its duty under this article. Nothing in this section shall preclude any nonmunicipal party in interest from initiating such proceedings.

(c) Whenever a court of competent jurisdiction issues an order of the court for the enforcement of this article or of an order of the commission directed to a carnival krewe, parading carnival organization, other organizations organized or existing for the primary or dominant purpose of observing or participating in the carnival season, or clubs or institutions which fall within that definition in section 86-1.5, then during any period when such order is effective, such organization shall not be granted a permit for a carnival parade during the carnival season, as required by section 34-2, unless a sworn affidavit is submitted with the permit application by the captain, president or officer of commensurate rank within the organization stating that the court order has been complied with and will continue to be complied with.

(d) Whenever a court of competent jurisdiction issues an order of court for the enforcement of this article or of an order of the commission directed to a carnival krewe, parading carnival organization, other organizations organized or existing for the primary or dominant purpose of observing or participating in the carnival season, or clubs or institutions which fall within that definition in section 86-1.5, such organization shall not be granted an alcoholic beverage permit unless a sworn affidavit is submitted with the permit application by the captain, president or officer of commensurate rank within the organization stating that the court order has been complied with and will continue to be complied with. Subsection (d) shall not apply to an alcoholic beverage permit for a business which either holds or is applying for an occupational license issued by the department of finance, nor to temporary alcoholic beverage permits.

(e) The submission of a sworn affidavit pursuant to subsections (c) or (d) of this section which contains false statements, in addition to being subject to any other penalty provisions for the making of false affidavits, shall be considered a misdemeanor punishable by a mandatory fine of not less than $100.00 and not more than $500.00. (M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 86-39. Preservation of traditional roles in carnival parading organization.

(a) The council finds that:

(1) Carnival organizations have traditionally engaged in parades, processions, tableaux, and other activities that have, in large part, a dramatic theatrical character, involving elaborate costumed role-playing by participants who frequently imitate or portray the behavior of ancient or medieval court life;

(2) Although such traditional carnival activities most often involve participation by both women and men, the participants traditionally engage in courtly roles defined and differentiated according to the sex of the participants, as was the case in ancient and medieval court life;

(3) The preservation of the traditional mimicry of court life is worthy of preservation as a significant aspect of the common cultural heritage of all the people of the city;

(4) Most women and men in the city who wish to find ways of participating in carnival organizations can do so, either as members or consorts of members in the traditional krewes that restrict membership to one or the other sex, or in one of the less traditional organizations which admit both sexes to membership; therefore, the council finds that the traditional organizations by restricting their membership to one sex do not significantly impair the ability of women or men to make business contacts, secure professional advancement, or otherwise participate in trade, commerce, the professions, or public life in general.

(b) Nothing in this article shall prohibit any carnival krewe, parading carnival organization, or other organization organized or existing for the primary or dominant purpose of observing or participating in the carnival season from restricting its membership or any class of membership to classes based on sex.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

ARTICLE VIII. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sec. 86-40. Prohibition of sexual harassment.

It is unlawful to harass a person because of that person's sex. Sexual harassment is a form of discrimination under Title VII of the U.S. Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended and the Louisiana Employment Discrimination Law, LA Rev. Stat. § 23:332 et seq. All persons have a right to work in an environment free form sexual harassment. The City of New Orleans prohibits harassment of any person by any municipal officer, agent, elected official, employee, municipal agency or department on the basis of sex or gender. While in the course and scope of employment, all municipal officers, agents, employees, elected officials, municipal agencies and departments are prohibited from sexually harassing any person, regardless of any employment relationship.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-41. Definitions and examples.

(1) "Sexual harassment" is unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

a. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly or as a condition of an individual's employment;

b. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the individual; or

c. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment. For purposes of this section, an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment exists when sexual harassment is so pervasive or severe that it creates an intimidating, offensive workplace and alters the conditions of employment.

(2) Examples of conduct and descriptions of behavior that may constitute sexual harassment include, but are not limited to:

a. Verbal: Sexual innuendos, suggestive comments, insults, humor and jokes about sex, anatomy or gender specific traits, sexual propositions, threats, repeated requests for dates, statements about other employees that are of a sexual nature, or quid pro quo offers wherein an employee is in a management or supervisory role and states or implies that an employee must consent to unwelcome sexual advances in exchange for some economic benefits such as promotions, merits, job offers, or job retention. Quid pro quo sexual harassment also occurs when rejection of sexual advances would result in adverse decisions affecting an employee's job status (e.g., demotion, termination, denial of employment).

b. Non-verbal: Suggestive or insulting sounds ("catcalls" or "kissing" noises), leering, obscene gestures, and sexually suggestive body gestures.

c. Visual: Posters, signs, pin-ups or slogans of a sexual nature, viewing pornographic materials or websites.

d. Physical: Touching, unwelcome hugging or kissing, pinching, brushing the body, any coerced sexual act or actual assault;

e. Text/electronic: Electronically sending messages with sexual content, including pictures and video, the use of sexually explicit language, harassment, cyber stalking and threats via all forms of electronic communication (e-mail, text/picture/video messages, intranet/on-line postings, blogs, instant messages and social network websites).

(3) Although severe and overt forms of sexual harassment may be readily apparent, some sexual harassment is subtle and varies depending on interpretation and perception. Review of sexual harassment allegations are subject to the standard of what offends a "reasonable person."
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-42. Initiation procedures.

(1) Employees, whether classified or unclassified, may report to his/her respective department's human resources manager and/or appointing authority any allegations or complaints of sexual harassment. Reporting a harassment complaint or discussing a complaint with the human resources manager and/or appointing authority will result in an investigation. If the accused harasser is the human resources manager or the appointing authority for a given agency, the complaint shall be submitted to the asst. CAO of the personnel division. If the accused harasser is an elected official that is governed by this Code, the complaint shall be submitted to the New Orleans Inspector General.

(2) A sexual harassment complaint may be an oral complaint initially but must be followed by a sexual harassment or discrimination complaint form. The complaint should include the date(s) the incident(s) occurred, name(s) of the individual(s) involved, name(s) of witness(es), and a detailed description of the incident(s).

(3) When the employee completes the sexual harassment or discrimination complaint form, a human resources manager and/or appointing authority must sign the form. Only signatures from human resources manager and/or appointing authorities are to be entered on the sexual harassment or discrimination complaint form in the space designated for this purpose. In the event that the accused harasser is the human resources manager or the appointing authority for a given agency, the complaint should be signed by the asst. CAO of the personnel division.

(4) After an employee has signed the sexual harassment or discrimination complaint form, the original should be sent to the personnel division, chief administrative office. The sexual harassment or discrimination complaint form will become part of the complaining employee's personnel file located in that department and the civil service department employee record.

(5) Employees also have the right to file a complaint with the equal employment opportunity commission (EEOC), the human relations commission or to pursue other legal action, in addition to their rights under this policy. The EEOC provides employees 300 days to file an official complaint.

(6) A supervisor, manager, or employee who ignores a request to cease harassing behavior or who engages in perpetuating sexual harassment in the agency, shall face disciplinary action.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-43. Investigation procedures.

(1) The human resources manager or appointing authority who is told or otherwise becomes aware of harassment that may be occurring is obligated to immediately report the allegation or complaint to the alleged harasser's appointing authority, or initiate an investigation if the alleged harasser works within the same department or agency as the complainant

a. The appointing authority shall, as soon as practically possible, notify the alleged harasser that he or she has been named in a harassment complaint and that an investigation is being conducted.

b. The appointing authority shall, as soon as practically possible, assess the need to relocate the complainant and/or the alleged harasser to another work unit. The complainant shall not be given work or placed at a work location that is, in any way less than the classification and pay grade of his or her current position.

(2) The appointing authority along with the human resources manager shall initiate an investigation of the complaint or allegation as promptly as possible while ensuring that the investigation is fair, complete and impartial. It shall be the city's objective to complete all investigations within 60 days unless compelling circumstances require additional time. An extension beyond 60 days will require a written request to the asst. CAO of the personnel division prior to the expiration of the investigation. The written statement of the complainant or witness constitutes the initiation of the 60-day investigation period.

a. The investigation shall include interviews with the complainant and the alleged harasser and any other person(s) who is believed to have information directly related to the complaint or the investigation.

b. To the extent permitted by law, the appointing authority shall assure compliance with any of the complainant's privacy rights, as well as the alleged harasser's rights.

c. The appointing authority shall maintain records of the investigation and provide said records to other investigatory bodies and law enforcement agencies upon request.

d. The appointing authority shall provide a written summary of the allegations and the findings of the investigation to the city attorney for review. Said findings shall also be subsequently provided to the complainant and the alleged harasser; if the investigation substantiates the complaint of harassment, the complaint and findings may be referred to the office of the district attorney.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-44. Resolution procedures.

(1) If the investigation substantiates the complaint of harassment, the appointing authority shall make a determination regarding the appropriate resolution, including disciplinary action. Before making the decision to impose disciplinary action, the appointing authority shall ensure that the harasser has been given the opportunity to review the results of the investigation, has received an explanation of the evidence obtained, and been given an opportunity to provide the appointing authority a response regarding the findings. The appointing authority shall take the alleged harasser's response into account before taking final action in determining if harassment occurred and in the resolution of the complaint.

(2) In addition to any disciplinary action taken, substantiated complaints shall be noted in the harasser's official personnel file. If the harasser continues on as an employee, the disciplinary action shall be taken into consideration during the harasser's performance evaluation.

(3) If during the course of the investigation, the investigator determines that the allegation or complaint of sexual harassment was reported to either the human resources manager or appointing authority, and that individual failed to promptly report the allegation or complaint, then disciplinary action may be initiated against the human resources manager or appointing authority. A substantiated finding of failure to report an allegation or complaint of sexual harassment and resulting disciplinary action shall also be made a part of the human resources manager or appointing authority's official personnel file.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-45. Discipline.

In addition to any other discipline that may be applicable, including but not limited to the rules of the civil service commission, any person who violates sections 86-40, 86-43, or 86-46 as provided herein, may be subject to a fine of up to $500.00 per offense. Each violation may constitute a separate offense. Any discipline imposed by the city shall be separate and apart from any penalty imposed by any fines or penalties imposed by a court of law or a state or federal agency.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-46. Retaliation.

Retaliation against an employee who brings a complaint of harassment, reports an allegation of sexual harassment on behalf of another, or participates in an investigation of a harassment complaint is prohibited and may result in disciplinary action. Similarly, allegations or complaints of sexual harassment that have been determined to be fabricated, knowingly false, or otherwise baseless shall require the appointing authority to impose disciplinary action against the complainant found to have filed the improper complaint, as well as any other employees that participated in the false allegation or complaint.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-47. Sexual harassment training.

(1) Each public employee shall receive a minimum of one hour of education and training on preventing sexual harassment during each full calendar year of his/her public employment or term of office.

(2) Appointing authorities or their designees shall make use of standardized education and training materials developed by the department of state civil service; additional materials may be approved by the CAO. The education or training required may be received in person or via the Internet.

(3) Appointing authorities or their designees shall require supervisors to receive additional education and training.

(4) Each public servant shall be notified of the mandatory training requirement. Appointing authorities or their designees shall be responsible for maintaining records of the compliance of each public servant in the agency with the mandatory training requirement.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27795, § 1, 6-7-18)

Sec. 86-48. Mandatory reports.

Each appointing authority shall compile an annual public record report by February 1 of each year that contains the below information for the prior calendar year and submit said report to the CAO and city council:

(1) Certification of compliance with the requirements herein including the number and percentage of public servants who have completed the training requirements;

(2) The number of sexual harassment complaints received;

(3) The number of complaints which resulted in a finding that sexual harassment occurred;

(4) The number of complaints that resulted in discipline or corrective action; and

(5) The amount of time it took to resolve each complaint.

DOMESTIC PARTNERSHIPS*

Sec. 87-1. Purpose.
Sec. 87-2. Definitions.
Sec. 87-3. Limitation of rights and duties.
Sec. 87-4. Informational materials.
Sec. 87-5. Domestic partnership; establishment.
Sec. 87-6. Qualifications.
Sec. 87-7. Filing; filing fees and recordkeeping.
Sec. 87-8. Ending domestic partnerships; notice of termination.
Sec. 87-9. City health care plan.

*__Editor's note—__The provisions set out herein formerly comprised ch. 86, art. V, §§ 86-161—86-168. Such provisions were essentially repealed by M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, adopted June 17, 1999, and enacted as a new ch. 87 by § 2 of such ordinance.

Sec. 87-1. Purpose.

(a) The city's interest in strengthening and supporting all caring, committed and responsible family forms has led to the definition and recognition of the domestic partnership as a relationship and family unit that is deserving of official recognition.

(b) This article establishes a mechanism for the public expression and documentation of the commitment reflected by the domestic partnership, whose members either cannot or choose not to marry.

(c) It is appropriate and fair that certain of the societal privileges and benefits now accorded to members of a marriage be extended to those who meet the qualifications of domestic partnership. The mechanism established by this article will facilitate the definition of those entitled to such privileges.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 87-2. Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this article, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Basic living expenses means the cost of basic food and shelter. The individuals need not contribute equally or jointly to the cost of these expenses as long as they agree that they are both responsible for the cost.

Declaration of domestic partnership is a form provided by the clerk of council wherein two people agree to be jointly responsible for basic living expenses incurred during the domestic partnership, and recites that all the other requirements for domestic partnership are met.

Domestic partners are two people who have chosen to share one another's lives in an intimate and committed relationship of mutual caring, who live together and have signed a declaration of domestic partnership in which they have agreed to be jointly responsible for basic living expenses incurred during the domestic partnership, and have established their partnership under section 87-5(a).

Live together means that two people share the same living residence. It is not necessary that the right to possess the residence be in both names. Two people may live together even if one or both have an additional separate living residence. Domestic partners do not cease to live together if one leaves the shared living residence but intends to return.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Cross reference—Definitions generally, § 1-2.

Sec. 87-3. Limitation of rights and duties.

(a) Neither this article nor the filing of a statement of domestic partnership shall create any legal rights or duties from one of the parties to the other greater than the legal rights and duties specifically created by this article or other ordinances or resolutions of the city council which specifically refer to domestic partnership.

(b) Once a domestic partnership ends, the partners will incur no further obligations to each other under this article.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 87-4. Informational materials.

The clerk of council shall prepare informational materials which shall describe ways in which committed individuals may qualify pursuant to this article, and the benefits derived as a result of qualification. The informational material shall state that the city is not providing legal advice and assumes no responsibility for the accuracy of the information provided.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 87-5. Domestic partnership; establishment.

(a) Domestic partners may establish the existence of their domestic partnership by executing and filing an original declaration of domestic partnership with the clerk of council and paying the required registration fee. The city chief administrative officer will provide the partners with a certificate showing that the declaration was filed.

(b) The clerk of council shall only accept for filing declarations of domestic partnerships submitted by domestic partners who have a residence in the city, or where one of the partners works in the city.

(c) A partner may amend a declaration of domestic partnership filed with the clerk of council at any time to show a change in his primary residence address.

(d) No person who has created a domestic partnership may create another until six months after a statement of termination has been signed and executed and filed with the clerk of council.

(e) Anyone who requires a person to provide evidence of the existence of a domestic partnership must accept as complete proof a certified copy of a declaration of domestic partnership.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 87-6. Qualifications.

To become domestic partners, neither person may be married, the two may not be related in any way which would bar marriage in this state, and both must be 18 or older. Any different domestic partnership of which either was previously a member must have ended more than six months before the new declaration of domestic partnership was signed, but this requirement will not apply where the earlier domestic partnership ended because of the death of one of its members.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 87-7. Filing; filing fees and recordkeeping.

(a) The clerk of council shall keep a record of all declarations of domestic partnerships, amendments to declarations of domestic partnerships and all notices of termination received by the clerk of council. These records shall be maintained so that amendments and notices of termination are filed with the declaration of domestic partnership to which they pertain.

(b) The clerk of council shall charge a fee of $35.00 for filing of a declaration of domestic partnership and shall charge a fee of $7.00 for providing certified copies of declarations, amendments and notices of termination. There will be no charge for filing of amendments or notices of termination.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

Sec. 87-8. Ending domestic partnerships; notice of termination.

(a) A domestic partnership ends when:

(1) The partners no longer meet one or more of the qualifications for domestic partnership;

(2) One partner sends the other a written notice that he or she has ended the partnership; or

(3) One of the partners dies.

(b) When a domestic partnership ends, the partners must execute a notice of termination naming the partners and stating that the partnership has ended (hereinafter notice of termination). The notice of termination must be dated and signed under penalty of perjury by at least one of the partners. The notice of termination must be notarized and filed with the clerk of council.

(c) A domestic partner who has given a copy of a declaration of domestic partnership to any third party in order to qualify for any benefit or right must, whenever the domestic partnership ends, give that third party a copy of the notice of termination. If that partner has died, the surviving partner must give the notice of termination to those third parties whom she or he knows were given a copy of the declaration by the deceased party in order to qualify for a benefit or right. The notice and a copy of the death certificate must be sent within 60 days of the termination of the domestic partnership.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 19,278, § 1, 6-17-99)

ARTICLE I. IN GENERAL

Sec. 88-1. Introduction.

Technology can be defined as the application of science, especially to industrial or commercial objectives. Some resultant legal vehicles (intellectual properties) of the pursuit of these objectives are patents, copyrights and trademarks. The purpose of this policy is to create a means for the City of New Orleans, as well as employees of the city, to financially benefit from intellectual properties initiated by city employees and to define the means to distribute profits from these properties. (Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-2. Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this chapter, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning.

City shall mean the City of New Orleans, a political subdivision of the State of Louisiana.

City of New Orleans Research and Technology Advisory Committee (NORTAC) means the committee which will make recommendations to NOBC for the administration of this policy. This committee is responsible for making recommendations to NOBC for matters relating to intellectual properties, including requirements for disclosures relating to intellectual property which must be made to the city. This committee will consist of the chief administrative officer of the City of New Orleans, the executive director of the New Orleans Building Corporation, the director of the City of New Orleans Mosquito and Termite Control Board, the city attorney, and one or more directors of intellectual properties from local universities appointed by the mayor.

City-supported invention shall mean an invention created in whole or in part with city funds, on city time, or with city materials.

Creator shall mean a city employee who creates a work or invention.

Development expenses shall mean all moneys paid for goods and services to protect, develop, and/or enhance the marketability or any other aspect of an invention, including, but not limited to, patent filing fees, costs incurred in securing or protecting patent rights, marketing expenses, patent maintenance fees, consulting fees, prosecution expenses, expenses incurred in dealing with equity interests, travel, attorneys' fees and research costs. Not included as developmental expenses are salaries and general operating expenses of city administrative personnel.

Employee means all full-time and part-time employees of the city, including all civil service and appointed employees.

Gross revenue shall mean:

(1) Proceeds from the exploitation or manufacture, sale, lease, transfer, or other conveyance of an invention by an owner thereof, and

(2) License fees, option fees, running royalties, and equity interests paid by a licensee for right to exploit an invention, except that equity interests, or any portion thereof, shall not be considered "gross revenue" unless and until the equity interests, or any portion thereof, are sold.

Intellectual property means any and all inventions, copyrightable works, and trademarks.

Invention means any discovery, invention, process, method, composition of matter, machine, article of manufacture, know-how, design, model, technological development, biological material, strain, variety, culture of any organism, or any improvement of these items.

Net income shall mean gross revenues less all development expenses for a work or invention and its improvements and/or production.

New Orleans Building Corporation (NOBC) means the public benefit corporation incorporated in the State of Louisiana to plan, develop, operate, manage and promote real and intellectual property owned by the city or NOBC. NOBC will be the managing agency to work with the creators of intellectual properties and the city to promote the development of intellectual properties by the employees and contractors of the city. Any or all rights to intellectual properties in which the city asserts its interest or acquires any interests to manufacture, distribute, license, assign, or otherwise use or transfer the intellectual property can be assigned to NOBC. NOBC and its subsidiaries will adhere to this policy in the distribution of proceeds from intellectual property. NOBC is authorized to and shall be responsible for publishing any and all forms or other documents required by this policy.

Work means any work of authorship protectable under copyright law.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-3. Applicability.

(a) This policy applies to all employees. Employees receiving proceeds pursuant to this policy shall continue to do so after termination of employment. Upon the employee's death, proceeds will revert to the employee's heirs or legatees. If this substitution results in additional responsibility or expense to either the city or the employee's heirs or legatees, adjustments of financial distributions will be agreed upon by both parties by mutual consent.

(b) The city may require any persons or businesses doing business with the city to adhere to this policy.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-4. Condition of employment.

This policy, as amended from time to time, shall become a part of the conditions of employment of every employee, whether such employee was employed before or after its adoption.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-5. Existing intellectual property.

This policy shall be applied to intellectual property created prior to the date of its adoption and to intellectual property created after the date of adoption.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-6. Disclosure.

Every employee or person to whom this policy applies shall disclose to the city all city-supported inventions created by the employee or person.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-7. Relationships between employees and the city regarding business transactions.

Employees are required to receive written permission from the city or NOBC or its subsidiaries before soliciting or participating in any business relating to any intellectual property subject to this policy. Each employee's prospective interest or relationship to the business involved will be subject to review for compliance with the city code of ethics.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

ARTICLE II. OWNERSHIP OF INVENTIONS AND COPYRIGHTABLE WORKS

Sec. 88-8. Inventions.

Because significant city resources could lead to inventions, the city has an important interest in coordinating the activities of employees in this area. In recognition of this interest, and of the interests of the employees, the city will administer its rights to inventions in the manner described below.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-9. City of New Orleans' rights to inventions.

An invention shall be assigned to city when it is a city-supported invention or when it is created by a person or business and the person or business agrees in writing to the application of this policy. In return, the creator shall share in the proceeds therefrom as described in section 88-17, subject to prior commitments to outside sponsoring agencies when applicable.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-10. Transfer of city's rights to inventions.

The city, after consultation with the creator, may in its discretion and upon such terms as it deems fit, cause any rights that the city may have in an invention to be transferred to the creator, in exchange for the city's income rights as set out in section 88-16 below. The city shall, in such case, execute all documents necessary to enable the creator to undertake protective measures and to make arrangements for the development and commercial exploitation of the invention.

(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-11. Assignment of city's patent rights.

The city may choose to assign its patent rights to NOBC or its subsidiaries for development, commercialization or negotiation for sale of the patent. NOBC and its subsidiaries will adhere to this policy in the distribution of proceeds.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-12. Copyrights.

Works that are protectable by copyright belong, under copyright law, to an employer if they are created by an employee within the scope of his or her employment or are otherwise deemed works made for hire under copyright law. Some specific types of works that may be protectable by copyright are books, poems, plays, songs, catalogs, photographs, computer programs, advertisements, labels, movies, maps, drawing, sculptures, prints and art reproductions, game boards and rules, and recordings.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-13. City's ownership rights in copyrightable works.

Every work or part thereof that is created by an employee within the scope of his or her employment, or that is otherwise deemed a work made for hire under copyright law, or that is created by any person who agrees to the application of this policy is owned by the city.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-14. Transfer of city's rights to copyrightable works.

The city may, after consultation with the creator, entirely in its discretion and upon such terms as it deems fit, cause its rights with respect to any copyrightable work to be transferred or licensed to anyone as permitted by law.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-15. Trademarks.

Trademarks adopted and used by the city in connection with its activities, services and products shall be the exclusive property of the city.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-16. Inventions transferred by the city.

In every case in which the city transfers any right in an invention to the creator, the creator may secure whatever legal protection may be available. The city shall execute all documents necessary to enable the creator to proceed. Where the city transfers its rights in accordance with this policy, unless some other distribution is agreed to with the creator, the city shall be entitled to 15 percent of net income in excess of $10,000.00 derived from the exploitation of the transferred rights. The city's share of the net income shall be distributed as set forth in section 88-17.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-17. Distribution of net income from inventions and copyrightable works.

With regard to any invention or copyrightable work owned by the city, net income less any foreseeable development expenses the city deems necessary will be distributed as follows:

Fifty percent to the city, to be shared equally between the City of New Orleans General Fund and the NOBC or its subsidiaries (if applicable); and 50 percent to the individual creator(s).

(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-18. Timing of distributions.

Distributions of income will be made quarterly on or before May 1, July 1, October 1, and January 1 of each year, to allow the city to account for all applicable licensing and related expenses. In instances where funds are held because of foreseeable development expenses or where expenses exceed revenue, the creators will be sent an accounting indicating the amounts received for the current three-month period and the amount of the anticipated expense or deficit. Once expenses are known with certainty, any excess withholding will be distributed. Income earned before the enactment of this policy will be paid on a quarterly basis at a rate of not less than 20 percent of the total amount due.

(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-19. Method of payments.

Payments of the amounts allocated to the creator(s) must be made to the creator(s) individually and cannot be assigned by the creator(s) to other parties or entities. The only exception will be that after the creator's death, upon appropriate notification by the personal representative of the creator's estate, and with court approval, if necessary, payment will be made to the creator's heirs or legatees. An IRS Form 1099 or other appropriate form will be issued to the creator(s) for their share of revenues. The city will not advise individuals on the tax consequences of these payments. In the event there are multiple creators for an invention or work, the creators' share will be divided equally among all creators. If the creators agree among themselves to a different division, the city or NOBC or its subsidiaries must be notified in writing at least one month prior to the date of the first income distribution as to the agreed-upon division of income.
(Ord. No. 20,098, § 1, 4-5-01)

Sec. 88-20. Independent efforts.

Any royalty(ies) accruing to the city, generated by any endeavor, including but not limited to those generated by manufacturers, distributors, or in-house sales, will be shared pursuant to a negotiated agreement approved either by the employee's appointing authority and the NOBC director or the chief administrative officer. Prior to soliciting business through outside royalty agreements, a city employee must obtain approval to do so from the chief administrative officer.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26738, § 1, 12-1-15)

Sec. 88-21. Assignment/development.

Inventions, copyrights, trademarks, and/or outside marketing opportunities may either be developed, manufactured, and distributed within the city or offered to and managed for development through outside corporate partners or other organizations or entities better suited for the manufacturing/distribution process. Decisions relative to outside assignment shall be made collaboratively by the employee's appointing authority and the NOBC director or the chief administrative officer, and the developer/distributor of the product or process.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26738, § 1, 12-1-15)

Sec. 88-22. Royalty sharing.

Royalties generated by any works, copyrights, trademarks, licensing, manufacturing, distribution, direct or indirect sales, and/or equity agreements between manufactures and the city will be shared between/among the parties involved. The NOBC director or the chief administrative officer, the appointing authority, city employee(s) involved, and any other involved parties will collaborate to confect an agreement detailing the sharing of royalties.

ARTICLE I. IN GENERAL

Sec. 102-1. Juvenile warning notice and juvenile summons.

(a) The purpose of this section is to provide officers of the New Orleans Police Department (NOPD) with guidelines and expectations regarding when and whether to take juveniles into custody, and when they shall issue a juvenile warning notice or juvenile summons only. When a law enforcement officer can lawfully take a juvenile into custody, based upon the officer's finding of probable cause or pursuant to an order of the court, the officer should, whenever possible, rely on the least restrictive and most reasonable alternative consistent with preserving public safety, order, and individual liberty. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit a police officer's ability to verbally warn a juvenile or otherwise address an offense without issuing a juvenile warning notice or juvenile summons, making a custodial arrest, detaining the juvenile, or undertaking any such formal intervention.

(b) The following words, terms, and phrases, when used in this section, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this subsection, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(1) Custodial arrest means an arrest of a juvenile followed by transporting the person to juvenile booking.

(2) Delinquent offense means an offense committed by a juvenile, which would also be a violation of the law if committed by an adult.

(3) Guardian means a person currently designated by the court or by operation of law as being responsible for a child in the same manner as a parent.

(4) Juvenile means one of the following:

(i) Before July 1, 2018, juvenile means any person under the age of 21, including an emancipated minor, who is stopped on reasonable suspicion of committing a delinquent offense on or before June 30, 2018, where the person was under 17 years old at the time of the suspected offense.

(ii) After June 30, 2018, juvenile means any person under the age of 21, including an emancipated minor, who is stopped on reasonable suspicion of committing a delinquent offense on or after July 1, 2018, when the act is not a crime of violence as defined in La. R.S. 14:2 and occurs before the person attains 18 years of age.

(iii) After June 30, 2020, juvenile means any person under the age of 21, including an emancipated minor, who is stopped on reasonable suspicion of committing a delinquent offense on or after July 1, 2020, where the person was under 18 years old at the time of the suspected offense.

(5) Juvenile summons means to counsel and release a juvenile to the care of his parent or guardian upon their written promise to bring the juvenile to court at such time as may be fixed by the court, pursuant to La. Ch. Code article 814(B)(1).

(6) Juvenile warning notice means a verbal notice issued to a juvenile, following an officer's finding of probable cause, in lieu of taking the juvenile into custody and referring the juvenile for prosecution.

(7) Status offense means an offense committed by a juvenile, which would not be a violation of the law if committed by an adult. Status offenses are provided in La. Ch. Code article 730.

(8) Taking into custody means as provided in La. Ch. Code articles 812—815.

(c) Status offenses:

(1) Upon an officer's finding of probable cause, a juvenile shall not be taken into custody for a status offense, and instead shall be issued a juvenile warning notice and released as appropriate, including to his school, parent, guardian, or to the appropriate intervention center.

(d) Delinquent offenses:

(1) A juvenile who has not been arrested or received a juvenile warning notice for a delinquent offense in the prior 365 days shall be issued a juvenile warning notice when an officer finds probable cause for any of the following misdemeanor-grade delinquent offenses or attempts thereof, and shall be released as appropriate:

(ii) Criminal trespass;

(iii) Disturbing the peace;

(iv) Misdemeanor illegal possession of stolen things;

(v) Misdemeanor obstruction of justice;

(vi) Misdemeanor theft or theft of goods;

(vii) Obstructing public passages;

(viii) Simple assault;

(ix) Simple battery; or

(x) Simple possession of marijuana.

(2) Officer discretion: When an officer finds probable cause for any of the enumerated offenses in subsection (d)(1), and the juvenile has previously been arrested or already received a juvenile warning notice for any delinquent offense in the prior 365 days, the officer may exercise his discretion to issue a juvenile warning notice or juvenile summons in lieu of custodial arrest.

(i) In exercising the discretion afforded under this subsection, an officer shall not take into consideration the race, ethnicity, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, economic status, or national origin of the juvenile.

(ii) In exercising the discretion afforded under this subsection, an officer shall consider the best interest of the juvenile and the safety of the public.

(e) Juvenile summons:

(ii) The juvenile's parent or guardian does not possess identification issued by any municipal, state, territorial, federal, or other governmental authority;

(iii) The juvenile's parent or guardian makes a statement that indicates an intent to disregard the juvenile summons, or his parent or guardian refuses to sign the juvenile summons;

(iv) The juvenile acts in a violent or destructive manner or makes a statement indicating that he intends to inflict injury to self or another or damage to property;

(v) The juvenile is a habitual offender, defined as an individual with a criminal history of two or more felony convictions or five or more felony or misdemeanor arrests for any offense;

(vi) The offense for which the officer stopped the juvenile is one involving weapons;

(vii) The offense for which the officer stopped the juvenile is one involving domestic violence, pursuant to La. R.S. 14:35.3, and the officer deems that the child poses a threat to another household member or family member; or (viii) Based on the circumstances, an officer determines that it is absolutely necessary to make a custodial arrest.

(3) When an officer determines that one of the factors enumerated in subsection (e)(2) applies, the officer may use his or her discretion to issue a juvenile summons instead of making a custodial arrest for a violation of subsection (e)(1).

(4) This subsection shall become effective upon signing.

(f) Record keeping:

(1) When a juvenile warning notice or juvenile summons is issued to a juvenile, the issuing officer and the police department shall cause a record of the issuance of the juvenile warning notice or juvenile summons, along with the offense for which it was issued, to be recorded and to be retained in such a fashion as to be accessible to officers in the future.

(i) When an officer issues a juvenile summons, the officer must document and report details of the incident in accordance with La. Ch. Code article 814(E) and (F). The officer must also secure a written promise from the child's parent or guardian to bring the child to court, pursuant to La. Ch. Code article 814(B)(1).

(2) When an officer effectuates a custodial arrest in accordance with subsection (d)(2), the officer must document and report details of the incident, describing with specificity the circumstances necessitating custodial arrest, as provided in La. Ch. Code article 814(D) and (E).

ARTICLE IV. CHRONIC NUISANCE PROPERTIES

Sec. 102-200. Purpose.

Chronic nuisance properties present grave health, safety and welfare concerns, owing to the failure of property owners or persons in charge of such properties to take corrective action to abate serious nuisance conditions and criminal conduct. Chronic nuisance properties have a profound negative impact upon the quality of life, safety, and health of the neighborhoods where they are located. This article is enacted to remedy nuisance activities that repeatedly occur or exist at chronic nuisance properties by providing a process for abatement; and this remedy is not an exclusive remedy available under any state or local laws and may be used in conjunction with such other laws.

Chronic nuisance properties are a financial burden to the city as a result of repeated calls for service to the properties because of the nuisance activities that repeatedly occur or exist on such property, and this article is a means to ameliorate those conditions and hold responsible the owners or persons in charge of such property.

(d) "Person in charge" of a property means any person in actual or constructive possession of a property including, but not limited to, an owner, occupant, agent or property manager of a property under his control.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 29323, § 1, 2-2-23)

Sec. 102-202. Chronic nuisances prohibited.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to permit property under his ownership, control, or management to operate a chronic nuisance property.

(b) Any person found to be in violation of subpart (a) of this section shall not be permitted to possess an occupational license to conduct any business on a property found to be a chronic nuisance property for a period of up to two years, depending on the severity of the violation.

(c) The provisions of this article and the prohibitions in this section shall not apply to residential properties, apartment complexes, or any other property used exclusively for residential purposes.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 29323, § 1, 2-2-23)

Sec. 102-203. Procedure.

(a) When the superintendent of police, or the superintendent's designee, receives documentation confirming the existence of a suspected chronic nuisance property, the superintendent, or the superintendent's designee shall review such reports to determine whether they describe nuisance activities and whether the property in question constitutes a chronic nuisance property.

(b) When the superintendent has reason to believe that a property constitutes a chronic nuisance property, the superintendent, or a designee, shall notify a property owner at the address shown in the assessor's records and shall notify the person in charge of the property in writing that the property is in danger of being declared a chronic nuisance property.

(c) The notice shall contain:

(1) The street address or a legal description sufficient for identification of the property;

(2) A concise description of the nuisance activities that exist, or that have occurred on the property;

(3) A demand that the owner or person in charge respond to the superintendent or the superintendent's designee within ten calendar days of service of the notice to discuss the nuisance activities and create a plan to abate the chronic nuisance;

(4) An opportunity to abate the nuisance activities giving rise to the violation, including but not limited to remediation strategies such as blight/litter abatement, security and operation plans including remedies such as exterior security cameras, and proposed exterior lighting; and

(5) A statement describing that if legal action is sought by the city, the property could be subject to closure, civil penalties, and costs assessed up to $500.00 per day after the notice of the chronic nuisance property is received.

(6) A point of contact and contact information at the New Orleans Police Department, responsible for overseeing chronic nuisance property cases.

(d) Such notice shall be either:

(1) Personally served; or

(2) Delivered by certified mail to the person in charge of the property with a copy mailed to the owner at the address indicated by the assessor, if different than the person in charge of the property.

(e) If the person in charge fails to respond to the issued notice, the matter shall be referred to the city attorney for further action. If the person in charge responds as required by the notice and agrees to abate the nuisance activity, the superintendent, or the superintendent's designee, and the person in charge or property owner may work out an agreed-upon course of action and timeline for abating the nuisance activity.

(f) If an agreed course of action does not result in the abatement of the nuisance activities or if no agreement concerning abatement is reached or if abatement is not executed within the prescribed timeline, the matter shall be forwarded to the office of the city attorney for enforcement action.

(g) It is a defense to an action for chronic nuisance property that the person in charge at all material times could not, in the exercise of reasonable care or diligence, determine that the property had become chronic nuisance property, or could not in spite of the exercise of reasonable care and diligence control the conduct leading to the determination that the property is chronic nuisance property.

Sec. 102-204. Enforcement.

(a) Once the matter is referred to the city attorney, the city attorney shall immediately review and make a determination to initiate legal action authorized under this section or as otherwise provided by law, or may seek alternative forms of abatement of the nuisance activity. The city attorney may initiate legal action on the chronic nuisance property and seek civil penalties and costs in civil district court for the abatement of the nuisance.

(b) In determining whether a property shall be deemed a chronic nuisance property and subject to the court's jurisdiction, the city shall have the initial burden of proof to show by a preponderance of the evidence that the property is a chronic nuisance property. The city may submit official police reports and other affidavits outlining the information that led to arrest(s) and other chronic nuisance activity occurring or existing at the property. The failure to prosecute an individual, or the fact no one has been convicted of a crime, is not a defense to a chronic nuisance action.

(c) In assessing the civil penalty, the court may consider the following factors, citing to those found applicable:

(1) The severity of the violations;

(2) The actions taken by the person in charge and/or owner to mitigate or correct the nuisance activity;

(3) The financial condition of the persons in charge;

(4) Any documented history of prior violations;

(5) The repeated or continuous nature of the nuisance activity;

(6) The statements of the neighbors or those affected by the nuisance activity; and

(7) Any other factor deemed relevant by the court.

(d) The court that determined the property to be a chronic nuisance property may also assess costs against the person in charge and/or owner in the amount it costs the city to abate, or attempt to abate, the nuisance activity.

(e) If a court determines the property to be a chronic nuisance property, the court may order the property closed and secured against all unauthorized access, use and occupancy for a period up to two years, and may impose a civil penalty and costs.

(f) Once a determination has been made by the court that the chronic nuisance property shall be subject to closure, the court may authorize the city to physically secure the premises and initiate such closure.

(g) The court shall retain jurisdiction during any period of closure or abatement of the property.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 29323, § 1, 2-2-23)

Sec. 102-205. Emergency closure.

Nothing in this chapter prohibits the city from taking any emergency action for the summary closure of such property when it is necessary to avoid an immediate threat to public welfare and safety. The city may take summary action to close the property without complying with the notification provisions of section 102-203, but shall provide such notice as is reasonable under the circumstances and shall immediately take all appropriate steps to obtain judicial ratification of the closure.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 29323, § 1, 2-2-23)

Sec. 102-206. Chronic nuisance property judgments to run with the land.

(a) A judgment declaring the existence of a chronic nuisance property, if recorded, shall constitute a charge on the immovable property that shall be effective against third parties who acquire an interest in any immovable so encumbered, subjecting them to the prohibitions contained in section 102-202 so long as they remain in effect.

(b) The city attorney shall take all appropriate steps to ensure that a judgment declaring the existence of a chronic nuisance property is effective against third parties, including through the filing of a notice of lis pendens and by recordation of any judgment rendered in connection with this article.

(c) Nothing herein shall prohibit the city from releasing an immovable from an encumbrance created pursuant to this section when there is good cause to believe that the nuisance conditions giving rise to the underlying action are not reasonably likely to continue.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 29323, § 1, 2-2-23)

Sec. 102-207. Reporting.

(a) The city attorney shall transmit reports to the council for the first meetings in February and August of each year outlining properties referred by the superintendent to the city attorney that shall include:

(1) A narrative from the superintendent as to why each property constitutes a chronic nuisance property as defined in section 102-201;

(2) A copy of the original notice sent by the superintendent to the person in charge of a given property as required in section 102-203;

(3) The dates, times, and New Orleans Police Department item numbers for each qualifying nuisance activity for a given property;

(4) A copy of the agreed upon abatement plan between the person in charge of the property and the superintendent;

(5) A status update for each property including any abatement that has occurred at the site and the status of court proceedings; and

(6) Any penalties levied against a property by the city or civil district court, if applicable.

(7) Demographic information regarding the owners of the property and/or business.

ARTICLE V. JACKSON SQUARE*

Sec. 106-261. In custody of parkway and park commission.

The custody of that square of ground in the city known as Jackson Square is hereby placed in the parkway and park commission of the city, in accordance with the provisions of the charter, which grants to the parkway and park commission the administration and control of all parks within the city. The parkway and park commission shall have entire charge of such square in the same manner as was formerly vested in the board of curators of the Louisiana State Museum.
(Code 1956, § 43-57)

Sec. 106-262. French Quarter Festivals, Inc.'s, use of Jackson Square.

Jackson Square was once known as Public Square, with countless community celebrations held there. Even more credence was given to this location as a place of the public when in 1839 some 30-odd "stall-keepers-fruit merchants" were given permission to do business. The French Quarter Festival began in 1984 as a means of attracting locals back to the Vieux Carré after the extensive street and sidewalk repairs done in preparation for the World's Fair. This festival now attracts more than 760,000 people annually, and with the significant proof of the boost it has given to the economy by generating over $251,000,000.00 in economic impact, as well as being the stimulus for other events such as "Satchmo SummerFest" and "Christmas New Orleans Style," the French Quarter Festivals, Inc., shall be permitted to use Jackson Square for all of the activities planned for their annual festivals as provided herein.
(Code 1956, § 43-57.1; M.C.S., Ord. No. 26949, § 1, 6-9-16)

Sec. 106-263. Cabildo, transferred to curators of state museum.

The Cabildo fronting on Jackson Square in the city has been transferred to the board of curators of the state museum and dedicated in perpetuity for museum purposes; provided, however, that such dedication shall lapse if the curators shall fail to discharge the duties imposed on them by law.
(Code 1956, § 43-58)

Sec. 106-264. Assignment of supreme court room to historical society.

The supreme court room in the Cabildo, with the Chartres Street front, shall be assigned to the exclusive use of the Louisiana Historical Society so long as it performs the objects and purposes for which it was created by Act No. 6 of 1860, and Act No. 108, extra session of 1877. But should the Louisiana Historical Society cease to exist, the use of the supreme court room shall be determined by the board of curators of the state museum.

As a condition of the purchase of creditable service hereunder and except as provided in section 114-112 hereof, a member shall be required to pay to the system actuarial interest accrued on any member contributions required hereunder, at the rate determined by the trustees, except that interest with respect to the purchase of service in the armed forces shall not exceed four percent.

C. Contribution compensation for purposes of the purchase of creditable service hereunder shall be the rate of such compensation in effect at the time or immediately preceding the date or dates on which such service was rendered, or, with respect to military service before employment by an employer hereunder, the rate of such compensation in effect at the time such employment commenced.

D. The board may, but shall not be required, to accept a rollover from a member in consideration of the purchase of creditable service hereunder, provided that such rollover satisfies all of the following conditions:

1. The proceeds of such rollover shall be attributable to a period of participation in the system, another qualified governmental plan within the meaning of Tax Code Section 401(a), an eligible governmental plan within the meaning of Tax Code

Section 457(b) or a tax deferred annuity within the meaning of Tax Code Section 403(b).

2. The amount of any rollover shall not exceed the amount necessary to purchase creditable service hereunder.

3. No portion of the proceeds of the rollover shall consist of after-tax contributions.

4. Any rollover shall be made in the form of a direct transfer from a trustee or custodian of a plan, account or annuity to the system.

5. As a condition of a rollover hereunder, the board may request such documents as it deems necessary; the board may adopt such additional procedures or require such additional certifications as it deems necessary or appropriate.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-114. Transfers of credits and funds.

A. The transfer of credits and funds between the system and the retirement system maintained by the sewerage and water board shall be allowed in accordance with the following reciprocal agreement:

1. A member of either system, not yet retired, who is transferring from employment covered by one system to employment covered by the other system, may transfer his service credits and be given credit in the system to which he transfers for all his creditable service in the previous system, provided he meets the eligibility requirements specified in R.S. 33:4076.1 and R.S. 11:141—11:143, where the latter statute does not conflict with R.S. 11:3822, and provided all of the reserves necessary to fund his prior service and membership credit plus all allowable interest on these reserves are transferred from the sending system to the system to which he is being transferred.

2. The amount to be transferred hereunder shall be calculated as of the date of the transfer based upon the GASB No. 5 value of the member's accumulated benefits, using seven percent annual interest, a five percent annual salary scale, and the remaining actuarial assumptions in use by the sending system for purposes of determining GASB No. 5 liability at the time of transfer. Such amount shall not include a reserve for future cost-of-living benefits. The salary history and benefit structure of the member under the sending system shall be used in this calculation.

3. If a member withdrew his contributions from either system and wishes to receive credit for all past service in either system, he shall repay all contributions withdrawn, plus allowable interest thereon, to the system from which he transferred, after which such past service credits shall be transferred to his current system in accordance with the rules of the system from which he withdrew; thereafter, such service credit and funds shall be transferred in accordance with the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

4. No membership service credits, that is service as an employee rendered after the date of the establishment of the system from which the employee is transferring, shall be allowed under this agreement for those periods where there are no employee contributions, unless the transferring employee pays for such uncontributed periods the amount that would have been contributed for such periods plus all allowable interest thereon, after which such service credit and funds can be transferred in accordance with the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) hereof.

5. This agreement shall be effective as of October 17, 1988. This agreement can be modified or amended only with consent of both pension boards together with ratification by the city council (for the city) and sewerage and water board (for the sewerage and water board). Any modification or amendment of this agreement shall not affect in any way the rights of any employee who has previously effected a transfer under this agreement or who has initiated an application for transfer under the provisions of this agreement.

6. If the board or the pension committee of the retirement system of the sewerage and water board (hereinafter "pension committee") seeks to terminate this agreement, the party seeking termination shall follow the following provisions:

   i. If the board wishes to terminate, it shall:

      a. Provide the pension committee 30 days written notice before it meets to consider such action;

      b. After proper notice has been given, the trustees shall meet to discuss and vote on resolution to terminate;

      c. If such vote is affirmative, the trustees shall provide the pension committee written notice of not less than 30 days that it intends to seek approval from the city council to terminate the agreement; and

      d. If the city council grants the trustees the authority to terminate this agreement, such termination shall not become effective until after the trustees provide the pension committee with 90 days written notice of termination.

   ii. If the pension committee wishes to terminate, it shall:

      a. Provide the trustees 30 days written notice before it meets to consider such action;

      b. After proper notice has been given, the pension committee shall meet to discuss and vote on resolution to terminate;

      c. If such vote is affirmative, the pension committee shall provide the trustees a written notice of not less than 30 days, that it intends to seek approval from the sewerage and water board trustees to terminate the agreement; and

      d. If the sewerage and water board grants the pension committee the authority to terminate this agreement, such termination shall not become effective until after the pension committee provides the trustees with a 90-day written notice of termination.

   Termination shall not affect in any way the rights of any employee who has previously effected a transfer under this agreement or who has initiated an application for transfer under this agreement. Transfers of credits and funds to the system from the sewerage and water board retirement system shall not be permitted unless a reciprocity agreement is in effect.

B. Transfers of credits and funds between the system and state, municipal or parochial retirement systems in the state, other than the sewerage and water board retirement system, shall be permitted in accordance with applicable state law, including R.S. 11:141 et seq.

Such application shall be made not more than 90 and not less than 30 days before his retirement date and shall designate his retirement date, the form in which his retirement allowance shall be paid, his annuitant, if applicable, and such other elections and information as the trustees deem necessary or advisable. Except as may be provided herein, the terms of such application shall be irrevocable as of the date on which a member first receives a distribution of his retirement allowance hereunder.

B. The trustees shall process such application as soon as practicable following its receipt and acceptance. If the initial payment of a member's retirement allowance is made after his retirement date, such initial payment shall include any amount in arrears, without liability for interest thereon.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-125. Eligibility for normal retirement.

For members hired on or before January 1, 2018, a member shall be eligible for "normal retirement" if:

(1) He is credited with at least 30 years of creditable service;

(2) He has attained age 60 and is credited with not less than ten years of creditable service;

(3) He has attained age 65 and is credited with not less than five years of creditable service; or

(4) He is credited with not less than 80 points, determined as the sum of his attained age and years of creditable service as of his separation date; for this purpose, a member shall be required to apply all of his accumulated sick leave to the purchase of creditable service hereunder.

Sec. 114-126. Determination of pensionable compensation.

A member's pensionable compensation shall be determined in accordance with the following:

A. If a member separates from service and is later reemployed, his periods of service before and after reemployment may be aggregated for purposes of determining his pensionable compensation.

B. In no event shall a member's pensionable compensation for any calendar year exceed the limit then permitted under Tax Code Section 401(a)(17), as the same may be adjusted from time to time. Any change in such limit occurring during a calendar year shall be deemed effective as of the first day of such year. If pensionable compensation is determined with reference to a period of less than 12 months, the limit hereunder shall be prorated by multiplying the dollar limit then in effect by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of months in such period and the denominator of which is 12.

C. In no event shall the annualized pensionable compensation of any member taken into account hereunder be less than such member's compensation permitted to be taken into account under this section, or its equivalent, as of July 1, 1993, provided he was a member of the system as of such date.

D. A member's consecutive months of pensionable compensation shall include the furlough period beginning August 1, 2010, and ending December 31, 2010, provided that member contributions and employer contributions are made with respect to such period. Base compensation attributable to such period shall be a member's regular rate of base compensation then in effect but determined without adjustment for such furlough.

E. For members who commenced employment after January 1, 2018, in no event shall a member's pensionable compensation for any calendar year exceed $100,000.00, adjusted for inflation as determined by the trustees from time to time.

F. For members who commenced employment after January 1, 2018 and are employed on and after January 1, 2021, notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, in no event shall such member's pensionable compensation for any calendar year exceed $150,000.00, as the trustees may adjust for inflation from time to time.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15; M.C.S., Ord. No. 27607, § 1, 12-1-17; M.C.S., Ord. No. 28530, § 2, 10-15-20; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29248, § 1, 11-3-22)

Sec. 114-127. Amount of retirement allowance.

A. For each active member who commenced employment before January 1, 2018, the amount of such member's retirement allowance, expressed in the form of a member annuity, shall equal the sum of: (A) 2.5% of such member's pensionable compensation multiplied by such member's creditable service not in excess of 25 years, and (B) 4% of such member's pensionable compensation multiplied by such member's creditable service in excess of 25 years. For this purpose, creditable service with respect to which a member has received a refund shall be disregarded, unless such member has repaid an equivalent amount as determined by the trustees.

B. For each active member who commenced employment after January 1, 2018, the amount of such member's retirement allowance, expressed in the form of a member annuity, shall equal 1.9% of such member's pensionable compensation multiplied by such member's creditable service.

C. For members who commenced employment after January 1, 2018 and are employed on and after January 1, 2021, notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, the amount of such member's retirement allowance, expressed in the form of a member annuity, shall equal 2.5% of such member's pensionable compensation multiplied by such member's creditable service. For this purpose, creditable service for which a member has received a refund shall be disregarded, unless such member has repaid an equivalent amount as determined by the trustees.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15; M.C.S., Ord. No. 27607, § 1, 12-1-17; M.C.S., Ord. No. 28530, § 3, 10-15-20)

Sec. 114-128. Reduction for early payment.

If a member's retirement allowance commences before he attains age 62, such allowance shall be reduced by three percent for each year by which his retirement date precedes his attainment of such age, provided that no reduction shall be required:

A. If the member has at least 30 years of creditable service as of his retirement date; or

B. If the member's age and creditable service total at least 80 points as of his separation date. This provision is not applicable for any member who commences employment after January 1, 2018.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15; M.C.S., Ord. No. 27607, § 1, 12-1-17)

Sec. 114-129. Late retirement.

A member shall be entitled to designate a late retirement date, which may be later than the date or dates determined in accordance with section 114-125 hereof, but shall not be later than April 1st of the calendar year following the later of (A) the year in which the member attains age 70½, or (B) the member's separation date.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-130. Form of retirement allowance.

A. A member shall designate the form in which his retirement allowance shall be paid from among the following optional forms of payment, each of which shall be the actuarial equivalent of the other, as follows:

1. "Option One," which shall be an annuity that provides equal monthly payments for the life of a member; provided that if the member shall die before the actuarial value of his member account has been paid, the remainder shall be paid to his beneficiary in the form of a single-sum.

2. "Option Two," which shall be an annuity providing equal monthly payments for the life of the member and the same amount for the life of his annuitant; provided that (i) if the member's annuitant predeceases the member, an annuity determined in accordance with subsection 1 hereof shall thereafter be paid to such surviving member and, if the member dies before the actuarial value of his member account has been distributed, any remainder shall be distributed to the member's beneficiary, (ii) if the member predeceases his annuitant and the annuitant dies before the actuarial value of the member account has been distributed, any remainder shall be distributed to the annuitant's beneficiary, and (iii) if the member's annuitant is not his surviving spouse, any survivor benefit payable hereunder shall not exceed the maximum percentage permitted under Tax Code Section 401(a)(9).

3. "Option Three," which shall be an annuity providing equal monthly payments for the life of the member and one-half of such amount for the life of his annuitant; provided that (i) if the member's annuitant predeceases the member, an annuity determined in accordance with subsection 1 hereof shall thereafter be paid to such surviving member; and, if the member dies before the actuarial value of his member account has been distributed, any remainder shall be distributed to the member's beneficiary, (ii) if the member predeceases his annuitant and the annuitant dies before the actuarial value of the member account has been distributed, any remainder shall be distributed to the annuitant's beneficiary, and (iii) if the member's annuitant is not his surviving spouse, the survivor benefit payable hereunder shall not exceed the maximum percentage permitted under Tax Code Section 401(a)(9).

4. "Option Four," which shall refer to such other form of payment as the trustees may, from time to time, designate, subject to such limitations, terms and conditions as the trustees deem necessary and appropriate.

B. If the trustees determine that monthly payment of an annuity is or becomes impracticable on account of its amount, the trustees may direct that such monthly payments be aggregated and paid on an annual, semi-annual or quarterly basis.

C. Any amount payable in the form of a single-sum to a beneficiary hereunder shall be paid not later than the last day of the calendar year that contains the fifth anniversary of the date of the member's death.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-131. Minimum retirement allowance.

Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, in no case shall the value of the member annuity for a member who is credited with at least ten years of creditable service for full-time employment be less than $300.00 each month.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-132. Maximum retirement allowance.

In no case shall the amount of a member annuity hereunder, determined as of a member's retirement date, exceed his annualized pensionable compensation as of such date, except that the foregoing limitation shall not apply:

A. To any member whose accrued benefits hereunder were in excess of such amount as of May 7, 1978.

B. To any distribution made from a member's DROP account.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-133. Reemployment; suspension of retirement allowance.

If a member retires and receives a retirement allowance hereunder, the payment of such allowance shall be suspended if the member is reemployed by the employer. In such event, payment of his retirement allowance shall again commence after the member again separates from service; such member's periods of creditable service and pensionable compensation shall be recalculated taking into account service and compensation before and after his reemployment.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-134. Tax Code limitation.

The value of a member's annualized retirement allowance, when expressed in the form of an annual benefit as defined herein, shall not exceed the maximum permissible amount. If the value of a member's annual benefit would exceed such amount, the value of such benefit shall be reduced to the maximum permissible amount.

For this purpose, a member's "maximum permissible amount" shall be the dollar limit set forth in Tax Code Section 415(b)(1)(A), as the same may be indexed from time to time under Tax Code Section 415(d), and subject to adjustment as provided herein.

A. A member's "annual benefit" shall be the actuarial equivalent of a member's retirement allowance, determined as a single life annuity payable under a plan to which members do not contribute and to which rollover contributions are not made. Such equivalent shall be determined using (1) an interest rate equal to the greater of 5.5%, the rate otherwise specified herein or the rate that provides a benefit of not more than 105% of the benefit derived from the interest rate specified in Tax Code Section 417(e)(3), and (2) the mortality table specified in Tax Code Section 417(e). The value of such annual benefit shall further be determined as follows:

1. The value of such benefit shall not include any after-tax member contributions, which contributions, if any, shall be separately subject to the limitations imposed under Tax Code Section 415(c).

2. The value of such benefit shall include the value of any amount paid by a member to purchase creditable service hereunder, except that:

   i. Amounts paid for service with the armed forces as contemplated under Tax Code Section 414(n) shall not be included;

   ii. Any amount transferred from another qualified governmental plan or governmental Tax Code Section 457(b) plan shall not be included; and

   iii. Reserved.

3. The value of such benefit shall not include any amount attributable to the transfer of service credit hereunder.

B. If a member retires before he attains age 62, such member's maximum permissible amount shall be reduced to equal an annual benefit commencing as of such member's retirement date that is the actuarial equivalent of such amount payable at age 62, determined using (1) an interest rate equal to the greater of five percent or the rate otherwise specified herein, and (2) the mortality table determined in accordance with Tax Code Section 417(e). Notwithstanding the foregoing, such adjustment shall not apply to any benefit payable on account of the death or disability of a member.

C. If a member retires after he attains age 65, such member's maximum permissible Amount shall be actuarially adjusted to reflect such delayed retirement using (1) an interest rate equal to the lesser of five percent or the rate otherwise specified herein, and (2) the mortality table required under Tax Code Section 417(e).

D. If a member is credited with less than ten years of participation in the system, the Maximum Permissible Amount determined hereunder shall be reduced by 1/10 for each year of such participation less than ten.

E. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall the retirement allowance of a member be reduced as provided herein if he is a qualified member. For this purpose, a "qualified member" is a member who commenced participation hereunder prior to January 1, 1990.

F. The limitations set forth herein shall not apply to any member if (1) his or her retirement benefit hereunder, including any retirement benefit paid from any other tax-qualified retirement plan maintained by the city or another participating employer hereunder, does not exceed $10,000.00 each year, and (2) no such employer has at any time maintained a defined contribution plan in which such member participated.

G. If the maximum permissible amount increases after a member separates from service, the amount of any limitation imposed hereunder shall thereafter take into account such increase.

H. If a member retires before January 1, 2007, then notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary:

1. The value of such member's annual benefit shall not include any amount attributable to the transfer of service or benefits hereunder.

2. Member contributions made in the form of after-tax contributions shall be subject to the limitations on contributions applicable to defined contribution plans imposed under Code Section 415.

3. If such member's retirement allowance includes a rollover hereto, the value of such rollover shall be included in the determination of such member's annual benefit by applying reasonable actuarial assumptions.

4. If such member retires after the attainment of age 65, the maximum permissible amount shall be determined without regard to subsection C hereof.

5. If such member retires before attainment of age 62, the adjustment set forth in subsection B hereof shall not apply.

6. If a member's retirement allowance is payable in a form other than a single life annuity, such allowance shall be expressed as the actuarial equivalent of a single life annuity.

I. The terms of this section are to be interpreted and construed in accordance with the provisions of Tax Code Section 415(b) and the regulations promulgated thereunder, the terms of which are incorporated herein by this reference.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15; M.C.S., Ord. No. 27607, § 1, 12-1-17)

Sec. 114-135. Additional payments.

A. The board may be authorized to retain trust earnings or gains in excess of an average three and one-half percent, which amount may be applied to provide one or more cost-of-living increases or bonuses for members who have retired, in an annual amount not to exceed three percent of each such member's initial retirement allowance multiplied by each year of such member's retirement, provided that the system's actuarial funded ratio is at least 65 percent. Such benefit, if any, may be awarded and paid when funds are available from this source as provided herein, and in the manner and at the time or times determined in the discretion of the trustees.

B. Notwithstanding subsection A, the board may be authorized to provide a cost-of-living increase or bonus to help adjust for actual changes in members' cost of living if the city appropriates sufficient funds to fully prefund the increase or bonus described in this subsection in the year the benefit is provided.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15; M.C.S., Ord. No. 27607, § 1, 12-1-17; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29248, § 1, 11-3-22)

Sec. 114-136. Direct rollovers.

A. Rollover shall be made to the plan, account or annuity designated by the member or other distributee. In the case of a member, such plan, account or annuity may be an individual retirement account described in Tax Code Section 408(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Tax Code Section 408(b), an annuity plan described in Tax Code Section 403(a), a qualified trust described in Tax Code Section 401(a), or an eligible governmental plan described in Tax Code Section 457(b). In the case of a rollover made for the benefit of a beneficiary or annuitant or a member's spouse, an eligible retirement plan shall be an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity.

B. No amount shall be eligible for rollover hereunder if it is one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments made not less frequently than annually for the life or life expectancy of the distributee or the joint lives or joint life expectancies of a member and his annuitant or beneficiary, or for a specified period of ten years or more or a required minimum distribution under Tax Code Section 401(a)(9).

C. A direct rollover hereunder shall not be required with respect to amounts of less than $200.00.

D. The trustees shall furnish to each member, annuitant or beneficiary eligible to direct a rollover hereunder a notice containing the information described in Tax Code Section 402(f), which notice shall be furnished within a reasonable time prior to a distribution eligible for rollover hereunder.

(M.C.S., Ord. No. 26460, § 2, 6-18-15)

Sec. 114-137. Early or voluntary retirement.

A. A member shall be eligible for early or voluntary retirement as provided herein if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

1. Such member's retirement date is no earlier than October 19, 2020 and no later than December 31, 2020.

2. Such member separates from service no later than the designated retirement date and such member does not return to eligible full-time employment.

5. Such member agrees to the waiver of certain claims in the form and at the time prescribed by the trustees.

B. A member who elects early retirement shall further satisfy the following:

C. A member who elects voluntary retirement shall further be eligible for normal retirement (as defined in section 114-125) as of the member's designated retirement date.

D. The retirement allowance of a member who satisfies the conditions set forth herein and timely elects early retirement shall not be subject to reduction for early payment under section 114-128, regardless of the age of such member.

E. A member who satisfies the conditions set forth herein and timely elects voluntary retirement shall receive:

1. A 1% increase in the base amount of the annual retirement allowance payable as of such member's retirement date, to be prorated and paid monthly, such increase (a) to be made annually commencing as of January 1, 2022 and (b) to be made during the life of the member and any annuitant.

Locations outside the French Quarter or the Downtown Development District will receive 96-gallon carts.

Eligible residents and small business owners who live or operate within the boundaries of the French Quarter, the Downtown Development District, or Frenchmen Street between Esplanade Avenue and Dauphine Street, may request an exemption from the use of a roll cart. Exemptions will be granted to residents who are elderly, disabled, or handicapped, or if the infrastructure does not permit storage of the roll cart off the public right-of-way. Exemptions will be granted provided that a written request, including the resident's name, address, apartment number, telephone number, email address (optional), and the number of units in the building or small business, is submitted to the department of sanitation. Additionally, the request must include a copy of a current sewerage and water board bill for the unit, the name and address of the property owner, if different from the resident, and the reason for the request. Upon approval, the resident will be notified and the cart at the specified service location will be removed.

Residents and small businesses that receive an exemption from the use of a roll cart are required to place their solid waste in 0.8 mil or greater, black, garbage bags. White trash bags, grocery bags, paper bags, and cardboard boxes are not acceptable for collection of solid waste. Roll carts are mandatory for all residents who do not have an approved exemption request on file with the department of sanitation. Only the city's representative shall be authorized to remove any city-owned solid waste cart from its assigned service location. It shall be unlawful for any other person to willfully damage or destroy any garbage cart, or to remove any garbage cart from the address to which it is assigned. Each eligible service location is entitled to one replacement roll cart if the initial cart is stolen. Any further replacements must be purchased from the city's service provider.

within a city provided roll-off cart; to remove cart covers or otherwise vandalize carts; to overfill a cart such that the lid does not close to where it is in contact with the rim; or to disturb the contents of carts after they have been placed for collection.

All owners and occupants of any building, house, structure or grounds shall be responsible for the cleanliness of their premises and alleys immediately adjacent to their premises. All business owners and managers of stores, restaurants, markets or stands shall be responsible for keeping sidewalks adjacent to buildings occupied by the business in a clean condition. The collection contractor is responsible for repairs to the city-owned carts when damage is caused during normal usage. Carts shall be secured by the resident, between collection days, in such a manner that they are not readily susceptible to theft or vandalism. Anyone found to have intentionally or negligently damaged a city-owned cart shall be liable for the replacement or repair cost.
(Code 1956, § 28-6; M.C.S., Ord. No. 21496, § 1, 5-6-04; M.C.S., Ord. No. 22601, § 1, 4-19-07; M.C.S., Ord. No. 27886, § 1, 10-4-18)

Sec. 138-42. Days of collection; placement and removal of garbage carts.

(a) Except as otherwise designated by the director, the automated or semi-automated solid waste collection system shall be the method used for household and small business solid waste collection services provided by the city.

(1) The director of the department of sanitation shall designate when the collection of trash and garbage shall be made in various areas of the city.

(2) All locations outside the French Quarter, the Downtown Development District, and Frenchmen Street between Esplanade Avenue and Dauphine Street, that receive curbside collection of solid waste shall place their solid waste curbside for collection prior to 5:00 a.m. on the day designated for collection, but not prior to 4:00 p.m. of the day prior to the designated collection day for collection between the hours of 5:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. All carts shall be removed from the curb or service alley as promptly as possible, but no later than 8:00 p.m. on the day of collection.

   a. The director of the department of sanitation shall have the authority to approve early collections during the months of June through September when excessive heat is a risk to the health and safety of workers. Between the months of June and September, collections may occur between the hours of 4:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.

(3) All locations within the boundaries of the French Quarter, the Downtown Development District, or Frenchmen Street between Esplanade and Dauphine Street, that receive curbside collection of solid waste shall place their solid waste curbside for collection prior to 4:00 a.m. for collection between the hours of 4:00 a.m. and 8:00 a.m. All carts shall be removed from the curb as promptly as possible, but no later than 9:00 a.m. after the morning collection. Properties within the area bounded by the downtown side of Canal Street, the rear property line of the properties fronting on the lakeside of Dauphine Street, the rear property line of the properties fronting on the downtown side of Dumaine Street, and the Mississippi River, the Downtown Development District, or Frenchmen Street between Esplanade Avenue and Dauphine Street, that receive twice-per-day collection, shall place their solid waste curbside for the second collection no earlier than 3:30 p.m. for collection between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. All carts shall be removed from the curb as promptly as possible after collection. All carts shall be removed from the curb between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

(4) Solid waste from commercial businesses within the boundaries of the French Quarter, the Downtown Development District, or Frenchmen Street between Esplanade Avenue and Dauphine Street, shall be properly contained in garbage receptacles with tight-fitting lids or placed in fastened 3.0-mil or greater thick, black, plastic bags. White trash bags, grocery bags, paper bags, and cardboard boxes are not acceptable for collection of solid waste.

(5) All commercial businesses within the boundaries of the French Quarter, the Downtown Development District, or Frenchmen Street between Esplanade Avenue and Dauphine Street, shall make arrangements with their private collection contractors to increase the frequency of collections during special events if significant increases in their volumes of solid waste are anticipated.

(6) Any person 60 years of age or older shall be allowed to place carts with trash and garbage, bagged yard waste, or bundles of tree limbs at the curb adjacent to his or her residence outside of the items listed in section 138-42(a)(2) and 138-42(a)(3). Any person 60 years of age or older who receives written notification of a violation of this provision shall provide proof of residence and proof of age in order to be exempt from the penalties imposed by section 138-37.

(7) Service locations receiving curbside collection shall place roll carts at the curb in front of the service location on the designated collection days in such a manner that it allows for the safe and efficient operation of the collection vehicle and does not interfere with pedestrian or vehicular traffic. Roll carts shall be placed so that they open toward the street or alley. It shall be unlawful to permit carts to remain adjacent to the curb, except on regular collection days. Carts shall be stored, between collection days, on the service location's private property so as to not interfere with pedestrian or vehicular traffic along sidewalks, streets, and other rights-of-way.

ARTICLE II. STREETS GENERALLY

DIVISION 1. GENERALLY

Sec. 146-36. Complete Streets program.

(a) Purpose. The Council of the City of New Orleans shall establish and implement a Complete Streets program by requiring that all planning, designing, funding, operation and maintenance of the city's transportation system to accommodate and encourage travel for all users in a balanced, responsible and equitable manner consistent with, and supportive of, the surrounding community.

(b) Definitions.

(1) Crash data, as used in this section, means data, including, but not limited to, location, severity and demographics regarding crashes involving vehicles and/or pedestrians.

(2) Major operational change, as used in the section, means the removal of a travel lane or parking lane for another use for a distance of at least one block, or as determined by the city traffic engineer.

(3) User mode share data, as used in this section, means the number of users or percentage of users for particular modes of transportation, such as private motor vehicles, public transit, bicycling or walking.

(4) Vehicle, as used in this section, means every device by which persons or things may be transported upon a public street, highway, or bridge. A bicycle or a ridden animal shall be a vehicle, and a trailer or semitrailer shall be a separate vehicle.

(c) Scope. The Complete Streets program shall apply to all phases of design, development and implementation. It shall also apply to the entirety of transportation facilities' lifetimes, including planning, design, construction, funding, operation and maintenance.

(d) Establishment of Complete Streets goals, metrics, policies, standards and guidelines.

(1) The director of the department of public works (DPW) and director of the city planning commission (CPC) shall develop goals and metrics for the Complete Streets policy based on recognized best practices including, but not limited to, the National Complete Streets Coalition Complete Streets Policy Analysis 2010 and the American Planning Association Complete Streets: Best Policy and Implementation Practices.

(2) The director of DPW shall adapt, develop and adopt departmental policies, design criteria, standards, and guidelines based upon recognized best practices in street design, construction and operations including, but not limited to, the latest editions of American Association of State Highway Transportation Officials (AASHTO) A Policy on Geometric Design of Highways and Streets; AASHTO Guide for Planning, Designing, and Operating Pedestrian Facilities; AASHTO Guide for the Development of Bicycle Facilities; Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE) Designing Walkable Urban Thoroughfares: A Context Sensitive Approach; National Association of City Transportation Officials (NACTO) Urban Bikeway Design Guide; U.S. Access Board: Public Right-of-Way Accessibility Guidelines; Highway Capacity Manual and Highway Safety Manual. In doing so, DPW shall consider methods of providing development flexibility within safe design parameters, such as context-sensitive design solutions. DPW shall also attempt to employ all solutions consistent with and sensitive to the context of the project.

(e) Collaboration. DPW shall work with all appropriate agencies as necessary to effectively develop, operate and maintain bicycle and pedestrian networks. Such agencies include, but are not limited to, LADOTD, the New Orleans Regional Planning Commission, City Planning Commission, and Regional Transit Authority.

(f) Exemptions. DPW and the city planning commission may exempt part of [or] all of a specific roadway segment from the requirements of this section by issuing, in writing, documentation. Such exemptions must be approved in writing by the directors of DPW and city planning commission. Exemptions may be granted:

(1) If the project involves a roadway on which nonmotorized use is prohibited by law. In this case, DPW and city planning commission shall make a demonstrable effort to accommodate pedestrians, bicyclists, and other nonmotorized users elsewhere;

(2) If DPW and the city planning commission document an absence of current and future need or use of the affected area by pedestrians, bicyclists, and other nonmotorized users, and that such an absence would likely continue despite compliance with this section;

(3) If DPW, in consultation with city planning commission, concludes that the cost of accommodation of all users is excessively disproportionate to the need or probable use of the affected area. Under this section, excessively disproportionate may be defined as 20 percent or more of the total project cost; or

(4) If DPW, in consultation with city planning commission, concludes that the project involves routine, minor maintenance activities designed to keep the city's transportation assets in serviceable condition, including, but not limited to, cleaning, pothole and catch basin repair, or temporary measures on detour or haul routes. Under this section, overlay projects shall not qualify as routine, minor maintenance activities.

(g) Implementation. In support of the Complete Streets program, DPW, in consultation with city planning commission, shall:

(1) Assign the design advisory committee oversight or create an entity tasked with oversight of the implementation and progress of the Complete Streets program;

(2) Develop, modify and update city plans, manuals, rules, regulations and programs in accordance with this section;

(4) Dedicate sufficient resources to train pertinent staff on the content, guiding principles and best practices to effectively implement the Complete Streets program; and

(5) Dedicate sufficient resources to the collection and analysis of data, such as crash data and mode share, necessary to guide and inform the decision-making process;

(6) Ensure the Complete Streets program for the city is fully implemented not later than December 1, 2012.

(7) When a project is anticipated to involve a major operational change to a roadway, the department of public works, during the pre-construction phase, shall conduct the following:

a. Hold no fewer than two community engagement meetings; and

b. Appear at no fewer than one hearing by the city council transportation and airport committee; city council public works, sanitation and environment committee; or other city council committee; and

c. Work with the neighborhood engagement office and other city engagement channels as necessary to ensure the advertising of community engagement meetings regarding proposed major operational changes at least two weeks in advance of the community engagement meeting distributed via email, text message and physical paper.

(h) Complete Streets program performance evaluation. In support of the Complete Streets program, DPW and the city planning commission shall establish a reporting procedure that annually measures the success of the Complete Streets program.

(a) Once permitted, but prior to closing the public right-of-way, the applicant shall distribute a neighborhood street closure notice approved by the department. Such director may modify the provisions relating to number, location and design of driveways when the applicant presents proof of hardship in connection with said provisions. The director of the department of public works may refuse to issue a driveway permit in any case when, in the interest of public safety, the same ought not be granted.

Not more than two driveways shall be permitted for each use parcel which abuts on any street for a distance of 120 feet or less. Each driveway will provide access to not more than two off-street parking spaces which abut such driveway. Access to three or more off-street parking spaces per driveway will be by means of a lane, isle or interior roadway connecting to the driveway. Driveways abutting any use parcel shall be separated by a minimum distance of four feet between curb returns to provide necessary pedestrian refuge and driveway delineation. No driveway shall encroach upon the sidewalk areas formed by the corner radius and the extension of property lines at the corner of an intersecting street.

(b) Exemptions from the strict application of the provisions of this section and any provisions contained in the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance may be granted by the director of the department of public works when it is determined that circumstances require wider curb cuts for turning efficiency and/or safety. In considering exemptions requested under this paragraph, the director shall consider the potential traffic safety and operational problems involved, alternatives to allowing curb cuts, and the hardship which may result to applicant if the curb cut is denied.

The permit required by this section shall be granted only to the owner of the real property adjacent to which the proposed sidewalk is to be constructed and maintained upon the application of such owner or his authorized agent. The property owner shall be held liable for construction work performed in the public right-of-way without the appropriate permit from the department of public works. The director of the department of public works is authorized to issue a "stop work" order for sidewalk construction being performed in violation of this section. All existing granite and slate curbs shall be retained by the city for reuse within historic districts.

(e) Any person desiring to obtain a permit to install or modify a sidewalk shall submit an application to the director of public works for approval in accordance with sections 146-141 thru 146-144.

(h) When a property owner, city agency or utility company has to make repairs under an existing concrete sidewalk or banquette and 35 percent or more of that concrete area measured by total area square feet within a property owner's portion of sidewalk or banquette has to be removed to perform the utility construction or repair, the property owner, city agency or utility company performing the work is responsible for replacing the entire sidewalk or banquette within the property owner's portion according to the minimum standards set forth in this section. When repairs to an existing concrete sidewalk are less than 35 percent of a property owner's portion of a sidewalk or banquette area, then the replacement shall be made in kind to match the existing pattern. When the agency, utility company, or property owner must make repairs to a concrete sidewalk then the replacement area must extend to the nearest expansion joint on all fours sides of the location of repair.

(i) Streets with sidewalks in excess of nine feet wide may be planted with street trees, pattern and construction as per the latest edition of the department of public works standard drawings and specifications for construction in the downtown development district. (3) The minimum tree well size is four feet by four feet. Regardless of treatment, the tree well may not be included in the required clear width of sidewalk. Ground cover and/or stationary raised planters may be permitted on sidewalks within the downtown development district in lieu of tree grates upon written approval of the department of public works in consultation with the downtown development district. Deviations relative to the size of the minimum tree well may be granted by the director of department of public works in consultation with the downtown development district.

(4) Street trees will be located and planted as per the latest edition of the department of public works standard drawings and specifications unless the proposed trees conflict with the existing utilities under the sidewalk or banquette where the trees are being proposed. Prior approval of all tree placements must be obtained from the department of parks and parkways, in consultation with the planning advisory committee. See details on street tree planting for location and spacing between trees in the latest edition of the department of public works standard drawings and specifications for construction in the downtown development district.

Elements of "sidewalk cafés" shall not compromise the ADA compliance of any city sidewalk, cannot obstruct barrier-free access or passage along such sidewalk, nor any building ingress, egress, stairways, doorways, or other access-ways. No element of a sidewalk café may be utilized as general advertising signage, as defined in the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.

Sidewalk use means any use of the public right-of-way for a sidewalk café, A-frame sign, or display by an adjacent, licensed, commercial establishment, as authorized by this division and the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.

DIVISION 4A. ELECTRIC VEHICLE CHARGERS

Sec. 146-561. Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this division, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Dwelling means a structure, or portion of a structure, designed or used exclusively for permanent residential purposes, including single-family, two-family, townhouse, and multi-family dwellings, but not including trailers, hotels/motels, rooming houses, or automobile

Electric vehicle means any motor vehicle, licensed for operation on public streets in the State of Louisiana, which receives locomotive power from a battery or other storage device that receives and stores electricity from an external source such as a charger. This definition includes plug-in hybrid electric vehicles.

Electric vehicle charger means a device that permits the transfer of electric energy (by conductive or inductive means) to a battery or other storage device in an electric vehicle.

Operating permit means the city-issued authorization to install, operate, and maintain an approved electric vehicle charger occupying a portion of the right-of-way immediately adjacent to a dwelling.

Permittee means the person or business entity issued an operating permit for the installation, operation, and maintenance of an approved electric vehicle charger occupying a portion of the right-of-way immediately adjacent to a dwelling.

Right-of-way means that portion of the street between the curb lines or the lateral lines of a roadway and the adjacent property lines intended for use by pedestrians or as a landscaped buffer between pedestrian and vehicular traffic.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27545, § 1, 9-28-17, eff. 10-1-17)

Sec. 146-562. Operating permit required.

Use of any right-of-way for installation, operation, or maintenance of an electric vehicle charger shall be unlawful without an operating permit issued pursuant to this division.
(M.C.S., Ord. No. 27545, § 1, 9-28-17, eff. 10-1-17)

Sec. 146-563. Operating permit requirements.

(a) For purposes of enforcing this division, operating permits shall be considered an extension of a dwelling on publicly owned property and any violation of this division shall be attributable to the owner of such adjacent dwelling.

(b) Operating permits shall only be issued as accessory and subordinate uses to dwellings.

(c) Operating permit eligibility shall be limited to the owner or occupant of a dwelling that does not and cannot provide off-street parking on the lot on which the dwelling is situated, in a manner compliant with the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.

(d) Electric vehicle chargers shall be monitored and controlled by the permittee at all times and may only be utilized for private, non-commercial use. Fees, gratuities, or other remuneration may not be received by the permittee for use of the charger.

(e) All improvements associated with the installation, operation, and maintenance of electric vehicle chargers shall be compliant with the adopted construction codes of the City of New Orleans, and certified as compliant by the director of safety and permits.

(f) Cords shall be retractable or have a place to hang the connector and cord sufficiently above the pedestrian surface. Any cords connecting the charger to a vehicle shall be configured so that they do not cross a driveway, sidewalk, or passenger unloading area.

(g) Issuance of an operating permit for installation, operation, and maintenance of an electric vehicle charger on the right-of-way does not create a private or reserved parking space for the permittee on the right-of-way. A sign shall be affixed to the electric vehicle charger indicating that the presence of the charger does not constitute a private or reserved parking space, the dimensions and text of which shall be determined by the director of safety and permits.

(h) The electric vehicle charger shall be removed by and at the expense of the permittee or owner of the associated real property if the owner or permittee no longer owns or resides at the associated dwelling or upon non-renewal or cancellation of the operating permit. If a subsequent owner or renter of the property is desirous of taking possession of the electric vehicle charger for usage purposes, however, he/she must apply for a permit before expiration of the permit.

A written narrative may accompany the plan.

4. A permittee shall maintain an insurance policy that covers any risk for any injury or damage resulting from the installation, operation, and/or maintenance of the electric vehicle charger, and the property owner shall agree to indemnify and hold the city harmless from any claims arising from the installation, operation, and/or maintenance of the electric vehicle charger to the extent permitted by law.

   a. At least four feet in width on sidewalks of eight to ten feet in width.

ARTICLE III. ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION PROCEDURES OF TAXES OTHER THAN AD VALOREM TAXES

DIVISION 1. GENERALLY

Sec. 150-111. Remedies for collection.

(a) The director of the department of finance may, within his discretion, proceed to enforce the collection of any taxes due, except real property taxes, by means of any of the following alternative remedies or procedures:

(1) Assessment and distraint, as provided under sections 150-112 through 150-120 and 150-186 through 150-190.

(2) Summary court proceeding, as provided under section 150-191.

(3) Ordinary suit under the provisions of the general laws regulating actions for the enforcement of obligations.

(b) The director of the department of finance may choose which of these procedures he will pursue in each case, and the counter remedies and delays to which the taxpayer will be entitled will be only those which are not inconsistent with proceeding initiated by the director; provided, that in every case the taxpayer shall be entitled to proceed under section 150-192, except after he has filed a petition pursuant to chapter 13, section 4-1303 of the Charter for a redetermination of the assessment and except when there is pending against him a suit involving the same tax obligation; and provided further, that the fact that the director of the department of finance has initiated proceedings under the assessment and distraint procedure will not preclude him from thereafter proceeding by summary or ordinary court proceedings for the enforcement of the same tax obligation.

(Code 1956, § 62-25; M.C.S., Ord. No. 26807, § 1, 2-4-16)

Sec. 150-112. Determination and notice of tax due.

If a taxpayer fails to make and file any tax return or tax report as required by the provisions of this Code of the city or if the return or report made and filed does not correctly compute the liability of such taxpayer, the director of the department of finance shall cause an audit, investigation or examination to be made to determine the tax, penalty and interest due, or he shall determine the tax, penalty or interest due by estimate or otherwise. Having determined the amount of tax, penalty and interest due, the director shall send by mail a notice to the taxpayer at the address given in the last report filed by him pursuant to the provisions of the chapter governing the tax involved or, if no report has been filed, to any address that may be obtainable, setting out his determination and informing the person of his purpose to assess the amount so determined against him after 15 calendar days from the date of the notice.
(Code 1956, § 62-26)

Sec. 150-113. Participation in lien rebate program.

The director of the department of finance is authorized to participate in a lien rebate program with the community improvement agency on a per property basis for individual properties with unpaid city liens when an expropriation has been filed in court for disposition of blighted property provided that:

(1) The community improvement agency has filed an expropriation and deposited the amount of the property's appraised value into the registry of the court.

(2) The community improvement agency has submitted documented proof of the expropriation filing to the director of the department of finance which includes the amount of the appraised value deposited in the registry of the court.

(3) Following notification by the community improvement agency that an expropriation has been filed the director of the department of finance is authorized to participate in the expropriation process and may intervene in the expropriation to collect unpaid liens.

(4) When a favorable judgement is rendered ordering the expropriation and payment of liens to the city from monies deposited into the court registry in accordance with the property's appraised value, the director of the department of finance is authorized to return the uninhabitable lien portion received through the expropriation process to the purchaser for renovation assistance.

(5) The director of the department of finance may authorize the return of monies collected through a declaration of the city's lien interest as part of the expropriation process and may offer a lien rebate in part or in full to the purchaser as an incentive to encourage renovation when a city building permit has been obtained through the office of safety and permits and a renovation plan has been filed with the community improvement agency.

Sec. 150-114. Protest of determination of tax due.

The taxpayer, within 15 calendar days from the date of the notice provided in section 150-112, may protest thereto. This protest must be in writing and should fully disclose the reasons, together with facts and figures in substantiation thereof, for objecting to the director of the department of finance's determination. The director shall consider the protest and in his discretion may grant a hearing thereon before making a final determination of tax, penalty and interest due.
(Code 1956, § 62-27)

Sec. 150-115. Assessment of tax, interest and penalty.

At the expiration of 15 calendar days from the date of the director of the department of finance's notice provided in section 150-112 or at the expiration of such time as may be necessary for the director to consider any protest filed to such notice, the director shall proceed to assess the tax, penalty and interest that he has determined to be due. The assessment shall be evidenced by a writing in any form suitable to the director of the department of finance, which sets forth the name of the taxpayer, the amount determined to be due, the kind of tax and the taxable period for which it is due. This writing shall be retained as a part of the director's official records. The assessment may confirm or modify the director's originally proposed assessment.
(Code 1956, § 62-28)

Sec. 150-116. Notice of assessment; appeal.

(a) Having assessed the amount determined to be due, the director of the department of finance shall send, by registered mail, a notice to the taxpayer against whom the assessment lies at the address given in the last report filed by such taxpayer or, if no report has been filed, to any address that may be obtainable. This notice shall inform the taxpayer of the assessment made against him and notify him that he has 60 calendar days from the date of the notice within which either to pay the amount of the assessment or to appeal to the tax review committee for a redetermination of the assessment.

(b) If, at the expiration of the delay of 60 calendar days, the taxpayer has not filed an appeal with the tax review committee, the assessment shall be final and shall be collectible by distraint and sale as is hereinafter provided. If an appeal to the tax review committee for a redetermination of the assessment has been filed, the assessment shall not be collectible by distraint and sale until such time as the assessment has been redetermined or affirmed by the tax review committee or the court which last reviews the matter.
(Code 1956, § 62-29)

Sec. 150-117. Waiver of restrictions and delays.

The taxpayer shall at any time have the right, by a signed notice in writing filed with the director of the department of finance, to waive the restrictions and delays prescribed in sections 150-112 through 150-116, which must ordinarily be observed before an assessment may become final. When such a waiver is executed, the assessment is final when made and is immediately collectible by distraint and sale.
(Code 1956, § 62-30)

Sec. 150-118. Assessment, notice and hearing when collection in jeopardy.

(a) If the director of the department of finance finds that a taxpayer designs quickly to depart from the city or to remove therefrom any property subject to any tax or to any lien for a tax, to discontinue business or to do any other act tending to prejudice or render wholly or partly ineffectual any proceedings that might be instituted to collect such tax whereby it shall have become important that such proceedings be instituted without delay, he may immediately make a determination from any available information or by estimate or otherwise of the amount of tax, penalty and interest such taxpayer is liable to pay under this Code.

(b) Having made such determination, the director of the department of finance shall immediately assess such amount and, by a writing to be retained as part of his official records, indicate such assessment has been made and, without any notice, proceed to distrain, as is hereinafter provided, any property belonging to the taxpayer. This type of assessment may be made whenever a tax becomes due whether it is then payable or not.

(c) As soon as is feasible after such assessment, and not later than two calendar days thereafter, the director of the department of finance shall send by registered mail a notice to the taxpayer against whom the assessment lies at the address given in the last report filed by such taxpayer or, if no such report has been filed, to any address that may be obtainable. Such notice shall inform the taxpayer of the assessment, its basis and jeopardous nature, make demand for immediate payment thereof and give notice that any property distrained or to be distrained will be subject to sale as provided in this chapter to satisfy the assessment. The taxpayer against whom the assessment lies can stay distraint of his property or sale of his property already distrained, as the case may be, only by the immediate payment of the assessment or by posting with the director of the department of finance a surety bond for twice the amount of such assessment or of a lower amount acceptable to the director with such sureties as the director deems necessary. The taxpayer shall have 60 calendar days from the date of payment or the date of posting bond to appeal to the tax review committee for a redetermination of the assessment. During this period, the director of the department of finance shall hold any payment made in an escrow account. If the taxpayer does not appeal, the director shall immediately credit such payment to the tax collections or proceed to collect from sureties if any were given. Upon an appeal, such payment or demand for payment sureties given shall be held in abeyance pending the redetermination or affirmation of the assessment by the tax review committee or the court which last reviews the matter. Final payment or collection from sureties will be for the amount of the affirmed or redetermined assessment.
(Code 1956, § 62-31)

Sec. 150-119. Assessment and claims in bankruptcy, etc., proceedings.

Upon the adjudication of bankruptcy of any taxpayer in any bankruptcy proceeding or the appointment of a receiver for any taxpayer in a receivership proceeding before any court of this state or of the United States, the director of the department of finance may immediately make a determination from any available information or by estimate or otherwise of the amount of tax, penalty and interest the taxpayer is liable to pay and immediately assess such amount and by a writing to be retained as a part of his official records indicate that such assessment has been made. Such assessment may be made whenever a tax becomes due regardless of whether it is then payable or not. Claims for such assessments and additional interest and attorney's fees thereon shall be presented for adjudication in accordance with law to the court before which the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding is pending despite the pendency of delays before assessment provided in sections 150-112 through 150-116 or the pendency of an appeal to the tax review committee or the courts for a redetermination. No petition for the redetermination of an assessment shall be filed with the tax review committee after an adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of a receiver unless the petition is accompanied by a certified copy of an order of the court before which the bankruptcy or receivership proceedings is pending authorizing the trustee or receiver to prosecute such appeal.

(Code 1956, § 62-32)

Sec. 150-120. Assessment of tax shown on return; notice upon improper, etc., payment; protest of assessment.

(a) Whenever a taxpayer files returns and computes the amount of any tax due, such tax together with any penalty and interest due or accruing thereon, whether computed or not, shall be considered assessed and shall be entered by the collector as an assessment in his official records without the necessity of observing the delays or giving the notice ordinarily required prior to assessment.

(b) If the taxpayer fails to accompany his return with a proper payment the director of the department of finance shall immediately send a notice by mail to such person, addressed to the address appearing on the return or to any available address if no address appears, informing him of the amount due or the balance of the amount due if a partial payment has been made and demanding payment of such amount within ten calendar days from the date of notice. If payment has not been received at the expiration of such time, the assessment shall be collectible by distraint and sale as is hereinafter provided.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed as denying the right of the taxpayer to pay the assessment under protest or to claim a refund of the assessment after payment, all in the manner as set out in this chapter.

(a) In order to provide a body to review, hear and decide, at a minimum of expense to the taxpayer, questions arising from disputes or controversies between a taxpayer and the director of the department of finance of the city in regard to all taxes, other than ad valorem taxes, administered by the director, a tax review committee of three members is hereby created as an independent agency in the executive department of the city government. The composition of such committee shall be as follows:

(Code 1956, §§ 62-47, 62-48)

Sec. 150-152. Rules and regulations.

In all matters regarding conduct of its hearings, the committee may prescribe and promulgate rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, which rules and regulations, when prepared, adopted and promulgated, shall be binding upon all parties litigant in any case over which the jurisdiction of this committee shall extend.

DIVISION 3. COLLECTION

Sec. 150-186. Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this division, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Distraint and distrain mean the right to levy upon and seize and sell or the levying upon or seizing and selling of any property or rights to property of the taxpayer including goods, chattels, effects, stocks, securities, bank accounts, evidences of debt, wages, real estate and other forms of property by the director of the department of finance or his authorized assistants for the purpose of satisfying any assessment of tax, penalty or interest due. Property exempt from seizure by articles of the Louisiana Code of Civil Procedure is exempt from distraint and sale herein.
(Code 1956, § 62-35)

Cross reference—Definitions generally, § 1-2.

Sec. 150-187. Collection by distraint and sale—Authorized.

When any taxpayer fails to pay any tax, penalty and interest assessed, the director of the department of finance may proceed to enforce the collection thereof by distraint and sale.
(Code 1956, § 62-34)

Sec. 150-188. Same—Procedure.

Whenever the director of the department of finance or his authorized assistants shall distrain any property of a taxpayer, he shall cause to be made a list of the property or effects distrained, a copy of which, signed by the director or his authorized assistants, shall be sent by registered mail to the taxpayer at his last known residence or business address or served on the taxpayer in person. This list shall be accompanied with a note of the sum demanded and a notice of the time and place where the property will be sold. Thereafter, the director shall cause a notice to be published in the official journal of the city wherein the distraint is made, specifying the property distrained and the time and place of sale. The sale shall be held not less than 15 calendar days from the date of the notice mailed or served on the taxpayer or the date of publication in the official journal, whichever is later. The director may postpone such sale from time to time if he deems it advisable, but not for a time to exceed 30 calendar days in all. If the sale is continued to a new date it shall be readvertised.
(Code 1956, § 62-36)

Sec. 150-189. Same—Surrender of property subject to distraint.

Any person in possession of property or rights to property subject to distraint upon which a levy has been made, shall, upon demand by the director of the department of finance or his authorized assistants making such levy, surrender such property or rights to the director or his authorized assistants unless such property or right is, at the time of such demand, subject to an attachment or execution under any judicial process. Any person failing or refusing to surrender any such property or rights shall be liable to the city in a sum equal to the value of the property or rights not so surrendered, but not exceeding the amount of the taxes, penalties and interest and other costs and charges which are due.
(Code 1956, § 62-37)

Sec. 150-190. Same—Sale of distrained property.

(a) The director of the department of finance or his authorized assistants shall sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder so much of the property distrained by him as may be sufficient to satisfy the tax, penalties, interest and costs due. He shall give to the purchaser a certificate of sale, which will be prima facie evidence of the right of the director to make the sale and conclusive evidence of the regularity of his proceedings in making the sale and which will transfer to the purchaser all right, title and interest of the taxpayer in and to the property sold.

(b) Out of the proceeds of the sale the director of the department of finance shall first pay all costs of the sale and then apply so much of the balance of the proceeds as may be necessary to pay the assessment. Any balance beyond this shall be paid to the taxpayer.
(Code 1956, § 62-38)

Sec. 150-191. Collection by summary court proceeding—Authorized.

In addition to any other procedure provided elsewhere in this Code and for the purpose of facilitating and expediting the determination and trial of all claims for taxes except ad valorem taxes, penalties, interest, attorney's fees or other costs and charges there is hereby provided a summary proceeding for the hearing and determination of all claims by or on behalf of the city or by or on behalf of the collector for taxes, excises and licenses and for the penalties, interest, attorney fees, costs or other charges due thereon, by preference in all courts, all as follows:

(1) All such proceedings, whether original or by intervention or third opposition or otherwise, brought by or in behalf of the city or by or on behalf of the director of the department of finance for the determination or collection of any tax, excise, license, penalty, attorney fees, costs or other charges claimed to be due, shall be summary and shall always be tried or heard by preference in all courts, original and appellate, whether in or out of term time, and either in open court or chambers, at such time as may be fixed by the court, which shall be not less than two nor more than ten days after notice to the defendant or opposing party.

(2) All defenses, whether by exception or to the merits, made or intended to be made to any such claim must be presented at one time and filed in the court of original jurisdiction prior to the time fixed for the hearing, and no court shall consider any defense unless so presented and filed. This provision shall be construed to deny to any court the right to extend the time for pleading defenses, and no continuance shall be granted by any court to any defendant except for legal grounds set forth in the Louisiana Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) All matters involving any such claim shall be decided within 48 hours after submission, whether in term time or in vacation, and whether in the court of first instance or in an appellate court, and all judgments sustaining any such claim shall be rendered and signed the same day and shall become final and executory on the fifth calendar day after rendition. No new trial, rehearing or devolutive appeal shall be allowed. Suspensive appeal may be granted but must be perfected within five calendar days from the rendition of the judgment by giving of bond, with good and solvent security, in a sum double that of the total amount of the judgment, including costs. Such appeals, whether to a court of appeals or to the supreme court, shall be made returnable in not more than 15 calendar days from the rendition of the judgment.

(4) Whenever the pleadings filed on behalf of the city or on behalf of the collector shall be accompanied by an affidavit of the director of the department of finance or of one of his assistants or representatives or of the counsel or attorney filing the same that the facts as alleged are true to the best of the affiant's knowledge or belief, all of the facts alleged in such pleadings shall be accepted as prima facie true and as constituting a prima facie case, and the burden of proof to establish anything contrary shall rest wholly on the defendant or opposing party.

Sec. 150-192. Same—Legal remedy for recovery of protested tax.

(a) A right of action is hereby created to afford a remedy at law for any person aggrieved by the prohibition of courts restraining the collection of tax, penalty, interests or other charges. The person resisting the payment of any amount found due by the director of the department of finance or of enforcement of any provisions of this chapter shall pay the amount found due to the director and, at that time, shall give the director notice of his intention to file suit for the recovery thereof. Upon receipt of this notice, the amount paid shall be segregated and held by the director or his duly authorized representatives for a period of 30 days. If suit is filed within the 30-day period for the recovery of such amount, the funds segregated shall be further held pending the outcome of the suit. If the person prevails, the director shall refund the amount to the claimant with interest at the rate of two percent per annum covering the period from the date such funds were received by the director to the date of refund.

(b) This section shall afford a legal remedy and right of action in any city, state or federal court having jurisdiction of the parties and subject matter for a full and complete adjudication of any and all questions arising in the enforcement of this chapter as to the legality of any tax accrued or accruing or the method of enforcement thereof.

(c) This section shall be construed to provide a legal remedy in the city, state or federal courts, by action at law, in case such taxes are claimed to be an unlawful burden upon interstate commerce or the collection thereof in violation of any act of Congress, the United States Constitution or the constitution of the state or in any case where jurisdiction is vested in any of the courts of the United States.

(d) Upon request of a person and proper showing by such person that the principle of law involved in an additional assessment is already pending before the courts for judicial determination, such person, upon agreement to abide by the decision of the courts, may pay the additional assessment under protest but need not file an additional suit. In such cases the tax so paid under protest shall be segregated and held by the director of the department of finance until the question of law involved has been determined by the courts and shall then be disposed of as therein provided.
(Code 1956, § 62-41)

Sec. 150-193. Tax, interest, etc., to constitute a lien—Property affected; enforcement; recording notice; affect on third parties.

Except as is specifically provided in the laws regulating building and loan associations, any tax, penalty, interest or attorney's fee due under the provisions of this chapter shall operate as a lien, privilege and mortgage on all the property of the tax debtor, both movable and immovable, which such lien, privilege and mortgage shall be enforceable in any court of competent jurisdiction in an action at law or may be enforced as otherwise provided by this chapter. The director of the department of finance may cause notice of such lien, privilege and mortgage to be recorded at any time after the tax becomes due, whether assessed or not and regardless of whether or not then payable, in the mortgage records of any parish wherein the director has reason to believe the tax debtor owns property. The lien, privilege and mortgage created by this section shall affect third parties only from the date of recordation and shall take their respective ranks by virtue of recordation.
(Code 1956, § 62-42)

Sec. 150-194. Same—Conditions for cancellation of lien, etc.

(a) In any case where the tax, penalty or interest secured by a recorded lien, privilege and mortgage have been paid, the director of the department of finance or his authorized assistants or attorneys may authorize the cancellation thereof.

(1) The director, upon application of a taxpayer, may authorize the cancellation of any lien, privilege or mortgage or other encumbrance recorded by virtue of this chapter provided the taxpayer furnishes a surety bond in favor of the director executed by a surety company duly qualified to do business in this state in an amount of not less than 1½ times the amount of the obligation due, including penalties, interest and other costs incurred.

(2) Subject to approval by the tax review committee, the director may authorize the release of any real property from the effect and operation of any lien, privilege, mortgage or other encumbrance recorded by virtue of this chapter, provided, that the director is satisfied that the remaining real property belonging to the tax debtor and upon which lien, privilege and mortgage bears is valued at not less than the amount of the remaining tax obligation, including all penalties, interest and other costs incurred, and the amount of all prior liens upon such property. In determining the value of the remaining property due consideration shall be given to prior ranking encumbrances, if any exist on such property.

(3) Subject to the approval of the tax review committee, the director may issue a certificate of release of any part of the property subject to any lien, privilege, mortgage or other encumbrance recorded by virtue of this chapter if there is paid over to the director in part satisfaction of liability an amount determined by the director which shall not be less than the value of the interest of the city in the part to be so released.

(Code 1956, § 62-43)

Sec. 150-195. Prescription of taxes, licenses, etc.—Against city generally.

There shall be no prescription running against any city tax, license, excise, interest, penalty or other charge levied under this chapter except that ordained in the constitution of the state.
(Code 1956, § 62-44)

Sec. 150-196. Same—Interruption or suspension.

(a) The prescription running against any city tax, license, excise, interest, penalty or other charge shall be interrupted by:

(1) The director of the department of finance's action in assessing any such amounts in the manner provided by law.

(2) The filing of a summary proceeding in court.

(3) The filing of any pleadings, either by the director or by a taxpayer, with the tax review committee or any state or federal court.

(4) The filing of a false or fraudulent return.

(b) The running of such prescription may also be suspended for a time not to exceed three years by means of a written agreement between the taxpayer and the director, made prior to the elapse of the prescriptive period set out in the constitution of the state.
(Code 1956, § 62-45)

Sec. 150-197. Prescription of assessments as judgments.

Any tax, penalty, interest or other charges duly assessed under this chapter, being the equivalent of a judgment, shall not be subject to the running of any prescription other than such prescription as would run against a judgment in favor of the city in accordance with the constitution and laws of this state, and the recordation of such assessment shall have the same effect as the recordation of a judgment.

DIVISION 3. EXEMPTIONS

Sec. 150-521. Exempt transactions generally.

Except as may be otherwise specifically provided, the following transactions are exempt from the provisions of this article:

(1) The sale at retail, the use, the consumption, the distribution and the storage to be used or consumed in the city, of the following tangible personal property: gasoline, natural gas, steam, water when delivered to consumers through mains, pipes or conduits, electric power or energy and any materials or energy sources used to fuel the generation of electric power for resale or used by an industrial manufacturing plant for self-consumption or cogeneration, newspapers, fertilizers and containers used for farm products when sold directly to the farmer.

(2) All energy sources when used for boiler fuel except refinery gas. Refinery gas shall be subject to the tax imposed by this article, provided that its value shall be $0.52 per 1,000 cubic feet multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which shall be the posted price for a barrel of West Texas Intermediate Crude Oil on December 1 of the preceding calendar year, and the denominator of which shall be $29.00, and provided further that such values shall be the maximum placed upon refinery gas provided that passage of this measure shall not in any manner prejudice any claim by the city to sales and use tax assessments or refund claims on refinery gas, claimed by the city before passage of this measure.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the exemptions provided herein shall not apply, as to the city's 2½ percent sales tax, to the sale of newspapers, unless those sales are fully exempt under state law from sales taxes levied by the state and no sales taxes are being collected for and remitted to the state or to the Louisiana Recovery District; provided that, in the event that a final and definitive judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction holds that the city may not refuse to exempt items of tangible personal property from city sales taxes only, while still exempting such sales from other local sales taxes, then the exempting provided herein shall not apply as to the sale of newspapers, unless those sales are fully exempt under state law from sales taxes levied by the state and no sales taxes are being collected for and remitted to the state or to the Louisiana Recovery District.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the exemption provided herein shall not apply, as to the city's 2½ percent sales tax, on the sale of water when delivered to consumers through mains, pipes or conduits, inclusive, unless those sales are fully exempt under state law from sales taxes levied by the state and no sales taxes are being collected for and remitted to the state or to the Louisiana Recovery District; provided that, if a final and definitive judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction holds that the city may not refuse to exempt items of tangible personal property from city sales taxes only, while still exempting such sales from other local sales taxes, then the exemption provided herein shall not apply as to the sale of water when delivered to consumers through mains, pipes or conduits, unless those sales are fully exempt under state law from sales taxes levied by the state and no sales taxes are being collected for and remitted to the state or to the Louisiana Recovery District.

(5) The gross proceeds derived from the sale in the city of livestock, poultry and other farm products direct from the farm if such sales are made directly by the producers. When sales of livestock, poultry and other farm products are made to consumers by any person other than the producer, they are not exempt.

a. The gross proceeds derived from the sale in this city of livestock at public sales sponsored by breeders' or registry associations or livestock auction markets are exempted from the tax levied by this article. When public sales of livestock are made to consumers by any person other than through a public sale sponsored by a breeders' or registry association or a livestock auction market, they are not exempted from the tax imposed by this article. This section shall be construed as exempting race horses entered in races and claimed at any racing meet held in the state, whether the horse claimed was owned by the original breeder or not.

b. Every agricultural commodity sold by any person, other than a producer, to any other person who purchases not for direct consumption but for the purpose of acquiring raw product for use or for sale in the process of preparing, finishing, or manufacturing such agricultural commodity for the ultimate retail consumer trade, shall be exempted from any and all provisions of this article, including payment of the tax applicable to the sale, storage, use, transfer, or any other utilization of or handling thereof, except when such agricultural commodity is actually sold as a marketable or finished product to the ultimate consumer, and in no case shall more than one tax be exacted. For the purposes of this section, agricultural commodity means horticultural, viticultural, poultry, farm and range products, and livestock and livestock products.

c. The purchase of feed and feed additives for the purpose of sustaining animals which are held primarily for commercial, business, or agricultural use shall be exempted from the taxes levied by this article.

1. For purposes of this subsection:

Agricultural use means the maintaining of work animals and beasts of burden which are utilized in the activity of producing crops or animals for market, in the production of food for human consumption, in the production of animal hides or other animal products for market, or in the maintaining of breeding stock for the propagation of such agricultural use animals;

Commercial use means the purchasing, producing, or maintaining of animals, including breeding stock, for resale;

Business use means the keeping and maintaining of animals which are used in performing services in conjunction with a business enterprise, such as sentry dogs and rental horses;

2. This exemption shall not apply to the purchase of feed or feed additives for animals kept primarily for personal, sporting, or other purposes, including but not limited to purchases for pets of any kind or hunting dogs.

d. The tax imposed by this article shall not apply to the sale or use of materials, supplies, equipment, fuel, bait, and related items other than vessels used in the production or harvesting of crawfish. The person who purchases the exempt items shall claim the exemption by executing a certificate at the time of purchase. The state department of revenue and taxation shall provide the certificates to retail merchants. Any merchant who in good faith, and after examination of the applicability of the certificate to that purchase with due care, neglects or fails to collect the tax herein provided, due to the presentation by the purchaser of a tax exemption certificate issued by the state department of revenue and taxation, including those issued pursuant to R.S. 47:305.10, shall not be liable for the payment of the tax.

e. The tax imposed by this article shall not apply to the sale or use of materials, supplies, equipment, fuel, bait, and related items other than vessels used in the production or harvesting of catfish. The person who purchases the exempt items shall claim the exemption by executing a certificate at the time of purchase. The state department of revenue and taxation shall provide the certificates to retail merchants. Any merchant who in good faith, and after examination of the applicability of the certificate to that purchase with due care, neglects or fails to collect the tax herein provided, due to the presentation by the purchaser of a tax exemption certificate issued by the state department of revenue and taxation, shall not be liable for the payment of the tax.

(6) Materials and supplies purchased by the owners or operators of ships or vessels operating exclusively in foreign or interstate coastwise commerce, where such materials and supplies are loaded upon the ship or vessel for use or consumption in the maintenance and operation thereof; nor to repair services performed upon ships or vessels operating exclusively in foreign or interstate coastwise commerce; nor to the materials and supplies used in such repairs where such materials and supplies enter into and become a component part of such ships or vessels; nor to laundry services performed for the owners or operators of such ships or vessels operating exclusively in foreign or interstate coastwise commerce, where the laundered articles are to be used in the course of the operation of such ships or vessels.

(7) Sales of materials, equipment and machinery which enter into and become component parts of ships, vessels, including commercial fishing vessels, or barges, drilling ships or drilling barges of 50 tons' load displacement and over, built in the city, nor to the gross proceeds from the sale of such ships, vessels or barges when sold by the builder thereof.

(8) Where a part of the purchase price is represented by an article traded in, the sales tax is payable on the total purchase price less the market value of the article traded in.

(9) Sale at retail of seeds for use in the planting of any kind of crops.

(10) Sales of casing, drill pipe and tubing sold in the city, for use offshore beyond the territorial limits of the state, for the production of oil, gas, sulphur and other minerals.

(11) The sales and use tax imposed in this section shall not apply to or be collected on any materials, supplies or products for use in connection with any phase of the construction of the Toledo Dam Project on the Sabine River.

(12) Sale of admission tickets by little theatre organizations.

(13) Sale of admission tickets by domestic nonprofit corporations or by any other domestic nonprofit organization known as a symphony organization or as a society or organization engaged in the presentation of musical performances; provided that this section shall not apply to performances given by out-of-state or nonresident symphony companies, nor shall this section apply to any performance intended to yield a profit to the promoters thereof.

(14) Sale at retail of pesticides used for agricultural purposes, including particularly but not by way of limitation, insecticides, herbicides and fungicides.

(15) The sales and use taxes imposed in this section shall not apply to the amount paid by the operator of a motion picture theatre to a distributing agency for use of films of photoplay.

(16) There shall be no sales tax due upon the sale at retail or use of tangible personal property including diesel fuel purchased within or imported into the city for first use exclusively beyond the territorial limits of the state. If tangible personal property purchased or imported tax free under the provisions of this section is later brought into the city for use herein, the property shall be subject to the city's use tax as of the time it is brought into the city for use herein, subject to the credit provided in this section.

a. If the first use of tangible personal property purchased in this city for use beyond the territorial limits of this city occurs in a city or parish of this state or in a city or county in a state other than Louisiana which imposes a sales or use tax, the exemption provided herein shall apply only if:

1. The purchaser is properly registered for sales and use tax purposes in a city or parish of this state or in a city or county in a state other than Louisiana, wherein such tangible property is used and regularly reports and pays sales and use tax in such other city or parish of this state or in a city or county in a state other than Louisiana; and

2. The city or parish of this state or in a city or county in a state other than Louisiana in which the first use occurs grants on a reciprocal basis a similar exemption on purchases within that city or parish of this state or in a city or county in a state other than Louisiana for use in this city; and

3. The purchaser obtains a certificate authorizing him to make the nontaxable purchases authorized under this subsection; or

4. The property is subject to registration as a motor boat subject to registration by the state and such property is not registered for use in this state.

b. If the first use of tangible personal property purchased within or imported into the city occurs offshore beyond the territorial limits of the city, the exemption provided herein shall apply only if:

1. The purchaser or importer has determined the location of the first use of the tangible personal property at the time of its purchase and has notified the vendor of that location; or

2. The purchaser or importer has not determined the intended offshore location of first use at the time of purchase or importation, but has obtained an offshore registration number authorizing him to claim the exemption under the conditions provided in this subsection:

i. Such offshore registration number shall be issued only if the purchaser or importer has shown, to the satisfaction of the state, that records, reports, and business practices are sufficient to permit verification that tangible personal property purchased or imported tax free under this subsection is, in fact, being purchased or imported for use offshore beyond the territorial limits of any state. In cases of purchases of fungible goods, including vessel fuel and lubricants, the required records shall include purchase invoices, vessel logs, fuel usage records, fuel transfer records and other reports and records that will enable the director of the department of finance to determine the amount of fungible goods consumed within the city so as to be subject to the sales and use tax, and the amount of fungible goods delivered to or consumed at offshore locations beyond the territorial limits of the state, so as not to be subject to the sales and use tax. For the purpose of the subsection, the term "fungible goods" means goods of which any unit is unidentifiable and is, from its nature or by mercantile custom, treated as the equivalent of any other unit and shall include crude petroleum and its refined products.

ii. The offshore registration number issued by the state under this subsection may be revoked by the state at any time if the purchaser or importer fails to meet the conditions set herein, or if the state finds that the purchaser or importer is consistently using the certificate to purchase or import tax-free tangible personal property for first use in state.

iii. If the offshore registration number is revoked, all tangible personal property purchased or imported tax-free under this subsection and in the possession of the purchaser or importer within this state shall be deemed taxable unless otherwise exempt under the provisions of subsection (16)b.1 of this section. If the provisions of subsection (16)b.1 of this section are not complied with, any subsequent purchase or import of tangible personal property will be taxable, whether for instate or offshore use, until the certificate and offshore number are reissued.

iv. Whenever there is a conflict between a purchaser or importer and the state as to whether an offshore registration number shall be issued, reissued, or revoked, it shall be the responsibility of the purchaser or importer to show that he meets the conditions and requirements set herein for having and retaining such certificate and offshore registration number.

3. Except for purchases or importation of tangible personal property in accordance with subsections (16)b.1 and 2 of this section, any purchase or importation of property is taxable at the time of purchase or import unless otherwise exempt.

c. If tangible personal property purchased or imported tax-free under the provisions of this section is subsequently used for any taxable purpose within the city, use tax shall be paid by the purchaser or importer as of the time of its use in the city. Storage of property purchased or imported tax-free under this section which is ultimately used in another state will be considered a subsequent use for a taxable purpose.

d. If tangible personal property purchased within or imported into the city tax-free under the provisions of this section is later returned to Louisiana for use for a taxable purpose, the property shall be subject to the city's use tax as of the time it is brought into the city, subject to the credit provided in R.S. 47:303(A).

e. Use for a taxable purpose shall not include, for purposes of this section, transportation beyond the territorial limits of the state; transportation back into the state; and repairing, modifying, further fabrication, and storing for first use offshore beyond the territorial limits of any state. Storage and withdrawal from storage for first use offshore beyond the territorial limits of any state is not a taxable use for purposes of this section. Charges for repairs in this city to tangible personal property for use in offshore areas are taxable.

f. If fungible goods are purchased or imported tax-free for use or consumption at locations both within the city and offshore beyond the territorial limits of any state, under the exemption certificate and offshore registration number provided for in this section, only that portion of the fungible goods delivered to a location offshore beyond the territorial limits of any state and used or consumed at that location shall be exempt. For the purpose of this section, the term "fungible goods" means goods of which any unit is unidentifiable and is, from its nature or by mercantile custom, treated as the equivalent of any other unit and shall include crude petroleum and its refined products.

(17) The sales of tangible personal property, food, and beverages at, or admission charges for, outside gate admissions to, or parking fees associated with, events sponsored by domestic civic, educational, historical, charitable, fraternal or religious organizations which are nonprofit, when the entire proceeds of a sale, admission charges, or parking fee, except for the necessary expense connected therewith, are payable to or for the benefit of the non-profit sponsor and are used for domestic civic, educational, charitable, historical restoration, or religious purposes including the furtherance of the civic, educational, historical, charitable, fraternal, or religious purpose of the organization. The exemption provided herein shall not apply to any event intended to yield a profit to the promoter. The exemption provided herein shall apply only to the non-profit organization sponsoring the event.

a. This subsection shall not be construed to exempt any organization or activity from the payment of sales or use taxes otherwise required by law to be made on purchases made by these organizations.

b. This subsection shall not be construed to exempt regular commercial ventures of any type such as bookstores, restaurants, gift shops, commercial flea markets and similar activities that are sponsored by organizations qualifying hereunder which are in competition with retail merchants.

c. This sponsorship of any event by any organization applying for an exemption hereunder must be genuine. Sponsorship will not be genuine in any case in which exemption from taxation is a major consideration leading to such sponsorship. An exemption certificate must be obtained from the director of the department of finance, or his authorized representative, under such regulations as he shall prescribe, in order for nonprofit organizations to qualify for the exemption provided in this subsection.

d. If the director of the department of finance denies tax-exempt status under this subsection, the organization may appeal such ruling to the council, which may overrule the director and grant tax-exempt status if the council determines that the denial of tax-exempt status by the director was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable.

e. Provided however, that any organization which endorses any candidate for political office or otherwise is involved in political activities shall not be eligible for the exemption herein provided.

(18) The retail sale of diapers and feminine hygiene products for personal use. This exemption shall remain effective so long as authorized by La. R.S. 47:337.10.2 or by any other applicable provision of state law.

(Code 1956, §§ 56-24, 56-25; M.C.S., Ord. No. 21387, § 1, 1-8-04; M.C.S., Ord. No. 28462, § 2, 8-20-20, eff. 10-1-20; M.C.S., Ord. No. 30162, § 1, 12-5-24)

Each agricultural commodity sold by any person, other than a producer, to any other person, civil or natural, who purchases not for direct consumption but for the purpose of acquiring a raw product for use or for sale in the process of preparing, finishing or manufacturing such agricultural commodity for the ultimate retail consumer trade shall be exempted from all provisions of this article, including payment of the tax applicable to the sale, storage, use, transfer or other utilization of such product or the handling thereof, except when such agricultural commodity is actually sold as a marketable or finished product to the ultimate consumer, and in no case shall more than one tax be exacted.
(Code 1956, § 56-27)

Sec. 150-523. Liability on sales for resale not made in compliance with regulations.

(a) All sales shall be deemed to be retail sales unless the seller takes from the buyer a resale certificate signed by and bearing the name, address and registration number of the buyer, to the effect that the property was purchased for resale or to be used as an ingredient or a component part of a new article for sale at retail. Wholesalers may recognize the claim of a buyer that the articles are purchased for resale only when the buyer is properly registered under the provisions of this article.

(b) The seller shall be responsible for the collection of the tax on all sales made to persons who have not secured the proper registration certificate, except in cases of fertilizer and containers sold direct to farmers. Resale certificates claiming that goods are purchased for resale must state the registration number assigned to the buyer when such buyer is a retail merchant. In case the buyer is a wholesale merchant, the resale certificate shall state the wholesaler's occupational license number for the current year.

(c) Sales for resale must be made in strict compliance with the rules and regulations. Any dealer making a sale for resale, which is not in strict compliance with the rules and regulations, will himself be liable for and pay the tax.
(Code 1956, § 56-28)

If the amount of tax paid in a state other than this state or in any other parish or municipality of the state is in an amount less than the amount of tax imposed by this article, the dealer shall pay to the director an amount equivalent to the difference between the total tax as imposed by this article and the amount paid to such other taxing jurisdiction.

Sec. 150-527. Tax collected property of city.

Any tax collected by a dealer pursuant to the provisions of this article shall, as of the moment of the purchase or upon the sale of services as the case may be, become the property of the city.

(1) Which is owned by and operated by or on behalf of the state or any of its agencies, boards, commissions or political subdivisions, including any agency, board or commission of any political subdivision, except the city;

(2) Which is commonly used for athletic events, entertainment events, conventions or similar uses; and

(3) Which has a capacity of at least 2,000 persons; shall be exempt from sales and use taxes levied by the city only for such period as the state, the parish school board and the regional transit authority also exempt such facilities in the parish from all state and local sales and other similar taxes in accordance with R.S. 39:468 or any similar provision of law.

(Code 1956, § 62-71)

Sec. 150-529. Same—City-owned and operated facilities.

Sec. 150-531. Tax-free shopping program.

(a) The council finds that this city with its many attractions has an extraordinary opportunity to generate additional economic activity in the form of international tourism. Foreign visitors to the United States represent a more lucrative market than domestic travelers because they use tourism services to a much greater degree than their domestic counterparts. Many foreign countries have a value-added, tax-refund system for purchases of tangible personal property by foreign visitors which has proved successful, when appropriately advertised, in increasing tourism in those countries. A similar sales tax refund program applicable to retail shopping by international visitors can be an effective promotional tool to increase city's share of the United States' growing foreign tourism market. While such a program would have an initial opportunity cost to state and local governments equal to the amount of sales tax refunded, this loss can be offset by additional revenues generated from an increase in foreign tourists who will continue to pay tax on expenditures for hotels, restaurants, entertainment, rental cars, riverboat rides and other attractions.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the term "hotel" means and includes any establishment or person engaged in the business of furnishing sleeping rooms, cottages, or cabins to transient guests, where such establishment consist of sleeping rooms, cottages, or cabins at any of the following: (1) a single business location; (2) a residential location, including but not limited to a house, apartment, condominium, camp, cabin, or other building structure used as a residence.

(c) The director of the department of finance is hereby authorized to refund the sales tax levied and received by the city to the refund agency designated by the Louisiana Tax-Free Shopping Commission for refunds made to participants in the tax-free shopping program for the purchase of tangible personal property by international travelers in accordance with R.S. 51:1301 et seq.

(d) In any agreement executed by the city and the tax-free shopping commission, the city shall reserve the right to terminate the agreement at the end of any calendar month by sending a written notice to the commission by certified or registered mail at least 60 days prior to the date of termination.

The council finds that development of a biomedical research and development park, with quality facilities for delivery of health care services, ongoing medical research and development, manufacturing of goods useful to health care delivery and related research and development activities, and related support services and concerns, will benefit the citizens of the city through improved health care and through improved economic conditions and creation of jobs. It is the intent of this section to provide for the reduction in taxes which would otherwise be payable by concerns which conduct such enterprises and activities in order to encourage their location in the park area and to provide them with greater resources which may be used for further development and economic activity which will further expand the capabilities of the concerns located in the park.

Sec. 150-533. Same—Boundaries of park area.

The Louisiana Biomedical Research and Development Park (the park area) shall be comprised of the territory bounded by Iberville Street, Perdido Street, South Galvez Street, Loyola Avenue, Elk Place and Basin Street, including properties on both sides of the boundary streets.

In accordance with R.S. 46:813.1, the city council may, by resolution, provide for participation in the tax exemption program, provided for by R.S. 46:813.1, for medical concerns in the park area with the state board of commerce and industry (the board) and for renewals of exemptions from taxes approved by the board. Any such resolution shall be conditioned upon participation in the program by the parish school board, the regional transit authority, and the state.
(Code 1956, § 56-31.5)

Sec. 150-535. Same—Grant of exemption.

Upon adoption of a resolution of the council as provided in section 150-534, the director of the department of finance shall be authorized to exempt medical concerns as defined in R.S. 46:813.1 located in the park area which have entered into contracts for tax exemptions with the state board of commerce and industry pursuant to R.S. 46:813.1 from the following taxes:

(1) Sales and use taxes imposed by the city on machinery and equipment to be used by the medical concern, on materials and building supplies, whether purchased directly or through a contractor, to be used in the repair, reconstruction, modification, or construction of plant or facilities, and on materials and supplies necessary for or used in the manufacture or production of the product of the medical concern.

(Code 1956, § 56-31.6)

(Code 1956, § 56-31.7)

Sec. 150-537. Same—Renewal contract.

In accordance with R.S. 46:813.1C., after expiration of the initial contract period of five years any medical concern as defined therein shall thereafter obtain a renewal resolution from the council. The participant to qualify for the five-year renewal contract shall demonstrate that the tax incentive received by the medical concern produces sufficient benefits of jobs created to warrant the loss of tax revenue by the city and state.
(Code 1956, § 56-31.8)

Sec. 150-538. University Research and Technology Park—Purpose, intent.

The council finds that development of a research and technology park, with quality facilities, ongoing research, technology, and development, manufacturing of products related to technology and related support services and concerns, will benefit the citizens of the city through improved economic conditions and creation of jobs. Sec. 150-577. Tax in addition to others.

(Code 1956, § 56-22)

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:302(C).

Sec. 150-578. Use, etc., equivalent to sale.

(a) The tax imposed under R.S. 47:302 shall be collectible from all persons, as hereinafter defined, engaged as dealers, as hereinafter defined.

(b) On all tangible personal property imported, or caused to be imported, from other states or other political subdivisions of this state or a foreign country and used by dealer, the dealer, as thus defined, shall pay the tax imposed by this article on all articles of tangible personal property so imported and used, the same as if such article had been sold at retail for use or consumption in this city. For the purpose of this article, use, or consumption, or distribution or storage to be used or consumed in this city of tangible personal property shall each be equivalent to a sale at retail, and the tax shall thereupon immediately levy and be collected in the manner provided herein; provided, that there shall be no duplication of the tax in any event.

The amount of the credit shall be calculated by multiplying the rate of the similar tax paid in the other state by the cost price which is subject to this city's use tax at the time of the importation of the tangible personal property. The proof of payment of a similar tax to another state shall be made according to rules and regulations promulgated by the director of the department of finance. In no event shall the credit be greater than the tax imposed by this city upon the particular tangible personal property which is the subject of this city's use tax.

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:303(A).

Sec. 150-579. Intent of division.

(a) It is not the intention of this division to levy a tax upon articles of property imported into the city, or produced or manufactured in the city, for export; nor is it the intention of this division to levy a tax on bona fide interstate commerce; however, nothing herein shall prevent the collection of the taxes due on sales of tangible personal property into the city which are promoted through the use of catalogs and other means of sales promotion and for which federal legislation or federal jurisprudence enables the enforcement of this division upon the conduct of such business. It is, however, the intention of this division to levy a tax on the sale at retail, the use, the consumption, the distribution, and the storage to be used or consumed in the city, of tangible personal property after it has come to rest in the city and has become a part of the mass of property in the city. At such time as federal legislation or federal jurisprudence as to sales in interstate commerce promoted through the use of catalogs and other means of sales promotions enables the enforcement of this division against vendors that have no other nexus with this city, the following provisions shall apply to such sales on which sales and use tax would not otherwise be collected.

(b) The city is hereby authorized to levy or collect a sales tax on such interstate sales at a rate equal to the average sales tax rate used by local jurisdictions. The secretary of the state department of revenue and taxation shall calculate the rate by dividing local sales and use tax receipts collected on transactions not subject to the federal legislation for the most recent state fiscal year for which data is available by the total dollar volume of such transactions in the state subject to the state sales tax during the same time period. This rate will be rounded to the nearest one-quarter of one percent.

(c) Out-of-state retailers shall remit to the state all local sales taxes collected in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 47:306.

(d) The secretary shall distribute such local sales tax proceeds in accordance with each local jurisdiction's pro rata share of local sales and use tax receipts collected on all other transactions subject to local sales and use taxes, within 60 days following the due date for submission of the tax.

(e) If the rate provided for in subsection (b) of this section is invalidated, out-of-state retailers shall collect local sales taxes in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 47:306. The secretary shall distribute the local sales tax receipts to local governments in accordance with each jurisdiction's pro rata share of local sales and use taxes collected during the most recent fiscal year for which data is available, within 60 days of the due date for submission of the tax.

It is the intention of this subsection to transfer the responsibility for the collection of the sales and use tax on vehicles only from the vendor to the director of the city, (or to the collector of revenue of the state, if so designated by agreement, as herein authorized) and to provide a method of collection of the tax directly from the vendor or user by the director or collector.

(b) If the records of the dealer do not reflect an addition of the amount of the tax imposed under this article to the sale price or charge, the dealer's records shall constitute presumptive evidence that the dealer has included the tax to the sale price or charge actually paid by the purchaser or consumer. The director may accept a bond or other security satisfactory to him in lieu of cash for the payment of any taxes, fees, interest and penalties imposed by this article. Such deposit will be returnable at the termination of the business upon proof of payment of all taxes, less interest and penalties, if any is due. When issued, the dealer shall attach such certificate to his cart, stand, truck or other merchandising device. The deposit will be forfeited 60 days after issuance of the certificate if the taxpayer has not filed and paid the sales tax due. Such returns shall show such further information as the direc-

Each return shall be signed by the dealer filing it and his signature thereon shall constitute a warranty on the part of the dealer that he has read and examined the return and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, it is true, correct and complete. Every dealer, at the time of making the return required hereunder, shall compute and remit to the director the required tax due for the preceding calendar month and failure so to do shall cause such tax to become delinquent. However, whenever the taxes due hereunder from a dealer average less than $100.00 per month and the dealer's annual gross sales are less than $250,000.00, the taxes hereunder shall be due and payable quarterly by the dealer, and the return required from the dealer for the quarter shall be filed on or before the 20th day of the first month of the next succeeding quarter. Any dealer who is required to file tax returns on a quarterly basis, as provided above, may file his returns and pay the tax on a monthly basis after first having received written approval from the director to do so. Application to file monthly must be furnished to the director in writing and will set forth complete justification for the shorter reporting period. Should any return be prepared by a person other than the dealer filing the same, such person shall also affix his signature thereto and warrant the correctness thereof.

(b) The amount paid by dealers to manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers or suppliers shall be advance payment of the city sales tax which the dealer is required to collect upon the sale at retail, and the advance payment is required only as a means of facilitating collection of the sales tax.

(c) Manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and suppliers who collect advance sales tax from their purchasers pursuant to the preceding provisions shall remit the tax to the director in the manner provided for dealers and in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the director.

(d) In making their returns to the director, dealers who have paid advance sales tax shall deduct from the total tax collected by them upon the retail sale of the commodity the amount of tax paid by them to the manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and suppliers during the period reported provided tax paid invoices evidencing the payment are retained by the dealer claiming the refund or credit. If the advance sales tax paid by the dealer during any reporting period amounts to more than the tax collected by him for the period reported, the excess so paid shall be allowed as a refund or credit against the tax collected by the dealer during the succeeding period or periods.

(e) Manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and suppliers collecting advance sales tax as hereinabove provided shall be allowed a one percent deduction from the amount so collected and remitted to the director as compensation for such collection. tried by preference, why the dealer should not be ordered to cease from further pursuit of business as a dealer. In case such rule is made absolute, the order thereon rendered shall be considered a judgment in favor of the city, prohibiting such dealer from the further pursuit of such business until such time as he has paid the delinquent tax, interest, penalties and costs. The making of the entries shall have the same force and effect as the entry of a docketed judgment in the offices of such clerk and the director shall have all of the remedies and may take all of the proceedings for the collection thereof which may be had or taken upon the recovery of a judgment in an action at law upon a contract, but without prejudice to the right of appeal by such delinquent dealer.
(Code 1956, § 56-85)

Sec. 150-722. Corporations not to be dissolved, etc., until taxes paid.

No corporation organized under any law of the state shall hereafter be dissolved or effect a merger, reorganization or consolidation under any law of the state by the action of the stockholders or by the decree of any court until all taxes, fees, penalties and interest imposed on the corporation in accordance with the provisions of this article shall have been paid in full. No foreign corporation which has obtained authority from this state to transact business in this state may surrender such authority and withdraw from this state until all taxes, fees, penalties, interest and other charges imposed upon such corporation in accordance with the provisions of this article shall have been fully paid. The president, executive officers, managers and directors of any corporation which shall violate the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine of not more than $100.00 or imprisonment for not more than 90 days or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court; and such fine and imprisonment shall not prevent other action against the corporation as otherwise provided in this division for the recovery of the tax, interest and penalties that may be due.
(Code 1956, § 56-86)

Sec. 150-723. Release of lien of judgment.

The director, upon the application of any dealer and upon the payment of a fee of $1.50, may release any property from the lien of any certificate, judgment or levy procured by him; provided that payment is made to the director of such sum as he shall deem adequate consideration for such release or a deposit shall have been made with the director of such security as he shall deem adequate to secure the payment of any debt evidenced by any such certificate, judgment or levy, the lien of which is sought to be released. Such release shall be given by the director and may be recorded in any office in which conveyances of real estate may be recorded.
(Code 1956, § 56-87)

Sec. 150-724. Punishment for false or fraudulent return.

Any dealer required to make, render, sign or verify any return who makes a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade a tax levied by this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.
(Code 1956, § 56-88)

Sec. 150-725. Failure to file return, etc., a misdemeanor; penalty.

Any dealer subject to the provisions of this article failing or refusing to furnish any return herein required to be made, or failing or refusing to furnish a supplemental return or other data required by the director or who shall violate any other provisions of this article, punishment for which is not otherwise herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.
(Code 1956, § 56-89)

Sec. 150-726. Failure to remit tax a misdemeanor.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to commit the crime of failure to remit sales or use tax as hereinafter defined. Failure to remit sales or use tax is the intentional failure on the part of any person to file any sales tax returns or any use tax returns when due, or to fail to remit to the city sales or use taxes collected from purchasers or consumers or otherwise due the city when due under the provisions of this article.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the word person means any individual, partnership, corporation, joint stock association and includes any trustee, receiver, assignee or personal representative thereof and any officer or director having direct control or supervision of the collection or remittance of sales or use taxes or charged with the responsibility of filing returns for and remitting sales or use taxes to the city.

(c) Any person who violates the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof or plea of guilty, be punished by a fine of not more than $300.00 or by imprisonment of not more than five months or both.
(Code 1956, § 56-89.1)

Sec. 150-727. Penalty for violations.

Any person who shall violate any other provisions of this article, punishment for which is not otherwise herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum of not more than $100.00 or imprisoned for a period of not more than 90 days or by both in the discretion of the court.
(Code 1956, § 56-90)

Sec. 150-728. City attorney and council to be notified of violations.

(a) Each month the director shall forward a list of all persons failing or refusing to furnish any return, supplemental return or other data required by the director pursuant to this article or violating any other provision of this article to the city attorney and the city council.

(b) The city attorney shall take appropriate legal action to enforce the provisions of this article, including, in the case of businesses holding alcoholic beverage permits which have failed to pay any taxes due to the city in connection with the licensed premises, petitioning the alcoholic beverage control board for revocation or suspension of city retail alcoholic beverage permits.

(c) In addition to any other legal action available to the city, the city attorney shall seek the revocation or suspension of any other licenses or permits held by any person failing to remit sales taxes to the city with respect to the business owing the tax.

Secs. 150-729—150-750. Reserved.

Subdivision III. Remedies of Taxpayer

Sec. 150-751. Payment under protest.

Upon request of a dealer and upon proper showing by such dealer that the principle of law involved in an additional assessment is already pending before the courts for judicial determination, such dealer, upon agreeing to abide by the decision of the courts, may pay the additional assessment under protest but need not file an additional suit. In such cases, the tax so paid under protest shall be segregated and held by the director until the question of law involved has been determined by the courts and shall then be disposed of as then provided.
(Code 1956, § 56-91)

Sec. 150-752. Effect of return of goods sold.

If purchases are returned to the dealer by the purchaser or consumer after the tax imposed by this article has been collected or charged to the account of the consumer or user, the dealer shall be entitled to reimbursement of the amount of the tax so collected or charged by him, in the manner prescribed by the director; and in case the tax has not been remitted by the dealer to the director, the dealer may deduct it in submitting his return. Upon receipt of a sworn statement of the dealer, subject to verification by the director or his duly authorized agents, as to the gross amount of such refunds during the period covered by such sworn statement, the director shall issue to the dealer an official credit memorandum equal to the net amount remitted by the dealer for such tax so collected. Such memorandum shall be accepted by the director at full face value from the dealer to whom it is issued in the remittance for subsequent taxes accrued under the provisions of this article.
(Code 1956, § 56-92)

State law reference–Similar provisions, R.S. 47:315.

Sec. 150-753. Claim for refund for returns.

If any dealer shall have given to the director notice within the time provided in section 150-752, such dealer thereafter, at any time within two years after the payment of any original or additional tax assessed against him, may file with the director a claim under oath for refund, in such form as the director may prescribe, stating the grounds thereof. But no claim for refund shall be required or permitted to be filed with respect to a tax paid after protest has been filed with the director as provided in section 150-751 or after proceedings on appeal have been commenced as provided in this article until such protest or appeal has been finally determined.
(Code 1956, § 56-93)

Sec. 150-754. Action on claim for refund.

If, upon examination of a claim for refund, it shall be determined by the director that there has been an overpayment of tax, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any liability of any dealer under this article and if there is no such liability such dealer shall be entitled to a refund of the tax so overpaid. If the director shall reject the claim for refund in whole or in part he shall make an order accordingly and serve notice upon such dealer.
(Code 1956, § 56-94)

State law reference–Similar provisions, R.S. 47:315.

Sec. 150-755. Refund without claim when right is apparent.

When no question of fact or law is involved and it appears from the records of the director that any moneys have been erroneously or illegally collected from any dealer or have been paid by any dealer under a mistake of fact or law, the director may, at any time within two years of payment, upon making a record in writing of his reasons therefor, certify that any dealer is entitled to such refund, and thereupon shall authorize the payment from any appropriation available for such purpose; provided, that the director shall first apply the amount of any such refunds toward the payment of any other taxes or licenses as may be then due by such dealer to the city.

Sec. 150-756. Right of action for refund.

A right of action is hereby created to afford a remedy at law for any dealer aggrieved by the provisions of this article. In case of any such dealer resisting the payment of any amount found due or the enforcement of any provision of such laws in relation thereto, such dealer shall pay the amount found due by the director and shall give the director notice, at the time, of his intention to file suit for the recovery of such amount. Upon receipt of such notice, the amount so paid shall be segregated and held by the director for a period of 30 days; and if suit be filed within such time for recovery of such amount, such funds so segregated shall be further held, pending the outcome of such suit. If the dealer prevails, the director shall refund the amount to the claimant, with interest at the rate of two percent per annum covering the period from the date such funds were received by the director to the date of refund.
(Code 1956, § 56-96)

Sec. 150-757. Complete legal remedy afforded.

Section 150-756 shall afford a legal remedy and right of action in any state or federal court having jurisdiction of the parties and subject matter for a full and complete adjudication of any and all questions arising in the enforcement of this article, as to the legality of any tax accrued or accruing or the method of enforcement thereof. In such actions, service of process shall be upon the mayor, the acting mayor or the city attorney, as provided in the Charter.

(Code 1956, § 56-97)

Sec. 150-758. Constitutional questions included.

Section 150-756 shall be construed to provide a legal remedy in the state or federal courts, by action at law, in case such taxes are claimed to be an unlawful burden upon interstate commerce or the collection thereof to be in violation of any Act of Congress or the United States Constitution or the constitution of the state or in any case which jurisdiction is vested in any of the courts of the United States.
(Code 1956, § 56-98)

Sec. 150-759. Protest against director's ruling; effect thereof and hearing thereon.

If any dealer shall disagree with any finding or assessment of the director, he may, within 30 days of the receipt of notice of the assessment or finding, file a protest in writing, signed by him or his duly authorized agent, which shall be under oath and shall set forth the reasons therefor, and he may request a hearing. Thereafter, the director shall grant a hearing to such dealer, if a hearing has been requested, and may make an order confirming, modifying or vacating any such finding or assessment. The filing of any such protest shall not abate any penalty for nonpayment, nor shall it stay the right of the director to collect the tax in any manner herein provided, unless the dealer shall furnish security of a kind and in an amount satisfactory to the director.
(Code 1956, § 56-99)

Sec. 150-760. Appeal to council and then to court.

Any dealer who shall be aggrieved:

(1) By any decision, order, finding or assessment of the director made pursuant to the provisions of this article;

(2) By his refusal or failure to act; or,

(3) By any certification of debt to the clerk of a court; may appeal therefrom to the council by filing with the director a petition of appeal addressed to the council in the manner and form and within the time and subject to such terms and conditions as the director shall prescribe by rule approved by the council. No such appeal shall stay the collection of any tax or the enforcement thereof by entry as a judgment, unless by order of the council and then only after security approved by the director shall have been furnished to him. The judgment or order of the council respecting any matter arising under the provisions of this article may be reviewed by any court of competent jurisdiction in the manner provided for by law.

(Code 1956, § 56-100)

Sec. 150-761. Refund after successful appeal.

If, by a decision or order of the council or of any court of competent jurisdiction, the dealer shall have been adjudged to be entitled to a refund, payment thereof shall be authorized by the director from any appropriation available for refund upon presentation to him of a certified copy of such decision or order.
(Code 1956, § 56-101)

Sec. 150-762. Return of moneys held as security.

When, to secure compliance with any of the provisions of this article, any moneys shall have been deposited with the director by the dealer and shall have been paid over to the director and he shall be satisfied that such dealer has fully complied with all such provisions, the director shall so certify and shall thereupon issue his warrant for the repayment to such dealer of such moneys or such part thereof as the director shall certify has not been applied by him to the satisfaction of any indebtedness arising under this article.

DIVISION 7. RULES AND REGULATIONS

Subdivision I. Generally

Sec. 150-791. Bracket schedule.

(a) The tax imposed by this article shall be calculated according to the following table:

Purchase Price	Amount of Tax
$0.01 to $0.07	No tax
0.08 to 0.21	$0.01
0.22 to 0.35	0.02
0.36 to 0.49	0.03
0.50 to 0.64	0.04
0.65 to 0.78	0.05

0.93 to 1.07	0.07

On each additional $1.00 of purchase price add $0.07 tax.

(b) Of the total amounts collected under the above integrated method and bracket of prices by dealers or those otherwise responsible for the collection of the tax in the city, four-sevenths thereof shall be remitted by such dealers or collectors to the city. The four-sevenths so required to be transmitted represents the 2½ percent tax due the city and the 1½ percent tax due the parish school board under the above integrated method and bracket of prices, and is in conformity with the provisions of this article and the resolutions adopted by the parish school board. The remaining three-sevenths of the amount of taxes collected represents the amount of taxes due the state, which has imposed a three percent sales tax.

(c) The integrated method and bracket of prices hereby provided is to apply only to sales, use, consumption, storage, rentals of tangible personal property, sale of certain services and other such transactions that are taxed by both the city and the state.

(d) Where only four percent of the city sales tax is applicable the tax shall be calculated according to the following table:

Purchase Price	Amount of Tax
$0.01 to $0.12	No tax
0.13 to 0.37	$0.01
0.38 to 0.62	0.02

(Code 1956, § 56-119)

Sec. 150-792. Bracket schedule for June 1, 1982 through May 31, 1985.

(a) Section 150-791 notwithstanding, from June 1, 1982, through May 31, 1985, the tax imposed by this article shall be calculated according to the following table:

Purchase Price	Amount of Tax
$0.00 to $0.06	No tax
0.07 to 0.18	$0.01
0.19 to 0.31	0.02

0.82 to 0.93	0.07
0.94 to 1.06	0.08

On each additional $1.00 of purchase price add $0.08 tax.

(b) Of the total amounts collected under the above integrated method and bracket of prices by dealers or those otherwise responsible for the collection of the tax in the city, five-eighths thereof shall be remitted by such dealers or collectors to the city. The five-eighths so required to be transmitted represents the 3½ percent tax due the city and the 1½ percent tax due the parish school board under the above integrated method and bracket of prices, and is in conformity with the provisions of this article and the resolutions adopted by the parish school board. The remaining three-eighths of the amount of taxes collected represents the amount of taxes due the state, which has imposed a three percent sales tax. The integrated method and bracket of prices hereby provided is to apply only to sales, use, consumption, storage, rentals of tangible personal property, sale of certain services and other such transactions that are taxed by the city, school board and the state.

(c) Where only the 4½ percent city and parish school board sales taxes are applicable, the tax shall be calculated according to the following table:

Purchase Price	Amount of Tax
$0.01 to $0.11	No tax
0.12 to 0.33	$0.01
0.34 to 0.55	0.02
0.56 to 0.77	0.03

1.45 to 1.66	0.07
1.67 to 1.88	0.08
1.89 to 2.11	0.09

On each additional $2.00 of purchase price add $0.09 tax.

(d) Where only the five percent city and parish school board sales taxes are applicable the tax shall be calculated according to the following table:

Purchase Price	Amount of Tax
$0.01 to $0.10	No tax
0.11 to 0.29	$0.01
0.30 to 0.49	0.02

0.90 to 1.10	0.05

On each additional $1.00 of purchase price add $0.05 tax.
(Code 1956, § 56-119.1)

Sec. 150-793. Deliveries outside of parish not taxable.

The tax imposed by this article is to be charged to purchasers by dealers upon the sales price as per the above schedule when the sale is consummated by delivery to the purchaser within the parish. On purchases which are to be delivered to a bona fide destination outside the parish the city tax does not apply.
(Code 1956, § 56-120)

Sec. 150-794. Export sales not taxable.

(a) The power to regulate commerce with foreign nations is vested in the Congress of the United States. Foreign commerce relates to commerce between the United States and foreign nations. The city is without power to tax the sale of tangible personal property for shipment to a foreign country.

(b) Illustration. The Oasis Refining Company, located in the city, is engaged in manufacturing gasoline from crude oil. The Oasis Refining Company received an order for 50,000 gallons of gasoline from the Liverpool Export Company, located at Liverpool, England. The gasoline is to be delivered at Liverpool, England, within a stipulated time at a given price. This is a transaction in foreign commerce and is not subject to the city sales tax.
(Code 1956, § 56-121)

Sec. 150-795. Nonresident purchases.

If a nonresident of the city purchases articles of tangible personal property from a dealer in the city and the sale is completed in the city the sale is not one of interstate commerce and is subject to the tax levied by this article. It is immaterial that the property purchased will be later transported outside the city or state.
(Code 1956, § 56-122)

Sec. 150-796. Interstate and foreign commerce sales tax.

(a) The power to regulate interstate and foreign commerce is vested in the Congress of the United States. The states and municipalities are prohibited from imposing any direct burden on such commerce through the exercise of their taxing power or otherwise. It is impossible to give an all-inclusive definition of the term interstate commerce or foreign commerce. The discussion which follows, while referring only to interstate commerce, applies in most cases with equal force to "foreign commerce."

(b) Interstate commerce cannot exist unless there is a movement of a subject of commerce from a point within the territorial jurisdiction of one state across the boundary line to a point within the territorial jurisdiction of another state.

(c) In determining what constitutes interstate commerce, the following questions are pertinent:

(1) Does the transaction involve actual and physical movement of the property sold across the state line?

(2) If so, is such movement an essential part of the sale, as distinguished from being merely incidental thereto?

(3) If so, is the vendor obligated by the express or unavoidably implied terms of the sale or contract to sell to make a physical delivery of the property which forms the subject matter of the transaction across a state boundary line to the purchaser?

(d) If the answer to all three of these questions is yes, then the transaction is not subject to the application of the tax for the reason that it is in interstate commerce. If the answer to any one or more of the questions is no the sale is not in interstate commerce and the tax applies.
(Code 1956, § 56-123)

Sec. 150-797. Interstate and foreign commerce use tax.

When a sale is made in interstate commerce, meeting the tests set forth in section 150-796, if the property which is the subject of the sale is imported into this state for use or consumption, it is subject to the use tax. If the out-of-state vendor is not engaged in business in this city within the meaning of this article he is not required to collect the use tax from his customers in the city and in such cases the customers in the city (importers of tangible personal property) must report and pay the use tax directly to the director. If the vendor is engaged in business in the city he is required to qualify as a dealer under this article and must collect the use tax from his customers and remit the tax to the director. This article provides that engaging in business in the city shall mean and include any of the following methods of transacting business: Maintaining directly, indirectly or through a subsidiary, an office, distribution house, sales house, warehouse or other place of business or by having an agent, salesman or solicitor operating within the city under the authority of the seller or its subsidiary, irrespective of whether such place of business, agent, salesman or solicitor is located in the city permanently or temporarily or whether such seller or subsidiary is qualified to do business in the city.
(Code 1956, § 56-124)

Sec. 150-798. Imports from foreign countries.

(a) A tax upon an article imported from a foreign country may not be levied so long as the article remains in the hands of the importer and in the original package in which it was imported, nor may a tax be levied upon the sale by the importer of the goods in the original unbroken package.

(b) If the original package is broken and a sale is made by the importer the tax applies. If the importer sells the original package to a jobber or dealer and the jobber or dealer thereafter makes a sale of the entire quantity purchased by him such sale is taxable, even though it be in the original package. The sale by the jobber or dealer in the original package is made after the merchandise is no longer in the hands of the importer.
(Code 1956, § 56-125)

Sec. 150-799. Tax applicable to supplies, etc., sold to the city or its departments.

(a) When construction materials, supplies, equipment or other items of tangible personal property are sold and billed by the sellers to the city or any of its departments or agencies, as well as all contractors for use in carrying out such projects, and such materials, supplies and equipment are paid for by such bodies or contractors, such purchases are within this chapter and the tax must be collected by the seller.

(b) It is immaterial that part or all of the funds by which payments are made may have been advanced, granted or loaned by the federal government to the city or its subdivisions for financing public works.
(Code 1956, § 56-126)

Sec. 150-800. Sales to United States and its agencies.

When tangible personal property or a charge for services is billed and sold directly to, and is paid for by, the government of the United States, or any of its departments and/or agencies, the city is without power to impose the tax on such transaction. The determining factor in all cases is whether or not a sale is made and billed directly to the federal government or any of its departments and/or agencies, and is paid for directly by the federal government.
(Code 1956, § 56-127)

Sec. 150-801. Exemption of the city and its agencies.

The city and its agencies shall be exempt from the payment of the sales and use tax imposed by this article.
(Code 1956, § 56-128)

Sec. 150-802. Application of use tax.

(a) This article imposes a tax on the use, consumption, distribution and storage for use or consumption in the city of tangible personal property purchased in such manner that the sales tax does not apply thereto.

(b) The use tax applies to the use of property purchased in interstate commerce or in another state or another parish of the state for the purpose of use in the city after interstate or intrastate commerce has ended. For purposes of taxation, interstate or intrastate commerce ends when purchased property reaches the consignee and comes to rest within the city. The tax does not attach until the property has come to rest in the city.

(c) Generally it may be said that the use tax applies to the use of property in the city the sale of which would be subject to tax had there been a purchase within the city. The use tax does not apply upon the use of any property which has been subjected to a sales tax in a state other than this state at a rate equal to or greater than the rate of tax imposed by this article, nor does the use tax apply upon the use of any property which is exempt from the tax imposed upon the sale at retail by this article. The two taxes, sales and use, stand as complements to each other and taken together provide a uniform tax upon either the sale at retail or use of all tangible personal property irrespective of where it may have been purchased.

(d) The use tax is based on the cost price of the tangible personal property. The cost price means the actual cost of the property including transportation costs incurred in transporting the property to the place where it is to be used. No deduction is allowed for materials used, labor, service, cost, transportation charges or any other expenses whatsoever.
(Code 1956, § 56-129)

Sec. 150-803. Engaging in business in the city.

A dealer subject to registration and monthly remittances of taxes collected is any person conducting a business in the city in any of the following methods of transacting business: Maintaining directly, indirectly or through a subsidiary, an office, distribution house, sales house or other place of business or having an agent, salesman or solicitor operating within the city under the authority of the seller or its subsidiary, irrespective of whether such place of business, agent, salesman or solicitor is located in the city permanently or temporarily or whether such seller or subsidiary is qualified to do business in the city.
(Code 1956, § 56-130)

Sec. 150-804. Certificate of registration.

(a) Required. Every person who is responsible for collecting and accounting for the tax or who shall engage in any business for which tax is imposed under this article shall apply for and obtain a certificate of registration from the director. This requirement does not apply to persons whose entire gross proceeds of sales are expressly exempt under this article.

(b) Display of certificate. The dealer shall cause the certificate of registration to be posted in a conspicuous place in the place of business for which it is issued.

(c) Change of ownership. A certificate of registration is personal and nontransferable. The old certificate must be cancelled and a new one secured when there is a change of ownership of a business. No change of ownership occurs upon the transfer of assets to an assignee for the benefit of creditors or upon the appointment of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy.

(d) Change in location. Whenever the place of business for which a certificate of registration has been issued is changed, the taxpayer shall return the existing certificate to the director for cancellation. A new certificate will be issued for the new place of business.

(e) Replacement. If any original certificate of registration is destroyed or defaced as a result of accident or of natural wear and tear a duplicate certificate will be issued to the dealer upon request.
(Code 1956, § 56-131)

Sec. 150-805. Resale certificates.

(a) The director will consider all sales to be retail sales unless the seller takes from the buyer a resale certificate, signed by and bearing the name, address and registration number of the buyer, to the effect that the property was purchased for resale or to be used as an ingredient or a component part of a new article for sale at retail. Wholesalers may recognize the claim of a buyer that the articles are purchased for resale only when the buyer is properly registered under the provisions of this article, where the buyer is located in the city or under the provisions of the state sales tax law, where the buyer is located elsewhere within the state.

(b) The seller shall be responsible for the collection of the tax on all sales made to persons who have not secured the proper registration certificate, except in cases of fertilizer and containers sold directly to farmers. Resale certificates claiming that goods are purchased for resale must state the registration number assigned to the buyer when such buyer is a retail merchant. In case the buyer is a wholesale merchant the resale certificate shall state the wholesaler's occupational license number for the current year.

(c) Because a person is registered under the law does not mean that all of his purchases will be made for the purpose of resale. As an example: A person engaged in selling automobile tires and accessories would not be permitted to buy a diamond ring for resale. The burden of proving that a sale is in fact for resale shall be upon the person who makes the sale. Claims of purchasers must appear reasonable, consideration being given to the nature of their business.

(d) Dealers shall keep all resale certificates given to them by customers for examination by the director. Any dealer who fails to secure a properly executed and signed certificate will be held liable for and pay the tax himself. Resale certificates may be obtained from the bureau of revenue, department of finance.
(Code 1956, § 56-132)

Sec. 150-806. Sales price.

The sales price is the total amount for which tangible personal property is sold, including any services, except services for financing which shall not exceed the legal interest rate and a service charge not to exceed six percent of the amount financed, that are a part of the sale, valued in money, whether paid in money or otherwise, and includes the cost of materials used, labor or service costs, except costs for financing and losses. But cash discounts allowed and taken on sales shall not be included nor shall the sales price include the amount charged for labor or services rendered in installing, applying, remodeling or repairing property sold.
(Code 1956, § 56-133)

Sec. 150-807. Cash discounts.

(a) The selling price of an article of tangible personal property does not include the amount of bona fide cash discounts actually taken by the buyer and the amount of such discounts may be deducted from taxable sales if such discount has been previously included in taxable sales.

(b) Illustration. "A" sells a radio to "C" for $100.00, subject to a discount of two percent, ten days. "A" credits his taxable sales with $100.00. On the ninth day "C" sends "A" his check for $98.00, plus tax. In computing tax collected and due "A" may deduct from taxable sales the $2.00 discount taken.
(Code 1956, § 56-134)

Sec. 150-808. Transportation charges.

(a) Whether or not freight, delivery or transportation charges may be deducted by the seller from the selling price of tangible personal property sold for use or consumption, in computing his liability for sales tax under this article, does not depend upon the separate billing thereof, but depends upon whether or not the services rendered by the railway company or other transporting agency are rendered to such seller or to the purchaser.

(b) If the seller contracts to deliver tangible personal property to some designated place or is obligated under the contract to pay transportation charges to some designated place, the transportation services are rendered to the seller and the selling price of the tangible personal property so transported must include the amount of the transportation charges. In this event such charges are not deductible by the seller in computing his tax liability under this article. On the other hand if the seller contracts to sell tangible personal property f.o.b. origin, the title to the property passing at such point to the buyer and the buyer paying the transportation charges, then the transportation services are rendered to the buyer and are not a part of the selling price of the vendor. Therefore, such transportation charges should not be included by the vendor in computing his tax liability under this article. These principles will apply irrespective of whether such charges are separately billed by the seller from the tangible personal property sold.

(c) For example, where an automobile dealer sells an automobile from his stock and title thereto passes to the purchaser for use or consumption at the place of business of such dealer, the dealer is not permitted to deduct freight charges incurred in bringing the automobile from the factory to his place of business notwithstanding that the automobile may be sold and billed to the consumer on a basis of factory list price plus freight and other charges. Likewise, a person engaged in the business of selling lumber for use or consumption may not, in computing his tax, deduct from the selling price of the lumber freight or delivery charges accruing on account of the transportation of the lumber from the forest to his yard or warehouse or from his yard or warehouse to the consumer, if under the contract of sale he is obligated to deliver the lumber to the residence or place of business of the consumer. This is true notwithstanding that such items may be separately set up in his billings to the consumer.

(d) In all cases the determining factor is the place where title to tangible personal property passes to the user or consumer and any freight, delivery or other transportation charges incurred and paid by the seller for the purpose of transporting such property to such place are a part of the selling price of such property.

(e) When property is sold on terms whereunder the seller agrees to deliver such property to a certain place, but the purchaser pays the freight in the first instance and deducts it from the seller's invoice price of the goods in making remittance to the seller for the goods, the transportation charges are deemed to be a part of the selling price of the tangible personal property and the seller will be liable for tax with respect to the amount thereof.

(f) This section applies only to the sales tax and not to the use tax.
(Code 1956, § 56-135)

Sec. 150-809. Carrying, finance and service charges.

Finance charges, carrying charges, service charges or interest from credit extended on sales of tangible personal property under installment sale contracts or other installment contracts providing for deferred payments of the purchase price are not considered a part of the selling price of such property, if the service for financing does not exceed the legal interest rate and the service charge does not exceed six percent of the amount financed.
(Code 1956, § 56-136)

Sec. 150-810. Federal excise taxes.

(a) Most federal excise taxes are levied on the producer or manufacturer and are not required by law to be passed on to the consumer.

(b) However, under the new Federal Retailers' Excise Tax Act, excise tax is levied on the sale of fur coats and fur-trimmed coats, cosmetics and jewelry, sold at retail, to be collected by the retailer from the user or consumer and remitted by the retailer to the federal government.

(c) The city sales tax on sales of fur coats and fur-trimmed coats, cosmetics, leather goods and jewelry should be computed on the selling price of the above items excluding the federal retailers' excise tax if the federal tax is billed to the consumer separately from the selling price of the above items.

(d) Federal excise taxes may not be deducted from the selling price of any other items of tangible personal property in computing the sales tax except as provided in this article, even though the tax is invoiced separately to the user or consumer.
(Code 1956, § 56-137)

Sec. 150-811. Installation charges on material affixed to real property.

Retailers of tangible personal property which is to be permanently affixed to real property and thereby becomes part of realty who, in connection with their sales, contract for the installation of the articles so sold are vendors of the articles and material in the same manner as in the case of articles sold without installation. Vendors so selling and installing must make a segregation of that portion of the charge which is for tangible personal property sold and that portion of the charge which is for installation. Failure to so segregate the charges will subject the entire amount to the tax.
(Code 1956, § 56-138)

Sec. 150-812. Containers.

(a) Items actually accompanying the product sold to the final buyer or ultimate consumer without which the delivery for the products is impracticable on account of the character of the contents and for which there is no separate charge are not subject to tax. These items include such things as cans in which canned goods, paints and other commodities are contained; medicine bottles; boxes in which jewelry, candy, suits, dresses and hats are delivered to a consumer; wrapping paper; paper bags; ice cream cartons and ice cream cones; twine; milk bottle caps; paper discs; and similar articles; also labels or name plates affixed to products manufactured and printed matter containing only directions for use when it is impracticable to affix such printed matter to the article sold.

(b) When container materials such as crating, packing cases, excelsior, bale bindings and the like are used in connection with the preparation for sale of other tangible personal property sold for resale and when these materials do not pass to the ultimate consumer together with the tangible personal property originally contained therein, the sale of such materials to a person using them for crating, packing or wrapping is deemed to be a sale at retail and the purchaser thereof is required to pay the tax upon the amount of receipts therefrom to his vendor.

(c) Whenever tangible personal property is sold in barrels, bottles, boxes, bags, kegs, drums, cartons, sacks, cans or other containers the title to which is retained by the seller of the tangible personal property contained therein and which are to be returned to the seller and are intended by the seller to provide merely a means of containing such tangible personal property while in process of being delivered or conveyed to the purchaser for use or consumption, then a person so using such containers in the conduct of his business is a purchaser for use or consumption and the sale to him is a sale at retail and he is required to pay the tax upon the amount of receipts therefrom to his vendor.

(d) Paper napkins, drinking straws, paper cups, paper, wood or plastic spoons and forks, when sold to restaurants, soda fountains and drive-ins which are registered with the department of finance for sales tax purposes and where these articles are served in connection with the sale of food and drink, are considered to be sales for resale and therefore exempt from tax.

(e) Sales of boxes, wrapping paper, twine, tape and similar articles to persons engaged in rendering services who use such material in connection with the services rendered and who are required to collect the tax upon the receipts from such services, are sales for resale. To illustrate: Sales of wrapping paper and twine to a dry cleaner or laundry should be made under a resale certificate since such packaging material passes to the consumer along with the taxable service.

(Code 1956, § 56-139)

Sec. 150-813. Labels, tags and name plates.

(a) Sales of labels, tags or name plates to a manufacturer who affixes them to products manufactured by him constitute sales for resale, if such labels, tags or name plates become affixed to or are an integral and necessary part of the product sold. Such is the case when labels are required by law in the sale of certain drugs and chemicals or when metal name plates of manufacturers are permanently attached to each unit of product sold, which is the case with automobiles, stoves and the like.

(b) But when labels and tags do not become an integral and usually inseparable part of the product sold, the manufacturer or other person affixing them is deemed to be the purchaser for use or consumption thereof. Coming within the latter category are such articles as price and shipping tags.
(Code 1956, § 56-140)

Sec. 150-814. Premiums and other gifts.

Gross proceeds from the sale of goods to be given away as premiums or otherwise are taxable. The tax shall be paid to the dealer by the purchaser of such goods.
(Code 1956, § 56-141)

Sec. 150-815. Adjustments, replacements and exchanges.

When any taxable articles are returned to the vendor for adjustment, replacement or exchange under a guarantee as to its quality of service and a new article is given pursuant to guarantee, free or at a reduced price, the tax shall be computed on the actual amount, if any, to be paid to the vendor on the new article.
(Code 1956, § 56-142)

Sec. 150-816. Returned merchandise.

(a) If articles of tangible personal property are voluntarily returned to the seller by the consumer or user, before such articles have been used but after the tax imposed by this article has been collected or charged to the account of the purchaser and paid to the director, the seller may deduct the sales price of such article from the gross proceeds shown on his report for the current month.

(b) The records of the taxpayer must clearly reflect and support his claim for all such deductions for merchandise returned for credit or refund and must especially show that the article returned has not been used and is in condition to be resold at the price originally charged.

(c) Articles of tangible personal property that are used for a while and then repossessed by the seller cannot be classified as returned goods subject to deduction from the gross proceeds or gross receipts.
(Code 1956, § 56-143)

Sec. 150-817. Repossessions.

Dealers who repossess articles of tangible personal property shall not deduct from their gross proceeds of sales the unpaid amounts on repossessed merchandise nor any other deduction with respect to such repossessions. When the repossessed article is later sold, such sale is subject to the sales tax.
(Code 1956, § 56-144)

Sec. 150-818. Trade-ins.

When an article which had been traded-in and allowed as a reduction in the sale price of a prior sale, is sold, the traded-in article is subject to the city sales tax at the time of such sale.
(Code 1956, § 56-145)

Sec. 150-819. Credit and installment sales.

(a) Persons making credit sales or installment sales must report the total selling price of any such sales and pay the sales tax thereon in the monthly tax period in which the contract of sales are entered into.

(b) The foregoing is true irrespective of the fact that such sellers arrange to receive payment of the tax on installments or that a contract may be discounted, pledged with or sold to a finance company.

(c) No deductions for credit losses in case of repossession are allowed under this article.
(Code 1956, § 56-146)

Sec. 150-820. Lay-away and will-call sales.

A sale whose delivery is conditional on payment of the amount due is not completed until the amount due is received by the seller and, therefore, not taxable until the sale is completed.
(Code 1956, § 56-147)

Sec. 150-821. Full amount of tax collected to be reported.

Every dealer is required to make returns to the director of the full amount of the tax collected from his purchasers regardless of the percentage relationship of such amount to his total receipts.
(Code 1956, § 56-148)

Sec. 150-822. Auctioneers, agents, factors, etc.

Every factor, auctioneer or agent acting for either a known or an unknown or undisclosed principal, entrusted with any bill of lading, customhouse permit or warehouseman's receipt for delivery of tangible personal property or entrusted with possession of any such personal property for the purpose of sale, shall be deemed the owner thereof for the purpose of sale and, upon the sale at retail of such property, such factor, auctioneer or agent shall be required to collect the sales tax thereon and remit it to the city. The same rule applies to lienholders, such as storage men, pawnbrokers and artisans.
(Code 1956, § 56-149)

Sec. 150-823. Sales by trustees, receivers, executors and administrators.

(a) Where trustees, receivers, executors and administrators, by virtue of their appointment continue to operate, manage or control a business engaged in selling tangible personal property at retail or selling services, they must pay the tax as to their gross receipts from sales and are deemed to be persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property or services.

(b) Where trustees, receivers, executors and administrators are complying with an order of court to liquidate the bankrupt's business, it is immaterial if the trustee, receiver, executor or administrator has previously operated the business as a going concern, or if he made a number of retail sales in liquidation; his liquidation sales are exempt from city sales taxes.

(c) Trustees, receivers, executors and administrators operating a business in conformity with subsection (a) of this section must register the business with the department of finance for sales tax purposes and must show on registration application the name of the trustee, receiver, executor or administrator operating the business pursuant to appointment by the court.
(Code 1956, § 56-150)

Sec. 150-824. Sales to employees.

When an employer sells tangible personal property to employees for use or consumption, receipts from such sales must be included in his gross taxable sales and the tax on each such sale should be collected from the employee. It is immaterial that such employer makes sales at retail only to his employees and not to the general public.
(Code 1956, § 56-151)

Sec. 150-825. Isolated or occasional sales.

(a) The tax levied under this article applies to isolated or occasional sales of vehicles, but does not apply to isolated or occasional sales by persons who are not engaged in the business of selling other articles of tangible personal property. However, this exception does not apply to sales made by those persons who hold themselves out as engaged in a retail business, notwithstanding the fact that the sales may be few and infrequent.

(b) For example, the tax is levied when a person sells his own automobile or other vehicle. The tax is not levied when a merchant sells his store fixtures or when a farmer sells his farm machinery or other farm equipment, such persons are not engaged in the business of selling such tangible personal property at retail; they are making isolated or occasional sales with respect to such property.

(c) Manufacturers, processors, wholesalers or jobbers engaged in distributing tangible personal property who sell primarily other than at retail are not deemed to be making isolated or occasional sales when they sell such tangible personal property to purchasers for use or consumption, notwithstanding that sales at retail may comprise a small fraction of their total business.
(Code 1956, § 56-152)

Sec. 150-826. Lease or rental of tangible personal property.

(a) The gross receipts or gross proceeds derived from the lease or rental of all kinds and types of tangible personal property are subject to the tax levied under this article, except that property leased or rented for use outside the city by a lessee or rentee for industrial or commercial purposes for the conduct of his business. The tax shall be computed on the gross receipts or gross proceeds without any deduction whatsoever for expenses incident to the conduct of business.

(b) For example, the gross receipts or gross proceeds derived from the lease or rental of accounting machines, office equipment, automobiles, tires, accessories, oil field machinery and equipment of all kinds, as well as all other articles of tangible personal property, are within the provisions of this article.

(c) The term of the contract under which such tangible personal property is leased or rented shall be the basis for computing the tax. The tax is to be computed on a billing basis, either on the lump sum at the time of execution or on a monthly or periodical basis as provided in the contract.

(d) If the owner of the property, for example, is one who is engaged in leasing boats, maintains continuous supervision of the boat and furnishes an operator and crew, together with the gasoline or other fuel that may be used, the owner in this case is rendering a service of a type which is not subject to tax. On the other hand, if the owner does not furnish the crew or operator, but merely rents the bare boat for a stated consideration and the lessee operates it himself, the sales tax would apply as the lessee has the possession or use of the boat. The same principles apply in the case of automobiles, trucks, cranes and other equipment.

(e) Tangible personal property purchased to be used by the purchaser as stock to be rented and not sold is subject to the sales tax and the vendor is required to collect and remit the tax on all such sales. If the tangible personal property is purchased out of the city, the purchaser is required to remit a use tax.

(f) If a lessor has an office or place of business or agents or representatives in the city, he must collect and remit the tax on all articles leased by him, as provided in this article; otherwise the lessee is obligated to pay the lease or rental tax directly to the director.
(Code 1956, § 56-153)

Sec. 150-827. Sublease of tangible personal property.

Dealers engaged in the business of renting or leasing tangible personal property to another dealer who is renting such property for rerental or subleasing, the tax imposed by this article is incurred by the renter or lessor and a second liability for lease or rental tax is incurred by the subrenter or sublessor.
(Code 1956, § 56-153.1)

Sec. 150-828. Tangible personal property made to order.

When persons, such as dry goods merchants or tailors, contract to fabricate articles of tangible personal property such as portieres, curtains, tents, awnings, clothing, auto tops and the like from materials in stock, which have been selected by customers, the total proceeds from the sale of such articles must be included in the gross receipts and the sales tax computed thereon. Such retailers may not deduct labor or service charges of fabrication or production, notwithstanding that such charges may be separately billed to customers apart from charges for materials.
(Code 1956, § 56-154)

Sec. 150-829. Equipment and supplies for a business.

(a) Sales of machinery, tools, belts and other equipment to a manufacturer, producer or contractor; or furniture, fixtures, supplies, stationery, equipment, appliances, instruments and tools to stores, shops, business establishments, offices and professional activities are taxable. Such sales are to final buyers and ultimate consumers and are not sales for resale. To illustrate:

(1) Sales to a millwright of shafting, pulleys, belts, saws, lathes, chisels, tools and similar articles are taxable. These articles are not purchased for resale and the seller is subject to tax on his receipts.

(2) Sales of concrete mixers, trucks, steam shovels and other machinery, equipment and tools to a contractor are sales at retail. The contractor consumes these articles in his business and is the final buyer. Therefore the sale is taxable.

(b) This section applies to all manner of office machinery, fixtures, equipment and supplies, including furniture, cash registers, typewriters, stationery, pencils, pens, ink, account books, calculating machines, dictaphones and other similar articles.
(Code 1956, § 56-155)

Sec. 150-830. Property purchased for rental purposes.

(a) Persons purchasing equipment for rental purposes should pay sales or use tax on the purchase price of such equipment regardless of the fact that under some types of rental agreements the federal government or any other lessee may later acquire ownership of the equipment. The lessor of the equipment is considered to be the user or consumer and should pay the sales or use tax on the purchase price of the equipment at the time of purchase.

(b) A vendor registered with the city or one not registered and located outside the city, who is engaged in selling or renting or both selling and renting similar equipment is liable for either sales tax or use tax based on the cost price of such equipment when rented or leased for use in the city. If the contract of rental contains an option for subsequent purchase and is accepted by the customer, the gross receipts on which sales tax would be computed is the combination of the rental fees received by the retailer plus the balance due on the original selling price.

(c) When equipment has been rented or leased and sales or use tax has been accounted for, the sales tax will also apply on the total selling price when subsequently sold providing the sale has no connection with an earlier rental agreement.
(Code 1956, § 56-156)

Sec. 150-831. Sales to manufacturers and producers.

The gross receipts or gross proceeds derived from sales of raw materials to manufacturers and producers to be used in fabricating or producing finished articles of tangible personal property for resale, which become a recognizable, integral part of such finished articles, are not subject to the tax imposed under this article. The proceeds derived from subsequent sales of such finished articles of tangible personal property to consumers or users, are subject to the tax. (See section 150-857 as to contractor manufacturers.)
(Code 1956, § 56-157)

Sec. 150-832. Leased departments.

When a store has leased certain of its departments to other persons for the selling of tangible personal property to consumers, each such leased department shall make separate monthly returns if the lessee keeps his own books and makes his own collections on account of sales at retail. If the store leasing such departments keeps the books for the leased departments and makes collections on account of their sales, the store shall, as agent for the lessee, include in its city returns the taxes due by the leased department. But the lessee shall not be relieved of the liability under this article in case the store fails to make the proper returns or fails to pay taxes due.
(Code 1956, § 56-158)

Sec. 150-833. Wholesale sales.

(a) The factor which determines whether a sale is a wholesale sale or not is the purpose for which the sale is made. The price of the article or the quantity sold are not factors which determine a sale to be a wholesale sale.

(b) The following wholesale sales are not subject to the tax:

(1) Sales of tangible personal property by wholesalers to retailers, jobbers, dealers or other wholesalers for resale; and

(2) Sales of tangible personal property or products to a manufacturer or compounder which enter into and become parts of tangible personal property for resale, because they are sales for further processing and therefore not taxable.

(Code 1956, § 56-159)

Secs. 150-834—150-850. Reserved.

Subdivision II. Rules Affecting Particular Businesses

Sec. 150-851. Amusement, etc., places.

The sale of admissions to places of amusement and to athletic, entertainment or recreational events and the furnishing, for dues, fees or other consideration, of the privilege of access to clubs or the privilege of having access to or the use of amusement, entertainment, athletic or recreational facilities, constitute sales of services. Therefore, the sales tax is due on all such admission charges, dues, fees or other consideration.
(Code 1956, § 56-160)

Sec. 150-852. Art objects are subject to tax.

Sales of objects of art are sales of tangible personal property and purchasers thereof are obliged to pay the tax levied by this article.
(Code 1956, § 56-161)

Sec. 150-853. Automobile dealer's demonstrator.

New automobiles withdrawn from stock by factory authorized new automobile dealers, with the approval of the director, (or, by the collector of revenue of the state, as the case may be) and titled in the dealer's name for use as demonstrators, are exempt from the city one percent sales and/or use tax; provided however, when such vehicle is sold, the city sales tax shall be collected.
(Code 1956, § 56-163)

Sec. 150-854. Automobile refinishers and painters.

Automobile refinishers, automobile painters and automobile repair shops are engaged in the furnishing of repairs to tangible personal property. The entire amount charged for such services, including any charge for materials and parts used, is subject to the tax. Materials and parts purchased by the operators of such businesses which will become a part of the automobiles refinished or painted should be purchased under resale certificates.
(Code 1956, § 56-164)

Sec. 150-855. Barbers and beauty shop operators.

Barber and beauty shop operators render personal services which are not taxable. They are consumers of the various items which are used or consumed in the rendition of their services. As such consumers they shall pay the tax on all sales of merchandise to them for use in connection with their business.
(Code 1956, § 56-165)

Sec. 150-856. Building materials, sales to owners.

Sales of materials and supplies to owners of real property to be used by them in erecting, altering, improving or repairing buildings or other improvements are sales to final buyers and are not sales for resale and are, therefore, taxable. In such cases, the purchaser of such materials pays the tax to the vendor who in turn remits the tax as provided in this article.
(Code 1956, § 56-166)

Sec. 150-857. Contractor-dealers.

(a) Contractors and subcontractors engaged in the business of erecting, building or otherwise improving, altering or repairing real property for others may also be engaged in the retail business of selling materials and supplies to other contractors, consumers or users. If, at the time of purchase, the contractor is unable to segregate that portion of the materials and supplies he will sell at retail from that portion which he will use or consume in the fulfillment of his contracts, he should give a resale certificate to the seller of the materials and supplies. The contractor or subcontractor purchasing on a resale certificate must include in his gross sales, upon which the tax is to be computed, all proceeds from retail sales. In addition, he shall report and pay the tax on all materials he uses in the performance of his contracts, based on the cost price of such materials and supplies.

(b) When the contract with the customer is expressed in terms of a sale of certain materials at a stipulated price, plus a charge for installation, the contract shall be considered a retail sale subject to the sales tax to the extent of the stipulated price of the materials.

(c) When the contract is expressed in terms of a sale of certain materials, coupled with an obligation to install them, for a lump sum charge, the entire charge shall be considered the selling price and shall be subject to the sales tax. (See section 150-811.)

(d) Those contractors whose operations are covered by this section must register as retail dealers and they will be required to furnish their registration number in signing a resale certificate. (Code 1956, § 56-167)

Sec. 150-858. Contractor-manufacturers.

(a) Contractors and subcontractors who manufacture and install a manufactured product under contracts pertaining to the erection, improvement, alteration or repair of real or personal property of others are dealers in the manufactured products so installed and shall collect from their customers the sales tax due with respect to the sales of tangible personal property under such contracts. In instances where the contract or the invoice shows the cost of installation separate from the price of the manufactured product sold, the tax applies only on the selling price of the manufactured product, except when the installation charge would also be taxable as a charge for repairs to tangible personal property. However, when no segregation has been made of installation labor from the price of the manufactured product sold the tax applies on the entire amount of the contract price.

(b) The provisions of section 150-857 pertaining to contractor-dealers, in so far as appropriate, apply also to the contractor-manufacturers. (Code 1956, § 56-168)

Sec. 150-859. Contractors—Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in sections 150-860 through 150-865, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Construction contract means a contract under the terms of which a party agrees to furnish the necessary building or structural equipment and materials and install or erect them on the project site in connection with the construction, alteration or repair of a building or other structure or improvement on land, but does not include the furnishing and installation of machinery and equipment used within the structure for manufacturing or processing operations or other purposes which is not directly intended as an addition to, or essential to, the building structure.

Construction subcontractor means a person who contracts to furnish the necessary materials and labor for the completion of a portion of the general construction contract for erection or installation on the job site. The construction subcontractor ordinarily contracts with the general contractor to perform a certain part of the work which the general contractor has undertaken under the general construction contract, but sublets.

General construction contractor means a person who contracts to furnish the necessary materials and labor for the performance of a construction contract and generally is one who contracts to build the entire project or a major portion thereof. The person with whom the general construction contractor contracts is ordinarily the owner of the land and structure thereon.

Materials supplier means a person who sells tangible property in the form of building or structural material to a construction contractor, when such person makes no erection or installation of the material at the job site, and is not to be regarded as a subcontractor. Such a person is a material supplier or a retailer selling tangible personal property.

(Code 1956, §§ 56-169—56-172)

Sec. 150-860. Same—Lump sum and cost plus.

(a) Sales of materials and supplies to owners of real property to be used by them in erecting, altering, improving or repairing buildings or other improvements are sales to final buyers and are not sales for resale and are therefore taxable. In such cases the purchaser of such materials pays the tax to the vendor who, in turn, remits the tax as provided in this article.

(b) Contractors engaged in constructing or improving real property, whether on a lump sum or a cost-plus basis, are deemed to be purchasers and consumers of the materials used by them. Vendors of such materials are required to collect the sales tax thereon and to remit it to the bureau of revenue.
(Code 1956, § 56-173)

Sec. 150-861. Same—Outside purchases by.

A contractor or subcontractor who purchases tangible personal property outside the city and brings it into the city for his use in the performance of contracts must file a use tax report and pay the use tax on or before the 20th day of the month following the calendar month in which such tangible personal property was purchased.
(Code 1956, § 56-174)

Sec. 150-862. Same—Projects financed, in whole or part, by the federal government.

(a) When materials, supplies, equipment or other items of tangible personal property are sold and invoiced by the seller to a contractor on a cost-plus, cost-plus-fixed-fee or lump-sum contract with the federal government, wherein the contractor will be reimbursed by the federal government the cost of the materials, supplies, equipment or other items of tangible personal property, such sales are taxable to the contractor and the seller is required to collect and remit taxes due.

(b) It is immaterial that part or all the funds by which payment is made by the contractor may have been advanced, granted or loaned to the contractor for financing by the federal government.
(Code 1956, § 56-175)

Sec. 150-863. Same—Procedure and liability of general construction contractor and construction subcontractor.

(a) Within 30 days of the execution of a construction contract, a general construction contractor shall submit to the bureau of revenue a list of all construction subcontractors directly engaged by the general construction contractor for such particular construction contract. The list shall include the construction subcontractor's city sales and use tax registration number (if any), together with the construction subcontractor's physical address and telephone number. Should a construction subcontractor be engaged by the general construction contractor with respect to such construction contract subsequent to the submission of such list to the bureau of revenue, such general construction contractor shall, within 30 days from the execution of the contract engaging such construction subcontractor, submit the above information regarding the additional construction subcontractor to the bureau of revenue.

(b) After review of the list(s) referred to in section 150-863(a), if the bureau of revenue determines that a construction subcontractor is not registered with the bureau of revenue, or has failed to timely file one or more city sales and use tax returns, the general construction contractor shall, upon written notification and request by the bureau of revenue via certified mail, withhold an amount not to exceed five percent of the construction subcontractor's materials portion of the construction contract. Such written notification and request by the bureau of revenue shall identify the construction subcontractor and the amount requested to be withheld. The bureau of revenue shall also notify the construction subcontractor via certified mail that the construction subcontractor has 90 days from the receipt of such notification to obtain a written release from the bureau of revenue and to present such release to the general construction contractor, which shall authorize the general construction contractor to release the withheld funds. If the construction subcontractor fails to obtain the release within the 90-day period, the general construction contractor shall, upon request by the bureau of revenue, remit the amounts withheld from such construction subcontractor to the bureau of revenue. Upon proof by the construction subcontractor that the bureau of revenue erroneously instructed the general construction contractor to withhold and remit said amounts, within 30 days after such proof has been made, the bureau of revenue shall cause a refund to be made, as provided by law, to such construction subcontractor for any amounts which were erroneously withheld and remitted to the bureau of revenue pursuant to this section 150-863(b).

(c) Within 30 days after receipt of the required lists from the general construction contractor, the bureau shall issue to the general construction contractor appropriate documentation evidencing that the general construction contractor has complied with all requirements of section 150-863 with respect to each such construction contract. Subject to section 150-863(d), such documentation shall release the general construction contractor from liability for any sales or use tax incurred by the construction subcontractors in connection with the construction contract to which such documentation relates.

(d) If the general construction contractor has omitted one or more construction subcontractors from the list(s) submitted to the bureau of revenue, or the general construction contractor has failed to withhold any amounts due a construction subcontractor after receipt of notification and request by the bureau of revenue as provided in section 150-863(b), then the bureau of revenue may proceed directly against the general construction contractor for any unpaid city sales or use taxes incurred in connection with the construction contract by that omitted construction subcontractor, or by that construction subcontractor to whom payments were made by the general construction contractor after receipt of notification and request by the bureau of revenue.

Any general construction contractor who fails to substantially comply with the provisions of section 150-863 of the Code of the City of New Orleans shall be liable for all sales and use taxes of its subconstruction contractors to the extent of the noncompliance.
(Code 1956, § 56-176; M.C.S., Ord. No. 17,965, § 1, 1-9-97)

Sec. 150-864. Same—Release subject to audit.

(Code 1956, § 56-177)

service is incidental to the operation of cold storage facilities, are subject to the sales tax. The tax does not apply when the relationship between the cold storage operator and the other party is that of bailment, so that no particular space or quantum of space is placed at the disposal of the other party.

(b) Cold storage space includes any enclosed space in which the temperature is regulated or controlled through the use of machinery or chemicals capable of reducing the temperature of such space below that of the outside atmosphere.

Sec. 150-868. Dentists.

A dentist is a consumer of the tangible personal property which he uses in the practice of his profession. Although he renders a service, receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to the dentist must be reported by the seller. This is true of all kinds of tangible personal property which the dentist purchases for professional purposes. It includes his dental chairs, motors, instruments, X-ray machines, drilling machines, office furniture and equipment as well as platinum, gold and silver, cement and other materials used in making fillings, inlays, bridgework and false teeth. It also includes fabricated articles used by the dentist, when manufactured for him by a dental laboratory. If a dental laboratory manufactures articles of tangible personal property for a dentist, the total receipts from the manufacture thereof are taxable without any deduction therefrom on account of the material used, labor or other cost. All articles of tangible personal property that a dental supply house sells to a dentist are taxable. If a dentist manufactures his own plates, false teeth, inlays or similar articles he is a consumer of the materials used in such manufacture. He does not sell them to his patients. Therefore, the sale of the materials to the dentist is a taxable sale.

The word does not include vetches, peas or clover, commonly known as cover crops or other substances used as soil correctives or restoratives, sulphur, land plaster, gypsum, horticultural peat moss, insecticides, fungicides, germicides or other substances which do not become an ingredient or component part of the products grown.

For the repayment of such notes they sometimes take as security chattel mortgages upon such tangible personal property. When the purchaser of an automobile or other tangible personal property fails to meet his obligation, the finance company repossesses the property and sells it to satisfy the obligation evidenced by the notes.

(b) When finance companies hold and acquire title to such tangible personal property and engage in the business of selling to users and consumers such property, the sales thereof are within the provisions of the sales tax and the tax must be reported thereon.
(Code 1956, § 56-183)

(b) When florists conduct transactions through a florists' telegraphic delivery association the following rules shall apply in the computation of tax liability:

(1) On all orders taken by a city florist and telegraphed to a second florist in the state for delivery in the state, the sending florist will be held liable for the tax;

(2) When a city florist receives an order pursuant to which he gives telegraphic instructions to a second florist located outside the state for delivery of flowers to a point outside of the state, the tax will likewise be owing with respect to the total receipts of the sending florist from the customer who places the order; and,

(3) When a city florist receives telegraphic instructions from other florists located either within or outside of the state for the delivery of flowers, the receiving florist will not be held liable for tax with respect to any receipts which he may realize from the transaction.

(c) When a nursery man or florist sells shrubbery, young trees or similar items and as part of the transaction transplants them to the land of the purchaser for a lump sum or a flat rate, the vendor so selling and installing must make a segregation of that portion of the charge which is for tangible personal property sold and that portion of the charge which is for installation. (Code 1956, § 56-184)

Sec. 150-872. Fuel sold to consumers or users.

Sales of coal, coke, fuel oil and other combustibles, whether sold in carload lots or other quantities, to persons who use or consume such substances in producing other tangible personal property or in the rendering of service constitute sales at retail within the meaning of the sales tax. Such coal, coke, fuel oil or other combustibles do not physically enter into or become a constituent, component or integral part of any tangible personal property for resale with respect to such transactions and hence are sold for use or consumption. The sellers therefore must collect and report the tax on such sales.

(c) The question of whether the guests of a particular establishment are transient guests must be determined on the basis of the facts in each case. A guest who pays for a room by the month and who resides in the establishment for a long period of time would not ordinarily be classified as a transient guest. On the other hand, one who pays for a room by the day or by the week would ordinarily fall within the classification of a transient guest.

(d) When an establishment consists of two distinct types of accommodations: sleeping rooms; and apartments with facilities for cooking and eating; the apartments are not included in determining the liability for tax. For example, if there are eight sleeping rooms furnished to transient guests, six sleeping rooms to permanent guests and ten apartments to permanent guests, the sleeping rooms constitute a hotel since more than half of the rooms are furnished to transient guests. The apartments are completely disregarded for the purpose of classifying the remaining rooms and are not subject to the tax.

A printer may not deduct from the selling price of such tangible personal property the cost of labor, author's alterations or other service charges in performing the printing, even though such charge is stated or shown on any evidence of sale separately from the charge for stock. The cost of labor is considered a part of the cost of the articles sold in a completed state.

(1) When stamped envelopes or government postals are purchased and printed for customers or when stamps are provided the amount of the postage may be deducted from the total charge to the customer in determining the selling price.

(2) Sales of printed matter to advertising agencies who purchase for their own use or for the use of their clients, and not for resale in the regular course of business, are deemed to be sales for consumption and subject to the sales tax.

He does not purchase it from the manufacturer of the plate either directly or through the printer as an agent. Therefore plates of this nature are purchased by the printer for resale to his customer. Being a purchase for resale, no tax is due.

(1) When the printing job is finished, the plate is either delivered to the customer with the printing or is retained by the printer for the customer's convenience. Therefore, the printer should include in his bill to his customer the price of the plate and collect the sales tax on the total price of both the printing and the plate.

(2) When the plates used are not peculiar to one particular customer but may be used by the printer in serving other customers as well, the printer, as in the first instance, buys the plates from the manufacturer but for his own use. He does not resell these plates to any particular customer. Consequently, the printer should pay the use tax on his purchase price.

(3) In other instances business establishments buy plates from nonresident manufacturers and have their work done by nonresident printers. In these instances the plates are purchased by the business establishment for its own use and the use tax should be paid by it on the purchase price of the plates.

(f) Sales to printers of paper stock and ink which become a part of the printed matter sold are sales for resale and are not subject to the sales tax.

Sec. 150-896. Repairs to tangible personal property.

Supplies which are consumed in the process of performing repair services without becoming a part of the articles repaired are consumed by the repairmen and they should pay the tax thereon to the vendors from whom such supplies are purchased.

(b) The classification of property repaired is to be determined at the time of repair. Thus an article which was tangible personal property at the time of its sale (and therefore subject to tax on the sale) may later become immovable property, as defined in the Revised Civil Code. For example, pipe and plumbing fixtures which are permanently attached to a building by its owner becomes immovable and repairs thereto would not be subject to tax.

(c) When publishers or proprietors of book stores sell books to school boards or teachers strictly for the purpose of filling orders previously taken for the same from students and such school boards or school teachers do not maintain any stock of books or engage in the business of selling books, such school boards or teachers are deemed to act as agents of students for the purpose of purchasing such books and publishers or proprietors of book stores selling them make sales at retail and incur a liability for tax.

(d) Publishers or proprietors of book stores selling books to school boards, teachers or other persons operating book stores and maintaining stocks of books for the purpose of resale to school students make sales for the purpose of resale and are not liable for tax with respect to proceeds therefrom. Liability for the tax in such cases rests upon the purchasing school boards, teachers or other persons operating such book stores and engaging in the business of making final sales at retail. Any dealer who fails to secure a signed certificate will be held liable for and pay the tax himself.
(Code 1956, § 56-212)

Sec. 150-900. Sign manufacturers and painters.

(a) Persons engaged in the business of painting signs on buildings or other real or personal property belonging to others are rendering services of a kind not subject to the tax and their gross proceeds from such services are not within the sales tax. Sales of paint, brushes and other tangible personal property to such sign painters are sales to purchasers for use or consumption and the seller thereof must pay a tax measured by his gross proceeds.

(b) When a sign painter fabricates and paints a sign from his own materials and sells it to a customer as a finished article for use or consumption he must pay the tax imposed with respect to his gross proceeds from such sale. He may not deduct from the selling price the labor or service charge for painting.

(c) Persons engaged in the business of selling to users or consumers electric neon or other illuminated signs, whether manufactured by themselves or not, are selling tangible personal property at retail and become liable for the tax. If at the time of such sales they contract to furnish periodical maintenance or repair service for a flat charge including the purchase price of the sign, the total gross proceeds from the sale are within the sales tax. Similarly, if the charges for maintenance or repair services rendered subsequent to the sale of signs are billed separately to customers, such charges are taxed as sales of services. If the maintenance contract includes nontaxable services, such as insurance and inspection, the portion of the maintenance charge representing the cost of inspecting and insurance may be excluded from the tax; provided, that such charges are segregated in the contract.
(Code 1956, § 56-213)

Sec. 150-901. Stocks, bonds or other securities.

The term tangible personal property does not include stocks, bonds, notes or other obligations or securities. It therefore follows that the sale of stocks, bonds, notes or other obligations or securities is not subject to the tax levied by this article.

(Code 1956, § 56-214)

Sec. 150-902. Storage of clothing, furs and rugs.

Charges for the storage of clothing, furs and rugs are subject to the sales tax. This class of service is separate and distinct from the service of furnishing cold storage space.
(Code 1956, § 56-215)

Sec. 150-903. Taxicabs and other similar conveyances.

(a) The tax levied by this article does not include receipts received from transportation fares by such means of conveyance as automobiles, trucks and other motor vehicles.

(b) The tax does apply, however, to the rental of such conveyances as automobiles, trucks and other motor vehicles when the price paid is in the form of a rental and not a fare.
(Code 1956, § 56-216)

Sec. 150-904. Undertakers and funeral directors.

(a) When funeral directors and undertakers charge lump sums to customers covering the entire cost of the funeral, without dividing the charge for tangible personal property and the charge for services in rendering a bill to the customer, for the purpose of reporting the sale of funeral supplies and merchandise, such funeral directors shall report the full amount of the funeral bill, less any cash advanced for purposes such as the purchase of a cemetery lot or grave, opening and closing a grave, other cemetery expenses, remuneration of a minister, choir, use of a church, press notices or other cash advanced.

(b) Sales taxes shall be reported and paid at the rate of 2½ percent on 50 percent of the total funeral bill, less cash advanced. All other plans or methods of reporting sales taxes by funeral directors for the sale of funeral supplies and merchandise are hereby declared null and void.

(c) A funeral director is considered to be the user or consumer of such articles as embalming fluid, cosmetics, chemicals, furniture or equipment, funeral home furnishings, advertising, calendars, booklets, motor vehicles and accessories, embalming equipment and instruments, grave equipment, stretchers, baskets and other items which the funeral director uses or consumes in the operation of his business and the title and possession to which are not passed on to his customers. With respect to these items the funeral director shall pay the sales tax to his vendors on all purchases within the state and to the bureau of revenue if the vendors are not registered when purchases are made out of the city.
(Code 1956, § 56-217)

Sec. 150-905. Warehousemen.

(a) Warehousemen are customarily engaged in the business of moving, storing, packing and shipping tangible personal property belonging to other persons. These activities constitute services of a type which are not ordinarily taxable under this article. Crating, boxing, packaging and packing materials used by such warehousemen in the performance of these services are deemed to be purchased by them for use or consumption and the seller of such materials to a warehouseman is making a sale for use or consumption within the meaning of the sales tax.

(b) Warehousemen are subject to the tax with respect to sales of secondhand furniture or other tangible personal property to which they have acquired title, when they hold themselves out to the public as being engaged in the business of selling such property, but sales at auction made by the warehousemen in order to satisfy the warehousemen's lien for claim on account of moving, storing or other service charge will be deemed occasional sales and not subject to tax.

(c) As to the furnishing of cold storage service, see section 150-866; and as to the storage of clothing, furs and rugs, see section 150-902.
(Code 1956, § 56-218)

Sec. 150-906. Sales and rental tax on board roads.

Lessors must pay sales tax to their vendors on materials used in the construction of board roads as well as collect and remit the rental tax due from their lessees for the rental charge on such board roads.

(Code 1956, § 56-219)

Sec. 150-907. Coating and/or wrapping of tubular goods.

Sec. 150-908. National American Red Cross exempt from sales and use tax.

The National American Red Cross is a federal instrumentality and exempt from city taxes.
(Code 1956, § 56-222)

Secs. 150-909—150-950. Reserved.

ARTICLE VII. OCCUPATIONAL LICENSE TAX*

Sec. 150-951. General definitions.

For the purposes of this article, unless the context clearly otherwise requires or unless otherwise defined in specific portions of the article, the following words shall have the respective meanings ascribed to each in this section.

Business includes any business, trade, profession, occupation, vocation, or calling.

Regulation 150-951(1) Business.

"Business" as defined in this section means any activity reasonably expected to result in gain, benefit or advantages, either directly or indirectly; the fact that operations resulted in a loss or did not provide the expected benefits or advantages would not eliminate an activity from the definition of "business". This definition is intended so that some degree of continuity, regularity or permanency be involved so that the doing of any single act pertaining or related to a particular business would not be considered engaging or carrying on that business; a series of such acts would be so considered.

Continuous employment, occupation, or profession engaged in for livelihood which occupies the majority of time and attention, or activity in which time and capital are invested on future outcome are included in the meaning of business, just as barter or exchange of things, rights, or services for value are defined as business. It is not necessary for any activity to constitute the sole occupation to remain within the intended definition.

The term "business" does not include isolated and occasional sales by persons who do not hold themselves out as engaged in business. This exclusion clearly applies to sales made by the owners of property acquired for use or consumption, and who are not engaged in selling similar property on a repeated or continuing basis.

Whether an activity constitutes "business" demands an analysis of the continuing nature of the activity, and may change with respect to any particular person. As an example, trustees or receivers conducting a continuing retail merchandising activity, even though solely by court order, would be considered to be in the merchandising business, while the sale conducted by the same trustees or receivers in order to liquidate the business pursuant to a later court order would not be considered to be in business. Further, the occasional sale of used equipment made by a person engaged in the equipment rental business would not to constitute the business of selling equipment, but if the same lessor of equipment frequently, routinely or continuously offered used equipment for sale, then he would be engaged in that business.

Collector, for the purpose of this article, is the director of finance, collector of revenue, treasurer, or other appointees of the director.

Contractor is synonymous with the term "builder" and means a person, firm, partnership, corporation, association, or other organization, or a combination of them, which undertakes to or offers to undertake to, or purports to have the capacity to undertake to, or submits a bid to, or does himself or by or through others, construct, alter, repair, add to, subtract from, improve, move, wreck, or demolish any building, highway, road, railroad, excavation, or other structure, project, development or improvement, or to do any part thereof, including the erection of scaffolding or other structure or works in connection therewith and includes subcontractors and specialty contractors. As such, the word, "contractor" shall include oil field service contractors, which shall consist of those contractors performing general oil well servicing, maintenance, and construction when conducted as a single company unit. "General oil well servicing" shall include welding, pipe coating, pipe inspection, wireline service, automation, work over, logging, analysis, seismograph, installing and servicing equipment, packing, platform work, perforating, and completion.

Regulation 150-951(3). Contractor.

The term "contractor" shall include, but [is] not limited to, plumbers, electricians, carpenters, roofers, installers (air conditioners, heating units, carpeting, floors, tile, siding, machinery, equipment, gutters, alarm systems, etc.) painters, bricklayers, masons, welders, and well drillers.

Contractor's gross receipts, for the purposes of computing the license fee provided for in section 150-965 of this article, are determined the same for all contractors, whether or not they have a lump sum contract or a cost plus contract. The gross receipts for a lump sum contract are based on the actual amount of the contract, whereas, the gross receipts for a cost plus contract are based on the actual cost of the contract to the owner including the amount added thereto as a fee.

Regulation 150-951(4). Contractor's gross receipts.

Gross receipts for all contractors, whether lump sum or cost plus, are to include those receipts received for performing contracted services. This means that under a lump sum contract, the amount of the contract is used to compute the license tax under section 150-965 subject to the provisions provided for contractors under section 150-972(a) of this chapter. In the case of a cost plus contract, gross receipts include the cost of the contract plus the fees associated with that contract or contracts. Those fees can be based on a percentage or on a flat fee. Nevertheless, all revenue received as a result of the contract are included in the computation of the license tax.

Fixed location, for the purpose of this article, means any permanent structure which is used to provide goods or services to consumers.

Gross commissions for travel agencies is defined as fees earned on the sales of tickets and provision of other services and shall not include actual ticket prices. For carrying on each business of travel agency, the license tax shall be based on gross commissions.

Gross income for real estate brokers is defined as those fees from any source deposited into the real estate broker's agency's general fund account less escrow deposits, and less fees paid to cooperating real estate brokers. For carrying on each business of real estate broker, the license tax shall be based on gross income. Notwithstanding any provisions herein to the contrary, the maximum amount paid by a real estate broker shall be $2,200.00.

Peddler, for the purpose of this article, means any person who for himself or any other person, goes from house to house, or place to place, or store to store, exposing and selling the merchandise which he carries with him and delivering the same at the time of, or immediately after, the sale or without returning to the base of business operation between the taking of the order and the delivery of the goods; however, any person who uses the same vehicle or a combination of one or more vehicles for the purpose of taking orders and delivering merchandise, regardless of the fact that the vehicle returns to the base of operations between the taking of the order and the delivery of the merchandise, shall be deemed a peddler, unless such person can show that the merchandise delivered is accompanied by an invoice or delivery ticket prepared at the base of operations and which conforms to the original order and that the person delivering the merchandise has permitted no deviation from the original order by allowing the purchaser to reject, cancel, increase, or decrease the quantity at the time of delivery or to offset against such quantity any merchandise delivered at a prior time which is being returned. This extension of the meaning of the term "peddler" shall not be interpreted so as to prevent rejection or cancellation of bona fide orders or the return of inferior merchandise, but shall be construed so as to prevent persons peddling merchandise from escaping their tax liability by subterfuge through means of so-called "standing order" or blanket advance orders, increase and decrease in quantities at the time of delivery, arbitrary rejections and cancellations, and offset of merchandise returned by reason of nonsale rather than obligation of warranty, all of which are hereby declared to be mere devices to prevent normal methods of operations so as to disguise the business of a peddler as an ordinary wholesale business. "Peddler" shall include, but is not limited to, hawkers, itinerant vendors, and any retail dealers not having a fixed place of business.

Regulation 150-951(8). Peddler.

The definition of "peddler" includes but is not limited to the following vendors:

(1) Roadside vendors;

(2) Temporary stands;

(3) Sales made from motor vehicles;

(4) Farmers vending from locations removed from their farms.

Person includes an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, association, or other legal entity.

Regulation 150-951(9). Person.

As used in this article, the word "person" includes both natural persons or artificial persons, including corporations, partnerships, limited liability companies, estates, trusts, business trusts, syndicates, cities and parishes, municipalities, the state of Louisiana, any district or political subdivision, department or division thereof, any board, agency, or other instrumentality thereof, acting unilaterally or as a group or combination, as well as receivers, referees in bankruptcy, agricultural associations, labor unions, firms, co-partnerships, joint ventures, associations, singularly or in the plural, who have the legal right or duty whether explicit, implied or assumed, to perform any of the transactions described in this article.

Retail dealer to institutional consumers, for the purpose of this article, includes all businesses selling, at retail from a fixed place of business, merchandise to dairymen, cattlemen, or farmers, to federal, state, parish, or municipal governments or institutions, to educational or charitable institutions, to hospitals, manufacturers, public utility companies, processors, refiners, fabricators, contractors, severers of natural resources, carriers of freight or passengers, pipe lines, hotels, and restaurants provided that such sales constitute the major portion of the business.

Separate location, as used in section 150-955 of this article, exists unless a similar or associated type of business is operated as a unit under a single roof or on the same contiguous tract of land.

Regulation 150-951(11). Separate location.

The phrase "separate location" is defined to clarify license requirements as cited in section 150-955 (separate licenses required for each location, based on primary class of business). The definition covers situations in which a business owner conducts more than one business under one roof or on the same parcel of land. The owner needs only one license as long as the businesses are similar or of an associated nature. The key phrases in the definition are "similar or associated type of business" and "operated as a unit". Similar types of businesses would be retail and retail, service and service, wholesale and wholesale, whereas associated type of businesses would be retail and wholesale, retail and repair, retail and rental, etc. It should be noted that these operations must be operated as one unit.

The definition is not intended to cover mall or shopping center situations which are operated under one roof or on the same parcel of land.

In determining whether a business is operated as a unit, the following criteria should be met:

(1) Same ownership;

(2) A common set of books and records are to be maintained;

(3) The businesses must be held out to the general public as one unit (common trade name, common customer contact point, etc.);

(4) An interdependency exists.

Wholesale dealer, for the purpose of this article, except as specifically provided in this article, means any person who sells to other dealers who in turn resell.

(Code 1956, § 70-1; Ord. No. 19,937, § I, 12-1-00)

Sec. 150-952. Payment of tax.

(a) Except as otherwise expressly provided, there is hereby levied an occupational license tax for the year 1989 and for each subsequent year upon each person pursuing and conducting any business, trade, calling, profession or vocation within the city, which tax shall be due and payable to the tax collector as follows:

(1) In the case of any business which is subject to license under this article, commencing on or after January 1, 1989, the license tax shall be due and payable on such date of commencement.

(2) In the case of a business commenced prior to the effective date of the ordinance from which this article was derived, the license tax shall be due and payable on January 1, 1989.

(b) (1) Annually thereafter, all license taxes levied under this article shall be due and payable on January first of each calendar year for which the license is due, except that for a new business commencing after January first of any calendar year, the first license shall be due and payable on the date the business is commenced.

(2) All licenses unpaid after the last day of February of the calendar year for which they are due or, in the case of a new business, unpaid on the date such business is commenced shall be deemed delinquent and subject to the payment of delinquent interest and penalty. Delinquent interest and penalty shall be computed from March first of the calendar year for which they are due.

(c) For ongoing businesses which cease operation between January first and the last day of February of the current license year, the license for the year shall be based on their gross receipts for the prior year, divided by 365 and multiplied by the number of days in which they were in operation.

Regulation 150-952. Payment of tax.

Any person doing business within the city shall pay an initial occupational license tax on or before the day business begins.

Annually, thereafter, the license tax is due and payable on January 1 of each calendar year. The tax becomes delinquent on March 1, and subject to interest and penalties. Delinquent interest and penalties shall be computed from March 1 of the year due until paid.

In cases which involve initial [payment], it should be noted that the relief provided for under this section is only applicable during the periods of January first through the last day of February. The provisions of this section shall not apply to flat fee or per unit licenses. The rationale behind this is that these licenses are not based on gross sales or receipts and therefore, are not subject to proration.

(Code 1956, § 70-2; Ord. No. 19,937, § I, 12-1-00)

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:343.

Sec. 150-953. New business; license due upon commencement.

(a) No person shall commence any business within the city without first paying a tentative license tax and after obtaining the approval of the department of safety and permits. Within 40 days after commencing the business, each person shall compute in the manner provided by section 150-957 the balance of the license tax, if any, owed for the year in which the business is started and pay such tax balance. When the business is begun prior to July first of any year, the tentative tax shall be the minimum annual rate for the particular class of business in cases in which the tax is based on gross receipts, sales, fees, premiums or commissions, or the full annual rate in cases in which the tax is based on a specific amount per unit. When the business is begun on or after July first of any year, the tentative tax shall be one-half of the minimum annual rate or the specific amount per unit, as the case may be.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the Collector shall issue a temporary occupational license if the department of safety and permits issues a temporary alcohol permit in accordance with section 10-107 of this Code. The temporary occupational license period shall expire at the same time as the temporary alcohol permit. The provisions of this subsection (b) shall cease to be effective on July 1, 2027.

(Code 1956, § 70-3; Ord. No. 19,937, § I, 12-1-00; M.C.S., Ord. No. 30253, § 1, 3-27-25)

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:344.

Sec. 150-954. Change of ownership or lessee.

(a) The license is issued in the name of the person making application and paying the initial fee and is not transferable or assignable. If at any time during the license year a change of ownership takes place, the license period is from January first, to the date of sale or change of lessee. A "change of ownership" occurs when a business is sold or leased, and does not include changes in partnership or corporation shares.

(b) The new owner or lessee shall obtain another business license, as the license issued to the former owner or lessee is not transferable or assignable. The license period for the new owner or lessee covers the date of transfer of ownership or lease to December thirty-first of the license year. The collector shall be notified within ten days when a change is effected.

(Code 1956, § 70-4; Ord. No. 19,937, § I, 12-1-00)

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:345.

Sec. 150-955. Separate license required for each location, based on primary class of business.

Except as otherwise provided in this article, only one license shall be required for each place of business, and the license shall be based upon the classification of business which constitutes the major portion of the taxable annual gross sales and receipts. However, any person operating coin vending or weighing machines shall obtain only one license, regardless of the locations of the machines. However, a separate license shall be required for hotels, motels, rooming houses, and boarding houses. Such license shall be in addition to the license required if other classes of business are operated in conjunction with the hotel, motel, rooming house, or boarding house. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a food pop-up vendor need only obtain one license regardless of the number of different hosts' locations from which the vendor operates in accordance with provisions of section 110-218 et seq.

Regulation 150-955. Separate license required for each location, based on primary class of business.

For purposes of this section, the phrase "each place" (of business) shall have the same meaning and guidelines set forth under section 150-951(11) for "separate location". A separate location or place of business exists unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) There exists a similar or associated type of business,

(2) Operated, as related to the initial concern, as a unit, and

(3) Located under a single roof or on the same contiguous tract of land.

In addition to these guidelines, it should be noted that common ownership must exist, as this is the basis of the imposition of the tax. The license tax is imposed upon the "person" as defined under section 150-951(9), and the provisions for separate location are intended only to determine the number of licenses required to be obtained by each "person" commencing business.

This section also provides for operators of coin operated vending machines or weighing machines to obtain only one license regardless of the location of said machines. This does not cover amusement devices which are subject to license taxes set forth in section 150-969(d) of this article.

A separate license, however, will be required for hotels, motels, rooming houses, and boarding houses who operate other classes of businesses in addition to providing sleeping rooms to their guests. Clearly, by illustration, this suggests that these specified establishments who operate restaurant(s), lounge(s), etc. would be required to obtain a separate license for these classes of business. Be mindful, however, that in a situation where such an establishment would conduct a restaurant and lounge in conjunction with their hotel, motel, rooming house or boarding house operation, that one license would cover both the restaurant and the lounge activity since both are similarly classified for occupational license purposes. They would not be required to have separate licenses for the restaurant and for the lounge unless ownership were different or they were not operated under a single roof or on the same parcel of property.

(Code 1956, § 70-5; Ord. No. 19,937, § I, 12-1-00; M.C.S., Ord. No. 29188, § 3, 10-6-22)

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:346.

Sec. 150-956. Class of business.

In order to calculate the license fee for a business location at which business activities are carried on that fall under more than one tax basis schedule, gross receipts, fees, or commissions for each group of activities falling under each schedule must be compared. The rate for the schedule which constitutes the major portion of the gross receipts, fees, or commissions will be used. However, the total gross receipts, fees, or commissions for all business activities carried on at the business location, minus any applicable deductions, are applied to the schedule to compute the fee.

Regulation 150-956. Class of business.

By way of illustration but not limitation, a dealer with annual retail sales of $100,000.00 and annual wholesale sales of $50,000.00 would purchase one license based on gross receipts of $150,000.00 under the retail table.

(Code 1956, § 70-6; Ord. No. 19,937, § I, 12-1-00)

State law reference—Similar provisions, R.S. 47:347.

Sec. 150-957. Period used where gross receipts are the measure of the license.

(a) The basis for determining the amount of the annual licenses provided by this article, where the license is measured by gross receipts shall be as follows:

(1) If the business has been conducted previously by the same party, the annual gross receipts, gross fees, or gross commissions earned, whether received or accrued, during the preceding calendar year for which the license is issued shall be the basis for determining the amount of the annual license.

(2) If the business is begun during the calendar year for which the license is issued, the license for the year of commencement shall be based on the gross receipts, gross sales, gross premiums, gross fees, or gross commissions earned, regardless of whether received or accrued, during the first 30 days of business, multiplied by the number of months, or major fraction thereof remaining in the calendar year; however, any business which opens after June thirtieth of the year in question whose estimated gross receipts for the remainder of the year are less than one-half of the maximum gross revenue allowed in the minimum rate under the classification of the particular business, shall pay for the remainder of the year at one-half the minimum rate.

(3) If the business is begun less than 30 days before the end of the calendar year for which the license is to be issued, the tax shall be based on the gross receipts, gross sales, gross premiums, gross fees, or gross commissions earned, regardless of whether received or accrued, during the calendar year; however, one-half of the annual rate shall apply to such businesses whose gross receipts for the period operated during the calendar year is less than one-half of the maximum gross revenue allowed in the minimum rate under the classification of the particular business.

(4) The license tax of the business for the calendar year following that of commencement shall be based on the gross receipts, gross sales, gross premiums, gross fees, or gross commissions earned, regardless of whether received or accrued, during the previous year, divided by the number of days in operation during the year of commencement, and multiplied by 365.

(b) The date of beginning business for the purposes of this article shall depend upon the type of business involved, and shall be governed by regulations promulgated by the director of the department of finance according to law.

Regulation 150-957(b). Period used where gross receipts are the measure of the license.

The term "date of beginning business," for the purpose of calculating the license tax, shall be defined as follows:

(1) Tentative date of beginning business.

The taxpayer shall furnish to the collector the date on which the business is anticipated to begin and shall pay the tentative tax; if no date is given, the date of application shall be used.

(2) Actual date of beginning business.
