Sec. 843-3. License Required.

No person shall act as a second-hand dealer or junk dealer within the city limits of Cincinnati without first obtaining from the city manager or the city manager's designee a license to act as a second-hand dealer or junk dealer.

Nothing in this section is intended to apply to the sale or purchase of aluminum cans.

License Requirements for Second-Hand Dealers and Junk Dealers. Before an original license is issued for a second-hand dealer or junk dealer, the person seeking the license shall make application therefore with the city manager or city manager's designee. If the dealer owns or operates a store, facility, or yard, the dealer shall attach to the application an accurate plot plan of the area, showing the actual shape and dimensions of the lot or area to be used, and shall provide any other additional information that may be requested by the city manager or city manager's designee or director of buildings and inspections in determining whether the applicant should be granted the requested license. An application shall be approved by the director of buildings and inspections and the city police prior to granting a license and shall show that the applicant has complied with all city ordinances and rules and state laws regarding sales and purchasing, duties of dealers, licensing, zoning, drains, signs, driveways, fencing and barrier curbs. The city manager or city manager's designee shall be empowered to suspend, revoke, or deny reissuance of any existing license when it is shown through an investigation by the city police or buildings and inspections departments that the licensee has not complied with all city ordinances and rules and state laws regarding sales and purchasing, duties of dealers, licensing, zoning, drains, signs, driveways, fencing and barrier curbs.

Under no circumstances shall any license to operate a junk yard be issued or renewed until the fencing requirements section forth in Section 843-7 of this chapter have been met and the fence has, after completion, received final approval by the director of buildings and inspections. No license to operate a junk yard shall be renewed if, in the opinion of the director of buildings and inspections, the premises are not adequately fenced pursuant to Section 843-7 of this chapter. Anyone who operates a motor vehicle salvage lot on the same premises and who has obtained a license therefore shall not be required to also obtain a license under this chapter.

Sec. 857. Legislative Finding.

Council finds:

(a) That the provisions of Chapter 833 of the Cincinnati Municipal Code regulating distress merchandise sales are being circumvented by persons who purchase the stocks in trade of defunct business and conduct liquidation sales at the former places of business of such defunct businesses;

(b) That in most such sales the person conducting the sales represents to the public that the goods, wares and merchandise being sold have been purchased from the defunct business and that such goods, wares and merchandise are being sold at greatly reduced prices, whereas in reality most of the goods, wares and merchandise offered at such sales were never a part of the stock in trade of the defunct business but have been purchased by the person conducting the sale only for the purpose of being offered for sale at such sale;

(c) That misrepresentations with respect to the real retail value of the goods, wares and merchandise are commonplace and that many persons are being deceived and defrauded by such sales; and

(d) That the regulation of such sales is necessary to protect the public welfare.

Sec. 857-1-L. Liquidation Sale.

"Liquidation sale" shall mean any sale which the seller represents, either directly or indirectly, that any or all of the goods, wares or merchandise offered for sale are all or part of the former stock in trade of a defunct business which was theretofore conducted on the premises on which the sale is held. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, liquidation sale shall include any sale, in connection with which the seller represents that he is liquidating all or part of the stock in trade of a business previously conducted on the premises on which the sale is being held. Liquidation sale shall not include any sale coming within the purview of Chapter 833, Distress Merchandise Sales, of the Cincinnati Municipal Code.

(B) The landlord desires possession of the rental unit for immediate use as landlord's own abode; or

(C) The rental unit must be vacated in order to make necessary repairs; or

(D) The landlord plans permanently and immediately to remove the rental unit from the rental market.

(A) A copy of all rules and regulations concerning the use, occupancy and maintenance of the rental unit, appurtenances thereto, and the property of which the rental unit is a part, and

(C) Payment of a reduced security deposit, which amount shall be no more than fifty percent of the monthly rental rate charged for the subject rental unit.

(D) Prior to entering into a rental agreement, a landlord shall provide the tenant written notice of the available security deposit alternatives consistent with paragraph 871-11, "Notice to Tenants."

(F) The provisions of this paragraph 871-9(a)(8) shall not apply to a deposit placed with a landlord to secure the availability of a rental unit more than sixty days prior to the commencement of the rental period.

(9) A tenant who elects to provide rental security insurance in lieu of a required security deposit shall not be required to provide additional security or insurance coverage per claim in an amount greater than the amount required for security deposits.

(10) If the rental agreement includes a provision that authorizes the landlord to assess the tenant a fee for late payment of the monthly rent, the total amount of that late payment fee for any month may not exceed fifty dollars ($50.00) or five percent (5%) of the monthly contract rent, whichever amount is greater.

(11) The landlord shall not:

(A) Charge interest on a late fee;

(B) Impose a late fee more than one time on a tenant's single late payment of rent; or

(C) Impose a late fee on a tenant for the late payment or nonpayment of any portion of the rent for which a rent subsidy provider, rather than the tenant, is responsible for paying.

(b) In every rental agreement there shall be imposed upon the tenant the following obligations to the landlord:

(1) The tenant shall conform to the "Responsibilities of occupants" as set out in the Cincinnati - Ohio Basic Building Code and to the "Obligations of Tenant" as set out in Section 5321-05 of the Ohio Revised Code.

(2) The tenant shall tender the agreed rent at the agreed time and place, and in the agreed manner except:

(A) When the tenant has made any payment to a utility supplier for utility services to the rental unit which, by the rental agreement, is the obligation of the landlord, the tenant may deduct the amount of such payments from the rent.

(B) When the landlord has failed to comply with an order of state or local building, health, or fire officials within the time period specified in the initial order to the landlord, the tenant may make or cause to be made necessary repairs and deduct the reasonable cost thereof, including the cost of all necessary permits, from the rent due and owing in the next two consecutive 30 day rental periods. No tenant shall deduct more than two months' rent for the cost of repairs in any six-month period. No tenant shall undertake repairs without first obtaining the necessary permits from the Department of Buildings and Inspections. All repairs shall be made in compliance with the provisions of the Cincinnati - Ohio Basic Building Code.

(C) Whenever the building or a portion of the building of which the rental unit is a part is ordered vacated by governmental authority, the tenant shall vacate the rental unit and the duty of the tenant to pay rent shall be completely abated.

(3) The tenant shall obey all rules and regulations established by the landlord concerning the use, occupation, and maintenance of the rental unit, appurtenances thereto, and the property of which the unit is a part, if:

(A) The tenant has acknowledged receipt in writing of a copy of the rules and regulations prior to entry into the rental agreement, or has consented in writing to rules and regulations promulgated after commencement of the rental agreement, and

(B) The rules and regulations are reasonably related to the convenience, safety or welfare of the tenants of the property, or to the preservation of the property, or to the fair distribution of services and facilities held out for the tenants generally, and

(C) The rules and regulations are sufficiently explicit in their prohibition, direction, or limitation of the tenant's conduct to inform tenant of what must or must not be done to comply.

(c) In any eviction action (Complaint for Forcible Entry and Detainer) brought by a landlord under Ohio Revised Code Chapter 1923 for nonpayment of rent involving a residential rental property, the tenant's tender of all past due rent; reasonable late fees, which late fees are governed by Sections 871-9(a)(10) and 871-9(a)(11); court costs; and reasonable attorney fees, not to exceed $125.00, whether tender is made before or after the filing of the eviction action, so long as tender is made no later than at the municipal court eviction hearing, shall constitute an affirmative defense.

(1) For purposes of this section, "tender" shall mean payment of or the provision of a voucher from an accredited social service, nonprofit, governmental, or quasi-governmental agency that guarantees the payment of any and all past due rent, reasonable late fees, court costs, and, where applicable, reasonable attorney's fees. Such tender shall be made to the landlord in any lawful form agreed upon by the landlord, any form provided for by state law, or any form approved of by a court with jurisdiction over the eviction action. Where a tenant provides payment to a landlord in the form of a cashier's check, money order, certified check, or cash in an amount which covers all past due rent, reasonable late fees, court costs, and, where applicable, reasonable attorney's fees, such payment shall also constitute "tender" for purposes of this section.

(d) Except as specifically provided in Section 871-9 or any other section of this chapter, all obligations of landlords and tenants under this chapter shall be interpreted as independent obligations and the duty of a tenant or landlord to meet the obligations under this chapter shall not be conditioned upon the performance of obligations by the other party to the rental agreement.

Sec. 871-14. Landlord's Obligation to Provide Tenant Relocation Assistance.

(a) Relocation assistance required. If a tenant household is or will be displaced as a result of the issuance of a vacate order by the director of buildings and inspections or the board of health due to uninhabitable or unsafe living conditions that are the result of intentional or unintentional neglect or deferred maintenance by the landlord, the landlord shall provide relocation assistance to the displaced tenant household. The relocation assistance shall be provided in addition to any damages or other amounts to which the tenant may otherwise be entitled by law.

This section does not apply if the landlord either provides alternative or temporary housing that complies with the applicable provisions of the Cincinnati Municipal Code or demonstrates the existence of another exception under section 871-14(b). The director of buildings and inspections is hereby authorized to establish rules and regulations as are necessary and appropriate to the administration of this section. Such rules and regulations shall include, but not be limited to, minimum size requirements of proposed alternative or temporary housing.

Relocation assistance shall be provided as follows:

(1) Within three business days of the issuance of a vacate order, the landlord shall pay a relocation amount of $2,500 to each tenant household impacted by the vacate order and shall refund any prepaid rent and/or security deposit remitted to the landlord by the tenant household; and

(2) If more than three business days have passed since the issuance of the vacate order and the landlord has not provided the relocation assistance required by section 871-14(a)(1), the tenant may claim in a court action against the landlord the greater of either the relocation assistance provided in section 871-14(a)(1) or the following amounts:

(A) A refund of any and all prepaid rent;

(B) A refund of the full balance of the current month's rental payment;

(C) A refund of any security deposit;

(D) Payment or repayment of the reasonable and necessary costs of the tenant household's relocation costs, such as moving company or rental moving van expenses, with such payments limited to relocations within a fifty mile radius;

(E) Payment or repayment of the tenant household's fees for normal and initial reconnection of any utilities at the tenant household's new residence, not including arrearage due and owing to the utility company by the tenant household; and

(F) Any and all reasonable and necessary local hotel and/or motel costs incurred by the tenant household if the tenant household is given less than thirty days' notice to vacate their rental unit. The landlord's obligation to each tenant household to reimburse for such hotel or motel costs is limited as follows:

i. the landlord shall be obligated to payment of no more than fourteen days of a tenant household's hotel or motel stay, and

ii. the amount of hotel or motel costs for which the landlord shall be obligated to reimburse to the tenant household shall not exceed the average daily rate, including taxes, which hotels and motels located in the City customarily charge for comparable accommodations.

(3) If any tenant household is given less than seven days' notice to vacate a rental unit, the landlord shall provide a one-time payment of $50.00 per tenant, but no more than $300.00 total, to the tenant household to cover the tenant household's cost to replace food and other incidental items.

(b) Exceptions. If the landlord can demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence the existence of one of the following, the landlord shall not be liable to pay relocation assistance:

(1) The vacate order is the direct result of conditions caused by the tenant or the tenant's guest or invitee;

(2) The vacate order is the direct result of disconnection of utilities for nonpayment and the tenant has agreed in a written lease to assume responsibility for payment of the account(s);

(3) The vacate order results from conditions arising from a natural disaster including, but not limited to, a windstorm, tornado, landslide, earthquake, or flood;

(4) The landlord has obtained an active judgment against the tenant household for possession of the rental unit;

(5) The vacate order is rescinded or withdrawn or is overturned by a court prior to the time the tenant household has taken definitive steps to move;

(6) The landlord and tenant household reach a separate agreement regarding relocation, provided that the relocation premises comply with the applicable provisions of the Cincinnati Municipal Code and the terms of the agreement otherwise comply with applicable provisions of the Ohio Revised Code and Cincinnati Municipal Code governing landlord and tenant agreements; or

(7) The landlord has moved the tenant household into another unit or building after the tenant has voluntarily agreed to accept the replacement unit in lieu of payment for relocation under this section and the replacement unit complies with all applicable zoning, building, and housing codes.

(c) Rental of vacant and uninhabitable rental units prohibited. If a rental unit is or becomes vacant because vacate orders have been issued due to uninhabitable living conditions, a landlord shall not enter into a rental agreement for the rental unit or allow new tenants to occupy the vacant rental unit until the conditions are corrected.

(d) Director's involvement in relocation assistance. The director of buildings and inspections may provide the relocation assistance required by the landlord under section 871-14(a) to tenant households if the landlord fails or refuses to pay for required relocation costs. If the director provides relocation assistance to a tenant household because of the landlord's failure to comply with its obligation under section 871-14(a), the landlord shall be liable to the city for any and all such costs.

(e) Penalties.

(1) Renting vacant and uninhabitable rental unit. If a landlord knowingly violates section 871-14(c) and rents a vacant and uninhabitable rental unit, in addition to being liable for the relocation assistance set forth in section 871-14(a), the tenant renting a vacant and uninhabitable rental unit may also recover from the landlord either two months periodic payments of rent or up to three times the actual damages the tenant household sustained as a result of the violation, whichever is greater.

(2) Failure to provide relocation assistance or repay relocations costs.

(A) A landlord's failure to provide relocation assistance in accordance with section 871-14(a) or to repay costs incurred by the director in providing relocation assistance in accordance with section 871-14(d) shall constitute a class D civil offense under Section 1501-9(a) for every tenant household displaced.

(B) Each and every day on which a landlord continues to violate section 871-14(a) shall constitute a separate offense.

(f) Appeals.

(1) Administrative Ruling. A landlord who has a controversy with the city as to the interpretation or application of this section may seek a written determination from the director pursuant to Section 1101-80 of the Cincinnati Building Code.

(2) Appeal of Director's Ruling. A landlord aggrieved by an order of the director made pursuant to this section may appeal the order to the Board of Housing Appeals in accordance with Section 1101-83 of the Cincinnati Building Code.

(a) The obligations imposed upon landlords and tenants under this chapter, including the duty of the landlord to maintain the rental unit in substantial compliance with the Cincinnati Building Code, the Cincinnati Fire Prevention Code, and the Regulations of the Board of Health confer in the other party to a rental agreement a concomitant right to enforce those obligations. A landlord or tenant may bring an action for mandatory or injunctive relief to secure compliance with these obligations.

(b) A landlord or tenant may recover damages, including damages for injury to person or property, for the breach of any obligation imposed by this chapter.

The tenant shall show that a city official has ordered the landlord to make repairs to the building, that such order has not been complied with within the time allotted for compliance, and that there is a pattern of neglect of the building on the part of the landlord. The tenant shall also show that the orders are for the correction of conditions which are in violation of the Cincinnati Building Code, the Cincinnati Fire Prevention Code, the Regulations of the Board of Health, or related laws and ordinances. Finally, the tenant shall show that the conditions of the building impose a serious threat to the life, health, or safety of the occupants.

(e) Upon appointment, a receiver shall collect all rents for the building due the landlord for a period not to exceed six months and use the sums collected for the purpose of correcting violations of the Cincinnati Building Code or for such other purposes authorized by the court. (f) A receiver may be allowed out of the rents collected a fee for services. The fee allowed shall be as determined reasonable by the court but shall not exceed 20 percent of the amount actually and reasonably expended for repairs.

(1) Use the retaliatory action of the landlord as a defense to an action by the landlord to recover possession of the premises;

(2) Recover possession of the premises; or

The outdoor advertising construction permit is required in addition to a building permit and any other permit or license required by law or ordinance. The fee for an outdoor advertising construction permit is $70.00 for each outdoor advertising sign face. An outdoor advertising construction permit may not be issued unless approved by the director as conforming to this chapter and all other applicable codes.

The director has the duty to inspect the construction of outdoor advertising signs. Sec. 895-15. Cap and Replace.

In order that the total face area and number of faces of all lawful outdoor advertising signs within the business districts and the city not be increased, no person shall construct an outdoor advertising sign without first removing outdoor advertising signs equal in face area and number of faces. In order to administer this provision, the director of buildings and inspections shall issue a replacement permit to any person who permanently removes a lawfully existing outdoor advertising sign and any supporting structure that has been inspected pursuant to this chapter and found to be fully complying with this chapter and all other applicable codes. The director shall note on the replacement permit the number of faces and face area, up to a maximum of 672 square feet, and the zone district in which the sign was located for every sign face removed. Replacement permits may be transferred. No outdoor advertising sign construction permit shall be issued unless the applicant tenders for cancellation replacement permits with a total face area and number of faces noted of at least the area and number of the sign or signs to be constructed.

Sec. 895-19. Annual Outdoor Advertising Sign Permit Renewal.

By December 31 of every other year beginning in 2002, every person displaying an outdoor advertising sign must apply to the director of buildings and inspections for renewal of every outdoor advertising permit for each outdoor advertising sign being displayed. Renewal may be based on an owner's certification of compliance filed with the director in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section or inspection by the director in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(a) A person displaying an outdoor advertising sign may file with the director a verified certification that each sign displayed by the person is being displayed and maintained in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The certification must be made on a form prescribed by the director and filed with the director by December 31. The certification must be based on inspection of each sign by the applicant made within 30 days of the certification. The person displaying an outdoor advertising sign must keep on file and make available for inspection on demand by the director a written record of each inspection made. The fee for renewal of an outdoor advertising sign permit based on an owner's certification of compliance is $20.00 for each sign face.

(b) A person displaying an outdoor advertising sign may apply to the director for inspection of the sign. Application must be made on a form prescribed by the director and timely filed. The director has the duty to inspect each sign and determine if it is being displayed and maintained in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The fee for renewal of an outdoor advertising sign permit based on inspection by the director is $40.00 for each sign face.

(c) In the event a person displaying an outdoor advertising sign fails to apply for renewal and either file a certification pursuant to paragraph (a) or apply to the director for inspection pursuant to paragraph (b) in a timely manner, the director has the duty to inspect each sign and determine if it is being displayed and maintained in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The fee for renewal of an outdoor advertising sign permit based on inspection by the director made pursuant to this paragraph is $50.00 for each sign face. If the person displaying an outdoor advertising sign fails to pay the inspection fee and correct any violations within the time provided by the director that person is subject to penalty as provided in § 895-99.

(d) If the director finds that a person has falsely certified that signs displayed by the person are being displayed and maintained in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, the director has the duty to reject the certification, require the applicant to file for renewal pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and disqualify that person from renewing permits based on filing an owner's certification of compliance. A person so disqualified will remain disqualified for five years unless reinstated pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section.

(e) A person disqualified pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section may request a hearing before the director to present evidence that the certification was correct or that the false statements were inadvertent or the result of careless error. For purposes of this Section, any designee of the City Manager shall not be the City Treasurer or an employee in the Office of the City Treasurer. (b) When a decision to deny, suspend or revoke a license becomes final, the applicant or licensee whose application for a license has been denied or whose license has been suspended or revoked shall have the right to challenge such action in a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to Ohio Revised Code Section 2506 or pursuant to any other procedure available at law. Any suspension or revocation of a sexually oriented business license or a sexually oriented business employee license does not take effect until the trial court adjudicating the challenge to the suspension or revocation issues a final decision on said challenge.

Immediately upon the filing of a court challenge to a license denial, the City Trea-

(3) No alteration in the configuration or location of a manager's station or viewing room may be made without the prior approval of the City Treasurer.

(8) It shall be the duty of the operator, and of any employees present on the premises, to ensure that no openings of any kind exist between viewing rooms. No person shall make an attempt to make an opening of any kind between viewing rooms.

(9) It shall be the duty of the operator, or of any employee who discovers two or more patrons in a viewing room or discovers any person making or attempting to make an opening of any kind between viewing rooms, to immediately escort such persons from the premises.

(10) It shall be the duty of the operator, or of any employee, who discovers an opening of any kind between viewing rooms to immediately secure such rooms, and prevent entry into them by any patron until such time as the wall between the rooms has been repaired to remove the opening. (11) It shall be the duty of the operator, during each business day, to regularly inspect the walls between viewing rooms for openings of any kind.

(12) It shall be the duty of the operator, and of any employee on the premises, to initiate and enforce a no loitering policy in viewing rooms.

(14) It shall be the duty of the operator to ensure that floor coverings in viewing rooms are nonporous, easily cleanable surfaces, with no rugs or carpeting.

(15) It shall be the duty of the operator to ensure that all wall surfaces and seating surfaces in viewing rooms, or any room or area providing patron privacy are constructed of, or permanently covered by nonporous easily cleanable material.

(16) It shall be the duty of the operator to ensure that premises are clean and sanitary at all times. Cleaning procedures shall include all of the following:

(i) The operator shall maintain a regular cleaning schedule, documented by appropriate logs, and shall employ sufficient personnel to assure the establishment is clean.

(ii) The operator shall provide an employee to check all areas for garbage, trash, body fluids and excrement and to remove and clean all areas with a disinfectant. All solid waste generated by the business shall be collected from the premises for disposal at a lawful solid waste disposal facility at least twice each week. Prior to collection solid waste shall be stored in a manner that prevents access by animals or members of the public and which will not facilitate the creation of a health nuisance.

(iii) Thorough cleaning of the entire interior of any room providing patron privacy shall be done using a disinfectant. Cleaning shall include floors, walls, doors, seating, monitors, video cameras, and windows and other surfaces.

(17) It shall be the duty of the operator to ensure any seating within a viewing room is designed so as to accommodate one person only.

(19) The interior of the premises shall be configured in such a manner that there is an unobstructed view from a manager's station of every area of the premises, including the interior of each viewing room but excluding restrooms, to which any patron is permitted access for any purpose. station shall not exceed 32 square feet of floor area. If the premises has two or more manager's stations designated, then the interior of the premises shall be configured in such a manner that there is an unobstructed view of each area of the premises to which any patron is permitted access for any purpose from at least one of the manager's stations. The view required in this paragraph must be by direct line of sight from the manager's station. It is the duty of the operator to ensure that at least one employee is on duty and situated in each manager's station at all times that any patron is on the premises. It shall be the duty of the operator, and it shall also be the duty of any employees present on the premises to ensure that the view area specified in this paragraph remains unobstructed by any doors, curtains, walls, merchandise, display racks or other materials or enclosures at all times that any patron is present on the premises.

(b) It shall be unlawful for a person having a duty under this section to knowingly fail to fulfill that duty.

The City Solicitor is hereby authorized to institute civil proceedings necessary for the enforcement of this Chapter 899 to restrain or correct violations hereof. Such civil proceedings, including injunction, shall be brought in the name of the city, provided, however, that nothing in this section and no action taken thereunder, shall be held to exclude such criminal proceedings as may be authorized by this code, or any of the laws or ordinances in force in the city or to exempt

Whoever is convicted of or pleads guilty to a misdemeanor not specifically classified for which a specific penalty has been provided shall be imprisoned or fined in accordance with the provisions of the applicable section.
(C.M.C. 902-5; ordained by Ord. No. 523-1973, eff. Jan. 1, 1974; a. Ord. No. 273-1974, eff. June 12, 1974; a. Ord. No. 224-2004, eff. June 23, 2004)

For purposes of Sections 902-7 and 902-8 of the Cincinnati Municipal Code, Organizations shall mean a corporation for profit or not for profit, partnership, limited partnership, joint venture, unincorporated association, estate, trust, or other commercial or legal entity. "Organization" does not include an entity organized as or by a governmental agency for the execution of a governmental program.

(C.M.C. 902-6; ordained by Ord. No. 250-1979, eff. July 13, 1979)

Analogous to C.M.C. 901-1-01; ordained by Ord. No. 523-1973, eff. Jan. 1, 1974; r. Ord. No. 424-1977, eff. Nov. 25, 1977.

Sec. 902-7. Criminal Liability for Organizations, Officers, Agents and Employees.

(a) Organizational liability. An organization may be convicted of an offense under any of the following circumstances:

(1) The offense is a minor misdemeanor committed by an officer, agent, or employee of the organization acting in its behalf and within the scope of such person's office or employment, except that if the section defining the offense designates the officers, agents, or employees for whose conduct the organization is accountable or the circumstances under which it is accountable, such provisions shall apply.

(2) A purpose to impose organizational liability plainly appears in the section defining the offense, and the offense is committed by an officer, agent, or employee of the organization acting in its behalf and within the scope of such person's office or employment, except that if the section defining the offense designates the officers, agents, or employees for whose conduct the organization is accountable or the circumstances under which it is accountable, such provisions shall apply.

(3) The offense consists of an omission to discharge a specific duty imposed by law on the organization.

(4) If, acting with the kind of culpability otherwise required for the commission of the offense, its commission was authorized, requested, commanded, tolerated, or performed by the board of directors, trustees, partners, or by a high managerial officer, agent, or employee acting in behalf of the organization and within the scope of such person's office or employment.

When strict liability is imposed for the commission of an offense, a purpose to impose organizational liability shall be presumed, unless the contrary plainly appears.

In a prosecution of an organization for an offense other than one for which strict liability is imposed, it is a defense that the high managerial officer, agent, or employee having supervisory responsibility over the subject matter of the offense exercised due diligence to prevent its commission.

The defense is not available if it plainly appears inconsistent with the purpose of the section defining the offense.

(b) Personal accountability for organizational conduct. An officer, agent, or employee of an organization may be prosecuted for an offense committed by such organization, if such person acts with the kind of culpability required for the commission of the offense, and any of the following apply:

(1) In the name of the organization or in its behalf, such person engages in conduct constituting the offense, or causes another to engage in such conduct, or tolerates such conduct when it is of a type for which such person has direct responsibility;

(2) Such person has primary responsibility to discharge a duty imposed on the organization by law, and such duty is not discharged.

When convicted of an offense by reason of this section, a person is subject to the same penalty as if such person had acted in his own behalf.

(c) Organizational penalties. Regardless of the penalties provided in Section 902-5 of the Cincinnati Municipal Code, an organization convicted of an offense pursuant to this section shall be fined, which fine shall be fixed by the court as follows:

(1) For a misdemeanor of the first degree, not more than five thousand dollars;

(2) For a misdemeanor of the second degree, not more than four thousand dollars;

(3) For a misdemeanor of the third degree, not more than three thousand dollars;

(4) For a misdemeanor of the fourth degree, not more than two thousand dollars;

(5) For a minor misdemeanor, not more than one thousand dollars;

(6) For a misdemeanor not specifically classified, not more than two thousand dollars;

(7) For a minor misdemeanor not specifically classified, not more than one thousand dollars.

When an organization is convicted of an offense not specifically classified, and the section defining the offense or penalty plainly indicates a purpose to impose the penalty provided for violation upon organizations, then such penalty shall be imposed in lieu of the penalty provided in this section.

When an organization is convicted of an offense not specifically classified, and the penalty provided includes higher fine than that provided in this section, then the penalty imposed shall be pursuant to the penalty provided for violation of the section defining the offense.

This section does not prevent the imposition of available civil sanctions against an organization convicted of offense pursuant to this section, either in addition to or in lieu of a fine imposed pursuant to this section.
(C.M.C. 902-7; ordained by Ord. No. 523-1973, eff. Jan. 1, 1974; a. Ord. No. 250-1979, eff. July 13.1979)

State law reference—See ORC 2901.23, 2901.24, 2929.31.

Sec. 902-8. Summons and Appearance of Organizations.

Whenever an affidavit is filed in the Hamilton County Municipal Court charging any organization with the violation of any ordinance of the city of Cincinnati, the clerk of the municipal court shall issue a summons to the chief of police, or any bailiff of the court, which summons shall read as follows:

"To the chief of police of the city of Cincinnati, or to _____, bailiff: You are hereby commanded to summon _____ to appear in the Hamilton County Municipal Court on the _____ day of _____ A.D. 19____, at _____ a.m., to answer the charge of which has been preferred against it in said municipal court, upon the oath and affirmation of _____ and of this summons you will make due return.

"Witness my hand and seal of said court this _____ day of _____, A.D. 19____."

The summons shall be returnable on the 28th day after its date. The summons, with a copy of the affidavit, shall be served and returned in the manner provided by law for service upon such organization in civil actions in the common pleas court. The organization may, on or before the return day of the summons duly served, appear by one of its officers, or by counsel, and answer to the affidavit by motion or plea. Upon failure to make such appearance and answer the court shall enter a plea of not guilty, and upon such appearance being made or plea entered the organization shall be deemed thenceforth continuously present in said court until the case is finally disposed of. Service shall be such as is provided in Rule 4 of the Ohio Rules of Criminal Procedure. The time and manner of service shall be indorsed on the original summons.

(C.M.C. 902-8; ordained by Ord. No. 287-1974, eff. June 19, 1974)

Analogous to C.O. 903-7; r. Ord. No. 523-1973, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.

Sec. 902-11. Criminal Liability.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, a person is not guilty of an offense unless both of the following apply:

(1) Such person's liability is based on conduct which includes either a voluntary act, or an omission to perform an act or duty which such person is capable of performing;

(2) Such person has the requisite degree of culpability for each element as to which a culpable mental state is specified by the section defining the offense.

(b) When the section defining an offense does not specify any degree of culpability, and plainly indicates a purpose to impose strict criminal liability for the conduct described in such section, then culpability is not required for a person to be guilty of the offense. When the section neither specifies culpability nor plainly indicates a purpose to impose strict liability, recklessness is sufficient culpability to commit the offense.

(c) For the purpose of this section possession is a voluntary act if the possessor knowingly procured or received the thing possessed, or was aware of the possessor's own control thereof for a sufficient time to have ended possession. Reflexes, convulsions, body movements during unconsciousness or sleep, and body movements that are not otherwise a product of the actor's volition, are involuntary acts.
(C.M.C. 902-11; ordained by Ord. No. 523-1973, eff. Jan. 1, 1974; a. Ord. No. 250-1979, eff. July 13, 1979)

State law reference—See ORC 2901.21.

Sec. 902-13. Attempt.

No person, purposely or knowingly, and when purpose or knowledge is sufficient culpability for the commission of an offense, shall engage in conduct which, if successful, would constitute or result in the offense.

It is no defense to a charge under this section that, in retrospect, commission of the offense which was the object of the attempt was impossible under the circumstances.

No person who is convicted of committing a specific offense or of complicity in the commission of such offense, shall be convicted of an attempt to commit the same offense in violation of this section.

It is an affirmative defense to a charge under this section that the actor abandoned the effort to commit the offense or otherwise prevented its commission, under circumstances manifesting a complete and voluntary renunciation of criminal purpose.

Whoever violates this section is guilty of an attempt to commit an offense. An attempt to commit any misdemeanor is a misdemeanor of the next lesser degree than the misdemeanor attempted. In the case of an attempt to commit a misdemeanor of the fourth degree, an attempt is a minor misdemeanor. In the case of attempt to commit a misdemeanor not specifically classified, an attempt is a misdemeanor of the fourth degree. An attempt to commit a minor misdemeanor is not an offense under this section.

(C.M.C. 902-13; ordained by Ord. No. 523-1973, eff. Jan. 1, 1974; a. Ord. No. 250-1979, eff. July 13, 1979)

State law reference—See ORC 2923.02.

Sec. 902-15. Complicity.

No person, acting with the kind of culpability required for the commission of an offense, shall do any of the following:

(a) Solicit or procure another to commit the offense;

(b) Aid or abet another in committing the offense;

(c) Cause an innocent or irresponsible person to commit the offense.

It is no defense to a charge under this section that no person with whom the accused was in complicity has been convicted as a principal offender.

No person shall be convicted of complicity under this section unless an offense is actually committed, but a person may be convicted of complicity in an attempt to commit an offense in violation of Section 902-13 of the Cincinnati Municipal Code.

No person shall be convicted of complicity under this section solely upon the testimony of an accomplice, unsupported by other evidence.

It is an affirmative defense to a charge under this section that, prior to the commission of or attempt to commit the offense, the actor terminated the complicity, under circumstances manifesting a complete and voluntary renunciation of the actor's criminal purpose.

Whoever violates this section is guilty of complicity in the commission of an offense, and shall be prosecuted and punished as if the violator were a principal offender. A charge of complicity may be stated in terms of this section, or in terms of the principal offense.

Sec. 914-9. Complaint Procedure.

(A) Administration. The city manager or one or more persons designated by him as a Complaint Officer may conduct investigations, hearings, and conciliation, make determinations, issue orders and perform such duties as are necessary and appropriate to the administration of this chapter. The city manager is authorized to establish rules and procedures for the administration of this chapter.

(B) Complaints.

(1) Preliminary Investigation. Whenever it is charged in writing by a person or aggrieved organization, hereinafter referred to as "complainant", that any person, employer, employment agency, or labor organization, hereinafter referred to as the "respondent", has engaged in or is engaging in any unlawful discriminatory practice as defined in this chapter, the Complaint Officer may initiate a preliminary investigation. Such charge shall be filed within six months after the alleged unlawful discriminatory practice is committed.

If it is determined by the Complaint Officer after such preliminary investigation that it is not likely that an unlawful discriminatory practice has been or is being engaged in, the complainant and respondent shall be notified that it has been so determined, and that no other action will be initiated under this chapter.

(2) Informal Conciliation. If it is determined, after such preliminary investigation, that it is likely that an unlawful discriminatory practice has been or is being engaged in, the Complaint Officer may endeavor to eliminate such practice by informal methods of conciliation. If the Complaint Officer is satisfied that an alleged unlawful discriminatory practice of the respondent will be or has been eliminated, he may treat the complaint as conciliated and notify the complainant and respondent that no other action will be initiated under this chapter.

If informal methods of conciliation fail to effect the elimination of such alleged unlawful discriminatory practice and it is determined by the Complaint Officer that the alleged unlawful discriminatory practice is conduct over which the state and/or federal government has exercised jurisdiction and provided a mechanism for redress to an aggrieved party, the Complaint Officer shall notify the complainant and respondent that no other action will be taken pursuant to this chapter and will provide complainant with information relating to appropriate state or federal legislation and enforcement agencies which may have jurisdiction.

(3) Determination Hearing. If informal methods of conciliation fail to effect the elimination of such alleged unlawful discriminatory practice, and it is determined by the Complaint Officer that the state or federal government has not exercised jurisdiction and provided mechanism for redress, the Complaint Officer may cause to be served upon the respondent and complainant a notice of a determination hearing, notifying the respondent of a hearing at a time and place therein fixed to be held not less than 14 days after the service of such notice and stating the charges specified in the original charge against the respondent. If circumstances warrant, the Complaint Officer may serve such notice at any time during the complaint procedure.

The respondent shall have the right to appear at such hearing in person, and the complainant shall be a party to the proceeding.

No person shall be compelled to be a witness against himself in any determination hearing, formal or informal. In conducting any determination hearing as provided herein, the Complaint Officer may request the attendance as witness of any person believed to have knowledge or facts relevant to such hearing.

(4) Conciliation. If upon all the evidence presented, the Complaint Officer determines that respondent has engaged in, or is engaging in, any unlawful discriminatory practice under this chapter, whether against the complainant or others, the Complaint Officer may endeavor to eliminate such practice by way of conference and conciliation.

(5) Notice of Violation and Order to Cease and Desist. If conference and conciliation fails to effect the elimination of such unlawful discriminatory practice or to obtain conciliation of the matter, or if the Complaint Officer determines that efforts to conciliate would be futile, the Complaint Officer may issue a notice of violation and may issue an order to respondent to cease and desist the unlawful discriminatory practice.

The notice of violation and order to cease and desist of the Complaint Officer shall be served on the respondent and complainant, with notice that if the Complaint Officer determines that after 30 calendar days following service of its order the respondent has not eliminated or corrected the unlawful discriminatory practice, the Complaint Officer shall take action to refer the matter to the city manager or the city manager's designee for civil or criminal enforcement.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 490-1992, eff. Nov. 25, 1992)

The city manager is authorized to institute through the city solicitor in the name of the City of Cincinnati any appropriate civil enforcement proceedings.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 490-1992, eff. Nov. 25, 1992)

by such organization to promote the aims, purposes, or fraternal principles for which it is established or maintained.

This chapter does not apply to a religious corporation, association, educational institution, or society with respect to the employment of an individual of a particular religion to perform work connected with the carrying on by that religious corporation, association, educational institution, or society of its activities.

The term "affirmative action program" shall include any program administered by any private or public entity for the purpose of providing preferential treatment for those in a protected class.

Any practice which has a discriminatory effect and which would otherwise be prohibited by this chapter shall not be deemed unlawful if it can be established that such practice is not intentionally devised or operated to contravene the prohibitions of this chapter and can be justified by business necessity. Under this chapter, a "business necessity" exception is applicable only in each individual case where it can be proved by a respondent that, without such exception, such business cannot be conducted; a "business necessity" exemption cannot be justified by the factors of increased costs to business, business efficiency, the comparative characteristics of one group as opposed to another, the stereotyped characterizations of one group as opposed to another, and the preferences of co-workers, employers, customers, or any other person.

The provisions of Chapter 914 shall not apply to any act or charge of discrimination that is currently or was previously the subject of any state or federal civil, criminal or administrative proceeding.

Sec. 914-17. Severability.

Chapter 914 and each section and provision of said chapter thereunder, are hereby declared to be independent divisions and subdivisions and, notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provisions of said chapter, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid, the remaining sections or provisions and the application of such provision to any person or circumstances other than those to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby, and it is hereby declared that such sections and provisions would have been passed independently of such section or provision so known to be invalid.

1101-11.2.1 Alternative Construction: The provisions of this code are not intended to limit the appropriate use, in single, two and three family dwelling houses, of materials, appliances, equipment or methods of design or construction not specifically prescribed by this code, provided the director of buildings and inspections determines that the proposed alternate materials, appliances, equipment or methods of design or construction are at least equivalent to those prescribed in this code in regard to suitability, quality, strength, effectiveness, fire resistance, durability, dimensional stability, safety and sanitation.

Determination of equivalence shall be based on design or test methods or other such standards approved by the director. The director may require that evidence or proof be submitted to substantiate any claims of equivalency regarding a proposed alternate. The director may accept as supporting data to assist in this determination duly authenticated reports from the Building Officials and Code Administrators International, In.; Southern Building Code Congress International, Inc.; International Conference of Building Officials; the National Evaluation Service Committee of the Council of American Building Officials; and acceptance documents from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development or other approved authoritative sources. Such changes after approval shall be made a part of the construction documents and filed as such.

1101-25.2 Revisions after permit issuance: Except for minor changes as approved by the director of buildings and inspections, a separate permit shall be required for revisions to construction documents for which a permit has been granted and such revisions shall be considered as alterations or additions to an existing building.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996; a. Ord. No. 59-2002, eff. March 28, 2002)

Sec. 1101-27. Plans, Examination Of.

1101-27.1 Order of examination: The director of buildings and inspections shall examine plans for compliance with CBC in the order in which the plans are submitted to him for approval, unless otherwise consented to by the building owner or person in control of the building affected by deferred examination of his plans.

1101-27.2 Plans by architect or engineer: Plans certified by the registered architect or professional engineer who prepared the same as conforming to the requirements of CBC pertaining to design loads, stresses, strength, and stability, or other requirements involving technical analysis, need be examined by the director of buildings and inspections only to the extent necessary to determine conformity of such plans with other requirements of CBC.

1101-27.2.1. Standardized plans: Whenever plans for a building are substantially identical to the plans that have previously been approved by the director of buildings and inspections for compliance with Chapter 1115 CBC or OBC, the plans need only be examined by the director to the extent necessary to determine conformity with the site-dependent requirements of the CBC and OBC.

Exception: Amendment to the CBC or OBC renders the previous approval no longer appropriate.

1101-27.3 Maximum turnaround time: Not later than ten working days after the receipt of an application and plans for a permit to construct, enlarge, alter or repair a residential building having not more than 20 dwelling units, the director of buildings and inspections shall notify the applicant by mail:

(1) That the application has been approved and, upon the payment of the required fee, a permit will be issued; or

(2) That approval of the application for a permit is being withheld and the reasons therefor.

If the director of buildings and inspections does not mail the notice required by this section within the time prescribed, then the prescribed permit fee shall be waived.

Exception: This section shall not apply to applications for building permits which are subject to public hearing or which are subject to review of the historic conservation board.

1101-27.4 Plans and specifications for automatic sprinkler systems: Plans and specifications for automatic sprinkler systems shall:

(1) When submitted under the signature of an individual certified under § 3781.105 of the Ohio Revised Code, be processed in the same manner as plans and specifications submitted under the signature of a professional engineer registered under Chapter 4703 of the Ohio Revised Code. Any statistical data, reports, explanations, plan description, or information that would not also be required for a similar submission by a professional engineer or registered architect need not be submitted by a certified designer.

(2) If certified by a registered architect or professional engineer or individual certified under § 3781.105 of the Ohio Revised Code as conforming to requirements of OBC pertaining to design loads, stresses, strength, stability, or other requirements involving technical analysis, be examined by the director of buildings and inspections only to the extent necessary to determine conformity of such plans and specifications with other requirements adopted by the board under Chapters 3781 and 3791 of the Ohio Revised Code.

(3) Indicate thereon the individual installing the automatic sprinkler systems who shall be certified by the Fire Marshal pursuant to Section 3737.65 of the Ohio Revised Code. In the event that the installer is not known at the time of plan approval, partial plan approval shall be granted subject to subsequent submission by addendum of the name of the qualified installer prior to installation of any part of the automatic sprinkler systems.

Sec. 1101-29. Construction Documents, Approval Of.

1101-29.1 General: When the director of buildings and inspections finds that plans submitted to him for approval under § 1101-19 CBC conform to the applicable provisions of CBC, he shall endorse or stamp such plans as approved. The approval of plans under this section is a "license" and the failure to approve such plans as submitted within 30 days after filing or the disapproval of such plans is an "adjudication order denying the issuance of a license" requiring the opportunity for an "adjudication hearing" as provided by Sections 119.07 to 119.13 of the Ohio Revised Code and as modified by Sections 3781.031 and 3781.19 of the Ohio Revised Code. An adjudication order denying the issuance of a license shall specify the reasons for such denial.

1101-29.2 Nonconformance approval: When construction documents are submitted which do not conform with the requirements of the CBC and OBC. Such documents may be approved by the director of buildings and inspections provided such nonconformance is not considered to be a serious hazard and the owner or owner's representative or person in control subsequently submits revised construction documents showing evidence of compliance with the CBC and OBC. In the event such construction documents are not received within a reasonable length of time, not to exceed thirty days, the director of buildings and inspections shall issue an order revoking the permit.

1101-29.3 Conditional permits: When plans are submitted which cannot be approved under the provisions of § 1101-29.1 CBC, the director of buildings and inspections, may at the request of the owner or representative of the owner or person in control, issue a conditional permit when an objection to any portion of the plans or specifications results from conflicting interpretations of the Code, or compliance requires only minor modifications to the building design or construction. No conditional permit shall be issued where the objection is to the application of specific technical requirements of the Code or correction of the objection would cause extensive changes in the building design or construction. A conditional permit is a "conditional license" to proceed with construction or materials up to the point where construction or materials objected to by the director of buildings and inspections are to be incorporated into the building. The conditions objected to shall be in writing from the director of buildings and inspections which shall be an "adjudication order denying the issuance of a license," and may be appealed in accordance with § 3781.19 of the Ohio Revised Code. In the absence of fraud or a serious safety or sanitation hazard, all items previously examined shall be conclusively presumed to comply with Chapters 3781.and 3791.of the Revised Code, CBC and OBC Reexamination of plans shall be limited to those items in the adjudication order. A conditional permit is not a partial permit pursuant to § 1101-29.4 CBC.

1101-29.3.1 Conditional one, two and three family dwelling permits: When plans for a one, two and three family dwelling are submitted which cannot be approved under the provisions of § 1101-29.1 CBC, the director of buildings and inspections, may at the request of the owner or representative of the owner, issue a conditional permit when compliance requires only minor modifications to the building design or construction. By proceeding with construction under a conditional permit, the owner agrees to carry out the work in conformity with the CBC, and compliance with the CBC shall be determined by field inspection.

1101-29.4 Phased permits: The director of buildings and inspections may issue a partial permit for construction of a foundation or any other part of a building or structure before complete plans and specifications for the entire building or structure have been submitted, provided that such permits are issued for various stages in sequence of construction and that all information and data required by the Code for that portion of the building or structure has been submitted. The holder of a partial permit may proceed only to the point for which approval has been given, at his own risk and without assurance that approval for the entire building or structure will be granted.

1101-29.5 Permit limitations: Any permit issued by the director of buildings and inspections or the electrical inspection agency under the provisions of this Code, shall expire by limitation as provided in §§ 1101-29.5.1 through 1101-29.5.4 CBC.

1101-29.5.1 Applicable law: Permits shall be issued in accordance with all laws, codes and ordinances in effect at the time of original application, providing that the application is substantially complete and in a form which provides sufficient information to determine whether the proposed work complies with all applicable codes. Applications may be amended and drawings revised to reflect changes necessary to comply with applicable codes or to provide additional information as may be requested by the director of buildings and inspections. Furthermore, no application may remain pending for more than one year from the date of first application unless the application and plans are resubmitted prior to the one year expiration and such plans comply with all the applicable codes in effect at the time of resubmission and upon payment of the fees established under Section 1101-85. In any event, an application may not remain pending for more than two years from the date of first application.

1101-29.5.2 Permits other than to wreck: A permit for other than the wrecking of any building or structure shall expire by limitation if construction, erection, alteration, or other work has not commenced within 12 months from the date of permit issuance, provided however, that one renewal shall be granted for an additional 12-month period commencing upon expiration of the original permit, if requested by the owner or person in control prior to expiration of the permit and upon payment of the fees established under Section 1101-85.

Exception: Separate permits as required by § 1101-17.3 CBC issued concurrently with the building permit for the same address or same project shall not expire prior to the expiration of said building permit 1101-29.5.3 Work discontinued for six months: A permit for other than the wrecking of any building or structure shall expire by limitation if in the course of construction, work is delayed or suspended for more than six months, provided that two renewals shall be granted for six months each commencing upon expiration of the original permit or first renewal, if requested by the owner or person in control prior to expiration of the permit and upon payment of the fees established under Section 1101-85.

1101-29.5.4 Permits to wreck: The issuance of a permit to wreck any building or structure shall be subject to the provisions of §§ 1101-29.5.4.1 through 1101-29.5.4.2 CBC.

1101-29.5.4.1 Expiration of application: An application for a permit to wreck any building or structure shall expire by limitation when the permit has not been issued within 14 days from the date of notification to the applicant that the permit is ready to be issued.

1101-29.5.4.2 Expiration of permit to wreck: A permit to wreck any building or structure (including the associated excavation and fill permit when less than 1.000 cubic yards) shall expire by limitation when the work has not been completed within 120 days from the issuance, provided, however, that one renewal, which shall be valid for 30 days commencing upon written application made prior to the expiration of the original permit and payment of the fees established under Section 1101-85. Except for good cause, such as labor disputes or acts of God, no further extensions may be granted, and any further work shall be pursuant to a new application and permit.

Exception: Permits to wreck with extended expiration date: When the scope of work under a permit (including the associated excavation and fill permit when less than 1,000 cubic yards) to wreck is such that the work, using due diligence and labor and equipment appropriate to the scope of the work, cannot be completed within the periods provided in § 1101-29.5.4.2 CBC, an applicant may, prior to the first issuance of any permit to wreck, seek approval from the director of buildings and inspections for a permit to wreck with extended expiration date. The director may, at the time of first issuance of a permit to wreck, grant such additional time as may be reasonable, given the custom and practice of the wrecking trade, at no additional fee.

(1) Schedule a public hearing for the purpose of determining whether the building in question constitutes such a public nuisance that it should be demolished or repaired by governmental action;

(2) Send notices to all known parties of interest in the property, as determined from the official land records of Hamilton County, by certified mail not less than ten days prior to the public hearing;

(3) If the subject building contains any dwelling units, send electronic mail notification to the community council for the area within which the building is located, electronic mail notification to not-for-profit organizations known to be active in the rehabilitation of residential buildings in the neighborhood of the subject building, and any other entity or individual who has requested electronic mail notification. Such notification is contingent upon the relevant community councils, nonprofit organizations and other entities or individuals providing the director of buildings and inspections with electronic mail contact information;

(4) If the subject property is more than fifty (50) years of age, notify the urban conservator so that he can conduct a separate hearing to assess the building's historic significance;

(5) Post a copy of the notice of the public hearing on the subject building or premises not less than ten days prior to the public hearing;

(6) Publish the notice of the public hearing on the City of Cincinnati's website at least two weeks prior to the public hearing;

If the building and its premises are not brought into compliance with the foregoing standards within the time provided the hearing shall be resumed, and any bond that may have been posted forfeited and the proceeds applied to the demolition and restoration costs.

(1) The city has exhausted reasonable efforts to cause the building to be brought into compliance with the CBC; and to have been brought into compliance with the CBC without governmental action and the building is thereafter kept in compliance with the CBC for so long as the person retains any interest in the building.

(2) The subject building is a public nuisance under the standards of § 1101-63.1 CBC or because of age, obsolescence, dilapidation, deterioration, lack of maintenance or repair or any combination thereof constitutes a serious fire hazard, a serious health hazard, a substantial and unreasonable interference with the reasonable and lawful use and enjoyment of other premises within the neighborhood or a factor seriously depreciating property values in the neighborhood;

The city solicitor may accept title to real property from any person liable for demolition or repair costs under § 1101-57.7 CBC in whole or partial settlement of that liability on being advised by the city manager that the property can be used for municipal purposes or that the city can cause the property to be rehabilitated or redeveloped if title is acquired.

1101-57.9 Administrative Stay: The owner or person in control of any building subject to demolition under § 1101-57.1(1) and § 1101-57.4 CBC may apply to the director of buildings and inspections for a stay of the demolition. The owner or person in control shall give to the city treasurer a bond in amount equal to the costs of demolishing the building and restoring the premises to a safe condition as estimated by the director of buildings and inspections conditioned on the owner or person in control causing the subject building to be brought into compliance with the CBC. The director of buildings and inspections may grant a stay for a period not to exceed 90 days on finding that the delay in demolition will not pose an imminent peril to the public. The director of buildings and inspections may extend a stay for an additional 90 days on being satisfied that the owner or person in control is diligently causing the building to be brought into compliance with the CBC. If the owner or person in control fails to bring the building into compliance with the CBC within the period of the stay the bond shall be forfeited. The director of buildings and inspections shall then demolish or repair the building and restore the premises to a safe condition, free from any public nuisance, and certify the costs incurred to the city treasurer for payment.

1101-57.9.5 Stay of Demolition or Repair of Buildings Under Contract for Rehabilitation With the City: The owner or person in control of any building subject to demolition or repair under § 1101-57.1(1) and § 1101-57.4 CBC who has a contract in effect with the city for the rehabilitation of that building or who has applied to the city for rehabilitation assistance may apply to the director of buildings and inspections for stay of demolition or repair by governmental action. If the contract is in effect the director of buildings and inspections may issue the stay for as long as the owner is not in default of the contract. The director of buildings and inspections may issue a stay to a person who has applied to the city for rehabilitation assistance if the director of community and economic development endorses the application for stay and states that the city is likely to enter into a rehabilitation contract within the next 90 days. If the application is rejected the stay shall terminate.

(1) Any person who has a bona fide controversy with the interpretation, application, or enforcement of a law under the jurisdiction of the director may petition the director for a written decision, order, or adjudication as follows:

(a) The petition shall be on forms prescribed by the director.

(b) The petition shall be accompanied by the applicable fee.

(c) The petition may not relate to a decision, order, or adjudication that is the subject of a past or pending administrative appeal or legal action.

(d) The director shall dispose of the petition based upon the petitioner's written submissions, applicable laws, publicly available materials, and an inspection of the subject property if necessary; provided, however, the petitioner may be heard in person prior to final disposition of the petition by making the request in writing upon submission of the petition.

(e) If the director requests to inspect the subject property, the petitioner may refuse the request but the refusal may serve as a basis for the denial of the petition.

(f) The director shall issue a final written determination on the petition within 30 days from the date of its submission, which determination shall constitute a final, appealable adjudication of the controversy described in the petition.

1101-80.2 Suspension of Vacated Building Maintenance License Fees and Requirements. Any person subject to the provisions of Section 1101-77, "Obligations of Owners and Persons in Control of Vacated Buildings," may petition the director for an order suspending provisions of the CBC as follows:

(1) The director may suspend the obligation to pay vacant building maintenance license application fees under Section 1101-129, "Fees for Vacated Building Maintenance Licenses," for a period of one year provided the petitioner demonstrates to the satisfaction of the director that:

(a) The petitioner has a bona fide and viable plan to make the subject property safe for occupancy;

(b) The petitioner has the financial capacity to implement the plan;

(c) Payment of the fees will place an undue burden on the petitioner's ability to implement the plan; and

(d) The subject property does not pose an unreasonable hazard to emergency personnel and the health and safety of the public, including trespassers.

(2) The director may suspend the obligation to pay vacant building maintenance license application fees under Section 1101-129, "Fees for Vacated Building Maintenance Licenses," for a period of two years provided the petitioner demonstrates to the satisfaction of the director that:

(a) The petitioner meets all requirements of Section 1101-80.2(1);

(b) The petitioner has made one or more vacated or condemned structures within the City of Cincinnati safe for occupancy within the previous five year period; and

(c) The subject property is either (i) a Historic Landmark, or a building, structure, or premises located within a designated Historic District; or (ii) development of the subject property is infeasible within the following two years.

(3) The director may suspend one or more of the vacated building maintenance standards set forth under Section 1101-79.4, "Vacated Building Maintenance Standards," for a period of one year provided the petitioner demonstrates to the satisfaction of the director that:

(a) The literal and strict enforcement of the standard will cause unnecessary hardship; and

(b) Granting relief from enforcement of the standard will not violate the spirit and intent of the standard or create an unreasonable hazard to emergency personnel and the health and safety of the public, including trespassers.

(4) Upon receiving a request no earlier than 60 days prior to its expiration, the director may extend a suspension period issued under this section for a total duration not to exceed five years provided the petitioner demonstrates to the satisfaction of the director that:

(a) The petitioner has complied with applicable laws and conditions imposed by the director during the suspension period;

(b) The petitioner continues to meet the standards on which the suspension was ordered;

(c) For suspensions granted pursuant to subsections (1) and (2), the petitioner has made diligent efforts to implement its plan for making the subject property safe for occupancy but has been unable to do so for good cause; and

(d) The petitioner has demonstrated that the extension period requested is no longer than reasonably necessary to correct or repair the offending condition(s) affecting the subject property.

(5) Any petition filed pursuant to this section shall be made in the manner described in Section 1101-80.1.

1101-80.3 VBML Suspension Terms and Conditions.

(1) All suspensions issued under Section 1101-80.2 are subject to the following conditions:

(a) The petitioner shall maintain the subject property in a manner that does not pose an unreasonable hazard to emergency personnel and the health and safety of the public, including trespassers;

(b) The petitioner shall timely repair any condition that arises or is discovered during the suspension period that poses an unreasonable hazard to emergency personnel and the health and safety of the public, including trespassers;

(c) The petitioner shall make the subject property safe for occupancy prior to the expiration of the suspension period; and

(d) The petitioner shall permit the director to inspect the interior and exterior of the subject property based on an inspection schedule established by the director as necessary to ensure ongoing compliance with applicable laws and conditions.

(2) The director may impose additional conditions on a suspension issued under Section 1101-80.2 to the extent necessary to ensure the subject property is maintained in a manner that does not pose an unreasonable hazard to emergency personnel and the health and safety of the public, including trespassers, during the suspension period.

(3) The director may approve the assignment of an existing suspension to a subsequent purchaser or personal in control of the subject property upon determining that they meet the same standards on which the suspension was ordered. Upon approval, the purchaser or person in control shall have the same rights and responsibilities as the initial petitioner to whom the suspension was granted.

(4) The director may terminate a suspension at any time and levy all suspended fees upon determining that the petitioner knowingly violated applicable law or a condition imposed on the suspension. Fees reinstated under this section shall be a debt due and payable to the City within 30 days of the decision.

(5) The director shall certify to the petitioner that any fees suspended during the period are permanently waived upon determining the subject property has been made safe for occupancy.

1101-80.4 Appeals. Any person adversely affected by a final, appealable decision, order, or adjudication made pursuant to this Section may appeal the decision, order, or adjudication to the administrative body having jurisdiction over the subject matter of the decision, order, or adjudication.

(a) The decision, order, or adjudication is contrary to existing laws, rules or regulations;

(b) The decision, order, or adjudication is contrary to a fair interpretation or application of existing laws, rules or regulations; or

(c) That a variance from the provisions of the existing laws, rules or regulations, as applied to the subject property, will not be contrary to the public interest and literal enforcement of the provisions will result in unnecessary hardship.

1101-83.3 Decisions.

(1) All notices of decisions, orders, or adjudications reviewed by the board shall be presumed to be valid, and the burden shall be upon the appellant to prove otherwise.

Sec. 1101-85. Fees for Permits, Certificates, Licenses, Approvals, and Related Services.

1101-85.1 Fees in General: The Council shall establish by ordinance a schedule of fees for permits, certificates, licenses, approvals, administrative appeals, and related services required under the Cincinnati Building Code, except for those fees described in Section 1101-85.3 and Section 1101-85.4. No permit, certificate, license, or approval shall be issued by the director of buildings and inspections, and no administrative appeal shall be heard, until the fees established under this Section 1101-85 have been paid.

1101-85.2 Assessment of Fees: The director of buildings and inspections is hereby authorized to assess and collect the fees for permits, certificates, licenses, approvals, administrative appeals, and related services required under Cincinnati Building Code. The director of buildings and inspections shall determine the fees that apply to permits, certificates, licenses, approvals and related services and that determination shall be conclusive. The director of buildings and inspections shall render a receipt to a person making payment and the receipt shall state the amount and purpose for which a fee has been paid.

1101-85.3 Ohio Board of Building Standards Surcharge: The director of buildings and inspections shall assess and collect an Ohio Board of Building Standards surcharge fee as required by state law. The director shall remit the surcharge fee as required by state law.

1101-85.4 Outside Inspection Agency Fees: Fees for permits, certificates, licenses, approvals, and related services assessed by outside inspection agencies shall be established and collected by the respective agencies as compensation in full for their services.

1101-85.5 Application Extension Fee: When plans are resubmitted prior to the expiration date under Section 1101-29.5.1, the applicant at the time of re-filing shall pay an application extension for plans reviewed.

1101-85.6 Revision Fee: Revised plans are required when code deficiencies have been identified or when plans are so inadequate that a review cannot occur. All revisions to plans, including revisions to engineering changes, will be assessed a fee.

1101-85.7 Investigation Fee for Work Performed Without a Permit: The director of buildings and inspections shall conduct a special investigation of work performed prior to obtaining one or more permits, certificates, licenses, or approvals required by the Cincinnati Building Code. In connection with the investigation, the director of buildings and inspections shall assess and collect an investigation fee equal to the required permit, certificate, license, or approval fees for the work performed but not to exceed the maximum investigation fee established under this Section 1101-85.1. The investigation fee shall be in addition to the payment of the required fees and any other fees that may later accrue, and no portion of the investigation fee shall be refunded. The payment of the investigation fee shall not relieve any person from fully complying with the requirements of the Cincinnati Building Code in the execution of the work, nor from any other penalty prescribed herein.

1101-85.8 Permit Fees for Wrecking: Permit fees for wrecking buildings shall be based on the total floor area of the building. In computing total floor area, the floor areas of each story (except basement) shall be added together, using outside dimensions. Where a building has a story exceeding 15 feet in height, for the purpose of computing the total floor area, each 15 feet or fraction thereof of such story height shall be considered as a separate floor. A separate permit shall be required for each separate building.

1101-85.9 Fractions: Valuation estimates and area estimates that result in a fraction of the increment used to calculate fees established under this Section 1101-85 shall be rounded up to the next valuation increment or area increment. The following examples demonstrate the application of this rule:

Example 1: If the building permit fee schedule utilizes $1,000.00 increments and the valuation estimate for the work to be performed under the building permit is $3,500.00, the building permit fee shall be calculated based upon a valuation estimate of $4,000.00.

Example 2: If the tent permit fee schedule utilizes 10,000 square foot increments and the area estimate for the tent to be erected under the tent permit is 15,000 square feet, the tent permit fee shall be calculated based upon an area estimate of 20,000 square feet.

- $2,700 annually for properties that have been ordered vacated or kept vacant for at least two years but less than five years;

The fee shall be paid at the time of application and deposited in the building hazard abatement fund. Such rates shall go into effect upon the effective date of the ordinance which implements the fee structure contained in this section. Upon any initial application for a license, or upon the first renewal of a license following the implementation of the above-listed fee structure, all persons shall initially be required to pay the $900 fee, and will thereafter pay the designated annual fee based on the graduated rate listed herein.

The annual renewal date shall be the anniversary of the date notice of violation is given pursuant to Section 1101-61 CBC wherein the building or portion thereof was initially ordered to be vacated or kept vacant. Unpaid Late Fees shall be considered a debt collectible pursuant to Section 1101-129.3A.

1101-129.3A Fee as a Debt to the City: If the owner or person in control fails to pay the amount due for the license, for renewal of the license, or as a fine for being out of compliance with the vacant building requirements, said amount shall constitute a debt due and owing to the city, and the city may commence a civil action to collect such unpaid debt.

This Chapter of the CBC includes Chapters 4101:3-1 to 4101:3-13 of the Ohio Administrative Code, and collectively known as the Ohio Plumbing Code, for which the designation "OPC" may be substituted, with all amendments thereto, which is adopted and incorporated as part of the Cincinnati Plumbing Code, except for amendments, deletions and substitutions as set forth herein.

The performance of plumbing operations within, or in connection with buildings, are subject to the provisions of this Chapter.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996; repealed and reordained by Ord. No. 415-2001, eff. Dec. 19, 2001; a. Ord. No. 59-2002, eff. March 28, 2002)

Sec. 1105-03. Drainage Required.

The provisions of Section 1101.2 OPC are superseded by the following:

(a) Every building, except accessory buildings less than 800 square feet in area, must be equipped with gutters and downspouts connected to an approved sewer. Drains from roofs, sun decks, or promenades open to occupancy must be trapped when connected to a combined sewer. If there is no approved sewer, the downspout must be connected under the sidewalk to the street gutter, or the stormwater must be disposed of in an approved manner on the property. Where stormwater pipes discharge into a paved street gutter, there must be at least one length of cast-iron pipe at the gutter connection. The cast iron section must extend from the gutter to the back of the sidewalk or ten feet away from the gutter, whichever is greater. Subsurface water (e.g. foundation drains, sump lines, etc.) shall not discharge to a paved street gutter.

Exceptions: Where approved, stormwater from roofs and similar impervious surfaces is permitted to discharge to grade as follows:

(1) Stormwater may discharge to grade without gutters and downspouts for roof areas of less than 50 square feet over bay windows, entry stoops and similar projections;

(2) Stormwater may discharge to grade without gutters and downspouts for roof areas of less than 400 square feet where the points of discharge to a pervious ground surface is at least 10 feet from property lines and the flow of surface water is away from adjacent buildings;

(3) In instances where the property is not in a hillside overlay district and the Director of Sewers deems it advantageous to relieve the public sewer system by disconnecting downspouts or not connecting downspouts to the public sewer system, the following items will be considered in this determination:

i. The ground where the downspout will discharge will allow water to flow away from structures, driveways, sidewalks, alleys, roadways, and neighboring properties.

ii. The ground or containment area where the downspout will discharge is capable of accepting stormwater flow from a 10 year, 24 hour storm event with acceptable emergency overflow devices and standing water will be eliminated within 48 hours from the start of accumulation.

iii. The ground where the downspout will discharge is characterized by one of the following soil classifications as shown in the Soil Survey of Hamilton County, Ohio: Gn, Go, Hu, Ju, McA, McB, PbB2, PbC2, PbD, PbE, PcB, PcC, RwB2, RxB, UgB, UgC, Uh, UmB, UmC.

iv. Disconnected downspouts shall be SDR 35 or an approved equal and shall extend below grade at least six feet away from a basement, foundation, crawl space, or concrete slab. Approved splash blocks or permanent erosion control is required and cannot be part of the measurement. The outlet of the extension will be at least ten feet away from any property lines and retaining walls. Where downspout lines discharge into a paved street gutter there shall be at least one length (ten feet) of cast-iron pipe at the gutter connection. The cast iron section must extend from the gutter to the back of the sidewalk or ten feet away from the gutter, whichever is greater.

v. Downspout extensions will not discharge above oil tanks or septic systems.

vi. Any abandoned downspout stacks is sealed with a one inch thick concrete cap or an approved equal.

(b) All paved areas more than 800 square feet in area that do not have natural drainage on the same property shall be drained into an approved sewer. If there is no approved sewer the stormwater shall be disposed of in an approved manner on the property.

(c) When connected to a combined sewer, one trap may serve all connections described in this section. Traps shall be below the frost line or on the inside of the building.

(d) No pipe or pipes conveying rain or surface water shall be connected to a sanitary sewer and any such existing connections encountered or reported shall be disconnected by the owner of the premises and the rain and surface water disposed of in an approved manner. All such connections to sanitary sewers shall be disconnected when any plumbing alterations are made.

(e) Area drains and subsurface drains that discharge to the ground surface shall meet the same requirements outlined in section[s] (a)(3)i, ii, iii, iv, v.

(f) Rainwater collection, catchment and harvesting devices, such as rain barrels, may be installed outside of a building if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) Any such devices are equipped with an overflow that meets the requirements of this Chapter 1105; and

(2) All collected rainwater remains outside of the building or satisfies the requirements of Section 1105-08 below.

Sec. 1105-05. Storm Drains, Conductors and Leaders.

In single, two and three family dwelling houses that discharge to a combined sewer, a separation manhole shall not be required at the junction of the building storm drains and the building sewer outside the walls of such buildings. In lieu thereof, the two lines may be connected in the same horizontal plane by a "Y" fitting, located at least five feet outside the building, provided a trap with a cleanout is installed in the storm sewer upstream from the combined sewer.

Where stormwater pipes dispose into a paved street gutter there shall be at least one length of cast-iron pipe at the gutter connection. The cast iron section must extend from the gutter to the back of the sidewalk or ten feet away from the gutter, whichever is greater. (Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996; repealed and reordained by Ord. No. 415-2001, eff. Dec. 19, 2001; a. Ord. No. 057-2012, § 2, eff. March 29, 2012)

Sec. 1105-07. Size of Leaders and Storm Drains.

In addition to the provisions of Chapter 11 OPC, the following is required:

Drain gratings for driveways, parking lots, and other paved areas must be sized on the basis of 6500 square feet of paved area per one square foot of grating. Where used in grassy areas the grating area may be reduced to 35% of that required for paved areas. Such drains need not be trapped except that when connected to a combined sewer they may not be within ten feet of a building ventilation opening unless trapped. Outlets must be sized in accordance with Section 1106 OPC.

FLOOD DAMAGE REDUCTION*

Sec. 1109-1. General Provisions.
Sec. 1109-2. Administration.
Sec. 1109-3. Use and Development Standards for Flood Hazard Reduction.
Sec. 1109-4. Appeals and Variances.
Sec. 1109-5. Enforcement.
Sec. 1109-6. Definitions and Interpretation.

*__Editor's note—__Emer. Ord. No. 0715-2023, §§ 2, 3, adopted May 24, 2023, repealed ch. 1109 and enacted a new ch. 1109 as set out herein. Former ch. 1109 pertained to similar subject matter and derived from Ord. No. 035-2010, §§ 4, 5, adopted February 10, 2010; Emer. Ord. No. 238-2015, §§ 48, 49, effective July 1, 2015.

Sec. 1109-1. General Provisions.

1109-1.1. Authorization.

Article XVIII, Section 3 of the Ohio Constitution grants municipalities the legal authority to adopt land use and control measures for promoting the health, safety, and general welfare of its citizens. The city of Cincinnati participates in the Federal Emergency Management Agency's ("FEMA") National Flood Insurance Program ("NFIP"), which makes flood insurance available to residents, business, and property owners. The Council of the city of Cincinnati enacts chapter 1109 of the Cincinnati Building Code ("CBC") to maintain the city's eligibility for the NFIP.

1109-1.2. Findings of Fact.

The city has special flood hazard areas that are subject to periodic inundation which may result in loss of life and property, health and safety hazards, disruption of commerce and governmental services, extraordinary public expenditures for flood protection and relief, and impairment of the tax base. Additionally, structures that are inadequately elevated, floodproofed, or otherwise protected from flood damage contribute to flood losses. This chapter is adopted to minimize the threat of such damages and to achieve the purposes hereinafter set forth.

1109-1.3. Statement of Purpose.

It is the purpose of this chapter to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare, and to:

A. Protect human life and health;

B. Minimize expenditure of public money for costly flood control projects;

C. Minimize the need for rescue and relief efforts associated with flooding and generally undertaken at the expense of the general public;

D. Minimize prolonged business interruptions;

E. Provide for a fair and efficient process for orderly development within areas of potential flooding;

F. Minimize damage to public facilities and utilities such as water and gas mains; electric, telephone, and sewer lines; streets; and bridges located in areas of special flood hazard;

G. Help maintain a stable tax base by providing for the proper use and development of areas of special flood hazard so as to protect property and minimize future flood blight areas;

H. Ensure that those who occupy the areas of special flood hazard assume responsibility for their actions;

I. Minimize the impact of development on adjacent properties within and near flood prone areas;

J. Ensure that the flood storage and conveyance functions of the floodplain are maintained;

K. Minimize the impact of development on the natural, beneficial values of the floodplain;

L. Prevent floodplain uses that are either hazardous or environmentally incompatible; and

M. Meet community participation requirements of the National Flood Insurance Program.

1109-1.4. Methods of Reducing Flood Loss.

To achieve the purposes set forth in Sec. 1109-1.3, this chapter includes provisions for:

A. Restricting or prohibiting uses which are dangerous to health, safety, and property due to water hazards, or which result in damaging increases in flood heights or velocities;

B. Requiring that uses vulnerable to floods, including facilities that serve such uses, be protected against flood damage at the time of initial construction;

C. Controlling the alteration of natural floodplains, stream channels, and natural protective barriers, which help accommodate or channel flood waters;

D. Controlling filling, grading, dredging, excavating, and other development which may increase flood damage; and

E. Preventing or regulating the construction of flood barriers, which will unnaturally divert flood waters or which may increase flood hazards in other areas.

1109-1.5. Applicability of Chapter 1109.

The provisions of this chapter shall apply to all special flood hazard areas within the jurisdiction of the city of Cincinnati, as identified in Section 1109-1.6, including any additional special flood hazard areas annexed by the city of Cincinnati. Section 1109-6.1 provides a list of defined terms used in this chapter.

1109-1.6. Basis for Establishing Special Flood Hazard Areas.

For the purposes of this chapter, the following maps and/or studies, as may be revised from time to time, are hereby adopted by reference and declared to be part of this chapter in order to define the special flood hazard areas within the city of Cincinnati:

A. Flood Insurance Study Hamilton County, Ohio, and Incorporated Areas and Flood Insurance Rate Map Hamilton County, Ohio, and Incorporated Areas, each effective June 7, 2023.

B. Other studies and/or maps approved by the floodplain administrator, which may be relied upon for establishment of the flood protection elevation, delineation of the 100-year floodplain and floodways, or delineation of other areas of special flood hazard.

C. Any hydrologic and hydraulic engineering analysis authored by a registered professional engineer in the state of Ohio which has been approved by the city of Cincinnati as required by Sec. 1109-3.3, "Subdivisions and Other New Developments."

These maps and/or studies are on file in the office of the director of buildings and inspections also referred to herein as the floodplain administrator.

1109-1.7. Warning and Disclaimer of Liability.

The degree of flood protection required by this chapter is considered reasonable for regulatory purposes and is based on scientific and engineering considerations. Larger floods can and will occur on rare occasions. Flood heights may be increased by man-made or natural causes. This chapter does not imply that land outside the areas of special flood hazard or uses permitted within such areas will be free from flooding or flood damage. This chapter shall not create liability on the part of the city of Cincinnati, any officer or employee thereof, or the Federal Emergency Management Agency for any flood damage that results from reliance on this chapter, or any administrative decision lawfully made thereunder.

Sec. 1109-2. Administration.

1109-2.1. Designation of the Floodplain Administrator.

The director of buildings and inspections is hereby appointed to administer and implement this chapter and is referred to herein as the floodplain administrator.

1109-2.2. Duties and Responsibilities of the Floodplain Administrator.

The duties and responsibilities of the floodplain administrator shall include but are not limited to:

A. Evaluate applications for permits to develop in special flood hazard areas.

B. Interpret floodplain boundaries and provide flood hazard and flood protection elevation information.

C. Issue permits to develop in special flood hazard areas when the provisions of this Chapter 1109 have been met or refuse to issue the same in the event of noncompliance.

D. Inspect buildings and lands to determine whether any violations of this Chapter 1109 have been committed.

E. Make and permanently keep all records for public inspection necessary for the administration of this Chapter 1109, including FIRMs, LOMCs, records of issuance and denial of permits to develop in special flood hazard areas, determinations of whether development is in or out of special flood hazard areas for the purpose of issuing floodplain development permits, elevation certificates, floodproofing certificates, variances, and records of enforcement actions taken for violations of this Chapter 1109.

F. Enforce the provisions of this Chapter 1109.

G. Provide information, testimony, or other evidence as needed during variance hearings.

H. Coordinate map maintenance activities and FEMA follow-up.

I. Conduct substantial damage determinations to determine whether existing structures, damaged from any source and in special flood hazard areas identified by FEMA, must meet the development standards of this Chapter 1109.

1109-2.3. Floodplain Development Permits.

Until a floodplain development permit is obtained from the floodplain administrator, it shall be unlawful for any person to begin construction or other development activity wholly within, partially within, or in contact with any identified special flood hazard area, as established in Sec. 1109-1.6, including but not limited to: (i) the excavation, filling, or grading of land; (ii) the construction, alteration, remodeling, or expanding of any structure; or (iii) the alteration of any watercourse. Such floodplain development permit shall show that the proposed development activity is in conformity with the provisions of this Chapter 1109. No such permit shall be issued by the floodplain administrator until the requirements of this Chapter 1109 have been met.

1109-2.4. Application Required.

An application for a floodplain development permit shall be required for all development activities located wholly within, partially within, or in contact with an identified special flood hazard area. Such application shall be made by the owner of the property or the owner's authorized agent, herein referred to as the applicant, prior to the actual commencement of such construction on a form furnished by the floodplain administrator for that purpose. Where it is unclear whether a development site is in a special flood hazard area, the floodplain administrator may require a floodplain development permit application to include a survey certified by a licensed professional surveyor showing the development location. All applications shall include the following information:

A. Site plans drawn to scale showing the nature, location, dimensions, and topography of the area in question; the location of existing and proposed structures, fill, storage of materials, drainage facilities, and the location of the foregoing.

B. Elevation of the existing, natural ground where structures are existing and proposed.

C. Elevation of the lowest floor, including basement, of all existing and proposed structures.

D. Such other material and information as may be requested by the floodplain administrator to determine conformance with and enable enforcement of this Chapter 1109.

E. Technical analyses, as listed below, conducted by the appropriate design professional registered in the state of Ohio and submitted with an application for a floodplain development permit when applicable:

1. Floodproofing certification for non-residential floodproofed structures as required in Section 1109-3.5.

2. Certification that fully enclosed areas below the lowest floor of a structure not meeting the design requirements of Section 1109-3.4(E) are designed to automatically equalize hydrostatic flood forces.

3. Description of any watercourse alteration or relocation that the flood carrying capacity of the watercourse will not be diminished, and maintenance assurances as required in Section 1109-3.9(C).

4. A hydrologic and hydraulic analysis demonstrating that the cumulative effect of the proposed development, when combined with all other existing and anticipated development, will not increase the water surface elevation of the base flood by more than one foot in special flood hazard areas where FEMA has provided base flood elevations but no floodway has been designated as required by Section 1109-3.9(B).

5. A hydrologic and hydraulic engineering analysis showing impact of any development on flood heights in an identified floodway as required by Section 1109-3.9(A).

6. Generation of base flood elevation(s) for subdivisions and other new developments as required by Section 1109-3.3.

F. Payment of any floodplain development permit application fee set by the schedule of fees adopted by Council.

G. For any development to be funded, financed, undertaken, or preempted by the state of Ohio, including, but not limited to (i) development activities in an existing or proposed manufactured home park that are under the authority of the Ohio Department of Commerce and subject to the flood damage reduction provisions of Ohio Administrative Code Section 4781-12; (ii) major utility facilities permitted by the Ohio Power Siting Board under R.C. Chapter 4906; and (iii) hazardous waste disposal facilities permitted by the Hazardous Waste Siting Board under R.C. Chapter 3734, the applicant shall provide documentation from such state agency stating that the development complies with the minimum NFIP criteria and any applicable local floodplain management resolution or ordinance as required by R.C. Section 1521.13.

H. For any development activities undertaken by a federal agency and which are subject to Federal Executive Order 11988 - Floodplain Management, such federal agency has a responsibility to evaluate the potential effects of any actions it may take in a floodplain; to ensure that its planning programs and budget request reflect consideration of flood hazards and floodplain management; and to prescribe procedures to implement the policies and requirements of EO 11988. The applicant shall provide documentation to the floodplain administrator of compliance with this Section 1109-2.4(H).

1109-2.5. Review and Approval of a Floodplain Development Permit Application.

A. Review.

1. After receipt of a complete application, the floodplain administrator shall review the application to ensure that the standards of this Chapter 1109 have been met. No floodplain development permit application shall be reviewed until all information required by Section 1109-2.4 has been received by the floodplain administrator.

2. The floodplain administrator shall review all floodplain development permit applications to assure that all necessary permits have been received from those federal, state, or local governmental agencies from which prior approval is required. The applicant shall be responsible for obtaining such permits as required including, without limitation, permits issued by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers under Section 10 of the Rivers and Harbors Act and Section 404 of the Clean Water Act, and the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency under Section 401 of the Clean Water Act.

B. Approval. Within thirty days after the receipt of a complete application, the floodplain administrator shall either approve or disapprove the application. If the floodplain administrator is satisfied that the development proposed in the floodplain development application conforms to the requirements of this Chapter 1109, the floodplain administrator shall issue the permit. All floodplain development permits shall be conditioned upon the commencement of work within 180 days. A floodplain development permit shall expire 180 days after issuance unless the permitted activity has been substantially begun and is thereafter pursued to completion.

1109-2.6. Inspections.

The floodplain administrator shall make periodic inspections at appropriate times throughout the period of construction in order to monitor compliance with permit conditions.

1109-2.7. Post-Construction Certifications Required.

The following as-built certifications are required after a floodplain development permit has been issued:

A. For new or substantially improved residential structures, or nonresidential structures that have been elevated, the applicant shall have a Federal Emergency Management Agency Elevation Certificate completed by a registered professional surveyor to record as-built elevation data.

B. For elevated structures in Zone A and Zone AO areas without a base flood elevation, the Federal Emergency Management Agency Elevation Certificate may be completed by the property owner or owner's representative.

C. For all development activities subject to the standards of Section 1109-2.10(A), a LOMR.

D. For new or substantially improved nonresidential structures that have been floodproofed in lieu of elevation, where allowed, the applicant shall supply a completed Floodproofing Certificate for Non-Residential Structures completed by a registered professional engineer or architect together with associated documentation.

1109-2.8 Revoking a Floodplain Development Permit.

A floodplain development permit shall be revocable, if among other things, the actual development activity does not conform to the terms of the application and permit in question. In the event of the revocation of a permit, an appeal may be taken to the board of building appeals in accordance with Section 1109-4.

1109-2.9. Exemption from Filing a Development Permit.

An application for a floodplain development permit shall not be required for maintenance work such as roofing, painting, and basement sealing, or for small nonstructural development activities (except for excavation, filling, and grading) valued at less than $2500.

1109-2.10. Map Maintenance Activities.

The map maintenance activities in this Section 1109-2.10 are required in order to meet NFIP minimum requirements for FEMA review and approval of flood data, and to ensure that the city of Cincinnati flood maps, studies, and other data identified in Section 1109-1.6 accurately represent current flooding conditions so that floodplain management criteria are based on current data.

A. Requirement to Submit New Technical Data.

1. Applications for development that impacts floodway delineations or base flood elevations (as listed below) shall provide the following new technical data, which the city shall submit to FEMA within six months of receipt:

a. Floodway encroachments that increase or decrease base flood elevations or alter floodway boundaries;

b. Fill sites to be used for the placement of proposed structures where the applicant desires to remove the site from the special flood hazard area;

c. Alteration of watercourses that result in a relocation or elimination of the special flood hazard area, including the placement of culverts; and

d. Subdivision or other new development proposals requiring the establishment of base flood elevations in accordance with Section 1109-3.3.

2. The floodplain administrator shall require a CLOMR prior to the issuance of a floodplain development permit for:

a. Proposed floodway encroachments that increase the base flood elevation; and

b. Proposed development which increases the base flood elevation by more than one foot in riverine areas where FEMA has provided base flood elevations but no floodway.

3. Floodplain development permits issued by the floodplain administrator shall be conditioned upon the applicant obtaining a LOMR from FEMA for any development proposal subject to Section 1109-2.10(A)(1).

4. An applicant shall: (i) prepare all technical data required in accordance with this Section 1109-2.10(A) in a format required for a CLOMR or LOMR, and (ii) submit such technical data to FEMA. Submittal and processing fees for these map revisions shall be the responsibility of the applicant.

B. Right to Submit New Technical Data. The floodplain administrator may request that FEMA change any of the information shown on an effective map that does not impact floodplain or floodway delineations or base flood elevations, such as labeling or planimetric details. Such a submission shall include appropriate supporting documentation made in writing by the city manager of the city of Cincinnati and may be submitted at any time.

C. Annexation / Detachment. Upon occurrence, the floodplain administrator shall notify FEMA in writing whenever: (i) the boundaries of the city of Cincinnati have been modified by annexation; (ii) the city has assumed authority over an area; or (iii) the city no longer has authority to adopt and enforce the provisions of this Chapter 1109 for a particular area. In order that the city of Cincinnati's FIRM accurately represents the city of Cincinnati boundaries, the floodplain administrator shall include within such notification a copy of a map of the city of Cincinnati suitable for reproduction, clearly showing the new corporate limits or the new area for which the city of Cincinnati has assumed or relinquished floodplain management regulatory authority.

1109-2.11. Data Use and Flood Map Interpretation.

The following guidelines shall apply to the use and interpretation of maps and other data showing areas of special flood hazard:

A. In areas where FEMA has not identified special flood hazard areas, or in FEMA-identified special flood hazard areas where base flood elevation and floodway data have not been identified, the floodplain administrator shall review and reasonably utilize any other flood hazard data available from a federal, state, or other source.

B. Base flood elevations and floodway boundaries identified on FEMA flood maps and studies shall take precedence over base flood elevations and floodway boundaries identified by any other source that reflect a reduced floodway width and/or lower base flood elevations. Other sources of data showing increased base flood elevations or larger floodway areas than are shown on FEMA flood maps and studies shall be reasonably used by the floodplain administrator.

C. The floodplain administrator shall make interpretations, where needed, as to the exact location of the flood boundaries and areas of special flood hazard. A person contesting the determination of the location of the boundary shall be given a reasonable opportunity to appeal the interpretation as provided in Section 1109-4.

D. Where an existing or proposed structure or other development is affected by multiple flood zones, by multiple base flood elevations, or both, the development activity must comply with the provisions of this chapter applicable to the most restrictive flood zone and the highest base flood elevation affecting any part of the existing or proposed structure; or for other developments, affecting any part of the area of the development.

1109-2.12. Use of Preliminary FIRM and/or Flood Insurance Study Data.

When assessing the flood hazard risk associated with a particular property in the zones specified below, the floodplain administrator shall apply the following rules:

A. Zone A:

1. Within Zone A areas designated on an effective FIRM, data from the preliminary FIRM and/or FIS shall be reasonably utilized as the best available data.

2. When all appeals have been resolved and a notice of final flood elevation determination has been provided in a letter of final determination ("LFD"), base flood elevation and floodway data from the preliminary FIRM and/or FIS shall be used for regulating development.

B. Zones AE, A1-30, AH, and AO:

1. Base flood elevation and floodway data from a preliminary FIS or FIRM restudy are not required to be used in lieu of base flood elevation and floodway data contained in an existing effective FIS and FIRM. However:

a. Where base flood elevations increase in a restudied area, communities have the responsibility to ensure that new or substantially improved structures are protected. Communities are encouraged to reasonably utilize preliminary FIS or FIRM data in instances where base flood elevations increase and floodways are revised to ensure that the health, safety, and property of their citizens are protected; and

b. Where base flood elevations decrease, preliminary FIS or FIRM data should not be used to regulate floodplain development until the LFD has been issued or until all appeals have been resolved.

2. If a preliminary FIRM or FIS has designated floodways where none had previously existed, communities should reasonably utilize this data in lieu of applying the encroachment performance standard of Section 1109-3.9(B) because the data in the draft or preliminary FIS represents the best data available.

C. Zones B, C, and X:

Use of base flood elevation and floodway data from a preliminary FIRM or FIS is not required for areas designated as Zone B, C, or X on the effective FIRM which are being revised to Zone AE, A1-30, AH, AO, VE, or V1-30. Communities are encouraged to reasonably utilize preliminary FIS or FIRM data to ensure that the health, safety, and property of their citizens are protected.

1109-2.13. Substantial Damage Determinations.

When a structure has suffered damage, including, but not limited to damage resulting from flood, tornado, wind, snow, or fire, the property owner shall report such damage to the floodplain administrator. The floodplain administrator shall take the following steps to determine whether the structure has suffered substantial damage as defined in Section 1109-6.1:

A. Determine whether damaged structures are located in special flood hazard areas;

B. Conduct substantial damage determinations for damaged structures located in special flood hazard areas; and

C. Require owners of substantially damaged structures to obtain a floodplain development permit prior to repair, rehabilitation, or reconstruction. The language of this Section 1109-2.13(C) shall not be interpreted to limit the requirements of Section 1109-2.3 as to the need to obtain a floodplain development permit for all construction or development activity in a special flood hazard area regardless of whether or not it is substantially damaged.

Additionally, the floodplain administrator may implement other measures to assist with the substantial damage determination and subsequent repair process. These measures include issuing press releases, public service announcements, and other public information materials related to the floodplain development permits and repair of damaged structures; coordinating with other federal, state, and local agencies to assist with substantial damage determinations; providing owners of damaged structures materials and other information related to the proper repair of damaged structures in special flood hazard areas; and assisting owners of substantially damaged structures with increased-cost-of-compliance insurance claims.

Sec. 1109-3. Use and Development Standards for Flood Hazard Reduction.

The following use and development standards apply to development wholly within, partially within, or in contact with a special flood hazard area as established in this Chapter 1109.

1109-3.1. Use Regulations.

A. Permitted Uses.

All uses not otherwise prohibited in this section or any other applicable land use regulation adopted by the city of Cincinnati are allowed provided they meet the provisions of this Chapter 1109.

1109-3.2. Water and Wastewater Systems.

The following standards apply to all water supply, sanitary sewerage, and waste disposal systems in the absence of a more restrictive standard provided under the Ohio Revised Code or applicable state rules:

A. All new and replacement water supply systems shall be designed to minimize or eliminate infiltration of floodwaters into the systems;

B. New and replacement sanitary sewerage systems shall be designed to minimize or eliminate infiltration of flood waters into the systems and discharge from the systems into flood waters; and,

C. On-site waste disposal systems shall be located to avoid impairment to or contamination from them during flooding.

1109-3.3. Subdivisions and Other New Developments.

A. All subdivision proposals and all other proposed new development shall be consistent with the need to minimize flood damage and are subject to all applicable standards in this Chapter 1109.

B. All subdivision proposals and all other proposed new development shall have public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electrical, and water systems located and constructed to minimize or eliminate flood damage.

C. All subdivision proposals and all other proposed new development shall have adequate drainage provided to reduce exposure to flood damage.

D. In all areas of special flood hazard where base flood elevation data are not available, the applicant shall provide a hydrologic and hydraulic engineering analysis that generates base flood elevations for all subdivision proposals and other proposed developments containing at least fifty lots or five acres, whichever is less.

E. The applicant shall meet the requirement to submit technical data to FEMA in Section 1109-2.10(A)(1)(d) when a hydrologic and hydraulic analysis is completed that generates base flood elevations as required by Section 1109-3.3(D).

1109-3.4. Residential Structures.

The requirements of this Section 1109-3.4 apply to new construction of residential structures and to substantial improvements of residential structures in zones A, A1-30, AE, AO, and AH, in special flood hazard areas designated on the city of Cincinnati's effective FIRM, or in special flood hazard areas designated on a preliminary or final FIRM issued by FEMA under the circumstances provided in Section 1109-2.12.

A. New construction and substantial improvements shall be anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure resulting from hydrodynamic and hydrostatic loads, including the effects of buoyancy. Where a structure, including its foundation members, is elevated on fill to or above the base flood elevation, the requirements for anchoring (Section 1109-3.4(A)) and construction materials resistant to flood damage (Section 1109-3.4(B)) are satisfied.

B. New construction and substantial improvements shall be constructed with methods and materials resistant to flood damage.

C. New construction and substantial improvements shall be constructed with electrical, heating, ventilation, plumbing, and air conditioning equipment and other service facilities that are designed and/or elevated so as to prevent water from entering or accumulating within the components during conditions of flooding.

D. New construction and substantial improvement of any residential structure, including manufactured homes, shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above the flood protection elevation. In Zone AO areas with no elevations specified, the structure shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated at least two feet above the highest adjacent natural grade.

E. New construction and substantial improvements, including manufactured homes, that do not have basements and that are elevated to the flood protection elevation using pilings, columns, posts, or solid foundation perimeter walls with openings to allow the automatic equalization of hydrostatic pressure, may have an enclosure below the lowest floor provided the enclosure meets the following standards:

Be used only for the parking of vehicles, building access, or storage; and

1. Be designed and certified by a registered professional engineer or architect to automatically equalize hydrostatic flood forces on exterior walls by allowing for the entry and exit of floodwaters; or

2. Have a minimum of two openings on different walls having a total net area not less than one square inch for every square foot of enclosed area, and the bottom of all such openings being no higher than one foot above grade. The openings may be equipped with screens, louvers, or other coverings or devices provided that they permit the automatic entry and exit of floodwaters.

F. Manufactured homes shall be affixed to a permanent foundation and anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure resulting from hydrodynamic and hydrostatic loads, including the effects of buoyancy. Methods of anchoring may include, but are not limited to, use of over-the-top or frame ties to ground anchors.

G. In AO and AH Zones, new construction and substantial improvement shall have adequate drainage paths around structures on slopes to guide floodwaters around and away from the structure.

1109-3.5. Nonresidential Structures.

The requirements of this Section 1109-3.5 apply to new construction and to substantial improvements of nonresidential structures in zones A, A1-30, AE, AO, and AH, in special flood hazard areas designated on the community's effective FIRM, or in special flood hazard areas designated on a preliminary or final FIRM issued by FEMA under the circumstances provided in Section 1109-2.12.

A. New construction and substantial improvements of any commercial, industrial, or other nonresidential structure shall be anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure resulting from hydrodynamic and hydrostatic loads, including the effects of buoyancy. Where a structure, including its foundation members, is elevated on fill to or above the base flood elevation, the requirements for anchoring in this Section 1109-3.5(A) and construction materials resistant to flood damage Section 1109-3.5(B) are satisfied.

B. New construction and substantial improvements of any commercial, industrial, or other nonresidential structure shall be constructed with methods and materials resistant to flood damage.

C. New construction and substantial improvements of any commercial, industrial, or other nonresidential structure shall be constructed with electrical, heating, ventilation, plumbing, and air conditioning equipment and other service facilities that are designed and/or elevated so as to prevent water from entering or accumulating within the components during conditions of flooding.

D. New construction and substantial improvements of any commercial, industrial, or other nonresidential structure, including manufactured homes, that do not have basements and that are elevated to the flood protection elevation using pilings, columns, posts, or solid foundation perimeter walls with openings to allow the automatic equalization of hydrostatic pressure may have an enclosure below the lowest floor provided the enclosure meets the following standards:

1. Be used only for the parking of vehicles, building access, or storage; and

   a. Be designed and certified by a registered professional engineer or architect to automatically equalize hydrostatic flood forces on exterior walls by allowing for the entry and exit of floodwaters; or

   b. Have a minimum of two openings on different walls having a total net area not less than one square inch for every square foot of enclosed area, and the bottom of all such openings being no higher than one foot above grade. The openings may be equipped with screens, louvers, or other coverings or devices provided that they permit the automatic entry and exit of floodwaters.

E. Manufactured homes and manufactured structures shall be affixed to a permanent foundation and anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure resulting from hydrodynamic and hydrostatic loads, including the effects of buoyancy. Methods of anchoring may include, but are not limited to, use of over-the-top or frame ties to ground anchors.

F. New construction and substantial improvement of any commercial, industrial, or other non-residential structure shall either have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above the level of the flood protection elevation; or, together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities, shall meet all of the following standards:

1. Be dry floodproofed so that the structure is watertight with walls substantially impermeable to the passage of water to the level of the flood protection elevation;
2. Have structural components capable of resisting hydrostatic and hydrodynamic loads and effects of buoyancy; and
3. Be certified by a registered professional engineer or architect, through the use of a FEMA floodproofing certificate, that the design and methods of construction are in accordance with Sections 1109-3.5(F)(1) and (2).

G. In Zone AO areas with no elevations specified, the structure shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated at least two feet above the highest adjacent natural grade.

1109-3.6. Accessory Structures.

A. Accessory structures that are greater than 600 square feet must comply with the requirements applicable to the principal structure.

B. Accessory structures located within zones A, A1-30, AE, AO, and AH that are 600 square feet or less and are used exclusively for parking and/or storage are exempt from elevation and dry floodproofing standards, but must meet all of the following standards:

1. They shall not be used for human habitation;
2. They shall be constructed of flood resistant materials;
3. They shall be constructed and placed on the lot to offer the minimum resistance to the flow of floodwaters;
4. They shall be firmly anchored to prevent flotation;
5. Service facilities, such as electrical and heating equipment, shall be elevated or floodproofed to or above the level of the flood protection elevation; and
6. They shall meet the opening requirements of Section 1109-3.4(E)(1)(b).

1109-3.7. Recreational Vehicles.

Recreational vehicles on sites within zones A, A1-A30, AE, AO, or AH must meet one of the following standards:

A. They shall not be located on sites in special flood hazard areas for more than 180 days; or

B. They must be fully licensed and ready for highway use; or

C. They must be placed on the site pursuant to a floodplain development permit issued under Sections 1109-2.3 and 2.4 and meet all standards of Section 1109-3.4.

1109-3.8. Gas or Liquid Storage Tanks.

Within zone A, A1-A30, AE, AO, or AH, new or substantially improved above ground gas or liquid storage tanks shall be anchored to prevent flotation or lateral movement resulting from hydrodynamic and hydrostatic loads.

1109-3.9. Assurance of Flood Carrying Capacity.

Pursuant to the purpose and methods of reducing flood damage stated in this Chapter 1109, the following additional standards are adopted to assure that the reduction of the flood-carrying capacity of watercourses is minimized:

A. Development in Floodways.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, development in floodway areas shall cause no increase in flood levels during the occurrence of the base flood discharge. Prior to issuance of a floodplain development permit, the applicant must submit a hydrologic and hydraulic analysis, conducted by a registered professional engineer, demonstrating that the proposed development would not result in any increase in the base flood elevation; or

2. Development in floodway areas causing increases in the base flood elevation is permitted provided that the applicant completes all of the following:

a. Satisfies the requirements to submit technical data in Section 1109-2.10(A);

b. Provides a credible evaluation, acceptable to the floodplain administrator, of alternatives that would not result in increased base flood elevations and an explanation why these alternatives are not feasible;

c. Certifies that no structures are located in areas that would be impacted by the increased base flood elevation;

d. Demonstrates via documentation that individual notices were provided to all impacted property owners within and outside the community, explaining the impact of the proposed action on their property; and

e. Obtains the approvals of the city manager of the city of Cincinnati and the chief executive officer of any other communities impacted by the proposed actions.

B. Development in Riverine Areas with Base Flood Elevations but No Floodways.

1. In riverine special flood hazard areas identified by FEMA where base flood elevation data are provided but no floodways have been designated, the cumulative effect of any proposed development, when combined with all other existing and anticipated development, shall not increase the base flood elevation more than one foot at any point. Prior to issuance of a floodplain development permit, the applicant must submit a hydrologic and hydraulic analysis, conducted by a registered professional engineer, demonstrating that this standard has been met; or

a. Provides a credible evaluation, acceptable to the floodplain administrator, of alternatives that would result in a base flood elevation increase of one foot or less and an explanation why these alternatives are not feasible;

b. Satisfies the requirements to submit technical data in Section 1109-2.10(A);

c. Certifies that no structures are located in areas that would be impacted by the increased base flood elevation;

d. Demonstrates via documentation that individual notices were provided to all impacted property owners within and outside the community, explaining the impact of the proposed action on their property; and

e. Obtains the approvals of the city manager of the city of Cincinnati and the chief executive officer of any other communities impacted by the proposed actions.

C. Alterations of a Watercourse.

For the purpose of this Chapter 1109, a watercourse is altered when any change occurs within its banks. The extent of the banks shall be established by a field determination of the "bankfull stage." The field determination of "bankfull stage" shall be based on methods presented in Chapter 7 of the USDA Forest Service General Technical Report RM-245, Stream Channel Reference Sites: An Illustrated Guide to Field Technique or other applicable publication available from a federal, state, or other authoritative source. For all proposed developments that alter a watercourse, the following standards apply:

1. The bankfull flood carrying capacity of the altered or relocated portion of the watercourse shall not be diminished. Prior to the issuance of a floodplain development permit, the applicant must submit a description of the extent to which any watercourse will be altered or relocated as a result of the proposed development, and a certification by a registered professional engineer that the bankfull flood carrying capacity of the watercourse will not be diminished.

2. Adjacent communities, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Water, must be notified prior to any alteration or relocation of a watercourse. Evidence of such notification must be submitted to FEMA.

3. The applicant shall be responsible for providing the necessary maintenance for the altered or relocated portion of said watercourse so that the flood carrying capacity will not be diminished. The floodplain administrator may require the permit holder to enter into an agreement with the city of Cincinnati specifying the maintenance responsibilities. If an agreement is required, it shall be made a condition of the floodplain development permit.

4. The applicant shall meet the requirements to submit technical data in Section 1109-2.10(A)(1)(c) when an alteration of a watercourse results in the relocation or elimination of the special flood hazard area, including the placement of culverts.

(Ordained by Emer. Ord. No. 715-2023, §§ 2, 3, eff. May 24, 2023)

Sec. 1109-4. Appeals and Variances

1109-4.1. Appeals Board Established.

The board of building appeals established by Article XXX, Section 5 of the Cincinnati Administrative Code shall serve as the appeals board to hear and decide appeals from rulings, orders, and decisions by the floodplain administrator made under the provisions of this Chapter 1109 and may grant variances from and in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter 1109.

1109-4.2. Powers and Duties.

A. The board of building appeals shall hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is an error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by the floodplain administrator in the administration or enforcement of this Chapter 1109.

B. The board of building appeals shall have authority to grant variances in specific and rare cases where the applicant has met the burden of showing clear and convincing proof in accordance with Section 1109-4.5.

1109-4.3. Appeals and Variances.

A. Any person affected by any notice, interpretation, ruling, order, or other official action of the floodplain administrator may appeal the ruling to the board of building appeals by filing a notice of appeal within thirty days of the date of such ruling.

B. Any person believing that, owing to unique physical conditions affecting that person's property, strict compliance with the use and development standards of this Chapter 1109 would cause it or surrounding property owners to suffer unnecessary hardship may file an application for a variance.

1109-4.4. Form of Notices of Appeal and Variance Applications; Public Hearing.

A. Notices of appeal and applications for variances shall be in writing, signed by the applicant, or agent thereof, and include: (i) the name, address, email, and telephone number of the applicant; (ii) a legal description of the property; (iii) a parcel map; (iv) a description of the existing use of the property; (v) a description of the proposed use, if applicable; and (vi) the location of the floodplain. All notices of appeal and applications for variances shall be filed with the board of building appeals, with a copy provided to the floodplain administrator. Upon receipt of the notice of appeal, the floodplain administrator shall transmit said notice and all pertinent information on which the floodplain administrator's decision was made to the board of building appeals.

B. Notices of appeal shall additionally set forth in writing: (i) the interpretation, ruling, order, or other action appealed from; (ii) the provisions of the CBC and Ohio Building Code and related laws and ordinances involved; (iii) the reason the notice, interpretation, ruling, order, or other official action is claimed to be erroneous with reference to the standard set forth in Section 1109-4.5; and (iv) the prescribed filing fee.

C. Applications for variances shall additionally set forth in writing: (i) a description of the variance sought; (ii) the reason for the variance request with references to the standards and factors set forth in Section 1109-4.5; (iii) supporting evidence and documentation; and (iv) the prescribed filing fee.

D. The board of building appeals shall schedule and hold a public hearing upon receiving a notice of appeal or application for a variance, which notice shall be published in the City Bulletin at least ten days before the date of the hearing. All testimony shall be given under oath. A complete record of the proceedings, except confidential deliberations of the board, shall be kept, including all documents presented and a record of the testimony of all witnesses. The floodplain administrator may present evidence or testimony in opposition to the appeal or variance. All witnesses shall be subject to cross-examination by the adverse party or that party's counsel. Evidence that is not admitted may be proffered and shall become part of the record for appeal. Within a reasonable time following the conclusion of the hearing, the board shall issue a written decision, containing supporting conclusions of fact.

1109-4.5. Standards and Factors for Reviewing Appeals and Approving Variances.

A. In its review of a notice of appeal, the board of building appeals shall consider whether the notice, interpretation, ruling, order, or other official action of the floodplain administrator under review is illegal, arbitrary, capricious, unreasonable, or unsupported by the preponderance of the substantial, reliable, and probative evidence presented by the applicant and other parties at the public hearing.

B. In its review of variance applications, the board of building appeals shall consider whether the applicant has demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence that, owing to unique physical conditions affecting its property, strict compliance with the use and development standards of this Chapter 1109 would cause it or surrounding property owners to suffer unnecessary hardship. In making this determination, the board of building appeals shall consider the following factors and all other relevant factors and standards specified in other sections of this Chapter 1109:

1. Any increased risk that materials may be swept onto other lands to the injury of others.

2. Any increased risk to life and property due to flooding or erosion damage.

3. Any increased susceptibility of the proposed facility and its contents to flood damage and the effect of such damage on the individual owner.

4. The importance of the services provided by the proposed facility to the community.

5. The availability of alternative locations or construction alternatives for the proposed use that are not subject to flooding or erosion damage.

6. The necessity to the facility of a waterfront location, where applicable.

7. The compatibility of the proposed use with existing and anticipated development.
8. The relationship of the proposed use to the comprehensive plan and floodplain management program for that area.
9. The safety of access to the property in times of flood for ordinary and emergency vehicles.
10. The expected heights, velocity, duration, rate of rise, and sediment transport of the floodwaters and the effects of wave action, if applicable, expected at the site.
11. The costs of providing governmental services during and after flood conditions, including maintenance and repair of public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electrical, and water systems, and streets and bridges.

C. In addition to its consideration of the standard and factors contained in Section 1109-4.5(B), the board may only issue a variance(s) upon finding all of the following:

1. A showing of good and sufficient cause for the variance(s).
2. Clear and convincing evidence demonstrating unique and unnecessary hardship to the owner or surrounding properties.
3. A determination that failure to grant the variance would result in exceptional hardship due to the physical characteristics of the property. Financial hardship, inconvenience, or aesthetic concerns of meeting the requirements of this Chapter 1109 do not constitute an exceptional hardship to the applicant.
4. A determination that the granting of a variance will not result in increased flood heights beyond that which is allowed in this Chapter 1109; additional threats to public safety; extraordinary public expense, nuisances, fraud on or victimization of the public; or conflict with existing local laws.
5. A determination that the structure or other development is protected by methods to minimize flood damages.
6. A determination that the variance is the minimum necessary, considering the flood hazard, to afford relief.
7. A determination that granting the variance would comply with the NFIP regulations in 44 CFR Section 60.6(a).

D. Conditions for Variances.

1. Upon granting a variance, the board of building appeals may attach such conditions to the granting of variances as it deems necessary to further the purposes of this Chapter 1109.
2. Variances shall not be issued within any designated floodway if any increase in flood levels during the base flood discharge would result.
3. Generally, variances may be issued for new construction and substantial improvements to be erected on a lot of one-half acre or less in size contiguous to and surrounded by lots with existing structures constructed below the base flood level, providing items in Sections 1109-4.5(B)(1 to 11) have been fully considered and a favorable finding as to all of Sections 1109-4.5(C)(1 to 7). As the lot size increases beyond one-half acre, the technical justification required for issuing the variance increases.

4. Any applicant to whom a variance is granted shall be given written notice that the structure will be permitted to be built with a lowest floor elevation below the base flood elevation and the cost of flood insurance will be commensurated with the increased risk resulting from the reduced lowest floor elevation.

1109-4.6. Appeal to the Court.

Those aggrieved by the decision of the board of building appeals as to this Chapter 1109 may appeal such decision to the Hamilton County Court of Common Pleas, pursuant to R.C. Chapter 2506.

Sec. 1109-5. Enforcement.

1109-5.1. Compliance Required.

A. No structure or land shall hereafter be located, erected, constructed, reconstructed, repaired, extended, converted, enlarged, or altered without full compliance with the terms of this Chapter 1109 and all other applicable regulations which apply to uses within the jurisdiction of this Chapter 1109, unless specifically exempted from filing for a development permit as stated in Section 1109-2.9.

B. Failure to obtain a floodplain development permit shall be a violation of this Chapter 1109 and shall be punishable in accordance with Section 1109-5.2.

C. Floodplain development permits issued on the basis of plans and applications approved by the floodplain administrator authorize only the use and arrangement of structures and other approved features of a development set forth in such approved plans and applications or amendments thereto. Use, arrangement, or construction contrary to that authorized shall be deemed a violation of this Chapter 1109 and punishable in accordance with Section 1109-5.2.

1109-5.2. Violations and Penalties.

A. Violation of the provisions of this Chapter 1109 or failure to comply with any of its requirements shall be deemed to be a strict liability offense and shall constitute a first-degree misdemeanor.

B. Violations may also be cited as a Class D civil offense in accordance with CMC Title XV Code Compliance and Hearings.

C. The director of buildings and inspections shall give notice of violations of the provisions of this Chapter 1109 in accordance with Section 1101-61.

D. Each day a violation continues shall be considered a separate offense.

E. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the city of Cincinnati from taking such other lawful action as is necessary to prevent or remedy any violation. The city of Cincinnati shall prosecute any violation of this Chapter 1109 in accordance with the penalties stated herein.

Sec. 1109-6. Definitions and Interpretation.

1109-6.1. Definitions.

Unless specifically defined elsewhere in this Chapter 1109, the words or phrases used in this Chapter 1109 shall have the meanings defined below, regardless of whether or not the words and phrases are capitalized and shall be interpreted so as to give them the meaning they have in common usage and to give this Chapter 1109 the most reasonable application. When the definitions contained herein conflict with the identical terms contained in 44 CFR Section 59.1, the conflict shall be resolved by giving precedence to the definition creating the more stringent interpretation of this Chapter 1109.

Accessory Structure: A structure on the same lot with, and of a nature customarily incidental and subordinate to, the principal structure.

Appeal: A request for review of the floodplain administrator's interpretation of any provision of this Chapter 1109 or a request for a variance.

Base Flood: The flood having a one percent chance of being equaled or exceeded in any given year. The base flood may also be referred to as the 1% chance annual flood or 100 year flood.

Base (100-Year) Flood Elevation (BFE): The water surface elevation of the base flood in relation to a specified datum, usually the National Geodetic Vertical Datum of 1929 or the North American Vertical Datum of 1988, and usually expressed in Feet Mean Sea Level (MSL). In Zone AO areas, the base flood elevation is the lowest adjacent natural grade elevation plus the depth number (from one to three feet).

Basement: Any area of the building having its floor subgrade (below ground level) on all sides.

Development: Any manmade change to improved or unimproved real estate, including but not limited to buildings or other structures, mining, dredging, filling, grading, paving, excavation, or drilling operations or storage of equipment or materials.

Enclosure Below the Lowest Floor: See "Lowest Floor."

Executive Order 11988 (Floodplain Management): Issued by President Carter in 1977, this order requires that no federally assisted activities be conducted in or have the potential to affect identified special flood hazard areas, unless there is no practicable alternative.

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA): The agency with the overall responsibility for administering the National Flood Insurance Program.

Fill: A deposit of earth material placed by artificial means.

Flood or Flooding: A general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry land areas from:

1. The overflow of inland or tidal waters, and/or
2. The unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source.

Flood Hazard Boundary Map (FHBM): Usually the initial map produced by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for a community depicting approximate special flood hazard areas.

Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM): An official map on which the Federal Emergency Management Agency or the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has delineated the areas of special flood hazard.

Flood Insurance Risk Zones: Zone designations on FHBMs and FIRMs that indicate the magnitude of the flood hazard in specific areas of a community. Following are the zone definitions:

Zone A: Special flood hazard areas inundated by the 100-year flood in any given year; base flood elevations are not determined.

Zones A1-30 and Zone AE: Special flood hazard areas inundated by the 100-year flood in any given year; base flood elevations are determined.

Zone AO: Special flood hazard areas inundated by the 100-year flood in any given year; with flood depths of one to three feet (usually sheet flow on sloping terrain); average depths are determined.

Zone AH: Special flood hazard areas inundated by the 100-year flood in any given year; flood depths of one to three feet (usually areas of ponding); base flood elevations are determined.

Zone A99: Special flood hazard areas inundated by the 100-year flood to be protected from the 100-year flood by a federal flood protection system under construction; no base flood elevations are determined.

Zone B and Zone X (shaded): Areas of 500-year flood; areas subject to the 100-year flood with average depths of less than one foot or with contributing drainage area less than one square mile; and areas protected by levees from the base flood.

Zone C and Zone X (unshaded): Areas determined to be outside the 500-year floodplain.

Flood Insurance Study (FIS): The official report in which the Federal Emergency Management Agency or the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has provided flood profiles, floodway boundaries (sometimes shown on flood boundary and floodway maps), and the water surface elevations of the base flood.

Floodproofing: Any combination of structural and non-structural additions, changes, or adjustments to structures which reduce or eliminate flood damage to real estate or improved real property, water and sanitary facilities, structures, and their contents.

Flood Protection Elevation (FPE): The Flood Protection Elevation is the base flood elevation plus one foot of freeboard. In areas where no base flood elevations exist from any authoritative source, the flood protection elevation can be historical flood elevations, or base flood elevations determined and/or approved by the floodplain administrator.

Floodway: A floodway is the channel of a river or other watercourse and the adjacent land areas that have been reserved in order to pass the base flood discharge. A floodway is typically determined through a hydraulic and hydrologic engineering analysis such that the cumulative increase in the water surface elevation of the base flood discharge is no more than a designated height. In no case shall the designated height be more than one foot at any point within the community. The floodway is an extremely hazardous area and is usually characterized by any of the following: Moderate to high velocity flood waters, high potential for debris and projectile impacts, and moderate to high erosion forces.

Freeboard: A factor of safety usually expressed in feet above a flood level for the purposes of floodplain management. Freeboard tends to compensate for the many unknown factors that could contribute to flood heights greater than the height calculated for a selected size flood and floodway conditions, such as wave action, obstructed bridge openings, debris and ice jams, and the hydrologic effect of urbanization in a watershed.

Historic structure: Any structure that is:

1. Listed individually in the National Register of Historic Places (a listing maintained by the U.S. Department of Interior) or preliminarily determined by the Secretary of the Interior as meeting the requirements for individual listings on the National Register;
2. Certified or preliminarily determined by the Secretary of the Interior as contributing to the historical significance of a registered historic district or a district preliminarily determined by the Secretary to qualify as a registered historic district;
3. Individually listed on the State of Ohio's inventory of historic places maintained by the Ohio Historic Preservation Office; or
4. Individually listed on the inventory of historic places maintained by the city of Cincinnati's historic preservation program, which program is certified by the Ohio Historic Preservation Office.

Hydrologic and hydraulic engineering analysis: An analysis performed by a professional engineer, registered in the state of Ohio, in accordance with standard engineering practices as accepted by FEMA, used to determine flood elevations and/or floodway boundaries.

Letter of Map Change (LOMC): A Letter of Map Change is an official FEMA determination, by letter, to amend or revise effective FIRMs, Flood Boundary and Floodway Maps, and FISes. LOMCs are broken down into the following categories:

Letter of Map Amendment (LOMA): A revision based on technical data showing that a property was incorrectly included in a designated special flood hazard area. A LOMA amends the current effective FIRM and establishes that a specific property is not located in a special flood hazard area.

Letter of Map Revision (LOMR): A revision based on technical data that, usually due to manmade changes, shows changes to flood zones, flood elevations, floodplain, and floodway delineations, and planimetric features. One common type of LOMR, a LOMR-F, is a determination concerning whether a structure or parcel has been elevated by fill above the base flood elevation and is, therefore, excluded from the special flood hazard area.

Conditional Letter of Map Revision (CLOMR): A comment by FEMA regarding a proposed project that would, upon construction, affect the hydrologic or hydraulic characteristics of a flooding source and thus result in the modification of the existing regulatory floodway, the effective base flood elevations, or the special flood hazard area. A CLOMR does not amend or revise effective FIRMs, Flood Boundary and Floodway Maps, or FISes.

Lowest floor: The lowest floor of the lowest enclosed area (including basement) of a structure. This definition excludes an "enclosure below the lowest floor" which is an unfinished or flood resistant enclosure usable solely for parking of vehicles, building access, or storage, in an area other than a basement area, provided that such enclosure is built in accordance with the applicable design requirements specified in this Chapter 1109 for enclosures below the lowest floor.

Manufactured home: A structure, transportable in one or more sections, which is built on a permanent chassis and is designed for use with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities. The term "manufactured home" does not include a "recreational vehicle." For the purposes of this Chapter 1109, a manufactured home includes manufactured homes and mobile homes as defined in R.C. Chapter 4781.

Manufactured home park: As specified in the Ohio Adm. Code Section 4781-12-01(K), a manufactured home park means any tract of land upon which three or more manufactured homes, used for habitation, are parked, either free of charge or for revenue purposes, and includes any roadway, building, structure, vehicle, or enclosure used or intended for use as part of the facilities of the park. A tract of land that is subdivided and the individual lots are not for rent or rented, but are for sale or sold for the purpose of installation of manufactured homes on the lots, is not a manufactured home park, even though three or more manufactured homes are parked thereon, if the roadways are dedicated to the local government authority. Manufactured home park does not include any tract of land used solely for the storage or display for sale of manufactured homes.

Market value of the structure: The "market improvement value" as determined by the Hamilton County auditor or by a current appraisal of the fair market value of the improvements (not including the land value of the parcel).

Mean sea level: For purposes of the National Flood Insurance Program, the National Geodetic Vertical Datum (NGVD) of 1929 or other datum, to which base flood elevations shown on a community's FIRM are referenced.

National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP): The NFIP is a federal program enabling property owners in participating communities to purchase insurance protection against losses from flooding. This insurance is designed to provide an insurance alternative to disaster assistance to meet the escalating costs of repairing damage to buildings and their contents caused by floods. Participation in the NFIP is based on an agreement between local communities and the federal government that states if a community will adopt and enforce floodplain management regulations to reduce future flood risks to all development in special flood hazard areas, the federal government will make flood insurance available within the community as a financial protection against flood loss.

New construction: For floodplain management purposes, new construction refers to structures for which the "start of construction" commenced on or after the effective date of a floodplain ordinance adopted by the city of Cincinnati and includes any subsequent improvements to such structures. For the purposes of determining insurance rates, structures for which the "start of construction'' commenced on or after the effective date of the initial city of Cincinnati FIRM of October 15, 1982, whichever is later, and includes any subsequent improvements or alterations to such structures regardless of whether the work was performed with or without permits.

Person: Includes any individual or group of individuals, corporation, partnership, association, or any other entity, including state and local governments and agencies. An agency is further defined in R.C. Section 111.15(A)(2) as any governmental entity of the state and includes, but is not limited to, any board, department, division, commission, bureau, society, council, institution, state college or university, community college district, technical college district, or state community college. "Agency" does not include the general assembly, the controlling board, the adjutant general's department, or any court.

Recreational vehicle: A vehicle which is (1) built on a single chassis, (2) 400 square feet or less when measured at the largest horizontal projection, (3) designed to be self-propelled or permanently towable by a light duty truck, and (4) designed primarily not for use as a permanent dwelling but as temporary living quarters for recreational, camping, travel, or seasonal use.

Registered Professional Architect: A person registered to engage in the practice of architecture pursuant to R.C. Chapter 4703.

Registered Professional Engineer: A person registered as a professional engineer pursuant to R.C. Chapter 4733.

Registered Professional Surveyor: A person registered as a professional surveyor pursuant to R.C. Chapter 4733.

Residential building: A non-commercial building designed for habitation by one or more families or a mixed-use building that includes a single family, two-to-four family, or other residential use. Hotels, motels, and dormitories shall be included under this definition.

Special Flood Hazard Area: Also known as "Areas of Special Flood Hazard." The land in the floodplain subject to a one percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year. Special flood hazard areas are designated by FEMA on FIRMs, FISes, Flood Boundary and Floodway Maps and FHBMs as Zones A, AE, AH, AO, A1-30, or A99. Special flood hazard areas may also refer to areas that are flood prone and designated from other federal, state, or local sources of data including but not limited to historical flood information reflecting high water marks, previous flood inundation areas, and flood prone soils associated with a watercourse.

Start of construction: The date the building permit was issued, provided the actual start of construction, repair, reconstruction, rehabilitation, addition, placement, or other improvement was within 180 days of the permit date. The actual start means either the first placement of permanent construction of a structure on a site, such as the pouring of slab or footings, the installation of piles, the construction of columns, or any work beyond the stage of excavation; or the placement of a manufactured home on a foundation. Permanent construction does not include land preparation, such as clearing, grading, and filling; nor does it include the installation of streets and/or walkways; nor does it include excavation for a basement, footings, piers, or foundations or the erection of temporary forms; nor does it include the installation on the property of accessory buildings, such as garages or sheds not occupied as dwelling units or not part of the main structure. For a substantial improvement, the actual start of construction means the first alteration of any wall, ceiling, floor, or other structural part of a building, whether or not that alteration affects the external dimensions of a building.

Structure: A walled and roofed building, manufactured home, or gas or liquid storage tank that is principally above ground.

Substantial Damage: Damage of any origin sustained by a structure whereby the cost of restoring the structure to the "before damaged" condition would equal or exceed fifty percent of the market value of the structure before the damage occurred. Substantial damage also means flood-related damage sustained by a structure on two separate occasions during a ten-year period for which the cost of repairs at the time of each such flood event, on the average, equals or exceeds 25 percent of the market value of the structure before the damage occurred.

Substantial Improvement: Any reconstruction, rehabilitation, addition, or other improvement of a structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds fifty percent of the market value of the structure before the "start of construction" of the improvement. This term includes improvement of structures, which have incurred "substantial damage," regardless of the actual repair work performed. The term does not, however, include:

1. Any improvement to a structure that falls under the definition of "new construction" in this Chapter 1109.
2. Any project for improvement of a structure to correct existing violations of state or local health, sanitary, or safety code specifications which have been identified by the local code enforcement official and which are the minimum necessary to assure safe living conditions; or
3. Any alteration of or addition to an "historic structure," provided that the alteration or addition would not preclude the structure's continued designation as a "historic structure."

Variance: A grant of relief from the standards of this Chapter 1109.

Violation: The failure of a structure or other development to be fully compliant with this Chapter 1109.

1109-6.2. Abrogation and Greater Restrictions.

This Chapter 1109 is not intended to repeal any existing ordinances including subdivision regulations, zoning, or building codes. In the event of a conflict between this Chapter 1109 and any other ordinance, the more restrictive shall be followed. This Chapter 1109 is not intended to repeal, abrogate, or impair any existing ordinance, easement, covenant, or deed restrictions. However, where this Chapter 1109 and another ordinance, easement, covenant, or deed restriction conflict or overlap, whichever imposes the more stringent restrictions shall prevail.

1109-6.3. Interpretation.

In the interpretation and application of this Chapter 1109, all provisions shall be:

A. Considered as minimum requirements;

B. Liberally construed in favor of the governing body; and

C. Deemed neither to limit nor repeal any other powers granted under state statutes. Where a provision of this Chapter 1109 may be in conflict with a state or federal law, such state or federal law shall take precedence over this Chapter 1109.

1109-6.4. Severability.

Should any section or provision of this Chapter 1109 be declared by the courts to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of this Chapter 1109 as a whole, or any part other than that declared to be unconstitutional or invalid. When in the opinion of the agency having jurisdiction, a temporary barricade or walkway is required, the following requirements shall apply:

(1) Where any demolition, building construction, alteration, addition, repair, or excavation is to be made, or when any hazard exists and the public is endangered, a suitable barricade shall be provided along the public way. A walkway capable of supporting a uniform live load of 150 pounds per square foot shall be maintained unless the public agency having jurisdiction authorizes the sidewalk to be fenced and closed. Temporary walkways, where necessary, shall be constructed and maintained in accordance with §§ 1111-05 and 1111-07.

(2) All fences, barriers, or temporary structures of any kind, located on the public way shall be so constructed as not to obstruct vision at the intersection of the street property lines.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1111-05. Temporary Uncovered Walks.

When in the opinion of the agency having jurisdiction, a temporary uncovered walk is required, such walk shall be not less than four feet wide in the clear and shall be built in a safe, substantial and workmanlike manner, and be maintained in that condition at all times. Sec. 1111-07. Temporary Covered Walks.

When in the opinion of the public agency having jurisdiction, a temporary covered walk is required, the following requirements shall apply:

(1) The roof of such covered walk, for buildings up to two stories in height, shall be constructed of not less than one layer of two-inch nominal wood plank or equal, supported by well-braced framework and all parts of the roof structure shall be designed to support a live load of not less than 125 pounds per square foot. For buildings exceeding two stories in height, the roof of such walk shall be constructed of not less than two layers, staggered, of two-inch nominal wood plants or equal, supported by well braced framework, and all parts of the roof structure shall be designed to support a live load of not less than 250 pounds per square foot. Suitable material shall be placed between the layers of such roof to make it waterproof. Such roof construction shall be not less than eight feet clear above the walk and shall be of sufficient width to cover the entire temporary or permanent sidewalk.

(2) All covered walks shall be not less than four feet wide in the clear. However, the agency having jurisdiction may require a walk of greater width.

(3) A solid railing or footboard at least 30 inches high shall be constructed around the entire outer edge of the temporary covered walk. The side adjacent to the property line, between the sidewalk and roof shall be boarded up solidly.

(4) If materials are stored or work is done on the roof of the covered walk, the street sides and ends of the roof shall be protected by a tight curb board not less than one foot high and a railing not less than 30 inches high.

(5) The covered walk shall be adequately lighted between sunset and sunrise or as deemed necessary by the agency having jurisdiction.

(6) Means of access shall be provided for the public from such temporary structure or covered walk to any bus stop. All necessary surface drainage shall be provided for when placing the sills or other parts of the structure.

(7) No permit for the construction of any covered walkway shall be issued by the director of buildings and inspections until the applicant has obtained review and approval from the director of public works.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1111-09. Outrigger Scaffolds.

During the wrecking of any building or during other construction operations, where deemed necessary, the director of buildings and inspections may require outrigger scaffolds to be constructed on all sides of the building which are within ten feet of a traveled thoroughfare and on all sides that are adjacent to and extend above any occupied building lot. These outrigger scaffolds shall be located not more than two stories below the point where any wrecking or handling of outside wall material is being done. The floor, or platform, of all such outrigger scaffolds shall be tightly laid from the edge of the building and shall be at least eight feet wide with a 42 inch solid railing or footboard at the outside edge. The flooring and its support, or outriggers, shall be capable of sustaining a live load of not less than 125 pounds per square foot.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1111-11. Debris to be Dampened.

Every contractor or other person, when erecting, altering, repairing, or wrecking any building from which debris is to be moved, or in removing, handling, or hauling debris from any building, shall keep all such debris thoroughly dampened with water so as to prevent excessive dust arising therefrom.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1111-13. Sandblasting or Building Cleaning Operations.

1111-13.1 General: No person shall engage in any sandblasting or building cleaning operation utilizing sand, water, acid, or alkali solutions, grinders, or pneumatic chipping devices unless such operation complies with §§ 1111-13.2 and 1111-13.3 CBC.

1111-13.2 Control methods: The director of buildings and inspections shall impose any control methods deemed necessary to control excessive particulate and other pollutants during sandblasting or building cleaning operations and shall be authorized to regulate the times and hours of operation. Waste debris shall be cleaned from the public walks, streets, sills, and other places where particulate may become airborne as work progresses. The director of buildings and inspections shall stop sandblasting or building cleaning operations until adequate control methods are employed to control airborne particulate. Failure to comply with this section shall be deemed sufficient cause to revoke the permit.

1111-13.3 Sandblasting: Sandblasting of buildings shall be of "wet-method" application wherein water is entrained with the cleaning medium to prevent excessive dust during cleaning operations. Adequate tarpaulins shall be provided to prevent particulate and water droplets from creating a nuisance when wet sandblasting methods are employed, except that dry sandblasting methods of cleaning may be utilized when the nozzle is operated within a tarpaulin enclosure equipped with suitable means of funneling the dispensed sand and the debris into a suitable container to prevent the waste material from becoming airborne. The disposal of any waste debris shall be in accordance with the applicable regulations of the Ohio environmental protection agency.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1111-15. Demolition of Buildings or Structure Containing Asbestos Insulation or Fireproofing.

1111-15.1 General: The demolition of any portion of any building, structure, facility, or installation, except for use groups R-2 having not more than four dwelling units, R-3 and R-4 shall be deemed to present a significant risk of exposure to asbestos fibers from the dislodging of asbestos and the said demolition shall be in compliance with 1111-15.2 CBC.

1111-15.2 Safeguards: During the demolition of a building, structure, facility, or installation that falls within the purview of 1111-15.1 CBC. precautionary measures shall be required as follows:

(1) Demolition by toppling of walls shall not be permitted, except as may be specifically approved by the director of buildings and inspections.

(2) Wherever practicable, the insulation or fireproofing material of boilers, pipes, and steel members shall be wetted and stripped before toppling of walls is begun. Such waste shall be bagged immediately, and disposed of in the manner described in paragraph (6) of this section.

(3) When demolition by toppling is permitted, such reasonable enclosure for dust emission control, as is compatible with the character of the structure, shall be provided.

(4) Before and during the demolition or toppling of any portion of the structure, adequate wetting shall be provided to suppress the dust.

(5) Debris shall not be dropped or thrown from any floor, but shall be transported by dust-tight chutes or buckets. Such debris shall be wetted sufficiently to preclude dust dispersion at the point of discharge.

(6) The disposal of any debris shall be in accordance with the applicable regulations of the Ohio environmental protection agency.

1113-03.2 Certification of Excavation and Fill Quantities and Operational Plan Compliance: Every six months after the issuance of an excavation and fill permit and on completion of operations, the holder of permit for an excavation or fill comprising the movement of more than 1,000 cubic yards of material must file with the Director a certification prepared by a registered surveyor, registered architect or professional engineer of the quantities of materials placed or removed since the issuance of the permit and that the work has been conducted in accordance with the operational plan.

1113-03.3 Revocation of Excavation and Fill Permits: The Director may revoke an excavation and fill permit if the holder of the permit has failed to comply with the operational plan or if the Director determines that the operations have become offensive or objectionable due to erosion, siltation or dust.

1113-03.4 Excavations and Fills in Residential Districts: If the proposed work is wholly or partially within a residential zone district, work must be completed within one year from the date of permit issuance. The Director may extend the time for completion of the work if the Director determines after conducting a public hearing that the operations have been conducted in compliance with the permit and have not been offensive or objectionable due to erosion, siltation or dust. The Director has the duty to notify the owner or occupant of the subject property, any owner or occupant of property abutting the subject property and any community or neighborhood association or organization whose boundaries include or abut the subject property, recognized by the council as representing the area. 1113-03.5 Slope: An excavation and fill permit may not be issued for an excavation or fill to be made with a face steeper in slope than three horizontal to one vertical.

Exception: The director of buildings and inspections may permit an excavation or fill to be made with steeper face if an applicant demonstrates satisfactorily by means of appropriate soil exploration and analysis and the written opinion of the geotechnical engineer that the materials are capable of standing on a steeper slope without creating any of the hazards described in §§ 1101-17.1.1 and 1101-63.5 CBC.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1113-11. Protection of Existing Sewers.

In places where existing sewerage is adequate, but in the opinion of the director of sewers or director of public works is of doubtful strength to carry additional loading, the director of buildings and inspections shall issue a permit in accordance with this Chapter only if the applicant for the permit provided written approval from the director of sewers and the director of public works.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 67-1996, eff. Apr. 5, 1996)

Sec. 1113-13. Performance Bond.

When in the opinion of the Director of Buildings and Inspections, the termination before completion of a proposed excavation or fill operation would create an actual or potential hazard to the public, the Director of Buildings and Inspections prior to issuing the permit shall require a bond in an amount sufficient to cover the estimated cost of restoration of any affected land or to cover the cost of performance of the operations under such permit, whichever is greater.

4. Separate permits are not required for fences used as pool enclosure devices. (See Par. (D) under this section.
5. All permits require that certain in-process inspections and a final inspection must be accomplished before the pool is filled. The permit holder is responsible for final inspection. Prior to the final inspection, the required enclosure shall be installed and the electrical work shall be approved. No work requiring inspection shall be permanently covered, before such inspection is accomplished.

1115-13.2 Location on lot. The family (residential) swimming pool walls shall be a minimum of 3'-0" from property lines, unless regulated differently by zoning regulations.

    a. Minimum Standards—the standards to be used in determining compliance to this section shall be the most current copy of Standard for Above Ground/On Ground Residential Swimming Pools.

1115-13.4 Enclosure Devices. Every person owning land on which a family (residential) swimming pool is situated, which constitutes an obvious hazard, or which is more than 24 inches in depth at any point or greater than 150 sq. ft. in surface area, shall erect and maintain thereon an enclosure surrounding the pool area, sufficient to make such a body of water inaccessible to small children.

Pool enclosures, including gates, must be not less than 48 inches tall measured from the grade four (4) feet beyond the enclosure.

All gates must be self-closing and self-latching with all latches placed on the inside of the enclosure high enough to render the gate inoperable by small children.

All enclosure shall have intermediate rails or ornamental closures which will not allow passage of an object 4 inches or more in diameter.

Exceptions:

1. Pools with walls 48 inches or higher above grade require no enclosure. (Grade should prevail for at least four feet beyond the pool wall.)

2. Above ground pools with walls 48 inches or higher and with decks and removable ladders as the sole means of access need no enclosure, if the ladder is removed to render the pool inaccessible to small children when not in use.

3. Pools with fencing attached to the top of the wall making the total height over 48 inches high.

Sec. 1123-1. Legislative Findings.

It is hereby found and determined that vacant, foreclosed properties pose a danger to the public health, safety and welfare. Vacant, foreclosed properties also quickly diminish in value and are at greater risk for becoming unsecured, vandalized and hazardous. Several studies have demonstrated that vacant, foreclosed properties can quickly become blighted properties, and foreclosed residential properties are at greater risk of becoming vacant and abandoned properties than other properties in the city. Locating the person in control of the property or responsible for the care and maintenance of the property is often an impossible task, mired in disputes between the mortgagee, mortgagor, servicer, and subservicer. Accordingly, citations for property maintenance are routinely ignored at these properties, placing properties at increased risk for becoming unsecured, vandalized, and hazardous.

The proliferation of vacant, foreclosed properties and the failure to maintain and monitor these properties has caused their value to diminish, their condition to deteriorate, and blight to flourish. As a result, these properties are structurally compromised, provide havens for criminal activity; jeopardize the safety of neighborhoods; pose dangerous risks to the city's firefighters, police officers, and code enforcement officials; deplete already scarce city resources; diminish surrounding property values throughout the city; undermine the city's ability to enforce its criminal laws; and interfere with the city's duty to protect its citizens from unsafe and harmful conditions and to protect vacant foreclosed properties from further degradation.

The purpose of this chapter is to ensure that vacant, foreclosed properties are protected and maintained and that city officials are alerted to the location of these vulnerable properties. This chapter is enacted in order to protect blighted foreclosed properties and prevent their further degradation, as well as to address the problem of blight and the threat to the public health, safety and welfare that can result from unmonitored vacant, foreclosed properties.

This chapter was initially enacted in June 2012 as a pilot project and applied to the neighborhoods of Westwood, West Price Hill, East Price Hill, College Hill, and Madisonville. These neighborhoods were selected due to the high concentration of foreclosures during the past several years. During the pilot program, the city sought to address the neighborhoods with the most severe problems.

Under the program, registrants receive a particularized benefit in the form of City oversight to ensure that vacant foreclosed properties do not unnecessarily diminish in value and structural integrity as a result of becoming unsecured, vandalized, and hazardous. Each property in the program is routinely inspected to determine if it is vacant and being maintained. Photos are taken to document the condition of the property at the beginning and end of the foreclosure process. Any maintenance issues prohibited by this chapter and other sections of the Cincinnati Municipal Code are promptly reported to the registrant of the property.

One problem encountered under the current VFPR ordinance is that, upon judicial sale to the mortgagee, VFPR regulation ceases. Thus, upon legal transfer of title to the mortgagee, basic VFPR maintenance requirements can no longer be enforced. As a result, the City has seen VFPR properties which were maintained during the foreclosure process quickly degrade in condition. Post-judicial sale, some VFPR program maintenance requirements (e.g., high grass or standing water) can be enforced against mortgagees by the City under other existing CMC health and safety standards. However, for other VFPR maintenance requirements

(e.g. no signs or placards on the front of the property advertising it as vacant and foreclosed), the City has no enforcement ability upon cessation of the VFPR case at judicial sale. This change in enforcement ability undermines the regulation and continuity that occurred prior to judicial sale.

After approximately eighteen months, the city has analyzed and evaluated this pilot program. The city has concluded that the program has been and continues to be successful. Accordingly, the city now wishes to extend this program to apply to all fifty-two neighborhoods in the city of Cincinnati. As well, it wishes to extend the timeline for VFPR enforcement from within ten (10) business days of foreclosure and vacancy until title transfers to a bona fide owner occupant or an unaffiliated third party.

If the mortgagee complies with this section, the mortgagee shall be exempt from the following:

a. The initial and annual registration fees listed in Section 1123-7; and

b. The point of sale requirements in Section 1123-15 provided that the mortgagee arranges for an inspection of the premises by the code official and there must be a finding by the code official that the property does not have any code violations, or if code violations exist, the mortgagee fixes the code violations within thirty (30) calendar days.

Mortgagees shall arrange to have all properties subject to the requirements of this chapter inspected by the code official within five (5) business days of filing for the property to be sold at a judicial sale. If the mortgagee fails to arrange an inspection, the property shall be inspected by the code official pursuant to Ohio Revised Code § 2329.17(B) prior to the property being sold at a judicial sale or pursuant to a search warrant issued by a court of competent jurisdiction.

b. If, as a result of the above inspection, the code official determines that health code violations, housing code violations, hazards, or structural defects exist on the property, the code official shall provide written notice via certified mail to the mortgagee or the mortgagee's agent, as designated on the foreclosed vacant property registration form, the owner of record, and any equitable lien holders, informing the parties of the following:

(1) The need to repair and correct the violations, hazards, or structural defects prior to the judicial sale;

When notice is given as provided for in this section, the lien shall be a priority over liens of prior record and the lien will be effective on the date the city incurs the costs of repairs as provided in ORC § 715.26(B).

c. The mortgagee may post a bond in an amount equal to the cost of abatement of the code violations which may include repair or demolition. The mortgagee must submit to the code official written cost estimates by contractors registered with the city of Cincinnati for abating the violations. The code official will establish the bond amount based upon the submitted cost estimates. Upon successful submission of the bond pursuant to Chapter 303 of the Cincinnati Municipal Code, the mortgagee shall be exempt from the requirements of Section 1123-15(b). The code official may extend the compliance date up to 90 days if a bond is posted. An additional 90 days may be extended in writing by the code official if good cause or diligence in abating the violations is demonstrated. Sec. 1127-03. Facades of Tall Buildings.

1127-03.1 Purpose: The purpose of this section is to ensure that the facades of tall buildings of advanced age are maintained in a safe condition and do not pose public safety hazards.

1127-03.2 Applicability: The requirements of this section shall apply to all buildings (i) that have a completed construction date of fifteen years or greater and (ii) all, or a portion of which, is at least five stories or at least sixty feet above established grade, whichever is less.

The requirements of this section shall not apply to those portions of buildings located:

i. At or above five stories or sixty feet above established grade, whichever is less, to the extent they are set back more than twenty-five feet from the base of the building and the area set back from the base of the building is only made accessible to those performing exterior maintenance to the building; or

ii. Twelve inches or less from the exterior wall of an adjacent building.

1127-03.3 Building Categories: Each building subject to the requirements of this section shall be categorized according to the following definitions:

i. "Category I Building" means a building constructed with exterior walls and parts thereof that are primarily reinforced with, or are in direct contact with, non-corrodible metal.

ii. "Category II Building" means a building constructed with exterior walls and parts thereof that are primarily reinforced with, or are in direct contact with, corrosion-resistant metal.

iii. "Category III Building" means a building constructed with exterior walls and parts thereof that are primarily secured to the substrate by adhesive bond or with masonry headers.

iv. "Category IV Building" means a building constructed with exterior walls and parts thereof that are primarily reinforced with, or are in direct contact with, corrodible metal.

1127-03.4 Facade Examination: The owner or person in control of a building subject to the requirements of this section shall cause an examination of the building's facade to be performed by a professional according to the schedule prescribed in subsection 1127-03.8. The examination shall include all of the following:

i. A close-up visual examination of the building to be performed from a platform or device which allows an inspection of the facade area which can be reached by one scaffold drop per elevation. Other methods may include photographic magnification techniques, remote observation equipment or infra-red or thermography cameras, which can demonstrate reasonable reliability and which may be approved in addition to the close-up visual examination by the director on a case-by-case basis.

ii. A remote examination of those facade areas which are not accessible during the close-up visual examination.

iii. A complete review of the most recently prepared inspection report.

iv. A complete review of the pertinent drawings and specifications of the building to determine the specified designs of the facades on the building.

v. A complete review of the drawings, specifications, and maintenance reports on previous repair work performed on the facades.

vi. Documentation of the condition of the facades through photographs and drawings.

vii. Identification of any wall areas that are bowed, bulged, displaced or leaning inward or outward and, where such defects exist, an examination of the condition of a sufficient number of metal ties, anchors and shelf angles that support the wall at these locations.

viii. Examination of the substrate of wall areas with external visible distress.

1127-03.5 Remote Examination: The director may authorize a remote examination in place of the examination prescribed in subsection 1127-03.4 on facades, or those portions of facades, that are more than twenty-five feet from all adjacent street lines, alleys, sidewalks, paved walkways, plazas, play areas, and other areas accessible to the public. A remote examination shall include all of the following:

i. Methodically scanning the facade area through the use of magnification devices.

ii. Viewing vertically from street grade and down from parapet where possible and along all corners for alignment of facade elements.

iii. Viewing horizontally to check for alignment of bands of facade elements, such as cornices, water tables, balconies, window lintels and sills.

iv. Examining any areas which are bowing, bulging, displaced or leaning inward or outward by performing a critical examination.

1127-03.6 Inspection Reports: Each professional conducting a facade examination shall prepare a written inspection report to document the findings of the examination. Each report shall be prepared with the understanding that, because of the physical properties of the many materials commonly used for constructing facades, and the limitations on detecting concealed internal wall distress, the report might not document all "unsafe and imminently hazardous" conditions in facades that are not visible from the exterior. Therefore, an inspection report shall not constitute a representation that all "unsafe and imminently hazardous" conditions in the facade that is the subject of the report have been identified.

i. Each inspection report shall include:

a. The name and address of the building.

b. The name, address, and phone number of the building owner or person in control, and their agents if applicable.

c. The name, business address, and phone number of the professional preparing the report.

d. A site plan of the building showing adjacent streets and alleys, and the relationship of the building to property lines and adjacent buildings.

e. A description of the building, including the number of stories, height, plan dimensions, age, and type of exterior wall construction, describing (as applicable) cornices, soffits, or similar overhangs or features.

f. Overall photographs or drawings of all elevations of the building.

g. A detailed description of the facade examination in narrative form, including start and completion dates.

h. A designation of the building façade's status by the professional as "safe," "safe with ordinary repair and maintenance," "unsafe," or "unsafe and imminently hazardous," as those terms are defined in subsection 1127-3.10.

i. Drawings or photographs describing the locations and extent of all significant distress or deteriorated conditions observed in the facade.

j. A description of recommended repair work and precautionary measures that should be taken to safeguard the public, emergency responders, and building occupants, if any, and the recommended completion date of such work.

k. Where appropriate, a comparison of conditions of the building facade with conditions observed during previous examinations of the same facade.

l. A recommendation for future examination if earlier than the time period specified in subsection 1127-03.8.

m. The signature and seal of the professional who performed the examination.

n. The signature of the owner or person in control acknowledging his or her knowledge of the building's condition and responsibility to maintain the building in a safe condition.

o. The date of the report.

p. Other documents, notes, summaries, memoranda, letters, or ancillary reports pertinent to the inspection report prepared by the professional.

1127-03.7 Building Status: The owner or person in control of the building shall file an original and two copies of the required inspection report with the director and pay the review fee established pursuant to Section 1101-85 no less than 30 days following the completion of a facade examination; except, however, any professional retained to provide an inspection report must notify the director of any determination that a building facade, or part thereof, is "unsafe and imminently hazardous" within one business day of making the determination. The director shall review each report and issue orders to make needed repairs based on each respective building status as follows:

i. Buildings Determined "Safe." Upon determining an inspection report finding a building facade "safe" is satisfactory, the director shall attach a certificate to the report indicating the director's agreement with the report and specifying the due date of the next report. The director shall then return one copy of the certificate and report to the owner or person in control and one copy of the certificate and report to the professional.

ii. Buildings Determined "Safe With an Ordinary Repair and Maintenance Program." Upon determining an inspection report finding a building facade "safe with an ordinary repair and maintenance program" is satisfactory, the director shall attach a certificate to the report indicating the director's acceptance of the report and specifying the due date of the next report. The director shall then (a) return one copy to the owner or person in control and one copy to the professional and (b) order that the repairs and maintenance recommended in the report be performed within the timeframe recommended and that the owner or person in control submit a report no later than 30 days thereafter indicating that the repairs and maintenance conform to the recommendations. The director may also issue supplemental orders as necessary to address potentially unsafe conditions identified in the inspection report.

iii. Buildings Determined "Unsafe." Upon determining an inspection report finding a building facade "unsafe" is satisfactory, the director shall attach a certificate to the report indicating the director's acceptance of the report and specifying the due date of the next report. The director shall then (a) return one copy to the owner or person in control and one copy to the professional and (b) order that the recommended repairs and maintenance be performed within the recommended timeframe and that the owner or person in control retain a professional and submit a report within 30 days thereafter indicating that the repairs and maintenance conform to the recommendations. The director may also issue supplemental orders as necessary to address unsafe and potentially unsafe conditions identified in the inspection report.

iv. Buildings Determined "Unsafe and Imminently Hazardous." Upon determining an inspection report finding a building facade "unsafe and imminently hazardous" is satisfactory, the director shall attach a certificate to the report indicating the director's acceptance of the report and specifying the due date of the next report. The director shall then return one copy to the owner or person in control and one copy to the professional. The director shall further order the following:

a. That appropriate precautionary measures be taken by the owner or person in control prior to a scheduled city inspection to prevent further deterioration and to make the building safe to the public, emergency responders, and building occupants. If the owner or person in control fails to take these measures prior to the city inspection, the director may cause the precautionary measures to be taken. The cost incurred by the city in taking necessary precautionary measures may be charged against the real estate upon which the building is located. If that cost is so charged, it is a lien upon such real estate and may be assessed and collected as a special charge.

b. Submission to the city of a repair plan within three business days of the director's acceptance of the inspection report.

c. That the owner or person in control retain a professional to submit a report noting when repairs have been performed to bring the building into a "safe" condition based upon a schedule created by the director and provided to the owner or person in control.

d. That the owner or person in control retain a professional to submit a maintenance plan for the building and monthly reports of the maintenance work performed to the director.

e. That a facade examination be performed within one year following the director's acceptance of the inspection report.

f. Any supplemental orders as necessary to address unsafe and imminently hazardous conditions identified in the inspection report.

1127-03.8 Facade Examination Schedule: The owner or person in control of a building subject to the requirements of this section shall cause an examination of the building's facade to be made and shall file an inspection report with the director according to the following schedule, unless otherwise ordered by the director to address known or probable public safety hazards:

i. Category I Buildings.

a. If a building has a completed constructed date prior to January 1, 1920, its facade shall be inspected on or before July 1, 2017 and every twelve years thereafter.

b. If a building has a completed constructed date between January 1, 1920 and December 31, 1950, its facade shall be inspected on or before July 1, 2018 and every twelve years thereafter.

iv. Any building not otherwise described in subsections i-iii above must be examined within one year of reaching fifteen years beyond its completed construction date and must be subsequently examined consistent with the prescribed schedule for its respective building category.

v. If a facade inspection report was completed more recently than the prescribed timeframes for the category and age of a building, the report may be submitted to the director for review in lieu of a new report. If the director approves the report finding that it substantially complies with this section, the next report will be due within five, eight, or twelve years of when that report was originally completed, consistent with the prescribed schedule for the respective building categories described herein.

1127-3.9 Recovery of Additional Costs Incurred in Program Administration and Enforcement: The director is authorized to charge the owner or person in control of a premises subject to inspection under this Section 1127-03 for the recovery of reasonable costs incurred in its administration and enforcement of this inspection program. xi. "Safe with an ordinary repair and maintenance program" means a condition of a building facade, or part thereof, that does not pose any immediate safety hazards at the time of inspection but requires ordinary repairs or maintenance within a time period designated by a professional, to be no later than the next required facade inspection date under subsection 1127-03.8 of this section, in order to prevent its deterioration into an unsafe or unsafe and imminently hazardous condition.

xii. "Scaffold drop" means a movement from top to bottom of a building facade and covering an area at least 24 feet wide using scaffolding, cranes, hoists, cherry pickers, ladders, and other devices that permit a close-up visual examination of the facade at elevations above grade level.

1127-07.1-A. Applicable Codes. "Applicable Codes" includes, but is not limited to, the Residential Code of Ohio ("RCO"), the Ohio Building Code ("OBC"), Chapter 3742 of the Ohio Revised Code ("ORC"), the CBC, and the following provisions of the Cincinnati Municipal Code ("CMC"): Chapter 1117 - Housing Code; Title XII - Cincinnati Fire Prevention Code; Title XIV - Zoning Code; Title XVII - Land Development Code; Chapter 761 - Chronic Nuisance Premises; Chapter 714 - Littering, and Chapter 731 - Weed Control; and any other building, housing, health and safety codes and provisions applicable to residential rental property that materially affect the public health, safety and welfare.

1127-07.1-C. Code Compliant. "Code Compliant" means a residential rental property that, upon inspection by the city under this section, is found to be compliant with all applicable code provisions. 1127-07.1-N. Non-compliant. "Non-compliant" means a residential rental property that, upon inspection by the city under this section, is found to have one or more violations of applicable codes that (1) constitute an immediate hazard or threat to the occupants of the property or (2) in their totality indicate that the rental unit is not being properly maintained. In determining whether a residential rental property is Non-compliant, the director may consider additional factors including, without limitation, whether properties are not being maintained in compliance with the applicable codes; have a number of code violations, some of which appear to be longstanding and/or could materially affect the health and safety of the occupants; have deferred maintenance and/or have evidence of lack of routine maintenance of the halls, yard, common areas or dwelling units; unless the violations are promptly corrected and the premises proactively and routinely maintained, are not suitable for rental occupancy and would not afford the occupants a decent, safe, and sanitary habitation.

to have one or more violations of applicable codes that (1) do not constitute an immediate hazard or threat to the occupants of the residential rental property and (2) do not indicate in their totality that the rental unit is not being properly maintained. In determining whether a residential rental property is Substantially Compliant, the director may consider additional factors including, without limitation, whether the owner of a substantially compliant property has demonstrated a plan and capacity to abate the violations within thirty (30) days, or in a reasonable time as determined by the director; the maintenance and management of a substantially compliant property does not contribute to depreciating neighboring property values and does not adversely impact the peaceful enjoyment of surrounding properties; and based on the number of units at the property, there have been few or no substantiated complaints of code violations on the premises within the previous twelve months and there is no history of ignoring substantiated code violations.

Note—On September 6, 1979, the council of the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, by Ordinance Number 364-1949 adopted, by reference and with certain Cincinnati amendments, the "BOCA Basic Fire Prevention Code/1978, Fourth Edition" and the "Ohio Fire Code Supplement." Subsequently, Ord. No. 385-1984, effective Sept. 6, 1984, readopted the "BOCA Basic Fire Prevention Code/1978, Fourth Edition"; acknowledged the "Ohio Fire Code" as being applicable to the city; and ordained a new Title XII, except for Chapter 1237, which was ordained by Ord. As originally ordained, Ord. No. 385-1984 designated the sections as Section "CFPC ...." In order to maintain stylistic consistency with the remainder of the Cincinnati Municipal Code, in agreement with the city, the editor has used the section symbol in this title as in the remainder of the C.M.C.; thus "§ 1201-1" is the same as "CFPC 1201-1."

Sec. 1201-15. Application of Building Code.

The planning, design and construction of new buildings and structures to provide the necessary egress facilities, fire protection, and built-in fire protection equipment shall be controlled by the building code of the jurisdiction; and any alterations, additions or changes in buildings required by the provisions of this code which are within the scope of the building code shall be made in accordance therewith.

(C.M.C. 1201-6; ordained by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept 6, 1979; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1201-17 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1201-19. Special Fire Protection Requirements.

When the fire official finds that, in his opinion, adequate fire protection is not being provided in a building, structure or premises as herein required or where such fire protection is deemed necessary due to hazardous or dangerous conditions involving the occupancy of a building or structure, special fire protection equipment shall be installed in accordance with the requirements of this code and the building code.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1201-21. Maintenance.

The owner or person in control shall ensure the safe and proper maintenance of the building, structure, premises or lot at all times. In all new and existing buildings and structures the fire protection equipment, means of egress, alarms, devices and safeguards required by this code and other jurisdictional ordinances shall be maintained in a safe and proper operating condition in accordance with the Ohio Fire Code, the Cincinnati Fire Prevention Code, and applicable referenced standards.

If an occupant of a building creates conditions in violation of this code, by virtue of storage, handling and use of substances, materials, devices and appliances, he can be held responsible for the abatement of said hazardous conditions.

Buildings built under, and in full compliance with the codes in force at the time of construction or alteration thereof, and that have been properly maintained and used for such use as originally permitted, shall be exempt from the requirements of this code pertaining to:

(a) Fire protection of structural elements except as provided for existing buildings under the building code;

(b) Exits required, except as provided for existing buildings under this code and the building code; and

(c) Isolation of hazardous operations, however, the fire official may require the installation of fire safety devices or systems (fire extinguishers, fire alarms, fire detection devices, sprinklers or similar systems) where, in his judgment, they are necessary to provide safety to life and property. In lieu of requiring the installation of safety devices or systems, or when necessary to secure safety in addition thereto, the fire official may prescribe limitations on the handling and storage of materials or substances or upon the operations that are liable to cause fire, contribute to the spread of fire, or endanger life or property.

Where there is a conflict between this code and the rules and regulations of a political subdivision, the requirements which provide the greatest safety shall be applied throughout said subdivision.

Any suit instituted against any officer or employee because of an act performed by him in the lawful discharge of his duties and under the provisions of this code shall be defended by the legal representative of the jurisdiction until the final termination of the proceedings. The fire official or any of his subordinates shall not be liable for costs in any action, suit or proceeding that may be instituted in pursuance of the provisions of this code; and any official, office or employee, acting in good faith and without malice, shall be free from liability for acts performed under any of its provisions or by reason of any act or omission in the performance of his official duties in connection therewith.

Sec. 1201-31. Authority at Fires and Emergencies.

All of the occupants so notified shall immediately leave the building, structure or premises and persons shall not enter or reenter until authorized to do so by the fire official.

Such civil proceedings shall be brought in the name of the city, provided, however, that nothing in this section and no action taken thereunder, shall be held to exclude such criminal proceedings as may be authorized by this code, or any of the laws or ordinances in force in the city or to exempt anyone violating this code or any part of the laws from any penalty which may be incurred.

This chapter shall apply to fire exit drills which are held for the purpose of rapid evacuation of buildings by the efficient and safe use of the exit facilities available. This chapter shall not apply to drills which are held only for the purpose of practice in the use of first aid fire protection equipment.

It is recognized that modifications may be necessary to the details of the procedures specified in this chapter for an individual building, to make the drills more effective for their intended purpose. All such modifications shall be subject to the approval of the fire chief.
(C.M.C. 1207-1; ordained by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1207-3. General Requirements.

(a) Fire exit drills shall be regularly conducted in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

(b) Fire exit drills shall be held with sufficient frequency to familiarize all occupants with the drill procedures and to have the conduct of the drill a matter of established routine.

(c) Fire exit drills shall be held at unexpected times and under varying conditions to simulate the unusual conditions obtained in case of fire.

(d) Responsibility for the planning and conduct of fire exit drills shall be assigned only to competent persons qualified to exercise leadership.

(e) In the conduct of fire exit drills, emphasis shall be placed upon orderly evacuation under proper discipline rather than upon speed as such; no running or horseplay shall be permitted.

(f) Fire exit drills shall include suitable procedures to make sure that all persons in the building, or all persons subject to the drill, actually participate.

(g) Fire alarm facilities, where available, shall be regularly used in the conduct of fire exit drills.
(C.M.C. 1207-3; ordained by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1207-7. Educational Occupancies.

(a) Fire exit drills shall be conducted in accordance with the applicable provisions of the following paragraphs and Section 3737.73 of the Revised Code of Ohio.

(b) Fire exit drills shall be executed at different hours of the day or evening; during the changing of classes; when the school is at assembly; during the recess or gymnastic periods, etc., so as to avoid distinction between drills and actual fires. If a drill is called when pupils are going up and down the stairway, as during the time classes are changing, the pupils shall be instructed to form in file and immediately proceed to the nearest available exit in an orderly manner.

(c) Every fire drill shall be an exercise in school management for principal and teachers, with the chief purpose of every drill being complete control of the class so that the teacher will form its ranks quickly and silently, may halt it, turn it, or direct it as desired. Great stress shall be laid upon the execution of each drill in a brisk, quiet, and orderly manner. Running shall be prohibited. In case there are pupils incapable of holding their places in a line moving at a reasonable speed, provisions shall be made to have them taken care of by the sturdier pupils, moving independently of the regular line of march.

(d) Monitors shall be appointed from the maturer pupils to assist in the proper execution of all drills. They shall be instructed to hold open doors in the line of march or to close doors where necessary to prevent spread of fire or smoke. There shall be at least two substitutes for each appointment so as to provide for proper performance in case of absence of the regular monitors. The searching of toilet or other rooms shall be the duty of the teachers or other members of the staff. If the teachers are to do the searching, it should be done after they have joined their classes to the preceding lines.

(e) Each class or group shall proceed to a predetermined point outside the building and remain there while a check is made to see that all are accounted for, leaving only when a recall signal is given to return to the building, or when dismissed. Such points shall be sufficiently far away from the building and from each other as to avoid danger from any fire in the building, any interference with fire department operations, or any confusion between different classes or groups.

(f) Where necessary for drill lines to cross roadways, signs reading "STOP! SCHOOL FIRE DRILL" or equivalent, shall be carried by monitors to the traffic intersecting points in order to stop traffic during the period of the drill.

(g) All fire exit drill alarms shall be sounded on the fire alarm system and not on the signal system used to dismiss classes.

(h) Whenever any of the school authorities determine that an actual fire exists, they shall immediately call the fire division using the public fire alarm system or such other facilities as are available.

(C.M.C. 1207-7; ordained by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

(a) The administration of every hospital and nursing home shall have in effect and available to all supervisory personnel written copies of a plan for the protection of all persons in the event of fire and for their evacuation to areas of refuge and from the building when necessary. All employees shall be instructed and kept informed respecting their duties under the plan. Fire exit drills shall be held at reasonable intervals.

(b) Fire exit drills in hospitals shall include the transmission of a fire alarm signal and simulation of emergency fire conditions except that the movement of infirm or bedridden patients to safe areas or to the exterior of the building is not required. Drills shall be conducted at irregular intervals during day and night to familiarize hospital personnel (nurses, interns, maintenance engineers and administrative staff) with signals and emergency actions required under varied conditions. Not less than 12 drills shall be held every year.

(C.M.C. 1207-9; ordained by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1215-1. Flood Protection for Tanks.

Sections 1215-1 through 1215-7 shall apply to all aboveground and underground tanks used for the storage of flammable or combustible liquids, where such tanks are subject to floodwater from the Ohio River or its tributaries at any stage up to and including an 83-foot stage.

The provisions of such sections are the minimum precautions which are necessary to reasonably secure such tanks, which are endangered by water, from injury, spillage or loss of liquid. Additional safety measures may be required by the fire chief as conditions warrant.

(C.M.C. 1215-7; ordained by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1215-1 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1215-3. Safe Practices.

(A) Except as provided in paragraph (D) of this section, all tanks used for the storage of flammable or combustible liquids shall be designed, fabricated, installed and anchored as required by the Cincinnati - Ohio Building Code.

(B) Except as provided in paragraph (D) of this section, all stationary aboveground tanks and all underground tanks shall be completely filled with water, gasoline or other approved liquid and closed before the river water in that vicinity reaches an elevation which will endanger the stability or safety of the tank. Such vicinity and elevation shall be determined by the fire chief. The preparation and filling of such tanks shall be in conformity with the following:

(1) The rate of filling shall be at least equal to the rate of rise of the floodwaters or the established average potential rate of rise;

(2) Sufficient fuel to operate the water or produce pumps shall be available at all times to insure adequate power to fill all tankage;

(3) All valves on connecting pipelines shall be closed and locked in closed position when loading has been completed;

(4) All vent pipes and discharge lines, where in danger of floating objects, shall be disconnected and capped at the ground level or lower.

(C) Except as provided in paragraph (D) of this section, all floating tanks shall be completely filled with water, gasoline or other approved liquid before the river water in that vicinity reaches an elevation which will endanger the stability or safety of the tanks. Such vicinity and elevation shall be determined by the fire chief. The preparation and filling of such tanks shall be in conformity with the following:

(1) The rate of filling shall be at least equal to the rise of the floodwaters or the established average potential rate of rise;

(2) Sufficient fuel to operate the water or produce pumps shall be available at all times to insure adequate power to all tankage;

(3) Where structural guides are provided for the protection of floating tanks, all rigid connections between tanks and pipelines shall be disconnected and blanked off or blinded before the floodwaters reach the bottom of the tank, unless control valves and their connections to the tank are of a type designed to prevent breakage between the valve and the tank;

(4) All valves attached to tanks other than those used in connection with water-loading operations shall be closed and locked;

(5) If a tank is equipped with a swing line, the swing pipe shall be raised to and secured at its highest position.

(D) Except as provided in paragraph (E) of this section, the provisions of Sections CFPC 1215-1 through CFPC 1215-7 shall not apply to the area behind the barrier dam which is protected from a flood of the Ohio River between a 52-foot and an 83-foot stage.

(E) In areas behind the barrier dam, where the fire chief determines that such tanks may be subject to flash floods and in danger of the forces due to such flash floods, tanks shall be protected in the manner required by Sections CFPC 1215-1 through CFPC 1215-7.

(2) Type II storage is that in which combustible commodities involving combustible packaging or storage aids are stored not over 15 feet high in solid piles or not over 12 feet high in piles that contain horizontal channels. Minor quantities of commodities of hazard greater than ordinary combustibles may be included without affecting this general classification;

(3) Type III storage is that in which the stored commodities, packaging and storage aids are noncombustible or contain only a small concentration of combustibles which are incapable of producing a fire that would cause appreciable damage to the commodity stored or to noncombustible wall, floor or roof construction. Ordinary combustible commodities in completely sealed noncombustible containers may qualify in this chapter subject to the approval of the fire chief. General commodities storage that is subject to frequent changing and storage of combustible packaging and storage aids is excluded from this category;

(4) Type IV storage is that in which the stored commodity is coal.

(B) This chapter shall not apply to the bulk storage of grain or similar commodities or to refrigerated warehouses.

(2) The storage of water absorbent commodities shall take into account the swelling characteristics and added weight of water which can be absorbed during firefighting operations;

(3) Commodities shall be piled so as to minimize the spread of fire internally and to permit convenient access for firefighting, salvage and removal of portions of storage. Stable piling shall be maintained at all times;

(4) Combustible contents shall not be piled in contact with any structural column that is not of fire-resistive construction;

(5) Commodities that are susceptible to water damage shall be stored on skids, dunnage, pallets or elevated platforms in order to maintain not less than four inches clearance from the floor;

(6) Storage piles shall be kept as narrow as practicable consistent with operational requirements, and in no case shall a pile exceed 15,000 square feet;

(a) Ventilating pipes or ducts not less than three inches in diameter shall be provided at not less than 10 feet on centers and shall extend from the top to the bottom of the pile.

(b) Daily temperature readings shall be made by lowering thermometers in the ventilating pipes or ducts. The indication of a temperature of more than 180 degrees F. shall be sufficient cause for either the removal of the coal or its submersion in water.

(4) Where 500 tons or more of coal are stored, or where the pile height exceeds 20 feet, construction of the bin shall be such that the contents may be submerged in water to within not less than five feet of the top of the storage. Where submersion is required, adequate drainage shall be provided.

(a) The application shall be made on blank forms to be provided by the city manager and shall be signed by the owners of not less than 90 percent in tax value of all the improved parcels of real estate within the proposed district. For the purpose of this section, "improved parcel of real estate" shall mean a residence, business or factory building with the entire tract of land occupied or used in connection with it; "tax value" shall mean the value for taxation purposes on the real estate tax duplicate of Hamilton County, as corrected by the county auditor and as certified and delivered, in accordance with Section 319.28 of the Ohio Revised Code, to the county treasurer on October 1 preceding the beginning of the fire protection year;

(c) The application shall designate one or more persons authorized to act for the petitioners;

(d) The application shall be accompanied by a preliminary fee of $100, which shall be considered as a payment on account, if the proposed district is established, and which shall be forfeited if the contract is refused by the applicant when offered to the applicant.

(C.O. 705-5; renumbered to C.M.C. 711-5, eff. Jan. 1, 1972; renumbered to C.M.C. 1243-5 by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1233-5 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1233-7. Feasibility of Proposed District.

On receipt of a proper application for the establishment of a fire protection district, the city manager shall direct the fire chief to make a survey of the proposed district to determine whether it is feasible for the city to furnish city fire protection. If the fire chief shall find the boundaries of the proposed district are unsatisfactory, they, with the approval of the petitioners, shall be modified, so long as the provisions of paragraph (a) of Section CFPC 1233-5 are complied with.

(C.O. 705-8; renumbered to C.M.C. 711-7, eff. Jan. 1, 1972; renumbered to C.M.C. 1243-7 by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1233-7 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1233-9. Fire Protection Fee.

If the city manager, on the recommendation of the fire chief, shall determine that it is feasible for the fire force to render city fire protection in the proposed district, the city manager shall determine the fire protection fee payable for the period of one year for the district, which fee shall be equal to 15 mills per dollar on the total taxable value of the parcels owned by the applicants. The minimum annual fee for any district shall be $300.

(C.O. 705-9; a. Ord. No. 265-1962, eff. Aug. 4, 1962; a. Ord. No. 429-1967, eff. Dec. 22, 1967; renumbered to C.M.C. 711-9, eff. Jan. 1, 1972; a. Ord. No. 540-1974, eff. Dec. 25, 1987)

Sec. 1233-11. Protection Periods.

The fire protection period for any fire protection district shall expire on December 31 next after the establishment of the district, except that if the district is established after November 1 of any year, the expiration date shall be December 31 of the succeeding year.

(C.O. 705-11; renumbered to C.M.C. 711-11, eff. Jan. 1, 1972; renumbered to C.M.C. 1243-11 by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1233-11 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1233-13. Contract.

Upon payment of the proper fee, the city manager shall be authorized to execute a contract with the representatives of the fire protection district whereby the city shall undertake to furnish city fire protection to the petitioning property owners of the fire protection district. The contract shall, in no event, confer a right of action for damages on any property owner of the district or on any other person for operation or failure to operate thereunder. The city will not establish any fire houses or fixed equipment outside the city limits. Where the protection period is less or more than a year, the fee shall be proportionately less or greater than the fixed annual fee, according to the number of months. In calculating the number of months, fractional parts of a month consisting of 10 days or less shall be disregarded. Where the fractional part is more than 10 days it shall be counted as a full month.

In the case of the annexation to the city of the whole or a part of a fire protection district more than one month before the end of the fire protection period, the city manager shall calculate the equitable refund due the property owners for the unexpired part of the protection period and shall report the result of such calculation to council for such action as council shall consider proper.

(C.O. 705-12; renumbered to C.M.C. 711-13, eff. Jan. 1, 1972; renumbered to C.M.C. 1233-13 by Ord. No. 364-1979, eff. Sept. 6, 1979; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1233-13 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984)

Sec. 1233-15. Unprotected Property.

Property in a fire protection district for which no fire protection fee has been paid shall not be entitled to fire protection. Where the owner of an unprotected vacant lot subsequently erects a building thereon, the owner may obtain protection for such building on payment of the proportionate fee for the unexpired portion of the protection period. Until the taxation value of the completed building shall have been officially determined, the fee shall be based on the estimated tax value of the lot with the completed structure. Owners of existing buildings in a fire protection district, not joining in the application for fire protection nor paying a fire protection fee, may have their buildings subsequently protected under the contract, but only on payment of the full fee which would have been charged against them had they joined in the application.

Sec. 1233-17. Renewals.

Renewals of contracts for fire protection districts shall be made as in the case of original applications. Applications for renewal shall be made not less than 30 days before the expiration date of the existing contract, and renewal payment shall be made not less than 10 days before such expiration date.

Sec. 1233-19. Application of Township, Village or City for Auxiliary Fire Protection.

Any township, village or city within the outside fire protection line which shall desire auxiliary fire protection from the city of Cincinnati shall file its application with the city manager. The application shall be accompanied by an accurate map of the township, village or city showing all streets and roads therein with the approximate location of all buildings, especially indicating factories and office buildings, apartment houses and other types of large building construction.

Sec. 1233-21. Report of City Manager.

Upon receiving an application from a township, village or city for auxiliary fire protection the city manager shall refer it to the fire chief for approval as to feasibility. If the fire chief shall approve, the city manager shall determine the total real estate tax duplicate value of the applicant township, village or city for the current tax year and refer the application to the council with a report and recommendation.

Sec. 1233-23. Contract for Township, Village or City Fire Protection.

With his report and recommendation in the matter of the application of a township, village or city for auxiliary fire protection, the city manager shall submit an ordinance to council authorizing the execution of a contract of fire protection between the city of Cincinnati and the applicant township, village or city. The proposed contract shall provide the following:

(a) That the applicant township, village or city shall maintain a fire department adequate for its ordinary fire protection purposes, and shall call on the city for additional fire services only for a fire too large to be handled by one company or when its fire department is already engaged at a fire;

(b) That the city of Cincinnati fire force shall answer all calls for fire service in the same manner and with personnel and equipment of the same kind as for similar fires within the city of Cincinnati;

(c) That the contract shall in no event confer a right of action for damages either on the contracting township, village or city or on any property owner or resident thereof, for operation or failure to operate thereunder;

(d) That the amount payable by the applicant township, village or city shall be equal to five mills per dollar of the total real estate tax duplicate value of such township, village or city for each year of the contract. If the period consists of or includes the fractional part of a year, the payments shall be proportioned as in the case of unincorporated fire protection districts;

(e) The method and times of payment of the annual fire protection amount;

(f) That no fire service shall be rendered where the applicant township, village or city is in default in the payment of amounts due under the contract;

The primary power for such system may be either an AC electrical system or a monitored battery. Systems with detectors sensitive to heat only are not included in this definition for purposes of this chapter.

For the purpose of installation and maintenance only, a system shall be deemed approved if listed by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., and conforms to the applicable sections of "NFPA Standard No. 72 (referenced by the Cincinnati Building Code).
(Ordained as Sec. 1245-1 by Ord. No. 363-1981, eff. Oct. 10, 1981; repealed and reordained as Sec. 1235-1 by Ord. No. 385-1984, eff. Sept. 6, 1984; a. Ord. No. 292-1997, eff. Oct. 4, 1997; a. Ord. No. 83-1998, eff. April 10, 1998)

An early warning fire system shall be installed, and maintained, outside of each separate sleeping area in the immediate vicinity of the sleeping areas in each living unit. Each of these detectors shall be audible in each adjacent, separate sleeping area in each living unit when all intervening doors are closed and all household equipment that may be in operation at night are in full operation. An early warning fire system shall also be placed, and maintained, on each additional story without a sleeping area, including basements or cellars but excluding crawl spaces and unfinished attics. All detectors shall be installed and maintained in accordance with NFPA Standard No. 72 (as referenced in the Cincinnati Building Code) Household Fire Warning Equipment.

An owner may not permit a building or dwelling unit to be occupied without an approved and properly operating detector.

living unit when a monthly test or supervisory signal indicates the need for replacement.

(b) notify the owner and the Cincinnati Fire Division of an inoperative detector within twenty four hours of learning of the inoperative status of the detector. This subsection does not require notice when the only inoperative item is a battery of a detector located within a living unit.

(c) test, upon initial occupancy and once a month thereafter, each detector with an exterior test device within the tenant's living unit.

In any residential building in which the owner is required to have an early warning fire system it shall be the responsibility for the owner to:

Sec. 1247-1. Legislative Finding and Purpose.

The city council of the city of Cincinnati hereby determines that the public health and safety is endangered by a lack of knowledge about toxic or hazardous substances located within the city. The council also finds that the public, particularly citizens and workers, should have the right to know what toxic and hazardous substances they are exposed to in the community and at work because they will then be able to take more adequate measures to protect themselves against chronic and acute health and safety problems in the city. Further, the council hereby determines that the city's firefighters must know what toxic or hazardous substances are present within the city and where they are located in order to properly protect both human life and property.

Thus, the council determines that the labeling of certain recognized toxic and hazardous substances and the availability of information about such substances to employees, public officials, and other affected persons is essential to protect the public safety and health.

(D) The fire division shall investigate, within 72 hours, any complaint in which it is alleged that employees have been ordered to work with substances which are not labeled as required by this chapter or for which material safety data sheets required by this chapter are not accessible to employees.

(E) The fire chief shall adopt necessary and appropriate practices and procedures to protect information identified, pursuant to Section CFPC 1247-15 and Section CFPC 1247-31, as trade secret from improper use or dissemination beyond the purposes of this chapter.

(F) The fire chief shall have the power, upon written application by an employer, to authorize variances from labeling provisions of Section CFPC 1247-9, which will not be contrary to the public interest or the intent of this chapter, but only where, (1) owing to special conditions pertaining to a specific employer, workplace or work area, the strict application of this chapter would cause undue or unnecessary hardship, or (2) owing to a preexisting program of an employer designed to inform or protect workers, an employer is in substantial compliance with this chapter.

(1) No such variance for undue or unnecessary hardship shall be authorized by the fire chief unless the fire chief finds the following facts and conditions exist:

(a) Exceptional or extraordinary circumstances or conditions apply to the subject employer, workplace or work area; in making a finding on this point, the fire chief shall consider factors, including but not limited to extreme temperature, difficulty of access, lack of a permanent work area or workplace such as at construction or demolition sites, and volatile or rapidly changing conditions in the work area or workplace; and

(b) The employer establishes, with approval of the fire chief, alternate methods of providing information about the toxic or hazardous substances involved, such as placards, posting signs in common areas or entry areas, and oral and written communication, which shall be substituted for those requirements that are waived and which will result in substantial compliance with the intent of this chapter.

(2) No such variance for a preexisting program shall be authorized by the fire chief unless the fire chief finds the following facts and conditions exist:

(a) The program was in existence as of January 1, 1982;

(b) The labeling in use in the program conveys information in a manner substantially equal to or better than the labeling requirements of the chapter;

(c) Material safety data sheets which contain the same data as required by this chapter must be readily accessible to workers; and

(d) The employer must have on file with the fire division an explanation of its program describing its method of labeling and shall conform to the requirements of Section CFPC 1247-19(b).

(3) In modifying the literal interpretation and strict application of the provisions of this chapter and in authorizing a variance there from the fire chief shall impose such requirements and conditions involved as he may deem necessary in order to carry out the intent and purpose of this chapter, and to otherwise safeguard the public health, safety and general welfare.

(4) Variances granted pursuant to this section for undue or unnecessary hardship shall expire one year from the date of issuance, but may be renewed by the fire chief upon compliance with all terms of this section. Variances granted pursuant to this section for preexisting programs shall be for a period of five years, after which they shall expire and the employer shall conform to this chapter.

(5) When an employer files an application for a variance, the employer shall notify its employees of such application by immediately posting a notice of such application. Such posting shall occur in the same manner as provided for in Section CFPC 1247-11.

(6) Appeals from a decision of the fire chief made under this subsection granting or refusing a variance or any other decision of the fire chief, where such decision is based upon this chapter, may be taken to the city manager by any employer, employee, employee's designated representative or recognized collective bargaining agent who has taken a position on the matter subject to appeal by expressing an opinion in writing to the fire chief prior to his decision. Appeals to the city manager shall be made in writing and filed with the city manager within 30 days from the ruling or the decision of the fire chief. The city manager (or his duly authorized designee, which may include the fire prevention board of appeals) may, in conformity with the provisions of this chapter, reverse or affirm wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision, ruling or determination appealed from.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-03. Purposes.

The Cincinnati Zoning Code is adopted to:

(a) Provide a guide for the physical development of the city.

(b) Preserve the character and quality of residential neighborhoods.

(c) Foster convenient, harmonious and workable relationships among land uses.

(d) Achieve the arrangement of land uses described in the comprehensive plan for the development of the City as may have been adopted by Council.

(e) Promote the economic stability of existing land uses and protect them from intrusions by inharmonious or harmful land uses.

(f) Provide opportunities for economic development and new housing for all segments of the community.

(g) Create pedestrian-friendly environments to reduce reliance on the automobile for travel.

(h) Prevent excessive population densities and overcrowding of land or buildings.

(i) Ensure the provision of adequate open space for light, air and fire safety.

(j) Ensure that development is compatible with the environment, particularly on the hillsides and along the riverfront.

(k) Promote the conservation, protection, restoration and enhancement of the historic resources of the city.

(l) Lessen congestion in the public streets by providing for off-street parking and loading areas for commercial vehicles.

(m) Provide effective signage that is compatible with the surrounding urban environment.

(n) Set standards by which a nonconforming use may continue to function and to provide for the adaptive reuse of nonconforming buildings.

(o) Define the powers and duties of the administrative officers, hearing officers and the Zoning Board of Appeals.

(p) Provide penalties for violations of the provisions of the Cincinnati Zoning Code.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-05. Applicability.

All development must comply with the standards, criteria and procedures of the Cincinnati Zoning Code. Development may not be undertaken without prior authorization pursuant to the Cincinnati Zoning Code.

(a) Applicability to Property. The Cincinnati Zoning Code applies to all land within the City of Cincinnati, including land owned by the City of Cincinnati and other local, state, or federal agencies to the extent allowed by law. Application of regulations to specific lots is governed by the zoning map.

(b) Compliance with Regulations. Land may not be used, and structures may not be constructed, occupied, enlarged, altered, demolished or moved, except in accord with the provisions of the Cincinnati Zoning Code.

(c) Public Nuisance. Neither the provisions of this Chapter nor the approval of any permit authorized by the Cincinnati Zoning Code authorizes the maintenance of any public nuisance.

(d) Conflict with Other Regulations. Where conflict occurs between the provisions of the Cincinnati Zoning Code and any other City code, chapter, resolution, guideline or regulation, the more restrictive provision controls, unless otherwise specified in this Chapter.

(e) Extension of Time for Holidays and Weekends. If a deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the time for performing an act is extended to the next working day.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-07. Zoning Designation System.

Land use and development regulations applicable to specific sites are shown on the Zoning Map by zoning designations consisting of classes of letter designators:

(a) Land Use Regulations Designator. This designator indicates the principal land uses permitted or conditionally permitted in each district and is a component of all zoning designations, for example, SF Single-family Residential District, RM Residential Multi-family District or CN Commercial Neighborhood District.

(b) Residential Density Designator. This designator indicates a subdistrict with a specific range of dwelling unit densities as a component of certain residential zoning designations, for example, SF-20 Single-family Residential District is the lowest density range, which requires 20,000 square feet for every dwelling unit. RM-2.0 requires 2,000 square feet for every dwelling unit.

(c) Subarea Designation. Within the DD Downtown Development District, subdistricts are designated by letters (A, B, C or D) following the zoning district designation. Similarly, in the commercial districts, subarea designations are used for Pedestrian (P), Mixed (M), and Automobile Oriented (A).

(d) Special Review District Designators. These designators are included in a zoning designation if the provisions of one or more districts are applicable to a site or area. For example, HS indicates that the property is within a Hillside District.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-09. Interpretation.

The provisions of the Cincinnati Zoning Code are the minimum requirements, adopted for the promotion of the public health, safety, convenience, comfort, prosperity and general welfare. Where the Cincinnati Zoning Code imposes a greater restriction on the use of buildings or premises or on the heights of buildings, or requires larger setbacks, lot area for every dwelling unit, or other open spaces, or requires more parking and loading space or is in any way more restrictive than other provisions of law or ordinance, the provisions of the Cincinnati Zoning Code control.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-11. Establishment of Zoning Districts.

For the purposes of the Cincinnati Zoning Code, the City of Cincinnati is divided into 24 zoning districts. These zoning districts are intended to:

(a) Location and Use. Regulate and restrict the location and use of buildings and land for residence, commerce and trade, industry, transportation, communications and utilities and other purposes.

(b) Dimensions. To regulate and restrict the height and size of buildings and structures hereafter erected or structurally altered, the size of yards, setbacks, other open spaces and the density of population.

(c) Standards. To establish site development and design standards, subdivision standards and requirements for adequate public facilities and services.

Base zoning districts and chapter references are shown in Schedule 1400-11. References to classes of districts (SF, RM, C, UM, DD, M, RF, PR and IR) include all of the subdistricts.

§ 1400-19. Declaration of Unconstitutionality.

Whenever a court declares, by a judgment or decree that is final and further appeal is no longer available, that the zoning of property is unconstitutional or otherwise invalid, the property affected is thereupon subject to the restrictions applicable to the next less restrictive district. Provided however, if the court, in such judgment or decree, declares that the property may be used for a particular use or uses because the City has no right to prohibit such use or uses on the property, then the property shall be subject to the restrictions applicable to the most restrictive district in which the particular use or uses declared proper by the court are permitted. The zoning restrictions made applicable to property pursuant to this section remain in effect for a period not to exceed 120 days after the judgment or decree declaring the prior zoning unconstitutional or invalid becomes final. The purpose of this section is to prevent property from being unzoned from the time the zoning thereof is held unconstitutional or invalid until rezoned by Council.

§ 1400-21. Interpretation of District Boundaries.

Where uncertainty exists regarding the boundary of a zoning district, the following rules apply:

(a) Property Lines. District boundaries shown as approximately following the property line of a lot are construed to follow such property line.

(b) Scale. On unsubdivided land or where a district boundary divides a lot, the location of the district boundary is determined by using the scale appearing on the zoning map, unless the boundary location is indicated by dimensions printed on the map.

(c) Boundary Lines. District boundaries shown as approximately following right-of-way lines of freeways, streets, railroads, streams, corporations or other identifiable boundary lines are construed to follow such right-of-way or boundary lines.

(d) Centerlines. District boundaries shown as lying within right-of-way lines of freeways, streets, railroads, streams, corporations or other identifiable boundary lines are construed to follow the centerline of such right-of-way or boundary lines.

(e) Uncertainty. If any uncertainty remains as to the location of a district boundary or other feature shown on the zoning map, the Director of City Planning has the duty to determine the location.

The Director of City Planning has the duty to keep a record of interpretations made pursuant to this section and keep them available to the public.

§ 1400-23. Principal Structures.

No more than one principal structure may be constructed on a lot unless the development of more than one structure has been approved pursuant to §1419-12, Community Learning Centers or Chapter 1429, Planned Development Districts.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 127-2018, § 1, eff. July 6, 2018; a. Emer. Ord. No. 199-2024, § 2, eff. 7-1-2024)

§ 1400-25. Lots Divided by District Boundaries.

Where a district boundary divides a lot in single ownership and of record prior to and continuously since the time the district boundary line was established, the use authorized on and the district requirements of the least restricted portion of the lot are construed as extending to the entire lot; provided that the extension may not include any part of the lot that is more than 25 feet from that district boundary.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-27. Measurements.

The sections that follow explain how various measurements referenced in the Cincinnati Zoning Code are to be calculated.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-27-D. Distances.

Distances are measured as follows:

(a) Distances Are Measured Horizontally. When determining distances for setbacks and structure dimensions, all distances are measured along a horizontal plane from the appropriate line, edge of building, structure, storage area, parking area or other object. These distances are not measured by following the topography of the land.

(b) Measurements are Shortest Distance. When measuring a required distance, such as the minimum distance between a structure and a lot line, the measurement is made at the closest or shortest distance between the two objects. Exceptions are stated in Subsections (c), (d) and (e) below.

(c) Measurement of Vehicle Stacking or Travel Areas. Measurement of a minimum travel distance for vehicles, such as garage entrance setbacks and stacking lane distances, is measured down the center of the vehicle travel area. For example, curving driveways and travel lanes are measured along the arc of the driveway or traffic lane.

(d) Measurements Involving a Structure. Measurements involving a structure are made to the closest wall of the structure. Chimneys, eaves and bay windows up to 12 feet in length, are not included in the measurement. Other features, such as covered porches and entrances, are included in the measurement.

(e) Underground Structures. Structures or portions of structures that are entirely underground are not included in measuring required distances.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-27-F. Determining Floor Area Ratio.

The floor area ratio is measured as the proportion of allowable building gross floor area divided by the area of the parcel of land on which the building rests. For purposes of calculating the floor area ratio, gross floor area associated with the following is excluded:

(a) Attic space having a headroom of seven feet or less.

(b) Space devoted exclusively to parking and loading within the building.

(c) Utility or furnace rooms.

(d) Space used for incidental service storage.

(e) Space used for the installation of mechanical equipment, ventilators, heating systems and similar uses.

(f) Space for the common recreational use of tenants and guests that is not part of a dwelling unit.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 1, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1400-27-F-1. Fractions.

When calculations result in fractions the results are rounded as follows:

(a) Minimum Requirements. When a regulation is expressed in terms of a minimum requirement, any fractional result over 0.5 is rounded up to the next consecutive whole number.

(b) Maximum Limits. When a regulation is expressed in terms of maximum limits, any fractional result will be rounded down to the next lower whole number. For example, if a maximum limit of one dwelling unit for every 20,000 square feet in the SF-20 district is applied to a 50,000 square foot site, the resulting fraction of 2.5 is rounded down to two allowed dwelling units.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-27-H. Height.

Height is measured as follows:

(a) Measuring Building Height. Building height is measured from the established grade in the front of the lot or from the average natural grade at the building line, if higher to the top of the cornice of flat roofs, or to the deck line of a mansard roof, or to the mid-height of the highest gable or dormer in a pitched or hipped roof, or, if there are no gables or dormers, to the mid-height of a pitched or hipped roof.

(b) Measuring Height of Other Structures. The height of other structures such as fences is the vertical distance from the ground level immediately under the structure to the top of a structure. Special measurement provisions are also provided below.

(c) Measuring Height of Fences on Top of Retaining Walls. Fences on the top of retaining walls are measured from the top of the retaining wall.

(d) Measuring Height of Decks. Deck height is determined by measuring from the ground to the top of the floor of the deck if there is no rail and from the average finished grade to the top of the rails for all other situations.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-27-L. Lot Width.

The horizontal distance between the side lot lines as measured from the midpoint of one side lot line to the midpoint of the other side lot line.

§ 1400-27-S. Minimum Separation Distance.

In cases where a minimum separation distance applies, the minimum distance is measured in a straight line, without regard to intervening structures, from the closest property line of the use being regulated to the closest property line, district boundary line or use from which the minimum distance is required.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1400-27-S1. Setback Averaging.

Certain regulations allow for setbacks to be averaged. In these situations, the required setback may be reduced to the average of the existing setbacks of the lots that are on both sides of the site. The following rules apply in calculating the average setback:

(a) Abutting Setbacks. Only the setbacks on the lots that abut each side of the site and are on the same street may be used. Setbacks across the street or along a different street may not be used.

(b) Vacant Abutting Lots and Corner Lots. When one abutting lot is vacant, the average is of the setback of the abutting non-vacant lot and the required setback for the vacant lot. When the subject lot is a corner lot, the average is of the setback of the abutting non-vacant lot and the required setback of the subject lot.

§ 1400-27-S2. Square Footage, Multiple Uses by Single Entity.

When determining total square footage, an establishment with multiple uses/products operating under one roof, on the same building footprint and controlled by a unifying entity shall have the square footage devoted to each separate use/product category combined and measured for a total square foot calculation.

§ 1403-03. Specific Purposes of the Single-Family Subdistricts.

The specific purposes of the SF single-family districts are to create, maintain and enhance neighborhood residential areas that are characterized by low-density dwellings with typical lot sizes ranging from 2,000 square feet to one-half acre or more in size. Future development should remain single-family residential in character; however, some public and non-residential uses may be permitted, and two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted in districts with Connected Community designations. Five subdistricts are established:

(a) SF-20 Single-family. This subdistrict allows large-lot single-family housing at very low densities found in suburban residential districts. The minimum lot size is 20,000 square feet.

(b) SF-10 Single-family. This subdistrict allows single-family housing at low densities. The minimum lot size is 10,000 square feet.

(c) SF-6 Single-family. This subdistrict allows medium-density, single-family housing. The minimum lot size is 6,000 square feet.

(d) SF-4 Single-family. This subdistrict allows moderately high density single-family housing. The minimum lot size is 4,000 square feet.

§ 1403-04. Connected Communities.

Three Connected Communities designations are established to enhance the base zoning district. The underlying zoning district and map overlays apply where not inconsistent with the development regulations below.

(a) Neighborhood Business District 'B'. This district designation is intended for areas located within established neighborhood business districts. The neighborhood business district 'B' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, four-family, and multi-family uses are permitted, subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsection (a)(2).

(2) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(b) Middle Housing 'MH'. This district designation is intended for areas surrounding neighborhood business districts. The middle housing 'MH' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsection (b)(2).

(2) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for permitted residential uses.

(ii) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(c) Transportation Corridor 'T'. This district designation is intended for areas located along major transportation corridors. The transit corridor 'T' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted subject to the development regulations in Section 1403-07, except as otherwise provided in subsections (c)(2)-(4).

(2) Multi-family uses are only permitted if also located within a neighborhood business district.

(3) Minimum off-street parking regulations do not apply.

(4) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(d) Design Standards. Two-family, three-family, and four-family dwellings located within a designated Connected Communities district shall comply with the design standards set forth below.

(1) Entrance. At least one dwelling unit entrance shall be located on each street frontage.

(2) Building Form. Building composition shall consist of a base, middle, and top component to reduce the apparent bulk of the building. The designs of new buildings shall avoid long unrelieved expanses of wall along the street frontage by maintaining a rhythm of windows and structural bays.

(i) Buildings shall have a distinct base at the ground level, using articulation and materials such as stone, masonry, or decorative concrete.

(ii) Buildings shall have a change in material and/or design that marks the transition from base component to middle component, and from middle component to top component.

(iii) The top of the building shall be treated with a distinct outline with elements such as a projecting parapet, cornice, or projection.

(3) If the Zoning Administrator determines a permit application does not conform to the requirements of Section 1403-04(d), the Zoning Board of Appeals has the duty to determine whether the application satisfies the standards set forth in this Chapter prior to the issuance of a building permit.

§ 1403-05. Land Use Regulations.

Schedule 1403-05 below prescribes the land use regulations for SF Districts. Uses are defined in Chapter 1401, Definitions. Uses not listed in the Schedule 1403-05 are prohibited.

The regulations for each subdistrict are established by letter designations as follows:

(a) "P" designates permitted uses. These uses may be subject to additional regulations as indicated.

(b) "L" designates uses that are permitted, subject to certain limitations. Numeric suffixes refer to limitations listed at the bottom of Schedule 1403-05. Except as otherwise indicated, modifications of a numerical, locational or dimensional limitation requires a variance under Chapter 1445 - Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses.

(c) "C" designates uses permitted only after review and approval of the conditional use by the Zoning Hearing Examiner. These uses may be subject to additional regulations as indicated.

RESIDENTIAL MULTI-FAMILY DISTRICTS

§ 1405-01. Purposes.
§ 1405-03. Specific Purposes of the Multi-Family Subdistricts.
§ 1405-04. Connected Communities.
§ 1405-05. Land Use Regulations.
§ 1405-07. Development Regulations.
§ 1405-09. Truck Docks; Loading and Service Areas.

§ 1405-01. Purposes.

The general purposes of multi-family districts are to:

(a) Maintain and enhance the multi-family neighborhoods.

(b) Encourage quality and variety in building and landscape design as well as compatibility in use and form.

(c) Allow semi-public and non-residential uses, where appropriate.

(d) Establish appropriate standards for reviewing proposals for new development and redevelopment.

(e) Ensure the provision of services and facilities needed to accommodate planned population densities.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1405-03. Specific Purposes of the Multi-Family Subdistricts.

The specific purposes of the RM Residential Multi-family subdistricts are to create, maintain and enhance neighborhood residential areas with multi-family housing that are typically located near the city's major arterials and characterized by a mix of attached housing, small and large multi-unit buildings and community facilities, where appropriate. Future development will be primarily residential in character, although some small-scale public and non-residential uses on the ground floor in a mixed use building on an arterial street may be allowed with specific limitations. Four RM District subdistricts are established:

(a) RMX Residential Mixed. This subdistrict is intended to create, maintain and enhance areas of the city that have a mix of lot sizes and house types at moderate intensities (one to three dwelling units). Existing multi-family buildings of four or more units are acknowledged but new construction is not permitted.

(b) RM-2.0 Multi-family. This subdistrict is intended to provide for a medium density mix of residential housing predominantly duplexes and multi-family on lots that have already been platted. The scale of buildings is generally similar to a large single-family home on a small lot. Where land is assembled, the same scale should be maintained. The minimum land area for every dwelling unit is 2,000 square feet.

(c) RM-1.2 Multi-family. This subdistrict is intended to provide for mixed residential uses at moderately high densities. This is an intense district with an urban character. The minimum land area for every dwelling unit is 1,200 square feet.

(d) RM-0.7 Multi-family. This subdistrict is the most intense residential district and it will normally consist of tall multi-family or condominium structures. The character is intended to be urban and should be used where high intensity residential is needed to provide a residential base for important commercial areas. The minimum land area for every dwelling unit is 700 square feet.

§ 1405-04. Connected Communities.

Three Connected Communities designations are established to enhance the base zoning district. The underlying zoning district and map overlays apply where not inconsistent with the development regulations below.

(a) Neighborhood Business District 'B'. This district designation is intended for areas located within established neighborhood business districts. The neighborhood business district 'B' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted, subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsections (a)(2)-(4).

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses shall comply with the minimum lot area regulations for single-family uses.

(4) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(b) Middle Housing 'MH'. This district designation is intended for areas surrounding neighborhood business districts. The middle housing 'MH' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

§ 1409-01. Purposes.

The general purposes of commercial districts are to:

(a) Encourage the creation of new and the enhancement of existing commercial districts serving adjacent residential neighborhood areas.

(b) Encourage the creation of neighborhood activity centers as focal points along transportation corridors.

(c) Encourage quality and variety in building and landscape design as well as compatibility in use and form, where appropriate.

(d) Establish appropriate standards for reviewing proposals for new development and redevelopment, where appropriate, in commercial areas.

(e) Allow certain limited mixed commercial/residential uses, where appropriate.

(f) Maintain and enhance existing commercial districts, giving special consideration to type, scale, intensity and access.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1409-03. Specific Purposes of the Commercial Subdistricts.

The specific purposes of the commercial subdistricts are:

(a) CN Commercial Neighborhood. To identify, create, maintain and enhance mixed-use neighborhood commercial centers that reflect smaller-scale, pedestrian-oriented development with continuous street frontage and a mix of commercial and residential uses. Typical uses include retail, services, housing, office, open space, eating and drinking establishments and smaller-scale public and recreation and entertainment uses. Future development must be of a pedestrian-oriented commercial or mixed-use nature, serving the immediate neighborhood.

(b) CC Commercial Community. To identify, create, maintain and enhance areas suitable for a wide variety of commercial and institutional uses along major transportation corridors and in shopping districts or centers. Although these centers may reflect elements of both pedestrian- and auto-oriented development, they typically accommodate larger-scale retail and commercial service uses, such as auto-related businesses and recreation and entertainment, as well as a variety of public and semi-public uses. Future development must reflect a complementary and compatible mix of uses, and may include residential uses.

(c) CG Commercial General. To maintain, support and create areas of the City that serve as region-drawing centers of activity. These areas should reflect a mix of commercial, office, recreation and entertainment and arts uses that reflect the regional importance of the area.

§ 1409-04. Connected Communities.

Three Connected Communities designations are established to enhance the base zoning district. The underlying zoning district and map overlays apply where not inconsistent with the development regulations below.

(a) Neighborhood Business District 'B'. This district designation is intended for areas located within established neighborhood business districts. The neighborhood business district 'B' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted, subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsections (a)(2) and (a)(3).

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(b) Middle Housing 'MH'. This district designation is intended for areas surrounding neighborhood business districts. The middle housing 'MH' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsection (b)(2).

(2) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(c) Transportation Corridor 'T'. This district designation is intended for areas located along major transportation corridors. The transit corridor 'T' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted subject to the development regulations in Section 1409-09, except as otherwise provided in subsections (c)(2)-(5).

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Minimum off-street parking regulations do not apply.

(4) The height of new structures may exceed the maximum height of the underlying zoning district by an additional twelve feet.

(5) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(d) Design Standards. Two-family, three-family, and four-family dwellings located within a designated Connected Communities district shall comply with the design standards set forth below.

(1) Entrance. At least one dwelling unit entrance shall be located on each street frontage.

(2) Building Form. Building composition shall consist of a base, middle, and top component to reduce the apparent bulk of the building. The designs of new buildings shall avoid long unrelieved expanses of wall along the street frontage by maintaining a rhythm of windows and structural bays.

(i) Buildings shall have a distinct base at the ground level, using articulation and materials such as stone, masonry, or decorative concrete.

(ii) Buildings shall have a change in material and/or design that marks the transition from base component to middle component, and from middle component to top component.

(iii) The top of the building shall be treated with a distinct outline with elements such as a projecting parapet, cornice, or projection.

(3) If the Zoning Administrator determines a permit application does not conform to the requirements of Section 1409-04(d), the Zoning Board of Appeals has the duty to determine whether the application satisfies the standards set forth in this Chapter prior to the issuance of a building permit.

(Ordained by Emer. Ord. No. 199-2024, § 1, eff. 7-1-2024)

§ 1409-05. Community Character.

Three community character designations are established to enhance each type of commercial district:

(a) Pedestrian. This district designation is intended for areas with a traditional urban character, where buildings are required to be built to the street or sidewalk line, to provide a close relationship between pedestrians and shops. Design standards will reinforce this character and require treatments that provide an interesting pedestrian environment. This designation may apply to some areas where a few auto-oriented uses exist, but where restoring the pedestrian character is specified in a community plan or other documentation approved by the Planning Commission.

(b) Mixed. This district designation is intended to provide for a mix of the pedestrian and auto-oriented development. Older, pedestrian-oriented buildings may be intermixed with newer, auto-oriented uses.

(c) Auto-oriented. This district designation is intended for areas that provide for easy automobile access. Large buildings are located on the site with parking in front. Out lots associated with shopping centers often contain auto-oriented businesses. Performance standards are intended to mitigate the impact of the parking lots and buffer adjacent residential areas.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1409-07. Land Use Regulations.

Schedule 1409-07 below prescribes the land use regulations for C Districts. Use classifications are defined in Chapter 1401, Definitions. Use classifications not listed in Schedule 1409-07 below are prohibited.

The regulations for each subdistrict are established by letter designations as follows:

(a) "P" designates permitted uses. These uses may be subject to additional regulations as indicated.

(b) "L" designates uses that are permitted, subject to certain limitations. Numeric suffixes refer to limitations listed at the bottom of Schedule 1409-07. Except as otherwise indicated, modifications of a numerical, locational or dimensional limitation requires a variance under Chapter 1445 - Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses.

(c) "C" designates uses permitted only after review and approval of the conditional use by the Zoning Hearing Examiner. These uses may be subject to additional regulations as indicated.

§ 1409-13. Drive-Through Components.

In CN-P and CC-P - No drive-through components allowed.

In CN-M and CC-M - Drive-through components must be located in the rear yard or on the building elevation facing the rear yard. Drive-through components on a corner lot require conditional use approval pursuant to Chapter 1445 Variance. Special Exception and Conditional Uses.

In CC-A and CG-A - No restriction on location.

§ 1409-15. Truck Docks; Loading and Service Areas.

Truck docks, loading and service areas are not permitted within 100 feet of residential district boundaries and are not permitted to be used between 10:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. on weekdays and between 11:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. on weekends. These facilities must be located at the side of buildings or in the rear of the site and screened so as not to be visible from residential districts. Where a building abuts a residential district, the preferred location of these facilities is the side away from the district boundary, unless conditional use approval is obtained pursuant to the procedures and criteria of Chapter 1445, Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses.

§ 1409-17. Building Placement Requirements, CN-P and CC-P Districts.

In the CN-P and CC-P Districts, buildings must be built to street setback lines as illustrated in Figure 1409-17, except as indicated in § 1409-19.

The following rules apply for determining the primary street frontage for building placement. Primary streets are defined as arterials and collectors, and secondary streets are defined as local streets, as defined by the city's functional road classification. Figure 1409-17 illustrates the required placement and enhancement for street frontages.

(a) Frontage on One Street. On a site with frontage only on one street, the building must be located on the front lot line of the street frontage.

(b) Frontage on Arterial or Collector and Local Streets. On a site with frontage on either an arterial or collector street and a local street, the building must be built to the corner of the two streets and provide the majority of transparency on the facade fronting on the arterial street. See § 1409-23.

(c) Frontage on Two Arterial or Two Collector Streets. Sites with frontage on two collector streets must build to the corner of the two streets. The developer may choose on which collector street frontage to provide facade transparency.

(d) Frontage on Three Streets. Sites with frontage on three or more streets must build to the corner of at least one collector street, or two collector streets if they intersect at the property. The developer may choose on which collector street to provide facade transparency.

§ 1409-19. Exceptions to Building Placement Requirements, CN-P and CC-P Districts.

The following exceptions to the build-to requirement set forth in § 1409-19 are permitted:

[b] Outdoor Eating Areas. Where there is an outdoor eating area installed on the street frontage, the build-to line may be altered, provided the building is setback not more than 12 feet from the street lot line or at least 40 percent of the building facade meets the build-to line and an outdoor eating area is limited to a maximum area of 12 times the building street frontage in linear feet. See Figure 1409-19-C and Figure 1409-19-D.

§ 1409-21. Building Placement Requirements, CN-M and CC-M Districts.

In the CN-M and CC-M Districts, buildings must be built to street setback lines as indicated below:

(a) Building Placement, Interior Lots. If a building on either side of the proposed site is built within 12 feet of the street lot line, then at least 60 percent of the building facade must be built to the front lot line to enhance the pedestrian character.

Building Placement, Corner Lots. Corner lots must have the buildings built to the corner, unless all of the opposing corner properties are already designed with parking at the corner. If one corner has a building built to the front lot line, the new building must also be built to the front lot line.

Buildings Occupying An Entire Block Face. Where a development is to occupy an entire block face, the orientation of the opposing block face must be evaluated. If a majority of the opposing block face has a pedestrian orientation with building facades located closer than 12 feet of the front lot line, the proposed development must have a similar building placement.

Outdoor Eating Areas. See Section 1409-19(c).

§ 1409-23. Ground Floor Transparency.

The purpose of the standard for ground floor windows and transparent doors is to engage the pedestrians' interest and attract the pedestrian to the goods and services offered within buildings. Ground floor windows and glass doors strengthen the commercial viability of a use by attracting customers and add to the enjoyment of the pedestrian on the street.

(a) Minimum Standard. Windows and transparent doors must be a minimum percentage of the street frontage, as specified in Schedule 1409-23 below. The percentage of the building's street elevation is measured between 2.5 feet and 7.0 feet in height above grade. Glass block, opaque or darkly tinted glass is not considered to be transparent. Refer to Figure 1409-23-A.

Schedule 1409-23: Transparency Standard for Ground Floor Windows and Doors

	Street Transparency Percentage[1]
Each Street Frontage (lineal feet)	Primary Street	Secondary Street
40 or less	80	30
41—80	70	40
81 or more	60	50

[1]Within the zone of transparency as per Figure 1409-23-A

(b) Display Windows. Display or show windows that do not provide clear visual access into the interior of the building count, provided they are at least two feet in depth.

(c) Security Grills. Security grills may not be installed on the outside of windows along primary street frontage. Open meshed architectural grills installed on the inside are allowed as they provide greater visibility into the store both for safety and for maintaining transparency and streetscape interest even when a store is closed.

(d) Entrance. In pedestrian districts, the primary entrance must be on an arterial or collector street.

(e) Special Exceptions. Special exceptions may be granted pursuant to Chapter 1445, Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses where uses cannot meet the requirements of this section.

(f) Exemptions. In the CN-P, CN-M and CC-P Districts, residential uses are exempt from the ground floor transparency requirements of Section 1409-23.

§ 1409-25. Location of Parking.

In the pedestrian and mixed districts, the intent of the building placement standards is to create a continual street facade where parking is located to the rear of the buildings. The depth of lots is, however, not always sufficient to permit this, and some uses need more parking than building area. To maintain pedestrian character in these districts, surface parking lots may be located to the side of the building adjacent to the public right-of-way. This location requires a Special Exception approval provided for in Chapter 1445, Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 388-2008, eff. Dec. 19, 2008)

§ 1409-27. Outdoor Storage.

These regulations apply in all commercial districts except the CG-A.

Storage areas, accessory, incidental and subordinate to the principal use, may be located outside an enclosed building, provided that such storage:

(a) May not exceed a height of six feet;

(b) Is enclosed by a screen fence or wall at least six feet in height;

(c) Does not exceed 25 percent of the gross floor area of the principal building located on the lot, excluding space used for the parking or storage of vehicles; and

(d) Is not located between the building and the street property line.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 242-2005, eff. July 21, 2005; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 6, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1409-29. Outdoor Retail Sales.

Outdoor retail sales areas must be located, developed and operated in compliance with the following standards:

(a) Location of Sales Area. Outdoor sales areas must be contiguous and located entirely on private property, outside of any required setback. In a zoning district without required setbacks, a minimum setback of ten feet from any street lot line is required. Outdoor sales areas must adjoin the principal structure on a site, unless the applicant can show by specific facts that unique circumstances exist such that compliance with this requirement would cause an unnecessary hardship.

(b) Maximum Size. Outdoor sales areas may not exceed 15 percent of the gross floor area of the use they serve.

(c) Location of Merchandise. Display merchandise may not encroach on required parking, driveways, pedestrian walkways or required landscaped areas. Displays may not obstruct sight distance or otherwise create hazards for vehicle or pedestrian traffic.

(d) Height of Merchandise. Display merchandise, excluding automobiles, trucks and construction equipment, may not exceed a height of ten feet above finished grade for a single display item. Stacked displays may not exceed a height of six feet above finished grade.

(e) Litter. A permanent trash receptacle must be installed at each entrance and exit to the outdoor sales area.

(f) Pay Telephones and Vending Machines. Pay telephones and vending machines are prohibited where viewable from a public right-of-way.

(g) Screening. All outdoor sales areas must be screened from adjacent public streets by decorative solid walls, fences or landscaped berms of a minimum three feet in height and located within a landscaped area adjacent to the street property line of at least ten feet in width.

(h) Signs. Signs, other than as permitted under Chapter 1427, Sign Regulations, are prohibited if visible from a public street.

(i) Exceptions. The provisions of this section do not apply to the sale or distribution of food, flowers, seasonal sales of pumpkins and Christmas trees, newspapers and periodicals from a pedestrian-oriented retail storefront.

§ 1410-04. Connected Communities.

Three Connected Communities designations are established to enhance the base zoning district. The underlying zoning district and map overlays apply where not inconsistent with the development regulations below.

(a) Neighborhood Business District 'B'. This district designation is intended for areas located within established neighborhood business districts. The neighborhood business district 'B' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted, subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsections (a)(2) and (a)(3).

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(b) Middle Housing 'MH'. This district designation is intended for areas surrounding neighborhood business districts. The middle housing 'MH' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted subject to the development regulations of the underlying zoning district, except as otherwise provided in subsection (b)(2).

(2) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(c) Transportation Corridor 'T'. This district designation is intended for areas located along major transportation corridors. The transit corridor 'T' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(1) Two-family, three-family, and four-family uses are permitted subject to the development regulations in Section 1410-07, except as otherwise provided in subsections (c)(2)-(5).

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Minimum off-street parking regulations do not apply.

(4) The height of new structures may exceed the maximum height of the underlying zoning district by an additional twelve feet.

(5) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(d) Design Standards. Two-family, three-family, and four-family dwellings located within a designated Connected Communities district shall comply with the design standards set forth below.

(1) Entrance. At least one dwelling unit entrance shall be located on each street frontage.

(2) Building Form. Building composition shall consist of a base, middle, and top component to reduce the apparent bulk of the building. The designs of new buildings shall avoid long unrelieved expanses of wall along the street frontage by maintaining a rhythm of windows and structural bays.

(i) Buildings shall have a distinct base at the ground level, using articulation and materials such as stone, masonry, or decorative concrete.

(ii) Buildings shall have a change in material and/or design that marks the transition from base component to middle component, and from middle component to top component.

(iii) The top of the building shall be treated with a distinct outline with elements such as a projecting parapet, cornice, or projection.

§ 1410-05. Land Use Regulations.

Schedule 1410-05 below prescribes the land use regulations for the UM District. Use classifications are defined in Chapter 1401, Definitions. Use classifications not listed in Schedule 1410-05 below are prohibited.

The regulations are established by letter designations as follows:

(a) "P" designates permitted uses. These uses may be subject to additional regulations as indicated.

(b) "L" designates uses that are permitted, subject to certain limitations. Numeric suffixes refer to limitations listed at the bottom of Schedule 1410-05. Except as otherwise indicated, modifications of a numerical, locational or dimensional limitation requires a variance under Chapter 1445 - Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses.

§ 1411-09. Floor Area Ratio (FAR).

Floor Area Ratio (FAR) in all DD subdistricts varies according to Map 1411-09: FAR Overlay in Downtown Development Districts. A building may not exceed the FAR for its location as shown on Map 1411-09: FAR Overlay in Downtown Development Districts.

For purposes of this section, building gross floor area is the sum of the individual gross floor area of every story of the building provided:

(a) Any underground story is disregarded. A story is deemed underground if its floor level is more than three feet six inches below the average street grade at the exterior walls of the building. For the Banks, the grade is street grade.

(b) If the first story (other than an underground story) of a building is more than 25 feet in height, its individual gross floor area is added to the base building gross floor area as many times as its average height is divisible by 25 feet, rounded to the next highest whole number. For example, if the average height of a first story is 36 feet, the individual gross floor area of the first story is added twice in the calculation of the building gross floor area.

(c) If an upper story of a building (other than a story exclusively devoted to heating, ventilating, air conditioning, elevators or other building service equipment) is more than 15 feet in height, its individual gross floor area is added to the building gross floor area as many times as its average height is divisible by 15 feet, rounded to the next highest whole number.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 7, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1411-11. Required Residential Uses.

In Use Subdistrict B, every new building, other than parking garages subject to design review pursuant to § 1411-43 or hotels, must have at least 50 percent of its building gross floor area devoted to residential dwellings. In Use Subdistrict D, every new building must have at least 25 percent of its building gross floor area devoted to residential dwellings. Provided, however, a building that has at least 75 percent of its building gross floor area devoted to parking, museums or sports facilities and is subject to design review and approval by the City Manager pursuant to an agreement between the city and the property owner or is being built in accordance with a site master plan approved pursuant to § 1411-45 is exempt from this requirement. Further, the Zoning Hearing Examiner may, following the procedures specified for the granting of variances, grant such variances from this provision where the applicant demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that it is not economically feasible to include residential dwellings within the building, that denial of this variance would deny the owner an economic return on investment for the total project and that the grant would be consistent with standards set forth in § 1445-15, Standards for Variances.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 7, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1411-13. Maximum Building Height.

Maximum building height in all DD subdistricts varies according to Map 1411-13: Maximum Building Height Overlay in Downtown Development Districts. Projections above the maximum height limit are permitted, as prescribed in Chapter 1421, General Site Standards. (Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 101-2006, § 1(Exh. A), eff. May 18, 2006) § 1411-15. Minimum Facade Height.

In locations indicated on Map 1411-15: Zero Setback Overlay in Downtown Development Districts every building must be built with a facade at least 40 feet in height and abut the public right-of-way along the indicated locations. Provided, however:

(a) Rowhouses. Rowhouses may have a front yard up to ten feet deep.

(b) Recessed Entrances. A building may be served by a recessed major entrance provided:

(1) The entrance width does not exceed ten percent of the building facade length fronting on the right-of-way;

(2) The entrance depth does not exceed the entrance width; and

(3) The entrance height does not exceed 25 feet.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1411-17. Commercial Continuity.

In locations indicated on Map 1411-17: Commercial Continuity Overlay in Downtown Development Districts at least 60 percent of first-floor building frontage be devoted to commercial uses. Further, floor areas closest in elevation to and within 12 feet of adjoining walkway or atrium frontages must be devoted to lobbies.

For purposes of this section, transparent means open or enclosed by clear and non-reflecting glass or other material between the height of two feet and ten feet above the walkway grade that provides pedestrians on adjacent sidewalks an unobstructed view extending at least two feet into the building interior.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1411-23. Required Parking Spaces.

Parking is not required for the conversion, renovation or change in use of an existing building, provided any increase in gross floor area may not exceed ten percent. Parking is not required for any use within an Urban Parking Overlay District established according to Section 1425-04. If any requirements set forth in this section conflict with any requirements or standards set forth in Chapter 1425, "Parking and Loading," the standards and requirements set forth herein shall govern and control.

(a) General Landscaping Requirements.

(1) Trees. All temporary surface parking facilities shall provide one tree for every four parking spaces arranged and dispersed throughout the perimeter landscape buffer area and interior landscaped islands and peninsulas, with at least one tree planted per 35 linear feet throughout the entirety of the perimeter landscape buffer area.

(b) Four-foot height for a conifer or evergreen tree.

(2) Ground Cover.Plant-based ground cover appropriate to the surface conditions of the area must be installed throughout the perimeter landscape buffer area and interior landscaped islands and peninsulas. Grass shall be the default landscaping material.

(3) Plant Maintenance Standards. All plants shall be maintained in a healthy condition and shall be replaced with new plant materials as needed to ensure continued compliance with landscaping requirements. Landscaping and screening plants that die shall be replaced during the current or the following planting season.

§ 1411-33. Design Review of Parking Garages.

A building having more than 100 above-street-grade parking spaces and devoting more than one-half its above-street-grade gross floor area to parking may not be constructed in Parking

Subdistrict W or X unless the design of the building is reviewed and approved under §1411-43 or by the Zoning Hearing Examiner. The following guidelines apply to parking garage facades facing any right-of-way greater than 50 feet in width or the skywalk:

(b) Garage entrances and exits must be designed and located so as to minimize hazards to pedestrians.

(c) Facades must contain openings that, in their scale, size and placement, are compatible with the same qualities of openings in surrounding buildings.

(d) Facades must contain articulations to achieve a sense of scale, rhythm and texture.

(e) The facade of the ground-level floor must be differentiated from upper floors to establish the appearance of a base to the building. By way of example, this differentiation can be achieved through the use of several of the following techniques:

(f) A taller ground floor.

(g) A change in color.

(h) A change in material

(i) A change in detailing.

(j) Banding at the top of the ground floor.

(k) Other architectural means.

§ 1411-41. Additional Floor Area for Historic Conservation or Residential Development.

A Conditional Use may be approved allowing additional floor area beyond that allowed by § 1411-07 and by Map 1411-09: FAR Overlay in Downtown Development Districts, for projects receiving a Historic Conservation Bonus or Residential Gross Floor Area Bonus. In no case may additional floor area be granted such that the maximum building heights prescribed by Map 1411-13: Maximum Building Height Overlay in Downtown Development Districts, are exceeded.

(a) Historic Conservation Bonus. Under the City's Historic Easement Program, the owner of a building that is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is located in any DD subdistrict may donate an easement in return for a Certificate of Transferable Bonus Gross Floor Area, provided the easement is accepted by the Historic Conservation Board. This one-time certificate is issued by the Urban Conservator, who has the duty to maintain a record of the issued certificate, including the owner, the gross floor area available for transfer and the gross floor area actually transferred. All bonus gross floor area available under the easement may be transferred, provided the gross floor area does not exceed the maximum building heights prescribed by Map 1411-13: Maximum Building Height Overlay in Downtown Development Districts. Certificates of Transferable Bonus Gross Floor Area may be transferred to and redeemed by anyone other than the original certificate holder. Certificates to be redeemed must be tendered to the Urban Conservator prior to the issuance of permits for construction. On completion of construction, certificates are cancelled and no certificate may be reissued, even if the building constructed pursuant to its redemption is demolished.

(b) Residential Gross Floor Area Bonus. The residential gross floor area bonus equals the total interior floor area of a building that is exclusively devoted to residential purposes, provided the bonus gross floor area does not exceed 25 percent of the building gross floor area.

§ 1411-43. Design Review of Publicly-Funded Parking Garages.

Publicly-funded parking garages are subject to the following review:

(a) Design Review Responsibility. On receipt of an application for a publicly-funded downtown parking garage, the City Manager, who has the duty to appoint the person or persons responsible for design review, may by contract retain a person prominent in the field of design of urban projects of scale similar to the proposed development to be responsible for design review. The application must be available, as it may be revised, for public inspection. Those responsible for design review may meet periodically with the applicant in a public, informal conference to discuss the building design.

(b) Design Review Determination. The person or persons responsible for design review has the duty to approve the proposed work if it conforms with the 2000 Plan or other applicable urban renewal plan, any otherwise applicable guidelines, laws, ordinances, regulations and variances granted for the work pursuant to Chapter 1447, Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses and is in the public interest.

(1) The work may be approved subject to conditions as necessary to ensure that the work is lawful, appropriate to its site and the surrounding area and in the public interest. Otherwise, the work must be disapproved.

(2) If the work is disapproved the reasons therefore must be stated in writing as findings of fact and conclusions of law.

(3) In determining whether the work is in the public interest, the decision-making authority has the duty to consider those factors listed in § 1411-33 and § 1445-13 that are relevant to the work and apply them in light of his or her professional training and experience. The failure of the proposed work to conform to any single factor or guideline is not necessarily a sufficient basis for denial. The decision-making authority has the duty to approve work that maximizes both the public interest and private benefits.

(c) Appeals. Any adversely affected applicant may appeal a decision made pursuant to paragraph (b) above to the City Manager. The City Manager has the duty to conduct a public hearing on the appeal and affirm, modify or reverse the decision in conformity with the provisions of this Chapter. The decision of the City Manager is final, subject to appeal as provided by law.

§ 1411-45. Phased Developments.

Where the owner of a lot or lots in the DD District intends to phase the development by first erecting one building and then enlarging that building or erecting one or more additional buildings or both, the owner must, prior to commencing development of the site, file a site master plan with the Zoning Hearing Examiner. The site master plan must be a schematic of the intended development of the entire site showing the locations, uses, heights and gross floor areas of every building. The master plan must contain such other information as necessary to determine whether the intended development conforms to the requirements of this Zoning Code. If the development is required to devote gross floor area to residential dwellings of § 1411-11, Required Residential Uses, compliance with the residential dwelling requirement need not be demonstrated at every phase of the development, but only after completion of all phases of the development. Further, the applicant may be required to demonstrate that completion of all phases is a commercially reasonable exception. The master plan may be amended from time to time, provided any amended master plan be filed with the Zoning Hearing Examiner. Compliance with the DD District Regulations imposed by Schedule 1411-07 of § 1411-07 and, as applicable, § 1411-11, must be determined each time a permit for construction of a new building or enlargement of an existing building is made. The site may be further subdivided and title to the various parcels held by different owners, provided that appropriate deed restrictions, covenants and easements be provided as determined to be necessary by the Zoning Hearing Examiner to ensure that the arrangement of building density and public amenities used to calculate allowable gross floor area are maintained for as long as any building erected on the site pursuant to this provision remains.

Provided, however, the applicant may instead post a bond with the Director of Buildings and Inspections to secure compliance with § 1411-51. The bond shall be in the amount equal to ten dollars per square foot of the area of the lot on which the building to be demolished is located.

§ 1411-51. Landscaping.

Any lot within the DD District kept vacant for more than 180 days following the demolition of any buildings thereon shall be landscaped and thereafter maintained in good order. Landscaping shall be in accordance with a plan approved by the hearing examiner following the procedures and standards set forth in Chapter 1443. The landscaping shall be appropriate to an urban park or garden. The lot shall be fenced as appropriate for public safety and aesthetics. All plant material shown on the approved plan shall be watered, fertilized, pruned, kept free from weeds and litter and replaced if diseased, injured or dead, consistent with good horticultural practices. § 1413-07. Development Regulations.
§ 1413-09. Driveway Restrictions.
§ 1413-11. Truck Docks; Loading and Service Areas.

§ 1413-01. Purposes.

The general purposes of manufacturing districts are to:

(a) Promote and preserve manufacturing areas as significant employment generators.

(b) Facilitate the necessary infrastructure to accommodate a wide variety of transportation, manufacturing and technology uses.

(c) Accommodate existing traditional industries, while anticipating new technologies and business service uses.

(d) Preserve appropriate location of industries that may have the potential to generate off-site impacts, while providing compatibility in use and form.

(e) Establish appropriate standards for reviewing proposals for new development and redevelopment, where appropriate, in manufacturing areas.

(f) Ensure the provision of services and facilities needed to facilitate planned employment densities.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1413-03. Specific Purposes of the Manufacturing Subdistricts.

The specific purposes of the manufacturing subdistricts are:

(a) MA Manufacturing Agricultural. To create, preserve and enhance areas that are appropriate for agricultural, farming, low impact manufacturing and supporting commercial uses. Low impact manufacturing and supporting commercial uses may be permitted provided they meet specific performance standards and are buffered from residential uses. Single-family residential is also encouraged in the district.

(b) ML Manufacturing Limited. To create, preserve and enhance areas that are appropriate for a range of low-impact manufacturing activities and supporting commercial uses. High-impact manufacturing uses may be permitted, provided they meet specific performance standards and are buffered from residential areas. Loft dwelling units may be permitted in this district and any commercial uses should be located along major transportation corridors.

(c) MG Manufacturing General. To create, preserve and enhance areas that are appropriate for a wide variety of supporting and related commercial and manufacturing establishments that may have the potential to generate off-site impacts. Future development will accommodate heavy industrial and manufacturing uses, transportation facilities, warehousing and distribution and similar and related supporting uses. These uses typically require sites with good transportation access. Uses that may inhibit industrial development are prohibited.

(d) ME Manufacturing Exclusive. To recognize and preserve areas that are intended exclusively for the location of manufacturing establishments. Future development will accommodate heavy industrial and manufacturing uses. These uses typically require sites with good transportation access. Uses that may inhibit or compete with industrial development are prohibited.

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(b) Middle Housing 'MH'. This district designation is intended for areas surrounding neighborhood business districts. The middle housing 'MH' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

(c) Transportation Corridor 'T'. This district designation is intended for areas located along major transportation corridors. The transit corridor 'T' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(b) Maintain scenic river views from major public thoroughfares.

(c) Preserve significant natural features of the floodplain environment.

(d) Protect the special designation of the Little Miami River as a recreational river by the United States Congress and as a scenic river, as established by the Ohio General Assembly.

§ 1415-03. Specific Purposes of the Riverfront Subdistricts.

The specific purposes of the riverfront subdistricts are:

(a) RF-R Riverfront Residential/Recreational District. To optimize the scenic beauty of the riverfront while mixing residential uses into current public and semi-public land uses and to enhance the stability and revitalization of adjoining neighborhoods.

(b) RF-C Riverfront Commercial District. To provide sites for commercial and manufacturing uses that require river access and to provide a buffer between the high intensity RF-M riverfront industrial and the more mixed-use RF-R areas, while providing needed services for both areas and protecting adjoining residential neighborhoods, public parks and recreation facilities from the effects of more intense commercial and industrial uses.

(c) RF-M Riverfront Manufacturing District. To provide sites for heavy industrial uses that require river access, maintain the economic vitality of the industrial riverfront and minimize any adverse impacts resulting from such activity on residential, park, recreation and commercial recreation facilities.

§ 1415-04. Connected Communities.

Three Connected Communities designations are established to enhance the base zoning district. The underlying zoning district and map overlays apply where not inconsistent with the development regulations below.

(a) Neighborhood Business District 'B'. This district designation is intended for areas located within established neighborhood business districts. The neighborhood business district 'B' designation is subject to the following development regulations:

(2) Minimum lot-area-per-dwelling-unit regulations do not apply.

(3) Parking:

(i) No off-street parking is required for residential uses in a new building containing ten or fewer dwelling units.

(ii) Residential uses in a new building with more than ten dwelling units require one-half space per additional dwelling unit over ten dwelling units.

(iii) No off-street parking is required in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has 5,000 square feet or less of commercial space.

(iv) The underlying zoning district parking requirements are reduced by one-half for commercial uses in a new commercial or mixed-use building if the building has more than 5,000 square feet of commercial space.

(v) Additions to existing buildings are considered new construction for purposes of this section.

(vi) Accessory surface parking facilities shall be located in the rear yard.

§ 1415-11. Maximum Height.

In the RF-R District, maximum height is measured above base flood elevation. In the RF-C District, maximum height may not exceed 100 feet above the elevation of the Ohio River at the Markland Dam pool stage if within 500 feet of a SF, RM, or RF-R District except silos. The total width of all silos that exceeds that elevation may not exceed ten percent of the width of the property. Provided, however, the Zoning Administrator may approve silos having a total width of thirty percent of the width of the property if the silos do not materially impair significant views of the Ohio River from any U.S. or state highway or other public vantage. The width of silos is measured at the point of maximum width of the part of the silo that extends more than 100 feet above the elevation of the Ohio River at Markland Dam pool stage at the site. Conveyors, elevators, ladders and similar fixtures serving a silo are not included in the measurement of the width of a silo. The width of the property is the maximum width of the property measured along a straight line parallel to a line joining the mid points of the Ohio River at each end of the property.

§ 1415-13. Maximum Building Coverage.

In the RF-C and RF-M Districts, maximum building coverage may be increased ten percent if a buffer yard pursuant to § 1423-13 Buffer Yards, is provided or if an acceptable perpetual easement granting access to the riverfront, public park or recreation facility is provided.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1415-15. Truck Docks, Loading and Service Areas.

Where a building is adjacent to a residential district, the location of these facilities must be the side away from the district boundary. Where truck docks, loading and service areas are adjacent to a residential district boundary, a 100 foot setback is required from the district boundary line. In RF-R Districts, these facilities must be located at the side of buildings or in the rear of the site and screened so as not to be visible from public streets and are not permitted to be used between 10 PM and 7 AM on weekdays and 11 PM and 7 AM on weekends. Off-street staging is required for all trucks and other vehicles that service or supply terminals or other areas.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1415-17. Buffer Yards.

All uses of the RF districts are subject to the Buffer Yard requirements of Schedule 1423-13-A except for the Residential Uses of Schedule 1415-05.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1415-19. Ohio River Bank Area.

Existing tree cover and vegetation must be preserved between the pool stage of the Ohio River and a line 50 feet inland from and congruent with the Markland Dam pool stage, except where new construction, floodproofing or docking facilities are necessary to achieve compliance with Chapter 1109, Flood Plain Management, of the Cincinnati Building Code, a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers permit, or where modified by the Zoning Administrator pursuant to Chapter 1423, Landscaping and Buffer Yards.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; Emer. Ord. No. 141-2015, § 17, eff. July 1, 2015)

§ 1415-21. Little Miami Riverfront Area Use Review.

Within 500 feet of the Little Miami River, a use may be established only if the Zoning Administrator finds in consultation with the Director of Parks and the Director of Recreation that the use:

(a) Maintains the natural and free-flowing conditions of the Little Miami River, except where channel modifications are required to mitigate a severe hazard to life or property;

(b) Does not aggravate erosion of the river bank;

(c) Has no adverse effect on existing wildlife habitation;

(d) Conserves significant natural vegetation and tree cover except for damaged or diseased trees in access ways;

(e) Protects or enhances the scenic, recreational, geologic, cultural or historic values of the river that led to its designation as a recreational and scenic river; and § 1417-09. Truck Docks; Loading and Service Areas.

Truck docks, loading and service areas are not permitted within 50 feet of a residential district boundary and are not permitted to be used between 10 PM and 7 AM on weekdays and between 11 PM and 7 AM on weekends. These facilities must be located at the side of buildings or in the rear of the site and screened so as not to be visible from public streets. (Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1417-11. Institutional Buffer Yard Plan.

The development of colleges, hospitals, schools and commercial laboratories in an Institutional-Residential District must be in accordance with an approved Institutional Buffer Yard Plan.

(a) Purpose. The Institutional Buffer Yard Plan is intended to foster the appropriate growth of colleges, hospitals, schools and commercial laboratories. The purpose of the buffer yard regulations is to require building setbacks and landscaping in a park-like setting to provide a transition from the scale of institutions to the scale of the surrounding residential neighborhood and to address conditions sometimes associated with intense institutional land uses.

(b) When Required. Buffer yards must be provided whenever a new institution facility is constructed. New facilities include any new building, addition of more than 2,500 square feet of gross floor area to an existing building, parking garage or deck or expansion thereof, or an existing building whose use is changed to a use listed in (a) above. When the entire new facility is more than 200 feet from any district boundary line, a buffer yard is not required.

(c) Buffer Yard Plan. On the first occasion that an institution provides a buffer yard pursuant to the requirements of this section, the institution must file a buffer yard plan with the Zoning Administrator. The plan must show all property within the IR District under control of the institution, the location of all buildings and paved areas for all parts of the institution property within 200 feet of a residential district that abuts the IR District. The plan must show the location of all buffer yards required by this section.

(d) Buffer Yard Location. Buffer yards must be provided at all points on the perimeter of an IR District where the IR District abuts a Residential District. Buffer yards are not required, however, at any point where the new facility is obscured by an existing building when viewed by a person standing at grade on the boundary between the IR District and the residential district or where the boundary is more than 200 feet from the new facility.

(e) Required Buffer Yard Depth. Buffer yards must be provided to a depth from the perimeter of the property a distance equal to one-sixth the height of the building or addition plus 25 feet when abutting a Residential District. An institution may designate additional depth to a required buffer yard in order to satisfy the standards over the expanded area.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 9, eff. Oct. 13, 2007; Emer. Ord. No. 141-2015, § 21, eff. July 1, 2015)

§ 1417-13. Institutional Buffer Yard Standards.

Buffer yards must meet the following standards:

(a) Plant Material. Buffer yards must contain plant materials such as trees, grass, flowers, shrubs and ground cover over at least 55 percent of the buffer yard area. The area beneath any building or parking lot that was constructed prior to the designation of the IR District in which the institution is located may be excluded in the calculation of the percentage under this paragraph.

(b) Trees. Buffer yards must contain at least one shade or ornamental tree of at least three-inch caliper for every 20 linear feet of buffer yard, measured along the property line, with no more than 50 feet between trees.

(c) New Structures Prohibited. New buildings, fences other than protective railings required by the Cincinnati Building Code, walls other than retaining walls, parking lots or loading areas may not be located in any buffer yard.

(d) Walls. Retaining walls must be faced with stone or maintained with plant material appropriate to a park-like setting.

(e) Waste Collection. Garbage, trash or recycling containers or facilities may not be located in any buffer yard. At the time of the establishment of a buffer yard, any existing garbage, trash or recycling containers or facilities must be removed. This prohibition on trash containers does not extend to trash receptacles located along walkways or in plazas intended for use by pedestrians.

(f) Underground Parking. Buffer yards may contain underground parking garages when approved by the Zoning Administrator as a conditional use, utility services and other accessory structures, if located entirely below grade and the surface is restored to park-like appearance with plantings.

(g) Landscape Maintenance. All required trees and plants must be maintained in a healthy condition and replaced if damaged or destroyed. Further, all buffer yards must be maintained in good condition and kept free of debris.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; Emer. Ord. No. 141-2015, § 22, eff. July 1, 2015)

Wireless communication towers and antennas greater than 20 feet in height must conform to the following:

(a) Conditional Use Approval Required. Approval of a conditional use is required, pursuant to Chapter 1445, Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses. In determining whether approval of an application for a wireless communication tower or antenna greater than 20 feet in height as a conditional use is in the public interest, the Zoning Hearing Examiner has the duty to evaluate whether technically suitable space is available on commercially reasonable terms on an existing tower or structure within the geographic area to be served. To enable this determination, the applicant is required to submit with the permit application a list of the location of every tower, building or structure that could support the proposed antenna so as to allow it to serve its intended function. The applicant must demonstrate that a technically suitable location is not available on commercially reasonable terms on an existing tower, building or structure. If another communication tower is technically suitable, the applicant must show that it has offered to allow the owner to co-locate an antenna on another tower within the city owned by the applicant on reciprocal terms and the offer was not accepted or that other tower is presumed to be reasonably available. Consideration of these factors is in addition to the standards enumerated in Chapter 1445, Variances, Special Exceptions and Conditional Uses, and in this section. The failure of an applicant to offer to other wireless communication service providers on reciprocal term rights to install wireless communication antennas on wireless communication towers within the city controlled by the applicant is cause to deny approval of an application for a wireless communication tower as a conditional use.

(b) Wireless Communication Network Plan Required. Any person licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to provide wireless communication services within the City of Cincinnati who has installed or intends to install a wireless communication antenna within the city is required to file its wireless communication network plan with the Director of Buildings and Inspections. A provider must file an amended plan with the director any time there is a change in company name, ownership, location of facilities or operations. The director must send a copy of each amended plan to every person who has filed a plan and to every community organization affected by the amendments to the plan.

(c) Minimum Site Area. Monopole towers in an SF or RF-R district must be located on a site larger than three acres.

(d) Required Setbacks. Poles, towers, equipment structures and antennas placement must meet the minimum yard standards for all setbacks as set forth in the applicable district regulations of the Cincinnati Zoning Code. Further, a wireless communication tower should be at least 110 percent of its height distant from any existing residential structure in any residential district.

(e) Design Compatibility. Apart from the tower or monopole structure, the facility appurtenances must be aesthetically and architecturally compatible with the architecture of the surrounding environment.

(f) Screening Required. Screen fencing must be provided for aesthetic and public safety reasons and a fence at least six feet in height must be erected completely around any communication tower and any related support facilities. Barbed and razor wire fencing is prohibited in residential districts.

(g) Landscaping. A Type B planted buffer yard is required along residential district boundaries and adjacent to residential uses, as prescribed in Schedule 1423-13-B. Buffer yards must meet the standards of Chapter 1423, Landscaping and Buffer Yards. Buffer yard planting may be located in a required setback area.

(h) Obsolete Facility. The owner or operator must agree to remove an obsolete facility within 12 months of ceasing its active use for wireless communications.

(i) Outdoor Storage. Outdoor storage of any supplies, vehicles or equipment related to the use of the facility is prohibited in a residential district.

The purposes of the landscaping and buffer yard regulations are to:

(a) Promote attractive development and preserve the appearance and character of the surrounding area through the use of landscaping.

(b) Eliminate or minimize conflicts between potentially incompatible, but otherwise permitted land uses on adjoining lots through buffering, which may include a combination of setbacks and visual buffers or barriers.

(c) Prescribe standards for the development and maintenance of planting, fences and walls.

(d) Provide provisions that apply to all development where specific landscaping is required under the Cincinnati Zoning Code.

§ 1423-03. Landscaping Plan.

When landscaping is required, a landscaping plan must be submitted in conjunction with other application materials, as provided in Chapter 1441: Application Procedures, Fees, Permits and Certificates.

(a) Components of Plan. A landscaping plan must include a site plan, drawn to scale with a north arrow that is equal to standard architectural or engineering quality and indicates the following:

(1) The species and size of all existing trees greater than one and one-half inch caliper, showing those that are proposed for removal and those proposed for retention.

(2) All proposed plant materials clearly labeled and drawn to size at maturity.

(3) Adjacent land uses.

(4) Plant list, indicating common names, scientific names and varieties, quantities, planting sizes and types and plant spacing for hedges and screens for all plant materials proposed.

(5) Description of the proposed method of protecting existing trees during construction.

(6) Irrigation system, if any.

(b) Required Materials. All plant materials must be suitable for Cincinnati's soils and climatic conditions and the plant's slope exposure. Plant materials for plant unit mix options are defined in Schedule 1423-13-B.

(1) Plant material should be distributed so as to provide a relatively uniform planting. Where the planting is along a street and some visibility into the development is desired, the plant material may be arranged to provide view corridors.

(2) Ground cover must be installed appropriate to the surface conditions of the area. Grass is the default landscaping material, although in parking lots and on steep slopes, other ground covers able to withstand the physical conditions are appropriate.

(3) The landscaped planting areas should be entirely pervious except for fence or wall structures and walks that provide pedestrian access. No more than 25 percent of the required area may consist of impervious materials such as gravel, stones, or paving.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1423-05. Landscaping Maintenance.

All plantings shown on the approved plan must be permanently maintained in good growing condition and replaced with new plant materials when necessary to ensure continued compliance with applicable landscaping requirements.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1423-07. Delayed Landscaping Installations.

Evidence of completion of required landscaping must be supplied to the Director of Buildings and Inspections and submitted prior to issuance of an occupancy permit for new construction. There may be cases where landscaping cannot be completed prior to building occupancy due to weather or other conditions. In these instances, the city will require surety to be provided in the amount of 120 percent of the estimated cost of the landscaping to be provided. The form of the surety must be approved by the City Solicitor's Office.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1423-09. Buffer Yards.

Buffer yards are intended to eliminate or minimize conflicts between potentially incompatible, but otherwise permitted land uses on adjoining lots. Buffering may include a combination of setbacks and visual buffers or barriers. Schedule 1423-13-A prescribes the minimum buffer yard requirements and Schedule 1423-13-B defines types of buffer yards required for specific situations.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1423-11. Applicability of Buffer Yard Standards.

The buffer yard standards of this chapter where required by § 1423-13 apply to:

(a) Development of Vacant Land. All new development on vacant land.

(b) Redevelopment. Redevelopment or expansion of existing site ground coverage, which includes buildings, accessory uses or structures, parking and outdoor storage areas by more than 30 percent, not including single-family dwellings.

(c) Change in Use. Any change in use that increases development intensity and results in increased traffic, processes, noise, water or air pollution, etc. For the purposes of this section, a change in use includes: from a residential use to a commercial use; from a commercial use to a manufacturing use; and in some cases from a manufacturing use to a commercial use.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1423-13. Required Buffer Yards.

Buffer yards are required between certain zone districts with the type of yard depending on the adjoining zoning district. Schedule 1423-13-A prescribes the required buffer yards between adjoining districts.

(a) Buffer Yard Plan. A buffer yard plan must be submitted in conjunction with other application materials, as provided in Chapter 1441, Application Procedures, Fees, Permits and Certificates. The buffer yard plan must incorporate a landscaping plan. The buffer yard plan must show the location of all buffer yards on the project site, location of utility easements, roads, emergency access, walkways and existing and proposed structures on the site.

(b) Location. Required buffer yards of Schedule 1423-13-A must be developed along the perimeter of the lot and extend inward from the property line of the development site. Buffer yards may not be located within any dedicated public or private street right-of-way.

§ 1425-37. Surfacing, Drainage and Grade of Parking and Loading Facilities.
§ 1425-38. Bicycle Parking.
§ 1425-39. Electric Vehicle Charging Equipment.

§ 1425-01. Purposes.

The purposes of the parking and loading regulations are to:

(a) Require adequate off-street parking and loading, thereby reducing traffic congestion.

(b) Allow for more efficient use of on-street parking.

(c) Promote more efficient loading operations, reducing the use of public streets for loading purposes.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1425-03. Requirements for Off-Street Parking and Loading.

Off-street parking and loading spaces must be provided for uses that are established, enlarged, extended or moved onto any lot in accordance with the standards in Section 1425-19 except within an Urban Parking Overlay District established according to Section 1425-04. Additional parking must be provided based on the standards of this chapter when the expansion of an existing use results in an increase of more than ten percent in the number of currently required parking spaces. Off-street parking and loading requirements for uses in the DD Districts are subject to the provisions of Chapter 1411, Downtown Development Districts.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 121-2008, § 1, eff. May 23, 2008; Ord. No. 259-2013, § 3, eff. Sept. 7, 2013; a. Emer. Ord. No. 199-2024, § 2, eff. 7-1-2024)

§ 1425-04. Urban Parking Overlay Districts.

City Council may establish Urban Parking Overlay Districts within which the provisions of Sections 1410-09(a), 1411-23, 1425-03, 1425-05, 1425-07, 1425-09, 1425-11, 1425-13, 1425-17, 1425-19, 1425-21, and 1425-23 of the Zoning Code do not apply.

(Ord. No. 259-2013, § 4, eff. Sept. 7, 2013; a. Emer. Ord. No. 199-2024, § 2, eff. 7-1-2024)

§ 1425-05. Noncomplying Parking or Loading Facilities.

An existing use of land or structure is not considered nonconforming solely because of the lack of off-street parking or loading facilities required by this chapter. The existing number of off-street parking and loading spaces as of the effective date of these zoning regulations may not be reduced in number.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1425-07. Spaces Required for Multiple Uses.

If more than one use is located on a site, the number of off-street parking and loading spaces to be provided must be equal to the sum of the requirements prescribed for each use. If the gross floor area of individual uses on the same site is less than that for which a loading space would be required in Schedule 1425-21-B, but the aggregate gross floor area of all uses is greater than the minimum for which loading spaces would be required, then the aggregate gross floor area must be used in determining the required number of loading spaces according to the loading user group. If individual uses are in different loading user groups, the standards for the user group with the lowest number applies. See also provisions of § 1425-21 and § 1425-25.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 12, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1425-09. Existing Parking and Loading to be Maintained.

Existing parking or loading serving any facility may not be reduced in amount or changed in size to less than required by this Chapter.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1425-11. Calculation Rules.

When the units of measurement determining the number of required parking spaces result in requirement of a fractional space, any fraction up to and including one-half is rounded down to the next whole number and fractions of over one-half are rounded up to the next whole number.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1425-13. Dual Usage Prohibited.

An area may not be used and counted both as a required parking space and a required loading space.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004)

§ 1425-15. Location of Parking.

Parking spaces must be on the same lot as the principal buildings except as noted in (c) below, and must be located in compliance with the following:

(a) Front-Yard Parking Prohibited. In the SF and RMX Districts, parking for all uses may not be located in any front yard. Parking may be permitted on access drives where such drives lead to the parking lots or spaces either within the principal building or in any accessory structure or at locations behind the front line of a building. In the RM-2.0, RM-1.2, RM-0.7, O, ML and RF Districts, no parking lots or spaces are permitted in the required front yard setback of the district.

(b) Corner Lots. On a corner lot in the SF and RM Districts, parking spaces must be located in interior side or rear yards and be at least ten feet from the street lot line.

(c) Off-Site Parking on Nearby Lots. Off-site parking to serve a nearby principal structure or principal use is permitted on a lot upon the satisfaction of all of the following conditions:

(1) the off-site parking lot shall be located within a 600-foot radius of the lot containing the principal structure or principal use;

(2) the off-site parking lot shall not be located in a SF Single-Family District; and

(3) (i) A written instrument shall be recorded in title to both the lot containing the principal structure or principal use and the off-site parking lot as follows:

(aa) If the lot containing the principal structure or principal use and the off-site parking lot are owned by the same owner, then a covenant shall be recorded; or

(bb) If the lot containing the principal structure or principal use and the off-site parking lot are owned by different owners, then a reciprocal easement shall be recorded.

(ii) In order to satisfy Condition (3)(i) above, any such written instrument shall:

(aa) Be acceptable to the City Solicitor in substance and form;

(bb) State clearly on its face that it is irrevocable without the prior written consent of the City Manager;

(cc) State that the off-site parking lot shall be used and maintained exclusively for parking to serve the principal structure or principal use so long as the principal structure or principal use requiring such parking remains in existence and has not been abandoned, under the definition contained in Section 1447-07; and

(dd) State that the off-site parking lot shall in no way be deemed to be a nonconforming use or be permitted to continue to be used for parking if the parking is no longer needed to serve the principal structure or principal use.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 012-2011, § 1, eff. Feb. 26, 2011; Emer. Ord. No. 008-2013, § 1, eff. Jan. 16, 2013; Ord. No. 259-2013, § 5, eff. Sept. 7, 2013; Emer. Ord. No. 141-2015, § 28, eff. July 1, 2015)

§ 1425-17. Units of Measurement.

The following rules apply to the determination of required parking:

(a) Gross Floor Area. In the case of uses where gross floor area is the unit for determining the required number of parking spaces, the gross floor area includes all areas employed by the use including outdoor eating and drinking areas, except that such gross floor area need not include any area used for parking within the principal building and need not include any area used for incidental service storage, installations of mechanical equipment, penthouses housing ventilators and heating systems and similar uses.

(b) Hospital Bassinets. In hospitals, bassinets are not counted as beds.

(c) Places of Public Assembly. In places of public assembly that provide benches, fixed or movable seating and assembly areas the requirements are as follows:

(1) In stadiums, sports arenas and other places of assembly in which those in attendance occupy benches or other similar seating facilities, each 18 inches of such seating facilities will be counted as one seat for the purpose of determining the parking requirements of the Cincinnati Zoning Code.

(2) In cases where a place of assembly has both fixed seats and open assembly area, parking requirements will be computed separately for each type of seating area and added together.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 93-2006, § 1, eff. May 18, 2006; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 12, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1425-19. Off-Street Parking and Loading Requirements.

(a) When required, off-street parking and loading spaces must be provided in accordance with Schedules 1425-19-A and 1425-19-B and made available to the use giving rise to the requirement. Unless a use is specifically noted under the appropriate use classification heading, the parking and loading requirements apply uniformly to all uses within a use classification. Off-street parking and loading requirements for uses in the DD Districts are subject to the provisions of Chapter 1411, Downtown Development Districts.

(b) Off-street parking and loading facilities must be made permanently available to the use served. Where the use is undetermined or the parking requirement is not established in Schedule 1425-19-A, the Zoning Administrator may determine the probable use and number of spaces required.

(c) An existing structure must maintain existing parking to the extent necessary to meet all or part of the current parking requirements for an existing or proposed use, but no additional parking shall be required in the event of a change in use of the structure.

(d) Commercial uses located in certain Commercial, Office, and Manufacturing zoning districts are entitled to an exemption from the parking requirements as follows:

(1) Commercial Uses in the CN-P and CC-P Zoning Districts. The first 2,000 square feet of gross floor area of existing and new commercial uses are exempted from the off-street parking requirements.

(2) Commercial Uses in the CN-M, CC-M, OL, OG, IR, RF-C and ML Zoning Districts. The first 2,000 square feet of gross floor area of commercial uses in existing buildings are exempted from the off-street parking requirements. Commercial uses in new buildings are not exempted from the parking requirements.

§ 1425-21. Shopping Center Requirements.

In lieu of calculating the number of parking spaces for individual uses in a shopping center, an overall requirement of four spaces for every 1,000 square feet of gross leasable floor area may be used. The same gross floor area may be used to calculate the loading spaces using the provisions of Loading User Group 1.
(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 0346-2007, § 12, eff. Oct. 13, 2007)

§ 1425-23. Reduced Parking.

A reduction in the number of spaces to less than that specified in Schedule 1425-19-A is permitted under the following conditions:

(a) Proximity to Public Parking Facilities. In the O, C, UM, and M Districts, where a use is located within 1,300 feet of a public parking facility, either publicly or privately owned and operated, as measured along paved sidewalks or walkways that provide access to both sites, and the facility could provide fifty percent or more of the parking spaces required for the use, the parking requirements for the use shall be reduced by fifty percent. If the reduced requirement results in fewer than five spaces being required, no spaces need be provided.

(b) Multiple Uses on a Single Development Site. The maximum allowable reduction in the number of spaces to be provided may not exceed 15 percent of the sum of the number required for each individual use served and not less than the largest amount required for any of the uses computed separately. A covenant in a form satisfactory to the City Solicitor must be filed with the Zoning Administrator in which the owner or owners of property comprising the site agree to participate in the shared parking program. The covenant must include the following:

(1) An agreement that there will be no substantial alteration in the uses that will create a greater demand for parking.

(2) An agreement among the landowners for access to and use of the shared parking spaces.

(c) Housing for the Elderly and Persons with Disabilities. The parking requirements for Type A dwelling units is one parking space for every two units, provided that the owner files with the Zoning Administrator, a covenant that reserves those units for the exclusive use of the elderly and persons with disabilities. "Type A dwelling unit" means an accessible dwelling unit complying with Section 1002 of the American National Standard ICC/ANSI A117.1-1998. "Exclusive use of the elderly and persons with disabilities" means that at least one member of the household occupying the dwelling unit is 60 years of age or older or has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, including the functions of caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning and working; a record of a physical or mental impairment; or being regarded as having a physical or mental impairment.

(d) Proximity to Streetcar. The parking requirements for residential uses in SF, RM, RF-R, and UM Districts are reduced by fifty percent if located within 600 feet of a streetcar stop. If the effect of the fifty percent reduction means that fewer than three spaces are required, then no spaces need be provided.

(e) On-Street Parking. Required off-street parking spaces shall be reduced in an amount equal to the number of on-street parking spaces located adjacent to the property line on the same side of the street. An on-street parking space used to comply with the requirement of this Section must be 20 feet in length, as measured perpendicularly to parallel straight lines.

§ 1425-25. Off-Street Parking and Loading Dimensions.

The following standards apply to off-street parking and loading facilities:

(a) Size. A parking space used to comply with the parking requirements of this chapter may not be less than 8.5 feet in width, as measured perpendicularly to parallel straight lines and contain 160 square feet in area. The parking spaces, access drives and aisles of the parking facility design must be as approved by the Zoning Administrator.

(b) Loading Space. Each loading space may not be less than ten feet in width and 25 feet in length.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; Emer. Ord. No. 141-2015, § 31, eff. July 1, 2015)

§ 1425-27. Parking Lot Screening.

In Residential Districts, a screen fence or solid wall is required for parking areas for four or more vehicles which adjoin or face any other premises, either abutting or directly opposite across-the-street, situated in any Residential or Parks and Recreation District. The fence or wall must be at least four feet and a maximum of six feet in height and must be maintained in good condition. A combination of a four-foot high berm with three-foot high continuous evergreen hedgerow or four-foot high continuous evergreen hedgerow may be substituted for screen fencing and walls. The fence is not required along that side of the property where one of the following conditions exist:

(a) Abutting Parking Lot. The abutting property is developed with a parking lot within 25 feet of the common property line for four or more vehicles.

(b) Grade Differential. The abutting property has an average elevation of four feet or more above the parking area surface, within an average horizontal distance of eight feet from the parking area.

(c) Buffer Yard. The requirements of § 1423-13, Required Buffer Yards are satisfied.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Ord. No. 257-2007, § 4, eff. Aug. 27, 2007)

§ 1425-29. Surface Parking Lot Landscaping.

Surface parking lots shall comply with the minimum landscaping and design requirements set forth below.

(a) General Landscaping Requirements.

1. Perimeter Landscaping. Surface parking lots shall provide a landscape buffer area separating the parking facility from adjoining streets. The buffer area shall be located within a six-inch-high, poured-in-place concrete curb, landscaped with plant material, and measure at least eight feet in width in CC-A and CG-A zoning districts and five feet in width in all other zoning districts. The buffer area shall not be paved except for approved walkways, bikeways, driveways, and other approved amenities or site elements. A perimeter landscape area of at least three feet in width is required for perimeter areas not adjoining streets.

2. Trees. Surface parking lots shall provide at least one tree per ten parking spaces, including one canopy tree per 25 linear feet dispersed throughout the entirety of the perimeter landscape buffer area.

   All trees shall have a minimum size at the time of planting as follows:

   (a) Two-inch caliper for a deciduous tree;

(b) Four-foot height for a conifer or evergreen tree.

3. Ground Cover. Ground cover shall be installed appropriate to the surface conditions of the area. Grass is the default landscaping material.

4. Lighting and Walkways. Lighting fixtures and walkways are permitted within all islands and perimeter areas.

5. Maintenance. All required plantings must be permanently maintained in good growing condition and replaced with new plant materials when necessary to ensure continued compliance with applicable landscaping requirements.

(b) Facilities Larger than One-Quarter Acre. Surface parking lots larger than one-quarter acre (i.e., 10,890 square feet) shall conform to the following additional standards:

(1) No parking area within a surface parking lot shall exceed one-quarter acre (i.e., 10,890 square feet) in size. To conform to this requirement, larger parking areas shall be divided into smaller parking areas by one or more landscape islands or peninsulas contained within and dispersed throughout the interior of the parking lot.

(2) Interior landscaped islands and peninsulas shall contain plant material and plant-based ground cover within six-inch-high, poured-in-place concrete curbs, and at least one of every four trees required by subsection (a)(2) shall be located within the interior landscaped islands and peninsulas.

(3) Landscaped islands and peninsulas need not be uniformly spaced but shall provide a minimum separation of fifteen feet between smaller parking areas.

(c) Existing Surface Parking Lots. Surface parking lots established prior to the effective date of this zoning amendment must comply with the requirements of this section upon demolition of a principal structure for which the lot served as an accessory use or the redevelopment or expansion of existing site ground coverage (including buildings, accessory uses or structures, parking and outdoor storage areas) of thirty percent or more.

(Ordained by Ord. No. 15-2004, eff. Feb. 13, 2004; a. Emer. Ord. No. 199-2024, § 2, eff. 7-1-2024)

§ 1425-31. Parking Lot Markings.

Driveways and parking areas must include markings consistent with the following standards:

(a) Markings. Each parking space and parking facility must be identified by surface markings at all times. The markings must be arranged to provide for orderly and safe loading, unloading, parking and storage of vehicles. Markings required to be maintained in a highly visible condition include striping, directional arrows and signs for areas designated for persons with disabilities.

(b) Directional Arrows. One-way and two-way access ways into required parking facilities must be identified by directional arrows. Any two-way access located at any angle other than 90 degrees to a street must be marked with a traffic separation stripe throughout the length of the access; this requirement does not extend to aisles.

(c) Exit Signs. Where the exit may not be clearly recognizable, directional signage must be provided.

§ 1425-35. Access Drive and Maneuvering Aisles.

Access drives for parking purposes are permitted only in connection with permitted uses, except for access drives to restricted parking lots allowed by the Zoning Administrator in connection with uses in more restricted districts.

(a) Parking Access. An access drive connecting the required parking spaces to a street must be provided either on the same lot as the principal use, or if located on a separate lot as the principal use by either of the following recorded instruments: (i) a recorded covenant if the lot containing the access drive is owned by the same owner as the lot containing the principal use; or (ii) a recorded reciprocal easement if the lot containing the access drive has a different owner than the lot containing the principal use. In any event, any such recorded instrument shall state clearly on its face that it is irrevocable without the prior written consent of the City Manager and shall be acceptable to the City Solicitor. Where provided on the same lot as the principal use, the access drives must have a minimum width of eight feet and a maximum aggregate width of 20 feet. Where provided for by a recorded instrument, the access drive must have a minimum width of eight feet, except where the access drive serves more than two properties in which case the access drive must be 16 feet.

(b) Maneuvering Aisles. Maneuvering aisles and driveways may serve both required parking spaces and loading spaces if they meet the requirements specified in §1425-19 and § 1425-25 for both parking and loading facilities.

(c) Requirement for Wider Driveway. The City Engineer may require a wider driveway and driveway opening for a development.

(d) Driveway Visibility. Visibility from a driveway may not be blocked between a height of three feet and seven feet for a depth of five feet from the street property line and five feet from the edge of the driveway or at the nearest property line intersecting the street property line, whichever is less. Refer to Figure 1425-35.

§ 1425-37. Surfacing, Drainage and Grade of Parking and Loading Facilities.

Parking and loading facilities must comply with the following standards:

(a) Maximum Slope. The maximum slope of any required maneuvering aisle, parking space or loading space is ten percent and the maximum slope of any required driveway is 15 percent.

(b) Surfacing. Parking areas, maneuvering aisles and loading spaces must be paved with asphalt, concrete, interlocking masonry pavers or surfaced with open honeycomb paving blocks which allow grass or ground cover to grow, except as otherwise authorized by the Zoning Administrator.

(c) Drainage. All paved parking areas, access drives and loading spaces must have satisfactory disposal of surface waters by grading and drainage subject to approval by the Metropolitan Sewer District.

§ 1425-38. Bicycle Parking.

The requirements for bicycle parking are established for the purpose of ensuring secure, weather-protected facilities to accommodate short- and long-term bicycle parking and to encourage the use of bicycles for travel as an alternative to the use of motorized vehicles.

(a) Applicability. Bicycle parking facilities shall be provided in every new parking garage, and for every expansion of an existing parking garage when the expansion includes the provision of 60 or more additional motor vehicle parking spaces.

(b) Maintenance. The property owner of the garage is responsible for all maintenance requirements imposed by this section.

(c) Bicycle Parking Requirements. Bicycle parking spaces shall be provided at a rate of 1 bicycle parking space for every 20 motor vehicle parking spaces provided. In the case of a garage providing bicycle parking spaces based on an expansion, the number of bicycle parking spaces required shall be calculated based on the number of additional motor vehicle spaces created by the expansion.

(1) Maximum. No parking garage shall be required to provide more than 24 bicycle parking spaces.

(2) Fractional Spaces. When the units of measurement determining the number of required parking spaces result in requirement of a fractional space, any fraction up to and including one-half is rounded down to the nearest whole number and fractions of over one-half are rounded up to the next whole number.

(d) Bicycle Parking Space Dimensions. An area no less than 2 feet in width by 6 feet in length shall be provided for each bicycle space. However, the area for each bicycle space may be reduced upon application to the Superintendent of Parking to certify that the proposed layout adequately accommodates the specified number of bicycles.

(e) Location of Bicycle Parking Spaces.

(1) Bicycle parking shall be located no lower than the first complete, contiguous parking level below grade, and no higher than the first complete, contiguous parking level above grade. There shall be no stairs on the access route to bicycle parking area(s).

(2) Bicycle parking spaces shall be located inside the garage in an area that is protected from inclement weather.

(3) Bicycle parking spaces shall be equipped with one of the following: a bicycle locker; a securely anchored floor, wall, or ceiling rack; or a similar system for securing the bicycle.

(4) Bicycle parking shall be located in a highly visible area to minimize theft and vandalism.

(5) Bicycle parking shall be separated from motor vehicle parking spaces and lanes of traffic by a physical barrier (such as a curb or bollard).

(6) An aisle or other space at least 5 feet wide shall be provided behind all required bicycle parking to allow room for bicycle maneuvering.

(7) The Department of Transportation and Engineering maintains a handbook of racks and siting guidelines that meet the standards of this section.

(f) Standards for Bicycle Racks. Where required bicycle parking is provided by racks, the racks shall meet the following standards:

(1) The bicycle frame and one wheel can be locked to the rack with a high security, U-shaped shackle lock and cable lock if both wheels are left on the bicycle. Bicycle racks that support the wheel but not the frame of the bike may not be used to fulfill a bicycle parking requirement.

(2) A bicycle 6 feet long can be securely held with its frame supported so that the bicycle cannot be pushed or fall in a manner that will damage the wheels or components.

(3) The rack shall be securely anchored.

(g) Notice of Bicycle Parking. A sign shall be provided at each point of bicycle entry to the parking garage, mounted with its center between four and six feet above the ground, directly visible and unobstructed from the street. The entry sign shall match exactly the designated sign on file with the Department of Transportation & Engineering. Bicycle parking signs shall not be used in the calculation of maximum total sign area.

The purpose of this Chapter is to regulate the display of signs that pertain to businesses, activities and uses that take place on the same premises as where the sign is located. Signs that do not pertain to a business, activity and use that takes place on the same premises as where the sign is located are regulated by Chapter 895, Outdoor Advertising Signs, of the Cincinnati Municipal Code and by the applicable zoning district regulations of the Cincinnati Zoning Code. The regulations in this Chapter are intended to:

(a) Provide property owners and occupants an opportunity for effective identification.

(b) Maintain and enhance the quality of the city's appearance by limiting the number, area, location and design of signs permitted on all sites.

(c) Protect residential districts from adverse impacts of excessive signs both from within residential districts and from surrounding districts.

(d) Reduce sign clutter.

(e) Ensure that signs are located and designed to maintain a safe and orderly pedestrian and vehicular environment.

(f) Provide reasonable, yet appropriate conditions for identifying goods sold or produced or services rendered in all zoning districts.

(g) Control the size, location and design of temporary and permanent signs so that the appearance of such signs will be aesthetically harmonious with their surroundings and will enhance the overall appearance of the built environment.

(h) Eliminate any conflict that could be hazardous between commercial or identification signs and traffic control devices and signs.

(i) Preserve and perpetuate uncluttered and natural views, significant architecture and cultural resources for the enjoyment and environmental enrichment of the citizens of the community and visitors.
