Required Frontage Features
a. Common Yard: A planted frontage wherein the building facade is set back substantially from the right-of-way line. The front yard created may remain unfenced and be visually continuous with adjacent yards. This frontage is found where deep front yards are consistent with the surrounding context. The deep front yard setback
b. Porch and Fence: A planted frontage wherein the building facade is set bach from the front yard line, with an attached porch as a permitted yard encroachment. A fence at the right-of-way line maintains the spatial definition of the street and provides delineation between public and private space.
c. Terrace or Lightwell: A frontage wherein the building facade is set back from the right-of-way line, with an elevated terrace or a sunken lightwell. This frontage feature buffers residential uses from urban sidewalks. Synonym: Dooryard.
d. Forecourt: A frontage wherein a portion of the building facade is set back from the right-of-way line, and the rest of the facade is set close to or at the right-of-way line. This frontage feature is often used in apartment buildings. This frontage feature is usually used in conjunction with other frontage features.
e. Stoop: A frontage wherein the building facade is close to the right-of-way line. An exterior stair and landing provide access to the main building entrance. The first story is elevated from the sidewalk level sufficiently to ensure privacy for first story windows. This frontage feature is recommended for first story residential uses. The
f. Shopfront: A frontage wherein the building facade is close to the right-of-way line, and the building entrance is at sidewalk grade. This frontage is typical of retail uses. This frontage feature has substantial glazing at the sidewalk level. This frontage may have an awning. Where permitted, the awning may encroach over the sidewalk.
g. Gallery: A frontage wherein the facade is close to or at the right-of-way line, with an attached roof or lightweight colonnade overlapping the sidewalk. This frontage is typical of retail uses. Where encroachment of the gallery over the public right-of-way is permitted, the gallery shall extend to within two (2) feet of the curb.
h. Arcade: A frontage wherein the facade at sidewalk level is close to or at the right-of-way tine, with a colonnade supporting habitable space above the sidewalk. This frontage is typical of retail uses. Where encroachment of the arcade over the public right-of-way is permitted, the arcade shall extend to within two (2) feet of the curb.
